"I can't recall any better description of the two men then I gave before, but the tall man whose picture I saw in the paper and which I picked out of the group of photographs shown me by Agent DAVIS, represented himself to be a lawyer and showed me a card that had a name, "Attorney At Law" and some address written on it. I don't recall the name or address. It seemed to me that the tall man was representing the short fat man in some sort of divorce action, and the papers they gave me were supposed to be something about alimoney payments.

"I got the impression the tall man was taking the little man for a ride, because when the tall man gave me the $200 he said to the short fat man, "See, that's how much just a little thing costs".

"As I said before, I went to New York City on a coach train. They told me to take the first train I could get to New York City, and I believe it was a Pennsylvania train, but I'm not sure. I did not talk to a single person in New York, but the taxi driver who took me to the address. I went to there and back to the railroad station, and the short man who met me and took the same package they gave me a few hours earlier in New York.

Kisseloff-2455

"The fat man told me I had done a good job and talked to me quite a bit about what I had been doing the past few years. I told him about how I had been rambling around the country farming some and working at other jobs.

"After going back to the railroad station in New York City, I went to the counter and bought a coach ticket to Atlanta. I believe I changed trains in Washington, but did not leave the railroad station there on the way back.

"I carried my little hand bag with me to New York from Washington and then back. I carried the envelope they gave me under my shirt because they told me to be sure not to lose it.

"I was heading back to Georgia when I met these men and intended to hitchhike, but when I made as much money as I did delivering their packages I decided to ride the train.

"I did not return to Washington until 1942, when the Army sent me there.

"I never mentioned this incident to anyone after I returned to Georgia, and forgot all about it until I saw the picture of ALGER HISS in the paper and recognized him as the tall man who gave me the packages and money in the spring of 1937 or 1938.

"I told my father about going to the F.B.I. the other day with this information, and he and my cousin, Judge INGRAM, who knows about it, both said I did the right thing. These are the only two people in Cartersville who know about this. I did go to the Police Station in Atlanta before going to the F.B.I., and some detective there told me the F.B.I. was the people I wanted to see. He called the F.B.I. office for me, and I talked to some man there who told me an Agent would see me the next morning.

"I have read this statement of six pages and it is true.

/s/ HORACE A. INGRAM

WITNESS:

JOHN E. DAVIS
Special Agent, F.B.I. Atlanta, Ga."

After INGRAM furnished this statement, he was interviewed as requested, but no discrepancies between the statement furnished and statements he made at that time were noted.

One copy of photograph of ALGER HISS furnished by Bureau as enclosure in referenced letter was exhibited to INGRAM, along with six other photographs of similar make-up, and he picked the phogograph of HISS from this group as being the person he contacted in Washington. He said that he did recall that the house he went to in New York City where he delivered the package seemed well furnished, and he recalled sitting in what appeared to be a small library when he talked with the individual who received the package and whom he had seen a few hours earlier in Washington.

Chief of Police, MOODY, and Assistant Chief, DAVIS, at Cartersville, both said they had known INGRAM as JACK INGRAM some twenty five years, and although he had been arrested several times for drunkenness, he came from a good family, and had a generally good reputation for truthfulness. It was ascertained that his father was Tax Collector of Bartow County, Georgia, several years ago. His first cousin, WILLIAM A. INGRAM, is a prominent Cartersville attorney, and a former City Court Judge who is prominently known as Judge INGRAM.

INGRAM related that after seeing the picture of HISS in a newspaper, he immediately went to the Atlanta Police Department and told his story to a detective, the detective telling him he should call the FBI, and then dialing the FBI number for him. He then talked to the night clerk on duty as previously reported. He said he did not go to a newspaper office, and this was confirmed through Mr. CLARK HOWELL, JR., reporter for the "Atlanta Constitution", who said information his paper received from INGRAM came from the reporter on duty in the press room in the police department.

INGRAM said that after being interviewed by Agent SYLVESTER of the Atlanta office, he returned to Cartersville, and told his story to his father and Judge INGRAM, but no one else there knew of it. This was confirmed by interview with Judge INGRAM who is considered to be a reliable individual.

INGRAM's divorced wife, LACY HEAD INGRAM, RFD, Cartersville, said he had never told her about delivering packages from Washington to New York, although she knew he had travelled a great deal when he was younger.

INGRAM said he was not working at the present time, but living on a Government pension of $96.00 per month received for service connected disabilities. He claims he intends to go to school under the G.I. Bill of Rights during 1949.

The picture INGRAM claims he saw in some paper is undoubtedly an Associated Press wire photo dated December 8, 1948, in New York, showing ALGER and DONALD HISS walking up the steps to the Federal Court House in New York. This particular picture was not published in Atlanta papers, although other pictures of ALGER HISS have been published from time to time for the past several months.

The picture referred to of DONALD and ALGER HISS together was published in the December 20th issue of "Life Magazine", and no doubt was published in other publications all over the country.

It is noted there are several news stands handling out of town and out of state newspapers in the vicinity of the Kimball House, Atlanta, where INGRAM could have obtained papers.

Mr. W. LEWIS BROWN, RFD, Cartersville, who is now a prominent farmer and factory representative of Savage Arms Company, and who was formerly an employee of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, said he had known HORACE INGRAM as JACK INGRAM some twenty five years, and considered him very erratic and untruthful.

It is noted that report of SA JAMES L. KIRKLAND, dated December 23, 1948, at Philadelphia, verified the fact that JACK INGRAM worked for a short time between 1931 and 1936 for the Thompson-Weinman Company.

Kisseloff-2458

AT - 65-1333

It is noted that the Thompson-Weinman Company is a large well established mining company that operates at Cartersville, Georgia, as well as other localities.

Dear Sir:

Re: JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was, ET AL
PERJURY, ESPIONAGE - R

Rebulet January 3, 1949, to New York.

On reviewing this letter, there are several points in regard to which this office desires to make suggestions that may be helpful. Philadelphia does not have detailed information regarding all of the investigative activities in the instant case. Accordingly, some or all of the suggestions may already have been utilized or considered and discarded.

1. The Washington Field Office was instructed in the last paragraph on page 11 to reinterview informants who were active in the Communist Party, in Washington, D. C., during the years 1933 to 1940.

Special Agent HUBERT H. FINZEL, now assigned to Philadelphia, was formerly assigned to the Washington Field Office. It is his recollection that WFO Informant C-203 was not only active in the Communist Party during the period in question, but was actually very closely associated with WILL ALLEN, ELEANOR NELSON SOYRING, HENRY RHINE and JESSICA BUCK RHINE. C-203 is also personally acquainted with FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO and PHILIP RENO and should be able to furnish valuable information regarding them. This Informant likewise knew that ELEANOR NELSON, JESSICA BUCK and HELEN MILLER shared an apartment on "P" Street in Washington, D. C. before JESSICA married HENRY RHINE on September 13, 1934. This Informant should likewise know about affairs carried on by ELEANOR NELSON, including her residence with DAVID ZIMMERMAN, was, while her divorce from PAUL PORTER was pending.

(Now Chicago informant # 5674) ~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

Former Philadelphia Informant PAC 20 was active in the A. F. of L. Union that preceded the United Federal Workers of America - CIO, at Washington, D. C., and claims to have been very friendly and associated with JESSICA BUCK RHINE about 1935. This Informant was never questioned in great detail by Philadelphia regarding his knowledge of Communist Party activities at Washington, D. C., in the middle 1930's. The Informant is presently in Chicago and it is understood that the Chicago Office has interviewed him in connection with IGE investigations. It is suggested that consideration be given to further interviews at Chicago.

2. According to [redacted] JESSICA BUCK RHINE and HENRY RHINE worked with ELEANOR NELSON in recruiting Government workers into the Communist Party. RHINE himself was employed by NRA in Washington, D. C., from November 6, 1933, to March 31, 1936, and by the WPA in the National Research Department from May 13, 1936, to March 10, 1937. He also had employment with one or more Congressional Committees.

WHITTAKER CHAMBERS was employed at the NRA at the same time as HENRY RHINE, although it is not known whether they were acquainted.

RHINE moreover was a National representative of the United Federal Workers of America - CIO, from 1936 to 1937, and International representative of that Union from 1937 until about 1942. RHINE is an International Organizer for U.E.R.M.W.A. - CIO, in the Philadelphia area at the present time. His wife, JESSICA BUCK RHINE, who is separated from HENRY, is, so far as is known, in Indianapolis, Indiana, at the present time.

It is suggested that consideration be given to interview with both RHINEs in an effort to determine whether they are acquainted with CHAMBERS or HISS. HENRY RHINE continues membership in the Communist Party locally and so far as is known, JESSICA RHINE is a member in Indianapolis.

3. It is the recollection of Agent FINZEL that WILL ALLEN was in New York City in 1946 or 1947 at the Albert Hotel, and while there attempted to contact JOHN WILLIAMSON at CP Headquarters. He was denied permission to contact WILLIAMSON. WILLIAMSON's secretary thereafter made the remark, "ALLEN has gone to pot."

It is suggested that consideration might be given to interview with ALLEN.

4. [redacted] has said that JACOB BAKER, the first President of the United Federal Workers - CIO, was forced out of office by the Communists under the leadership of ELEANOR NELSON. It is believed that BAKER is now in New York and that he is very bitter against ELEANOR NELSON and the people who worked with her. It is likewise believed that he can furnish much valuable information regarding the activities of the Communists within Government circles during the period 1933 to 1940. BAKER has been contacted by Agents of the FBI in the past and has been cooperative to the extent of the previous interviews.

It is suggested that consideration be given to further interviews with BAKER in an effort to elicit information regarding the instant case.

TO : Director, FBI

DATE: December 9, 1948

FROM : GUY HOTTEL, SAC, Washington Field

SUBJECT: J. D. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was
PERJURY; INTERNAL SECURITY - R

In accordance with instructions received in this office from Inspector HOWARD FLETCHER on this date to the effect that as a result of a conference between Mr. JOHN PEURIFOY and Assistant Attorney General PEYTON FORD that SAM BOYKIN of the State Department had in his possession documents which were to be turned over to the Bureau, Mr, BOYKIN was contacted in his office at the State Department and there was received what Mr. BOYKIN explained were photostatic copies of material that had been furnished to the State Department by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

In addition to the photostatic copies there was one plain typewritten page setting forth the typewritten results of documents in longhand, which Mr. BOYKIN explained had not been photostated and which he believed that the Department already had possession of.

Mr. BOYKIN further explained that there were three additional documents which were to be photostated but inasmuch as they were out being searched they would not be photostated until the morning of December 10, 1948, and requested the agent to re-contact him at approximately 10:00 o'clock on the morning of December 10, 1948, at which time he would be furnished the copies of these other three documents.

No knowledge of the material or the circumstances surrounding the disposition of the State Department to turn over this information was made by the agent and it was explained that the agent was merely picking up material which PEYTON FORD had arranged to secure through Mr. PEURIFOY.

This will be done unless the Bureau advises to the contrary.

SUBJECT: J. D. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was

Remylet December 9, 1948, advising you of receipt of information in this office from Mr. SAM BOYKIN, State Department, in connection with a conference between Assistant to the Attorney General PEYTON FORD, and Mr. JOHN PEURIFOY of the Department of State. As you will note in this letter, it was indicated that Mr. BOYKIN advised that there were certain pieces of the material not included in that furnished to the Bureau which would be furnished on the morning of December 10, 1948.

I wish to advise that in this connection, Mr. BOYKIN was again contacted by Special Agent RAPHAEL I. NIXON of this office on December 10, 1948, at which time Mr. BOYKIN furnished four pages of photostatic material and it was definitely ascertained by the agent that this material was part of that which had been discussed by Mr. FORD and Mr. PEURIFOY.

Mr. BOYKIN volunteered the information that the House Committee had requested the State Department to make an examination of their files and ascertain the distribution within the Department as to the various division chiefs and individuals to whom the questioned documents, recently in the possession of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, had been distributed. Mr. BOYKIN stated the personal conviction, which he stated was shared by his immediate superior JOHN PEURIFOY, that no information should be furnished to the House Committee that was not also furnished to the F. B. I. or the Department. In this connection, Mr. BOYKIN stated that he felt the information concerning the distribution should be made immediately available to the F. B. I. upon completion of the State Department's examination and indicated that at such time he would contact the Bureau's representative in the State Department and inform him of this fact.

It should be noted that there was no solicitation on the part of the agent concerning this material nor any discussion concerning it. Mr. BOYKIN, in conclusion of the interview, advised that in any way that the Department of State might be of assistance to the F. B. I. or to the Department of Justice that they should feel free to request any assistance or any any information in the State Department's possession.

Rebulet January 3, 1948 (which should be dated 1949), in the above captioned matter, which on page 10 instructs this office to furnish the New York Division with photographs of all male employees of the Soviet Embassy during the years 1936 to 1938, to be used for the purpose of identifying Colonel BYKOV.

Please be advised that inquiry at the State Department reflects that photographs of the individuals associated with the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D. C., with the Soviet Consular establishments in the United States, and with Amtorg Trading Corporation were not furnished as a matter of course to the State Department during those years. The furnishing of photographs as a routine procedure was not established until 1941. It has therefore been impossible to obtain the photographs of all male employees at the Soviet Embassy during the years requested.

However, the Protocol Section of the State Department did have available the photographs of a limited number of individuals attached to the Soviet Embassy during the pertinent years, which had been obtained in connection with the issuance of Diplomatic Courtesy Cards to these individuals. Copies of these photographs were obtained and are being submitted herewith to the New York Office for its use in accordance with the Bureau's instructions. ~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

Photographs submitted herewith are those of the following individuals:

Reference is made to teletypes from Baltimore and Denver dated January 4, and January 6, 1949 respectively.

In the above referenced teletype, the Baltimore Office requested the Washington Field Office to obtain copies of a photograph of BERNHARD BROWN, with alias BUZIA OWRUTZKY, an old time Communist Party member in Baltimore, Maryland, which photograph was reported to be in the files of the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Washington, D. C. It was also requested that a copy of the photograph be forwarded to the Baltimore, New York and Denver offices.

By teletype dated January 6, 1949, the Denver Office advised that FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO was presently at Albuquerque, New Mexico and it was requested that copies of the above photograph be sent directly to the El Paso Office.

The records of the Immigration and Naturalization Service reflect that BERNHARD BROWN was born in Russia on April 20, 1905 as either BUZIA OWRUTZKY or BUZIA OWRUCKA. He entered the United States at New York City under the latter name on September 10, 1922. His name was changed from BUZIA OWRUTZKY prior to 1931.

There is being forwarded as an enclosure with this letter to the Baltimore, New York and El Paso Offices, one copy each of the photographs marked A and B. The picture bearing the letter A was furnished to INS by BERNHARD BROWN in connection with his petition for citizenship dated January 2, 1931.

The picture bearing the letter B was furnished to the INS by BERNHARD BROWN in connection with his application for new naturalization papers in December 1943, at which time he stated that the original papers had disappeared in December 1943 at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. BROWN stated that he had the original papers in a bureau drawer and after moving his furniture to another location in Philadelphia, he was unable to find his papers. His certificate number is 3452302.

His description in 1931 was given as white, 5' 5", 115 pounds, dark complexion, black hair and brown eyes. His description in 1943 was the same as the above except for the weight which was given as 135 pounds and his hair was given as brown.

For the information of the El Paso Office, it is to be noted that FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO was named by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as one person who had furnished him with information from the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Maryland in about 1937 or 1938. In a signed statement furnished agents of the New York Office on December 13 last, FRANKLIN RENO stated that he had been introduced to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in about 1935 by a man identified only as "BERNIE". CHAMBERS at that time was known to RENO as "CARL".

It is further to be noted that in the above statement, FRANKLIN RENO advised that he became a member of the Communist Party while attending the University of Virginia from 1932 to 1935 and he used the Party name LANCE CLARK.

It is requested that the El Paso Office exhibit the enclosed photographs to FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO in an effort to determine if BERNHARD BROWN is identical with "BERNIE".

The New York Office is the office of origin in this case and the results of the above investigation should be set out in report form with five copies to the Bureau, three for New York and one for THOMAS A. DONEGAN, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, New York City.

It is suggested that the New York Office exhibit the instant photographs to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in an attempt to determine if BERNHARD BROWN is identical with "BERNIE".

The Baltimore Office is being furnished copies of the above mentioned pictures for the completion of their files.

One copy of each of the above photographs is being retained in the files of the Washington Field Office.

SAC L. V. Boardman of Philadelphia called. He said that he had been instructed by a teletype from the Bureau on January 6 to locate and interview Jeoffrey and Elizabeth May, former neighbors of the Hiss'.

He said they were successful in locating Jeoffrey May today, however, he said that he was too busy to talk to them but he would be available for an interview in Trenton, New Jersey, tomorrow between nine and eleven A.M. He is going to be in Trenton doing some work for the Government on that date.

Mr. Boardman said that it did not appear that the Newark Office was in possession of the pertinent information and to fully acquaint them with the matter in order to enable them to conduct the interview it would be necessary to send a teletype of considerable length. He suggested that Agents from the Philadelphia Office who are entirely familiar with the matter be allowed to conduct the interview in Trenton. I told him that would be satisfactory to handle the matter in that fashion. He said that they would advise the Newark Office that the interview was being conducted with Bureau approval.

You will recall that I advised you concerning the foregoing.

Reference New York teletype December 13, last, relative to Photographer KEITH and his associate, a White Russian named SVIASHNIKOV (phonetic).

The following investigation was conducted at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, and Edgewood Army Chemical Center, Maryland, by SA JOSEPH R. MARSZALEK of this office:

GEORGE T. TOMASKY, Chief, Administration Branch, Ballistics Research Laboratory, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, said that according to his records VLADIMIR V. de SVESHNIKOFF had applied for a position in the Laboratory in May, 1948. Since the Laboratory was unable to use his services, his application was returned with the suggestion that he apply at the Edgewood Army Chemical Center, Maryland, inasmuch as there was a pending examination for a chemical engineer there. This was on or about October 14, 1948.

Mr. TOMASKY advised that he did not know de SVESHNIKOFF.

Colonel LESLIE E. SIMON, Director, Ballistics Research Laboratory, who has been associated with the Laboratory for over twenty years, and who has had contact with many ballistic experts during that time, said that he did not know de SVESHNIKOFF.

Dr. VLADIMIR NEKRASSOFF and Mr. SERGE ZAROODNY, Ballisticians in the Ballistics Research Laboratory for many years, said that they did not know de SVESHNIKOFF.

DEFERRED RECORDING

The files of the Civil Service Board, Edgewood Army Chemical Center, Maryland, produced by HARRY SMOCK, Director, contained an application submitted by VLADIMIR V. de SVESHNIKOFF, 4335 Reno Road, Washington, D.C., dated April 30, 1948. The application, containing background information, was furnished by de SVESHNIKOFF to the Civil Service Board in order that he may be given an opportunity to take a pending examination for the position of Chemical Engineer at the Center. De SVESHNIKOFF listed the following information concerning his background:

The Charlotte Office in a teletype dated December 31, 1948, advised that former SA Roy Morgan, who was well acquainted with Alger Hiss in 1934 when both were employed as attorneys for the Agriculture Adjustment Administration, informed that Chester Davis, Sr. and Chester Davis, Jr., Winston-Salem, North Carolina, were closely acquainted with Alger Hiss and might be able to furnish information regarding Hiss as well as typewritten correspondence.

For your information, Chester C. Davis is the former Administrator of the Agriculture Adjustment Administration. Chester Davis, Jr., mentioned by former SA Morgan, is the son of Chester C. Davis. His true name is Chester S. Davis, and he was employed by this Bureau as a SA from July 7, 1941 to December 21, 1945, when he resigned. His last efficiency report, in December, 1945, was "Excellent". At that time he was assigned to the San Antonio Office and was a resident agent at McAllen, Texas.

On January 23, 1948, SAC J. E. Thornton, of our Charlotte Office informed the Bureau that former agent Davis, then a staff writer for the Journal and Sentinel newspaper in Winston-Salem, North Carolina, received the Winston-Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award for outstanding contribution to the community durning 1947.

A citation accompanying the award named Mr. Davis as the city's "number one citizen" for "exposing Communistic activities in the area, going far beyond your line of duty in arousing the citizenship and working tirelessly to complete this expose". The citation also stated, "you have been a leader in soil conservation activities among farmers in Forsyth County and you have interested business and civic leaders in working with farmers toward an efficient soil conservation program.

"You have spearheaded the movement to bring Friends of the Land Conference to Winston-Salem, thereby focusing national attention on our community." The citation also stated that former agent Davis had worked hard for improvement of school conditions and was an outstanding leader in boys work and juvenile delinquency activities.

In view of the aforementioned letter, the Director by letter dated January 31, 1948, extended his congratulations to Davis for his splendid accomplishments during the past year and stated, "It is indeed gratifying to receive such reports regarding the work of former members of this organization. Please do not hesitate to call on me any time we can be of service".

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the foregoing facts, it is believed that former agent Davis should be interviewed for any information or typewritten correspondence he may have concerning Alger Hiss.

Reference is made to my letter of January 6, 1949, concerning the income tax returns of Alger and Priscilla Hiss.

X-116

The Bureau has now received the single federal income tax returns filed by Priscilla Hiss in 1946 and 1947, and the single return made by Alger Hiss for 1947. The 1946 return by Priscilla Hiss was made when she resided at 3210 P Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C. Both 1947 returns were made when the Hisses resided at 22 East 8th Street, New York, New York.

The 1946 return of Priscilla Hiss reflects that she received a salary of $[illegible] from the Potomac School in Washington, D. C.

The 1947 return of Priscilla Hiss reflects that she received a salary of $1,320.00 from the Potomac School and an income of $466.65 from Dalton Schools, Inc., New York, New York. The 1947 return further reveals that Priscilla Hiss received an annuity of $133.04 from the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co[illegible]

The Milwaukee office will advise whether this source for typewritten specimens at Northwestern Life Insurance Company was covered by the interview with Mr. Joseph T. Gallagher, Superintendent of Claims of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company on December 10, 1948. If this particular source was not covered it is requested that it be examined for specimens.

The 1947 return for Alger Hiss reflects that he received a salary of $3,505.52 from the United States Department of State and a salary of $10,333.34 from Carnegie Endowment For International Peace.

Alger Hiss also received a total of $450.94 from other sources which he listed as "Temporaria for addresses at Haverford Coll. & West Point Acad. for article for N. Y. Times; refund of premiums on cancelled insurance".

Alger Hiss listed the following deductions:

Red Cross	$100.00
Community Chest, D.C.	45.00
Bryn Mawr College	67.00
Bryn Mawr Club, D.C.	6.00
American Geographical Society	25.00
John Hopkins Alumni Fund	25.00
National Symphony Orchestra, D. C.	10.00
American Fund For Overseas Blind	5.00

The 1947 return for Alger Hiss reflects that he paid interest on a first mortgage to the Riggs National Bank in Washington, D. C., and also interest on a second mortgage to Mr. Charles A. Hiss, Baltimore, Maryland.

The Philadelphia office will inquire at Haverford College, Haverford, Pennsylvania, for any typewritten correspondence emanating from Alger Hiss.

The Washington field office will likewise inquire at the Potomac School for specimens emanating from Priscilla Hiss. Consideration should be given to the fact that the National Symphony Orchestra office may have specimens from Alger and Priscilla Hiss.

The New York office should contact the Dalton School for any specimens and should give consideration to conducting a discreet inquiry at the New York Times through possible informants at that newspaper for any typewritten specimens the Times may have. It may be desirable to contact the West Point Academy for specimens. Inasmuch as Alger Hiss received a "refund of premiums on cancelled insurance" in 1947, the New York office should endeavor to identify the company making the refund in view of the fact that it may be a source for specimens.

Sunday Night....

Dear Mr. Winchell;

I know that you must be interested in the death...of Mr. Laurence Duggan, (I heard your program sunday night.) Well,...Here it is... DUGGAN did not jump... I knew he was worried, after he turned down some of our big commies....) and after he spoke to some of our F.B.I.... they returned to his office... he was first hit with a black-jack, and then pushed out of the window.

I'm worried myself.... I was with Mr. Duggan the day he lost his life. He told me at lunch, all about his troubles, and told me to watch out. I'm leaving the country myself, before something happens to me. I hope you can help find the killers of DUGGAN.

Just keep this in mind... that DUGGAN did not jump... HE WAS MURDERED. Mr. Sumner Welles, is right. I am so glad that the F.B.I. Exonerated Mr. Duggan completely.

Dont try to find out who I am... I want to live. I'M hiding now from those killers who are looking all over for me.

Some big shots in WASHINGTON.D.C. and in HOLLYWOOD.CAL...Who were worried and to get DUGGAN out of the way. He knew to much about the connections they have with U.S.S.R. (I think if you have some of your F.B.I. friends, cover SARDI'S CAFE...on west 44th, St.) they may pick up some writers....(Friends of HOLLYWOOD MOB).

TO : Director, FBI

DATE: December 13, 1948

FROM : GUY HOTTEL, SAC, Washington Field

SUBJECT: J. D. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was
PERJURY; INTERNAL SECURITY - R

There is attached hereto as an enclosure to the Bureau, one set of the photostatic copies of the documents which WHITTAKER CHAMBERS alleged he received from ALGER HISS for delivery to a Colonel BYKOV sometime in 1938. These documents were made available to the Baltimore Office and include 65 pages of typewritten pages and five pages of handwritten notes on small pieces of paper.

The Washington Field Office was instructed to contact appropriate officials at the State Department in connection with these photostatic copies of documents with the view to identifying them.

Affixed to each page of the typewritten material enclosed is a photostatic copy of the original State Department document or documents from which the material was obtained. The original documents were obtained confidentially for photostating from Mr. JACK D. NEAL of the State Department. However, complete identification has not been made to date nor have all originals been identified and obtained. Mr. NEAL advises that the search is continuing and further advised this office on December 13, 1948, that he had learned that the Attorney General has likewise requested photostatic copies of these documents which has additionally hampered his search. The documents not furnished herewith will be forwarded to the Bureau as soon as obtained.

In answer to the questions propounded Mr. NEAL furnished the following information:

1. In his opinion, the material furnished by the Baltimore Office were copies of or paraphrasings of authentic State Department documents. The photostatic copies furnished herewith are authentic State Department documents.

2. The material furnished by the Baltimore Office consists of copies or excerpts from original State Department documents.

3. The original documents from which photostats are furnished herewith are presently in the possession of the State Department.

4. Mr. NEAL advises that there was no system of classification for these documents at the time they were received other than the nature of the material which would classify them as confidential.

CHARLES E. BALLEISEN, Southwest Research Institute, 8500 Culebra Road, San Antonio, Texas, advised that he was employed at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds from approximately October 1, 1936, to May 1939. Thereafter until 1942 he was in the Office of Chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C. In 1942 he entered the United States Army as a Major and was discharged in 1946 as a Lieutenant Colonel. During the Army period he was also attached to the office of Chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C. From 1946 to 1948, he was an instructor at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. Since October 1, 1948, he has been connected with the Southwest Research Institute as a contact man with the Army on contracts which the institute has or hopes to have with various departments of the Army.

BALLEISEN stated that he was closely associated with FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO whom he called FRANK RENO from the time RENO came to the Aberdeen Proving Grounds until May 1939 when BALLEISEN was transferred to the office of Chief of Ordnance. Thereafter through liaison with the Aberdeen Proving Grounds he had intermittent contact with RENO until 1946.

BALLEISEN stated that RENO at least from 1937 to 1939 lived in the home of Dr. L. S. DIEDERICK, Bellaire Road, Aberdeen, Maryland. Dr. DIEDERICK is still at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds. RENO'S closest associates were JOHN HOLBERTON who was hired at the same time as RENO and who is still employed in the Ballistics Research Laboratory, Aberdeen Proving Grounds and Miss B. I. HART who worked closely with RENO and who is now at the Ballistics Research Laboratory.

BALLEISEN explained that RENO did outstanding work in developing the theory of bomb trajectories through Algebraic and other mathematical work, and that Miss HART directed the computation of tables from RENO'S theoretical research. So far as the Norden Bomb Site was concerned BALLEISEN explained that RENO'S theoretical work provided the basis for the development of the bomb site, and that the information necessary for the development of the bomb site flowed from RENO to the bomb site rather than his obtaining any information from the bomb site itself to aid in his research.

BALLEISEN stated that RENO was very neglectful of his personal appearance as well as his own physical well being. He explained that RENO virtually lived on liquor, coffee and cigarettes; never had his teeth cleaned or cared for; stayed up very late at night and often all night studying and finally collapsed and spent a year in about 1946 in the hospital with a serious vitamin deficiency. BALLEISEN stated that RENO was an absent minded person who might leave things lying around, but that he had never known of RENO violating security regulations nor did he know of any documents classified or otherwise being missing from the Ballistics Research Laboratory.

As an example of RENO'S absent mindedness, BALLEISEN related that one of the stories current was that RENO in the cafeteria once put his cigarette ashes in his coffee cup and tried to drink out of the ash tray.

BALLEISEN stated that so far as he knew RENO was interested only in mathematics. So far as he knew RENO knew nothing nor had any interest in political philosophy and BALLEISEN did not know of any connection that RENO might have had with Communist Party activities or individuals. BALLEISEN did not know of RENO having any contact with persons of Russian Nationality although he had heard through other persons and in a round-about fashion that RENO had been friendly with a man named ASKLOF who had subsequently been deported. Mr. BALLEISEN stated that he had no reason whatsoever to question RENO'S loyalty to this country.

Postmarked New York, N.Y., December 14, 1948, 8:00 P.M.

Return address, same as #2 above.

Mrs. SOMERS stated that she received these envelopes from Mr. HILL, enclosing postage due the Peacham Post Office on magazines forwarded to Mr. HISS after they had been mailed to Peacham, following departure of the HISS family at the close of their summer vacation. She stated that the various figures scattered over the envelopes represent notations of grocery prices and mail rates, placed there by Mrs. SOMERS or her husband.

AL: 65-1574

Mrs. SOMERS advised that she had nothing else of a typewritten nature from Mr. or Mrs. HISS. She requested that the envelopes be returned to her promptly.

It was stated by Mrs. SOMERS that Mr. and Mrs. ALGER HISS have been spending summer vacations in Peacham for nearly ten years and have been accompanied by their son, ANTHONY, since he was born in about 1942, and that the HISS family resided in the Choate Inn, operated by Miss ELSIE CHOATE, when they first came to Peacham for the summer.

Miss ELSIE CHOATE on interview advised that she knew the HISS family very well since they first stayed for a summer vacation at her inn in about 1939, and thereafter came to this inn for three, possibly four, summers to spend vacations. Miss CHOATE stated that she had no typewritten material from either Mr. or Mrs. HISS, although she recalls that they had a typewriter when staying at the Choate Inn. It was learned that they resided summers with a friend, Mrs. DORIS SOULE, Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, during the three or four summers following their change from the Choate Inn, for their vacations. Mrs. SOULE rented an apartment in the home of Miss LOUISE BAILEY in Peacham.

Miss LOUISE BAILEY on interview stated that she has nothing typewritten by either Mr. or Mrs. HISS, and that she does not recall that they ever had a typewriter when spending vacations at her home with their friend, Mrs. SOULE.

At the Post Office, Mrs. SOMERS had stated that in 1947 the HISS family lived in a cottage owned by Dr. LOUIS PILCHER, M.D., Newton, Massachusetts, or one of his family; that in 1948 they rented a cottage for the three summer months from Professor BRAND BLANCHARD, Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut, and that Mrs. HISS was in Peacham all summer usually, but that Mr. HISS was there periodically for visits of varying length.

General inquiry developed that Mr. and Mrs. HISS visited often with the Reverend JOHN HOLDEN of the Peacham Church, during their summer vacations; that during the past season, Mrs. HISS had placed her son, ANTHONY, in the local grade school for about three or four weeks at the start of the fall term, and that it was possible that Mrs. HISS might have had to contact the school teacher, the school superintendent or the school Board of Education for permission to enter her son.

Reverend JOHN HOLDEN on interview advised that all messages he has had from the HISS family have been handwritten, and that although he visited them several times during the past summer, he does not recall having seen a typewriter in their cottage. He stated that he did not know them prior to the 1948 season, when he first came to this village.

Mrs. MARGARET CARPENTER, teacher at the Peacham Grade School, on interview advised that Mrs. ALGER HISS had asked her for permission to enter ANTHONY HISS, aged six years, in this school during the first three or four weeks of the 1948 fall term, but had not addressed any communications to her in this connection. She stated that Mrs. HISS also talked this over with Mrs. ERLENE MOORE, Chairman of the Board of Education, and possibly with Mrs. GLENN WATSON of the Board of Education, but that there had been nothing more than a general conversation about it. She stated that Mrs. HISS might possibly have written Mr. LEWELLYN ROBERTS, Superintendent of Schools, who resides at Danville, Vermont. Mrs. CARPENTER stated that Mrs. HISS had addressed no typewritten communications to her at any time, although she had written one longhand note in connection with ANTHONY HISS attending the school.

Mrs. GLENN WATSON and Mrs. ERLENE MOORE stated that they had no typewritten material from Mr. or Mrs. HISS.

Town Clerk WALTER THORN advised that he had had no written communications from Mr. or Mrs. HISS.

AT DANVILLE, VERMONT:

Superintendent of Schools LEWELLYN ROBERTS on interview advised that he had not received any written communications from either Mr. or Mrs. HISS.

AL. 65-1574

AT WELLS RIVER, VERMONT:

Since the only public utility in the cottages rented from Dr. PILCHER and from Professor BLANCHARD in 1947 and 1948, respectively, by the HISS FAMILY, was electricity, according to Postmaster BELLE P. SOMERS, inquiry was made at the Green Mountain Power Corporation concerning any communication possibly sent by Mr. or Mrs. HISS, relative to this matter.

Manager RAYMOND FOREHAN searched his files and found a copy of a letter written by Assistant Treasurer L. E. VEALE of this company at Montpelier, Vermont, to ALGER HISS concerning the payment of the bill for electricity used in 1947, but there was no letter in reply and nothing more to be found in the file which might possibly be pertinent to instant inquiry.

AT MONTPELIER, VERMONT:

Mr. L. E. VEALE, Assistant Treasurer of the Green Mountain Power Corporation, searched the files of this company for the period 1944 to 1948, without finding any communications of any kind from Mr. or Mrs. HISS, although he found the copy of the letter located by Mr. FOREHAN, mentioned above, and several other mentions of the HISS family in connection with the renting of the PILCHER and BLANCHARD cottages in 1947 and 1948.

Since it appeared that possibly either Mr. or Mrs. HISS might have had a Vermont Automobile Operator's License or a Motor Vehicle Registration, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles H. ELMER MARSH was contacted and he advised that a search of the files of this department failed to reflect the name HISS.

Since it also appeared possible that either Mr. or Mrs. HISS might have made inquiries of the Vermont Development Commission concerning summer resort areas, inquiry was made of Mr. H. H. CHADWICK, Director of this Commission's Publicity Department, and advice was received that they have no record under the name HISS.

he was the manager of the Philadelphia Agency of the Woodstock Typewriter Company for approximately one and one-half years. He obtained the office agency records from JOHN CAROW. At the time PARKER was the manager of the office the records were located in an office building, the name of which Mr. PARKER could not recall, but which was located at Tenth and Market Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. During 1938 PARKER moved the office records to the Insurance Company of North America Building, Philadelphia. At the time of PARKER's discharge in 1938 all equipment and office records were in the custody of H. E. STEINKE, the Office Foreman. STEINKE is reportedly operating a typewriter exchange at Drexel Hill or Upper Darby, near Philadelphia.

Mr. PARKER stated that THOMAS GRADY, a salesman was unknown to him. At the time of PARKER's discharge his successor had not been appointed and consequently his name was unknown to PARKER.

Mr. PARKER suggested the main office of the Woodstock Company at Chicago or Woodstock, Illinois as being the best source to obtain information regarding the whereabouts of the Philadelphia agency records.

AT PALO ALTO, CALIFORNIA

Miss ARMISTA COOK, Information Secretary, Registrar's Office, Stanford University, advised that Professor JOSEPH S. DAVIS is presently the Director of the Food Research Institute at Stanford University, Palo Alto, California, but that he had been granted six month's sabbatical leave effective December 27, 1948. Miss COOK stated that Professor DAVIS had departed from Palo Alto by automobile on December 27, 1948, en route to Princeton, New Jersey and that he was expected to arrive at Princeton in approximately ten days where he could be located at the Institute of Advanced Study. Professor DAVIS had left no itinerary at Stanford and Miss COOK stated there was no way to contact him prior to his arrival at the Institute of Advanced Study.

AT BERKELEY, CALIFORNIA

Records of the Office of the Dean, Department of Mechanical Engineering, University of California, reflected that one MORRIS ASIMOW, who was born in Milwaukee, Wisconsin on November 27, 1906, received a BS, MS and PH D Degree at the University of California, the PH D Degree being granted in 1934. During the period of his attendance at the University of California, ASIMOW had been employed as a lecturer in the Engineering Department. The records further reflected that ASIMOW had been employed as late as January, 1948 as a lecturer in engineering at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Kisseloff-5406

SF #100-25417

It is suggested that MORRIS ASIMOW is identical with the AZIMOV mentioned in referenced report from New York City.

ANTHONY P. MORSE, Associate Professor of Mathematics at the University of California at Berkeley, who presently resides at 18 Oakvale Avenue, Berkeley, California, was interviewed on December 28, 1948, by SA CHARLES F. BRUSCH and the writer.

Professor MORSE stated that he first met FRANK RENO in approximately July of 1944 at which time Professor MORSE was employed at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds. He associated with and saw FRANK RENO almost every day until the end of the war in 1945. He stated that he was not as close to FRANK RENO as some of the other employees at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, such as JOHN KELLEY and EDWARD McSHANE, but that he liked RENO and that RENO on several occasions had visited his home. He stated he last saw RENO at a mathematical meeting held at Swarthmore near Christmas of 1946.

In addition to KELLEY and McSHANE, he stated that other close associates of FRANK RENO had been HERMAN MEYER of the University of Chicago, and VERNON LEWIS of the Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

He stated that RENO had been an extremely useful employee at Aberdeen, that he was a tireless worker, seemed to be extremely interested in his work and, in fact, he characterized him as being the hardest worker at Aberdeen. He stated that RENO would work days at a stretch and did not ordinarily stop work at the end of the day. He said RENO was able to produce some excellent bombing tables.

Professor MORSE stated he had no knowledge of any Communist affiliation on the part of RENO, nor had he any knowledge of any espionage activity on the part of RENO. He stated he knew of no occasion where RENO had furnished any information to any unauthorized persons and stated he knew of no occasion where RENO had violated any security regulation and had no knowledge of any classified material which was missing from the Aberdeen Proving Ground Laboratories. Professor MORSE stated that he could not recall ever having entered into any political discussion with RENO on any occasion. He stated he had never heard RENO mention WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, nor had he heard of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS prior to the recent newspaper publicity.

He stated he knew that RENO had numerous volumes of notebooks in his own handwriting, that he had seen several of these notebooks in RENO's possession and that RENO often carried two or three of these notebooks around with him under his arm. He stated they were all neatly and legibly written by RENO.

SF #100-25417

Professor MORSE advised that he, himself, had the following classified material in his possession:

One copy of BRL Report No. 557, written by ANTHONY P. MORSE, July 13, 1945, classified restricted, which MORSE stated he had brought with him from the Aberdeen Proving Grounds as it was a copy of his own work.

He stated he also had a copy of the Aberdeen Proving Grounds Report No. 1 entitled "High Altitude Range Bombing by Aberdeen Bombing Mission Using Ballistic Cameras", written by R. S. ZUG, December 10, 1945, and classified restricted.

MORSE stated that this had been transmitted to him by officials at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds subsequent to his termination there. MORSE stated, however, that he was still retained by the Proving Grounds in the capacity of consultant and felt he was authorized to have this restricted material in his possession.

With regard to notebooks in his possession, he stated he had never maintained any formal notebooks, but that he had some handwritten notes regarding the work done on Report No. 557. He said he also had the following two pamphlets which were not marked classified:

Memorandum Report No. 460 dated June 5, 1947
Memorandum Report No. 461 dated June 5, 1947

Both of these reports were written by MORSE.

On December 3, 1948, at the time WHITTAKER CHAMBERS submitted a signed statement to agents of the Baltimore Office, he claimed that one of the photographers who photographed the documents which ALGER HISS and others employed by the United States Government had furnished to him was an individual whom he knew only as "FELIX."

After considerable investigation conducted by the Baltimore Office, agents of that office furnished the New York Office with photographs of one FELIX AUGUST INSLERMAN, who it was determined was employed by the GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY in Schenectady, New York, and on this same date a photograph of FELIX AUGUST INSLERMAN which had been furnished to the New York Office by the Albany Office was exhibited to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS on December 22nd by Special Agents Joseph M. Kelly and Thomas G. Spencer of the New York Office. CHAMBERS positively identified the photograph of FELIX AUGUST INSLERMAN as the photographer who photographed documents for him in 1938 and as the individual he had previously stated was known to him as "FELIX."

On December 23, 1948, Special Agent John J. O'Toole and the writer through arrangements made at the General Electric plant in Schenectady, New York, talked with FELIX AUGUST INSLERMAN and he agreed to accompany the agents to the resident agency office of the Bureau in Schenectady, New York, and at approximately 11:00 A.M. on this same date Special Agent O'Toole and the writer interviewed INSLERMAN.

At the outset of the interview INSLERMAN was questioned concerning his knowledge of any espionage activities which had been engaged in by any individuals in or outside of the United States Government. INSLERMAN vehemently denied any knowledge of espionage activities. A photograph of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS was exhibited to him and he immediately denied knowing CHAMBERS. When questioned concerning his taking any photographs of documents for CHAMBERS he denied that he had ever taken any photographs on microfilm for CHAMBERS.

INSLERMAN was then thoroughly questioned concerning his own background and employment as well as his education and the places where he had lived. He then furnished the signed statement which is being set forth herein.

SUBPOENA

INSLERMAN was advised that he was to appear before the Grand Jury in New York City on January 3, 1948, and at the completion of his signing the statement a subpoena was served on him by the writer.

SEARCH OF PREMISES

At the conclusion of the interview in Schenectady, New York, at approximately 3:20 P.M. INSLERMAN was asked if he had any objection to signing a consent to search his premises. He replied that he had no objection to a search being made and a voluntary written consent to search his premises, his personally owned car and his personal effects wherever they might be was signed by INSLERMAN and witnessed by the writer and Special Agent John J. O'Toole. This written consent to search is being maintained in the files of the New York Office. The writer asked INSLERMAN if he had any objections to the search being conducted at that time and he voluntarily agreed to accompany Agent O'Toole and the writer to his premises located in Cambridge, New York.

Upon the arrival of Special Agent O'Toole and the writer in Cambridge, New York, they were joined by Special Agents Sheehan and Bibler of the Albany Office and proceeded to INSLERMAN'S home, which is located on a farm some five miles from Cambridge proper. The premises consist of a house, a shed for a tractor and an automobile, a chicken coop, a pig sty and a small shed which housed a cow. The agents were met at the door by Mrs. ELIZABETH INSLERMAN, who was advised that her husband FELIX had voluntarily consented to allow a search to be made of his premises by the agents. Mrs. INSLERMAN demanded to know why the agents were conducting a search and she was then advised of the allegations made against her husband and her reply was "What proof do you have?" Mrs. INSLERMAN was advised by the agents that there was no question involving proof at this time, that that matter would be decided at a later time and at present the agents were interested in ascertaining the facts concerning the allegation that her husband was connected with espionage work.

Special Agent Bibler and the writer proceeded to the upper story of the house accompanied by INSLERMAN. In the room off the rear bedroom INSLERMAN had an enlarger set up. It was determined that this enlarger was of a Leitz make and the serial number on the lens was 340582. On the stand holding the enlarger there were a number of blue prints, drawings, graphs and notes pertaining to designs of airplanes. It was noted that these papers bore the year 1940. Others had no date at all.

INSLERMAN was confronted with these papers and asked why he had them located at the enlarger. He stated that the papers were notes that he had taken while attending Johns Hopkins University. However, he was confronted with the fact that he had previously stated that he had graduated from Johns Hopkins in 1939. His reply to that was that he had taken extension courses in Johns Hopkins and these were notes that he did not have in his possession illegally.

Considerable time was then spent discussing the entire situation concerning INSLERMAN'S involvement in this case, but he continued in his denial that he had been involved in espionage work.

As the search continued, a number of rolls of film were found, some of which were developed and had tape around the container and others were found to have not been developed, according to INSLERMAN. Some of this film was microfilm with the date 1938 on the container. INSLERMAN was confronted with the fact that this type of film was usually used in document work, but his reply was that he used it in his photographic hobby, and again he vehemently denied his participation in this case.

DECLASSIFIED AS LISTED S. P. 1

The search continued to the front hall in the upper story of the house, where a small bookcase was located and in this bookcase were found a number of Manila folders containing blue prints, graphs, drawings and other material relating to aeronautical engineering. It was noted that some of these papers were obtained from the REPUBLIC AVIATION CORP., Farmingdale, New York, and were marked confidential. The date of 1944 was on some of the papers. INSLERMAN was again confronted with the fact that he had these confidential papers in his possession and he stated that he had clearance for all of the papers due to his position and that many of the papers were routed to him in connection with his engineering work. It was pointed out to INSLERMAN that it would be necessary to take these papers in order to have them checked by REPUBLIC AVIATION CORP. in an effort to determine whether he had any right to have them in his possession at the present time.

It was also noted that there was a drawing of the general layout of the REPUBLIC AVIATION engineering plant. INSLERMAN claimed that he needed this plan in his work at the REPUBLIC AVIATION plant and that he had taken it with him when he had left there.

The search on the first floor of the house was conducted by Special Agents Sheehan and O'Toole and in the course of their search they also came upon a number of rolls of film, some of which was observed and was found to be pictures taken of scenery, the nature of which could not be determined, as well as pictures of individuals. All of the film was taken with the consent of INSLERMAN and it comprised a total of thirty-six rolls of film. All of the film was believed to be 35mm, however, the film that was sealed was not opened by the agents and the only films viewed were those exhibited by INSLERMAN himself to the agents.

During the course of the search on the first floor there were also found three bonds of the Imperial Russian Government made out to AUGUST J. INSLERMAN. INSLERMAN claimed that his father owned these bonds and that they were part of his estate. The following numbers were listed as being found on the bonds, all of which were in the denomination of $1,000.00:

A38707, dated October 9, 1935
A38708, dated October 8, 1935
A38709, dated October 9, 1935

All of the bonds were issued by the National City Bank, East 34th Street, New York City.

Kisseloff-5418

NO PERSONAL RECORD AS LISTED B. F.

INSLERMAN displayed a Leica camera that he had in his possession. It was noted that the serial number was 234730.

During the search on the first floor INSLERMAN'S wife was present.

A search was made of the cellar by Special Agent Sheehan and the writer and it was noted that INSLERMAN had a number of newspapers piled in one box, all of which pertained to the HISS-CHAMBERS publicity which had appeared in the newspapers in the past three weeks.

It is to be noted that at the time INSLERMAN was questioned and photographs of CHAMBERS, HISS, WADLEIGH and RENO were shown to him he had no hesitancy about the individuals' names and when questioned as to why he did not have any hesitancy about the names he stated that he had read this case thoroughly in the newspapers and when it was brought to his attention that he had the newspapers pertaining to the HISS-CHAMBERS trial segregated to some extent he admitted that he had read the case thoroughly and was acquainted with all of the individual names mentioned in the case. His explanation of his knowledge was that every person has an extreme interest in this particular case.

A search was made by Special Agent Sheehan and the writer, accompanied by INSLERMAN, of the chicken coop. It was noted that INSLERMAN had two hens and a young calf housed in his chicken coop. A search was then made of the pig sty. It was noted that he had one pig and a young cow housed in instant sty. A thorough search was made of the shed in which it was noted that INSLERMAN had a brand new Allis Chalmers tractor which he claimed he recently purchased for $1100.00.

Upon the completion of the search INSLERMAN was asked if he would be willing to accompany the agents to New York City to confront WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. He stated that he would willingly confront CHAMBERS but he preferred to have the confrontation take place the following day inasmuch as he desired to be at home with his family during the night.

There was an eleven-year-old girl by the name of JOAN ~~MARONE~~ MORRONE living in INSLERMAN'S home who he stated was living there for a short time having a vacation from Brooklyn, New York. He said that he had taken the child through the New York Herald Tribune Fresh Air Fund, that he received no reimbursement for the child but was doing it only to participate in the fresh air fund provided by the Herald Tribune.

The agents departed from INSLERMAN'S home at approximately 10:00 P.M. and a statement was made out and signed by INSLERMAN and witnessed by the writer and Agent O'Toole to the effect that the agents had taken all of the notes, plans and technical material which were found on the premises as well as thirty-six rolls of film and a passport printed in the Russian language. INSLERMAN signed the statement setting forth the above items in duplicate and agreed that this was all of the material taken from the premises. The statement signed by INSLERMAN is being retained in the files of the New York Office.

INSLERMAN then accompanied Agent O'TOOLE and the writer to Schenectady, New York, which is located some forty miles from INSLERMAN'S home. During the course of this trip to Schenectady INSLERMAN was questioned thoroughly as to his residence in Baltimore, Maryland. He claimed that he did reside on Callow Avenue as set forth in the statement, and said that he did use the bath room of the home as a dark room. However, he continued to deny that CHAMBERS had ever visited the home on Callow Avenue in Baltimore, Maryland, and appeared to be willing to confront CHAMBERS as to the statements made by him that he, CHAMBERS, knew INSLERMAN as "FELIX," the individual who photographed documents for him. INSLERMAN also claimed no association with the Communist Party and claimed that he had never received any compensation for his photographic work outside of normal sums of $10.00. He denied vehemently that he had ever received any funds through his photographic hobby for any kind of document work.

Upon arrival in Schenectady, New York, a search was made of INSLERMAN'S car, a 1947 Chevrolet. Nothing of value was found in the car pertaining to instant case. INSLERMAN stated that he had had a Chevrolet automobile since 1936 and in 1939 he had purchased a new one. In 1941 he had purchased a new Chevrolet from the Belair Road Chevrolet Company at Baltimore, Maryland, and relative to his ability to purchase these automobiles he claimed that he had always been able to save money and that he then had approximately $1,000.00 in the bank and his farm was paid for, that he also owned the tractor valued at $1,100.00.

INSLERMAN accompanied Agent O'Toole and the writer as well as a guard from the GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY into the premises of the GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY and proceeded to INSLERMAN'S desk. A search was made of the desk in INSLERMAN'S presence but it appeared that everything he had in his possession in the desk pertained to his every day work in the plant. He stated that he did not have a locker in the plant and it was found that a coat rack was in the room where the desk was located and no lockers were provided for the employees in this section of the plant.

On December 27, 1948, the papers, plans and blue prints taken from INSLERMAN'S home as well as the thirty-six rolls of film were forwarded to the FBI Laboratory by the Albany Office for examination and evaluation.

On the afternoon of December 31, 1948, subject Chambers was interviewed by Mr. Ray Whearty of the Department and the writer in the office of Mr. Whearty at considerable length concerning the substance of his statements to members of the House Un-American Activities Committee on the evening of December 29, 1948, at his farm near Westminster, Maryland, which information was subsequently reported in the Washington "Times Herald" on December 30, and 31, 1948.

The news articles in question attributed most of these statements to Congressman Karl Mundt and indicated that Chambers had revealed new names, including some dead individuals and some now operating in other countries, and had furnished a complete chronology of his activities. Further, that the figures named did not include any new sources of confidential information. The articles reported that 52 additional big batches of Top Secret papers, including data on the Norden bomb sight, had been delivered by Chambers to secret Soviet agents in New York and that he had related on one occasion he took a money belt containing $10,000 from New York City to San Francisco for the purpose of financing West Coast spy operations. Reference was also made to four costly rugs given as gifts to four of the principal sources of information in Washington.

Mr. Chambers related the information he had furnished the Committee began approximately in 1932 when he was introduced into the apparatus of one Ulrich, who operated an apparatus through the Hamburg-American Steamship Line and which utilized three New York City apartments and secret writing and microfilm in their exchange of information and instructions. He mentioned a number of individuals involved or associated in this matter, naming some and identifying others by pseudonyms.

Thereafter, he mentioned association with Dr. Philip Rosenbliet, John Sherman, was.; Maxim Lieber; Hideo Noda, a Japanese; a Finn or Estonian who held an important position in the Soviet network and who preceded Borris Bykov. Throughout the interview, Chambers spoke of J. Peters and Peters' role in making contacts and supplying individuals for the work.

Chambers then related his association with Harold Ware and the group which Harold Ware had organized, including Alger Hiss, Donald Hiss, Charles Kramer, Lee Pressman, etc. He explained how the primary objective was placing these men in key positions and how subsequently the principal objective changed to securing information from those who were well placed. He also told about the introduction into the parallel of George Silverman and Harry D. White.

He spent some time discussing Colonel Borris Bykov, listing the persons who had met Bykov on one or more occasions, and stated that Bykov was known well by J. Peters and unknown subject "Keith". He had a new vague recollection that "Keith's" real name may have been Crane, but observed that this was very vague. He mentioned that "Keith" had associated with John Sherman on the West Coast and was certain that "Keith" came from the West Coast by reason of the following incident:

In connection with the news item concerning $10,000 which Chambers allegedly carried to San Francisco, Chambers explained that in 1935, unknown subject "Bill" had sent him to San Francisco with a money belt for the use of individuals on the West Coast. He was not entrusted with the purpose for which the money was sent. He registered at the Golden Gate YMCA as Lloyd Cantwell and by prearrangement was contacted by "Keith", whom he then met as "Pete". Subsequently, "Keith" introduced him to an elderly Jewish man named Volkoff, who was known as the "Old Man" and was connected with the Pan-Pacific Trade Union Secretariat. He did not recall whether he delivered the money belt to "Keith" or Volkoff, but believed it was probably the latter. He mentioned that he understood the Pan-Pacific Trade Union Secretariat was operating a courier system to Japan at the time and he assumed the money was for underground purposes. He stated he did not know the amount of money in the belt and that the news item apparently reflected a casual estimate by him to the Committee that they would not have sent him out there with less than the sum of $10,000.

Old Man Vol Koff

With reference to the 52 additional batches of secret papers, Chambers stated this was a rough estimate based upon visits every week or ten days with his contacts.

Concerning mention of the Norden bomb sight, Chambers stated that he knew that contact Vincent Reno had been working on a bomb sight and that he may have mentioned the Norden bomb sight, but that he felt this statement must be qualified.

Regarding the four costly rugs mentioned in the news article, Chambers repeated that they were delivered to Harry D. White, Alger Hiss, A. George Silverman and H. Julian Wadleigh.

Kisseloff-5425

Chambers mentioned that the Committee had questioned him very closely about Noel Field and about Laurence Duggan. In this connection, he recalled that Hiss had conceived the idea that Noel Field would be a good source of information and had rushed him in an effort to recruit him but returned to Chambers with the story that Field was already in a parallel. Chambers recalled for what it is worth that Noel Field was the best friend of Laurence Duggan and he cannot but believe that Duggan was aware of the activity around him.

Further concerning Duggan, Chambers recalled that about 1937, Frederick Vanderbilt Field was operating an apparatus in New York City in an apartment donated for the purpose by his mother. In some way Chambers became aware that F. V. Field and Duggan had been classmates, probably at Princeton University, and J. Peters introduced Chambers to Field for the purpose of recruiting Duggan. He stated Field went to Washington, D. C. to see Duggan and that Duggan brushed him off by indicating that he was already serving in an apparatus. Chambers stated that he also had a dim recollection that Hiss had made an effort to recruit Duggan and it was his impression that Duggan told Hiss substantially the same, namely, that he was already operating. As a result of these contacts, Chambers was definitely of the impression that Duggan was a part of or associated with the apparatus of Hedi Gomperz.

Chambers was very cooperative throughout the interview and upon the conclusion expressed willingness to be interviewed at any time and stated he would be glad to come to Washington for such interview.

In conversation with Mr. Whearty, it was indicated that Chambers is scheduled to appear before the Grand Jury in New York City on January 3, 1949.

A letter containing a more detailed report of the above interview will be submitted on Monday, January 3, 1949.

Arrangements are being made for the New York office to interview Chambers thoroughly when he appears before the Grand Jury. Also a check is being made to identify the subjects on the West Coast.

As previously indicated we ought to get Chambers before the Grand Jury & get his whole story once & for all.

Editor Made Deliveries In N. Y. Weekly

Mundt Releases Story After 5-Hour Hearing

By FRANK HOLEMAN

The House un-American activities committee revealed yesterday that besides the hot documents found in Whittaker Chamber's pumpkin "at least" 52 other big batches of top secret papers including data on the Norden bomb sight were stolen by Red spies in pre-war Washington.

All these documents, the bulk of which came from the State department, were delivered by Chambers in 1937-38 to a Soviet secret agent in New York for transmission to Moscow.

Made Weekly Trips

Rep. Mundt (R) of South Dakota, acting chairman of the committee, said Chambers has testified that in serving as the ring's New York-to-Washington courier, he made one trip a week for a full year before he finally decided to break with the Communist party. The committee said the Chambers group functioned for a year after that.

The "pumpkin papers" which he produced only recently were to be in his next delivery when he broke with the party in 1938.

The report said Chambers told the committee he once took a money belt containing $10,000 from New York to San Francisco for the purpose of financing west coast spy operations.

their unusual [illegible] for the Soviet Union," the report said.

The committee did not identify the four, or give any more details, "in order not to interfere in the present investigation of the federal grand jury on espionage now convened in New York City."

Final Report Issued

These revelations came as the committee released its final report on the Hiss-Chambers controversy, entitled "Communist Espionage within the United States Government."

The report declared that Communist espionage is probably still continuing within the government, and recommended, among other things, stiffening of the espionage laws, passage of the Mundt-Nixon anti-subversive bill and raising the penalty for contempt of Congress from one year in jail to five years with a $5,000 fine.

For the first time, the committee definitely linked the Chambers "underground apparatus" with the spy ring headed by the ex-red spy queen, Elizabeth T. Bentley, during the war. The report said four persons were "definitely established" as members of both rings but did not name them.

Ring May Be Operating

"We have no evidence to indicate that the operations of this second apparatus (the Bentley group) do not continue to the present time," the report declared.

"The committee knows that the desire on the part of Russian Communists for information from America is necessarily stronger today than it was before or during the war," it went on.

"We also know that the cooperative techniques existing between the Communists in Russia and the Communists in America are still intact, and that there are Communists in government today."

It cited State department firings of 151 persons since Jan. 1, 1947, "for security reasons" as evidence that Reds are still in sensitive jobs.

Five Hours to Tell Story

Chambers poured out the full, hair-raising story of his courier activities, in a five-hour meeting with committee members at his home near Westminster, Md., Tuesday night, Mundt revealed.

It was his job, Chambers said, to carry material from ring members in Washington, to Col. Boris Bykov, in New York. The squat red-haired Bykov has been previously identified as a Nkvd agent, top Red spy in the United States.

The material was usually microfilmed in a secret studio in Baltimore, Chambers related. He then tucked the rolls of a microfilm in a tobacco pouch, and carried them to Bykov.

Five rolls of film—two developed and three undeveloped—were found in the pumpkin on Chambers' farm. These were the last batch he collected. He hid them for 10 years in an abandoned dumb waiter in a Brooklyn house.

withdrawal of its occupation forces from Korea, the official Soviet news agency Tass reported today. Tass said the evacuation was completed Christmas day, six days ahead of the midnight Dec. 31 deadline set by the Russians themselves.

By wartime agreement, Russia occupied the industrial northern half of Korea, while U. S. forces moved into the agricultural zone south of the thirty-eighth parallel. The U. S. Army announced in Washington Tuesday night that it was withdrawing the 7th infantry division from Korea in accordance with an agreement with Russia to evacuate all troops "as early as practicable."

tion of each week's operation:

"The source would bring the documents out in a brief case, and take them home. There, Chambers would take over the briefcase, and go on to meet a photographic expert at a prearranged place.

"The expert would take the brief case and document to a laboratory in Baltimore, put the documents on film, and would return the brief case and contents to Chambers the same night.

"Sometimes Chambers stated it would be as late as one in the morning before he got the briefcase back. He would then proceed to the home of his source, deliver the brief case, and the documents would be returned to the State department files.

Exchange in Baltimore

"Chambers would then pick up the microfilms in Baltimore, place them in a tobacco pouch, and carry them to New York, where he would deliver them to a Col. Bykov of the Soviet espionage system, who was at that time known to Chambers only as "Peter." That was the procedure on the 52 batches, which immediately preceded the pumpkin file.

But even as early as 1932 Chambers testified, he obtained documents from the State department, the bureau of standards, the Aberdeen proving ground, and the Navy, the report said. In addition, he got vital information from key U. S. industries."

In a scathing section of the "enormity of crimes involved," the report said: "We cannot overemphasize the enormity of the reprehensible crimes involved in the act of furnishing a foreign power with documents of vital security import. Such acts precipitate wars, they destroy the fruits of martial victory, and they endanger the basic institutions of freedom upon which our liberties depend."

DETAILS:

The following investigation is predicated upon information furnished to SA STANLEY C. SETTLE at the United States Attorney's Office, Asheville, N. C., December 10, 1948, by Confidential Informant T-1.

The informant advised that while he was in the Army stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., and a member of the [redacted] Battalion, JOHN KORAL was a member of instant organization. According to the information furnished KORAL is a nephew of JOHN KORAL. b7D

In 1944 while both were stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., KORAL related to the informant in confidence that his uncle, JOHN KORAL, made several trips to Washington, D. C., for ALGER HISS, presently a subject of an investigation being conducted by the House Un-American Affairs Committee. These trips were made by KORAL's uncle for the purpose of receiving from an unknown person in Washington, D. C., top secret papers from the State Department and carry same to HISS who was staying in New York City. As payment for these trips, KORAL's uncle was paid $300 to $500 for each trip. Three trips were made in 1937 and one trip was made in 1938. These papers were obtained from the unknown person on a street corner in Washington, D. C. While these trips were made by the former soldier's uncle, HISS stayed at the residence of KORAL which was at that time in New York City. The present address of KORAL, according to the informant, is 36 Arthur Street, Hempstead, N. Y.

The informant stated that since the House Un-American Affairs Committee investigation began on this subject, he made several trips to the Charlotte Office of the FBI to report the information in his possession, but he never contacted the FBI for reason he was afraid of what might happen should KORAL discover the source of the information.

The foregoing was furnished to the Bureau and the New York Office by letter dated December 17, 1948.

By teletype dated December 29, 1948, the Charlotte Office was requested by the New York Office to interview the informant again for a detailed description of JOHN KORAL and that the reliability of the informant be determined.

AT HENDERSONVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

b7D

Ce 65-1303

Confidential Informant T-1 advised he never saw the uncle, JOHN KORAL, and the nephew never described his uncle.

Following is a description of the nephew, JOHN KORAL, as furnished by the informant:

Name	JOHN KORAL (as carried on the rolls of Bat. C, 530th Field Artillery, Fort Jackson, S. C., in 1945)
Military rank	PFC
Residence	36 Authur Street, Hempstead, N. Y.
Race	White
Sex	Male
Age	31 (1944)
Height	5' 3 - 4"
Weight	175 pounds
Build	Heavy (Fat)
Hair	Dark brown (thin in front)
Eyes	Dark brown
Complexion	Dark (rough)
Peculiarities	Square jaws - thin tight lips
Civilian occupation	Tailor

The informant added that in 1944 at Fort Jackson, S. C., [redacted] KORAL mentioned that his uncle, JOHN KORAL, had had some tough luck in that he had incurred large bills because of a sick child and that if it had not been for ALGER HISS he didn't know what his uncle would have done.

KORAL continued by saying that HISS, a high government official, had paid his uncle from $300 to $500 per trip to bring important papers from Washington, D. C., to New York City. The informant stated he then asked KORAL several questions and from the answers obtained the information previously set forth in this report.

According to the informant the nephew KORAL's family was residing with the uncle, JOHN KORAL, at this time. He added that the soldier KORAL always seemed to be able to obtain fairly large sums of money from his family by sending a wire to the family requesting that spending money be sent to him.

The informant said KORAL never appeared to be the type to brag and that following the conversation requested the informant not to mention what had been said for it might get his uncle in trouble. The informant added that at the time of the conversation he had no idea who ALGER HISS was and only recently through reading the daily papers did he realize the identity of HISS.

During the interview the informant produced an honorable discharge from the United States Army. It was noted that he was a [redacted] at the time of discharge; that he served with the Army four years and five months. It was further noted he served in several foreign theatres and received several citations for good conduct. The Informant was born and reared in [redacted] N. C., where he lived until entering the Army. After being discharged from the Army he married a girl from Flat Rock, N. C., and they presently have a two-year old son. The Informant is presently connected with a bakery at [redacted], N. C., where he has resided for the past three years.

[redacted], N. C., Police Department, advised the Informant bears an excellent reputation in that city and is regarded as reliable.

Corporal [redacted] North Carolina Highway Patrol, [redacted], N. C., who resides across the street from the informant, Sheriff [redacted] and Chief Deputy Sheriff [redacted], N. C., advised the informant apparently bears a good reputation and there has been no cause, as yet, to doubt his reliability.

[redacted] Credit Bureau, advised her office has no record for the Informant.

AT [redacted], NORTH CAROLINA

Detective [redacted] Police Department, advised he has known the Informant as well as members of his family for a number of years. He pointed out the family was reared in not too good a section of [redacted] but have always been regarded as having good reputations. He said he would consider the Informant as being reliable.

[redacted] Records Division, [redacted] Police Department, advised she has known the Informant and the members of his family for many years. She said they bear a good reputation, have always been steady workers and she regards all as reliable.

The following investigation was conducted by SA MELVIN McRAE JETT:

At GREENSBORO, NORTH CAROLINA

Former SA ROY L. MORGAN advised he was well acquainted with ALGER HISS in 1934 when both were employed as attorneys for the Agriculture Adjustment Administration but was unable to supply typewriting specimens from HISS.

Mr. MORGAN stated that he has never corresponded with HISS. He recalls being in HISS's home only on one occasion in 1934. Mr. MORGAN does not recall seeing a typewriter at the time of his visit in HISS's home. He identified ROBERT K. McCONNAUGHEY, Security and Exchange Commission, LEE PRESSMAN, NAT WITT, JEROME FRANK, FRANCIS X. SHEA, JOHN ABT, ABE FORTAS, Mrs. FULLER, relative of Senator BURNS, and GERTRUDE SAMUELSON, secretary of JEROME FRANK, as associates of HISS. All the above-named were with the Agriculture Adjustment Administration in 1934. MORGAN further advised that Felix Justice FRANKFURTER, Supreme Court, CHESTER DAVIS, SR., Federal Reserve Bank, St. Louis, Mo., CHESTER DAVIS, JR., Winston-Salem, N. C., and ED STETTINIUS, Charlottesville, Va., were all closely acquainted with HISS. MORGAN believed that STETTINIUS FRANKFURTER, JEROME FRANK, CHESTER DAVIS, SR., and McCONNAUGHEY were most likely to have personal correspondence from HISS.

Mr. MORGAN advised that HISS, FRANK, PRESSMAN, WITT, FORTAS, SHEA, and ABT formed a clique in the Agriculture Adjustment Bureau which was very liberal and adhered closely to WALLACE's liberal policy. Of this clique, MORGAN believed PRESSMAN and possibly WITT were definitely Communists but others only liberals. MORGAN advised that PRESSMAN, McCONNAUGHEY, and SHEA were classmates of HISS at Harvard. HISS was described by MORGAN as being considered in 1934 as absolutely sincere, honest, intelligent, and of high integrity and character with a tremendous capacity for work. He was classified as an idealist with liberal tendencies such as belief in socialized medicine, government control of some industries, and a follower of ROOSEVELT's policies.

Mr. MORGAN believed that GERTRUDE SAMUELSON, former secretary of JEROME FRANK, could supply additional information as to clique in the Agriculture Adjustment Administration, but believed that background information should be secured before interviewing her.

The addresses of all parties not supplied are either known to the Bureau or can be secured from the files of the Agriculture Adjustment Administration of the Department of Agriculture.

(1) Referenced teletype of December 9, 1948, related that WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had advised that to his best recollection one KEITH, a photographer otherwise unidentified, had been associated with BORIS BYKOV in 1937 and had been introduced to CHAMBERS by BYKOV who related KEITH was a photographer whose services CHAMBERS could utilize if desired. It was CHAMBERS' impression that BYKOV was endeavoring to get rid of KEITH and send him to Washington so that he would be handled by CHAMBERS. CHAMBERS recalled that from either KEITH or BYKOV he learned that KEITH was connected with a White Russian named SVIASNIKOV who was a ballistics expert in government service in Washington, D.C.; further that at the time CHAMBERS met KEITH, SVIASHNIKOV was no longer connected with KEITH in his activities. CHAMBERS recalled KEITH came to Washington in 1937. He further recalled that SVIASHNIKOV had been controlled because he had a sister living in Moscow and KEITH once described how BYKOV used to torture SVIASHNIKOV to the point of crying by stating that they would put the sister out on the street unless he produced. CHAMBERS also related that KEITH was connected with one AZIMOV (ph) who was a metallurgist connected with the University of California at Berkeley and who subsequently became head of the research department at U.S. Steel Corporation, Chicago, Illinois.

Review of the Washington city directories revealed no individual by the name SVIASHNIKOV. However, these directories reflected that between 1935 and the present date one V. V. SVESHNIKOFF had resided in Washington, living at the following addresses:

1935: 1135 16th Street, NW (The Racquet Club)
1938-41: 1610 16th Street, NW, Apartment 401
1948: 4335 Reno Road, NW (address of HERBERT R. F. BRETT, office, secretary, British Embassy)

The records of the Immigration and Naturalization Service disclosed that the suspect under the name WOLDMAN W. de SVESHNIKOFF arrived in the United States at the port of Ruses Point, New York, in July 1918. On June 29, 1921, he filed declaration of intention to become a citizen. At this time he resided at 2138 California Street, Washington, D.C. On February 1, 1919, in connection with petition for naturalization, he indicated he was born February 22, 1889, in Moscow, Russia. Witnesses to this petition were EMILY DOWELL or DARNELL, 3026 Newark Street, NW, and THOMAS LLOYD JENKINS, patent attorney, 1026 17th Street, NW, both Washington, D. C.

On July 2, 1924, he received certificate of naturalization No. 2013148 in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. At this time he was single and resided at 2138 California Street. He was described as follows:

Height	5'11"
Weight	157
Hair	Brown
Eyes	Brown
Complexion	Dark

FORREST HOLDCAMPER, U.S. Archives, Room 2W, made available the old personnel file of WOLDEMAR W. de SVESHNIKOFF, aka VLADIMIR V. de SVESHNIKOFF, who was employed as assistant physicist at the Bureau of Standards from February 7, 1919, until June 30, 1924, when his resignation was accepted due to reduction in force. de SVESHNIKOFF was first appointed February 7, 1919, as assistant physicist at $1500 per annum. He was promoted to $1620 on January 1, 1920, for efficient and faithful work in investigations of gun erosion. Again on November 1, 1920, he was promoted to $1800 per annum at which time he was engaged in research work in metallurgy. On May 16, 1923, he was promoted to $1920 per annum at which time he was employed on problems in connection with general metallurgical investigations.

On July 30, 1924, a new position became available in another division of the Bureau of Standards, apparently junior physicist at $1860 per annum, which was offered de SVESHNIKOFF. On August 17, 1924, he wrote Director G. K. BURGESS that he regretted being unable to accept as he contemplated leaving to visit his mother in Russia for several months duration but upon return would be pleased to discuss the opportunity.

A personal history statement, dated April 23, 1920, disclosed de SVESHNIKOFF then lived at 1808 Belmont Road, NW. He stated in this statement he was born February 22, 1889, at Moscow, and indicated previous United States employment from September 1, 1918, to November 15, 1918, as speaker for the Production Bureau, United States Fuel Administration, until the signing of the Armistice. He gave the person to notify in case of accident as the Russian Embassy, 16th Street, NW.

In the personal history statement he indicated he had been educated in the public high schools in Moscow to 1907 and had graduated from the University of Moscow in 1911 as phisico-mathematical faculty, chemical section; further that he attended the Agricultural Institute of Moscow--special school, Department of Agriculture, 1914, specializing in cultivation of marsh lands and meadows and also graduated in 1915 from the government artillery school which had the same standing as West Point. He claimed to be an expert of the Russian Department of Agriculture and to have visited South Russian districts, Finland, Denmark, and Germany, making intensive study of methods of cultivation of soil. In July 1914 he entered active military service as officer of artillery. In 1915 he was recalled to Petrograd for technical expert work in high explosives. He was sent to the United States in 1916 as a specialist in explosives and served as an instructor at various munition plants in Canada and the United States in charge of laboratories testing aluminum, copper and brass. He stated his special qualifications were those of metallurgist, physicist and cristallographist.

A memorandum in the Bureau of Standards file from EDWIN W. ELY, Division of Simplified Practice, to Personnel Officer W. C. FARRELL, dated February 17, 1932, reflected an inquiry from Sear-Roebuck & Company concerning de SVESHNIKOFF. The firm was advised that as a courtesy to the abrasive industry, the name of de SVESHNIKOFF had been suggested and after personal interview he was accepted by this industry. It was suggested that inquiry be made concerning de SVESHNIKOFF at Norton Company, producer of electric furnace abrasives, at Worcester, Massachusetts, or at the Abrasives Company, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania (J. S. FOLEY of this firm formerly supervised de SVESHNIKOFF's work at the Bureau of Standards). It was indicated that ALBERT ANDERSON of Norton Company was the chairman of the committee representing manufacturers which engaged de SVESHNIKOFF.

Further search of the records at the Archives revealed that on January 12, 1925, W. W. de SVESHNIKOFF, 2138 California Street, NW, addressed a letter to the State Department inquiring whether it was possible for students to come to the United States for a period of course of study of rubber chemistry and technicology. He was advised by the department concerning procedure for visas for students and furnished regulations.

At the Office of the Intelligence Division, Department of the Army, Room 2B822, Pentagon Building, a file was furnished on de SVESHNIKOFF by Captain JOHN P. HART, Security Group Operations Branch. This file reflected that a full personnel investigation was conducted in the spring of 1943 apparently as the result of de SVESHNIKOFF's persistent efforts to secure employment in the War Department and other government agencies. It was noted that on March 12, 1943, the FBI made inquiry concerning de SVESHNIKOFF in connection with an application for employment with the Bureau of Economic

Warfare. The file of the Department of the Army reflected the following military history for de SVESHNIKOFF:

July 1914 to June 1915, Russian Army, World War I
March 24, 1924, to March 23, 1929, Captain, Ordnance Officers Reserve Corps, United States Army, serial No. 0-197311
March 23, 1929, reappointed Captain
August 4, 1931, resigned

During the above period of service it appeared that de SVESHNIKOFF had active duty on six occasions for a period of 14 days each.

A review of the file indicates that de SVESHNIKOFF was permitted to resign on August 4, 1931, from his Reserve Officers connection rather than face charges growing out of efforts by him to obtain certain drawings of a 30 caliber, 1917 model, Browining water-cooled machinegun from one WILLIAM R. BLUEHDORN. No formal report appears to have been submitted at the time. However, a number of individuals connected with the matter were interviewed by the Army investigators in 1943.

Colonel R. C. COUPLAND was in the Manufacturing Division of Small Arms, Ordnance Department, having direct charge over draftsmen. He related that one draftsman, BLUEHDORN, advised that de SVESHNIKOFF approached him and was seeking certain drawings of the 30 caliber, Browning water-cooled machinegun. As a result Colonel COUPLAND took the matter to General TSCHAPPERT (retured) who was in charge of the Manufacturing Division and as a result of administrative action de SVESHNIKOFF had resigned. Colonel COUPLAND related that although drawings were quite widely distributed over the country for instruction purposes, de SVESHNIKOFF had no right to take blue prints from their proper place in order to have a complete set of drawings made on the outside, presumably for the purpose of selling them. He indicated to the investigator that certain features, such as tolerance, were not revealed by the drawings distributed for instruction purposes; further that Amtorg was interested in getting such unrevealed features. The Colt Company had rights to this gun but would not deal with Amtorg at that time.

Brigadier General JULIAN S. HATCHER, described as an acquaintance, knew of the matter only because he was in the Small Arms Branch in 1931. He recalled passing the information along to General TSCHAPPERT and indicated that the General was an easy man or de SVESHNIKOFF would not have fared so lightly. He felt de SVESHNIKOFF was wholly dishonest and would not recommend him for any kind of work.

WILLIAM R. BLUEHDORN related to the investigator that he had reported the matter to Captain RICHARD COUPLAND, after being approached by de SVESHNIKOFF. BLUEHDORN indicated that the drawings were restricted in the sense they were to be used only by authorized persons and that de SVESHNIKOFF as a Reserve Officer had the right to them generally and BLUEHDORN knew he had been receiving information from the Artillery as to the packing of small arms ammunition. He stated de SVESHNIKOFF could get drawings in the proper manner but the fact that he was going to sell them to agents for their use and gain was another matter although he did not believe de SVESHNIKOFF violated trust and confidence. He stated investigation indicated merely indiscretion and recalled de SVESHNIKOFF made a clean breast of the matter. BLUEHDORN indicated the Russian government at that time was in a more or less plastic stage and willing to receive all kinds of drawing materials. He stated the particular drawings were in the first stage, what might be considered experimental stage. He recollected de SVESHNIKOFF at the time was working on a commission for some men who represented themselves to be agents of this country and they induced de SVESHNIKOFF to produce the documents with a view toward turning them over to Russia and de SVESHNIKOFF was to receive some amount of money based upon evaluation by these agents and the price was to be determined after the information was furnished to them. He recalled de SVESHNIKOFF was out of work at the time and believed to be badly in need of money.

Dr. H. S. RAWDON, head of the Metallurgical Division, Bureau of Standards, who worked with de SVESHNIKOFF at the Bureau of Standards, advised the Army investigator that de SVESHNIKOFF was temperamental and lazy and could be bothersome. He thought perhaps de SVESHNIKOFF's work at the Bureau of Standards had proven useful, mentioning that little had been done in the research of erosion of gun barrels. Dr. RAWDON also advised that Dr. ALEXANDER KRYNITSKY, one of three czarist Russians at the bureau whose work was much more outstanding in education and achievement, had often expressed dislike for de SVESHNIKOFF, stating he had saved his hide in the revolution and had little consideration for his mother and members of his family.

One J. S. GRAY, an acquaintance in the Ordnance Department of the Army, advised the Army investigator that his information was mostly hearsay but he was acquainted with people who had met de SVESHNIKOFF on various occasions and considered him a braggert who lived mostly by his wits.

In connection with the incident leading to resignation of de SVESHNIKOFF as a Captain in the Ordnance Reserve Corps, it is noted that Colonel A. B. JOHNSON of the Ordnance Division made considerable investigation at the time and subsequently and that he felt that de SVESHNIKOFF was guilty only of an error in judgment and that he intended no harm or unethical procedure. In this connection Colonel JOHNSON endeavored to place de SVESHNIKOFF in a position at Aberdeen Proving Grounds in the fall of 1942 and at that time indicated that there did not seem to be any reason to question the loyalty of de SVESHNIKOFF.

The file in the Department of the Army further indicates that the United States Civil Service Commission flagged the file of de SVESHNIKOFF in May of 1942 but that subsequently this flag was removed on December 24, 1942, and de SVESHNIKOFF was advised on January 7, 1943, that as a result of investigation he was rated eligible, subject to satisfactory fingerprint clearance. On September 7, 1942, and again on November 4, 1942, he was interviewed by Civil Service investigators and question and answer statements secured, a copy of which are in the Army file. In these interviews de SVESHNIKOFF mentioned having written some letters to Petrovsky Academy in Moscow where he received his degree and stated he sent some agriculture books and slides from the Interior Department and some books and publications from the Interior Department and also photographs obtained from the Department of Agriculture. He also stated for a good many years he corresponded with the Academy of Moscow (People's University of Moscow) and sent them books from various departments in which they were interested.

He admitted he was friendly with the present Russian government and willing to help them out as he thought it was a fairer regime than they had before. He explained that he was never a Communist Party member nor was any of his family, adding that this was impossible as they were never of the working class.

He admitted being an avid race horse follower and stated he had supplemented his income by playing cards, principally in the University Club to which he belongs (formerly Racquet Club). He estimated that during the previous 15 or 16 years he had made perhaps $17,000 playing cards and also mentioned making some money in the stock market where he held a margin account. He stated between 1931 and 1934 he played for rather large stakes at 1¢ a point but more recently they have been playing for 1/5¢ a point.

In the Civil Service interviews he mentioned working for the following firms, apparently such employment being of brief duration: Wardman & McClain, real estate; Newark Wire Company, Newark, New Jersey, occasionally when a matter would come up; Engineering Machinery Company, 1133 Broadway, New York City; Shock, Gusner & Company, 8th and Clinton Streets, Hoboken, New Jersey.

In addition to employment previously mentioned, the file of the Department of the Army listed the following employment:

August 26, 1927, to June 1, 1928, associate metallurgist, U.S. Naval Gun Factory, Department of Construction and Repair, $7.70 per day, Washington, D.C. (verified).

June 1, 1928, to August 31, 1928, associate metallurgist, U.S. Naval Gun Factory, Ordnance Department, Navy Yard, Washington, D.C., at $7.70 per day (verified).

August 31, 1928, to May 10, 1929, chemist and metallurgist, U.S. Naval Station, Cavite, Philippine Islands, $9.94 per day, two year contract, left before expiration with prejudice for failure to live up to terms of contract; later changed to without prejudice by Secretary of the Navy (verified).

September 29, 1930, to June 30, 1931, research associate for Technical Commission of Electric Furnace Abrasive Producers at $4800.

1939, McKnew & Company, later known as Barrett Herrick Company, Washington, D.C., as stock and bond salesman.

December 19, 1941, to March 28, 1942, associate chemical engineer, Powder, Explosives and Pyrotechnics Section, Ordnance Department, at $3200, terminated, unsatisfactory.

The investigative report of the Army indicated subject speaks Russian fluently, reads and translates German, and has fair knowledge of French.

The Army personnel file of de SVESHNIKOFF at the Department of the Army was reviewed by Special Employee NERI A. CLARK. In addition to the background data already set forth it appeared that de SVESHNIKOFF attended a defense training course in high explosives given at George Washington University, Washington, D.C., in 1942.

This file also contained a letter from de SVESHNIKOFF to the Secretary of War, dated July 20, 1943, written at the suggestion of Representative JOHN MC CORMICK complaining that he was forced to resign his commission in 1931 due to consulting engineer work on behalf of Russia and that the War Production Board, the Bureau of Economic Warfare and the Air Corps had refused to give him employment. This file reflected that de SVESHNIKOFF claimed employment in 1930-31 with the Bureau of Standards. It is believed, however, this employment was for outside industry in collaboration with the Bureau of Standards.

The files of ONI, Navy Department, were examined by Special Employee DONALD W. MORLEY. In addition to education and employment previously set forth, the file contained a personal history form, dated March 31, 1947, in which de SVESHNIKOFF outlined the following employment:

1942-43, Engineering Machinery Company, 1133 Broadway, New York City.
October 1943 to April 1944, John W. Thorne, Inc., Pentagon Building.
June 1944 to November 1945, Smaller War Plants Corp., Washington, D.C., C. W. DUNNING, supervisor.
November 1945 to present, consulting engineer.

The ONI file indicated that certain anti-Bolshevist sympathies on the part of de SVESHNIKOFF were revealed in inquiries made during 1920 concerning Colonel NICHOLAUS ROMANOFF, a former officer in the Imperial Russian Army during World War I. de SVESHNIKOFF was known to have communicated with Colonel ROMANOFF on June 18, 1921, by registered mail, using stationery of the Bureau of Standards. The significance of this contact was not fully established. It was noted that ROMANOFF, an employee of the Imperial Russian Government fled Russia in 1908 after becoming involved in the social revolutionary movement. He was in the Philippines until 1917 when in connection with an American Expeditionary Force he was made a member of the United States Naval Intelligence and sent to Siberia to observe the activities of ADAMON SEMANOFF. ROMANOFF became friendly with SEMANOFF and allegedly betrayed the Americans, being discharged about March 1, 1919. He immediately joined SEMANOFF who dispatched him to the United States, Mexico and European countries in an effort to gain recognition for SEMANOFF as head of the anti-Bolshevist forces in Russia and as general administrator of northeast Siberia. ROMANOFF during this period stated de SVESHNIKOFF was a former employee of the Russian embassy and in sympathy with the anti-Bolshevist movement.

The ONI file further disclosed that in 1934 two private citizens, names not furnished, reported certain suspicious activities of de SVESHNIKOFF which led them to believe he was possibly engaged in espionage activities. They reported certain packages addressed to him were delivered by a messenger who impressed upon the recipient the importance of delivering them to de SVESHNIKOFF. It appeared that the packages were in turn forwarded to other destinations by de SVESHNIKOFF. The informants were able to observe the tags on these packages, one of which contained the word "aerial" and the other "20 minute exposure." It was further reported at that time that de SVESHNIKOFF had a number of women visitors at all hours and also that he made numerous trips between Washington, D.C. and New York City. On January 3, 1934, he received a very important communication requiring his departure for Russia. Check State?

Through Mr. HERBERT R. F. BRETT, 4335 Reno Road, NW, it was ascertained that de SVESHNIKOFF no longer resides with BRETT but had moved to a rooming house. Mr. BRETT indicated de SVESHNIKOFF is presently employed as a draftsman in the office of the Department of Vehicles and Traffic, District of Columbia Government.

On the afternoon of December 14, 1948, de SVESHNIKOFF was located in the office of the Traffic Engineer, District Building, and was subsequently interviewed at the Washington Field Office by Special Agent CHARLES D. CHAPMAN and the writer. He furnished considerable background data, advising he had been born of nobility, his father being VLADIMIR V. de SVESHNIKOFF (deceased) and his mother being SOPHIA YUSOUPOFF, who also is deceased, having died in 1946. He stated he has one sister living in Moscow, married name NATALIE VLADIMIROVNA SOMINICH, whom he described as being college educated and holding a position equivalent to a counselor or attorney with the Soviet government. He also has two brothers, Dr. ARKEDY V. de SVESHNIKOFF who holds a responsible position and was in charge of a number of hospitals during the recent war and NICHOLAS de SVESHNIKOFF who did not finish high school and is the holder of an unimportant position with the government. In this connection he explained everyone is employed by the government and declared there was no significance to this. de SVESHNIKOFF stated none of his relatives had ever been members of the Communist Party or affiliated with any of its institutions nor had he, and added that as they were not of the working class this would be very unlikely or impossible.

de SVESHNIKOFF stated he originally came to the United States in February 1916 as a first lieutenant attached to a high military commission for the Czarist government. He stated he served as an inspector in a number of munition plants until October of 1917 when conditions in Russia reached a point where many of the officers were recalled and he responded, returning via Japan, Mukden and Harbin. He stated upon arrival at Harbin he learned the Bolsheviks had taken over but he continued on to Moscow, arriving sometime in November 1917. In Moscow he stayed with his mother, mentioning that his father died in 1904.

He advised that he had decided to return to the United States and visited the foreign office a number of times endeavoring to secure a passport. He stated that an uncle was general in the medical corps and it was suggested to him to apply for passport on grounds of ill health (TB) and that when he went before the medical board the hearing was arranged or at least the examiners collaborated in finding him in need of treatment so that the commissar issued a passport to him. He stated a great deal of fighting was occurring all over Russia and for this reason he went to Archangel where the British consul, whom he had known in Canada, arranged passage for him on an icebreaker. He left Archangel in July aboard the Naskopie bound for Montreal and mentioned their picking up the ill-fated Creel Commission which was marooned on the ice en route.

General WRANGEL

As indicated, he denied any connection with the Soviet government or any interest in or affection for the Communist movement. He claimed that about 1924 he had assisted a military representative, a colonel who was sent to this country by General WRANGAL. He stated he had seriously considered going to Siberia to join ALEXANDER V. KALCHEK in his fight against the Reds but did not do so. He claimed he did not seriously consider going to Russia until after the United States recognized her but under questioning admitted that he had thought about it at the time he was released from the Bureau of Standards in the spring of 1924.

INTOURIST

With reference to his visit to Russia, he stated that he had applied for a visa in 1934 and handled the entire transaction through In-Tourist Corp., New York City, which handled routing, reservations, etc., paying for the trip in a lump sum amounting to $460, as he recalled. He stated he went aboard the Ile de France to LeHavre and then by train through Warsaw and Riga to Moscow where he visited with his mother and sister who was then single and residing on Povarskay, now Votovskago Street. He denied that he was approached by anyone in Moscow or elsewhere on his trip who endeavored to question him or to recruit him for espionage or other service. He stated that he had taken some slides along with him showing scenic beauties, such as Niagara Falls, which he donated to the museum and at the same time talked with the museum official about America. The next day he stated two men and a woman visited his home and accused him of spreading propaganda praising America to the detriment of Russia, which charges he of course denied.

de SVESHNIKOFF was questioned at length concerning any contacts with possible Russian agents or Communist representatives in this country. He explained his activities in 1931 about as related in this report, adding that when he first came to this country he had met a Russian by the name of STEPANOFF who was in charge of an Ordnance Research Company in New York City, address believed to be 1135 (?) Broadway. He stated that he had maintained contact with this individual, visiting him on a number of occasions when de SVESHNIKOFF would go to New York. He related that he frequently visited New York for pleasure purposes on weekends. It was his impression that STEPANOFF worked for Amtorg or at least in association with Amtorg. On one occasion STEPANOFF suggested that he prepare a paper dealing with the mechanization of military vehicles which was taking place at this time. He remarked on the fact that in Russia all equipment was horse drawn. He stated STEPANOFF promised to pay him for the paper and he felt this was an easy and legitimate way to pick up extra money. It was in connection with the preparation of this paper that he contacted BLUEHDORN, asking him to secure some drawings. He admitted when questioned that drawings of a 30 caliber machine gun had no connection with mechanization of vehicles but stated he thought he would gather any available material which would assist him in preparing the document. He concluded that after his request to BLUEHDORN was exposed and inquiry made by the Army authorities, he had given up the idea of preparing the paper and admitted he had never done any work on it. At this time he denied that any other person had ever contacted him.

de SVESHNIKOFF was questioned further and asked if he had not been contacted by an individual who came to Washington from New York City. He then recollected that on one occasion shortly after the exposure in connection with his request for machinegun drawings he had received a call at the University Club one night from an unknown individual who informed him that STEPANOFF sent him and requested de SVESHNIKOFF to meet him in a park on 14th Street, which he believes to have been Franklin Park. He stated he kept this appointment and met the individual who told him that he should cooperate and made vague threats against de SVESHNIKOFF's family in Moscow if he did not do so. He claimed he never saw this individual thereafter and did not believe he could identify him again. He described this person as about 30 years, 5'8" or 9", medium build, spoke Russian, and wore a suit and hat. He thinks it was spring or summer at the time.

de SVESHNIKOFF described STEPANOFF as being in the late 50's, 5'8" or 9", medium slender build, gray hair, and wearing glasses.

de SVESHNIKOFF was thereafter questioned specifically concerning BORIS BYKOV and Unsub KEITH. He denied knowing either, stating he had never heard of BORIS BYKOV or any person of similar name and that the only person he knew by the name of KEITH is an elderly patent attorney in Washington by the name of KEITH CARLIN. He treated the statement that he may have been coerced by BORIS BYKOV with threats against his sister or mother rather lightly and with some scorn, but was somewhat unconvincing.

After interview de SVESHNIKOFF furnished two scrapbooks which were examined and photographs of certain documents made, as well as a couple old snapshots of him. It was noted that the scrapbooks contained a copy of a letter addressed to Ambassador MAXIM LITVINOFF, dated November 14, 1933, in which the writer (possibly EDWARD W. POU, House of Representatives) introduced his friend, VLADIMIR V. SVESHNIKOFF, whom he described as an engineer, an American citizen, and a man of highest integrity, and who might be found useful after diplomatic relations are reestablished.

The scrapbooks also contained a copy of a letter from SVESHNIKOFF to LITVINOFF, dated November 21, 1933, in which he described himself as a Russian who had never lost interest in the welfare of his mother country and wished to convey cordial congratulations for the successful reestablishment of diplomatic relations. In this letter de SVESHNIKOFF indicated he had established extensive relations in diplomatic, congressional and social circles which connections might be of some value to LITVINOFF and he expressed the hope the ambassador would give him an opportunity to be more useful to the Soviet Union in some capacity. He continued that last week he had left at the embassy a letter from Honorable EDWARD W. POU, chairman of the Committee of Rules, House of Representatives, suggesting an interview. de SVESHNIKOFF concluded that all of his immediate family were residing in the Soviet Union and were in government service, and added that he had personally done some consulting engineer work for the Soviet government during the past 11 years.

In response to this letter de SVESHNIKOFF was advised by BEATRICE HEIMAN, secretary to LITVINOFF, on November 27, 1933, that it was regretted they could not offer him any position.

The scrapbooks contained numerous news clippings dated shortly after World War I publicizing de SVESHNIKOFF as a prominent anti-Soviet and enemy of Communism and quoting him liberally. The clippings also indicate that he was a bridge player of note and had won numerous trophies in this game. It also indicated that he was somewhat of a figure socially and was often mentioned as a dancing partner in social gatherings.

The records of the Credit Bureau contain a report on de SVESHNIKOFF dated January 10, 1947, and the files of Stones Mercantile Agency contain a report of March 6, 1933. These reports, however, add nothing to the information already set forth.

Mr. FRANK BAUGHMAN of the Bureau advised that he knew no ballistics expert by the name of SVIASNIKOV (ph) or any similar name nor was there any record of such an expert in the files of his office.

From personal observation de SVESHNIKOFF is described as follows:

Height	5'11"
Weight	175-85
Build	Medium
Eyes	Hazel-brown
Hair	Dark brown, graying, parted left side

HARRY DEXTER WHITE

At the office of JAMES HARD, director of personnel, Treasury Department, the personnel file of HARRY D. WHITE was examined for specimens of handwriting to compare with the handwritten documents delivered to Bureau Agents by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in Baltimore in early November 1948. From this file five documents were obtained and the originals forwarded to the Bureau Laboratory for comparison purposes. These documents are:

Letter to Dr. JACOB VINER, Treasury Department, dated June 9, 1934.
Letter to Dr. JACOB VINER, Treasury Department, dated June 11, 1934.
Personal history statement of WHITE, dated November 5, 1934.
Resignation as Assistant to the Secretary and Director of Monetary Research, dated January 22, 1945.
Oath of office as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, dated Jan. 24, 1945.

Complete background and personnel data concerning WHITE has been set forth previously in the case entitled GREGORY, ESPIONAGE - R. It is noted in the personnel file that by memorandum, dated February 25, 1943, from Secretary HENRY MORGANTHAU, JR., to WHITE, the latter was authorized, effective that date, to take supervision over and assume full responsibility for the Treasury's participation in all economic and financial matters (except matters pertaining to depository facilities, transfers of funds, and war expenditures) in connection with the operation of the Army and Navy and the civilian affairs in the foreign areas in which our armed forces are operating or are likely to operate. It was indicated this would include general liaison with State Department, Army and Navy and other departments or agencies and representatives of foreign governments on these matters.

Prior to this time it is noted that WHITE had been Director of Monetary Research since March 25, 1938, and on August 30, 1941, he had been given additional duties as an Assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury.

UNSUB KEITH

The files of the Washington Field Office contain no record of an individual who could be identified with Unsub AZIMOV, described by CHAMBERS as being a California contact of Unsub KEITH.

The indices of the Washington Field Office contain a number of individuals by the name of KEITH. Only one individual, however, appeared to offer possibilities as a suspect and data concerning this individual is briefly set forth, despite several discrepancies, such as the date of 1937 when CHAMBERS states BORIS BYKOV sent KEITH to Washington, D.C., and the fact that KEITH had been a contact of AZIMOV in California. The individual mentioned is NATHANIEL S. KEITH.

In the case entitled WASHINGTON BOOKSHOP ASSOCIATION, INTERNAL SECURITY - C, Washington origin, Confidential Informant T-1 advised that the name Mrs. N. S. KEITH, Rossdhu Castle, Chevy Chase, Maryland, phone Oliver 9452, appeared twice on membership lists under dated December 8, 1940 and December 20, 1941.

In the case entitled ALFRED KAUFMAN STERN, was, ETAL, ESPIONAGE - R, New York Origin, it appears that on September 15, 1945, and again on February 13, 1946, STERN contacted NATHANIEL S. KEITH who is anspecial assistant to the administrator of FHA, Washington, D.C. No information is available as to the subject matter of these contacts although it is known that STERN has been interested in matters pertaining to housing.

In the case entitled NATHANIEL SCHNEIDER KEITH, Special Assistant to the Administrator, Housing and Home Finance Agency, LOYALTY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES, it appears that Confidential Informant T-2, a former member of the Communist Party who has furnished reliable information in the past but who declined to testify before a loyalty board, reported that NATHANIEL KEITH was a member of the Communist Party unit to which the informant belonged in 1939 or 1940 at which time KEITH was employed as a reporter for the Wall Street Journal in Washington, D.C., and in early 1940 had resigned to become a reporter with PM Newspaper in New York City. This informant indicated that after KEITH went to New York he allowed his Party membership to lapse through inactivity. The informant recalled that KEITH attended several of the Party meetings in Washington but was never an active member of the Party. During this investigation the following employment record was noted as furnished by KEITH in his application at National Housing Agency on March 5, 1943:

July 1929 to December 1938, staff correspondent, Wall Street Journal, New York City

December 1938 to February 1940, Washington correspondent for Wall Street Journal, Washington, D.C.

February to May 1940, assistant to the director of public relations, Federal Housing Agency, Washington, D.C.

May to September 1940, business and financial editor, PM Newspaper, New York City

October 1940 to March 1943, director of public relations for Federal Housing Administration, Washington, D.C.

April 1943 to July 1947, National Housing Agency, Washington, D.C.

In a subsequent form, dated December 3, 1947, the following employment record was outlined together with a list of addresses during the previous ten years:

December 1938, Wall Street Journal, 44 Broad Street, New York City.

December 1938 to February 1940, Wall Street Journal, National Press Building, Washington, D.C.

February 1940 to May 1940, Federal Housing Administration, 1001 Vermont Avenue, Washington, D.C.

March 1943 to July 1947, OA, National Housing Agency, Social Security Building, Washington, D.C.

July 1947 to December 3, 1947, OA, Housing & Home Finance, Social Security Building, Washington, D.C.

October 1944 to December 3, 1947, 3839 Rodman Street, NW, Washington,D.C.

In the case entitled NATHANIEL S. KEITH, INTERNAL SECURITY - C, New York origin, it was indicated that this individual was considered as a subject for custodial detention. In report of Special Agent R. E. KAHRES, New York City, dated July 17, 1941, it was stated that the files of the Credit Bureau of Greater New York contain a clipping from the Wall Street Journal, dated June 27, 1932, showing a picture of KEITH. This report also described KEITH from the records of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles as being born December 30, 1906, 5'9", 150 pounds, blue eyes, brown hair, white and married. This file also contained a reference indicating that KEITH was reportedly financial editor of PM Newspapaper and had contributed to "Russia Today."

Will obtain photograph and description. Will thereafter set out leads concerning this individual's entry and departure from the United States.

Will review New York files concerning NATHANIEL S. KEITH for consideration as being identical with Unsub KEITH. If deemed advisable, will display photograph of KEITH to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

THE WASHINGTON FIELD OFFICE:

At Washington, D.C. at a later date ~~will~~ following investigation concerning STEPANOFF will reinterview V. V. de SVESHNIKOFF who appears to be an unreliable individual and a very likely suspect as the individual mentioned by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as a contact of BORIS BYKOV and Unsub KEITH. It is believed further facts must be developed before de SVESHNIKOFF may be persuaded to furnish information of value.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

One VLADIMIR V. de SVESHNIKOFF, Russian born naturalized citizen, may be identical with SVIASNIKOV (ph) described by CHAMBERS as contact of BORIS BYKOV and Unsub KEITH. de SVESHNIKOFF came to United States in 1916 for Czarist government as lieutenant attached to high military commission. Returned Russia 1917; made way back to United States July 1918 and has remained until present time, living in Washington, D.C. Made trip to Russia 1934 to visit mother. Claims to be of noble birth. Educated University of Moscow--Agricultural Institute, and Russian Artillery School. Employed various positions, Washington, D.C., including U.S. government. Supplemented income by wits, particularly playing bridge. Considerable background data set forth herein. Complete personnel investigation made by MID in spring of 1943. Number of persons then interviewed believed de SVESHNIKOFF lived by wits and inclined to distrust him. de SVESHNIKOFF served as Captain, Ordnance Officers Reserve Corps, USA, from March 24, 1924, to August 4, 1931, when resigned under pressure after requesting blue prints of 30 caliber machinegun for delivery to Russians. Upon interview de SVESHNIKOFF denied acquaintance with BYKOV or KEITH. Admitted efforts in 1931 to secure data concerning mechanization of military vehicles and machinegun blue prints for one STEPANOFF of New York City who operated ordanance engineering company and intended to supply data to Amtorg Corporation. Also admitted shortly thereafter he was approached by unknown individual in park on 14th Street who stated STEPANOFF had sent him. This individual urged de SVESHNIKOFF to cooperate and made vague threats against his family if he failed to do so. WFO files negative re AZIMOV. Information in files re one NATHANIEL S. KEITH, possible suspect as Unsub KEITH, set forth. Original handwriting specimens HARRY D. WHITE secured from personnel files, Treasury Department.

DETAILS: AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

VLADIMIR VALDIMIROVICH de SVESHNIKOFF, was Woldemar W. Sveshnikoff, Woldman W. de Sveshnikoff,
V. V. Sveshnikoff
2932 Porter Street, NW, phone Woodley 9068
Employed: Draftsman, Office Traffic Engineer,
D. C. Government, New District Building

Referenced teletype of December 9, 1948, related that WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had advised that to his best recollection one KEITH, a photographer otherwise unidentified, had been associated with BORIS BYKOV in 1937 and had been introduced to CHAMBERS by BYKOV who related KEITH was a photographer whose services CHAMBERS could utilize if desired. It was CHAMBERS' impression that BYKOV was endeavoring to get rid of KEITH and send him to Washington so that he would be handled by CHAMBERS. CHAMBERS recalled that from either KEITH or BYKOV he learned that KEITH was connected with a White Russian named SVIASNIKOV who was a ballistics expert in government service in Washington, D.C.; further that at the time CHAMBERS met KEITH, SVIASHNIKOV was no longer connected with KEITH in his activities. CHAMBERS recalled KEITH came to Washington in 1937. He further recalled that SVIASHNIKOV had been controlled because he had a sister living in Moscow and KEITH once described how BYKOV used to torture SVIASHNIKOV to the point of crying by stating that they would put the sister out on the street unless he produced. CHAMBERS also related that KEITH was connected with one AZIMOV (ph) who was a metallurgist connected with the University of California at Berkeley and who subsequently became head of the research department at U.S. Steel Corporation, Chicago, Illinois.

Review of the Washington city directories revealed no individual by the name SVIASHNIKOV. However, these directories reflected that between 1935 and the present date one V. V. SVESHNIKOFF had resided in Washington, living at the following addresses:

1935: 1135 16th Street, NW (The Racquet Club)
1938-41: 1610 16th Street, NW, Apartment 401
1948: 4335 Reno Road, NW (address of HERBERT R. F. BRETT, office, secretary, British Embassy)

The records of the Immigration and Naturalization Service disclosed that the suspect under the name WOLDMAN W. de SVESHNIKOFF arrived in the United States at the port of Ruses Point, New York, in July 1918. On June 29, 1921, he filed declaration of intention to become a citizen. At this time he resided at 2138 California Street, Washington, D.C. On February 1, 1919, in connection with petition for naturalization, he indicated he was born February 22, 1889, in Moscow, Russia. Witnesses to this petition were EMILY DOWELL or DARNELL, 3026 Newark Street, NW, and THOMAS LLOYD JENKINS, patent attorney, 1026 17th Street, NW, both Washington, D. C.

On July 2, 1924, he received certificate of naturalization No. 2013148 in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. At this time he was single and resided at 2138 California Street. He was described as follows:

Height	5'11"
Weight	157
Hair	Brown
Complexion	Dark

FORREST HOLDCAMPER, U.S. Archives, Room 2W, made available the old personnel file of WOLDEMAR W. de SVESHNIKOFF, aka VLADIMIR V. de SVESHNIKOFF, who was employed as assistant physicist at the Bureau of Standards from February 7, 1919, until June 30, 1924, when his resignation was accepted due to reduction in force. de SVESHNIKOFF was first appointed February 7, 1919, as assistant physicist at $1500 per annum. He was promoted to $1620 on January 1, 1920, for efficient and faithful work in investigations of gun erosion. Again on November 1, 1920, he was promoted to $1800 per annum at which time he was engaged in research work in metallurgy. On May 16, 1923, he was promoted to $1920 per annum at which time he was employed on problems in connection with general metallurgical investigations.

On July 30, 1924, a new position became available in another division of the Bureau of Standards, apparently junior physicist at $1860 per annum, which was offered de SVESHNIKOFF. On August 17, 1924, he wrote Director G. K. BURGESS that he regretted being unable to accept as he contemplated leaving to visit his mother in Russia for several months duration but upon return would be pleased to discuss the opportunity.

A personal history statement, dated April 23, 1920, disclosed de SVESHNIKOFF then lived at 1808 Belmont Road, NW. He stated in this statement he was born February 22, 1889, at Moscow, and indicated previous United States employment from September 1, 1918, to November 15, 1918, as speaker for the Production Bureau, United States Fuel Administration, until the signing of the Armistice. He gave the person to notify in case of accident as the Russian Embassy, 16th Street, NW.

In the personal history statement he indicated he had been educated in the public high schools in Moscow to 1907 and had graduated from the University of Moscow in 1911 as phisico-mathematical faculty, chemical section; further that he attended the Agricultural Institute of Moscow--special school, Department of Agriculture, 1914, specializing in cultivation of marsh lands and meadows and also graduated in 1915 from the government artillery school which had the same standing as West Point. He claimed to be an expert of the Russian Department of Agriculture and to have visited South Russian districts, Finland, Denmark, and Germany, making intensive study of methods of cultivation of soil. In July 1914 he entered active military service as officer of artillery. In 1915 he was recalled to Petrograd for technical expert work in high explosives. He was sent to the United States in 1916 as a specialist in explosives and served as an instructor at various munition plants in Canada and the United States in charge of laboratories testing aluminum, copper and brass. He stated his special qualifications were those of metallurgist, physicist and cristallographist.

A memorandum in the Bureau of Standards file from EDWIN W. ELY, Division of Simplified Practice, to Personnel Officer W. C. FARRELL, dated February 17, 1932, reflected an inquiry from Sear-Roebuck & Company concerning de SVESHNIKOFF. The firm was advised that as a courtesy to the abrasive industry, the name of de SVESHNIKOFF had been suggested and after personal interview he was accepted by this industry. It was suggested that inquiry be made concerning de SVESHNIKOFF at Norton Company, producer of electric furnace abrasives, at Worcester, Massachusetts, or at the Abrasives Company, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania (J. S. FOLEY of this firm formerly supervised de SVESHNIKOFF's work at the Bureau of Standards). It was indicated that ALBERT ANDERSON of Norton Company was the chairman of the committee representing manufacturers which engaged de SVESHNIKOFF.

Further search of the records at the Archives revealed that on January 12, 1925, W. W. de SVESHNIKOFF, 2138 California Street, NW, addressed a letter to the State Department inquiring whether it was possible for students to come to the United States for a period of course of study of rubber chemistry and technicology. He was advised by the department concerning procedure for visas for students and furnished regulations.

At the Office of the Intelligence Division, Department of the Army, Room 2B822, Pentagon Building, a file was furnished on de SVESHNIKOFF by Captain JOHN P. HART, Security Group Operations Branch. This file reflected that a full personnel investigation was conducted in the spring of 1943 apparently as the result of de SVESHNIKOFF's persistent efforts to secure employment in the War Department and other government agencies. It was noted that on March 12, 1943, the FBI made inquiry concerning de SVESHNIKOFF in connection with an application for employment with the Bureau of Economic

Warfare. The file of the Department of the Army reflected the following military history for de SVESHNIKOFF:

July 1914 to June 1915, Russian Army, World War I
March 24, 1924, to March 23, 1929, Captain, Ordnance Officers Reserve Corps, United States Army, serial No. 0-197311
March 23, 1929, reappointed Captain
August 4, 1931, resigned

During the above period of service it appeared that de SVESHNIKOFF had active duty on six occasions for a period of 14 days each.

A review of the file indicates that de SVESHNIKOFF was permitted to resign on August 4, 1931, from his Reserve Officers connection rather than face charges growing out of efforts by him to obtain certain drawings of a 30 caliber, 1917 model, Browining water-cooled machinegun from one WILLIAM R. BLUEHDORN. No formal report appears to have been submitted at the time. However, a number of individuals connected with the matter were interviewed by the Army investigators in 1943.

Colonel R. C. COUPLAND was in the Manufacturing Division of Small Arms, Ordnance Department, having direct charge over draftsmen. He related that one draftsman, BLUEHDORN, advised that de SVESHNIKOFF approached him and was seeking certain drawings of the 30 caliber, Browning water-cooled machinegun. As a result Colonel COUPLAND took the matter to General TSCHAPPERT (retured) who was in charge of the Manufacturing Division and as a result of administrative action de SVESHNIKOFF had resigned. Colonel COUPLAND related that although drawings were quite widely distributed over the country for instruction purposes, de SVESHNIKOFF had no right to take blue prints from their proper place in order to have a complete set of drawings made on the outside, presumably for the purpose of selling them. He indicated to the investigator that certain features, such as tolerance, were not revealed by the drawings distributed for instruction purposes; further that Amtorg was interested in getting such unrevealed features. The Colt Company had rights to this gun but would not deal with Amtorg at that time.

Brigadier General JULIAN S. HATCHER, described as an acquaintance, knew of the matter only because he was in the Small Arms Branch in 1931. He recalled passing the information along to General TSCHAPPERT and indicated that the General was an easy man or de SVESHNIKOFF would not have fared so lightly. He felt de SVESHNIKOFF was wholly dishonest and would not recommend him for any kind of work.

WILLIAM R. BLUEHDORN related to the investigator that he had reported the matter to Captain RICHARD COUPLAND, after being approached by de SVESHNIKOFF. BLUEHDORN indicated that the drawings were restricted in the sense they were to be used only by authorized persons and that de SVESHNIKOFF as a Reserve Officer had the right to them generally and BLUEHDORN knew he had been receiving information from the Artillery as to the packing of small arms ammunition. He stated de SVESHNIKOFF could get drawings in the proper manner but the fact that he was going to sell them to agents for their use and gain was another matter although he did not believe de SVESHNIKOFF violated trust and confidence. He stated investigation indicated merely indiscretion and recalled de SVESHNIKOFF made a clean breast of the matter. BLUEHDORN indicated the Russian government at that time was in a more or less plastic stage and willing to receive all kinds of drawing materials. He stated the particular drawings were in the first stage, what might be considered experimental stage. He recollected de SVESHNIKOFF at the time was working on a commission for some men who represented themselves to be agents of this country and they induced de SVESHNIKOFF to produce the documents with a view toward turning them over to Russia and de SVESHNIKOFF was to receive some amount of money based upon evaluation by these agents and the price was to be determined after the information was furnished to them. He recalled de SVESHNIKOFF was out of work at the time and believed to be badly in need of money.

Dr. H. S. RAWDON, head of the Metallurgical Division, Bureau of Standards, who worked with de SVESHNIKOFF at the Bureau of Standards, advised the Army investigator that de SVESHNIKOFF was temperamental and lazy and could be bothersome. He thought perhaps de SVESHNIKOFF's work at the Bureau of Standards had proven useful, mentioning that little had been done in the research of erosion of gun barrels. Dr. RAWDON also advised that Dr. ALEXANDER KRYNITSKY, one of three czarist Russians at the bureau whose work was much more outstanding in education and achievement, had often expressed dislike for de SVESHNIKOFF, stating he had saved his hide in the revolution and had little consideration for his mother and members of his family.

One J. S. GRAY, an acquaintance in the Ordnance Department of the Army, advised the Army investigator that his information was mostly hearsay but he was acquainted with people who had met de SVESHNIKOFF on various occasions and considered him a braggert who lived mostly by his wits.

In connection with the incident leading to resignation of de SVESHNIKOFF as a Captain in the Ordnance Reserve Corps, it is noted that Colonel A. B. JOHNSON of the Ordnance Division made considerable investigation at the time and subsequently and that he felt that de SVESHNIKOFF was guilty only of an error in judgment and that he intended no harm or unethical procedure. In this connection Colonel JOHNSON endeavored to place de SVESHNIKOFF in a position at Aberdeen Proving Grounds in the fall of 1942 and at that time indicated that there did not seem to be any reason to question the loyalty of de SVESHNIKOFF.

The file in the Department of the Army further indicates that the United States Civil Service Commission flagged the file of de SVESHNIKOFF in May of 1942 but that subsequently this flag was removed on December 24, 1942, and de SVESHNIKOFF was advised on January 7, 1943, that as a result of investigation he was rated eligible, subject to satisfactory fingerprint clearance. On September 7, 1942, and again on November 4, 1942, he was interviewed by Civil Service investigators and question and answer statements secured, a copy of which are in the Army file. In these interviews de SVESHNIKOFF mentioned having written some letters to Petrovsky Academy in Moscow where he received his degree and stated he sent some agriculture books and slides from the Interior Department and some books and publications from the Interior Department and also photographs obtained from the Department of Agriculture. He also stated for a good many years he corresponded with the Academy of Moscow (People's University of Moscow) and sent them books from various departments in which they were interested.

He admitted he was friendly with the present Russian government and willing to help them out as he thought it was a fairer regime than they had before. He explained that he was never a Communist Party member nor was any of his family, adding that this was impossible as they were never of the working class.

He admitted being an avid race horse follower and stated he had supplemented his income by playing cards, principally in the University Club to which he belongs (formerly Racquet Club). He estimated that during the previous 15 or 16 years he had made perhaps $17,000 playing cards and also mentioned making some money in the stock market where he held a margin account. He stated between 1931 and 1934 he played for rather large stakes at 1¢ a point but more recently they have been playing for 1/5¢ a point.

In the Civil Service interviews he mentioned working for the following firms, apparently such employment being of brief duration: Wardman & McClain, real estate; Newark Wire Company, Newark, New Jersey, occasionally when a matter would come up; Engineering Machinery Company, 1133 Broadway, New York City; Shock, Gusner & Company, 8th and Clinton Streets, Hoboken, New Jersey.

In addition to employment previously mentioned, the file of the Department of the Army listed the following employment:

August 26, 1927, to June 1, 1928, associate metallurgist, U.S. Naval Gun Factory, Department of Construction and Repair, $7.70 per day, Washington, D.C. (verified).

June 1, 1928, to August 31, 1928, associate metallurgist, U.S. Naval Gun Factory, Ordnance Department, Navy Yard, Washington, D.C., at $7.70 per day (verified).

August 31, 1928, to May 10, 1929, chemist and metallurgist, U.S. Naval Station, Cavite, Philippine Islands, $9.94 per day, two year contract, left before expiration with prejudice for failure to live up to terms of contract; later changed to without prejudice by Secretary of the Navy (verified).

September 29, 1930, to June 30, 1931, research associate for Technical Commission of Electric Furnace Abrasive Producers at $4800.

1939, McKnew & Company, later known as Barrett Herrick Company, Washington, D.C., as stock and bond salesman.

December 19, 1941, to March 28, 1942, associate chemical engineer, Powder, Explosives and Pyrotechnics Section, Ordnance Department, at $3200, terminated, unsatisfactory.

The investigative report of the Army indicated subject speaks Russian fluently, reads and translates German, and has fair knowledge of French.

The Army personnel file of de SVESHNIKOFF at the Department of the Army was reviewed by Special Employee NERI A. CLARK. In addition to the background data already set forth it appeared that de SVESHNIKOFF attended a defense training course in high explosives given at George Washington University, Washington, D.C., in 1942.

This file also contained a letter from de SVESHNIKOFF to the Secretary of War, dated July 20, 1943, written at the suggestion of Representative JOHN MC CORMICK complaining that he was forced to resign his commission in 1931 due to consulting engineer work on behalf of Russia and that the War Production Board, the Bureau of Economic Warfare and the Air Corps had refused to give him employment. This file reflected that de SVESHNIKOFF claimed employment in 1930-31 with the Bureau of Standards. It is believed, however, this employment was for outside industry in collaboration with the Bureau of Standards.

The files of ONI, Navy Department, were examined by Special Employee DONALD W. MORLEY. In addition to education and employment previously set forth, the file contained a personal history form, dated March 31, 1947, in which de SVESHNIKOFF outlined the following employment:

1942-43, Engineering Machinery Company, 1133 Broadway, New York City.
October 1943 to April 1944, John W. Thorne, Inc., Pentagon Building.
June 1944 to November 1945, Smaller War Plants Corp., Washington, D.C., C. W. DUNNING, supervisor.
November 1945 to present, consulting engineer.

The ONI file indicated that certain anti-Bolshevist sympathies on the part of de SVESHNIKOFF were revealed in inquiries made during 1920 concerning Colonel NICHOLAUS ROMANOFF, a former officer in the Imperial Russian Army during World War I. de SVESHNIKOFF was known to have communicated with Colonel ROMANOFF on June 18, 1921, by registered mail, using stationery of the Bureau of Standards. The significance of this contact was not fully established. It was noted that ROMANOFF, an employee of the Imperial Russian Government fled Russia in 1908 after becoming involved in the social revolutionary movement. He was in the Philippines until 1917 when in connection with an American Expeditionary Force he was made a member of the United States Naval Intelligence and sent to Siberia to observe the activities of ADAMON SEMANOFF. ROMANOFF became friendly with SEMANOFF and allegedly betrayed the Americans, being discharged about March 1, 1919. He immediately joined SEMANOFF who dispatched him to the United States, Mexico and European countries in an effort to gain recognition for SEMANOFF as head of the anti-Bolshevist forces in Russia and as general administrator of northeast Siberia. ROMANOFF during this period stated de SVESHNIKOFF was a former employee of the Russian embassy and in sympathy with the anti-Bolshevist movement.

The ONI file further disclosed that in 1934 two private citizens, names not furnished, reported certain suspicious activities of de SVESHNIKOFF which led them to believe he was possibly engaged in espionage activities. They reported certain packages addressed to him were delivered by a messenger who impressed upon the recipient the importance of delivering them to de SVESHNIKOFF. It appeared that the packages were in turn forwarded to other destinations by de SVESHNIKOFF. The informants were able to observe the tags on these packages, one of which contained the word "aerial" and the other "20 minute exposure." It was further reported at that time that de SVESHNIKOFF had a number of women visitors at all hours and also that he made numerous trips between Washington, D.C. and New York City. On January 3, 1934, he received a very important communication requiring his departure for Russia.

Through Mr. HERBERT R. F. BRETT, 4335 Reno Road, NW, it was ascertained that de SVESHNIKOFF no longer resides with BRETT but had moved to a rooming house. Mr. BRETT indicated de SVESHNIKOFF is presently employed as a draftsman in the office of the Department of Vehicles and Traffic, District of Columbia Government.

On the afternoon of December 14, 1948, de SVESHNIKOFF was located in the office of the Traffic Engineer, District Building, and was subsequently interviewed at the Washington Field Office by Special Agent CHARLES D. CHAPMAN and the writer. He furnished considerable background data, advising he had been born of nobility, his father being VLADIMIR V. de SVESHNIKOFF (deceased) and his mother being SOPHIA YUSOUPOFF, who also is deceased, having died in 1946. He stated he has one sister living in Moscow, married name NATALIE VLADIMIROVNA SOMINICH, whom he described as being college educated and holding a position equivalent to a counselor or attorney with the Soviet government. He also has two brothers, Dr. ARKEDY V. de SVESHNIKOFF who holds a responsible position and was in charge of a number of hospitals during the recent war and NICHOLAS de SVESHNIKOFF who did not finish high school and is the holder of an unimportant position with the government. In this connection he explained everyone is employed by the government and declared there was no significance to this. de SVESHNIKOFF stated none of his relatives had ever been members of the Communist Party or affiliated with any of its institutions nor had he, and added that as they were not of the working class this would be very unlikely or impossible.

de SVESHNIKOFF stated he originally came to the United States in February 1916 as a first lieutenant attached to a high military commission for the Czarist government. He stated he served as an inspector in a number of munition plants until October of 1917 when conditions in Russia reached a point where many of the officers were recalled and he responded, returning via Japan, Mukden and Harbin. He stated upon arrival at Harbin he learned the Bolsheviks had taken over but he continued on to Moscow, arriving sometime in November 1917. In Moscow he stayed with his mother, mentioning that his father died in 1904.

He advised that he had decided to return to the United States and visited the foreign office a number of times endeavoring to secure a passport. He stated that an uncle was general in the medical corps and it was suggested to him to apply for passport on grounds of ill health (TB) and that when he went before the medical board the hearing was arranged or at least the examiners collaborated in finding him in need of treatment so that the commissar issued a passport to him. He stated a great deal of fighting was occurring all over Russia and for this reason he went to Archangel where the British consul, whom he had known in Canada, arranged passage for him on an icebreaker. He left Archangel in July aboard the Naskopie bound for Montreal and mentioned their picking up the ill-fated Creel Commission which was marooned on the ice en route.

As indicated, he denied any connection with the Soviet government or any interest in or affection for the Communist movement. He claimed that about 1924 he had assisted a military representative, a colonel who was sent to this country by General VRANGAL. He stated he had seriously considered going to Siberia to join ALEXANDER V. KALCHEK in his fight against the Reds but did not do so. He claimed he did not seriously consider going to Russia until after the United States recognized her but under questioning admitted that he had thought about it at the time he was released from the Bureau of Standards in the spring of 1924.

With reference to his visit to Russia, he stated that he had applied for a visa in 1934 and handled the entire transaction through In-Tourist Corp., New York City, which handled routing, reservations, etc., paying for the trip in a lump sum amounting to $460, as he recalled. He stated he went aboard the Ile de France to LeHavre and then by train through Warsaw and Riga to Moscow where he visited with his mother and sister who was then single and residing on Povarskay, now Votovskago Street. He denied that he was approached by anyone in Moscow or elsewhere on his trip who endeavored to question him or to recruit him for espionage or other service. He stated that he had taken some slides along with him showing scenic beauties, such as Niagara Falls, which he donated to the museum and at the same time talked with the museum official about America. The next day he stated two men and a woman visited his home and accused him of spreading propaganda praising America to the detriment of Russia, which charges he of course denied.

de SVESHNIKOFF was questioned at length concerning any contacts with possible Russian agents or Communist representatives in this country. He explained his activities in 1931 about as related in this report, adding that when he first came to this country he had met a Russian by the name of STEPANOFF who was in charge of an OrdnanceResearch Company in New York City, address believed to be 1135 (?) Broadway. He stated that he had maintained contact with this individual, visiting him on a number of occasions when de SVESHNIKOFF would go to New York. He related that he frequently visited New York for pleasure purposes on weekends. It was his impression that STEPANOFF worked for Amtorg or at least in association with Amtorg. On one occasion STEPANOFF suggested that he prepare a paper dealing with the mechanization of military vehicles which was taking place at this time. He remarked on the fact that in Russia all equipment was horse drawn. He stated STEPANOFF promised to pay him for the paper and he felt this was an easy and legitimate way to pick up extra money. It was in connection with the preparation of this paper that he contacted BLUEHDORN, asking him to secure some drawings. He admitted when questioned that drawings of a 30 caliber machine gun had no connection with mechanization of vehicles but stated he thought he would gather any available material which would assist him in preparing the document. He concluded that after his request to BLUEHDORN was exposed and inquiry made by the Army authorities, he had given up the idea of preparing the paper and admitted he had never done any work on it. At this time he denied that any other person had ever contacted him.

de SVESHNIKOFF was questioned further and asked if he had not been contacted by an individual who came to Washington from New York City. He then recollected that on one occasion shortly after the exposure in connection with his request for machinegun drawings he had received a call at the University Club one night from an unknown individual who informed him that STEPANOFF sent him and requested de SVESHNIKOFF to meet him in a park on 14th Street, which he believes to have been Franklin Park. He stated he kept this appointment and met the individual who told him that he should cooperate and made vague threats against de SVESHNIKOFF's family in Moscow if he did not do so. He claimed he never saw this individual thereafter and did not believe he could identify him again. He described this person as about 30 years, 5'8" or 9", medium build, spoke Russian, and wore a suit and hat. He thinks it was spring or summer at the time.

de SVESHNIKOFF described STEPANOFF as being in the late 50's, 5'8" or 9", medium slender build, gray hair, and wearing glasses.

de SVESHNIKOFF was thereafter questioned specifically concerning BORIS BYKOV and Unsub KEITH. He denied knowing either, stating he had never heard of BORIS BYKOV or any person of similar name and that the only person he knew by the name of KEITH is an elderly patent attorney in Washington by the name of KEITH CARLIN. He treated the statement that he may have been coerced by BORIS BYKOV with threats against his sister or mother rather lightly and with some scorn, but was somewhat unconvincing.

After interview de SVESHNIKOFF furnished two scrapbooks which were examined and photographs of certain documents made, as well as a couple old snapshots of him. It was noted that the scrapbooks contained a copy of a letter addressed to Ambassador MAXIM LITVINOFF, dated November 14, 1933, in which the writer (possibly EDWARD W. POU, House of Representatives) introduced his friend, VLADIMIR V. SVESHNIKOFF, whom he described as an engineer, an American citizen, and a man of highest integrity, and who might be found useful after diplomatic relations are reestablished.

The scrapbooks also contained a copy of a letter from SVESHNIKOFF to LITVINOFF, dated November 21, 1933, in which he described himself as a Russian who had never lost interest in the welfare of his mother country and wished to convey cordial congratulations for the successful reestablishment of diplomatic relations. In this letter de SVESHNIKOFF indicated he had established extensive relations in diplomatic, congressional and social circles which connections might be of some value to LITVINOFF and he expressed the hope the ambassador would give him an opportunity to be more useful to the Soviet Union in some capacity. He continued that last week he had left at the embassy a letter from Honorable EDWARD W. POU, chairman of the Committee of Rules, House of Representatives, suggesting an interview. de SVESHNIKOFF concluded that all of his immediate family were residing in the Soviet Union and were in government service, and added that he had personally done some consulting engineer work for the Soviet government during the past 11 years.

In response to this letter de SVESHNIKOFF was advised by BEATRICE HEIMAN, secretary to LITVINOFF, on November 27, 1933, that it was regretted they could not offer him any position.

The scrapbooks contained numerous news clippings dated shortly after World War I publicizing de SVESHNIKOFF as a prominent anti-Soviet and enemy of Communism and quoting him liberally. The clippings also indicate that he was a bridge player of note and had won numerous trophies in this game. It also indicated that he was somewhat of a figure socially and was often mentioned as a dancing partner in social gatherings.

The records of the Credit Bureau contain a report on de SVESHNIKOFF dated January 10, 1947, and the files of Stones Mercantile Agency contain a report of March 6, 1933. These reports, however, add nothing to the information already set forth.

Mr. FRANK BAUGHMAN of the Bureau advised that he knew no ballistics expert by the name of SVIASNIKOV (ph) or any similar name nor was there any record of such an expert in the files of his office.

From personal observation de SVESHNIKOFF is described as follows:

Height	5'11"
Weight	175-85
Build	Medium
Address	2932 Porter Street, NW, Second Floor Rear
Phone	Woodley 9068

HARRY DEXTER WHITE

At the office of JAMES HARD, director of personnel, Treasury Department, the personnel file of HARRY D. WHITE was examined for specimens of handwriting to compare with the handwritten documents delivered to Bureau Agents by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in Baltimore in early November 1948. From this file five documents were obtained and the originals forwarded to the Bureau Laboratory for comparison purposes. These documents are:

Letter to Dr. JACOB VINER, Treasury Department, dated June 9, 1934.
Letter to Dr. JACOB VINER, Treasury Department, dated June 11, 1934.
Personal history statement of WHITE, dated November 5, 1934.
Resignation as Assistant to the Secretary and Director of Monetary Research, dated January 22, 1945.
Oath of office as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, dated Jan. 24, 1945.

Complete background and personnel data concerning WHITE has been set forth previously in the case entitled GREGORY, ESPIONAGE - R. It is noted in the personnel file that by memorandum, dated February 25, 1943, from Secretary HENRY MORGANTHAU, JR., to WHITE, the latter was authorized, effective that date, to take supervision over and assume full responsibility for the Treasury's participation in all economic and financial matters (except matters pertaining to depository facilities, transfers of funds, and war expenditures) in connection with the operation of the Army and Navy and the civilian affairs in the foreign areas in which our armed forces are operating or are likely to operate. It was indicated this would include general liaison with State Department, Army and Navy and other departments or agencies and representatives of foreign governments on these matters.

Prior to this time it is noted that WHITE had been Director of Monetary Research since March 25, 1938, and on August 30, 1941, he had been given additional duties as an Assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury.

UNSUB KEITH

The files of the Washington Field Office contain no record of an individual who could be identified with Unsub AZIMOV, described by CHAMBERS as being a California contact of Unsub KEITH.

The indices of the Washington Field Office contain a number of individuals by the name of KEITH. Only one individual, however, appeared to offer possibilities as a suspect and data concerning this individual is briefly set forth, despite several discrepancies, such as the date of 1937 when CHAMBERS states BORIS BYKOV sent KEITH to Washington, D.C., and the fact that KEITH had been a contact of AZIMOV in California. The individual mentioned is NATHANIEL S. KEITH.

In the case entitled WASHINGTON BOOKSHOP ASSOCIATION, INTERNAL SECURITY - C, Washington origin, Confidential Informant T-1 advised that the name Mrs. N. S. KEITH, Rossdhu Castle, Chevy Chase, Maryland, phone Oliver 9452, appeared twice on membership lists under dated December 8, 1940 and December 20, 1941.

In the case entitled ALFRED KAUFMAN STERN, was, ETAL, ESPIONAGE - R, New York Origin, it appears that on September 15, 1945, and again on February 13, 1946, STERN contacted NATHANIEL S. KEITH who is anspecial assistant to the administrator of FHA, Washington, D.C. No information is available as to the subject matter of these contacts although it is known that STERN has been interested in matters pertaining to housing.

In the case entitled NATHANIEL SCHNEIDER KEITH, Special Assistant to the Administrator, Housing and Home Finance Agency, LOYALTY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES, it appears that Confidential Informant T-2, a former member of the Communist Party who has furnished reliable information in the past but who declined to testify before a loyalty board, reported that NATHANIEL KEITH was a member of the Communist Party unit to which the informant belonged in 1939 or 1940 at which time KEITH was employed as a reporter for the Wall Street Journal in Washington, D.C., and in early 1940 had resigned to become a reporter with PM Newspaper in New York City. This informant indicated that after KEITH went to New York he allowed his Party membership to lapse through inactivity. The informant recalled that KEITH attended several of the Party meetings in Washington but was never an active member of the Party. During this investigation the following employment record was noted as furnished by KEITH in his application at National Housing Agency on March 5, 1943:

December 1938 to February 1940, Washington correspondent for Wall Street Journal, Washington, D.C.

February to May 1940, assistant to the director of public relations, Federal Housing Agency, Washington, D.C.

May to September 1940, business and financial editor, PM Newspaper, New York City

October 1940 to March 1943, director of public relations for Federal Housing Administration, Washington, D.C.

April 1943 to July 1947, National Housing Agency, Washington, D.C.

In a subsequent form, dated December 3, 1947, the following employment record was outlined together with a list of addresses during the previous ten years:

December 1938, Wall Street Journal, 44 Broad Street, New York City.

December 1938 to February 1940, Wall Street Journal, National Press Building, Washington, D.C.

February 1940 to May 1940, Federal Housing Administration, 1001 Vermont Avenue, Washington, D.C.

May 1940 to September 1940, Newspaper PM, New York City.

November 1940 to March 1943, Federal Housing Administration, 1001 Vermont Avenue, Washington, D.C.

March 1943 to July 1947, OA, National Housing Agency, Social Security Building, Washington, D.C.

July 1947 to December 3, 1947, OA, Housing & Home Finance, Social Security Building, Washington, D.C.

December 30, 1938, 68 West 11st Street, New York City.
December 30, 1938, to May 1940, 1869 Mintwood Place, NW, Washington,D.C.
May 1940 to November 1940, 38 West 11th Street, New York City.
November 1940 to October 1944, Rossdhu Castle, Chevy Chase, Md.
October 1944 to December 3, 1947, 3839 Rodman Street, NW, Washington,D.C.

In the case entitled NATHANIEL S. KEITH, INTERNAL SECURITY - C, New York origin, it was indicated that this individual was considered as a subject for custodial detention. In report of Special Agent R. E. KAHRES, New York City, dated July 17, 1941, it was stated that the files of the Credit Bureau of Greater New York contain a clipping from the Wall Street Journal, dated June 27, 1932, showing a picture of KEITH. This report also described KEITH from the records of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles as being born December 30, 1906, 5'9", 150 pounds, blue eyes, brown hair, white and married. This file also contained a reference indicating that KEITH was reportedly financial editor of PM Newspapaper and had contributed to "Russia Today."

THE WASHINGTON FIELD OFFICE:

At Washington, D.C. at a later date ~~and~~ following investigation concerning STEPANOFF will reinterview V. V. de SVESHNIKOFF who appears to be an unreliable individual and a very likely suspect as the individual mentioned by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as a contact of BORIS BYKOV and Unsub KEITH. It is believed further facts must be developed before de SVESHNIKOFF may be persuaded to furnish information of value.

PERJURY; ESPIONAGE-R; INTERNAL SECURITY-R

There is enclosed herewith a report of SA FREDERICK M. CONNORS, dated January 3, 1949 at Boston. Reference is made, also, to the teletype forwarded to the Bureau by Boston, December 30, 1948, which pointed out that Professor ERNEST M. BOGART, a retired Professor of Economics, University of Illinois, was presently in Europe and that no one is available for interview at Professor BOGART's home, 25 West 10th Street, New York City.

As pointed out in reference teletype, Professor BOGART arrived at the Westminster Hotel, Promenade des Anglais, Nice, France, on Jan. 4, and his daughter, Mrs. ELEANOR PILCHER, anticipates he will be there for two months. Mrs. PILCHER said that if her father recalled having received any typewritten correspondence from HISS, she would arrange to have his room in New York searched and make this correspondence available to the Bureau.

In view of the foregoing, it is suggested that the Bureau may desire, through available liaison, to contact Professor BOGART at the foregoing address to ascertain if he recalls any correspondence which he may have received from ALGER HISS and, if so, to obtain his permission to have arrangements made through his daughter to have his room in New York City searched.

In the absence of specific Bureau instructions on this matter, no further action will be taken by the Boston Office.

Report of SA FREDERICK M. CONNORS dated 12-22-48 at Boston.

DETAILS:

RE: ATTEMPT TO LOCATE TYPEWRITTEN SPECIMENS AT BAR ASSOCIATIONS IN MASSACHUSETTS

Bureau teletype dated December 22, 1948, requested that Massachusetts Bar Associations be contacted for typewritten specimens emanating from ALGER HISS.

MARJORIE MacLEOD, Secretary to the Massachusetts Bar Association, 53 State Street, Boston, Mass., advised Special Agent FREDERICK M. CONNORS on December 24, 1948, that this Association maintained no records prior to 1940. The records failed to reflect the membership of ALGER HISS in the Massachusetts Bar Association, and Miss MacLEOD was unable to locate any correspondence which the Association had received from ALGER HISS.

WILLIAM A. PARKS, Executive Secretary, Boston Bar Association, 24 School Street, Boston, Mass., advised Special Agent FREDERICK M. CONNORS on December 24, 1948, that he had no record of ALGER HISS ever having been a member of the Boston Bar Association. Mr. PARKS was also unable to locate any correspondence received by the Boston Bar Association from ALGER HISS.

This information was furnished to the Bureau and New York by teletype dated December 28, 1948.

RE: DOCUMENTS PERTAINING TO ALGER HISS AT SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT OF MASSACHUSETTS NOT IDENTICAL WITH SPECIMENS Q6 THROUGH Q69 IN INSTANT CASE.

Bureau teletype to Boston dated December 22, 1948, requested that the records of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts be examined for typewritten specimens emanating from ALGER HISS.

Records of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, New Court House, Boston, Mass., were made available to Special Agent FREDERICK M. CONNORS, December 24, 1948, by FREDERICK L. QUINLAN, Clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court in Massachusetts. These records indicated ALGER HISS became a member of the Massachusetts Bar, May 1, 1931.

The following typewritten documents were located:

1. A form entitled, "Massachusetts Board of Bar Examiners - Inquiry Into Character and Fitness," (4 pages), dated January 5, 1931 and signed by ALGER HISS.

2. A letter to CHARLES S. O'CONNOR, Esq., Clerk, Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, on the letterhead of the Office of the Solicitor General, Washington, D. C., dated December 19, 1935, with an enclosure of one and a fraction pages, entitled, "Affidavit To The Supreme Judicial Court, Commonwealth Of Massachusetts, By Applicant For Admission To The Supreme Court Of The United States." Both the letter and the affidavit were typewritten and signed by ALGER HISS.

3. Three typewritten letters on the letterhead of Choate, Hall and Stewart, Attorneys, 30 State Street, Boston, Mass., addressed to HOLLIS R. BAILEY, Board of Bar Examiners, 84 State Street, Boston, Mass., dated Jan. 5, 1935. The first letter was signed by ALGER HISS. The other two letters recommending the admission of ALGER HISS to the Massachusetts Bar were signed by JAMES GARFIELD and MARCIEN JENCKS of Choate, Hall and Stewart.

Mr. QUINLAN released these documents temporarily in the custody of one of his Clerks, JACOB SHURE, and they were photographed at the Boston Office. The film was forwarded to the FBI Laboratory under date of December 24, 1948.

By letter dated Dec. 29, 1948, the FBI Laboratory advised Boston that it had concluded that the foregoing documents, which the laboratory identified as Kc96, were not typed by the machine which was used to type Specimens Q6 through Q69 in the instant case. The laboratory further advised that the roll of film forwarded by Boston on Dec. 24, 1948, was being retained in the files of the Bureau.

RE: NO TYPEWRITTEN SPECIMENS LOCATED IN RECORDS OF POWDER POINT ACADEMY OF DUXBURY, MASSACHUSETTS

Bureau teletype to Boston, dated December 22, 1948, requested that the records of Powder Point Academy at Duxbury, Mass. be examined for the purposes of locating additional specimens known to have been typed while the Woodstock typewriter was in the possession of HISS.

Special Agent WILLIAM H. CARPENTER conducted the following investigation on December 27, 1948:

Mr. RICHARD F. WICKENTEN, Headmaster, Tabor Academy, Marion, Mass., advised that Powder Point Academy, Duxbury, Mass., "folded up" and Tabor Academy was requested to take over. Complete records of Powder Point Academy were not taken over by Tabor Academy, but Mr. WICKENTEN attempted to locate records verifying the attendance of ALGER HISS at Powder Point Academy. He was unsuccessful in finding any evidence of ALGER HISS' attendance at that school at any time except an old typewritten list of the alumni, on which list appeared the name of ALGER HISS.

Mr. WICKENTEN was unable to locate any typewritten letters in the files from ALGER HISS to the school or written by ALGER HISS while at Powder Point Academy. Mr. WICKENTEN had two of his assistants make a complete search of the records, vaults and other possible storage places for such letters.

The results of the foregoing inquiry were made available to the Bureau and New York by Boston teletype dated December 28, 1948.

RE: RECORDS OF ALGER HISS AT HARVARD UNIVERSITY, CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

Bureau teletype to Boston dated December 22, 1948, requested that Harvard University be contacted for typewritten specimens emanating from ALGER HISS.

Boston T-1 advised Special Agent FREDERICK M. CONNORS on Dec. 30, 1948, that two weeks before, Harvard Law School had obtained the records of the Harvard Alumni Association for the purpose of making these records available to an investigator of the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities. T-1 advised that only one document was received from the Harvard Alumni Association, which was dated April, 1948. Typing on this document consisted of ALGER HISS' name, address and occupation. This document, and probably others on file at Harvard Law School, according to T-1, were made available to the House Committee on UnAmerican Activities investigator through Dean GRISWOLD's office, Dean of Harvard Law School. According to T-1, telephonic approval for the release of these documents was received by Harvard Law School from the attorneys defending ALGER HISS.

The foregoing information was made available to the Bureau and New York Office by Boston teletype dated December 30, 1948.

RE: ATTEMPT TO OBTAIN TYPEWRITTEN CORRESPONDENCE RELATING TO 1947 SUMMER TENANCY OF ALGER HISS AT PEACHAM, VT.

New York teletype to Bureau and Boston dated December 29, 1948, requested Mrs. ~~Dr. LEWIS~~ PILCHER, M.D. of Newton, Mass. be interviewed concerning a tenancy of HISS in a cottage owned by the PILCHER family at Peacham, Vt.

Dr. LEWIS PILCHER, M.D., and his wife, ELEANOR PILCHER, 67 Berkeley Street, West Newton, Mass., advised Special Agent FREDERICK M. CONNORS on December 30, 1948, that in the summer of 1947, ALGER HISS and his family occupied a cottage owned by Mrs. ELEANOR PILCHER located at Peacham, Vt. Mrs. PILCHER stated this tenancy had in all probability been arranged by her father, ERNEST M. BOGART, retired Professor of Economics, University of Illinois, who is presently in Europe with his wife.

The PILCHERs advised that no one was available for interview at the home of Professor BOGART, located at 25 West 10th Street, New York City. Both Dr. and Mrs. PILCHER agreed that neither had received correspondence from Mrs. ALGER HISS or his wife, PRISCILLA, nor did they know of any correspondence which had been received by Professor BOGART relating to the foregoing tenancy. It was Dr. PILCHER's opinion that Professor BOGART had placed an advertisement in the New York Times which had resulted in the renting of the summer cottage to ALGER HISS in the 1947 summer season.

Dr. and Mrs. PILCHER stated that their knowledge of ALGER HISS and his family was confined to a limited social contact at Peacham, Vermont. They stated that at no time had ALGER HISS or his wife, by word or action, given any indication of being other than loyal Americans.

It was the impression of Dr. PILCHER that HISS may have entered into correspondence with a Professor BRAND BLANCHARD regarding the purchase of a cottage at Peacham, Vt. owned by Professor BLANCHARD. Dr. PILCHER advised that Professor BLANCHARD was head of the Philosophy Department at Yale University.

The foregoing information was made available to the Bureau and the New York Office by Boston teletype dated December 30, 1948.

RE: INTERVIEW WITH MRS. JOHN ALFORD,
FORMERLY ROBERTA FANSLER

Bureau teletype to Boston dated December 22, 1948, requested Mrs. JOHN ALFORD be interviewed to determine the names of persons PRISCILLA and ALGER HISS corresponded with during Mrs. ALFORD's association with his family and to further ascertain if Mrs. ALFORD or PRISCILLA HISS ever typed personal or business letters on the Woodstock machine while they worked together on their book entitled, "Research In Fine Arts In Colleges And Universities Of The USA."

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent EDMUND G. VIVIAN on December 28, 1948:

Mrs. JOHN ALFORD, 55 Charlesfield Street, Providence, R.I., advised she did not own a typewriter and had never heard of one called the Woodstock. She formerly used the typewriters at the Carnegie Foundation, New York City, or a portable typewriter owned by her former husband, THOMAS FANSLER. She believed this typewriter was a Corona. She recalled PRISCILLA HISS had used an old typewriter which had been given to her by her father, THOMAS L. FANSLER, formerly General Agent, Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, Philadelphia, Pa. Mrs. ALFORD did not know the make of this typewriter.

Mrs. ALFORD said that Mrs. HISS was not the type of person to write letters with a typewriter and Mrs. ALFORD could not recall receiving anything but handwritten letters from Mrs. HISS. Mrs. ALFORD said she received a letter on December 28, 1948, from Mrs. HISS, who stated her attorneys were also searching for a typewriter and Mrs. ALFORD made the observation that the FBI investigation appeared to be running parallel to that of the HISS attorneys, who were endeavoring to locate the same machine.

By way of background, Mrs. ALFORD advised she went to college with PRISCILLA HISS in 1922 and married PRISCILLA's brother, THOMAS FANSLER, in 1924. They were divorced in 1941 but this made no difference in the close relationship between herself and Mrs. ALGER HISS. They think very highly of each other and Mrs. ALFORD frankly stated that she would be most reluctant to voluntarily offer any information that might be considered detrimental to ALGER HISS or his wife. She said she considered ALGER HISS entirely innocent of the indictment charges. Mrs. ALFORD said she recently named PRISCILLA HISS in her will as guardian for her two minor children. Mrs. ALFORD is Director of the Museum of Art, Rhode Island School of Design, Providence, R.I., where her husband, JOHN ALFORD, is a Professor.

Mrs. ALFORD advised that a file at the Carnegie Corporation, New York City, in an envelope marked, "College Art Association For 1932 To 1933," may contain letters from PRISCILLA HISS addressed to JAMES B. MUNN, former Dean, Washington Square College, New York University.

Mrs. ALFORD stated that she had very few friends in common with the HISS family, who had lived most of the time in New York while she was residing in Washington, D. C. She suggested among those who may have corresponded with the HISS's are:

THOMAS FANSLER, brother of Mrs. HISS, 1400 Lake Shore Drive, Chicago

KATHERINE B. NEILSON, a close friend of PRISCILLA HISS, residing at 253 Bryant St., Buffalo, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. J. KELLOGG-SMITH, Chestertown, Maryland

Mrs. MARGARET R. FANSLER, another sister-in-law of PRISCILLA HISS, residing at 55 Randolph Place, South Orange, New Jersey.

Mrs. ALFORD also suggested that a possibility existed that correspondence could possibly be located at the various schools which had been attended by TIMOTHY HOBSON, the son of PRISCILLA HISS.

The foregoing information was made available to the Bureau and New York City in Boston teletype dated December 30, 1948, and on the same date the Chicago, Buffalo, Baltimore and Newark Offices were requested to contact the individuals suggested by Mrs. ALFORD.

RE: ATTEMPT TO OBTAIN TYPEWRITTEN SPECIMENS AT CHOATE, HALL AND STEWART, ATTORNEYS, BOSTON, MASS., FORMER PLACE OF EMPLOYMENT OF ALGER HISS

Bureau teletype to Boston dated December 22, 1948, requested Boston to verify the employment of ALGER HISS at Choate, Hall and Stewart, 30 State Street, Boston, Mass., from October, 1930 to the spring of 1932, and to obtain any typewritten correspondence forwarded to the firm or any of its attorneys by HISS.

ROBERT PROCTOR, senior partner of Choate, Hall and Stewart, 30 State Street, Boston, Mass., advised Special Agent FREDERICK M. CONNORS that ALGER HISS had been employed as an attorney for this concern from October 1930 until April 1932, at which time he went into government service. Mr. PROCTOR said that no personnel file was maintained on professional employees. He stated it was the custom of Choate, Hall and Stewart to employ the top men graduating from Harvard Law School and that was how HISS became connected with his firm.

Mr. PROCTOR was unable to locate any letters emanating from HISS in the files of Choate, Hall and Stewart and through his cooperation the following members of the firm were contacted:

STEWART C. RAND	MARCIEN JENCKS
CHARLES O. PENGRA	RICHARD WAIT
JAMES GARFIELD	SIMON P. TOWNSEND
RICHARD C. CURTIS	BROOKS POTTER

All agreed they had received no correspondence from HISS and were unable to furnish any information pertinent to this investigation.

To date, the following firm members have not been available for interview because they are out of town:

JOHN L. HALL

On the mornings of December 30 and 31, 1948, the Washington Times Herald carried lengthy articles containing a summary of new information furnished by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS to members of the House Committee on Un-American Activities at CHAMBERS' farm near Westminster, Maryland, during a five hour interview on the evening of December 29, 1948.

~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

The news articles attributed most of the observations to Senator Elect CARL MUNDT and indicated CHAMBERS had disclosed new names, including some deceased persons, and some individuals now operating in other countries, and stated sufficient data had been supplied to keep the committee busy for six months. In addition CHAMBERS had allegedly furnished a complete chronology of his activities. It was stated that no new sources of confidential information had been named. The articles reported that 52 additional big batches of top secret papers, including data on the Norden bomb.

sight had been delivered by CHAMBERS to Soviet agents in New York during his service in the underground and on one occasion he had taken a money belt, containing $10,000, from New York City to San Francisco for the purpose of financing West Coast spy operations. Reference was also made in the articles to four costly rugs delivered as gifts to four of the principal sources of information in Washington, D.C.

On the afternoon of December 31, 1948, subject CHAMBERS was interviewed by Mr. RAY WHEARTY of the Department and the writer in the office of Mr. WHEARTY concerning the substance of his statements as reported above. Mr. CHAMBERS observed that while a great deal of the information supplied by him to committee members at his farm on December 29, 1948, constituted information which was new to the committee, only a small portion would be new to this Bureau in view of the several interviews with him by special agents and his lengthy testimony before the Federal Grand Jury in New York. He readily agreed to repeat the substance of his statements to the committee to the best of his recollection and this information is set forth hereafter in full and at the risk of some repetition as the writer is not in possession of all prior interviews and of course the testimony before the Grand Jury.

CHAMBERS related that in 1932 shortly after he entered the underground he was introduced into an espionage apparatus headed by one ULRICH, alias WALTER, both pseudonyms, which was operating within the German Hamburg American Steamship Line. ULRICH was a Russian who he recalled had operated as a partisan in Crimea and whom he described as about 50 years, 5'6", 150 pounds, short, wiry, nervous, and possessing a monkeyish face. CHAMBERS figured he served as liaison man between the individuals handling the written material and ULRICH. He advised the group included one HENRY, a German who met the vessels, and CHARLIE, a Russian Jew, former taxi driver who was supposed to be related to a high Russian official, possibly MOLOTOV. He stated CHARLIE usually delivered the data to HENRY who would bring the material to CHAMBERS and he would pass it on.

CHAMBERS related that two methods were used to transmit messages in this apparatus, one by use of invisible ink written in Russian script between the lines of an innocuous letter typed in German. CHAMBERS who read German said the German letters with secret writing always contained the same general form and content and were signed AKUT. He advised he never learned the content of the secret writing as he did not read or speak Russian.

CHAMBERS advised the other method, often used simultaneously with the secret writing, involved the use of microfilm which he described as to size (35 mm film). He stated these microfilm prints would be transmitted in the back of a small hand mirror, such as could be purchased at five and dime stores. As many as eight or more would be placed between the glass and metal backs of these mirrors and carried on and off ship in the pockets of seamen without attracting any inquiries. CHAMBERS advised these microfilms were also in Russian and he never learned the contents of instructions or messages but knew this was a communications channel for an espionage organization.

CHAMBERS advised that this early organization utilized three places as operating headquarters in New York City. He stated the first place was located on Gay Street in Greenwich Village.

CHAMBERS siad the second place used by the ring was an apartment off 5th Avenue West in the lower 50's rented by PAULA LEVINE whose husband was HARRY LEVINE. He recalled that HARRY LEVINE had a brother-in-law by the name of SAM SCHOYET who worked as assistant foreman at the Daily Worker and was a printer by trade who had worked in Paris and Japan for the underground and later had been sent to Mukden in 1937 on which trip his daughter, AZIA, had accompanied him. He described AZIA SCHOYET as a bacteriologist who was educated at Hunter College, New York City. CHAMBERS stated he may have learned about SCHOYET from Dr. PHILIP ROSENBLIET, mentioned hereinafter.

The third place was an apartment located in Brooklyn, approximately one mile from Brownsville, which was the apartment of one TAMER who was an employee of Crucible Steel, Harrison, New Jersey. CHAMBERS recalled that in 1937 a security agency of the government had made inquiry at the Crucible plant indicating TAMER was suspected of passing plans of this steel company to a foreign government. He stated thereafter TAMER disappeared and he learned from J. PETERS that he had gone to Boston, then to Canada, and on to Russia. CHAMBERS stated TAMER had two or three brothers, one HARRY TAMER who was a printer at the Daily Worker in New York, and another, he recalled, was employed in the waterworks system at Oradell, New Jersey. He stated all were involved to some extent in the underground.

CHAMBERS recalled that there was a Russian typewriter located at the Gay Street address. He stated that Unsub CHARLIE would enlarge the microfilm messages at the Gay Street apartment and would also prepare return messages in the same way. He assumed incoming messages contained instructions and outgoing messages contained information and replies. With reference to the secret ink messages CHAMBERS stated he, himself, often developed the secret writing, using potassium permanganate to develop the writing which would appear in reddish brown between the typed German lines. As indicated he was unable to translate the secret writing.

In connection with the ring mentioned, CHAMBERS said one VALENTINE MARKIN, alias HERMAN and OSCAR, who came to the United States, announced that he would head the apparatus of ULRICH. He stated MARKIN was not a Communist Party member but a left socialist revolutionary. CHAMBERS advised that after HITLER came into power in Germany the espionage ring on the Hamburg American line was broken up and the various characters mentioned herein had disappeared, some presumably returning to Russia.

CHAMBERS recalled in his earliest experience in the Soviet underground, MAX BEDACHT had introduced him to one JOHN SHERMAN, alias ARTHUR, DON and MIKE, who had been a well known open Party member on the West Coast and had entered espionage activities and subsequently returned to the open Party in California, as related hereafter. He mentioned SHERMAN had written in the Daily Worker under the name of ROBERT MITCHELL.

He further made reference to Dr. PHILIP ROSENBLIET whom he described as an important and talkative character whom CHAMBERS has previously discussed at length in interviews with Bureau Agents. CHAMBERS stated he believed Unsub ULRICH had referred him to Dr. ROSENBLIET for certain dental work but thought the main objective was to afford Dr. ROSENBLIET the opportunity to look CHAMBERS over carefully. he mentioned that Dr. ROSENBLIET "had many strings in his hand" and believed his dental office was a clearing house for underground operations. He again made mention of ROSENBLIET's brother-in-law, Dr. GREENBURG, who was located in the 70's, New York City. CHAMBERS stated that ROSENBLIET had gone to Europe at some subsequent date and that he had heard later that he operated the East-West Trading Company somewhere in Europe.

During the 30's CHAMBERS had considerable contact with Dr. ROSENBLIET and in 1935 this individual introduced CHAMBERS to one BILL, whom he described as an important, foreign trained, espionage agent whose primary function, he felt, was to organize new underground apparatus in various countries. He described BILL as age 50, 6', 160 pounds, straight slender build, straight mouth with a lipless appearance, squinty eyes, of Finnish or Estonian nationality and who had been a Soviet agent in Shanghai, according to BORIS BYKOV. CHAMBERS stated that Unsub BILL upon appearance in New York had wanted CHAMBERS to go to London as a Soviet agent and had turned over MAXIM LIEBER, presently located at 545 5th Avenue, New York City, to CHAMBERS for this assignment. LIEBER was an open Party member at the time and in view of the plans for his participation in the underground he was withdrawn from the open Party. CHAMBERS stated that this plan did not materialize.

He stated that about the same time BILL was engaged in establishing an underground organization in Tokyo, Japan, and that JOHN SHERMAN was designated to head this network. He stated after the English plan was abandoned, BILL decided to use MAXIM LIEBER in Tokyo and SHERMAN and LIEBER were brought together. As a front for the operations in Tokyo, the American Feature Syndicate, a news agency, was established and a deposit in the sum of perhaps $10,000 furnished by Unsub BILL was made by MAXIM LIEBER. CHAMBERS stated that J. PETERS secured a birth certificate for JOHN SHERMAN in the name of CHARLES CHASE, a deceased person, and in this manner SHERMAN secured a passport and proceeded to Tokyo. In connection with SHERMAN's preparations, he remembered SHERMAN was eager to meet AGNES SMEDLEY and CHAMBERS arranged a meeting for himself with SMEDLEY through J. PETERS for the purpose of introducing SMEDLEY to SHERMAN. CHAMBERS has mentioned this meeting with SMEDLEY on a previous occasion and he again observed that AGNES SMEDLEY was somewhat cool toward him and disappointed as she thought she was meeting with EDWARDS (GERHARDT EISLER).

CHAMBERS related that in his operations in Japan JOHN SHERMAN had desired the assistance of a Japanese-American for obvious reasons and the Communist Party underground had been able to furnish him with such an individual in the person of HIDEO NODA, a promising young muralist and pupil of DIEGO RIVERA. NODA was the nephew of a Japanese minister and well qualified for the assignment with SHERMAN. CHAMBERS said in early 1936 SHERMAN and NODA went to Japan and operated for a time. Sometime thereafter, he advised, UNSUB BILL excitedly advised the members of the group that an arrest had been made in Japan and the New York front must be dissolved immediately. He stated that the money deposited at the Chemical National Bank was withdrawn, letterheads of the American Feature Syndicate destroyed, and the office abandoned. CHAMBERS advised that it was subsequently learned that the arrests had not occurred and the information was a false alarm. Nevertheless JOHN SHERMAN and NODA returned to the United States and SHERMAN was sent on to Moscow for reasons not known to CHAMBERS. He stated that in the spring of 1937 SHERMAN again returned to the United States. While in Moscow, CHAMBERS learned SHERMAN had contacted a Colonel URITSKY, nephew of MOISHE URITSKY, but CHAMBERS did not know whether he was in the Red Army Intelligence or NKVD. He advised upon his return to this country SHERMAN received instructions to set up the apparatus in England and to take HIDEO NODA with him. Immediately after arrival in New York from Russia, SHERMAN met with CHAMBERS at the apartment of MAXIM LIEBER.

Upon leaving the apartment with CHAMBERS, SHERMAN grabbed CHAMBERS by the arm and stated intensely that he would never again work for those murderers. He told CHAMBERS he wanted to break and requested CHAMBERS to take a letter to BORIS BYKOV who had replaced BILL by this time, indicating he desired to break and wanted to keep the funds, several thousand dollars, which he had in his possession. SHERMAN indicated he wanted to return to the open Party in California. In this connection CHAMBERS stated that SHERMAN and other Communists were able to do this and seemed capable of rationalizing the absurd inconsistencies involved. For his part, he stated, that the Communist Party and the Soviet underground were so inter-related as to be identical with each other. He observed that the only approach to combatting Soviet espionage must begin with outlawing the open Communist Party.

CHAMBERS stated that he did deliver the message, a letter, for SHERMAN to BORIS BYKOV who was greatly upset. He stated, however, that several days thereafter BYKOV agreed to SHERMAN's proposition that SHERMAN return to California but before doing so he wanted to interview SHERMAN, which the latter refused. CHAMBERS stated SHERMAN asked him for one day's lead on the Russians and CHAMBERS stated he granted this to SHERMAN. He advised this was the last he saw of JOHN SHERMAN but he heard later SHERMAN had gone to Los Angeles, rejoined the Party, and was being watched. As an after-thought CHAMBERS recalled that SHERMAN had won the YMCA handball championship while in Japan.

Concerning HIDEO NODA, CHAMBERS recalled that NODA originally came from the West Coast to New York City where he was apparently recruited for the assignment in Japan. He advised after the false alarm which brought about the dissolution of the network in Tokyo, NODA had returned to the United States. CHAMBERS stated he met with NODA upon instructions of BORIS BYKOV and told NODA to proceed to France and go to a certain hotel at Antibes or Marseilles, CHAMBERS could not recall which town, and there wait until he was contacted. He stated about the end of 1937 or 1938 NODA returned to the United States and CHAMBERS was instructed to send NODA to a Brooklyn address, not now recalled, which was a drug store or soda fountain. He stated that was the last he saw of NODA but sometime later, perhaps 1938, he read an obituary in the newspapers to the effect that NODA had died of a heart attack in Tokyo, Japan. CHAMBERS described NODA as being in the middle 20's, short, slender, Oriental, United States citizen, and rather well known as a promising young muralist.

Throughout the interview CHAMBERS constantly referred to J. PETERS, mentioning PETERS' role in making contacts and supplying and introducing individuals into the underground apparatus. He stated that PETERS had an operation and organization in New York City for the purpose of correlating birth and deathcertificate data for use of the underground in obtaining fictitious passports. He also recalls that PETERS was very proud of a setup involving the office of an alderman in New York City and it was his recollection that at that time aldermen possessed authority to issue passports. He made reference to the RICHARD REUBENS - ROBERTSON case which made headlines during the late 30's, stating that that portion of the apparatus was more or less exposed during the investigation of that celebrated case. CHAMBERS mentioned that Unsub BILL was acquainted with RICHARD REUBENS and also recalled that when TAMER departed the country and wanted to send his furniture to Moscow, CHAMBERS introduced TAMER to REUBENS who was supposed to help him.

Referring again to BORIS BYKOV, CHAMBERS stated that he had arrived in the United States during the latter part of 1936 and remained until early 1938. He believed that BYKOV had been trained by NKVD because of his precise methods of operation and the minute questioning which BYKOV did. He stated he may possibly have been serving Red Army Intelligence at the time he was in this country. He mentioned that J. PETERS had introduced him to BORIS BYKOV. For purposes of future identification CHAMBERS advised BYKOV had met and been seen by the following individuals: On a single occasion by ALGER HISS, HENRY COLLINS, H. JULIAN WADLEIGH, VINCENT RENO, HARRY DEXTER WHITE and GEORGE SILVERMAN. He stated that MAXIM LIEBER and FELIX INSLERMAN also knew him and J. PETERS and Unsub KEITH were well acquainted with BYKOV. He also gathered from conversations that SVIASNIKOV and AZIMOV must have been acquainted with BYKOV.

With reference to Unsub KEITH, CHAMBERS stated he now has a vague recollection that KEITH's real name may have been CRANE. He stated that KEITH was connected with JOHN SHERMAN who, he believes, may have brought KEITH into the apparatus when SHERMAN was on the West Coast. In any event KEITH was the contact between certain individuals, namely SVIASNIKOV and AZIMOV and BORIS BYKOV.

It is noted in referenced teletype from the Los Angeles Division of December 31, 1948, that MORRIS AZIMOW, undoubtedly identical with Unsub AZIMOV, has stated that shortly after he began employment in 1936 with Carnegie Illinois Steel Company, he was contacted in Chicago by an individual whose last name may have been GREEN, and whose first name was perhaps PETE. He stated further that he had previously met this individual GREEN casually in Berkeley, California, and believed the acquaintance had developed through the Industrial Information Exchange Society in Berkeley.

In explaining the news item concerning the $10,000 which CHAMBERS allegedly carried to San Francisco, CHAMBERS made further reference to KEITH. He advised that in 1935 Unknown Subject BILL had sent him to San Francisco with a money belt for the use of unknown individuals on the West Coast. He was not entrusted with the purposes for which the money was transmitted. CHAMBERS registered at the Golden Gate YMCA as LLOYD CANTWELL and by pre-arrangement was contacted by KEITH whom he then met as PETE. Subsequently KEITH or PETE introduced him to an elderly Jewish man named VOLKOFF, who was known as the "old man" and was connected with the Pan-Pacific Trade Union Secretariat. CHAMBERS was not certain whether he delivered the money belt to KEITH or VOLKOFF but believed it was probably the latter. He mentioned he understood the Pan-Pacific Trade Union Secretariat was then operating a courier system to Japan and he assumed the money was for underground purposes. He stated he did not know the amount of money carried in the belt which he described as a gray, rubberized money belt with compartments which he wore around his waist next to his skin. He stated the news item apparently had reflected an estimate made casually by him to the committee to the effect that they would not have sent him to the West Coast with less than the sum of $10,000.

CHAMBERS mentioned that it was a year or so later that BORIS BYKOV introduced KEITH to him. In referring to the operations on the West Coast CHAMBERS mentioned one HARRISON GEORGE, a brother-in-law of EARL BROWDER.

Reference is made to Pages 14 to 16 of the report of Special Agent MAURICE A. TAYLOR, dated January 3, 1949, concerning an individual submitted as a possible suspect of Unsub KEITH. In view of the further information submitted by CHAMBERS contained in this report it appears doubtful that the individual NATHANIEL S. KEITH could be identical with Unsub KEITH as NATHANIEL S. KEITH was employed by the Wall Street Journal, New York City, from July 1929 to December 1938.

CHAMBERS again discussed the original underground group organized by HAROLD WARE among government employees in Washington, D.C., in the early 1930's, mentioning that the primary objective in the beginning was to place Communists in important posts where they had opportunity for advancement in order to formulate or influence policy along lines sympathetic to Communist interests. He again mentioned this group as including among others, ALGER & DONALD HISS, HENRY COLLINS, JOHN ABT, CHARLES KRAMER, VICTOR PERLO, NATHAN WITT and LEE PRESSMAN. CHAMBERS advised that up to 1929 fairly heavy subsidies had been sent to the United States Communist Party by Soviet Russia but with the advent of the five year plans much of this aid had been cut off. He stated about 1935 J. PETERS conceived the idea of organizing underground groups and furnishing information to the Soviet intelligence services in exchange for money contributions. He related that the parallels were planned in a conference which he and PETERS had with HAROLD WARE.

Concerning early operations, he recalled that about 1935 ALGER HISS had furnished him with a set of State Department documents which HISS had secured through his employment with the Nye Committee. CHAMBERS stated he photographed these documents himself with a Leica camera supplied by J. PETERS. He mentioned that HISS had been instrumental in taking documents from the State Department furnished to the committee in the usual course of business and observed that a man by the name of GREENE, a former history professor at Princeton University who was then in the State Department, had unwittingly supplied these documents but subsequently became somewhat suspicious and the practice was discontinued.

CHAMBERS advised that about the same time, 1935, HARRY DEXTER WHITE had been contacted through BOB COE, Communist brother of FRANK COE. He recalled WHITE had delivered the documents to BOB COE who in turn handed them to CHAMBERS who photographed them personally and returned them to COE. He remembered COE was an hour late for the appointment and CHAMBERS stated that he would have nothing to do with anyone so careless in making a contact as important as this and he dropped BOB COE permanently.

CHAMBERS also recalled that J. PETERS had also introduced him to GEORGE SILVERMAN at an early date and SILVERMAN in turn introduced him to HARRY D. WHITE in about 1936. He recalled vividly that HARRY WHITE was a financial expert and had evolved a fiscal plan for Soviet Russia in which he was greatly interested. CHAMBERS advised that in the summer of 1937, he believed, ALGER & PRISCILLA HISS took CHAMBERS to WHITE's summer home in New Hampshire to discuss with him this monetary plan. He remembered that they stopped the first night in Thomaston, Connecticut, drove to WHITE's home the following day, and returned by Petergrove, New Hampshire, where they attended the performance of a summer stock company. CHAMBERS also remembered that WHITE's brother from Boston, Massachusetts, was at WHITE's summer place at the time.

CHAMBERS also made reference to a meeting with DAVID CARPENTER by J. PETERS in about 1935 or 1936 and his meeting with WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN, GEORGE PIGMAN and HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH, as well as the two RENO brothers. He stated apparently these individuals comprised a second group operated by or associated with ELINOR NELSON. He stated he only learned of NELSON's connection when HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH testified two weeks ago and advised he was not well acquainted with ELINOR NELSON but he had met her on one occasion as he recalled.

Concerning the mention of the Norden bomb sight in the Times Herald news articles, CHAMBERS advised that during the period he contacted VINCENT RENO he was aware that RENO was working on a bomb sight and in the interview with members of the committee he may have mentioned the Norden bomb sight but felt the news item must have qualified as he did not specify that RENO was working on the Norden bomb sight.

Regarding the four costly rugs delivered as gifts to four principal sources of information, CHAMBERS repeated that the committee members were advised that these rugs were delivered to HARRY D. WHITE, ALGER HISS, A. GEORGE SILVERMAN and J. JULIAN WADLEIGH.

CHAMBERS advised that the HCUA group had questioned him closely about NOEL FIELD and about LAURENCE DUGGAN. In this connection he recalled that ALGER HISS had conceived the idea that NOEL FIELD would be a good source of information and had made a serious effort to recruit FIELD but returned to CHAMBERS with the story that FIELD indicated he was already in a parallel. CHAMBERS also made a vague recollection that HISS had related he made an effort to recruit DUGGAN also and returned giving the impression that DUGGAN was already operating. CHAMBERS recalled, for what it is worth, that NOEL FIELD was the best friend of LAURENCE DUGGAN and he can not but believe that DUGGAN was aware of the activity around him. It is recalled that when DUGGAN was recently interviewed he indicated he had lived in the same apartment with NOEL FIELD for several years.

Further considering LAURENCE DUGGAN, CHAMBERS recalled that about 1937 J. PETERS had told him that FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD was operating an apparatus in New York which included JOSEPH BARNES, formerly of the New York Herald Tribune, now co-owner of the New York Star, and possibly his brother, HOWARD BARNES, although CHAMBERS was not certain about him. He mentioned that FRED FIELD and JOE BARNES had swapped wives, this only as a matter of interest. CHAMBERS stated that this group used an apartment donated for the purpose by the mother of FREDERICK V. FIELD, which apartment was located on Central Park West, exact address not available. CHAMBERS advised that he became aware that DUGGAN and F. V. FIELD had been classmates, probably at Princeton University (Harvard, according to DUGGAN) and J. PETERS introduced CHAMBERS to F. V. FIELD for the purpose of recruiting DUGGAN. He stated

F. V. FIELD proceeded to Washington, D.C. to see DUGGAN and DUGGAN had brushed him off, indicating to FIELD he was already active in an apparatus. As a result of these various contacts, CHAMBERS was definitely of the impression that DUGGAN was a part of or associated with the apparatus of HEDI GOMPERZ.

CHAMBERS was questioned briefly about HAROLD GLASSER, whose name appeared in the GREGORY case. He stated he had met GLASSER on two or three occasions and these meetings had been arranged by J. PETERS who informed him that GLASSER was a Party member and could be trusted. The purpose of the meetings was to make inquiry of GLASSER concerning HARRY D. WHITE, who, as indicated elsewhere, was considered very valuable and irascible and difficult to handle. CHAMBERS' recollection was that GLASSER confirmed their knowledge of WHITE, indicating that WHITE had never been a Communist Party member but had complete sympathy for the Communist Party and its objectives and would cooperate fully. CHAMBERS stated that GLASSER had not been a part of his apparatus and he had no knowledge of underground activity. He stated he was not aware that GLASSER was furnishing ALGER HISS with any information but understood GLASSER was a member of an underground cell. This is somewhat at variance with the information possessed by informant GREGORY who stated that CHARLES KRAMER once informed GREGORY that GLASSER had been stolen from the PERLO group by ALGER HISS. CHAMBERS mentioned he did not know the members of all the cells represented by his underground informants and advised he had only visited one cell which was the occasion when he went to the home of RICHARD HOWELL POST in Alexandria, Virginia, reported elsewhere.

As a sidelight on HISS, CHAMBERS recalled that PRISCILLA HISS had been a very close friend of MARION BACHRACH and had continued to see her frequently even after being forbidden to do so by the apparatus.

Following the above interview, the writer accompanied CHAMBERS to the door of the Justice Building and during this period CHAMBERS made remarks expressing suspicions concerning WILLIAM P. MARBURY, Baltimore attorney who represents ALGER HISS. CHAMBERS stated he thought MARBURY may have an ideological interest in the defense of HISS which goes further than his ordinary interest as HISS' counsel. He stated MARBURY had plenty of opportunity to withdraw from the case since the documents were produced but had appeared more energetic than ever. He recalled that MARBURY had questioned him at great length regarding HELEN WARE, the meetings of the underground group in her violin studio in Washington, D.C., and whether she was a Communist or aware of the existence and purposes of the underground group. CHAMBERS stated he answered these questions in the negative and MARBURY had stated he was glad that CHAMBERS stated this as he knew all about HELEN WARE and upon the conclusion of the testimony demanded to know if CHAMBERS was aware that HELEN WARE is now married to the prominent head of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. CHAMBERS stated that in view of the complete knowledge concerning HELEN WARE, which MARBURY professed to have, he must have been in possession of knowledge that she was the daughter of Mother BLOOR and sister of HAROLD WARE. Information contained in this paragraph was apparently not furnished to the committee.

In continuing efforts to identify Unsub KEITH will bear in mind the hazy recollection of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS that his real name may have been CRANE. It is noted there is some similarity between this name and GREEN which was the recollection of MORRIS AZIMOW. It appears that JOHN SHERMAN may have recruited KEITH or at least have been associated with him on the West Coast before both came to New York on underground missions.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

WHITTAKER CHAMBERS interviewed December 31, 1948, in connection with alleged new information divulged earlier (12-29-48) to members HCUA. CHAMBERS repeated story related to committee and contents of his remarks set forth herein for period 1932 to 1938 when he severed relations with Communist Party and underground. He indicated considerable of the information supplied was new to committee rather than Bureau.

Report of Special Agent JOSEPH M. KELLY at New York, dated December 23, 1948.

DETAILS: AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

On the mornings of December 30 and 31, 1948, the Washington Times Herald carried lengthy articles containing a summary of new information furnished by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS to members of the House Committee on Un-American Activities at CHAMBERS' farm near Westminster, Maryland, during a five hour interview on the evening of December 29, 1948.

The news articles attributed most of the observations to Senator Elect CARL MUNDT and indicated CHAMBERS had disclosed new names, including some deceased persons, and some individuals now operating in other countries, and stated sufficient data had been supplied to keep the committee busy for six months. In addition CHAMBERS had allegedly furnished a complete chronology of his activities. It was stated that no new sources of confidential information had been named. The articles reported that 52 additional big batches of top secret papers, including data on the Norden bomb sight had been delivered by CHAMBERS to Soviet agents in New York during his service in the underground and on one occasion he had taken a money belt, containing $10,000, from New York City to San Francisco for the purpose of financing West Coast spy operations. Reference was also made in the articles to four costly rugs delivered as gifts to four of the principal sources of information in Washington, D.C.

On the afternoon of December 31, 1948, subject CHAMBERS was interviewed by Mr. RAY WHEARTY of the Department and the writer in the office of Mr. WHEARTY concerning the substance of his statements as reported above. Mr. CHAMBERS observed that while a great deal of the information supplied by him to committee members at his farm on December 29, 1948, constituted information which was new to the committee, only a small portion would be new to this Bureau in view of the several interviews with him by special agents and his lengthy testimony before the Federal Grand Jury in New York. He readily agreed to repeat the substance of his statements to the committee to the best of his recollection and this information is set forth hereafter in full and at the risk of some repetition as the writer is not in possession of all prior interviews and of course the testimony before the Grand Jury.

CHAMBERS related that in 1932 shortly after he entered the underground he was introduced into an espionage apparatus headed by one ULRICH, alias WALTER, both pseudonyms, which was operating within the German Hamburg American Steamship Line. ULRICH was a Russian who he recalled had operated as a partisan in Crimea and whom he described as about 50 years, 5'6", 150 pounds, short, wiry, nervous, and possessing a monkeyish face. CHAMBERS figured he served as liaison man between the individuals handling the written material and ULRICH. He advised the group included one HENRY, a German who met the vessels, and CHARLIE, a Russian Jew, former taxi driver who was supposed to be related to a high Russian official, possibly MOLOTOV. He stated CHARLIE usually delivered the data to HENRY who would bring the material to CHAMBERS and he would pass it on.

CHAMBERS related that two methods were used to transmit messages in this apparatus, one by use of invisible ink written in Russian script between the lines of an innocuous letter typed in German. CHAMBERS who read German said the German letters with secret writing always contained the same general form and content and were signed AKUT. He advised he never learned the content of the secret writing as he did not read or speak Russian.

CHAMBERS advised the other method, often used simultaneously with the secret writing, involved the use of microfilm which he described as to size (35 mm film). He stated these microfilm prints would be transmitted in the back of a small hand mirror, such as could be purchased at five and dime stores. As many as eight or more would be placed between the glass and metal backs of these mirrors and carried on and off ship in the pockets of seamen without attracting any inquiries. CHAMBERS advised these microfilms were also in Russian and he never learned the contents of instructions or messages but knew this was a communications channel for an espionage organization.

CHAMBERS advised that this early organization utilized three places as operating headquarters in New York City. He stated the first place was located on Gay Street in Greenwich Village.

CHAMBERS siad the second place used by the ring was an apartment off 5th Avenue West in the lower 50's rented by PAULA LEVINE whose husband was HARRY LEVINE. He recalled that HARRY LEVINE had a brother-in-law by the name of SAM SCHOYET who worked as assistant foreman at the Daily Worker and was a printer by trade who had worked in Paris and Japan for the underground and later had been sent to Mukden in 1937 on which trip his daughter, AZIA, had accompanied him. He described AZIA SCHOYET as a bacteriologist who was educated at Hunter College, New York City. CHAMBERS stated he may have learned about SCHOYET from Dr. PHILIP ROSENBLIET, mentioned hereinafter.

The third place was an apartment located in Brooklyn, approximately one mile from Brownsville, which was the apartment of one TAMER who was an employee of Crucible Steel, Harrison, New Jersey. CHAMBERS recalled that in 1937 a security agency of the government had made inquiry at the Crucible plant indicating TAMER was suspected of passing plans of this steel company to a foreign government. He stated thereafter TAMER disappeared and he learned from J. PETERS that he had gone to Boston, then to Canada, and on to Russia. CHAMBERS stated TAMER had two or three brothers, one HARRY TAMER who was a printer at the Daily Worker in New York, and another, he recalled, was employed in the waterworks system at Oradell, New Jersey. He stated all were involved to some extent in the underground.

CHAMBERS recalled that there was a Russian typewriter located at the Gay Street address. He stated that Unsub CHARLIE would enlarge the microfilm messages at the Gay Street apartment and would also prepare return messages in the same way. He assumed incoming messages contained instructions and outgoing messages contained information and replies. With reference to the secret ink messages CHAMBERS stated he, himself, often developed the secret writing, using potassium permanganate to develop the writing which would appear in reddish brown between the typed German lines. As indicated he was unable to translate the secret writing.

In connection with the ring mentioned, CHAMBERS said one VALENTINE MARKIN, alias HERMAN and OSCAR, who came to the United States, announced that he would head the apparatus of ULRICH. He stated MARKIN was not a Communist Party member but a left socialist revolutionary. CHAMBERS advised that after HITLER came into power in Germany the espionage ring on the Hamburg American line was broken up and the various characters mentioned herein had disappeared, some presumably returning to Russia.

CHAMBERS recalled in his earliest experience in the Soviet underground, MAX BEDACHT had introduced him to one JOHN SHERMAN, alias ARTHUR, DON and MIKE, who had been a well known open Party member on the West Coast and had entered espionage activities and subsequently returned to the open Party in California, as related hereafter. He mentioned SHERMAN had written in the Daily Worker under the name of ROBERT MITCHELL.

He further made reference to Dr. PHILIP ROSENBLIET whom he described as an important and talkative character whom CHAMBERS has previously discussed at length in interviews with Bureau Agents. CHAMBERS stated he believed Unsub ULRICH had referred him to Dr. ROSENBLIET for certain dental work but thought the main objective was to afford Dr. ROSENBLIET the opportunity to look CHAMBERS over carefully. he mentioned that Dr. ROSENBLIET "had many strings in his hand" and believed his dental office was a clearing house for underground operations. He again made mention of ROSENBLIET's brother-in-law, Dr. GREENBURG, who was located in the 70's, New York City. CHAMBERS stated that ROSENBLIET had gone to Europe at some subsequent date and that he had heard later that he operated the East-West Trading Company somewhere in Europe.

During the 30's CHAMBERS had considerable contact with Dr. ROSENBLIET and in 1935 this individual introduced CHAMBERS to one BILL, whom he described as an important, foreign trained, espionage agent whose primary function, he felt, was to organize new underground apparatus in various countries. He described BILL as age 50, 6', 160 pounds, straight slender build, straight mouth with a lipless appearance, squinty eyes, of Finnish or Estonian nationality and who had been a Soviet agent in Shanghai, according to BORIS BYKOV. CHAMBERS stated that Unsub BILL upon appearance in New York had wanted CHAMBERS to go to London as a Soviet agent and had turned over MAXIM LIEBER, presently located at 545 5th Avenue, New York City, to CHAMBERS for this assignment. LIEBER was an open Party member at the time and in view of the plans for his participation in the underground he was withdrawn from the open Party. CHAMBERS stated that this plan did not materialize.

He stated that about the same time BILL was engaged in establishing an underground organization in Tokyo, Japan, and that JOHN SHERMAN was designated to head this network. He stated after the English plan was abandoned, BILL decided to use MAXIM LIEBER in Tokyo and SHERMAN and LIEBER were brought together. As a front for the operations in Tokyo, the American Feature Syndicate, a news agency, was established and a deposit in the sum of perhaps $10,000 furnished by Unsub BILL was made by MAXIM LIEBER. CHAMBERS stated that J. PETERS secured a birth certificate for JOHN SHERMAN in the name of CHARLES CHASE, a deceased person, and in this manner SHERMAN secured a passport and proceeded to Tokyo. In connection with SHERMAN's preparations, he remembered SHERMAN was eager to meet AGNES SMEDLEY and CHAMBERS arranged a meeting for himself with SMEDLEY through J. PETERS for the purpose of introducing SMEDLEY to SHERMAN. CHAMBERS has mentioned this meeting with SMEDLEY on a previous occasion and he again observed that AGNES SMEDLEY was somewhat cool toward him and disappointed as she thought she was meeting with EDWARDS (GERHARDT EISLER).

CHAMBERS related that in his operations in Japan JOHN SHERMAN had desired the assistance of a Japanese-American for obvious reasons and the Communist Party underground had been able to furnish him with such an individual in the person of HIDEO NODA, a promising young muralist and pupil of DIEGO RIVERA. NODA was the nephew of a Japanese minister and well qualified for the assignment with SHERMAN. CHAMBERS said in early 1936 SHERMAN and NODA went to Japan and operated for a time. Sometime thereafter, he advised, UNSUB BILL excitedly advised the members of the group that an arrest had been made in Japan and the New York front must be dissolved immediately. He stated that the money deposited at the Chemical National Bank was withdrawn, letterheads of the American Feature Syndicate destroyed, and the office abandoned. CHAMBERS advised that it was subsequently learned that the arrests had not occurred and the information was a false alarm. Nevertheless JOHN SHERMAN and NODA returned to the United States and SHERMAN was sent on to Moscow for reasons not known to CHAMBERS. He stated that in the spring of 1937 SHERMAN again returned to the United States. While in Moscow, CHAMBERS learned SHERMAN had contacted a Colonel URITSKY, nephew of MOISHE URITSKY, but CHAMBERS did not know whether he was in the Red Army Intelligence or NKVD. He advised upon his return to this country SHERMAN received instructions to set up the apparatus in England and to take HIDEO NODA with him. Immediately after arrival in New York from Russia, SHERMAN met with CHAMBERS at the apartment of MAXIM LIEBER.

Upon leaving the apartment with CHAMBERS, SHERMAN grabbed CHAMBERS by the arm and stated intensely that he would never again work for those murderers. He told CHAMBERS he wanted to break and requested CHAMBERS to take a letter to BORIS BYKOV who had replaced BILL by this time, indicating he desired to break and wanted to keep the funds, several thousand dollars, which he had in his possession. SHERMAN indicated he wanted to return to the open Party in California. In this connection CHAMBERS stated that SHERMAN and other Communists were able to do this and seemed capable of rationalizing the absurd inconsistencies involved. For his part, he stated, that the Communist Party and the Soviet underground were so inter-related as to be identical with each other. He observed that the only approach to combatting Soviet espionage must begin with outlawing the open Communist Party.

CHAMBERS stated that he did deliver the message, a letter, for SHERMAN to BORIS BYKOV who was greatly upset. He stated, however, that several days thereafter BYKOV agreed to SHERMAN's proposition that SHERMAN return to California but before doing so he wanted to interview SHERMAN, which the latter refused. CHAMBERS stated SHERMAN asked him for one day's lead on the Russians and CHAMBERS stated he granted this to SHERMAN. He advised this was the last he saw of JOHN SHERMAN but he heard later SHERMAN had gone to Los Angeles, rejoined the Party, and was being watched. As an after-thought CHAMBERS recalled that SHERMAN had won the YMCA handball championship while in Japan.

Concerning HIDEO NODA, CHAMBERS recalled that NODA originally came from the West Coast to New York City where he was apparently recruited for the assignment in Japan. He advised after the false alarm which brought about the dissolution of the network in Tokyo, NODA had returned to the United States. CHAMBERS stated he met with NODA upon instructions of BORIS BYKOV and told NODA to proceed to France and go to a certain hotel at Antibes or Marseilles, CHAMBERS could not recall which town, and there wait until he was contacted. He stated about the end of 1937 or 1938 NODA returned to the United States and CHAMBERS was instructed to send NODA to a Brooklyn address, not now recalled, which was a drug store or soda fountain. He stated that was the last he saw of NODA but sometime later, perhaps 1938, he read an obituary in the newspapers to the effect that NODA had died of a heart attack in Tokyo, Japan. CHAMBERS described NODA as being in the middle 20's, short, slender, Oriental, United States citizen, and rather well known as a promising young muralist.

Throughout the interview CHAMBERS constantly referred to J. PETERS, mentioning PETERS' role in making contacts and supplying and introducing individuals into the underground apparatus. He stated that PETERS had an operation and organization in New York City for the purpose of correlating birth and deathcertificate data for use of the underground in obtaining fictitious passports. He also recalls that PETERS was very proud of a setup involving the office of an alderman in New York City and it was his recollection that at that time aldermen possessed authority to issue passports. He made reference to the RICHARD REUBENS - ROBERTSON case which made headlines during the late 30's, stating that that portion of the apparatus was more or less exposed during the investigation of that celebrated case. CHAMBERS mentioned that Unsub BILL was acquainted with RICHARD REUBENS and also recalled that when TAMER departed the country and wanted to send his furniture to Moscow, CHAMBERS introduced TAMER to REUBENS who was supposed to help him.

Referring again to BORIS BYKOV, CHAMBERS stated that he had arrived in the United States during the latter part of 1936 and remained until early 1938. He believed that BYKOV had been trained by NKVD because of his precise methods of operation and the minute questioning which BYKOV did. He stated he may possibly have been serving Red Army Intelligence at the time he was in this country. He mentioned that J. PETERS had introduced him to BORIS BYKOV. For purposes of future identification CHAMBERS advised BYKOV had met and been seen by the following individuals: On a single occasion by ALGER HISS, HENRY COLLINS, H. JULIAN WADLEIGH, VINCENT RENO, HARRY DEXTER WHITE and GEORGE SILVERMAN. He stated that MAXIM LIEBER and FELIX INSLERMAN also knew him and J. PETERS and Unsub KEITH were well acquainted with BYKOV. He also gathered from conversations that SVIASNIKOV and AZIMOV must have been acquainted with BYKOV.

With reference to Unsub KEITH, CHAMBERS stated he now has a vague recollection that KEITH's real name may have been CRANE. He stated that KEITH was connected with JOHN SHERMAN who, he believes, may have brought KEITH into the apparatus when SHERMAN was on the West Coast. In any event KEITH was the contact between certain individuals, namely SVIASNIKOV and AZIMOV and BORIS BYKOV.

It is noted in referenced teletype from the Los Angeles Division of December 31, 1948, that MORRIS AZIMOW, undoubtedly identical with Unsub AZIMOV, has stated that shortly after he began employment in 1936 with Carnegie Illinois Steel Company, he was contacted in Chicago by an individual whose last name may have been GREEN, and whose first name was perhaps PETE. He stated further that he had previously met this individual GREEN casually in Berkeley, California, and believed the acquaintance had developed through the Industrial Information Exchange Society in Berkeley.

In explaining the news item concerning the $10,000 which CHAMBERS allegedly carried to San Francisco, CHAMBERS made further reference to KEITH. He advised that in 1935 Unknown Subject EARL had sent him to San Francisco with a money belt for the use of unknown individuals on the West Coast. He was not entrusted with the purposes for which the money was transmitted. CHAMBERS registered at the Golden Gate YMCA as LLOYD CANTWELL and by pre-arrangement was contacted by KEITH whom he then met as PETE. Subsequently KEITH or PETE introduced him to an elderly Jewish man named VOLKOFF, who was known as the "old man" and was connected with the Pan-Pacific Trade Union Secretariat. CHAMBERS was not certain whether he delivered the money belt to KEITH or VOLKOFF but believed it was probably the latter. He mentioned he understood the Pan-Pacific Trade Union Secretariat was then operating a courier system to Japan and he assumed the money was for underground purposes. He stated he did not know the amount of money carried in the belt which he described as a gray, rubberized money belt with compartments which he wore around his waist next to his skin. He stated the news item apparently had reflected an estimate made casually by him to the committee to the effect that they would not have sent him to the West Coast with less than the sum of $10,000.

CHAMBERS mentioned that it was a year or so later that BORIS BYKOV introduced KEITH to him. In referring to the operations on the West Coast CHAMBERS mentioned one HARRISON GEORGE, a brother-in-law of EARL BROWDER.

Reference is made to Pages 14 to 16 of the report of Special Agent MAURICE A. TAYLOR, dated January 3, 1949, concerning an individual submitted as a possible suspect of Unsub KEITH. In view of the further information submitted by CHAMBERS contained in this report it appears doubtful that the individual NATHANIEL S. KEITH could be identical with Unsub KEITH as NATHANIEL S. KEITH was employed by the Wall Street Journal, New York City, from July 1929 to December 1938.

CHAMBERS again discussed the original underground group organized by HAROLD WARE among government employees in Washington, D.C., in the early 1930's, mentioning that the primary objective in the beginning was to place Communists in important posts where they had opportunity for advancement in order to formulate or influence policy along lines sympathetic to Communist interests. He again mentioned this group as including among others, ALGER & DONALD HISS, HENRY COLLINS, JOHN ABT, CHARLES KRAMER, VICTOR PERLO, NATHAN WITT and LEE PRESSMAN. CHAMBERS advised that up to 1929 fairly heavy subsidies had been sent to the United States Communist Party by Soviet Russia but with the advent of the five year plans much of this aid had been cut off. He stated about 1935 J. PETERS conceived the idea of organizing underground groups and furnishing information to the Soviet intelligence services in exchange for money contributions. He related that the parallels were planned in a conference which he and PETERS had with HAROLD WARE.

Concerning early operations, he recalled that about 1935 ALGER HISS had furnished him with a set of State Department documents which HISS had secured through his employment with the Nye Committee. CHAMBERS stated he photographed these documents himself with a Leica camera supplied by J. PETERS. He mentioned that HISS had been instrumental in taking documents from the State Department furnished to the committee in the usual course of business and observed that a man by the name of GREENE, a former history professor at Princeton University who was then in the State Department, had unwittingly supplied these documents but subsequently became somewhat suspicious and the practice was discontinued.

CHAMBERS advised that about the same time, 1935, HARRY DEXTER WHITE had been contacted through BOB COE, Communist brother of FRANK COE. He recalled WHITE had delivered the documents to BOB COE who in turn handed them to CHAMBERS who photographed them personally and returned them to COE. He remembered COE was an hour late for the appointment and CHAMBERS stated that he would have nothing to do with anyone so careless in making a contact as important as this and he dropped BOB COE permanently.

CHAMBERS also recalled that J. PETERS had also introduced him to GEORGE SILVERMAN at an early date and SILVERMAN in turn introduced him to HARRY D. WHITE in about 1936. He recalled vividly that HARRY WHITE was a financial expert and had evolved a fiscal plan for Soviet Russia in which he was greatly interested. CHAMBERS advised that in the summer of 1937, he believed, ALGER & PRISCILLA HISS took CHAMBERS to WHITE's summer home in New Hampshire to discuss with him this monetary plan. He remembered that they stopped the first night in Thomaston, Connecticut, drove to WHITE's home the following day, and returned by Petergrove, New Hampshire, where they attended the performance of a summer stock company. CHAMBERS also remembered that WHITE's brother from Boston, Massachusetts, was at WHITE's summer place at the time.

CHAMBERS also made reference to a meeting with DAVID CARPENTER by J. PETERS in about 1935 or 1936 and his meeting with WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN, GEORGE PIGMAN and HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH, as well as the two RENO brothers. He stated apparently these individuals comprised a second group operated by or associated with ELINOR NELSON. He stated he only learned of NELSON's connection when HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH testified two weeks ago and advised he was not well acquainted with ELINOR NELSON but he had met her on one occasion as he recalled.

Concerning the mention of the Norden bomb sight in the Times Herald news articles, CHAMBERS advised that during the period he contacted VINCENT RENO he was aware that RENO was working on a bomb sight and in the interview with members of the committee he may have mentioned the Norden bomb sight but felt the news item must have qualified as he did not specify that RENO was working on the Norden bomb sight.

Regarding the four costly rugs delivered as gifts to four principal sources of information, CHAMBERS repeated that the committee members were advised that these rugs were delivered to HARRY D. WHITE, ALGER HISS, A. GEORGE SILVERMAN and J. JULIAN WADLEIGH.

CHAMBERS advised that the HCUA group had questioned him closely about NOEL FIELD and about LAURENCE DUGGAN. In this connection he recalled that ALGER HISS had conceived the idea that NOEL FIELD would be a good source of information and had made a serious effort to recruit FIELD but returned to CHAMBERS with the story that FIELD indicated he was already in a parallel. CHAMBERS also made a vague recollection that HISS had related he made an effort to recruit DUGGAN also and returned giving the impression that DUGGAN was already operating. CHAMBERS recalled, for what it is worth, that NOEL FIELD was the best friend of LAURENCE DUGGAN and he can not but believe that DUGGAN was aware of the activity around him. It is recalled that when DUGGAN was recently interviewed he indicated he had lived in the same apartment with NOEL FIELD for several years.

Further considering LAURENCE DUGGAN, CHAMBERS recalled that about 1937 J. PETERS had told him that FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD was operating an apparatus in New York which included JOSEPH BARNES, formerly of the New York Herald Tribune, now co-owner of the New York Star, and possibly his brother, HOWARD BARNES, although CHAMBERS was not certain about him. He mentioned that FRED FIELD and JOE BARNES had swapped wives, this only as a matter of interest. CHAMBERS stated that this group used an apartment donated for the purpose by the mother of FREDERICK V. FIELD, which apartment was located on Central Park West, exact address not available. CHAMBERS advised that he became aware that DUGGAN and F. V. FIELD had been classmates, probably at Princeton University (Harvard, according to DUGGAN) and J. PETERS introduced CHAMBERS to F. V. FIELD for the purpose of recruiting DUGGAN. He stated

F. V. FIELD proceeded to Washington, D.C. to see DUGGAN and DUGGAN had brushed him off, indicating to FIELD he was already active in an apparatus. As a result of these various contacts, CHAMBERS was definitely of the impression that DUGGAN was a part of or associated with the apparatus of HEDI GOMPERZ.

CHAMBERS was questioned briefly about HAROLD GLASSER, whose name appeared in the GREGORY case. He stated he had met GLASSER on two or three occasions and these meetings had been arranged by J. PETERS who informed him that GLASSER was a Party member and could be trusted. The purpose of the meetings was to make inquiry of GLASSER concerning HARRY D. WHITE, who, as indicated elsewhere, was considered very valuable and irascible and difficult to handle. CHAMBERS' recollection was that GLASSER confirmed their knowledge of WHITE, indicating that WHITE had never been a Communist Party member but had complete sympathy for the Communist Party and its objectives and would cooperate fully. CHAMBERS stated that GLASSER had not been a part of his apparatus and he had no knowledge of underground activity. He stated he was not aware that GLASSER was furnishing ALGER HISS with any information but understood GLASSER was a member of an underground cell. This is somewhat at variance with the information possessed by informant GREGORY who stated that CHARLES KRAMER once informed GREGORY that GLASSER had been stolen from the PERLO group by ALGER HISS. CHAMBERS mentioned he did not know the members of all the cells represented by his underground informants and advised he had only visited one cell which was the occasion when he went to the home of RICHARD HOWELL POST in Alexandria, Virginia, reported elsewhere.

As a sidelight on HISS, CHAMBERS recalled that PRISCILLA HISS had been a very close friend of MARION BACHRACH and had continued to see her frequently even after being forbidden to do so by the apparatus.

Following the above interview, the writer accompanied CHAMBERS to the door of the Justice Building and during this period CHAMBERS made remarks expressing suspicions concerning WILLIAM P. MARBURY, Baltimore attorney who represents ALGER HISS. CHAMBERS stated he thought MARBURY may have an ideological interest in the defense of HISS which goes further than his ordinary interest as HISS' counsel. He stated MARBURY had plenty of opportunity to withdraw from the case since the documents were produced but had appeared more energetic than ever. He recalled that MARBURY had questioned him at great length regarding HELEN WARE, the meetings of the underground group in her violin studio in Washington, D.C., and whether she was a Communist or aware of the existence and purposes of the underground group. CHAMBERS stated he answered these questions in the negative and MARBURY had stated he was glad that CHAMBERS stated this as he knew all about HELEN WARE and upon the conclusion of the testimony demanded to know if CHAMBERS was aware that HELEN WARE is now married to the prominent head of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra. CHAMBERS stated that in view of the complete knowledge concerning HELEN WARE, which MARBURY professed to have, he must have been in possession of knowledge that she was the daughter of Mother BLOOR and sister of HAROLD WARE. Information contained in this paragraph was apparently not furnished to the committee.

In continuing efforts to identify Unsub KEITH will bear in mind the hazy recollection of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS that his real name may have been CRANE. It is noted there is some similarity between this name and GREEN which was the recollection of MORRIS AZIMOW. It appears that JOHN SHERMAN may have recruited KEITH or at least have been associated with him on the West Coast before both came to New York on underground missions.

DETAILS: AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

EUNICE A. LINCOLN

EUNICE A. LINCOLN was interviewed December 14, 1948, in her office in the State Department where she is presently a Correspondence Reviewer. It was learned from Miss LINCOLN that she had first entered on duty at the State Department July 16, 1918, and had been assigned shortly thereafter as secretary to FRANCIS WHITE, then Chief of the Latin American Division of the State Department.

She advised that when Mr. WHITE was made Assistant Secretary, she, Miss LINCOLN, had been made Administrative Assistant to Mr. WHITE. Shortly thereafter, ANNA BELLE NEWCOMB had been brought into the office as secretary and stenographer. Miss LINCOLN advised that when FRANCIS WHITE was made Minister to Czechoslovakia that for a short period while a Mr. PAYER was Assistant Secretary, she and ANNA BELLE NEWCOMB were out of the office of the Assistant Secretary. However, in November 1933 when FRANCIS B. SAYRE was made Assistant Secretary, Miss LINCOLN and Miss NEWCOMB were returned to their respective positions as Administrative Assistant and secretary in his office. Miss LINCOLN advised that she had remained in this position until SAYRE was named High Commissioner of the Philippine Islands in 1939.

Miss LINCOLN advised that her first knowledge of ALGER HISS came about when HISS had called the Assistant Secretary's office and asked for an appointment to see Mr. SAYRE. She recalled that shortly thereafter that HISS had come to the office of Mr. SAYRE and had been interviewed concerning a position as Mr. SAYRE's assistant which had been recently vacated and that as a result of this interview, HISS was appointed to the position of assistant to Mr. SAYRE.

Upon questioning, Miss LINCOLN could not recall any individuals in or out of the State Department with whom ALGER HISS was closely associated and recalled that HISS had been assigned by Mr. SAYRE to work closely with the Trade Agreements Division of the State Department over which Mr. SAYRE was responsible. Miss LINCOLN recalled that during that particular time of Mr. HISS' employment in SAYRE's office, considerable work was done in drawing up trade agreements to be presented to Congress and that SAYRE had delegated the supervision of most of this work to ALGER HISS.

When questioned regarding WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and any possible association that she might know of between CHAMBERS and ALGER HISS, Miss LINCOLN stated that prior to the publicity which had been afforded the allegations made by CHAMBERS that he and HISS were engaged in a Communist spy conspiracy, that she had had no knowledge of CHAMBERS and could not recall ever having heard his name.

When questioned with regard to any possible knowledge she might have had concerning the individuals named by CHAMBERS as also having been associated in this conspiracy, such as LEE PRESSMAN, NATHAN WITT, JOHN ABT, VICTOR PERLO, DONALD HISS, ELEANOR NELSON, RICHARD HOWELL POST, HAROLD WARE and CHARLES KRAMER or KRAVITSKY, Miss LINCOLN advised that she knew of DONALD HISS because of his relationship to ALGER HISS, but had no personal knowledge of him or of any association of DONALD and ALGER HISS with the other named individuals.

Miss LINCOLN recalled a Mr. WARE who she believed was with the Tariff Commission who was in rather frequent contact with ALGER HISS and attended meetings in HISS' office. It was Miss LINCOLN's recollection that WARE was working on reciprocal trade agreements and could recall of nothing unusual in his contacts. Outside of recent publicity afforded to the other individuals, Miss LINCOLN advised that she had no knowledge of these persons or any possible association with ALGER HISS.

Miss LINCOLN could not recall that she had ever met Mrs. PRISCILLA HISS, but recalled that on a number of occasions Mrs. HISS had telephonically contacted SAYRE's office for the purpose of conversing with her husband.

Miss LINCOLN then advised that when Mr. SAYRE left the State Department as Assistant Secretary to become High Commissioner to the Philippine Islands, ANNA BELLE NEWCOMB had gone with him as his secretary and had been employed continually since that time while SAYRE had been with the Interior Department, UNRRA and in his present position with the United Nations.

With regard to the typewriters used in the office of Mr. SAYRE during the time that she was employed there, Miss LINCOLN stated that she could not recall that there had ever been a Woodstock typewriter used in that office and felt certain that had there been, she would have recalled it. To the best of her recollection, Miss LINCOLN stated that there had only been three typewriters ever located in that section, one was an Underwood typewriter which Miss LINCOLN still had in her possession and another was an Underwood which Miss NEWCOMB had used and which had been replaced by an L. C. Smith typewriter at an unknown date but sometime between 1933 and 1939.

It was Miss LINCOLN's recollection that at the time when Mr. SAYRE was replaced by Mr. HENRY GRADY as Assistant Secretary, that this L. C. Smith typewriter remained in the office of the Assistant Secretary. She had no knowledge as to the disposition or location of this typewriter. Miss LINCOLN advised that in her duties as Administrative Assistant, she had little occasion to use a typewriter and could not recall ever having done work for ALGER HISS and indicated that Miss NEWCOMB as secretary and stenographer would have had more occasion to do such work in the regular course of business.

At the time that SAYRE left as Assistant Secretary, Miss LINCOLN went to her present position as Correspondence Reviewer and it was her recollection that ALGER HISS at the same time was assigned to the Far Eastern Division as assistant to Mr. HORNBECK.

On December 17, 1948, Miss LINCOLN contacted the reporting agent and advised that it had come to her recollection that during the period that she was employed in Mr. SAYRE's office that there had been another typewriter which was in the office and that to her recollection, this typewriter was also an L. C. Smith machine. Miss LINCOLN explained that sometime probably in 1938 or 1939, the L. C. Smith typewriter regularly used by ANNA BELLE NEWCOMB had frequently broken down and that as insurance against such breakdowns this other typewriter had been maintained in the office. Miss LINCOLN could not recall what the disposition of this typewriter was, but believed that it also was left in the office when HENRY GRADY took over as Assistant Secretary.

With regard to the possibility of any one having removed any documents from the office of Mr. SAYRE, Miss LINCOLN advised that it seemed unlikely to her that any material classified for security purposes could have been taken by any outsider. It was her recollection that all such material was maintained in safe-type cabinets in the room occupied by herself and Miss NEWCOMB and that naturally, ALGER HISS, as well as Mr. SAYRE, had access to them. Miss LINCOLN stated that she would not have been in a position to state that on any occasion any documents had been taken out of the office by ALGER HISS.

Miss LINCOLN noted that during the time that she was employed in Mr. SAYRE's office, there had never been any occasion to suspect Mr. HISS of engaging in any activity inimical to the welfare of this country and advised that to the contrary she had always been of the impression that HISS was highly capable because of his alertness and ability to remain calm at times of stress and hard work.

* * * * * * *

ANNA BELLE NEWCOMB

ANNA BELLE NEWCOMB was first contacted on December 19, 1948, shortly after she had returned to Washington from New York, having arrived in New York on that morning from Paris, France, where she had been serving as secretary to FRANCIS B. SAYRE of the United States Delegation to the United Nations. At that time Miss NEWCOMB expressed the desire not to be interviewed on that date because of fatigue resulting from the traveling and requested to be allowed to be interviewed on the following day.

Accordingly, on December 20, 1948, Miss NEWCOMB was interviewed and advised that she had first become aware of ALGER HISS at the time HISS was appointed assistant to FRANCIS B. SAYRE while SAYRE was Assistant Secretary of State.

Miss NEWCOMB also was questioned with regard to any possible association between ALGER HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or any of the individuals named by CHAMBERS as having been implicated in a spy conspiracy. Miss NEWCOMB advised that she had no recollection of such association or reason to believe that HISS had ever been so engaged. She recalled that she had heard of NATHAN WITT and LEE PRESSMAN during the course of their employment in the government and subsequent publicity, but stated that she knew of no association between ALGER HISS and these men.

Miss NEWCOMB stated that in the natural course of her duties, she had numerous occasions to do stenographic work for ALGER HISS. However, she could recall of no instance or incidents which would have aroused her suspicion because of any requests HISS had made in the course of her duties. She stated that she could not recall ever having done any copy work or rough draft work for ALGER HISS of any documents.

With regard to the maintenance of documents in the office, Miss NEWCOMB advised that she recalled that those classified for security measures were maintained in cabinets and indicated that it would not necessarily come to her attention were any such documents removed or if they had been taken from the office by Mr. HISS. However, she stated that there was nothing during the course of her employment to have aroused her suspicion towards ALGER HISS.

With regard to the typwriters used by herself in the course of her employment in SAYRE's office, NEWCOMB advised she had first used an Underwood typewriter and had later substituted this for an L. C. Smith typewriter and that sometime during the latter part of her employment in SAYRE's office, because of frequent difficulty with this machine, another typewriter was brought into the office to be used in case her regular machine broke down. Miss NEWCOMB could not recall definitely whether this machine used as a spare was an L. C. Smith make or possibly a Remington. Miss NEWCOMB was definite in asserting to her knowledge she had never used a Woodstock typewriter and believed if she had used such a machine, she would have recalled it.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

Mr. Ladd has telephonically advised me of your call in which you stated that Congressman Mundt had indicated to you that he was in possession of practically all of the information which the FBI had.

[redacted] I would like to advise you that in so far as statements are concerned no one in this Bureau has at any time made any statement to the press. It is a long standing rule that all press inquiries made of the Bureau are answered with the information that any statement in this case must emanate from the Attorney General.

I also desire to advise you that all Bureau personnel have been previously instructed that no information is to be furnished to the Committee on Un-American Activities of the House of Representatives and I can assure you that in so far as the personnel of the FBI is concerned this has been and will be meticulously observed. However, in view of your specific instructions to Mr. Ladd I am reiterating your instructions that no information of any kind is to be furnished the Committee on Un-American Activities of the House of Representatives, and in line with your instructions anyone violating this will be dismissed.

At the same time I would like to point out that copies of our reports containing most confidential and complete information are furnished to the Criminal Division of the Department, to United States Attorneys, and in some instances to other branches of the Government such as the State Department, Military Intelligence, Naval Intelligence, and the Atomic Energy Commission. I mention this to point out that the contents of the FBI reports are not known solely to and confined to personnel of the FBI.

Respectfully,

In answer to many inquiries concerning ~~the~~ Lawrence H. Duggan [redacted], the Attorney General stated that while it is the policy of the Department of Justice not to comment upon the evidence in its files or upon interviews made by its agents, he was deviating from this rule in order to prevent an injustice being done to the family of a former employee of the Government.

While the Department had ~~no derogatory~~ no derogatory information ~~on~~ concerning ~~the~~ espionage on Lawrence Duggan, he was interviewed by the FBI on December 10, 1948, 10 days before his death, and after his name had been mentioned in a current investigation by a Congressional Committee.

In the course of this inquiry, as in any other investigation, the FBI interviews many loyal and patriotic citizens.

The FBI investigation has produced no evidence of Mr. Duggan's connection with the Communist Party or with any espionage activity. On the contrary, the evidence discloses that Mr. Duggan was a loyal employee of the United States Government.

For record purposes, on December 24, Mr. Cadison called for me. I was attending one of the Christmas parties and when my office located me I immediately went around. He handed me the attached press release and said the Attorney General wanted to issue a statement immediately and was this statement satisfactory.

I told him, after reading the statement, that I thought the Department was misrepresenting the facts when they stated that while the Department had no derogatory information on Duggan he was, nevertheless, interviewed. I told Cadison that we had furnished information to the State Department in 1944 which indicated connections which were questionable to say the least. I further pointed out that we have in our files, and the Attorney General has had referred to him, the allegations of Whittaker Chambers pertaining to Duggan and that I thought that the Attorney General would be sticking his neck out needlessly. Cadison did not seem to think so but asked me to accompany him to the Attorney General's office, which I did. The Attorney General immediately saw the point and instructed that the release be changed to say that the Department had no derogatory information concerning espionage on Duggan.

The Attorney General then stated that the statements made by Scheidt that we had interviewed Duggan were bad. I told the Attorney General if we had not made the statement that we had interviewed Duggan the press would have secured this from the family, that an aura of mystery would have been built up around it and he, the Department and the Bureau would be in the identical position that the Un-American Activities Committee was in today; that the mere fact that we interviewed Duggan or anybody else in reality does not mean anything because we interview thousands of people and we would have been derelict in not interviewing him; that all Mr. Scheidt said was that we had interviewed Duggan and we questioned many people, that the interview was a routine one which was necessary in view of the fact that Duggan's name had been injected into the matter. The Attorney General then said that he had thought that the way comments were handled in Washington was very good and he had no complaint about that, but then when Scheidt said, "No comment," he thought that that conveyed the impression that there was something sinister. I told the Attorney General that there was nothing else Scheidt could say but to say "No comment," that we do not divulge the subject matter of interviews with people, that I frankly thought after he reflected on the matter he would come to the conclusion that there was nothing that he could do but to make the statement; that, furthermore, the Un-American Activities Committee was shooting off, they were trying to get out from under, and in view of Hiss' charges of persecution if we refused to even admit we had interviewed him when this could have been established in a very easy manner and would have been established, then we would have been placed in a position where we would have had to do some explaining.

Peyton Ford at this point entered the discussion and took our side of the matter. I further told the Attorney General that the mere acknowledgment of a press inquiry with the statement that, "Yes, we had interviewed Duggan" certainly by no stretch of the imagination could be regarded as a statement; that no statement had been made by the FBI on Duggan or the case, and he very well knew that we had made no statements; that, as a matter of fact, there had been too much talking in other quarters on the whole matter, which accounted for some of the difficulties, and that the Director had instructed that no statements be made and no statements had been made. At this point the Attorney General stated that he had sent a note around to the Bureau on a memorandum the Director had sent him the preceding day, that he wanted to make it clear that his notation was not in any way, shape or form to be construed as a criticism. At that time I did not know what the notation was. I told him that I did not know about the note but I did know that the Director had correctly informed him that no statements had been made. He again reiterated that this was not to be construed as a criticism.

Well handled by Nicholas.

The FBI declined today to say anything further about why it had questioned Duggan several days ago.

In a broadcast last night, Mundt had asked the FBI to give out the reason in fairness to the Duggan family.

Edward E. Scheldt, special agent in charge of the FBI office here, said there was nothing "mysterious" about the questioning. "The FBI questions many people," he said. Earlier he said it merely was a routine questioning carried out because Duggan's name had figured in current investigations.

PIGMAN and GEORGE PIGMAN in approximately 1933 at the Bureau of Standards, Washington, D.C., where they were all employed in the same division. Shortly after the meeting PIGMAN was transferred from this division to another division in the Bureau of Standards and just after this transfer, according to THEUER, several individuals, including himself, gathered at PIGMAN's home, which he believed to be located on P or Q Street near DuPont Circle in Washington, D.C. for discussion purposes. It was his understanding at the outset of this group organization that the discussions were to concern technical work which was being carried on at the Bureau of Standards as well as political ideologies. THEUER stated this group included the following: HERBERT INSLEY, E. P. FLINT, L. A. PALMER, J. S. ROGERS and WILLIAM WARD and GEORGE PIGMAN. He advised that these meetings were the outcome of normal curiosity experienced by all these individuals, brought about by the political setup in the United States as well as the depression. THEUER believed it would be an intellectual discussion to be carried out on a high level. He stated that the first meeting held at PIGMAN's home had that appearance. However, at the second meeting he stated there was present an individual whose name he could not recall, but he described as follows: height - 5'5 or 6", build - slight, hair - dark (normal hair growth), age - about 40 (in 1934), glasses - none, dress - conservative dark suit, occupation - claimed to be a student studying at Baltimore, Maryland, characteristics - had slight accent, flavored with what he described "New York phrases".

This unknown individual, according to THEUER, along with the PIGMAN brothers, was very pro-Russian. The entire discussion at this meeting was controlled by these three individuals, namely the unknown individual, GEORGE and WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN. The unknown individual seemed to be the guiding influence and the PIGMAN brothers would simply elaborate on what this individual would say. THEUER stated that ROGERS also seemed to be of the same mind as the PIGMAN brothers. He went on to state that after the second meeting INSLEY, FLINT, PALMER and he decided that the meetings were getting out of hand and they discussed the doing away with these meetings. THEUER stated that there was one more meeting after this and at this time the same discussions continued and he, along with INSLEY, FLINT and PALMER decided to no longer attend these discussions.

THEUER advised that after WILLIAM PIGMAN was transferred from his division in the Bureau of Standards he no longer saw PIGMAN during the day and would occasionally see him at the cafeteria during his employment at the Bureau of Standards. However, he stated he no longer associated with PIGMAN after the last club meeting. THEUER was of the opinion that GEORGE and WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN were sincerely advocates of the Communist doctrine. He described ROGERS as an individual with an adolescent mind that had been highly influenced by PIGMAN, which made him, THEUER, doubt ROGERS' loyalty to the United States.

THEUER stated that at no time was he approached by anyone to join the Communist Party, nor did anyone at any time attempt to give him literature of a Communistic nature. He advised that he had absolutely no knowledge of anyone taking documentary information from the Bureau of Standards, nor was he ever approached in regard to this matter.

THEUER is presently under a one-year contract with Fay, Spofford and Thorndike, which contract went into effect November 8, 1948. He, therefore, will remain in Anchorage until at least November 8, 1949.

"GREEN" asked ASIMOW for some information which ASIMOW recalled was probably concerning some industrial steel alloy. ASIMOW furnished this information partly from his own knowledge and partly from files of Carnegie Illinois Steel Company. ASIMOW had previously met GREEN casually in Berkeley, California. Report of SA JOSEPH M. KELLY dated December 23, 1948, at New York.

DETAILS: At Los Angeles, California:

Re: HOWARD SCHWAB BENEDICT

By teletype dated December 31, 1948, the Washington Field Office requested that HOWARD BENEDICT, 7280 Hillside Avenue, Los Angeles, who was a personal friend of ALGER HISS and who had attended Johns Hopkins University at the same time as HISS, be interviewed to determine if he had any typewritten letters which he had received from HISS.

Mr. BENEDICT was interviewed by the writer on January 3, 1949, at his home, at which time he stated his full name was HOWARD SCHWAB BENEDICT. He related that he graduated from Johns Hopkins University in 1923; that ALGER HISS was not in his class, but one or two classes behind him. BENEDICT was in what he termed the undergraduate school. BENEDICT recalled knowing ALGER HISS while in school, but stated that ALGER HISS was a younger man than he, BENEDICT; that he did not associate with ALGER HISS at school and mainly knew him because of the fact that ALGER HISS was quite well known on the campus and active in university affairs.

BENEDICT then advised that he has not seen HISS since 1923 and that he has never carried on any correspondence with HISS.

BENEDICT then related to Agent that inasmuch as he has had no contact with HISS for more than twenty years, he does not at the present time know any friends of ALGER HISS or any of ALGER HISS' associates. Furthermore, he cannot recall any friends of his own who might be acquainted with ALGER HISS.

Re: MORRIS ASIMOW

Reference report of SA JOSEPH M. KELLY contains a lead for the San Francisco Office to interview one AZIMOV (phonetic), who is stated by Subject CHAMBERS to be a metallurgist and connected with the University of California at Berkeley, probably in the years 1936 to 1938, and who is also alleged by CHAMBERS to be connected with one "KEITH," unknown Subject in this investigation who was used by Subject BYKOV as a photographer in espionage work and who was turned over by BYKOV to CHAMBERS. The San Francisco Office determined that AZIMOV (phonetic) was probably identical with MORRIS ASIMOW, who was a lecturer in engineering at the University of California at Los Angeles.

On December 31, 1948, MORRIS ASIMOW was interviewed by SA ERNEST J. VAN LOON and the writer at ASIMOW's residence at 12505 Sarah Street, North Hollywood, California. This interview took place in ASIMOW's study, which is a wing of his residence and has a separate entrance. He was advised that Agents desired to ask him some questions concerning relations he might have had with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or ALGER HISS and persons connected with them. He was advised that he did not have to make any statements and that any statements he might make could be used against him in any court action that might result in this matter. He was also advised that if he desired he could consult with his attorney before answering any questions.

ASIMOW stated he is presently an Associate Professor in Engineering at the University of California at Los Angeles and that he has been so employed for slightly over a year.

Considerable background and personal information was then obtained from ASIMOW, which information will be set out later.

He advised that he was employed by the Carnegie Illinois Steel Company, which is a subsidiary of the U. S. Steel Corporation, for about four years, commencing shortly after July 4, 1936, and ending in September or October, 1940. He was then asked whether or not he has had occasion during the time he was employed by Carnegie Steel to make trips to the east coast and he said that he had. He related that in 1936, prior to accepting a position with Carnegie Steel, he and his wife visited the east coast, where they stayed at Washington, D. C., for three or four days and at New York City for several days. He recalled that the hotel at which they stayed in New York in 1936 was named the Empire or Empire State, or some similar name. He described this trip as purely a pleasure trip which he and his wife took. He and his wife also made a pleasure trip to the east coast in 1938. On these trips, according to ASIMOW, he and his wife spent most of the time sight-seeing and he could not recall the names of any persons whom he met or visited.

ASIMOW then related that while working for Carnegie Steel, he had occasion to make trips to Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Detroit, New York, Washington, D. C., and Minneapolis. These trips were usually for the purpose of advising some customer of the Carnegie Illinois Steel Company concerning a problem with which they were confronted. He stated that usually these trips were made with some official of the Carnegie Illinois Steel Company.

ASIMOW further added that in 1938 or 1939 he made a trip to Washington, D. C., where he spent two or three days. The purpose of this trip was to visit the naval research laboratory where he examined a machine which the navy was using to detect internal lamination of armor plate. ASIMOW recalled that he was sent on this trip by Carnegie Steel Company as they were interested in a machine of this nature.

ASIMOW was then asked whether or not on any of the trips he made to the east coast, or at any time during his employment with Carnegie Steel Company, he was approached by or contacted any individual relative to the furnishing of industrial or technical information and whether or not he had reason to believe or recalled that he had furnished information to espionage agents working for the Russian government.

ASIMOW did not reply to this question for nearly a minute and then stated that he would like to reserve his answer on the question. He was then asked whether such reservation was because he wished to protect himself or some other person and he replied he would like to reserve his answer on this question also and then added that he would like to think the matter over.

After giving the matter some thought, ASIMOW stated that in the early thirties, probably around 1932, while he was attending the University of California at Berkeley, California, he became slightly interested in a society, the purpose of which was the exchange of industrial and technical information between the United States and Russia; that he did not actually become a member of this society, but may have attended one or two meetings. He recalled that the society held some of its meetings at the International House in Berkeley, which is just off the Berkeley campus. He described the organization as open and above-board and with no attempt at secrecy.

He then related that on possibly one or two or more occasions he was requested by members of this society to furnish some type of technical information to be transmitted to Russia. He continually stated that his recollection concerning this society was quite vague because he was associated with it in a very casual manner. He said that it is possible that some of the requests for technical information were in the form of letters, but he could not recall whether such letters were addressed to him or whether they were shown to him by some members of the society. He said that it was his recollection that upon receiving a request for such information he would either furnish the information orally of his own knowledge, or he said that it was possible that he would look up the information and furnish at times written reports. He added that he had never received any communications directly from Russia and never in his life has he written directly to anyone in Russia.

Regarding this society, he repeatedly stated that he does not recall the name of it, nor does he recall the names of any members of this society with whom he dealt. He also denied that he could recall the nature of the technical information furnished by him to the members of the society. ASIMOW then made the statement that he did not think there was anything wrong in furnishing such information for the Russian government because at the time several large American corporations, such as General Electric, were working openly in Russia installing industrial plants and helping Russian industry get started. He gave this as his reason for treating his relations with the society in such a casual manner. He states that this is the reason why he cannot recall more definite information about the society and his relations with it.

ASIMOW was unable to recall specifically the occasions on which he furnished information to the above mentioned society. He could not recall any reasons given why Russia wanted such information. ASIMOW denied furnishing information to this society other than on one or two or more occasions as above mentioned. It was his recollection that he probably discontinued association with the society prior to being employed by the Carnegie Illinois Steel Company.

Further questions were asked of ASIMOW endeavoring to obtain more definite information on matters such as the name of the society and names of the members, but he was unable to furnish any additional specific information.

He was then asked whether he had furnished information to any individual other than the members of the society mentioned above. He then related that while employed by the Carnegie Illinois Steel Company in Chicago, he was contacted on one occasion and asked for information. He placed the time of this request in 1936 by stating that it was shortly after he began employment with Carnegie Illinois Steel Company and, as mentioned above, he began this employment shortly after July 4, 1936.

ASIMOW said that an individual came to him in Chicago and asked for some type of technical information. He repeated that his recollection was very vague and he does not now remember the specific information requested, but thought that it perhaps dealt with an analysis for an industrial steel alloy. He said that he may have furnished some of the information of his own knowledge and that it is probable that he obtained some of it from the files of the Carnegie Steel Company. He prefaced many of his statements with the words, "I suppose." For example, he would say, "I suppose I furnished some of it from my own knowledge and some of it from the files of the Carnegie Steel Company."

At this time ASIMOW said he was living on Hyde Park Boulevard in Chicago, two or three blocks from the lake front, in an apartment. However, he could not state whether the individual who contacted him came to his apartment or came to the office, or whether the individual called him up on the telephone. He does not recall whether he saw this man twice, but he said he supposed that he did. He could not recall whether he furnished an oral or written report, but said that it could be that he furnished a written report. He could not remember that this individual gave any reason for desiring this information or naming the person for whom it was obtained. However, he added that he recalls that he had met this individual in a casual way in Berkeley and that perhaps he met him through the above mentioned society at Berkeley. However, he stated he could not recall definitely how he had met this man, how many times or in what connection, except to state that it was perhaps through the society.

ASIMOW was asked whether the information he obtained from the files of the Carnegie Illinois Steel Company was of a secret nature. He replied by stating that all companies have certain processes which, although probably generally known throughout the industry, the companies endeavor to keep for their own use; that he supposed that the information which he obtained from the files of Carnegie Steel was of this nature and that it would not have been given out by Carnegie Steel Company to anyone who might come and ask for it.

ASIMOW was then questioned regarding the name of the individual who contacted him and he said that it seemed to him that the man's name was "GREEN." He said that it was not definite in his own mind whether the man's name was GREEN, but he had just a vague recollection that it was. He then said that he did not know the man's first name. Later in the interview, he was asked if he knew anyone by the name of "PETER" and he said he did not, but added that "PETE" might have been GREEN's first name. Again he stated that his recollection was very hazy and that the name "PETER" suggested to him that GREEN's first name might have been "PETE."

ASIMOW advised that he believed that GREEN was an American; he did not have the recollection that GREEN was a foreigner and, therefore, said he believed he was an American. He did not know GREEN's occupation, nor anything concerning his background. He could not recall that GREEN was driving an automobile, nor could he furnish any information as to whether GREEN had come to Chicago expressly for the purpose of seeing ASIMOW. ASIMOW could not recall with any degree of certainty the physical appearance of GREEN, but stated that he supposed he was about thirty years of age and of average build, height and weight. He was asked whether GREEN had red hair and ASIMOW replied that he could not remember, but he did not think so.

ASIMOW advised that he has never seen GREEN since he furnished GREEN the information in Chicago in 1936.

ASIMOW then advised that since his contact with GREEN in 1936, he has never been approached by anyone to furnish technical or industrial information and has never been contacted by anyone for any purpose whatsoever whom he suspected or knew to be an espionage agent or connected with an espionage organization or the Communist Party.

ASIMOW was then interviewed at length concerning his acquaintance with anyone named "KEITH" or VLADIMIR DeSVESHNIKOFF, or "SVIASHNIKOV." He said that these names meant nothing to him and that he could not recall having known anyone with these names.

He then stated that he is not acquainted with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and that the only knowledge he has of them is what he has read in the newspapers. The aliases of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS were mentioned to him and he denied that they meant anything to him.

He also denied that he knew anyone by the name of BYKOV or "PETER." However, in connection with the name of PETER, it will be noted that ASIMOW said that this name suggested to him that the first name of GREEN might have been PETER.

ASIMOW was then referred back to the point in the interview where he hesitated and stated that he would reserve answers to certain questions. It will be recalled that after this point in the interview he started relating information regarding the society in Berkeley, California and, thereafter mentioned the contact made by GREEN in Chicago. ASIMOW was then asked whether the information about the society and his contact with GREEN were the only matters which he had hesitated relating to agents or whether he had other information on which he was also "reserving answers." He replied that the above information was all that he had in mind and he has no additional information about other contacts to furnish.

ASIMOW was then asked whether he had ever been a member of the Communist Party. He stated that he had not and was never interested in Communism. He was asked whether he knew any of the members of the society in Berkeley were members of the Communist Party. He replied that some of them may have been, but he did not know it. He further said that he does not know anyone who he is sure is a member of the Communist Party.

As set out in the first part of this report, ASIMOW was interviewed in his study where he maintained his personal papers and correspondence. He voluntarily made these papers available to agents, but nothing was noted in his correspondence or personal papers which appeared to be of interest to this investigation. His files contained a considerable amount of blueprints, drawings, specifications and other information regarding processes in metallurgic and related subjects. No address or personal telephone book was found among his papers and he stated several times that he has never at any time during his life maintained such a record.

On January 3, 1949, ASIMOW telephonically contacted SA ERNEST J. VAN LOON and advised that he was intending to make a business trip to New York within the next couple of weeks; that he desired to cooperate with the FBI and did not want to have the FBI get the wrong impression concerning this trip, which was to be made for business reasons.

On January 4, 1949, the writer telephonically contacted ASIMOW at his office at UCLA, at which time ASIMOW stated he was going to New York as a consulting engineer for the Richard Nathan Corporation in New York City; that they have been after him for some time to come to New York for a consultation in connection with the setting up and operation of an aluminum smelting plant; that they have advised him they would make plane and hotel reservations for him. He said that he tentatively plans to leave Los Angeles by plane on the morning of Sunday, January 9, 1949, and while in New York could be reached through the Richard Nathan Corporation.

On October 9, 1945, Informant T-1 advised that an individual named LILLIAN discussed with a girl named MANDY the distribution of leaflets on Friday and Saturday at a mass meeting, which distribution was to be made by MANDY's AYD club. According to this informant, LILLIAN's telephone number was either STanley 7-3907, which is the telephone number of MORRIS ASIMOW, or STanley 7-2907, which is the telephone number of Associated Accountants. This informant also stated that MANDY is the daughter of JOHN HOWARD LAWSON, a well known active Communist in Los Angeles and one of the ten Hollywood writers recently convicted of contempt of Congress.

The same informant advised that on October 10, 1945, MANDY (LAWSON) discussed the distribution of leaflets on Friday and Saturday at a strike meeting with an individual named JOAN, and they agreed to meet at RUTH AZIMO's (phonetic) on Friday at 4:00 p.m., at which time RUTH AZIMO's mother will drive them around the markets to distribute leaflets.

The same informant advised on September 22, 1945, that MANDY (LAWSON) discussed with an individual named FRANK a meeting to be held the following Thursday at LOIS' house. During this conversation the remark was made that JOHN HARRISON and RUTH AZIMO are going to join. The same informant advised that on April 22, 1946, MANDY (LAWSON) engaged in a conversation with a girl whose telephone number was determined to be STanley 7-3907, which is the telephone number of MORRIS ASIMOW, 12505 Sarah Street, North Hollywood, at which time MANDY advised the girl that PETERSON was having a meeting that night at the high school and wanted two or three kids to help pass out leaflets.

It will be noted that during the interview with MORRIS ASIMOW, he stated that his daughter's name was RUTH. He was then asked whether his daughter was a member of American Youth for Democracy (AYD) and he replied that she was not.

Informant T-2 furnished information that in the Young Communist League yearbook for California, entitled "New Frontiers," for 1937, were a number of pages of paid advertisements which were greetings from various persons. In this particular yearbook, on page 39, there appeared the name AZIMOW - California, with no further identification. During the course of interview with MORRIS ASIMOW, he stated that he does not think he ever paid for an advertisement in such a magazine.

PERSONAL AND BACKGROUND INFORMATION

On January 4, 1949, SA LEONARD AUGUSTSON obtained the following biography of MORRIS ASIMOW from Mrs. H. FREDERICKSON, secretary to the President of UCLA. This biography was filed by ASIMOW with the university on February 11, 1947. In it he states that he was born on November 27, 1906, at Milwaukee, Wisconsin. His father was HARRY ASIMOW, who was born in Russia and is presently living and retired. His mother is CELIA ASIMOW, who was born in Russia and is presently living.

He was married on July 29, 1928, at Los Angeles, California, to LILLIAN SOSIN, who was born November 29, 1908, at Chicago, Illinois. The ASIMOWs have two children.

Under education, ASIMOW furnished the following information to UCLA:

ASIMOW denied any participation in or knowledge of espionage groups involved in this investigation. He specifically denied knowing individuals named "KEITH," VLADIMIR V. DeSVESHNIKOFF or "SVIASHNIKOV," PETER, BYKOV, ALGER HISS or CHAMBERS. In early nineteen-thirties, ASIMOW furnished technical industrial information on at least two occasions to a society in Berkeley, California, whose purpose was the exchange of industrial technical knowledge between the United States and Russia. ASIMOW unable to recall name of society, names of members or type of information furnished. ASIMOW recalled that in 1936, shortly after he began employment with Carnegie Illinois Steel Company in Chicago, he was contacted by an individual whose last name he very vaguely recalled as "GREEN" and whose first name he suggested might have been "PETE." "GREEN" asked ASIMOW for some information which ASIMOW recalled was probably concerning some industrial steel alloy. ASIMOW furnished this information partly from his own knowledge and partly from files of Carnegie Illinois Steel Company. ASIMOW had previously met GRE[illegible] casually in Berkeley, California. He denies furni[illegible] information to anyone after 1936 and denied he [illegible] approached to do so. ASIMOW states he has never [illegible]

Miss BRONELLO, Senior Clerk at the Agnew State Mental Hospital, San Jose, California, verified the commitment of WILLIAMS to that institution and stated there was no information available as to the approximate date of his release; further, that due to his condition, he was unavailable for interview and that she had no knowledge as to when he would be available for interview. It is to be pointed out that the Agnew Mental Hospital is an institution operated by the State of California for the mentally deranged. Miss BRONELLO stated that to date, there was no information available as to the diagnosis made in WILLIAMS' case.

Current telephone directories, city directories, and legal directories for San Francisco failed to determine a residence or office in San Francisco for JOHN WOLCOTT PORTER. It was noted in the Martindale Hubbell Law Directory for 1948 that one JOHN WOLCOTT PORTER is an attorney at Los Angeles, California, with offices at 111 W. 7th Street. He was born in 1910, attended Amherst College, and obtained an Ll.B. Degree from Harvard University in 1931.

number 92 - 281. He resigned on the latter date for a "better job." Previous employment was listed as follows:

Carnegie-Illinois, Chicago, 7-13-36 to 5-31-37, as Metallurgist, Supervisor, JOHN MITCHELL.

University of California, 7/1930 to 7-1-36 as instructor; Supervisor, B. H. WOODS.

S. F. Polytechnics H.S., San Francisco, 1-2-30 to 7-1-30 as instructor, Supervisor, G. F. GORDON.

O'Keefs and Merritt, Los Angeles, Hall Scott Motor Car Company, Berkeley, California, and Caterpillar Tractor, San Leandro, Calif., 7-1-28 to 7-1-30 as tool maker.

Southern California Edison, Los Angeles, 6-1-27 to 7-1-28, as junior engineer.

ASIMOW noted, in the records, that he had no relatives working for the United States Steel Corporation.

Education of ASIMOW, as listed in the records, is as follows:

John Paul Jones School (location not shown) eight years, graduated 1919.
L. A. Polytechnic School, four years, graduated 1923 in Science.
University of California, four years, graduated 1927, Mechanical Engineering, B. S. degree; obtained M.S. degree in Mechanical Engineering in 1931, and a PHD in 1934, in Mechanical Engineering.

The only names noted in the records were those of his family and they will be set out in the description below. According to SEDERBERG, there is no picture of ASIMOW available in their records.

JO TARPEY, manager of the Gary Credit Bureau, gave the following information concerning ASIMOW.

In July of 1939 he moved from Highland Park, Illinois to 535 McKinley, Gary, Indiana and at the time was working for Carnegie-Illinois at Gary. He received credit at a local store for a small amount, and owed $18.05 at the time he left Gary, probably early in 1941. This was collected in 1943, when ASIMOW was living at 1470 Avon Park Terrace, Los Angeles, California. HARPER would not disclose the name of the local store involved but contacted the store and from ASIMOW's application for credit received the following information.

As personal references, ASIMOW gave JACK SAGEL, 917 Garfield, Gary; AL SWANSON, Carnegie-Illinois, and CHARLES SILEP, Gary Audit Corporation. HARPER advised that SILEP and SAGEL were contacted by the Credit Bureau at the time, and SAGEL could not recall ASIMOW, while SILEP had met him a few times, but knew little about him. With reference to SWANSON, EDWARD SEDERBERG advised that he is probably A. N. SWANSON, who was Metallurgist in charge of the Carnegie Illinois Laboratory in Gary at the time ASIMOW was employed there, and who is now Chief District Metallurgist for the company, 208 E. LaSalle Street, in Chicago, Illinois.

A check of the Gary City Directories indicates that the address 535 McKinley was not in existance in 1939 but was shown in the 1941 and 1948 records as the residence of GEORGE M. KALLEMES, manager of the State Theater, Gary.

A check of the Gary Police records failed to disclose any record for ASIMOW or AZEMOV.

The following description was taken from the Carnegie-Illinois records:

At 11:25 a.m. today, Special Agent Kenneth Delavigne of the Washington Field Office telephonically advised that Jesse S. Rogers, an employee of the War Department who was interviewed for approximately two hours yesterday by Agents of the Washington Field Office, reportedly died in his sleep last night. Mr. Delavigne stated that Rogers was interviewed at his office in the War Department on the afternoon of January 12, 1949, by Special Agents Robert McCaslin and Paul Tierney. According to the Agents, Rogers was obviously not furnishing the information he had in his possession and to almost every pertinent question he would reply that he could not recall. The Agents, upon taking their leave, asked him to make every effort to recall the answers to the questions that they had asked him. He stated he would do so and arrangements were made to reinterview him today.

In connection with the interview of Rogers, it is noted that Whittaker Chambers was interviewed on December 8, 1948, at New York City. He advised that while functioning as a courier for the Communist Party underground he was introduced to William Ward Pigman, probably in 1936. Subsequent to meeting Pigman in the latter part of 1936 or early 1937, Pigman began furnishing Chambers documentary material from the Bureau of Standards. This activity on the part of Pigman continued, according to Chambers, until April, 1938. William Ward Pigman was subsequently interviewed by Bureau Agents and denied engaging in any activity as alleged by Chambers and denied knowing Chambers. It is noted that Pigman is presently employed as a Research Chemist in the American Paper Institute, Appleton, Wisconsin.

Subsequent investigation of Pigman conducted on the instructions of the Department determined that Jesse S. Rogers was an employee of the Bureau of Standards and closely associated with William Ward Pigman in the early 1930's. One of the individuals interviewed to date in Washington, D. C., concerning Pigman's previous associates at the National Bureau of Standards advised that he attended discussion meetings at Pigman's residence in Washington, D. C., in the early 1930's, that Rogers also attended these meetings and that the views of both Pigman and Rogers were radical.

ACTION:

The Washington Field Office has advised that discreet inquiries will be made to determine whether Rogers committed suicide and the Bureau will be kept currently advised with respect to all developments concerning his death.

ADDENDUM: Mr. Delavigne of the Washington Field Office called in at 1:25 p.m. and stated that inquiry conducted by the Baltimore Office had reflected that Mrs. Rogers had called the Montgomery County, Maryland Police Department at 7:05 a.m. this morning stating that she found her husband dead in bed. See if you can find out who told Pearson

Reference is made to my memorandum to you dated December 22, 1948, in which you were furnished information concerning Laurence Duggan.

During the interview with Duggan by agents of this Bureau on December 10, 1948, Duggan stated that he was approached by two individuals to furnish information for the use of the Soviets or the Communist International, when he was employed by the State Department. One of these persons was Frederick Vanderbilt Field. He stated that Field was a classmate of his at Harvard and he recalled that Field approached him for this information some time during the years 1936 or 1937. He stated he could not recall the words used by Field in this connection but stated there was no question in his mind as to the meaning of Field's words. He advised that he turned down the proposition made to him by Field.

On December 30, 1948, Frederick Vanderbilt Field was interviewed at New Hartford, Connecticut, and he stated that he desired to consult his attorney prior to making any statements. He advised that he planned to consult with his attorney early the following week and would then contact the New York Office of this Bureau relative to discussing this matter.

Field was interviewed on January 3, 1949, at his office in the presence of his attorney, Harold ~~I.~~ Cammer, a partner of Nathan Witt. At the outset of the interview, Field requested to be furnished with a complete transcript of the interview made by agents of this Bureau with Laurence Duggan on December 10, 1948. When the agents refused to furnish him with this transcript, Field advised that upon advice received from his attorney, he had prepared a statement which reads as follows:

"On Sunday, December 26, 1948, Attorney General Tom C. Clark, during a television interview, stated, according to the press of the following day, that Laurence Duggan had informed the F.B.I. that he was approached ten years ago "by two persons" in connection with an alleged Communist espionage ring, but that he had repulsed them both. The Attorney General did not identify the two persons further. The matter of identification was left to Drew Pearson, who during his regular Sunday night broadcast that same night, alleged that Laurence Duggan had informed the F.B.I. that some woman and myself were these two persons. This was the first I had even heard of these charges. After the information which Laurence Duggan is alleged to have given the F.B.I. concerning me had thus been given nation wide publicity, necessarily with F.B.I. connivance, two agents of the F.B.I. called upon me at my home in New Hartford, Connecticut, on December 30, 1948, and indicated that they wished to question me regarding the alleged information concerning me which had been attributed to Laurence Duggan. I arranged to meet the agents of the F.B.I. at my office in New York City on January 3, 1949, at 4:30 p.m. At that time I requested them to permit me to see a transcript of the alleged statements concerning me which they attributed to Mr. Duggan. This they refused to do. In view of my conviction that Mr. Duggan could not and did not make statements concerning me of the character and innuendo leaked by the F.B.I., in view of the refusal of the F.B.I. agents to disclose in context the statements concerning me which are attributed to Mr. Duggan, and in order to avoid any misunderstanding or distortion such as has apparently been generated in this case, I prepared this statement which I delivered to the agents at the meeting referred to. Laurence Duggan was for many years a personal friend of mine. We were classmates at Harvard, in the class of 1927, roomed in the same group and were both officers of our class. After college we kept up our acquaintance by seeing each other occasionally. Our relationship was one of long term friendship nothing more. I do not and cannot believe that Mr. Duggan made the statements concerning me which the F.B.I. has, by leaks and indirection, accused him. I deny categorically any implication that I was at any time involved in any form of espionage, that I violated or attempted to violate any official secrets, or that I attempted to obtain from Mr. Duggan confidential information of any sort. I regard the action of the F.B.I. in the circumstances as grossly improper and most unfair."

After the interviewing agents perused Field's statement, they advised Field that no leak had been made to Mr. Drew Pearson by this Bureau. Field advised that his prepared statement would be his only comment concerning this entire matter.

I thought you would be interested in the above information and I want to point out to you that, of course, no information of any kind has been made available to Mr. Pearson by any representative of this Bureau.

Two Men

Two men were being swept along last week by an onrush of events which were now well beyond their control—or the control of any other individual. CHAMBERS
A simple answer . . .

13 years ago; but their separate stories began much earlier: one in a commercial artist's household in Philadelphia, the other in a dry-goods merchant's respectable home in Baltimore.

The Profanist. Whittaker Chambers was born in 1901 in Philadelphia, the elder of two sons of Jay Chambers, who made a precarious living as a commercial artist. The family stock was a mixture of Dutch, German, French and English. When young Whittaker was three, his family moved to Lynbrook, L.I., where Mrs. Chambers raised chickens and vegetables to piece out the family income. As a child, Chambers slaughtered fowl and peddled vegetables. He was a boy of insatiable curiosity who read Dostoevsky's [illegible] at eleven [illegible] through th[illegible]

Rockville Centre, and then, rather than go to college, which his mother wanted him to do, went south to look for a job. He got one in Washington working on the street railway tracks. From there he went to New Orleans, found no job at all.

Broke and hungry, he returned home, listened to his mother's advice and set out for Williams College. Already a cynical, worldly young man, he took one look at what he recalled later as "those young collegiate faces," stayed one night and decided to try Columbia University in New York. He was there two years. He wrote poetry, edited the literary Morningside, and shocked the campus by bringing out a blasphemous, so-called "Profanist" issue in which he wrote a story dealing "objectionably" with the Resurrection. A student committee invited the editor to resign. He left college and went off to Europe.

"Grease the Guillotine." He found Germany bankrupt, its economy collapsing. One night in Berlin he heard a Communist mob marching under his window singing: "Grease the guillotine with the fat of tyrants . . . Blood must flow." It seemed to him that Western civilization was dying.

The U.S. to which he returned was celebrating the Jazz Age; and drinking bootleg gin. Chambers' brother Richard, to whom he was deeply attached, committed suicide. He visited Richard's grave one winter day and found it covered with ice. He wrote: "The cold earth holds him round, a sheet of ice is over his face. My brother has no more the cold rain to face."

Intellectually and morally frustrated, looking for a creed, he read the entire Socialist writings of Sidney & Beatrice Webb, discarded them as unpractical. One of his young Columbia friends put a copy of the Communist Manifesto in his hands. To Chambers, it was an awakening.

"The Evil Thing." He was to explain later to the House Un-American Activities Committee how Marxism could appeal not only to the bitter young intellectual but to more or less sheltered middle-class persons as well. They were attracted, he said, "by the very vigor of the project." They felt "a great intellectual concern—an almost Christian concern—for the underprivileged, for economic crises, for the problem of war. They say: 'What shall I do?' means to a clear and simple end. In 1924, he joined the Communist Party in New York. For the next 14 years, as he admitted later, he lived a lie—a disloyal citizen plotting against his country.*

He was a find for the party—a taciturn, even secretive man, an awkward, fiery writer, a self-taught linguist who read and spoke German, French, Spanish and Italian. He wrote for the Daily Worker, became its foreign news editor, finally (while

George Tames

HISS

Cartoonist Robert Minor was listed at the top of the masthead) became its editor in fact. On the side he did translations. Two of his translations (from the German) were Franz Werfel's Class Reunion and Felix Salten's Bambi. In 1929, disturbed by reports of Stalin's heavy-handed tactics and stories of the first party purges, he quit the Worker and in defiance

* All through the 1930s the majority of Americans thought of American Communists as being critical of the U.S. but not actively hostile to it. The U.S. had recognized Russia, had not yet recognized that all Communists' allegiance is to Moscow, that they are therefore disloyal citizens of every non-Communist country. No major U.S. political leader, from F.D.R. to any of his political opponents, ever suggested that the Communist Party be outlawed. It was a legal party then—and still is today (although some states bar it from the ballot).

of party discipline lit out for the Midwest.

He did not abandon Communism, however, and returned to New York. He had met and married a young labor organizer and painter named Esther Shemitz. They set up housekeeping in a poverty-stricken tenement on the East Side.

His great effort now was on proletarian fiction, published in the Communists' intellectual organ, the New Masses. His stories, full of romanticism and melodrama, were a summons to violence. Moscow was enraptured, cited him as "the first writer to introduce the Bolshevik into American writing."

The Man in the Linen Suit. In 1932 the party ordered him to go underground —in other words, wipe out his identity and become a secret agent, a spy. His wife cried; he himself was reluctant. But like any good Communist, he obeyed. The New Masses' Whittaker Chambers vanished. A man known simply as "Carl" appeared in the Red "cells" and in the innermost circles of the Communist underground. He buried his identity so successfully that some of his accomplices thought he was a Russian; one of them was positive that he was a Russian ex-colonel. The little boy who had peddled vegetables in Lynbrook became a skillful and consecrated agent of a Communist "apparatus."

One of the apparatus' assignments was to infiltrate the U.S. Government with Communist Party members. One day in Washington, in the summer of 1935, a dumpy little man, feeling self-conscious in the first white linen suit he had ever worn, confronted a tall, well-dressed young Government attorney. The little man was Whittaker Chambers; the other was Alger Hiss.

The Bright Star. Alger Hiss was born in Baltimore in 1904, the fourth of five children of Charles Alger Hiss, whose father had been a great admirer of Horatio Alger. Alger's father, a wholesale dry-goods merchant, committed suicide when Alger was three years old. Later, one of his sisters also took her own life.

The Hisses lived in a respectable Baltimore neighborhood. Young Alger peddled spring water to the neighbors and raised and sold squabs. He went to camp in Maine, attended P.S. 14, a city high school, and finally entered Johns Hopkins University.

There, a quiet, good-looking young man with an easy charm, he shone with a luster that is still remembered. He ran on the track team, headed the dramatic society, edited the campus daily, became colonel in the R.O.T.C., belonged to the best fraternity, won a Phi Beta Kappa key and was voted "most popular, best handshaker, best all around."

Said the yearbook: "Alger must be the most cultured and learned bozo in this neck of the woods. Many and various are the discussions that we have had with him. Many and various the topics—they range from Soviet to style, from liberty to liquor, from guelphs to Goodnow [Frank J. Goodnow, then president of Johns Hopkins]. And like Socrates we admit our ignorance in the force of his irresistible logic and rhetoric."

After he graduated, Hiss went to Harvard Law School. There he was on the staff of the Harvard Law Review. Hiss's star continued to rise. He studied under Felix Frankfurter, graduated cum laude, and went to Washington to serve for a year as secretary to the late great Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Path of Honor. After three years of private practice in New York and Boston, Hiss went back to Washington as an assistant general counsel in the AAA in Henry Wallace's Department of Agriculture. There he attracted the attention of Senator Gerald P. Nye, who was just starting his munitions investigations. Hiss served as a legal assistant through that sensational probe, then moved over to the Solicitor General's office.

Acme

MRS. HISS
Birds along the Potomac.

By this time he was married and living quietly in Georgetown. His wife was Priscilla Fansler, a Quaker, the daughter of an insurance man. She was known as "Prossy." She had lived on Philadelphia's "Main Line" and had graduated from Bryn Mawr in 1924. She had worked as a copy [illegible] been [illegible] Pub- [illegible] ree years [illegible] his way [illegible] ed Com-

Anthony. They were an attractive, retiring couple, although some people thought Hiss's manner arrogant. The Hisses were usually the first to leave a party, preferring the company of a small circle of friends, or merely each other's company at home, reading or listening to music, or taking bird walks along the Potomac. Alger was an amateur ornithologist.

This was the path of apparent probity and honor which crossed Whittaker Chambers' path on that summer day in 1935. Chambers was to testify later that Hiss was already a member of a Washington Communist cell, that he and Hiss became fast friends, and that subsequently Hiss, with the help of Mrs. Hiss, began feeding secret Government documents into the Communist apparatus. Hiss was to deny the whole accusation with cold contempt. He and Prossy knew Chambers, he said, but only as a free-lance writer named "George Crosley" who had come to him to write an article on the Nye Committee.

General Secretary. Alger Hiss's ascendant star did not pause. In 1936 he went into the Department of State, where he worked under Assistant Secretary Francis B. Sayre, first on the Trade Agreement Act, then in the offices of Far Eastern affairs and special political affairs. In 1944 he served as executive secretary at the Dumbarton Oaks conference which laid the foundation for the United Nations.

In 1945, he went to Yalta with Franklin Roosevelt and helped draft the agreements which came out of that conference. Later that year he was general secreta at U.N.'s founding conference at San Francisco. Conferees unanimously commended him for the way in which he directed proceedings and managed the agenda. He was given the honor of carrying the U.N. charter to Washington for deposit in the Federal Archives.

Charges Denied. There were some vague stories about him. Secretary of State Byrnes was disturbed by reports that some Congressmen were going to accuse Hiss of being a Communist. Byrnes asked Hiss about it, told him the charges centered "from the FBI." Hiss went to the FBI and denied the charges categorically.

They cropped up again. In 1946 Hiss was proposed as president of the $10 million Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, whose major objective now is informing the public about U.N. John Foster Dulles, Thomas Dewey's adviser on foreign affairs, and one of Hiss's backers for the Carnegie job, asked him again about the charges. Again Hiss categorically denied them. He was elected to the job, which was enough to cap any public servant's career.

THE HOUSE IN BROOKLYN

March 3 Johnson U.S. charge at London cabled that Lord Chatfield had told the Naval Attache that whether escalation was eventually decided on or not he would not change his plans for cruisers this year and in any case new battleships would not be laid down before the end of the current year.

munism. He had learned what all men learn sooner or later, that the agents of the Kremlin are assassins not only of men's bodies but of their minds and hearts. In fear and revulsion he quit the party. He was to testify later that he had tried to persuade Alger and Prossy to pull out with him, that Prossy indignantly rejected the idea, that Hiss had wept but had refused.

Chambers and his family, his wife Esther and their children Ellen and John, went into hiding. "I was a faceless man," he said. He moved in a shadowy world of terror, carrying a gun. Finally he emerged cautiously from the shadows to begin a new life. In 1937 he had bought a small farm near Westminster, Md., which Hiss himself had once thought of buying.

As quietly as they could, the Chambers family settled into this haven. Chambers began his way back through the profession he knew best. He ventured into New York's literary world, did some research, reviewed some books and in April 1939 was hired to review books by TIME.

The Informer. To some of his colleagues, his fear of Communism seemed a morbid preoccupation, a kind of King Charles's head. He was valued, nevertheless, not only for his firsthand knowledge of Communism but for his outstanding skill in writing and his wide cultural background. He had also become a genuinely religious man: a Quaker.

In 1939, a little while after he came to TIME, he went to Adolph Berle, then Assistant Secretary of State, and disclosed to him the names of certain men who he said were Communists working in the government. He gave the same information, in two interviews, to the FBI. Last summer, he made his dramatic tale public before the House Un-American Activities Committee.

But on none of these occasions did he say anything about the packet of stolen State Department papers which he had stashed away after he broke with the Party. When he brought forward his dusty bomb from Brooklyn, he raised a whole new clamor.

In the midst of that clamor last week, Chambers resigned as a senior editor of TIME. "When TIME hired me in 1939," he wrote in his statement, "its editors knew that I was an ex-Communist; they did not know that espionage was involved . . . After nine years of work done in good conscience, I have been called upon to expose the darkest and most dangerous side of Communism—espionage. This can be done only if a man who knows the facts will stand up and tell them without regard to the cost or consequences to himself. I cannot share this indispensable ordeal with anyone."

TIME accepted the resignation, neither judging nor pre-judging his recent disclosures. "Against the admitted disservice to his country of a decade ago," said TIME, "must be set the service we are convinced he is trying to perform for his country now."

The Final Lines. This week Alger Hiss resigned his $20,000-a-year Carnegie post. Legal proceedings, he said, "will occupy almost all of my time for some weeks to come." The trustees tabled the resignation and gave him a leave of absence with pay for three months.

Meanwhile Hiss clung staunchly to his impeccable role. If Chambers had lied, then Hiss had been incredibly maligned and made the victim of a monstrous slander. If Chambers spoke the truth, then Alger Hiss had led an almost incredibly clever double life. The two of them could do little more now than stand to one side, speaking their final lines, spectators more than actors in their own drama.

Three Rings

As if it were not complicated enough in itself, the Hiss-Chambers case had become a legal three-ring circus.

In the first ring was the House Un-American Activities Committee, which opened the case last summer when it subpoenaed Whittaker Chambers, heard him confess his past complicity and charge that Alger Hiss had also been a Communist.

After weeks of examining witnesses, the committee had more or less dropped the case, without having developed sufficient evidence to prove whether Hiss or Chambers was lying. But Alger Hiss did not drop the case. After Chambers repeated his charges over radio's Meet the Press program. Hiss filed a $75,000 libel suit against Chambers in Baltimore's Federal Court. This was the second ring.

In the third ring was a New York federal grand jury, sworn in 18 months ago to investigate spies and subversive activities.* It had paid little attention to the Hiss-Chambers case, although it had heard testimony from both men last summer. After Chambers had produced the stolen State Department documents and after the House committee had obtained the "pumpkin papers," the grand jury moved in rapidly. On orders from Attorney General Tom Clark, U.S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey summoned Chambers and Hiss again, along with Hiss's wife, his brother, and a parade of other witnesses and new suspects.

*Last July it indicted twelve top Communist Party members on charges of conspiring to advocate the overthrow of the U.S. Government by force. Their trial, after four delays, is now set for Jan.

The Nub of the Matter. The grand jury and the House committee each truculently proclaimed its authority, competed for witnesses. Committeeman Richard Nixon said angrily that a whitewashing was in the making in the grand jury.

But the public had a right to think that the case was getting somewhere; that it was now in appropriate hands. Everyone could hope and expect that the case would be tried and decided by due process of law—and the first step in that process was action by the grand jury.

Beyond any shadow of doubt was one fact: that documents* had been systematically stolen from the State Department. By whom? And for how long? Over & above the questions of Chambers' truthfulness and Hiss's innocence or guilt loomed the still dark answers to these larger questions.

"Holy Cow!" At week's end new light had been thrown into some murky corners.

One witness who appeared before the House committee was Nathan Levine, a New York attorney and a nephew of Mrs. Chambers, who said he had been the innocent custodian of the papers for the past ten years. In 1938, he said, Chambers had given him a large manila envelope to keep, instructing him to open it if anything happened to Chambers and his wife. "You are a lawyer, and will know what to do," Chambers had said.

One day last month, Levine continued, he received a telegram from Chambers: "Arriving Sunday at 10 o'clock. Have my things ready." Levine said he was not sure what Chambers meant. When Chambers arrived, he reminded Levine of the envelope. Together they went to Levine's mother's house at 260 Rochester Avenue, Brooklyn, where Levine had hidden the envelope on top of an unused dumbwaiter shaft. Levine testified that Chambers blew the dust off the envelope, opened it, glanced at the contents and exclaimed: "Holy cow! I didn't think this still existed." Chambers then took the envelope back to his Maryland farm.

Man in a Cocoon. Two more men entered the case. Both had been accused by Chambers as having given him papers from Government offices. One of them was William Ward Pigman, former employee of the Bureau of Standards, now a chemist with the Institute of Paper Chemistry at Appleton, Wis. He was questioned only by the grand jury; in a public statement he denied the charge.

The other was Henry Julian Wadleigh, former State Department economist. [illegible] an, son of an Episcopal [illegible] father of three small children. Wadleigh lives in a still unfinished log [illegible] he is building in Vienna, Va. After questoning by the grand jury, the committee subpoenaed him, hammered him with questions but got nowhere. He said he was not a Communist, but he refused to answer almost all other questions on the grounds that it would "tend to incriminate or degrade me."

This week the jury's term would expire. But a new jury, already called, would take over immediately. If the old jury failed to reach any conclusions—i.e., hand down any indictments—it would be the new jury's duty to press its search into the last and farthest corner of the mystery.

The Durable Herring

Repeatedly during the campaign, President Truman had charged that the House committee's investigation of the Hiss-Chambers case was nothing but a red herring to divert the voters' attention from campaign issues. But in view of the shocking new evidence, reporters trooping into Truman's press conference last week wondered what he would say now.

One of the first questions was whether the President thought that all arms of the Government should now be devoted to finding out who stole the "pumpkin papers" from the State Department. Why, certainly, the President replied, with an expression indicating that he thought the question was silly. Well, had he given any instructions to the Justice Department? The Justice Department, the President replied, had standing instructions to enforce the law. But it had no specific presidential instructions on the Hiss-Chambers case.

From a political standpoint, Truman's previous red-herring charges were understandable. They had been made at a stage when the Hiss-Chambers case was largely a debate between the two men as to

A whitewash was feared.

* Chambers' cache of stolen documents was brought to light in two sections. On Nov. 17, while giving a deposition in the libel suit in Baltimore, he presented 47 exhibits (consisting of 65 sheets of paper). Of these, 43 were typewritten copies of State Department dispatches; four were handwritten memoranda (three in the handwriting of Alger Hiss—see cut—a fact which Hiss has not denied, though he denied giving them to Chambers. The "pumpkin papers" are the second part of the cache. This consisted of three metal capsules containing five rolls of microfilm, of which two rolls were developed and three undeveloped (one of the undeveloped rolls was light-struck). These were taken out of Chambers' pumpkin by House committee investigators on the night of Dec. 2. Chambers had put them there only that morning.

whether they had ever known one another as fellow Communists. But, a reporter asked, did the President still think it was a red herring? He certainly did, Truman fired back—the Un-American Activities Committee was not prosecuting anybody, it was just after headlines.

It was clear that Harry Truman was having a hard time letting go of the red herring. Wrote the Christian Science Monitor's Washington chief, Roscoe Drummond: "If the latest results of the committee rightly can be called 'red-herring' stuff, why is the President even talking about arrests and Justice Department action? The truth is that this is not 'red-herring' stuff and the country deserves to have the Administration and the committee dealing with it seriously and soberly, and not with the back of the political wrist."

I thought you would be interested in knowing that the press is making inquiries concerning the FBI having cleared Alger Hiss while he was employed by the State Department. One of the stories the press has picked up is that "When the former Secretary of State Byrnes heard ugly rumors going around regarding Hiss, he referred the matter to the FBI who cleared Hiss." The press is also saying that John Foster Dulles, prior to the time he appointed Alger Hiss to the position of President of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, took the matter up with the FBI, who cleared Hiss.

For your information if such statements have been made, they are entirely false since the FBI, as you know, never clears or charges anyone. Furthermore, a thorough review of the contents of the FBI files reflects that the FBI could not have cleared Hiss.

On September 2, 1939, Whittaker Chambers had a meeting with Adolph A. Berle, Jr., then Assistant Secretary of State, at which time Chambers revealed his activities in connection with an underground apparatus of the Communist Party in agencies of the United States Government from approximately 1937.

The following information appears in Mr. Berle's notes taken at the time of the interview with Chambers regarding Alger Hiss:

Alger Hiss
Ass't to Sayre - GP - 1937
Member of underground Com - active
Baltimore Days
Wife - Priscilla Hiss - Socialist-Early days of New Deal"

Therefore, the State Department was on notice of Hiss' reported activities at that time.

In connection with the Canadian espionage case, Igor Gouzenko, former code clerk of the Soviet Embassy in Canada, stated that there was a Soviet agent in the State Department, whom he described as an Assistant of Stettinius, then the U. S. Secretary of State. Further details were not available. This information was first furnished to the FBI on September 10, 1945, by the [redacted] b7D

On October 11, 1945, I had a conference with Under Secretary of State Dean Acheson and during my conversation with Mr. Acheson, he inquired as to whether I had any information concerning the identity of the person referred to by Gouzenko. I told Mr. Acheson that at that time we had not been able to definitely establish the identity of this man. He asked me if I had any suspects. I told him that we had one party in mind as a possible suspect, although there was no direct evidence to sustain this suspicion. I told him that the suspected man was Alger Hiss but that I did not feel it was the time to make any accusation as there was no direct proof of the same. Mr. Acheson stated that he would not mention Mr. Hiss' name to the Secretary of State as he assumed that I might do so in my talk with the Secretary of State. I told Mr. Acheson that I did not intend to mention Hiss' name to the Secretary of State because of the vagueness of the suspicion. 61-3499-181

On November 15, 1945, I had a conference with Secretary of State Byrnes at the request of the President in order to discuss the Gregory Case and the Canadian espionage case. During this conference, I mentioned the names of a number of individuals who were named by Elizabeth Bentley as being engaged in Soviet espionage. I did not mention Alger Hiss to the Secretary because he had not been definitely identified. 61-3499-192

On December 4, 1945, the Secretary of State was furnished with a summary entitled, "Soviet Espionage in the United States," dated November 27, 1945, which reflected the allegations of Elizabeth Bentley concerning Soviet espionage in agencies of the United States Government. This summary contained the information Bentley had given regarding Alger Hiss. A copy of this summary was made available to Mr. Gerville Drader of the State Department on December 7, 1945. 61-3499-198,200; 62-76274-196

On March 14, 1946, Mr. Evans, Special Assistant to the Secretary of State Byrnes, advised an Agent of this Bureau that Alger Hiss was on the Secretary of State's "pending" list, and that Hiss was to be given no further consideration for promotion or assignment of responsible duties in the State Department, and that a study should be made of his case to determine if he could be dismissed summarily under Civil Service regulations. Mr. Evans stated that Secretary Byrnes was of the definite opinion that Alger Hiss should be disposed of, but was concerned over the best manner in which to accomplish this. 101-2668-17

While I was discussing other matters with you on March 19, 1946, you advised me that Secretary of State Byrnes wanted to dismiss Alger Hiss, but had been told that he cannot do this without giving him a hearing, as he was a Civil Service employee. At that time I advised you that I did not think a hearing would be wise as the material against Hiss was confidential and if it were not used there would not be enough evidence against him; that I thought the best thing the Secretary could do would be to move Hiss to an innocuous position where he would understand the situation and resign. I also suggested that the Secretary of State might desire to take Senators Connally and Vandenberg into his confidence as they are friends of Hiss and that they would understand the situation. You indicated that you would call the Secretary of State and tell him this. Memo from the Director to Messrs. Tolson, Tamm, Ladd and Clegg 3-19-46

During a conversation I had with you on March 20, 1946, the matter of Alger Hiss again came up, at which time you advised me that Secretary of State Byrnes proposed, if the Justice Department agreed, to call Alger Hiss in and inform him that complaints against him had been received without disclosing the source to him. I suggested to you that it seemed to me that as soon as Hiss is questioned, the questions will alert him as to the nature of the information the Bureau had about him. I indicated to you the possibility that Secretary Byrnes might use the Department of Justice as an alibi saying that he had called upon the Department of Justice to investigate Hiss and that following those investigations the Department of Justice had found nothing to warrant the dismissal of Hiss. I further pointed out that this would put the Justice Department in an awkward position and would be subjected to possible future criticism.

On the same day, I returned a call of Secretary of State Byrnes and I told him that I understood the position he was in, referring to the Hiss matter, but because of the fact that any interview with Hiss at that time would alert him and ruin an important espionage investigation, I would suggest that he contact several key men in the House and Senate and explain his predicament to them, pointing out that he wanted their help in avoiding any criticism from "the Hill." Secretary of State Byrnes stated he thought this might be a solution to the problem and said he would call some of these men. Subsequently I advised you of my conversation with Secretary Byrnes and you expressed agreement with this proposal.

Memo from Dir. to Tolson, Tamm and Ladd 3-20-46

On March 21, 1946, Secretary Byrnes again contacted me concerning the Hiss matter and the Secretary stated that he had called Hiss in and asked him if he was ever a member of any organization with subversive tendencies. Hiss swore that he had never been a member of any such organization. During the course of the Secretary's talk with Hiss, it was decided Hiss should be referred to this Bureau for an interview by a Bureau official. I told him that I had left instructions with Assistant Director D. M. Ladd that if Hiss wanted to come over and talk to us it would be perfectly agreeable, but there were some things that we could not ask him because certain questions would disclose information on current cases. I told the Secretary that if Hiss wanted to make any statement or relate anything about his association that he might consider would place him under suspicion we would be very glad to listen to him. The Secretary stated that he wished we would do this. The Secretary advised that the part of the report on Hiss that impressed him was the statement of Whittaker Chambers. He inquired as to what kind of a man Chambers was and I told him that he was a very good man, explaining that he was senior editor of "Time Magazine."

After my conversation with Secretary Byrnes, I contacted you and generally outlined my conversation with the Secretary, pointing out that when Hiss came to this Bureau he was going to do the talking and we would do the listening. (Memo Dir. to Tolson, Tamm & Ladd 3-21-46).

By letter dated March 25, 1946, the Secretary of State was advised that Alger Hiss had appeared at this Bureau on that date at which time he was interviewed by an official of the Bureau. Hiss was asked to furnish any information in his possession which in his opinion might have led to the report that he was a member of any subversive organization. There was enclosed a copy of the information which Hiss had furnished to this Bureau. 65-56402-695

By letter dated November 25, 1946, a summary in the Gregory case dated October 21, 1946, in which the allegation of Elizabeth Bentley against Alger Hiss and others was mentioned, was made available to the Secretary of State. A copy of this summary was also furnished to Mr. Fred Lyon, Chief, Division of Foreign Activity Correlation, State Department, by letter dated December 12, 1946. This summary also reflected the results of the investigation conducted by this Bureau as of October 21, 1946, based on the allegations of Miss Bentley. 65-56402-1836 and 1859

The records of this Bureau fail to reflect that any inquiry was made by John Foster Dulles concerning Alger Hiss.

The above is being made available to you for clarification of the existing rumors being made by the press.

Reference is made to the attached teletype from the New York Field Office reflecting the results of an interview with Chambers on January 13, 1949, in which he referred to the original Underground Apparatus operated by Harold Ware and included, among others, Donald Hiss. You inquired, "Is this correct? Does he mean Donald? H."

In the absence of ASAC Belmont this was discussed with Supervisor Al Tuohy of the New York Field Office who stated that he was positive the New York Office was correct in stating Donald Hiss was included by Chambers. To verify this Mr. Tuohy again discussed it with Chambers, who is now being interviewed in the New York Office, and he replied that he did mean Donald Hiss in the discussion of the group operated by Harold Ware. The case file reflects that Chambers previously has stated that Donald Hiss was included in the Ware group. He has also previously named Alger Hiss in connection with the same group.

Dear Miss Morrow:

I have received your letter with enclosure, postmarked January 2, 1949. While I am glad to receive your views concerning the work of this Bureau and my administration of it, your observations indicate that you do not clearly understand the specific nature of our responsibilities. The FBI is primarily a fact-finding agency charged with the investigation of violations of laws of the United States, collecting evidence in cases in which the United States is or may be a party in interest and performing other duties imposed by law. Following a determination of the facts, complete information, uncolored by personal opinions or conclusions, is furnished to the appropriate prosecutive authorities for such action as is deemed advisable.

I can assure you that the FBI has not deviated one iota from its established operational policies which require that information in our files be held confidential and available for official use only. It should be noted that the work of the FBI and that of the House Committee on Un-American Activities follow different patterns as I pointed out in my statement before that Committee on March 26, 1947, a copy of which is enclosed.

You may be sure all matters within the scope of our jurisdiction are given prompt and exhaustive investigative attention. It has occurred to me that the material which I am sending you might be of some interest. After reviewing this data and considering my foregoing comments, I trust you will understand more fully the nature of our work.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Private Vengeance.

When Laurence Duggan went out of the window, three assumptions were possible: 1. That he was involved in espionage, directly or indirectly, and that he committed suicide; 2. That he was not involved but did commit suicide because his name had been mentioned by association; 3. That he was murdered and thrown from the window. There is still another possible assumption, namely, that he did not commit suicide nor was he murdered, but that he fell out of the window and that it all had nothing to do with the Chambers-Hiss affair or with his having been attached to the State Department.

Neither the police nor the FBI are helpful, but the FBI gives him a clean bill of health, yet does not explain the full nature of its investigation nor why he was investigated at all. The FBI has been silent in these espionage matters for many years—under instructions, it is to be presumed. At any rate, it would be more just to the memory of Laurence Duggan if the Department of Justice made itself clearer, so that no one would be suspicious that there is something on Duggan but that it is being suppressed.

The case of Sumner Welles is different. Here a man goes for a walk on Christmas night—very late—in quiet country, across fields and not by road. He either had a heart attack or somebody tried to bump him off—or he simply stumbled on a root. Only Welles can describe the circumstances because he was alone. Immediately those who oppose the activities of the House Committee on Un-American Activities rushed into print or on the radio saying that Sumner Welles was made emotionally unstable by the death of Laurence Duggan. When they said that—on Sunday—they could not know it to be true.

Lots of people die of heart attacks—more than 40 per cent of all the deaths in this country. Therefore, it is possible to assume that Mr. Welles had a heart attack and collapsed upon frozen ground. Such an attack could be without relationship to politics—national or international. It might also have been due to indigestion, over-smoking, or a diabetic coma. Why must things not related to each other suddenly become related to each other?

In fact, those who use Mr. Welles's discomfiture for private revenge do him a disservice, for if they go far enough in their assertions, they may force a reopening of the Welles-Hull quarrel which resulted in Mr. Hull forcing Welles, an undeniably brilliant public servant, out of the State Department.

There is a danger that because of the certainty that spies were placed in the State Department by a foreign country, our enemy since 1917, every individual with a private grudge, a nasty mind, an unquenchable hatred, will point a vicious finger at the one he dislikes to call him a spy and a traitor. This is a dangerous business and so far as I can tell, and I have studied this problem with unremitting care for more than twenty years, those who are really guilty are pretty well known even if proof is unavailable and conviction well-nigh impossible.

The fact is that this was true in 1934 when the Harold Ware cells were organized; in 1938 when the Dies committee got its fingers on the data; in 1939, when Whittaker Chambers told his story to Adolf A. Berle; in 1941 when they gave it to the Department of Justice; in 1945-46 when the Prime Minister of Canada, Mackenzie King, personally gave it to the President of the United States. No matter how much more is discovered, the names are pretty much the same, with a little addition here and there.

And this must be understood: What we are dealing with is: 1. Espionage; 2. Neglect of duty; 3. Violation of the oath of office; 4. Condoning espionage and protecting spies to avoid exposure of error in high places. This country has not outlawed the Communist party and being a member of it is neither a misdemeanor nor a felony and can only be made so not by private judgment but by law. This must be recognized if we are not to go haywire about these cases.

"Horsecars and Cobblestones."

"Horsecars and Cobblestones" by Sophie Ruskay (The Beechurst Press. $2.75) will probably rank as one of the pleasantest books of reminiscences to appear in several seasons. It has no world-shattering significance, and the unpretentiousness of the style may cause the hasty to underrate it, but its charm and authenticity are irresistible.

It might be called "Life With Mother and Father." It is the record, utterly uncontrived, without glamour, of a happy childhood in the days of Boss Croker, when horses drew the streetcars, steam locomotives hauled the elevated cars, and the roads were paved with convex cobbles to give the horses a foothold.

Mrs. Ruskay's parents came from Russia. By the time she grew up, they had become a fairly prosperous family, the result of hard work manu-

Mrs. Ruskay gives us a delightful picture of Jewish life in old New York, the extreme conventionality of the old people, their fanatical loyalty to their own families and their noble charity to their less fortunate co-religionists.

Mrs. Ruskay's father was conservative in his ideas. It was Mamma who had the revolutionary notion of changing from nightshirts to pajamas and abandoning the making of elaborate petticoats for ladies. Mamma knew that ladies in Paris were actually wearing things like men's pants.

During the strike in the needle trades it was Mamma who understood that the fight was not against good employers like themselves, but the sweatshops, which cut prices by paying a dollar or so for a dozen shirts made in slum tenements. And when the 1893 panic came, it was Mamma who went to the big cotton firm and

ESPIONAGE - R

The following information was made available to the Bureau by D. Vincent Hurley who received the information from Mrs. Frances Fussell of Swarthmore, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Fussell, who was formerly employed in the Central European Unit in the State Department, is now a member of the technical staff of the Joint Committee on Foreign Economic Cooperation. Mrs. Fussell was not informed that this information would be furnished to the Bureau, however, Mr. Hurley advised that in the event a further check was desired, it was his belief that she would have no hesitation in furnishing any other details available.

Mrs. Fussell stated that early in the week of December 12, 1948 she had a conversation with a man who is presently employed in the CE Unit in the State Department and with whom she formerly worked. In 1947 she and this man and several others were working on the problem of the Yugoslav ships which had been seized by the United States at the end of the war in the Danube River and which were being withheld from Yugoslavia. The Yugoslavs had made several demands that the ships be returned but the State Department had adopted the position that the ships should not be returned until Russia and her satellites had agreed to the opening of the Danube River to international commercial shipping. She stated that this position had been unanimous in the Central European Unit in the State Department. Mrs. Fussell recalled that she and the others working on the problem were dumbfounded last October or November (1947) when an order was issued by President Truman directing that the ships be returned to Yugoslavia forthwith.

According to Mrs. Fussell, no one in the State Department knew the reason for this order until the official with whom Mrs. Fussell talked had recently had occasion to review the State Department file on this Yugoslav shipping question. It was then noted that a penciled memorandum by Alger Hiss appeared in this file. It seems that the Yugoslavs, in another attempt to get their ships back, had appealed to the United Nations and the United States official (I believe the name was Winant but I am not sure) in the United Nations Committee, which had the matter up for discussion, checked with the State Department to determine the United States position in the matter. This official telephoned Mr. Hiss in the State Department. Hiss arranged for Acting Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, to come in on the telephone conversation. Mr. Acheson outlined to the United States representative at the United Nations headquarters the State Department position to the effect that the ships would be held until Russia agreed to open the Danube. The penciled memorandum of Mr. Hiss summarized this conversation and there was a note then written by Hiss to the effect that he was unalterably opposed to the State Department position and that he would do all in his power to see that it was changed.

ASAC Belmont, New York, called in at 5:30 p.m. and advised as follows:

GEORGE HEWITT

Agents of the New York Office today interviewed George Hewitt, who furnished the following information relative to Alger Hiss. Hewitt advised that he met Alger Hiss in 1937 or 1938 at a Party meeting, the purpose of which was to discuss the Negro question and the Communist Party infiltration into the West Indies. They met in an apartment house near West 21st Street, according to Hewitt. Present at the meeting were J. Peters, Rose Wortis, Jack Stachel, Ted Bassett, Max Steinberg, Bill Lawrence and the two Hiss brothers, Alger and Donald. Hewitt said he could recognize either of the Hiss brothers now. Hewitt further said that he met both Alger and Donald Hiss on one occasion in Washington about 1940 on the occasion of an organizational meeting of the National Negro Congress held in the rear of one of the Congress halls on Pennsylvania Avenue. He said 35 or 40 others were present, including Max Yergen, James W. Ford, Rose Wortis, Max Steinberg and Bob Campbell. In addition, Alger and Donald Hiss were at the meeting. Alger left after a very short time. Hewitt did not know either of them by name and had never spoken with them. He thought they were CI agents, that is, international agents of the Communist Party whose duty it is to observe at these meetings and report back to Moscow.

Following the interview with Hewitt, he was taken in the Bureau car to the vicinity of West 21st Street to locate the apartment house mentioned above. He advised that the apartment house at 8 West 16th Street is the apartment which he believes was the one where the meeting was held. He was taken into the apartment house and pointed out apartment F35 as the apartment in which the meeting was held. This apartment is presently occupied by R. P. Madge, who apparently moved into the apartment since that time. A further check is being made concerning this.

Hewitt advised that he furnished the foregoing information with the exception of the exact location of the apartment house to Stokes, a Negro investigator for the HUAC last week. He was told by Stokes to report to the Federal Court House on Friday, December 17, for an interview with HUAC representatives. When he arrived, Hewitt noticed the large number of newsmen and photographers and left the Court House but met Congressman McDowell later in the day at the Hotel Pennsylvania where he was interviewed. Hewitt says that by this time he was "fed up" and refused to be sworn in and would make no statement whatsoever to McDowell. He was supposed to meet Stokes again today to try to locate the house near West 21st Street but due to his interview with Agents, he was unable to do so.

Memo for Mr. Ladd

Hewitt advised that in 1937 or 1938 he was approached by Stachel and Steinberg, the latter at the time being organizational director of the New York State Communist Party. They told him they had an "organizational job" to do on somebody. Hewitt understood this to be a strong-arm job. They showed him a picture of this person and this was later identified by Hewitt as Whittaker Chambers, who, according to Stachel and Steinberg, was an undercover FBI agent working in the Communist Party. They told Hewitt that Chambers would be lured to Buffalo where the job would be done on him. Hewitt advised that later by pre-arrangement he met a girl whose identity is unknown to him at the Albert Hotel on University Place in New York City and was given an envelope which contained $3,000. He was told to deliver it to Henry Wright, a leader of the Communist Party in Buffalo's Fifth Ward. Hewitt described Wright as an individual with a long Buffalo and Detroit police record, a Negro about 40 years old, grayish eyes, about six feet tall, with slightly protruding teeth. Hewitt had thought he was to deliver instructions but when he found the envelope contained money he would not carry out the job, returned the money to the girl and shortly thereafter broke with the Communist Party.

Hewitt refused to furnish a signed statement without talking to an attorney. He plans to talk to a Mr. Foster of the Civil Liberties Union tonight and will advise tomorrow whether he will furnish a signed statement. A subpoena was served on Hewitt for appearance before the Grand Jury at 11:00 a.m., December 21, by the U. S. Marshal.

Relative to Mr. Fletcher's call of December 19, setting forth that Mr. Alex Campbell of the Department had informed that Hewitt appeared before an INS hearing and had stated that he attended many Communist meetings with Alger Hiss, Hewitt was questioned regarding this statement. He advised that he had completed his testimony before INS hearings prior to the time the Chambers-Hiss case arose. Hewitt said he did not know Hiss by any name at the time of his INS testimony. He advised that he does not recall any such testimony concerning Hiss at INS hearings. He advised further that the meetings described are the only ones where he remembers seeing Alger or Donald Hiss.

MAX YERGEN

Max Yergen was interviewed by Agents of the New York Office today. He advised that he first met George Hewitt in Madison Square Park in August, 1948. At that time, Hewitt introduced himself to Yergen as Tim Holmes and congratulated Yergen on his break with the Communist Party. Yergen advised that he next saw Holmes last Friday when they both appeared before representatives of the HUAC.

Yergen advised further that he first saw Alger Hiss in April, 1945, at the San Francisco conference when Hiss was secretary to Stettinius. He advised that he does not know whether Hiss is connected with the Communist Party and does not know the background of Hiss. He stated that when he was interviewed by Congressman McDowell, a Mr. Mandel and Mr. Stokes of the HUAC last Friday he told them that he did not know anything about any connections with Hiss and the Communist Party. He advised that he was not served with a HUAC subpoena but was merely told to stay in readiness.

Memo for Mr. Ladd

Yergen advised that in the fall of 1946, Paul Robeson brought into his office at the Council of African Affairs a woman named Kleiner (phonetic). Robeson recommended her for employment. At that time she said she was the sister-in-law of Alger Hiss. She was employed from September, 1946, to early 1947 as a representative of the Council of African Affairs. Her duty was to go to the U.N. each day and write up the happenings for the benefit of the Council. She left to go to work for the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, according to Yergen. Yergen recalled that she lived at 10 Mitchell Place, New York City, with a woman named Edith Atwater. Yergen had no information regarding the background of Miss Kleiner except that he recalled she stated that during the war she was coordinating information for the War Department on information relative to the Balkan States. Therefore, she may have been employed by the War Department. Yergen had no information indicating that she was a Communist.

A memorandum for the Attorney General reporting the results of these interviews is being prepared.

Something is defective in our Communist coverage. There is another instance of a man giving information to HUAC & not being fingered through interviews previously by us. We might take our Field Faces for a few more chambers. Hiss's instance & we will be badly tarnished. A proper, rigorous, searching interrogation in the first instance might avoid such situations.

Jack Carlisle called from Detroit. He said he was somewhat disturbed over an editorial The Detroit News ran which in effect asked if the FBI was being hampered, why didn't it do something in the spy cases, that he wanted to run a column pointing out what the Bureau's responsibility is, that it is not a policy-making agency, that in the period when Chambers was securing secret documents there were a group of individuals in the State Department and in the Government trying to smear the Director, that obviously anything the Director did would be thwarted by this group. Carlisle stated he did not want to embarrass the Director by such a story.

I told him I saw no basis for embarrassment. He reminded me of the fact that William E. Scripps sent Carlisle to Washington several years ago for the purpose of securing stories on Communists in the Government, that he had a long visit with the Director, that he had never violated any confidence. I told him I did not see where he would be violating any confidence running a story along the lines he discussed, pointing out that the files of other Government agencies are replete with information furnished by the Bureau if the Bureau has not departed from its well-established policies.

A copy of the editorial which appeared in The Detroit News on January 3, 1949, entitled "Did Anybody Hold Back the FBI?" is attached.

Did Anybody Hold Back the FBI?

The House Un-American Activities Committee has left to its final report the disclosures:

1 That, not two but at least 52 lots of secret State Department papers were stolen for Russia during the five years of Whittaker Chambers' connection with the Red spy "apparatus."

2 That a successor to this apparatus remained active at least as late as 1945.

3 That the committee has "no evidence" that the spy ring is not still operating.

On the face of these statements the committee has left its job far from done. It has left unanswered the main question emerging from them, which is:

Where was the FBI during all this time?

The FBI is now, as in 1935-39, the agency on which the country relies for safety from espionage. The statements in the committee's report can not help but shake confidence in its past and present alertness.

We know from the few samples published by the committee that documents stolen in the pre-war period were not fakes "planted" to fool the spies. They were the real thing, some so secret that they still can not be published.

We know now that the spying was not a case of a single isolated success, which, being discovered, led to effective counter-espionage measures.

We are told that the apparatus operated, during Chambers' connection with it, like "a veritable espionage production line out of the State Department and other Government departments."

We know it operated within two blocks of the FBI's Washington headquarters. We know that, so far as the testimony shows, the FBI first learned of it when Elizabeth Bentley's conscience at last prompted her in 1945 to go to the Justice Department with a voluntary confession.

Indeed, the surface facts suggest that all now known to either the FBI or the committee came to them in the first instance through unsolicited confessions by those involved.

The picture is hardly one to inspire confidence that the spy danger has been licked or will stay licked.

There is an inference, which appears believable, that the FBI was prevented from presenting to the New York grand jury all of the evidence it collected after the Bentley confession. The inference is that the Administration acted to save itself embarrassment.

By extension, it may be theorized that similar influences were at work in 1935-39 to keep the FBI from cracking down on the spy ring.

If that is so, the FBI is entitled to have it known. The country is entitled to know it, and to know that these suppose[illegible]

ASAC Belmont of New York called at 11:15 A.M. today and stated that the New York Office is of the opinion that Special Assistant Attorney General T. J. Donegan and the other attorneys working on this case should have a complete report setting forth all information which the Bureau has on Hiss. In connection with this suggestion, Mr. Belmont advised that a question arose as to whether the New York or Washington Field Office should prepare such a comprehensive report. Mr. Belmont explained that if New York does it, it will for the most part be quoting information contained in reports submitted by the Washington Field Office since Washington Field has been origin in the Hatch Act and has conducted most of the other investigation of Hiss. Therefore, Mr. Belmont suggested that unless the Bureau had some specific reason for wanting this report prepared by the New York Office, it was his recommendation that it be handled by the Washington Field Office. Mr. Belmont added that the New York Office intends to prepare a similar comprehensive report containing all available information on Chambers. He said that he felt New York should do this since it has as much original information in its files as any other Bureau field office.

With regard to the 64 documents and the handwritten notes which were turned over by Chambers in Baltimore in connection with the libel suit Mr. Belmont is of the opinion that these should be included in a report. Mr. Belmont said that New York has copies of these documents but the Washington Field Office handled the correlation of these reports with information contained in the State Department records and as a result identified practically all of the documents. Mr. Belmont said that the New York Office has no detailed report or information reflecting this identification and in order to have a complete picture of this he suggested that the Bureau might desire to have the Washington Field Office set forth these documents, together with the identification with State Department records, in a report with copies included for the New York Office.

With regard to the microfilm which was loaned to the Bureau by the HCUA Mr. Belmont stated that the New York Office has photostatic copies of this film. However, he has been advised informally that as a result of the FBI Laboratory examination of this film, the Laboratory was able to bring out some indistinct prints. New York would like the result of the Laboratory's work in this regard in order that information concerning these films might also be included in a report.

Reference is made to the telephone call of ASAC Belmont at 11:20 a.m. today taken by Inspector Laughlin.

In following up the State Department documents and records, I had Mr. Roach check with Mr. Nicholson of the State Department who advised that photostatic copies of pertinent documents were turned over to Mr. Peyton Ford shortly before Christmas. I checked with Mr. Ladd, secured his authority and phoned Mr. Peter Brown of the Department. I outlined our problem briefly and in a few minutes received a phone call from Mr. Ray Whearty who explained this material had already been taken to New York and Special Agent Spencer of the New York Office had made some comparisons of the documents with the material received from Chambers. He stated if the material was not in possession of the New York Office and in Mr. Donegan's possession it could be secured from him.

I phoned ASAC Belmont, New York, and advised him of the information. He checked and found the documents had been seen by Special Agent Spencer and were in possession of Mr. Donegan. He stated they probably would be available on Monday. He stated he would have copies made of the State Department documents and have them forwarded immediately to the Bureau. I told him when they were received they would be made available to the Washington Field Office so that the necessary report could come through. I also told him that we would forward prints of the HUAC film as developed by the FBI Laboratory. I further told him I would instruct the WFO to prepare a report on the available information on Alger Hiss.

At 5:00 p.m. I phoned Supervisor Delavigne who is handling the investigation in the Washington Field Office and instructed that they prepare the report on Hiss.

Reference is made to Baltimore teletype to the Bureau and the Washington Field Office dated January 6, 1949.

Pursuant to suggestion in referenced teletype, Special Agents PAUL J. TIERNEY and ROBERT W. McCASLIN arranged an interview with Mr. JESSE S. ROGERS, an employee in the Safety Branch of the Chemical Corps, War Department, Temporary Building K, Room 2310.

At approximately 3:10 P. M., January 12, 1949, Special Agents PAUL J. TIERNEY and ROBERT W. McCASLIN entered Mr. ROGERS' office at the above listed address and arranged with him to meet in a vacant office adjoining his for an interview. The purpose of this interview was to ascertain Mr. ROGERS' connection with WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN, a principal in instant case.

Mr. ROGERS stated he became acquainted with WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN and his brother, GEORGE PIGMAN, at the time they were employed in the Cement Section at the Bureau of Standards. He felt this was approximately 1930. He said he worked directly with GEORGE PIGMAN and that he knew him better than he did WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN. Mr. ROGERS said he visited their homes and that he recalled visiting GEORGE PIGMAN's home subsequent to the war. He said he had no contact with WILLIAM PIGMAN subsequent to WILLIAM PIGMAN's return from Germany where it is known that he studied at the University of Leipsig.

Mr. ROGERS stated he was not sufficiently aware of WILLIAM PIGMAN's background to know definitely of his activities at the Bureau and added he was shocked when he read in the papers the information indicating that PIGMAN might have been involved with CHAMBERS.

It seemed at this point in the interview that Mr. ROGERS' comments were less casual and that he was searching more deeply for answers to the questions put to him concerning his relations with the PIGMANs. It was noted on numerous occasions that in answer to questions he stated it was difficult for him to recall; that he was interested in knowing if the Bureau had any specific information which might refresh his recollection.

Again in going over the contacts that Mr. ROGERS had with the PIGMANs he remarked that he wanted it understood that his meetings with them were of a social nature; that he never met the family other than in the presence of his wife; that he personally did not like WILLIAM PIGMAN; that he felt he was a "sneery" type of person; however, he added that PIGMAN's wife was very gracious and that his wife was fond of her. Mr. ROGERS stated to be exact as to the number of times he contacted the PIGMAN's home he would first prefer discussing the matter with his wife, he felt she would be able to refresh his memory.

Mr. ROGERS was asked if he visited WILLIAM PIGMAN after the latter's return from Germany. He stated he had not and that he had learned of PIGMAN's return only through a friend by the name of CONGER who he stated lived as a neighbor to him in Maryland. Mr. ROGERS did not know CONGER's present address but felt he was connected with some sanitary commission which is presently working in South America.

Mr. ROGERS then mentioned he did recall visiting GEORGE PIGMAN subsequent to the war; however, he could not recall the exact year. He was asked about meetings he might have attended at the PIGMAN home and he replied he could not recall having ever attended any meetings. It might be noted at this point that this question was put to Mr. ROGERS because Dr. HERBERT INSLEY of the Bureau of Standards stated ROGERS had urged him to attend secret meetings which were held at WILLIAM PIGMAN's home in Washington.

Mr. ROGERS hesitated unnecessarily in answering questions about meetings that he was alleged to have had with the PIGMANS. He then said he did recall having meetings at the Bureau of Standards but he explained these meetings as purely get togethers in connection with union activities in which he was interested on behalf of the engineers at the Bureau of Standards. Mr. ROGERS said it was his aim and the aim of several at the Bureau of Standards at that time to raise the status of professional engineers to the elevation of the medical and legal profession. He said he attended no more than three or four of these meetings for this purpose and again stated all these meetings were at the Bureau of Standards. He mentioned speaking at two of these meetings and jokingly remarked that he perhaps at that time looked upon union organizations more liberally than he does today. Mr. ROGERS felt that these above mentioned meetings occurred sometime during 1932 or 1933; however, he could not remember exactly what time of the year. He was asked if he could recall the gentlemen from the Bureau of Standards who were in attendance at these meetings and he said it was difficult but he felt that Dr. INSLEY and the PIGMANs must have been there and said that the only other person he could recall was a Mr. LACY WAGNER who, he stated, was employed by some cement company in the State of Missouri.

RWMcC:npb

Mr. ROGERS was asked if he recalled ever having attended any study groups or discussion conferences such aswere alleged by Dr. INSLEY. He replied that he could not. He again asked if the interviewing agents could assist him by citing instances or times and when informed that it would be impossible for the agents to do so, he stated he could not recall; that he didn't want to say anything unless he was certain; that he was willing to cooperate, but he felt it would be better if he talked the matter over with his wife; that perhaps she would be able to bring to his recollection some meetings he might have had at the PIGMAN home.

At approximately 4:45 P. M., January 12, 1949, Mr. ROGERS was still as indefinite and uncertain about his associations with PIGMAN as he was in the initial stages of the interview and it was deemed advisable to terminate the interview. It was then agreed by Mr. ROGERS and the agents to continue the interview the following day after he had had an opportunity to discuss the matter with his wife. Arrangements were made for Mr. ROGERS to call the Washington Field Office on the morning of January 13, 1949.

At 11:00 A. M. this date and after not having received a telephone call from Mr. ROGERS, the interviewing agents telephonically contacted Mr. ROGERS' office and were advised at that time that Mr. ROGERS had passed away in his sleep at 11:00 P. M. January 12, 1949. This information was furnished by Miss GRABENKAM, a secretary in the office formerly occupied by Mr. ROGERS.

The Washington Field Office subsequently ascertained from the Coroner's Office of Dr. FRANK BRASHART, Gaithersburg, Maryland, that Mr. JESSE S. ROGERS died of a heart attack, coronary occlusion, natural causes, on the evening of January 12, 1949. It was determined further that Mr. ROGERS' wife reported this fact to the Coroner's Office at 7:05 A. M., January 13, 1949.

The VOLKOFF mentioned therein is in all probability identical with ISAAC FOLKOFF, a Communist Party functionary at San Francisco, California, who has been the subject of extensive investigation by the Bureau since 1940, and concerning whom information is available at New York City and Washington Field Offices. His photograph and description appear in the intelligence albums.

Enclosed for the New York Office are two additional photographs of ISAAC FOLKOFF. It is suggested that these photographs, along with the photograph in the intelligence album, be exhibited to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS to see if he can possibly identify him as the man to whom he passed the money belt.

Your attention is directed to Bureau teletype to all SACs dated January 10, 1949, in the above captioned matter.

An exhaustive investigation is being made in neighborhoods where ALGER HISS resided in Washington, D. C. to determine whether any of his former neighbors have any information indicating that HISS was associated at any time with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. It should be observed that ALGER HISS alleges that he knew WHITTAKER CHAMBERS under the name of GEORGE CROSLEY. These neighbors are being interviewed to determine whether they can furnish information corroborating CHAMBERS' allegation concerning HISS in this case. Photographs are being displayed to determine if they can recall having seen CHAMBERS in the neighborhood.

THOMAS SWANN resided at 1237 - 30th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. and was a neighbor of ALGER HISS who resided at 1245 - 30th Street, N. W. from July 1, 1936 through January 4, 1938.

Rebulet to Richmond dated August 5, 1947, regarding SWANN. A review of the indices of the Washington Field Office reflects that SWANN was an applicant for the Central Intelligence Group in August, 1947, and as of that time was residing at City Point Inn, Hopewell, Virginia.

You are requested to locate and interview Mr. SWANN for all information in his possession concerning this case. ~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

For your assistance, I am enclosing two photographs of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, one taken in 1931 and the other taken in 1936. This matter should receive expeditious and prompt attention in compliance with referenced Bureau teletype.

For record purposes former Special Agent Louis J. Russell, now associated with the House Un-American Activities Committee, called on January 12 to advise that a story appeared concerning him in the Washington Daily News, that the news story stated that he was on leave of absence from the Bureau. Russell stated that this, of course, was not true and immediately after noting it, he wanted to call to state that he had not given out the information. I told him we understood this and appreciated his call. He then stated that also he had been instructed by Congressman Nixon to pass the word on to me that he, Nixon, had heard that there was a rumor being circulated that Nixon was after the Director and the Bureau. Nixon says that there is no truth to this, that he is on the side of the Bureau and the Director, and if we ever want proof we should ask him for it. I told Russell we appreciated his comments but that I also recall very distinctly Nixon calling me on the phone recently late at night, requesting that I advise nobody but the Director about the call, and I also recall that a couple of weeks later Nixon issued a statement to the press wherein he had said that the FBI was cognizant of certain developments in the Hiss-Chambers case because he, Nixon, had personally told the FBI. I told Russell that he could tell Nixon for me that actions speak louder than words.

Russell further told me that there was a great deal of tugging from down there on who would make up the new committee and there was a very good possibility that former Agent Velde would go on the committee. You will recall that he was the individual who asked to be heard by the committee to testify that he was head of the second-story squad.

Velde gave story to newspaper reporter when enroute Washington to testify that he had been on second story squad in FBI

Dear Sir:

Re attached report of SA WESLEY A. ANDERSON dated January 14, 1949, at Chicago. No copy is being submitted for the Butte Office. ~~DEFERRED WITHOUT~~

Pages 2, 3 and 4 of the above report contain the results of an interview with HERMAN L. MEYER, Associate Professor, Mathematics Department, University of Chicago, a former fellow employee of FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Maryland.

LEWIS and members of the United States Army, HERB FEDERER and KIRK FORT. Because all fellow employees of RENO at Aberdeen were to be interviewed, a lead has not been set out to interview these persons but they are being called to the attention of the Bureau and Baltimore in the event that interviews with any of them may have been overlooked.

Page 4 of the report lists a group of persons whose names were furnished by FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO to MEYER as friends of RENO at the time MEYER contemplated a trip to California after he left the Aberdeen Proving Grounds. These persons are listed as follows:

Rebulet January 12, 1949.

The claims file on the policies of THOMAS F. FANSLER, deceased father of PRISCILLA HISS, in the offices of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, Milwaukee, was previously examined for possible typewriter specimens in instant case.

However, in order that none had been overlooked, the file was re-examined this date and no further specimens were found. It was noted therein that what business PRISCILLA HISS has had in the past concerning the policies of her father, under which she is a beneficiary and receives an annuity, has been conducted through the general agents of that company in Philadelphia. When PRISCILLA HISS had occasion to communicate directly with the company, she has done so in her own handwriting. There are at least two letters in the file from her in her handwriting. These handwriting specimens were not obtained as it does not appear at this time that the handwriting of PRISCILLA HISS is involved in instant case.

JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, WAS, ALGER HISS, ETAL, PERJURY, ESP-R. NO. ONE. REFERENCE IS MADE TO TELEPHONE CALL FROM INSPECTOR H. B. FLETCHER TO ASAC BELMONT AT TWELVE FIFTY PM, JAN. SEVENTH, FORTY EIGHT, TWO TWENTY EIGHT PM, ADVISING THAT ONE DOCUMENT OF THE SIXTY FIVE DOCUMENTS WAS APPARENTLY TYPED WITH A MACHINE EQUIPPED WITH TYPE MOST CLOSELY RESEMBLING THE ROYAL ELITE STYLE OF TYPE. THIS DOCUMENT NOW KNOWN AS Q FIVE. IN YESTERDAYS CONVERSATION MR. FLETCHER INSTRUCTED THAT THE ROYAL TYPEWRITER ON WHICH Q FIVE WAS TYPED WILL HAVE TO BE LOCATED. ACCORDINGLY IT IS ASSUMED BY THIS OFFICE THAT THE LABORATORY HAS DEFINITELY IDENTIFIED Q FIVE AS HAVING BEEN TYPED ON A ROYAL TYPEWRITER. IT IS NOTED THAT NUMEROUS LAB REPORTS RECEIVED BY THIS OFFICE/FOR EXAMPLE, LAB REPORT DATED JAN. SEVENTH, FORTY NINE, SETTING FORTH RESULTS OF EXAMINATIONS OF K TWO FOURTEEN AND K TWO FIFTEEN/ INDICATE THAT THE LAB IS EXAMINING HISS TYPEWRITING SPECIMENS SUBMITTED BY THE FIELD FOR COMPARISON PURPOSES ~~WITH ONLY Q SIX~~ THROUGH Q SIXTY NINE.

SUCH AN EXAMINATION WOULD APPARENTLY BE ADEQUATE WHEN IT IS KNOWN THAT THE SPECIMENS SUBMITTED BY THE FIELD ARE KNOWN TO BE TAKEN FROM A WOOD-STOCK TYPEWRITER. HOWEVER IN MANY INSTANCES TYPEWRITTEN SPECIMENS ARE BEING SUBMITTED BY THE FIELD AND IT IS NOT KNOWN ON WHAT TYPE OF MACHINE THE DOCUMENTS WERE TYPED /FOR EXAMPLE ABOVE MENTIONED K TWO FOURTEEN AND K TWO FIFTEEN/. IT IS SUGGESTED THAT THE LAB IN SUCH INSTANCES EXAMINE ALL SPECIMENS WHICH HAVE BEEN SUBMITTED BY THE FIELD AND WHICH WILL BE SUBMITTED BY THE FIELD WITH Q FIVE ON THE POSSIBILITY THAT SOME OF THESE SPECIMENS MIGHT BE IDENTICAL WITH Q FIVE. NO. TWO. WITH REFERENCE TO LOCATING THE ROYAL TYPEWRITER ON WHICH Q FIVE WAS TYPED, BUREAUS ATTENTION IS DIRECTED TO NY TEL DATED JAN. FIFTH, FORTY NINE, FIVE FIFTY NINE PM, REFLECTING INTERVIEW WITH CYNTHIA JONES. IN THAT INTERVIEW CYNTHIA JONES ADVISED SHE LOANED A ROYAL PORTABLE TYPEWRITER TO ALGER HISS IN OCT., FORTY TWO, WHEN SHE WENT TO SAN FRAN. HISS RETURNED THIS TYPEWRITER TO HER IN THE FALL OF NINETEEN FORTY FIVE. JONES CLAIMS TO HAVE PURCHASED THIS ROYAL PORTABLE IN NINETEEN FORTY ONE FROM SOME UNRECALLED DEPT. STORE IN NYC.

END OF PAGE TWO

CLAIMS SHE MIGHT HAVE PURCHASED IT IN MACYS DEPT. STORE OR IN SOME ROYAL TYPEWRITING AGENCY. CLAIMS SHE MET ALGER HISS FOR THE FIRST TIME AT THE WEDDING OF HIS BROTHER, DONALD, AND THAT THE FIRST TIME SHE EVER LOANED HIM TYPEWRITER WAS AS HERETOFORE INDICATED IN NINETEEN FORTY TWO. SHE AGAIN LOANED HIM THIS TYPEWRITER IN THE SPRING OF NINETEEN FORTY SEVEN AND HE RETURNED IT IN THE SUMMER OF FORTY SEVEN. HE AGAIN BORROWED IT IN NINETEEN FORTY EIGHT, AND IT HAS NOT YET BEEN RETURNED TO HER. IN CONNECTION WITH THIS LAST BORROWING, IN SUBSEQUENT INTERVIEW JONES ADVISES THAT SHE WAS CONTACTED BY ONE ROSENWALD, WHO IDENTIFIED HIMSELF AS BEING FROM THE OFFICE OF EDWARD MC LEAN, ATTORNEY FOR ALGER HISS. SHE FIXES THIS CONTACT AS THE DAY FOLLOWING NEWSPAPER ACCOUNTS INDICATING THAT A "MYSTERY WOMAN" NAMED BLANK KLEINER WAS BEING SOUGHT IN CONNECTION WITH THIS INVESTIGATION. NY FILES REFLECT THAT THIS PUBLICITY OCCURED IN NEWSPAPER ACCOUNTS OF DEC. EIGHTEENTH IN CONNECTION WITH THE ACTIVITIES IN NYC OF REPRESENTATIVE MC DOWALL OF THE HOUSE COMMITTEE. IN SUBSEQUENT INTERVIEW JONES CLAIMS SHE WAS CONFUSED WHEN SHE STATED ROSENWALD SECURED THE TYPEWRITER FROM HER, AND THAT IT WAS NOT ROSENWALD BUT ALGER HISS WHO HAD COME TO HER AND BORROWED THE TYPEWRITER.

END OF PAGE THREE

SHE STILL CLAIMED THAT THIS LAST BORROWING BY HISS WAS AT THE TIME OF THE AFOREMENTIONED PUBLICITY CONCERNING THE MYSTERY WOMAN. JONES ADVISED THAT SHE WAS SUBSEQUENTLY INTERVIEWED IN MC LEANS OFFICE, AT WHICH TIME ROSENWALD WAS PRESENT AND DURING WHICH INTERVIEW SHE WAS QUESTIONED CONCERNING HER TYPEWRITER, AS TO THE NUMBER OF TIMES AND DATES ON WHICH SHE LOANED IT TO ALGER HISS. SHE ADVISES THAT BY REASON OF THIS SHE SURMISES THAT HER TYPEWRITER IS IN THE POSSESSION OF ATTORNEY MC LEAN AND THAT HISS DOES NOT PHYSICALLY POSSESS IT. SHE HAS GRANTED THIS OFFICE PERMISSION TO SECURE THE TYPEWRITER AND TAKE SPECIMENS FROM IT. AS HERETOFORE INDICATED, JONES CLAIMS HER TYPEWRITER TO BE A ROYAL PORTABLE. BUREAU WILL IMMEDIATELY ADVISE IF Q FIVE WAS TYPED ON A ROYAL PORTABLE OR ROYAL STANDARD TYPEWRITER. DONEGAN WILL BE CONTACTED TO ASCERTAIN IF HE DESIRES CONTACT MADE WITH MC LEANS OFFICE TO SECURE SPECIMENS FROM JONES TYPEWRITER. NO. THREE. IN YESTERDAYS CONVERSATION MR. FLETCHER ADVISED THAT Q FIVE IS TYPED ON GOVT. BOND PAPER. IT IS ASSUMED THAT LAB HAS MADE PAPER EXAMINATION OF Q FIVE WITH Q SIX THROUGH Q SIXTY NINE. BUREAU WILL ADVISE RESULTS OF SUCH EXAMINATION.

END OF PAGE FOUR

NO. FOUR. WITH REFERENCE TO THE SIXTY FIVE DOCUMENTS TURNED OVER BY CHAMBERS, CHAMBERS HAS ALLEGED THAT HISS WAS THE SOURCE OF THESE DOCUMENTS THAT HISS TOOK HOME ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS FROM THE STATE DEPT., WHERE THEY WOULD BE COPIED ON A TYPEWRITER. THE ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS WOULD THEN BE RETURNED TO THE STATE DEPT. AND THE COPIED DOCUMENTS WOULD BE TURNED OVER TO CHAMBERS. THIS OFFICE IN COMPARING THE COPIED DOCUMENTS, PHOTOSTATIC COPIES OF WHICH ARE IN OUR POSSESSION, WITH THE PHOTOSTATIC COPIES OF THE ORIGINAL STATE DEPT. DOCUMENTS, HAS OBSERVED THAT THE COPIED DOCUMENTS ARE NOT AS COMPLETE AS THE ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS, THAT THERE ARE MISSPELLINGS OF WORDS IN THE COPIED DOCUMENTS AS WELL AS CONTRACTIONS OF WORDS WHICH ARE NOT IN THE ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS, THAT ARTICLES SUCH AS "A"AND "THE" HAVE BEEN OMITTED FROM THE COPIED DOCUMENTS WHICH ARE IN THE ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS. IT IS SUGGESTED THAT CONSIDERATION BE GIVEN TO HAVING THE CRYPTANALYSIS SECTION OF THE LAB MAKE A THOROUGH EXAMINATION OF THE COPIED DOCUMENTS TO DETERMINE A PATTERN OR STYLE PECULIAR TO THE AUTHOR WHO COPIED THOSE DOCUMENTS FROM THE ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS. IT IS THEN SUGGESTED THAT ALL THE SPECIMENS OF THE WRITINGS, LETTERS, ETC,

END OF PAGE FIVE

OF ALGER HISS AND PRISCILLA HISS WHICH HAVE BEEN SECURED BY THE FIELD AND WHICH IN THE FUTURE WILL BE SUBMITTED BY THE FIELD BE THOROUGHLY EXAMINED TO SEE IF ANY OF THESE SPECIMENS WERE WRITTEN BY THE AUTHOR OF THE COPIED DOCUMENTS, LOOKING OF COURSE FOR THE SAME MISSPELLINGS THE SAME CONTRACTIONS, AND ANY OTHER PECULIATITIES WHICH MIGHT BE OBSERVED. IT IS BELIEVED THAT IF SUCH AN EXAMINATION PROVES SUCCESSFUL IT COULD ALSO BE USED TO PROVE THAT Q FIVE, EVEN THOUGH TYPED ON A DIFFERENT TYPEWRITER THAN THE WOODSTOCK, WAS AUTHORED BY THE SAME AUTHOR AS THE AUTHOR OF Q SIX THROUGH SIXTY NINE. THIS OFFICE HAS IN ITS POSSESSION A LONG TYPEWRITTEN THESIS SUBMITTED BY PRISCILLA HISS IN CONNECTION WITH HER APPLICATION FOR A MASTERS DEGREE AT COLUMBIA UNIV., DATED NINETEEN TWENTY NINE, WHICH COULD BE USED IN THE SUGGESTED EXAMINATION. IT IS NOTED THAT THERE ARE SEVERAL INKED HANDPRINTED CORRECTIONS MADE IN THE THESIS TO CORRECT TYPED MISSPELLED WORDS. IT IS ALSO NOTED IN REVIEWING SOME OF THE PHOTOSTATIC COPIES OF THE COPIED STATE DEPT. DOCUMENTS IN OUR POSSESSION THAT IN A FEW INSTANCES SOME PAGES ALSO CONTAIN INKED HANDPRINTED CORRECTIONS. THEY APPEAR SOMEWHAT SIMILAR TO THE LAYMANS EYE BUT OF COURSE WILL NEED EXPERT EXAMINATION.

END OF PAGE SIX

SOME OF THE INKED HANDPRINTED CORRECTIONS FOR EXAMPLE APPEAR ON DOCUMENT ENTITLED "VEINNA DATED FEB. FOURTEENTH, NINETEEN THIRTY EIGHT, REC-D ELEVEN FORTY FIVE PM," DIRECTED TO THE SEC. OF STATE, WASH., BEGINNING WITH THE WORDS "HAVE JUST SEEN" AND ENDING WITH THE WORDS "RESISTANCE IN AUSTRIA," TRANSMITTED BY WILEY. ALSO ON PAGE FOUR OF DOCUMENT ENTITLED "NEED FOR NEW POLICY IN ECONIMIC DEVELOPMENT OF MANCHUKUO." IT IS ALSO NOTED IN THE THESIS THAT WHEN THERE WOULD BE A TYPOGRAPHICAL MISSPELLING A CERTAIN TYPE OF MARK TO TRANSPOSE THE LETTERS WOULD BE USED. THIS APPARENTLY SIMILAR MARK ALSO APPEARS ON SOME OF THE COPIED DOCUMENTS WHEN WORDS HAD BEEN MISSPELLED AND THE AUTHOR OF THE COPIED DOCUMENTS CORRECTED THEM BY MAKING THE MARK TO EFFECT A TRANSPOSITION OF THE LETTERS. THE USE OF THIS PARTICULAR TYPE MARK OBSERVED IN BOTH THE EHESIS AND THE COPIED DOCUMENTS MIGHT WELL BE A COMMONLY USED MARK, BUT IT IS BELIEVED WORTHY OF EXPERT EXAMINATION. IT HAS NOT BEEN ASCERTAINED WHETHER THE CORRECTIONS IN THE THESIS WERE MADE BY PRISCILLA HISS, BUT SUCH IS THE ASSUMPTION ACCORDING TO INQUIRES AT COLUMBIA UNIV. FOR INFO OF BUREAU, THIS THESIS HAS NOT BEEN SUBMITTED TO THE BUREAU BECAUSE OF ITS DATE AND BECAUSE T. J. DONEGAN DID NOT FEEL IT ESSENTIAL TO SUBMIT AS A TYPEWRITING SPECIMEN.

END OF PAGE SEVEN

IF SUGGESTED EXAMINATION PRODUCES RESULTS, THE ENTIRE FIELD SHOULD BE INSTRUCTED TO OBTAIN NOT ONLY TYPEWRITTEN SPECIMENS EMANATING FROM ALGER AND PRISCILLA HISS, BUT HANDWRITTEN SPECIMENS AS WELL, INASMUCH AS HANDWRITTEN SPECIMENS WOULD BE USEFUL IN SUCH AN EXAMINATION SINCE THEY MIGHT CONTAIN THE SAME PECULIARITIES. THESIS BEING TRANSPORTED TO BUREAU PERSONALLY BY SA BAGWELL WHO WILL DELIVER IT TO MR. LADDS OFFICE TOMORROW.

STETTINIUS WAS IN LONDON AT THE TIME THE DUMBARTON CONFERENCE WAS CONCIEVED ON A SECRET MISSION FOR PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND UPON HIS RETURN CHARLES WILSON, PRESENT AMBASSADOR TO TURKEY, WAS IN CHARGE OF THE PLANNING AND ORGANIZATION OF THE CONFERENCE AND ALGER HAD BEEN SELECTED AS THE EXECUTIVE SECRETARY FOR THE PLANNING GROUP. HE HAD BEEN UNDER CHARLES HORNBECK IN THE FAR EASTERN DIVISION. HE DID NOT KNOW WHO HAD PROPOSED ALGER FOR THE POSITION, OR FOR THE SIMILAR CAPACITY AT YALTA. HIS SELECTION FOR THE SAN FRANCISCO CONFERENCE CAME AUTOMATICALLY. AT NO TIME HAD HE SELECTED HISS FOR A POSITION AND TO A DIRECT QUESTION STATED HE DID NOT KNOW WHO HAD BEEN INTERESTED AND HAD BEEN PUSHING HISS. HISS HAD DONE EXCELLENT WORK AT ALL THE CONFERENCES AND HAD INGRATIATED HIMSELF TO ALL. HE HAD, STETTINIUS SAID, HANDLED THE RUSSIANS WITH THE SAME FIRMNESS AS ANY AMERICAN PRESENT. HE HAD NEVER INDICATED ANY PRO- RUSSIAN SYMPATHIES OR DISCLOSED SUBERVERSIVE TENDENCIES. HE HAD COMPLETE FAITH IN ALGER AND THE RECENT DISCLOSURES HAVE COME AS A GREAT SHOCK TO HIM. A SHORT TIME AFTER MARBURRY- S VISIT, EASTMAN ROTHWELL, LIBRARIAN AT THE HOOVER LIBRARY AT PALO ALTO VISITED STETTINIUS AND IN THE COURSE OF THE DISCUSSION OF THE HISS CASE STATED THAT ALGER HAD A LIFELONG HOBBY OF DIGESTING FILES AND DOCUMENTS AND PLACING THEM IN IN A SAFE. For your information a thorough study has been made of the typewriting impressions appearing on specimen Q5 and individual characteristics are so lacking that it is believed an identification could not be effected even though in the future typewriter impressions were secured from the machine which was used to type Q5. It has been previously ascertained that the typewriting on Q5 compared most closely with the Laboratory's standards for Royal enlarged Elite type spaced twelve letters to the inch. The machine that typed Q5 was practically new.

RECOMMENDATION: It is recommended that the above information be forwarded to the Security Investigative Division.

JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, WAS, ETAL, PERJURY, ESP. R. RE NEW YORK TEL TO BUREAU AND WASHINGTON FIELD DATED JANUARY FOURTEEN LAST, RELATIVE TO INTERVIEWING MARTHA POPE AND OTHER MAIDS USED BY HISS. IN TESTIMONY BEFORE HCUA, PAGE NINE FIVE FOUR, ALGER HISS STATED THAT SUBSEQUENT TO HIS EMPLOYMENT OF POPE HE HIRED A MAID THROUGH AN AGENCY WHILE LIVING AT THE P STREET ADDRESS. HISS WAS UNABLE TO RECALL THE NAME OF THE AGENCY AND ALTHOUGH THE COMMITTEE WAS TO ASK MRS. HISS TO IDENTIFY THE AGENCY, THIS WAS NOT DONE. IN TESTIMONY BEFORE HCUA, PAGE ELEVEN NINETY, CHAMBERS STATED THAT TOWARD THE END OF THIRTY EIGHT HE WENT TO THE HOME OF ALGER HISS ON DENT PLACE IN AN ATTEMPT TO BREAK HISS FROM COMMUNIST PARTY. HE ARRIVED AT HISS HOME AT ABOUT SEVEN PM AND ONLY THE MAID WAS THERE. HE WAITED NEARBY UNTIL MRS. HISS DROVE UP AND THEY ENTERED THE HISS HOME TOGETHER. CHAMBERS HAD DINNER WITH MR. AND MRS. HISS AND THEREAFTER HE TRIED TO GET HISS TO BREAK AWAY FROM THE CP BUT FAILED. PRISCILLA AND ALGER HISS LATER TESTIFIED BEFORE GJ, SDNY AND SAAG T. J. DONEGAN CONFIDENTIALLY

ADVISED THAT THEY TESTIFIED THAT THEIR MAIDS, IN NINETEEN THIRTYEIGHT WERE CLAUDIA CATHLETT OR CLYDIE CATLEE AND A MAID NAMED DRUSILLA, WHO LIVED IN GEORGETOWN. MRS. HISS TESTIFIED THAT SHE BELIEVED THAT CATHLETT OR CATLEE IS ~~ESTIMATED~~ DEAD. CHAMBERS NOW RECALLED THAT THE MAID EMPLOYED BY HISS IN THE END OF NINETEEN THIRTYEIGHT WAS A NEGRO BUT HE HAD NO FURTHER INFORMATION REGARDING THIS MATTER. HE STATED HISS ALWAYS USED COLORED MAIDS AND IT WAS HIS IMPRESSION THAT HISS CONTACTED AN AGENCY TO SECURE SERVICES OF THESE MAIDS. WASHINGTON FIELD REQUESTED TO INTERVIEW MAIDS KNOWN TO HAVE WORKED FOR HISS TO DETERMINE THE MANNER IN WHICH THESE MAIDS WERE HIRED, INCLUDING THE IDENTITY OF THE AGENCY. THEREAFTER THE AGENCY SHOULD BE CONTACTED TO ASCERTAIN THE NAMES OF THE MAIDS USED BY HISS. IN THE EVENT THE NAME OF THE AGENCY CANNOT BE DETERMINED, IT IS SUGGESTED THAT THE NINETEEN THIRTYSEVEN DASH THIRTYEIGHT WASHINGTON DC CLASSIFIED TELEPHONE DIRECTORY BE EXAMINED AND ATTEMPTS MADE THROUGH THESE AGENCIES TO DETERMINE THE IDENTITY OF HISS-S MAIDS. IT IS PARTICULARLY IMPORTANT THAT THE MAIDS USED BY HISS DURING NINETEEN THIRTY SEVEN AND THIRTYEIGHT BE INTERVIEWED TO DETERMINE IF THEY CAN RECALL THAT CHAMBERS, WHO USED THE NAME OF CARL, HAD VISITED HISS DURING THIS PERIOD. ANY INFORMATION IN THE MAIDS POSSESSION RELATIVE TO THE WOODSTOCK TYPEWRITER INCLUDING SPECIMENT, SHOULD BE SECURED.

JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, PERJURY, ESP R. THE BUREAU IS STILL CONSIDERING PROCESSING THE SIXTY FIVE DOCUMENTS TURNED OVER BY CHAMBERS IN BALTIMORE FOR FINGERPRINTS IN AN ATTEMPT TO DETERMINE WHETHER THE PRINTS OF ALGER OR PRISCILLA HISS ARE ON THESE DOCUMENTS. T. J. DONEGAN ADVISED THAT THE BUREAU SHOULD BEAR IN MIND THAT THE COURT WILL UNDOUBTEDLY HONOR A MOTION ON THE PART OF MR. MC LEAN, THE ATT-Y FOR ALGER HISS, FOR AN EXAMINATION OF THIS MATERIAL BY OUTSIDE SOURCES AND THAT SUCH AN EXAMINAION BY THEM WILL COVER THE TYPING, THE WATER MARK OF THE PAPER, AS WELL AS THE AGE OF THE PAPER. FURTHER, THAT THESE OUTSIDE EXPERTS WOULD UNDOUBTEDLY TRY TO OBTAIN INFO THAT WOULD REFLECT THAT THE PAPER IS NEW AND COULD NOT HAVE BEEN PRODUCED IN NINETEEN THIRTYSEVEN OR THIRTYEIGHT. MR. DONEGAN FAVORS THE FINGERPRINT EXAMINATION IF IT WOULD NOT AFFECT AN EXAMINATION BY OTHER EXPERTS AND WOULD NOT GIVE THEM THE GROUND TO CLAIM THEY COULD NOT CONDUCT THE EXAMINATION BECAUSE THE DOCUMENTS HAD BEEN TAMPERED WITH. ON THE MORNING OF JAN. FOURTEEN, IN AN EFFORT TO DETERMINE THE PHYSICAL FACTS SURROUNDING THE DELIVERY AND HANDLING OF THE SIXTY FIVE DOCUMENTS WHEN THEY WERE PRODUCED AT THE PRE TRIAL DEPOSITION AT BALTIMORE, AND WAS ALSO QUESTIONED IN DETAIL IN AN EFFORT TO DETERMINE WHETHER HE GOT SPECIMEN Q FIVE FROM A PERSON OTHER THAN ALGER HISS. IN CONNECTION WITH THE ORIGINAL PHYSICAL HANDLING OF THE DOCUMENTS IN BALTIMORE, MR. CHAMBERS RELATED THE FOLLOWING.-- CHAMBERS TESTIFIED FOR A PERIOD OF TWO DAYS AT THE PRE TRIAL DEPOSITION. THEREAFTER THERE WAS A BREAK OF SEVERAL DAYS AND ON THE THIRD MEETING, MRS. CHAMBERS TESTIFIED FOR ONE FULL DAY AND ON THE MORNING OF THE FOURTH DAY. ON THE AFTERNOON OF THE DAY ON WHICH MRS. CHAMBERS TESTIFIED, CHAMBERS HIMSELF TESTIFIED AND BROUGHT WITH HIM THE SIXTYFIVE DOCUMENTS. SO FAR AS MR. CHAMBERS COULD RECALL, THE FOLLOWING PERSONS WERE IN THE MARBURY LAW FIRM LIBRARY IN BALTIMORE--RICHARD CLEVELAND AND WILLIAM MC MILLAN, ATT-YS FOR MR. CHAMBERS, MR. MARBURY, A MR. EVANS AND A MR. ROSENWALD, WHO REPRESENTED ALGER HISS. A STENOGRAPHER OR REPORTER WAS ALSO PRESENT AND MADE STENOGRAPHIC NOTES OF THE PROCEEDING. AS MR. CHAMBERS SAT DOWN AT HIS PLACE AT THE TABLE, MR. MC MILLAN STATED TO THOSE PRESENT THAT MR. CHAMBERS HAD SOMETHING TO SAY AND HAD SOME EXHIBITS TO OFFER. AT THIS TIME MR. CHAMBERS TOLD THE PERSONS GATHERED THAT HE HAD SOME DOCUMENTS THAT HE WANTED TO INTRODUCE INTO THE TRIAL. MARBURY REPLIED THAT IN THE EVENT ANY DOCUMENTARY MATERIAL WAS TO BE PRODUCED AT THIS

PRE TRIAL, IT WOULD BE NECESSARY FOR MR. HISS ATTORNEYS TO EXAMINE SAME AND HAVE THE MATERIAL MARKED FOR IDENTIFICATION IF IT WAS TO BE USED AS EVIDENCE AT A LATER DATE. MR. CHAMBERS THEN HANDED MR. MARBURY ONE OF THE HANDWRITTEN NOTES, WHICH IS PART OF THE SIXTYFIVE DOCUMENTS, AND WHILE MR. MARBURY WAS EXAMINING IT, HE LEFT THE ROOM AND WAS GONE FOR SOME PERIOD OF TIME. MR. CHAMBERS STATED THAT AT THE TIME HE HAD THE DEFINITE IMPRESSION THAT MARBURY WAS ATTEMPTING TO COMPARE THE HANDWRITING WITH PROBABLY THAT OF ALGER HISS WHILE MARBURY WAS OUT OF THE ROOM. AFTER MARBURY RETURNED, EITHER MR. CLEVELAND OR MR. MARBURY THEN WENT OVER TO WHERE THE COURT REPORTER WAS SITTING AND DICTATED THE FIRST AND LAST WORDS ON EACH DOCUMENT AS WELL AS THE SIGNATURE APPEARING THEREON. SUBSEQUENTLY THE COURT REPORTER HANDLED THE DOCUMENTS FOR THE PURPOSE OF PUTTING AN EXHIBIT NUMBER ON EACH DOCUMENT. AT THE CONCLUSION OF THE EXAMINATION ON THIS DATE, MR. CLEVELAND TOOK THE SIXTYFIVE DOCUMENTS TO HIS OFFICE IN BALTIMORE AND IT WAS MR. CHAMBERS RECOLLECTION THAT HE PLACED THEM IN THE OFFICE SAFE. THIS, TO THE BEST OF CHAMBERS RECOLLECTION, WAS THE LAST TIME HE EVER SAW OR HANDLED THE DOCUMENTS, BUT INDICATED THAT ON A SUBSEQUENT DAY HE MIGHT POSSIBLY HAVE BEEN IN CLEVELANDS OFFICE AND MAY HAVE EXAMINED ONE OF THE TWO DOCUMENTS, BUT THAT HIS RECOLLECTION IS VERY HAZY IN THIS REGARD. MR. CHAMBERS RELATED THAT IT WAS ALSO HIS RECOLLECTION THAT EITHER IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING THE PRESENTMENT OF THESE DOCUMENTS AT THE PRE TRIAL DEPOSITION, MR. CLEVELAND HAD PHOTOSTATIC COPIES OF THESE DOCUMENTS MADE, OR THAT THE PHOTOSTATIC COPIES WERE MADE JUST PRIOR TO THEIR BEING INTRODUCED AT THE PRE TRIAL DEPOSITION. CHAMBERS STATED CATEGORICALLY THAT NEITHER ALGER HISS OR PRISCILLA HISS WERE PRESENT AT THE TIME HE INTRODUCED THE SIXTYFIVE DOCUMENTS AT THE DEPOSITION AND AT NO TIME THEREAFTER DID HE EVER OBSERVE ALGER OR PRISCILLA HISS EXAMINING OR IN ANY WAY HANDLING THESE DOCUMENTS. IT WOULD APPEAR THEREFORE, THAT THE ONLY PERSONS THAT CHAMBERS KNOWS OF WHO HANDLED THESE DOCUMENTS BESIDES HIMSELF, WERE RICHARD CLEVELAND, WILLIAM MC MILLAN, MR. MARBURY, MR. EVANS, MR. ROSEN WALD, AND THE COURT REPORTER, WHOSE NAME CHAMBERS DOES NOT KNOW. IT WOULD APPEAR THAT IF THESE DOCUMENTS HAVE BEEN PHOTOSTATED, THAT THE PERSON OR PERSONS DOING THE PHOTOSTATING ALSO HANDLED THESE DOCUMENTS. IT IS SUGGESTED, THEREFORE, THAT THE BALTIMORE OFFICE IMMEDIATELY CONTACT MR. CLEVELAND AND OR MR. MC MILLAN, AND OBTAIN FROM THEM A CHRONOLOGY OF THE HANDLING OF THESE DOCUMENTS WHILE THEY WERE IN THEIR POSSESSION. BALTIMORE OFFICE SHOULD SET OUT ANY SUCH LEADS AS WOULD BE NECESSARY TO DETERMINE NOT ONLY WHAT PERSONS HANDLED THESE DOCUMENTS., BUT WHETHER AT ANY TIME ALGER OR PRISCILLA HISS EVER HAD AN OPPORTUNITY TO EXAMINE THEM SUBSEQUENT TO THEIR INTRODUCTION AT THE PRE TRIAL DEPOSITION IN BALTIMORE. CHAMBERS RELATED THE FOLLOWING STORY IN CONNECTION WITH DOCUMENT Q FIVE, WHICH, ACCORDING TO THE BUREAU, WAS TYPED ON A ROYAL TYPEWRITER. CHAMBERS STATED THAT SO

END OF PAGE FOUR

FAR AS HE COULD RECALL, HE OBTAINED ALL OF THE TYPEWRITTEN DOCUMENTS FROM ALGER HISS. WHEN ASKED WHETHER ANYONE ELSE COULD HAVE POSSIBLY HAVE GIVEN HIM THIS PARTICULAR DOCUMENT HE ADVISED THAT THE ONLY OTHER REMOTE POSSIBILITY WAS THAT HE MIGHT HAVE RECEIVED IT FROM HARRY DEXTER WHITE, BUT THAT HE WOULD DISCOUNT THIS POSSIBILITY AS HIS RECOLLECTION WAS THAT THE ONLY INFO HE RECEIVED FROM HARRY WHITE WAS EITHER VERBAL OR HANDWRITTEN NOTATIONS. HE STATED THAT IF Q FIVE WAS WRITTEN ON A TYPEWRITER OTHER THAN THE ONE IN HISS HOME, NAMELY, THE WOODSTOCK, TYPEWRITER, THAT THE ONLY OTHER POSSIBLITY THAT HE COULD OFFER WAS THAT MRS. HISS MAY HAVE HAD ACCESS TO THE TYPEWRITER OWNED BY HENRY HILL COLLINS, JR. HE POINTED OUT THAT COLLINS HAD A SON THAT WAS APPROXIMATELY THE SAME AGE AS MRS. HISS SONE /POSSIBLY TIMMY HOPSON/ AND THAT THE TWO BOYS KNEW EACH OTHER QUITE WELL AND THAT MRS. HISS OCCASSIONALLY BROUGHT HER SON TO THE COLLINS RESIDENCE. HE ALSO MENTIONED THE POSSIBILITY OF MRS. HISS HAVING USED THE TYPEWRITER OF HER BROTHER IN LAW, DONALD HISS, AND POSSIBLY THE TYPEWRITER OWNED BY MARION BACHRACH, BUT STATED THAT HE WOULD BE SOMEWHAT DOUBTFUL ABOUT MRS. HISS USING THE TYPEWRITER OF THE LATTER TWO MENTIONED PERSONS. CHAMBERS VOLUNTEERED THAT AT THE TIME THIS DOCUMENT WAS READY FOR TYPING, SOMETHING MIGHT HAVE HAPPENED TO THE WOODSTOCK TYPEWRITER ~~WHICH~~ WHICH WOULD PREVENT MRS. HISS FROM USING IT FOR A SHORT PERIOD OF TIME AND THAT SHE MIGHT HAVE RENTED A TYPEWRITER OR USED A TYPEWRITER BELONGING TO A TRUSTED FRIEND.

By letter dated December 23, 1948, [redacted] requested a photograph of Whittaker Chambers and indicated that he might possibly give some information concerning instant case.

[redacted] was formerly a confidential informant for the New York Division. He was discontinued on December 14, 1942 when he entered the Armed Services. Prior to his discontinuance, [redacted] was rated as a reliable informant. For your further information concerning [redacted] Bureau files reflect that he was born on August 11, 1902 in the United States and while in New York City resided at the [redacted]

[redacted] indicated in his letter that he desired a photograph of Whittaker Chambers so that he could get a good look at his face. He stated that he was quite certain that Chambers is the man that he, [redacted], talked with some years ago with several Russians in New York at the Prince George's Hotel on East 28th Street. He stated that if this was the individual he had in mind, he felt he could give some good information.

[redacted] also stated that he had asked Congressman Karl Mundt to question "Chambers" and "Hiss" regarding the leak of messages to Moscow that "Tyler Kent" decoded while working at the American Embassy in London under U. S. Ambassador Joseph Kennedy.

The statement is also contained in [redacted] letter that he could obtain microfilm copies of these messages during the war years but "could not no one to back me up, I guess because of the 'Roosevelt-Hopkins Coup.'"

There is enclosed herewith photographs of Chambers taken in 1931, 1935 and 1948. There is also being included a photograph of Alger Hiss which was taken in 1945. You are instructed to exhibit instant photographs of Chambers and Hiss to [redacted] and at that time carefully interview him concerning both Whittaker Chambers and Alger Hiss, as well as contacts of these individuals. [redacted] should also be requested to amplify concerning his statements to Congressman Karl Mundt as well as his statements regarding the possibility of obtaining microfilm copies of messages previously referred to.

MEMORANDUM FOR MR. FLETCHER

The attached letter was received by the writer in a Christmas card from Joe McConnon, who makes his residence at the Liberty Hotel, Miami, Florida. McConnon is presently employed as a private investigator and has been working for himself representing some of the insurance companies in Miami, Florida. He has been employed as an investigator for the past 15 years or so and was considered a good contact of the New York Office. He was a particular contact of SA J. J. Keating on criminal matters.

McConnon had made some negotiations with Amtorg officials in the late 1930's and developed information of interest in connection with Communist matters and was placed on the Bureau payroll as a confidential informant for some months. He later when war was declared became an investigator for the U. S. Coast Guard. He occasionally has information of interest and on two occasions in the past two years had dropped into the Bureau and indicated that he had information of interest concerning Communist matters. On both occasions he was referred to the office of J. C. Strickland who was then in charge of the Security Section.

I do not know how much credence can be placed in the last two paragraphs of his letter to the effect that he talked to Congressman Karl Mundt and his statement that he could have obtained microfilm copies of the messages during the war years but could get no one to back him up.

I have not acknowledged his letter and suggest you might consider having some Agent in Miami interview him.

Respectfully,

E. J. McCabe

Dear Ed,

Could you send me a photograph of "Whittaker Chambers", so that I can get a good look at his face. I will return photograph immediately.

All photographs I have seen in the press todate, are not clear to me.

I'm quite certain he is a man I talked with some years ago with several of the Russians, in New York, at the "Prince George Hotel," on East 28th St N.Y. City. In here the Russians made their important meetings in the dinnerroom as well as in the rooms upstairs.

If my guess is right I can give you some good help on this subject.

Prefer a photograph of him without a hat on.

I asked Congressman Karl Mundt to question "Chambers" + "Hiss", regarding the leak of messages to Moscow, that "Tyler Kent" (THEODORE KENT), decoded while working at the American Embassy in London under Joseph P. Kennedy U.S. Ambassador.

I could have obtained Micro-film copies of these messages during the war years, but could get no one to back me up. I guess because of the "Roosevelt-Hopkins Corp."

The "Justice Department" should dig into this matter regardless to politics.

Hoping to receive an early reply.

Joe McCannon

JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, WAS, ALGER HISS, ET AL, PERJURY, ESP-R. TED AND MILDRED HORNING, ARGYLE, NY INTERVIEWED. HORNINGS APPARENTLY CLOSEST FRIENDS OF FELIX AND ELIZABETH INSLERMAN. MILDRED HORNING HAS BEEN ELIZABETH-S CLOSE FRIEND SINCE BOTH WERE SOPHOMORES IN HIGH SCHOOL. HORNINGS CANNOT BELIEVE INSLERMANS INVOLVED IN INSTANT CASE BUT DISCLOSED THESE FACTS. MILDRED HAD ELIZABETH JOIN ESTHONIAN WORKERS CLUB AND-OR LATVIAN YOUTH CLUB IN EARLY NINETEEN THIRTIES. THESE ORGANIZATIONS AT THAT TIME HAD CLUB ROOMS ON ONE HUNDRED FIFTEENTH STREET, MANHATTAN AND LATER MOVED TO ONE HUNDRED TWENTYFIFTH ST AT ABOUT LEXINGTON AVE, EXACT ADDRESS UNKNOWN. MILDRED STATES MOST NEW YORKERS OF ESTHONIAN OR LATVIAN BIRTH OR PARENTAGE AFFILIATED WITH CLUBS. PEOPLE IN CLUBS POSSESSED ALL SHADES OF POLITICAL OPINIONS FROM RADICAL PRO-RUSSIAN COMMUNISTS THROUGH REACTIONARIES. MILDRED BELIEVES ELIZABETH INTRODUCED TO FELIX BY KARL AMATNEEK, CLASSMATE OF FELIX AT COOPER UNION. INTRODUCTION PROBABLY OCCURRED THROUGH CLUB. AMATNEEK OF LATVIAN PARENTAGE, NOW MARRIED AND PRESENTLY RESIDING SOMEWHERE IN ENWICH VILLAGE, NYC. MILDRED STATES FELIX-S FATHER WAS ONE OF MAINSTAYS OF CLUB, ALWAYS SPENT ALL HIS SPARE TIME THERE AND DESCRIBED AS A REAL "RED RUSSIAN". HORNING

NEVER GATHERED IMPRESSION FELIX WAS LIKE FATHER. OTHER LIFELONG FRIENDS OF INSLERMANS SINCE THOSE DAYS OF CLUB ARE A MR. LOUIS E. LOO OF ESTHONIAN PARENTAGE, NOW MARRIED AND RESIDING SOMEWHERE ON STATEN ISLAND, AND MR. AND MRS. RICHARD LOTUS, FIVE SIX COLUMBIA AVE, HASTINGS ON HUDSON NY. HORNINGS HAVE VISITED INSLERMANS AT ALL INSLERMAN RESIDENCES IN BALTIMORE. CONFIRMED BATHROOM UTILIZED AS DARK ROOM IN APARTMENT ON CALLOW AVE. STATED INSLERMANS IN POOR FINANCIAL CONDITION AT THAT TIME BUT WERE NOT SURPRISED WHEN THEY PURCHASED EXPENSIVE LEICA CAMERA AS ELIZABETH VERY FRUGAL AND WOULD SAVE FOR MONTHS TO PURCHASE SUBSTANTIAL ITEMS. HORNINGS STATE IF FELIX INVOLVED IN CASE AS NEWSPAPERS INDICATE, THAT ELIZABETH WOULD HAVE KNOWLEDGE OF SAME SINCE ELIZABETH IS DOMINEERING MEMBER OF FAMILY AND FELIX CANT DO ANYTHING UNLESS ELIZABETH APPROVES OR INSTRUCTS FELIX. HORNINGS STATE A FAMILY BY THE NAME OF PEPPER WHO RESIDED NEXT DOOR TO INSLERMANS ON ROSELAND AVENUE IN BALTIMORE WERE CLOSE FRIENDS. HORNINGS STATE IDEA OF BUYING FARM WAS ELIZABETH-S SINCE SHE FELT FOR ECONOMIC SECURITY FARM WAS BEST METHOD OF LIVING. THUS INSLERMANS LOOKED FOR FARM IN THAT AREA. FARM AT CAMBRIDGE PURCHASED

FOR TWENTYSEVEN HUNDRED DOLLARS TOTAL. CLAIM ELIZABETH-S MOTHER LENT THE MONEY FOR FARM SINCE INSLERMANS HAD LENT HORNINGS THEIR SAVINGS IN NINETEEN FORTYONE SO HORNINGS COULD PURCHASE THEIR FARM. HORNINGS PAID THIS DEBT WHEN THEY SOLD THEIR HOME IN WHITE PLAINS, NY. ELIZABETH STAYED AT FARM ALONE WINTERS OF NINETEEN FORTYFOUR, FORTYFIVE AND FELIX WOULD COME UP FROM LONG ISLAND ON WEEKENDS. AFTER SELECTIVE SERVICE RULES LIFTED ELIZABETH MADE FELIX SECURE JOB IN CAMBRIDGE, NY AREA. HORNINGS CLAIM INSLERMANS HAVE NEVER SEEMED POLITICAALLY CONSCIOUS TILL LAST NATIONAL ELECTION WHEN THEY WERE STRONG HENRY WALLACE SUPPORTERS

Ted Horning

TED HORNING-S ORIGINAL NAME BLOOMFIELD. HIS FATHER FLED RUSSIA DURING REVOLUTION AND SETTLED IN LATVIA. TED ENTERED U. S. ILLEGALLY IN NINETEEN TWENTYTHREE. IN NINETEEN TWENTYSIX WHEN GOING TO VISIT BROTHER IN CANADA WAS JAILED BY IMMIGRATION AUTHORITIES AT MALONE, NY. CLAIMS DEPORTED TO CANADA ABOUT SIX MONTHS LATER. LIVED IN CANADA ABOUT ONE YEAR AND REENTERED U. S. BECAME CITIZEN THROUGH HIS MARRIAGE. CLAIMS HE IS WHITE RUSSIAN AND VIOLENTLY OPPOSED TO SOVIET GOVT. HAVE OPERATED CHICKEN FARM AT ARGYLE, NY SINCE WAR STOPPED HIS TIRE REGROOVING BUSINESS IN NYC. TED AND FELIX HAVE ARGUED SOME ABOUT RUSSIA. FELIX GENERALLY DEFENDS TED-S CRITICISM OF RUSSIA BY QUOTING

SOME ARTICLE WHICH APPEARED IN NEW YORK TIMES. TED STATES HE NEVER HAD IMPRESSION FELIX PRO-SOVIET BUT RATHER FELIX INTERESTED ONLY IN TRUTH ABOUT RUSSIA AS REPORTED BY RELIABLE NEWS SOURCES. SUGGEST NYC AND BALTIMORE ATTEMPT TO LOCATE AND INTERVIEW CLOSE FRIENDS OF INSLERMANS AS STATED. ALSO NY UTILIZE ANY ESTHONIAN-LATVIAN INFORMANTS TO VERIFY STORY.

Gentlemen:

I am in receipt of your form letter of November 20 enclosing insurance form 353a to be filled in for reinstatement of my policy.

Enclosed herewith are the completed form and a check for $12.40 to cover two monthly premiums as required. I believe that the records will show that one payment of $6.40 was made in Sept. of this year for this policy through the New York Veterans Office (where my papers were located at the time.)

Please advise if any further information is needed.

Yours very truly,

Timothy Hobson

SUBJECT: Insurance Policy #N 15 803 507, Status and Reinstatement of.

Following my discharge from the U.S. Navy my government insurance policy was held in New York. A card dated September 16, 1946 from the New York office but signed by you informed me that this policy together with all records had been transferred to Richmond. (This was done because I am using my Washington D.C. home address as my permanent address.)

This policy has lapsed, only one monthly payment having been made since October 1945. I would appreciate your advising me the status of my policy and the exact proceedure I must follow to reinstate it.

As I am working in New York and living at the above address, I will have to handle a reinstatement through the New York office. Can this be done with all my records in Richmond? I should think it would be easier for all if they were transferred back to New York as I intend to live here for some time. Please advise.

LOLA HORTON and husband, ROBERT WYMAN HORTON, formerly of 3135 O Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., prior to June, 1946, have been described by Mrs. MARGOT FANSLER MOORE, niece of Mrs. ALGER HISS, as close friends of ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS. LOLA HORTON is known by confidential informants to have discussed maids with Mrs. HISS. Forwarding address for the HORTONs on file at the Washington, D. C., Post Office shows their last known address as Route 1, Brandon, Vermont, as of June 14, 1946.

Albany will interview the HORTONs to ascertain names and locations of any other acquaintances or maids of the HISS family.

Albany will also determine whether the HORTONs recall seeing any typewriters in the HISS home and specifically a Woodstock standard model of old make, probably ten years old or older.

Albany will obtain copies of any typewritten correspondence from the HISSES in the possession of the HORTONs for submission to the FBI Laboratory for comparison purposes with known specimens taken from HISS's typewriter.

Albany also will determine whether the HORTONs have any information indicating that HISS was associated at any time with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS regardless of the name CHAMBERS may have been using. It should also be determined whether the HORTONs can furnish information corroborating CHAMBERS' allegations concerning HISS and other persons in this case.

For the assistance of the Albany Office in conducting this investigation, there is enclosed a photograph of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS taken in 1936.

Synopsis:

DOROTHY DETZER states she has known NOEL FIELD and ALGER HISS since 1933. NOEL FIELD, ALGER HISS and LAWRENCE DUGGAN, according to DETZER, were members of liberal group in early New Deal Days and "considered most promising young men in State Department". Political philosophy of HISS not known to DETZER, but appeared to acquiesce in political thinking of FIELD, FIELD described as a "liberal" prior to taking employment with League of Nations and thereafter a Communist and extremely outspoken pro-Stalinist. HEDE MASSING in 1946 told DETZER of her, MASSING's, Comintern espionage activities at which time MASSING stated she developed and "delivered" NOEL FIELD into the Comintern apparatus and at the same time mentioned ALGER HISS as being connected with this.

DETAILS: This is a joint report of SA JOSEPH HYBLE and the writer.

At Leland, Michigan:

DOROTHY DETZER, presently employed as a Professional Lecturer by the Red Path Bureau and authoress of the book, "Appointment on the Hill", stated that she had spent over twenty years in Washington, D.C., where she had been interested in various pacifist organizations and was for a number of years the Executive Secretary of the Womens International League for Peace and Freedom. DOROTHY DETZER was employed by the Quakers in Austria during 1920 and 1922 and also did relief work for the Quakers from 1922 to 1923 in Russia. She has a vast acquaintanceship among public officials and is known world-wide for her pacifist activities. She comes from an excellent family, one of her brothers being CARL DETZER, an editor of the Readers Digest and owner of the Leland Enterprise, newspaper, and another brother being the captain of the Port of New York.

Miss DETZER stated that between 1933 and 1939 there came to Washington, D.C., a group of younger than average people to take employment in the State Department and other Governmental agencies. She became quite well acquainted with this group through her work and social activities and regarded the group as above the average in intelligence. Among this group were NOEL FIELD, ALGER HISS, LAWRENCE DUGGAN, JEROME FRANK and GARDNER JACKSON. On the fringe of the group was JOHN ABT.

ABT was described as the husband of JESSICA SMITH, editor of Soviet Russia Today and the former wife of HAROLD WARE, the son of Mother BLOOR. The ABTs were formerly close friends of DETZER, but broke their relations when DETZER disagreed with their political philosophy.

DETZER described FIELD, HISS and DUGGAN as "the most promising young men in the State Department" during this early period.

Miss DETZER first met ALGER HISS in the residence of NOEL FIELD and was very much impressed by him, referring to him as "young, charming, good looking, quiet and dignified". NOEL FIELD and ALGER HISS were close friends.

The group was keenly aware of the danger to world peace because of the coming to power of the Fascist regime in Germany and they had frequent political discussions. Because HISS was so quiet, she never knew exactly where he stood politically, but stated that she believed he followed the political philosophy of NOEL FIELD. At this time she regarded FIELD as a liberal on negro and Jewish questions and tremendously interested in international organizations such as the League of Nations.

Through years of close association with NOEL FIELD, Miss DETZER stated that in her opinion she feels that NOEL FIELD is now a Communist. When she first knew him he was far to the left in his political opinions, but she does not feel that he was then a Communist. It was after NOEL FIELD took employment with the League of Nations in Geneva that he became quite outspoken in his admiration of the Communists and an extremely outspoken pro-Stalinist, which led her to believe that he is a Communist Party member.

Miss DETZER recalled that FIELD had, in his work with the League of Nations, been instrumental in saving many Communist refugees fleeing from Spain after FRANCO had come into power, and that he was very emotional when he recalled the bravery of these Communists. DOROTHY DETZER recalled that she had a heated argument with NOEL FIELD in Washington in 1946 at which time FIELD defended the Soviet Union.

DOROTHY DETZER was unable to recall specifically any official functions or political discussions in Washington at which HEDE MASSING and ALGER HISS were present, although there was one party in 1939 or 1940 at the home of ROBERT HORTON, a Scripps- Howard newspaper representative, at which MASSING and HISS may have been present. Miss DETZER also recalled that in the winter of 1936 and 1937 a party in honor of the arrival of HEDE MASSING in Washington, D.C. was given at the residence of KENDALL FOSS by his wife LIZA. Many prominent newspaper people attended this party and Miss DETZER feels that ALGER HISS also attended.

Miss DETZER stated that throughout the years she has kept up her acquaintanceship with ALGER HISS, but that she could recall visiting at his home only on one occasion at which time PRISCILLA HISS had given some party for charity at their Georgetown residence.

DETZER stated that at the time of the first United Nations Conference in San Francisco, she attended as an observer. During the period of this conference she had occasion to confer with Secretary of State STETTINIUS regarding child welfare work in foreign countries and some other matters. STETTINIUS at that time asked that she discuss these matters with ALGER HISS and called HISS into his office. Miss DETZER stated that HISS was rather cool in his reception, greeting her formally, and that up to that time they had had a "DOROTHY and ALGER" acquaintanceship. She indicated that upon STETTINIUS' leaving the room HISS criticized her for going directly to the Secretary of State with matters that should have been presented to him originally. There was some slight disagreement at this time and their relationship became somewhat strained.

In recalling HEDE MASSING, Miss DETZER stated that in 1936 she was traveling through Europe and on arrival in Geneva, Switzerland, she telephonically contacted the residence of NOEL FIELD and was invited by Mrs. FIELD to have dinner with them that evening. NOEL FIELD picked up DOROTHY DETZER and drove her to the FIELD residence in the suburbs of Geneva. On arrival at the FIELD residence, she found that the FIELDs had house guests, namely HEDE GUMPERTZ and PAUL MASSING. During the evening DOROTHY DETZER discussed at length the Nye Munitions investigation and other matters in the United States in which GUMPERTZ, MASSING and the FIELDs showed a great interest.

At the end of the evening NOEL FIELD drove DOROTHY DETZER to her hotel in Geneva and PAUL MASSING accompanied them on the trip. During the drive MASSING asked that Miss DETZER furnish him with her address in Paris as he, MASSING, was leaving for Paris on the following day and would like to have dinner with her. On her arrival in Paris, Miss DETZER recalled that she was contacted by PAUL MASSING and that they did have dinner.

She recalled that PAUL MASSING had just recently escaped from Germany by underground methods with the aid of HEDE GUMPERTZ and that he was extremely anti-Fascist. He, PAUL MASSING, had been in the custody of the Nazis because of his pro-Communist and anti-Nazi activities, and had suffered severe punishment in their hands. She recalled that during this dinner a waiter dropped a cup in back of PAUL MASSING, which caused him to scream and dive under the table, a source of embarrassment for both of them. This nervous condition was, according to DOROTHY DETZER, caused by the ill treatment and torture he received while interned.

On another occasion at another restaurant a person scraped a chair on arising, which caused MASSING to go through the same performance.

Shortly after her arrival in Paris HEDE GUMPERTZ contacted DOROTHY DETZER, stating that she was very much in love with PAUL MASSING, and that she desired to marry him, but that PAUL MASSING was so concerned with the Fascist Government in Germany that it was his desire to return and carry on more vigorously his anti-Fascist activities, but that in view of his nervous condition it would be suicide for him to return as he would be immediately apprehended. HEDE GUMPERTZ stated that it was her desire to take MASSING to the United States and asked that DOROTHY DETZER use her influence in securing a visa for PAUL MASSING.

pgs 4-6

(DE 74-77)

On returning to the United States DOROTHY DETZER contacted one JACK SIMMONS, head of the Visa Department, and asked for a visa for PAUL MASSING. She was subjected to some questioning by SIMMONS who wanted proof that PAUL MASSING was not a Communist. On being unable to furnish such proof SIMMONS recommended that PAUL MASSING marry an American citizen.

DOROTHY DETZER then cabled PAUL MASSING that if he would marry HEDE GUMPERTZ a visa would be issued. Such marriage took place and a visa was issued, as a result of which HEDE MASSING and DOROTHY DETZER became very close friends and confidants.

DOROTHY DETZER stated that in 1946 she made application for employment with the United Nations in the Human Rights Division. DETZER stated that at this time all applications for employment with the United Nations had first to be cleared through the State Department. In making her application DOROTHY DETZER was of the opinion that she should show some liberal people as references and she, therefore, gave as her references the following people who are personally known to her:

WALTER WHITE, Executive Secretary, NAACP
Mrs. BETHUNE, President, National Congress of Negro Women
ROGER BALDWIN, Civil Liberties Union
MORRIS ERNST, Lawyer for the Civil Liberties Union

She presented her application to a friend of hers in the State Department, one Mr. ORICK, who passed upon the application favorably and sent it through the regular channels. However, her application was never acted upon and in making further inquiry through Mr. ORICK and others DOROTHY DETZER was advised that her application was stopped when it reached the desk of ALGER HISS. This caused Miss DETZER some concern inasmuch as she had regarded ALGER HISS as an old friend and she could not understand why he should take such action.

On leaving the office of Mr. ORICK she met one G. HOWLAND SHAW, formerly of the State Department in the Personnel Division and now the President of some national organization in Washington dealing with juvenile delinquency. She told SHAW of the difficulty she had had and of the action taken by HISS and SHAW at that time made the remark, "There are some who say ALGER is a Communist." This information came to DOROTHY DETZER as a surprise.

The following week in 1946 she went to New York where she visited with HEDE MASSING at which time she also related her difficulty and that

HISS had acted unfavorably upon her application. HEDE MASSING stated that this was understandable and that her application had been acted unfavorably upon by ALGER HISS in view of the fact that DETZER had been so out-spoken in her anti-Communist and anti-Stalinist philosophy.

MASSING then in confidence related to DOROTHY DETZER her previous Comintern espionage activities. In this conversation she related that her job had been to contact officials in the State Department and other Governmental agencies and endeavor to develop them as informants for her Comintern apparatus. She stated that she had been successful in developing and "delivering" NOEL FIELD and at the same time mentioned ALGER HISS as being connected with this apparatus. DOROTHY DETZER cannot now exactly recall what part ALGER HISS played in this apparatus although she is certain his name was mentioned along with NOEL FIELD.

At the time of giving DOROTHY DETZER this information HEDE MASSING stated that she would not be endangered in having this information as she, HEDE MASSING, had already given it to the FBI.

DETZER stated that she has the utmost confidence in HEDE MASSING and believes her to be absolutely honest and that any information given by HEDE MASSING can be thoroughly relied upon. MASSING is not in any way a sensation seeking individual and shuns publicity. The MASSINGS, according to DETZER, have great fear for their lives since breaking with the pro-Stalinist operators in the Comintern.

On numerous occasions from 1936 to date MASSING has discussed common acquaintances in Washington and elsewhere and the name of ALGER HISS has come up on many of these occasions, which leads DOROTHY DETZER to believe that they had been previously acquainted. DOROTHY DETZER recalls specifically one of these conversations which took place during a walk on the farm of the MASSINGs in Bucks County, Pennsylvania, which was the first farm owned by the MASSINGs and bought eight or nine years ago in common with the mother of NOEL FIELD. One LOUIS FISCHER, a newspaper correspondent formerly attached to the magazine The Nation, accompanied them on this walk. DETZER recalls that at that time HEDE MASSING inquired regarding the activities of ALGER HISS and his present whereabouts.

Miss DETZER recalled that some time in the fall of 1948, following the publicity on the HISS-CHAMBERS affair, she was telephonically contacted by CLARK EICHELBERGER, Director of the United Nations Association, which is closely affiliated with the Carnegie Foundation. EICHELBERGER commented on the hideous charges being made against ALGER HISS and asked her if she could recall a GEORGE CROSLEY. DETZER replied in the negative, stating that in her opinion there was never any GEORGE CROSLEY, and indicated to EICHELBERGER that she believed the charges being made against HISS were true. Her opinion astonished EICHELBERGER, who asked that she stop in to see him to discuss the matter the next time she was in New York and not to reveal to anyone that he had contacted her concerning this case.

The above was told to the agents in confidence as Miss DETZER still considers EICHELBERGER a close friend, and the name of DETZER should not be used in the event of a future contact with EICHELBERGER.

Will attempt to identify and locate Miss ELIZABETH LAWSON, in accordance with instructions set out in the report of JOHN P. BUSCHER, dated December 24, 1948 at Washington, D.C.

The BOSTON DIVISION

Will, on receipt ofinstructions from the Bureau, endeavor to locate and interview GARDNER JACKSON, a newspaper man now residing in Cape Cod. JACKSON is reported to have broken with the Washington group and may be able to furnish information regarding the political philosophy of ALGER HISS inasmuch as JACKSON was personally and well acquainted with the "liberal" circle.

The WASHINGTON DIVISION

At Washington, D.C.

Will, on instructions from the Bureau, contact ROBERT HORTON, Scripps-Howard newspaper representative at whose home a party was given in 1939 or 1940, attended by HEDE MASSING and probably ALGER HISS.

Will contact KENDALL FOSS at whose home a party was given by LIZA FOSS in honor of HEDE MASSING in 1936 or 1937. ALGER HISS may have attended this party.

The purpose in setting out these leads is to establish the previous acquaintance of ALGER HISS and HEDE MASSING.

Will on instructions from the Bureau, contact G. HOWLAND SHAW, former State Department official, and endeavor to secure from him his knowledge of ALGER HISS' political philosophy, it being noted that he had told DOROTHY DETZER that "there are some that say ALGER is a Communist."

Kisseloff-6552

(DE 74-77)

The NEW YORK DIVISION

Will, on receipt of instructions from the Bureau, contact JEROME FRANK, now a judge in New York, formerly a member of the group described by DOROTHY DETZER. FRANK may have known of HISS's political philosophy.

Synopsis:

DOROTHY DETZER states she has known NOEL FIELD and ALGER HISS since 1933. NOEL FIELD, ALGER HISS and LAWRENCE DUGGAN, according to DETZER, were members of liberal group in early New Deal Days and "considered most promising young men in State Department". Political philosophy of HISS not known to DETZER, but appeared to acquiesce in political thinking of FIELD. FIELD described as a "liberal" prior to taking employment with League of Nations and thereafter a Communist and extremely outspoken pro-Stalinist. HEDE MASSING in 1946 told DETZER of her, MASSING's, Commintern espionage activities at which time MASSING stated she developed and "delivered" NOEL FIELD into the Commintern apparatus and at the same time mentioned ALGER HISS as being connected with this.

The file on Miss FANSLER at the Yale Alumni Office is captioned Mrs. Alger Hiss and contains nothing which could have been typewritten by either ALGER or Mrs. HISS.

Professor BRAND BLANSHARD, 274 St. Ronan Street, New Haven, a professor of philosophy at Yale University, was interviewed at his home on December 31, 1948. He stated that he had rented his cottage at Peacham, Vermont to Mr. and Mrs. ALGER HISS for the summer of 1948. He exhibited correspondence which he had concerning the renting of this property with Mr. and Mrs. ALGER HISS, all of which was handwritten. He further stated that neither he nor his wife had received any typewritten letters from Mr. or Mrs. HISS.

Professor BLANSHARD stated he wished to advise that he became acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. HISS during the summer of 1947 at which time the HISSES were renting a cottage at Peacham, Vermont from Professor Bogart of the University of Illinois. He further advised he had no reason to be suspicious of Mr. or Mrs. HISS as they appeared to be above board and honest in all their dealings with him. He pointed out that at first he asked for $100 for the season for his cottage but that the HISSES thought this amount too small and paid him a larger sum.

Mr. D. A. TEACHOUT, Manager of the Equipment and Supply Department, checked his records and advised that the Woodstock typewriter sent to his store number 235 in Washington, D. C., in November of 1941 had serial number RN-22269E and was believed to have been purchased from the Woodstock Branch Store in Detroit, Michigan, in about November of 1941. Mr. TEACHOUT explained that this was a rebuilt typewriter inasmuch as the Kresge Company because of War restrictions were not permitted to purchase any new typewriters.

In September of 1947, this typewriter was returned from Store 235 to the S. S. Kresge Company at Detroit, Michigan, and was on September 23, 1947, sold to Mr. R. E. DUNN of 13552 Santa Rosa, Detroit, Michigan. Mr. DUNN is a representative of the L. C. Smith Company with offices at 1402 Barlum Tower, Detroit.

Mr. H. R. GASCON, Service Manager of the Woodstock Company, 615 Francis Palms Building, checked his records which indicated that a Woodstock typewriter with serial number RN-22269E was sold to the Kresge Company and shipped to Washington, D. C. in November of 1941. Mr. GASCON stated that the RN proceeding the serial number indicates that it is a rebuilt typewriter, and that the E at the end of the serial number indicates that the machine has Elite type.

The referenced teletype stated that if the machine was equipped with Elite type specimens were not to be taken. It further appears that this machine originated in Detroit and could not be the typewriter formerly in the possession of ALGER HISS; therefore, no further effort is being made to locate the typewriter.

By referenced letter dated December 27, 1948, to the Director with a copy to New York, the Detroit Division advised that on December 24, 1948, Mr. RALPH L. FANSLER, brother of PRISCILLA HISS, advised that he had telephonically contacted his brother, TOM FANSLER, at Chicago and that both he, RALPH L. FANSLER, and his brother, TOM FANSLER, were of the opinion that typewriting specimens could be secured from the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

RALPH L. FANSLER stated that his brother had been a general agent of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company from 1910 to 1920 at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and that he had one typewriter in his Office which in 1933 or 1934 was given to PRISCILLA HISS. RALPH L. ADMINISTRATIVE PAGE

The New York Division's attention is called to the fact that leads are not set out in this report for Milwaukee to endeavor to secure typewriting specimens from the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company at Milwaukee, nor are leads set out for Chicago to endeavor to check on typewriting specimens from Rosehill Cemetery inasmuch as it is believed that the New York Division has requested the Milwaukee and Chicago Divisions to cover this after receiving the information in Detroit letter of December 27, 1948.

The Washington Field Division's attention is called to the fact that there is a discrepancy in the serial number of the Woodstock typewriter; the number as stated in the teletype of January 10, 1949 being N-222696 while the number in the records of the Kresge Company and the Woodstock Company at Detroit is RN-222696. It is believed, however, that these numbers represent the same machine, and that the RN number is the correct number.

STAT.

Kisseloff-6570

CARL S. RAYMOND, Town Clerk, Town Hall, New Canaan, Connecticut, made available records which revealed that ELIZABETH L. HISS and JOHN A. SUTRO applied for a marriage license on October 3, 1931, said license being issued on October 12, 1931. The bride at that time gave her age as 20 and her birthplace as New Canaan, Connecticut. ELIZABETH L. HISS, the bride, indicated that it was her first marriage and her parents were listed as PHILIP HANSON HISS, JR. and CAROLINE DOW. The bride did not list any occupation. JOHN A. SUTRO, the groom, gave his age as 26, his occupation as attorney-at-law in San Francisco, California, and indicated that he was born in San Francisco. Mr. SUTRO reported that this also was his first marriage and furnished the identity of his parents as ALFRED SUTRO and ROSE NEWMARK.

The marriage records further revealed that the parties were married on October 16, 1931 at New Canaan by Rev. Dr. CLIFTON M. BREWER, 553 Whitney Avenue, New Haven, Connecticut, a lecturer at Yale University.

A thorough search was made in an effort to locate the birth record of the bride, ELIZABETH L. HISS, at New Canaan, it being noted that she listed New Canaan as her place of birth on her marriage license, with negative results. CARL S. RAYMOND, Town Clerk, explained that if the bride was born anywhere within the state of Connecticut, a copy should have been filed in New Canaan. It was reported, however, that it is quite possible that ELIZABETH L. HISS was actually born in a New York hospital, it being noted that she is of wealthy parents in which case the New York authorities would not forward a copy of her birth record to New Canaan even though her family actually resided in that particular town. Mr. RAYMOND mentioned that he knew the HISS family as residents of New Canaan for a number of years, stating that there were only two children born to PHILIP HANSON HISS, JR. and CAROLINE DOW HISS, namely, a son, PHILIP H. JR., III, and a daughter, ELIZABETH L. HISS. Mr. RAYMOND further remarked that PHILIP, JR., III, is presently instituting divorce proceedings against his wife, MARJORIE B. HISS, at Bridgeport, Connecticut. It was reported that Mrs. MARJORIE B. HISS is currently living with a Mrs. MARVIN on Oneoke Ridge in New Canaan.

The 1948 city directory for New Canaan reflects CAROLINE D. HISS, widow of PHILIP H. HISS, JR. as currently residing off Brushy Ridge Road in New Canaan. PHILIP H. HISS, JR., III, and wife, MARJORIE B. also have their residence recorded as off Brushy Ridge Road. The occupation of PHILIP, JR., III, was recorded as a writer and photographer.

Chief OTTO SCHMIDT and Sergeant FRANK ANNUNZIATO, both of the New Canaan, Connecticut Police Department, advised that the HISS family are well known residents in the community and are considered well established financially. Sergeant ANNUNZIATO stated that PHILIP HANSON HISS, JR., the father of ELIZABETH L. and PHILIP H., JR., III, was a former doctor and is now deceased. It is further reported that there were only two children born to Mrs. CAROLINE DOW and her former husband. Sergeant ANNUNZIATO further remarked that he had heard a report at one time, the source of which he could not recall, to the effect that the HISS family in New Canaan are distantly related to ALGER HISS, the nature of relationship not recalled. Sergeant ANNUNZIATO further remarked that he was recently conversing with Mrs. CAROLINE DOW HISS at which time she indicated that she was leaving for San Francisco to visit her daughter, now known as Mrs. JOHN A. SUTRO.

Chief OTTO SCHMIDT and Sergeant FRANK ANNUNZIATO both remarked that MARJORIE B. HISS, the wife of PHILIP HANSON HISS, JR.,III, is considered morally loose in New Canaan. Sergeant ANNUNZIATO explained such remark by stating that MARJORIE B. HISS can frequently be observed visiting a local tavern in New Canaan drinking oftentimes to excess and picking up with selected escorts.

Under date of November 14, 1948 a press release appeared in the Bridgeport, Connecticut Sunday Herald reflecting that Mrs. MARJORIE BOOTH HISS of New Canaan had requested $15,000 yearly in Superior Court at Bridgeport for the support of her 14 year old daughter, VALERIE, and her 7 year old son, MICHAEL. A settlement was established at $7200 a year by Judge J. HOWARD ROBERTS, who took into consideration the fact that there was a $2800 yearly income from a trust fund set up for her by PHILIP HANSON HISS, JR.,III, when they were divorced in 1939. It is to be noted that subsequent to the first divorce of PHILIP, JR.,III and his wife, MARJORIE, they were again remarried and celebrated their second honeymoon by vacationing to the Bahamas on a $60,000 yacht purchased by PHILIP, JR.,III. It is to be further noted that MARJORIE B. HISS, according to the press release, has a daughter MARJORIE whose $2500 annual expenses at the Masters School are paid for by CAROLINE DOW HISS.

close friend of her's and attended school with her at Bryn Mawr College. Miss NEILSON stated that she corresponds with PRISCILLA HISS quite regularly and, in fact, had received a letter as recent as January 3, 1949. She further stated that as well as she could recall, all of the correspondence that she has received from the HISS family has been in longhand and that she has never received a typewritten letter, nor does she have in her possession any typewritten material which was forwarded to her at any time by the HISS family.

Miss NEILSON further stated that she is a very close friend of the HISS family, although she has only met ALGER HISS several times, and she is quite upset about the difficulty which ALGER HISS now finds himself in. She is sure that ALGER nor PRISCILLA nor any other member of the family could be involved in any matter which could in any way be considered as disloyal to the United States.

Miss NEILSON stated that early in September, 1946, she visited with PRISCILLA HISS at Washington, D. C. and, in fact, resided with her for two or three nights while she was performing research work at the Library of Congress. Miss NEILSON stated that she does recall seeing a typewriter in ALGER HISS'S back study, where his law books and phonograph was kept, but she could not recall the make or the model of the typewriter which she observed.

Miss NEILSON further stated that she recalls that Mrs. JOHN ALFORD and PRISCILLA HISS performed some sort of research work for the Carnegie Foundation at New York City and it is very likely that any reports made by PRISCILLA or Mrs. JOHN ALFORD and forwarded to New York City, would have been submitted in typewritten form and, if so, she is quite sure that these records would still be available at New York City.

Miss NEILSON stated that the only close friend of PRISCILLA HISS that she could recall was a person by the name of Mrs. TESONE, an architect, at Washington, D. C., who also attended Bryn Mawr College. She could give no other identifying data regarding Mrs. TESONE.

It is to be noted that on May 5, 1947, [redacted] furnished agents of the Buffalo Office a list of the members of the Win-The-Peace Conference in the Buffalo area. This list contained the name of KATHERINE B. NEILSON, 253 Bryant Street.

It should also be noted that on August 25, 1948, [redacted] furnished agents of this office with a partial membership list of the Progressive Citizens of America in the Buffalo area. This list included the name of Dr. KATHERINE NEILSON, 253 Bryant.

It should be further noted that the Progressive Citizens of America and the Win-The-Peace Conference are both heavily infiltrated by Communists in the Buffalo area.

No other reference is made in the Buffalo files to Dr. or Miss KATHERINE B. NEILSON.

In concluding the interview with Miss KATHERINE NEILSON, she stated that she has correspondence in her possession which has been received from PRISCILLA HISS over the past several months and that if it was the desire of the FBI, she would make this correspondence available for examination.

Mrs. JOHN GRAHAM in South Coventry, Connecticut, over the Christmas holidays during which time her son contracted measles, as had other members of the GRAHAM family and that, accordingly, SOYRING had remained at the residence of Mrs. GRAHAM.

The Boston office indicated that JOHN GRAHAM was employed at the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Company. It was requested that the New Haven Division ascertain whether Mrs. SOYRING was, in fact, still in Connecticut and how long she intended to remain there.

The records of the Hartford Manufacturers' Association at Hartford, Connecticut, reveal that one JOHN ARNOLD GRAHAM, a resident at 69 Edmonds Street, Manchester, Connecticut, in 1940 had become employed by the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Corporation. These records indicated that this individual was married, was born May 14, 1917, and had Social Security Number 004-16-6869.

Mr. LARRY HAYNES, Internal Security Section, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Corporation, confirmed the fact that JOHN ARNOLD GRAHAM is an employee of that corporation. His personnel record reflected that he is presently residing at RFD 1, South Coventry, Connecticut, and that he is a field service representative of the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Corporation.

Mr. HAYNES checked a personnel information form made out for Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Corporation by GRAHAM in 1943 and thereby ascertained that in that year JOHN ARNOLD GRAHAM listed as his sister-in-law one ELEANOR CROSBY NELSON SAYRIND, age 37, occupation secretary-treasurer, UFW-CIO in Washington, D. C.

Furnished with a suitable pretext, Mr. HAYNES personally interviewed JOHN ARNOLD GRAHAM at the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft Corporation at East Hartford, Connecticut, on January 11, 1948. By means of this interview he learned from GRAHAM that the latter's sister-in-law and her young son had, in fact, spent the Christmas holidays at his home in South Coventry, Connecticut. GRAHAM further informed HAYNES that during the period of his sister-in-law's visit, her young son had contracted measles with the result that GRAHAM's own three young children had likewise contracted measles. GRAHAM stated that the children were treated by Dr. EDWIN BASDEN, Deputy Public Health Officer for Coventry, Connecticut, and surrounding areas. GRAHAM further advised HAYNES that his sister-in-law and her son intended to remain at his house until some time about the middle of the week, January 16-22, 1949 when she and her son would leave.

The details of the foregoing information were furnished to the Baltimore office by telephone call and teletype.

Director, FBI

Dear Sir:

Re: JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was., Etal
PERJURY
ESPIONAGE - R

Rebutel January 11, 1949.

The only investigation conducted by the St. Paul Office in this case was of administrative nature. Former Special Agent GEORGE C. BURTON, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, was interviewed and had absolutely no recollection of a memorandum concerning the CHAMBERS-BERLE interview. It is felt that administrative material of this type, which was already furnished the Bureau by St. Paul teletype dated December 30, 1948, should not be submitted by report with a copy for T. J. DONEGAN, Special Assistant to the Attorney General.

Unless advised to the contrary by the Bureau, St. Paul teletype to the Bureau dated December 30, 1948, will not be re-submitted in report form. R U C.

Very truly yours,

M. B. RHODES, SAC

At 11:25 a.m. today Special Agent Kenneth Delavine of the Washington Field Office telephonically advised that Jesse R. Rogers, an employee of the War Department, who was interviewed for approximately two hours yesterday by Agents of the Washington Field Office, reportedly died in his sleep last night.

Mr. Delavine stated Rogers was interviewed at his office in the War Department on the afternoon of January 12, 1949 by Agents Robert McCaslin and Paul Tierney. According to the Agents, Rogers was obviously not furnishing the information he had in his possession and to almost every pertinent question he would reply that he could not recall and ask the Agents whether they could furnish him with additional information. The Agents, of course, did not disclose any facts to Rogers and upon taking their leave, asked him to make an effort to recall the answers to the questions that he had asked him. He stated he would do so and arrangements were made to reinterview him today.

Mr. Delavine stated that discreet inquiries would be made to determine whether Rogers had committed suicide and the Bureau would be kept currently advised with respect to all developments concerning his death.

ASAC Belmont, New York, called in and stated that to properly protect the New York Office they had instituted a policy of requesting from Mr. Donegan, Mr. Whearty or other attorneys handling this matter before the Grand Jury to reduce to writing certain requests for investigation in an effort to stop indiscriminate requests.

I told Mr. Belmont that this procedure was satisfactory, that he should cooperate with the attorneys in the same manner as he had cooperated in any other criminal case. I told him if he thought the suggested procedure would stop unnecessary, indiscriminate and perhaps illogical requests, he could utilize the advice of the memorandum. He stated it was not being uniformly applied but wherever they felt it would be helpful in maintaining control of the investigation they were requesting it.

SYNOPSIS: In signed statement 12/3/48 at Baltimore, Md., CHAMBERS declared that in 1938 he turned over to NATHAN LEVINE, CHAMBERS' wife's nephew, an envelope containing 65 typewritten pages of documents given him by ALGER HISS, 4 small notes in handwriting of ALGER HISS, 4 sheets of paper in handwriting of HARRY DEXTER WHITE, 3 cans of undeveloped film and 2 strips of developed film; that above material was hidden by LEVINE in his mother's home, 260 Rochester Ave, Brooklyn, and remained hidden there until removed by CHAMBERS 11/14/48. LEVINE recalls receiving envelope from CHAMBERS in 1938 or 1939, with instructions to retain it; if anything happened to CHAMBERS envelope was to be given to ESTHER SHEMITZ CHAMBERS, wife. LEVINE denies knowledge of envelope's contents. FBI Lab concluded that Woodstock typewriter on which were written 64 of above mentioned 65 typed documents (all dated in 2/38 and 3/38) is same machine on which were prepared letters signed by ALGER HISS dated 1/30/33 and 2/17/33. CHAMBERS in signed statements 12/7 and 12/8/48 stated in latter part of 1936 or early 1937 WARD PIGMAN, while employed at U.S. Bureau of Standards, gave him documentary information from latter agency; identified photo of DAVID CARPENTER, presently "Daily Worker" staff writer, as identical with individual who was courier and photographer in CHAMBERS' apparatus; stated one "KEITH" also did photographing for apparatus, and that one "FELIX" photographed much of documentary material he received. Latter two unidentified to date. SAMUEL J. PELOWITZ not identical with "FELIX". Also that in 1936, at request of his espionage superior, BORIS BYKOV, he gave one rug each to ALGER HISS, WHITE, and A. GEORGE SILVERMAN, as "token of gratitude for activities to American Communists". Detailed chronology of CHAMBERS' association with BYKOV set out. CHAMBERS declared that VINCENT RENO (determined to be FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO), civilian employee of Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Md., supplied him with documentary material from A.P.G. on about 5 occasions in 1937; that in 1937 and early 1938 he received government documents from HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH, then in Division of Trade Agreements, Department of State. In signed statement 12/10/48 WADLEIGH admits having been introduced by ELEANOR NELSON to HAROLD WILSON, whom he now identifies as DAVID CARPENTER; that he later met CHAMBERS through CARPENTER and gave State Department documents to both in 1937 and probably 1938. In signed statement PHILIP RENO admits Communist Party membership in Baltimore and Denver, but denies any espionage activity. In signed statement FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO admits meeting CHAMBERS through one "BERNIE" in 1937 and thereafter giving CHAMBERS documents from Aberdeen Proving Grounds. DAVID CARPENTER admits knowing CHAMBERS and WADLEIGH, but refused further comment. PRISCILLA HISS, in signed statement, recalls knowing CHAMBERS as GEORGE CROSLEY in 1935 and 1936, but denies having copied any government documents whatsoever, and denies seeing CHAMBERS after 1936. SILVERMAN declined to answer any questions on advice of counsel. COLLINS states he vaguely recalls meeting CHAMBERS socially in Washington in middle 1930's and denies any espionage connection between CHAMBERS and himself. HEDE MASSING, former Russian agent, advised that while she was attempting to activate NOEL FIELD, formerly of State Department, as source of information, FIELD told her ALGER HISS was also attempting to recruit him; MASSING and HISS later had friendly argument over use of FIELD. Confrontation of HISS with MASSING on 12/9 and 12/10/48 negative, with HISS insisting he had never met or talked with her. LAURENCE H. DUGGAN, formerly of State Department, interviewed negatively re ALGER and DONALD HISS; states COLLINS and FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD did approach him to do something for U.S.S.R. or Communist Party (details not recalled). ALEXANDER GREGORY-GRAFF BARMINE states that in conversation with the late

Kisseloff-6612

WALTER KRIVITSKY, in early 1938 in Paris, latter stated GEORGE MINK, ALGER HISS, and HARRY DEXTER WHITE, were working for Soviet military intelligence in U.S. List of Grand Jury witnesses to date set out. On 12/15/48 GJ returned two-count indictment against ALGER HISS charging violations of 18 USC 1621; on arraignment on 12/16/48 before USDJ JOHN W. CLANCY, SDNY, HISS pleaded not guilty, bond was set at $5,000 and immediately furnished. HISS fingerprinted and photographed in NY Office. New GJ sworn in 12/16/48 and has heard CHAMBERS, WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN, and GEORGE PIGMAN.

REFERENCE: Bureau File 74-1333.
Bureau letter to New York, 11/26/48.
Report of SA FRANK G. JOHNSTONE, Baltimore, 12/4/48.

DETAILS: This is a joint report of SA THOMAS G. SPENCER and the writer.

Referenced report reflects that in a signed statement furnished to Agents of the Baltimore Division on December 3, 1948 subject CHAMBERS declared that in 1938 he turned over to NATHAN LEVINE, his wife's nephew, an envelope which contained 65 typewritten documents and four small pieces of white paper on which appeared handwriting that, according to his recollection, is the handwriting of ALGER HISS; further that these 65 pages of documents were copies or condensations of State Department documents which were turned over to CHAMBERS by ALGER HISS during the latter part of 1937 and early 1938. Such statement further recites that there were also contained in that envelope three cans of undeveloped film and two strips of developed film. CHAMBERS identified NATHAN LEVINE as a lawyer with offices on 42nd Street near Broadway, New York City, residing on Sterling Place in Brooklyn, New York, and further that CHAMBERS recovered this envelope and its contents from LEVINE on Sunday, November 14, 1948 at the home of LEVINE'S mother in Brooklyn, where they were hidden in a dumbwaiter shaft. Also included in this brown envelope, according to CHAMBERS, were four yellow lined sheets of paper in the handwriting of HARRY DEXTER WHITE.

It is to be noted that in connection with a pre-trial deposition being taken in Baltimore, Maryland at the request of counsel representing ALGER HISS in the latter's $75,000 slander action against CHAMBERS, subject CHAMBERS produced the above described material, with the exception of the film.

It was determined that there is no identifiable information in the files of the New York Division concerning NATHAN LEVINE, but from available sources it was established that he was probably identical with NATHAN ~~L.~~ LEVINE, 960 Sterling Place, Brooklyn, New York, with law offices at 152 West 42nd Street, New York City.

LEVINE was located by SA FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN and the writer at his residence on the evening of December 4, 1948 and stated that he is a nephew of ESTHER SHEMITZ CHAMBERS, wife of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, and that he is intimately acquainted with CHAMBERS. LEVINE further identified himself as a member of the New York Bar since 1933 and stated that he is now in general practice in this city and in addition is secretary to Judge EMANUEL GREENBERG of the New York State Court of Claims.

He was then interrogated as to whether CHAMBERS had ever given to him for safe keeping any personal property whatsoever, particularly whether such a transaction may have occurred several years ago. LEVINE became very evasive at this point and asked what particular type of personal property Agents had in mind. He was then asked if CHAMBERS had turned over to him an envelope or folder or bundle of papers, and after considerable vacillation and many attempts to evade giving a direct reply, LEVINE finally said that he had been consulted recently as an attorney by CHAMBERS and for that reason felt a privileged relationship probably resulted, and for that reason stated he felt he could not answer Agents' questions. He did say, however, that CHAMBERS had visited him at his residence on November 21, 1948, that immediately prior thereto CHAMBERS had sent him a telegram informing him that he was going to arrive at 1 PM that date, and asking him, "Do you have things ready?" LEVINE continued that he was mystified by this wire and remarked to his wife that he had no idea of what CHAMBERS had in mind.

At the conclusion of CHAMBERS' visit on November 21, 1948 LEVINE offered to drive CHAMBERS to Penn Station for the latter to take a train to Baltimore and en route CHAMBERS requested that they stop at the home of LEVINE'S parents, Mr. and Mrs. BARNET LEVINE, 260 Rochester Avenue, Brooklyn, New York. According to LEVINE, CHAMBERS indicated he wanted to pick up something from that residence. After they stopped at the Rochester Avenue address, CHAMBERS looked around in the basement and took away a folder and/or a box. LEVINE claimed he was extremely hazy on exactly what CHAMBERS did in the basement, paid no attention to what CHAMBERS removed therefrom, and claimed to recall no remarks of possible significance made by CHAMBERS then or later with respect to the material he picked up.

LEVINE continually resisted Agents' efforts to elicit a detailed account of his association with CHAMBERS on that day and frequently reiterated his belief that he was bound not to disclose everything he knew because of the privileged relationship mentioned above.

It is to be noted that Mrs. BARNET LEVINE is an older sister of ESTHER SHEMITZ CHAMBERS and, according to NATHAN L. LEVINE, CHAMBERS some years ago occasionally occupied a room in the BARNET LEVINE household for short periods of time and had stored some property there.

On December 15, 1948 Special Agents WILLIAM G. O'DONNELL, FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN, and the writer reinterrogated LEVINE at his home and requested that they be allowed immediately to inspect the basement of the BARNET LEVINE residence. LEVINE'S attitude was considerably changed on this occasion and when the inspection of the basement was broached he immediately remarked that CHAMBERS had not taken any material from the basement, but rather that it had been taken from an abandoned dumbwaiter shaft in the BARNET LEVINE residence. He willingly accompanied Agents immediately thereafter to the BARNET LEVINE residence and on the second floor thereof pointed out the abandoned dumbwaiter shaft in the bathroom in which he said he had placed an envelope for CHAMBERS in 1938 or 1939. This dumbwaiter shaft was carefully examined and it was noted that there remained nothing of significance and that only a small accumulation of dirty rags and yellowed copies of newspapers were in the shaft. LEVINE claimed to be unable to recall exactly when CHAMBERS asked him to keep the envelope for him, but stated it was either in 1938 or in 1939; further that the envelope was sealed at the time he received it from CHAMBERS and remained sealed until he turned it back to CHAMBERS on November 21, 1948, when, as mentioned above, he and CHAMBERS stopped off at the BARNET LEVINE residence.

(It is to be noted that LEVINE is undoubtedly mistaken as to the date of the CHAMBERS visit to him in November, 1948 inasmuch as CHAMBERS in his signed statement of December 3, 1948 fixed the date as November 14, 1948 and as the documents were produced by CHAMBERS at the pre-trial examination on November 17, 1948, the date of his recovering them from LEVINE obviously could not have been November 21, 1948.)

LEVINE further related that CHAMBERS told him in the event anything happened to him (CHAMBERS) LEVINE should turn over the envelope to Mrs. CHAMBERS and that if anything happened to both of them that LEVINE, as a lawyer, would know what to do with it. LEVINE insisted that the envelope had remained sealed from the time he received it until he returned it to CHAMBERS and that his only knowledge of the contents thereof comes from watching CHAMBERS open the envelope in the kitchen in the BARNET LEVINE residence immediately after he had handed the envelope back to CHAMBERS. LEVINE declared that he paid no particular attention to CHAMBERS as the latter was extracting the material from the envelope, except that he did know there were some documents among the material and he remembered that CHAMBERS made some exclamation of surprise as he was removing the material.

While Agents were at the 260 Rochester Avenue address the basement area was carefully searched for further property CHAMBERS might have left there, but none was located. Two rolls of 16 mm. film were taken with the express consent of LEVINE and on examination by Special Agents WILLIAM G. O'DONNELL and JOHN B. SIMMONS on the next day, December 5, 1948, were determined to be home movies of no significance to instant investigation. LEVINE remarked he had called the attention of CHAMBERS to this film when he and the latter were at the Rochester Avenue residence in November, but that CHAMBERS said that they were not his property and of no interest to him.

THOMAS J. DONEGAN, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, was advised of the above outlined developments and requested that DEVINE be instructed to appear before the Grand Jury hearing instant matter on December 5, 1948. LEVINE readily assented to this request.

Collins

B

On December 5, 1948 HENRY HILL COLLINS, JR. was interviewed in the office of ~~the American~~ Russian Institute, 58 Park Avenue, New York City, which is also Mr. COLLINS' residence, by Special Agents NORMAN P. BAGWELL and THOMAS G. SPENCER. When questioned concerning his knowledge of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS he replied that he had been previously interviewed on several occasions concerning his knowledge of this individual, but that during these interviews he had failed to recall any information concerning WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or whether he ever met this person. He declared that since the recent publicity of Mr. CHAMBERS and Mr. HISS, particularly before the House Un-American Activities Committee, he is now of the definite impression that he saw a person probably identical with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, but who did not use that particular name, in Washington, D.C. in the middle 1930's. It was Mr. COLLINS' recollection that he saw CHAMBERS on several occasions at cocktail and other social affairs in Washington, D.C. and stated that in all probability CHAMBERS might have been a guest in his, COLLINS', home on such an occasion.

COLLINS declared that he remembered CHAMBERS as a newspaper man or a writer of some type or other. He denied that he had been engaged in any way whatsoever with CHAMBERS in any espionage activities; that he had furnished CHAMBERS or any other unauthorized person any documentary material that came into his possession while he was a government employee. He denied knowing anybody by the name of BORIS BYKOV or having been introduced to an individual by this name or by the description of BYKOV that was furnished to him by Agents. He stated that he did not know an individual named PETER while he was an employee of the government in Washington, D.C.

At the completion of this interview COLLINS was served with a subpoena calling for his presence at the Federal Grand Jury in the Southern District of New York at 10 AM on December 6, 1948.

Silverman

On December 5, 1948 Special Agents NORMAN P. BAGWELL and THOMAS G. SPENCER interviewed A. GEORGE SILVERMAN at his residence, 255 West 23rd Street, New York City. Mrs. SILVERMAN was also present during this interview. Mr. SILVERMAN was advised that this Bureau was desirous of questioning him in some detail concerning an official matter, and at this point he advised that on the advice of counsel he would refuse to answer any questions at this time. He was thereupon served with a subpoena calling for his presence before the Federal Grand Jury in the Southern District of New York at 10 AM on December 6, 1948.

Efforts to locate PRISCILLA HISS, wife of ALGER HISS, on December 5, 1948 for interview were unsuccessful.

Kisseloff-6617

NY 65-14920

On December 6, 1948, Mrs. ALGER HISS was interviewed in the presence of her attorney, Mr. EDWARD C. MC LEAN, 20 Exchange Place, New York City, by SA THOMAS G. SPENCER and the writer.

Procedure Hiss

The arrangements for the interview were previously made with Mr. MC LEAN and he requested that he be present during the time of the interview.

Mrs. HISS was first questioned concerning her knowledge or acquaintanceship with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. Mrs. HISS advised that she knew an individual by the name of GEORGE CROSLEY in 1935 and whom she has now identified to be WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. She further stated that in 1935, exact date not known by her, CHAMBERS and his wife sublet her apartment, which was located at 2831 28th Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., and that she, herself, was living at 2905 P. Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. She stated that for a short period of time CHAMBERS and his wife stayed in Mrs. HISS' home on P. Street waiting to move into the sublet apartment on 28th Street. Continuing, she advised that she had never socialized to any degree with the CHAMBERS and that she did not particularly desire to associate with Mrs. CHAMBERS in a social way.

Mrs. HISS was advised of the facts concerning the allegations made by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS to the effect that he had received documents from ALGER HISS which were taken from the State Department to HISS' home. Mrs. HISS then stated that she had no knowledge of any documents, notes or any other material that Mr. HISS had in his possession and had no knowledge of his bringing the material mentioned to his home.

Mrs. HISS was specifically questioned concerning the typewriter that she had in her home on which CHAMBERS had claimed that the documents were typed. Mrs. HISS then stated that all she could recall concerning the typewriter was that it was a typewriter which belonged to her father, THOMAS L. FANSLER, who was in the insurance business in Philadelphia. She believed that it was the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company for which he acted as agent. She stated that this typewriter was given to her by her father possibly in 1932 or 1933; that her father died in 1940; and that she could not recall how she had disposed of it. She could not recall the make of the typewriter. The only thing she remembered about it was that it was an old-fashioned typewriter which her father had used for a number of years.

Mrs. HISS stated that she, herself, was not a proficient typist but that she had typed up several things on the typewriter and used the one-finger method for such typing.

During the course of the interview, Mr. MC LEAN mentioned that Mrs. HISS had written a book. The Agents questioned her as to whether or not she had typed up the manuscript for the book on her typewriter. She advised that she had only typed a few of the pages of the manuscript on the typewriter and the rest was in longhand. She further stated that no copy of the manuscript was available. The book was published by the Carnegie Foundation, the exact year she could not recall, but thought it was in the early 1930's. She stated that she has searched through her papers in an effort to locate material which may have been typed up on the questioned typewriter but she was not successful. Mr. MC LEAN interjected and stated that he had learned that there were two typewritten papers written up by Mrs. HISS' son and that he would attempt to locate these papers and make them available to the Agents. Mrs. HISS then stated that she could not possibly say that these papers were typewritten on the machine that she had in her possession in 1935 or 1936.

It will be recalled that a Ford car had been previously mentioned by Mr. CHAMBERS as having been in his possession and which was formerly owned by HISS. Mrs. HISS stated that she recalls the Ford car very well and that her husband, ALGER HISS, had given the Ford automobile to CHAMBERS. She could not recall the year, but believed it was in 1935 or 1936.

Mrs. HISS emphatically stated that she had never heard her husband or CHAMBERS discuss any material which had been obtained from the Government or documents which Mr. HISS might have had in his possession in his official capacity. She further stated that she had never heard the name of Colonel BYKOV mentioned by CHAMBERS or by her husband. It is to be noted that CHAMBERS stated he introduced HISS to Colonel BYKOV in Brooklyn, New York, and that BYKOV was the contact man for the Russian Intelligence in the United States.

Mrs. HISS advised that her given name was PRISCILLA and that she taught the Seventh and Eighth Grades at the Dalton School, located at 108 East 89th Street, New York City. She further added that in the event she is able to find any specimens of any kind which may have been written up on the questioned typewriter, she would furnish them to this office through her attorney.

The following signed statement was obtained from Mrs. HISS in the presence of her attorney, EDWARD C. MC LEAN, on December 7, 1948:

"New York, New York
December 7, 1948

"I, Mrs. Priscilla Hiss, residing at 22 East 8th Street, New York City, give the following voluntary statement to Special Agents Thomas G. Spencer and Francis D. O'Brien, who have identified themselves to me to be Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I am making this statement in the presence of my attorney, Mr. Edward C. McLean. I know that any statement that I make may be used against me in a court of law.

"Some time in 1935, the exact date I cannot now recall, I was introduced to an individual by the name of George Crosley, whom I now believe to be Whittaker Chambers. I did not know that Crosley's name was Whittaker Chambers at any time while I knew him. At the time of this introduction I was residing at 2831 28th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. For a short period of time Chambers and his wife lived at our house in a spare room which we had at 2905 P Street while waiting to move into the premises at 2831 28th Street, N.W., which premises were sublet to Mr. Chambers by my husband, Mr. Hiss. As far as I know no lease was drawn for the subletting of the apartment. I also met Mr. Chambers on several occasions when he called at my home to visit with my husband. I recall that Mr. Hiss had a Ford automobile, namely a 1929 model, and that he gave this Ford car to Mr. Chambers. I have not seen Mr. Chambers, as far as I can recall, since sometime in 1936.

"I have been advised of the allegations that Mr. Chambers has made against my husband, namely that Mr. Hiss removed documents from the government offices where he was employed and turned these documents over to Mr. Chambers in order that they might be photographed. Mr. Hiss never turned over any documents to Mr. Chambers in my presence or in so far as I know at any other time.

"During the time my husband was employed by the government he occasionally brought work home from the office. However, I never personally examined any of this material and have no knowledge of its contents.

"I have been asked to recall all of the facts concerning a typewriter which was in my possession. Some time in 1932 or 1933, as far as I can recall, my father, Mr. Thomas L. Fansler, who was in the insurance business in Philadelphia (he was connected with the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, for which company he acted as a general agent), had in his possession a typewriter which he gave to me. I do not recall whether I had this typewriter while I was residing in New York City. I do not recall the make of this typewriter. I do not recall now, how I disposed of it. I myself am not a proficient typist, but I have typed several things on this typewriter which my father gave to me. I did prepare a manuscript for a book which was later published by the Carnegie Corporation, but as far as I can recall I did not type this manuscript in its entirety. I typed some of it and prepared the rest in longhand.

"I wish to state that I have never heard my husband, Alger Hiss, or Mr. Chambers discuss any material which had been obtained from the government or documents which Mr. Hiss might have had in his possession in his official capacity. I also wish to state that I have never been acquainted with an individual by the name of Colonel Bykov, who I understand Mr. Chambers has stated was introduced by him to my husband. I wish to state that I have never copied or typed any U.S. Government documents for the purpose of giving them to Mr. Chambers.

"I wish to state that I have read this statement, consisting of one and one-half pages, and it is true to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed each page.

The following investigation was conducted by SA JOHN F. SULLIVAN:

On December 9, 1948 at the Carnegie Corporation of New York, 522 Fifth Avenue, a check of its grants and publications failed to reveal a grant for PRISCILLA HISS or ROBERTA M. FANSLER for the publication of "The Teaching of Art in American Colleges".

On December 10, 1948 PETER McGILL, manager of the College Art Association, 625 Madison Avenue also checked his records without finding such a grant, or publication for the years 1933, 1934 and 1935.

He pointed out that the usual procedure is to return the original manuscript to the author who submitted it, together with the galley for proof reading. Usually the author retains the manuscript and returns the corrected galley. If by chance the author returns the manuscript the Association would destroy it after a short time. He added that the Carnegie Corporation would never see the manuscript. It would only pay for the printing through the grant.

Mr. McGILL called Mrs. AUDREY McMAHON who held his position in 1934. She remembered the grant and the manuscript but could not recall its final disposition. She believed it was published in Parnassus. Persual of Parnassus for 1933, 1934 and 1935 failed to locate it. Parnassus and the Art Bulletin are the two publications of the College Art Association.

Mr. McGILL stated that ROBERTA M. FANSLER is well known to the Association. PRICILLA HISS is not. ROBERTA M. FANSLER is now Mrs. JOHN ALFORD, 55A Charles Field Street, Providence 6, Rhode Island. JOHN ALFORD is a former Columbia University professor.

An article with a title similar to "The Teaching of Art in American Colleges" called "The Teaching of Art in the Colleges of the United States" by ROBERT I. GOLDWATER, was published by the Association in May, 1943. Reference footnotes in this article refer to "Research in Fine Arts in the Colleges and Universities of the United States, Priscilla Hiss and Robert A. Fansler, Carnegie Corporation, 1934".

As a result of the disclosures made by CHAMBERS in the pre-trial examination of him in Baltimore by counsel for ALGER HISS, THOMAS J. DONEGAN, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, who has been presenting evidence concerning alleged and suspected espionage activity to a Grand Jury in the Southern District of New York, caused the Grand Jury to reconvene on December 6, 1948. Elsewhere in this report there is being set out a summary of the Grand Jury's activities during the period of this report. It is also to be noted that on the evening of December 6, 1948 Representatives ROBERT NIXON and JOHN MC DOWELL of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, accompanied by ROBERT E. STRIPLING, Chief Investigator for the Committee, appeared at New York City and a discussion was had with them by Mr. DONEGAN and JOHN F. X. MC GOHEY, United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York, with respect to the procedures to be followed by the H.C.U.A. and the Justice Department. It was learned reliably that on this evening the Committee members questioned subject CHAMBERS in executive session at the Commodore Hotel.

Also on December 6, 1948 through arrangements made by PEYTON FORD, Assistant to the Attorney General, Mr. L. E. THOMPSON, Deputy Director, European Division, U.S. Department of State, examined, in Mr. DONEGAN'S office, copies of the documentary material produced by CHAMBERS at the pre-trial deposition in Baltimore and also prints of film secured from the CHAMBERS farm on December 2, 1948 by representatives of the H.C.U.A. Mr. THOMPSON commented to Mr. DONEGAN that there was nothing particularly "embarrassing" in the first group of material, but that it did consist of what apparently were copies of State Department documents. Mr. THOMPSON stated, however, that much of the material located on December 2, 1948 was "Top Secret" and would have carried such a designation if one had been in use by the State Department during the period covered by the documents, and pointed out that they would at least have been classified "Strictly Confidential" at that time. He mentioned one document particularly which might cause some embarrassment if published inasmuch as it indicated that consideration was being given by this government prior to 1939 to a rapprochement between the United States and Germany on an economic basis.

On December 7, 1948, SAS JOHN J. WARD and WILLIAM J. McCARTHY, Jr., interviewed HEDE MASSING at her residence concerning HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH, who, according to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was operating in behalf of the Communist international movement under HEDE GUMPERTZ, who is HEDE MASSING.

HEDE MASSING stated that she could not recognize HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH from his name or the descriptive data concerning him.

She was also asked concerning HAROLD WILSON, who was WADLEIGH'S co-worker in his intelligency work. HEDE did not recognize WILSON from his name or descriptive data, or the photograph of DAVID CARPENTER.

15-20 Hede Massing

HEDE MASSING stated that she wished to furnish some additional information concerning ALGER HISS. She added that she had not previously furnished this information since her mind was not exactly clear concerning the matter. She felt she now could reconstruct the events with a fair degree of accuracy. HEDE stated that for approximately one year, or a period of time which included a winter and a summer, she had been working on NOEL FIELD, a State Department employee, to get him to enter into the work she was doing, which was intelligence work on behalf of the Soviets or the Comintern. She stated that she was not certain that she was working for the Soviets nor did she know whether or not NOEL FIELD understood that he was being recruited for the Soviets. However, she is sure that he knew that he was to work in behalf of the Communist international cause. HEDE stated that she had propositioned NOEL FIELD to obtain information from the State Department and turn it over to her. She would then see that it was turned over to her superior, BORIS, who would send it either to Russia or to a representative of the Comintern. HEDE frequently went to Washington and stayed at FIELD'S apartment with FIELD and his wife while she was developing him.

After about a year, and possibly in the winter of 1935-1936, NOEL FIELD told HEDE that someone else was also recruiting him do do the same work and he did not know just what to do. HEDE told NOEL that she would like to meet this person who was trying to recruit him, so they could have it out. FIELD said he would arrange to have HEDE meet the person.

According to HEDE, approximately a week later, FIELD had a dinner party at his apartment in Washington. HEDE recalls that HERTA FIELD, NOEL'S wife, was present, along with NOEL, herself and ALGER HISS. She cannot recall whether or not anyone else was present, possibly a few others. HISS' wife was not present.

NY 65-14920

NOEL FIELD told HEDE that HISS was the person who was trying to recruit him. He told her this either before or on the night of the dinner. HEDE stated that she was impressed by HISS' good looks, his charm, and his intelligence, and they got along very well. Immediately after the dinner and at the first moment when HEDE and ALGER HISS could get together, they had a conversation, which, to the best of HEDE'S recollection, is as follows:

ALGER HISS: "Well, you are the famous girl who is meddling in my affairs."

HEDE MASSING: "And you are the man who is meddling in my affairs."

ALGER HISS: "What is your apparatus."

HEDE MASSING: "I wouldn't ask that question of you. You shouldn't ask it of me".

(They both laughed at this)

ALGER HISS: "Well, we'll fight it out to see who gets NOEL."

HEDE MASSING: "I'll beat you in this game because I'm a woman."

After this either HEDE or ALGER said;

"What difference does it make who gets NOEL, We're both working for the same boss."

HEDE cannot recall whether she made this statement or whether ALGER made it. The statement meant to HEDE that they were both working for the same boss, the Communist international movement. HEDE stated that there was no question in her mind that HISS was working for some branch of Soviet Intelligence or for the Comintern and was trying to recruit FIELD to work with him, and further this branch was in competition with her group headed by "BORIS". HEDE stated that throughout the evening, she got along very well with ALGER HISS. They seemed to agree on everything. After the meeting, HEDE returned to New York and reported the results of her meeting with ALGER HISS to her superior, BORIS. BORIS was delighted and slapped HEDE on the back and said, "Good girl". He instructed her not to see HISS in the future. HEDE stated that she never saw ALGER HISS either before or after this one dinner party at NOEL FIELD'S. HEDE has seen many photographs of ALGER in the paper recently and she is sure that it was ALGER HISS she met in FIELD'S apartment. HEDE stated that she was probably staying at FIELD'S apartment the night she met HISS. HEDE eventually won FIELD and he operated for her group. He is presently in Switzerland.

During the interview with HEDE MASSING on December 7 and 8, 1948, she stated that about the time she was working on NOEL FIELD to cooperate with her in Communist Intelligence work, she was also working on LAWRENCE DUGGAN, a State Department employee and a close associate of ALGER HISS. DUGGAN resisted her, but eventually agreed to see her superior BORIS. BORIS later told her that DUGGAN was difficult and suggested she might have to see him again. She never did. She always liked DUGGAN and respected him and when she broke with the Russians in 1938, she went to Washington to see him and tell him she was through, since she felt responsible for him. She stated that she did not see him, but saw his wife and received a cool reception. She felt that DUGGAN must have told his wife about her and her activity and opposed it. The wife's treatment of her indicated that DUGGAN had either kept out of the movement or had gotten out. HEDE never saw DUGGAN on her visits to Washington and has not seen him since probably 1935 or 1936. HEDE stated that she had held back the above information concerning DUGGAN when interviewed recently, because she was not sure he ever got into the work and if he did, she felt quite sure he was out by 1938.

The above is being brought to the attention of the Bureau in that they may wish to have DUGGAN interviewed at this time, since it is very possible that when ALGER HISS worked on NOEL FIELD to recruit him, he may also have worked on LAWRENCE DUGGAN.

The information furnished by HEDE MASSING regarding her conversation with ALGER HISS in the home of NOEL FIELD in Washington was immediately brought to the attention of Mr. DONEGAN and on his suggestion arrangements were made on December 9, 1948 for MASSING to view ALGER HISS face to face. This confrontation took place in this office and was witnessed by Bureau Agents. Neither HISS nor MASSING said anything on this occasion. HISS was requested immediately prior to the confrontation to view this individual long enough to satisfy himself positively as to whether or not he had ever seen her before. After he observed her for approximately two minutes he indicated that he had satisfied himself and accordingly was escorted from the room. He then informed the writer that he was positive he had never talked with that woman at any time or place, that he had no recollection whatsoever of ever having met her, and that the only qualification he would make in his denial of acquaintanceship or introduction to her was that it was barely possible he might have been casually introduced to her at a large affair where hundreds of people might have been present and he might have been introduced briefly to a great number of persons. He declared that this contingency was an exceedingly remote possibility.

On the following day a second confrontation of HISS with MASSING was staged and on this occasion HISS was accompanied by his attorney, EDWARD C. MC LEAN, at the latter's insistence. This session lasted approximately fifteen minutes and during that time MASSING attempted, by giving her recollection of the conversation between herself and HISS, to refresh his recollection. She stated, for instance, that she recalled definitely this conversation took place at the home of NOEL FIELD in Washington, that FIELD and his wife were present, that ALGER HISS was not accompanied by his wife, and that there may have been one or two more persons present. She pointed out to HISS that she recalled their private conversation apart from the others immediately after dinner.

HISS insisted that MASSING was surely mistaken in her identification of him as the man with whom she conversed on that occasion and very pleasantly thanked MASSING for attempting to "help". After leaving the room where the above described confrontation occurred, HISS expressed complete amazement that this woman would be so positive in her recollection of an event which he was equally positive never took place.

RE: LAURENCE H. DUGGAN

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agents JOHN J. DANAHY and WILLIAM J. McCARTHY, Jr.:

As a result of information furnished this office by HEDE MASSING to the effect that she had attempted to recruit LAURENCE DUGGAN to work in her apparatus in the interest of the Soviet Union or the Communist International during the period 1934 - 1936, which information was furnished the Bureau by teletype under date of December 8, 1948, the Bureau authorized an interview with LAURENCE DUGGAN by teletype dated December 9, 1948.

On December 10, 1948, LAURENCE H. DUGGAN was interviewed at his residence at 46 Walworth Avenue, Scarsdale, New York, telephone number Scarsdale 3-6425. DUGGAN advised that his business address was the Institute of International Education, 2 West 45th Street, New York City. He stated that he was a director of the Institute which was a philanthropic organization which worked in the interest of promoting international education. He added that his father had formerly been the director of the organization and he took over when his father died. He further advised that this organization operates under contract of the United States Government in choosing graduate students for study abroad under provision of the Fulbright Act.

HEDE MASSING

LAURENCE DUGGAN stated that the name HEDE MASSING was not familiar to him. He added that the name HEDE GUMPERTZ did sound familiar but he could not place the person. He was shown a photograph of HEDE MASSING who was formerly known as HEDE GUMPERTZ, and he stated that he recognized the picture as someone he had met but he could not recall the circumstances surrounding their meeting. He felt that possibly he met HEDE GUMPERTZ through NOEL FIELD in Washington or possibly through RODNEY DUTCHER, a newspaper man, with whom he was friendly, who worked in Washington during the early 1930's and who has since died.

In regard to the allegation that HEDE GUMPERTZ had talked to him many times and attempted to recruit him for Soviet espionage and had succeeded in getting him to go and see her superior "BORIS", Mr. DUGGAN stated that if he was recruited by HEDE GUMPERTZ then he never recognized it, and in regard to the allegation that he went to see her superior, he denied this. He stated that he never went to see anyone at the request of HEDE GUMPERTZ. Mr. DUGGAN stated that although his recollection of the circumstances under which he came to meet HEDE GUMPERTZ were extremely hazy to him, he is certain that at no time did she ever request him to perform any acts in the nature of espionage on behalf of the Soviets or the Communist International.

With a view to refreshing DUGGAN'S recollection of his association with HEDE GUMPERTZ, DUGGAN was advised of an occasion in 1938 when HEDE GUMPERTZ allegedly visited his home at Washington, D. C., in a effort to see him. He was told that at this time HEDE GUMPERTZ waited at his home for over an hour but eventually left without seeing him when he had not arrived home. DUGGAN could not recall this incident but stated that in view of the fact that GUMPERTZ had allegedly seen his wife on this occasion perhaps his wife would be able to recall the incident. Accordingly he called his wife, HELEN DUGGAN, who viewed the photograph of HEDE GUMPERTZ and stated that she recalled that she had met her on one or more occasions in Washington and could faintly recall the occasion in 1938 when GUMPERTZ had visited their Washington home in an effort to see DUGGAN. She could add no additional information concerning the original manner in which she and her husband had come to become acquainted with HEDE GUMPERTZ.

ALGER HISS

Concerning ALGER HISS, Mr. DUGGAN stated that he first met HISS in Washington, D. C., probably around 1934, at which time HISS was employed by the AAA. Mr. DUGGAN stated that later, probably around 1936, HISS came to the State Department where he worked in the Trade Agreements Section and later in the Far Eastern Section. Mr. DUGGAN stated that he and HISS never worked in the same section at the State Department. He added that his friendship with HISS was very casual and they saw each other once or twice a year, usually at social functions. He added that he did not know HISS'S political philosophy but was of the opinion that HISS was a thoroughly loyal American. He added that he was surprised to hear of the charges made by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS against ALGER HISS. He stated that prior to reading of the charges against HISS in the papers, nothing had ever come to his attention which would indicate that HISS was a Communist or was engaged in espionage while at the State Department. He added that ALGER HISS had never approached him at any time to do anything in behalf of the Soviets or the Communist International.

Mr. DUGGAN added that he also knew ALGER HISS'S brother, DONALD HISS, and he felt the same about DONALD as he did about ALGER. He stated that nothing had ever come to his attention concerning DONALD HISS which would indicate that DONALD HISS was a Communist or was engaged in espionage.

Further he stated that DONALD HISS had never approached him to do anything in the interest of the Soviet Union or the Communist International.

Mr. DUGGAN stated that he believed that ALGER HISS and NOEL FIELD, a State Department employee who will be referred to below, were acquainted. He added that it was his impression that they knew each other prior to 1936 and became more friendly thereafter. Mr. DUGGAN stated that so far as he could recall he had never attended a dinner party when ALGER HISS and NOEL FIELD were present. He could not recall ever having seen them together.

NOEL H. FIELD

Concerning NOEL FIELD, LAURENCE DUGGAN stated that he met him around 1931 in Washington at the State Department. At the time FIELD was working in the Western European Section of the State Department, particularly on disarmament matters and League of Nation matters. He worked very closely with NORMAN DAVIS. According to Mr. DUGGAN, NOEL FIELD left Washington in the spring of 1936. Mr. DUGGAN stated that he knew NOEL FIELD and NOEL'S wife, HERTHA, very well and considered them close friends. He added that the FIELDS and he and his wife had apartments in the same building at 419 Fourth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., during the period from the fall of 1933 until the fall of 1935, at which time the DUGGANS moved to a house in Washington.

Mr. DUGGAN stated that he saw NOEL FIELD constantly and felt that he knew the man very well. He stated that he did not feel that NOEL FIELD was a Communist nor a member of any Communist Party front organization. Nor did he believe that FIELD was ever engaged in espionage of any kind. He stated that he considered NOEL FIELD a "social democrat." He added that FIELD was greatly interested in the Soviet Union and it was his opinion that FIELD later visited the Soviet Union.

Mr. DUGGAN stated that he also knew NOEL FIELD'S brother, HERMAN FIELD, who is presently at Western Reserve University in Ohio, as well as NOEL FIELD'S sister, ELSIE DOOB (phonetic), and NOEL FIELD'S mother.

Concerning HERTHA FIELD, the wife of NOEL FIELD, Mr. DUGGAN stated that he did not believe that she was a Communist and felt that her political philosophy was about the same as her husband's. He added that it was his impression that Mrs. FIELD did not have an active interest in politics, but would more or less naturally follow the political philosophy of her husband.

Kisseloff-6630

HARRY DEXTER WHITE

Mr. DUGGAN was shown a number of photographs of individuals and the only ones he recognized were those of ALGER HISS, HEDE GUMPERTZ and HARRY DEXTER WHITE.

Concerning HARRY DEXTER WHITE, Mr. DUGGAN stated that he had known Mr. WHITE from about 1938 on. He stated that they became acquainted as a result of their working for the United States Government relating to Latin America. Mr. DUGGAN, as Chief of the Latin American Section of the State Department, had many conferences with Mr. WHITE, who was in the Treasury Department at the time and they worked together setting up an inter-American bank. Mr. DUGGAN stated that their relations were strictly business. He added that nothing had ever come to his attention which would indicate that HARRY DEXTER WHITE was a Communist or was engaged in espionage on behalf of the Soviet Union or the Communist International.

The following photographs were shown to LAURENCE DUGGAN and he failed to recognize any: ELIZABETH T. BENTLEY, MAURICE HALPERIN, ANATOLE B. GRONOV, WILLIAM LUDWIG ULMAN, NATHAN GREGORY SILVERMASTER, JOSEPH GREGG, (All of the above are subjects in the NATHAN GREGORY SILVERMASTER case.) VASSILI ZUBILIN, ELIZABETHA ZUBILIN, PAVEL KLARIN, WILLY BRANDES and PAUL WILHELM MASSING.

FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD

LAURENCE DUGGAN was asked if he had ever been approached by anyone to do anything in the interest of the Soviet Union or the Communist International. He stated that he had been approached twice, once by FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD and once by HENRY COLLINS. The COLLINS incident will be set out later in this report.

In regard to FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD, Mr. DUGGAN stated that FIELD was a classmate of his, both having graduated from Harvard College in 1927. He stated that around 1936 or 1937 FIELD came to Washington and called him and asked him to stop at his (FIELD'S) hotel for a drink. Mr.

DUGGAN stated that when he finished work he went to FIELD'S hotel room and there spent a short time and had a discussion with FIELD. During the discussion FIELD said something to DUGGAN which definitely gave DUGGAN the impression that FIELD wanted DUGGAN to do something in his official capacity which would be in the interest of the Soviet Union or the Communist International. Mr. DUGGAN stated that he cannot remember the conversation; he cannot remember just what the request was. His recollection is that the request was subtle but nevertheless was sufficiently clear so that there was no question in his mind that FIELD wanted him to do something. His recollection is that he answered FIELD in such a way that he gave FIELD the impression that he would have nothing to do with FIELD'S request. He feels that he succeeded in impressing FIELD as to his own attitude to such an extent that FIELD did not pursue his request any further. Mr. DUGGAN stated that he is sure that the request of FIELD did not consist of having him (DUGGAN) steal papers from the State Department. It could have been that FIELD requested him to use his position to influence policy. However, he has not an idea as to what it was.

Mr. DUGGAN stated that he has seen FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD since the meeting in 1936 or 1937 and FIELD has never approached him. He added that he suspected that FIELD was a Communist and it is his recollection that FIELD was connected with the Institute of Pacific Relations at the time that FIELD came to Washington in 1936 or 1937.

HENRY HILL COLLINS, JR.

LAURENCE DUGGAN stated that he first met COLLINS in Washington probably around 1933 or 1934. He believes that COLLINS was with the Department of Agriculture at the time. He stated that he met COLLINS socially and saw him fairly often. He stated that neither he nor his wife liked COLLINS. However, they frequently came in contact with him, usually at social affairs. Mr. DUGGAN stated that around 1937 or 1938, and probably in June of the year, he had occasion to have lunch with HENRY COLLINS, probably at COLLINS' request, and then after lunch they took a stroll. During the walk COLLINS made certain remarks to DUGGAN which DUGGAN took to mean that COLLINS wanted DUGGAN to work with him doing something in connection with his (DUGGAN'S) official capacity which would be for the benefit of the Soviet Union or the Communist International. Mr. DUGGAN stated that he cannot remember just what COLLINS said which gave him the idea that COLLINS wanted him to do something of this nature. However, there was no question in his mind that the request of COLLINS was sufficiently clear so that he knew that what COLLINS asked for constituted a request for action by DUGGAN in his official capacity on behalf of the Soviet Union or the Communist International. Mr. DUGGAN stated that he feels certain that the request did not mean that he should steal documents from the State Department files. It is his recollection that the overtures of both COLLINS and FIELD never took the form of concrete suggestion as to any particular course of action, but rather were a general suggestion that DUGGAN be more helpful to the cause in his official capacity. E

Kisseloff-6632

The only other incident which DUGGAN could recall relating to possible Communist activities within the State Department concerns the case of a female employee whom he recalls as "LAKE" and who was reported to him shortly after he became chief of the Latin-American Division as being extremely Marxist, both in her philosophy and expression of ideas. DUGGAN stated that as a result of receiving these reports concerning this LAKE, he recommended that she be transferred from his division, which action was subsequently followed. He stated that he had no idea as to what division she was transferred to, nor does he know whether she is still employed by the State Department. He added that he had no knowledge as to whether or not she ever furnished any confidential information which she received at the State Department to any unauthorized person. The above incident took place probably in the early part of 1937.

Miscellaneous

LAURENCE DUGGAN stated that he knew HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH as a fellow employee in the State Department. He added, however, that he had never worked with WADLEIGH and didn't travel with him socially. He further stated that he had never been approached by WADLEIGH to do anything for the benefit of the Soviet Union or the Communist International, nor did he know or suspect that WADLEIGH was engaged in any such activity.

B Concerning WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, Mr. DUGGAN stated that he did not believe that he had ever met CHAMBERS. He also stated that he did not recognize the name HAROLD WILSON.

Concerning himself, Mr. DUGGAN stated that he had never been a member of the Communist Party nor of any Communist Party front organization. He stated that during the Spanish Civil War he had contributed $10.00 to the Loyalist Cause. He cannot remember the organization which collected the money. He stated that he is not a Marxist and he described himself as a "New Dealer." He stated that he has never done anything to aid the Communist International or the Soviet Union to the detriment of the United States.

E

With reference to LAURENCE DUGGAN, a review of the files in this field office reveals the following information concerning him: LAURENCE DUGGAN was the Director of the Institute of International Education and is reportedly a recent appointee of President TRUMAN to a ten member committee to select students for federal scholarships for foreign study under the Fulbright Bill. The files further indicate that DUGGAN was interviewed with negative results in 1940 in the case entitled MANFRED ZAPP, Registration Act.

A further review indicates that by Bureau letter dated May 14, 1942, the Bureau advised that WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had advised agents in an interview that LAURENCE DUGGAN, Chief of the Latin-American Division of the State Department, was probably an agent of the O.G.P.U. The report of Special Agent JEROME BROWER, dated August 2, 1944, at New York, in the case entitled COUNCIL FOR PAN-AMERICAN DEMOCRACY, INTERNATIONAL SECURITY - C, indicated that DUGGAN, as Director of the Office of American Republic Affairs, State Department, participated in a conference on United States policy toward Argentina called by the Council for Pan-American Democracy on March 25, 1944. This conference was held in the building owned by FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD, previously mentioned, located at 23 West 26th Street, which building houses several notorious Communist front organizations. Investigation of the Council for Pan-American Democracy indicated that the major portion of its directors were key figures in the Communist Party program.

A further review of the files reflects that the report of Special Agent T. S. MILLER dated July 7, 1945, at New York City in the case entitled JOSEPH H. CROWN, was., et al, Espionage - R, reflects that LAURENCE DUGGAN, who was then connected with the Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, met and conferred with JOSEPH CROWN and JOSEPH STAROBIN, the Foreign Policy Editor of the "Daily Worker," concerning the Argentina situation. This occurred at a meeting of the previously mentioned Council for Pan-American Democracy.

Information has come to the attention of this office that the Institute of International Education in 1947 sponsored a tour of Sir BERNARD PARSS through the mid-western United States. On this tour Sir BERNARD delivered numerous speaches urging appeasement of the Soviet Union. Arrangements for this tour, according to information received by this office, were made by LAURENCE DUGGAN, Director of the Institute.

RE: JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, WAS

The above-named individual has been interviewed on several occasions by Agents of this office since his arrival in New York City on December 6, 1948, pursuant to Grand Jury subpoena. Information furnished by CHAMBERS since December 7, 1948, concerning specific individuals will be set out hereinafter under their respective names. On two of these occasions signed statements were taken from CHAMBERS and are quoted as follows:

Kisseloff-6635

NY 65-14920

"New York, N. Y.
December 7, 1948

"I, Jay David Whittaker Chambers, make the following statement to Thomas G. Spencer and Joseph H. Kelly, whom I know to be Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statement that I make can be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made to me in connection with this statement. I have been advised that I have a right of counsel, but I have waived same after consulting with my counsel in connection with the making of this statement.

"I have been asked by the above-named agents whether I recall ever having met an individual named Henry Julian Wadleigh; I do recall that I was introduced to a person whom I knew as Mr. Wadleigh in 1936, to the best of my recollection, and that this introduction was made by David Carpenter, to whom I referred in my signed statement dated December 3, 1948. This introduction took place in Washington, D. C. At that time I believe Wadleigh was employed in the Trade Agreements Section of the U. S. Department of State. Although I of course do not recall the exact conversation which took place on this occasion, Wadleigh was given to understand either by Carpenter previously, or by both of us during the conversation, that I was the head of the underground group, and that henceforth he was connected with that group and disconnected with whatever activities he had been in before.

"It is my further recollection that in 1937 Wadleigh began to furnish me with documentary material from the Department of State. Inasmuch as he had been acquainted with Carpenter prior to the time the latter introduced him to me, I believe there may have been a few occasions on which Wadleigh gave material directly to Carpenter for eventual transmission, of course, to me. It is my present recollection that commencing in the early part of 1937 I met Wadleigh approximately every ten days; these meetings, so far as I can recall, always occurred in public places in Washington, with the exception that there may have been a very few of them in movie theatres in that city.

"It is also to be noted that at some time during the period of my personal relationship with Wadleigh, that is, from 1936 until approximately April, 1938, when I broke with the Party, Wadleigh proceeded to Europe on official governmental business for the purpose of negotiating a trade agreement,

"and there was accordingly a break in our relationship occasioned by his absence. It is my present recollection that I commenced seeing Wadleigh again after he returned to Washington from Europe, although I cannot so state categorically inasmuch as I am not sure whether this trip was made by Wadleigh during 1936 or in the year 1937, by which time he had begun to furnish information on a more or less regular basis.

"On the occasions of my meetings with Wadleigh he would in most instances, so far as I can recall, have the documents for me in a briefcase, and upon leaving him when those meetings would terminate, I would retain the briefcase and return it to him when I next saw him, which would be in the course of the same night. Upon receiving this documentary material from Wadleigh in the above-described manner I would proceed to a meeting with David Carpenter, would hand over the material to him, and he would take it to his workshop, photograph it, and later that same evening I would again meet Carpenter, take back the documents from him, and then return them to Wadleigh. I accompanied Carpenter to his workshop on perhaps one or two occasions but did not so accompany him as a matter of routine, and I do not presently recall the exact location of this workshop except that it was located somewhere near B Street, I believe, in Southeast or Southwest Washington. After the delivery by me of documentary material to Carpenter for photographing, I would subsequently receive the developed negatives from Carpenter and would thereafter transmit them to Colonel Bykov. I recall, however, that this system was changed by Colonel Bykov in that Carpenter no longer developed film, but rather gave me the exposed undeveloped film for transmission to Colonel Bykov. I want to state that the changed system of operating as outlined immediately hereinbefore was not consistently followed inasmuch as occasionally there apparently was difficulty on the part of Bykov in having the film developed in a satisfactory manner. During the period covering my activities with Wadleigh I would have personal meetings approximately once a week with Colonel Bykov, and would turn over to him on those occasions the negatives or exposed undeveloped film as the case may be, but I want to point out that Wadleigh was not particularly productive, that the material he was making available was not of great interest to Colonel Bykov, and that on the occasions of my meetings with Colonel Bykov many matters in addition to the material being supplied by Wadleigh were discussed and handled by us. It is my belief that Wadleigh never met Colonel Bykov. As mentioned above, my working arrangement with Wadleigh continued until my leaving the Party in April, 1938.

"There has been exhibited to me this date by the above-named agents a photograph of the man whom I now identify as the man known to me as David Carpenter. A photograph of Carpenter with a woman and another man has also been displayed to me but the two persons in addition to Carpenter are unknown to me. During my relationship with Wadleigh I employed the first name 'Carl' or 'Karl', and I do not recall what family name I may have adopted for purposes of this relationship; it is highly improbable that I used any family name. I have been asked whether or not I may have employed the name 'Carlson', and it is possible that I may have used this name, although I have no definite recollection thereof.

"To the best of my present recollection I do not recall having met an individual named Harold Wilson in connection with my work within the underground apparatus, and so far as I knew this name was never employed by David Carpenter.

"With respect to my statements made to FBI agents in Baltimore, Maryland, on December 3, 1948, concerning the meetings of Colonel Bykov with Alger Hiss, Henry Hill Collins, Jr., Harry Dexter White, and A. George Silverman, I would like to state that on the occasion of Bykov's meeting with Alger Hiss in Brooklyn, I recall Bykov urged Hiss to begin furnishing information to me, and secondly to attempt to activate his brother, Donald Hiss, for the same purpose, the situation being that Donald Hiss was a quiescent member of the underground in Washington but had not been active; further, that when Colonel Bykov met Harry Dexter White he urged him to commence furnishing material to me, and when Colonel Bykov met Collins, he encouraged the latter to redouble his efforts to secure a position in the Department of State, it being noted that Collins had been desirous of securing a post in that Department. With respect to Silverman, however, I recall no definite urging by Colonel Bykov of Silverman to commence furnishing me information, it being noted that Silverman at that time was employed by the Railroad Retirement Board and presumably not in a position to be able to furnish information of interest to Colonel Bykov. It was Silverman's chief function to keep his close friend Harry Dexter White 'in line'.

December 8, 1948

"I, Jay David Wittaker Chambers, make the following statement to Thomas G. Spencer and Joseph M. Kelly, whom I know to be Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statement that I make can be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made to me in connection with this statement. I have been advised that I have a right of counsel.

"While functioning as a courier for the Communist Party underground apparatus, I was introduced by David Carpenter to one Ward Pigman, and to the best of my recollection, this meeting occurred in 1936. Sometime later, I was introduced to George Pigman, brother of Ward Pigman, and this latter introduction probably was made by DAVID CARPENTER, although it is barely possible that WARD PIGMAN may have introduced me to his brother George. Both at that time, I believe, were employed by the Bureau of Standards, and it was my understanding that both had previously been connected with an underground apparatus, probably one being operated by ELEANOR NELSON.

"Subsequent to my meeting Ward Pigman and probably in the latter part of 1936 or early 1937, Ward Pigman began furnishing me documentary material from the Bureau of Standards, such material being handed over by him to me on the occasion of our meetings, and he continued to do so until the time of my leaving the Communist Party in April, 1938. I had meetings in public places in Washington with WARD PIGMAN approximately once a week, on which occasions he would deliver to me documentary material from the Bureau of Standards.

"During this same period, I had personal meetings, perhaps fortnightly or perhaps monthly with George Pigman, but I was never able to activate him as a source of material and never received any material from him.

"I want to state that during the above-described period while I was receiving a fairly regular flow of material from Ward Pigman, the latter was also meeting David Carpenter, and on occasion did transmit material to him instead of me. David Carpenter was doing all of the photographic work in connection with the material received from Ward Pigman, and after Carpenter had reduced such material to film, I would deliver the film to Colonel Bykov, having, of course, previously returned the original documents to Ward Pigman. Since my leaving the Communist Party in April, 1938, I have never seen either Ward Pigman or George Pigman. It is my "present recollection that a brief case was employed by Ward Pigman in transmitting documentary material to me, that is he would arrive at the meeting place with the material in the brief case, which I would take when we parted company, and at the next meeting, I would return the brief case with the photographed documents therein. The material made available in the above described manner to me by Ward Pigman consisted of documents dealing with a variety of technical subjects, the significance of which was unknown to me, but I do recall thatColonel Bykov occasionally complained about the type of material being secured by me from Ward Pigman and expressed the feeling that Ward Pigman's full potential as a source of material was not being developed. I am reasonably sure that neither Ward Pigman nor George Pigman ever met Colonel Bykov.

"The above-named Agents have this date displayed to me a photograph the reverse side of which bears the initial 'A' and the initials 'JK' and 'TGS'. This photo appears to me to be that of a photographer whom I knew by the name of Felix. He has visibly matured and seems to have grown heavier and I do not recall he wore glasses at the time I knew him, but the longer I look at the picture, the more certain I am that it is that of Felix.

"With further respect to Felix, I recall that I met him either in Washington, D. C. or New York City and he was introduced to me by Bykov, who explained that he was a 'technical man', which I understood to mean he was a photographer. To the best of my knowledge, Felix was not known to David Carpenter, and vice versa, although they both were Communist Party functionaries. It is my recollection both men received $100 a month for the work they did on behalf of the Communist Party and they also were allowed certain expenses which were incurred in connection with their photographic work, and which also included rent, telephone and medical expenses. It is also my recollection that Felix was a more proficient photographer than Carpenter; for that reason, I had occasion to use his services more frequently than those of David Carpenter. In the event that I desired to use his services, I believe that I had his telephone number and by either calling him or by pre-arrangement, he would come to Washington, D. C. and receive from me documents or other material that I had, would take them to Baltimore where they would be processed by him into negatives, and the documents would be returned to me that same day. In this connection, I would like to state that David Carpenter did not have a telephone as nearly as I remember, and consequently, my meetings with him were always be pre-arrangement. The developed negatives, which I obtained from Felix were delivered to Bykov in the same fashion as the ones I would receive from Carpenter in the event he did the work.

"In connection with the payment of money or the bestowing of gifts on the various people who turned over information to me, I would like to state that no one so far as I know, was actually given any money for the services they rendered. However, I do recall that probably at the end of 1936, Bykov in one of this conversations with me suggested it might be a good idea to give Alger Hiss, Harry Dexter White and A. George Silverman a gift of some kind. After some discussion, Bykov thought it might be advisable to present each of them with an expensive rug. I myself was not too keen on the idea. However, Bykov became somewhat insistent, and as a result, I had inquiries made of an Armenian rug dealer in New York City, and arranged for the purchase of three oriental rugs. To the best of my recollection, these rugs cost about $200.00 each. I am rather hazy on the actual amount that was paid for these rugs, but this amount is the price to the best of my present belief. Bykov furnished me with the money to make this purchase, and as I recall it, the three rugs were sent by the Armenian rug dealer via American Railway Express to the home of A. George Silverman in Washington, D. C.

"Prior to the delivery of the rugs to Washington, I had informed Hiss, White and Silverman that they were going to be presented with gifts as a token of gratitude for the activities of the American Communists. White and Silverman were quite pleased with the fact that they were going to receive such a gift. However, Hiss was more polite than pleased when he did receive this gift. My recollection of the delivery of the rugs is that Silverman because of his close association with Harry White, made the delivery of his (White's) rug. In connection with the delivery of the rug for Alger Hiss, I recall one evening by pre-arrangement, Silverman put the rug in his car, drove it to a predesignated point, a restaurant on Route 1 about three or four miles east of College Park, Maryland. I accompanied Hiss in the latter's car to this point, and upon arrival there, I got out of Hiss' car, got the rug from Silverman's car, and carried it to Hiss' car.

B "I would like to mention another individual with whom I came in contact in 1937. This individual was known to me by the name of Keith, which I know to be a psuedonym. Insofar as I can recall, Keith was connected with Bykov in New York City and came to Washington in 1937. Keith was introduced to me in New York by Bykov, who related that Keith was a photographer and that I could utilize his services if I so desired. In my conversation with Bykov, however, I gained the distinct impression

"that Bykov was trying to get rid of Keith and send him to Washington so that I could handle him and thereby, Bykov would no longer have to concern himself with Keith.

"In connection with my knowledge of Keith, I learned either from Keith or through Bykov that the former was connected with a White Russian named Sviashnikov (phonetic), who was a ballistics expert employed in Government service in Washington, D. C. It is also my recollection that at the time I met Keith either in New York or Washington, Sviashnikov was no longer connected with Keith in his activities. Sviashnikov was controlled by them because he had a sister living in Moscow, and I remember Keith once described to me how Bykov used to torture Sviashnikov to the point where he cried, by saying they were going to put the sister out on the street unless he produced. So far as I can recall, I never requested Keith to do any work for me. I do recall, however, Keith had an apartment or a room in Washington, D. C. and that I had at that time in my possession a telephone number where I could reach him.

"It is also my recollection Keith was connected with one Azimov (phonetic) who was a metallurgist and connected with the University of California at Berkeley. I also recall subsequently Azimov became the head of the research department at the United States Steel Corporation at Chicago, Illinois.

B "Another person whom I met during my work as a courier for the underground apparatus, was Vincent Reno, to whom I was introduced by J. Peters in Philadelphia, probably in 1937. It is possible David Carpenter may have been present on this occasion. Reno had been an organizer either for the Communist Party or the Young Communist League in Montana, and had employed the name Lance Clark.

"At the time I met Reno, I believe that he had just commenced employment with the War Department as a civilian at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Aberdeen, Maryland. He resided on the post to the best of my recollection, and was a mathematician. I had occasional meetings with Reno subsequently in public places in Washington and possibly Baltimore, and I recall that on one or two occasions, Reno delivered to me documentary material bearing upon his work at the Aberdeen Proving Ground on a bombsight project. It is my recollection that his superior at Aberdeen was Colonel Zornig.

"I would estimate that my meetings with Vincent Reno totaled probably five in all; that would include the one or two occasions on which he handed over material to me. I believe that Reno had been a member of an underground apparatus operated by ELEANOR NELSON at the time I was introduced to him.

"I would describe Vincent Reno as probably 27 or 28 years of age at the time I knew him approximately 5 feet 8 inches, slender build, sandy hair and eyelashes, blue eyes, and clean-shaven. I remember one time when I desired to have a meeting with Vincent Reno, I ascertained that his brother, whose first name I believe is Philip, was residing at a certain address in Washington, and in order for Philip to arrange a meeting for me with Vincent, I went to that address and for the first time I believe Philip Reno, like his brother, had a prior connection with the Eleanor Nelson apparatus, but he had no connection whatsoever with the work I was doing at that time.

"I have read the above statement consisting of this and four previous pages, and to the best of my knowledge and recollection, I declare it is the truth.

RE: BORIS BYKOV, WAS

On December 9, 1948, CHAMBERS was interviewed by SA THOMAS G. SPENCER and the reporting agent in connection with the above-mentioned individual and furnished the following chronological account of his association with and knowledge of him:

CHAMBERS first met BYKOV in the fall of 1936 and was introduced to him by J. PETERS probably in front of St. Patricks Cathedral in New York City. PETERS had previously explained to CHAMBERS that he was going to introduce him to an individual who would be more or less his boss and from whom he would take orders. It was CHAMBERS' definite recollection from the conversation he had with PETERS at this time that BYKOV would not only be his superior but was also the superior of PETERS. CHAMBERS declared that at the time he was introduced to BYKOV near St. Patricks Cathedral the latter was identified to him by J. PETERS only as "PETER"; that PETERS left them shortly after the introduction and thereafter CHAMBERS and BYKOV took several street cars and busses, apparently in a series of routine maneuvers to elude any possible surveillance.

On the occasion of this first meeting with BYKOV, the latter, although he apparently knew a great deal of CHAMBERS' background, interrogated him at length concerning his, CHAMBERS', political beliefs and other background material. "PETER", of course, did not in any way indicate his identity, his place of residence or any other address where CHAMBERS might get in touch with him. There was, however, an arrangement made at this time as to the date and location of the next meeting. It was CHAMBERS' recollection that there were a series of meetings following the first one which took place principally in movie houses throughout uptown New York. At one of these meetings BYKOV arranged for a "reserve" or emergency meeting place in the event ordinary arrangements were not feasible. CHAMBERS declared that the Lane Theater on 145th Street was the place designated for these reserve or emergency meetings and that if it was necessary to use this reserve or emergency meeting place, the time for such meeting would always be at 8:00 P.M. The Manhattan Telephone Directory lists a Lane Theater at 460 West 181st Street. However, it is not known whether the latter theater is the one described by CHAMBERS.

Although BYKOV did not indicate to CHAMBERS anything about his background, the latter gathered from the various conversations with BYKOV that BYKOV had been in the Russian Secret Police or had been a prosecutor for the Russian Government. Further, that BYKOV probably from 1932 to 1934 was engaged in a Russian apparatus in connection with the Communist Party in Europe, and that BYKOV probably arrived in the United States in late 1935 or early 1936.

NY 65-14920

Continuing, CHAMBERS advised that the great majority of his meetings with BYKOV took place in New York City, but that there were infrequent meetings also in Washington, D.C. CHAMBERS advised that he started to turn over microfilms to BYKOV probably in the early spring of 1937 and met him thereafter approximately once each week up until early in 1938 and probably one month prior to his break with the apparatus in April of that year. CHAMBERS related that upon instructions from either J. PETERS or BYKOV, he compiled some biographical data on the individuals who were supplying him with government documents.

CHAMBERS stated that in addition to the prearranged meetings between himself and BYKOV, he recalled that he had furnished BYKOV with his, CHAMBERS', telephone number in Baltimore, Maryland. CHAMBERS could not recall definitely whether BYKOV had ever contacted him telephonically but was of the opinion that he had done so.

CHAMBERS stated he recalled that BYKOV was introduced by CHAMBERS to the following individuals under the circumstances set out below:

B CHAMBERS related that probably sometime in 1937 he accompanied BYKOV to a movie theater in Brooklyn, New York, where he introduced BYKOV to HENRY HILL COLLINS, JR.; that after the introduction they left the movie theater, walked for quite a few blocks to a restaurant that was located in the vicinity of the YMCA building near the Atlantic Avenue Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad. (It is to be noted that there is a YMCA branch at 55 Hanson Place which is very close to the Atlantic Avenue Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad Station in Brooklyn.) CHAMBERS declared that after having supper in this restaurant, they walked towards the Brooklyn Bridge and at the approach of the bridge COLLINS left their company and subsequently BYKOV and CHAMBERS walked across the bridge to Manhattan. E

CHAMBERS declared that he recalls introducing BYKOV to A. GEORGE SILVERMAN sometime in 1937 in Washington, D.C. It was CHAMBERS' recollection that he drove in SILVERMAN'S car to a designated place in Washington, D.C., where they picked up BYKOV and proceeded to a restaurant located on Connecticut Avenue just above the Rock Creek Park Bridge. CHAMBERS further recalled that the restaurant itself was not on the ground floor but was "one flight up". Following dinner, CHAMBERS, SILVERMAN and BYKOV drove to another location in Washington, D.C., where they picked up HARRY DEXTER WHITE and after driving around the city for a short time got out of the car and walked for some period of time, after which WHITE and SILVERMAN parted company with BYKOV and CHAMBERS.

With respect to the time he introduced BYKOV to ALGER HISS, CHAMBERS could not supply any details thereof in addition to his description of the meeting as set out in his signed statement furnished to Baltimore Agents on December 3, 1948.

Continue - As mentioned above, BYKOV was initially introduced to CHAMBERS as "PETER", and throughout their entire association, CHAMBERS never learned his true identity; it was on the occasion of a conversation between CHAMBERS and the late General WALTER KRIVITSKY in the home of ISAAC DON LEVINE that CHAMBERS learned for the first time that "PETER" was in fact Colonel BORIS BYKOV. CHAMBERS explained that after his break from the Communist Party, which occurred to the best of his recollection in the second week of April, 1938, he conversed from time to time with LEVINE, that he knew of General KRIVITSKY only by reputation and that finally in the latter part of 1938, LEVINE arranged a meeting at his home between CHAMBERS and KRIVITSKY. They discussed their general experiences and activities at great length, sitting up all night and continuing their conversation until approximately noon on the following day and it was in this manner that CHAMBERS learned that "PETER" was BYKOV.

KRIVITSKY stated that BYKOV came from the slums of Odessa; that while KRIVITSKY was in the Communist Party underground in Rome, BYKOV was sent to that city to assist him. However, BYKOV learned that he was being tailed by the Italian Secret Police and although several attempts were made on the part of BYKOV to contact KRIVITSKY, no meetings were ever consummated because of BYKOV'S fear of uncovering KRIVITSKY. The latter shortly thereafter succeeded in having BYKOV recalled to Russia.

The following description of BYKOV was obtained from CHAMBERS:

Age	Late 40s (in 1936)
Height	5' 7"
Hair	Reddish (thinning)
Eyes	Reddish brown, eyelashes reddish
Complexion	Ruddy
Build	Medium
Characteristics	Clean-shaven, pointed nose (most prominent characteristic), well-proportioned, neat dresser, wore hard-worsted, expensive but conservative suits, always wore a hat, was quick in his movements, probably wore reading glasses, and spoke German with heavy Yiddish accent.
Peculiarity	Invaribly carried right hand inside jacket or overcoat.

NY 65-14920

A review of the files of the New York Division reflects that BORIS BYKOV, with aliases, Colonel BYKOV, BORRIS BYKOV, and BORRIS HERTZ, was reported by various persons to have been in charge of Soviet Military Intelligence in the United States since 1936. This allegation has been made by the widow of General KRIVITSKY and the same information has come from various confidential sources. Investigation was never able, however, definitely to identity and locate this individual and it is pointed out that in the book published by General KRIVITSKY entitled, "In STALIN'S Secret Service", brief mention is made by KRIVITSKY of BYKOV.

Set out hereinafter is a signed statement executed by subject HENRY WADLEIGH dated December 10, 1948. It is pointed out that WADLEIGH presently recalls that in 1937 at one of his meetings with CHAMBERS, the latter introduced him to an individual whose physical description resembles BYKOV'S in many respects. WADLEIGH, however, stated definitely that this person's right arm or most of it was missing. Subsequent conversations with CHAMBERS in an effort to identity this person resulted in CHAMBERS' recalling that BYKOV invaribly carried his right hand inside his jacket or overcoat and inasmuch as WADLEIGH states CHAMBERS was present when he met this unknown individual, it appears definitely to have been BYKOV and CHAMBERS said there was no possibility in his mind that it could have been anyone else.

RE: UNKNOWN SUBJECT, alias "BERNIE"

Reference is made to the signed statement executed by subject FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO on December 13, 1948, particularly that portion thereof in which RENO states that he was introduced to CHAMBERS in early 1937 by an individual named "BERNIE" and this meeting took place in Philadelphia. A photograph of DAVID CARPENTER was exhibited to RENO. However, he failed to identify this individual as "BERNIE" and insisted throughout questioning that he knew the man only as "BERNIE". It is to be pointed out that investigation to date has failed to establish that RENO was, in fact, acquainted with DAVID CARPENTER. In an effort to ascertain the identity of "BERNIE", CHAMBERS was reinterviewed concerning the circumstances surrounding his meeting RENO and he expressed the definite opinion that "BERNIE" could only be DAVID CARPENTER.

RE: UNKNOWN SUBJECT, alias "FELIX"

CHAMBERS was requestioned in an effort to obtain further details regarding the photographer "FELIX", whom he described in his signed statement dated December 3, 1948. At this time there were exhibited to CHAMBERS twenty large photographs furnished by the Baltimore Division of the immediate area which CHAMBERS had described as the locale of "FELIX'S" residence in Baltimore. After perusal of these photographs, CHAMBERS concluded that photograph bearing the penciled notation #8 and showing the intersection of Konig Street and Linden Avenue and the photograph bearing the penciled notation #9 and showing the intersection of Konig Street and Brookfield Avenue were, in his opinion, the most likely locations of "FELIX'S" residence. It is to be noted that in his signed statement dated December 8, 1948, CHAMBERS indicated that a photograph displayed to him "appeared" to be that of "FELIX". This was, in fact, a photograph of SAMUEL J. PELOWITZ and CHAMBERS commented at this time that he could not recall "FELIX" as having worn glasses and stated the individual in the photograph appeared heavier than "FELIX".

On December 10, 1948, it was arranged for CHAMBERS to interview PELOWITZ, who appeared that day as a witness before the Grand Jury hearing in instant matter and CHAMBERS declared definitely that PELOWITZ was not "FELIX" inasmuch as "FELIX" was heavier and definitely was not Jewish while PELOWITZ is Jewish.

CHAMBERS furnished the following description of "FELIX":

Age	Late 20s or early 30s (in 1937)
Height	5' 7½"
Weight	165 to 170
Characteristics	Round, baby face, clean-shaven, no glasses, neat dresser, wore black overcoat and gray hat, native-born of Baltic origin, spoke English
Peculiarity	CHAMBERS called him "Baby Face".

CHAMBERS recalled that "FELIX" drove a Plymouth, Ford or Chevrolet, which was probably a black sedan, and had Maryland plates. CHAMBERS stated that he had never met "FELIX'S" wife but believed that he had no children. With respect to any cameras owned by FELIX, it was CHAMBERS' recollection that "FELIX" did have a Leica camera and there was some possibility that CHAMBERS had given this camera to "FELIX".

RE: ALGER HISS

On December 15, 1948, CHAMBERS was reinterviewed at the request of MR. DONEGAN for the purpose of ascertaining exactly from him his knowledge, if any, of the typewriter in the HISS household together with related facts concerning the transmission of documents by HISS to CHAMBERS. CHAMBERS declared that he had never seen PRISCILLA HISS operate a typewriter, that his "understanding" that she was making typewritten copies of State Department documents for transmission to CHAMBERS came from both HISS and his wife and that he recalls no direct statement by either as to this copying. CHAMBERS further declared that he is "quite sure" he never had occasion to borrow a typewriter from either ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS and that it is his present recollection that he did not own a typewriter during the period he was associating with HISS and his wife. He did point out, however, that there was in his possession for part of that time a typewriter which he had been given, probably by J. PETER for use in connection with his apparatus work. He was positive this machine was a portable and stated it might have been a Remington. He said he recalled that it was a second hand machine; that BYKOV might have furnished it to him but he believed it came from J. PETER and that he disposed of this machine by abandoning it in a public elevator or some public conveyance; date and place not recalled. He believed that he disposed of the machine after his break from the party in April, 1938 but said this was only a conclusion and not a definite recollection. CHAMBERS was also able to recall that he had owned a Remington portable in 1930 and perhaps 1931 and that he used it in connection with the translating work he was doing at that time but stated he disposed of it shortly after the latter year.

With respect to his meetings with ALGER HISS, CHAMBERS declared that he could best approximate the dates of various meetings by recalling that his last conversation with HISS prior to the HCUA hearings in 1948, occurred in December, 1938, at which time he saw HISS at the latter's residence on Volta Place in Washington and pleaded with HISS to break with the party as he had done eight months previously. CHAMBERS explained he fixed the date of this final meeting because he remembers HISS asking him what kind of a Christmas his family was going to have and also giving him a small wooden rolling pin as a Christmas gift for CHAMBERS' daughter. It is CHAMBERS' best recollection that HISS moved into the Volta Place residence in early Spring of 1938 and although he has no definite recollection of having met HISS there prior to the final meeting, he feels he must have gone to see HISS at the Volta Place residence judging this on the basis of his wife's recollection. He said meetings with HISS in 1937 were frequent and usually at the 30th Street house which HISS was occupying at that time. In explaining the precise method employed by himself and HISS with respect to the documentary material being furnished him by HISS, CHAMBERS stated that he would see HISS usually at the end of the week and pick up from him whatever material he had obtained during the week. It was the practice of HISS to extract each day certain material from the State Department, take it to his home where it would be copied on the typewriter and HISS would return the original document the next day. CHAMBERS then would take the typewritten copies of such material and turn them over to CARPENTER who would photograph this material and then CHAMBERS would turn over the microfilm to BYKOV and would destroy the typewritten material.

In connection with the five small sheets containing the handwriting of ALGER HISS, CHAMBERS explained that at the time he would make his weekly visit to HISS' home, some material might be in the form of handwritten notes which had not yet been copied on the typewriter and that rather than wait for this material to be typed, he would take these pencilled notations together with the typewritten material.

With respect to his transmitting to BYKOV this documentary material on film, CHAMBERS stated that to the best of his present recollection, all written information he gave BYKOV was on film and never the original or typed documents.

With respect to his reason for having in his possession in November, 1948, sixty-five typewritten sheets furnished him by ALGER HISS, CHAMBERS explained that they were the latest documents given him by HISS and that shortly prior to the time he began receiving this particular group of documents, he had already made up his mind to break with the party and decided to retain them for further use in the event it became necessary to have documentary proof that in fact not only ALGER HISS but the Communist Party were involved in espionage activities against the USA. MR. CHAMBERS observed that in all probability the sixty-five sheets of typewritten material had been photographed in the usual manner and the film delivered by him to BYKOV.

NY 65-14920

With respect to the rolls of microfilm that were seized by the HCUA on December 2, 1948, at the CHAMBERS' farm, CHAMBERS explained that in all probability this was material that he had photographed but had received the microfilm at about the time he had definitely decided to make his break with the party and for that reason had not turned them over to BYKOV.

RE: GRACE HUTCHINS

On December 15, 1948, CHAMBERS made a statement to the press indicating that in 1938 his life had been threatened by GRACE HUTCHINS commenting that the HUTCHINS woman had more or less agreed to protect CHAMBERS' wife and two children if CHAMBERS would give himself up. On December 17, 1948, T.J. DONEGAN advised this office that he had received a telephone call from RUBIN B. SHEMITZ, an attorney, 276 Fifth Avenue, New York City, who is the brother of CHAMBERS' wife. According to MR. DONEGAN SHEMITZ telephonically communicated with WILLIAM McNULTY of the law firm of MINTON and McNULTY, who are the present attorneys of MR. CHAMBERS, and informed McNULTY that he had in his possession two notes in connection with the recent publicity concerning CHAMBERS' life having been threatened by GRACE HUTCHINS. McNULTY had apparently advised SHEMITZ to turn these papers over to Government officials. On the evening of December 17th, at the request of MR. DONEGAN, SA FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN and THOMAS G. SPENCER were present in MR. DONEGAN'S office when SHEMITZ related the following story. SHEMITZ advised that he has only seen WHITTAKER CHAMBERS on about ten occasions subsequent to the latter's marriage to SHEMITZ'S sister; that on one of these occasions, which was sometime in 1938, CHAMBERS informed SHEMITZ that he was breaking with the Communist Party and gave definite indication that he, CHAMBERS, was in fear of his life. Sometime thereafter an unknown woman appeared at SHEMITZ'S law office and on finding that SHEMITZ was not there left the following handwritten note: "Thursday, May 19, 1938, Dear MR. SHEMITZ: There is a very important message for your sister. If she or her husband will call either STEVE or me we have some important memos for them. Signed GRACE, Labor Research Association, 80 East 11th Street, STuyvesant 9-1042."

Upon SHEMITZ return to his office he made a telephone call to the previously mentioned number and talked to a woman whom he described as having a very "intellectual and cultured voice", who stated that if SHEMITZ would inform her of the whereabouts of CHAMBERS, she would see to it that CHAMBERS' wife and two children would have no harm done to them. Although MR. SHEMITZ'S recollection is not clear on this telephone conversation, he did recall quite specifically that the woman indicated it was "a matter of life and death". During this telephone conversation, an appointment was made for this woman to visit SHEMITZ in the latter's office. SHEMITZ stated that upon a review of his diary for May, 1938, he found a notation "4:40 P.M. MISS STEVEN or MISS STEVENS." He recalled that this MISS STEVEN talked to him and reiterated the conversation she had had with SHEMITZ over the telephone earlier that day. SHEMITZ stated that although he does not even have a hazy recollection of the woman's description, he is positive she is the same woman who talked to him over the telephone, because he stated he recognized the very cultured and refined voice. At the conclusion of this conversation, SHEMITZ requested this person to leave a written note that he could turn over to MR. CHAMBERS. She then wrote the following on a torn slip of paper: "GRACE and her friend STEVE must get in touch with you immediately." There also appears on this note other handwritten notations which SHEMITZ explained as follows: The notation 2130W Lynbrook was the telephone number of CHAMBERS' mother in Lynbrook, Long Island and the notation PIKESVILLE, Maryland 844F-12 operator 91 was the telephone number of CHAMBERS' residence in Maryland and that in all probability he made both notations and had called both telephone numbers that day in an effort to contact CHAMBERS. He recalled however, that he was unsuccessful in reaching him on that day. Approximately one month later SHEMITZ met CHAMBERS quite by accident on the street near SHEMITZ'S law office and at that time verbally informed him of the telephone call and the contents of the two notes mentioned above. SHEMITZ was quite definite in his recollection that CHAMBERS did not, at least outwardly, place any importance whatsoever to the information supplied by SHEMITZ at this time.

MISCELLANEOUS

There was exhibited to CHAMBERS a photograph of FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO made available by the Baltimore Division. He identified this photograph as the individual whom he described in his signed statement as "Vincent" RENO. Later on the 14th floor of the United States Court House where instant matter is being presented to the grand jury, CHAMBERS observed both FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO and WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN and later informed agents they were the individuals whom he had described. There was also exhibited to CHAMBERS a photograph of ABRAHAM GLASSER, formerly an attorney in the United States Department of Justice in Washington. GLASSER, according to ARMAND LABIS FELDMAN, subject of a prior espionage investigation by this Bureau, furnished FELDMAN documentary material from the Department of Justice while employed there. CHAMBERS was unable to effect an identification of GLASSER.

INTERVIEWS OF HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH

Reference is made to the report of SA LAMBERT G. ZANDER dated December 7, 1948, at Washington, D.C. in which was set out a signed statement executed by WADLEIGH on December 6, 1948. On December 8, 1948, SA THOMAS G. SPENCER and the writer brought WADLEIGH to the New York Office, it being noted he was in the court house on that day in response to a grand jury subpoena in instant case, and attempted to interview him. He immediately declared that since being questioned by agents of the Washington Field Division, he had consulted with HERMAN GREENBERG, an attorney with offices at 1201 K Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C. and had been advised by GREENBERG not to say anything further to anyone concerning his activities. WADLEIGH indicated a desire to be cooperative but said he felt obligated to follow his counsel's advice. There was exhibited to him a photograph of DAVID CARPENTER, with aliases, in an effort to determine if CARPENTER is identical with HAROLD WILSON. WADLEIGH viewed the photograph but refused to make any comment. It was obvious, however, to interviewing agent that the photograph of CARPENTER was in fact identical with the person known to WADLEIGH as HAROLD WILSON.

On December 9, 1948, information was received from the Bureau that WADLEIGH that day had conferred with ALEXANDER M. CAMPBELL, Assistant Attorney

General in charge of the Criminal Division and had indicated his desire to make a complete disclosure in this case. Accordingly, on December 10, 1948, he was interviewed by SA SPENCER and FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN and he stated that he was no longer represented by HERMAN GREENBERG that he was attempting to obtain new legal counsel in New York City. He related that he had been advised to consult with RAYMOND L. WISE, an attorney at 80 Broad Street and that subsequent to conferring with that attorney he would communicate with agents O'BRIEN or SPENCER. On the evening of December 10, 1948, MR. WISE telephonically communicated with Agent SPENCER and advised that he had heard WADLEIGH'S complete story and WADLEIGH had given him a "token retainer" and that he had advised WADLEIGH in view of the partial disclosure he made he should make a whole and complete disclosure to the federal authorities and answer any questions put to him in the event he was again subpoenaed before the Grand Jury. On December 10, 1948, WADLEIGH executed a signed statement which is quoted hereinbelow. On December 14, 1948, WADLEIGH was again interviewed in the New York Office and he executed an additional signed statement which is quoted hereinbelow. On December 17, 1948, WADLEIGH, who was in the United States Court House in response to a subpoena before the Federal Grand Jury, voluntarily appeared at the New York Office and related B that during his interrogation before the Federal Grand Jury he had been asked by one of the Grand Jurors whether he had ever furnished any military information to CHAMBERS, CARPENTER or any of his other contacts. WADLEIGH related that at the time the question was asked of him he did not recall having furnished any information but after thinking the matter over for some period of time, is presently aware of the fact that sometime in 1937, a cablegram from Ambassador BULLITT came to his attention, which stated in substance that during a conversation between BULLITT and the German Ambassador, who was intoxicated at the time, the German Ambassador related that the Germans were helping the Russians in the construction of submarines and were sending them various component parts particularly periscopes. WADLEIGH recalled verbally transmitting this information to CARPENTER who when he heard it stated that it was "hot information" and that he had given expedite attention to the transmittal of this information to his superiors. E

It is to be noted that in the original statement of WADLEIGH on December 10, 1948, he made the statement that "A few weeks subsequent to this he, (CHAMBERS) called at my office and insisted upon my meeting him immediately in Jackson Place where he said he was starving and asked me for $10. I did not know whether to regard this as blackmail.(I gave him $20)." Upon reading this statement, WADLEIGH remarked that this was "more or less hitting under the belt" and changed it to read as stated in his signed statement of December 10, 1948.

The following signed statement was furnished by HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH:

"New York, New York
December 10, 1948

"I, HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH, make the following statement to Thomas G. Spencer and Francis J. Gallant, whom I know to be Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statement I may make can be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made to me in connection with this statement. I have been advised that I have a right to counsel.

"On December 6, 1948, I made a voluntary statement to Special Agents Maurice A. Taylor and Lambert G. Zander in Washington, D.C., in the offices of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. In connection with this statement, I now desire to make some changes and additions. In my statement of December 6th, I related that I first met HAROLD WILSON as a result of a chance conversation I had with this individual on a railroad coach going from New York to Washington. I now wish to state that this was not the manner in which I met Mr. WILSON.

"By way of background, I was a member of the Socialist Party in Washington, D.C. in 1931 or 1932, or both, and while a member of this organization I became acquainted with ELEANOR NELSON, who was also a member of the Socialist Party. Some time subsequent thereto there was organized in Washington the Tenants League, which organization assisted persons who had been evicted from their residences. ELEANOR NELSON was the head of the Tenants League and I was quite active in the work of this organization. It is my recollection that this league was dissolved probably in 1933; however, I ceased to become active in its work sometime prior to its dissolution.

"I continued to be on friendly terms with ELEANOR NELSON and saw her occasionally during which we had conversations. I observed from these conversations that Miss NELSON was going further to the left and I, myself, was inclined in that direction, (for reasons indicated in my statement of December 6th.) Sometime probably in late 1934 or 1935, I gathered from my association with Miss NELSON that she had joined the Communist Party movement. Sometime in the latter part of 1935, I informed Miss NELSON that I would like to collaborate with the Communist Party and wanted to be informed if there was anything useful that I could do.

"Sometime after this conversation Miss NELSON asked me for samples of the work I was engaged in. I would like to state that at this time I was employed in the Department of Agriculture and had access to certain information concerning economic conditions in foreign countries. It is my recollection that I furnished Miss NELSON with a copy of a memorandum containing some economic analyses which I had prepared.

"Sometime later she informed me that I could be useful by supplying economic information on Germany and Japan. She informed me that I would have one contact and one only in this work.

"Sometime during the winter of 1935-1936, Miss NELSON and I went to a basement coffee shop in one of the hotels, probably the Washington Hotel, in downtown Washington, where we met an individual who was introduced to me as 'HAROLD'. Miss NELSON, who made the introduction, introduced me by my full name. During the course of the conversation had at this time, I probably related in some detail the type of work I was engaged in and the type of information I might be able to obtain. At the conclusion of the first meeting I asked HAROLD for a full name, and after some hesitation, he gave me the name HAROLD WILSON.

"It is my present recollection that I had several subsequent meetings with HAROLD prior to the time that I began to supply him with any documents. I also recall that I either gave, or WILSON already knew my home telephone number; however, I had no means of contacting WILSON other than by informing Miss NELSON that I was desirous of seeing WILSON. E

"The above Agents have exhibited to me a photograph and I have identified the individual appearing on this photograph as the HAROLD WILSON that I knew in Washington; however, I have since learned that this individual is actually DAVID CARPENTER. I would also like to relate that during my association with CARPENTER, he informed me that his real name was a German name.

"While I was in the Department of Agriculture I furnished CARPENTER with some scraps of information.

"In March, 1936, as I have explained in my statement of December 6th, I transferred my employment from the Department of Agriculture to the Department of State. I was in the Division of Trade Agreements, where

"I received in the normal routine of business numerous reports on economic conditions in foreign countries. During my conversations with CARPENTER he stressed the fact that he was desirous of obtaining information concerning economic conditions in Germany and Japan that came to my attention. I have explained in my statement of December 6th, the routine I followed in obtaining and delivering documents to CARPENTER.

"I have been asked to estimate the number of documents that I would hand over to CARPENTER each week; however, I am unable to make an accurate statement as to this, but would say that probably there were about ten or less documents which I would transmit to CARPENTER on these occasions. I wish to state that there were periods during my association with CARPENTER, from the winter of 1935-1936 until the spring of 1938, when I would not meet and turn over to CARPENTER material on a weekly basis.

"Sometime in the latter part of 1936 or early part of 1937, CARPENTER informed me that we were going to take a trip to Baltimore to meet an individual who was in 'The Apparatus'. I recall meeting CARPENTER at the Union Station one evening. We took a train to Baltimore and went to a restaurant, the location of which I cannot recall, and met an individual who was introduced to me as KARL or CARL and who I subsequently have identified as being WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. From the conversation that ensued at this meeting, I gained the definite impression that CHAMBERS was CARPENTER'S superior and the purpose of the visit was for CHAMBERS to more or less look me over.

"I recall that the conversation at this meeting was mostly along economic and political lines. That would be true of practically all the conversations I had with CARPENTER and with CHAMBERS.

"About a month or two after the above mentioned meeting with CHAMBERS, I accompanied CARPENTER to Philadelphia, where we went to a hotel, as I recall, met CHAMBERS in the lobby, and then went to a restaurant where we had a rather lengthy conversation. This again was principally along economic and political lines.

"Some of the details about these meetings may not be strictly accurate, since my recollection of them is rather hazy.

"My association with CARPENTER continued, as above stated, until March, 1938. At some time in 1937, however, CHAMBERS, who knew my full name and telephone number, began to meet me in Washington. I was still meeting CARPENTER in the meantime and handing over to him documents. However, CHAMBERS began to see me more frequently, and I recall that probably on a few occasions I turned over documents to him, although it was my regular procedure to hand all documents over to CARPENTER.

"In March, 1938, I was sent on a mission by the State Department to Turkey. I recall that during the last few months, for several weeks prior to my departure in March, there was a distinct lull in my business of handing over documents to CHAMBERS or CARPENTER. As I have explained in my statement of December 6th, I did not turn over any documents to CHAMBERS or CARPENTER or any other unauthorized person subsequent to my departure for Turkey in March, 1938.

"I returned from Turkey on December 31, 1938. Shortly thereafter CHAMBERS telephoned me at the State Department or my home and arranged a meeting for lunch or dinner in a restaurant in Washington. At that meeting, he informed me that he had 'deserted'. He went into the reasons at some length. The authorities in Moscow, he said, had become convinced that he was a Trotskyist and had recalled him. He assumed this meant death and decided not to go.

"A few weeks subsequent to this, he called me at my office and insisted upon my meeting him immediately in Jackson Place. When I met him, he asked for a small loan which I gave him. I have not met him since.

"I now recall that late in 1937 at one of my meetings with CHAMBERS, he introduced me to an individual who was probably in his middle 40's, of medium height and rather stocky build and whose right arm, or most of it was missing. He had a pointed nose and perhaps reddish or reddish-brown hair. CHAMBERS characterized this individual as the boss of the outfit. This individual I recall spoke with an accent, probably Russian. This character talked to me in a rather severe fatherly manner. He told me that the people in Moscow thought that I must be in a position to deliver much more than I had actually delivered.

"After my return from Turkey, CHAMBERS referred, I believe, to this same person and told me he was a fugitive with whom he spent many a night debating on what the two of them might do and where they might go. I mentioned this to ELEANOR NELSON, who told me that such a person did not exist and that I must have dreamt the whole episode.

"In conclusion, I would like to make the definite statement that the only persons who were associated with me in connection with my abstraction of documents from Government offices and transmittal to unauthorized persons were the following: HAROLD WILSON, who I now know to be DAVID CARPENTER, and CARL, who I now know to be WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, In connection with ELEANOR NELSON, I would like to state that insofar as my operations in connection with documents were concerned, she merely was the person who introduced me to DAVID CARPENTER and whom I used on occasions as a means of communicating with CARPENTER.

"I have read the above statement consisting of four pages and find it to be correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

The following signed statement was furnished by HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH:

"New York, New York
December 14, 1948

"I, HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH, made the following statement to Thomas G. Spencer and Francis D. O'Brien, whom I know to be Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statement I may make can be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made to me in connection with this statement. I have been advised that I have a right to counsel.

"The following information supplements that contained in my statements of December 6th and 10th, 1948 made to agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. There has been exhibited to me a group of photographs that were contained on microfilm, as well as a separate group of photographs which appear to be, in the main, excerpts from cablegrams from the Department of State, as well as five handwritten notations. I have examined these photographs and my comments are set forth hereinafter.

"Before discussing any particular items in this collection of documents, I whish to state that my recollections as to particular documents which I received in late 1937 and early 1938 are no clearer than one would expect after such a long lapse of time. I can, however, remember in a general way what types of material I received.

"DOCUMENTS 1 to 48

"All this material relates to conversations between the State Department and the German Ambassador on the possibility of breaking the impasse which existed in trade relations between the United States and Germany at that time. Subject to a more thorough and complete examination, this is the only part of the collection that evokes any recollections at all in my mind, except the names of persons in the State Department whom I knew, and the names of officers referred to in some of the other documents.

"I recall clearly that during the time that I was in the Trade

NY 65-14920

"Agreements Division until my trip to Turkey, my colleague, Mr. DARLINGTON, made repeated and, so it seemed to me at the time, rather hopeless attempts to cut the gordian knot on trade relations with Germany. When I first came into the State Department he had prepared, I believe in collaboration with Mr. PASVOLSKY, some documents or document at least as lengthy as the later material contained in the microfilm collection. I was shown that earlier material and asked to comment upon it.

"As to the later material which is contained in this collection, I have no such recollection. It seems to me probable that this material was not shown to me, although in my own opinion I was as competent as anyone in the State Department to give advice on it. I would not make so conceited a remark except that I feel in this connection I must be perfectly frank. It is possible, though I think improbable, that I did see the material and paid little attention to it because I was convinced at the time that nothing would come of it, and in fact, nothing did. That might account for my failure to recollect having seen the material.

"If this material had been in my possession for any considerable length of time I would, no doubt, have informed either CARPENTER (HAROLD WILSON) or CHAMBERS (CARL), that I was ready to pass it to them, or I might have simply brought it with me on one of the appointed street corner meetings. However, during the last few months, or several weeks before my departure for Turkey, in March 1938, neither HAROLD nor CARL asked me to give them any documents. I think it most probable that if I did see this material it came to me during that period of inactivity.

"OTHER MATERIAL IN THE COLLECTION

"In a preliminary examination of this material I find that most of it consists of documents of a kind that I never saw. Turning over the sheets put before me I see on sheet after sheet documents, or copies of, or references to documents which I can tell at a momentary glance never came into my possession. If any of these had come into my possession I would have regarded them as an unusually rare find and would remember it to this day.

"AMENDMENT TO MY STATEMENT OF DECEMBER 6th

"In my statement of December 6, 1948 I said, referring to events immediately following the occasion on which CHAMBERS informed me that he had

Kisseloff-6662

NY 65-14920

'deserted' early in 1939:

"'Shortly afterwards 'HAROLD' met me and I told him of my conversation with 'CARL'. 'HAROLD' told me I would have to lay low for a considerable period.'

"On further refreshing of my memory I am almost sure that HAROLD was not available at that time and my conversation about CHAMBERS' desertion was with ELEANOR NELSON.

"Furthermore, I now recollect that I had, perhaps, three or four conversations with Miss NELSON on that subject. In my statement of December 10th I mentioned that CHAMBERS had contacted me and asked for a small loan. I was afraid that CHAMBERS would repeat these requests and it occurred to me that, having had other sources beside myself, he might be trying to live on blackmail, collecting a little from each one. I mentioned this to Miss NELSON, being in a state of great tension and alarm when I did so. Miss NELSON said she would look into the matter and see what could be done about it, and would in any case try to collect from the apparatus the $20 to compensate me for what I had paid CHAMBERS.

"I saw Miss NELSON again, probably several days later. She told me that none of the other sources had been shaken down by CHAMBERS. I thought I detected a slight note of suspicion on her part, indicating a possible thought that my being selected as the only source of a loan by CHAMBERS might reflect on my reliability. She said that she had been unable to locate any of the higher-ups in the apparatus and she thought they must have disappeared intentionally.

"I thought that if this was the case it would be safer for me not to have any further meetings with Miss NELSON and, to the best of my recollection, that was my last meeting with her, except for a coincidental meeting described in a later paragraph of this statement.

"At one of these meetings with Miss NELSON immediately following my apprisal of CHAMBERS defection, I told Miss NELSON that if any attempt were made to murder CHAMBERS I wanted to have no part in it. She replied that no such attempt was contemplated.

"In my statement of December 6th I mentioned a meeting between CARPENTER (HAROLD) and myself, probably sometime in the Winter of 1939-40. I now recall that at this meeting I asked CARPENTER some questions concerning CHAMBERS. Since he was now out of the apparatus I thought perhaps CARPENTER would tell me CHAMBERS' nationality, a question which had greatly excited my curiosity for a long time. CARPENTER told me that he was American and that his family had been in this country for generations. I asked him where CHAMBERS got his peculiar accent. CARPENTER replied that he must have cultivated it. CARPENTER also informed that CHAMBERS was now working for a magazine. He did not say what magazine.)

B "My last meeting with ELEANOR NELSON took place on the steps of the State Department building, shortly after my marriage on February 15, 1941. When I caught sight of her I greeted her and said jokingly, 'Why Eleanor, what are YOU doing here'. She blushed deeply and muttered something about seeing the Budget Bureau in connection with her union activities. The Budget Bureau at that time had offices in the State Department building. I am sure that she was engaged at that moment in legitimate union activities, since it would be an extreme departure from the usual routine of espionage procedure for anyone in her position in the apparatus to be on the steps of the State Department at any time in connection with espionage activities. I realized when she showed embarrassment that my joke was rather uncalled for. I then informed her that I had recently been married. She asked 'Are you happy?'. I replied 'yes'. She said she was glad. We said goodby. I have not seen her since then until she appeared at the Grand Jury hearings yesterday.

"During my examination by the Grand Jury on Saturday, December 11th, one of the jurors asked me if I was holding in my possession any documents or other objects which might be of interest in connection with the case. I said no. Since then it has come to my recollection that I possess a rug which was given to me as a New Year's present. I believe in 1936-37. It is an 8 X 12 Bokhara rug. I understand it was worth two or three hundred dollars at the time it was given to me and may now be worth $400. I was given to understand that the rug was presented to me by the authorities in Moscow in appreciation of my collaboration. In 1939, when I moved from the house which I was renting on Quincy Street, Chevy Chase, Maryland, I had this rug stored by NESHAN G. HINTLIAN, Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D.C., a rug dealer. It has never been taken out of storage. E

"It is my recollection that the rug was delivered to me by CARPENTER, but this recollection is not a certainty. To the best of my recollection it was CARPENTER who told me that the rug was a New Year's present. I recall

"definitely that the rug was delivered to me in my own car, and by inferential reconstruction of the event I think CARPENTER must have borrowed my car in order to do it.

"When the Grand Jury questioned me on December 11th one of the jurors asked me if I possess a typewriter and if I had ever loaned it to Mrs. HISS. I hereby reaffirm the statement I made on that occasion that I never loaned a typewriter to Mrs. HISS, and I add that I never loaned a typewriter to Mr. HISS. However, it is possible, though I think not very probable, that I may have loaned a typewriter to CARPENTER.

"Immediately after the hearing I informed Mr. ALEXANDER CAMPBELL that I might have loaned the typewriter to CARPENTER. I also gave him the information that the typewriter in question was sold to Miss MARGARET HARDY, either shortly before or after her marriage to Mr. PITTMAN B. POTTER. I can place the approximate date of the sale of the typewriter by the fact that I sold it because my wife, whom I had just married or was about to marry, possessed a portable typewriter and I saw no need at that time for having more than one typewriter in the family. The date of my marriage was February 15, 1941.

"The typewriter was purchased in London in 1928 or 1929. It was a Remington Portable assembled, as I was informed by the salesman, in England from American parts. It had pounds, shillings and pence on the keys instead of dollars and cents.

"I have read this statement consisting of four pages and find it true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

RE: FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO

On December 13, 1948, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO was interviewed at the New York Office by Special Agents ROBERT F. X. O'KEEFE and FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had previously alleged that an individual by the name of RENO, who was formerly a member of the Communist Party and had used the name of LANCE CLARK in the Communist Party, had furnished him, CHAMBERS, confidential information while RENO was employed by the United States Government at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Maryland.

During the interview above mentioned at the New York Office, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO furnished the following signed statement. Herein are set forth his contacts with the individual known to him as CARL and whom he identified from a photo as WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. Further set forth in the statement are his background in the Communist Party, his contacts therein and the nature of his employment at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

Kisseloff-6666

NY 65-14920

The following signed statement was furnished by FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO:

"New York, New York
December 13, 1948

"I, Franklin Victor Reno make the following statement to Robert F. X. O'Keefe and Francis D. O'Brien whom I know to be special agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statement that I make may be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made to me in connection with this statement. I have been advised that I have a right to counsel.

"I was born on May 14, 1911 in Salt Lake City, Utah. I graduated from the University of Colorado in 1932 with a degree of A. B., magna cum laude. In 1935 I received a Master of Arts Degree in Astronomy from the University of Virginia. While at the University of Virginia I did a considerable amount of reading in Socialism and Communism and because of my thinking at this time I became a member of the Communist Party under the name of Lance Clark. I signed an application under the name of Lance Clark and may or may not have received a card in the Communist Party. I also may have used other names in the Communist Party, the other names I do not recall.

"In the early summer of 1935 I went to Washington, D. C. and contacted Ray Warner, who at that time was the Party organizer for the Communist Party in Washington, D. C. I also became acquainted with Sidney Shosteck, Organizational Secretary. Either Warner or Shosteck approached me to engage in anti-military work, which work constituted discussing with the members the inequality to which they were subjected, and it was intended by so doing to recruit people in the armed forces to become members of the Communist Party. In the course of my reading of N. V. Lenin he made three requisites to a revolution necessary, and among the three was that a part of the armed forces must become part of the revolutionary forces in order to have the revolution successful. I carried on this work in Washington, D. C. until sometime in early 1937. While engaged in this work I had frequent contacts with Sidney Shosteck and discussed the work with him. During this time that I was engaged in this work I was employed by the Works Progress Administration doing statistical and research work.

"During the course of this employment I took a number of Civil Service examinations and one of these examinations was productive in that. I was to receive an appointment at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds of the United States Army as a Junior Mathematician.

"During the course of my work in the Anti-military Organization I met an individual on the Baltimore waterfront named Paddy Whalen, who introduced me to an individual whom I only knew as Bernie. My recollection on the foregoing is hazy due to the passage of time. Prior to my acceptance of employment in Aberdeen, I met Bernie in Baltimore, Maryland, as far as I can recall, possibly in Washington, D. C., and we discussed my future employment and I asked Bernie of what assistance I could be to the Party in the position that I was about to take and Bernie told me he would look around. Subsequently I proceeded to Philadelphia with Bernie where I met an individual whose photograph has been exhibited to me by the agents and whom I now identify as the person that Bernie introduced me to and whom I knew as Carl, and whom I know now to be Whittaker Chambers. Bernie and myself proceeded to a restaurant in Philadelphia and there met Carl. Bernie presently left and Carl and I took a walk and dropped into another restaurant and held a discussion relative to the position I was going to take and the information that I could furnish to Carl. Carl asked me if I 'knew what this was.' I replied that I thought it was espionage. Carl responded that 'intelligence would be a nicer word.' I had knowledge that this work that I was engaged in or was about to be engaged in was for Russian Soviet espionage. No agreement was made that I was to be paid for any work that I might carry on for Carl. Once or twice or three times I may have received a sum of $10.00 or $20.00 to cover my expenses.

"At this time Carl told me that at our next meeting we would discuss the material that he desired from me and what I would be able to furnish to him in the course of my duties at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

"Sometime in July 1937, after I had been working at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds for approximately one month, I met Carl in Washington, D. C. by pre-arrangement and we discussed the administration and the entire set-up of the Aberdeen Proving Grounds organizational staff. I also furnished him with a chart drawn up by myself at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds. On another occasion I met Carl by pre-arrangement, at which time

"I furnished him with a textbook of the ordnance school in Aberdeen, dealing with ballistics. I furnished this book to Carl I believe on a Saturday night and he returned it to me on a Sunday morning. I knew that while he had it in his possession he was to photograph or reproduce it in some form.

"On another occasion of a meeting which took place in Washington, D. C., I furnished him with two firing tables which were composed of mathematical data concerning the 16 inch gun and a 30 or 50 calibre machine gun. I obtained these from Aberdeen Proving Grounds and the character was 'restricted.' They were, to my knowledge, property of the United States Government. As far as I can recall, I did not furnish any other documents or information to Carl.

"I had on one occasion furnished Carl with information concerning a theory that I had of my own knowledge pertaining to what might term a bomb-sight. The diagram represented my own conclusions of the operation and did not represent any actual bomb-sight.

"Although I was aware that Carl contemplated photographing or reproducing the documentary data which I furnished to him, he never revealed to me, nor did I have knowledge of the identity of the person who did this photographing or reproducing work. It would appear, however, that this person was located in Washington, D. C., because of the fact that the documents would be returned by Carl to me either the same night of our meeting or the morning succeeding.

"I believe I met Carl on more than three occasions and possibly seven, but the exact number I do not know. The period of our relation extended from our meeting in Philadelphia in June 1937 up until the fall of 1937 or the spring of 1938. During the time that I was furnishing information to Carl I was not fully convinced that I should engage in this work and for that reason I did not openly cooperate to the full extent of my ability and I did hold back on some occasions information which I thought that he desired. On another occasion I passed up the opportunity to furnish him with information of an intelligence nature.

"As far as I can recall I met Carl in various places in the City of Washington which were largely by pre-arrangement. I recall meeting Carl on East Capitol Street about two or three blocks east of the Capitol,

[1] Kisseloff-6669

NY 65-14920

"On another occasion I met Carl in the City of Washington when he was driving a dark blue sedan, possibly a Ford or Chevrolet. I do not recall, however, the year or the make thereof.

"On one of the meetings which I had with Carl he told me that he might possibly go abroad. I never knew whether he actually did go abroad but I can say that I have not seen Carl since my last meeting took place with him in the late fall of 1937 or early 1938.

"I also wish to state that I have no knowledge of any individual, other than those I have mentioned above in this statement, who might have been engaged in Soviet espionage work.

"I severed my relations with the Communist Party in early 1938 and since that time I have not engaged in Communist Party work or attended any meetings of the Communist Party. I also wish to state that I have never been an organizer in the State of Montana for the Communist Party.

"I have read this statement consisting of three pages and have initialed each page, and it is true to the best of my knowledge.

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO was thoroughly questioned concerning his brother PHILIP'S possible implication in the activities that he conducted but, during the time the signed statement was taken from FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, he denied emphatically that PHILIP had been involved in this espionage activity. However, following the completion of the signed statement, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO did say that he had furnished CHAMBERS with PHILIP'S telephone number in Washington, D. C. The purpose of this furnishing of the telephone number was that, in the event CHAMBERS could not get in touch with him, he would be able to reach him through his brother PHILIP. FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO did state that on one occasion he thought that CHAMBERS contacted PHILIP in order to reach him and that PHILIP may have driven CHAMBERS to meet him but he denied that PHILIP had any knowledge of his activities or the purpose for which he was to meet CHAMBERS.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent EDWIN O. JOHNSON, dated December 12, 1948, in the present-entitled matter, wherein further background information and the results of a prior interview with RENO in Denver, Colorado, are set forth.

It is to be noted that considerable publicity has been given to the fact that WHITTAKER CHAMBERS was reported to have received information concerning the "Norden bombsight." RENO, at the time of the interview, denied that he had ever furnished any information concerning the "Norden bombsight," stating that he did furnish CHAMBERS the information relative to his own theory of a bombsight and that this theory was not complete. RENO emphatically stated that the "Norden bombsight" was not perfected until 1942 and that he had never furnished any person any information concerning the "Norden bombsight."

Following completion of the signed statement submitted by RENO, he furnished to Agents O'KEEFE and O'BRIEN a written Consent to Search his personal effects, which were located in Aberdeen, Maryland. The written Consent to Search is being retained in the files of the New York Office.

By phone call dated December 14, 1948, Assistant Special Agent in Charge ROBERT J. LALLY advised that upon a search of RENO'S effects pursuant to the written consent mentioned above, a variety of correspondence, technical data, documentary material and books were found. In particular, they noticed correspondence between RENO and JAMES MC SHANE, who apparently was associated with the advanced research laboratory at Princeton, New Jersey; further, correspondence was noted between RENO and JOHN L. KELLEY, Department of Mathematics, University of Chicago. This correspondence was dated up to 1946. Other material in RENO'S effects related to mathematical formulae, bombing statistics and mathematics dealing with bombs in general. It was further noted that some of this material was of a restricted nature which had been secured from the Research Ballistics Laboratory, Aberdeen, Maryland.

In accordance with the request contained in the above phone call, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, temporarily residing at the Hotel Commodore, New York, was again interviewed on December 15th by Special Agents FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN and ROBERT F. X. O'KEEFE, with particular reference to the documents and restricted data found among his effects at his Baltimore residence.

RENO advised that a considerable amount of the material referred to pertained to research on a book, in the publication of which he was collaborating with Professors EDWARD J. MC SHANE and JOHN L. KELLEY. Concerning MC SHANE, RENO stated that this individual had come to the University of Virginia in the fall of 1935, subsequent to RENO'S leaving that institution. RENO first met him at the Research Ballistics Laboratory, Aberdeen, Maryland, in 1942 and thereafter continued to work in conjunction with MC SHANE on Government ballistics research.

In regard to JOHN L. KELLEY, described by RENO as a Professor of Mathematics at the University of Colorado, RENO said he met this person in the summer or fall of 1942, at which time KELLEY, an expert on exterior ballistics, commenced his employment there. In 1943,

MC SHANE, KELLEY and RENO commenced plans for their book which was tentatively entitled "Exterior Ballistics up to 1945" and which was contemplated for use as a textbook in military schools. In June, 1945, MC SHANE departed from the Aberdeen Proving Grounds and in November, 1945, KELLEY likewise departed to recommence their professorships in private institutions. Thereafter, RENO had considerable correspondence with KELLEY and MC SHANE, principally relating to the publication of the book he mentioned previously. According to RENO, he, himself, conducted considerable research on the science of motions of projectiles with KELLEY and MC SHANE and at the present time was completing a historical introduction to this book.

In regard to the material found during the execution of the Consent to Search, RENO stated that he was well aware of the fact that there might have been data of a restricted nature contained among his effects, and also aware of the fact that some of this data might have been secured from the library of the Research Ballistics Laboratory. As a usual practice, RENO stated that he followed the normal charge-out system in effect at the Laboratory. He advised, however, that from time to time he might well have retained library material in his possession inasmuch as he was engaged in a continuing research. The failure to return the material to the library, according to RENO, was more in the nature of a neglect rather than as a means to obtain library literature. He further stated that from time to time he had worked with a Professor HIRMAN MEYER, who was engaged in teaching Ballistics at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds. RENO recalled that he had a quantity of notes prepared by MEYER for these courses.

As to the other data in RENO'S possession and recalled by him, he stated that they primarily consisted of notes and reports on projects worked upon by him during his employment at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds; others consisted of his college notes on mathematics and his private ventures in mathematical formulae pertaining to a theory of air combat.

RENO'S attention was particularly directed to a manuscript entitled "Mathematical Theory of Air Combat" by L. B. C. CUNNINGHAM,

which bore the notation "British Confidential appears incorrect as only restricted." In explanation of the aforegoing, RENO stated that the classification "British Confidential" was classified as restricted in the American system. As to the above manuscript by L. B. C. CUNNINGHAM, RENO advised that he was interested in the study of air combat and for this reason had the material in his possession, having procured the same from the Research Laboratory library.

In regard to Professors MC SHANE and KELLEY, RENO consistently throughout the interview advised that they were in no way connected with him in his activities with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or in any other subversive or espionage activity engaged in by him. He further advised that his association with MC SHANE and KELLEY was primarily as a collaborator in the writing of a book, as well as an assistant in the same research laboratory on ballistics.

In regard to the manuscript to be published by Messrs. MC SHANE, KELLEY and RENO, the latter advised it had been submitted to his supervisor, R. H. KENT, for the purpose of editing and obtaining a preliminary clearance prior to submitting same to publishers. RENO advised that it was unnecessary that clearance be obtained prior to publishing a book on ordnance from Army Ordnance Authorities.

RENO stated that the book would have been rejected by the Office of Chief of U. S. Ordnance. RENO also stated that Colonel SIMON, Director of the Research Ballistics Laboratory, was aware of the fact that he was working on the book.

As to other data in RENO'S possession, he advised that he doubted that any would have been of a confidential or secret nature. He recalled that for a long time he had been working on a mathematical theory pertaining to a gunsight and the use thereof in air combat. For the most part, his data pertaining to this theory was obtained from the library.

NY 65-14920

RENO further stated that although during his correspondence with MC SHANE and KELLEY he had forwarded them data obtained from the Research Laboratory for research purposes, he had never forwarded any material of any nature whatsoever to any private, unauthorized person for subversive or espionage reasons. He again reiterated his previous statement that since late 1937 or early 1938, when he ceased his association with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, he never again was reactivated for the Communist Party nor had he ever again engaged in any activity of an espionage nature detrimental to the United States Government. He further believed that in forwarding the material to MC SHANE and KELLEY for their own research he did not breach any confidence placed in him inasmuch as both MC SHANE and KELLEY were members of the Scientific Advisory Committee of the Ballistics Research Laboratory, Aberdeen, Maryland, and as such had the right of access to the library.

As set forth in the referenced phone call from the Baltimore Office, it is noted that RENO likewise had received correspondence from VIRGINIA MC SHANE. VIRGINIA MC SHANE is the wife of Professor EDWARD J. MC SHANE and RENO recalled he may have corresponded with her one one occasion when he desired to get in touch with her husband.

As set forth in the referenced phone call, it is also noted that FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO and his brother had visited FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO'S summer residence at Aberdeen, Maryland, approximately two months ago and thereafter took some material away. It was desired to know the nature of the material so taken. In answer to this, RENO advised that on July 6, 1947, he was confined to a hospital at Havre de Grace, Maryland, for three to six weeks and from August, 1947, to July 6, 1948, he was thereafter confined to the University Hospital, Baltimore, Maryland. Upon leaving the latter hospital and prior to returning to his residence in Denver, Colorado, RENO advised he went to his former room at Aberdeen, Maryland. He picked up some clothes and also took several books which he recalled were, (1) "Mathematics of Exterior Ballistics" by G. A. BLISS and, (2) a book on the tables of intervals.

On the occasion of his visit to his summer residence, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO was accompanied by PHILIP RENO. Neither of the books mentioned above was the property of the Aberdeen Proving Grounds library. The statement above that FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO visited his residence on or about July 3, 1948, was corroborated by PHILIP RENO, who was also present during the course of this interview at the Hotel Commodore.

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO was interviewed at the Hotel Commodore at his own request because of the fact that he was suffering from an arthritic condition.

It is to be noted that on December 14, 1948, the Baltimore Office advised that PADDY WHELAN was believed to be identical with the PADDY mentioned by FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO in his signed statement as being the individual who had introduced him to "BERNIE," who subsequently introduced RENO to CARL, who was identical with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. The Baltimore Office advised that WHELAN was well known in the waterfront activities in Baltimore and is since deceased. The Baltimore Office also advised that BERNARD WEINKRANTZ might possibly be identical with the "BERNIE" mentioned above. Baltimore also advised that WEINKRANTZ was arrested by the Hudson County Police Department on February 6, 1938, charged with being a disorderly person and possessing a dangerous weapon. FBI No. 1465673.

B It is to be recalled that RENO, in his signed statement, stated he met one PADDY WHELAN and one "BERNIE" during the course of his associations with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. A photograph of one PADDY WHELAN, true name PATRICK B. WHELAN, Hudson County Police Department No. 539, dated February 6, 1938, was exhibited to RENO. He identified this person as the PADDY WHELAN whom he knew in Baltimore, Maryland, during the years 1937 and 1938. A photograph of BERNARD WEINKRANTZ, Hudson County Police Department No. 540, dated February 6, 1938, was also exhibited to RENO for the purpose of determining whether this individual was identical with the "BERNIE" previously mentioned by RENO. RENO, upon viewing this photograph, was unable to identify the person therein.

Whelan is now deceased.

Re: INTERVIEWS OF PHILIP RENO

The following signed statement was furnished by PHILIP RENO:

"New York, New York
December 13, 1948

"I, PHILIP RENO, make the following statement to THOMAS G. SPENCER and FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN, whom I know to be Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statement that I make can be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made in connection with securing this statement. I have been advised that I have a right to counsel.

"I was born June 22, 1913 at Idaho Falls, Idaho and was graduated from Colorado University in 1934. During the time I attended college, politically speaking, I was more inclined along the ideas of Socialism and continued to believe in this doctrine subsequent to leaving college. I worked at the University after my graduation for a short period of time as an assistant in the Economics Department of the University. In January of 1935 I went to Washington, D. C., where I obtained employment in the Farm Credit Administration. Sometime in 1936 I transferred to the Social Security Board and while at that agency dealt with personnel problems and unemployment compensation. I continued with the Social Security Board in Washington until the Spring of 1941.

"During my employment with the Social Security Board I was the President of Local #10 of the United Federal Workers, CIO, in 1938 and 1939 while so employed with the Social Security Board. It was while I was President of this Local that I became closely acquainted with ELEANOR NEISON who was the Secretary of the United Federal Workers. I wish to state that I did not know then or at this time that ELEANOR NEISON had any connection with the Communist Party. I also wish to state that I myself had no connection with the Communist Party at this time.

"In 1941 I moved to Denver, Colorado and obtained employment as an Assistant Regional Representative of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

"In 1942 I was employed for a period of three or four months for the War Manpower Commission and subsequent thereto obtained a position with the War Labor Board.

"In the Spring of 1943 I resigned from Government service and, because

Kisseloff-6677

NY 65-14920

"of the death of my wife, I moved from Denver, Colorado to Baltimore, Maryland. In 1943, while I resided in Baltimore, I obtained a position with the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipyard Workers, CIO. My principal connection with this union was the editing of a newspaper that this union published as well as doing some work along educational lines within the union. I remained at Baltimore until the Fall of 1943 and thereafter returned to Denver, Colorado.

"While I was engaged in this work at Baltimore, Maryland, AL LANNON who at that time I believe was the head of the Communist Party in Baltimore, Maryland, called on me and discussed with me the policies of the Communist Party in respect to activities of the union. The Party line at that time was the increased production of ships and materials. LANNON encourage me to publish certain stories or cartoons which would assist in this increased production which the Communist Party desired at that time.

"While in Baltimore I resided at 2400 Utah Place. The premises at this address were rented by SID KATZ, Secretary of the Maryland CIO.

"In early 1944 I became employed by the Denver CIO and handled matters pertaining to the Political Action Committee. While in Denver at this time I met ARTHUR BARRY who, I understand, is the leader of the Communist Party in the City of Denver. I cannot definitely recall whether I met BARRY prior to my employment with the Denver CIO in 1944 but recall specifically that I knew him a few months after I commenced this employment.

"When I first became acquainted with BARRY he talked to me generally about conditions in the union and other matters of mutual interest, strongly indicating the interest of the Communist Party in matters in which I was engaged. At some point during these discussions he openly invited me to join the Communist Party. I agreed, after a fashion, and indicated to BARRY that I would join with the provision that I would not have to be a 'card carrying member, pay dues, attend meetings or sign an application'. This appeared to be agreeable with BARRY and I became a member of the Communist Party under these conditions.

"From time to time BARRY asked me for contributions to the Communist Party which I contributed to him from my own personal income. As a matter of fact, I 'followed the Party line' as outlined to me by BARRY in our various discussions. He would from time to time point out the various problems that were confronting the Communist Party, particularly along union and political action lines. I would from time to time inform Mr. BARRY of some of the

"weaknesses in the union's setup and he would make suggestions as to how to adjust these situations and would promise to use the Communist Party in adjusting these situations.

"Subsequent to the elections in November of 1944 I ceased my employment with the Political Action Committee and the Denver CIO. Sometime in the early part of 1945 I went to my father's ranch at Idaho Falls, Idaho and remained there until late in the same year. During this time that I was in Idaho Falls, I had no contact with BARRY nor did I engage in any activities of the Communist Party.

"In approximately November of 1945 I returned to Denver where I became the Membership Relations Secretary of the National Farmers Union. Several months after I became employed with the National Farmers Union, ARTHUR BARRY, who I had not seen for a period of approximately a year and a half, called on me and introduced me to LEN HARRIS who BARRY characterized as the National Farm Director of the Communist Party. I met HARRIS on approximately four occasions, one of which was at the National Convention of the National Farmers Union at Topeka, Kansas.

"In HARRIS' conversations with me he pointed out the Party line in so far as it concerned the National Farmers Union. It is my recollection that primarily the aims of the Communist Party as related by HARRIS were in most instances in conformity with the program of the National Farmers Union. However, HARRIS went somewhat further in attempting to inject the present Party line into the National Farmers Union. It is my recollection that HARRIS was desirous of adding a plank to the National Farmers Union to the effect that the union would support a policy whereby the United States would not interfere in the politics of the European countries and would furnish them aid and assistance regardless of their politics.

"During my employment with the National Farmers Union BARRY continued to see me intermittently; however, since HARRIS was more or less directing the affairs nationally of the farm movement of the Communist Party, BARRY did not have much to say to me along Communist Party or political lines.

"In about August of 1946 I became associated with the Rocky Mountain Council for Social Action. This was a liberal political organization that was interested in politics within the city of Denver and the surrounding counties. This council had no connections whatsoever with the Communist Party. I was a full time employee of this council until the November, 1946 elections and thereafter while actively associated with the council, it was not a permanent position.

"In about January of 1947 I became employed as a learner in the plastering trade and I am so employed at the present time.

"In the Spring of 1947 the Council supported QUIGG NEWTON as a candidate for Mayor of Denver, Colorado. The Communist Party, however, was opposed to NEWTON'S candidacy and ran WILLIAM DIETRICH in opposition to QUIGG NEWTON. This was probably the beginning of my break with the Communist Party.

"JOHN CARROLL was one of the Congressmen from the State of Colorado whom the Council supported and who became very much disliked by the Communist Party element in Colorado. I recall specifically that ARTHUR BARRY was very bitter about CARROLL'S support of the Democratic Party's program of international relations and was, therefore, bitter about the Council's continuing support of CARROLL. This incident led to a further breach in my relations with BARRY and the Communist Party line.

In this connection, in the Fall of 1947 BETTY GANNETT, who I understand to be a highly placed Communist, came to Denver. Miss GANNETT and BARRY came to my home and tried to 'straighten me out'. At the conclusion of this conversation I was invited to appear before a meeting to which both Communists and non-Communists had been invited and at which I would be called upon to express my views on the national political lines outlined by the Communist Party. I attended this meeting and expressed my opinion which was opposed to the views of the members of the Communist Party.

"After I spoke both BETTY GANNETT and ARTHUR BARRY made talks in which they severely criticized the viewpoint that I had taken.

"In the Fall of 1947 HENRY WALLACE had indicated that he would possibly be a third party candidate for President of the United States. The Council, in which I was still active, had several meetings in which they tentatively decided to endorse WALLACE for President but to follow the Democratic Party in so far as other election offices were concerned.

"In the Spring of 1948 at which time WALLACE was an active candidate and I was supporting the views of the Council, BARRY visited me and threatened to expell me from the Communist Party and also to expose me in the local press

"through a published statement from the Communist Party. I counselled BARRY not to do this because it would be very embarrassing to other members of the Council with whom I was closely associated and who had no connection whatsoever with the Communist Party.

"It is my understanding that some sort of letter or publication carried a story concerning my activities with the Communist Party and as a matter of fact this letter was given to the 'Denver Post'. I recall that a reporter from the 'Denver Post' called on me and interviewed me, however, so far as I know nothing was ever printed in the 'Denver Post' or other regular newspapers and as a matter of fact I have never seen the alleged letter supposed to have been written either by or at the direction of ARTHUR BARRY. Since that time I have had no contact with ARTHUR BARRY or other members of the Communist Party.

"During the time I resided in Washington, D. C., I lived at the following addresses:

"The 1200 block on N Street, N.W.;
The Bond Apartments on New Hampshire Avenue, N.W.;
The Chateau-Thierry Apartments on S Street, N.W.;
East Falls Church, Virginia.

"I am unable to recall two addresses where I resided when I first came to Washington, D. C. I would state, however, that these two addresses were temporary and did not cover a period of over two or three months.

"I have been shown a photograph of an individual who the Agents inform me was that of DAVID CARPENTER or DAVID ZIMMERMAN. I am unable to identify the individual appearing on this photograph as anyone I have ever seen or known. The names CARPENTER and ZIMMERMAN are also unfamiliar to me.

"I have also been shown a photograph of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. I wish to state that I have never seen this individual before. The name WHITTAKER CHAMBERS is unfamiliar to me and the name CARL or KARL has no meaning to me whatsoever in connection with the photograph of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

"The name GEORGE CROSLEY is likewise not familiar to me.

"On the evening of December 12, 1948 I had a conversation with my brother FRANKLIN VICTOR, whom I refer to as VIC, in the Commodore Hotel in

Kisseloff-6681

NY 65-14920

"New York City. It was during this conversation that I first learned that VIC ~~had~~ turned over documents coming into his possession as a result of his ~~government~~ RENO employment to unauthorized individuals.

"I have been asked whether I assisted my brother in any way whatsoever in making available to unauthorized persons documents that came into the psssession of my brother.

"I want to categorically state that at no time whatsoever had documents passed from my brother or anyone else into my hands which I subsequently turned over to any person.

"I have been asked whether an individual identical with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or a person using the name of CARL ever appeared at my apartment in Washington inquiring for the whereabouts of my brother, VICTOR RENO. In this connection I wish to state that my name was in the Washington, D.C., telephone directory and my brother VICTOR'S was not. On occasions people would telephone or come to my house inquiring for the whereabouts of my brother VICTOR and I would inform such persons as to VICTOR'S whereabouts if I knew them. I cannot, however, recall a specific instance which would identify WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as making this specific request of me.

"I have read the above statement consisting of 5 pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

On December 15, 1948 information was received from the Baltimore Office to the effect that one JACK BRINTON was alleged to have been very friendly with PHILIP RENO while the latter was in Baltimore, Maryland and was possibly engaged in Communist or espionage activities with RENO. On this date PHILIP RENO was interviewed by SA THOMAS G. SPENCER and he advised that he became acquainted with JACK BRINTON at the University of Colorado in about 1937 when both were students at this university and interested to some extent in the Communist movement.

According to PHILIP RENO, BRINTON after leaving school went to Washington, D.C. where he was employed by the Census Bureau during 1938 and 1939 and thereafter for some period of time was employed in one or more of the New Deal agencies that were in existence at that time. In about 1943 BRINTON moved to Baltimore, Maryland and was employed there by the Longshoremen's Union and at about that time became a full-fledged Party member.

RENO continued that BRINTON served two years in the U.S. Army and is presently employed by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company in Pueblo, Colorado. RENO stated that for the past one and one-half years he has been closely associated with BRINTON in Denver when both were members of the Communist Party in that city. However, when RENO was read out of the Party, as set forth in his statement, he continued to be friendly with BRINTON, and as a result of this friendship the functionaries of the Party saw fit to read BRINTON out of the Party. RENO denies that either he or BRINTON was engaged in any espionage activities and that they furnished documents or other information to unauthorized persons.

The following investigation was conducted jointly by Special Agents ROBERT F. X. O'KEEFE and JAMES P. MARTIN.

On December 8, 1948, at 9:00 A.M., the above agents interviewed DAVID CARPENTER at his home at 209 South Broadway, South Nyack, New York. The agents properly identified themselves and CARPENTER was then advised of his rights to counsel and of the fact that he did not have to talk with the agents. He was told that the agents desired to ask him some questions. CARPENTER then volunteered to speak with the agents. The general nature of the inquiry, concerning CARPENTER'S association during 1936, 1937 and 1938 with JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was conveyed to CARPENTER.

CARPENTER said he was born June 21, 1906 at Baltimore, Maryland, under the name of DAVID ZIMMERMAN, but said that for the last twenty years, he has been known as DAVID CARPENTER. He related that he is presently employed as a book reviewer and proofreader by the New York "Daily Worker" and advised that he had worked in the past for the Communist Party.

CARPENTER stated that he was originally from Baltimore, Maryland. He was asked where he resided during the period from 1936 to 1938 inclusive and said that to the best of his recollection, he resided in Baltimore, Maryland during that time, with his mother, RACHEL ZIMMERMAN, at 100 Jackson Place. He went on to say that during that period, he was writing a book and was in and out of Washington, D. C. frequently, but said that he could recall no residence in Washington, D. C., until 1939. He advised that during 1939, he had a residence in Washington, D. C., while he was employed there by the "Workers Alliance", but that at the moment, he could not recall the address of this Washington, D.C. residence he had in 1939.

CARPENTER was asked if he was acquainted with JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, under that name or under the names WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, LLOYD CANTWELL, GEORGE CROSLEY, or "CARL". He said that he, as a long-time Communist, knows of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, because of CHAMBERS former association with the "New Masses". He said, however, that he cannot recall any personal association with CHAMBERS under that name or any of the names mentioned above.

CARPENTER was then shown two photographs of CHAMBERS, which photographs appeared on pages one and three of the New York "Daily News", issue of December 7, 1948. CARPENTER, after examining said photographs, related that he would not say whether he did or did not know CHAMBERS, but said that the photograph appeared vaguely familiar with some individual with whom he had formerly been acquainted. CARPENTER said that he could not recall the name of the individual of which these photographs reminded him, but advised merely that he would not state whether he did or did not know CHAMBERS, because he said he could not recall. CARPENTER said that from reading the newspapers, he was acquainted with the CHAMBERS' story.

CARPENTER was asked if he ever was personally acquainted with an individual named SAMUEL J. PELOVITZ. CARPENTER said that he was acquainted with SAMUEL J. PELOVITZ, and that he had known PELOVITZ from Baltimore, Maryland, since about 1930. He stated that PELOVITZ was a printer in Baltimore and advised that PELOVITZ' father had had a printing business there and that SAMUEL J. PELOVITZ had taken over his father's printing place. He said that he could not recall exactly how he met PELOVITZ, but knows that he became acquainted with PELOVITZ when he was in Baltimore, Maryland in about 1930.

CARPENTER was further asked if he knew PELOVITZ under the name of "FELIX", but CARPENTER said that he did not know PELOVITZ under that name and advised further that he had never known anyone named FELIX.

CARPENTER was then asked if he had ever personally known an individual named HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH. He said that he had known such a person and referred to this person thereafter as JULIAN WADLEIGH. CARPENTER said that he had met WADLEIGH in Washington, D. C. at some party there in about 1932.

CARPENTER was asked if he could recall any association during 1936 to 1938 with CHAMBERS in connection with his association with WADLEIGH or with PELOVITZ. CARPENTER said he could not recall any association on his part with CHAMBERS under that name or any of the other names mentioned above in connection with his association or acquaintanceship with WADLEIGH or PELOVITZ.

The question was then put to CARPENTER as to whether he had received any papers or documentary material from CHAMBERS, WADLEIGH or PELOVITZ in 1936, 1937 or 1938 or at any time. Although a more complete description of the documentary material referred to in the question last put to CARPENTER was not given, he thereupon stated that he would refuse to answer further questions or volunteer additional information without first having received the advice of counsel. At this point, the interrogation of DAVID CARPENTER was for the purposes of this inquiry concluded.

At that point, at 9:20 A.M., the subpoena calling for DAVID CARPENTER'S appearance before the Federal Grand Jury in the Southern District of New York at noon, December 8, 1948, was served upon CARPENTER.

CARPENTER then voluntarily offered to ride back to New York City with the agents as a matter of convenience to CARPENTER. At his request, CARPENTER was taken to the offices of the "Daily Worker" and CARPENTER then left the agents at 12th Street and University Place.

INVESTIGATION RE TYPEWRITER AND
SPECIMENS SUBMITTED TO FBI LABORATORY FOR EXAMINATION

At the time a pre-trial examination was being held and depositions taken in the libel suit instituted by Mr. ALGER HISS against Mr. JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, sixty-five letter-size typewritten documents and four small note-size handwritten documents were turned over by Mr. CHAMBERS to his attorney, Mr. RICHARD F. CLEVELAND.

These documents were subsequently turned over by Mr. CHAMBERS' attorney to the United States Government and made available to the FBI Laboratory for examination.

On December 7, 1948, the FBI Laboratory advised by teletype that of the sixty-five copies of documents that were introduced by Mr. CHAMBERS at the pre-trial deposition, the typewriting on one of the letters was typed with a machine equipped with a type that most closely matches the Royal elite style of type that is maintained in the standards of the FBI Laboratory. The FBI Laboratory further advised that all of the remaining sixty-four documents were typed with a machine which most closely matches a Woodstock pica type, the standards of which are in the FBI Laboratory files.

Mr. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS at the time he was interviewed at Baltimore, Maryland, on December 3, 1948, stated that these documents previously mentioned had been turned over to him by ALGER HISS and that furthermore, they had been, for the most part, typed on a typewriter owned by ALGER HISS or his wife, PRISCILLA. He further stated that these documents were copies or condensations of State Department documents.

On December 4, 1948, at the time ALGER HISS was interviewed by FBI Agents at Baltimore, Maryland, he advised that from a period 1936 to sometim after 1938, he had a typewriter in his home in Washington, D.C. He described th as an "old fashioned machine possibly an Underwood but I am not at all certain regarding the make". He further stated "Mrs. HISS disposed of this typewriter to either a secondhand typewriter concern or a secondhand dealer in Washington, D.C. sometime subsequent to 1938, exact date or place unknown. The whereabouts of this typewriter is presently unknown to me and that prior to this typewriter coming into the possession of his immediate family was the property of Mrs. HISS father, Mr. THOMAS FANSLER, who was in the insurance business in Philadelphia. Mr. FANSLER died early in the 1940's.

On December 7, 1948, Mrs. ALGER HISS upon being interviewed by agents of this office advised that she had recalled that when her father, THOMAS L. FANSLER had retired from the insurance business, the exact date or year she did not know, but believed it was in 1932 or 1933, he gave her a typewriter which he had used in his insurance business. She stated that she did not recall the make of the typewriter or how long she had it in her possession. She further stated that she herself was not a proficient typist but did recall that she had typed portions of a manuscript for a book she had written on this typewriter. Mrs. HISS was unable to say how she had disposed of the typewriter. She was unable to recollect when she had last used the typewriter in her home and could not recall whether she had the typewriter prior to moving to Washington, D.C.

Efforts were made immediately on December 6, 1948 to obtain specimens of the typewriter which either Mr. or Mrs. HISS might have or had in their possession or had sent to other places and to other individuals, in order to compare these specimens with the questioned documents which had been submitted to the FBI Laboratory.

On December 7, 1948, Mr. EDWARD C. MC LEAN, 20 Exchange Place, New York City, Attorney for Mr. ALGER HISS, voluntarily appeared at the New York Office in person and submitted to SA FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN three specimens of typewriting which he had in his possession, two of which are as follows:

(1) A menu dated May 20, 1939 which Mr. MC LEAN states was typewritte by TIMOTHY HOBSON, son of Mrs. ALGER HISS. This will be referred hereinafter as specimen K-15.

(2) A set of notes consisting of six pages and captioned "Appendix". These notes pertain apparently to a course in Ancient History. Mr. MC LEAN stated that he believed TIMOTHY HOBSON had typed the notes. This will be referred hereinafter as specimen K-16.

Kisseloff-6688

Mr. MC LEAN furnished a carbon copy of a letter dated January 30, 1933 with the address of 378 Central Park West, New York City. The letter was addressed to Mr. WALTER L. TIBBETTS, 1216 Atlantic National Bank Building, Boston, Massachusetts. Mr. MC LEAN advised that hehad obtained this letter from the papers of Mr. HISS. He also advised that he was unable to state whether Mr. or Mrs. HISS had typed this letter. He added that he was furnishing this specimen to the New York Office on the insistence of Mr. ALGER HISS himself, who desired that they immediately be furnished to the FBI for examination. This specimen will be referred hereinafter as K-17.

For the purposes of clarity, the questioned documents which were forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for examination and which are the typewritten documents which Mr. CHAMBERS claims that Mr. HISS turned over to him, will be referred to hereinafter with the Laboratory designation of Q-6 through Q-69. These are the documents previously identified by the FBI Laboratory as having been typed on a Woodstock type typewriter. The other document which was identified by the FBI Laboratory as having been typed on the Royal typewriter has been designated by the FBI Laboratory as Q-5.

On December 10, 1948, the FBI Laboratory advised that specimens K-15 and K-16 mentioned hereinbefore were not used to type any of the specimens previously designated as Q-5 through Q-69. The Laboratory further advised that specimen K-17, which is a carbon copy of the letter mentioned hereinbefore, may have possibly been typed on the same machine as that used to type Q-6 through Q-69 but that no definite conclusion could be reached until such time as the original copy of the letter could be made available to the Laboratory.

On December 10, 1948, Mr. EDWARD C. MC LEAN, Attorney for Mr. ALGER HI personally appeared at the New York Office and furnished SA FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN with the original of specimen K-17.

It is to be noted that Mr. MC LEAN had previously stated that he would furnish this letter to the New York Office of the FBI and for some reason unknow to him, the letter was never mailed to the addressee and it was unsigned.

At the same time that Mr. MC LEAN furnished the original copy of specimen K-17, he also furnished a carbon copy of a letter dated February 17, 19 378 Central Park West, New York, New York. This letter was addressed to

Kisseloff-6689

WALTER G. SCHELKER, Assistant Secretary, Equitable Life Assurance Society, 393 Seventh Avenue, New York, New York. The original of specimen K-17 and the above-mentioned carbon copy of the letter dated February 17, 1933, were furnished to the FBI Laboratory on December 10, 1948.

The carbon copy of the letter addressed to WALTER G. SCHELKER, the Assistant Secretary to the Equitable Life Assurance Society, 393 Seventh Avenue, New York, will be referred hereinafter as K-33.

On December 14, 1948, the FBI Laboratory advised that a conclusion had been reached that specimen K-17, which is the original letter dated January 30, 1933, was typed by the machine which typed specimens Q-6 through Q-69.

The Laboratory further advised that the typewriting on specimen K-33 was not clear enough for a definite conclusion to be made in comparison with the evidence previously submitted.

The original of specimen K-17 has been returned by the FBI Laboratory and is being maintained in the files of the New York Office. Specimens K-15, K-16, and K-33, are also being maintained in the files of the New York Office.

On December 13, 1948, Mr. LEO D. FITZGERALD, Associate Counsel for the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, advised that ALGER HISS was an assured of that company and that further this company had in their possession a file on ALGER HISS that contained several typewritten documents signed by ALGER HISS.

A subpoena was secured at the United States Court in the Southern District of New York made out to the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States demanding them to turn over all typewritten documents signed by ALGER HISS. This subpoena was served on LEO D. FITZGERALD, Associate Counsel, by SA DONALD E. SHANNON and the following documents were turned over by Mr. FITZGERALD to SA DONALD E. SHANNON on December 14, 1948:

(1) A request for a change of policy form dated June 6, 1934 bearing the signature of ALGER HISS which will be referred hereinafter as K-36; a typewritten letter dated June 6, 1934 to WALTER I. TIBBETTS, Esq. signed by ALGER HISS hereinafter will be known as K-17; a typewritten letter dated March 22, 1933 headed "Re policy #764460" signed by ALGER HISS hereinafter known as K-38; a typewritten letter dated April 19, 1933 headed "Re policy #764460" signed by ALGER HISS hereinafter known as K-39; a typewritten letter dated February 17, 1933 to WALTER G. SCHELKER, signed by ALGER HISS hereinafter known as K-40.

Kisselóff-6690

It should be noted that K-40 is the original of the carbon copy which has previously been designated as K-33. All of these specimens were forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for examination and comparison with the questioned documents known as Q-6 through Q-69.

By letter dated December 15, 1948, the FBI Laboratory advised that it was concluded that the typewriting appearing on specimen K-40 was typed by the same machine which typed specimens Q-6 through Q-69; furthermore, that specimens K-36 through K-39 have been typed on different machines than the machine which typed the evidence Q-6 through Q-69.

Specimens K-36 through K-40 have been returned to the New York Office on December 15, 1948 and are being retained as exhibits in the New York file.

On December 16, 1948, a check was made at the New York Motor Vehicle Bureau, New York City, for possible typewritten specimens of automobile licenses and registrations for both ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS. It was ascertained that there is in existence at the New York Motor Vehicle Bureau a copy of an operator's license issued to both ALGER and PRISCILLA HILL and that furthermore, there is a registration for an automobile in the name of ALGER HISS. All of this material is handwritten and no material appearing thereon is pertinent to this investigation.

On December 17, 1948, it was ascertained through investigation at 22 East 8th Avenue, New York, New York, that this building wherein resides ALGER HISS is operated through an outfit known as Sailor Snug Harbor with offices at 262 Green Avenue, New York, New York.

Mr. L. HICKOK, Assistant Comptroller of Sailor Snug Harbor advised that there appeared in his file, two letters dated September 2, 1947 and September 5, 1947 signed by ALGER HISS. He made these letters available to SA DONALD E. SHANNON.

By letter dated December 17, 1948, they were forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for comparison with specimens known as Q-6 through Q-69.

NY 65-14920

On December 15, 1948, ALAN H. QUIRCK, 30 School Street, East Williston, Long Island, appeared at the New York Office and advised that he was employed at the American Red Cross and that he knew in 1945 there appeared an old Woodstock typewriter in the office of the American Red Cross, 130 West 47t Street, New York, New York. He further stated that investigation was conducted by the American Red Cross and efforts to ascertain the original owner of this typewriter and that to his knowledge these efforts were unsuccessful. Subsequently, this typewriter was turned over to an employee of the American Red Cross, THOMAS J. CURLEY, 172 Earle Avenue, Lynbrook, Long Island.

Mr. CURLEY was contacted by SA WILLIAM B. HERSHEY and specimens of this typewriter were taken by SA WILLIAM B. HERSHEY and by letter dated December 17, 1948, they were sent to the FBI Laboratory for comparison with the questioned and known specimens in this case.

By teletype dated December 16, 1948, the Washington Field Office advised that ALGER HISS was listed as Counselor for the American Geographic Society, Broadway and 156th Street, New York, New York. SA JAMES P. MARTIN obtained from this organization three typewritten documents signed by ALGER HISS.

By letter dated December 20, 1948, these three documents were sent to the FBI Laboratory for comparison with the questioned and known documents on file at the Laboratory.

Reference is made to the fact that Mr. EDWARD C. MC LEAN, Attorney for Mr. ALGER HISS, furnished SA FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN with specimens of the typewritten material which he had in his possession in order that specimens might be compared with the typewritten copies of the documents furnished by Mr. CHAMBERS to the Government.

At the time that Mrs. ALGER HISS was interviewed in the presence of Mr. MC LEAN, her attorney, Mr. MC LEAN stated that he was not going to be surprised if examination reveals that the questioned documents were actually typed on HISS' typewriter. He further stated he would not be surprised if Mr. CHAMBERS brought this typewriter in question into court. SAS FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN and THOMAS G. SPENCER conducted the above interview.

Mr. MC LEAN stated that he had an investigator named HORACE W. SCHNAHL who had gone to Philadelphia on that date, namely, December 7, 1948, in order to obtain specimens of the typewriter which Mr. THOMAS FANSLER had had in his possession and which were subsequently turned over to Mrs. ALGER HISS.

Kisseloff-6693

Information was received by the Secret Service from an anonymous source and relayed to this office advising that HORACE SCHMAHL, investigator for EDWARD C. McLEAN, attorney for ALGER HISS had in his possession papers belonging to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

HORACE SCHMAHL was interviewed by SA FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN and JOHN T. HILSBOS on the morning of December 11, 1948 in the New York office, and he advised that he is a private investigator licensed by the State of New York, having Credentials number 4786, Badge number 267, which he exhibited to interviewing agents.

He stated in the way of background that he was born in Germany and had been put out of Germany in 1936 by the Gestapo, and that during the war he had been with Military Intelligence. He stated that he was presently associated with JOHN BRODY, an attorney who was formerly an assistant to the Attorney General, whose offices are at 19 Rector Street. He stated that BRODY had been retained by EDWARD McLEAN, attorney for ALGER HISS. SCHMAHL stated that for the past 20 years he has been handling international work for the Department of Justice and for the United States Attorney's office for the Southern District of New York through the office of Mr. ARMAND CHANKALIAN. He indicated that he believes that he had an adverse record with this office, inasmuch as at one time he was accused of being an ardent Nazi. He stated that to show that he was not a Nazi, in addition to his employment by the Department of Justice and his present employment in the Military Intelligence, he wished to state that he was a government investigator for the American-Jewish Committee, and stated that his sister is married to a Jewish refugee doctor.

It was pointed out to Mr. SCHMAHL that information had been received that he had made statements that he had in his possession papers belonging to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, and if this were true we wanted to know the facts concerning the same. SCHMAHL stated that at the time he was hired by Mr. McLEAN to investigate the civil action matter in which Mr. HISS is bringing suit against Mr. CHAMBERS, he obtained copies of the depositions which were taken from Mr. CHAMBERS and Mr. HISS in Baltimore, Maryland. He also added that he had seen copies of the documents which CHAMBERS alleges were furnished to him by HISS at the time he was employed by the United States Government. However, he added that he never mentioned this to any official authorities that he did have these depositions, and he retained them at all times in a safe in his office.

He also added that he had seen the copies of the documents alleged to have been given to CHAMBERS by HISS.

It will be recalled that SCHMAHL had gone to Philadelphia in connection with his investigation concerning the typewriter which the HISS family possessed, and during this trip to Philadelphia he called on our Philadelphia office. It will also be recalled that he had stated telephonically to a Mr. MARTIN of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company in Philadelphia that he was cooperating with the F.B.I. in New York relative to the obtaining of specimens of the questioned typewriter. SCHMAHL stated that he did not believe he used the word "cooperating", but stated that he did state that he was going to furnish the F.B.I. with all of the information which might come into his possession during the course of investigation.

The agents pointed out to Mr. SCHMAHL that any investigations conducted by the F.B.I. were conducted individually of any other organization, and the results of these investigations were confidential and at no time should he state that he was cooperating or in any way connected with any investigation being conducted by the F.B.I. It was further stated to Mr. SCHMAHL that in the event he discusses this case with any individual, that he should be careful not to leave the inference or implication that he has in his possession papers which belong to Mr. CHAMBERS.

SCHMAHL stated that he had great respect for the F.B.I. and the Department of Justice. As an example of this respect, he had been approached by Representative McDOWALL of the House Un-American Affairs Committee to work for that committee in connection with this case, but he had declined, basing this declination on the fact that he had great respect for the Department of Justice, F.B.I., and he felt that the Committee and the Department were feuding at this time.

SCHMAHL offered the following information concerning CHAMBERS which he had developed. He stated that in 1936 Mrs. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had used the name of Mrs. JAY CHAMBERS, who at that time was reported to have been the wife of Mr. JAY CHAMBERS, senior administrative assistant in the Treasury Department. He stated he had come about this information through a credit investigation he had conducted in Baltimore, Maryland. Mrs. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS knew the entire personal history of Mr. JAY CHAMBERS, and he felt that she could have only obtained this information through some person employed in the Treasury Department on s Civil Service Commission. He stated that he had talked to Mrs. JAY CHAMBERS, and while she could not prove it, she had indicated that some unauthorized person had been charging various purchases to her credit accounts at the better stores in Washington.

He also stated that he was endeavoring through the Motor Vehicle Bureau in Baltimore to determine whether WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had used different signatures when he had transferred his automobile by selling it to himself by transferring it from DAVID BREEN, one of his aliases, to his true name, WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. In securing the latter two bits of information the agents made no comment and did not indicate whether we had the information, pointing out to Mr. SCHMAHL that any information which we had is confidential and no comment could be made on this point.

ALEXANDER GREGORY-GRAFF BARMINE is a former Russian diplomatic officer who defected from the Soviets in 1937 in Athens, Greece. He subsequently came to the United States where he is now a citizen. He is presently living at 1037 Avenue of the Americas, Apt. 3-B, New York City, and is employed in the Russian Section of the Voice of America, U.S. Department of State, 224 West 57th Street, New York City.

On October 23, 1946 information was received from the Bureau to the effect that BARMINE had stated that he had seen abroad a list of foreign agents of the Soviet Government who were operating in the United States and that the name of ALGER HISS was on this list.

BARMINE was interviewed on October 25, 1946 at which time he was given ample opportunity to mention having seen such a list or the name of ALGER HISS, though he was not directly questioned on these matters. He made no reference to ever having seen such a list nor did he mention HISS as being an agent of the Soviets.

On December 14, 1948, BARMINE was again interviewed by Special Agents R.F.X. O'KEEFE and FRANCIS X. PLANT and he was specifically interrogated relative to his ever having seen the list mentioned above, and in regard to his knowledge of ALGER HISS.

Mr. BARMINE denied that he had ever seen such a list or that he had ever seen the name of ALGER HISS on such a list. He did say that he had heard ALGER HISS referred to as being an agent of the Soviet Military Intelligence. In explanation he said that in the early part of 1938, after his own defection from the Soviet diplomatic service, he had visited WALTER KRIVITSKY at the latter's hotel in Paris, France. KRIVITSKY had also recently defected from the Soviet Intelligence Service and BARMINE claimed that his visit to KRIVITSKY was at the instigation of some mutual friends in the Socialist Party of France.

Continuing, BARMINE stated he was very suspicious of KRIVITSKY and thought that the latter was probably a GPU agent who was searching for BARMINE in an attempt to kill him or return him to Russia. He said he made known his feelings to KRIVITSKY but the latter denied being a member of the GPU and insisted that he had been an agent of Soviet Military Intelligence. In an attempt to establish the reliability of the man, BARMINE said he asked that KRIVITSKY supply him with the names of certain people in Moscow who should be known to him if he had been in Military Intelligence. KRIVITSKY complied by naming a number of individuals none of whom BARMINE was able to recall at the present time. BARMINE, still not sure, then asked KRIVITSKY to name some of the individuals who were working for Soviet Military Intelligence in America. In response, BARMINE said, KRIVITSKY named about ten persons including GEORGE MINK, ALGER HISS and HARRY DEXTER WHITE. BARMINE could not recall the names of any of the others mentioned by KRIVITSKY at the time of the interview. However he indicated that he felt he could remember these names, after a little thought, and he promised to furnish them to the agents when available.

BARMINE claimed that KRIVITSKY gave no further explanation of this allegation and he said he had no further discussion along these lines with KRIVITSKY either in France or in the United States. Mr. BARMINE observed that KRIVITSKY was highly nervous and excited at the time of this talk, and was obviously worried.

With further reference to KRIVITSKY, it might be stated that he was a highly placed Soviet Intelligence Officer in Western Europe for a number of years. After he defected from the Soviets in 1937 he came to the United States where he died in 1941. He was found dead in a hotel room in Washington, D.C., and though there were allegations to the effect that he had been murdered by GPU agents he was officially adjudged a suicide.

Mr. BARMINE also recalled one other incident involving the name of ALGER HISS. He placed this as being sometime in 1945 or 1946 and said that on this occasion he dined in the home of a couple, whose names he could not remember, but who lived in Westchester County, New York. Following the meal a discussion was had concerning the number of Communists working in the United States Government. BARMINE said that the names of several people were mentioned but the only one he specifically recalled was ALGER HISS. The latter, according to BARMINE, was referred to by these people as being a Communist, and BARMINE thought they had described him as being Chief Counsel in the State Department.

He said that there was no further discussion of HISS other than the mention of his name and employment.

BARMINE also told the interviewing agents that while he was attached to the Foreign Trade Commission in Moscow he had occasion to see General I. BERZIN, then head of Soviet Military Intelligence, approximately every other day. During the course of one of these visits BERZIN, in discussing China, mentioned to BARMINE that the Soviets had some American working for them there. According to Mr. BARMINE, he named OWEN LATTIMORE and JOSEPH BARNES as being two of these individuals.

After he entered this country BARMINE said he began to read closely the writings of JOSEPH BARNES, OWEN LATTIMORE and HARRY DEXTER WHITE, and the newspaper articles concerning them. From these sources he formed his own opinion that they were actually Soviet agents. As to GEORGE MINK he said that he never again heard of this man and thus could not formulate any opinion of his own. He never heard anything further derogatory concerning ALGER HISS except for the time of the dinner in Westchester County in 1945 or 1946. This was the only information he ever received, which would tend to substantiate KRIVITSKY'S remark, until the present newspaper publicity.

LOUIS F. BUDENZ, Assistant Professor, Fordham University, formerly Managing Editor of the "Daily Worker" was interviewed today by SA W.J. McCARTHY concerning ALGER HISS. He advised that he never met ALGER HISS but understood that he was a member of the CP connected with the Washington Group. BUDENZ stated that he could not place the date when he first heard of HISS as a Party member. He added that he can recall two instances when HISS was mentioned in a discussion by Party members. The first discussion took place during Hitler Stalin Pact at National Headquarters. BUDENZ, ROY HUDSON and BOB MINOR were present, possibly others. They were discussing an attack on the "Daily Worker". Someone mentioned that NATHAN WITT and LEE PRESSMAN could not be too helpful because they were under attack at the time. ALGER HISS was then mentioned by someone as one who would be helpful. He was mentioned as a good comrade. The second discussion took place in JACK STACHEL'S office sometime in 1945. Present were EUGENE DENNIS, JACK STACHEL, LOUIS BUDENZ and possibly CHARLES KRUMBEIN. The subject being discussed was the Amerasia Case. DENNIS stated that Lt. ANDREW ROTH had suggested that ALGER HISS should be used to quash the case. BUDENZ stated that he furnished the above information to the HCUA in executive session. BUDENZ did not know whether or not PRICILLA HISS or DONALD HISS were members of the CP. In addition to the above information, BUDENZ during a previous interview on August 26th stated that during the Hitler Stalin Pact, EUGENE DENNIS contacted him, BUDENZ, at the "Daily Worker" and stated that he had a technical difficulty and wanted to know if BUDENZ felt that HOWARD HUNTER in Washington would help him. DENNIS continued that he did not wish to contact ALGER HISS since HISS was under a cloud at the time. BUDENZ understood that DENNIS' technical difficulty meant that he had used a fraudulent passport.

In addition to the above, Special Agents of the F.B.I. from the Washington Field, the F.B.I. Laboratory, the Baltimore and the New York Divisions also testified.

On December 15, 1948 the Grand Jury handed up to U.S. District Judge JOHN W. CLANCY a two-count indictment against ALGER HISS charging violations of Title 18, Section 1621 of the U.S. Code. This indictment, the text of which is set out hereinafter, was returned at approximately 5:45 PM that day and arrangements were made by Assistant Attorney General CAMPBELL with Attorney MC LEAN for ALGER HISS to surrender himself the following morning for arraignment before Judge CLANCY.

On arraignment December 16, 1948 HISS personally pleaded not guilty to both counts in the indictment and on recommendation of Mr. WHEARTY bond was fixed at $5,000 and HISS was ordered fingerprinted and photographed. Mr. MC LEAN'S motion for a two-week period from that date for the filing of motions with respect to the indictment was granted by the Court and on Mr. WHEARTY'S request January 24, 1949 was set as the tentative trial date. HISS was immediately thereafter taken to the New York Office and fingerprinted and photographed, after which he furnished the required bond and was released.

On the morning of December 16, 1948, immediately prior to the arraignment of ALGER HISS, a new Grand Jury was sworn in by Judge CLANCY and that same day was given an introduction to the subject matter to be presented by Messrs. DONEGAN and WHEARTY. No witnesses were heard that day, but subject CHAMBERS testified the following day and on December 20, 1948 both WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN and GEORGE PIGMAN appeared before the Grand Jury.

On December 14, 1948 the House Committee on Un-American Activities turned over to this Bureau for Laboratory examination five 35mm. negative films; these negatives were stated to be those previously referred to as having been recovered from the pumpkin on the CHAMBERS' farm at Westminster, Maryland on December 2, 1948, and were identified as follows:

"exposed many years ago but developed only within the last few weeks. Each contained approximately 30 exposures. Both of these negatives were fogged in many places and the emotion on the film was badly deteriorated. This condition was apparently caused by the length of time between the exposure of the negative and its development. It is considered unusual that the latent image was even visible after the alleged lapse of time of approximately ten years. The fogging condition was typical of film which is developed a great length of time after its intended expiration date. One set of enlarged prints was made from each of these negatives. Many of the prints were illegible. However, 35 photographs were at least partially legible and in addition to the print made directly from the negative, three additional prints were made of each photograph.

"Film E was submitted with Films A and B, but was entirely black. Efforts were made to restore it, but were unsuccessful."

Film C, which was allegedly both exposed and developed some years ago, was found by the Laboratory to contain 22 exposures; it was in good condition and a set of enlarged prints was made from the negative.

Film D, which was also alleged to have been both exposed and developed some years ago, contained 36 exposures, was in good condition, and 4 enlarged prints were made directly from the negative.

The Laboratory also reported that a comparison was made between the material turned over to the Grand Jury and the documents developed from the film made available to the F.B.I. for Laboratory examination, and no additional documents were developed from the film. It was noted, however, that the Committee made available to the Grand Jury a number of documents which were illegible and some of these documents were developed by the F.B.I. Laboratory so they are now readable.

The following is the text of the two count indictment handed down by the Federal Grand Jury in the Southern District of New York on December 15, 1948:

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

- x

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA	:
Plaintiff	:	Criminal No.
-v-	:	Title 18, Section 1621 U.S.C.
ALGER HISS	:
Defendant	:

- x

The Grand Jury charges:

1. That on the 15th day of December 1948, at the Southern District of New York and within the jurisdiction of this Court, Alger Hiss, the defendant herein, having duly taken an oath before a competent tribunal, to wit, the grand jurors of the United States of America, duly impanelled and sworn in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, and inquiring for that District, in a case then and there pending before said Grand Jurors in which a law of the United States authorizes an oath to be administered, that he would testify truly, did unlawfully knowingly and wilfully and contrary to said oath, state material matter which he did not believe to be true, that is to say:

2. That at the time and place aforesaid, the said Grand jurors, inquiring as aforesaid, were conducting an investigation entitled United States v. John Doe, pertaining to possible violations of espionage laws of the United States and any other Federal criminal statutes:

3. That it was material to this investigation to ascertain whether the espionage or other statutes of the United States had been violated by the unlawful abstraction or removal of secret, confidential or restricted documents, writings, sketches, notes or other papers by persons employed by the United States Government, or by the furnishing, delivery or transmittal of any such documents, writings, sketches, notes or other papers to any unauthorized persons, and whether the defendant Alger Hiss had any knowledge of any such violation.

4. That at the time and place aforesaid, the defendant Alger Hiss, duly appearing as a witness before the said Grand Jurors, and then and there being under oath as aforesaid, and having been duly advised of the nature of the investigation then and there being conducted, testified falsely before said Grand Jurors with respect to the aforesaid material matter as follows:

> Q Mr. Hiss, you have probably been asked this question before, but I'd like to ask the question again. At any time did you, or Mrs. Hiss in your presence, turn any documents of the State Department or of any other Government organization, or copies of any documents of the State Department or any other Government organization, over to Whittaker Chambers?
> A Never. Excepting, I assume, the title certificate to the Ford.
> Q In order to clarify it, would that be the only exception? A The only exception.
> JUROR: To nobody else did you turn over any documents, to any other person?
> THE WITNESS: And to no other unauthorized person. I certainly could have to other officials.

That the aforesaid testimony of the defendant, as he then and there well knew and believed, was untrue in that the defendant, being then and there employed in the Department of State, in or about the months of February and March, 1938, furnished, delivered and transmitted to one Jay David Whittaker Chambers, who was not then and there a person authorized to receive the same, copies of numerous secret, confidential and restricted documents, writings, notes and other papers, the originals of which had theretofore been removed and abstracted from the possession and custody of the Department of State, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1621.

1. The Grand Jury realleges all of the allegations of paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 of the first count of this indictment.

2. That at the time and place aforesaid the defendant Alger Hiss, duly appearing as a witness before said Grand Jurors, and then and there being under oath as aforesaid, and having been duly advised of the nature of the investigation then and there being conducted, testified falsely before said Grand Jurors with respect to the aforesaid material matter as follows:

> Q Now, Mr. Hiss, Mr. Chambers says that he obtained typewritten copies of official State documents from you.
> A I know he has.
> Q Did you ever see Mr. Chambers after you entered into the State Department? A I do not believe I did. I cannot swear that I did not see him some time, say, in the fall of '36. And I entered the State Department September 1, 1936.
> Q Now, you say possibly in the fall of '36. A That would be possible.
> Q Can you say definitely with reference to the winter of '36; I mean, say, December, '36? A Yes, I think I can say definitely I did not see him.
> Q Can you say definitely that you did not see him after January 1, 1937? A Yes, I think I can definitely say that.
> MR. WHEARTY: Understanding, of course, exclusive of House hearings and exclusive of the Grand Jury.
> THE WITNESS: Oh, yes.

Kisseloff-6706

That the aforesaid testimony of the defendant, as he then and there well knew and believed, was untrue in that the defendant did in fact see and converse with the said Mr. Chambers in or about the months of February and March, 1938, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1621.

SYNOPSIS: In signed statement 12/3/48 at Baltimore, Md., CHAMBERS declared that in 1938 he turned over to NATHAN LEVINE, CHAMBERS' wife's nephew, an envelope containing 65 typewritten pages of documents given him by ALGER HISS, 4 small notes in handwriting of ALGER HISS, 4 sheets of paper in handwriting of HARRY DEXTER WHITE, 3 cans of undeveloped film and 2 strips of developed film; that above material was hidden by LEVINE in his mother's home, 260 Rochester Ave, Brooklyn, and remained hidden there until removed by CHAMBERS 11/14/48. LEVINE recalls receiving envelope from CHAMBERS in 1938 or 1939, with instructions to retain it; if anything happened to CHAMBERS envelope was to be given to ESTHER SHEMITZ CHAMBERS, wife. LEVINE denies knowledge of envelope's contents. FBI Lab concluded that Woodstock typewriter on which were written 64 of above mentioned 65 typed documents (all dated in 2/38 and 3/38) is same machine on which were prepared letters signed by ALGER HISS dated 1/30/33 and 2/17/33. CHAMBERS in signed statements 12/7 and 12/8/48 stated in latter part of 1936 or early 1937 WARD PIGMAN, while employed at U.S. Bureau of Standards, gave him documentary information from latter agency; identified photo of DAVID CARPENTER, presently "Daily Worker" staff writer, as identical with individual who was courier and photographer in CHAMBERS' apparatus; stated one "KEITH" also did photographing for apparatus, and that one "FELIX" photographed much of documentary material he received. Latter two unidentified to date. SAMUEL J. PELOWITZ not identical with "FELIX". Also that in 1936, at request of his espionage superior, BORIS BYKOV, he gave one rug each to ALGER HISS, WHITE, and A. GEORGE SILVERMAN, as "token of gratitude for activities to American Communists". Detailed chronology of CHAMBERS' association with BYKOV set out. CHAMBERS declared that VINCENT RENO (determined to be FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO), civilian employee of Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Md., supplied him with documentary material from A.P.G. on about 5 occasions in 1937; that in 1937 and early 1938 he received government documents from HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH, then in Division of Trade Agreements, Department of State. In signed statement 12/10/48 WADLEIGH admits having been introduced by ELEANOR NELSON to HAROLD WILSON, whom he now identifies as DAVID CARPENTER; that he later met CHAMBERS through CARPENTER and gave State Department documents to both in 1937 and probably 1938. In signed statement PHILIP RENO admits Communist Party membership in Baltimore and Denver, but denies any espionage activity. In signed statement FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO admits meeting CHAMBERS through one "BERNIE" in 1937 and thereafter giving CHAMBERS documents from Aberdeen Proving Grounds. DAVID CARPENTER admits knowing CHAMBERS and WADLEIGH, but refused further comment. PRISCILLA HISS, in signed statement, recalls knowing CHAMBERS as GEORGE CROSLEY in 1935 and 1936, but denies having copied any government documents whatsoever, and denies seeing CHAMBERS after 1936. SILVERMAN declined to answer any questions on advice of counsel. COLLINS states he vaguely recalls meeting CHAMBERS socially in Washington in middle 1930's and denies any espionage connection between CHAMBERS and himself. HEDE MASSING, former Russian agent, advised that while she was attempting to activate NOEL FIELD, formerly of State Department, as source of information, FIELD told her ALGER HISS was also attempting to recruit him; MASSING and HISS later had friendly argument over use of FIELD. Confrontation of HISS with MASSING on 12/9 and 12/10/48 negative, with HISS insisting he had never met or talked with her. LAURENCE H. DUGGAN, formerly of State Department, interviewed negatively re ALGER and DONALD HISS; states COLLINS and FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD did approach him to do something for U.S.S.R. or Communist Party (details not recalled). ALEXANDER GREGORY-GRAFF BARMINE states that in conversation with the late

Kisseloff-6717

WALTER KRIVITSKY, in early 1938 in Paris, latter stated GEORGE MINK, ALGER HISS, and HARRY DEXTER WHITE, were working for Soviet military intelligence in U.S. List of Grand Jury witnesses to date set out. On 12/15/48 GJ returned two-count indictment against ALGER HISS charging violations of 18 USC 1621; on arraignment on 12/16/48 before USDJ JOHN W. CLANCY, SDNY, HISS pleaded not guilty, bond was set at $5,000 and immediately furnished. HISS fingerprinted and photographed in NY Office. New GJ sworn in 12/16/48 and has heard CHAMBERS, WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN, and GEORGE PIGMAN.

REFERENCE: Bureau File 74-1333.
Bureau letter to New York, 11/26/48.
Report of SA FRANK G. JOHNSTONE, Baltimore, 12/4/48.

DETAILS: This is a joint report of SA THOMAS G. SPENCER and the writer.

Referenced report reflects that in a signed statement furnished to Agents of the Baltimore Division on December 3, 1948 subject CHAMBERS declared that in 1938 he turned over to NATHAN LEVINE, his wife's nephew, an envelope which contained 65 typewritten documents and four small pieces of white paper on which appeared handwriting that, according to his recollection, is the handwriting of ALGER HISS; further that these 65 pages of documents were copies or condensations of State Department documents which were turned over to CHAMBERS by ALGER HISS during the latter part of 1937 and early 1938. Such statement further recites that there were also contained in that envelope three cans of undeveloped film and two strips of developed film. CHAMBERS identified NATHAN LEVINE as a lawyer with offices on 42nd Street near Broadway, New York City, residing on Sterling Place in Brooklyn, New York, and further that CHAMBERS recovered this envelope and its contents from LEVINE on Sunday, November 14, 1948 at the home of LEVINE'S mother in Brooklyn, where they were hidden in a dumbwaiter shaft. Also included in this brown envelope, according to CHAMBERS, were four yellow lined sheets of paper in the handwriting of HARRY DEXTER WHITE.

It is to be noted that in connection with a pre-trial deposition being taken in Baltimore, Maryland at the request of counsel representing ALGER HISS in the latter's $75,000 slander action against CHAMBERS, subject CHAMBERS produced the above described material, with the exception of the film.

It was determined that there is no identifiable information in the files of the New York Division concerning NATHAN LEVINE, but from available sources it was established that he was probably identical with NATHAN L. LEVINE, 960 Sterling Place, Brooklyn, New York, with law offices at 152 West 42nd Street, New York City.

LEVINE was located by SA FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN and the writer at his residence on the evening of December 4, 1948 and stated that he is a nephew of ESTHER SHEMITZ CHAMBERS, wife of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, and that he is intimately acquainted with CHAMBERS. LEVINE further identified himself as a member of the New York Bar since 1933 and stated that he is now in general practice in this city and in addition is secretary to Judge EMANUEL GREENBERG of the New York State Court of Claims.

He was then interrogated as to whether CHAMBERS had ever given to him for safe keeping any personal property whatsoever, particularly whether such a transaction may have occurred several years ago. LEVINE became very evasive at this point and asked what particular type of personal property Agents had in mind. He was then asked if CHAMBERS had turned over to him an envelope or folder or bundle of papers, and after considerable vacillation and many attempts to evade giving a direct reply, LEVINE finally said that he had been consulted recently as an attorney by CHAMBERS and for that reason felt a privileged relationship probably resulted, and for that reason stated he felt he could not answer Agents' questions. He did say, however, that CHAMBERS had visited him at his residence on November 21, 1948 , that immediately prior thereto CHAMBERS had sent him a telegram informing him that he was going to arrive at 1 PM that date, and asking him, "Do you have things ready?" LEVINE continued that he was mystified by this wire and remarked to his wife that he had no idea of what CHAMBERS had in mind.

At the conclusion of CHAMBERS' visit on November 21, 1948 LEVINE offered to drive CHAMBERS to Penn Station for the latter to take a train to Baltimore and en route CHAMBERS requested that they stop at the home of LEVINE'S parents, Mr. and Mrs. BARNET LEVINE, 260 Rochester Avenue, Brooklyn, New York. According to LEVINE, CHAMBERS indicated he wanted to pick up something from that residence. After they stopped at the Rochester Avenue address, CHAMBERS looked around in the basement and took away a folder and/or a box. LEVINE claimed he was extremely hazy on exactly what CHAMBERS did in the basement, paid no attention to what CHAMBERS removed therefrom, and claimed to recall no remarks of possible significance made by CHAMBERS then or later with respect to the material he picked up.

LEVINE continually resisted Agents' efforts to elicit a detailed account of his association with CHAMBERS on that day and frequently reiterated his belief that he was bound not to disclose everything he knew because of the privileged relationship mentioned above.

It is to be noted that Mrs. BARNET LEVINE is an older sister of ESTHER SHEMITZ CHAMBERS and, according to NATHAN L. LEVINE, CHAMBERS some years ago occasionally occupied a room in the BARNET LEVINE household for short periods of time and had stored some property there.

On December 15, 1948 Special Agents WILLIAM G. O'DONNELL, FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN, and the writer reinterrogated LEVINE at his home and requested that they be allowed immediately to inspect the basement of the BARNET LEVINE residence. LEVINE'S attitude was considerably changed on this occasion and when the inspection of the basement was broached he immediately remarked that CHAMBERS had not taken any material from the basement, but rather that it had been taken from an abandoned dumbwaiter shaft in the BARNET LEVINE residence. He willingly accompanied Agents immediately thereafter to the BARNET LEVINE residence and on the second floor thereof pointed out the abandoned dumbwaiter shaft in the bathroom in which he said he had placed an envelope for CHAMBERS in 1938 or 1939. This dumbwaiter shaft was carefully examined and it was noted that there remained nothing of significance and that only a small accumulation of dirty rags and yellowed copies of newspapers were in the shaft. LEVINE claimed to be unable to recall exactly when CHAMBERS asked him to keep the envelope for him, but stated it was either in 1938 or in 1939; further that the envelope was sealed at the time he received it from CHAMBERS and remained sealed until he turned it back to CHAMBERS on November 21, 1948, when, as mentioned above, he and CHAMBERS stopped off at the BARNET LEVINE residence.

(It is to be noted that LEVINE is undoubtedly mistaken as to the date of the CHAMBERS visit to him in November, 1948 inasmuch as CHAMBERS in his signed statement of December 3, 1948 fixed the date as November 14, 1948 and as the documents were produced by CHAMBERS at the pre-trial examination on November 17, 1948, the date of his recovering them from LEVINE obviously could not have been November 21, 1948.)

LEVINE further related that CHAMBERS told him in the event anything happened to him (CHAMBERS) LEVINE should turn over the envelope to Mrs. CHAMBERS and that if anything happened to both of them that LEVINE, as a lawyer, would know what to do with it. LEVINE insisted that the envelope had remained sealed from the time he received it until he returned it to CHAMBERS and that his only knowledge of the contents thereof comes from watching CHAMBERS open the envelope in the kitchen in the BARNET LEVINE residence immediately after he had handed the envelope back to CHAMBERS. LEVINE declared that he paid no particular attention to CHAMBERS as the latter was extracting the material from the envelope, except that he did know there were some documents among the material and he remembered that CHAMBERS made some exclamation of surprise as he was removing the material.

While Agents were at the 260 Rochester Avenue address the basement area was carefully searched for further property CHAMBERS might have left there, but none was located. Two rolls of 16 mm. film were taken with the express consent of LEVINE and on examination by Special Agents WILLIAM G. O'DONNELL and JOHN B. SIMMONS on the next day, December 5, 1948, were determined to be home movies of no significance to instant investigation. LEVINE remarked he had called the attention of CHAMBERS to this film when he and the latter were at the Rochester Avenue residence in November, but that CHAMBERS said that they were not his property and of no interest to him.

THOMAS J. DONEGAN, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, was advised of the above outlined developments and requested that LEVINE be instructed to appear before the Grand Jury hearing instant matter on December 5, 1948. LEVINE readily assented to this request.

On December 5, 1948 HENRY HILL COLLINS, JR. was interviewed in the office of the American Russian Institute, 58 Park Avenue, New York City, which is also Mr. COLLINS' residence, by Special Agents NORMAN P. BAGWELL and THOMAS G. SPENCER. When questioned concerning his knowledge of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS he replied that he had been previously interviewed on several occasions concerning his knowledge of this individual, but that during these interviews he had failed to recall any information concerning WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or whether he ever met this person. He declared that since the recent publicity of Mr. CHAMBERS and Mr. HISS, particularly before the House Un-American Activities Committee, he is now of the definite impression that he saw a person probably identical with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, but who did not use that particular name, in Washington, D.C. in the middle 1930's. It was Mr. COLLINS' recollection that he saw CHAMBERS on several occasions at cocktail and other social affairs in Washington, D.C. and stated that in all probability CHAMBERS might have been a guest in his, COLLINS', home on such an occasion.

COLLINS declared that he remembered CHAMBERS as a newspaper man or a writer of some type or other. He denied that he had been engaged in any way whatsoever with CHAMBERS in any espionage activities; that he had furnished CHAMBERS or any other unauthorized person any documentary material that came into his possession while he was a government employee. He denied knowing anybody by the name of BORIS BYKOV or having been introduced to an individual by this name or by the description of BYKOV that was furnished to him by Agents. He stated that he did not know an individual named PETER while he was an employee of the government in Washington, D.C.

At the completion of this interview COLLINS was served with a subpoena calling for his presence at the Federal Grand Jury in the Southern District of New York at 10 AM on December 6, 1948.

On December 5, 1948 Special Agents NORMAN P. BAGWELL and THOMAS G. SPENCER interviewed A. GEORGE SILVERMAN at his residence, 255 West 23rd Street, New York City. Mrs. SILVERMAN was also present during this interview. Mr. SILVERMAN was advised that this Bureau was desirous of questioning him in some detail concerning an official matter, and at this point he advised that on the advice of counsel he would refuse to answer any questions at this time. He was thereupon served with a subpoena calling for his presence before the Federal Grand Jury in the Southern District of New York at 10 AM on December 6, 1948.

Efforts to locate PRISCILLA HISS, wife of ALGER HISS, on December 5, 1948 for interview were unsuccessful.

On December 6, 1948, Mrs. ALGER HISS was interviewed in the presence of her attorney, Mr. EDWARD C. MC LEAN, 20 Exchange Place, New York City, by SA THOMAS G. SPENCER and the writer.

The arrangements for the interview were previously made with Mr. MC LEAN and he requested that he be present during the time of the interview.

Mrs. HISS was first questioned concerning her knowledge or acquaintanceship with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. Mrs. HISS advised that she knew an individual by the name of GEORGE CROSLEY in 1935 and whom she has now identified to be WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. She further stated that in 1935, exact date not known by her, CHAMBERS and his wife sublet her apartment, which was located at 2831 28th Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., and that she, herself, was living at 2905 P. Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. She stated that for a short period of time CHAMBERS and his wife stayed in Mrs. HISS' home on P. Street waiting to move into the sublet apartment on 28th Street. Continuing, she advised that she had never socialized to any degree with the CHAMBERS and that she did not particularly desire to associate with Mrs. CHAMBERS in a social way.

Mrs. HISS was advised of the facts concerning the allegations made by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS to the effect that he had received documents from ALGER HISS which were taken from the State Department to HISS' home. Mrs. HISS then stated that she had no knowledge of any documents, notes or any other material that Mr. HISS had in his possession and had no knowledge of his bringing the material mentioned to his home.

Mrs. HISS was specifically questioned concerning the typewriter that she had in her home on which CHAMBERS had claimed that the documents were typed. Mrs. HISS then stated that all she could recall concerning the typewriter was that it was a typewriter which belonged to her father, THOMAS L. FANSLER, who was in the insurance business in Philadelphia. She believed that it was the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company for which he acted as agent. She stated that this typewriter was given to her by her father possibly in 1932 or 1933; that her father died in 1940; and that she could not recall how she had disposed of it. She could not recall the make of the typewriter. The only thing she remembered about it was that it was an old-fashioned typewriter which her father had used for a number of years.

Mrs. HISS stated that she, herself, was not a proficient typist but that she had typed up several things on the typewriter and used the one-finger method for such typing.

During the course of the interview, Mr. MC LEAN mentioned that Mrs. HISS had written a book. The Agents questioned her as to whether or not she had typed up the manuscript for the book on her typewriter. She advised that she had only typed a few of the pages of the manuscript on the typewriter and the rest was in longhand. She further stated that no copy of the manuscript was available. The book was published by the Carnegie Foundation, the exact year she could not recall, but thought it was in the early 1930's. She stated that she has searched through her papers in an effort to locate material which may have been typed up on the questioned typewriter but she was not successful. Mr. MC LEAN interjected and stated that he had learned that there were two typewritten papers written up by Mrs. HISS' son and that he would attempt to locate these papers and make them available to the Agents. Mrs. HISS then stated that she could not possibly say that these papers were typewritten on the machine that she had in her possession in 1935 or 1936.

It will be recalled that a Ford car had been previously mentioned by Mr. CHAMBERS as having been in his possession and which was formerly owned by HISS. Mrs. HISS stated that she recalls the Ford car very well and that her husband, ALGER HISS, had given the Ford automobile to CHAMBERS. She could not recall the year, but believed it was in 1935 or 1936.

Mrs. HISS emphatically stated that she had never heard her husband or CHAMBERS discuss any material which had been obtained from the Government or documents which Mr. HISS might have had in his possession in his official capacity. She further stated that she had never heard the name of Colonel BYKOV mentioned by CHAMBERS or by her husband. It is to be noted that CHAMBERS stated he introduced HISS to Colonel BYKOV in Brooklyn, New York, and that BYKOV was the contact man for the Russian Intelligence in the United States.

Mrs. HISS advised that her given name was PRISCILLA and that she taught the Seventh and Eighth Grades at the Dalton School, located at 108 East 89th Street, New York City. She further added that in the event she is able to find any specimens of any kind which may have been written up on the questioned typewriter, she would furnish them to this office through her attorney.

The following signed statement was obtained from Mrs. HISS in the presence of her attorney, EDWARD C. MC LEAN, on December 7, 1948:

"New York, New York
December 7, 1948

"I, Mrs. Priscilla Hiss, residing at 22 East 8th Street, New York City, give the following voluntary statement to Special Agents Thomas G. Spencer and Francis D. O'Brien, who have identified themselves to me to be Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I am making this statement in the presence of my attorney, Mr. Edward C. McLean. I know that any statement that I make may be used against me in a court of law.

"Some time in 1935, the exact date I cannot now recall, I was introduced to an individual by the name of George Crosley, whom I now believe to be Whittaker Chambers. I did not know that Crosley's name was Whittaker Chambers at any time while I knew him. At the time of this introduction I was residing at 2831 28th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. For a short period of time Chambers and his wife lived at our house in a spare room which we had at 2905 P Street while waiting to move into the premises at 2831 28th Street, N.W., which premises were sublet to Mr. Chambers by my husband, Mr. Hiss. As far as I know no lease was drawn for the subletting of the apartment. I also met Mr. Chambers on several occasions when he called at my home to visit with my husband. I recall that Mr. Hiss had a Ford automobile, namely a 1929 model, and that he gave this Ford car to Mr. Chambers. I have not seen Mr. Chambers, as far as I can recall, since sometime in 1936.

"I have been advised of the allegations that Mr. Chambers has made against my husband, namely that Mr. Hiss removed documents from the government offices where he was employed and turned these documents over to Mr. Chambers in order that they might be photographed. Mr. Hiss never turned over any documents to Mr. Chambers in my presence or in so far as I know at any other time.

"During the time my husband was employed by the government he occasionally brought work home from the office. However, I never personally examined any of this material and have no knowledge of its contents.

"I have been asked to recall all of the facts concerning a typewriter which was in my possession. Some time in 1932 or 1933, as far as I can recall, my father, Mr. Thomas L. Fansler, who was in the insurance business in Philadelphia (he was connected with the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, for which company he acted as a general agent), had in his possession a typewriter which he gave to me. I do not recall whether I had this typewriter while I was residing in New York City. I do not recall the make of this typewriter. I do not recall now, how I disposed of it. I myself am not a proficient typist, but I have typed several things on this typewriter which my father gave to me. I did prepare a manuscript for a book which was later published by the Carnegie Corporation, but as far as I can recall I did not type this manuscript in its entirety. I typed some of it and prepared the rest in longhand."

"I wish to state that I have never heard my husband, Alger Hiss, or Mr. Chambers discuss any material which had been obtained from the government or documents which Mr. Hiss might have had in his possession in his official capacity. I also wish to state that I have never been acquainted with an individual by the name of Colonel Bykov, who I understand Mr. Chambers has stated was introduced by him to my husband. I wish to state that I have never copied or typed any U.S. Government documents for the purpose of giving them to Mr. Chambers.

"I wish to state that I have read this statement, consisting of one and one-half pages, and it is true to the best of my knowledge. I have initialed each page.

The following investigation was conducted by SA JOHN F. SULLIVAN:

On December 9, 1948 at the Carnegie Corporation of New York, 522 Fifth Avenue, a check of its grants and publications failed to reveal a grant for PRISCILLA HISS or ROBERTA H. FANSLER for the publication of "The Teaching of Art in American Colleges".

On December 10, 1948 PETER McGILL, manager of the College Art Association, 625 Madison Avenue also checked his records without finding such a grant, or publication for the years 1933, 1934 and 1935.

He pointed out that the usual procedure is to return the original manuscript to the author who submitted it, together with the galley for proof reading. Usually the author retains the manuscript and returns the corrected galley. If by chance the author returns the manuscript the Association would destroy it after a short time. He added that the Carnegie Corporation would never see the manuscript. It would only pay for the printing through the grant.

Mr. McGILL called Mrs. AUDREY McMAHON who held his position in 1934. She remembered the grant and the manuscript but could not recall its final disposition. She believed it was published in Parnassus. Persual of Parnassus for 1933, 1934 and 1935 failed to locate it. Parnassus and the Art Bulletin are the two publications of the College Art Association.

Mr. McGILL stated that ROBERTA H. FANSLER is well known to the Association. PRICILLA HISS is not. ROBERTA H. FANSLER is now Mrs. JOHN ALFORD, 55A Charles Field Street, Providence 6, Rhode Island. JOHN ALFORD is a former Columbia University professor.

An article with a title similar to "The Teaching of Art in American Colleges" called "The Teaching of Art in the Colleges of the United States" by ROBERT I. As a result of the disclosures made by CHAMBERS in the pre-trial examination of him in Baltimore by counsel for ALGER HISS, THOMAS J. DONEGAN, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, who has been presenting evidence concerning alleged and suspected espionage activity to a Grand Jury in the Southern District of New York, caused the Grand Jury to reconvene on December 6, 1948. Elsewhere in this report there is being set out a summary of the Grand Jury's activities during the period of this report. It is also to be noted that on the evening of December 6, 1948 Representatives ROBERT NIXON and JOHN MC DOWELL of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, accompanied by ROBERT E. STRIPLING, Chief Investigator for the Committee, appeared at New York City and a discussion was had with them by Mr. DONEGAN and JOHN F. X. MC GOHEY, United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York, with respect to the procedures to be followed by the H.C.U.A. and the Justice Department. It was learned reliably that on this evening the Committee members questioned subject CHAMBERS in executive session at the Commodore Hotel.

Also on December 6, 1948 through arrangements made by PEYTON FORD, Assistant to the Attorney General, Mr. L. E. THOMPSON, Deputy Director, European Division, U.S. Department of State, examined, in Mr. DONEGAN'S office, copies of the documentary material produced by CHAMBERS at the pre-trial deposition in Baltimore and also prints of film secured from the CHAMBERS farm on December 2, 1948 by representatives of the H.C.U.A. Mr. THOMPSON commented to Mr. DONEGAN that there was nothing particularly "embarrassing" in the first group of material, but that it did consist of what apparently were copies of State Department documents. Mr. THOMPSON stated, however, that much of the material located on December 2, 1948 was "Top Secret" and would have carried such a designation if one had been in use by the State Department during the period covered by the documents, and pointed out that they would at least have been classified "Strictly Confidential" at that time. He mentioned one document particularly which might cause some embarrassment if published inasmuch as it indicated that consideration was being given by this government prior to 1939 to a rapprochement between the United States and Germany on an economic basis.

On December 7, 1948, SAS JOHN J. WARD and WILLIAM J. McCARTHY, Jr., interviewed HEDE MASSING at her residence concerning HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH, who, according to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was operating in behalf of the Communist international movement under HEDE GUMPERTZ, who is HEDE MASSING.

HEDE MASSING stated that she could not recognize HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH from his name or the descriptive data concerning him.

She was also asked concerning HAROLD WILSON, who was WADLEIGH'S co-worker in his intelligency work. HEDE did not recognize WILSON from his name or descriptive data, or the photograph of DAVID CARPENTER.

HEDE MASSING stated that she wished to furnish some additional information concerning ALGER HISS. She added that she had not previously furnished this information since her mind was not exactly clear concerning the matter. She felt she now could reconstruct the events with a fair degree of accuracy. HEDE stated that for approximately one year, or a period of time which included a winter and a summer, she had been working on NOEL FIELD, a State Department employee, to get him to enter into the work she was doing, which was intelligence work on behalf of the Soviets or the Comintern. She stated that she was not certain that she was working for the Soviets nor did she know whether or not NOEL FIELD understood that he was being recruited for the Soviets. However, she is sure that he knew that he was to work in behalf of the Communist international cause. HEDE stated that she had propositioned NOEL FIELD to obtain information from the State Department and turn it over to her. She would then see that it was turned over to her superior, BORIS, who would send it either to Russia or to a representative of the Comintern. HEDE frequently went to Washington and stayed at FIELD'S apartment with FIELD and his wife while she was developing him.

After about a year, and possibly in the winter of 1935-1936, NOEL FIELD told HEDE that someone else was also recruiting him do do the same work and he did not know just what to do. HEDE told NOEL that she would like to meet this person who was trying to recruit him, so they could have it out. FIELD said he would arrange to have HEDE meet the person.

According to HEDE, approximately a week later, FIELD had a dinner party at his apartment in Washington. HEDE recalls that HERTA FIELD, NOEL'S wife, was present, along with NOEL, herself and ALGER HISS. She cannot recall whether or not anyone else was present, possibly a few others. HISS' wife was not present.

NOEL FIELD told HEDE that HISS was the person who was trying to recruit him. He told her this either before or on the night of the dinner. HEDE stated that she was impressed by HISS' good looks, his charm, and his intelligence, and they got along very well. Immediately after the dinner and at the first moment when HEDE and ALGER HISS could get together, they had a conversation, which, to the best of HEDE'S recollection, is as follows:

ALGER HISS: "Well, you are the famous girl who is meddling in my affairs."

HEDE MASSING: "And you are the man who is meddling in my affairs."

ALGER HISS: "What is your apparatus."

HEDE MASSING: "I wouldn't ask that question of you. You shouldn't ask it of me".

(They both laughed at this)

ALGER HISS: "Well, we'll fight it out to see who gets NOEL."

HEDE MASSING: "I'll beat you in this game because I'm a woman."

After this either HEDE or ALGER said:

"What difference does it make who gets NOEL. We're both working for the same boss."

HEDE cannot recall whether she made this statement or whether ALGER made it. The statement meant to HEDE that they were both working for the same boss, the Communist international movement. HEDE stated that there was no question in her mind that HISS was working for some branch of Soviet Intelligence or for the Comintern and was trying to recruit FIELD to work with him, and further this branch was in competition with her group headed by "BORIS". HEDE stated that throughout the evening, she got along very well with ALGER HISS. They seemed to agree on everything. After the meeting, HEDE returned to New York and reported the results of her meeting with ALGER HISS to her superior, BORIS. BORIS was delighted and slapped HEDE on the back and said, "Good girl". He instructed her not to see HISS in the future. HEDE stated that she never saw ALGER HISS either before or after this one dinner party at NOEL FIELD'S. HEDE has seen many photographs of ALGER in the paper recently and she is sure that it was ALGER HISS she met in FIELD'S apartment. HEDE stated that she was probably staying at FIELD'S apartment the night she met HISS. HEDE eventually won FIELD and he operated for her group. He is presently in Switzerland.

During the interview with HEDE MASSING on December 7 and 8, 1948, she stated that about the time she was working on NOEL FIELD to cooperate with her in Communist Intelligence work, she was also working on LAWRENCE DUGGAN, a State Department employee and a close associate of ALGER HISS. DUGGAN resisted her, but eventually agreed to see her superior BORIS. BORIS later told her that DUGGAN was difficult and suggested she might have to see him again. She never did. She always liked DUGGAN and respected him and when she broke with the Russians in 1938, she went to Washington to see him and tell him she was through, since she felt responsible for him. She stated that she did not see him, but saw his wife and received a cool reception. She felt that DUGGAN must have told his wife about her and her activity and opposed it. The wife's treatment of her indicated that DUGGAN had either kept out of the movement or had gotten out. HEDE never saw DUGGAN on her visits to Washington and has not seen him since probably 1935 or 1936. HEDE stated that she had held back the above information concerning DUGGAN when interviewed recently, because she was not sure he ever got into the work and if he did, she felt quite sure he was out by 1938.

The above is being brought to the attention of the Bureau in that they may wish to have DUGGAN interviewed at this time, since it is very possible that when ALGER HISS worked on NOEL FIELD to recruit him, he may also have worked on LAWRENCE DUGGAN.

The information furnished by HEDE MASSING regarding her conversation with ALGER HISS in the home of NOEL FIELD in Washington was immediately brought to the attention of Mr. DONEGAN and on his suggestion arrangements were made on December 9, 1948 for MASSING to view ALGER HISS face to face. This confrontation took place in this office and was witnessed by Bureau Agents. Neither HISS nor MASSING said anything on this occasion. HISS was requested immediately prior to the confrontation to view this individual long enough to satisfy himself positively as to whether or not he had ever seen her before. After he observed her for approximately two minutes he indicated that he had satisfied himself and accordingly was escorted from the room. He then informed the writer that he was positive he had never talked with that woman at any time or place, that he had no recollection whatsoever of ever having met her, and that the only qualification he would make in his denial of acquaintanceship or introduction to her was that it was barely possible he might have been casually introduced to her at a large affair where hundreds of people might have been present and he might have been introduced briefly to a great number of persons. He declared that this contingency was an exceedingly remote possibility.

On the following day a second confrontation of HISS with MASSING was staged and on this occasion HISS was accompanied by his attorney, EDWARD C. MC LEAN, at the latter's insistence. This session lasted approximately fifteen minutes and during that time MASSING attempted, by giving her recollection of the conversation between herself and HISS, to refresh his recollection. She stated, for instance, that she recalled definitely this conversation took place at the home of NOEL FIELD in Washington, that FIELD and his wife were present, that ALGER HISS was not accompanied by his wife, and that there may have been one or two more persons present. She pointed out to HISS that she recalled their private conversation apart from the others immediately after dinner.

HISS insisted that MASSING was surely mistaken in her identification of him as the man with whom she conversed on that occasion and very pleasantly thanked MASSING for attempting to "help". After leaving the room where the above described confrontation occurred, HISS expressed complete amazement that this woman would be so positive in her recollection of an event which he was equally positive never took place.

RE: LAURENCE H. DUGGAN

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agents JOHN J. DANAHY and WILLIAM J. McCARTHY, Jr.:

As a result of information furnished this office by HEDE MASSING to the effect that she had attempted to recruit LAURENCE DUGGAN to work in her apparatus in the interest of the Soviet Union or the Communist International during the period 1934 - 1936, which information was furnished the Bureau by teletype under date of December 8, 1948, the Bureau authorized an interview with LAURENCE DUGGAN by teletype dated December 9, 1948.

On December 10, 1948, LAURENCE H. DUGGAN was interviewed at his residence at 46 Walworth Avenue, Scarsdale, New York, telephone number Scarsdale 3-6425. DUGGAN advised that his business address was the Institute of International Education, 2 West 45th Street, New York City. He stated that he was a director of the Institute which was a philanthropic organization which worked in the interest of promoting international education. He added that his father had formerly been the director of the organization and he took over when his father died. He further advised that this organization operates under contract of the United States Government in choosing graduate students for study abroad under provision of the Fulbright Act.

HEDE MASSING

LAURENCE DUGGAN stated that the name HEDE MASSING was not familiar to him. He added that the name HEDE GUMPERTZ did sound familiar but he could not place the person. He was shown a photograph of HEDE MASSING who was formerly known as HEDE GUMPERTZ, and he stated that he recognized the picture as someone he had met but he could not recall the circumstances surrounding their meeting. He felt that possibly he met HEDE GUMPERTZ through NOEL FIELD in Washington or possibly through RODNEY DUTCHER, a newspaper man, with whom he was friendly, who worked in Washington during the early 1930's and who has since died.

In regard to the allegation that HEDE GUMPERTZ had talked to him many times and attempted to recruit him for Soviet espionage and had succeeded in getting him to go and see her superior "BORIS", Mr. DUGGAN stated that if he was recruited by HEDE GUMPERTZ then he never recognized it, and in regard to the allegation that he went to see her superior, he denied this. He stated that he never went to see anyone at the request of HEDE GUMPERTZ. Mr. DUGGAN stated that although his recollection of the circumstances under which he came to meet HEDE GUMPERTZ were extremely hazy to him, he is certain that at no time did she ever request him to perform any acts in the nature of espionage on behalf of the Soviets or the Communist International.

With a view to refreshing DUGGAN'S recollection of his association with HEDE GUMPERTZ, DUGGAN was advised of an occasion in 1938 when HEDE GUMPERTZ allegedly visited his home at Washington, D. C., in a effort to see him. He was told that at this time HEDE GUMPERTZ waited at his home for over an hour but eventually left without seeing him when he had not arrived home. DUGGAN could not recall this incident but stated that in view of the fact that GUMPERTZ had allegedly seen his wife on this occasion perhaps his wife would be able to recall the incident. Accordingly he called his wife, HELEN DUGGAN, who viewed the photograph of HEDE GUMPERTZ and stated that she recalled that she had met her on one or more occasions in Washington and could faintly recall the occasion in 1938 when GUMPERTZ had visited their Washington home in an effort to see DUGGAN. She could add no additional information concerning the original manner in which she and her husband had come to become acquainted with HEDE GUMPERTZ.

ALGER HISS

Concerning ALGER HISS, Mr. DUGGAN stated that he first met HISS in Washington, D. C., probably around 1934, at which time HISS was employed by the AAA. Mr. DUGGAN stated that later, probably around 1936, HISS came to the State Department where he worked in the Trade Agreements Section and later in the Far Eastern Section. Mr. DUGGAN stated that he and HISS never worked in the same section at the State Department. He added that his friendship with HISS was very casual and they saw each other once or twice a year, usually at social functions. He added that he did not know HISS'S political philosophy but was of the opinion that HISS was a thoroughly loyal American. He added that he was surprised to hear of the charges made by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS against ALGER HISS. He stated that prior to reading of the charges against HISS in the papers, nothing had ever come to his attention which would indicate that HISS was a Communist or was engaged in espionage while at the State Department. He added that ALGER HISS had never approached him at any time to do anything in behalf of the Soviets or the Communist International.

Mr. DUGGAN added that he also knew ALGER HISS'S brother, DONALD HISS, and he felt the same about DONALD as he did about ALGER. He stated that nothing had ever come to his attention concerning DONALD HISS which would indicate that DONALD HISS was a Communist or was engaged in espionage.

Further he stated that DONALD HISS had never approached him to do anything in the interest of the Soviet Union or the Communist International.

Mr. DUGGAN stated that he believed that ALGER HISS and NOEL FIELD, a State Department employee who will be referred to below, were acquainted. He added that it was his impression that they knew each other prior to 1936 and became more friendly thereafter. Mr. DUGGAN stated that so far as he could recall he had never attended a dinner party when ALGER HISS and NOEL FIELD were present. He could not recall ever having seen them together.

NOEL H. FIELD

Concerning NOEL FIELD, LAURENCE DUGGAN stated that he met him around 1931 in Washington at the State Department. At the time FIELD was working in the Western European Section of the State Department, particularly on disarmament matters and League of Nation matters. He worked very closely with NORMAN DAVIS. According to Mr. DUGGAN, NOEL FIELD left Washington in the spring of 1936. Mr. DUGGAN stated that he knew NOEL FIELD and NOEL'S wife, HERTHA, very well and considered them close friends. He added that the FIELDS and he and his wife had apartments in the same building at 419 Fourth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., during the period from the fall of 1933 until the fall of 1935, at which time the DUGGANS moved to a house in Washington.

Mr. DUGGAN stated that he saw NOEL FIELD constantly and felt that he knew the man very well. He stated that he did not feel that NOEL FIELD was a Communist nor a member of any Communist Party front organization. Nor did he believe that FIELD was ever engaged in espionage of any kind. He stated that he considered NOEL FIELD a "social democrat." He added that FIELD was greatly interested in the Soviet Union and it was his opinion that FIELD later visited the Soviet Union.

Mr. DUGGAN stated that he also knew NOEL FIELD'S brother, HERMAN FIELD, who is presently at Western Reserve University in Ohio, as well as NOEL FIELD'S sister, ELSIE DOOB (phonetic), and NOEL FIELD'S mother.

Concerning HERTHA FIELD, the wife of NOEL FIELD, Mr. DUGGAN stated that he did not believe that she was a Communist and felt that her political philosophy was about the same as her husband's. He added that it was his impression that Mrs. FIELD did not have an active interest in politics, but would more or less naturally follow the political philosophy of her husband.

Kisseloff-6735

HARRY DEXTER WHITE

Mr. DUGGAN was shown a number of photographs of individuals and the only ones he recognized were those of ALGER HISS, HEDE GUMPERTZ and HARRY DEXTER WHITE.

Concerning HARRY DEXTER WHITE, Mr. DUGGAN stated that he had known Mr. WHITE from about 1938 on. He stated that they became acquainted as a result of their working for the United States Government relating to Latin America. Mr. DUGGAN, as Chief of the Latin American Section of the State Department, had many conferences with Mr. WHITE, who was in the Treasury Department at the time and they worked together setting up an inter-American bank. Mr. DUGGAN stated that their relations were strictly business. He added that nothing had ever come to his attention which would indicate that HARRY DEXTER WHITE was a Communist or was engaged in espionage on behalf of the Soviet Union or the Communist International.

The following photographs were shown to LAURENCE DUGGAN and he failed to recognize any: ELIZABETH T. BENTLEY, MAURICE HALPERIN, ANATOLE B. GROMOV, WILLIAM LUDWIG ULMAN, NATHAN GREGORY SILVERMASTER, JOSEPH GREGG, (All of the above are subjects in the NATHAN GREGORY SILVERMASTER case.) VASSILI ZUBILIN, ELIZABETHA ZUBILIN, PAVEL KLARIN, WILLY BRANDES and PAUL WILHELM MASSING.

FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD

LAURENCE DUGGAN was asked if he had ever been approached by anyone to do anything in the interest of the Soviet Union or the Communist International. He stated that he had been approached twice, once by FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD and once by HENRY COLLINS. The COLLINS incident will be set out later in this report.

In regard to FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD, Mr. DUGGAN stated that FIELD was a classmate of his, both having graduated from Harvard College in 1927. He stated that around 1936 or 1937 FIELD came to Washington and called him and asked him to stop at his (FIELD'S) hotel for a drink. Mr.

DUGGAN stated that when he finished work he went to FIELD'S hotel room and there spent a short time and had a discussion with FIELD. During the discussion FIELD said something to DUGGAN which definitely gave DUGGAN the impression that FIELD wanted DUGGAN to do something in his official capacity which would be in the interest of the Soviet Union or the Communist International. Mr. DUGGAN stated that he cannot remember the conversation; he cannot remember just what the request was. His recollection is that the request was subtle but nevertheless was sufficiently clear so that there was no question in his mind that FIELD wanted him to do something. His recollection is that he answered FIELD in such a way that he gave FIELD the impression that he would have nothing to do with FIELD'S request. He feels that he succeeded in impressing FIELD as to his own attitude to such an extent that FIELD did not pursue his request any further. Mr. DUGGAN stated that he is sure that the request of FIELD did not consist of having him (DUGGAN) steal papers from the State Department. It could have been that FIELD requested him to use his position to influence policy. However, he has not an idea as to what it was.

Mr. DUGGAN stated that he has seen FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD since the meeting in 1936 or 1937 and FIELD has never approached him. He added that he suspected that FIELD was a Communist and it is his recollection that FIELD was connected with the Institute of Pacific Relations at the time that FIELD came to Washington in 1936 or 1937.

HENRY HILL COLLINS, JR.

LAURENCE DUGGAN stated that he first met COLLINS in Washington probably around 1933 or 1934. He believes that COLLINS was with the Department of Agriculture at the time. He stated that he met COLLINS socially and saw him fairly often. He stated that neither he nor his wife liked COLLINS. However, they frequently came in contact with him, usually at social affairs. Mr. DUGGAN stated that around 1937 or 1938, and probably in June of the year, he had occasion to have lunch with HENRY COLLINS, probably at COLLINS' request, and then after lunch they took a stroll. During the walk COLLINS made certain remarks to DUGGAN which DUGGAN took to mean that COLLINS wanted DUGGAN to work with him doing something in connection with his (DUGGAN'S) official capacity which would be for the benefit of the Soviet Union or the Communist International. Mr. DUGGAN stated that he cannot remember just what COLLINS said which gave him the idea that COLLINS wanted him to do something of this nature. However, there was no question in his mind that the request of COLLINS was sufficiently clear so that he knew that what COLLINS asked for constituted a request for action by DUGGAN in his official capacity on behalf of the Soviet Union or the Communist International. Mr. DUGGAN stated that he feels certain that the request did not mean that he should steal documents from the State Department files. It is his recollection that the overtures of both COLLINS and FIELD never took the form of concrete suggestion as to any particular course of action, but rather were a general suggestion that DUGGAN be more helpful to the cause in his official capacity.

Kisseloff-6737

The only other incident which DUGGAN could recall relating to possible Communist activities within the State Department concerns the case of a female employee whom he recalls as "LAKE" and who was reported to him shortly after he became chief of the Latin-American Division as being extremely Marxist, both in her philosophy and expression of ideas. DUGGAN stated that as a result of receiving these reports concerning this LAKE, he recommended that she be transferred from his division, which action was subsequently followed. He stated that he had no idea as to what division she was transferred to, nor does he know whether she is still employed by the State Department. He added that he had no knowledge as to whether or not she ever furnished any confidential information which she received at the State Department to any unauthorized person. The above incident took place probably in the early part of 1937.

Miscellaneous

LAURENCE DUGGAN stated that he knew HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH as a fellow employee in the State Department. He added, however, that he had never worked with WADLEIGH and didn't travel with him socially. He further stated that he had never been approached by WADLEIGH to do anything for the benefit of the Soviet Union or the Communist International, nor did he know or suspect that WADLEIGH was engaged in any such activity.

Concerning WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, Mr. DUGGAN stated that he did not believe that he had ever met CHAMBERS. He also stated that he did not recognize the name HAROLD WILSON.

Concerning himself, Mr. DUGGAN stated that he had never been a member of the Communist Party nor of any Communist Party front organization. He stated that during the Spanish Civil War he had contributed $10.00 to the Loyalist Cause. He cannot remember the organization which collected the money. He stated that he is not a Marxist and he described himself as a "New Dealer." He stated that he has never done anything to aid the Communist International or the Soviet Union to the detriment of the United States.

With reference to LAURENCE DUGGAN, a review of the files in this field office reveals the following information concerning him: LAURENCE DUGGAN was the Director of the Institute of International Education and is reportedly a recent appointee of President TRUMAN to a ten member committee to select students for federal scholarships for foreign study under the Fulbright Bill. The files further indicate that DUGGAN was interviewed with negative results in 1940 in the case entitled MANFRED ZAPP, Registration Act.

A further review indicates that by Bureau letter dated May 14, 1942, the Bureau advised that WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had advised agents in an interview that LAURENCE DUGGAN, Chief of the Latin-American Division of the State Department, was probably an agent of the O.G.P.U. The report of Special Agent JEROME BROWER, dated August 2, 1944, at New York, in the case entitled COUNCIL FOR PAN-AMERICAN DEMOCRACY, INTERNATIONAL SECURITY - C, indicated that DUGGAN, as Director of the Office of American Republic Affairs, State Department, participated in a conference on United States policy toward Argentina called by the Council for Pan-American Democracy on March 25, 1944. This conference was held in the building owned by FREDERICK VANDERBILT FIELD, previously mentioned, located at 23 West 26th Street, which building houses several notorious Communist front organizations. Investigation of the Council for Pan-American Democracy indicated that the major portion of its directors were key figures in the Communist Party program.

A further review of the files reflects that the report of Special Agent T. S. MILLER dated July 7, 1945, at New York City in the case entitled JOSEPH H. CROWN, was., et al, Espionage - R, reflects that LAURENCE DUGGAN, who was then connected with the Office of the Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs, met and conferred with JOSEPH CROWN and JOSEPH STAROBIN, the Foreign Policy Editor of the "Daily Worker," concerning the Argentina situation. This occurred at a meeting of the previously mentioned Council for Pan-American Democracy.

Information has come to the attention of this office that the Institute of International Education in 1947 sponsored a tour of Sir BERNARD PARSS through the mid-western United States. On this tour Sir BERNARD delivered numerous speaches urging appeasement of the Soviet Union. Arrangements for this tour, according to information received by this office, were made by LAURENCE DUGGAN, Director of the Institute.

RE: JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, WAS

The above-named individual has been interviewed on several occasions by Agents of this office since his arrival in New York City on December 6, 1948, pursuant to Grand Jury subpoena. Information furnished by CHAMBERS since December 7, 1948, concerning specific individuals will be set out hereinafter under their respective names. On two of these occasions signed statements were taken from CHAMBERS and are quoted as follows:

Kisseloff-6740

NY 65-14920

"New York, N. Y.
December 7, 1948

"I, Jay David Whittaker Chambers, make the following statement to Thomas G. Spencer and Joseph H. Kelly, whom I know to be Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statement that I make can be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made to me in connection with this statement. I have been advised that I have a right of counsel, but I have waived same after consulting with my counsel in connection with the making of this statement.

"I have been asked by the above-named agents whether I recall ever having met an individual named Henry Julian Wadleigh; I do recall that I was introduced to a person whom I knew as Mr. Wadleigh in 1936, to the best of my recollection, and that this introduction was made by David Carpenter, to whom I referred in my signed statement dated December 3, 1948. This introduction took place in Washington, D. C. At that time I believe Wadleigh was employed in the Trade Agreements Section of the U. S. Department of State. Although I of course do not recall the exact conversation which took place on this occasion, Wadleigh was given to understand either by Carpenter previously, or by both of us during the conversation, that I was the head of the underground group, and that henceforth he was connected with that group and disconnected with whatever activities he had been in before.

"It is my further recollection that in 1937 Wadleigh began to furnish me with documentary material from the Department of State. Inasmuch as he had been acquainted with Carpenter prior to the time the latter introduced him to me, I believe there may have been a few occasions on which Wadleigh gave material directly to Carpenter for eventual transmission, of course, to me. It is my present recollection that commencing in the early part of 1937 I met Wadleigh approximately every ten days; these meetings, so far as I can recall, always occurred in public places in Washington, with the exception that there may have been a very few of them in movie theatres in that city.

"It is also to be noted that at some time during the period of my personal relationship with Wadleigh, that is, from 1936 until approximately April, 1938, when I broke with the Party, Wadleigh proceeded to Europe on official governmental business for the purpose of negotiating a trade agreement,

"and there was accordingly a break in our relationship occasioned by his absence. It is my present recollection that I commenced seeing Wadleigh again after he returned to Washington from Europe, although I cannot so state categorically inasmuch as I am not sure whether this trip was made by Wadleigh during 1936 or in the year 1937, by which time he had begun to furnish information on a more or less regular basis.

"On the occasions of my meetings with Wadleigh he would in most instances, so far as I can recall, have the documents for me in a briefcase, and upon leaving him when these meetings would terminate, I would retain the briefcase and return it to him when I next saw him, which would be in the course of the same night. Upon receiving this documentary material from Wadleigh in the above-described manner I would proceed to a meeting with David Carpenter, would hand over the material to him, and he would take it to his workshop, photograph it, and later that same evening I would again meet Carpenter, take back the documents from him, and then return them to Wadleigh. I accompanied Carpenter to his workshop on perhaps one or two occasions but did not so accompany him as a matter of routine, and I do not presently recall the exact location of this workshop except that it was located somewhere near B Street, I believe, in Southeast or Southwest Washington. After the delivery by me of documentary material to Carpenter for photographing, I would subsequently receive the developed negatives from Carpenter and would thereafter transmit them to Colonel Bykov. I recall, however, that this system was changed by Colonel Bykov in that Carpenter no longer developed film, but rather gave me the exposed undeveloped film for transmission to Colonel Bykov. I want to state that the changed system of operating as outlined immediately hereinbefore was not consistently followed inasmuch as occasionally there apparently was difficulty on the part of Bykov in having the film developed in a satisfactory manner. During the period covering my activities with Wadleigh I would have personal meetings approximately once a week with Colonel Bykov, and would turn over to him on those occasions the negatives or exposed undeveloped film as the case may be, but I want to point out that Wadleigh was not particularly productive, that the material he was making available was not of great interest to Colonel Bykov, and that on the occasions of my meetings with Colonel Bykov many matters in addition to the material being supplied by Wadleigh were discussed and handled by us. It is my belief that Wadleigh never met Colonel Bykov. As mentioned above, my working arrangement with Wadleigh continued until my leaving the Party in April, 1938.

"There has been exhibited to me this date by the above-named agents a photograph of the man whom I now identify as the man known to me as David Carpenter. A photograph of Carpenter with a woman and another man has also been displayed to me but the two persons in addition to Carpenter are unknown to me. During my relationship with Radleigh I employed the first name 'Carl' or 'Karl', and I do not recall what family name I may have adopted for purposes of this relationship; it is highly improbable that I used any family name. I have been asked whether or not I may have employed the name 'Carlson', and it is possible that I may have used this name, although I have no definite recollection thereof.

"To the best of my present recollection I do not recall having met an individual named Harold Wilson in connection with my work within the underground apparatus, and so far as I knew this name was never employed by David Carpenter.

"With respect to my statements made to FBI agents in Baltimore, Maryland, on December 3, 1948, concerning the meetings of Colonel Bykov with Alger Hiss, Henry Hill Collins, Jr., Harry Dexter White, and A. George Silverman, I would like to state that on the occasion of Bykov's meeting with Alger Hiss in Brooklyn, I recall Bykov urged Hiss to begin furnishing information to me, and secondly to attempt to activate his brother, Donald Hiss, for the same purpose, the situation being that Donald Hiss was a quiescent member of the underground in Washington but had not been active; further, that when Colonel Bykov met Harry Dexter White he urged him to commence furnishing material to me, and when Colonel Bykov met Collins, he encouraged the latter to redouble his efforts to secure a position in the Department of State, it being noted that Collins had been desirous of securing a post in that Department. With respect to Silverman, however, I recall no definite urging by Colonel Bykov of Silverman to commence furnishing me information, it being noted that Silverman at that time was employed by the Railroad Retirement Board and presumably not in a position to be able to furnish information of interest to Colonel Bykov. It was Silverman's chief function to keep his close friend Harry Dexter White 'in line'.

December 8, 1948

"I, Jay David Wittaker Chambers, make the following statement to Thomas G. Spencer and Joseph M. Kelly, whom I know to be Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statement that I make can be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made to me in connection with this statement. I have been advised that I have a right of counsel.

"While functioning as a courier for the Communist Party underground apparatus, I was introduced by David Carpenter to one Ward Pigman, and to the best of my recollection, this meeting occurred in 1936. Sometime later, I was introduced to George Pigman, brother of Ward Pigman, and this latter introduction probably was made by DAVID CARPENTER, although it is barely possible that WARD PIGMAN may have introduced me to his brother George. Both at that time, I believe, were employed by the Bureau of Standards, and it was my understanding that both had previously been connected with an underground apparatus, probably one being operated by ELEANOR NELSON.

"Subsequent to my meeting Ward Pigman and probably in the latter part of 1936 or early 1937, Ward Pigman began furnishing me documentary material from the Bureau of Standards, such material being handed over by him to me on the occasion of our meetings, and he continued to do so until the time of my leaving the Communist Party in April, 1938. I had meetings in public places in Washington with WARD PIGMAN approximately once a week, on which occasions he would deliver to me documentary material from the Bureau of Standards.

"During this same period, I had personal meetings, perhaps fortnightly or perhaps monthly with George Pigman, but I was never able to activate him as a source of material and never received any material from him.

"I want to state that during the above-described period while I was receiving a fairly regular flow of material from Ward Pigman, the latter was also meeting David Carpenter, and on occasion did transmit material to him instead of me. David Carpenter was doing all of the photographic work in connection with the material received from Ward Pigman, and after Carpenter had reduced such material to film, I would deliver the film to Colonel Bykov, having, of course, previously returned the original documents to Ward Pigman. Since my leaving the Communist Party in April, 1938, I have never seen either Ward Pigman or George Pigman. It is my "present recollection that a brief case was employed by Ward Pigman in transmitting documentary material to me, that is he would arrive at the meeting place with the material in the brief case, which I would take when we parted company, and at the next meeting, I would return the brief case with the photographed documents therein. The material made available in the above described manner to me by Ward Pigman consisted of documents dealing with a variety of technical subjects, the significance of which was unknown to me, but I do recall thatColonel Bykov occasionally complained about the type of material being secured by me from Ward Pigman and expressed the feeling that Ward Pigman's full potential as a source of material was not being developed. I am reasonably sure that neither Ward Pigman nor George Pigman ever met Colonel Bykov.

"The above-named Agents have this date displayed to me a photograph the reverse side of which bears the initial 'A' and the initials 'JK' and 'TGS'. This photo appears to me to be that of a photographer whom I knew by the name of Felix. He has visibly matured and seems to have grown heavier and I do not recall he wore glasses at the time I knew him, but the longer I look at the picture, the more certain I am that it is that of Felix.

"With further respect to Felix, I recall that I met him either in Washington, D. C. or New York City and he was introduced to me by Bykov, who explained that he was a 'technical man', which I understood to mean he was a photographer. To the best of my knowledge, Felix was not known to David Carpenter, and vice versa, although they both were Communist Party functionaries. It is my recollection both men received $100 a month for the work they did on behalf of the Communist Party and they also were allowed certain expenses which were incurred in connection with their photographic work, and which also included rent, telephone and medical expenses. It is also my recollection that Felix was a more proficient photographer than Carpenter; for that reason, I had occasion to use his services more frequently than those of David Carpenter. In the event that I desired to use his services, I believe that I had his telephone number and by either calling him or by pre-arrangement, he would come to Washington, D. C. and receive from me documents or other material that I had, would take them to Baltimore where they would be processed by him into negatives, and the documents would be returned to me that same day. In this connection, I would like to state that David Carpenter did not have a telephone as nearly as I remember, and consequently, my meetings with him were always be pre-arrangement. The developed negatives, which I obtained from Felix were delivered to Bykov in the same fashion as the ones I would receive from Carpenter in the event he did the work.

"In connection with the payment of money or the bestowing of gifts on the various people who turned over information to me, I would like to state that no one so far as I know, was actually given any money for the services they rendered. However, I do recall that probably at the end of 1936, Bykov in one of this conversations with me suggested it might be a good idea to give Alger Hiss, Harry Dexter White and A. George Silverman a gift of some kind. After some discussion, Bykov thought it might be advisable to present each of them with an expensive rug. I myself was not too keen on the idea. However, Bykov became somewhat insistent, and as a result, I had inquiries made of an Armenian rug dealer in New York City, and arranged for the purchase of three oriental rugs. To the best of my recollection, these rugs cost about $200.00 each. I am rather hazy on the actual amount that was paid for these rugs, but this amount is the price to the best of my present belief. Bykov furnished me with the money to make this purchase, and as I recall it, the three rugs were sent by the Armenian rug dealer via American Railway Express to the home of A. George Silverman in Washington, D. C. Silverman

"Prior to the delivery of the rugs to Washington, I had informed Hiss, White and Silverman that they were going to be presented with gifts as a token of gratitude for the activities of the American Communists. White and Silverman were quite pleased with the fact that they were going to receive such a gift. However, Hiss was more polite than pleased when he did receive this gift. My recollection of the delivery of the rugs is that Silverman bedause of his close association with Harry White, made the delivery of his (White's) rug. In connection with the delivery of the rug for Alger Hiss, I recall one evening by pre-arrangement, Silverman put the rug in his car, drove it to a predesignated point, a restaurant on Route 1 about three or four miles east of College Park, Maryland. I accompanied Hiss in the latter's car to this point, and upon arrival there, I got out of Hiss' car, got the rug from Silverman's car, and carried it to Hiss' car.

"I would like to mention another individual with whom I came in contact in 1937. This individual was known to me by the name of Keith, which I know to be a psuedonym. Insofar as I can recall, Keith was connected with Bykov in New York City and came to Washington in 1937. Keith was introduced to me in New York by Bykov, who related that Keith was a photographer and that I could utilize his services if I so desired. In my conversation with Bykov, however, I gained the distinct impression

"that Bykov was trying to get rid of Keith and send him to Washington so that I could handle him and thereby, Bykov would no longer have to concern himself with Keith.

"In connection with my knowledge of Keith, I learned either from Keith or through Bykov that the former was connected with a White Russian named Sviashnikov (phonetic), who was a ballistics expert employed in Government service in Washington, D. C. It is also my recollection that at the time I met Keith either in New York or Washington, Sviashnikov was no longer connected with Keith in his activities. Sviashnikov was controlled by them because he had a sister living in Moscow, and I remember Keith once described to me how Bykov used to torture Sviashnikov to the point where he cried, by saying they were going to put the sister out on the street unless he produced. So far as I can recall, I never requested Keith to do any work for me. I do recall, however, Keith had an apartment or a room in Washington, D. C. and that I had at that time in my possession a telephone number where I could reach him.

"It is also my recollection Keith was connected with one Azimov (phonetic) who was a metallurgist and connected with the University of California at Berkeley. I also recall subsequently Azimov became the head of the research department at the United States Steel Corporation at Chicago, Illinois.

"Another person whom I met during my work as a courier for the underground apparatus, was Vincent Reno, to whom I was introduced by J. Peters in Philadelphia, probably in 1937. It is possible David Carpenter may have been present on this occasion. Reno had been an organizer either for the Communist Party or the Young Communist League in Montana, and had employed the name Lance Clark.

"At the time I met Reno, I believe that he had just commenced employment with the War Department as a civilian at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Aberdeen, Maryland. He resided on the post to the best of my recollection, and was a mathematician. I had occasional meetings with Reno subsequently in public places in Washington and possibly Baltimore, and I recall that on one or two occasions, Reno delivered to me documentary material bearing upon his work at the Aberdeen Proving Ground on a bombsight project. It is my recollection that his superior at Aberdeen was Colonel Zornig.

"I would estimate that my meetings with Vincent Reno totaled probably five in all; that would include the one or two occasions on which he handed over material to me. I believe that Reno had been a member of an underground apparatus operated by ELEANOR NELSON at the time I was introduced to him.

"I would describe Vincent Reno as probably 27 or 28 years of age at the time I knew him approximately 5 feet 8 inches, slender build, sandy hair and eyelashes, blue eyes, and clean-shaven. I remember one time when I desired to have a meeting with Vincent Reno, I ascertained that his brother, whose first name I believe is Philip, was residing at a certain address in Washington, and in order for Philip to arrange a meeting for me with Vincent, I went to that address and for the first time I believe Philip Reno, like his brother, had a prior connection with the Eleanor Nelson apparatus, but he had no connection whatsoever with the work I was doing at that time.

"I have read the above statement consisting of this and four previous pages, and to the best of my knowledge and recollection, I declare it is the truth.

RE: BORIS BYKOV, WAS

On December 9, 1948, CHAMBERS was interviewed by SA THOMAS G. SPENCER and the reporting agent in connection with the above-mentioned individual and furnished the following chronological account of his association with and knowledge of him:

CHAMBERS first met BYKOV in the fall of 1936 and was introduced to him by J. PETERS probably in front of St. Patricks Cathedral in New York City. PETERS had previously explained to CHAMBERS that he was going to introduce him to an individual who would be more or less his boss and from whom he would take orders. It was CHAMBERS' definite recollection from the conversation he had with PETERS at this time that BYKOV would not only be his superior but was also the superior of PETERS. CHAMBERS declared that at the time he was introduced to BYKOV near St. Patricks Cathedral the latter was identified to him by J. PETERS only as "PETER"; that PETERS left them shortly after the introduction and thereafter CHAMBERS and BYKOV took several street cars and busses, apparently in a series of routine maneuvers to elude any possible surveillance.

On the occasion of this first meeting with BYKOV, the latter, although he apparently knew a great deal of CHAMBERS' background, interrogated him at length concerning his, CHAMBERS', political beliefs and other background material. "PETER", of course, did not in any way indicate his identity, his place of residence or any other address where CHAMBERS might get in touch with him. There was, however, an arrangement made at this time as to the date and location of the next meeting. It was CHAMBERS' recollection that there were a series of meetings following the first one which took place principally in movie houses throughout uptown New York. At one of these meetings BYKOV arranged for a "reserve" or emergency meeting place in the event ordinary arrangements were not feasible. CHAMBERS declared that the Lane Theater on 145th Street was the place designated for these reserve or emergency meetings and that if it was necessary to use this reserve or emergency meeting place, the time for such meeting would always be at 8:00 P.M. The Manhattan Telephone Directory lists a Lane Theater at 460 West 181st Street. However, it is not known whether the latter theater is the one described by CHAMBERS.

Although BYKOV did not indicate to CHAMBERS anything about his background, the latter gathered from the various conversations with BYKOV that BYKOV had been in the Russian Secret Police or had been a prosecutor for the Russian Government. Further, that BYKOV probably from 1932 to 1934 was engaged in a Russian apparatus in connection with the Communist Party in Europe, and that BYKOV probably arrived in the United States in late 1935 or early 1936,

Continuing, CHAMBERS advised that the great majority of his meetings with BYKOV took place in New York City, but that there were infrequent meetings also in Washington, D.C. CHAMBERS advised that he started to turn over microfilms to BYKOV probably in the early spring of 1937 and met him thereafter approximately once each week up until early in 1938 and probably one month prior to his break with the apparatus in April of that year. CHAMBERS related that upon instructions from either J. PETERS or BYKOV, he compiled some biographical data on the individuals who were supplying him with government documents.

CHAMBERS stated that in addition to the prearranged meetings between himself and BYKOV, he recalled that he had furnished BYKOV with his, CHAMBERS', telephone number in Baltimore, Maryland. CHAMBERS could not recall definitely whether BYKOV had ever contacted him telephonically but was of the opinion that he had done so.

CHAMBERS stated he recalled that BYKOV was introduced by CHAMBERS to the following individuals under the circumstances set out below:

CHAMBERS related that probably sometime in 1937 he accompanied BYKOV to a movie theater in Brooklyn, New York, where he introduced BYKOV to HENRY HILL COLLINS, JR.; that after the introduction they left the movie theater, walked for quite a few blocks to a restaurant that was located in the vicinity of the YMCA building near the Atlantic Avenue Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad. (It is to be noted that there is a YMCA branch at 55 Hanson Place which is very close to the Atlantic Avenue Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad Station in Brooklyn.) CHAMBERS declared that after having supper in this restaurant, they walked towards the Brooklyn Bridge and at the approach of the bridge COLLINS left their company and subsequently BYKOV and CHAMBERS walked across the bridge to Manhattan.

CHAMBERS declared that he recalls introducing BYKOV to A. GEORGE SILVERMAN sometime in 1937 in Washington, D.C. It was CHAMBERS' recollection that he drove in SILVERMAN'S car to a designated place in Washington, D.C., where they picked up BYKOV and proceeded to a restaurant located on Connecticut Avenue just above the Rock Creek Park Bridge. CHAMBERS further recalled that the restaurant itself was not on the ground floor but was "one flight up". Following dinner, CHAMBERS, SILVERMAN and BYKOV drove to another location in Washington, D.C., where they picked up HARRY DEXTER WHITE and after driving around the city for a short time got out of the car and walked for some period of time, after which WHITE and SILVERMAN parted company with BYKOV and CHAMBERS.

Silverman

With respect to the time he introduced BYKOV to ALGER HISS, CHAMBERS could not supply any details thereof in addition to his description of the meeting as set out in his signed statement furnished to Baltimore Agents on December 3, 1948.

As mentioned above, BYKOV was initially introduced to CHAMBERS as "PETER", and throughout their entire association, CHAMBERS never learned his true identity; it was on the occasion of a conversation between CHAMBERS and the late General WALTER KRIVITSKY in the home of ISAAC DON LEVINE that CHAMBERS learned for the first time that "PETER" was in fact Colonel BORIS B. BYKOV. CHAMBERS explained that after his break from the Communist Party, which occurred to the best of his recollection in the second week of April, 1938, he conversed from time to time with LEVINE, that he knew of General KRIVITSKY only by reputation and that finally in the latter part of 1938, LEVINE arranged a meeting at his home between CHAMBERS and KRIVITSKY. They discussed their general experiences and activities at great length, sitting up all night and continuing their conversation until approximately noon on the following day and it was in this manner that CHAMBERS learned that "PETER" was BYKOV.

KRIVITSKY stated that BYKOV came from the slums of Odessa; that while KRIVITSKY was in the Communist Party underground in Rome, BYKOV was sent to that city to assist him. However, BYKOV learned that he was being tailed by the Italian Secret Police and although several attempts were made on the part of BYKOV to contact KRIVITSKY, no meetings were ever consummated because of BYKOV'S fear of uncovering KRIVITSKY. The latter shortly thereafter succeeded in having BYKOV recalled to Russia.

The following description of BYKOV was obtained from CHAMBERS:

Age	Late 40s (in 1936)
Height	5' 7"
Hair	Reddish (thinning)
Eyes	Reddish brown, eyelashes reddish
Complexion	Ruddy
Build	Medium
Characteristics	Clean-shaven, pointed nose (most prominent characteristic), well-proportioned, neat dresser, wore hard-worsted, expensive but conservative suits, always wore a hat, was quick in his movements, probably wore reading glasses, and spoke German with heavy Yiddish accent.
Peculiarity	Invaribly carried right hand inside jacket or overcoat.

A review of the files of the New York Division reflects that BORIS BYKOV, with aliases, Colonel BYKOV, BORRIS BYKOV, and BORRIS HERTZ, was reported by various persons to have been in charge of Soviet Military Intelligence in the United States since 1936. This allegation has been made by the widow of General KRIVITSKY and the same information has come from various confidential sources. Investigation was never able, however, definitely to identity and locate this individual and it is pointed out that in the book published by General KRIVITSKY entitled, "In STALIN'S Secret Service", brief mention is made by KRIVITSKY of BYKOV.

Set out hereinafter is a signed statement executed by subject HENRY WADLEIGH dated December 10, 1948. It is pointed out that WADLEIGH presently recalls that in 1937 at one of his meetings with CHAMBERS, the latter introduced him to an individual whose physical description resembles BYKOV'S in many respects; WADLEIGH, however, stated definitely that this person's right arm or most of it was missing. Subsequent conversations with CHAMBERS in an effort to identity this person resulted in CHAMBERS' recalling that BYKOV invaribly carried his right hand inside his jacket or overcoat and inasmuch as WADLEIGH states CHAMBERS was present when he met this unknown individual, it appears definitely to have been BYKOV and CHAMBERS said there was no possibility in his mind that it could have been anyone else.

RE: UNKNOWN SUBJECT, alias "BERNIE".

Reference is made to the signed statement executed by subject FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO on December 13, 1948, particularly that portion thereof in which RENO states that he was introduced to CHAMBERS in early 1937 by an individual named "BERNIE" and this meeting took place in Philadelphia. A photograph of DAVID CARPENTER was exhibited to RENO. However, he failed to identify this individual as "BERNIE" and insisted throughout questioning that he knew the man only as "BERNIE". It is to be pointed out that investigation to date has failed to establish that RENO was, in fact, acquainted with DAVID CARPENTER. In an effort to ascertain the identity of "BERNIE", CHAMBERS was reinterviewed concerning the circumstances surrounding his meeting RENO and he expressed the definite opinion that "BERNIE" could only be DAVID CARPENTER.

RE: UNKNOWN SUBJECT, alias "FELIX"

CHAMBERS was requestioned in an effort to obtain further details regarding the photographer "FELIX", whom he described in his signed statement dated December 3, 1948. At this time there were exhibited to CHAMBERS twenty large photographs furnished by the Baltimore Division of the immediate area which CHAMBERS had described as the locale of "FELIX'S" residence in Baltimore. After perusal of these photographs, CHAMBERS concluded that photograph bearing the penciled notation #8 and showing the intersection of Konig Street and Linden Avenue and the photograph bearing the penciled notation #9 and showing the intersection of Konig Street and Brookfield Avenue were, in his opinion, the most likely locations of "FELIX'S" residence. It is to be noted that in his signed statement dated December 8, 1948, CHAMBERS indicated that a photograph displayed to him "appeared" to be that of "FELIX". This was, in fact, a photograph of SAMUEL J. PELOWITZ and CHAMBERS commented at this time that he could not recall "FELIX" as having worn glasses and stated the individual in the photograph appeared heavier than "FELIX".

On December 10, 1948, it was arranged for CHAMBERS to interview PELOWITZ, who appeared that day as a witness before the Grand Jury hearing in instant matter and CHAMBERS declared definitely that PELOWITZ was not "FELIX" inasmuch as "FELIX" was heavier and definitely was not Jewish while PELOWITZ is Jewish.

CHAMBERS furnished the following description of "FELIX":

Age	Late 20s or early 30s (in 1937)
Height	5' 7½"
Weight	165 to 170
Characteristics	Round, baby face, clean-shaven, no glasses, neat dresser, wore black overcoat and gray hat, native-born of Baltic origin, spoke English
Peculiarity	CHAMBERS called him "Baby Face".

CHAMBERS recalled that "FELIX" drove a Plymouth, Ford or Chevrolet, which was probably a black sedan, and had Maryland plates. CHAMBERS stated that he had never met "FELIX'S" wife but believed that he had no children. With respect to any cameras owned by FELIX, it was CHAMBERS' recollection that "FELIX" did have a Leica camera and there was some possibility that CHAMBERS had given this camera to "FELIX".

RE: ALGER HISS

On December 15, 1948, CHAMBERS was reinterviewed at the request of MR. DONEGAN for the purpose of ascertaining exactly from him his knowledge, if any, of the typewriter in the HISS household together with related facts concerning the transmission of documents by HISS to CHAMBERS. CHAMBERS declared that he had never seen PRISCILLA HISS operate a typewriter, that his "understanding" that she was making typewritten copies of State Department documents for transmission to CHAMBERS came from both HISS and his wife and that he recalls no direct statement by either as to this copying. CHAMBERS further declared that he is "quite sure" he never had occasion to borrow a typewriter from either ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS and that it is his present recollection that he did not own a typewriter during the period he was associating with HISS and his wife. He did point out, however, that there was in his possession for part of that time a typewriter which he had been given, probably by J. PETER for use in connection with his apparatus work. He was positive this machine was a portable and stated it might have been a Remington. He said he recalled that it was a second hand machine; that BYKOV might have furnished it to him but he believed it came from J. PETER and that he disposed of this machine by abandoning it in a public elevator or some public conveyance, date and place not recalled. He believed that he disposed of the machine after his break from the party in April, 1938 but said this was only a conclusion and not a definite recollection. CHAMBERS was also able to recall that he had owned a Remington portable in 1930 and perhaps 1931 and that he used it in connection with the translating work he was doing at that time but stated he disposed of it shortly after the latter year.

With respect to his meetings with ALGER HISS, CHAMBERS declared that he could best approximate the dates of various meetings by recalling that his last conversation with HISS prior to the HCUA hearings in 1948, occurred in December, 1938, at which time he saw HISS at the latter's residence on Volta Place in Washington and pleaded with HISS to break with the party as he had done eight months previously. CHAMBERS explained he fixed the date of this final meeting because he remembers HISS asking him what kind of a Christmas his family was going to have and also giving him a small wooden rolling pin as a Christmas gift for CHAMBERS' daughter. It is CHAMBERS' best recollection that HISS moved into the Volta Place residence in early Spring of 1938 and although he has no definite recollection of having met HISS. there prior to the final meeting, he feels he must have gone to see HISS at the Volta Place residence judging this on the basis of his wife's recollection. He said meetings with HISS in 1937 were frequent and usually at the 30th Street house which HISS was occupying at that time. In explaining the precise method employed by himself and HISS with respect to the documentary material being furnished him by HISS, CHAMBERS stated that he would see HISS usually at the end of the week and pick up from him whatever material he had obtained during the week. It was the practice of HISS to extract each day certain material from the State Department, take it to his home where it would be copied on the typewriter and HISS would return the original document the next day. CHAMBERS then would take the typewritten copies of such material and turn them over to CARPENTER who would photograph this material and then CHAMBERS would turn over the microfilm to BYKOV and would destroy the typewritten material.

In connection with the five small sheets containing the handwriting of ALGER HISS, CHAMBERS explained that at the time he would make his weekly visit to HISS' home, some material might be in the form of handwritten notes which had not yet been copied on the typewriter and that rather than wait for this material to be typed, he would take these pencilled notations together with the typewritten material.

With respect to his transmitting to BYKOV this documentary material on film, CHAMBERS stated that to the best of his present recollection, all written information he gave BYKOV was on film and never the original or typed documents.

With respect to his reason for having in his possession in November, 1948, sixty-five typewritten sheets furnished him by ALGER HISS, CHAMBERS explained that they were the latest documents given him by HISS and that shortly prior to the time he began receiving this particular group of documents, he had already made up his mind to break with the party and decided to retain them for further use in the event it became necessary to have documentary proof that in fact not only ALGER HISS but the Communist Party were involved in espionage activities against the USA. MR. CHAMBERS observed that in all probability the sixty-five sheets of typewritten material had been photographed in the usual manner and the film delivered by him to BYKOV.

NY 65-14920

With respect to the rolls of microfilm that were seized by the HCUA on December 2, 1948, at the CHAMBERS' farm, CHAMBERS explained that in all probability this was material that he had photographed but had received the microfilm at about the time he had definitely decided to make his break with the party and for that reason had not turned them over to BYKOV.

RE: GRACE HUTCHINS

On December 15, 1948, CHAMBERS made a statement to the press indicating that in 1938 his life had been threatened by GRACE HUTCHINS commenting that the HUTCHINS woman had more or less agreed to protect CHAMBERS' wife and two children if CHAMBERS would give himself up. On December 17, 1948, T.J. DONEGAN advised this office that he had received a telephone call from RUBIN B. SHEMITZ, an attorney, 276 Fifth Avenue, New York City, who is the brother of CHAMBERS' wife. According to MR. DONEGAN SHEMITZ telephonically communicated with WILLIAM McNULTY of the law firm of MINTON and McNULTY, who are the present attorneys of MR. CHAMBERS, and informed McNULTY that he had in his possession two notes in connection with the recent publicity concerning CHAMBERS' life having been threatened by GRACE HUTCHINS. McNULTY had apparently advised SHEMITZ to turn these papers over to Government officials. On the evening of December 17th, at the request of MR. DONEGAN, SA FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN and THOMAS G. SPENCER were present in MR. DONEGAN'S office when SHEMITZ related the following story. SHEMITZ advised that he has only seen WHITTAKER CHAMBERS on about ten occasions subsequent to the latter's marriage to SHEMITZ'S sister; that on one of these occasions, which was sometime in 1938, CHAMBERS informed SHEMITZ that he was breaking with the Communist Party and gave definite indication that he, CHAMBERS, was in fear of his life. Sometime thereafter an unknown woman appeared at SHEMITZ'S law office and on finding that SHEMITZ was not there left the following handwritten note: "Thursday, May 19, 1938, Dear MR. SHEMITZ: There is a very important message for your sister. If she or her husband will call either STEVE or me we have some important memos for them. Signed GRACE, Labor Research Association, 80 East 11th Street, STuyvesant 9-1042."

Upon SHEMITZ return to his office he made a telephone call to the previously mentioned number and talked to a woman whom he described as having a very "intellectual and cultured voice", who stated that if SHEMITZ would inform her of the whereabouts of CHAMBERS, she would see to it that CHAMBERS' wife and two children would have no harm done to them. Although MR. SHEMITZ'S recollection is not clear on this telephone conversation, he did recall quite specifically that the woman indicated it was "a matter of life and death". During this telephone conversation, an appointment was made for this woman to visit SHEMITZ in the latter's office. SHEMITZ stated that upon a review of his diary for May, 1938, he found a notation "4:40 P.M. MISS STEVEN or MISS STEVENS." He recalled that this MISS STEVEN talked to him and reiterated the conversation she had had with SHEMITZ over the telephone earlier that day. SHEMITZ stated that although he does not even have a hazy recollection of the woman's description, he is positive she is the same woman who talked to him over the telephone, because he stated he recognized the very cultured and refined voice. At the conclusion of this conversation, SHEMITZ requested this person to leave a written note that he could turn over to MR. CHAMBERS. She then wrote the following on a torn slip of paper: "GRACE and her friend STEVE must get in touch with you immediately." There also appears on this note other handwritten notations which SHEMITZ explained as follows: The notation 2130W Lynbrook was the telephone number of CHAMBERS' mother in Lynbrook, Long Island and the notation PIKESVILLE, Maryland 844F-12 operator 91 was the telephone number of CHAMBERS' residence in Maryland and that in all probability he made both notations and had called both telephone numbers that day in an effort to contact CHAMBERS. He recalled however, that he was unsuccessful in reaching him on that day. Approximately one month later SHEMITZ met CHAMBERS quite by accident on the street near SHEMITZ'S law office and at that time verbally informed him of the telephone call and the contents of the two notes mentioned above. SHEMITZ was quite definite in his recollection that CHAMBERS did not, at least outwardly, place any importance whatsoever to the information supplied by SHEMITZ at this time.

MISCELLANEOUS

There was exhibited to CHAMBERS a photograph of FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO made available by the Baltimore Division. He identified this photograph as the individual whom he described in his signed statement as "Vincent" RENO. Later on the 14th floor of the United States Court House where instant matter is being presented to the grand jury, CHAMBERS observed both FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO and WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN and later informed agents they were the individuals whom he had described. There was also exhibited to CHAMBERS a photograph of ABRAHAM GLASSER, formerly an attorney in the United States Department of Justice in Washington. GLASSER, according to ARMAND LABIS FELDMAN, subject of a prior espionage investigation by this Bureau, furnished FELDMAN documentary material from the Department of Justice while employed there. CHAMBERS was unable to effect an identification of GLASSER.

Kisseloff-6758

INTERVIEWS OF HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH

Reference is made to the report of SA LAMBERT G. ZANDER dated December 7, 1948, at Washington, D.C. in which was set out a signed statement executed by WADLEIGH on December 6, 1948. On December 8, 1948, SA THOMAS G. SPENCER and the writer brought WADLEIGH to the New York Office, it being noted he was in the court house on that day in response to a grand jury subpoena in instant case, and attempted to interview him. He immediately declared that since being questioned by agents of the Washington Field Division, he had consulted with HERMAN GREENBERG, an attorney with offices at 1201 K Street, Northwest, Washington, D.C. and had been advised by GREENBERG not to say anything further to anyone concerning his activities. WADLEIGH indicated a desire to be cooperative but said he felt obligated to follow his counsel's advice. There was exhibited to him a photograph of DAVID CARPENTER, with aliases, in an effort to determine if CARPENTER is identical with HAROLD WILSON. WADLEIGH viewed the photograph but refused to make any comment. It was obvious, however, to interviewing agent that the photograph of CARPENTER was in fact identical with the person known to WADLEIGH as HAROLD WILSON.

On December 9, 1948, information was received from the Bureau that WADLEIGH that day had conferred with ALEXANDER M. CAMPBELL, Assistant Attorney

General in charge of the Criminal Division and had indicated his desire to make a complete disclosure in this case. Accordingly, on December 10, 1948, he was interviewed by SA SPENCER and FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN and he stated that he was no longer represented by HERMAN GREENBERG that he was attempting to obtain new legal counsel in New York City. He related that he had been advised to consult with RAYMOND L. WISE, an attorney at 80 Broad Street and that subsequent to conferring with that attorney he would communicate with agents O'BRIEN or SPENCER. On the evening of December 10, 1948, MR. WISE telephonically communicated with Agent SPENCER and advised that he had heard WADLEIGH'S complete story and WADLEIGH had given him a "token retainer" and that he had advised WADLEIGH in view of the partial disclosure he made he should make a whole and complete disclosure to the federal authorities and answer any questions put to him in the event he was again subpoenaed before the Grand Jury. On December 10, 1948, WADLEIGH executed a signed statement which is quoted hereinbelow. On December 14, 1948, WADLEIGH was again interviewed in the New York Office and he executed an additional signed statement which is quoted hereinbelow. On December 17, 1948, WADLEIGH, who was in the United States Court House in response to a subpoena before the Federal Grand Jury, voluntarily appeared at the New York Office and related that during his interrogation before the Federal Grand Jury he had been asked by one of the Grand Jurors whether he had ever furnished any military information to CHAMBERS, CARPENTER or any of his other contacts. WADLEIGH related that at the time the question was asked of him he did not recall having furnished any information but after thinking the matter over for some period of time, is presently aware of the fact that sometime in 1937, a cablegram from Ambassador BULLITT came to his attention, which stated in substance that during a conversation between BULLITT and the German Ambassador, who was intoxicated at the time, the German Ambassador related that the Germans were helping the Russians in the construction of submarines and were sending them various component parts particularly periscopes. WADLEIGH recalled verbally transmitting this information to CARPENTER who when he heard it stated that it was "hot information" and that he had given expedite attention to the transmittal of this information to his superiors.

It is to be noted that in the original statement of WADLEIGH on December 10, 1948, he made the statement that "A few weeks subsequent to this he, (CHAMBERS) called at my office and insisted upon my meeting him immediately in Jackson Place where he said he was starving and asked me for $10. I did not know whether to regard this as blackmail.(I gave him $20)." Upon reading this statement, WADLEIGH remarked that this was "more or less hitting under the belt" and changed it to read as stated in his signed statement of December 10, 1948.

The following signed statement was furnished by HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH:

"New York, New York
December 10, 1948

"I, HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH, make the following statement to Thomas G. Spencer and Francis J. Gallant, whom I know to be Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statement I may make can be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made to me in connection with this statement. I have been advised that I have a right to counsel.

"On December 6, 1948, I made a voluntary statement to Special Agents Maurice A. Taylor and Lambert G. Zander in Washington, D.C., in the offices of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. In connection with this statement, I now desire to make some changes and additions. In my statement of December 6th, I related that I first met HAROLD WILSON as a result of a chance conversation I had with this individual on a railroad coach going from New York to Washington. I now wish to state that this was not the manner in which I met Mr. WILSON.

"By way of background, I was a member of the Socialist Party in Washington, D.C. in 1931 or 1932, or both, and while a member of this organization I became acquainted with ELEANOR NELSON, who was also a member of the Socialist Party. Some time subsequent thereto there was organized in Washington the Tenants League, which organization assisted persons who had been evicted from their residences. ELEANOR NELSON was the head of the Tenants League and I was quite active in the work of this organization. It is my recollection that this league was dissolved probably in 1933; however, I ceased to become active in its work sometime prior to its dissolution.

"I continued to be on friendly terms with ELEANOR NELSON and saw her occasionally during which we had conversations. I observed from these conversations that Miss NELSON was going further to the left and I, myself, was inclined in that direction, for reasons indicated in my statement of December 6th. Sometime probably in late 1934 or 1935, I gathered from my association with Miss NELSON that she had joined the Communist Party movement. Sometime in the latter part of 1935, I informed Miss NELSON that I would like to collaborate with the Communist Party and wanted to be informed if there was anything useful that I could do.

"Sometime after this conversation Miss NELSON asked me for samples of the work I was engaged in. I would like to state that at this time I was employed in the Department of Agriculture and had access to certain information concerning economic conditions in foreign countries. It is my recollection that I furnished Miss NELSON with a copy of a memorandum containing some economic analyses which I had prepared.

"Sometime later she informed me that I could be useful by supplying economic information on Germany and Japan. She informed me that I would have one contact and one only in this work.

"Sometime during the winter of 1935-1936, Miss NELSON and I went to a basement coffee shop in one of the hotels, probably the Washington Hotel, in downtown Washington, where we met an individual who was introduced to me as 'HAROLD'. Miss NELSON, who made the introduction, introduced me by my full name. During the course of the conversation had at this time, I probably related in some detail the type of work I was engaged in and the type of information I might be able to obtain. At the conclusion of the first meeting I asked HAROLD for a full name, and after some hesitation, he gave me the name HAROLD WILSON.

"It is my present recollection that I had several subsequent meetings with HAROLD prior to the time that I began to supply him with any documents. I also recall that I either gave, or WILSON already knew my home telephone number; however, I had no means of contacting WILSON other than by informing Miss NELSON that I was desirous of seeing WILSON.

"The above Agents have exhibited to me a photograph and I have identified the individual appearing on this photograph as the HAROLD WILSON that I knew in Washington; however, I have since learned that this individual is actually DAVID CARPENTER. I would also like to relate that during my association with CARPENTER, he informed me that his real name was a German name.

"While I was in the Department of Agriculture I furnished CARPENTER with some scraps of information.

"In March, 1936, as I have explained in my statement of December 6th, I transferred my employment from the Department of Agriculture to the Department of State. I was in the Division of Trade Agreements, where

"I received in the normal routine of business numerous reports on economic conditions in foreign countries. During my conversations with CARPENTER he stressed the fact that he was desirous of obtaining information concerning economic conditions in Germany and Japan that came to my attention. I have explained in my statement of December 6th, the routine I followed in obtaining and delivering documents to CARPENTER.

"I have been asked to estimate the number of documents that I would hand over to CARPENTER each week; however, I am unable to make an accurate statement as to this, but would say that probably there were about ten or less documents which I would transmit to CARPENTER on these occasions. I wish to state that there were periods during my association with CARPENTER, from the winter of 1935-1936 until the spring of 1938, when I would not meet and turn over to CARPENTER material on a weekly basis.

"Sometime in the latter part of 1936 or early part of 1937, CARPENTER informed me that we were going to take a trip to Baltimore to meet an individual who was in 'The Apparatus'. I recall meeting CARPENTER at the Union Station one evening. We took a train to Baltimore and went to a restaurant, the location of which I cannot recall, and met an individual who was introduced to me as KARL or CARL and who I subsequently have identified as being WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. From the conversation that ensued at this meeting, I gained the definite impression that CHAMBERS was CARPENTER'S superior and the purpose of the visit was for CHAMBERS to more or less look me over.

"I recall that the conversation at this meeting was mostly along economic and political lines. That would be true of practically all the conversations I had with CARPENTER and with CHAMBERS.

"About a month or two after the above mentioned meeting with CHAMBERS, I accompanied CARPENTER to Philadelphia, where we went to a hotel, as I recall, met CHAMBERS in the lobby, and then went to a restaurant where we had a rather lengthy conversation. This again was principally along economic and political lines.

"Some of the details about these meetings may not be strictly accurate, since my recollection of them is rather hazy.

"My association with CARPENTER continued, as above stated, until March, 1938. At some time in 1937, however, CHAMBERS, who knew my full name and telephone number, began to meet me in Washington. I was still meeting CARPENTER in the meantime and handing over to him documents. However, CHAMBERS began to see me more frequently, and I recall that probably on a few occasions I turned over documents to him, although it was my regular procedure to hand all documents over to CARPENTER.

"In March, 1938, I was sent on a mission by the State Department to Turkey. I recall that during the last few months, for several weeks prior to my departure in March, there was a distinct lull in my business of handing over documents to CHAMBERS or CARPENTER. As I have explained in my statement of December 6th, I did not turn over any documents to CHAMBERS or CARPENTER or any other unauthorized person subsequent to my departure for Turkey in March, 1938.

"I returned from Turkey on December 31, 1938. Shortly thereafter CHAMBERS telephoned me at the State Department or my home and arranged a meeting for lunch or dinner in a restaurant in Washington. At that meeting, he informed me that he had 'deserted'. He went into the reasons at some length. The authorities in Moscow, he said, had become convinced that he was a Trotskyist and had recalled him. He assumed this meant death and decided not to go.

"A few weeks subsequent to this, he called me at my office and insisted upon my meeting him immediately in Jackson Place. When I met him, he asked for a small loan which I gave him. I have not met him since.

"I now recall that late in 1937 at one of my meetings with CHAMBERS, he introduced me to an individual who was probably in his middle 40's, of medium height and rather stocky build and whose right arm, or most of it was missing. He had a pointed nose and perhaps reddish or reddish-brown hair. CHAMBERS characterized this individual as the boss of the outfit. This individual I recall spoke with an accent, probably Russian. This character talked to me in a rather severe fatherly manner. He told me that the people in Moscow thought that I must be in a position to deliver much more than I had actually delivered.

"After my return from Turkey, CHAMBERS referred, I believe, to this same person and told me he was a fugitive with whom he spent many a night debating on what the two of them might do and where they might go. I mentioned this to ELEANOR NELSON, who told me that such a person did not exist and that I must have dreamt the whole episode.

"In conclusion, I would like to make the definite statement that the only persons who were associated with me in connection with my abstraction of documents from Government offices and transmittal to unauthorized persons were the following: HAROLD WILSON, who I now know to be DAVID CARPENTER, and CARL, who I now know to be WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, In connection with ELEANOR NELSON, I would like to state that insofar as my operations in connection with documents were concerned, she merely was the person who introduced me to DAVID CARPENTER and whom I used on occasions as a means of communicating with CARPENTER.

"I have read the above statement consisting of four pages and find it to be correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

The following signed statement was furnished by HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH:

"New York, New York
December 14, 1948

"I, HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH, made the following statement to Thomas G. Spencer and Francis D. O'Brien, whom I know to be Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statement I may make can be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made to me in connection with this statement. I have been advised that I have a right to counsel.

"The following information supplements that contained in my statements of December 6th and 10th, 1948 made to agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. There has been exhibited to me a group of photographs that were contained on microfilm, as well as a separate group of photographs which appear to be, in the main, excerpts from cablegrams from the Department of State, as well as five handwritten notations. I have examined these photographs and my comments are set forth hereinafter.

"Before discussing any particular items in this collection of documents, I whish to state that my recollections as to particular documents which I received in late 1937 and early 1938 are no clearer than one would expect after such a long lapse of time. I can, however, remember in a general way what types of material I received.

"DOCUMENTS 1 to 48

"All this material relates to conversations between the State Department and the German Ambassador on the possibility of breaking the impasse which existed in trade relations between the United States and Germany at that time. Subject to a more thorough and complete examination, this is the only part of the collection that evokes any recollections at all in my mind, except the names of persons in the State Department whom I knew, and the names of officers referred to in some of the other documents.

"I recall clearly that during the time that I was in the Trade

NY 65-14920

"Agreements Division until my trip to Turkey, my colleague, Mr. DARLINGTON, made repeated and, so it seemed to me at the time, rather hopeless attempts to cut the gordian knot on trade relations with Germany. When I first came into the State Department he had prepared, I believe in collaboration with Mr. PASVOLSKY, some documents or document at least as lengthy as the later material contained in the microfilm collection. I was shown that earlier material and asked to comment upon it.

"As to the later material which is contained in this collection, I have no such recollection. It seems to me probable that this material was not shown to me, although in my own opinion I was as competent as anyone in the State Department to give advice on it. I would not make so conceited a remark except that I feel in this connection I must be perfectly frank. It is possible, though I think improbable, that I did see the material and paid little attention to it because I was convinced at the time that nothing would come of it, and in fact, nothing did. That might account for my failure to recollect having seen the material.

"If this material had been in my possession for any considerable length of time I would, no doubt, have informed either CARPENTER (HAROLD WILSON) or CHAMBERS (CARL), that I was ready to pass it to them, or I might have simply brought it with me on one of the appointed street corner meetings. However, during the last few months, or several weeks before my departure for Turkey, in March 1938, neither HAROLD nor CARL asked me to give them any documents. I think it most probable that if I did see this material it came to me during that period of inactivity.

"OTHER MATERIAL IN THE COLLECTION

"In a preliminary examination of this material I find that most of it consists of documents of a kind that I never saw. Turning over the sheets put before me I see on sheet after sheet documents, or copies of, or references to documents which I can tell at a momentary glance never came into my possession. If any of these had come into my possession I would have regarded them as an unusually rare find and would remember it to this day.

"AMENDMENT TO MY STATEMENT OF DECEMBER 6th

"In my statement of December 6, 1948 I said, referring to events immediately following the occasion on which CHAMBERS informed me that he had

Kisseloff-6767

'deserted' early in 1939:

"'Shortly afterwards 'HAROLD' met me and I told him of my conversation with 'CARL'. 'HAROLD' told me I would have to lay low for a considerable period.'

"On further refreshing of my memory I am almost sure that HAROLD was not available at that time and my conversation about CHAMBERS' desertion was with ELEANOR NELSON.

"Furthermore, I now recollect that I had, perhaps, three or four conversations with Miss NELSON on that subject. In my statement of December 10th I mentioned that CHAMBERS had contacted me and asked for a small loan. I was afraid that CHAMBERS would repeat these requests and it occurred to me that, having had other sources beside myself, he might be trying to live on blackmail, collecting a little from each one. I mentioned this to Miss NELSON, being in a state of great tension and alarm when I did so. Miss NELSON said she would look into the matter and see what could be done about it, and would in any case try to collect from the apparatus the $20 to compensate me for what I had paid CHAMBERS.

"I saw Miss NELSON again, probably several days later. She told me that none of the other sources had been shaken down by CHAMBERS. I thought I detected a slight note of suspicion on her part, indicating a possible thought that my being selected as the only source of a loan by CHAMBERS might reflect on my reliability. She said that she had been unable to locate any of the higher-ups in the apparatus and she thought they must have disappeared intentionally.

"I thought that if this was the case it would be safer for me not to have any further meetings with Miss NELSON and, to the best of my recollection, that was my last meeting with her, except for a coincidental meeting described in a later paragraph of this statement.

"At one of these meetings with Miss NELSON immediately following my apprisal of CHAMBERS defection, I told Miss NELSON that if any attempt were made to murder CHAMBERS I wanted to have no part in it. She replied that no such attempt was contemplated.

"In my statement of December 6th I mentioned a meeting between

CARPENTER (HAROLD) and myself, probably sometine in the Winter of 1939-40. I now recall that at this meeting I asked CARPENTER some questions concerning CHAMBERS. Since he was now out of the apparatus I thought perhaps CARPENTER would tell me CHAMBERS' nationality, a question which had greatly excited my curiosity for a long time. CARPENTER told me that he was American and that his family had been in this country for generations. I asked him where CHAMBERS got his peculiar accent. CARPENTER replied that he must have cultivated it. CARPENTER also informed that CHAMBERS was now working for a magazine. He did not say what magazine.

"My last meeting with ELEANOR NELSON took place on the steps of the State Department building, shortly after my marriage on February 15, 1941. When I caught sight of her I greeted her and said jokingly, 'Why Eleanor, what are YOU doing here'. She blushed deeply and muttered something about seeing the Budget Bureau in connection with her union activities. The Budget Bureau at that time had offices in the State Department building. I am sure that she was engaged at that moment in legitimate union activities, since it would be an extreme departure from the usual routine of espionage procedure for anyone in her position in the apparatus to be on the steps of the State Department at any time in connection with espionage activities. I realized when she showed embarrassment that my joke was rather uncalled for. I then informed her that I had recently been married. She asked 'Are you happy?'. I replied 'yes'. She said she was glad. We said goodby. I have not seen her since then until she appeared at the Grand Jury hearings yesterday.

"During my examination by the Grand Jury on Saturday, December 11th, one of the jurors asked me if I was holding in my possession any documents or other objects which might be of interest in connection with the case. I said no. Since then it has come to my recollection that I possess a rug which was given to me as a New Year's present. I believe in 1936-37. It is an 8 X 12 Bokhara rug. I understand it was worth two or three hundred dollars at the time it was given to me and may now be worth $400. I was given to understand that the rug was presented to me by the authorities in Moscow in appreciation of my collaboration. In 1939, when I moved from the house which I was renting on Quincy Street, Chevy Chase, Maryland, I had this rug stored by NESHAN G. HINTLIAN, Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D.C., a rug dealer. It has never been taken out of storage.

"It is my recollection that the rug was delivered to me by CARPENTER, but this recollection is not a certainty. To the best of my recollection it was CARPENTER who told me that the rug was a New Year's present. I recall

"definitely that the rug was delivered to me in my own car, and by inferential reconstruction of the event I think CARPENTER must have borrowed my car in order to do it.

"When the Grand Jury questioned me on December 11th one of the jurors asked me if I possess a typewriter and if I had ever loaned it to Mrs. HISS. I hereby reaffirm the statement I made on that occasion that I never loaned a typewriter to Mrs. HISS, and I add that I never loaned a typewriter to Mr. HISS. However, it is possible, though I think not very probable, that I may have loaned a typewriter to CARPENTER.

"Immediately after the hearing I informed Mr. ALEXANDER CAMPBELL that I might have loaned the typewriter to CARPENTER. I also gave him the information that the typewriter in question was sold to Miss MARGARET HARDY, either shortly before or after her marriage to Mr. PITTMAN B. POTTER. I can place the approximate date of the sale of the typewriter by the fact that I sold it because my wife, whom I had just married or was about to marry, possessed a portable typewriter and I saw no need at that time for having more than one typewriter in the family. The date of my marriage was February 15, 1941.

"The typewriter was purchased in London in 1928 or 1929. It was a Remington Portable assembled, as I was informed by the salesman, in England from American parts. It had pounds, shillings and pence on the keys instead of dollars and cents.

"I have read this statement consisting of four pages and find it true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

RE: FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO

On December 13, 1948, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO was interviewed at the New York Office by Special Agents ROBERT F. X. O'KEEFE and FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had previously alleged that an individual by the name of RENO, who was formerly a member of the Communist Party and had used the name of LANCE CLARK in the Communist Party, had furnished him, CHAMBERS, confidential information while RENO was employed by the United States Government at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Maryland.

During the interview above mentioned at the New York Office, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO furnished the following signed statement. Herein are set forth his contacts with the individual known to him as CARL and whom he identified from a photo as WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. Further set forth in the statement are his background in the Communist Party, his contacts therein and the nature of his employment at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

NY 65-14920

The following signed statement was furnished by FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO:

"New York, New York
December 13, 1948

"I, Franklin Victor Reno make the following statement to Robert F. X. O'Keefe and Francis D. O'Brien whom I know to be special agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statement that I make may be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made to me in connection with this statement. I have been advised that I have a right to counsel.

"I was born on May 14, 1911 in Salt Lake City, Utah. I graduated from the University of Colorado in 1932 with a degree of A. B., magna cum laude. In 1935 I received a Master of Arts Degree in Astronomy from the University of Virginia. While at the University of Virginia I did a considerable amount of reading in Socialism and Communism and because of my thinking at this time I became a member of the Communist Party under the name of Lance Clark. I signed an application under the name of Lance Clark and may or may not have received a card in the Communist Party. I also may have used other names in the Communist Party, the other names I do not recall.

"In the early summer of 1935 I went to Washington, D. C. and contacted Ray Warner, who at that time was the Party organizer for the Communist Party in Washington, D. C. I also became acquainted with Sidney Shosteck, Organizational Secretary. Either Warner or Shosteck approached me to engage in anti-military work, which work constituted discussing with the members the inequality to which they were subjected, and it was intended by so doing to recruit people in the armed forces to become members of the Communist Party. In the course of my reading of N. V. Lenin he made three requisites to a revolution necessary, and among the three was that a part of the armed forces must become part of the revolutionary forces in order to have the revolution successful. I carried on this work in Washington, D. C. until sometime in early 1937. While engaged in this work I had frequent contacts with Sidney Shosteck and discussed the work with him. During this time that I was engaged in this work I was employed by the Works Progress Administration doing statistical and research work.

"During the course of this employment I took a number of Civil Service examinations and one of these examinations was productive in that I was to receive an appointment at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds of the United States Army as a Junior Mathematician.

"During the course of my work in the Anti-military Organization I met an individual on the Baltimore waterfront named Paddy Whalen, who introduced me to an individual whom I only knew as Bernie. My recollection on the foregoing is hazy due to the passage of time. Prior to my acceptance of employment in Aberdeen, I met Bernie in Baltimore, Maryland, as far as I can recall, possibly in Washington, D. C., and we discussed my future employment and I asked Bernie of what assistance I could be to the Party in the position that I was about to take and Bernie told me he would look around. Subsequently I proceeded to Philadelphia with Bernie where I met an individual whose photograph has been exhibited to me by the agents and whom I now identify as the person that Bernie introduced me to and whom I knew as Carl, and whom I know now to be Whittaker Chambers. Bernie and myself proceeded to a restaurant in Philadelphia and there met Carl. Bernie presently left and Carl and I took a walk and dropped into another restaurant and held a discussion relative to the position I was going to take and the information that I could furnish to Carl. Carl asked me if I 'knew what this was.' I replied that I thought it was espionage. Carl responded that 'intelligence would be a nicer word.' I had knowledge that this work that I was engaged in or was about to be engaged in was for Russian Soviet espionage. No agreement was made that I was to be paid for any work that I might carry on for Carl. Once or twice or three times I may have received a sum of $10.00 or $20.00 to cover my expenses.

"At this time Carl told me that at our next meeting we would discuss the material that he desired from me and what I would be able to furnish to him in the course of my duties at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds.

"Sometime in July 1937, after I had been working at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds for approximately one month, I met Carl in Washington, D. C. by pre-arrangement and we discussed the administration and the entire set-up of the Aberdeen Proving Grounds organizational staff. I also furnished him with a chart drawn up by myself at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds. On another occasion I met Carl by pre-arrangement, at which time

"I furnished him with a textbook of the ordnance school in Aberdeen, dealing with ballistics. I furnished this book to Carl I believe on a Saturday night and he returned it to me on a Sunday morning. I knew that while he had it in his possession he was to photograph or reproduce it in some form.

"On another occasion of a meeting which took place in Washington, D. C., I furnished him with two firing tables which were composed of mathematical data concerning the 16 inch gun and a 30 or 50 calibre machine gun. I obtained these from Aberdeen Proving Grounds and the character was 'restricted.' They were, to my knowledge, property of the United States Government. As far as I can recall, I did not furnish any other documents or information to Carl.

"I had on one occasion furnished Carl with information concerning a theory that I had of my own knowledge pertaining to what might term a bomb-sight. The diagram represented my own conclusions of the operation and did not represent any actual bomb-sight.

"Although I was aware that Carl contemplated photographing or reproducing the documentary data which I furnished to him, he never revealed to me, nor did I have knowledge of the identity of the person who did this photographing or reproducing work. It would appear, however, that this person was located in Washington, D. C., because of the fact that the documents would be returned by Carl to me either the same night of our meeting or the morning succeeding.

"I believe I met Carl on more than three occasions and possibly seven, but the exact number I do not know. The period of our relation extended from our meeting in Philadelphia in June 1937 up until the fall of 1937 or the spring of 1938. During the time that I was furnishing information to Carl I was not fully convinced that I should engage in this work and for that reason I did not openly cooperate to the full extent of my ability and I did hold back on some occasions information which I thought that he desired. On another occasion I passed up the opportunity to furnish him with information of an intelligence nature.

"As far as I can recall I met Carl in various places in the City of Washington which were largely by pre-arrangement. I recall meeting Carl on East Capitol Street about two or three blocks east of the Capitol.

NY 65-14920

"On another occasion I met Carl in the City of Washington when he was driving a dark blue sedan, possibly a Ford or Chevrolet. I do not recall, however, the year or the make thereof.

"On one of the meetings which I had with Carl he told me that he might possibly go abroad. I never knew whether he actually did go abroad but I can say that I have not seen Carl since my last meeting took place with him in the late fall of 1937 or early 1938.

"I also wish to state that I have no knowledge of any individual, other than those I have mentioned above in this statement, who might have been engaged in Soviet espionage work.

"I severed my relations with the Communist Party in early 1938 and since that time I have not engaged in Communist Party work or attended any meetings of the Communist Party. I also wish to state that I have never been an organizer in the State of Montana for the Communist Party.

"I have read this statement consisting of three pages and have initialed each page, and it is true to the best of my knowledge.

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO was thoroughly questioned concerning his brother PHILIP'S possible implication in the activities that he conducted but, during the time the signed statement was taken from FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, he denied emphatically that PHILIP had been involved in this espionage activity. However, following the completion of the signed statement, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO did say that he had furnished CHAMBERS with PHILIP'S telephone number in Washington, D. C. The purpose of this furnishing of the telephone number was that, in the event CHAMBERS could not get in touch with him, he would be able to reach him through his brother PHILIP. FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO did state that on one occasion he thought that CHAMBERS contacted PHILIP in order to reach him and that PHILIP may have driven CHAMBERS to meet him but he denied that PHILIP had any knowledge of his activities or the purpose for which he was to meet CHAMBERS.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent EDWIN O. JOHNSON, dated December 12, 1948, in the present-entitled matter, wherein further background information and the results of a prior interview with RENO in Denver, Colorado, are set forth.

It is to be noted that considerable publicity has been given to the fact that WHITTAKER CHAMBERS was reported to have received information concerning the "Norden bombsight." RENO, at the time of the interview, denied that he had ever furnished any information concerning the "Norden bombsight," stating that he did furnish CHAMBERS the information relative to his own theory of a bombsight and that this theory was not complete. RENO emphatically stated that the "Norden bombsight" was not perfected until 1942 and that he had never furnished any person any information concerning the "Norden bombsight."

Following completion of the signed statement submitted by RENO, he furnished to Agents O'KEEFE and O'BRIEN a written Consent to Search his personal effects, which were located in Aberdeen, Maryland. The written Consent to Search is being retained in the files of the New York Office.

By phone call dated December 14, 1948, Assistant Special Agent in Charge ROBERT J. LALLY advised that upon a search of RENO'S effects pursuant to the written consent mentioned above, a variety of correspondence, technical data, documentary material and books were found. In particular, they noticed correspondence between RENO and JAMES MC SHANE, who apparently was associated with the advanced research laboratory at Princeton, New Jersey; further, correspondence was noted between RENO and JOHN L. KELLEY, Department of Mathematics, University of Chicago. This correspondence was dated up to 1946. Other material in RENO'S effects related to mathematical formulae, bombing statistics and mathematics dealing with bombs in general. It was further noted that some of this material was of a restricted nature which had been secured from the Research Ballistics Laboratory, Aberdeen, Maryland.

In accordance with the request contained in the above phone call, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, temporarily residing at the Hotel Commodore, New York, was again interviewed on December 15th by Special Agents FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN and ROBERT F. X. O'KEEFE, with particular reference to the documents and restricted data found among his effects at his Baltimore residence.

RENO advised that a considerable amount of the material referred to pertained to research on a book, in the publication of which he was collaborating with Professors EDWARD J. MC SHANE and JOHN L. KELLEY. Concerning MC SHANE, RENO stated that this individual had come to the University of Virginia in the fall of 1935, subsequent to RENO'S leaving that institution. RENO first met him at the Research Ballistics Laboratory, Aberdeen, Maryland, in 1942 and thereafter continued to work in conjunction with MC SHANE on Government ballistics research.

In regard to JOHN L. KELLEY, described by RENO as a Professor of Mathematics at the University of Colorado, RENO said he met this person in the summer or fall of 1942, at which time KELLEY, an expert on exterior ballistics, commenced his employment there. In 1943,

MC SHANE, KELLEY and RENO commenced plans for their book which was tentatively entitled "Exterior Ballistics up to 1945" and which was contemplated for use as a textbook in military schools. In June, 1945, MC SHANE departed from the Aberdeen Proving Grounds and in November, 1945, KELLEY likewise departed to recommence their professorships in private institutions. Thereafter, RENO had considerable correspondence with KELLEY and MC SHANE, principally relating to the publication of the book he mentioned previously. According to RENO, he, himself, conducted considerable research on the science of motions of projectiles with KELLEY and MC SHANE and at the present time was completing a historical introduction to this book.

In regard to the material found during the execution of the Consent to Search, RENO stated that he was well aware of the fact that there might have been data of a restricted nature contained among his effects, and also aware of the fact that some of this data might have been secured from the library of the Research Ballistics Laboratory. As a usual practice, RENO stated that he followed the normal charge-out system in effect at the Laboratory. He advised, however, that from time to time he might well have retained library material in his possession inasmuch as he was engaged in a continuing research. The failure to return the material to the library, according to RENO, was more in the nature of a neglect rather than as a means to obtain library literature. He further stated that from time to time he had worked with a Professor HIRMAN MEYER, who was engaged in teaching Ballistics at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds. RENO recalled that he had a quantity of notes prepared by MEYER for these courses.

As to the other data in RENO'S possession and recalled by him, he stated that they primarily consisted of notes and reports on projects worked upon by him during his employment at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds; others consisted of his college notes on mathematics and his private ventures in mathematical formulae pertaining to a theory of air combat.

RENO'S attention was particularly directed to a manuscript entitled "Mathematical Theory of Air Combat" by L. B. C. CUNNINGHAM, which bore the notation "British Confidential appears incorrect as only restricted." In explanation of the aforegoing, RENO stated that the classification "British Confidential" was classified as restricted in the American system. As to the above manuscript by L. B. C. CUNNINGHAM, RENO advised that he was interested in the study of air combat and for this reason had the material in his possession, having procured the same from the Research Laboratory library.

In regard to Professors MC SHANE and KELLEY, RENO consistently throughout the interview advised that they were in no way connected with him in his activities with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or in any other subversive or espionage activity engaged in by him. He further advised that his association with MC SHANE and KELLEY was primarily as a collaborator in the writing of a book, as well as an assistant in the same research laboratory on ballistics.

In regard to the manuscript to be published by Messrs. MC SHANE, KELLEY and RENO, the latter advised it had been submitted to his supervisor, R. H. KENT, for the purpose of editing and obtaining a preliminary clearance prior to submitting same to publishers. RENO advised that it was unnecessary that clearance be obtained prior to publishing a book on ordnance from Army Ordnance Authorities.

RENO stated that the book would have been rejected by the Office of Chief of U. S. Ordnance. RENO also stated that Colonel SEMON, Director of the Research Ballistics Laboratory, was aware of the fact that he was working on the book.

As to other data in RENO'S possession, he advised that he doubted that any would have been of a confidential or secret nature. He recalled that for a long time he had been working on a mathematical theory pertaining to a gunsight and the use thereof in air combat. For the most part, his data pertaining to this theory was obtained from the library.

RENO further stated that although during his correspondence with MC SHANE and KELLEY he had forwarded them data obtained from the Research Laboratory for research purposes, he had never forwarded any material of any nature whatsoever to any private, unauthorized person for subversive or espionage reasons. He again reiterated his previous statement that since late 1937 or early 1938, when he ceased his association with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, he never again was reactivated for the Communist Party nor had he ever again engaged in any activity of an espionage nature detrimental to the United States Government. He further believed that in forwarding the material to MC SHANE and KELLEY for their own research he did not breach any confidence placed in him inasmuch as both MC SHANE and KELLEY were members of the Scientific Advisory Committee of the Ballistics Research Laboratory, Aberdeen, Maryland, and as such had the right of access to the library.

As set forth in the referenced phone call from the Baltimore Office, it is noted that RENO likewise had received correspondence from VIRGINIA MC SHANE. VIRGINIA MC SHANE is the wife of Professor EDWARD J. MC SHANE and RENO recalled he may have corresponded with her one one occasion when he desired to get in touch with her husband.

As set forth in the referenced phone call, it is also noted that FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO and his brother had visited FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO'S summer residence at Aberdeen, Maryland, approximately two months ago and thereafter took some material away. It was desired to know the nature of the material so taken. In answer to this, RENO advised that on July 6, 1947, he was confined to a hospital at Havre de Grace, Maryland, for three to six weeks and from August, 1947, to July 6, 1948, he was thereafter confined to the University Hospital, Baltimore, Maryland. Upon leaving the latter hospital and prior to returning to his residence in Denver, Colorado, RENO advised he went to his former room at Aberdeen, Maryland. He picked up some clothes and also took several books which he recalled were (1) "Mathematics of Exterior Ballistics" by G. A. BLISS and, (2) a book on the tables of intervals.

On the occasion of his visit to his summer residence, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO was accompanied by PHILIP RENO. Neither of the books mentioned above was the property of the Aberdeen Proving Grounds library. The statement above that FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO visited his residence on or about July 3, 1948, was corroborated by PHILIP RENO, who was also present during the course of this interview at the Hotel Commodore.

Kisseloff-6780

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO was interviewed at the Hotel Commodore at his own request because of the fact that he was suffering from an arthritic condition.

It is to be noted that on December 14, 1948, the Baltimore Office advised that PADDY WHELAN was believed to be identical with the PADDY mentioned by FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO in his signed statement as being the individual who had introduced him to "BERNIE," who subsequently introduced RENO to CARL, who was identical with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. The Baltimore Office advised that WHELAN was well known in the waterfront activities in Baltimore and is since deceased. The Baltimore Office also advised that BERNARD WEINKRANTZ might possibly be identical with the "BERNIE" mentioned above. Baltimore also advised that WEINKRANTZ was arrested by the Hudson County Police Department on February 6, 1938, charged with being a disorderly person and possessing a dangerous weapon, FBI No. 1465673.

It is to be recalled that RENO, in his signed statement, stated he met one PADDY WHELAN and one "BERNIE" during the course of his associations with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. A photograph of one PADDY WHELAN, true name PATRICK B. WHELAN, Hudson County Police Department No. 539, dated February 6, 1938, was exhibited to RENO. He identified this person as the PADDY WHELAN whom he knew in Baltimore, Maryland, during the years 1937 and 1938. A photograph of BERNARD WEINKRANTZ, Hudson County Police Department No. 540, dated February 6, 1938, was also exhibited to RENO for the purpose of determining whether this individual was identical with the "BERNIE" previously mentioned by RENO. RENO, upon viewing this photograph, was unable to identify the person therein.

Re: INTERVIEWS OF PHILIP RENO

The following signed statement was furnished by PHILIP RENO:

"New York, New York
December 13, 1948

"I, PHILIP RENO, make the following statement to THOMAS G. SPENCER and FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN, whom I know to be Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statement that I make can be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made in connection with securing this statement. I have been advised that I have a right to counsel.

"I was born June 22, 1913 at Idaho Falls, Idaho and was graduated from Colorado University in 1934. During the time I attended college, politically speaking, I was more inclined along the ideas of Socialism and continued to believe in this doctrine subsequent to leaving college. I worked at the University after my graduation for a short period of time as an assistant in the Economics Department of the University. In January of 1935 I went to Washington, D. C., where I obtained employment in the Farm Credit Administration. Sometime in 1936 I transferred to the Social Security Board and while at that agency dealt with personnel problems and unemployment compensation. I continued with the Social Security Board in Washington until the Spring of 1941.

"During my employment with the Social Security Board I was the President of Local #10 of the United Federal Workers, CIO, in 1938 and 1939 while so employed with the Social Security Board. It was while I was President of this Local that I became closely acquainted with ELEANOR NELSON who was the Secretary of the United Federal Workers. I wish to state that I did not know then or at this time that ELEANOR NELSON had any connection with the Communist Party. I also wish to state that I myself had no connection with the Communist Party at this time.

"In 1941 I moved to Denver, Colorado and obtained employment as an Assistant Regional Representative of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

"In 1942 I was employed for a period of three or four months for the War Manpower Commission and subsequent thereto obtained a position with the War Labor Board.

"In the Spring of 1943 I resigned from Government service and, because

"of the death of my wife, I moved from Denver, Colorado to Baltimore, Maryland. In 1943, while I resided in Baltimore, I obtained a position with the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipyard Workers, CIO. My principal connection with this union was the editing of a newspaper that this union published as well as doing some work along educational lines within the union. I remained at Baltimore until the Fall of 1943 and thereafter returned to Denver, Colorado.

"While I was engaged in this work at Baltimore, Maryland, AL LANNON who at that time I believe was the head of the Communist Party in Baltimore, Maryland, called on me and discussed with me the policies of the Communist Party in respect to activities of the union. The Party line at that time was the increased production of ships and materials. LANNON encourage me to publish certain stories or cartoons which would assist in this increased production which the Communist Party desired at that time.

"While in Baltimore I resided at 2400 Utah Place. The premises at this address were rented by SID KATZ, Secretary of the Maryland CIO.

"In early 1944 I became employed by the Denver CIO and handled matters pertaining to the Political Action Committee. While in Denver at this time I met ARTHUR BARRY who, I understand, is the leader of the Communist Party in the City of Denver. I cannot definitely recall whether I met BARRY prior to my employment with the Denver CIO in 1944 but recall specifically that I knew him a few months after I commenced this employment.

"When I first became acquainted with BARRY he talked to me generally about conditions in the union and other matters of mutual interest, strongly indicating the interest of the Communist Party in matters in which I was engaged. At some point during these discussions he openly invited me to join the Communist Party. I agreed, after a fashion, and indicated to BARRY that I would join with the provision that I would not have to be a 'card carrying member, pay dues, attend meetings or sign an application'. This appeared to be agreeable with BARRY and I became a member of the Communist Party under these conditions.

"From time to time BARRY asked me for contributions to the Communist Party which I contributed to him from my own personal income. As a matter of fact, I 'followed the Party line' as outlined to me by BARRY in our various discussions. He would from time to time point out the various problems that were confronting the Communist Party, particularly along union and political action lines. I would from time to time inform Mr. BARRY of some of the

"weaknesses in the union's setup and he would make suggestions as to how to adjust these situations and would promise to use the Communist Party in adjusting these situations.

"Subsequent to the elections in November of 1944 I ceased my employment with the Political Action Committee and the Denver CIO. Sometime in the early part of 1945 I went to my father's ranch at Idaho Falls, Idaho and remained there until late in the same year. During this time that I was in Idaho Falls, I had no contact with BARRY nor did I engage in any activities of the Communist Party.

"In approximately November of 1945 I returned to Denver where I became the Membership Relations Secretary of the National Farmers Union. Several months after I became employed with the National Farmers Union, ARTHUR BARRY, who I had not seen for a period of approximately a year and a half, called on me and introduced me to LEN HARRIS who BARRY characterized as the National Farm Director of the Communist Party. I met HARRIS on approximately four occasions, one of which was at the National Convention of the National Farmers Union at Topeka, Kansas.

"In HARRIS' conversations with me he pointed out the Party line in so far as it concerned the National Farmers Union. It is my recollection that primarily the aims of the Communist Party as related by HARRIS were in most instances in conformity with the program of the National Farmers Union. However, HARRIS went somewhat further in attempting to inject the present Party line into the National Farmers Union. It is my recollection that HARRIS was desirous of adding a plank to the National Farmers Union to the effect that the union would support a policy whereby the United States would not interfere in the politics of the European countries and would furnish them aid and assistance regardless of their politics.

"During my employment with the National Farmers Union BARRY continued to see me intermittently; however, since HARRIS was more or less directing the affairs nationally of the farm movement of the Communist Party, BARRY did not have much to say to me along Communist Party or political lines.

"In about August of 1946 I became associated with the Rocky Mountain Council for Social Action. This was a liberal political organization that was interested in politics within the city of Denver and the surrounding counties. This council had no connections whatsoever with the Communist Party. I was a full time employee of this council until the November, 1946 elections and thereafter while actively associated with the council, it was not a permanent position.

"In about January of 1947 I became employed as a learner in the plastering trade and I am so employed at the present time.

"In the Spring of 1947 the Council supported QUIGG NEWTON as a candidate for Mayor of Denver, Colorado. The Communist Party, however, was opposed to NEWTON'S candidacy and ran WILLIAM DIETRICH in opposition to QUIGG NEWTON. This was probably the beginning of my break with the Communist Party.

"JOHN CARROLL was one of the Congressmen from the State of Colorado whom the Council supported and who became very much disliked by the Communist Party element in Colorado. I recall specifically that ARTHUR BARRY was very bitter about CARROLL'S support of the Democratic Party's program of international relations and was, therefore, bitter about the Council's continuing support of CARROLL. This incident led to a further breach in my relations with BARRY and the Communist Party line.

In this connection, in the Fall of 1947 BETTY GANNETT, who I understand to be a highly placed Communist, came to Denver. Miss GANNETT and BARRY came to my home and tried to 'straighten me out'. At the conclusion of this conversation I was invited to appear before a meeting to which both Communists and non-Communists had been invited and at which I would be called upon to express my views on the national political lines outlined by the Communist Party. I attended this meeting and expressed my opinion which was opposed to the views of the members of the Communist Party.

"After I spoke both BETTY GANNETT and ARTHUR BARRY made talks in which they severely criticized the viewpoint that I had taken.

"In the Fall of 1947 HENRY WALLACE had indicated that he would possibly be a third party candidate for President of the United States. The Council, in which I was still active, had several meetings in which they tentatively decided to endorse WALLACE for President but to follow the Democratic Party in so far as other election offices were concerned.

"In the Spring of 1948 at which time WALLACE was an active candidate and I was supporting the views of the Council, BARRY visited me and threatened to expell me from the Communist Party and also to expose me in the local press

"through a published statement from the Communist Party. I counselled BARRY not to do this because it would be very embarrassing to other members of the Council with whom I was closely associated and who had no connection whatsoever with the Communist Party.

"It is my understanding that some sort of letter or publication carried a story concerning my activities with the Communist Party and as a matter of fact this letter was given to the 'Denver Post'. I recall that a reporter from the 'Denver Post' called on me and interviewed me, however, so_far_as I know nothing was ever printed in the 'Denver Post' or other regular newspapers and as a matter of fact I have never seen the alleged letter supposed to have been written either by or at the direction of ARTHUR BARRY. Since that time I have had no contact with ARTHUR BARRY or other members of the Communist Party.

"During the time I resided in Washington, D. C., I lived at the following addresses:

"The 1200 block on N Street, N.W.;
The Bond Apartments on New Hampshire Avenue, N.W.;
The Chateau-Thierry Apartments on S Street, N.W.;
East Falls Church, Virginia.

"I am unable to recall two addresses where I resided when I first came to Washington, D. C. I would state, however, that these two addresses were temporary and did not cover a period of over two or three months.

"I have been shown a photograph of an individual who the Agents inform me was that of DAVID CARPENTER or DAVID ZIMMERMAN. I am unable to identify the individual appearing on this photograph as anyone I have ever seen or known. The names CARPENTER and ZIMMERMAN are also unfamiliar to me.

"I have also been shown a photograph of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. I wish to state that I have never seen this individual before. The name WHITTAKER CHAMBERS is unfamiliar to me and the name CARL or KARL has no meaning to me whatsoever in connection with the photograph of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

"The name GEORGE CROSLEY is likewise not familiar to me.

"On the evening of December 12, 1948 I had a conversation with my brother FRANKLIN VICTOR, whom I refer to as VIC, in the Commodore Hotel in

NY 65-14920

"New York City. It was during this conversation that I first learned that VIC had turned over documents coming into his possession as a result of his government employment to unauthorized individuals.

"I have been asked whether I assisted my brother in any way whatsoever in making available to unauthorized persons documents that came into the pssession of my brother.

"I want to categorically state that at no time whatsoever had documents passed from my brother or anyone else into my hands which I subsequently turned over to any person.

"I have been asked whether an individual identical with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or a person using the name of CARL ever appeared at my apartment in Washington inquiring for the whereabouts of my brother, VICTOR RENO. In this connection I wish to state that my name was in the Washington, D.C., telephone directory and my brother VICTOR'S was not. On occasions people would telephone or come to my house inquiring for the whereabouts of my brother VICTOR and I would inform such persons as to VICTOR'S whereabouts if I knew them. I cannot, however, recall a specific instance which would identify WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as making this specific request of me.

"I have read the above statement consisting of 5 pages and it is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

On December 15, 1948 information was received from the Baltimore Office to the effect that one JACK BRINTON was alleged to have been very friendly with PHILIP RENO while the latter was in Baltimore, Maryland and was possibly engaged in Communist or espionage activities with RENO. On this date PHILIP RENO was interviewed by SA THOMAS G. SPENCER and he advised that he became acquainted with JACK BRINTON at the University of Colorado in about 1937 when both were students at this university and interested to some extent in the Communist movement.

According to PHILIP RENO, BRINTON after leaving school went to Washington, D.C. where he was employed by the Census Bureau during 1938 and 1939 and thereafter for some period of time was employed in one or more of the New Deal agencies that were in existence at that time. In about 1943 BRINTON moved to Baltimore, Maryland and was employed there by the Longshoremen's Union and at about that time became a full-fledged Party member.

RENO continued that BRINTON served two years in the U.S. Army and is presently employed by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company in Pueblo, Colorado. RENO stated that for the past one and one-half years he has been closely associated with BRINTON in Denver when both were members of the Communist Party in that city. However, when RENO was read out of the Party, as set forth in his statement, he continued to be friendly with BRINTON, and as a result of this friendship the functionaries of the Party saw fit to read BRINTON out of the Party. RENO denies that either he or BRINTON was engaged in any espionage activities and that they furnished documents or other information to unauthorized persons.

The following investigation was conducted jointly by Special Agents ROBERT F. X. O'KEEFE and JAMES P. MARTIN.

On December 8, 1948, at 9:00 A.M., the above agents interviewed DAVID CARPENTER at his home at 209 South Broadway, South Nyack, New York. The agents properly identified themselves and CARPENTER was then advised of his rights to counsel and of the fact that he did not have to talk with the agents. He was told that the agents desired to ask him some questions. CARPENTER then volunteered to speak with the agents. The general nature of the inquiry, concerning CARPENTER'S association during 1936, 1937 and 1938 with JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was conveyed to CARPENTER.

CARPENTER said he was born June 21, 1906 at Baltimore, Maryland, under the name of DAVID ZIMMERMAN, but said that for the last twenty years, he has been known as DAVID CARPENTER. He related that he is presently employed as a book reviewer and proofreader by the New York "Daily Worker" and advised that he had worked in the past for the Communist Party.

CARPENTER stated that he was originally from Baltimore, Maryland. He was asked where he resided during the period from 1936 to 1938 inclusive and said that to the best of his recollection, he resided in Baltimore, Maryland during that time, with his mother, RACHEL ZIMMERMAN, at 100 Jackson Place. He went on to say that during that period, he was writing a book and was in and out of Washington, D. C. frequently, but said that he could recall no residence in Washington, D. C., until 1939. He advised that during 1939, he had a residence in Washington, D. C., while he was employed there by the "Workers Alliance", but that at the moment, he could not recall the address of this Washington, D.C. residence he had in 1939.

CARPENTER was asked if he was acquainted with JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, under that name or under the names WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, LLOYD CANTWELL, GEORGE CROSLEY, or "CARL". He said that he, as a long-time Communist, knows of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, because of CHAMBERS former association with the "New Masses". He said, however, that he cannot recall any personal association with CHAMBERS under that name or any of the names mentioned above.

CARPENTER was then shown two photographs of CHAMBERS, which photographs appeared on pages one and three of the New York "Daily News", issue of December 7, 1948. CARPENTER, after examining said photographs, related that he would not say whether he did or did not know CHAMBERS, but said that the photograph appeared vaguely familiar with some individual with whom he had formerly been acquainted. CARPENTER said that he could not recall the name of the individual of which these photographs reminded him, but advised merely that he would not state whether he did or did not know CHAMBERS, because he said he could not recall. CARPENTER said that from reading the newspapers, he was acquainted with the CHAMBERS' story.

CARPENTER was asked if he ever was personally acquainted with an individual named SAMUEL J. PELOVITZ. CARPENTER said that he was acquainted with SAMUEL J. PELOVITZ, and that he had known PELOVITZ from Baltimore, Maryland, since about 1930. He stated that PELOVITZ was a printer in Baltimore and advised that PELOVITZ' father had had a printing business there and that SAMUEL J. PELOVITZ had taken over his father's printing place. He said that he could not recall exactly how he met PELOVITZ, but knows that he became acquainted with PELOVITZ when he was in Baltimore, Maryland in about 1930.

CARPENTER was further asked if he knew PELOVITZ under the name of "FELIX", but CARPENTER said that he did not know PELOVITZ under that name and advised further that he had never known anyone named FELIX.

CARPENTER was then asked if he had ever personally known an individual named HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH. He said that he had known such a person and referred to this person thereafter as JULIAN WADLEIGH. CARPENTER said that he had met WADLEIGH in Washington, D. C. at some party there in about 1932.

CARPENTER was asked if he could recall any association during 1936 to 1938 with CHAMBERS in connection with his association with WADLEIGH or with PELOVITZ. CARPENTER said he could not recall any association on his part with CHAMBERS under that name or any of the other names mentioned above in connection with his association or acquaintanceship with WADLEIGH or PELOVITZ.

The question was then put to CARPENTER as to whether he had received any papers or documentary material from CHAMBERS, WADLEIGH or PELOVITZ in 1936, 1937 or 1938 or at any time. Although a more complete description of the documentary material referred to in the question last put to CARPENTER was not given, he thereupon stated that he would refuse to answer further questions or volunteer additional information without first having received the advice of counsel. At this point, the interrogation of DAVID CARPENTER was for the purposes of this inquiry concluded.

At that point, at 9:20 A.M., the subpoena calling for DAVID CARPENTER'S appearance before the Federal Grand Jury in the Southern District of New York at noon, December 8, 1948, was served upon CARPENTER.

CARPENTER then voluntarily offered to ride back to New York City with the agents as a matter of convenience to CARPENTER. At his request, CARPENTER was taken to the offices of the "Daily Worker" and CARPENTER then left the agents at 12th Street and University Place.

INVESTIGATION RE TYPEWRITER AND
SPECIMENS SUBMITTED TO FBI LABORATORY FOR EXAMINATION

At the time a pre-trial examination was being held and depositions taken in the libel suit instituted by Mr. ALGER HISS against Mr. JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, sixty-five letter-size typewritten documents and four small note-size handwritten documents were turned over by Mr. CHAMBERS to his attorney, Mr. RICHARD F. CLEVELAND.

These documents were subsequently turned over by Mr. CHAMBERS' attorney to the United States Government and made available to the FBI Laboratory for examination.

On December 7, 1948, the FBI Laboratory advised by teletype that of the sixty-five copies of documents that were introduced by Mr. CHAMBERS at the pre-trial deposition, the typewriting on one of the letters was typed with a machine equipped with a type that most closely matches the Royal elite style of type that is maintained in the standards of the FBI Laboratory. The FBI Laboratory further advised that all of the remaining sixty-four documents were typed with a machine which most closely matches a Woodstock pica type, the standards of which are in the FBI Laboratory files.

Mr. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS at the time he was interviewed at Baltimore, Maryland, on December 3, 1948, stated that these documents previously mentioned had been turned over to him by ALGER HISS and that furthermore, they had been, for the most part, typed on a typewriter owned by ALGER HISS or his wife, PRISCILLA. He further stated that these documents were copies or condensations of State Department documents.

On December 4, 1948, at the time ALGER HISS was interviewed by FBI Agents at Baltimore, Maryland, he advised that from a period 1936 to sometim after 1938, he had a typewriter in his home in Washington, D.C. He described th as an "old fashioned machine possibly an Underwood but I am not at all certain regarding the make". He further stated "Mrs. HISS disposed of this typewriter to either a secondhand typewriter concern or a secondhand dealer in Washington, D.C. sometime subsequent to 1938, exact date or place unknown. The whereabouts of this typewriter is presently unknown to me and that prior to this typewriter coming into the possession of his immediate family was the property of Mrs. HISS father, Mr. THOMAS FANSLER, who was in the insurance business in Philadelphia. Mr. FANSLER died early in the 1940's.

On December 7, 1948, Mrs. ALGER HISS upon being interviewed by agents of this office advised that she had recalled that when her father, THOMAS L. FANSLER had retired from the insurance business, the exact date or year she did not know, but believed it was in 1932 or 1933, he gave her a typewriter which he had used in his insurance business. She stated that she did not recall the make of the typewriter or how long she had it in her possession. She further stated that she herself was not a proficient typist but did recall that she had typed portions of a manuscript for a book she had written on this typewriter. Mrs. HISS was unable to say how she had disposed of the typewriter. She was unable to recollect when she had last used the typewriter in her home and could not recall whether she had the typewriter prior to moving to Washington, D.C.

Efforts were made immediately on December 6, 1948 to obtain specimens of the typewriter which either Mr. or Mrs. HISS might have or had in their possession or had sent to other places and to other individuals, in order to compare these specimens with the questioned documents which had been submitted to the FBI Laboratory.

On December 7, 1948, Mr. EDWARD C. MC LEAN, 20 Exchange Place, New York City, Attorney for Mr. ALGER HISS, voluntarily appeared at the New York Office in person and submitted to SA FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN three specimens of typewriting which he had in his possession, two of which are as follows:

(1) A menu dated May 20, 1939 which Mr. MC LEAN states was typewritte by TIMOTHY HOBSON, son of Mrs. ALGER HISS. This will be referred hereinafter as specimen K-15.

(2) A set of notes consisting of six pages and captioned "Appendix". These notes pertain apparently to a course in Ancient History. Mr. MC LEAN stated that he believed TIMOTHY HOBSON had typed thes notes. This will be referred hereinafter as specimen K-16.

Mr. MC LEAN furnished a carbon copy of a letter dated January 30, 1933 with the address of 378 Central Park West, New York City. The letter was addressed to Mr. WALTER L. TIBBETTS, 1216 Atlantic National Bank Building, Boston, Massachusetts. Mr. MC LEAN advised that hehad obtained this letter from the papers of Mr. HISS. He also advised that he was unable to state whether Mr. or Mrs. HISS had typed this letter. He added that he was furnishing this specimen to the New York Office on the insistence of Mr. ALGER HISS himself, who desired that they immediately be furnished to the FBI for examination. This specimen will be referred hereinafter as K-17.

For the purposes of clarity, the questioned documents which were forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for examination and which are the typewritten documents which Mr. CHAMBERS claims that Mr. HISS turned over to him, will be referred to hereinafter with the Laboratory designation of Q-6 through Q-69. These are the documents previously identified by the FBI Laboratory as having been typed on a Woodstock type typewriter. The other document which was identified by the FBI Laboratory as having been typed on the Royal typewriter has been designated by the FBI Laboratory as Q-5.

On December 10, 1948, the FBI Laboratory advised that specimens K-15 and K-16 mentioned hereinbefore were not used to type any of the specimens previously designated as Q-5 through Q-69. The Laboratory further advised that specimen K-17, which is a carbon copy of the letter mentioned hereinbefore, may have possibly been typed on the same machine as that used to type Q-6 through Q-69 but that no definite conclusion could be reached until such time as the original copy of the letter could be made available to the Laboratory.

On December 10, 1948, Mr. EDWARD C. MC LEAN, Attorney for Mr. ALGER HI personally appeared at the New York Office and furnished SA FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN with the original of specimen K-17.

It is to be noted that Mr. MC LEAN had previously stated that he would furnish this letter to the New York Office of the FBI and for some reason unknow to him, the letter was never mailed to the addressee and it was unsigned.

At the same time that Mr. MC LEAN furnished the original copy of specimen K-17, he also furnished a carbon copy of a letter dated February 17, 19 378 Central Park West, New York, New York. This letter was addressed to

WALTER G. SCHELKER, Assistant Secretary, Equitable Life Assurance Society, 393 Seventh Avenue, New York, New York. The original of specimen K-17 and the above-mentioned carbon copy of the letter dated February 17, 1933, were furnished to the FBI Laboratory on December 10, 1948.

The carbon copy of the letter addressed to WALTER G. SCHELKER, the Assistant Secretary to the Equitable Life Assurance Society, 393 Seventh Avenue, New York, will be referred hereinafter as K-33.

On December 14, 1948, the FBI Laboratory advised that a conclusion had been reached that specimen K-17, which is the original letter dated January 30, 1933, was typed by the machine which typed specimens Q-6 through Q-69.

The Laboratory further advised that the typewriting on specimen K-33 was not clear enough for a definite conclusion to be made in comparison with the evidence previously submitted.

The original of specimen K-17 has been returned by the FBI Laboratory and is being maintained in the files of the New York Office. Specimens K-15, K-16, and K-33, are also being maintained in the files of the New York Office.

On December 13, 1948, Mr. LEO D. FITZGERALD, Associate Counsel for the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, advised that ALGER HISS was an assured of that company and that further this company had in their possession a file on ALGER HISS that contained several typewritten documents signed by ALGER HISS.

A subpoena was secured at the United States Court in the Southern District of New York made out to the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States demanding them to turn over all typewritten documents signed by ALGER HISS. This subpoena was served on LEO D. FITZGERALD, Associate Counsel, by SA DONALD E. SHANNON and the following documents were turned over by Mr. FITZGERALD to SA DONALD E. SHANNON on December 14, 1948:

(1) A request for a change of policy form dated June 6, 1934 bearing the signature of ALGER HISS which will be referred hereinafter as K-36; a typewritten letter dated June 6, 1934 to WALTER I. TIBBETTS, Esq. signed by ALGER HISS hereinafter will be known as K-17; a typewritten letter dated March 22, 1933 headed "Re policy #764460" signed by ALGER HISS hereinafter known as K37. Lab represents letter of June 6, 1934

as K-38; a typewritten letter dated April 19, 1933 headed "Re policy #764460" signed by ALGER HISS hereinafter known as K-39; a typewritten letter dated February 17, 1933 to WALTER G. SCHELKER, signed by ALGER HISS hereinafter known as K-40.

It should be noted that K-40 is the original of the carbon copy which has previously been designated as K-33. All of these specimens were forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for examination and comparison with the questioned documents known as Q-6 through Q-69.

By letter dated December 15, 1948, the FBI Laboratory advised that it was concluded that the typewriting appearing on specimen K-40 was typed by the same machine which typed specimens Q-6 through Q-69; furthermore, that specimens K-36 through K-39 have been typed on different machines than the machine which typed the evidence Q-6 through Q-69.

Specimens K-36 through K-40 have been returned to the New York Office on December 15, 1948 and are being retained as exhibits in the New York file.

On December 16, 1948, a check was made at the New York Motor Vehicle Bureau, New York City, for possible typewritten specimens of automobile licenses and registrations for both ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS. It was ascertaine that there is in existence at the New York Motor Vehicle Bureau a copy of an operator's license issued to both ALGER and PRISCILLA HILL and that furthermore, there is a registration for an automobile in the name of ALGER HISS. All of this material is handwritten and no material appearing thereon is pertinent to this investigation.

On December 17, 1948, it was ascertained through investigation at 22 East 8th Avenue, New York, New York, that this building wherein resides ALGER HISS is operated through an outfit known as Sailor Snug Harbor with offices at 262 Green Avenue, New York, New York.

Mr. L. HICKOK, Assistant Comptroller of Sailor Snug Harbor advised that there appeared in his file, two letters dated September 2, 1947 and September 5, 1947 signed by ALGER HISS. He made these letters available to SA DONALD E. SHANNON.

By letter dated December 17, 1948, they were forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for comparison with specimens known as Q-6 through Q-69.

NY 65-14920

On December 15, 1948, ALAN H. QUIRCK, 30 School Street, East Williston, Long Island, appeared at the New York Office and advised that he was employed at the American Red Cross and that he knew in 1945 there appeared an old Woodstock typewriter in the office of the American Red Cross, 130 West 47t Street, New York, New York. He further stated that investigation was conducted by the American Red Cross and efforts to ascertain the original owner of this typewriter and that to his knowledge these efforts were unsuccessful. Subsequently, this typewriter was turned over to an employee of the American Red Cross, THOMAS J. CURLEY, 172 Earle Avenue, Lynbrook, Long Island.

Mr. CURLEY was contacted by SA WILLIAM B. HERSHEY and specimens of this typewriter were taken by SA WILLIAM B. HERSHEY and by letter dated December 17, 1948, they were sent to the FBI Laboratory for comparison with the questioned and known specimens in this case.

By teletype dated December 16, 1948, the Washington Field Office advised that ALGER HISS was listed as Counselor for the American Geographic Society, Broadway and 156th Street, New York, New York. SA JAMES P. MARTIN obtained from this organization three typewritten documents signed by ALGER HISS.

By letter dated December 20, 1948, these three documents were sent to the FBI Laboratory for comparison with the questioned and known documents on file at the Laboratory.

Reference is made to the fact that Mr. EDWARD C. MC LEAN, Attorney for Mr. ALGER HISS, furnished SA FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN with specimens of the typewritten material which he had in his possession in order that specimens might be compared with the typewritten copies of the documents furnished by Mr. CHAMBERS to the Government.

At the time that Mrs. ALGER HISS was interviewed in the presence of Mr. MC LEAN, her attorney, Mr. MC LEAN stated that he was not going to be surprised if examination reveals that the questioned documents were actually typed on HISS' typewriter. He further stated he would not be surprised if Mr. CHAMBERS brought this typewriter in question into court. SAS FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN and THOMAS G. SPENCER conducted the above interview.

NY 65-14920

Mr. MC LEAN stated that he had an investigator named HORACE W. SCHNAHL who had gone to Philadelphia on that date, namely, December 7, 1948, in order to obtain specimens of the typewriter which Mr. THOMAS FANSLER had had in his possession and which were subsequently turned over to Mrs. ALGER HISS.

Kisseloff-6798

Information was received by the Secret Service from an anonymous source and relayed to this office advising that HORACE SCHMAHL, investigator for EDWARD C. McLEAN, attorney for ALGER HISS had in his possession papers belonging to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

HORACE SCHMAHL was interviewed by SA FRANCIS D. O'BRIEN and JOHN T. HILSBOS on the morning of December 11, 1948 in the New York office, and he advised that he is a private investigator licensed by the State of New York, having Credentials number 4786, Badge number 267, which he exhibited to interviewing agents.

He stated in the way of background that he was born in Germany and had been put out of Germany in 1936 by the Gestapo, and that during the war he had been with Military Intelligence. He stated that he was presently associated with JOHN BRODY, an attorney who was formerly an assistant to the Attorney General, whose offices are at 19 Rector Street. He stated that BRODY had been retained by EDWARD McLEAN, attorney for ALGER HISS. SCHMAHL stated that for the past 20 years he has been handling international work for the Department of Justice and for the United States Attorney's office for the Southern District of New York through the office of Mr. ARMAND CHANKALIAN. He indicated that he believes that he had an adverse record with this office, inasmuch as at one time he was accused of being an ardent Nazi. He stated that to show that he was not a Nazi, in addition to his employment by the Department of Justice and his present employment in the Military Intelligence, he wished to state that he was a government investigator for the American-Jewish Committee, and stated that his sister is married to a Jewish refugee doctor.

It was pointed out to Mr. SCHMAHL that information had been received that he had made statements that he had in his possession papers belonging to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, and if this were true we wanted to know the facts concerning the same. SCHMAHL stated that at the time he was hired by Mr. McLEAN to investigate the civil action matter in which Mr. HISS is bringing suit against Mr. CHAMBERS, he obtained copies of the depositions which were taken from Mr. CHAMBERS and Mr. HISS in Baltimore, Maryland. He also added that he had seen copies of the documents which CHAMBERS alleges were furnished to him by HISS at the time he was employed by the United States Government. However, he added that he never mentioned this to any official authorities that he did have these depositions, and he retained them at all times in a safe in his office.

He also added that he had seen the copies of the documents alleged to have been given to CHAMBERS by HISS.

It will be recalled that SCHMAHL had gone to Philadelphia in connection with his investigation concerning the typewriter which the HISS family possessed, and during this trip to Philadelphia he called on our Philadelphia office. It will also be recalled that he had stated telephonically to a Mr. MARTIN of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company in Philadelphia that he was cooperating with the F.B.I. in New York relative to the obtaining of specimens of the questioned typewriter. SCHMAHL stated that he did not believe he used the word "cooperating", but stated that he did state that he was going to furnish the F.B.I. with all of the information which might come into his possession during the course of investigation.

The agents pointed out to Mr. SCHMAHL that any investigations conducted by the F.B.I. were conducted individually of any other organization, and the results of these investigations were confidential and at no time should he state that he was cooperating or in any way connected with any investigation being conducted by the F.B.I. It was further stated to Mr. SCHMAHL that in the event he discusses this case with any individual, that he should be careful not to leave the inference or implication that he has in his possession papers which belong to Mr. CHAMBERS.

SCHMAHL stated that he had great respect for the F.B.I. and the Department of Justice. As an example of this respect, he had been approached by Representative McDOWALL of the House Un-American Affairs Committee to work for that committee in connection with this case, but he had declined, basing this declination on the fact that he had great respect for the Department of Justice, F.B.I., and he felt that the Committee and the Department were feuding at this time.

SCHMAHL offered the following information concerning CHAMBERS which he had developed. He stated that in 1936 Mrs. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had used the name of Mrs. JAY CHAMBERS, who at that time was reported to have been the wife of Mr. JAY CHAMBERS, senior administrative assistant in the Treasury Department. He stated he had come about this information through a credit investigation he had conducted in Baltimore, Maryland. Mrs. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS knew the entire personal history of Mr. JAY CHAMBERS, and he felt that she could have only obtained this information through some person employed in the Treasury Department on e Civil Service Commission. He stated that he had talked to Mrs. JAY CHAMBERS, and while she could not prove it, she had indicated that some unauthorized person had been charging various purchases to her credit accounts at the better stores in Washington.

He also stated that he was endeavoring through the Motor Vehicle Bureau in Baltimore to determine whether WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had used different signatures when he had transferred his automobile by selling it to himself by transferring it from DAVID BREEN, one of his aliases, to his true name, WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. In securing the latter two bits of information the agents made no comment and did not indicate whether we had the information, pointing out to Mr. SCHWAHL that any information which we had is confidential and no comment could be made on this point.

ALEXANDER GREGORY-GRAFF BARMINE is a former Russian diplomatic officer who defected from the Soviets in 1937 in Athens, Greece. He subsequently came to the United States where he is now a citizen. He is presently living at 1037 Avenue of the Americas, Apt. 3-B, New York City, and is employed in the Russian Section of the Voice of America, U.S. Department of State, 224 West 57th Street, New York City.

On October 23, 1946 information was received from the Bureau to the effect that BARMINE had stated that he had seen abroad a list of foreign agents of the Soviet Government who were operating in the United States and that the name of ALGER HISS was on this list.

BARMINE was interviewed on October 25, 1946 at which time he was given ample opportunity to mention having seen such a list or the name of ALGER HISS, though he was not directly questioned on these matters. He made no reference to ever having seen such a list nor did he mention HISS as being an agent of the Soviets.

On December 14, 1948, BARMINE was again interviewed by Special Agents R.F.X. O'KEEFE and FRANCIS X. PLANT and he was specifically interrogated relative to his ever having seen the list mentioned above, and in regard to his knowledge of ALGER HISS.

Mr. BARMINE denied that he had ever seen such a list or that he had ever seen the name of ALGER HISS on such a list. He did say that he had heard ALGER HISS referred to as being an agent of the Soviet Military Intelligence. In explanation he said that in the early part of 1938, after his own defection from the Soviet diplomatic service, he had visited WALTER KRIVITSKY at the latter's hotel in Paris, France. KRIVITSKY had also recently defected from the Soviet Intelligence Service and BARMINE claimed that his visit to KRIVITSKY was at the instigation of some mutual friends in the Socialist Party of France.

Continuing, BARMINE stated he was very suspicious of KRIVITSKY and thought that the latter was probably a GPU agent who was searching for BARMINE in an attempt to kill him or return him to Russia. He said he made known his feelings to KRIVITSKY but the latter denied being a member of the GPU and insisted that he had been an agent of Soviet Military Intelligence. In an attempt to establish the reliability of the man, BARMINE said he asked that KRIVITSKY supply him with the names of certain people in Moscow who should be known to him if he had been in Military Intelligence. KRIVITSKY complied by naming a number of individuals none of whom BARMINE was able to recall at the present time. BARMINE, still not sure, then asked KRIVITSKY to name some of the individuals who were working for Soviet Military Intelligence in America. In response, BARMINE said, KRIVITSKY named about ten persons including GEORGE MINK, ALGER HISS and HARRY DEXTER WHITE. BARMINE could not recall the names of any of the others mentioned by KRIVITSKY at the time of the interview. However he indicated that he felt he could remember these names, after a little thought, and he promised to furnish them to the agents when available.

BARMINE claimed that KRIVITSKY gave no further explanation of this allegation and he said he had no further discussion along these lines with KRIVITSKY either in France or in the United States. Mr. BARMINE observed that KRIVITSKY was highly nervous and excited at the time of this talk, and was obviously worried.

With further reference to KRIVITSKY, it might be stated that he was a highly placed Soviet Intelligence Officer in Western Europe for a number of years. After he defected from the Soviets in 1937 he came to the United States where he died in 1941. He was found dead in a hotel room in Washington, D.C., and though there were allegations to the effect that he had been murdered by GPU agents he was officially adjudged a suicide.

Mr. BARMINE also recalled one other incident involving the name of ALGER HISS. He placed this as being sometime in 1945 or 1946 and said that on this occasion he dined in the home of a couple, whose names he could not remember, but who lived in Westchester County, New York. Following the meal a discussion was had concerning the number of Communists working in the United States Government. BARMINE said that the names of several people were mentioned but the only one he specifically recalled was ALGER HISS. The latter, according to BARMINE, was referred to by these people as being a Communist, and BARMINE thought they had described him as being Chief Counsel in the State Department.

He said that there was no further discussion of HISS other than the mention of his name and employment.

BARMINE also told the interviewing agents that while he was attached to the Foreign Trade Commission in Moscow he had occasion to see General I. BERZIN, then head of Soviet Military Intelligence, approximately every other day. During the course of one of these visits BERZIN, in discussing China, mentioned to BARMINE that the Soviets had some American working for them there. According to Mr. BARMINE, he named OWEN LATTIMORE and JOSEPH BARNES as being two of these individuals.

After he entered this country BARMINE said he began to read closely the writings of JOSEPH BARNES, OWEN LATTIMORE and HARRY DEXTER WHITE, and the newspaper articles concerning them. From these sources he formed his own opinion that they were actually Soviet agents. As to GEORGE MINK he said that he never again heard of this man and thus could not formulate any opinion of his own. He never heard anything further derogatory concerning ALGER HISS except for the time of the dinner in Westchester County in 1945 or 1946. This was the only information he ever received, which would tend to substantiate KRIVITSKY'S remark, until the present newspaper publicity.

LOUIS F. BUDENZ, Assistant Professor, Fordham University, formerly Managing Editor of the "Daily Worker" was interviewed today by SA W.J. McCARTHY concerning ALGER HISS. He advised that he never met ALGER HISS but understood that he was a member of the CP connected with the Washington Group. BUDENZ stated that he could not place the date when he first heard of HISS as a Party member. He added that he can recall two instances when HISS was mentioned in a discussion by Party members. The first discussion took place during Hitler Stalin Pact at National Headquarters. BUDENZ, ROY HUDSON and BOB MINOR were present, possibly others. They were discussing an attack on the "Daily Worker". Someone mentioned that NATHAN WITT and LEE PRESSMAN could not be too helpful because they were under attack at the time. ALGER HISS was then mentioned by someone as one who would be helpful. He was mentioned as a good comrade. The second discussion took place in JACK STACHEL'S office sometime in 1945. Present were EUGENE DENNIS, JACK STACHEL, LOUIS BUDENZ and possibly CHARLES KRUMBEIN. The subject being discussed was the Amerasia Case. DENNIS stated that Lt. ANDREW ROTH had suggested that ALGER HISS should be used to quash the case. BUDENZ stated that he furnished the above information to the HCUA in executive session. BUDENZ did not know whether or not PRICILLA HISS or DONALD HISS were members of the CP. In addition to the above information, BUDENZ during a previous interview on August 26th stated that during the Hitler Stalin Pact, EUGENE DENNIS contacted him, BUDENZ, at the "Daily Worker" and stated that he had a technical difficulty and wanted to know if BUDENZ felt that HOWARD HUNTER in Washington would help him. DENNIS continued that he did not wish to contact ALGER HISS since HISS was under a cloud at the time. BUDENZ understood that DENNIS' technical difficulty meant that he had used a fraudulent passport.

On December 15, 1948 the Grand Jury handed up to U.S. District Judge JOHN W. CLANCY a two-count indictment against ALGER HISS charging violations of Title 18, Section 1621 of the U.S. Code. This indictment, the text of which is set out hereinafter, was returned at approximately 5:45 PM that day and arrangements were made by Assistant Attorney General CAMPBELL with Attorney MC LEAN for ALGER HISS to surrender himself the following morning for arraignment before Judge CLANCY.

On arraignment December 16, 1948 HISS personally pleaded not guilty to both counts in the indictment and on recommendation of Mr. WHEARTY bond was fixed at $5,000 and HISS was ordered fingerprinted and photographed. Mr. MC LEAN'S motion for a two-week period from that date for the filing of motions with respect to the indictment was granted by the Court and on Mr. WHEARTY'S request January 24, 1949 was set as the tentative trial date. HISS was immediately thereafter taken to the New York Office and fingerprinted and photographed, after which he furnished the required bond and was released.

On the morning of December 16, 1948, immediately prior to the arraignment of ALGER HISS, a new Grand Jury was sworn in by Judge CLANCY and that same day was given an introduction to the subject matter to be presented by Messrs. DONEGAN and WHEARTY. No witnesses were heard that day, but subject CHAMBERS testified the following day and on December 20, 1948 both WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN and GEORGE PIGMAN appeared before the Grand Jury.

On December 14, 1948 the House Committee on Un-American Activities turned over to this Bureau for Laboratory examination five 35mm. negative films; these negatives were stated to be those previously referred to as having been recovered from the pumpkin on the CHAMBERS' farm at Westminster, Maryland on December 2, 1948, and were identified as follows:

A) Grand Jury Exhibit Number 49
B) Grand Jury Exhibit Number 51
C) Grand Jury Exhibit Number 48
D) Grand Jury Exhibit Number 47
E) Grand Jury Exhibit Number 50

The FBI Laboratory advised by letter dated December 15, 1948 that "With reference to Negatives A and B, these are alleged to have been

Kisseloff-6807

NY 65-14920

"exposed many years ago but developed only within the last few weeks. Each contained approximately 30 exposures. Both of these negatives were fogged in many places and the emotion on the film was badly deteriorated. This condition was apparently caused by the length of time between the exposure of the negative and its development. It is considered unusual that the latent image was even visible after the alleged lapse of time of approximately ten years. The fogging condition was typical of film which is developed a great length of time after its intended expiration date. One set of enlarged prints was made from each of these negatives. Many of the prints were illegible. However, 35 photographs were at least partially legible and in addition to the print made directly from the negative, three additional prints were made of each photograph.

"Film E was submitted with Films A and B, but was entirely black. Efforts were made to restore it, but were unsuccessful."

Film C, which was allegedly both exposed and developed some years ago, was found by the Laboratory to contain 22 exposures; it was in good condition and a set of enlarged prints was made from the negative.

Film D, which was also alleged to have been both exposed and developed some years ago, contained 36 exposures, was in good condition, and 4 enlarged prints were made directly from the negative.

The Laboratory also reported that a comparison was made between the material turned over to the Grand Jury and the documents developed from the film made available to the F.B.I. for Laboratory examination, and no additional documents were developed from the film. It was noted, however, that the Committee made available to the Grand Jury a number of documents which were illegible and some of these documents were developed by the F.B.I. Laboratory so they are now readable.

The following is the text of the two count indictment handed down by the Federal Grand Jury in the Southern District of New York on December 15, 1948:

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT

FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA	:
Plaintiff	:	Criminal No.
-v-	:	Title 18, Section 1621 U.S.C.
ALGER HISS	:
Defendant	:

The Grand Jury charges:

1. That on the 15th day of December 1948, at the Southern District of New York and within the jurisdiction of this Court, Alger Hiss, the defendant herein, having duly taken an oath before a competent tribunal, to wit, the grand jurors of the United States of America, duly impanelled and sworn in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, and inquiring for that District in a case then and there pending before said Grand Jurors in which a law of the United States authorizes an oath to be administered, that he would testify truly, did unlawfully knowingly and wilfully and contrary to said oath, state material matter which he did not believe to be true, that is to say:

2. That at the time and place aforesaid, the said Grand jurors, inquiring as aforesaid, were conducting an investigation entitled United States v. John Doe, pertaining to possible violations of espionage laws of the United States and any other Federal criminal statutes:

3. That it was material to this investigation to ascertain whether the espionage or other statutes of the United States had been violated by the unlawful abstraction or removal of secret, confidential or restricted documents, writings, sketches, notes or other papers by persons employed by the United States Government, or by the furnishing, delivery or transmittal of any such documents, writings, sketches, notes or other papers to any unauthorized persons, and whether the defendant Alger Hiss had any knowledge of any such violation.

4. That at the time and place aforesaid, the defendant Alger Hiss, duly appearing as a witness before the said Grand Jurors, and then and there being under oath as aforesaid, and having been duly advised of the nature of the investigation then and there being conducted, testified falsely before said Grand Jurors with respect to the aforesaid material matter as follows:

> Q Mr. Hiss, you have probably been asked this question before, but I'd like to ask the question again. At any time did you, or Mrs. Hiss in your presence, turn any documents of the State Department or of any other Government organization, or copies of any documents of the State Department or any other Government organization, over to Whittaker Chambers?
> A Never. Excepting, I assume, the title certificate to the Ford.
> Q In order to clarify it, would that be the only exception? A. The only exception.
> JUROR: To nobody else did you turn over any documents, to any other person?
> THE WITNESS: And to no other unauthorized person. I certainly could have to other officials.

That the aforesaid testimony of the defendant, as he then and there well knew and believed, was untrue in that the defendant, being then and there employed in the Department of State, in or about the months of February and March, 1938, furnished, delivered and transmitted to one Jay David Whittaker Chambers, who was not then and there a person authorized to receive the same, copies of numerous secret, confidential and restricted documents, writings, notes and other papers the originals of which had theretofore been removed and abstracted from the possession and custody of the Department of State, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1621.

Kisseloff-6810

COUNT II

1. The Grand Jury realleges all of the allegations of paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 of the first count of this indictment.

2. That at the time and place aforesaid the defendant Alger Hiss, duly appearing as a witness before said Grand Jurors, and then and there being under oath as aforesaid, and having been duly advised of the nature of the investigation then and there being conducted, testified falsely before said Grand Jurors with respect to the aforesaid material matter as follows:

> Q Now, Mr. Hiss, Mr. Chambers says that he obtained typewritten copies of official State documents from you.
> A I know he has.
> Q Did you ever see Mr. Chambers after you entered into the State Department? A I do not believe I did. I cannot swear that I did not see him some time, say, in the fall of '36. And I entered the State Department September 1, 1936.
> Q Now, you say possibly in the fall of '36. A That would be possible.
> Q Can you say definitely with reference to the winter of '36; I mean, say, December, '36? A Yes, I think I can say definitely I did not see him.
> Q Can you say definitely that you did not see him after January 1, 1937? A Yes, I think I can definitely say that.
> MR. WHEARTY: Understanding, of course, exclusive of House hearings and exclusive of the Grand Jury.
> THE WITNESS: Oh, yes.

That the aforesaid testimony of the defendant, as he then and there well knew and believed, was untrue in that the defendant did in fact see and converse with the said Mr. Chambers in or about the months of February and March, 1938, in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1621.

In accordance with instructions received from Mr. Ladd, a memorandum is being prepared which will reflect the names of individuals who have been interviewed, the names of individuals who are to be interviewed, as well as the names of individuals who will not be interviewed in connection with the over-all activity of the underground Government group to which Hiss and Chambers allegedly belonged.

In this connection, reference is made to the letter to the Washington Field Office dated January 19, 1949, which instructed that Office to interview numerous individuals for information in this connection.

In order that the memorandum requested by Mr. Ladd may be completed at an early date I called the Washington Field Office at 2:20 P.M., January 25, 1949, and talked with Special Agent Robert McCaslin, who was on Supervisor Delavigne's desk at that time. I explained the purpose of the call to Mr. McCaslin and advised him to furnish a memorandum to the Bureau immediately reflecting -

(1) The names of the individuals who have been interviewed;

(2) The names of the individuals who are to be interviewed not only by the Washington Field Office but by other offices at the request of the Washington Field Office;

(3) The names of individuals who will not be interviewed with regard to this matter, together with the reason as to why they will not be interviewed.

Mr. McCaslin stated this matter would be handled promptly and the Bureau advised in the immediate future.

ACTION:

It is recommended that this memorandum be forwarded to the Espionage Section.

Re: UNSUB "BERNIE"

In the notes taken by Mr. A. A. BERLE, former Under-Secretary of State, during an interview with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in September, 1939, appears the following notation:

"RENO connected with Baltimore Party Organizer - BENJAMIN (BUNDEY) FRIEDMAN, alias FIELD - then California - then Russia - now organizer for Baltimore and Washington of above ground party - underground connections."

The report of Special Agent JOHN T. REYNOLDS, dated February 1, 1943, at Washington, D. C., entitled, "B. M. FIELD, INTERNAL SECURITY - C, CUSTODIAL DETENTION", reflects that 10 membership books of the Communist Party covering the years 1938 and 1939 were signed by B. M. FIELD and made available to the Washington Field Office. The FBI Laboratory subsequently identified the signature on these books as identical with the signature of BENJAMIN FIELD, FBI #1465886, (Bureau File 100-24601). This individual also used the aliases ISADORE FRIEDMAN and ISAAC FRIEDMAN, according to his criminal record, although his aliases are not substantiated by fingerprints.

From the information available to the Washington Field Office, it appears that the Laboratory was unable to identify the signature of BENJAMIN FIELD, FBI #1465886, with the signature of MOSES M. BRAGIN, a resident of Brooklyn, New York, (New York File 100-25957), although it appears that these individuals are probably identical.

Inasmuch as the BENJAMIN (BUNDEY) FRIEDMAN, alias FIELD, referred to by CHAMBERS was, according to CHAMBERS, an organizer for the Baltimore-Washington area in 1939, it is believed probably that this individual is identical with BENJAMIN FIELD, FBI #1465886, whose name appeared on the Communist Party membership books covering the period 1938 to 1939. ~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

There is some similarity between the names "BUNDEY" (as stated by CHAMBERS to be connected with RENO) and "BERNIE" (as stated by FRANKLIN (RENO) as the person who introduced RENO to CHAMBERS. It is felt that these individuals may possibly be identical.

January 25, 1949

There is enclosed herewith for the New York, Baltimore and El Paso Offices a picture of BENJAMIN FIELD, FBI #1465886. The El Paso Office is requested to exhibit this picture to FRANKLIN RENO who is presently staying in Albuquerque, New Mexico to determine if he is identical with the unknown subject "BERNIE", who introduced RENO to CHAMBERS.

The New York Division should exhibit this picture of FIELD to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS to determine if it is identical with "BUNDEY" FRIEDMAN, alias FIELD, with whom he said RENO was connected.

ASAC Strickland of Little Rock called in at 10:15 a.m. today and stated they had received a teletype yesterday from the Kansas City Office instructing them to contact a person in the Arkansas area and it was known that he was a newspaper editor of a small publication known as the "Mountain Echo". It appears he is in possession of a Woodstock typewriter which had been returned to the Woodstock factory from a Washington dealer in about 1937 or 1938 and the typewriter had been traced out of the factory to this individual.

Mr. Strickland's inquiry was whether or not the fact that the person having the typewriter was a newspaper man should in any way affect the inquiry. I told him it would be proper to get specimens from this typewriter ~~and if~~ as they appear to have a possible pertinency. The editor, of course, should not be advised of the reason for securing the specimens. I told him it could be pointed out to the editor that it was not a matter affecting him in any way. Mr. Strickland advised this newspaper man had been cooperative in the past on other investigative matters.

REASON
DATE OF REV. 9-1-91
9/1/81

This document has been released to the reading room in the Alger Hiss Case, updating stamp.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent FRANK G. JOHNSTONE in the captioned case dated December 24, 1948 and the report of Special Agent JESSE F. FARR dated December 30, 1946 at Baltimore, Maryland and entitled COGOG, INTERNAL SECURITY - C.

Considerable data appears in the above mentioned report dated December 30, 1946 starting on page 16 concerning the Communist Political Association Club at Aberdeen, Maryland. It is to be noted as a result of the investigation by this office, a number of individuals working in the Ballistics Research Laboratories and elsewhere on the Aberdeen Proving Ground were determined to be members of the Communist Political Association. It is to be noted on page 28 of this report under the heading JOSEPH JAFFEE, it is reported that WEISS and JAFFEE had complete access to all data concerning the proximity fuse. As reflected in both of the aforementioned reports, JAFFEE and five of the Aberdeen Proving Ground employees were discharged by the War and Navy Departments as a result of information concerning their membership in the Communist Party as furnished by this office.

Inasmuch as one of the individuals interviewed in regard to FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO expressed the opinion that RENO was acquainted with those discharged and inasmuch as RENO filed a petition protesting their discharge, it is possible that this group was associated with RENO in the dissemination of information to an espionage apparatus subsequent to the 1938 date which he gave as his last contact with any members of the espionage ring.

It is also to be noted that Baltimore Confidential Informant [redacted] in the Spring of 1948 advised that three of the individuals who had been fired at Aberdeen, IRVING SPECTOR, HARRY SPECTOR and ABRAHAM KOTELCHUCK, were considerably perturbed over the belief that they might be under investigation by the FBI. At that time, IRVING SPECTOR was reported to be extremely nervous and his wife was concerned about his health. Subsequent to that time, HARRY SPECTOR received considerable publicity because he was teaching school in this city and had been accused of having Communist sympathies.

Reference is made to the letter to Dallas from the Bureau dated July 5, 1944, captioned Mrs. Victor Perlo, Internal Security - R, transmitting an anonymous letter containing a partial list of the Communist underground group in Washington, D. C. Copies of this material were also made available to the Washington Field Office.

The author of this anonymous letter was later determined to be Katherine Mills Perlo.

The Washington Field Division is instructed to review the above mentioned material and immediately set out leads for the prompt interview of all persons mentioned in instant letter who were reportedly active in connection with the underground apparatus of the Communist Party. These individuals should be interviewed in connection with the development of instant case. It is realized that a number of these individuals may already have been interviewed in connection with this matter. All those who have not been so interviewed should be promptly located and interviewed.

It is noted that the name of William D. Hassett appears on the above referenced anonymous letter. Mr. Hassett should not be considered for interview inasmuch as he is the person who made this communication available to the Bureau.

For the information of the New York Division, there is being transmitted herewith two photostatic copies of the above-mentioned anonymous letter, as well as photostatic copies of the Bureau letter to the Dallas Division dated July 5, 1944.

In connection with the above-entitled case, Special Agent James T. Haverty has called to my attention that the Bureau has conducted an "LGE" investigation on one STEPHEN WARE, son of HAROLD WARE and grandson of Mother ELLA REEVES BLOOR. HAROLD WARE was reportedly leader of the CP underground in Washington, D.C. prior to about 1937.

The investigation of STEPHEN WARE, a Navy employee, reflected he was reported as one of the leaders of the Young Communist League in Chicago about 1939 but that no information of CP activities on his part was reported since that time. It is believed that WARE resided with his father in Washington, D.C. until about 1935, attending high school in that city prior to that time. It is also believed that WARE originally came from a small town in Maryland.

The above is being brought to the Bureau's attention with a view to seeing whether it might desire to have STEPHEN WARE interviewed as to the activities of his father and other members of the CP underground in Washington, D.C. about 1935.

You will recall that Felix August Inslerman has been identified as the photographer for Chambers' apparatus, who operated in Baltimore, Maryland.

On January 18, 1949, Inslerman testified before the grand jury and when asked whether he was a Communist Party member during various years, he finally exclaimed, "I've never been a Communist!"

An examination was made by the New York Office of the Election Board records at New York City and it was found that Felix Inslerman had registered as a Communist for the years 1933 and 1934, giving his address as 314 East 122nd Street, New York City.

Photostatic copies of the Election Board records and known handwriting specimens of Inslerman were furnished to the FBI laboratory for comparison of the handwriting appearing on each.

The FBI laboratory has concluded that the signatures of Felix A. Inslerman appearing on the Election Board records are identical with Inslerman's signatures which appear on several applications for employment. This identification has been furnished to the New York Office.

Reference is made to the report of SA MAHLON F. COLLER dated December 23, 1948, at Detroit, Michigan.

It is requested that the Bureau review the leads set out in this report and notify any of the Divisions to whom leads are set out if the lead should not be covered, with the exception of the New York Division on which specific Bureau authorization should be given. A copy of this letter is being furnished to each of the interested Divisions.

With reference to the leads set out for New York, [redacted] advised that there may be a possibility that MAX BEDACHT would be cooperative in telling all to the Bureau. The Informant bases this observation on his experiences with BEDACHT while both were actively engaged in Communist activities. BEDACHT is described as possessing a fear complex; that is, were he assured protection from bodily injury, he may be prone to be very cooperative and disclose his complete knowledge of Communist Party and Comintern espionage activities, of which Informant advises BEDACHT possesses a wealth of knowledge. b2 - b7D

With reference to LISTON OAK, [redacted] advised that he would be very cooperative with the Bureau. He likewise may have knowledge of ALGER HISS's Communist Party membership. OAK, according to the Informant, is anti-Communist since leaving the Party in 1936.

With reference to ROBERT GLADNICK, Representative of the International Garment Workers Union, [redacted] advised that he has been in contact with him on many occasions and is assured that he, GLADNICK, would make a very good Bureau contact individual and may also know of ALGER HISS's Communist Party membership.

RE JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, PERJURY, ESPIONAGE DASH R. [redacted] ADVISED THAT HANNAH PICKERING WAS THE GIRL FRIEND OF HAROLD WARE UNTIL HIS DEATH AROUND NINETEEN THIRTY SIX. SHE LIVED WITH HIM IN N.Y. DURING TIME HE WAS MARRIED TO AND LIVING WITH JESSICA SMITH IN WASHINGTON. HANNAH PROBABLY WORKED IN OFFICE OF HAROLD WARE IN FARM BUREAU AT ONE TIME. HANNAH MAY HAVE BEEN INVOLVED IN SOVIET ESPIONAGE WITH HAROLD WARE, WHO WAS CHAMBERS PREDECESSOR IN HANDLING SOVIET ESPIONAGE IN THE GOVERNMENT. IT IS POSSIBLE THAT HANNAH MAY HAVE MET AND WORKED WITH SOME OF THE INDIVIDUALS WHO MAY HAVE BEEN HANDLED BY WARE AND LATER CHAMBERS. CI ND FOUR FOUR ONE FREQUENTLY SOUGHT HANNAH-S ASSISTANCE IN GETTING INFORMATION ABOUT PEOPLE AND HANNAH WAS ALWAYS HELPFUL. THAT SHE WAS BEGINNING TO BREAK. [redacted] STATED SHE NEVER SAW HANNAH AFTER THIS VISIT AND DOES NOT KNOW WHERE SHE STANDS TODAY. SEVERAL YEARS AGO SHE HEARD THAT HANNAH WAS RUNNING A CHICKEN FARM IN NEW HOPE, PENNSYLVANIA. [redacted] DOES NOT KNOW HANNAH-S PRESENT ADDRESS. SHE SUGGESTED THAT HANNAH MAY BE AT THE FAMILY HOMESTEAD IN ELMIRA. SHE ADDED THAT MAX EASTMAN, AN ANTI-COMMUNIST WRITER, GREW UP WITH HANNAH AND MAY KNOW HER PRESENT WHEREABOUTS. [redacted] STATED THAT HANNAH WAS ORIGINALLY A QUAKER. SHE WENT TO RUSSIA IN NINETEEN TWENTY TWO AS A QUAKER MISSIONARY WITH DOROTHY DETZER AND BECAME A COMMUNIST. SHE IS APPROXIMATELY FIFTY YEARS OF AGE TODAY. THE FILES OF THIS OFFICE REFLECT THAT LEM HARRIS, HEAD OF C.P. FARM PROGRAM, AND FORMER FINANCIAL MAN OF THE PARTY, TRIED TO CONTACT HANNAH PICKERING ON JANUARY THIRTY FIRST NINETEEN FORTY SIX IN NYC THROUGH ROGER STEVENS AT ONE ONE NINE EAST NINETEEN STREET. PICKERING WAS LISTED AS AN EXECUTIVE OF THE OPEN ROAD IN NINETEEN FORTY ONE. THIS WAS A PRO-SOVIET AGENCY. NO ADDRESS IN NY COULD BE LOCATED THROUGH TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES AND CREDIT BUREAU. BUFFALO AND PHILADELPHIA ARE REQUESTED TO CHECK IN ELMIRA AND NEW HOPE, PA., TO DETERMINE HANNAH-S PRESENT ADDRESS. THE BUREAU IS REQUESTED TO ADVISE IF IT DESIRES THAT HANNAH BE INTERVIEWED.

Reference is made to report of SA MAHLON F. COLLER dated January 24, 1949, at Detroit.

In interviewing ARVID WERNER JACOBSON the Agents received the impression that JACOBSON is tempermental, moody, and inclined to great depths of depression. He went to lengthy explanations, stating that he had done everything in his power to live down his past and re-establish himself as a respectable citizen. He stated that on his release from imprisonment in Finland he dedicated his life to public service and considers himself the founder of Alcoholics Anonymous. He has written two manuels on mechanical problems in advanced car designing used by the Ford Motor Company during the war and is presently working on a book regarding the theoretical mathematical approach to engineering problems for research engineers.

JACOBSON stated that, while it might be difficult to believe, his three years in solitary confinement had such an effect upon his mind that he is unable to recall the events surrounding his recruitment and that many things in his life prior to 1933 are complete blanks. In the form of a soliloquy he stated that should he be subject to any publicity in this matter his professional career would be ruined, all that he had worked for would be destroyed and his escape would be self-destruction which he had contemplated in the past.

During the lengthy interview, it was quite apparent that he could offer no additional information to that already furnished. Particularly was he unable to verify the incidents referred to by CHAMBERS, though he seemed to try delving back into his memory. JACOBSON appeared to be in earnest when speaking of suicide. He and his wife lost their only child a few years ago and said that should his past be again openly aired, he would have nothing to live for anymore.

In view of the foregoing no further interviews with JACOBSON are contemplated without specific Bureau instructions.

Since the office of origin was not shown in the Bureau teletype and since it is assumed that the hearings relative to CHAMBERS were held in Washington, D. SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: ARTHUR YATES, San Jacinto, California, advised that he attended Hill Prep School with ROBERT LOVETT for six years, then two years together at Yale University. During their Prep School years, CHAMBERS attended a nearby Prep school. All parties became acquainted through Prep school activities. CHAMBERS last contacted in 1914, and ALGER HISS unknown to CHAMBERS. YATES stated that during Prep school days CHAMBERS was a Bolshevik, violent Red, Revolutionist and a person who was always talking about the day of the Revolution. Because YATES has known LOVETT for a long period of time, he stated that he wanted to help him out if he could, and for that reason he wanted to volunteer the above information because he felt that CHAMBERS was lying and that should be enough to clear HISS.

YATES continued that he attended Hill Prep School at Potstown, Pennsylvania with LOVETT for a period of six years and then they both were together at Yale University for two years. During their prep school years CHAMBERS attended a nearby prep school and through their school activities learned to know CHAMBERS well. During this period of time YATES described CHAMBERS as a Bolshevik, violent Red Revolutionist, and a person who was always talking about the days of the Revolution. YATES did not know ALGER HISS and last contacted CHAMBERS in 1914.

YATES further stated that he felt that CHAMBERS was a Communist during their prep school days and he felt that a man never changes. As a result of this conviction, YATES feels that CHAMBERS is lying to the Un-American Committee regarding ALGER HISS and on the basis of these lies, YATES feels that HISS is not guilty.

During the conversation it was determined that YATES was born October 9, 1894 at Rochester, New York. He came to California during 1936 and moved to his present address during 1941. He stated that he has a yearly income of nearly $10,000.00 per year from his father's and grandfather's estate.

YATES also stated that while he was attending prep school he kept a diary in which he made numerous notations regarding CHAMBERS. YATES was not sure where the diary was, but stated that he was sure he could find it at the family home in Naples, Florida, or in storage at Rochester, New York, if the diary could serve any purpose.

ROBERT MEEK, Chief of Police, San Jacinto, California, stated that ARTHUR YATES has a home at Idylwild, California, in the San Jacinto Mountains and moves to San Jacinto during the winter months. MEEK described YATES as a heavy drinker and recently YATES has issued several no good checks to a local doctor.

The following information is being brought to your attention for appropriate action.

The report of SA Joseph M. Kelly, dated December 23, 1948, at New York; Page 34 reflects that Chambers advised that he was introduced to "Vincent" Reno by J. Peters in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, probably in 1937. The same report, Page 59, reflects that Reno advised that he was introduced to Carl (Whittaker Chambers) in Philadelphia, by an individual known to him as "Bernie."

The same report, Page 39, reflects that a photograph of David Zimmerman, with aliases, was exhibited to Reno as being the individual possibly identical to "Bernie", and Reno failed to identify Zimmerman with "Bernie." It is also noted that Chambers was reinterviewed, and he expressed the opinion that "Bernie" must be Zimmerman.

A thorough review of the information received to date by the Bureau in this case fails to reflect that a photograph of Alexander Stevens (J. Peters) has been exhibited to Reno. In the event that this action has not been taken, you should immediately forward a photograph of Alexander Stevens to the El Paso Office to be shown to Reno.

On January 12, 1949, THOMAS R. WALLACE, an employee of the Consolidated Gas, Electric Light and Power Company of Baltimore, 531 East Madison Street, Baltimore, Maryland, advised that an agent had been attempting to contact him at his residence, 3417 Clay Street, N. E., Washington, D. C., concerning a typewriter supposedly owned by him.

DEFERRED RECORDING

WALLACE further stated that a Woodstock typewriter, serial number unknown to him, was purchased by WALLACE in 1939 or 1940 from the General Typewriter Exchange, 800 block F Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., and sold by his wife, MARGARET E. WALLACE, during the summer of 1946 to a firm located somewhere on H Street, N. E., Washington, D. C. Owing to marital difficulties, WALLACE's wife would not tell him to whom she sold the typewriter; however, WALLACE advised that his wife knew exactly where she sold the typewriter and felt that, if she were contacted by an agent, she would disclose this information. WALLACE advised that his wife could be contacted at 3417 Clay Street, N. E., or at her place of work, Woolworth's Five and Ten Cent Store, Minnesota Avenue, one block below Benning Road, N. E., Washington, D. C. The Washington Field Office was notified by teletype on January 12, 1949, as to where MARGARET E. WALLACE could be contacted. WALLACE went on to say that it was possible that he had specimens from this typewriter in his possession which his wife possibly would not be able to locate, and that he would make a search for them when he returned to Washington, D. C., on January 14, 1949.

On January 17, 1949, WALLACE was recontacted and advised that he had made a search of his premises, 3417 Clay Street, N. E., Washington, D. C., and found one specimen which was typed by him between July and November, 1940, on the Woodstock typewriter formerly owned by him. This specimen is described as one sheet of double-spaced carbon copy, consisting of twenty-five lines of typewritten material, the first line which reads, "Section 2. Special meetings may be called; by the Post Com-" and the last line which reads, "term of three years each; and such other officers as may be", which page is numbered "4" and is enclosed herewith. salesman for Remington Rand Incorporated, Washington, D. C., at the time and had access to numerous typewriters. He, therefore, felt that instant specimen may have been typed on a typewriter other than the Woodstock typewriter then in his possession. The above described specimen was given to Special Agent WILLIAM C. PFEIFFER by WALLACE, and the initials of agent PFEIFFER and THOMAS R. WALLACE, together with the date, January 17, 1949, were placed on the reverse side of the specimen to facilitate its future identification. WALLACE also produced a receipt book from the General Typewriter Company, 806 F Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., which reflected that THOMAS R. WALLACE purchased a Woodstock typewriter, number 158631, from the concern on October 28, 1940.

The laboratory is requested to compare the above described specimen with questioned documents in this case. If the enclosed specimen proves to be of no value, it may be retained or disposed of at the Bureau's discretion.

Enclosed herewith are three typewritten specimens which should be compared with the known specimens in this case. The enclosed specimens were obtained from ANNE ROTHE, editor of "Current Biography" which magazine published a sketch of ALGER HISS' life.

One of these specimens is dated May 7, 1945 and is a letter addressed to "My dear Miss Rothe" signed by JAMES FREDERICK GREEN, Executive Assistant to the Director, Office of Special Political Affairs, and is written on the stationery of the Department of State. There is attached to this letter a short summary of the life of ALGER HISS. It is quite possible that this summary may have been typed by ALGER HISS himself.

K319
K321

The second of these specimens is captioned "Biographical Information for Current Biography". Miss ROTHE stated that it is possible that ALGER HISS may have typed the answers to the questions appearing on this biographical sketch.

The third of these specimens is a letter signed by ALGER HISS addressed to Miss ANNA ROTHE dated March 4, 1947 on the stationery of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. At the conclusion of the examination of these documents it is desired that the originals be returned to this office as it will be necessary to return them to Miss ROTHE.

(Bureau File 74-1333)

Re report of SA JOSEPH M. KELLY, made at New York, January 21, 1949, entitled as above, in which lead is set forth for the New Haven office at Thomaston, Conn., to continue efforts to locate tourist home described by CHAMBERS as being the place where he, ALGER, and PRISCILLA HISS stopped overnight in the summer of 1937 while en route by automobile from Washington, D.C. to New Hampshire.

Reference is now made to reports of SA JOHN C. CARR, made at New Haven, dated January 17, 1949 and January 12, 1949, entitled as above, wherein it was reflected that it appears that CHAMBERS stayed at the Hotel Thomaston, formerly the Park Hotel, Thomaston, Connecticut, but that no register of guests for the pertinent period is presently available. It would appear that the New Haven office can conduct no further investigation in this matter inasmuch as all leads have been logically covered.

It is suggested that the New York office and the Bureau may desire to consider the possibility of driving CHAMBERS over the route which he claims was taken on their trip to New Hampshire for the purpose of determining if it was the Hotel Thomaston, formerly the Park Hotel, at which he and the HISSES remained for one night.

Rebulet December 22, 1948, requesting the Washington Field Office to verify the employment of ALGER HISS with the U. S. Senate Munitions Committee, more commonly known as the Nye Committee, from August 1934 until May 1935. It was also desired that the identity of fellow employees of ALGER HISS at the Nye Committee be ascertained in order that they might be interviewed concerning ALGER HISS' allegations that he first met WHITTAKER CHAMBERS while employed at the Nye Committee.

It is observed that ALGER HISS in testimony before the HCUA testified that he has never known WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as such and met him when the former was employed by the Nye Committee and CHAMBERS and he became acquainted when CHAMBERS sought information on which he desired to base a newspaper article. CHAMBERS, according to ALGER HISS, was known as GEORGE CROSLEY and was a free lance writer.

CHAMBERS, it is recalled, has advised that he first met ALGER HISS through their mutual activity in the Communist Party underground and primarily due to the fact that ALGER HISS was furnishing him, CHAMBERS, with confidential information secured from the files of the Federal Government. [redacted]

Investigation has reflected that no personnel files as such were ever maintained by the Senate Munitions Committee and that all of the employees were on loan from some government agency. An examination of the files of the Senate Munitions Committee located in the National Archives reflects that approximately 100 individuals were employed by the Committee from 1933 to 1935.

An interview has been had with Mr. STEPHEN RAUSHENBUSH, who is an official of the Public Affairs Institute, 1100 - E Street, S. E., and who resides at 3503 Lowell Street, N. W., both Washington, D. C., who formerly was a supervising official of the Nye Committee, under whose direction ALGER HISS worked. Mr. RAUSHENBUSH advised that the individuals listed below under the appropriate offices are thought by him to be acquainted with HISS. However, RAUSHENBUSH stated that he cannot vouch for the degree of acquaintanceship between these individuals and ALGER HISS. RAUSHENBUSH said that HISS made one brief trip to New York City while employed by the Nye Committee and that consequently, other members of the Nye Committee working in New York may have a slight acquaintance with HISS.

Re: J. D. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was, et al
January 25, 1949

In this connection, the New York Division is referred to PAUL J. KERN, who according to RAUSHENBUSH, is now a highly placed city official in the city government of New York City. KERN, formerly an investigator for the Nye Committee, may be able to furnish additional names of individuals with whom HISS is acquainted. It should be noted that RAUSHENBUSH stated that HISS worked for the Nye Committee only about seven months. RAUSHENBUSH stated that he had no close personal relationship with ALGER HISS and that although he has seen HISS several times since the dissolution of the Nye Committee, these meetings were in the nature of social gatherings where each happened to be present at the same affair. He said that he has not been in HISS' home nor has HISS been in his, RAUSHENBUSH's, home.

It should also be noted that RAUSHENBUSH stated that he believed HISS to be innocent. RAUSHENBUSH recalled that he had been interviewed by newspapers when HISS stated that RAUSHENBUSH might have known WHITTAKER CHAMBERS under the alias of GEORGE CROSLEY. RAUSHENBUSH stated he could not recall CHAMBERS as CHAMBERS or as GEORGE CROSLEY, and upon viewing the pictures of CHAMBERS taken in 1931 and 1936, stated that he could not recall ever having met this individual.

Offices to which this letter is addressed are requested to interview individuals set out below, looking toward the recovery of any typewritten material in the possession of these individuals which originated with HISS. Efforts should also be made in these interviews to fully develop any information which they may have in connection with HISS' personal affairs. Efforts should also be made linking HISS and CHAMBERS. The enclosed photographs of CHAMBERS should be displayed at the time of the interviews. It should be noted that HISS has denied that he has seen CHAMBERS since about December, 1936 and this denial forms a large part of the basis for HISS' present indictment for perjury.

Bureau teletype to all SACS dated January 10, 1949, will furnish additional background information. It is pointed out that all investigation is supposed to be completed and reported by January 31, 1949.

The New York Division, at New York City, is requested to interview:

PAUL J. KERN, present address unknown; last reported to be at 440 West 34th Street, New York City. KERN, according to RAUSHENBUSH, is presently a highly placed official in New York City Government and was an investigator for the Nye Committee.

LAWRENCE BROWN, present address unknown; formerly lived at 411 East 50th Street and 109 Broad Street, New York City. BROWN was an investigator for the Nye Committee.

The New York Division, at Stoney Point, Rockland County, New York, is requested to interview:

JOEL EARNEST, formerly an investigator for the Nye Committee and now, according to RAUSHENBUSH, residing at the above address.

(Street addresses listed for these New York residences date to approximately November, 1935.)

The Albany Division, at Ithaca, New York, is requested to interview:

NEWMAN ARNOLD TOLLES, now a professor at Cornell University and formerly an investigator for the Nye Committee.

The New Haven Division, at New Haven, Connecticut, will interview:

LEONARD DOOB, formerly an investigator for the Nye Committee and now a professor at Yale University.

The Cincinnati Division, at Portsmouth, Ohio, is requested to interview:

HAROLD RUTTENBERG, a vice-president, according to RAUSHENBUSH, of the Portsmouth Steel Company at Portsmouth, Ohio.

The typewriter came into the possession of Reverend SCHUTZE in 1941 or 1942 and was a gift from his father, Mr. FRANK E. SCHUTZE, who had used the typewriter in his place of business, the Rex Letter Service in St. Louis, Missouri. Reverend SCHUTZE believes that his father purchased the machine new. The machine is in very poor condition and it was necessary to hold a typewriter ribbon before the keys.

By teletype dated January 13, 1949, the Charlotte office advised that Mrs. BERTHA I. HISS, 302 E. Park Avenue, Charlotte, North Carolina, an aunt of ALGER HISS, when interviewed on January 13, 1949 advised that she had seen ALGER HISS on one occasion in 1939 and on another occasion approximately 3 years ago. ALGER HISS was seen by Mrs. BERTHA I. HISS on each of these occasions at the home of her sister-in-law, Miss LUCY HISS, 206 Upnor Road, Baltimore, Maryland. Mrs. HISS further advised the Charlotte office that the only typewriter owned by any member of the HISS family to her knowledge, was a small portable typewriter owned by Miss LUCY HISS at Baltimore, Maryland. Charlotte office teletype stated that consideration for taking specimens from the typewriter owned by Miss HISS at Baltimore was being left to the discretion of the Bureau and the office of origin. By teletype dated January 17, 1949, the New York office requested that Baltimore obtain specimens from the typewriter owned by Miss LUCY HISS, for submission to the FBI Laboratory.

DEFERRED RECORDING

Miss MARY C. HISS, 206 Upnor Road, Baltimore, Maryland, a cousin of ALGER HISS, advised on January 19, 1949 that Miss LUCY HISS, of same address, an aunt of ALGER HISS is a person of 90 years of age and is seriously ill. However, Miss MARY C. HISS produced a Remington Portable typewriter, Number NZ 79507, which, according to her was purchased new by Miss LUCY HISS approximately 25 years ago. Miss MARY HISS stated that Miss LUCY HISS does not recall where this Remington portable typewriter was purchased however. Miss MARY HISS made available the Remington typewriter, Number NZ 79507 to Special Agent WILLIAM C. PFEIFFER and Agent PFEIFFER typed 2 sheets of typewritten specimens from this machine, one sheet consisting of 44 lines of typewritten material made on bond paper and the other being a 44 line carbon specimen made by removing the ribbon from the machine and typing directly on a sheet of carbon paper placed over 2 sheets of bond paper. Both specimens referred to above, which are enclosed herewith, were initialed on the reverse side of each by Miss MARY C. HISS and Agent PFEIFFER, together with the date, January 19, 1949, in order to facilitate their future identification.

359

Miss MARY C. HISS further advised that to the best of her knowledge, neither she nor Miss LUCY HISS have in their possession any typewritten material emanating from ALGER HISS. However, Miss MARY C. HISS advised that she would make a thorough search of her home, and if this search disclosed any typewritten material from ALGER HISS, she will notify this office immediately.

The Laboratory is requested to compare the enclosed specimens with known documents in this case.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent H. EDGAR LENTZ dated September 10, 1948, at Baltimore, Maryland, in the case entitled "J. D. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, wa; ALGER HISS; Perjury", Baltimore file 74-6. On page 4 of this report in connection with the interview of EDWARD WILLIAM CASE, real estate dealer at Westminster, Maryland, it is stated that CASE turned over all available correspondence between himself and HISS and correspondence between himself and CHAMBERS to DONALD T. APPELL, investigator for the HCUA, on August 27, 1948, in answer to an HCUA subpoena for this correspondence.

At the time Mr. CASE turned over this correspondence to the HCUA investigator, he overlooked two letters from ALGER HISS to CASE, one handwritten letter dated May 13, 1936, and one typewritten letter dated May 28, 1936. Photostatic copies of both of these letters were furnished to the Bureau as enclosures with the referenced report of Agent LENTZ. The Baltimore Office will obtain the original of the above mentioned typewritten letter and forward same to the Laboratory for comparison with the questioned documents in this case.

K340 - K347

On January 17, 1949, Mr. RICHARD F. CLEVELAND, CHAMBERS' Baltimore attorney, 2500 O'Sullivan Building, Baltimore, exhibited to Agents of this office the complete correspondence file of CASE which he had in his possession and which had been turned over by CASE on August 27, 1948, to DONALD T. APPELL, investigator for HCUA. Mr. CLEVELAND stated that this complete correspondence file had been obtained from the HCUA during the fall of 1948 by NICK VEZZANA, a private investigator from New York City, who was then working in CHAMBERS' behalf in connection with the HISS-CHAMBERS libel suit under the employ of the New York law firm of Cravath, Swaine and Moore, representing TIME, Inc. At the time VEZZANA obtained this correspondence file from the HCUA, Mr. CLEVELAND stated that he and his assisting legal counsel for CHAMBERS were conducting a private investigation for the purpose of obtaining evidence in connection with the defense of CHAMBERS in the HISS-CHAMBERS libel suit.

~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

Mr. CLEVELAND stated that there was one typewritten letter from ALGER HISS to CASE among the correspondence obtained by VEZZANA from the HCUA. He stated that this typewritten letter, probably dated in 1936, was presently in the possession of HAROLD R. MEDINA, Jr., member of the law firm of Cravath, Swaine and Moore, 15 Broad Street, New York City, or its whereabouts known to MEDINA. By teletype dated January 18, 1949, the New York Office was requested to obtain the original of this typewritten letter and to forward same to the Laboratory for comparison with the questioned documents in this case.

Mr. CLEVELAND turned over to Agents of this office from the above mentioned correspondence file, three handwritten letters dated April 13, April 16 and May 5, 1936, all addressed, "Dear Mr. CASE" and signed by ALGER HISS. The originals of these three letters are enclosed herewith to the Bureau as an additional, rather extensive sample of the known handwriting of ALGER HISS, for the Bureau's files. It is suggested that the Bureau make photographic copies of these three letters and return them to the Baltimore Office. Agents of the Baltimore Office executed a receipt for these letters and the originals must be returned to Mr. CLEVELAND.

Also, on January 17, 1949, Mr. CLEVELAND advised Agents of the Baltimore Office that he understands from conversation with Mr. WILLIAM L. MARBURY, Baltimore attorney of HISS, that MARBURY has in his possession two additional typewritten letters addressed by HISS to Mr. CASE at Westminster, Maryland. An effort will be made by the Baltimore Office to obtain these two letters from Mr. MARBURY so that they may be compared by the Laboratory with the questioned documents in this case.

A review of referenced report of Agent LENTZ reveals the fact that the Baltimore News-Post afforded considerable publicity to the Westminster, Maryland real estate angle of the HISS-CHAMBERS case in August, 1948, when the case originally broke during testimony before the HCUA in Washington, D.C. The Baltimore News-Post not only carried extensive news items on this angle of the case, which stories were written by WILSON AULD, Jr. and ALEXANDER GIFFORD, but also carried photographs of some of the correspondence between HISS and CASE. Unless advised to the contrary, the Baltimore Office will contact the Baltimore News-Post in an effort to ascertain if the reporters of that newspaper have any other typewritten letters in their possession addressed to CASE by ALGER HISS. This is a distinct possibility, as the HISS letters to CASE were published in the Baltimore News-Post after CASE had turned over all his correspondence with HISS and CHAMBERS to the HCUA on August 27, 1948, pursuant to an HCUA subpoena.

SHE WAS, OF COURSE, TO ~~CONTINUE HER EMPLOYMENT AT THE ARSENAL~~. HE STATES THE GIRL APPEARED AT HIS COVER OFFICE IN NY ABOUT THREE TIMES ON SATURDAY PMS. SHE TOOK SOME DICTATION FROM HIM. CHAMBERS SAID HE THINKS SHE SAW THROUGH THE SCHEME AND QUIT. AFTER SHE QUIT, THE PLAN WAS ABANDONED. CHAMBERS RECALLED THAT HE USED THE NAME "MR. DICKSON" IN THIS OPERATION. NEWARK REQUESTED TO CHECK NINETEEN THIRTY TWO DASH THIRTY FOUR PERSONNEL RECORDS AT PICATINNY ARSENAL FOR DR. ISADORE MILLER AND VARIATIONS OF THAT NAME. AT THE SAME TIME THE POSSIBILITY OF IDENTIFYING MISS SMITH SHOULD BE KEPT IN MIND. PRESUMABLY SHE WOULD HAVE BEEN A SECRETARY OR STENOGRAPHER AND MAY HAVE BEEN CONNECTED WITH DR. MILLER-S DEPARTMENT. NOTE, HOWEVER, THAT CHAMBERS IS NOT CERTAIN OF THE GIRL-S NAME AND IT IS BELIEVED THAT EXTENSIVE INVESTIGATION TO IDENTIFY HER, THEREFORE, IS NOT PRACTICAL.

Re Washington Field teletype to the Bureau and New York January 24, 1949, and New York teletype to the Bureau and Washington Field January 26, 1949, re issuance of a subpoena duces tecum for use in examining the bank account of ALGER HISS at the Farmers and Mechanics Branch, Riggs National Bank, Wisconsin Avenue and M Street NW, Washington D.C.

Mr. T. J. Donegan was consulted concerning the advisability of securing such subpoena and after concluding that it would be appropriate, he on this date caused a subpoena to be issued to that bank for the purpose of examining all correspondence and pertinent records in the bank's possession concerning the ALGER HISS account. The original and copy of this subpoena, addressed to JOHN McCORMACK, Vice President and Cashier, are being transmitted herewith for the Washington Field Office.

~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

Mr. Donegan pointed out that undoubtedly the Washington Field Office enjoys close liaison with the Riggs National Bank and that it would be more satisfactory for Agents to handle the service of the subpoena.

Mr. McCormack should be advised that his appearance before the Grand Jury in New York City on the day specified in the subpoena is not required, and that if it later becomes necessary to call him he will be so advised.

DIRECTOR AND SACS. URGENT

JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, WAS. ETAL, PERJURY, ESP. R.

AS THE BUREAU AND THE WFO HAS PREVIOUSLY BEEN ADVISED CHAMBERS HAS DESCRIBED THE LOCATION OF AN APARTMENT ON B OR C STREETS BETWEEN ELEVEN AND FOURTEEN STREETS IN WASHINGTON THAT WAS USED BY DAVID CARPENTER TO PHOTOGRAPH GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS. THE WFO IS ENGAGED IN ATTEMPTING TO LOCATE MAIDS, BABY SITTERS, FRIENDS, ASSOCIATES, AND OTHERS WHO MAY BE ABLE TO TESTIFY THAT THEY SAW ALGER HISS AND WHITTAKER CHAMBERS TOGETHER AFTER JANUARY FIRST, THIRTYSEVEN. THE PURSUIT OF THIS LINE OF INQUIRY IS OF THE UTMOST IMPORTANCE IN VIEW OF THE FACT THAT THE SECOND COUNT IN THE INDICTMENT AGAINST ALGER HISS IS BASED ON HIS STATEMENT TO THE FEDERAL GRAND JURY IN NY THAT HE, HISS, DID NOT SEE CHAMBERS SUBSEQUENT TO JANUARY FIRST, THIRTYSEVEN WITH THE EXCEPTION OF COURSE OF APPEARANCE OF BOTH OF THESE INDIVIDUALS BEFORE THE RECENT INQUIRY CONDUCTED BY HCUA. ALTHOUGH EVERY EFFORT IS BEING MADE TO ESTABLISH SUCH MEETINGS SUBSEQUENT TO JANUARY FIRST

THIRTYSEVEN, THIS FACT HAS NOT AS YET BEEN SUBSTANTIATED. IN VIEW OF CHAMBERS-S SUCCESS IN LOCATING THE FELIX INSLERMAN AND WILLIAM SRIEGEL APARTMENTS IN BALTIMORE BY VISUAL OBSERVATION OF THE VICINITY OF THEIR LOCATIONS THIS OFFICE IS OF THE OPINION THAT CHAMBERS WOULD BE OF GREAT ASSISTANCE TO THE WFO IN LOCATING THE CARPENTER APARTMENT IN THAT CITY. IT IS ALSO BELIEVED THAT CHAMBERS COULD ASSIST MATERIALLY IN SOME OF THE PROBLEMS CONFRONTING WFO AGENTS ASSIGNED TO ATTEMPTING TO LOCATE PERSONS WHO MAY HAVE SEEN HISS AND CHAMBERS TOGETHER AFTER JANUARY FIRST THIRTYSEVEN. UNLESS ADVISED TO THE CONTRARY BY THE BUREAU, WFO IS REQUESTED TO MAKE INQUIRY OF EACH AGENT WORKING ON THE ABOVE MENTIONED ANGLES IN THIS CASE TO ASCERTAIN WHAT, IF ANY, SITUATIONS THEY ARE CONFRONTED WITH WHEREIN CHAMBERS MAY BE OF ASSISTANCE. JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, WAS., ETAL. PERJURY. ESP. R. RUSSTEL JAN. TWENTYEIGHT LAST. IN INTERVIEW WITH CHAMBERS TODAY, HE RELATED THAT HE HAS NO RECOLLECTION OF THE NAME OF THE TOWN NEAR WHICH HARRY DEXTER WHITE-S SUMMER HOME IN N.H. WAS LOCATED. IN LOOKING AT MAP, INDICATED POSSIBILITY THEY TRAVELLED TO PETERBORO FOR LUNCH AND THEN TO WHITE-S SUMMER HOME AND AGAIN RETURNED TO PETERBORO TO SPEND THE EVENING. IN CONNECTION WITH LOCATION OF TOURIST HOME, IS OF DEFINITE OPINION THAT THIS HOME IS ONE OF THREE HOUSES, VERY CLOSE TOGETHER ON A HILL OR UPGRADE ABOUT ONE MILE EAST OF PETERBORO AND ON WHAT WOULD PROBABLY BE THE MAIN STREET. HE RECALLED THAT JUST AT OUTSKIRTS ON A LITTLE FURTHER OUT IS A SMALL BRIDGE BUILT OVER A CREEK, NEAR THE STERN FARM WHERE PLAY "SHE STOOPED TO CONQUER", WAS SHOWN AT TIME HE VISITED THERE. IN EVENT THIS CANNOT BE LOCATED, BOSTON IS SUGGESTED TO INTERVIEW HARRY WHITE-S BROTHER, WHO CHAMBERS MET AT THE TIME HE SAW WHITE AT THE LATTER-S SUMMER HOME IN N.H. IN AUGUST OF THIRTYSEVEN. IN THE EVENT WHITE-S BROTHER IS UNAVAILABLE OR CANNOT FURNISH ADDRESS OF SUMMER HOME IN THIRTYSEVEN, THE WFO IS REQUESTED TO REVIEW THE PERSONNEL RECORD OF HARRY WHITE IN EFFORT TO DETERMINE IF THERE IS ANY INFORMATION IN THIS FILE INDICATING EXACT LOCATION OF WHITE-S SUMMER RESIDENCE IN THIRTY SEVEN.

DETAILS: AT THOMASTON, CONNECTICUT:

Based on the information in referenced New York teletype of January 13, 1949, it would appear most likely that the place at which CHAMBERS and ALGER HISS and PRISCILLA HISS stayed when in Thomaston, Conn. in 1937 would be the Hotel Thomaston, which in 1937 was known as the Park Hotel. The present Hotel Thomaston is situated approxima tely a block from the center of Thomaston; it is a frame building; and it is situated on the left hand side of the road traveling away from the Green, and in 1937 it was operated by an American woman. It is larger than the place remembered by CHAMBERS.

by Seth-Thomas from 1922until its sale in December. of 1938. Consequently during the pertinent period of this investigation it was owned and operated by Seth-Thomas. The woman actually running the hotel for Seth-Thomas is Mrs. JESSIE BIGGS, and she was aided by her daughter, LOIS SCHMELTER, who kept books. Mrs. BIGGS advised that she maintained a small register for permanent boarders at the establishment and a somewhat larger one for transients. She was unable to furnish any information of any nature as to what might have happened to this register. Mrs. SCHMELTER likewise was able to furnish no information of assistance.

A physical search was made of the Old Record Rooms of the Seth-Thomas Clock Co., and numerous ledgers relating to the conduct of the Hotel Thomaston were located. However, nothing was found in the nature of a register.

Mr. S. MC DONALD of the Seth-Thomas Clock Co., who actually handled the transfer of the Hotel Thomaston for the Seth-Thomas Co., stated that while he was unable to be of assistance, it was his recollection that the actual register was left at the Hotel Thomaston when it was turned over by Seth-Thomas to the purchaser.

The subsequent purchaser was JAKE MOCHAK of 23 Union Street, Thomaston. On January 14, 1949 he was enroute to Florida, and Mrs. MOCHAK was unable to advise of his specific destination. He was to inform her of his address after location in Florida. Mrs. MOCHAK searched letters and books of her husband and again some ledger sheets were found but nothing in the nature of a register. Mrs. MOCHAK stated that her daughter, who is now Mrs. MARY LANDERS of Walnut Hill, Thomaston, had actually had more to do with the operation of the hotel than her father.

Mrs. LANDERS was unable to furnish any information of any nature as to where the register of 1937 might be and she was unable to state as to whether the register was turned over to the Mochaks by the Seth-Thomas Clock Co. Mrs. LANDERS stated that actually most of the operation of the hotel had been by her brother, who has since been killed in the armed forces of the United States.

RICHARD GAY, who has been an employee of the Hotel Thomaston since 1930 under all its various owners, was interviewed and was unable to furnish information concerning the registers. He stated that he vaguely recalled on one occasion in the cellar of the Hotel Thomaston there had been a box filled with old records, and that thishad subsequently been thrown out at some period. Gay and reporting agent searched the cellar of the Hotel Thomaston without finding any registers.

Mr. and Mrs. ROBERT J. BOWKER, 363 Chase Avenue, Waterbury, Conn., who were subsequent proprietors of the Hotel Thomaston, advised that they could furnish no information as to the register for the pertinent period.

Mr. JOSEPH A. FARR, now the proprietor of FARR's CAFE in Manchester, Conn., and also a previous proprietor of the Hotel Thomaston, was unable to be of assistance in the location of the register in question.

DETAILS: Mr. LAMONT MOORE and his wife, Mrs. HENRIETTA MOORE were separately interviewed on January 14, 1949. Mr. MOORE is employed at Yale Art Gallery as Assistant Director and resides with his wife at 75 Autumn Street, New Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. MOORE advised they resided in Washington from 1939 to 1943 and were socially acquainted to a minor degree with Mr. and Mrs. HISS during that period but had never received any correspondence from the HISSES. Mr. MOORE stated that he was in the HISS home on only one occasion and did not remember seeing a typewriter there at that time. Mrs. MOORE stated that she had been in the HISS home on two or three occasions and could not definitely state seeing a typewriter there. She remarked that there must have been a typewriter but could give no basis for this belief and could not describe any typewriter which she might have seen. They explained that the HISSES were socially acquainted with Mr. MAC GILL JAMES, Director of the National Art Gallery and that the HISSES were often invited to functions at that institution. Mr. MOORE pointed out that all of those invitations were on an informal basis and that he did not know whether there was any some typewritten correspondence from the HISSES in the files of the National Art Gallery. He never remembers seeing any. According to Mr. MOORE, the HISSES while he knew them rented a furnished house from one Mrs. BARTLETT on North West 33rd Street, Georgetown Section of Washington, D. C. Mrs. BARTLETT's husband used to be a sculptor and he believes that through her the HISSES became acquainted with Mr. MAC GILL JAMES of the National Galery inasmuch as Mrs. BARTLETT continued her interest in the activities of the gallery after the death of her husband.

Mrs. MOORE mentioned that she had been an air raid warden with Mrs. HISS in Washington for a time. Mr. MOORE remarked that he had a vague idea that Mrs. HISS may have written a fashionable society column for a Baltimore paper. He pointed out that he may have her mixed up in this respect with someone else. Mrs. MOORE advised that she did not know of Mrs. HISS writing any column for any paper.

Mrs. MOORE advised that her cousin, Mrs. ANGELO LANZA of 225 East 57th Street, New York City; Phone Eldorado 5-4928, who was employed by the Department of Justice during the war, may have have been acquainted with Mrs. HISS as both were Bryn Mawr graduates. She pointed out, however, that she could not recall of her cousin mentioning Mrs. HISS at any time and did not know of any meetings which they might have had. She based her belief of a meeting between Mrs. HISS and her cousin Mrs. LANZA mainly on the fact that they were both Bryn Mawr graduates and in Washington at the same time.

DETAILS: At Albuquerque, New Mexico:

The following investigation was conducted by SA PAUL L. DORRIS and the writer:

RE: FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO

The following signed statement was furnished by FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO dated at Albuquerque, New Mexico, on January 10, 1949:

"Albuquerque, N.M.
January 10, 1949"

"I, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, make the following voluntary statement to J. PHILLIP CLARIDGE and PAUL L. DORRIS, who have identified themselves to me as being special agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. I understand that any statements that I make may be used against me in a court of law. No threats or promises have been made to me in connection with this statement. I have been advised that I have a right to counsel.

"On December 13, 1948 at New York City I furnished a signed statement to special agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. In connection with that statement I can only state that I remember having heard the name of ELEANOR NELSON connected with Government Unions. I did not know, and still do not know whether she had an apparatus for collecting espionage material for the communist party or anyone else. I do not know of any person connected with her that might have been collecting espionage for her or anyone else.

"Regarding WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN and GEORGE PIGMAN, I desire to state that I have never known either of these individuals and consequently I do not know of any espionage activities committed by either of them.

"Regarding persons who were acquainted with or aware of my espionage activities, to my knowledge only WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, who was known to me as 'CARL', and the person known to me as 'BERNIE' were the only persons who knew just what I was doing.

"Regarding my trip to Philadelphia in June 1937, I received notice of my appointment to a position at Aberdeen Proving Grounds. After receiving this and a few days before I had to report for duty I met BERNIE and told him of my appointment. It was at this time that we arranged the trip to Philadelphia. I was to buy a ticket from

"Washington, I believe, to New York City or Philadelphia although I was to get off at Philadelphia. I was to get the ticket two or three days ahead of the day I was to leave. I was to go to the station and walk around the block twice to time myself so that I would go through the station and be ready to get on the train just a minute before it pulled out. When I got in Philadelphia I was to several blocks toward the residential area, and walk around three or four blocks and always be on the alert to see if I was being followed, and then to take a cab or bus back into town and go to a certain theatre, the name or location of which I cannot recall. I was then to go in the theatre and sit within three or four rows from the rear and BERNIE would find me. It so happened that BERNIE caught up with me just as I was buying a ticket at the ticket window. We stayed in the show about two hours and I got very nervous, and BERNIE kept telling me to calm down. When we left the theatre we went to a restuarant, the name and location of which I do not recall. As we walked in, a man at a table stood up and I was then introduced to him. This was my meeting with CARL. We had dinner, and BERNIE left. CARL and I talked some here and eventually went to two or three other places trying to find a suitable place to talk.

"It is my desire to make a statement regarding the allegation that I drew or sketched out some plans for WHITTAKER CHAMBERS concerning a bomb-sight. At the time I began to work for the Aberdeen Proving Grounds I had no access to secret information. I may or may not have drawn for CHAMBERS this sketch of a bombsight. I am not sure about this. However I think it was based upon information I had received out of THOMAS J. HAYS text book entitled 'Elements of Ordnance'. This information I am alleged to have given had to be given in 1937 or 1938 at which time I did not have access to secret information regarding the Norden bomb sight. As a matter of fact I did not see the Norden bomb sight until 1942.

"I also desire to state that since 1938 none of my friends, associates or acquaintances concerned with my work have had any information whatsoever concerning my associations or work with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or the Communist Party.

"I also desire to state that my brother PHILLIP RENO, to the best of my knowledge, was never involved in any espionage activities, and his only connection with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS was that I once furnished CHAMBERS with his address and telephone number so that CHAMBERS could contact me.

"I have read this statement and it is true to the best of my recollection at this time.

/s/ FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO

WITNESS:

In connection with the interview and securing of this signed statement RENO advised that he had recently returned from Arizona where he had an eventful experience, which experience he stated was factual, although at times he wondered whether or not some of the facts were the subject of imagination on his part. He stated that while in Phoenix, Tucson and Benson, Arizona he seemed to be conscious of an unknown individual, trying to contact him at his hotel and in bars, the identity of whom he does not know. He stated that he was worried mentally and was also ill physically and was positive that unknown persons were trying to get in touch with him. The facts as he looks back upon them are so fantastic that he also wonders if they are not somewhat on the imaginative side.

At the time of the interview it was obvious to the Agents that RENO had been drinking intoxicants, although not apparently excessive. It was also obvious he was in an extremely nervous mental condition and seemed to be relieved from this nervous strain while talking with Agents.

In this connection PHILLIP RENO was interviewed prior to the interview with his brother FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO and PHILLIP RENO informed that when his brother, VICTOR, had gone to Arizona during the latter part of December, 1948, he was supposed to go to Agua Caliente Springs and stay in a sanitarium there. He stated, however, that VICTOR got off the plane at Phoenix, Arizona and the next that he heard from him was that he was in a hospital in Benson, Arizona, which is approximately 200 miles East of Phoenix, whereas VICTOR was going to a point approximately 50 miles West of Phoenix. PHILLIP RENO stated that he went after his brother at Benson and was informed by the Doctor there that his brother, VICTOR, on being admitted to the hospital was, in addition to being in a highly intoxicated state, in an extremely nervous condition and, of course, was in poor physical health. The Doctor also informed him that his brother, VICTOR, showed evidence of being a victim of paranoia.

PHILLIP RENO further advised that he brought his brother, VICTOR, to Albuquerque, New Mexico on January 4, 1949 and since that time has attempted to keep him quiet and do all he could to restore his physical and mental stability.

In regard to the signed statement FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO specifically requested to make a statement regarding the newspaper article he has seen dealing with WHITTAKER CHAMBER securing the facts of the Norden bombsight. In this connection RENO stated that at this time he is not positive that he ever drew a sketch of the alleged bombsight for CHAMBERS. He stated that he did not care to deny that he drew such a sketch or to affirm that he drew such a sketch but related that if such a sketch was given to WHITTAKER CHAMBER it would have had to be in 1937 or 1938 and at that time the only information he had relative to any bombsight was information he had obtained out of THOMAS J. HAYS' text book entitled "Elements of Ordnance".

During the interview FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO also desired to state that he had recently received a letter from his colleague in writing a book, JOHN F. KELLY. RENO intimated that KELLY was cognizant of the Bureau's investigation in this matter and RENO desired to state that none of his friends, associates, acquaintances, co-workers or anyone since 1938 had any information whatsoever concerning his espionage activities prior to that time. He stated that upon his word of honor it was useless for the Bureau to conduct any investigation of individuals connected with him since 1938.

He also specifically requested to state that his brother, PHILLIP RENO, had no knowledge whatsoever that he was engaged in espionage activities when both were in Washington, D. C. in 1938. In this respect he stated that it was his great regret that he had furnished WHITTAKER CHAMBERS with his brother's telephone number and address so that CHAMBERS could contact him in the event they lost direct contact between each other.

Regarding the trip to Philadelphia in June, 1937 by FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, on which trip he met WHITTAKER CHAMBERS at Philadelphia, it was called to RENO's attention that his previous statement indicated that he was accompanied to Philadelphia by BERNIE. RENO stated, as shown in the signed statement, that as he now recalls the trip he made it alone under the circumstances as reported in the signed statement, meeting BERNIE at the unidentified theatre. Relative to any other identifying facts regarding BERNIE he stated he could not furnish any other than those facts already given. RENO was asked specifically whether or not he remained in Philadelphia overnight at the time of this meeting, and he stated that to the best of his recollection he left the same night on a train back to either Baltimore or Washington. He states, however, he is not positive of this although he positively stated that CHAMBERS left him during the evening and he was not with CHAMBERS thereafter that day.

RE: PHILLIP RENO

PHILLIP RENO was reinterviewed at Albuquerque, New Mexico on January 10, 1949 at which time the matters contained in his signed statement of December 13, 1948 were discussed with him in an effort to clarify and add any statements to that statement which he might recall. He stated that in substance he could not furnish any additional information whatsoever at that time. Relative to his acquaintance with ELEANOR NELSON, RENO stated that she was the National Secretary-Treasurer of the United Federal Workers Union, CIO, and he was the President of Local No. 10. This was while he was employed with the Social Security Board that he was President of Local 10. He stated that he had occasion to contact ELEANOR NELSON on an average of once a week and he contacted her purely for Local Unions affairs. He stated that during that time he had no intimation or information whatsoever which gave him any impression that she might be engaged in espionage activities and he cannot recall any conversation whatsoever wherein she might have suggested that he work with her on such activities. As a matter of fact, he states, he had no idea that she was a member of the Communist Party and does not know at this time whether she was. He also advised that he could not think of any close associates of ELEANOR NELSON who would have any such information bearing upon espionage activities on her part.

Relative to PHILLIP RENO's activities in the Communist Party while working in Denver, Colorado, he states that he was not a member of the Communist Part while employed with the Government. He stated his first membership in the Party was in the Spring of 1944 when he was working for the Political Action Committee of the CIO. He reiterated several times that it was in the Spring of 1944 that he joined the Communist Party for the first time and denied that he had ever been a member of the Communist Party prior to that. In this connection PHILLIP RENO related that sometime in 1942 he recalled a story put out by one NORMAN P. LIXLER, who was a fellow Government employee of RENO, at that time. He stated that PIXLER accused him, RENO, and several others of being Communist Party members at that time and also accused them of attempting to recruit him into the Communist Party.

RENO stated that it had been his belief that PIXLER's allegations were based on PIXLER having trouble keeping his Government job at that time.

PHILLIP RENO was interviewed relative to any recollection he might have of individuals calling at his Washington apartment in 1937 or 1938 asking for his brother, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, particularly in regard to any acquaintance PHILLIP RENO might have had with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or any individual meeting his description. RENO stated that as far as he can recall he still does not know WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or does not know of any incident wherein some one called at his house in Washington in a request to see his brother, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO. He stated, however, that he was sure several friends had called him requesting knowledge as to his brother's whereabouts but he could not think of any specific incident whatsoever and again denied that he had any acquaintance whatsoever or dealings with CHAMBERS. PHILLIP RENO further denied that he had ever engaged in any espionage activities while in or outside of the Government Service either in Washington, D. C., Denver, Colorado or any other place.

WILLIAM ARCHIBALD McMURPHY, 2439 Lilac Drive, Albuquerque, New Mexico, advised that he is acquainted with PHILLIP RENO and has been acquainted with him for several years. He stated he first met PHILLIP RENO when both were in Idaho, RENO having been on his father's ranch. McMURPHY stated that this acquaintance was personal in its nature and that he never became closely acquainted with RENO until both were in Denver, Colorado for a short time and since that time. McMURPHY stated that he is presently employing PHILLIP RENO at Albuquerque, New Mexico.

McMURPHY admitted his membership in the Communist Party and admitted his having been State Organizer for the State of Montana in 1943 and 1944, and was Organizer in Ohio in 1945. McMURPHY stated that he has had no dealings with the Communist Party since 1945 when he voluntarily left it in Ohio. He informed that it was his belief that he had been expelled from the Party although he had no definite information in this regard.

McMURPHY stated that he knew PHILLIP RENO while PHILLIP RENO was working for the War Man Power Commission in Denver, he believed this to be in 1942. McMURPHY stated that at that time he did not have any informantion that RENO was a member of the Communist Party although he later found out RENO was a member of the Communist Party in 1945.

McMURPHY stated that he associated frequently with RENO when he was in the War Man Power Commission in Denver, but that he had no information whatsoever that would indicate that PHILLIP RENO was committing espionage of any type. In this connection McMURPHY stated that there were several reasons that he did not believe PHILLIP RENO would commit such espionage, the first reason being that he know PHILLIP RENO rather well personally and did not believe that he would commit espionage and another reason being that PHILLIP RENO did not work in any place where valuable information could be obtained and also because of the information in the Government department where PHILLIP RENO worked was mostly all public information.

On January 13, 1948 the photographs of BERNHARD BROWN, as furnished by the Washington Field Office, were exhibited to FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO at Albuquerque, New Mexico, at which time he advised that neither of these photographs resembled the person known to him as 'BERNIE'. RENO stated that he was rather definite in this opinion as he pictured 'BERNIE' as a person with a rather thin face, dark complexion, dark hair and slender build. He stated that he had formerly said BERNIE wore a mustache, but that at this time he is not sure whether or not he had one all the time, or whether or not he had one at all.

El Paso 468, whose identity is known to the Bureau, advised on January 13, 1949, that to his knowledge CRAIG VINCENT was not in Albuquerque, New Mexico at the present time and had not been in Albuquerque, New Mexico for several months.

1948, that he had recently seen press notices relating that WARD PIGMAN had been subpoenaed to testify before the Federal Grand Jury of New York in the ALGER HISS-WHITTAKER CHAMBERS CASE. Mr. EATON said that he rented his home at the above address to WARD PIGMAN from November, 1939 to November, 1940. WARD PIGMAN at the time had just returned from Germany. Mr. EATON reported that in 1943 or 1944 a German by the name of "KLAUS" was under investigation by the FBI. This man "KLAUS", according to EATON, posed as a blind man and lived in the immediate neighborhood of PIGMAN's home. Mr. EATON stated that KLAUS used to take long walks at night in the neighborhood, though Mr. EATON had never noticed any direct or indirect contact between KLAUS and WARD PIGMAN. It was Mr. PIGMAN's opinion that there might be some significance in the proximity of PIGMAN's home and KLAUS' home in view of the previous investigation conducted upon KLAUS.

It is noted that the Richmond Division conducted investigation upon Dr. HEINZ ERICH CLAUS (Bufile 65-5166) who is apparently identical with the "KLAUS" mentioned by Mr. EATON. This investigation covered a period from September, 1939 to August, 1943, at which time the case was closed as all leads had been covered and investigation had failed to disclose that Dr. CLAUS was engaged in any subversive activities or was a member of any subversive organization. This information concerning WARD PIGMAN was reported to the Bureau by letter dated December 22, 1948.

INVESTIGATION TO OBTAIN TYPEWRITING SPECIMENS

By teletype from Washington Field Office dated December 31, 1948, this office was advised that Woodstock Typewriter, Serial No. N238067, was purchased from the Office Machine Company, Washington, D. C., by JAMES O. GRAY, Manassas Airport, Manassas, Virginia, on November 5, 1946. Woodstock Typewriter, Serial No. 145259, was sold to Mr. HUGH BALL, Sterling, Virginia, on July 2, 1944. The Richmond Division was requested to locate these typewriters and procure specimens to be forwarded the FBI Laboratory for comparisons with documents known to have been typed on the typewriter of HISS. By teletype from the Norfolk Division dated January 4, 1949, information was furnished this division that Miss CATHERINE WHITE, Colonial Beach, Virginia, had in her possession Woodstock Typewriter, Serial No. N222310. Request had been made of the Norfolk Division to conduct similar investigation.

Mrs. LESTER H. BALL, Sterling, Virginia, advised Special Agent JESSE C. HALL, JR. that several years ago her son, HUGH BALL, had purchased a Woodstock Typewriter in Washington, D. C., and produced a receipt dated July 2, 194_, from McDonald Machine Company, 818 - 14th Street, Washington, D. C., indicating the sale of instant typewriter to HUGH BALL for the price of $17.50. Specimens were taken of the typewriting of this typewriter by Special Agent HALL and the serial number was checked and found to be No. 814-145259E. These specimens were forwarded the FBI Laboratory by letter dated January 7, 1949, for comparison with documents known to have been typed on the typewriter of ALGER HISS. By report dated January 12, 1949, the FBI Laboratory advised that the specimens of this typewriter had been compared with specimens Q60 through Q69 and found not to be identical.

Woodstock Typewriter, Serial No. N222310

Mr. WALTER H. WHITE, Colonial Beach, Virginia, advised Special Agent BERT L. DAMRON that his daughter, Miss CATHERINE WHITE, had obtained Woodstock Typewriter, Serial No. N222310, from her uncle, Mr. JOHN TRUMBO, of Washington, D. C., and has had this typewriter in her possession for approximately 2½ years, during which time this typewriter has not been repaired. Miss CATHERINE WHITE is a student at McCoy School of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland, and not available for interview. Typewriting specimens were taken from this typewriter by Special Agent DAMRON and forwarded to the FBI Laboratory by letter dated January 10, 1949.

By report dated January 13, 1949, the FBI Laboratory advised that the specimens of this typewriter submitted had been compared with specimens Q6 through Q69 in instant case, and found not to be identical.

Inquiry at the Manassas Airport, Manassas, Virginia, by Special Agent BERT L. DAMRON failed to identify JAMES O. GRAY as ever having been connected with this airport. Employees at the airport recalled three typewriters that had been in use there, one of which was still there and determined to be a Remington Typewriter. The second typewriter had been returned to one GEORGE KING, Manassas, Virginia, and was found to be an Underwood Typewriter. The third typewriter was reported to have been purchased in Washington, D. C. by one "TEX" WOOD and left in WOOD's room at the home of a Mrs. CLARK in Leesburg, Virginia. These employees reported that TEX WOOD had been since killed in an airplane accident. Mr. GEORGE KING, JR., Fairfax County, Virginia, advised that it was his understanding that TEX WOOD had obtained this typewriter through his sister in Washington, a Mrs. CARROLL SEGAR, who resides in an apartment house on 11th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., between L Street and O Street, and is an employee of the Washington Post. Inquiry by Special Agent JESSE C. HALL in Leesburg, Va. determined that Mrs. ANNA T. CLARK is presently residing at 389 Mulry Lane, Lawrence, New York. This information was furnished the New York Division by teletype dated January 6, 1949, with request to determine the present whereabouts of the typewriter or of JAMES O. GRAY.

REQUEST TO INTERVIEW FORMER SECRETARY OF STATE EDWARD STETTINIUS

By teletype dated January 11, 1949, the Washington Field Office requested that EDWARD STETTINIUS be interviewed with reference to any information he may possess regarding ALGER HISS, his associates and his alleged membership in the Communist Party Underground in Washington, D. C. Inquiry at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va., and at the home of Mr. EDWARD STETTINIUS, Rapidan, Virginia, determined that Mr. EDWARD STETTINIUS is residing at the Savoy Plaza Hotel, New York City and will not return to Virginia for the next two or three months. This request to interview Mr. STETTINIUS was forwarded to the New York Division by teletype dated January 12, 1949.

INTERVIEWS OF MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR C. HOEY, JR. RE
FELIX ADLER INSLERMAN

By teletype dated January 7, 1949, the Newark Division advised that on December 29, 1942, property, consisting of a two story house and eighty-five acres at R. D. 2, Cambridge, New York, was sold by Mr. and Mrs. ARTHUR C. HOEY, JR. to FELIX A. and ELIZABETH INSLERMAN at a price of $1100. The title on this property was not recorded by INSLERMAN until July 29, 1947. This property was acquired by Mr. and Mrs. HOEY from CHARLES KNOLL in August, 1941. CHARLES KNOLL had acquired the property through the death of his wife, Mrs. NORMA KNOLL, former owner of the property and a lifelong resident of Cambridge, New York. The Newark Division also advised that there was a mortgage in the amount of $1500, held by JAY C. HILL, Eagle Bridge, New York, which was believed to have been paid by NORMA KNOLL. The Newark Division requested that Mr. and Mrs. HOEY be interviewed to determine any information they had of the activities and acquaintances of FELIX INSLERMAN and to determine how the transaction for the sale of this property came about.

The following interview was conducted by Special Agent STERLING B. DONAHOE and the writer:

Mrs. DOROTHY HOEY, 1311 Avondale Street, Richmond, Virginia, advised on January 11, 1949 that her husband, ARTHUR C. HOEY, is a salesman for Oliver Iron and Steel Company and was then traveling in Pennsylvania, and would not be available for interview until his return to Richmond on January 14, 1949. Mrs. HOEY pointed out that she was the daughter of the original owner of the property at Cambridge, New York, Mrs. NORMA KNOLL. Upon the death of her mother in 1941, Mrs. HOEY stated that this property was left jointly to herself and her sister, Mrs. ALTHEA INTERCASTLE, her father, CHARLES KNOLL, being executor under the will. Mrs. HOEY stated that neither her parents nor herself had ever used this property as a home but only as an investment and occasional summer visits. Around the end of 1941 or the first part of 1942, Mrs. HOEY stated that she and her husband, ARTHUR C. HOEY, purchased the interest of her sister, Mrs. INTERCASTLE, and the property was deeded to Mr. and Mrs. ARTHUR HOEY. In the latter part of 1942, Mrs. HOEY stated that the property was listed for sale with the E. A. Strout Realty Agency, Inc., 255 - 4th Avenue, New York City. This listing was made with a local representative of the Strout Agency, Mr. WILLIAM I. PERRY, at Eagle Bridge, New York. There remained a mortgage on the home at this time, held by JAY C. HILL at Eagle Bridge, New York.

Mrs. HOEY stated that she and her husband, who resided in Bergen County, New Jersey, were notified by Mr. PERRY that he had a buyer for the property and they were requested to come to Eagle Bridge and close the transaction. Mrs. HOEY stated that as she recalled this was in November, 1942, and she found a receipt in her files dated November 16, 1942, for the down payment given by FELIX INSLERMAN to bind the transaction. Mrs. HOEY stated that neither she nor her husband had ever heard of Mr. and Mrs. FELIX INSLERMAN before, nor had they heard from them since. They only met them on the one occasion of closing the transaction at Eagle Bridge, New York. Mrs. HOEY stated that there was not much general conversation with the INSLERMANS at this time that she now recalls, except that she recalls that the INSLERMANS at that time were living in Long Island, New York, and that they had heard of this property being for sale through friends or relatives who resided in a small town near Cambridge, New York. Mrs. HOEY stated that she could not recall the names of these friends or relatives or the name of the town, except that she believed that this town began with the syllable "Green." Mrs. HOEY stated that, as she recalled, the net proceeds received by her and her husband from this sale was $900.00, and the mortgage held by JAY C. HILL was paid off on the day that the transaction was closed. Mrs. HOEY added that she knew nothing whatever of the activities or acquaintances of Mr. or Mrs. FELIX INSLERMAN, except as related above.

Mr. ARTHUR C. HOEY, on January 14, 1949, related substantially the same information as had been furnished by Mrs. HOEY. The only information added by Mr. HOEY was that he recalled that FELIX INSLERMAN at the time he purchased this home was employed by the Republican Aviation Company, Farmingdale, Long Island, and it was Mr. HOEY's recollection that the persons who advised INSLERMANS of the availability of this property were related to Mrs. FELIX INSLERMAN. Mr. HOEY added that he knew nothing further concerning the activities or acquaintances of Mr. or Mrs. FELIX INSLERMAN. He said that it was possible that the real estate agent, WILLIAM I. PERRY, would recall further information or may have other information in his files concerning the INSLERMANS.

This information was furnished the New York Division and the Bureau by teletype dated January 11, 1949, together with the information that the town referred to by Mrs. HOEY as the residence of these friends or relatives of the INSLERMANS may be Greenwich, Washington County, New York.

INTERVIEW OF THOMAS SWANN, HOPEWELL, VIRGINIA
FORMER NEIGHBOR OF ALGER HISS IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

AT HOPEWELL, VA.

By letter dated January 14, 1949, from the Washington Field Office to the Bureau, with copies to the Richmond Division, request was made to interview Mr. THOMAS SWANN, Hopewell, Virginia, who resided at 1237 - 30th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., from July 1, 1936 through January 4, 1938, and was a neighbor of ALGER HISS, 1245 - 30th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. This interview was requested for the purpose of determining all information Mr. SWANN may have concerning this case and specifically whether Mr. SWANN had observed WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in contact with ALGER HISS or in this neighborhood. Photographs of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS were enclosed to be exhibited to Mr. SWANN.

The following interview was conducted by Special Agent J. E. LAWLER and the writer at City Point Inn, Apartment #11, on January 17, 1949:

Mr. SWANN related that he had resided at 1237 - 30th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. from sometime in July, 1936 through January of 1938. He recalled that ALGER HISS had resided at 1245 - 30th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. in his immediate neighborhood. Mr. SWANN continued that during his entire residence in this neighborhood that he had no personal, business or social acquaintanceship whatsoever with either Mr. or Mrs. ALGER HISS. Mr. SWANN explained that he was not in any way acquainted with Mr. ALGER HISS. He continued that on one occasion he had visited in the home of DONALD HISS, located on N Street in the immediate neighborhood of this residential section. Mr. SWANN pointed out that the home in which he resided was built by a contractor named GILLIATT, who he believed resided in the Georgetown Section of Washington, D. C. Mr. SWANN continued that sometime in 1936, Mr. GILLIATT had constructed the homes located at 1241, 1243, 1245 and 1246 - 30th Street, N. W., and that he could not recall which of these homes was completed first, but he believed that Mr. GILLIATT, who either sold the home to ALGER HISS or rented it to him, may be conversant with his activities. In view of the fact that the Richmond Office is not conversant with the ramifications of the investigative activities in connection with this phase of the case insofar as the Washington Field Office is concerned, it is being left to the discretion of the Washington Field Office as to whether Mr. GILLIATT should be located and interviewed.

Mr. SWANN was unable to provide any information concerning the activities of ALGER HISS or his family, and upon viewing a photograph of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS stated that he had never recalled seeing this individual in the neighborhood, nor did he have any recollection as to seeing this individual enter the residence of ALGER HISS. He likewise explained that he had no present recollection of ever having seen ALGER HISS enter his own residence. Mr. SWANN was very emphatic in stating that he had no relationships or associations whatsoever with ALGER HISS.

Immediate contact was had with the Remington Rand, Inc., 2009 4th Avenue, North, through Mrs. LAMB, and it was determined from her personal recollection that JOSEPH P. GWYN was employed as a salesman by the company for several years both at Montgomery and Birmingham, Alabama, but that Mr. GWYN has been deceased for a period of about five years.

There was no available information at Remington Rand, Inc. concerning any records of the Woodstock Typewriter Company at Philadelphia by whom Mr. GWYN was employed a good many years ago.

The Philadelphia and New York offices were advised of the above by teletype from Birmingham, December 21, 1948.

By teletype January 6, 1949, the Baltimore office requested the Birmingham office to determine the presence in Birmingham of Miss BERTHA I. HART reportedly visiting at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. JAMES R. GOETZ at the address 2823 Thornhill Road or Route 2, Box 154 B, Birmingham, Alabama. It was stated that Miss HART for approximately six years was very closely associated with one of the subjects of this investigation, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, and on the date of the inquiry was reported to be on extended sick leave from her employment at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland.

The Baltimore office advised that an Agent of that office would proceed to Birmingham should it be established that Miss HART was at that time in Birmingham.

The address 2823 Thornhill Road is one occupied by several buildings of the Redmont Gardens, a large apartment project, located on Red Mountain near Birmingham.

It was determined through inquiry of the resident manager that Mr. JAMES R. GOETZ formerly resided there but had moved further away from Birmingham, and now resides on Shades Mountain, which is the rural route address mentioned in the Baltimore teletype. It was further determined that he is a structural engineer, apparently reliable, and now does his consulting work from his residence.

Mr. JAMES R. GOETZ, RFD 2, Box 154 B, Homewood Station, Birmingham, which address is located on Shades Mountain approximately ten miles from Birmingham, was contacted at his residence and stated that his sister-in-law, Miss BERTHA I. HART, had been visiting at his home for several weeks while recovering from a stomach ailment and that she would be available at any time for an interview. At the time of the visit to the residence of Mr. GOETZ, Miss HART was accompanying Mrs. GOETZ on a shopping trip in Birmingham, and was not available for contact. Mr. GOETZ stated that during a family discussion after local news releases concerning subject RENO appeared, Miss HART had mentioned the fact that she was acquainted with subject RENO and presumed that she would be interviewed during the course of the investigation.

The above information was transmitted to the Baltimore office by teletype January 6, 1949, and in reply thereto, the Birmingham office was advised that Special Agent JESSE FARR would arrive at Birmingham on January 7, 1949, for the purpose of interviewing Miss HART.

Accordingly, a joint interview was arranged by the writer with Miss BERTHA I. HART at the Birmingham office on the morning of January 8, 1949, the results of which will be reported by the Baltimore office.

were kept in a large iron safe and stated that he left them there when he sold the hotel. He stated that he took one old volume of guest registrations as a souvenir but this covered a period prior to 1900.

Both Mr. and Mrs. BISHOP thought there was a possibility that Mr. BATES, the present owner, might have given the records to Major A. O. GOYETTE, owner of a museum in Peterborough for their historical value. Mr. BISHOP also suggested the possibility that the names of any prominent guests might have been printed in the local newspaper inasmuch as this is a custom in Peterborough.

The above information was furnished to the Bureau, New York and Boston by teletype of January 20, 1949.

government. His birth date was indicated as November 4, 1907 and November 21, 1907 at Baltimore, Maryland.

By memorandum dated September 29, 1943 from the Third Service Command a complaint of Communistic tendencies was initiated; and as the result of an intelligence investigation, the loyalty status of ZIMMERMAN was indicated as "Deemed disaffected" on March 16, 1944. A memorandum dated March 27, 1944 at the Lakeland Army Air Field, Lakeland, Florida, reflected that ZIMMERMAN was assigned to duty in the Base Public Relations Office where he had no access to classified material. News releases prepared by him were reviewed by the Base Intelligence Officer to prevent any Communistic utterances being inserted for publication.

On December 6, 1943, T-1 advised that in the opinion of ZIMMERMAN's associates and superiors, he is considered loyal although his moral character is questionable; that informants who knew him could offer no information indicating subversive tendencies; but that certain correspondence of his indicated definite Communistic tendencies. Such correspondence was with DAVID CARPENTER, Secretary to the Texas State Committee of the Communist Party, 7115 Avenue F, Houston, Texas; LEON DEAN, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America, CIO, 416 St. Paul Street, Baltimore, Maryland; and "Fred", 4610 5th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. ZIMMERMAN also received clippings regarding the election of known Communists in New York City, from CECILIA PELLINEN, 639 South Oldham Street, Baltimore. (It is noted that ZIMMERMAN's Army Service Period indicates that he was married to a CECILIA PELLINEN at Elkton, Maryland, in 1933). ZIMMERMAN also received publishers' rejection slips from the "New Masses", 461 5th Avenue, N.Y., and the "New Republic", 40 East 49th Street, New York, magazines in the name of CLEM GRAHAM.

With reference to DAVID CARPENTER, supra, the service record of ZIMMERMAN indicates he has a brother DAVID ZIMMERMAN, 7115 F Street, Houston, Texas.

A review of the personnel file, Civilian Personnel Records Branch, Adjutant General's Office, Department of the Army, St. Louis, Missouri, for JESSE SAMUEL ZIMMERMAN reflects that he was employed on July 18, 1941 as an Operating Engineer with the Post Utilities Office, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland. This employment was terminated on February 10, 1942 by reason of resignation.

On July 18, 1941, he executed an Oath of Office (Standard Form No. 8) in which he swore to support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic. In a Personal History Statement dated July 18, 1941, he denied membership in any political party or organization advocating the overthrow of the constitutional form of government in the United States.

DETAILS: AT LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA:

I. INFORMATION CONCERNING MORRIS ASIMOW:

Special Employee BASCOM SHANKS examined the records of the Southern California Edison Company which reflected that MORRIS ASIMOW was employed as a tracer in the Engineering Department from June of 1923 to September, 1923, and came back to work in December, 1927 and was again employed as a tracer until May 26, 1928. The records reflect that his residence in 1927 was 1323 La Vista Terrace, Los Angeles, and that his services with this company were satisfactory.

Special Employee BASCOM SHANKS also contacted Informant T-1 with reference to MORRIS ASIMOW's connection with Central Metals, Inc., and this informant advised that the following were officers of the company: President, MORRIS ASIMOW; vice-president, ROBERT H. CUMINS; secretary, LOUIS VIERICK; and treasurer, C. A. L. ANDERSON. The company obtained a charter in 1940 and was reorganized in 1945, at which time MORRIS ASIMOW became connected with it. The informant's records reflect that MORRIS ASIMOW was thirty-nine years of age (1945), a native of this country of Russian descent, graduated from the University of California in 1927, and for a number of years served as an apprentice tool and die maker in his father's shop. After graduating, he became employed as a junior engineer and tool and die maker for several concerns. From 1930 to 1936 he taught metallurgical engineering at the University of Southern California, specializing in extruded shapes. From 1936 to November, 1940, he was with the Carnegie, Illinois Steel Corporation. During these years he wrote and published several books on metallurgy and was awarded the Howe medal by the American Society for Metals.

The informant advised that LOUIS VIERICK is an attorney with the firm of Harvey and Vierick, Los Angeles, and is acting only in a legal capacity for the company. Informant further advised that ROBERT H. CUMINS and C. A. L. ANDERSON are both employees of the Deutsch Company, Los Angeles.

Informant T-1 also furnished Special Employee BASCOM SHANKS the following information regarding the Western Aluminum Smelting Company: On July 9, 1946 MORRIS ASIMOW succeeded to the sole ownership of this company, and continued to operate the firm at the address 9901 S. Alameda Street in Los Angeles. The firm was formerly operated by LESTER and RUBEN FINKELSTEIN, who were also partners in the firm called Finkelstein Supply Company, whose address was 9901 S. Alameda Street in Los Angeles. The informant stated that the FINKELSTEIN brothers were also interested in the following firms: Southwest Steel Rolling Mills, Inc.; Economy Steel Company; and Economy Steel Construction Company, Inc.

Kisseloff-11088

On January 18, 1949 at the Los Angeles Public Library the writer examined the 1947 and 1948 editions of "Who's Who in Engineering" but failed to find any information regarding MORRIS ASIMOW. Also checked were books containing prominent men in science and industry from the years 1935 to 1948, which failed to contain information regarding ASIMOW. An engineering index of articles appearing in various engineering publications was examined and it was found that MORRIS ASIMOW in the late 1930's had published several papers on various phases of metallurgy which appeared in such publications as "Iron Age." He also submitted papers to meetings of such groups as Society of Automotive Engineers and the American Society for Metals. The library indices failed to reflect information regarding any books which ASIMOW had written.

II. INTERVIEW WITH STEPHEN McKEVETT FARRAND RE ALGER HISS

Referenced teletype dated January 12, 1949 from Washington Field to Los Angeles requested the interview of STEPHEN FARRAND, who was a close associate of ALGER HISS and a frequent visitor at the HISS residence.

On January 13, 1949, STEPHEN McKEVETT FARRAND was interviewed at his office at 215 W. Sixth Street by Special Agent ARTHUR C. WITTENBURG and the writer. It is noted that FARRAND keeps a detailed diary and has done so for a number of years. He referred to these diaries and related to agent each date when he had entered indication that he had seen or met ALGER HISS. Inasmuch as many of these meetings were for the purpose of playing tennis or social visits with HISS, they are not all being included in this report. However, the original notes of the writer reflecting each of these contacts are being retained. Only those meetings which appear to have some significance are being set out.

Referring to his diary, Mr. FARRAND stated that he first met ALGER HISS on March 14, 1936 at the office of the Solicitor General in Washington when FARRAND reported for work; that STANLEY REED, who was then Solicitor General, introduced FARRAND to ALGER HISS and the other employees. At this time FARRAND was a junior attorney and ALGER HISS was a Special Assistant to the Attorney General. FARRAND first met ALGER HISS socially on May 8, 1946 at the Mayflower Hotel in Washington upon the occasion of the first birthday of his son. Mr. STANLEY REED and Mr. and Mrs. ALGER HISS were the persons who attended this social gathering.

Regarding the numerous entries relative to the times FARRAND played tennis with ALGER HISS, FARRAND stated after referring to the diary that individuals with whom they also played tennis were WARNER GARDNER, CHARLES THORSKY, ARNOLD RAUM, and an individual named KLAGSBORN. FARRAND had a notation in his diary in June, 1936 regarding the extortion note which he had received threatening death to their child, and had noted in his diary that he had first conferred with ALGER HISS regarding this note and that HISS was very helpful and subsequently went to the FBI office with FARRAND to report the extortion note. It is noted that the sender of this extortion note to the FARRANDS was found to be one JESSE J. MILLER, who was found guilty and sentenced to three to five years for the offense.

FARRAND's entry in his diary for September 27, 1936 reflects that he and ALGER HISS went to the boat races and thereafter spent three hours at HISS' residence, which FARRAND believed to be on 29th Street about four blocks east of Wisconsin Avenue. During the evening they discussed OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES and FARRAND had noted in his diary that ALGER HISS had a photostatic copy of OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES' notebook in which HOLMES had entered various notations regarding books he had read, observations, and other information.

FARRAND's diary entry for February 19, 1937 reflects that Mr. and Mrs. FARRAND attended a lecture at Constitution Hall, where they met CHARLES HORSKY and his wife. It is noted that ALGER HISS lived only several houses from the HORSKY residence. The HORSKYS and the FARRANDS went to FARRAND's home and while there ALGER HISS called and asked them to come to his home. FARRAND has noted in his diary that this was at a time when TIMOTHY (ALGER HISS' step-son) had broken his leg.

In June and July, 1937, FARRAND had several entries reflecting that he was living at CHARLES HORSKY's home inasmuch as Mrs. FARRAND had returned to Los Angeles for a visit. During this period FARRAND saw ALGER HISS frequently either at the HISS home or the HORSKYS. In June, 1938, the FARRANDS left Washington, D. C. and FARRAND had noted that ALGER HISS attended the farewell party.

In December, 1942, FARRAND received a commission in the U. S. Army and served in the office of the Provost Marshal General, Prisoner of War Division. He remained in the Army until April, 1946, and during all of this time maintained an office in the Munitions Building in Washington, D. C. He has an entry in his diary for January, 1943, reflecting that he visited at HISS' home on Volta Place and spent a very pleasant evening. He stated that during his stay in Washington, D. C. during the war he had occasion to meet HISS socially on a number of occasions but not nearly as frequently as when he was in Washington during 1936 to 1938.

FARRAND also recalled after referring to his diary that he had met HISS in New York City in March of 1948 and visited with him socially for several hours. He recalled that HISS was then working for the Carnegie Peace Foundation and FARRAND chided HISS about working for a peace organization during a time when the world was so upset and there was so much talk about war. FARRAND recalled that HISS observed at that time that he did not think Russia was very anxious to go to war because they did not have the knowledge to make the atomic bomb and that the people in the United States feel also that the Russians do not have the atomic bomb. HISS also made the observation that Senator VANDENBURG was one of our ablest statesmen.

Mr. FARRAND stated he has no recollection of ever discussing Communism with ALGER HISS nor discussing Soviet Russia with the exception of the meeting in March of 1948 in New York City; that he frankly does not know what ALGER HISS' views on Communism were, and has had no indication through his contacts with HISS that HISS was a member of the Communist Party or even interested in Communism.

Regarding automobiles owned by ALGER HISS, it was FARRAND's recollection that ALGER HISS owned an automobile, but he could not recall the type or make or any other information about it.

Regarding a typewriter owned by Mr. or Mrs. ALGER HISS, FARRAND stated that he has no recollection whatsoever of ever seeing a typewriter in the HISS home or ever knowing through any other means that they owned a typewriter. FARRAND further related that after giving considerable thought to his associations with ALGER HISS, he can recall no facts, episodes, or instances which would indicate to him that ALGER HISS was in any way engaged in espionage activity.

FARRAND's recollection regarding places of residence of ALGER HISS was vague and he could only recall that HISS resided on 29th Street as above stated, and during 1943 on Volta Place. Mr. FARRAND examined his personal file on correspondence he has had with ALGER HISS and furnished three typewritten letters which he had received from ALGER HISS. The first two letters are dated November 23 and November 29, 1940, and are written on the stationery of the Department of State and deal with a request by ALGER HISS of FARRAND for a recommendation of an individual named EVAN HAYNES for the position of legal advisor to Mr. SAYRE, who was then High Commissioner to the Philippines. The third letter was dated January 17, 1947 and bears the address at the top of the letter of 3210 P Street N. W., Washington 7, D. C. and is personal in nature. The originals of these three letters were forwarded to the FBI Laboratory by letter dated January 14, 1949 for examination and comparison with the questioned specimens in this case.

FARRAND further related that in November, 1948 he received a letter from CHARLES HORSKY, who is presently an associate in the law firm of Covington, Burling, Ruble, Acheson, and Shorb at Washington, D. C. FARRAND observed that DONALD HISS is also associated with this law firm. HORSKY stated that he was helping BILL MARBURY, ALGER HISS' attorney, in the civil action by HISS against WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and was lining up some facts. He informed FARRAND that he desired some kind of a report from FARRAND regarding his associations with ALGER HISS and any information which he might have regarding a second car which ALGER HISS reportedly owned. On November 8, 1948 FARRAND submitted such a report to CHARLES HORSKY, and also sent a copy to ALGER HISS. FARRAND stated that his report to HORSKY contained briefly the same information which he had furnished to Agent WITTENBURG and the writer, and recalls that his report was favorable to ALGER HISS inasmuch as he knew nothing derogatory concerning HISS.

FARRAND stated that CHARLES HORSKY was a close friend of ALGER HISS who, as related in this report, lived on the same street as HISS during 1936 and 1937. FARRAND has no information regarding interest on the part of HORSKY in Communism. In conclusion, FARRAND stated that he can think of no one in Los Angeles who might also have correspondence from ALGER HISS.

III. INFORMATION CONCERNING WILLIAM ROSEN

Referenced teletype dated January 13, 1949 from New York to the Bureau, Washington Field, and Los Angeles requested the Los Angeles office to ascertain the date when WILLIAM ROSEN would leave Los Angeles to return to Washington, D. C.

On January 19, 1949 the writer telephonically contacted MILTON ROSEN, WILLIAM ROSEN's son, who advised that his father and mother were presently residing with some friends in Los Angeles whose name and address or telephone number MILTON ROSEN did not know; that on the previous Sunday his father had informed him that he intended to leave Los Angeles sometime during the week beginning January 24, 1949 and return to Washington, D. C. MILTON ROSEN, however, did not know his father's contemplated address in Washington, D. C. He stated that he expected his father would telephonically contact him in the next several days, at which time he would probably obtain more definite information regarding his father's plans. This information was furnished by teletype to the interested offices on January 19, 1949.

Father FINLEY advised that it is his understanding that Father CONLIN purchased instant typewriter from GEORGE EPPERSON when EPPERSON was a seminarian at the Paulist Fathers Seminary located in Washington, D. C. Father FINLEY further advised that the Paulist Fathers at Washington, D. C., will most likely be able to advise the present whereabouts of GEORGE EPPERSON since he dropped out of the seminary.

Father FINLEY stated that instant typewriter is located at the present time at the home of his sister, Mrs. FRANK BOWEN, who resides with her husband, a crippled war veteran, at 54 Beach Street, Jersey City, New Jersey.

Father FINLEY stated he does not believe there is any serial number on instant typewriter. He advised he has specimens from instant typewriter, but he refers to these notes almost daily in order to carry on his priestly duties in Minneapolis. He stated that he would prefer to keep instant notes in his possession, but that in the event it is desired, he will turn over to the FBI any specimens that may be of value in this investigation. He stated it is his understanding that sometime ago FBI Agents in Washington, D. on Oenoke Ridge, New Canaan, Conn. Mrs. HISS advised that she is currently involved in a litigation with her husband , PHILIP HANSON HISS, JR. III, regarding the financial support of herself and children. She stated that she first met ALGER HISS during the summer of 1947 when the latter individual drove to New Canaan with his wife and child from New York City to have dinner at the home of Mrs. CAROLYN DOW HISS, her mother-in-law, who resides on Brushy Ridge Road. Mrs. HILL stated that ALGER HISS is related to her husband PHILIP as either a second or third cousin.

Mrs. MARJORIE B. HISS further advised that she did not know whether ALGER HISS has ever corresponded with her husband but did indicate that her husband was aware of the position held by ALGER HISS with the State Department. Mrs. HISS further remarked that it is possible that PHILIP used the influence of ALGER HISS during World War II in order to obtain various jobs which he held for brief periods, such as with the Office of Strategic Services, Office of War Information and the Columbia Broadcasting System. It was further reported that PHILIP also wrote a book in New York for the Netherlands Information Bureau. Mrs. HISS stated that her husband PHILIP has on no occasion ever evidenced CP tendencies nor has he ever discussed CP activities. She did point out, however, that her husband PHILIP is an acquaintance and correspondent of HENRY A. WALLACE. The whereabouts of PHILIP HANSON HISS, JR. III was unknown to Mrs. MARJORIE B. HISS but she did state that all of his personal papers are currently located in a file cabinet which is kept in the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. CAROLYN DOW HISS, on Brushy Ridge Road, New Canaan. It was reported that Mrs. CAROLYN DOW HISS is now visiting her daughter, ELIZABETH H. SUTRO in San Francisco, California.

Mrs. MARJORIE B. HISS advised that she was originally married to PHILIP HANSON HISS, JR. III on July 10, 1931 in Honolulu, Hawaii. She said they were divorced sometime during April, 1939 at Reno, Nevada and were remarried in the fall of 1939 in the Philippines. Mrs. HISS stated that the marriage which occurred in the fall of 1939 in the Philippine Islands was again re-enacted with benefit of civil service in New York City during the fall of 1940. It was reported that her husband PHILIP has no known occupation although he claims to be a writer and photographer.

A domestic at the residence of Mrs. CAROLYN DOW HISS advised that PHILIP HANSON HISS, JR. III had recently returned from spending the holiday season on the West Coast with his married sister, Mrs. ELIZABETH H. SUTRO, and is now currently received mail at Box 106, Siesta Key, Sarasota, Florida.

From city directories it was ascertained that there is no such address as 707 Poplar Street. However, it was noted that IRVIN O. WEIL was listed as residing at 234 Taylor Street and was an employee of the Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe Railway. Credit records contained no information regarding WEIL.

Mrs. CLIFFORD REEVE, 234 Taylor Street, advised she knew that IRVIN WEIL moved from that address to Kansas City, Kansas, on or about the last Monday in December, 1948.

GEORGE WEIGAND, Special Service Officer, Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe Railway, could furnish no pertinent information concerning WEIL.

W. P. ROOT, Superintendent of Mails, advised that IRVIN O. WEIL on January 4, 1949, requested that his mail be forwarded from 234 Taylor Street, Topeka, Kansas, to 2452 Roseview, Kansas City, Kansas.

Various inquiries were made in the 700 block on Poplar Street before it was determined that Mrs. JOHN LIGGETT, 726 Poplar Street, is the mother of WEIL.

Mrs. LIGGETT confirmed that IRVIN O. WEIL is her son. She stated she has heard him speak of a friend named TUCKER; that he now lives at the above address in Kansas City, Kansas, and that while in the army he served in Trinidad, Italy, and at Fort Jackson, South Carolina.

AT KANSAS CITY, KANSAS:

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent W. HAROLD SKELLY:

IRVIN O. WEIL, 2452 Roseview, Rosedale, Kansas City, Kansas, advised that he formerly resided at 707 Twiss and 726 Poplar Streets, Topeka, Kansas, and that he is acquainted with JOHN KORAL whom he met while serving in the army at Trinidad and Fort Jackson, South Carolina. WEIL advised that he was quite personally acquainted with KORAL but he does not recall any remarks made by KORAL concerning the activities of KORAL's uncle, named JOHN KORAL. WEIL stated he has no knowledge concerning the business connections or travel made by KORAL's uncle.

Mr. WEIL advised that HOWARD TUCKER was also in his army group at Trinidad and Fort Jackson, South Carolina, and that TUCKER is presently residing on a farm with his parents near Troy, Kansas receiving his mail on Rural Route #1.

AT TROY, KANSAS:

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent VON PERRY HEATHERLY:

HOWARD TUCKER, Rt. 1, Troy, Kansas, advised on January 21, 1949 that he was associated with JOHN KORAL in the army from March,1942 until 10-1-45. He lived in the same barracks with KORAL at various army camps from May, 1942 to April, 1944, while they were assigned to Battery E., 252nd Coast Artillery. In April, 1944, KORAL was transferred to the 530th Field Artillery. However, TUCKER states he still saw KORAL occasionally untilhis discharge from the army in 1945.

TUCKER stated he felt he was a close friend of KORAL while they were in the army. He does not recall that KORAL ever mentioned an uncle named JOHN KORAL to him. Neither does he recall KORAL's mentioning an uncle or any other relatives taking trips from New York to Washington, D.C. for ALGER HISS or any other individuals.

EX-69

The Detroit Division was requested to interview JACOBSON and secure from him his version of the meeting between BEDACHT, CHAMBERS and ULRICH.

Special Agent JOSEPH HYBLE and the writer interviewed ARVID WERNER JACOBSON on January 21, 1949. JACOBSON was unable to identify the photographs of JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and MAX BEDACHT and was unable to offer any information regarding his recruitment other than that contained in Detroit report dated December 8, 1947. He reiterated his previous allegation that he recalled meeting only one man in New York regarding his trip to Finland and this was a person introduced to him by the woman Secretary of the Finnish Federation.

ARVID WERNER JACOBSON described the unknown man met by him in a restaurant as 5'8" tall, 35 to 40 years of age in 1933, dark complexion, dark hair combed straight back, 145 to 150 pounds, thin features.

Reference Bureau teletype of January 19, 1949, asked for further information regarding a meeting between MAX BEDACHT, LEON JOSEPHSON and an unknown chemical engineer.

CNDI DE 189 advised that he met LEON JOSEPHSON on only one occasion at which time he introduced, at the request of MAX BEDACHT, LEON JOSEPHSON to an unknown chemical engineer. DE 189 met JOSEPHSON only on this one occasion and has no additional information to offer regarding JOSEPHSON. During the brief appointment names were not mentioned, however, the informant, on viewing the photograph, stated that he was certain that the person he introduced to the unknown chemical engineer was LEON JOSEPHSON.

Relative to the unknown chemical engineer DE 189 does not recall his name. He states that engineer was a former socialist who had been in the Communist Party about one year in 1932 and was a member of a new group of engineers specifically organized by the informant to be used to manufacture stink bombs to be used during strikes and to advise regarding corrosive materials to be used in lubricating in the event of strikes. Informant does not recall any names of the engineers who comprised this group as it was new and he had very few contacts with them. He realized the importance of the Bureau's desire to know the identity or any information regarding them and as he kept no diary or notes, his memory fails him on this occasion.

DE 189 stated that at the time he introduced the unknown chemical engineer to LEON JOSEPHSON the DuPont Company had a process used in the manufacture of textiles which could also be used for explosives and that the Soviet Government was interested in this process. The unknown chemical Engineer in the opinion of DE 189 was to be used to cultivate DuPont technicians in an effort to secure this process. At the time the unknown engineer met LEON JOSEPHSON he went underground in the Party and the informant has not seen him since nor has he learned of his activities.

DE 189 recalled that the unknown chemical engineer worked in New York, his employment was unknown and he was a United States citizen. The unknown engineer spoke good English, was approximately 5'8" tall, had dark hair and was between 35 and 40 years of age in 1932.

This investigation is predicated upon teletype from Charlotte Office dated 1-15-49 directed to the Bureau and SACs New York City and Omaha. This teletype was to the effect that Confidential Informant T-1 had, in South Carolina, furnished information to the effect that he had been told in confidence in 1944 by one JOHN KORAL that JOHN's uncle, also named JOHN KORAL, had made several trips to Washington, D. C. to return secret documents to New York City for ALGER HISS. These trips were allegedly made in 1937 and 1938 and the uncle was paid $300 to $500 per trip. This teletype requested that FRANK T. CATE, a friend of KORAL's at that time, be interviewed in order to ascertain if he had heard the same information.

Accordingly, on 1-15-49 FRANK T. CATE, now residing at 644 - 44th Street, Des Moines, was contacted and the following information secured.

CATE advised that he knows nothing concerning the information furnished by Confidential Informant T-1, except that KORAL does have an uncle, who, he believes, is residing in Jersey City, New Jersey. CATE described KORAL as a level-headed individual and a person who is not inclined to boast. He advised that he does not know of anyone who would attempt to involve KORAL by furnishing such information as having come from KORAL, if not true.

CATE furnished the names of the following individuals as intimate friends of KORAL in 1944 at Fort Jackson, South Carolina:

MICHAEL PETRISSI (or PETRIZZI), who entered the Army with KORAL from Hempstead, N. Y.; address - believed to be Hempstead, N. Y.;

IRWIN O. WEIL, believed residing 707 Popular Street, Topeka or Wichita, Kansas;

HOWARD TUCKER, address unknown;

JACK G. SALS, address unknown; believed residing in South Carolina;

CATE advised that SALS was corporal in charge of communications at Fort Jackson, S. C., and that KORAL was a private in the Communications Division at Fort Jackson.

CATE advised that he and the above mentioned individuals were in the 252nd Coast Artillery, Battery C, National Guard, North Carolina while in Trinidad, and while at Fort Jackson, S. C. were in the 530th Field Artillery, Battery C (or A).

According to CATE, KORAL had leave from Fort Jackson during the Spring of 1944 and also during the Christmas Holidays. It was CATE's belief that KORAL went to Hempstead, N. Y. both times. The last address that CATE has for JOHN KORAL is #36 Arthur Street, Hempstead, N. Y. CATE believes that this is the home of KORAL's sister.

Leads are not being set out by the Omaha Office to interview any of the above persons suggested by CATE, inasmuch as the Omaha Office does not know if such interviews are desired.

The Bureau and New York City were advised of above information by teletype 1-17-49.

University of Chicago and further studied Economics at the London School of Economics. Dr. HAAS described WADLEIGH as a "peculiar duck", who was very proud of his eccentricities. As an example, Dr. HAAS stated WADLEIGH was so interested in his work that he was totally ignorant of surroundings and did not even hear the telephone ringing on his own desk. He recalls that WADLEIGH rented an apartment and for a long period of time had no furniture in it but slept on mattresses on the floor.

Dr. HAAS stated his first wife was likewise a brilliant Economist, a graduate of the University of Chicago and was later employed by the Treasury Department. Dr. HAAS also described Mrs. WADLEIGH as being rather odd and of the same stripe as her husband. He recalls that Mrs. WADLEIGH was recommended to the government by Professor JACOB VINER then of the University of Chicago and now at Princeton University.

Mrs. ELIZABETH ZIEGLER HUNTLEY and Miss ANNA MICHENER, both of the Treasury Department, advised they were employed with WADLEIGH at the old Federal Farm Board under the HOOVER Administration in 1930 and 1931. Mrs. HUNTLEY advised she had a desk in the same room with WADLEIGH. They described him as being an absent-minded Economist, very impractical, but at the same time a highly intelligent Economist. They recalled that WADLEIGH's mother, for a long period of time, resided in Italy where she conducted debutantes and daughters of wealthy individuals through Italy and tutored them. Mrs. HUNTLEY and Miss MICHENER advised nothing had come to their attention indicating that WADLEIGH was ever interested in subversive activities. They recalled that on one occasion he made the statement that he could never be a radical because he owned stock.

Mrs. HUNTLEY advised she resided in the same apartment house at WADLEIGH, namely 2700 Q Street, N. W., and on one or two occasions visited his apartment which, she stated, was very sparsely furnished.

At no time did WADLEIGH indicate to them he was ever taking any information from the Farm Board and turning it over to any unauthorized persons, in fact, they stated there was really nothing to steal from the Farm Board at the time.

Dr. CHARLES F. SARLE, Department of Agriculture, advised he recalled WADLEIGH as being a brilliant young Economist and a very capable fellow; that he attended the London School of Economics and had a very fine background for a brilliant career in Economics. Dr. SARLE stated he has had no contact with WADLEIGH for the past fifteen years. SARLE stated he was never in WADLEIGH's home and knows nothing of his outside activities.

Further, that he knew of no derogatory information concerning WADLEIGH indicating that the latter was ever engaged in any subversive activity.

ROBERT G. GLADNICK, 1405 Primrose Avenue, former Communist Party member from 1933 to 1935, advised that he did not know WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or ALGER HISS and had never heard anything concerning them or their activities as Communist Party members.

GLADNICK stated that his connection with Communist Party activities in the 1930's dealt with military and naval matters and not with political or governmental information.

GLADNICK added that in about 1934, there was a young woman who worked for the government in Washington, D. C. - governmental department unknown - who he thought was a member of the Communist Party apparatus which was obtaining espionage-type information from government employees, and that she typed up information which was submitted to the espionage apparatus. GLADNICK stated that he had nothing more than casual words dropped here and there to support this allegation. He continued that the young woman mentioned above was a cousin of ALICE WILSON and that he believed she was married to the brother of "DODO" HALPERERN (phonetic). He concluded that ALICE WILSON was the wife of HY or HIGH GORDON, Executive Secretary of the Communist Party in the New England states, and that "DODO" HALPERERN was, until recently, a civilian employee of the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

RECORDED - 60 [illegible] -1439

The following information was furnished to the Bureau by Ed Nellor of the Times Herald newspaper. He advised that he had been in touch with an individual known as Robert Radovan, who resides at the Belmont Hotel. This individual, who impressed Mr. Nellor as being forthright, explained that several months ago he went into a residence at 1400 New Hampshire Avenue to use a telephone. He stated he found a black book in a telephone booth which purportedly belonged to one Karzov of the Russian Bible Institute. Radovan stated that Karzov's name and personal history were set forth in the book. It appeared that Karzov had been an official in the Russian Army and had married a Japanese woman.

The book contained the names of several people in the Pentagon and State Department including the name of Alger Hiss. Along side some of these names was a code name. Last October Radovan went to Florida accompanied by George Sents, who now works at a Miami Beach Hotel and operates an IBM machine. Radovan advised Nellor that there are only twelve hotels that have this type of equipment so it would be relatively easy to locate Sents.

Radovan stated that just recently it occurred to him in view of the prominence that Alger Hiss has had in the news that possibly the contents of the book were very important. He stated that Detective Leonard and a Detective Murray of the Miami Beach Police Department had seen the book and had indicated considerable interest in it. He did not indicate why these detectives had been shown instant book. He further stated that Karzov is a mysterious character who always carries a notebook, goes out day and night and drives a Kaiser-Frazer car. Radovan indicated that he might want to go to Florida and try to locate the book.

You are instructed to promptly interview Robert Radovan and ascertain complete details concerning this incident. Should it appear that Radovan is correct in his statements, immediately a lead should be set out for the location of the aforementioned black book. The Bureau should be promptly advised concerning this matter.

Ed Nellor of the Times Herald called to advise me he received a tip that at 5 p.m., Monday, January 10, an individual known as Bob Radovan (spelling phonetic) would be at DEcatur 9621, that Radovan had found a notebook in a telephone booth which contained a list of agents of the Soviet Union and had made the statement either the FBI knew about the notebook or was endeavoring to find out something about it. He described Radovan as an individual who came either from Costa Rico or Puerto Rica.

I told him he should call Radovan by all means and if Radovan wanted to see him he should arrange to see Radovan and to let me know immediately.

Nellor told me on a couple of occasions that he was impressed with Radovan's forthrightness. I asked Nellor if he could tell me where the tip on Radovan came from. He confidentially informed me it was from an individual named Whalen. I asked if Whalen was the man we arrested last Friday in connection with selling stolen guns to the Costa Ricans. He did not know. This made Nellor very suspicious. The thought occurs to me that it would be well for us to get hold of Radovan, without divulging Nellor's name, and find out exactly what he is talking about. He may have something or he may have a story that he is trying to peddle around but that we may have to use sooner or later.

Medina advised that he intends to send a memorandum to the New York Division with a copy to McLean, which will set out the pertinent information relative to his investigation in the libel action. Reference is made to the teletype from Washington Field Division dated January 26, 1949, requesting authority to interview Lydia Lee, who was formerly employed on the Nye Committee with Alger Hiss, and is now employed by the Senate Investigations Committee, commonly known as the Ferguson Committee. (U)

The following information appears in the Bureau files concerning Lydia Lee. Lee is presently married to William Heflin and resides in Poolesville, Maryland. Inquiry has disclosed that Lydia Lee was employed by the Gerald P. Nye Committee in 1935 and subsequently employed in various clerical capacities by the Truman Committee and the Brewster Committee, all Senate War Investigation Committees and Committees on National Defense. (101-3411-7)(U)

The indices of the Washington Field Division disclose Lydia Lee, 510 Eye Street, N. W., Apartment 8, as being named in the active indices of the Washington Committee for Democratic Action and the League of Women Shoppers. (101-3411-1)(U)

In August, 1946, Mr. Robert B. Barker, former investigator for the Dies' Committee, stated that when he suggested to Congressman Dies that data concerning the Murray Garrson case be turned over to the Truman Committee, Dies was reluctant to do so, giving as his reason that he didn't want the material to be seen by Lydia Lee, who was at that time Editor for the Truman Committee. Dies branded her as being a Communist. (46-11508-354)(U)

(U) [redacted] (S) disclosed that on September 25, 1947, Henry Hill Collins contacted Lydia Lee with the Brewster Committee, possibly concerning employment. (101-3411-7) (65-56402-1-3005) S

A highly confidential source which had access to the address book of Martin Popper, who has been affiliated with many Communist front organizations, advised that the name "Miss Lydia Lee, Meade Committee" appeared in this address book in February, 1948. (105-1913-83, p. 10)(U)

On August 17, 1948, Hedi Massing advised that during the past few weeks when she read about the spy queen Elizabeth Bentley, and before Bentley was identified, she, Hedi Massing, speculated that the spy queen was the girl whom she met through Margaret Young, a Communist correspondent in Washington, D. did not know whether this was the first or last name, but stated that she worked for the Nye Committee during the middle 30's. It was Massing's understanding, though she was never actually told, that "Lee" was engaged in underground work on behalf of the Soviets. Hedi Massing was unable to furnish additional information concerning Lee. (101-3411-6)(U)

Although it appears probable that the Lee referred to by Hedi Massing and Lydia Lee who is presently employed by the Ferguson Committee, are identical this has not as yet been established. Investigation along this line is presently being conducted, and the New York Division has been furnished a photograph of Lydia Lee for exhibition to Hedi Massing.(U)

ACTION:

There is attached a teletype to the New York Division requesting that the identification of Unknown Subject Lee be expedited, with instructions that the Washington Field Division delay the interview of Lydia Lee until being advised by the New York Division as to whether or not Lydia Lee is identical with the Unknown Subject Lee.(U)

There are being enclosed herewith for the Washington Field Office photostatic copies of documents described as Grand Jury Exhibits Nos. 49 and 51. These documents were printed by the FBI Laboratory from the film turned over by Chambers to the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

There are also enclosed for the Washington Field Office two photostatic copies of U. S. Naval Intelligence reports entitled "Navy Department Documents - Possible Compromise Of" dated December 17, 1948, with enclosures A through I. This report covers the identification by the Navy Department of documents turned over to the Navy by the House Un-American Activities Committee, which were reprinted from the film turned over to the Committee by Chambers. It is possible that Grand Jury Exhibits Nos. 47 and 48 contain more readable material than was previously available to the House Un-American Activities Committee. The Washington Field Office should, therefore, contact the appropriate officials of the Navy Department to endeavor to identify additional Navy documents with the photographs in Grand Jury Exhibits Nos. 47 and 48. Photostatic copies should be obtained of any additional documents obtained through this contact and should be made available to the Bureau.

The Washington Field Office should then prepare a separate report outlining the comparison of the Navy Department documents with Grand Jury Exhibits Nos. 47 and 48.

It is noted in paragraph 5, page 2, of the Navy report, a statement is made that "a confidential informant of unquestionable reliability informed investigating agents that the leakage of this technical data was from the Bureau of Standards and not the Navy Department." The Bureau is presently endeavoring to determine from the Navy Department the identity of this informant and the basis for the above statement. Upon receipt of this information you will be advised.

DETAILS: This is a joint report of Special Agents J. PHILIP KOCHENDERFER, JOSEPH FLAHERTY, WILLIAM NAYLOR, M. C. CARROLL and the writer.

ATTEMPTS TO TRACE WOODSTOCK TYPEWRITER

AT PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA

There have been submitted to the Laboratory typewritten specimens obtained from Woodstock typewriters bearing the following serial numbers:

157542
162364

By reports dated December 21, December 22, and December 23, 1948, it has been advised by the Laboratory that specimens submitted from the above enumerated typewriters and which specimens have been designated as K78, K88, K92 and K93, were not typed on the same typewriter as was used to type specimens Q6 through Q69.

The following additional investigation was conducted in an attempt to identify any Woodstock typewriter as being the typewriter on which specimens submitted by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS may have been typed.

By teletype dated December 31, 1948, the Washington Field Office advised that Woodstock No. 132256 had been purchased from the United Typewriter Company, Washington, D. C., by H. T. KLINE, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, date unknown.

AT CHAMBERSBURG, PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. H. T. KLINE, owner of the Kline Typewriter Exchange, 45 Lincoln Way West, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, was contacted relative to his ownership of Woodstock typewriter serial No. 132256. Mr. KLINE made a check of all Woodstock typewriters in his shop without locating this machine. He then advised that he could not state whether or not he had ever had this typewriter in his possession inasmuch as records of typewriters bought and sold by him were maintained at the exchange only from the period commencing August 1, 1947, and a check of the records from this date forward failed to reflect any information pertinent to the typewriter in question.

AT PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA

By report dated December 23, 1948, from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, it was advised that a list of persons which had been prepared by JOHN GALLAGHER at Philadelphia, from repair records of the Woodstock agency prior to the destruction of the original records in 1946, had been exhibited to THOMAS GRADY. GRADY was the salesman who sold a Woodstock typewriter to the FANSLER-MARTIN partnership in Philadelphia, during 1927.

GRADY was requested to identify from the list persons or firms to whom he had sold Woodstock typewriters during 1927, it being recalled that previous investigation has shown GRADY resigned from the Woodstock Typewriter Company on December 3, 1927.

According to above mentioned report, GRADY indicated a number of individuals and companies to whom he claimed to have sold Woodstock typewriters during 1927, and an additional number concerning whom he believed he may have sold Woodstock typewriters. With regard to the secondary list, however, GRADY advised that he was uncertain that he had sold these individuals or firms Woodstock typewriters and it may have been a Royal typewriter in each case since he sold Royal typewriters prior to his employment with the Woodstock agency in Philadelphia. The persons indicated by GRADY were all contacted in Philadelphia with four exceptions. Two of these exceptions were defunct newspapers and the remaining two were organizations which are presently under investigation by the Philadelphia Office for possible violations of Federal law which have nothing to do with the instant case. These organizations are The Philadelphia Record, Jewish Times, Mid-City Press and American Jewish Congress. It was felt that it might be possible to ascertain the date of purchase and serial number of a sufficient number of Woodstock typewriters during the years 1926 and 1927, which would permit a narrowing of the range of serial numbers wherein the number of the typewriter sold to FANSLER-MARTIN in 1927 might lie and thus make it practical to circularize typewriter agencies throughout the United States in an attempt to locate the particular typewriter in question.

The following organizations and individuals were contacted.

At the Home Beneficial Society of Pennsylvania, 21st and Locust Streets, it was ascertained through Mr. EDWARD B. JOSEPH, Sr., Treasurer, and Mr. EDWARD B. JOSEPH, Jr., Office Manager, that no records exist concerning the purchase of typewriters. Each indicated that the only Woodstock typewriters purchased by the company were the ones presently in the custody of the office and that none of the Woodstocks ever purchased had been sold. An examination of the typewriters in the office reflected the following serial numbers: N 289598, N 472291, N 519917, N 561193, N 588587, N 588629, N 601058, and RKS 10305. It was advised that the final typewriter was a rebuilt key set which had been originally purchased as a new machine by the company. Both men reiterated that there was no record available and that they had no recollection themselves as to when they had purchased these typewriters.

At H. Perilstein Company, 524 Lombard Street, NATHAN PERILSTEIN, President, advised that the only Woodstock typewriters ever purchased by this company were ones which were purchased new and are still in the possession of the company. He stated that the company has no records which would reflect the date of purchase. Examination of the typewriters reflected the following serial numbers: N 312354, N 312372, N 533909, and NC 754218.

At the Vogel-Ritt Company, 2212 Chestnut Street, Mr. CHARLES D. CUSHING, Manager, advised that to the best of his recollection only two Woodstock typewriters had been purchased by the company, one of which was presently in the Philadelphia office, No. 671369 E, which machine, Mr. CUSHING advised, was purchased in January 1946. A second machine, N 450318, was purchased according to the best of Mr. CUSHING's recollection in either 1934 or 1935, and was presently located in the Harrisburg office of the firm at 221 North Second Street, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. Mr. CUSHING advised that there were no records available which would indicate that other Woodstock typewriters had ever been purchased by the company.

At the A. Pomerantz and Company Stationery Store, 1525 Chestnut Street, LESTER and AUSTIN POMERANTZ, Office Managers and part owners, were interviewed and advised subsequent to an examination of their records and questioning of old employees of the company that neither could recall ever having purchased or sold a Woodstock typewriter at any time. Each advised that they had handled Royal portable typewriters for a period and each recalled the name of THOMAS GRADY but were unable to connect GRADY's name with any specific product.

At the Wagner Taylor Company, 422 Walnut Street, Mr. HAMILTON R. DISSTON, Vice President and Office Manager, advised after an extensive search of his records that he could locate no record concerning typewriters prior to 1942, and that it was the normal practice of the company to destroy this type of record within five years. One inventory sheet was located, however, which indicated the purchase of three Woodstock typewriters between 1937 and 1939, all of which had been disposed of in 1948, and which bore the following serial numbers: 494839, 510250 and 545297. It was also determined that there were presently four Woodstock typewriters in the possession of the company all of which were determined to have been purchased in 1941 and 1942, according to the same inventory sheet and an examination of these typewriters reflected the following serial numbers: 545299, 557390, 587031 and N 595168.

At the Foreign Mission Board, 701 South 19th Street, it was determined through Rev. R. A. CROMWELL, Assistant Executive Secretary of the Board, that all of the records of the organization had been destroyed in a fire in 1943. He said that he could not personally recall having purchased any Woodstock typewriters. ALICE TRENT, Head Bookkeeper for the same organization for the past seventeen years, advised that she had no written record but recalled purchasing a new Woodstock typewriter in 1936 or 1937, and of disposing of the same typewriter by trade in in 1946. She said no record of the serial number was available.

At the office of WILLIAM F. BERKOWITZ, Market Street National Bank Building, it was ascertained through Mrs. AMELIA LONGO who has been BERKOWITZ' secretary for the past fourteen years that BERKOWITZ has owned three Woodstock typewriters all of which were purchased new. She could not produce any record which showed the actual date of purchase of these machines but was able to determine one machine was purchased in approximately 1932 and bore the serial number 2N248900. This typewriter is currently in the possession of a sister of Mrs. LONGO. In addition, Mrs. LONGO determined that a Woodstock purchased in either 1940 or 1941 was currently at her home. She did not have the serial number available but no further attempt was made to determine this serial number inasmuch as the date of purchase was 1940 or 1941 and the machine was purchased as a new machine. The Woodstock typewriter currently in possession of the office of WILLIAM F. BERKOWITZ bears number NC 726488 P.

At the office of Hare and Chase in the Finance Building, Mr. A. P. PALMER, partner in the firm, advised that records of the firm indicated that the first purchase of a Woodstock typewriter by the firm was in 1936, that this was a new machine, purchased from a salesman by the name of GAUL, now deceased. He said that his firm never purchased any used typewriters.

From NORMAN LEITHOLD at the Adelphia Electric Company, 125 North 10th Street, it was determined that only two Woodstock typewriters had been purchased by that company, that both had been purchased at the same time and were both new machines. One typewriter remained in the possession of the Adelphia Electric Company and bore serial number N 507146. Mr. LEITHOLD advised that the remaining typewriter had been sold to an individual and that he had no records which would show either the date of sale or the date of purchase of either of the typewriters in question.

At the Philadelphia Chair Company, 45 North 3rd Street, Miss MAMIE FOERY, after a complete check of her records, was able to advise that a Woodstock typewriter, No. N 487241, was purchased as a new machine on December 5, 1940, and that a Woodstock typewriter No. 276605 was purchased June 30, 1939. The second machine no longer is in the possession of the Philadelphia Chair Company and Miss FOERY does not know its whereabouts. Examination of ledger sheets reflected the purchase of other Woodstock typewriters on March 17, 1924, March 12, 1928, September 15, 1933 and April 7, 1934. However, these ledger sheets did not reflect serial numbers and other records of the company were of no assistance in determining these numbers. Miss FOERY advised that vouchers are only retained as far back as 1941.

From Mr. ALFRED B. STRICKLER, 206 Callowhill Street, it was determined that he had purchased two Woodstock typewriters in either 1941 or 1942, bearing serial numbers N 586088 and N 599720. Mr. STRICKLER believed that he had turned in two old Woodstock typewriters and a check of all available records at the company reflected the purchase of Woodstock typewriter No. 5N303678 on June 30, 1941, with the salesman's name being reflected as GAUL, and another typewriter, date of purchase unknown, which was actually a billing machine (caps only) which had serial number 8J302584. For the purchase of the latter machine a Woodstock typewriter No. 6J120722 PG had been traded in. Mr. STRICKLER had no other records concerning the purchase or trade in of Woodstock typewriters.

Mr. LESTER D. KOENIG, 621 North 2nd Street, was able to advise that he had purchased Woodstock typewriters Nos. NC 754220 and NC 754223 as new machines on June 29, 1946, and a rebuilt set bearing serial number RKS 18-10342. This latter machine has an eighteen inch carriage. In addition it was determined that two rebuilt sets purchased approximately in 1939 had since been disposed of. They bore numbers RKS 5363 and RKS 5355. It was further determined that two additional typewriters bearing serial numbers 5N430823 and 5N434618, concerning which no data was found as to date of purchase, were believed to have been purchased around 1936. No other records were available which would reflect purchase dates or serial numbers.

At the Board of Christian Education, Miss HELEN MORROW, Assistant Treasurer, advised that this organization had been previously known as the Board of Christian Education of the Reformed Church and had merged in 1936 with the Board of Christian Education of the Evangelical Church and that upon the merger new Woodstock typewriters had been purchased and have been subsequently disposed of. Miss MORROW was certain that no Woodstock typewriters had been owned prior to 1936, and no records were located concerning the purchase or sale of typewriters by the Christian Board of Education.

At the Methodist Book Shop, 1707-1709 Arch Street, Mr. G. STANLEY LYNCH, Manager, exhibited the only Woodstock typewriter in possession of the book shop. This machine bore serial number N 469—— with the remaining portion of the serial number being unreadable. An examination of the records of the book shop failed to reflect any information concerning purchase or serial numbers of Woodstock typewriters. Mr. LYNCH advised that to his knowledge this was the only Woodstock ever owned by the book shop.

At the YWCA, 18th and Arch Streets, Mrs. MARIE W. HOLMES, Secretary to the Executive Director, recalled only one Woodstock typewriter having been in the possession of the YWCA. This typewriter bears serial number N 288599. Mrs. HOLMES advised that the vouchers concerning purchases of this nature are retained by the YWCA only seven years with all vouchers then being destroyed. The cash book, however, reflected purchase of an unidentified typewriter in September 1927. No other records were available.

At the Union Bag and Paper Company, 401 North Broad Street, Miss MARION GARDNER, Secretary, advised that the company now has one Woodstock typewriter, serial number N 496820 E, which was purchased during 1937, and for which purchase an old typewriter had been turned in. However, she said that no records were available which would reflect the serial number of the typewriter turned in, but that it was possible that the New York office of the Union Bag and Paper Company might have a copy of the voucher showing the purchase of the present typewriter and the trade in of the old one. She advised that these two typewriters are the only Woodstocks ever owned by the company.

At the Electric Storage Battery Company, 19th Street and Allegheny Avenue, Mr. FRANK COSGROVE, Chief Cost Accountant, advised that the first Woodstock typewriter purchased by the firm was so purchased in 1933 and was in the 330,000 series.

At the Tradesmens National Bank, 318 Chestnut Street, through Mr. SAMUEL L. HYMAN, Accountant, it was determined that the following information was available from bank records concerning the purchase of Woodstock typewriters. Woodstock No. N 12/604935 was purchased on March 16, 1942. At the time this machine was purchased, Woodstock No. 347890 was traded in. The latter machine was purchased on September 6, 1933, and in turn an older machine, No. 230723, was traded in. This machine was purchased on August 15, 1929.

On April 30, 1934, Woodstock No. 367148 was purchased for which Woodstock No. 230782 was traded in. The latter machine was purchased on August 15, 1929.

On December 28, 1939, a Woodstock typewriter was purchased for which a Woodstock typewriter, No. 230098, was traded in. The latter machine was purchased on September 21, 1932, and in turn there was another Woodstock, No. 172886, traded in. The date of purchase of the latter machine was August 14, 1929.

It was further determined that an Underwood typewriter was purchased on June 20, 1940, for which Woodstock No. 367137 was traded in. The latter machine was purchased on April 30, 1934, and in turn there was a Woodstock typewriter, No. 233642, traded in, which machine was allegedly purchased September 19, 1929.

It was also ascertained that Woodstock typewriter No. 238876 was purchased March 18, 1930, that machine No. 173326 was purchased August 14, 1929, and was in turn traded in on machine No. 230028 on March 25, 1933.

Mr. HYMAN advised that all machines were purchased as new machines.

CHARLES DEVLIN, who formerly had offices in the Bourse Building, Philadelphia, was able to advise that he had purchased Woodstock typewriter No. 173958 as a new machine on August 8, 1928, and that he traded this machine in sometime during the early 1930's.

Mr. H. C. FENNO of Fenno and Company, Drexel Building, advised that the first Woodstock typewriter purchased by his company was so purchased on February 15, 1931, and bore serial number 272917.

Mr. MORRIS FRIEDMAN, Drexel Building, advised that the only Woodstock typewriter ever owned by him bore serial number 403331, and that this machine was traded in on October 9, 1948, to the Bundy Typewriter Company. He was unable to furnish information as to the original date of purchase of the Woodstock typewriter.

At the Hauslein Agency, it was determined that two Woodstock typewriters had been purchased. Through the efforts of Mr. WALTER EVANS, LEE HASKIN and WALTER LANGENDORFER, it was determined that two Woodstock typewriters had been ordered on September 26, 1927, and had been delivered on September 28, 1927. These two machines bore the following serial numbers: 165148 and 169111. It was also determined that a Woodstock typewriter ordered June 29, 1928 was delivered July 2, 1928, and bore serial number 179323.

At the National Health and Accident Insurance Company, 244 South 8th Street, through Mr. JOHN LEWIS, it was determined that a Woodstock typewriter purchased new on June 27, 1927, bore serial number 157757, and that a second Woodstock typewriter purchased on September 21, 1928, bore serial number 175293.

At the Strayers Business College, 905 Walnut Street, it was determined that the following new Woodstock typewriters were purchased on November 26, 1926:

148238 through 148255

The next purchase of Woodstock typewriters by the Strayers Business College occurred in 1929, when the previously listed typewriters were traded in. All the new typewriters in 1929 were in the 202,000 series.

At the West Disinfecting Company, 49th Street and Grays Avenue, Mr. EDWIN G. FIEDLER, District Manager, advised after a complete search of his records that he could find no record of any Woodstock typewriter having been owned by that office prior to a purchase ledger dated back to 1939. This ledger reflected only that a Woodstock typewriter had been purchased but no date of purchase or serial number was listed.

Mr. FIEDLER stated that he recalled having bought a Woodstock typewriter from either TOM GRADY or FRANK SNYDER, both of whom had subsequently been employed by the West Disinfecting Company. He said that all Woodstock typewriters so purchased had been disposed of and no records were available to show disposition. Further, he said he had no recollection of purchase of Woodstock typewriters extending as far back as 1927 or 1928. He advised that no personnel record exists concerning FRANK W. SNYDER and that he was unable to give any information concerning SNYDER's address. He could only state that SNYDER worked for the West Disinfecting Company from January 4, 1934 to January 19, 1935.

ATTEMPTS TO LOCATE ADDITIONAL TYPEWRITING SPECIMENS

Previous investigation has reflected that ANTHONY WHITTAKER, an attorney in the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Building, was the attorney who filed the will of THOMAS L. FANSIER in 1940. Investigation at Norfolk, Virginia, has further reflected that WHITTAKER is presently the attorney for Miss DAISY FANSIER. Previous contact with Mr. WHITTAKER failed to indicate the existence of any typewritten documents in his possession which might be secured for comparison purposes. At that time, however, he advised that he would make a further check of his records in an attempt to locate such specimens. Mr. WHITTAKER has subsequently advised that he had a typewritten letter in his possession dated September 11, 1941, received from Miss DAISY FANSIER. He advised that he would request permission from DAISY FANSIER to turn this letter over to the FBI and subsequently advised that such permission had been obtained and that in furnishing the permission, Miss FANSIER had stated that the letter in question had been written on a Corona typewriter. The letter was obtained from Mr. WHITTAKER and has been furnished to the Bureau Laboratory for an examination.

By report dated December 23, 1948, the Newark Office advised that Mrs. THOMAS C. FOX, former secretary of FANSIER-MARTIN, recalled typing correspondence to one BERTAN _____, a nephew of LOUIS HOFFMAN.

Mr. HARRY L. MARTIN has advised that BERTAN is actually BURTON WRIGHT, a nephew of LOUIS HOFFMAN, his predecessor as partner with THOMAS L. FANSIER.

Interview with BURTON WRIGHT reflected that he had nothing in his possession of a typewritten nature which might be of interest to the instant investigation. He advised, however, that he would examine the belongings of his mother to determine whether or not she had such material. He subsequently furnished to the Philadelphia Office two letters, one dated April 14, 1927, and a second dated May 4, 1927, both of which had been received by his mother from THOMAS L. FANSIER. These letters have been submitted to the Bureau Laboratory for examination. Mr. WRIGHT's address is 5110 Germantown Avenue.

Other attempts were made to locate additional specimens as follows and have been unproductive to date:

HARRY L. MARTIN has been reinterviewed regarding any organizations to which THOMAS FANSIER belonged, regarding bank accounts formerly maintained by FANSIER and further regarding former customers of FANSIER whom he might recall.

MARTIN, upon reflection, now recalls that FANSIER was a member of the Evanston Lodge, Masonic Order. The Chicago Office has been requested to contact the officers of this lodge for the location of possible typewritten specimens.

In addition, MARTIN recalled that FANSIER had at one time belonged to the Philadelphia Life Underwriters Association.

Contact with Mr. CHARLES MERZ, Secretary of the above organization and who is located at 1616 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, failed to reveal any typewritten correspondence available for comparison purposes. Mr. MERZ searched the records of the organization and was able only to advise that THOMAS FANSIER had been made an honorary member of the society in 1935. He advised that all records of the organization are in his possession.

MARTIN also advised that he recalled the fact that FANSIER had maintained a bank account at the old Fourth Street National Bank which had subsequently been taken over by the Philadelphia National Bank. He likewise stated that it was possible that FANSIER had some dealings with the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Company.

Reinterview with Mrs. KATHERINE LOGERMAN SHOTWELL, former Secretary of FANSLER-MARTIN regarding bank accounts, substantiated the information concerning an account at the Fourth Street National Bank but Mrs. SHOTWELL was unable to furnish any information concerning additional accounts. It had also been previously indicated by Mrs. ANNE C. FOX in Newark report dated December 23, 1948, that an account had been maintained at the Fourth Street National Bank and the Philadelphia National Bank.

Mr. WALTER PFEIFER, Manager of the Bookkeeping Department of the Philadelphia National Bank, advised that THOMAS L. FANSLER had opened an account with the Fourth Street National Bank on June 8, 1910, and that on May 1, 1940, the account had changed to the estate of THOMAS L. FANSLER with CLARA DAISY FANSLER executrix. The account had been finally closed January 15, 1942. Mr. PFEIFER advised that the Fourth Street National Bank had been taken over by the Philadelphia National Bank and all records of the organization were available through him. He further stated that at the time the account was opened, the address listed was 1616 Walnut Street and the address of the estate was 1518 Spruce Street.

Mr. PFEIFER further advised that no recordak system existed and that the only record of checks was on ledger cards showing the dates and amounts, including deposits and withdrawals. He further advised that no correspondence was maintained for more than six years and could furnish no suggestions of value in an attempt to locate additional specimens written on FANSLER's typewriter.

Mr. WALTER M. HORNE, Manager, Bookkeeping Department, Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Company, advised that a joint account had been opened May 12, 1928 in the names of THOMAS FANSLER and WILLIAM R. FANSLER with residence listed at Kings Court Apartments, 3450 Chestnut Street. The account was transferred October 26, 1928, to a joint savings account which reverted to THOMAS FANSLER after the death of his wife in 1939. The account was closed January 17, 1940. He further advised that the recordak system of the bank went into effect in 1933 or 1934, and a subsequent check by him failed to reflect any correspondence regarding the FANSLER account. He stated that correspondence was maintained by the bank for a period of only ten years.

MARTIN also furnished the following names as individuals with whom he recalled FANSLER having conducted insurance transactions:

STEWART SMYTHE
DR. THOMAS BELL
DR. CHARLES W. DAVID
WAYNE C. MESCHTER

Kisseloff-5451

In the presence of the reporting agent MARTIN telephonically contacted each of these individuals and requested that they examine any correspondence that they might maintain to determine whether or not they had correspondence received from FANSIER with regard to their insurance. In the event additional correspondence is located by these individuals it will be forwarded to the Bureau for comparison purposes.

MARTIN also advised that he recalled THOMAS FANSIER at one time having written a brochure concerning himself which he had had published and that this had been published through the firm of CHARLES J. ARMOR, 147 North 10th Street.

Contact with WESLEY ARMOR, son of CHARLES J. ARMOR, deceased, reflected that no original manuscripts or correspondence concerning THOMAS L. FANSIER has been retained by the company. Mr. ARMOR conducted a complete search of records available and subsequently conducted a search of his father's effects maintained in a safe deposit vault without being able to locate any information of value.

Mr. MARTIN also advised that with regard to Dr. CHARLES W. DAVID, a former client of THOMAS FANSIER, he was aware that Dr. DAVID had formerly been a professor of Bryn Mawr College, the college attended by PRISCILLA FANSIER HOBSON HISS, and that he was aware that Bryn Mawr College had paid some insurance premiums on the policy of Dr. DAVID.

AT BRYN MAWR, PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. RAYMOND G. BUCKLEY, Comptroller, Bryn Mawr College, advised that the college has an agreement with most members of the faculty whereby five per cent of their salary is deducted and matched by a similar contribution by the college and paid as annuities or insurance. He examined all files available without locating any correspondence regarding the insurance of Dr. DAVID. He stated that the only record available reflected that bills were received and payments made of premiums. He advised that Dr. DAVID had a $5,000.00 policy, No. 2,028,621, dated October 27, 1927, and also had policy No. 1,357,177, dated September 18, 1919; No. 1,452,165 dated September 17, 1920, and No. 2,248,251, dated April 15, 1930. Dr. DAVID is no longed employed by Bryn Mawr College.

No lead is being set forth for the Milwaukee Office to contact the head office of the Northwestern Life Insurance Company relative to the policies of Dr. DAVID.

Kisseloff-5452

Other requests have been received requesting investigation at Bryn Mawr College concerning membership by PRISCILLA HISS in sororities, contribution to scholarship funds and a complete review of any files which might reflect typewritten correspondence.

Mrs. MARIAN C. ANDERSON, Recorder, has advised that Bryn Mawr College being a Quaker college has no sororities.

Miss JEAN WHITBEY, Executive Secretary, Bryn Mawr College Fund, advised that the records of the college fund reflect that during a special drive in 1946, Mrs. ALGER HISS pledged the sum of $100.00 which was paid in three separate amounts during 1947 and 1948. At the time Mrs. HISS was listed as residing at 3210 P Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

A further check with Miss FLORENCE HITCHCOCK, Executive Secretary of the Alumnae Association at Bryn Mawr College, reflected minor pledges on the part of PRISCILLA FANSLER HISS on May 6, 1925, December 8, 1926 and March 24, 1944. No typewritten correspondence was available regarding the pledges and contributions made by Mrs. HISS.

The Bryn Mawr College Register of Alumnae contains a record filled out on October 31, 1937, indicating the permanent residence then of Mrs. HISS as 1245 - 30th Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. It further indicates that she was born October 13, 1903, had been previously married to THAYER HOBSON in 1925, divorced in 1928 and had married ALGER HISS in 1929; that a son, TIMOTHY HOBSON, had been born September 19, 1926, and that Mrs. HISS had pursued graduate study at Yale University, no dates listed, where she had studied English, and at Columbia University in 1929, where she had received a Master's degree in English Literature. This record also indicated that Mrs. HISS had in collaboration with ROBERTA FANSLER written "Research in the Fine Arts in the Colleges and Universities of the United States" which had been published by the Carnegie Corporation in 1934.

It was also indicated that ROBERTA MURRAY FANSLER ALFORD is a sister-in-law of PRISCILLA HISS and that she likewise graduated from Bryn Mawr in 1924. Her residence is listed as 55A Charles Field Street, Providence, 6, Rhode Island. The Alumnae Association also contained a card dated November 1, 1941, indicating that the mailing address of Mrs. HISS was 3415 Volta Place, N.W., Washington, D. C., with her permanent address as c/o Department of State, Washington, D. C. This card lists another child, ANTHONY HISS, born August 5, 1941. A subsequent card postmarked November 22, 1943, indicated her address as 3213 P Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., and lists volunteer activities as O.C.D. and Red Cross.

Upon the advice of Miss HITCHCOCK further contact was made with JAY HENRY SCATTERGOOD, Treasurer of Bryn Mawr College, located at 1616 Walnut Street, for possible information regarding donations by the HISS family. Mr. SCATTERGOOD advised that he has no records of any such donations and indicated that his office handles only large contributions and scholarships.

Miss HITCHCOCK likewise searched her records in an attempt to locate any correspondence from Mrs. HISS regarding her activity in the Alumnae Association at Washington. She advised that these records did not go beyond 1940, and stated that the President of the Washington Branch in 1940 was Mrs. JOHN L. VANDEGRIFT, 3241 38th Street, Washington, D. C. Mrs. VANDEGRIFT is likewise currently Chairman of the Scholarship Commission in Washington and knows most, according to Miss HITCHCOCK, about the club activities. She said that club records were undoubtedly maintained by Mrs. VANDEGRIFT in 1940 in her home but that such records would be meager. She further advised that Mrs. VANDEGRIFT expected to leave the United States shortly for Japan.

A lead has been set forth by teletype for the Washington Field Office to contact Mrs. VANDEGRIFT relative to any Alumnae Association records in Washington.

The possibility that Mrs. HISS had submitted a thesis while at Bryn Mawr was investigated and a thorough check of the school records failed to reveal any such material. Mrs. CATHERINE FOX, Assistant to Miss HITCHCOCK, advised that it was doubtful that a thesis would be submitted by an undergraduate and that term papers written would be returned to the writer. She advised that Mrs. HISS had been a friend of Mr. SAMUEL CHEW, a teacher at Bryn Mawr and that she might have corresponded with him.

Professor SAMUEL CHEW, Bryn Mawr College, advised that he recalled both PRISCILLA HISS and ROBERTA MURRAY (FINSIER) during their matriculation at the college. He said that he also saw them in Switzerland during 1924, but that he had not heard from either since to the best of his knowledge, and that he had no correspondence whatsoever which might be of assistance.

AT SWARTHMORE, PENNSYLVANIA

Mrs. MILDRED WALICHUCK, Registrar's Office, Swarthmore College, advised that TIMOTHY HOBSON had matriculated at Swarthmore College on March 6, 1944, as a participant in the Navy V 12 program. At that time his address was listed as 3210 P Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., and his parent listed as ALGER HISS, step-father. It was further indicated that he was born September 19, 1926, and that his religion was Friend. He completed the Spring and Summer semesters of 1944, and arrived and departed from the college under Navy orders. There was no correspondence available concerning TIMOTHY HOBSON. The college did have a secondary record reflecting attendance at the George School which had been forwarded to Swarthmore College, November 23, 1943, and reflected the home address of HOBSON as 3415 Volta Place, N.W., Washington, D. C., and indicating attendance September 1940 to February 1944.

Mrs. DORIS SOULE advised that she was well acquainted with the HISS family, that she had had the HISS family as guests at her summer home in Peacham, Vermont, and that she in turn had visited the HISS family in their apartment in Washington, D. C. She said that, however, she had no correspondence received from the HISS family.

It is of interest to note that while Mrs. SOULE appeared entirely cooperative and stated that she realized the FBI had to make this investigation, she was nevertheless entirely convinced of the innocence of ALGER HISS. During the interview a young woman, subsequently identified as Miss POLLY FANSLER, entered the room and was introduced as a niece of Mrs. ALGER HISS. Miss FANSLER advised that she had been previously interviewed by FBI agents.

AT WESTTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA

Inquiry at the Westtown School reflected that TIMOTHY HOBSON had at no time attended that school nor was any correspondence available which indicated inquiry on the part of HISS' parents regarding possible matriculation at the school.

MISCELLANEOUS

By teletype dated January 4, 1949, the Washington Field Office requested that the Voters Registration records at Philadelphia be examined inasmuch as the personal history statement of PRISCILLA HISS, dated July 19, 1939, listed Philadelphia as her legal residence.

Mr. JOHN F. STEINAUER, Voters Registration Commission, City Hall Annex, advised that there was no record in the commission of ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS or of PRISCILLA FANSLER or of PRISCILLA HOBSON in either the active or inactive files. His records included information as far back as 1940, and he said that prior records were destroyed. He further advised that Philadelphia never had an absentee ballot except for military members during World War II.

By teletype dated January 5, 1949, from the New York Office, the Dallas Office was requested to contact Mr. H. M. WEBSTER regarding daily machine reports of the Philadelphia agency of the Woodstock Typewriter Company.

Mr. JOHN O. CAROW, Manager of the Philadelphia Woodstock Agency during 1927 and subsequent years and who has been previously interviewed regarding records of the agency, was recontacted for information he might have regarding the maintenance of these daily machine reports. He advised that these were a part of the official records of the agency not separately maintained and were handled as any other official record. He stated that they thus would have been passed on to each succeeding manager of the agency and not maintained in any separate location.

Mr. CAROW was also questioned concerning the amount of time new typewriters would remain on the shelves of the agency during 1927. CAROW has established that he took over the Philadelphia agency managership in November 1926, and he advised that within two months after his arrival he had sent all old stock back to the factory and had replaced it with new machines and that these new machines generally did not stay on the shelves more than two or three months.

Investigation was conducted concerning the Kings Court Apartments, 3450 Chestnut Street, in which apartment THOMAS FANSLER resided until the time of his death.

It was determined that the apartments had been originally built and owned by the estate of THOMAS M. SEEDS, Jr., but had been sold in 1945 to Drs. DAVID PROMIN, MAURICE SCHNEIMAN and HERMAN FRIENAM and that the agent for these individuals was RALPH LIPSHUTZ, 25 South 18th Street.

RALPH LIPSHUTZ, 25 South 18th Street, advised that at the time the Kings Court Apartments were acquired from the estate of THOMAS SEEDS, the only records taken over were active leases and that no previous leases, correspondence, et cetera, were taken.

Mr. LUCAS DARXTEY, 1208 Race Street, advised that he had been engineer for the SEEDS estate and that at the time the Kings Court Apartments were sold all records except current leases were destroyed.

In an attempt to limit the range of serial numbers in which the machine purchased by FANSLER-MARTIN would fall, it should be considered that THOMAS GRADY, who sold the Woodstock typewriter to the FANSLER-MARTIN partnership, resigned from the Woodstock Company on December 3, 1927. JOHN CAROW, Manager of the Philadelphia Agency during all of 1927, and for a number of years thereafter, has advised that there were no inventory shortages prior to 1933. This would eliminate the possibility that GRADY stole a typewriter and sold it to FANSLER-MARTIN during later years of partnership. Likewise, GRADY states that he sold a Woodstock typewriter to FANSLER-MARTIN shortly after that partnership commenced. A letter obtained by the Milwaukee Office, dated July 23, 1927 (K-12), and forwarded to the Laboratory for comparison, indicates active partnership commenced approximately August 1, 1927. Therefore, the machine was obviously manufactured before GRADY's resignation from the Woodstock Company on December 3, 1927. The Woodstock Service Manual reflects the serial number current as of January 1, 1928, as 177100. JOHN GALLAGHER, who was the repair man for the Woodstock Company at Philadelphia during the period of sale to FANSLER-MARTIN, and who subsequently became Manager of Woodstock's Philadelphia Agency, has stated that machines did not remain on the agency inventory for long periods before sale. In his opinion, not longer than three months. To allow a margin of error in GALLAGHER's memory, it appears logical that, assuming a new machine were on the inventory as much as eighteen months prior to the sale to FANSLER-MARTIN, this would make the manufacture date of such machine not prior to January 1, 1926, or serial number 159300, as reflected in the Service Manual.

It is felt that as much as eighteen months prior to the partnership should be considered inasmuch as is shown in this report a typewriter was purchased on June 27, 1927, by the National Health and Accident Insurance Company which bore serial number 157757, and which, according to the Service Manual previously mentioned, would have been manufactured in the later part of 1926. It is necessary to allow a margin of time prior to the purchase of the FANSLER-MARTIN machine sufficient to insure that manufacture of this machine would be assured within the period selected.

RALPH B. PRICE

1405 Glenarm Place
Residence - 2570 South Fillmore
Denver, Colorado

Mr. PRICE was interviewed by Special Agent GERALD E. GOTSCHALL and the Reporting Agent on January 3 and January 5, 1949, and the following signed statement was obtained from Mr. PRICE:

"Denver, Colorado
January 5, 1949

"I, Ralph B. Price, make the following voluntary statement to Special Agents GERALD E. GOTSCHALL and EDWIN O. JOHNSON of the Federal Bureau of Investigation:

"The first time that I saw Philip Reno was at a meeting at the YWCA in the summer of 1941. I do not recall specifically what the meeting was about but it seems it might have been concerning 'civil rights.' At this meeting one John McLucas pointed out Philip Reno to me and mentioned that he was 'quite far to the left.' I cannot say that McLucas meant by this statement that Reno was a Communist. Sometime later, along with several other people of a liberal group, I was invited to Reno's residence on Vallejo Street to attend a social function. I do not remember the day but I know that I formally met Phil Reno at his home.

"I became acquainted at this gathering with one Bill McMurphy who had been with the NYA in Montana and whom I later learned to be a member of the Communist Party. At the time I was employed by the Social Security Board in Denver in the office of the Defense Health and Welfare Services. It was probably in the latter part of 1941 or the early part of 1942. I recall that I had met McMurphy on one or two occasions as he had been associated in a union which I had been asked to become a member. In the latter part of 1942 or early 1943 Bill McMurphy invited himself to my residence at 1700 South Emerson Street, Denver, and stated he was leaving Denver and wished to see me. During this visit at my residence Bill McMurphy approached me to become a member of the Communist Party, to which he belonged. He explained that I would become a member of a sort of 'closed' group and gave me to understand that I would have comrades among the people I knew. Later he called and asked me to meet him at lunch to try again to recruit me and he told me that he had contacted Norman Pixler to recruit him into the Communist Party.

"Up to the time McMurphy approached me, my acquaintance with him had been very casual. By way of explaining why he had approached me to become a member of the Communist Party, he stated I had been recommended to him by several people with whom I worked. McMurphy further explained that previous to his departure from Denver he was contacting several persons to propose that they join the Communist Party. The only person he named specifically was the above-mentioned Norman Pixler.

"McMurphy did not press the issue of my joining the Communist Party any further and I at no time agreed to join the Communist Party.

"My wife had been acquainted with Phil Reno's wife, who died early in 1943, in an organization called 'The League of Women Shoppers', however, this was an organization of many liberal-minded women whose aims were to improve the purchasing of goods by women. In this connection, Phil Reno's wife was very active and my wife and I suspected there were several women in this league who were leftists. Whether or not they were Communist Party members I am not in a position to say.

"I had only been with the War Labor Board for a matter of a few weeks prior to the time that Phil Reno resigned. I, therefore, did not know too much about what went on at the War Labor Board while Phil Reno was there. I can state that at no time did I see Communist propaganda distributed, such as the 'Daily Worker', at the War Labor Board. I cannot, at the time, recall that Phil Reno ever personally told me that he was a member of the Communist Party or that he recommended me to the Communist Party or that other people had told me that Phil Reno was a member of the Communist Party.

"As explained above, I came to the War Labor Board in January 1943 on the specific recommendation of Clarence Moore, who was personnel manager, and I did not see much of Phil Reno.

"To my knowledge, Phil Reno never extracted documents from the government offices for the purpose of turning them over to unauthorized persons; nor, to my knowledge, did he ever orally transmit any confidential government information to unauthorized persons. I have never heard anyone indicate that he was even suspected of such activities.

"At the time he was employed at the War Labor Board, and for sometime previous to that, I suspected that Phil Reno might be a member of the Communist Party. I know he associated quite frequently with Bill McMurphy who I knew to be a member of the Communist Party.

"I have read this statement and to the best of my recollection it represents the truth.

/s/ G. E. Gotschall, " " 1-5-49."

The original of the above signed statement is being retained in the exhibit envelope attached to this file.

Mr. PRICE explained that he had an impression back in 1943 that PHILIP RENO might have been a member of the Communist Party but he does not have any evidence to support this belief and feels that the belief is based upon three things - PHILIP RENO's association with BILL MC MURPHY whose name is WILLIAM MC MURPHY; the impression that RENO made pro-Soviet Union remarks; and RENO's reputation for having been a leftist; however, PRICE cannot recall any specific remarks made by RENO of a pro-Soviet nature nor does he remember anyone who came out and directly stated PHILIP RENO was a member of the Communist Party.

Mr. PRICE stated that he had been at some social gatherings at which PHILIP RENO was also in attendance but he never construed any of these social gatherings to be Communist Party meetings and he is sure that he was never at a function where only individuals whom he might have suspected of being Communists were present.

Mr. PRICE further stated that AMER LEHMAN, who now is a rancher near Yuma, Colorado, was formerly Administrator of the N.Y.A. in its closing days in Colorado. Mr. PRICE believes that Mr. LEHMAN knew PHILIP RENO very well and is of the impression that Mr. LEHMAN might have had differences of opinion with PHILIP RENO with reference to federal union activity.

Mr. PRICE also indicated that DWIGHT BAIRD, presently president of the Trinidad Junior College, Trinidad, Colorado, was formerly connected with N.Y.A. in about 1941 and he believes that Mr. BAIRD would be in a position to give information concerning PHILIP RENO because of PHILIP RENO's activity in the Federal Workers Union.

Mr. PRICE admitted that his wife, LELA PRICE, at one time attended a social gathering in about 1945, when BETTY GANNETT, a national Communist Party functionary was in attendance; however, Mr. PRICE stated that his wife never has been interested in Communism but she did associate with what he termed "liberal minded individuals."

Mr. PRICE also stated he had no evidence that any of PHILIP RENO's close associates at the War Labor Board, such as GLENN EARLE and DWIGHT SPENCER, were members of the Communist Party nor does he have any direct basis for suspecting that they might have been, although he concedes that it could have been possible.

CHARLES BINNA
4241 West Byron Place
Business address
Hayman Window Co.
44th and Race Streets
Denver, Colorado

Mr. BINNA was interviewed by Special Agent JOSEPH C. LEARNED and the Reporting Agent on December 27, 1948, concerning his knowledge of PHILIP RENO's Communist Party activities or sympathies in 1941 and 1942 in Denver, Colorado. It will be recalled in referenced report of Special Agent EDWIN O. JOHNSON dated December 24, 1948, at Denver, Colorado, NORMAN PIXLER charged that BINNA was present when PHILIP RENO endeavored to recruit him, PIXLER, into the Communist Party.

CHARLES BINNA is presently part owner of the Hayman Window Co. and confidential informants of the Denver Office do not indicate that he has been actively engaged in Communist Party affairs since his return from the Armed Services in about 1946.

In addition to NORMAN PIXLER's charges concerning CHARLES BINNA, one MARION C. FRAZIER, representative for the Retail Clerks Union, CIO, Local 269, Denver, Colorado, residence 3405 Pierce Street, Lakewood, Colorado, reported on November 26, 1948, and confirmed upon reinterview December 28, 1948, that he joined the Communist Party in the fall of 1943, having been recruited by GEORGE KNOTT; however, he only remained in the Party for a short time, but during the time of his membership he had occasion to attend some Communist Party meetings at the home of GEORGE KNOTT in South Denver and also at the home of GRAHAM and EUNICE DOLAN in West Denver. He states that CHARLES BINNA was nearly always in attendance. He recalls that at a meeting at the home of MORRIS WRIGHT, he does not recall the exact address, he, FRAZIER, paid his Communist Party dues to Mrs. CHARLES BINNA.

Confidential Informant DR-4, upon reinterview, confirmed previous information given that CHARLES BINNA attended various Communist Party functions in 1941, 1942, and 1943. DR-4 was formerly a member of the Communist Party and feels that he is in a position to say that CHARLES BINNA was one of the comrades although he never saw his Party card. He indicated that BINNA was active in the movement even prior to 1941 and he considered BINNA a rather important Communist Party member.

Confidential Informant DR-4 advised upon reinterview on December 27, 1949, by Special Agent JOSEPH S. JOHNSON and the Reporting Agent, that although he reported in 1941 that PHIL RENO was an undercover agent for the Communists, he does not have any evidence on which to support this belief. He recalls that his impression of PHIL RENO's Communist Party connection was based on RENO's association with CHARLES BINNA. However, DR-4 does not recall ever attending a Communist Party meeting attended by PHILIP RENO nor does he recall any comrade who specifically stated PHILIP RENO was a Communist.

Mr. CLINTON D. WALLACE, 9570 West 11th Avenue, Lakewood, Colorado, reported on March 8, 1948, that he had been a member of the Communist Party in the early 1944 period and displayed his Communist Party book No. 45937. He stated, however, he did not remain in the Communist Party long and, therefore, desired to give Special Agent JOSEPH C. LEARNED some information concerning the former Communist Party activities and members. Mr. WALLACE mentioned that he attended meetings at the home of GEORGE KNOTT in South Denver and at the home of EUNICE and GRAHAM DOLAN and that CHARLES BINNA had been in attendance and he considered CHARLES BINNA one of the Communist Party members. Upon reinterview on January 6, 1949, Mr. WALLACE confirmed his previous statements concerning BINNA, however, he never became acquainted with PHILIP RENO and does not know anything about him.

The same is true of MARION FRAZIER who stated that he is not in a position to state that PHILIP RENO was a member of the Communist Party although he had that impression in 1944, but he never attended any Communist Party meetings when PHILIP RENO was in attendance.

During the interview of Mr. CHARLES BINNA, he stated he had been with the LPA in the late 1930's and he became acquainted with PHILIP RENO in about 1937 or 1938, when PHILIP RENO paid a visit to Denver while the latter was working in Washington, D. C. He recalls that this visit by PHILIP RENO was in connection with the Federal Workers Union activity. Specifically, he recalls, that PHILIP RENO spoke to a group of American Federation of Teachers on this visit to Denver.

Mr. BINNA explained that RENO returned to Denver and worked with the government in Denver in 1941 and 1942; that he was well acquainted socially with RENO; and that he was also active with RENO in union affairs. BINNA was representative of the International Longshoremen's Warehouse Union, CIO in Denver after he left the NYA in the fall of 1941. He later became connected with the CIO Council in Denver and in this capacity he sought advice or counsel from PHILIP RENO on some occasions in Union matters. He explained that RENO was active in the Federal Workers Union activity and was capable in union matters.

Mr. BINNA categorically denied having any knowledge that PHILIP RENO was a member of the Communist Party or sympathetic to the Communist Party in 1941, 1942, and 1943. Mr. BINNA went into the Armed Forces in 1944. Mr. BINNA also denied his own membership or having had anything to do with the Communist Party. Mr. BINNA specifically denied that he was ever present at DWIGHT SPENCER's motel home when PHILIP RENO or anyone else tried to recruit NORMAN PIXLER into the Communist Party. Mr. BINNA admits having visited DWIGHT SPENCER, probably in the company of PHILIP RENO and DWIGHT SPENCER.

Mr. GLENN EARLE
4935 St. Paul Street
Employment Counselor
Colorado State Employment Service
14th and Broadway
Denver, Colorado

Mr. EARLE was interviewed on December 29, 1948, by Special Agent JOSEPH C. LEARNED and the Reporting Agent at which time he stated that he was connected with the NYA in the early part of 1941 and later transferred to the War Manpower Commission of the Federal Government. He became acquainted with PHILIP RENO in 1941 in connection with his Federal Workers Union. He knew PHILIP RENO socially as well but denies he has any knowledge that PHILIP RENO is or ever was a member of the Communist Party or engaged in any Communist Party activities. He does not feel that it was PHILIP RENO who recommended him for a position in the War Labor Board in about December, 1943, although he would not make this statement as a certainty. He admits he was acquainted with TRACY ROGERS and ARTHUR BARY in 1944 when he knew they were Communist Party members.

Mr. EARLE states that during the time he was employed at the War Labor Board he did not see Communist Party literature distributed among employees; that PHILIP RENO did not engage in Communist Party activities at the War Labor Board; and that he has no knowledge that any employees of the War Labor Board were members of or active in the Communist Party movement.

Mr. EARLE stated that to his knowledge PHILIP RENO never took any documents from government files to deliver or show to unauthorized persons, nor does he have any knowledge that PHILIP RENO ever orally disclosed information obtained from his government employment to unauthorized persons.

Mr. EARLE stated he cannot remember having been in the home of DWIGHT SPENCER at the motel at about West Alameda and Santa Fe Drive late in 1942 when CHARLES BINNA, NORMAN PIXLER, BILL MC MURPHY and PHILIP RENO were present. He is certain he was never present at such a gathering when anyone tried to recruit NORMAN PIXLER into the Communist Party. He stated it was possible that he had visited the DWIGHT SPENCER motel residence on one or more occasions with one or more of the above mentioned individuals. Mr. EARLE denies that he has been associated with the Communist Party movement in Denver but stated that he took a minor role in the organizing of the newspaper "Challenge" which was Communist dominated.

Mr. EARLE emphasized his association with PHILIP RENO was primarily the result of their mutual interest in the work of the Federal Workers Union.

With reference to Mr. GLENN EARLE, reliable Confidential Informant DRFD-4 reported on March 21, 1946, that ARTHUR BARY, Chairman of the Communist Party, District 19, told GRAHAM DOLAN, editor of "Challenge" (the Communist dominated newspaper) that PHILIP RENO suggested GLENN EARLE, TED WILSON, SOFIA BARY, and ED CURRIE and he should have a meeting concerning the policy of the newspaper "Challenge."

The above-mentioned informant reported in September, 1944, that EARLE was in contact with Communist Political Association officials JACK PERLMUTTER and ARTHUR BARY.

On March 10, 1945, Special Agents C. FRANK WILLIAMSON and HOWARD E. WEST observed GLENN EARLE with LOU ZEITLIN and WILLIAM DIETRICH (according to Confidential Informant DRFD-4 and DR-4, ZEITLIN and DIETRICH were members of the Communist Political Association) at the First National Bank Building lobby where they met LEM HARRIS, who, according to Confidential Informants, was then a member of the National Committee of the Communist Political Association who was visiting Denver on March 10, 1945.

On May 28, 1945, Special Agents ROBERT J. CAMPBELL, HOWARD E. WEST and MILO C. JOHNSON observed TRACY ROGERS and GLENN EARLE meet BETTY GANNETT, National Membership Director of the Communist Party at the Station. All three thereupon drove to the home of HORACE CRITCHLOW in Morrison, Colorado.

Confidential Informant DR-4 reported that he had attended a meeting on May 2, 1945, of various Communist Party members at the home of ISAAC WEINER at 1000 Cove Way, Denver; that GLENN EARLE was among those present; and that this group consisted of individuals who did not want to be publicly associated with the Communist Party.

DWIGHT SPENCER
726 Grape Street
(No known occupation)
Denver, Colorado

Mr. SPENCER was interviewed by Special Agent JOSEPH C. LEARNED and the Reporting Agent on December 30, 1948; however, it should be pointed out that on December 28, 1948, efforts were made by the Reporting Agent to make an appointment with Mr. SPENCER telephonically and he advised that he would not speak with Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and any information or any arrangements concerning any interview should be made with his attorney Mr. CHARLES GRAHAM. Mr. GRAHAM was, therefore, requested to make an appointment in order that Special Agents might interview Mr. SPENCER. Mr. GRAHAM made necessary arrangements and advised the Reporting Agent that he had instructed his client, Mr. SPENCER to call at the F.B.I. Office and be interviewed.

At the outset of the interview, Mr. SPENCER stated that he had been reluctant to have anything to do with the F.B.I. since he was investigated several years before under the Hatch Act and that he felt that this investigation had injured his reputation in government service. Mr. SPENCER was advised that this inquiry was in no way connected with a Hatch Act investigation and that the F.B.I. was desirous of asking him certain questions upon the instruction of Special Assistant to the Attorney General in New York City.

Mr. SPENCER advised that he became acquainted with PHILIP RENO while he was connected with the National Youth Administration in Colorado and PHILIP RENO was with the Social Security Board in about 1941. They became associated to an extent in that both were interested in Union activity among federal workers. Mr. SPENCER later was employed by the War Labor Board in Denver at about the same time as PHILIP RENO which was late in 1943. He could not state whether or not PHILIP RENO recommended him for this work and he explained that he applied for the government position with War Labor Board to Mr. CLARENCE MOORE who was then personnel manager of the War Labor Board.

Mr. SPENCER stated that he at no time ever suspected PHILIP RENO of being a member of the Communist Party and he does not know of any activities on the part of PHILIP RENO in the Communist Party. He denied that PHILIP RENO ever tried to recruit NORMAN PIXLER into the Communist Party in his home when he was living in a motel at West Alameda and Santa Fe Drive. He recalled that PHILIP RENO, BILL MC MURPHY, CHARLES BINNA and possibly GLENN EARLE were at his residence one evening in some sort of a social gathering but he stated categorically that he did not overhear anyone trying to recruit any person into the Communist Party.

Dn. File No. 65-658

Mr. SPENCER stated to his knowledge PHILIP RENO never showed any government documents to any unauthorized persons or ever orally disclosed information obtained through his government employment to unauthorized persons. Mr. SPENCER also stated that he has not engaged in any Communist Party activities but he does state he has been active in the Rocky Mountain Council for Social Action.

With respect to Mr. SPENCER, Confidential Informant DRFD-9 reported on May 24, 1945, that TRACY ROGERS, a Communist Party leader in Colorado, and BETTY GANNETT, a functionary of the Communist Party from New York City, met a group of federal workers in Denver who were members of the Communist Political Association at a closed meeting on May 24, 1945. Special Agents GEORGE E. PIERCE, and C. FRANK WILLIAMSON observed BETTY GANNETT proceed to 2435 South Madison Street which was the home of ROBERT C. WILLIAMS. Mr. SPENCER's Lincoln Zephyr automobile was observed on the street near WILLIAMS' residence and Mr. and Mrs. SPENCER were observed leaving the gathering at the home of Mr. WILLIAMS.

On April 30, 1945, Special Agents C. FRANK WILLIAMSON and ROBERT J. CAMPBELL saw Mr. SPENCER meet TRACY ROGERS, JR. who, according to Confidential Informant DRFD-4 was then organizational secretary of the Communist Political Association in Colorado. The meeting took place at 14th and Arapahoe Streets and Mr. SPENCER obtained a bundle wrapped in brown paper. Confidential Informant DRFD-4 had previously reported that these bundles contained copies of the "Daily Worker."

Special Agents GEORGE E. PIERCE nad C. FRANK WILLIAMSON observed JOHN WILLIAMSON, then National Secretary of the Communist Political Association from New York City, and JACK PERLMUTTER, president of the Communist Political Association, District 19, proceed to the home of Mr. SPENCER at 726 Grape Street and enter this residence. Shortly thereafter PHILIP RENO was observed entering this address. This occurred on December 17, 1944.

When questioned regarding PHILIP RENO's visit to his home at the time JACK PERLMUTTER and JOHN WILLIAMSON were at his residence, Mr. SPENCER categorically denied such a visit by the above mentioned individuals.

On May 18, 1945, it was learned from a strictly confidential source that BETTY GANNETT the National Membership Director of the Communist Political Association did meet with two under-cover groups in Denver

EUGENE H. VERVALIN
1760 West 51st Avenue
Denver Public Health Service employed Denver General Hospital
Denver, Colorado

Mr. VERVALIN advised that he became acquainted with NORMAN PI

PHILIP RENO in about 1941. Mr. VERVALIN at that time was employed by the National Youth Administration. He had occasion to be in RENO's company in connection with the Federal Worker's Union activities and in the same connection he had become well acquainted with NORMAN PIXLER. Mr. VERVALIN stated that he believed it was early in January, 1943, in the lobby of a building in downtown Denver, he met NORMAN PIXLER, who at that time seemed worried. PIXLER told VERVALIN at that time that on three or four occasions just prior to that, PHILIP RENO, DWIGHT SPENCER, GLENN EARLE, BILL MC MURPHY and Mr. BINNA had tried to recruit him into the Communist Party. VERVALIN stated that PIXLER told him this in the spirit of seeking advice or at least getting something that was worrying him off his mind, but actually PIXLER had already made up his mind that he was not going to join and so indicated to Mr. VERVALIN who agreed with him. Mr. VERVALIN added that he apparently had never been trusted enough by the above-mentioned group to be approached to join the Communist Party because none of them had ever mentioned even being members of the Communist Party to him. He does not have any evidence that EARIE SPENCER, CHARLES BINNA and MC MURPHY were members of the Communist Party but remembers that even in 1941, 1942, and 1943, he had some suspicions that they might be Communists.

Mr. VERVALIN also stated that he had been acquainted with a NAOMI BARTENOFF in Denver, Colorado in about 1942 and he gathered that NAOMI BARTENOFF might have been a member of the Communist Party although she did not say so. He recalled that she seemed acquainted with PHIL RENO and he has some recollection that NAOMI BARTENOFF had met PHILIP RENO in Washington, D.C. as she was particularly active in the Federal Workers Union activity, Mr. VERVALIN does not recall that NAOMI BARTENOFF ever mentioned that PHILIP RENO was a member of the Communist Party. For that matter, she did not ever say any individual was a member of the Communist Party.

AT LITTLETON, COLORADO

MRS. MARY MC LUCAS
637 Gallop Street
Littleton, Colorado

Mrs. MC LUCAS was interviewed by Special Agent GERALD E. GOTSCHALL and the Reporting Agent on January 3, 1949, concerning her knowledge of PHILIP RENO's Communist Party activities.

Mrs. MC LUCAS stated that she first became acquainted with PHILIP RENO at the University of Colorado in about 1935 when they debated on the same debate team. When PHILIP RENO graduated from the University he went to Washington, D. C. and Mrs. MC LUCAS recalls seeing him on one occasion in Washington, D. C., while she and her husband were on a visit there; however, it was just a brief meeting. Thereafter in 1941, PHILIP RENO returned to Denver with the Social Security Board and she had known him socially ever since.

Mrs. MC LUCAS describes herself as a liberal and that she has engaged in certain functions in Denver, Colorado with liberal groups, particularly the Rocky Mountain Council for Social Action; however, she stated she has never had any knowledge of PHILIP RENO's being a member or sympathetic with the Communist Party. She was employed at the War Labor Board for a period of a few weeks early in 1943 when PHILIP RENO was also employed there and stated to her knowledge PHILIP RENO never extracted any documents from government files for delivery to unauthorized persons or to her knowledge did he ever orally give information obtained through his employment to unauthorized persons.

Mrs. MC LUCAS stated she has no recollection of ever seeing any Communist literature being distributed at the War Labor Board and claims she does not know any Communist Party members.

AT DENVER, COLORADO

Mr. JESSE R. WOOD
1740 East Ohio Street
Employed by War Assets Administration
Commonwealth Building
Denver, Colorado

Mr. Wood stated that he was employed at the War Labor Board at Denver, Colorado either in the latter part of 1942 or early in 1943, at any rate, PHILIP RENO was also employed by the War Labor Board at that time. Mr. WOOD stated that he has the definite recollection that at the time he was connected with the War Labor Board, PHILIP RENO exercised considerable influence among the employees and it seemed that employees looked to RENO for advice on decisions. He is unable to recall any specific instance of the above.

Mr. WOOD also recalled that there was Communist literature at the War Labor Board and he believes that he recalled seeing a "Daily Worker" in DWIGHT SPENCER's office.

Mr. WOOD has the definite impression that PHILIP RENO, DWIGHT SPENCER and possibly GLENN EARLE at the War Labor Board could have been members of the Communist Party but he does not have any evidence on which to base this impression other than he felt particularly RENO's reasoning and conversations indicated a Communist tendency, but there again, he cannot recall any specific remarks made by RENO.

Mr. CHARLES MULFORD
2949 St. Paul Street
Director of Adult Education
Denver Civic Center
Denver, Colorado

Mr. MULFORD was interviewed by Special Agent GERALD E. GOTSCHALL and the

Kisseloff-5472

Reporting Agent on January 5, 1949, at which time he advised that he first became acquainted with PHILIP RENO in the late 1930's when PHILIP RENO was on a vacation trip to Denver from Washington, D. C. and RENO was then active in working for the unionization of federal employees. Mr. MULFORD also recalled that when PHILIP RENO returned to Denver in about 1941, RENO was still ardent in his work for the unionizing of federal workers. In this connection MULFORD attended a few union meetings at which PHILIP RENO was present. He also saw Mr. RENO socially on a very few occasions; however, Mr. MULFORD stated he has never suspected that PHILIP RENO was a member of the Communist Party or outright sympathetic with the Communist Party and although Mr. MULFORD was employed at the War Labor Board for a short time at the time PHILIP RENO was employed there, he has never heard or has knowledge of PHILIP RENO ever disclosing to unauthorized persons information or documents obtained from his government employment.

Dr. HIBER HARPER, Director of Social Security Board, 321 Equitable Building Denver, suggested that the following individuals who were employed by the Social Security Board at the time that PHILIP RENO was an employee, would have known PHILIP RENO in 1941 and 1942:

> WILLIAM H. DILLINGHAM, now Chief of Fiscal Standards Section of the Bureau of Employment Security, Washington, D. C. was PHILIP RENO's immediate supervisor.

Washington Field was requested by teletype dated December 30, 1948, to locate and interview Mr. DILLINGHAM.

> Mr. E. J. BURNETT
> Miss LOUISE LINKENHEIL
> Mrs. HAZEL VANCE and > Mr. PHILIP ALSOP.

E. J. BURNETT
1430 Albion Street
Social Security Administration
438 Equitable Building
Denver, Colorado

Mr. E. J. BURNETT, Regional Employment Security Representative of the Social Security Administration, recalled PHILIP RENO while the latter was employed as a mail reader and classifier at the Social Security Administration about 1942; however, Mr. BURNETT did not have any close contact with PHILIP RENO and, therefore, did not feel he was well acquainted with him. He has never heard of any Communist Party activity or sympathy on the part of RENO nor has he any knowledge that RENO ever disclosed to unauthorized persons any information obtained through his government employment.

Dn. File No. 65-658

Miss LOUISE LINKENHEIL
4062 South Acoma Street
Englewood, Colorado
Stenographer Social Security Administration
438 Equitable Building
Denver, Colorado

Miss LINKENHEIL advised the Reporting Agent that she worked in the mail room with PHILIP RENO for a period of many months in 1941 and 1942 and she considered him capable and conscientious in his work. She at no time suspected that he was a Communist or had any reason to do so nor had she any knowledge that he ever disclosed to unauthorized persons documents or information obtained through his government employment. She recalled Mr. RENO was very interested in Union activities and she has a recollection that at one time he endeavored to collect money from her as a contribution to a strike fund. She considered this just pure union activity.

Mrs. HAZEL M. VANCE
21 Garfield Street,
Secretary, Social Security Administration
438 Equitable Building

Mrs. VANCE was acquainted with PHILIP RENO while the latter was employed in the Social Security Administration but does not recall that she ever suspected PHILIP RENO of being a member of the Communist Party or engaging in any of its activities. To her knowledge, she is certain PHILIP RENO did not obtain documents through his government employment to disclose to unauthorized persons or that he disclosed orally information obtained through his employment to unauthorized persons.

PHILIP ALSOP
2665 South Humboldt Street
Assistant Representative
National Employment Security
438 Equitable Building
Denver, Colorado

Mr. ALSOP recalled that he met PHILIP RENO in Washington, D. C. in about 1938 or 1939 while they were both employed in the Social Security Administration; however, they were not in the same division. Mr. ALSOP recalled that he met RENO because of RENO's union activity among federal workers in the Social Security Administration. He recalled also that one ELAINE COOPER was also active as a union organizer and he believed that he recalled PHILIP RENO associating with Miss COOPER, however, he had no reason to suspect that PHILIP RENO had any connection whatever with the Communist Party. The same applies to the period when PHILIP RENO was employed by the Social Security in Denver, Colorado.

Kisseloff-5474

Mr. ALSOP also stated that to his knowledge PHILIP RENO never obtained documents from government files for disclosure to unauthorized persons nor did he orally disclose information obtained through his employment to unauthorized persons.

In the referenced report of Special Agent EDWIN O. JOHNSON dated December 24, 1948, in the above captioned case, EDWARD SCHEUNEMANN was reported to have stated CRAIG VINCENT was an associate or acquaintance of PHILIP RENO in Washington, D. C. prior to 1941.

Confidential Informant DAFD-4 who was in a position to furnish reliable information concerning Communists and Communist Front activities, has advised on several occasions that PHILIP RENO and CRAIG VINCENT were both active in the organization and affairs of the Rocky Mountain Council for Social Action. This informant also advised that PHILIP RENO and CRAIG VINCENT disagreed very strongly on the strategy of the Progressive Party movement in Colorado. Mr. VINCENT returned to Denver, Colorado, from the East after a many-year absence in 1946 and presently is Chairman of the Progressive Party of Colorado.

By letter dated March 7, 1947, in the matter entitled "RAYMOND LA VALLE; SECURITY MATTER - C" the Butte Office advised Denver that WILLIAM (BILL) MC MURPHY who had been Communist Party Organizer in Montana several years erlier, was divorced from his wife, IRENE, and had married a lady by the name of DOROTHY. This letter intimated that IRENE was believed to be living in Denver, Colorado.

A search of the City Directories failed to disclose that IRENE MC MURPHY resides in or has resided in Denver, Colorado, since 1942; furthermore, a search of the Court Records both in the District and County Courts for the period 1940 to the present, did not reflect any divorce proceedings between WILLIAM and IRENE MC MURPHY.

DETAILS: AT LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA:

INVESTIGATION CONCERNING ALGER HISS

AMERICAN PUBLICATIONS, INC.

By teletype dated January 5, 1949, the Washington Field Office advised that a biographical sketch of ALGER HISS appears in Volume III, 1938-39 Edition of the book "America's Young Men," which was published by the American Publications, Inc., 527 W. Seventh Street, Los Angeles. A request was made to contact the publisher to determine if the file on ALGER HISS contained any typewritten material of value in this investigation.

On January 7, 1949, Miss FELICE SMITH, manager of the Brock Shop building, 527 W. Seventh Street, advised that American Publications, Inc. had not maintained offices in this building for seven or eight years; that DURWARD HOWES was the president of the corporation American Publications, Inc.; and that HOWES could be located at a jewelry company which he operates at the present time at 3059 Wilshire Boulevard in Los Angeles.

On the same date DURWARD HOWES was telephonically contacted by the writer, and advised that he ceased publication of the book "America's Young Men" approximately ten years ago; that he saved the records for three or four years and then destroyed all of his files in 1942. As a result, he has no correspondence or other records pertaining to the above-mentioned book or the individuals whose names appeared in the book. Mr. HOWES stated, however, that all the information which appeared concerning individuals in his book "America's Young Men" was specifically approved by the individual concerned; therefore, he could state that any information that appeared in the book had been acknowledged as true by the person concerned.

WILLIAM ROSEN

By teletype dated January 4, 1949, the Washington Field Office requested the Los Angeles office to interview WILLIAM ROSEN, who was presently residing with his son, MILTON ROSEN, 2120-C 17th Street, Santa Monica, California. The teletype mentioned that WILLIAM ROSEN is reported to have received a 1929 Ford automobile from HISS in 1936, and it was desired to know whether ROSEN had also received a typewriter from ALGER HISS.

On January 5, 1949, Special Agent ARTHUR C. WITTENBURG and the writer sought to interview WILLIAM ROSEN at his residence in Santa Monica, but it was determined that he was not home. On the same evening the writer telephonically contacted Mr. ROSEN and made an appointment to see him at his residence on the following day at 2:30 PM. On January 6, 1949 Agent WITTENBURG and the writer proceeded to ROSEN's residence, where his daughter-in-law handed the writer a note stating that WILLIAM ROSEN could be reached at the address appearing on a note which was the address of the law firm of GALLAGHER, MARGOLIS, McTERNAN, and TYRE, 112 W. Ninth Street.

Agent WITTENBURG and the writer contacted WILLIAM ROSEN at the above-mentioned law office, where he stated that he was represented by Attorney BEN MARGOLIS. It is noted that BEN MARGOLIS is known to be a member of the Communist Party. MARGOLIS desired to know the nature of the inquiry being made, and when he was informed that it concerned ALGER HISS he stated that his client had refused to testify before the House Un-American Activities Committee, and that he would also refuse to answer questions by the agents. However, he stated that the agents could ask the questions and he would state whether or not his client should answer. WILLIAM ROSEN was then asked four questions, namely, (1) whether he knew ALGER HISS, (2) whether he knew WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, (3) whether he had ever received or purchased an automobile from ALGER HISS, and (4) whether he had ever received or purchased a typewriter from ALGER HISS. BEN MARGOLIS stated he would advise his client not to answer any of these questions upon the grounds that it might tend to incriminate him. No further questions were asked of WILLIAM ROSEN, and he volunteered the information that he intended to leave Los Angeles in the near future, but did not know the exact date of departure, and return to Washington, D. C. He added that he had sublet his apartment in Washington, D. C. and this sublease expires on February 15, 1949, and he expects to go back to Washington sometime before that date.

INVESTIGATION CONCERNING FRANKLIN VINCENT RENO

JOHN LEROY KELLEY

The report of Special Agent DAVID E. TODD dated December 24, 1948, San Francisco, contained a lead for the Los Angeles office to review the files regarding JACOB DUBNOFF, alias JOHN KELLEY, to determine whether or not he is identical with JOHN LEROY KELLEY, who is an associate and friend of FRANKLIN VINCENT RENO. In 1943, [redacted] furnished the following information regarding JACOB DUBNOFF, alias JOHN KELLEY: "DUBNOFF, JACOB, alias JOHN KELLEY, 275 N. Chester, Pasadena (in 1937). Possessed 1937 Membership Book No. 80303, 1938 Book No. 60490. Born in United States. Age 28 in 1938. Member Local No. 430, American Federation of Teachers, in 1938, when employed as a teacher at University of California at Los Angeles as a bio-chemist; in Communist Party was dues secretary of Unit No. 122, Professional Section, 1938." b2 b7D

In the latter part of 1946, Special Agent ARTHUR C. WITTENBURG conducted inquiries concerning an individual named JACOB WILLIAM DUBNOFF and contacted the Pasadena Merchants Credit Association, whose file reflected that in 1946 DUBNOFF resided at 1865 Brigden Road, Pasadena, and that former addresses for DUBNOFF, all in Pasadena, were listed as follows: 111 Harkness, 274 Chester, and 129 N. Michigan. In addition, the records reflected that DUBNOFF stated that he had resided in Los Angeles for twenty years prior to coming to Pasadena. His employment was listed as a biology chemist at the California Institute of Technology, where he had been so employed since 1936. His wife was shown as Mrs. BELLE DUBNOFF.

On January 15, 1947, Confidential Informant T-1 advised Special Agent RALPH C. VOGEL that Doctor JACOB WILLIAM DUBNOFF, who resides with his wife BELLE and their two small children at 1865 Brigden Road, Pasadena, has been known to her for the past nine years, during which time she became quite friendly with the DUBNOFFS, and that JACOB DUBNOFF has a reputation at the California Institute of Technology and around Pasadena of being Communistically inclined.

It would appear from the above information that JACOB WILLIAM DUBNOFF is the JACOB DUBNOFF, alias JOHN KELLEY, who was stated to be a member of the Communist Party by [redacted] Also from the facts stated above, it would appear that JACOB WILLIAM DUBNOFF is not identical with JOHN LEROY KELLEY.

INTERVIEW OF JOHN WILLIE GREEN

The report of Special Agent FRANK G. JOHNSTONE dated December 23, 1948 at Baltimore, Maryland contained a lead requesting the interview of Professor JOHN GREEN of the Mathematics Department of the University of California at Los Angeles, stating that Professor GREEN was a departmental associate of FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO.

On January 7, 1949 Special Agent ERNEST J. VAN LOON and the writer interviewed Professor JOHN WILLIE GREEN at his office, Room 346, Chemistry Building, UCLA. GREEN stated that his full name was JOHN WILLIE GREEN and that early in 1943, through Professor OSWALD VEBLIN, he obtained employment at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds. He arrived at the APG in March or April, 1943, where he was assigned to the Theory Section of Exterior Ballistics; that he worked in this section with JOHN LEROY KELLEY, E. J. McSHANE, and FRANKLIN VINCENT RENO. He worked continuously in this department until September, 1945, when he returned to Los Angeles. At the time he worked at the APG, he lived at the Harve De Grace Housing Project and recalled his address as 273 Wilson Street.

GREEN stated that inasmuch as they worked six days a week, he was in contact with RENO a considerable amount of time during his employment at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, and on a few occasions RENO came to his (GREEN's) house for social affairs such as dinners and parties. GREEN said that he had never made any trips off the proving grounds with RENO and knew very little concerning RENO's social life or activity off the APG. He stated that RENO was an unkempt, uncouth sort of individual who took his work very seriously and that he had heard that RENO drank to excess; however, he has never seen RENO intoxicated. He recalled that KELLEY and McSHANE were probably RENO's closest friends and understood his problem and tried to help him. In referring to "his problem," GREEN stated that he meant RENO's drinking habits and the seriousness with which he took his work. GREEN could recall no conversations with RENO which would indicate that RENO was a member of the Communist Party or interested in Communist matters. Neither could he recall any incidents which indicated to him (GREEN) that RENO was involved in furnishing classified information from the Proving Grounds to unauthorized persons. He added that RENO had never approached him at any time regarding furnishing of information to unauthorized sources.

GREEN advised that he is not a consultant for the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, having severed his connections with the Proving Grounds when he left in September, 1945, and that he has no literature or bulletins of the Proving Grounds in his possession.

INTERVIEW WITH DR. E. P. HUBBLE

By letter dated December 31, 1948 from Baltimore to New York office, a copy of which was sent to the Los Angeles office, the Los Angeles office was requested to interview Dr. E. P. HUBBLE, Mt. Wilson Observatory, Mt. Wilson, California, inasmuch as investigation of the associates of FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds revealed that HUBBLE was closely associated with RENO.

Doctor HUBBLE was interviewed on January 10, 1949 by Special Agent ARTHUR C. WITTENBURG and the writer at his office at 813 Santa Barbara Street, Pasadena, California, where he is employed as an astronomer by the Mt. Wilson Observatory. HUBBLE advised that he is at the present time a consultant for the Aberdeen Proving Ground. HUBBLE related that in 1942 he was designated as Chief of Exterior Ballistics and Director of Supersonic Wind Tunnels at the APG, and when he arrived FRANKLIN VINCENT RENO was employed as a mathematician in the Theory Section of Exterior Ballistics Department; that from 1942 until December, 1945, when Doctor HUBBLE left the APG, he came in contact with RENO quite frequently and described RENO as a bachelor, a lone wolf, and an eccentric type of individual who was unkempt and dirty in his personal habits. On the other hand, he stated that RENO was an extremely hard-working individual. He said that RENO had been at the APG for a number of years prior to 1942 and had been one of the high-ranking mathematicians at the grounds, having done some very valuable work. However, during the course of the war many top-flight mathematicians who were several degrees above RENO in ability to handle mathematical problems came to the Proving Grounds. RENO endeavored to "keep up" with these top-flight mathematicians and as a consequence worked too hard, reportedly drank too much, and as a result his health suffered considerably. Doctor HUBBLE stated that RENO from time to time worked on secret information, but for the most part his work was not secret and to HUBBLE's knowledge RENO never worked on the Norden bomb sight, at least during HUBBLE's employment at the APG. However, HUBBLE added that RENO, through his work at the APG, must have known of the existence of the Norden bomb sight.

HUBBLE stated that he never received the slightest indication in his association with RENO that RENO was a member of the Communist Party or was interested in Communism. Neither had he any information or facts which would indicate that RENO took secret or confidential data from the APG to furnish to unauthorized persons. HUBBLE recalled that at one time RENO was head of the Exterior Ballistics Department, but his knowledge of mathematics was not sufficient and he could not keep this position. HUBBLE recalled that during the time RENO was head of the Exterior Ballistics Department he, RENO, was strict in the enforcement of the various regulations prevailing at the time. Doctor HUBBLE recalled that JOHN L. KELLEY, E. J. McSHANE, and JOHN W. GREEN worked in the same department with RENO and were closely associated with him. HUBBLE related that KELLEY, McSHANE, and GREEN were in his opinion top-flight mathematicians with a far greater knowledge of mathematics than RENO had; that he considers KELLEY, GREEN, and McSHANE as extremely reliable, loyal individuals, and stated that he had no reason to believe otherwise of RENO.

INVESTIGATION REGARDING PHILLIP RENO

INTERVIEW WITH JOHN WOLCOTT PORTER

The report of Special Agent EDWIN O. JOHNSON dated December 24, 1948 at Denver, Colorado, contained a lead for the San Francisco office to locate and interview JOHN WOLCOTT PORTER concerning any espionage or Communist activities on the part of PHILLIP RENO while RENO was employed by the War Labor Board at Denver, Colorado, in the latter part of 1942 and early part of 1943. The report of Special Agent DAVID EDWIN TODD dated January 7, 1949 at San Francisco reflects that JOHN WOLCOTT PORTER is presently practicing law in Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles telephone directory reflects that JOHN W. PORTER is a member of the law firm of GALLAGHER, MARGOLIS, McTERNAN, and TYRE, 112 W. Ninth Street, Los Angeles, California.

In 1947, Informant T-2 advised that JOHN W. PORTER was chairman of the Pasadena East Side, Los Angeles County Communist Party.

Kisseloff-5484

JOHN WOLCOTT PORTER was interviewed at his office by Special Agent ARTHUR C. WITTENBURG and the writer on January 12, 1949. PORTER was informed that the agents desired to ask questions of him concerning PHILLIP RENO, whereupon PORTER asked the basis for the investigation concerning RENO, and he was informed that it concerned the question of whether or not PHILLIP RENO had furnished Government documents to unauthorized persons or had furnished information from Government documents to unauthorized persons. PORTER advised that his recollection was very vague as to when he met PHILLIP RENO, and could not state definitely whether it was in 1942-43 or whether it was in 1944 after he returned to Denver from San Francisco. He said he recalled that RENO worked for the War Labor Board, but he does not recall that RENO was working for the War Labor Board at the same time he, PORTER, did. He stated that he has no information whatsoever indicating that RENO ever furnished Government documents to unauthorized persons or furnished information from Government documents to unauthorized persons.

PORTER stated that he has no knowledge of whether RENO is a member of the Communist Party. He was then asked whether RENO was interested in Communism and took part in Communist activities. PORTER then replied that whether or not RENO was interested in Communism was a political matter and that he, PORTER, did not intend to give out any information to anyone concerning the political activities or beliefs of any other person. At this point he stated that he wanted to make known to interviewing agents that he did not favor the federal loyalty program, that he was of the opinion it was a political matter, and that the Federal Government has authority only to investigate illegal matters and not political matters.

PORTER related that he met PHILLIP RENO in connection with their work in Denver, went to lunch with him on numerous occasions, and also went to various social functions with RENO. He was asked whether any of the meetings or social gatherings which he attended with RENO were Communist Party gatherings, and he replied that he cannot recall that any of them were such but it is his recollection that they were merely meetings of a social nature. He further advised that he does not know if any of his associates at the War Labor Board in Denver were members of the Communist Party, and that if he knew they were he would not give out this information because it is, in his opinion, a political belief which the Constitution of the United States guarantees to each individual. PORTER described PHILLIP RENO as a "high strung" and very intent sort of individual and PORTER added that he would be amazed if RENO was found guilty of espionage activity.

INVESTIGATION RELATING TO WHITTAKER CHAMBERS

By teletype dated January 7, 1949 the New York office advised the Los Angeles office that WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had identified his first contact with Soviet Intelligence as an individual named JOHN SHERMAN, and that information and description furnished by CHAMBERS definitely indicates that this individual was JOHN LOOMIS SHERMAN. The New York office then requested that the Los Angeles office obtain a photograph of JOHN LOOMIS SHERMAN so that it could be shown to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

On January 11, 1949 the writer obtained from JAMES HALL, Superintendent, Yellow Cab Company, 1408 W. Third Street, Los Angeles, California, a small photograph of JOHN LOOMIS SHERMAN which was taken in 1943 when SHERMAN applied for and obtained a position as driver with the Yellow Cab Company. A copy of this photograph in its original size and an enlarged copy were made. Two each of these photographs were forwarded to the New York office by letter dated January 12, 1949 and one each were forwarded by the same letter to the Baltimore, San Diego, and Washington offices.

DETAILS: Interview with HANS INSLERMAN and ANNA ELIZABETH INSLERMAN concerning their knowledge of activities of FELIX INSLERMAN

Prior to interviewing HANS INSLERMAN, Confidential Informant Newark T-1, representative of another Government agency which conducts personnel and security investigations, was contacted and he advised that HANS INSLERMAN has been employed at Camp Evans, Belmar, New Jersey, as a radio engineer in the General Engineering Branch since August of 1935. Camp Evans is a branch of Fort Monmouth, New Jersey, a United States Army Signal Corps post.

Newark T-1 stated he has no information of a derogatory nature concerning INSLERMAN.

The Informant furnished the relatives of HANS INSLERMAN as:

FELIX INSLERMAN, brother, an electrical engineer.

ANNA ELIZABETH BERKES, wife.

ALEX BERKES, father-in-law; born Hungary, now U. S. citizen.

AUGUST JOHN INSLERMAN, father; born Esthonia, now deceased.

PAULINE ANNA INSLERMAN, mother; born Esthonia, now deceased.

Both INSLERMAN's father and mother were listed as citizens of Esthonia.

A guardian, HELEN TREUMAN, who was born in Esthonia but given as a United States citizen, now deceased, was also listed in the file of Newark T-1.

HANS INSLERMAN, 237 Eastbourne Avenue, Long Branch, New Jersey, was interviewed by the writer and Special Agent REGINALD C. VINCENT.

Kisseloff-5492

NK 65-3917
MMcD

HANS INSLERMAN related that his mother, PAULINE ANNA INSLERMAN died in about 1919, and that he and his brother, FELIX A. INSLERMAN, moved to a farm owned by HELEN TREUMAN at New Brunswick, New Jersey, and were raised by her. According to INSLERMAN, HELEN TREUMAN was separated from her husband whose name he believed to be ADOLPH.

In 1926, HANS INSLERMAN went to New York City to attend college and lived with his father until 1929 when they were joined by FELIX who also came to New York to attend Cooper Institute (probably Cooper Union).

INSLERMAN stated that during the period from 1929 to 1934, he supported his father and sent his brother through college and believes he attended Brooklyn Institute in addition to Cooper Institute, and that in 1934, FELIX INSLERMAN obtained a job as a chauffeur with a wealthy New York family, whose name he cannot recall, and shortly thereafter FELIX married over the strenuous objections of his father and HANS. INSLERMAN stated this marriage caused a severe strain in family relations because both he and his father felt that FELIX should have remained at home to assist in the support of the family.

HANS stated that during the period from 1934 to 1940, he saw practically nothing of FELIX except in 1936, when his father died. He recalled that sometime subsequent to April of 1936, at which time FELIX was living in the Bronx, New York, FELIX obtained employment with Glenn L. Martin Aircraft Corporation in Baltimore, Maryland, where he resided until the middle of the 1940s when he secured employment with the Republic Aircraft Company, Long Island, New York, and moved to Lyndhurst, New York.

In about 1945, according to HANS INSLERMAN, FELIX INSLERMAN moved to Cambridge, New York, although still employed by Republic Aircraft Company and later secured employment with the General Electric Company in Cambridge, New York.

HANS stated that he visisted his brother in Baltimore on two occasions in the company of his wife but that these visits were for just a day and possibly overnight. He can recall the date of only one visit, that being in April of 1940, which date is brought to mind because they all went to Washington, D.C., to see the cherry blossoms.

HANS INSLERMAN said he can recall no photographic equipment in the possession of FELIX other than a camera of about size $4\frac{1}{2}$ x $2\frac{1}{2}$ which was purchased by FELIX when they were children and a camera in a leather case with a shoulder strap which was possibly a 35 mm. HANS explained that at the time of the visit, he was not sufficiently interested in photography to further identify these cameras although FELIX has been interested in photography since he was a child.

HANS INSLERMAN stated that the only employment of his brother in Baltimore, Maryland, known to him, was with the Glenn L. Martin Aircraft Corporation and no mention was made by his brother of any outside employment or outside income from any source. His brother never mentioned having his rent, telephone bill, or any other expenses paid from any outside source, or the making of any trips to Washington, D. C.

HANS INSLERMAN was of the opinion FELIX would not mention to him any connection with espionage activities and he said no approach was ever made to him by FELIX or any other individual to take part in such activities.

HANS cannot recall ever having discussed the subject of Communism with FELIX although it may have been discussed in a general way when they lived together in early 1930.

Other visits made by HANS INSLERMAN and his wife to FELIX's place of residence were made in November of 1946 and Ocotober of 1945, to his farm in Cambridge, New York, and a prior visit to his home at Lyndhurst, Long Island. According to HANS, FELIX visited with his wife at their home in New Jersey on two occasions, both of which were after 1939, and during the period FELIX was living in Baltimore, Maryland. He believed both of these visits were prior to 1942.

HANS INSLERMAN furnished the following information concerning his places of residence after leaving the home of his father in New York City.

In August of 1935, he moved to Oceanport, New Jersey, where he roomed with ADAM WEISE, now deceased, and moved to 1 Allen Place, Red Bank, New Jersey, about February of 1937. He resided at this address until his marriage, July 9, 1938, when he stayed for a short time with his father-in-law, ALEX BERKES, Route 4, New Brunswick, New Jersey. He then resided at 237 Eastbourne Avenue, Long Branch, New Jersey, for a short time and then was placed on travel duty by the United States Army during 1939 and into 1940. In 1940, he returned to New Jersey, and temporarily resided at Collingswood until he could rent the residence at 237 Eastbourne Avenue, Long Branch, New Jersey, which he purchased in 1941. He said that during his travel status he also resided at this address for a short time in 1939.

Mrs. ANNA ELIZABETH INSLERMAN, 237 Eastbourne Avenue, Long Branch, New Jersey, was interviewed separately from her husband, HANS INSLERMAN, by the writer and Special Agent REGINALD C. VINCENT.

Mrs. INSLERMAN stated she was born in New Brunswick, New Jersey, June 16, 1917, and furnished the names of her parents as ALEX and ELIZABETH BERKES, both of whom were born in Hungary, naturalized United States tizens, and presently reside at Route 1, Box 408, New Brunswick, New Jersey. She furnished other relatives as a brother, ALEX BERKES, JR, of the above address, and MARIA TRUEMAN, who resides in New Brunswick, New Jersey. It is noted that WALTER TRUEMAN, husband of MARIA, is the son of HELEN TRUEMAN, the guardian of HANS and FELIX INSLERMAN.

The only additional information which could be recalled by Mrs. HANS INSLERMAN not previously furnished by her husband, was that on their second visit to Baltimore, Maryland, which was after the visit of April of 1940, FELIX was taking examinations in the college he was attending and on their first visit to Baltimore, Maryland, a couple was rooming with FELIX INSLERMAN and his wife and for this reason they did not stay overnight at the INSLERMAN home. She was unable to recall anything concerning these people but was able to give the following description of each:

MAN:

AGE:	38 to 40 years
HEIGHT:	150 to 160 pounds
HAIR:	Brown

WOMAN:

AGE:	27 to 28 years
CHARACTERISTICS:	Unusually attractive figure.
HAIR:	Long light brown, cut page boy style.
OCCUPATION:	Worked in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. HANS INSLERMAN was under the impression that these people only lived in the FELIX INSLERMAN home for a week or so and believed the man was employed at the same place as FELIX.

Mrs. INSLERMAN related that she first met FELIX in about 1934, when he and his future wife came to her home in New Brunswick, New Jersey, to make arrangements to get married, stating they were running away over the objections of his father. She does not recall seeing FELIX or his wife again until their visit in Baltimore, Maryland, in 1940, and stated their only correspondence consists of notes written on the yearly Christmas cards.

Upon receipt of the above information, agents again contacted HANS INSLERMAN who stated that his brother attended JOHN HOPKINS University

Interview of JOSEPH S. DAVIS concerning JULIAN WADLEIGH

JOSEPH S. DAVIS, Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, New Jersey, stated that JULIAN WADLEIGH was one of the economists employed by the Federal Farm Board in Washington, D.C. during the time he was in charge of this board. He stated that MORDECAI EZEKIAL was given the job of locating a group for research by the Federal Farm Board and that WADLEIGH was one of the individuals just out of college who was employed by EZEKIAL.

DAVIS said he was not closely associated with WADLEIGH and his only contact was in the Federal Farm Board. He stated he had only seen WADLEIGH outside of the office on one occasion and that was at a tea given for employees by a Washington citizen.

DAVIS related that WADLEIGH had impressed him as being shy and studious, and lacking a forceful personality.

According to DAVIS, WADLEIGH applied for a position with the Food Research Institute of Stanford University during the time DAVIS was director of that organization but WADLEIGH was not hired because it was felt he was not possessed of the intellectual drive and strength of personality necessary for the work.

DAVIS suggested contact with the following named persons who would have been more closely associated with WADLEIGH and may have some knowledge of his associates during that period.

CHARLES F. SARLE, Assistant Chief Economist of the Federal Farm Board after the middle of 1930, who is now employed by the United States Department of Agriculture and believed to be in the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

R. I. NOWELL, Vice President, Equitable Life Assurance Society, New York, New York.

GEORGE C. HAAS, Assistant Chief Economist of the Federal Farm Bureau and who has been with the Treasury Department since about 1932.

Interview with MARGARET R. FANSLER regarding typewriter of ALGER and
PRISCILLA HISS

Mrs. MARGARET R. FANSLER, 55 Randolph Place, South Orange, New Jersey, who is employed at the South Orange, New Jersey Public Library, stated she does not recall any typewritten correspondence received from either ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS or in fact any correspondence other than Christmas greeting cards. She added that if any correspondence had been received, it would have been destroyed as she is very meticulous about destroying unnecessary papers.

Mrs. FANSLER said she does not recall ever seeing a Woodstock typewriter in the HISS home but she probably would not have noticed it particularly as she considers a typewriter as necessary furniture.

Mrs. FANSLER could furnish no information concerning the acquisition or disposal of a typewriter by ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS.
