As the Bureau and the New York Offices are well aware, Mr. W. MARVIN SMITH, who authorized the document in question, committed suicide. The record shows that the House Committee on Un-American Activities took the testimony of Mr. SMITH who testified that he did authorize the signature of Mr. HISS; that he knew Mr. HISS, and that obviously Mr. HISS had appeared before him for authorization of his signature, otherwise he would not have authorized HISS' signature.

In my letter dated February 8, 1949, page two, it was stated that JULIUS KAPLAN, a member of the Communist Party told Confidential Informant CRC-452, that JOSEPH CHERNER, President of the Cherner Motor Company, was at one time a member of the Communist Party. This is a typographical error, it was PAUL KAUFMAN, a member of the Communist Party, who made this statement.

Confidential Informant C-450 has just reported that CASEY GUREWITZ, likewise a member of the Communist Party of long standing, recently advised her that JOSEPH CHERNER was not only a member of the Communist Party, but held an official position with the local Communist Party years ago.

Re: FRANKLIN RENO

Reference report of Special Agent JESSE F. FARR dated January 28, 1949 at Baltimore, Maryland.

Above report reflects that contained in an address book reported to belong to FRANKLIN RENO and furnished by Mrs. MARY E. KNETTLES, there appeared the following notation: "Mr. GARFINKEL, Computing Laboratory".

A lead was also set out in the above report for the Washington Field Office to interview HANS G. HERTZ.

Dr. HERTZ was interviewed on February 11, 1948 and he advised that he first met FRANKLIN RENO in December, 1946 when RENO and Dr. BORIS GARFINKEL visited the Naval Observatory in Washington, D.C. Dr. HERTZ stated that he had become acquainted with GARFINKEL when both were doing graduate work at Yale University in 1940. Dr. HERTZ stated that he was aware that GARFINKEL was an employee of Aberdeen Proving Grounds. He stated that Dr. GARFINKEL has visited him about four times since 1946. Dr. HERTZ stated that he had never heard anything which would indicate FRANKLIN RENO was associated with the Communist Party.

He did state, however, that he has heard rumors that Dr. GARFINKEL had Communist leanings. Dr. HERTZ introduced the reporting agent to ERNEST GUENTHER REUNING, a fellow employee of HERTZ at the Naval Observatory. Mr. REUNING stated that he had met Dr. GARFINKEL through Dr. HERTZ and had had several conversations with him. ~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

Mr. REUNING stated that he noted in all of their conversations GARFINKEL always defended Communism and Russia. Mr. REUNING stated that after two or three talks with GARFINKEL he became convinced that GARFINKEL was either a Communist or a fellow traveller. He stated that this feeling was so strong that he wondered why GARFINKEL continued to be employed at Aberdeen and even considered calling the FBI to report GARFINKEL.

REUNING further stated that in November, 1948 he was visiting in Swarthmore, Pennsylvania and attended a party at the home of one of his former professors, Dr. VAN de KAMP. He stated he discussed GARFINKEL with Dr. DORRIT HOFFLEIT of Harvard College, Cambrdige, Massachusetts who was formerly an employee at Aberdeen during the war and who is still serving in an advisory capacity.

He stated that Dr. HOFFLEIT considered GARFINKEL to be a liberal thinker but had not talked to him to any extent. Mr. REUNING stated he urged Dr. HOFFLEIT to engage GARFINKEL in a political conversation so she could determine for herself whether he leaned toward Communism.

Mr. REUNING stated he has not had occasion to discuss the matter with Dr. HOFFLEIT since November.

The Washington Field Office files reflect no information regarding Dr. BORIS GARFINKEL or Dr. DORRIT HOFFLEIT.

It is suggested that Dr. BORIS GARFINKEL be thoroughly interviewed re his association with RENO.

No lead is being set out to have Dr. DORRIT HOFFLEIT interviewed at this time and it is being left to the discretion of the Baltimore office.

Please expedite.

PHILIP RENO

Reference report of Special Agent EDWIN O. JOHNSON, in the above entitled matter, dated December 24, 1948 at Denver, Colorado.

In the above report a lead was set out for the Washington Field Office to locate and interview MARTIN KURASCH, who was reported to have been a fellow employee of PHILIP RENO at the War Labor Board in Denver, Colorado in 1943.

Investigation has disclosed that the above person is actually MARTIN KURASCH who was employed with WLB from 1942 to 1946 when he transferred to the Federal Housing Authority. He was later with the Office of Housing Expediter from where he was furloughed in March, 1948. He formerly resided at 1103 Trenton Place, S. E., Washington, D. C.

The Post Office records reflect that on February 1, 1949 a change of address was ordered for MARTIN KURASCH from the above address to 1546 Trinity Street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The files of the Washington Field Office reflect that KURASCH was the subject of a Hatch Act investigation in 1942 because his name appeared in the files of the House Committee on Un-American Activities as a member of the Washington Committee for Democratic Action. During above investigation informants advised that he associated with "so-called liberal groups" whose policies consistently coincided with the Communist Party line.

A loyalty investigation was ordered on KURASCH on June 1, 1948 but as he had already been furloughed from government service no actual investigation was conducted. In addition to the above information the original loyalty letter from the Bureau reflected that in 1942 MID had advised that it had received information to the effect that KURASCH was an alleged Communist. The above letter further reflected that the files of the Bureau indicated KURASCH had been associated with reported Communists.

For the information of the Pittsburgh Office WHITTAKER CHAMBERS named FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO as a person who had furnished him in 1937-38 with information about the activities of the Aberdeen Proving Grounds where RENO was employed from 1937 to 1948. PHILIP RENO is the brother of FRANKLIN RENO. Both RENOs in statements to New York Agents on December 13, 1948 admitted former membership in the Communist Party, FRANKLIN from about 1934 until 1938 and PHILIP from 1944 until 1948.

PHILIP was an employee of WLB in Denver, Colorado from December 1942 until May 1943 and the Denver Office has uncovered evidence of Communist Party activities in the WLB office in Denver during the pertinent period.

It is requested that KURASCH be thoroughly interviewed re Communist activities of PHILIP RENO and whether he knew of RENO associating with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

New York is office of origin and one copy of the report reflecting the above investigation is to be specifically designated for THOMAS J. DONEGAN, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, New York City. Please expedite.

Did Anybody Hold Back the FBI?

The House Un-American Activities Committee has left to its final report the disclosures:

1 That, not two but at least 52 lots of secret State Department papers were stolen for Russia during the five years of Whittaker Chambers' connection with the Red spy "apparatus."

2 That a successor to this apparatus remained active at least as late as 1945.

3 That the committee has "no evidence" that the spy ring is not still operating.

On the face of these statements the committee has left its job far from done. It has left unanswered the main question emerging from them, which is:

Where was the FBI during all this time?

The FBI is now, as in 1935-39, the agency on which the country relies for safety from espionage. The statements in the committee's report can not help but shake confidence in its past and present alertness.

We know from the few samples published by the committee that documents stolen in the pre-war period were not fakes "planted" to fool the spies. They were the real thing, some so secret that they still can not be published.

We know now that the spying was not a case of a single isolated success, which, being discovered, led to effective counter-espionage measures.

We are told that the apparatus operated, during Chambers' connection with it, like "a veritable espionage production line out of the State Department and other Government departments."

We know it operated within two blocks of the FBI's Washington headquarters. We know that, so far as the testimony shows, the FBI first learned of it when Elizabeth Bentley's conscience at last prompted her in 1945 to go to the Justice Department with a voluntary confession.

Indeed, the surface facts suggest that all now known to either the FBI or the committee came to them in the first instance through unsolicited confessions by those involved.

The picture is hardly one to inspire confidence that the spy danger has been licked or will stay licked.

There is an inference, which appears believable, that the FBI was prevented from presenting to the New York grand jury all of the evidence it collected after the Bentley confession. The inference is that the Administration acted to save itself embarrassment.

By extension, it may be theorized that similar influences were at work in 1935-39 to keep the FBI from cracking down on the spy ring.

If that is so, the FBI is entitled to have it known. The country is entitled to know it, and to know that these supposed influences no longer can endanger national security.

J. Edgar Hoover should have been called by the committee to explain the agency's role throughout the past decade. But he should have been called while control of the committee was still in Republican hands. A Democratic committee is evidently less likely to ask questions now more than ever embarrassing, supposing that theory to be the correct one.

ASAC Santoiana, New Haven, called in at 9:30 a.m. today and stated that they had received instructions to interview Joseph Guilietti, and the background of this matter suggested that at the same time Dudley Chapman, Supervisor at the Electric Boat Company, New London, Connecticut; Zachary Baranoff, Navy Shipyard, Boston, Massachusetts; and Frank Draminski should be interviewed at the same time for the purpose of making it impossible for these four to communicate with each other prior to being contacted by Bureau Agents concerning the interview with any one of them.

There is attached a memorandum which briefly sets out the situation described by Chambers and which has been the subject of a previous Bureau inquiry. The action recommended by the New Haven Office seems to be desirable, and there is also attached a teletype to the New Haven Office instructing that the interviews be conducted simultaneously.

Has the FBI gone to sleep? If not, what has happened? Did political minded Tom Clark stop you from investigating the traitors (who should be shot) in the State Dept? Clark could not see anything wrong with the stealing of an election in Kansas City and the hiring of safe crackers to blow the safe and destroy the evidence. And probably saw nothing wrong with having traitors in our State Dept. who were selling the nation down the river, to Joe Stalin and his bunch of gangsters and murderers in the Kremlin. Now President appoints as Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, the man who hired Alger Hiss and thus placed him in a position to steal and pass on to our enemies, our most secret diplomatic and military information. We used to say "It could not happen here" but it now looks as if it is happening, or has already happened here. The ghost of Patrick Henry - "Give Me Liberty or give me death", must be very uneasy these days. We have no patriots in high places any more. For a good job or a $1,000,000 fee for negotiating the Polish loan, some men will sell their souls and their country. By Gods!

ASAC Belmont, New York, called at 6:00p.m. tonight and stated that as Chambers was leaving the office today after being interviewed, he left with one of the agents an envelope requesting that the contents be read after he had left.

The envelope was opened thereafter and in it is contained a notation in which he states that the interview with him has now progressed to the point that he feels it necessary to divulge the information contained in a signed statement which is of that character that it should be discussed with a priest. He requested also that when interviewed concerning the contents of this statement he be interviewed by one agent instead of two.

Briefly, the statement enclosed in the envelope points out that Chambers expects to admit that he has been a homosexual. He explains that his father was a homosexual and that his tendencies are hereditary. He names two persons, Frank Bang, who is a brother of a former classmate of Chambers at Columbia and Michael Intrator, who was a cartoonist for the Daily Worker. He explains that for the past 10 years these inherited tendencies have been under control and he is a good husband and father. He indicates this so-called confession is made because he expects to tell the truth despite any instinct he has to self-preservation.

Mr. Belmont stated that copies of the statement of Chambers will be prepared and forwarded to the Bureau tomorrow.

In accordance with the preliminary arrangements made, Mr. FLETCHER of the Security Investigative Division at approximately 9:45 AM on February 15, 1949, escorted Mr. McKILLIPS, Investigator for the House Committee on Un-American Activities, to the Laboratory. I escorted Mr. McKILLIPS to the office of SA F. E. WEBB in order that the "pumpkin" negatives could be turned over directly from McKILLIPS to WEBB. After contacting his office to advise approximately when the FBI Laboratory would be through with the film, McKILLIPS left the Laboratory at approximately 10:00 AM. He returned to the Laboratory at approximately 2:30 PM and at approximately 3:00 PM the "pumpkin" negatives were returned to him by SA WEBB at which time he left the Laboratory.

Felix August

WEBB is making a comparison between the "pumpkin" film and the test film which we made from the INSLERMAN cameras in an effort to determine whether or not one of INSLERMAN's cameras was used to expose the "pumpkin" film. A report on this matter will be prepared for all interested offices as soon as possible.

Journalism at Columbia University, first name FRANCIS, whose wife's first names are ANNA MAE, with whom you stayed in New York City to see ASKLOF off? Who are "STEVE", "MAE" and "PERKIE" connected with April 15? Details of other friends and associates set forth. FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO also advised that for a short period just before going to work at Aberdeen Proving Grounds in 1937 he was the open Communist Party organizer at Cumberland, Maryland, using the alias LANG CLARK. RENO claimed that he has completed numerous forms, some recently, during his employment by the Federal Government indicating he was not a member of an organization favoring the overthrow of the Government by force and violence. Because of this, he believes he has been guilty of a violation of federal law not barred by the statute of limitations. RENO identified the photograph of BENJAMIN FIELD as a man of that name who was the Communist Party organizer in Baltimore, Maryland in 1937 but was unable to identify the "BIG BEAR". ROBERT E. RAY was the Communist Party name of RAY WARNER, Communist Party organizer at Washington, D. C. during the 1930s. RENO requested another interview with El Paso Agents on February 14, 1949.

Report of SA JOSEPH M. KELLY dated at New York City 1/21/49;
Report of SA JESSE F. FARR dated at Baltimore, Maryland, 1/28/49;
Report of SA JAMES FREW dated at Washington, D. C. 1/28/49.

DETAILS: The title in this case is being changed to add the aliases _____ Bennett and _____ Hall, which last names FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO claimed he used as aliases while doing Communist Party work. He stated he was unable to recall what first names, if any, he used in this connection.

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO voluntarily appeared for interview at the office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Resident Agency in Albuquerque, New Mexico, on February 7 and 8, 1949 and was interviewed by Special Agents J. PHILLIP CLARIDGE and FREDERICK A. JOHNS.

It should be noted that when the interview reached the point of inquiry regarding STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG on February 7, 1949, RENO stated that he was unwilling to answer these questions without consulting his attorney EDWARD again, this time in Washington, D. C. Actual contact was arranged by calling PHILLIP RENO'S apartment and by using the code phrase indicated above. The place of the meeting was not recalled by FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO but he does recall that at this meeting he gave CHAMBERS nothing in the way of documents; however, he discussed the general set-up of the Ballistics Research Laboratories at Aberdeen, Maryland, and during the interview with CHAMBERS drew an organizational chart of the laboratories. This information was given CHAMBERS at his specific request.

As to the remaining contacts with CHAMBERS, RENO advised that he could not separate them accurately as to dates, places and subject matter. He recalled that after several contacts he gave CHAMBERS the text book of an Ordnance school; later on the firing tables of 30 or 50 calibre machine guns. RENO recalled that he came in contact with various firing and bombing tables in 1938. As to the larger guns, RENO stated he could not recall if the documents furnished CHAMBERS pertained to 14 inch or 16 inch guns. He opined that if a 14 inch gun was involved it would have been a railroad gun, and if a 16 inch gun was involved it would have pertained to a seacoast gun. He stated that according to his best recollection this matter was turned over to CHAMBERS in the period from July or August 1937 to the Spring of 1938. RENO stated he could not be more definite in this.

13 In addition to the above, in response to definite requests from CHAMBERS, RENO stated that at one of the early meetings he drew a rough sketch of what he then thought was the basic principle of the Norden Bombsite. RENO described this sketch as a "schematic drawing of the range trail diagram with a bar across the top". RENO stated that at that time he supposed that this was the basic principle of the Norden Bombsite but that he later learned that it was very inaccurate and almost unrelated to the actual device. In this connection RENO remarked that the original drawings and other data pertaining to the bombsite were locked up and carefully guarded, and that he could not get to them. RENO advised that CHAMBERS had indicated that he was interested in any thing new and pertaining to military equipment.

At various meetings with CHAMBERS, RENO discussed with him the advisability of taking several other jobs at the Ballistics Research Laboratories. He recalled that at that time he could have gone to work on the [illegible] of the Spark Range and also in various optical equipment work; how

CHAMBERS stated that he should continue to work in Ballistics, and RENO followed these instructions. On another occasion RENO was offered a position at the Naval Observatory and discussed this with CHAMBERS who told him to stay at Aberdeen. This RENO did, he stated. At another meeting RENO advised CHAMBERS regarding the use of International Business Machine Company's computing machines in various ballistic experiments.

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO stated that during the period of contacts with CHAMBERS his only other contact in Washington, D. C. was his brother, PHILLIP RENO. FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO stated that he was not sure whether PHILLIP RENO knew of the nature of these contacts or not, however, PHILLIP RENO definitely was not assisting in any way in the espionage and frequently FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO made remarks tending to mislead PHILLIP as to the purpose of the contacts with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

During this period, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO advised that he did not know any of the other contacts that WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had in his espionage work, however, from various remarks CHAMBERS indicated that he had other contacts and in this connection FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO reached the conclusion that one such contact was an Army officer.

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO advised that after receiving the various documents CHAMBERS took them, had them reproduced, the exact method not known to RENO, and returned them the same day or the following day. RENO stated that in all he saw WHITTAKER CHAMBERS from six to fifteen times, usually at two week intervals. Occasionally, however, these intervals were as long as from three to six weeks. RENO advised that his contacts with CHAMBERS stopped in the late Spring of 1938 and came about because WHITTAKER CHAMBERS failed to keep an appointment and RENO never tried to meet him again. RENO claimed that he never tried to meet CHAMBERS again because he (RENO) was by then disgusted with his espionage work.

When asked "Have you seen "BERNIE" subsequently to the time you stopped seeing CHAMBERS"? RENO advised that he would have to talk to his lawyer before answering that question, but did state positively that he had not seen "BERNIE" for ten years. When asked whom he last saw regarding espionage after CHAMBERS stopped, RENO replied that he would also have to talk with his lawyer on this point. RENO again gave the same reply to the question "Did espionage continue after WHITTAKER CHAMBERS with from the work?"

As to the espionage work in general, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO stated that he engaged in such because "BERNIE" told him to, and RENO clearly understood that it was work for the Communist Party. RENO stated that "BERNIE" told him to sever all open connections with the Communist Party. RENO added that WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, at various times, also repeated the instructions regarding severing of all open Communist Party connections. RENO further stated that while doing this espionage work, although he carried no card and paid no dues, he definitely considered himself a Communist engaged in Communist Party work. In this connection RENO expressed the opinion that the vast majority of the Communist Party members have no idea of the Communist Party underground that is interested in espionage.

RENO stated that in 1938 he came to the conclusion that he was no longer in sympathy with the "organizational procedure" of the Communist Party, both as to the open and underground branches. He was also opposed to certain activities; for example he came to believe that espionage was no good and that the result was that the individual was entirely discredited and unable to do any good in the future. RENO stated that he then came to feel that important things should be done openly which was not the case with any of the Communist Party activities. RENO stated that although he stopped active espionage work in 1938 he never made any formal break with the party - was never expelled, and never resigned. As to the basic doctrines of the Communist Party, RENO stated that he would not repudiate all of them even at this time.

MISCELLANEOUS REPORTS, BOOKS AND DOCUMENTS

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO advised that he gave none of the reports of the Ballistic Research Laboratories to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or any other espionage agent. RENO stated that the same was true regarding the various books charged out by him while at the Laboratories and included the various secret and confidential documents, a list of which was furnished by the Baltimore Office in referenced report from Baltimore.

CORRESPONDENCE MAINTAINED BY RENO AT THE WIND TUNNEL

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO advised that he had occasion to correspond wi[illegible] WHEELER of the Sperry Gyroscope Company. He stated that WHEELER wa[illegible] site engineer, that the matters had to do with official business; he could not recall any of the details. RENO advised t[illegible] WH[illegible] nothing to do with Communistic or espionage activities.

THOMAS E. HUDSON, who seemed to be a very capable individual, at one time was considered by RENO as a good prospective employee at the laboratories. HUDSON had no Communistic or espionage connections. HARRIET R. BROWN was a girl who worked in the laboratories, with whom RENO had a slight acquaintance, but regarding whom there was no Communistic or espionage activity. As to the inquiry "What happened to the men who were picked up in Havre de Grace," RENO advised that this referred to a scuffle that he and MONROE NORDEN got into with some soldiers in Havre de Grace and whom RENO reported to the Military Police. The scuffle apparently occurred when the soldiers considered that RENO and NORDEN were giving undue attention to the girls accompanying the soldiers.

RENO recalled writing a letter to Senator GLENN TAYLOR arguing against universal military training. RENO recalled that his argument was that a large army without modern weapons was ineffective. He stated that this was not a Communist Party activity.

WILLIAM D. GOODWIN was an assistant in the laboratories to RENO during 1939 and had no Communistic or espionage connections.

RENO was questioned in detail regarding the individuals from whom he received miscellaneous Christmas cards, etc. (as set forth on page 8 of the referenced report from Baltimore) and nothing of significance was reported.

FRIENDS AND ACQUAINTANCES OF FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO

As requested in referenced report from the Baltimore Office, RENO was questioned in detail regarding various friends and acquaintances, as well as miscellaneous correspondence and documents located in his room. Only information which appears pertinent to this investigation is being set forth below.

RENO advised that he could recall definitely no one that he described as "The BIG BEAR". He added that this was the term that he frequently applied to an individual who was large, rough, and agreeable. He stated that if he had ever used this term in connection with securing employment for any one that he might possibly have referred to a Colonel SUMERFELT of the United States Air Forces, whom he considered the type of person that this phrase fitted. RENO stated definitely that SUMERFELT had absolutely no Communistic or espionage connections.

As to STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG, RENO advised that he first knew him in 1943, possibly not until 1944. BLUMBERG, according to RENO, was a graduate in engineering from George Washington University or Johns Hopkins, and had an extensive knowledge of electrical engineering. He was about the same age as RENO and had been in the Navy for about two years ending in the fall of 1946. RENO added that BLUMBERG might have been in the Merchant Marines as an officer transporting troops or on one of the ships operated by the Army which transported troops. BLUMBERG was also connected with the National Research Committee. RENO stated that he also knew ALBERT BLUMBERG, who was a "party chieftain" in Baltimore, Maryland. RENO stated that he never knew this BLUMBERG personally and knew of no connection between the two BLUMBERGS. RENO advised that his friendship with STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG continued until he (RENO) left the Baltimore-Aberdeen area when he was discharged from the University of Maryland Hospital in 1948. RENO recalled that his first contact with STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG was at Aberdeen Proving Grounds when BLUMBERG was trying to put over some project in connection with the National Research Committee. RENO advised that the meeting came about in this way - RENO was called by the security personnel at the entrance stating that STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG wanted to see him. RENO replied that he did not know STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG, to which the guard replied, "Well, he knows you."

It should be noted that RENO'S answers regarding BLUMBERG became rather vague until asked the question, "Did STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG ever meet WHITTAKER CHAMBERS"? This he did not answer and was then asked "Was there something more to BLUMBERG'S visit than you have indicated"? At this RENO became noticeably confused and embarrassed and remarked, "You have got me - there was something more". At this point RENO stated that he did not wish to answer any more questions regarding STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG until he consulted with his attorney.

When asked whether JESSE ZIMMERMAN and ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN had any espionage or Communistic connection, RENO also refused to answer, stating that he wished to consult with his attorney on this point also. As to ALEXANDER STEVENS, RENO stated that he did not know the man and did not recognize a photograph of him.

As to STEN ASKLOF, RENO stated that this was a personal friend with no Communistic or espionage connections. He stated that ASKLOF was an alco who had some real ability and for whom he (RENO) felt a certain sympat He tried to help him in getting employment all that he could and in other personal matters, and estimated that he spent some $500.00 of his own money for this purpose.

When asked regarding the identity of a professor of Journalism at Columbia University, whose first name is FRANCIS, and whose wife's first names are ANNA MAE, in whose apartment RENO had stayed in New York City when he went there to see ASKLOF leave the country, RENO became embarrassed and stated that he wanted to consult his attorney on this point also before answering.

As to the notation "STEVE", "MAE" and "PERKIE" — April 15, RENO again became embarrassed and stated that was another point on which he wanted to consult his attorney before answering.

When asked about the list of names on notepaper "C. B. BOYS, CRAIG INGALLS, ALGER, etc., RENO stated that these were writers of established text books used in connection with work at the Ballistic Research Laboratories.

RENO stated that Dr. SIDNEY LIBERMAN was merely his dentist and that he had no Communistic or espionage connections. RENO also stated definitely that BERNARD SHEIN was definitely not "BERNIE".

PAST COMMUNISTIC ACTIVITIES OF FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO

RENO advised that subsequent to his employment at the WPA in early 1937, and prior to his employment at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in July 1937, he was the open Communist Party organizer in Cumberland, Maryland. He stated that such activity lasted from two to six weeks and that at this time he used the alias LANCE CLARK. RENO related that through his Communist Party activity in and around Washington, D. C., he was using the last names of BENNETT and HALL. He could not recall having used any first names with these and rather doubted that he ever did.

In Cumberland, Maryland, RENO stated that as the Communist Party organizer he collected dues from some members and forwarded the money to the State Headquarters of the Communist Party in Baltimore, Maryland. He also distributed and collected for various Communist Party literature including the Daily Worker and numerous pamplets, the names of which he could not recall. RENO stated that while in Cumberland, Maryland, he had tried get a job at the Tinplate Mill, the name not being recalled, where he had hoped to assist in organizing the steel workers. He was not successful in this. Also while in Cumberland, he advised, he tried to see some old-time Socialists for the purpose of recruiting them into the Communist Party. RENO stated that he was unwilling to give the names of these individuals.

RENO stated that while he was in and around Washington, D. C. in 1935 and 1936, the open Party organizer was RAY WARNER, whose Communist Party name was ROBERT E. RAY. RENO recalled that the name ROBERT E. RAY was the name used in the Party work and was the name signed to various official Communist Party bulletins, letters, announcements, etc. RENO described this man as being a native of the United States, white, about 5'10" tall and a flashy dresser. RENO stated that, to the best of his knowledge, this man was still living.

From time to time during the interview with FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, he stated that during his employment with the Federal Government in Washington, D. C., but principally at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, he has had occasions to complete numerous personnel forms, included in which were questions pertaining to membership in or advocacy of an organization favoring the overthrow of the Government by force and violence. RENO expressed the opinion that because some of these forms were filled out within the past several years that he felt that he was guilty of a violation of the Federal Law that was not barred by the statute of limitations.

RENO identified a photograph of BENJAMIN FIELD as a man of that name who was the Communist Party organizer or one of the top Communist Party functionaries active in Baltimore, Maryland in the Spring of 1937. RENO stated that he was definitely not "BERNIE". RENO also described FIELD as the "party chieftain" when he (RENO) went to Cumberland, Maryland in 1937 to do Communist Party Work. RENO stated that to the best of his knowledge FIELD was not engaged in any espionage activity.

Photographs of ALGER HISS were shown RENO and he stated that he did not know this individual during his espionage activity and had in fact never seen or heard of him until the grand jury proceedings in New York City.

RENO identified the photographs of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as the man of that name whom he knew as "CARL" for a time and with whom he engaged in espionage activity.

RENO stated to the interviewing agents that he planned to discuss his case with his attorney EDWARD J. SCHEUNEMANN in Denver, Colorado, particularly regarding the various questions that he was unwilling to answer during this interview. RENO stated that he wished to talk to the interviewing agents again, and suggested the date February 14, 1949. Arrangements have been made to interview RENO again on this date.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, interviewed on February 7 and 8, 1949, admitted information he has furnished to date is substantially correct, but that he has not furnished all the pertinent information in his possession. He stated that the photograph of DAVID CARPENTER resembles "BERNIE" most closely of all photographs shown him but that such identification not positive and is based entirely on identity of photographs exhibited to him. RENO refused to answer the following questions until he had conferred with his attorney EDWARD SCHEUNEMANN of Denver, Colorado: Have you seen "BERNIE" subsequent to CHAMBERS' withdrawal? Did the espionage continue after CHAMBERS' withdrawal? Did JESSE ZIMMERMAN, STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG and ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN have any espionage connection? Who is the professor of

Who are "STEVE", "MAE" and "PERKIE" connected with April 15? Details of other friends and associates set forth. FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO also advised that for a short period just before going to work at Aberdeen Proving Grounds in 1937 he was the open Communist Party organizer at Cumberland, Maryland, using the alias LANCE CLARK. RENO claimed that he has completed numerous forms, some recently, during his employment by the Federal Government indicating he was not a member of an organization favoring the overthrow of the Government by force and violence. Because of this, he believes he has been guilty of a violation of federal law not barred by the statute of limitations. RENO identified the photograph of BENJAMIN FIELD as a man of that name who was the Communist Party organizer in Baltimore, Maryland in 1937 but was unable to identify the "BIG BEAR". ROBERT E. RAY was the Communist Party name of RAY WARNER, Communist Party organizer at Washington, D. C. during the 1930s. RENO requested another interview with El Paso Agents on February 14, 1949.

DETAILS: The title in this case is being changed to add the aliases _____ Bennett and _____ Hall, which last names FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO claimed he used as aliases while doing Communist Party work. He stated he was unable to recall what first names, if any, he used in this connection.

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO voluntarily appeared for interview at the office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation Resident Agency in Albuquerque, New Mexico, on February 7 and 8, 1949 and was interviewed by Special Agents J. PHILLIP CLARIDGE and FREDERICK A. JOHNS.

It should be noted that when the interview reached the point of inquiry regarding STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG on February 7, 1949, RENO stated that he was unwilling to answer these questions without consulting his attorney EDWARD

SCHEUNEMANN of Denver, Colorado. RENO indicated however that he was willing to answer other questions and that when additional questions became embarrassing to him he would indicate that he did not wish to answer this question until consulting his attorney.

CONTACTS OF FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO WITH "BERNIE" AND WHITTAKER CHAMBERS

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO advised that the beginning of his espionage work was the time he first met "BERNIE" in the room of PATTY WHELAN in Baltimore, Maryland, as he has advised in previous interviews. Subsequently "BERNIE" introduced RENO to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in June of 1937 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Prior to this introduction RENO had previously seen "BERNIE" some three or four times over a six week period. The first contact, to the best of RENO'S recollection, lasted approximately one hour and the others between three and four hours. RENO stated that he was not at all sure that if he today met "BERNIE" face to face that he would be able to identify him. RENO described "BERNIE" as being approximately 5'10" tall, slender, dark, of European descent and under 55 years of age. RENO stated that that is the best description he was able to give of "BERNIE". The only ones present at the introduction of FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS were these two and "BERNIE".

After considerable hesitation RENO stated that the photograph of DAVID CARPENTER most closely resembles "BERNIE" of all the photographs which had been displayed to him. RENO indicated that this identification was not positive and was made entirely on the basis of photographs shown him.

During the first talks with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, CHAMBERS asked RENO if he understood "what this is". RENO said "yes, it is espionage" (which RENO definitely understood as espionage designed to aid Soviet Russia.) RENO stated that he would not have even considered espionage except on behalf of Soviet Russia. At the first meetings with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO gave CHAMBERS his brother PHILLIP RENO's phone number at Washington, D. C. as a place of easy contact. At this ti a code phrase - something about returning a coat - was agreed upon CHAMBERS to use. According to FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, his brother RENO did not know of the nature of the contacts with CHAMBERS.

A few weeks after the first meeting FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO met

again, this time in Washington, D. C. Actual contact was arranged by calling PHILLIP RENO'S apartment and by using the code phrase indicated above. The place of the meeting was not recalled by FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO but he does recall that at this meeting he gave CHAMBERS nothing in the way of documents; however, he discussed the general set-up of the Ballistics Research Laboratories at Aberdeen, Maryland, and during the interview with CHAMBERS drew an organizational chart of the laboratories. This information was given CHAMBERS at his specific request.

As to the remaining contacts with CHAMBERS, RENO advised that he could not separate them accurately as to dates, places and subject matter. He recalled that after several contacts he gave CHAMBERS the text book of an Ordnance school; later on the firing tables of 30 or 50 calibre machine guns. RENO recalled that he came in contact with various firing and bombing tables in 1938. As to the larger guns, RENO stated he could not recall if the documents furnished CHAMBERS pertained to 14 inch or 16 inch guns. He opined that if a 14 inch gun was involved it would have been a railroad gun, and if a 16 inch gun was involved it would have pertained to a seacoast gun. He stated that according to his best recollection this matter was turned over to CHAMBERS in the period from July or August 1937 to the Spring of 1938. RENO stated he could not be more definite in this.

In addition to the above, in response to definite requests from CHAMBERS, RENO stated that at one of the early meetings he drew a rough sketch of what he then thought was the basic principle of the Norden Bombsite. RENO described this sketch as a "schematic drawing of the range trail diagram with a bar across the top". RENO stated that at that tim[illegible] he supposed that this was the basic principle of the Norden Bombsite but t[illegible] he later learned that it was very inaccurate and almost unrelated [illegible] the actual device. In this connection RENO remarked that the original drawings and other data pertaining to the bombsite were locked up and carefully guarded, and that he could not get to them. RENO advised that [illegible]MBERS had indicated that he was interested in any thing new and pertaining to military equipment.

At various meetings with CHAMBERS, RENO discussed with him the [illegible]isability of taking several other jobs at the Ballistics Research L[illegible]es. RENO recalled that at that time he could have gone to work on [illegible]opment of the Spark Range and also in various optical equipment w[illegible]ever,

CHAMBERS stated that he should continue to work in Ballistics, and RENO followed these instructions. On another occasion RENO was offered a position at the Naval Observatory and discussed this with CHAMBERS who told him to stay at Aberdeen. This RENO did, he stated. At another meeting RENO advised CHAMBERS regarding the use of International Business Machine Company's computing machines in various ballistic experiments.

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO stated that during the period of contacts with CHAMBERS his only other contact in Washington, D. C. was his brother, PHILLIP RENO. FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO stated that he was not sure whether PHILLIP RENO knew of the nature of these contacts or not, however, PHILLIP RENO definitely was not assisting in any way in the espionage and frequently FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO made remarks tending to mislead PHILLIP as to the purpose of the contacts with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

During this period, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO advised that he did not know any of the other contacts that WHITTAKER CHAMBERS had in his espionage work, however, from various remarks CHAMBERS indicated that he had other contacts and in this connection FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO reached the conclusion that one such contact was an Army officer.

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO advised that after receiving the various documents CHAMBERS took them, had them reproduced, the exact method not known to RENO, and returned them the same day or the following day. RENO stated that in all he saw WHITTAKER CHAMBERS from six to fifteen times, usually at two week intervals. Occasionally, however, these intervals were as long as from three to six weeks. RENO advised that his contacts with CHAMBERS stopped in the late Spring of 1938 and came about because WHITTAKER CHAMBERS failed to keep an appointment and RENO never tried to meet him again. RENO claimed that he never tried to meet CHAMBERS again because he (RENO) was by then disgusted with his espionage work.

When asked "Have you seen "BERNIE" subsequently to the time you stopped seeing CHAMBERS"? RENO advised that he would have to talk to his lawyer before answering that question, but did state positively that he had not seen "BERNIE" for ten years. When asked whom he last saw regarding espionage after CHAMBERS stopped, RENO replied that he would also have to talk with his lawyer on this point. RENO again gave the same reply to the question "Did espionage continue after WHITTAKER CHAMBERS withdrew from the work?"

As to the espionage work in general, FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO stated that he engaged in such because "BERNIE" told him to, and RENO clearly understood that it was work for the Communist Party. RENO stated that "BERNIE" told him to sever all open connections with the Communist Party. RENO added that WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, at various times, also repeated the instructions regarding severing of all open Communist Party connections. RENO further stated that while doing this espionage work, although he carried no card and paid no dues, he definitely considered himself a Communist engaged in Communist Party work. In this connection RENO expressed the opinion that the vast majority of the Communist Party members have no idea of the Communist Party underground that is interested in espionage.

RENO stated that in 1938 he came to the conclusion that he was no longer in sympathy with the "organizational procedure" of the Communist Party, both as to the open and underground branches. He was also opposed to certain activities; for example he came to believe that espionage was no good and that the result was that the individual was entirely discredited and unable to do any good in the future. RENO stated that he then came to feel that important things should be done openly which was not the case with any of the Communist Party activities. RENO stated that although he stopped active espionage work in 1938 he never made any formal break with the party - was never expelled, and never resigned. As to the basic doctrines of the Communist Party, RENO stated that he would not repudiate all of them even at this time.

MISCELLANEOUS REPORTS, BOOKS AND DOCUMENTS

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO advised that he gave none of the reports of the Ballistic Research Laboratories to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or any other espionage agent. RENO stated that the same was true regarding the various books charged out by him while at the Laboratories and included the various secret and confidential documents, a list of which was furnished by the Baltimore Office in referenced report from Baltimore.

CORRESPONDENCE MAINTAINED BY RENO AT THE WIND TUNNEL

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO advised that he had occasion to correspond with L. L. WHEELER of the Sperry Gyroscope Company. He stated that WHEELER was a bomb-site engineer, that the matters had to do with official business, and that he could not recall any of the details. RENO advised that WHEELER had nothing to do with Communistic or espionage activities.

THOMAS E. HUDSON, who seemed to be a very capable individual, at one time was considered by RENO as a good prospective employee at the laboratories. HUDSON had no Communistic or espionage connections. HARRIET R. BROWN was a girl who worked in the laboratories, with whom RENO had a slight acquaintance, but regarding whom there was no Communistic or espionage activity. As to the inquiry "What happened to the men who were picked up in Havre de Grace," RENO advised that this referred to a scuffle that he and MONROE NORDEN got into with some soldiers in Havre de Grace and whom RENO reported to the Military Police. The scuffle apparently occurred when the soldiers considered that RENO and NORDEN were giving undue attention to the girls accompanying the soldiers.

RENO recalled writing a letter to Senator GLENN TAYLOR arguing against universal military training. RENO recalled that his argument was that a large army without modern weapons was ineffective. He stated that this was not a Communist Party activity.

WILLIAM D. GOODWIN was an assistant in the laboratories to RENO during 1939 and had no Communistic or espionage connections.

RENO was questioned in detail regarding the individuals from whom he received miscellaneous Christmas cards, etc. (as set forth on page 8 of the referenced report from Baltimore) and nothing of significance was reported.

FRIENDS AND ACQUAINTANCES OF FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO

As requested in referenced report from the Baltimore Office, RENO was questioned in detail regarding various friends and acquaintances, as well as miscellaneous correspondence and documents located in his room. Only information which appears pertinent to this investigation is being set forth below.

RENO advised that he could recall definitely no one that he described as "The BIG BEAR". He added that this was the term that he frequently applied to an individual who was large, rough, and agreeable. He stated that if he had ever used this term in connection with securing employment for any one that he might possibly have referred to a Colonel SUMERFELT of the United States Air Forces, whom he considered the type of person that this phrase fitted. RENO stated definitely that SUMERFELT had absolutely no Communistic or espionage connections.

As to STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG, RENO advised that he first knew him in 1943, possibly not until 1944. BLUMBERG, according to RENO, was a graduate in engineering from George Washington University or Johns Hopkins, and had an extensive knowledge of electrical engineering. He was about the same age as RENO and had been in the Navy for about two years ending in the fall of 1946. RENO added that BLUMBERG might have been in the Merchant Marines as an officer transporting troops or on one of the ships operated by the Army which transported troops. BLUMBERG was also connected with the National Research Committee. RENO stated that he also knew ALBERT BLUMBERG, who was a "party chieftain" in Baltimore, Maryland. RENO stated that he never knew this BLUMBERG personally and knew of no connection between the two BLUMBERGS. RENO advised that his friendship with STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG continued until he (RENO) left the Baltimore-Aberdeen area when he was discharged from the University of Maryland Hospital in 1948. RENO recalled that his first contact with STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG was at Aberdeen Proving Grounds when BLUMBERG was trying to put over some project in connection with the National Research Committee. RENO advised that the meeting came about in this way - RENO was called by the security personnel at the entrance stating that STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG wanted to see him. RENO replied that he did not know STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG, to which the guard replied, "Well, he knows you."

It should be noted that RENO'S answers regarding BLUMBERG became rather vague until asked the question, "Did STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG ever meet WHITTAKER CHAMBERS"? This he did not answer and was then asked "Was there something more to BLUMBERG'S visit than you have indicated"? At this RENO became noticeably confused and embarrassed and remarked, "You have got me - there was something more". At this point RENO stated that he did not wish to answer any more questions regarding STANLEY ALEX BLUMBERG until he consulted with his attorney.

When asked whether JESSE ZIMMERMAN and ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN had any espionage or Communistic connection, RENO also refused to answer, stating that he wished to consult with his attorney on this point also. As to ALEXANDER STEVENS, RENO stated that he did not know the man and did not recognize a photograph of him.

As to STEN ASKLOF, RENO stated that this was a personal friend with no Communistic or espionage connections. He stated that ASKLOF was an alcoholic who had some real ability and for whom he (RENO) felt a certain sympathy. He tried to help him in getting employment all that he could and in various other personal matters, and estimated that he spent some $500.00 of his own money for this purpose.

When asked regarding the identity of a professor of Journalism at Columbia University, whose first name is FRANCIS, and whose wife's first names are ANNA MAE, in whose apartment RENO had stayed in New York City when he went there to see ASKLOF leave the country, RENO became embarrassed and stated that he wanted to consult his attorney on this point also before answering.

As to the notation "STEVE", "MAE" and "PERKIE" — April 15, RENO again became embarrassed and stated that was another point on which he wanted to consult his attorney before answering.

When asked about the list of names on notepaper "C. B. BOYS, CRAIG INGALLS, ALGER, etc., RENO stated that these were writers of established text books used in connection with work at the Ballistic Research Laboratories.

RENO stated that Dr. SIDNEY LIBERMAN was merely his dentist and that he had no Communistic or espionage connections. RENO also stated definitely that BERNARD SHEIN was definitely not "BERNIE".

PAST COMMUNISTIC ACTIVITIES OF FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO

RENO advised that subsequent to his employment at the WPA in early 1937, and prior to his employment at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in July 1937, he was the open Communist Party organizer in Cumberland, Maryland. He stated that such activity lasted from two to six weeks and that at this time he used the alias LANCE CLARK. RENO related that through his Communist Party activity in and around Washington, D. C., he was using the last names of BENNETT and HALL. He could not recall having used any first names with these and rather doubted that he ever did.

In Cumberland, Maryland, RENO stated that as the Communist Party organizer he collected dues from some members and forwarded the money to the State Headquarters of the Communist Party in Baltimore, Maryland. He also distributed and collected for various Communist Party literature including the Daily Worker and numerous pamplets, the names of which he could not recall. RENO stated that while in Cumberland, Maryland, he had tried to get a job at the Tinplate Mill, the name not being recalled, where he had hoped to assist in organizing the steel workers. He was not successful in this. Also while in Cumberland, he advised, he tried to see some old-time Socialists for the purpose of recruiting them into the Communist Party. RENO stated that he was unwilling to give the names of these individuals.

RENO stated that while he was in and around Washington, D. C. in 1935 and 1936, the open Party organizer was RAY WARNER, whose Communist Party name was ROBERT E. RAY. RENO recalled that the name ROBERT E. RAY was the name used in the Party work and was the name signed to various official Communist Party bulletins, letters, announcements, etc. RENO described this man as being a native of the United States, white, about 5'10" tall and a flashy dresser. RENO stated that, to the best of his knowledge, this man was still living.

From time to time during the interview with FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, he stated that during his employment with the Federal Government in Washington, D. C., but principally at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds, he has had occasions to complete numerous personnel forms, included in which were questions pertaining to membership in or advocacy of an organization favoring the overthrow of the Government by force and violence. RENO expressed the opinion that because some of these forms were filled out within the past several years that he felt that he was guilty of a violation of the Federal Law that was not barred by the statute of limitations.

RENO identified a photograph of BENJAMIN FIELD as a man of that name who was the Communist Party organizer or one of the top Communist Party functionaries active in Baltimore, Maryland in the Spring of 1937. RENO stated that he was definitely not "BERNIE". RENO also described FIELD as the "party chieftain" when he (RENO) went to Cumberland, Maryland in 1937 to do Communist Party Work. RENO stated that to the best of his knowledge FIELD was not engaged in any espionage activity.

Photographs of ALGER HISS were shown RENO and he stated that he did not know this individual during his espionage activity and had in fact never seen or heard of him until the grand jury proceedings in New York City.

RENO identified the photographs of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as the man of that name whom he knew as "CARL" for a time and with whom he engaged in espionage activity.

RENO stated to the interviewing agents that he planned to discuss his

SCHEUNEMANN of Denver, Colorado. RENO indicated however that he was willing to answer other questions and that when additional questions became embarrassing to him he would indicate that he did not wish to answer this question until consulting his attorney.

CONTACTS OF FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO WITH "BERNIE" AND WHITTAKER CHAMBERS

FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO advised that the beginning of his espionage work was the time he first met "BERNIE" in the room of PATTY WHELAN in Baltimore, Maryland, as he has advised in previous interviews. Subsequently "BERNIE" introduced RENO to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in June of 1937 in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Prior to this introduction RENO had previously seen "BERNIE" some three or four times over a six week period. The first contact, to the best of RENO'S recollection, lasted approximately one hour and the others between three and four hours. RENO stated that he was not at all sure that if he today met "BERNIE" face to face that he would be able to identify him. After considerable hesitation RENO stated that the photograph of DAVID CARPENTER most closely resembles "BERNIE" of all the photographs which had been displayed to him. RENO indicated that this identification was not positive and was made entirely on the basis of photographs shown him.

During the first talks with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, CHAMBERS asked RENO if he understood "what this is". RENO said "Yes, it is espionage" (which RENO definitely understood as espionage designed to aid Soviet Russia.) According to FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, his brother PHILLIP RENO did not know of the nature of the contacts with CHAMBERS.

A few weeks after the first meeting FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO met CHAMBERS

case with his attorney EDWARD J. SCHEUNEMANN in Denver, Colorado, particularly regarding the various questions that he was unwilling to answer during this interview. RENO stated that he wished to talk to the interviewing agents again, and suggested the date February 14, 1949. Arrangements have been made to interview RENO again on this date.

It was concluded that the DAISY FANCHER signature appearing on K35 was written by the same person who wrote the FANCHER signatures appearing on specimens K519 through K526. Specimens K519 through K526 are listed as follows:

K525 Undated handwritten letter on stationery bearing the address "262 South Twenty-First Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania", beginning "Dear Miss Price I really didn't hear ...", signed CONDE DAISY FANSLER.

K526 Letter typewritten on stationery of The Free Library of Philadelphia, Logan Square, Philadelphia, dated November 23, 1945, signed CONDE DAISY FANSLER.

It was concluded that the ALGER HISS signature appearing on K40 was written by the person who signed the ALGER HISS signature appearing on a United States Civil Service Commission Applicant fingerprint card dated May 6, 1942. The fingerprints on the fingerprint card were taken, according to the notation appearing on the reverse side of the fingerprint card, by GRADY E. BENNETT, Junior Stenographer, Room 100, Department of State, May 6, 1942. The ALGER HISS signature appearing on the fingerprint card submitted by the New York Office showing the arrest date of 12-16-48 contains variations which are not in the HISS signature on K40. This is probably due to the fact that the HISS signature on K40 was written in 1933, while the signature on the fingerprint card was written in the latter part of 1948.

It was concluded that the PRISCILLA FANSLER HISS signature on K41 was written by the person who wrote the PRISCILLA HISS signature appearing on K535.

Testimony can be given in regard to the above conclusions, however, it is specifically pointed out that the authenticity of the known handwritings would have to be established to the satisfaction of the Court.

For the information of the New York Office, specimens Ke1 through Ke4, which were received from the Baltimore Office under date of November 29, 1948, are described below:

Ke1 Photostatic copy of a three-page letter dated April 13, 1936 beginning "Dear Mr. Case, The arrangements suggested in your letter ...", bearing known handwriting specimens of ALGER HISS.

Ke2 Photostatic copy of a letter dated April 16, 1936 beginning "Dear Mr. Case, The washer on the plunger of the pump ...", bearing known handwriting specimens of ALGER HISS.

Ke3 Photostatic copy of a letter dated April 25, 1936 beginning "Dear Mr. Case, I was disappointed to receive ...", bearing known handwriting specimens of ALGER HISS.

Ke4 Photostatic copy of a two-page letter dated May 5, 1936 beginning "Dear Mr. Case, Your letter of April 22 and earlier letters ...", bearing known handwriting specimens of ALGER HISS.

The evidence submitted will be returned to the New York Office as soon as photographic copies have been made for the files of the Laboratory.

Att: FBI Laboratory

Reference letter from the Bureau to the Attorney General dated December 13, 1948, and letter from the Bureau to New York dated February 5, 1949.

In the referenced letter of December 13, 1948, it is stated "it was concluded the handwriting on specimens Q1 through Q4 was written by AIGER HISS, whose known handwriting specimens are listed in the FBI Laboratory as KC1 through KC4." These known handwriting specimens were submitted by the Baltimore Office of the FBI on November 29, 1948. This office has no information as to what handwriting specimens are referred to as KC1 through KC4. It is desired that the Baltimore Office, as well as the Bureau, advise this office just what specimens are referred to as KC1 through KC4.

In the referenced letter of February 5, 1949, it is noted that the FBI Laboratory has advised that "if authenticated known handwriting specimens of AIGER HISS, PRISCILLA HISS and DAISY FANSLER are received in the future, such signatures will be compared with the signatures appearing on specimens K35, K40 and K41." The Bureau has in its possession a copy of a fingerprint card of AIGER HISS, who was fingerprinted at the New York Office on December 16, 1948. A signature appears thereon and it was witnessed by two Agents of this office. It is further believed that the Baltimore Office has a copy of AIGER HISS' signature that was placed on a signed statement that was secured from him on December 4, 1948. Further, it is believed that the Washington Field Office could secure specimens of the handwriting of AIGER HISS from the personnel file of AIGER HISS that was maintained on him at the time he was employed by the United States Government.

There is enclosed herewith the original signed statement of PRISCILLA HISS that was obtained from her at the time she was interviewed at this office. This signature appearing on this statement was witnessed by two Agents of this office.

For the information of the Philadelphia and Norfolk Offices, an attempt is now being made to obtain authentic specimens of DAISY FANSLER'S handwriting. It is desired that she be recontacted and that a copy of her signature, along with

CRANE ADVISED THAT COL. BYKOV WAS PROBABLY INTRODUCED BY CHAMBERS, THAT HE, CRANE, KEPT PREARRANGED MEETINGS WITH BYKOV ON THE AVERAGE OF ONCE OR TWICE A MONTH. CRANE SAID HE NEVER REALLY KNEW THE REASON FOR HIS CONTACTS WITH BYKOV BUT THAT ON OCCASIONS HE DELIVERED MONEY FROM BYKOV TO CHAMBERS AND SOMETIMES WHEN CHAMBERS COULD NOT KEEP MEETINGS WITH BYKOV CHAMBERS WOULD SEND CRANE.

Reference is made to New York teletype to the Director and Boston dated February 8, 1949, requesting Boston to interview Judge MANLEY O. HUDSON, Harvard Law School, Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts, to secure any typewritten correspondence emanating from ALGER HISS.

Professor HENRY M. HART of Harvard Law School, who was interviewed on February 4, 1949, also suggested that Judge HUDSON be contacted. Accordingly, an appointment was made through Judge Hudson's secretary for February 10, 1949.

Judge HUDSON when contacted stated he did not desire to be interviewed orally and that if a letter were forwarded to him outlining the informa requested he would reply by letter.

The Bureau file number of this case is unknown to Boston. This letter pointed out that on May 10, 1948 an attempt was ma an agent of the Boston Office to interview Professor HUDSON concerning PARMELEE, and that the secretary stated Professor Hudson would not see agent, advising if a letter were submitted requesting Professor Hudson's views he would reply.

~~DEFERRED PENDING~~

In view of the foregoing, in the event the Bureau desires Boston to submit a letter to Judge MANLEY O. PERJURY - ESPIONAGE R

STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

[redacted] has furnished the following information in the strictest of confidence.

The informant, in recent months (as indicated in another Boston letter) has been closely associated with Mr. HUGH GIBSON. GIBSON was a life-long career employee of the State Department and served as Acting Secretary of State during the Hoover Administration. GIBSON's last post and during the war years was as Ambassador to a country in South America. GIBSON is now the president of Random House Publishing Company in New York City.

Very recently, GIBSON advised [redacted] that while he was an Ambassador in South America, he had as a secretary a girl whose confidence he enjoyed completely. On one occasion, and he did not place the date for the Boston informant, this girl received a personal letter in the diplomatic mail pouch from LAWRENCE DUGGAN. The letter requested this unidentified girl to obtain certain information concerning departmental employees and others in that South American capital. A postscript to the letter requested the girl to treat this matter most confidentially as the information was desired by "some of the left-wing crowd in Washington." The girl was particularly cautioned not to exhibit the letter to Ambassador GIBSON. GIBSON indicated that the request was not complied with and that even at that time he suspected ALGER HISS of being the center of the "left-wing crowd" in the State Department.

The pertinence of the foregoing, if true, to the instant case is not known. It is noted that Mr. GIBSON is now a man of advanced years and, according to [redacted] of failing memory. It is suggested, however, that the Bureau might wish to direct an interview of GIBSON for any information he may have concerning HISS, CHAMBERS and DUGGAN, if this has not already been done. It is requested that the specific incident not be mentioned to him inasmuch as his discussion with [redacted] was a private and confidential one. It is obvious that if he is interviewed directly concerning this incident that the identity of [redacted] will be revealed and it can be further expected that the Bureau would lose the services of this informant.

DETAILS: AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

BEVERLY SMITH, writer, Saturday Evening Post, 744 Jackson Place, n.w., advised that he has been acquainted with ALGER HISS and his family since SMITH's boyhood days, when he lived on Park Avenue and the HISS family lived on nearby Linden Street, in Baltimore, Maryland. He recalled HISS' mother as a widowed woman with five children who lived in modest circumstances, and who was very courageous and a good manager and mother. SMITH stated that he was somewhat older than ALGER and DONALD HISS, advising that he visited the HISS home frequently because of his very close friendship with their brother, BOSLEY HISS, who died in 1926. He recalled that both ALGER and DONALD were serious minded well-behaved boys, contrasting them with BOSLEY, who was a very gay and carefree lad. SMITH stated he graduated from Johns Hopkins in 1919, considerably ahead of ALGER HISS, and lost track of ALGER and DONALD HISS to some extent until he heard of their brilliant records at Harvard University.

BEVERLY SMITH related that in 1931 or 1932 he had written an article on the late Justice OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES for the American Magazine, and had sought out ALGER HISS for background data and interesting anecdotes. He stated that ALGER was very cooperative but was reticent in furnishing personal material concerning the home life of the Justice or intimate personal items. SMITH stated that he furnished this as evidence of the scrupulous consideration which he felt identified ALGER HISS. SMITH also mentioned that he had written an article on CORDELL HULL at a later date, at which time ALGER was employed at the State Department, and again he had consulted HISS for the same purpose. He stated that ALGER was most courteous and considerate, but again, reluctant to furnish personal bits of information as he did not feel this proper and correct. SMITH stated that because of his early acquaintance with the HISS family he feels prejudiced on HISS' side. At the same time, he is aware of the seriousness of CHAMBERS' allegations and the developments since CHAMBERS' exposures.

SMITH advised that he had not seen ALGER HISS very often, perhaps on eight occasions in the past fifteen years. He said he made it a point to look ALGER up every so often. He was unable to associate HISS personally with any of the characters in the case, such as PRESSMAN, ABT, CHAMBERS, WITT, etc. He stated he had never had any personal correspondence with ALGER, nor had he ever met ALGER's wife or the wife of DONALD HISS. He mentioned that he has seen DONALD perhaps four times in the past ten or fifteen years.

SMITH advised that he had no information which would identify HISS with the Communist movement nor did he have any contrary data. He stated that if

HISS had espoused the doctrines of Communism, he had no idea when he may have been converted. He recalled that in the early 1930's, there were numerous evening gatherings of dynamic young men who had been brought into the Government, and that all kinds of theories and ideas were discussed, and he is pretty sure ALGER was exposed to these ideas and participated in the discussions, particularly in AAA, where there was much talk of rolling up of sleeves and remaking America.

BEVERLY SMITH stated that he understood that the attorneys for ALGER HISS, at one time at least, were very confident of winning the libel suit filed by HISS against CHAMBERS in Baltimore, Maryland. He also indicated that the character and background of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS is the weak link in the Government's case against ALGER HISS, and that the trial will disclose that the defense knows a lot more about CHAMBERS than we do.

ANATOL VISSON, Time Magazine, 815 - 15th Street, n.w., advised that he has known ALGER HISS in his official capacity as Time reporter, since about 1944, first meeting him about the time of the Dumbarton Oaks conversations. He also recalled that he saw HISS during the San Francisco Conference, April 25 to June 27, 1945, at which time HISS acted as Secretary General, meeting the press and interested persons in a casual and highly efficient manner. He stated that a one word description of ALGER HISS is that he is genial. He advised that he never received any inside information or "scoops", but as a reporter, considered HISS a top grade man to contact at the State Department.

VISSON also recalled that the last time he saw ALGER HISS was in connection with an article on ANDREI GROMYKO, who was featured on the front page of Time during 1947. VISSON stated that he recalled having heard some vague rumor about HISS' loyalty and felt that this was an opportunity to interrogate HISS, whom he knew was acquainted with GROMYKO. He advised that HISS handled the interview in a very casual and disarming manner and answered VISSON's most penetrating questions to the latter's entire satisfaction. VISSON advised that he could furnish no information connecting HISS with any of the subjects in the case nor any information showing Communist affiliation. He stated that he had never visited socially with HISS nor exchanged correspondence with him. He stated that he had considerable information concerning ALGER's background as he had assisted in collecting information for the lengthy article on HISS and CHAMBERS which appeared in the December 20, 1948 issue of Time Magazine, following disclosure of the espionage documents by CHAMBERS. At that time VISSION interviewed several of HISS' superiors in the Department of State, including ~~LEO PASLOVSKY,~~ STANLEY HORNBECK and one BALLANTINE.

PASVOLSKY

GARDNER JACKSON, Cooperative League of the United States of America, 726 Jackson Place, was interviewed concerning his acquaintance with and knowledge of HISS. It is recalled that JACKSON was well known in past years as an extreme liberal, appearing in the role of speaker, sponsor or member of numerous organizations and causes recognized generally as Communist Party fronts or those with which the Communists were identified.

JACKSON advised that he had known ALGER HISS during their employment by the AAA from 1933 to 1935. He stated that HISS worked in the Legal Division under JEROME FRANK and was associated with JOHN ABT, NATHAN WITT, and LEE PRESSMAN. He advised that ALGER was particularly close with LEE PRESSMAN and was aware that WITT and PRESSMAN had attended Harvard law school with ALGER HISS. JACKSON stated that he is certain that LEE PRESSMAN is a Communist, recalling particularly PRESSMAN's blind adherence to every deviation in the party line. He recalled June 22, 1941 particularly, when Russia was attacked by Germany, as an instance when PRESSMAN changed his views overnight. JACKSON has the same feeling with reference to JOHN ABT, who was described as an excellent attorney and legal student, possibly more capable than the driving ambitious PRESSMAN. JACKSON indicated that he had some ideas about ALGER HISS but preferred not to express his "suppositions". He mentioned that last summer, BEN MANDEL, House Committee on Un-American Activities, had approached him in Columbus, Ohio concerning HISS and subsequently an investigator from the State Department had called on him and on each occasion he declined to give what he considers only "suppositions".

JACKSON stated that he has not had any particular contact with HISS since their AAA days and he has never visited with HISS. He recalled meeting HISS on a street car about three years ago at which time HISS scarcely spoke to him. In this connection, JACKSON recalled the period when he and numerous others, including PRESSMAN, JOHN ABT, ABE FORTAS, FRANK SHEA, VICTOR ROTNEM, and others, were purged from the Department of Agriculture because of a tremendous conflict of field operations in AAA pertaining to employment of sharecroppers. He recalled that ALGER HISS, for some reason, was not included in the purge list, although he had prepared the brief which brought on the explosion. He also stated that at the time they knew that HISS was aware of the impending dismissals for the two weeks preceding the issuance of the notices, and that all of the group had been very angry with HISS and let him know it, with the result that HISS made vigorous complaints to FELIX FRANKFURTER at Harvard University. Subsequently FRANKFURTER phoned GORDON JACKSON, among others, and JACKSON made a trip to Harvard to explain to Mr. FRANKFURTER their side of the matter.

As indicated, JACKSON advised that he has had no social meetings with HISS since 1935 and never exchanged correspondence with him. He stated, however, that in 1948, after the HISS case broke in the HCUA, he had learned from mutual friends that HISS might be interested in JACKSON's recollections of the relationship between ALGER and LEE PRESSMAN and others, apparently HISS' claim being that they were on quite casual terms. JACKSON stated that his recollection on this point was quite to the contrary and he allowed these mutual friends to know that he would be of no value as a witness for HISS. He stated that perhaps in late August 1948, he had received a letter from HISS suggesting that they get together, but advised that he had notanswered this letter. JACKSON stated the letter was typewritten on stationery of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and volunteered the thought that it might not be relevent in this matter, however, he would endeavor to locate the letter at home and advise the writer.

JACKSON stated that he must admit the indictment of ALGER HISS and the failure to indict WHITTAKER CHAMBERS seemed terribly inconsistent with the concept of completely impartial legal procedure and he is in deep conflict because of this. He admitted, however, that he felt CHAMBERS' story has been truthful, for the most part. In this connection, he advised that some of his friends have been approached to contribute to a defense fund which has been organized by members of the Harvard faculty under the leadership of Professor RICHARD FIELD, whom he referred to as DICK FIELD, and JACKSON is concerned whether he should or should not contribute to this fund if he is approached.

GARDNER JACKSON stated that he has never been acquainted with HAROLD WARE, who formerly worked in the Agriculture Department, nor does he know VICTOR PERLO. He stated he knew CHARLES KRAMER and recalled that while with AAA, LEE PRESSMAN had brought KRAMER in and requested JACKSON to persuade FREDERICK C. HOWE, Consumers Counsel, to employ KRAMER, which he did, and KRAMER was employed. At that time he was using his true name of CHARLES KRIVISKY. JACKSON also mentioned another incident which he recollects, namely, that while acting as Legislative Representative for the CIO, he had recommended LEE PRESSMAN to JOHN L. LEWIS for the position of General Counsel and that LEWIS regrets this now.

JACKSON stated that he had known LAURENCE DUGGAN very well and that he was certain that DUGGAN was not a member of the Communist Party nor involved in any espionage activities. He stated, as a matter of fact, that he had talked with TOM C. CLARK about this and made himself active in defending DUGGAN's good name. JACKSON stated that he thought he may have met NOAH FIELDS on one or two occasions but was not certain, although he was vaguely aware that LAURENCE DUGGAN had resided at the same apartment building with FIELDS in Washington, D. C. In defending DUGGAN, JACKSON recalled an occasion in the spring of 1940, when DUGGAN informed him of the action of

NOEL

WFO 74-94

LEE PRESSMAN and JOHN L. LEWIS having an agreement with VICENTE TOLEDANO to persuade President ~~GOMACHO~~ of Mexico to sell expropriated oil to WILLIAM RHODES DAVIS, which oil later appeared in shipments to Nazi Germany. JACKSON pointed out that if DUGGAN's sympathies were pro-Communist during that period of Nazi Soviet friendship, he would have never disclosed this information.

Rerep Special Agent COURTLAND J. JONES, dated January 28, 1949, at Washington, D. C.

WILLIAM H. TRIPPLETT has previously furnished information to the effect that TIMOTHY HOBSON attended a summer camp known as Camp Wachusett, which TRIPPLETT operated at Holderness, New Hampshire. TRIPPLETT stated that his catalogues reflect that HOBSON attended the 1938 and 1939 sessions, which sessions consisted of about eight weeks beginning the first week in July.

TRIPPLETT has subsequently furnished information to the effect that he recalls vaguely that ALGER HISS was in New Hampshire, probably during the 1938 session, at which time he contacted the camp telephonically and stated that he was spending a little time at some tourist camps across the lake from the camp. The tourist camps at that time were known as Perkins Cabins, Holderness, New Hampshire, and were operated at that time by HAROLD PERKINS.

It is noted that TRIPPLETT is not certain of these facts and stated that they are based on his memory only and he may have the HOBSON boy confused with some other boy who was in the camp at the time.

The Boston Division is requested to conduct investigation at Holderness, New Hampshire to ascertain if any documents are available at Perkins Cabins or in the possession of HAROLD PERKINS from ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS. Any typewritten documents found should be forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for comparison with known typewriting specimens.

ASAC Santoiano of the New Haven Office called in at 11:30 a.m. today and stated that their interviews conducted with reference to the situation at New London, Connecticut, had been completed and the subjects, J. G. Jiuletti and Dudley Chapman, were not satisfactory. Both were evasive and adamant. He stated that it was believed desirable that the investigation of these two individuals proceed to uncover the full scope of their espionage activities and to this end he recommended that technical surveillances be authorized on the residences of both these subjects. Dudley Chapman's residence is Golden Spur, Waterford, Connecticut, Telephone New London 2-2973. J. G. Jiuletti resides at 45 Boston Post Road, New London, Phone 2-9346.

Carson

I advised Mr. Santoiano that the above requests would be submitted to the Attorney General, and he advised that the full details and the results of the interview with the subjects in New London were being submitted by teletype.

ACTION:

An appropriate memorandum should be prepared for the Attorney General requesting authority to make the technical installation.

Specimen of Daisy Fansler K35.

It is to be noted that the handwriting specimens were given by Miss FANSLER after much reluctance and a consultation with her attorney, Mr. ANTHONY WHITAKER of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. She has been most uncooperative in this matter on three occasions that she has been contacted by Agents of this office, and it is not deemed advisable that Miss FANSLER be recontacted unless absolutely necessary.

In view of the fact that the handwriting specimens appear to be of no further value to the Norfolk Office, the evidence may be retained or forwarded to the office of origin.

By reference from Miss O'Donnell, I saw Mr. Arthur M. Roark, Jr., whose letterhead is attached. He exhibited the credentials of a private detective licensed by the State of New York, and his New York address is 2 Broadway, New York 4, New York, telephone Bowling Green 9-4452.

Roark advised that for 20 years he has specialized in investigating alleged cases of suicide for various insurance companies, and he was retained by the Home Life Insurance Company since Laurence Duggan took out a $10,000 policy that has run less than two years, and thus, if he committed suicide, Home Life is not liable for the $10,000. He has also been retained by the Aetna Life Insurance Company with which company Duggan had a $13,000 insurance policy which contained a double-indemnity clause; thus, if Duggan met his death by accident, the company would be liable for an additional $13,000. In addition, Duggan carried a $10,000 life insurance policy with the New York Life Insurance Company, which has a double-indemnity clause. However, the New York Life Insurance Company is conducting its own investigation.

Roark stated that he is investigating primarily to determine if Duggan had a motive for committing suicide. To that end, he was placed in the embarrassing position of having to ask for confidential information which he would accept either on or off the record. To that end he saw the Attorney General on the morning of February 2. The Attorney General stated he did not know much about the case and referred him to me. I told Mr. Roark quite frankly that the Attorney General's office had called me but that I did not have any specific instructions from the AG and in the absence of specific instructions it would not be possible to furnish him certain confidential information, which would be outlined hereafter.

Roark told me that he had spent considerable time with Adolf Berle, Jr., who claims that following his interview with Whittaker Chambers, he had turned his notes and the information furnished by Chambers over to the FBI in 1941, according to his best recollection and belief. I told Mr. Roark that this was an incorrect statement, that we did not secure the Berle notes until 1943, although we knew in 1941 that Chambers had been to Berle in 1939, but that Berle had not turned anything over to us until we went to Berle and asked for his notes. He was quite specific in describing Berle's notes so there is no doubt that Berle furnished him with complete information.

Roark then asked how many times we had interviewed Laurence Duggan. I told him that we had interviewed Duggan on Friday afternoon, December 10, and we considered this a routine interview. Pursuant to his inquiry he was informed that occasioned by statements made by Whittaker Chambers that the interview had been conducted on an amiable basis, that the Agents who interviewed Duggan were satisfied with Duggan's statement. He then stated that he, of course, had no reason to contradict the statement but that he had been led to believe that we had had more than one interview with Duggan. He stated that he had talked to Hedda Gompers and it was her opinion that we had had several interviews with Duggan. I told Roark that obviously Duggan, occupying the position he did in the State Department, was frequently contacted by the Bureau, that I had no doubt that we had interviewed him on numerous occasions in connection with applicants and other matters; however, I thought that he was referring to specific controversies that arose immediately after Duggan's death, and that there had only been one interview in connection with the New York allegations. He asked to be advised as to the content of the subject matter of the interview. I told him that this was a matter that would have to be cleared with the Attorney General, that we had a specific directive from the AG not to disclose or discuss this case, and that even though the Attorney General had referred him to me, I did not feel at liberty to discuss the Duggan interview beyond what had already been said and beyond what the Attorney General had said in his statements, which were, in themselves, self-explanatory and concerning the details of which we did not enter into any discussion. He stated this was quite understandable.

Roark then stated that he had seen Drew Pearson and had asked Pearson about his broadcast wherein Pearson had referred to the fact that Duggan had been approached by Frederick Vanderbilt Field and Hedda Gompers to act as a spy for the Russians but had declined. Pearson told him that he could not divulge his sources, that he knew Duggan intimately and Roark would have to accept Pearson's word. In this connection Roark stated he asked the Attorney General about this and the Attorney General stated he should discuss this phase of the matter with me. I told Roark I frankly did not know why the AG should say that he should discuss this matter with me as I knew nothing about Pearson's sources other than what Pearson said. In this connection you will recall we made a protest to the Department and the Attorney General sent back a memorandum with the notation as to who told Pearson. We have not pursued this matter further.

Roark further related that he had had a lengthy conversation with Mrs. Duggan and, in fact, presented a letter from Mrs. Duggan, addressed to whom it may concern, requesting that all information pertaining to her husband be turned over to Roark. He stated that Mrs. Duggan strongly intimated that Duggan had made mistakes in his younger days and, in fact, told him that when the name of Noelfield was injected into this case last October that Larry Duggan had forwarded a clipping to Noelfield and Noelfield had replied, stating that if that was all they had, he saw no necessity for making a statement. However, this letter could not be found among Duggan's effects, although Roark stated he was amazed at the amount of personal correspondence Mrs. Duggan was able to produce.

Roark then asked if we had conducted a Hatch Act investigation on Duggan. I told him I was not at liberty to discuss this and would take the matter up at a later date. In this connection he had the AG's statement to the effect that there was no evidence involving Duggan in espionage. We have not conducted a Hatch Act investigation on Duggan. He then stated that only three people that he had run into had alleged that Duggan was a member of the Communist Party, that his considered judgment was that Duggan was not a member. I told him that probably if he were a member it would be practically impossible to ever prove this. He then stated that he had ascertained that after the Chambers allegations to Berle that Duggan had offered to resign from the State Department. He wanted to know if we had anything in connection with this. I told him that quite frankly we did not.

A memorandum is attached to the Attorney General advising of Roark's call to the Bureau and a summary of the interview, requesting the Attorney General's instructions as to what, if anything additional should be furnished Roark.

Attachment

There is no reason to send memo to A.G. He has most definitely stated we were to talk to no one. I think Nick spent much too much time with Roark & answered too many queries. We can make "no comment" & should stick to it. H.

Dear Sir:

On December 7th and 8th, 1948 HEDE MASSING was interviewed concerning LAURENCE H. DUGGAN, formerly of the State Department. She stated she had worked on him and eventually succeeded in getting him to meet her superior, BORIS. This was during the mid-Thirties. (U)

LAURENCE H. DUGGAN was interviewed on December 10, 1948 and stated that he could not place HEDE GUMPERTZ, which was the name used by HEDE MASSING at the time she states she met DUGGAN. He denied that she ever approached him or that he had ever met anyone at her suggestion. (U)

On January 26th and February 4, 1949, while HEDE MASSING was being interviewed by SA's John M. O'Mara and William J. McCarthy, Jr. for the purpose of securing her complete story, she furnished the following information concerning LAURENCE H. DUGGAN: (U)

She stated that she had tried to refresh her recollection concerning her association with DUGGAN and as a result she had thought of a number of things which she was unable to recall at the time of her previous interview. (U)

HEDE MASSING stated that she feels that she met LAURENCE H. DUGGAN through NOEL FIELD. She places her first meeting with NOEL FIELD sometime late in 1934, and it is her recollection that she met DUGGAN a few months after she met FIELD, which would probably be in early 1935. She recalled that she also met LAURENCE DUGGAN'S wife HELEN, probably at the same time she met DUGGAN. (U)

In regard to HEDE MASSING'S meeting DUGGAN through NOEL FIELD, it should be pointed out that MARGUERITE YOUNG, who was the "Daily Worker" correspondent in Washington from 1933 to 1936, was recently interviewed by this office and stated that it was her belief that she affected an introduction for HEDE GUMPERTZ with LAURENCE H. DUGGAN. (U)

HEDE stated that she could recall three specific meetings with LAURENCE H. DUGGAN. She feels that there undoubtedly were other meetings. However, she can only recall these three, which are: 1. A motor trip from New York to Washington with DUGGAN and his wife; 2. A weekend at DUGGAN'S house in Washington, and 3. A visit to DUGGAN'S office in the State Department and lunch at the Oasis Restaurant in Washington. HEDE was unable to place the dates of these meetings or the sequence. She feels sure that they all took place within a year from the time she first met DUGGAN, which means that they probably all took place during 1935. (U)

In regard to the motor trip, HEDE recalls that she drove from New York to Washington with DUGGAN and his wife. She feels that NOEL and HERTHA FIELD were also with them. She cannot recall whose car was used but feels that it was possibly NOEL FIELD'S. She recalls that they stopped at a famous fish restaurant in Baltimore on their way to Washington and she had oyster stew and got sick. She recalls that that evening in Washington she stayed at the apartment of the FIELDS. She cannot recall any conversations that she had with DUGGAN on the trip. (U)

In regard to the weekend at DUGGAN'S house in Washington, HEDE stated that it was her recollection that there were no other guests and that LARRY DUGGAN, HELEN DUGGAN, and one of their children were there. She recalled that during her visit on the weekend she and LARRY took a walk in the country and during their walk HEDE asked LARRY if he would supply her with information. He evidently interpreted her request to mean that he should supply her with "documents". HEDE digressed at this point to state that she doubted whether DUGGAN actually used the word document because at that time the use of such a word in connection with forwarding information was more or less a word of European usage. However, whatever word DUGGAN had used had carried the same idea. DUGGAN stated to her that he did not have access to any "documents" which would be of interest to her. He added that he would give her bits of news that came to his attention that would be of interest to her, however, he insisted that the person who contacted him for the purpose of getting the information must know shorthand, because he did not have time to wait for a person to write it out in longhand. (U)

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

HEDE felt that DUGGAN agreed to do what he said he would do because he wanted to be a hero and do something out of the ordinary. She told him not to tell his wife and to this he readily agreed. X(U)

In regard to the visit of HEDE to DUGGAN'S office in the State Department, she stated that it is her recollection that when she went to Washington on one trip she telephoned to DUGGAN at the State Department and he suggested that she come to his office, which she did. After she met him there the two left and went to a restaurant, which she believes was called the Oasis, and had lunch. It was her recollection that DUGGAN was in charge of some section of the State Department. She states that it is her recollection that at this meeting she arranged with DUGGAN that he should meet the person who was to be his contact, and to whom he was to furnish his information. This person was to meet him in a car on a road somewhere enroute between the State Department and his, DUGGAN'S, house. HEDE could not recall just where the place of the meeting was to be or whether the place was suggested by her or by DUGGAN. She feels that the secrecy of the meeting was by mutual agreement. Person unknown to HEDE. X(U)

HEDE stated that it is her recollection that she reported her dealings with DUGGAN to her superior, BORIS, in New York. She recalls telling BORIS about DUGGAN'S request that the person who contacted him should know shorthand. It is her recollection that she recommended to BORIS that he send an intelligent, well-educated individual of completely American background, since she felt that DUGGAN was somewhat repelled by the "foreign atmosphere" of her proposition. It is HEDE'S impression that BORIS did not contact DUGGAN since he spoke very poor English. HEDE recalls that BORIS advised her sometime after she had made arrangements for DUGGAN to meet his contact, that DUGGAN was very difficult. HEDE did not know just what BORIS meant by this, but felt that he meant that DUGGAN was difficult because he was not completely cooperative - if at all. X(U)

HEDE stated that she does not recall ever having heard DUGGAN mention ALGER HISS. She knows that LARRY DUGGAN was friendly with NOEL FIELD and that he, DUGGAN, knew that FIELD was at least interested in the Communist International Movement. HEDE stated that DUGGAN scoffed at the American Communist Party. She considered LAURENCE DUGGAN a much higher type individual than NOEL FIELD, both as to character and intellectual ability. X(U)

CONFIDENTIAL

HEDE stated that DUGGAN was difficult throughout her contact with him. She feels that he resisted because he felt his efforts were futile, rather than because he was a coward or because of loyalty. X(u)

In regard to the method that she used in attempting to recruit DUGGAN, HEDE stated that she posed as an anti-Nazi and talked Socialism. She may even have mentioned that she was connected with the Comintern, but she certainly never mentioned that she was working for Soviet Intelligence. X(u)

In regard to her request of DUGGAN that he should supply her with information, she stated that this was not normally a function of hers and that her function was principally to recruit people and get them to meet her superior. However, in the case of DUGGAN, she does recall asking him to supply information, but she does not recall the reason why she did this in this particular case. X(u)

HEDE recalled that when she was in Moscow during the period from November, 1937 to June, 1938 when she was being interviewed by the NKVD, the name LARRY DUGGAN was mentioned. She also recalls that the name HISS was mentioned, but she could not recall in just what connection either of these names was mentioned. However, she did explain that during this period in Moscow she had been completely interviewed as to any and all contacts she had had in the United States and accordingly, there was nothing unusual about the names of these two individuals being brought up. X(u)

HEDE stated that after she broke with the Russians and returned to the United States from Russia in June, 1938, she went to Washington to see LARRY DUGGAN and advise him of her break. She could not place the date of this visit but ~~did~~could have been as late as the Summer of 1939. She did this because she felt responsible for DUGGAN and, as she liked him, she wanted to make sure that he was not retaining any association with any individuals as a result of his former friendship with her. When she went to Washington she did not see DUGGAN, but saw his wife HELEN. At this time DUGGAN was living in a different house from the one where HEDE had spent the weekend. HELEN greeted HEDE very busily and rather cooly. HELEN was engaged in running a children's party at the time and left HEDE seated downstairs. HEDE remained for some time waiting to see LAURENCE DUGGAN, who was out and who did not return. When she had been kept waiting some time and HELEN did not return downstairs, HEDE decided to leave and accordingly, left without further contact with HELEN. X(u)

CONF. X

CONFIDENTIAL

HEDE stated that she never saw DUGGAN or HELEN after this visit to Washington. She was satisfied that she would not have to see LARRY DUGGAN and tell him of her break since she felt that HELEN had expressed by her attitude that she knew of HEDE'S relationship to DUGGAN and disapproved of it. This all added up in HEDE'S mind to the fact that DUGGAN had undoubtedly broken with the Russians, if he had ever fully developed any connections with them or their agents. X(U)

The above is being furnished to the Bureau in order that it may have available the complete story of HEDE MASSING'S association with DUGGAN. X(U)

Very truly yours,

Reference is made to the Bureau teletype to New York dated January 24, 1949, authorizing interview of RUTH SHIPLEY and RAYMOND MURPHY of the State Department for additional information concerning Colonel BORIS BYKOV.

Reference is also made to New York teletype to the Director, WFO, and Baltimore dated January 19, 1949, advising the New York Office has a copy of a memorandum dated July 11, 1939, prepared by RUTH SHIPLEY concerning her interview with General WALTER KRIVITSKY on June 29, 1939, which interview was arranged by ISAAC DON LEVINE. The teletype quoted from this memorandum as follows:

> "Another person very active in the Soviet intelligence work in this country, who is now here, is a man said to be Colonel BORIS BYKOV or BYKOFF, or BUKOV or BUKOEF. He is probably in charge of the extermination of KRIVITSKY. He is said to be a small person with very odd red-brown eyes, red hair, and red eyebrows. He came to this country in the summer of 1936 from France, also probably first class on the NORMANDIE. He received a visa in Paris in the spring of 1936 on either a German or Polish passport."

DEFERRED RECORDING

The following investigation was conducted by SA M. A. TAYLOR:

ENCLOSURE ATTACHED

Mrs. RUTH SHIPLEY, Chief, Passport Division, State Department, Room 204 Winder Building, was interviewed on January 26, 1949. Mrs. SHIPLEY recalled having interviewed General WALTER KRIVITSKY in the summer of 1939 but advised she did not recall making a formal report of the interview and did not have any notes of the interview in her possession at this time. Mrs. SHIPLEY related that in 1939 the State Department had conducted an extensive investigation pertaining to fraudulent obtaining of passports, as a result of which criminal actions were instituted. She recalled that about this time they had revised the entire system of issuing passports and had recalled every red passport then outstanding. She explained that the red passports were so identified from their red covering.

She continued that during this period, General KRIVITSKY had written a series of articles in the SATURDAY EVENING POST and in one of these articles, had mentioned having seen a great supply of American red passports in Moscow.

She advised that she determined to interview General KRIVITSKY, mentioning that Mr. GEORGE MESSERSMITH had not wanted KRIVITSKY interviewed in the State Department and, at the suggestion of ADOLPH A. BERLE, she and her assistant, Mr. ASHLEY NICHOLAS, had proceeded to New York and interviewed General KRIVITSKY there.

The descriptive data set forth above was discussed with Mrs. SHIPLEY at some length. She advised that this information was substantially identical with her recollection, and she could add nothing in addition thereto. Mrs. SHIPLEY called in Mr. ASHLEY NICHOLAS, Assistant Chief, Passport Division, for interview and further suggested Mr. RAYMOND MURPHY as a possible source of information.

ASHLEY J. NICHOLAS, Room 208 Winder Building, was interviewed and confirmed the statements of Mrs. SHIPLEY. He recalled the interview in New York on June 28, 1939, advising it had taken place in an old residence (apartment) in the 50's or 60's off Fifth Avenue, belonging to one OBLENNIS (phonetic), deceased, who was a friend of Mrs. SHIPLEY. Mr. NICHOLAS expressed the opinion that he had some of the old notes taken by Mrs. SHIPLEY in his possession, and after an extensive search of his file cabinets, Mr. NICHOLAS produced several pages of handwritten notes. One of these pages contained notes concerning the reference to BORIS BYKOV and was identical with the information set forth in the second paragraph above. NICHOLAS advised that Mrs. SHIPLEY had undoubtedly prepared a memorandum concerning theBORIS BYKOV phase of the interview.

With further reference to the information furnished by General KRIVITSKY, Mr. NICHOLAS gave Agent TAYLOR copy of a memorandum which he had dictated from some of the notes. Copies of this memorandum are being furnished the Bureau and the New York Office herewith. It is noted that KRIVITSKY recognized without identifying the photographs of several individuals mentioned in this case, including MAX BEDACHT and TAMER. Mr. NICHOLAS also handed Agent TAYLOR copy of a memorandum dated October 25, 1939, reflecting an interview between ISAAC DON LEVINE and Mrs. SHIPLEY. In this connection, it is noted that Mrs. SHIPLEY indicated that during the passport investigation mentioned previously, she had solicited the assistance of ISAAC DON IEVINE and he had aided her during that period.

In view of the information obtained from KRIVITSKY to the effect that BYKOV had obtained an American visa in Paris in the spring of 1936 on a German or Polish passport, investigation was conducted to determine the feasibility of an inquiry for the purpose of identifying BYKOV through application for such visa.

ROBERT ALEXANDER, Assistant Chief, Visa Division, State Department, 515 - 22nd Street, N. W., was interviewed. He advised that when France fell in 1940, the Visa files in the American Embassy had been removed to southern France and subsequently a large portion of these files had been brought to Washington and stored in the Archives Building. It was his impression that records prior to 1940 were included. He suggested contact at the Archives Building but mentioned that a great many thousand visas would have been issued during the spring and summer of 1936 and surmised the number might exceed fifteen or twenty thousand.

Dr. ALMON WRIGHT, Fifth Tier, Archives Building, was interviewed and advised that visa records in his possession include only those records for 1935 and earlier. He explained that this was in accordance with the desire of the National Archives to avoid possession of current material. He stated that the records subsequent to 1935 were still located at the American Embassy in Paris. Dr. WRIGHT furnished a number of sample copies of applications for visas at Paris during 1935, and it was noted that in no instance was there a copy of the photograph, although the application form contained a space for photograph on the reverse side, lower left-hand corner. It was also observed that no place for description appeared in the applications for visa and the only descriptive data contained therein was space for date and place of birth. Any other information or description appeared only incidentally in response to other questions.

The suggestion had been made by Mr. ASHLEY NICHOLAS that perhaps a search of applications for visa could be broken down by period, that is date, on the basis of records maintained in connection with day-to-day collections of visa fees. However, in view of the fact that no photographs were found attached to the applications for visa and no descriptive data appeared thereon other than date and place of birth, Dr. WRIGHT agreed it would be a tremendous task to have a search made in the American Embassy at Paris. Apparently the only information remaining of value in addition to the date and place of birth would be the fact that the application for visa was based on a German or Polish passport.

Dr. WRIGHT also discussed the possibility of an investigation based upon examination of the passenger lists of the SS NORMANDIE covering trips made during the summer of 1936. He advised that his office contained none of these lists but he believed they could be obtained in the office of the Collector of Customs, New York City, from 1920 on. Dr. WRIGHT stated he did not believe that the passenger lists contained a great deal of information. He stated in the old days it was customary for ship's masters to require the passport number and origin of passport but that in more recent years, only the place from which the passenger came, meaning the nationality of the passenger, was included.

RAYMOND E. MURPHY, Office of European Affairs, State Department, was contacted telephonically for an appointment. He indicated he had discussed the present matter with ASHLEY NICHOLAS and advised he could add nothing whatever to the information furnished by NICHOLAS and SHIPLEY. MURPHY advised that his first recollections were that KRIVITSKY had described BYKOV as an albino, but upon further reflection, he agrees with the description given by Mrs. SHIPLEY. He stated he had not been present at the interview of General KRIVITSKY by Mrs. SHIPLEY and Mr. NICHOLAS but that he had interviewed General KRIVITSKY about the same time. He advised that he had been engaged in counterintelligence work after 1940. In response to question, he stated he had not made any active investigation concerning the issuance of an American visa to BORIS BYKOV. He concurred in the opinion that it would be very difficult, if not an impossible task, to identify BORIS BYKOV through search of the Paris records of the State Department without the name under which the visa was issued or the exact date on which it was issued.

In view of the above information, no leads are being set out at this time for further investigation at Paris or through passenger lists in New York. It is believed that such investigation may be conducted in the event more detailed data is obtained concerning the entry of BORIS BYKOV into the United States or departure from this country.

Memorandum Concerning Interview with "K" and "L" at New York on June 28, 1939

The following information was furnished by "K" unless otherwise specified.

The real name of the person who obtained a passport in the name Antonio Spina is Elman. He was born in Bessarabia and was a member of the staff of the Soviet Embassy in Rome in 1928 and 1929. He speaks fluent Italian and therefore could use an American passport in an Italian name. The woman and child shown on the photograph are the wife and child of Elman. The Elmans are believed to have been liquidated probably because the wife was a relative of Zenoff. (Zinovieff).

The person who obtained the passport in the name Alexander Smied is a man named Carl Nebenfuhr, who was born in Vienna, Austria. The woman and child shown in the Smied application are really the wife and child of Nebenfuhr. This man had never lived in the United States but was in Spain a while in 1937. His present whereabouts is unknown to "K". He is said to have repeatedly obtained American passports which are presumably under other names.

The real name of Rubens is Ewald. He was a Latvian and went to Russia in about 1926. He was a minor figure in the espionage movement and was assigned the task of obtaining passports. "K" estimates that probably 100 or 150 passports were obtained. Ewald has a brother who is an officer in the Latvian Army and with whom he is in constant touch. "K" associates the name Rutkowski or Rutofski with Rubens but was unable to place the connection.

The name of the woman who obtained the passports in the name of Jean Montgomery is Margaret Browder.

The photograph of Katherine Dozenberg is believed to be the second wife of Dozenberg. Nicholas Dozenberg is believed to have been a party to the circulation of counterfeit American money in this country. He was the friend of a man named Tilden who was in that business. Dozenberg was in Rumania in 1932 and 1933 while counterfeit money of Russian origin was being circulated there.

Julia Poyntz was the mistress of the Soviet General Witow (Vitalia) Putna, who was liquidated about one week after Miss Poyntz disappeared in New York. General Putna was at one time the Soviet Military Attache at London. It is the fear of "L" that Miss Poyntz was done away with because of her connection with General Putna. "L" also stated that close friends of Miss Poyntz were Grace Hutchins and Ann Rochester, the latter of the New York Public Library. He thinks that if they are questioned that they will immediately report to Browder.

"K" and "L" think that Moren may be identical with a man named Moran who was supposed to be a spy at the Brooklyn Navy Yard a number of years ago.

"K" identified a number of photographs which were shown him including those of Ewart and his wife. He recognized without identifying the photographs of Pat Devine, Max Bedacht, Wirkkula, Tamer and a person whose number is 96 ( ) on the group photograph.

"L" stated that the man known as Nicholas Sherman was seen in New York as recently as three months ago. He still uses the same name but spells the last name either Shirman or Schirman. "L" thinks that if a watch is kept between the automat in the basement at 41st Street and Broadway, Times Square, and the New York Public Library he can be picked up. He usually has one or two companions. (He is resident agent of G.P.U.)

"L" stated that Max Bedacht is known in the party as "Barber" due to his former occupation.

MEMORANDUM

October 25, 1939.

Mr. Isaac Don Levine called to discuss with me the assistance which Mr. Mandell could render in New York in his talks with Mr. Murray. I told Mr. Levine that we needed information concerning the names used by William Z. Foster, Max Bedacht, and Joseph Brodsky in their trips abroad on false passports. He said that he felt that Mandell could be helpful.

If possible, some one should get in touch with Herbert Solow, care of his mother, 260 West 72d Street, Apartment 5B, telling Mr. Solow that Mr. Levine thought he could assist the government's agents by informing him of what he knew of passport fraud and we would learn something of value. He says he does not believe Solow has told all that he knows. He does believe that he is hard up for money and is holding out to get a good cash price for an article. He may not be willing to talk but on the other hand he may be.

There is a man by the name of Milton Goodman who was formerly organizer and manager of the World Tourists. This man now has a travel agency in the Heckscher Building at 57th and Fifth Avenue. He believes that if he were asked to cooperate with our agents he could give a good deal of information. He was put out of his job with World Tourists some time ago and is fairly successful in his own behalf.

Mr. Levine also stated that Hillman Bishop, a Professor of Economics at City College of New York, was first cousin of Mrs. Rubens and he thought he had recently had information from her.

He said that Louis Waldman, 301 Broadway, who is attorney for Krivitsky, probably knew something about the Copenhagen matter. He said that Krivitsky had told him that the people arrested in Copenhagen were there for a conference. He also said that General Krivitsky knew that the man known as Hans Grunfeld was Max Unschlicht, a colonel in charge of Russian espionage in Berlin; that Margaret Browder worked for one of Krivitsky's agents under Max Unschlicht. I asked him if he had any idea where Margaret Browder was and he said he thought likely she was working for the Comintern in Moscow; that he understood that she was in Russia. He was under the impression that

Mrs. Rubens was also doing some work for them in Russia. However, he said it was also possible that Margaret Browder was working in the Military Intelligence Branch of the Soviet Government as she had been employed as a field worker under Military Intelligence.

Mr. Levine thinks that Harry Wicks, a former editor of the Daily Worker who is now secretary of the Typographical Union in Chicago, knows a good deal about the Poyntz case and could tell a lot if he wishes to do so. Levine thinks that Browder knows who did what he calls the kidnapping and murder.

The man Moren is known to be Mark Zilberg.

Mr. Levine believes that Mandell could get any information that is wanted from Zack. He thinks he would be a very good person to use. He says that Mandell is definitely not the person to be used for Goodman.

Nicholas Dosenberg (Browder), William Z. Foster, and Ella Reeves Bloor went to Moscow together in November 1921. There were not many people sailing at that time and William Z. Foster's alias might be learned by going through the passenger lists of the various boats.

Morris Gordin, who wrote "Utopia in Chains" has broken with the party. He was in Moscow on a British passport in 1924 and may know something about false passports. He had his own British passport photostated and put in the back of his book.

In conjunction with the interviews being conducted by the New York Office with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in the above captioned, he provided the following information concerning CLIFTON B. FADIMAN:

"While I was editor of 'New Masses' in 1932", CHAMBERS said, "MR. FADIMAN wrote an article entitled 'Why I Became A Leftist', to be published in 'New Masses'. The title of this story was changed to 'Why I Became A Communist', and was published in one of the editions of 'New Masses' under the name CLIFTON FADIMAN. I have since been told I changed this title. Although I cannot recall having done so, I am willing to believe I probably did. So far as I know, CLIFTON FADIMAN has never been a member of the COMMUNIST PARTY. In so far as my changing the title of this article, it is my present recollection that he did not complain or criticize me for doing this."

Review of back issues of "New Masses" at the New York Public Library ascertained that in the September, 1932 issue of "New Masses" CLIFTON FADIMAN wrote a brief article which was part of a "How I Came to Communism Symposium". Other authors in the symposium included WALDO FRANK, GRANVILLE HICKS, SHERWOOD ANDERSON, EDMUND WILSON and MICHAEL GOLD.

Photostats were made of the referenced article, and are being forwarded to Bureau for information purposes. The New York Office is also retaining photostats, but no action is being taken by this office.

Karl Baarslag informed me this morning that Isaac ~~John~~ Don Levine initially contacted Congressman Dies in 1939 and furnished him the information concerning subversive individuals in the State Department. Baarslag stated that he had recently discussed this with J. B. Matthews who is very much incensed over the publication in the Times-Herald and approximately 200 other papers of Stripling's story. Baarslag stated that in 1939 when Levine contacted Dies there were present also J. B. Matthews and Robert Stripling. Levine informed Dies and the other two he could produce Chambers at that time who would be perfectly willing to tell his story, but Stripling insisted that the information furnished by Levine was ridiculous and the Committee would be laughed at. Under the circumstances Chambers was not called.

Baarslag stated that 50% of the profit from Stripling's writings will go to the Hearst newspapers and that the other 50%, approximately $150,000 will go to Stripling.

STOLEN SECRETS OF THE U.S.

Success of Spies. Are They Still Active?

Spy stories, now unfolding, mean Russian agents were operating deep inside U. S. Government in prewar years.

Moscow leaders, fearing Germany and Japan, looked everywhere for secret plans. Spying in Washington proved productive.

Big question for investigators now is a link with the past: Do spies still have access to U. S. codes and secrets?

The story of spy operations inside the United States Government, put into focus on the basis of revelations to date, is this:

Spies were busy, and getting results, during 1937 and 1938, at least. In those years they obtained highly secret documents from the Department of State. There is an implication that they were successful, as well, in obtaining information in the military establishment.

The spy story, as it is unfolding, relates directly to a prewar period and only indirectly to the war period or the present time. The years involved were those during which Hitler was moving into Austria, when he was building toward Munich and domination of Czechoslovakia. They were the years, too, when Japan was making a test of Russia in Manchuria.

Spying of war years, so far as it has been brought to light, is not yet supported by tangible evidence. The activity of prewar years, however, leaves the implication—which investigators stress—that similar activities continued, probably on an expanded basis. It is just that the evidence is not so definite.

What happened in the pre-Munich period of spying, at least in some part, now is being outlined by revelations made by Whittaker Chambers, a former editor of Time magazine. Secret documents, brought forward by Mr. Chambers in defending himself in a slander suit brought by Alger Hiss, are the basis of further investigation by a federal grand jury in New York City and by the Un-American Activities Committee of the House of Representatives.

Mr. Chambers is providing evidence that espionage was going on in the prewar period, with real results. He has testified that he was a "courier" in a Communist organization of that period. He also has testified that he broke with the Communists during the first half of 1938. What he now is revealing, therefore, does not cover the war period.

—Talbert in Washington Daily News

'WHAT DO YOU MAKE OF IT, MY DEAR WATSON?'

Melodrama entered the case when Mr. Chambers late at night led investigators for the House Committee to a pumpkin on his farm near Westminster, Md. This trip followed a conference of Mr. Chambers with Representative Nixon (Rep.), of California, a member of the Committee, and Robert E. Stripling, its chief investigator. From the pumpkin, Mr. Chambers produced several rolls of microfilm—three of them still undeveloped—on which some 200 pages of secret documents had been recorded. Included were three handwritten memoranda based on documents even more secret. These "pumpkin papers" were in addition to 65 documents Mr. Chambers already had produced in response to questioning by attorneys for Mr. Hiss.

Mr. Chambers accuses Mr. Hiss, a former State Department official who now is president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, of having removed some of the documents from the State Department long enough to be reproduced. Mr. Hiss denies this charge. Two other individuals also have been named by Mr. Chambers in this connection. One of these is Henry J. Wadleigh, former State Department employe and until recently an economist employed by the Italian Government. He denies having been a Communist, but has refused to answer many of the Committee's questions.

The problem immediately arose as to whether contents of the documents themselves should be made public. Both Sumner Welles, who was Under Secretary of State during the 1937-38 period, and John E. Peurifoy, present Assistant Secretary of State, declared that, even now, their publication would be prejudicial to U. S. interests, or even dangerous. Later, the State Department permitted publication of some of them.

Enough now is known about the nature of the documents to put the story into focus against the background of what was happening in the world in the years leading up to the war.

Around the world, during the prewar period, Russian agents were making constant efforts to find out what the other great powers were doing. These efforts were stepped up in 1937, as the international situation grew more tense and Russia found herself menaced by Hitler's Germany on the west and by an expanding Japan on the east.

Russian leaders, in that period, were in a state of alarm over the trend of affairs in the world.

Inside Russia "purge" trials were under way. Hundreds of thousands of persons were being liquidated out of fear that they dissented from the viewpoint of the regime. Marshal M. N. Tukhachevsky, Vice Commissar of Defense, was executed after the Russian courts had decided that he was conspiring with the Trotsky wing of the Communist Party and with the German Government to murder Russian officials and to turn over the Ukraine to Germany.

Outside Russia this was the pre-Munich period. In Britain, diplomats were operating on the theory that Hitler was getting prepared for aggression. They hoped to turn his thoughts of aggression away from the West and toward the East. This period reached its culmination at Munich on Sept. 30, 1938, when Britain, France and Italy bowed to Hitler's demand for annexation of the Sudetenland of Czechoslovakia. Neither Czechoslovakia nor Russia was invited to the m ing and the decision was regarded as a defeat for both.

The testimony of Mr. Chambers, and the documents that he has offered in evidence, concerned the period before Munich. It was in the first half of 1938 that Mr. Chambers claims to have broken with the Communists. The implication is that the secret papers that he retained—at least those that now are back in the hands of this Government—did not in fact reach the hands of the Russians.

For the Russian leaders, confidential reports received in Washington from foreign capitals could be invaluable in providing inside information on what the various powers really were planning to do. Also, any documents relating to U. S. policy could throw light on whether this Government expected to intervene in Europe or the Far East. If the U. S. was agreeable to the effort to appease Hitler, or to turn his attention away from the West and toward the East, knowledge of that fact would be of great value to the Russian leaders.

The Chambers testimony now indicates that, to obtain such documents, the Russians used an underground network of U. S. Communists who were loyal primarily to Russia. Mr. Chambers has testified that, during this period, he did act as part of a ring that sought to supply Russia with the the information it wanted.

The Chambers charge that Alger Hiss played a part in the Communist plans has given rise to the present controversy and to the slander suit that Mr. Hiss has brought against Mr. Chambers. Mr. Hiss, on his part, now as last summer, has denied "without qualification" the charges brought against him.

Mr. Hiss was described by Mr. Chambers last August as one of a group of seven or eight Government officials who were alleged to be the nucleus of a Communist underground operating inside the U. S. Government in 1937 and 1938. The function of this group, as described by Mr. Chambers, was mainly to infiltrate the U. S. Government, rather than espionage. He said: "I should perhaps make the point that these people were specifically not wanted to act as sources of information. These people were an elite group, an outstanding group, which it was believed would rise to positions . . . in the Government, and . . . would be of very much more service to the Communist Party."

Background of individuals involved has had only casual attention, as charges and denials and countercharges have been flying back and forth.

Whittaker Chambers, in testimony before the Committee on Un-American Activities of the House of Representatives, gave his age as 48. He was born in Philadelphia. He testified that he joined the Communist Party in 1924 in New York City and served as a paid functionary of that party. He testified that he left the party in 1938 and reported to Government authorities many of the things he had learned as a party member. For nine years, Mr. Chambers worked for Time magazine, part of that period as a senior editor, resigning on December 10 of this year.

Alger Hiss is 44 years of age, on the basis of testimony given to the same Committee. Mr. Hiss was born in Baltimore. He was graduated from Johns Hopkins University in 1926 and from Harvard Law School in 1929. Immediately after graduation from law school, he served for a time as secretary to Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the U. S. Supreme Court, before entering private practice in New York City. In May, 1933, Mr. Hiss came to Washington as assistant general counsel of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. In 1934, he became counsel for the Senate committee headed by Senator Nye then investigating the munitions industry and seeking to disclose whether the munitions industry inspired war. It was in 1936 that Mr. Hiss entered the Department of State, where he served until January, 1947.

In the State Department, Mr. Hiss started his service as special assistant to Francis B. Sayre, then an Assistant Secretary of State and now U. S. delegate to the United Nations Trusteeship Council. It was several years after 1938 that Mr. Hiss moved into higher circles of the Government. As a special assistant to Leo Pasvolsky in the State Department, Mr. Hiss, in the spring and summer of 1944, helped to prepare the original draft of the United Nations Charter. Later that year, he was executive secretary of the Dumbarton Oaks Conference. Early in 1945, he helped to work out the voting formula for the Security Council, which President Roosevelt took to Yalta and which was there agreed to by Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin. Then, in the spring of 1945, he was secretary-general of the San Francisco Conference at which the United Nations Charter was put into final form.

Thus, Mr. Hiss played a very important part in shaping the United Nations. Out of that experience he gained recognition and a recommendation from John Foster Dulles that he be named to the Presidency of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, a position that he now holds.

The full story of spy charges, denials and countercharges might be brought out at some future time in slander and libel suits growing out of present accusations. Or that story might come from Government prosecution of individuals or groups of individuals whom it may charge with violation of federal laws. There is an almost equal chance that the full story may never be told.

Members of the House Committee on Un-American Activities say that a charge of perjury might be entered by the Government if any recent testimony should prove to have been false. Charges growing out of attempted espionage back in 1937 and 1938, however, run into the federal statute of limitations. To make such charges stand, it would be necessary to prove that an offense had been committed within the last three years. Federal laws provide for imprisonment up to 10 years and fines up to $10,000, as punishment for wilfully giving out a diplomatic code or for disclosing information affecting national defense, with intent to injure the United States.

An important question growing out of the recent disclosures is this: What is the situation now, as to the security of secret documents and codes? On this point, Under Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett says that present methods of protection used by the State Department are much tighter than those in effect 10 years ago. Coding and decoding of messages now is done by machine, with the result that codes are much harder to break than once was the case. Also, the use of machines makes it possible to change codes much more often. Mr. Lovett is convinced, therefore, that any would-be spies trying to steal U. S. secrets will find their job far more difficult than it used to be.

'PUMPKIN PAPER'
. . . a link with the past

Reported from BERLIN

THE JOB of keeping 2,200,000 Berliners alive on an island deep inside Russian territory is taking on an air of permanence for the U. S. and Britain.

Germans of West Berlin prefer to live outside Russia's sway. Their votes have shown that.

Now, talks between Russia and the West to break the Soviet blockade of Western Berlin are about ended. Russia intends to convert her part of the city into a "Little Moscow," a Communist capital for Eastern Germany. So U. S. and Britain, with France agreeing, are settling down to a grueling, costly routine of flying the essentials of life into their besieged sectors of Berlin.

It is as though half of Chicago, including the Loop, much of the residential area, most of the factories, were set down in the middle of Russian territory and sealed off. Then the United States would undertake to supply the city across 3,000 miles of ocean, over land and through an "air lift" to keep the people alive and working.

"Operation air lift," the thin strand linking 2,200,000 isolated Berliners with the West, is in business for as far ahead as anyone can see. Costs are to rise as the operation continues.

The bill to the U. S. for the air flights runs around $168,000,000 a year. Britain's expenses add another $67,000,000. Cost of food flown to Berlin is $200,000,000 a year. Replacing air equipment alone could take $500,000,000. The whole operation, on a permanent and expanded basis, could send the cost to U. S. taxpayers close to $1,000,000,000 a year.

Supplies air borne to Berlin are the city's chief source of food, fuel, clothing, almost everything it gets. Pilots are under a terrific strain, dropping into the city with a load of food or coal, unloading and taking off in 20 minutes to head back west for more. At the peak, one plane lands and another takes off at the Berlin airfields every three minutes. At this pace, cargoes are adequate to maintain life, but fall short of providing any of the comforts of normal living.

The outcome of this operation to supply a city by air is anybody's guess. Solution, when it comes, may be part of an over-all settlement between U. S. and Russia. But, for now, planning has to assume that the Berlin siege will go on for months, maybe years.

THE U.S.-BRITISH 'AIR LIFT' IS THE ONLY MEANS OF BRINGING THE NECESSITIES OF LIFE TO 2,200,000 PERSONS LIVING IN THE WESTERN SECTOR OF BERLIN

LL GEN. MARSHALL STAY?

Candidates Are Ready If H

Secretary Marshall is emerging as President Truman's "indispensable man." His illness does not mean quick retirement.

Mr. Marshall stays on to run U. S. foreign policy if President has his way. Senator Vandenberg wants him to stay, too.

Decision means bipartisan policy continues in new term. The same team keeps command of foreign affairs.

George C. Marshall, Secretary of State, at 68 is finding himself cast in the role of indispensable man. The Secretary, three years beyond the age when most men want to give up their responsibilities, has just lost a kidney in an operation. He wants to retire. But he is unable, as yet, to get free from his job.

Ever since the war, General Marshall has wanted to take a rest. But, when the fighting stopped and he quit the Army, he was sent to China to try to unify the disputing factions in that turbulent country. When he came back to the United States, he was plumped into the State Department to try to straighten out the world problems left by the war. And, in spite of age and ill health, he is being pressed to stay in that job.

Secretary Marshall is in good health except for the ailment that forced him to have an operation. He has a strong constitution. It seems likely that he will recover fully from his operation. And if he is restored to good health, he may not be able to quit his post. He is under steady pressure from President Truman to stay in the State Department.

The President wants to keep Mr. Marshall as an elder statesman at the directing controls of the nation's foreign policy.

Mr. Marshall's preference. Secretary Marshall has a plan of his own that he is pressing on the President. He wants to quit and let the President appoint Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, of Michigan, as Secretary of State. Mr. Vandenberg, a Republican, President of the Senate in the 80th Congress and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is Mr. Marshall's personal choice for the job.

General Marshall's reasons are based not only upon the important part the Senator has played in shaping America's present foreign policy, but upon his own personal liking for the Senator. The two are close friends. When the Secretary returned from Europe, he went first to the White House [illegible] Truman, and then [illegible] Vandenberg apartment where he dined with the Senator on corned beef and cabbage prepared by Mrs. Vandenberg.

This close, friendly working relationship between the Democratic Secretary of State and the Republican chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has greatly smoothed the course for foreign-affairs legislation through the Republican Congress. Because, too, of Mr. Vandenberg's intimate knowledge of the manner in which present foreign policy has evolved, Mr. Marshall is convinced that the Michigan Senator is the one who should take over now.

Mr. Vandenberg's preference. But Senator Vandenberg has another plan. He is hoping that the post will not be offered to him. In turn, the Senator is urging that Mr. Marshall stay in his present job. While the Secretary is ill, Under Secretary Robert A. Lovett can continue to run the Department. Moreover, Mr. Vandenberg wants John Foster Dulles, who was Thomas E. Dewey's top adviser on foreign affairs, to go ahead as a part of the team that carries the burden of international negotiation. But, above all, the hand of General Marshall would remain to guide over-all plans.

That is much the way President Truman feels, too. It was Mr. Marshall who

SUBJECT: JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was., Et Al

Bureau File 74-1333

Reference is made to New York letter dated February 10, 1949, in which a lead was set forth for the Norfolk Office to reinterview Miss DAISY FANSLER and obtain handwriting specimens in connection with this matter.

Miss DAISY FANSLER, 738 West Ocean View Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia, on February 14, 1949, was recontacted by Special Agents of this office who had conducted the two previous interviews with Miss FANSLER.

Every precaution was made to properly conduct this interview on this occasion, inasmuch as it was noted on the two previous interviews that Miss FANSLER exhibited a very uncooperative attitude and appeared to be very prejudiced in this matter, almost to the point of being somewhat belligerent to the interviewing Agents.

DEFERRED RECORDING

As a matter of information, Miss FANSLER on the occasion of the last interview advised Agents of this office that she would give handwriting specimens only if she were allowed to include the statement in the specimens that her constitutional rights were being violated and duress was being used to obtain the specimens. The handwriting specimens were not obtained under these circumstances.

TOP DESK

Miss FANSLER, after making this statement, produced a letter that she had received from her attorney, Mr. ANTHONY WHITAKER, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, which advised that he had submitted to the Federal Bureau of Investigation a letter written by Miss FANSLER some time previously, a photostatic copy of which was included with the communication. Miss FANSLER exhibited the letter from her attorney and the enclosure, and stated that she desired to consult her attorney before submitting any handwriting specimens to the Agents. It was noted in this letter from Mr. WHITAKER to Miss FANSLER that he stated he saw no reason not to cooperate with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, therefore, he had surrendered Miss FANSLER's letter to Agents of the FBI. After this was noted by the interviewing Agents, it was suggested that Miss FANSLER contact Mr. WHITAKER by telephone for legal counsel in this matter, that is, of submitting handwriting specimens.

Subsequent to contacting Mr. WHITAKER, Miss FANSLER agreed to furnish handwriting specimens, but in a belligerent attitude, stating that her attorney had advised her that he saw no reason why these additional handwriting specimens were desired by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and that she could furnish these handwriting specimens and after doing so it was her privilege to forcefully call this matter to the attention of the Director. She also advised that Mr. ANTHONY WHITAKER had reported to her that he had been continually "hounded" by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in connection with this matter. She informed the interviewing Agents that on her next trip to Washington she intended to contact the Director personally and criticize this organization in connection with its methods of investigation, which she termed as "sleuthing," and the organization's general interest in the entire matter.

In view of the above and in addition due to the fact that the Agents report that Miss FANSLER is very eccentric and appears to be in a neurotic state, it is suggested that careful consideration be given before setting out leads for Miss FANSLER to be reinterviewed in connection with this matter.

RE: JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, Was., Et al
PERJURY; ESPIONAGE-R; INTERNAL SECURITY-R

Dear Sir:

There is being forwarded to the Bureau under separate cover by registered air mail one Model G Leica camera bearing serial number 162673 and Summar lens number 238667, together with a leather carrying case. This camera was obtained from WILLIAM EDWARD CRANE, 116 Siena Drive, Long Beach, California, on February 15, 1949. It will be recalled that CRANE purchased this camera in New York City in the 1930's with money furnished to him by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

Reference is made to Bureau teletypes dated February 2, and February 10, 1949, in this case to the Los Angeles Office requesting that this camera be obtained from CRANE and forwarded to the Bureau for appropriate examination. WILLIAM CRANE makes his livelihood as a commercial photographer and is presently conducting practical experiments with an under-water camera and a camera used to take pictures of oil well casings to the depth of 10,000 to 12,000 feet. He has a continuous need for his Leica camera in connection with his work and turned the above-mentioned Leica camera over to Bureau Agents on condition that he be furnished with a similar Leica to use while his camera is forwarded to the Bureau.

A modified Model F Leica camera, serial number 48265 or 48266, the last digit not being readable, with lens number 282295, was rented by the Los Angeles Office from the Morgan Camera Shop, 6262 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, at the rate of $2.50 per day, beginning February 14, 1949, and has been turned over to CRANE for his use.

In view of the above facts it is requested that the Bureau conduct the examination of CRANE's camera as soon as possible so that it may be returned to CRANE. It will be recalled that CRANE has advised that his Leica camera was never used by him for taking photographs of documents in connection with his illegal work with the Soviet Espionage apparatus.

Very truly yours,

R. B. Hood

(Bureau file 74-1333)

Reference is made to New York letter dated February 9, last wherein it was requested that this office take photographs of the Knight Homestead on Route 101 at Peterboro, New Hampshire, inasmuch as it is possible that this is the guest house at which CHAMBERS and ALGER HISS and his wife stayed during August, 1937.

This is to advise that on February 16, last agents of this office took photographs of the Knight Homestead and the Bleak House, both of which are located adjacent to one another on Route 101 approximately one mile south of Peterboro.

These undeveloped photographs are being forwarded to the New York Division, and it is requested that they be developed and exhibited to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

The following is a description of photographs taken:

Photos 1 to 5 inclusive - taken on Route #101 from a position south of the Knight Homestead.

Photos 6 to 10 inclusive - taken from a position south of Knight Homestead on Route #101.

Photos 7 to 10 inclusive - taken from a position in front of the Homestead, showing Route #101 which runs north and south in front of the house.

Photos 1 and 2 - photographs of Bleak House, which is the property adjoining Knight Homestead. These photos were taken from a position on Route #101, south of the house.

Photo 3 - photograph of Route #101, showing this road as it runs south to north toward the town of Peterboro.

Photo 7 - photograph of Route 101, showing hill thereon leading up to the intersection of Pine Street and Route #101.

Photo 8 - is a photograph of the Bleak House taken from a position on Pine Street showing the north side of the house.

Photos 9 to 12 inclusive - taken from a position in front of the Bleak House, showing the south side of the house.

Photos 1 to 12 inclusive - taken from different positions on the Bleak House property, showing the south, southeast and southwest views of the house.

It should be noted upon review of photographs 1 to 4 inclusive in film pack #2 that there is a gravel drive, slightly inclined, running at a right angle from Route #101 to the Knight Homestead. This would seem to be in agreement with the description of the gravel driveway previously furnished by CHAMBERS.

While at Peterboro, New Hampshire, agents obtained the guest registration book which includes guest registrations for the month of August, 1937 and this is being forwarded under separate cover to the FBI Laboratory with the request that results of examination be forwarded to the New York Division.

This guest registration book was obtained from the present co-owners of the Knight Homestead, Mrs. ETHEL MacDUFF and Miss CLARA A. SPRATT. In the event that this guest book may at some future date have evidentiary value it is further being advised with regard thereto that while entries were being made in this book during the year 1937 the book was maintained by the former owner, Mrs. MINNIE KNIGHT, who is 83 years of age and presently confined to an old ladies' home in Peterboro, New Hampshire.

There are also being submitted herewith as an enclosure to the New York Office three photographs of the exterior of the Bleak House together with one photograph of the Music Room in the interior of the Bleak House, which were obtained from Mrs. ELIZABETH M. BINGHAM, present manager of this house. It is suggested that these photographs might be displayed to CHAMBERS and thereafter returned to this office.

In conclusion it is being stated while at Peterboro, New Hampshire, agents of this office carefully scrutinized all other residences located on Granite Street, which incidentally runs south from the town of Peterboro, in an effort to locate other tourist or guest houses at which ALGER HISS and his wife together with CHAMBERS might have stayed during their one-night stopover in this community in 1937. This search was made with negative results.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

Eighth Circuit Judge SETH THOMAS, Fort Dodge, Iowa, former Solicitor for the Department of Agriculture from April 1933 to September 1935, had ALGER HISS under his supervision as an attorney in the Legal Department from late in 1934 or early 1935 until September 1935. Through his infrequent business contacts during that time, Judge THOMAS found ALGER HISS to be quiet, very intelligent, cooperative and a competent attorney; he found his work to be very creditable and received no reports that would discredit him in any way. Judge THOMAS did not learn of any of HISS' associates or receive any indication of HISS being involved in a C.P. underground movement at that time or learn of his economic or political views or affiliations. Judge THOMAS did not meet any individuals through HISS and was never at his residence.

U. S. Post Office Building, advised that he was Solicitor for the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., from April 1933 to September 1935. At the time Judge THOMAS assumed the position as Solicitor for the Department of Agriculture, he explained that there were two legal units in the department. One of these legal units was under the Farm Adjustment Administration of the Department of Agriculture under the supervision of JEROME FRANK. The other legal unit was under his direct supervision. Judge THOMAS said that ALGER HISS was originally employed by JEROME FRANK and worked under his supervision until late in 1934 or early in 1935, when an order was handed down combining the two legal units into one legal department, operating under his supervision as Solicitor. Judge THOMAS stated that it was at the time of this change that he had his first contact with ALGER HISS. ALGER HISS was an attorney in the Legal Department of the Farm Adjustment Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, and continued to be employed as an attorney after his department was placed under the supervision of Judge THOMAS. He said that JEROME FRANK, under whose supervision HISS formerly worked, is presently serving as Circuit Judge of the Court of Appeals, Second Circuit, New York City, New York.

According to Judge THOMAS, his contact with ALGER HISS was entirely in a business way within the Department of Agriculture. He explained that these contacts were infrequent, inasmuch as he had about 115 attorneys under his supervision and 1,200 other employees.

Judge THOMAS recalled that ALGER HISS was quiet, a very intelligent, cooperative and competent attorney; he found his work to be very creditable and received no reports that would discredit him in any way. Judge THOMAS pointed out that at about the same time that he was Solicitor with the Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C. there was quite a bit of publicity appearing in the papers to the effect that the Department of Agriculture had what was referred to at the time as "radicals," or "socialists". Judge THOMAS stated that because of this unfavorable publicity CHESTER DAVIS, who was Administrator of the Farm

Adjustment Administration, and Judge THOMAS made confidential investigations of the people affected, which resulted in the dismissal of several in the Department of Agriculture. Judge THOMAS pointed out, however, that the name of ALGER HISS never received any of this publicity at the time and nothing resulted from their investigation to indicate that he was so inclined.

CHESTER DAVIS is presently President of the Federal Reserve Bank at St. Louis, Missouri.

Judge THOMAS further explained that his only personal contact with ALGER HISS was when he, Judge THOMAS, would call for HISS to come to his office to personally discuss some legal problem which Judge THOMAS had previously assigned to HISS for research or other such legal work. He pointed out, therefore, that he had no occasion to learn of any economic or political views or affiliations which HISS might have had. Judge THOMAS stated that he did not learn of any of HISS' associates or receive any indication, whatsoever, of HISS being involved in Communist Party underground movement at that time. Judge THOMAS stated that he did not meet any individuals through HISS and was never at the residence of HISS. He pointed out that he was not well enough acquainted to know whether HISS was married or where he resided at that time.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR

JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was;
ALGER HISS, ET AL
PERJURY; ESPIONAGE - R;
INTERNAL SECURITY - R

Re my memorandum of January 31, 1949. I have checked with the results of sundry investigation completed and now in process as it will be of value in the trial of ALGER HISS and have instructed in this further inquiry as will be necessary.

Also, as to the other matters which will cover the over-all picture of all supposed espionage agents disclosed by CHAMBERS, I have given this the same close attention for the possibility of bringing this also to some conclusion in the future as to what we can obtain and what can be done with such information if evidence can be obtained to show actions which can now be prosecuted. This will require, particularly, an effort to bring same within the Statute of Limitations as to the persons concerned and, particularly, as to whether any of these have continued their efforts or were concerned with persons who have continued into the present time their actions as Agents for the USSR. This part of the inquiry will require considerable investigation divided among the various apparatus situated in different parts of the country and which may or may not be shown as acting in concert.

As to all of these situations, the matter is being closely followed from day to day by the New York Office with the Bureau as to the necessity and propriety of certain phases of the investigation and, particularly, as to the interview of individuals who arise for inquiry and, particularly, wherein these might be thought situations which might create undesirable reactions towards the investigation if interviewed at the particular moment.

Summary Report

There has been instructed and followed in careful detail the manner of preparing a summary report as to the Perjury trial of ALGER HISS and the the substance and completeness of the evidence which will be necessary in his trial. I am and I will follow any and all material prepared as to this as well as any inquiry which may be necessary to fully sustain the Government's position as to each phase of the evidence necessary. A considerable portion of this has been prepared and is proceeding. It should be completed in detail, as to the report and any investigation necessary to complete the detail thereof, by March 7, 1949, as instructed by the Bureau or at an earlier date. As now set by stipulation with the Government, the hearing on the motions, instead of February 14, 1949, will be heard on March 7, 1949, and the trial, previously set for February 24, 1949, has been set for March 21, 1949.

William Edward Crane

WILLIAM EDWARD CRANE, alias Keith, who has been interviewed and is being checked further by the Los Angeles Office and who has been identified by CHAMBERS, will be able to furnish testimony similar to the expected testimony of HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH, which would further enhance the Government's position as to this situation and sustain CHAMBERS in his allegations of operating as an espionage agent for the Soviet Government. CRANE was active with CHAMBERS and BORIS BYKOV, CHAMBERS principal, and was active in New York, Washington, Baltimore and San Francisco. He also was in direct contact with BYKOV.

Association of Alger Hiss with Jay David Whittaker Chambers

The association of CHAMBERS and HISS has been sustained further by reference to the maids working in the HISS home and this is being pursued further. As to the Woodstock typewriter in the home of HISS, this has been shown by some of the maids to possibly have been in his home until 1947 when HISS moved to New York. This, however, may not be too strongly shown by reason of the types of persons who would supply the information. As to the typewriter specimens, we have not as yet obtained a later specimen than the one dated May 27, 1937. As to the rugs BYKOV furnished through CHAMBERS to HISS and others, the purchase of these by CHAMBERS has been definitely shown although the chain of delivery has not been fully proven from the merchant from whom purchased directly into the hands of the other individuals in Washington. As to the latter, it is noted that CHAMBERS actually delivered the rug to HISS, according to his statements, after obtaining same from SILVERMAN.

As to the trip of CHAMBERS with HISS and wife to Peterborough, New Hampshire, with stop at Thomaston, Connecticut, in August, 1937 to interview

HARRY DEXTER WHITE, we have not as yet been able to definitely establish witnesses who can verify this and inquiry is continuing further. It still may be necessary to have CHAMBERS proceed to these points in an effort to obtain witnesses who can identify him and possibly associate him with the others.

The chronology of the handling of the 69 documents, presumably obtained by CHAMBERS from HISS in early 1938 and as disclosed by CHAMBERS in November, 1948, has been substantially completed with the possibility that we might be able to introduce them without a complete chain of evidence by reference to the marking of same by the Court Reporter in November, 1948, when same were introduced in evidence in the pre-trial deposition in the libel action of HISS and CHAMBERS.

Every effort will be made to complete the summary report with the additional necessary investigation as soon as possible.

Respectfully,

E. J. CONNELLEY,
Assistant Director

At 4:10 p.m. today, ASAC Belmont, New York, called in and stated that the interview with Chambers today had been completed and that they interviewed him today concerning his statement which he had left last night. He stated that his activity as a homosexual was in the period 1932-38 and arose from contact with men on the street in New York and Washington. His friends and associates in espionage matters have no knowledge of this activity. The details of the interview will be forwarded by the New York Office tonight.

Colonel L. E. Simon
Director, Ballistic Research Laboratories

Dear Colonel Simon:

I thank you very much for your very kind letter of December 22. I spent some time in the hospital a few days after my release by the New York Grand Jury but I am now much improved. I am of a few days vacation at present. Although much of the publicity which I saw on the case was highly inaccurate, the facts are extremely damaging. I will be glad to supply you with any information which you may desire about the case but I believe that I will simply forward this short letter to-day since it is somewhat over-due. The facts are eleven years old and they were not, I believe, known to anyone at the Proving Ground except myself. I have had no relation whatever with anyone whom I believe knew them for almost eleven years but they are of such a character that some official action such as acceptance of my resignation or some other form of action to relieve the Proving Grounds of any further embarrassment due to either the publicity or the facts may be required. I do not know, of course, what action may be best from the standpoint of the Proving Grounds and I have been proceeding throughout this case so as to avoid publicity in so far as it has been possible. I will write again in a few days and describe the facts in the case at some length. I have assured the Department of Justice that these facts were, I believe, known to no one at the Proving Grounds except myself.

Respectfully,
Franklin Kisseloff

This is to advise that information has been received from Confidential Informant [redacted] who has written as follows: b7D

"LAWRENCE DUGGAN was a member of some of my New York groups and played around with them and STEPHAN DUGGAN is doing the same now--I'm afraid of more accidents. * * * I received a personal letter from LAWRENCE DUGGAN's Group October 7. If they wrote to me of course you know their status as I do. I'm keeping letter for you."

The above letter was dated January 4, 1949.

The same informant in a letter dated January 9, 1949, advised as follows:

"I think that LAWRENCE DUGGAN was 'railroaded to his death.' It takes a 'stout fella' to cope with these groups. I was asked to become a member of his group some time ago. I sent in membership card as requested."

As the Bureau has previously been advised numerous times, [redacted] has been considered as such an unstable type that no encouragement has been given to her in the capacity of an informant. This office has not contacted her specifically and will not do so unless advised to the contrary. She has, however, frequently written letters to this office and any such information voluntarily received from her is read and evaluated. It has appeared that from time to time she has been capable of furnishing information of value. This office has no information pertaining to the above-entitled subject and the above is being forwarded merely for the Bureau's information and possible interest. b7D

The information which follows has been obtained from the Bureau's files and pertains to Alger Hiss, one of the individuals who has figured prominently in the allegations of Jay David Whittaker Chambers concerning the existence of a Communist underground espionage apparatus in Washington, D. C. in the 1930's.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Alger Hiss was born November 11, 1904 at Baltimore, Maryland. He attended the public schools of Baltimore, Maryland and Powder Point Academy in Duxbury, Massachusetts. He was granted a Bachelor of Arts degree by Johns Hopkins University in 1926 and a Bachelor of Law degree by Harvard University in 1929. Hiss is married to Priscilla Fansler Hobson Hiss and has one son, Anthony, and a stepson, Timothy Hobson.

Following his graduation from Harvard, Hiss became Secretary to Associate Justice Oliver W. Holmes of the United States Supreme Court and remained in that capacity until October, 1930. From that time until May, 1933 he practiced law in Boston, Massachusetts and New York City. Hiss was then employed from May, 1933 until April, 1935 as Assistant to the General Counsel and as Assistant General Counsel of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration at a salary of $6,000 to $7,000 per year. During a portion of this period he served as a legal assistant to the Senate Munitions Investigation Committee, remaining in that position until August, 1935. During the succeeding year until August, 1936 Hiss served as Special Attorney in the Office of the Solicitor General in the Department of Justice at a salary ranging from $6,000 to $7,500 a year. He was appointed Assistant to the Assistant Secretary of State at $5,600 per year on September 1, 1936, and on June 1, 1939 his salary was increased to $5,800 per year. In 1942 he was reported to be Assistant to the Adviser on Political Relations in the Department of State. On February 19, 1945 Hiss, then Deputy of the Office of Special Political Affairs in the Department of State, was indicated as the successor of Edwin C. Wilson as Director of that office upon the assignment of Wilson as Ambassador to Turkey. Hiss served as Secretary General of the United Nations Conference at San Francisco in 1945. He resigned from the Department of State in January, 1947 to become President of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. As a result of the disclosures of Jay David Whittaker Chambers concerning Hiss, Hiss is presently on a ninety-day leave of absence with pay from his post with the Carnegie Endowment , pending a clarification of the controversy which has arisen between him and Chambers. EX-1

INVESTIGATION PRIOR TO CHAMBERS' ALLEGATIONS

Alger Hiss was investigated in the latter part of 1941 and the early part of 1942 in accordance with the provisions of Public Law #135 (Hatch Act). At that time Hiss had been reported to be a member of the Washington Committee for Democratic Action according to the House Committee on Un-American Activities. It was determined, however, that the name of Alger Hiss did not, in fact, appear in the active indices of that organization but that the name of his wife did. Since Hiss was then Assistant to the Adviser on Political Relations in the Department of State, a copy of the report on this investigation was furnished to the Secretary of State by letter dated March 24, 1942. This report set forth information furnished by a former fellow-employee of Hiss in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to the effect that Hiss and his associates in the AAA, if not Communists, were fellow travelers. No other unfavorable information was developed and Hiss himself denied in a sworn statement that he had ever been a member of the Communist Party, the Washington Committee for Democratic Action, or of any other organization which advocated the overthrow of the Government.

By letter dated March 26, 1942 G. Howland Shaw, Assistant Secretary of the Department of State, advised that Hiss was well and favorably known to a number of the higher officials of the Department and was a valued employee. Mr. Shaw's letter stated that the FBI report, mentioned above, afforded "no basis for administrative action." (101-2668-5, 6; 65-56402-695)

CHAMBERS' ALLEGATIONS ON MAY 13, 1942

On May 13, 1942 Jay David Whittaker Chambers advised Special Agents of the FBI that Alger Hiss and his brother, Donald Hiss, were members of the Communist Party underground organization in Washington which was headed by Harold Ware. Chambers described Alger Hiss as a former employee of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration who had later served in the Government's investigation of the Munitions Industry and had subsequently become an Assistant Solicitor General of the United States. Chambers further explained that the same Hiss had later become an assistant to the Assistant Secretary of State. (100-25824-22)

INVESTIGATION CONDUCTED

The Bureau's files do not disclose that any investigation was conducted in 1942 following Chambers' allegations concerning Hiss. It may be noted that Chambers' disclosures were not reported to the State Department by the FBI inasmuch as upon the occasion he furnished this information to FBI Agents, Chambers had first obtained approval to do so from Adolf A. Berle, Jr., then Assistant Secretary of State and had made it evident that he had already submitted similar details to Mr. Berle.

CHAMBERS' ALLEGATIONS IN BERLE NOTES OBTAINED IN JUNE, 1943

In June, 1943 the FBI obtained from the then Assistant Secretary of State, Adolf A. Berle, a copy of notes which he had made in 1939 in the course of an interview with Chambers. The portion of the Berle notes which pertained to Alger Hiss read as follows:

"Alger Hiss
Assistant to Sayre - CP - 1937
Member of the Underground Com. - Active
Baltimore Boys Wife - Priscilla Hiss - Socialist - Early Days of New Deal"

There is no record of any additional information having been furnished by Mr. Berle at the time he furnished a copy of his notes to a representative of the FBI. (100-25824-27)

At this point it should be noted that, as mentioned above, Alger Hiss in March of 1945, was employed by the Department of State. On March 24, 1945 an official of the FBI (Mr. E. A. Tamm, the Assistant to the Director) furnished orally the substance of a summary memorandum, dated March 21, 1945, concerning Alger Hiss to Robert Lynch, Special Assistant to the Secretary of State. This summary memorandum reflected that Chambers, a former member of the Communist Party, had reported that Alger Hiss had been a member of the underground organization of the Communist Party. This memorandum also mentioned that Hiss had been associated with Nathan Witt and Lee Pressman, who were also reported to have been recruited into the Communist underground in Washington, D. C. (61-7559; 100-25836-41; 101-2668-9, 12)

On March 27, 1945 a summary memorandum dated March 26, 1945, containing the information set forth in the preceding paragraph, was furnished to Mr. Frederick B. Lyon, Chief of the Division of Foreign Activity Correlation of the Department of State, by an official of the FBI (Mr. D. M. Ladd) pursuant to Mr. Lyon's request. (101-2668-10)

CHAMBERS' ALLEGATIONS ON MAY 10, 1945

When interviewed on May 10, 1945, Jay David Whittaker Chambers said that Hiss, who in the meantime had become General Secretary of the United Nations Conference at San Francisco, had met on several occasions with Harold Ware's group and that he had usually attendeded meetings of the group when they were held at Henry Collins' house. He said that when Hiss went with the Senate (Nye) Munitions Investigation Committee, Hiss had been segregated from the group and had no more official contacts with them. Chambers said, however, that Hiss did meet socially with many of the group and was particularly close to John Abt's sister, Marian Bachrach. Chambers further stated that he had no reason to believe that Hiss had broken away from the Communist Party. As a reason for this belief, he explained that after he, Chambers, had broken with the Party, he had made a special trip to Hiss' home in the Georgetown Section of Washington for the purpose of persuading Hiss to leave the Party. Chambers explained that when he arrived there, Hiss' wife was the only one present and that while Chambers momentarily excused himself to go to the bathroom, he observed Hiss' wife going to the telephone "obviously to get in touch with Party members." Chambers immediately returned to the room and awaited the arrival of Alger Hiss. When Hiss arrived they had dinner together at his home following which Chambers said he talked with him all night in an endeavor to persuade Hiss to leave the Party. Chambers stated that, with tears streaming down his face, Hiss had refused to break with the Communists and had given as his reason for not breaking away, his loyalty to his friends and his principles. Chambers pointed out that in his opinion one of the strongest reasons for Hiss' maintaining contact with the Communist Party was the fanatical loyalty to the Communist Party on the part of his wife. In this connection Chambers explained that he had endeavored to persuade Hiss to leave the Communist Party because he personally had great regard for Hiss and considered him an intelligent and decent young man whose better judgment should have led him to leave the Communist Party.

INVESTIGATION CONDUCTED

Although no action was immediately taken concerning Chambers' additional information concerning Hiss, Hiss, as a result of the disclosures of Elizabeth Terrill Bentley in November, 1945, became a subject of the investigation conducted in the Silvermaster case. (100-25824-22, 27, 36)

ALLEGATIONS OF ELIZABETH TERRILL BENTLEY IN NOVEMBER - 1945

On November 7, 1945 Elizabeth Terrill Bentley voluntarily appeared at the New York Office of the FBI and furnished, at length, information concerning her own activities as well as the activities of other individuals in Soviet espionage which she stated had extended into agencies of the United States Government. She was thereafter interviewed on numerous occasions during the month of November, 1945 and on November 30, 1945 she signed a statement which set forth her allegations concerning the individuals named by her. It should be noted that Miss Bentley's allegations were the first indication received by the FBI that a Soviet espionage ring had existed in Washington.

Miss Bentley related that Harold Glasser had been working in Europe for the United States Treasury Department and that Victor Perlo had advised her that Glasser had asked him if he, Glasser, would be able to return to the Perlo Group. Bentley at a later date, in talking with Charles Kramer in New York City, brought up the matter of Glasser's return to activity in the Perlo Group and Kramer, at that time, stated that the person who had originally taken Glasser away from the Perlo Group and had turned him over directly to a Russian was a man named Hiss, who was employed in the Department of State. Miss Bentley subsequently was advised by her Russian contact named Jack that he had learned of the identity of Hiss. Miss Bentley indicated that the Hiss in question was an adviser to Dean Acheson of the Department of State named Eugene Hiss. (Subsequent inquiry pointed to the individual referred to as being Alger Hiss.) (65-56402-220)

INVESTIGATION CONDUCTED

Authority was requested of the Attorney General to install a technical surveillance on the residence of Alger Hiss, 3210 P Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., by memorandum dated November 28, 1945. The request was based on the allegation that Hiss was engaged in Soviet espionage. By memorandum dated November 29, 1945, the Attorney General asked if this individual was identical with the one employed in the State Department, and if so, what information the FBI had regarding him. In accordance to the Attorney General's inquiry, a memorandum dated November 30, 1945 was furnished to him concerning Alger Hiss. This memorandum set forth the allegations of Elizabeth Terrill Bentley concerning the individual named Hiss, who was employed in the State Department. This surveillance was authorized and installed. (65-56402-94)

It was ascertained that in March, 1946, Michael Greenberg, another individual mentioned by Miss Bentley as being connected with the espionage ring which she had described, addressed a letter to Alger Hiss, setting forth his qualifications and stating, "I expect to be in New York City next week and would appreciate any suggestions you might make. If it be possible to put me in touch with principal UNO people, I would appreciate it duly." (65-56402-1019)

Alger Hiss was interviewed at his request by a Bureau official, Mr. D. M. Ladd, on March 25, 1946. At that time Hiss explained that he wished to clear up any questions that might have arisen concerning his loyalty to the Government since it had been brought to his attention by the then Secretary of State, James F. Byrnes, that his name had been mentioned in connection with subversive organizations. Hiss, on this occasion, denied that he or his wife were ever members of the Washington Committee for Democratic Action. He mentioned the possibility that his wife could have been a member of the League of Women Shoppers because he thought that some of her friends had been members of that organization. Hiss further emphatically stated that at no time had he been a member of the Communist Party or had any association with it. He further declared that he knew of no friends of his who were members of the Party. Asked, whether he had any association with any person or persons who might be members of any subversive organizations which might have caused the belief to exist that he likewise was a member of such organizations, he replied that he knew of no association on his part with any persons which would lead to this conclusion. The results of this interview were made available to both the Attorney General and the Secretary of State on March 25, 1946. (65-56402-1128X)

Chambers was further interviewed on March 28, 1946 at New York City with specific reference to Alger Hiss. On this occasion he said he was unable to elaborate on any of the information concerning Hiss' connection with the Communist Party which he had furnished at the time he was interviewed in 1942 and again in 1945 by Bureau agents. He recalled that after 1937, being no longer actively associated with the Communist Party, he had lost all contact with Alger Hiss. He stated that as a matter of fact he had absolutely no information that would conclusively prove Hiss held a membership card in the Communist Party or that he was an actual dues-paying member of the Party, even while he was active prior to 1937. He declared that he knew in 1937 that Hiss was favorably impressed with the Communist movement and was of the belief that Hiss was then (1946) still of the same belief. He indicated that he did not have any documentary proof on which to base this belief, having based it solely on comments made by various Washington and New York newspaper writers at the time. (100-25823-38)

On December 30, 1946 it was determined through physical surveillance that Robert Talbott Miller, III, also mentioned by Miss Bentley as being involved in the spy ring reported by her, spent three hours at the office of Alger Hiss in the Department of State. (65-56402-2243)

On April 15, 1947 Robert Talbott Miller, III was interviewed by Special Agents of the FBI at which time he denied being a member of the Communist Party but acknowledged acquaintanceship with various members of the espionage group described by Elizabeth Terrill Bentley, including Alger Hiss. He insisted, however, that he had no knowledge of any Communist sympathies on the part of any of the individuals he admitted knowing. (65-56402-2349)

Alger Hiss was interviewed by Special Agents of the FBI on August 2, 1947. He stated that he was acquainted with Charles Kramer, whom he had met while both were employed in the United States Department of Agriculture, but that he had not seen him for sometime. He denied knowing Nathan Gregory Silvermaster but acknowledged that he was acquainted with John Abt. He advised that he had met Victor Perlo in 1934 but did not recall him very well. He said that he had met Harold Glasser in an official capacity when Glasser was an official of the United States Treasury Department, but denied that he had ever placed Glasser in touch with any representative of the Soviet Government. He denied that he had any information to the effect that any individual, either in or out of the Government, had ever attempted to furnish any Government information to unauthorized persons. The individuals mentioned above were others who, according to Miss Bentley, were connected with Soviet espionage in the United States. On that occasion Hiss also denied that he had any connection with the Communist Party and said that he was not acquainted with an individual named Whittaker Chambers. In a signed statement which he furnished he also mentioned knowing Leon Pressman and Henry Collins, both of whom had been mentioned by Chambers in connection with his allegations concerning a Communist underground apparatus in Washington. CURRENT INVESTIGATION

Jay David Whittaker Chambers furnished a signed statement dated December 3, 1948, to Special Agents of the FBI at Baltimore, Maryland. In this statement Chambers said that he had become a defendant in a civil action brought against him by Alger Hiss in Federal Court at Baltimore, Maryland. This referred to a libel suit presently pending in the U. S. District Court for the District of Maryland which arose out of Chambers' comments concerning Alger Hiss on a radio program entitled, "Meet the Press." In a pretrial deposition taken at the request of Counsel for Hiss on November 17, 1948, in connection with this suit Chambers said he produced in evidence 65 typewritten documents and 4 small pieces of sheet paper on which there appeared handwriting that according to Chambers' recollection was the handwriting of Alger Hiss. Chambers said that the documents referred to were copies of State Department documents which were turned over to him by Alger Hiss during the latter part of 1937 and early part of 1938. He said that the documents had been in the possession of Nathan L. Levine, his wife's nephew, who is a resident of Brooklyn, New York, and a lawyer in New York City. Chambers said that he had asked Levine to hide these documents for him but in the event that any harm should befall Chambers, he told Levine to open them and make them public. Chambers further stated that Levine was unaware of the contents of the documents entrusted to him or of their original source. Chambers said that on November 14, 1948, he secured the return of these documents from Levine who in the meantime had hidden them in a dumb-waiter shaft in his mother's house in Brooklyn. Chambers explained that the envelopes containing the documents also contained three cans of undeveloped film, two strips of developed film and four yellow lined sheets of paper bearing the handwriting of Harry Dexter White. Chambers said he did not introduce the three cans of film in the deposition mentioned above because it was undeveloped, nor did he introduce the two strips of developed film because he wanted to keep all of the film together and possibly have the other film developed and made readable at a later date. He said he likewise did not introduce the sheets of paper bearing the handwriting of Harry Dexter White on the advice of counsel because it was thought to be irrelevant.

The three cans of undeveloped film and the two strips of developed negative film were turned over by Chambers, he said, to the House Committee on Un-American Activities on Thursday night, December 2, 1948, in response to a subpoena served by them at that time. Chambers then declared that he had no other documents whatever of the nature described above.

The 69 original documents produced by Chambers at Baltimore were turned over to the FBI by his attorney, Richard F. Cleveland, on November 29, 1948. (From a preliminary examination they appear to be copies and condensations of communications between the State Department and its foreign posts in Europe and the Far East. They deal generally with the various political, economic and military developments in 1938 which culminated in the world crisis of 1939. The files of the State Department are being checked as to which were actually confidential or otherwise restricted). The HCUA on December 14, 1948, made available to the FBI for examination, the five rolls of film which Chambers had given them. (These were found to contain photographs of what appear to be 58 pages of actual State Department documents of a like nature and blurred photographs of 79 pages of Navy Department correspondence and designs dealing with radio, airplane and other technical equipment).

According to Chambers the undeveloped film contained photographs of original documents that had come from the State Department and the Bureau of Standards. He said the bulk of the documents from the State Department had been turned over to him by Alger Hiss. He said that the others were possibly turned over to him by Henry Julian Wadleigh.

Chambers also declared that the documents presented by him at the deposition mentioned above had been turned over to him by Alger Hiss during the latter part of 1937 and the first part of 1938 as indicated by the dates on the documents. These documents he said had been given to him for delivery to a Colonel Bykov who had been previously introduced to Alger Hiss at which time Hiss agreed to furnish the documents from the State Department to Chambers for transmittal to Bykov. Chambers said that Alger Hiss was well aware that Colonel Bykov was the head of the Soviet underground organization. He said that it was possible that some of the 65 documents presented at his deposition had been photographed and that copies of the photographs had been turned over to Colonel Bykov. Chambers stated he did not destroy the documents because he was preparing to quit the Communist Party in about April, 1938. Chambers said that some of the documents supplied by Hiss were copied on a typewriter in Alger Hiss' own home by Hiss or his wife and then turned over to Chambers. In other instances, the original documents from the State Department were turned over to Chambers by Hiss and taken by him in most instances to photographers to be copied, the original documents then being returned to Alger Hiss on the same night in order to be returned by him to the State Department. One of these photographers was a Baltimorean named Felix, and it was Chambers' usual procedure to obtain documents from Alger Hiss and then meet Felix at some prearranged place either in Baltimore or Washington at which time he would give the documents to Felix for photographing. Felix would then return the documents to Chambers who would in turn give them back to Hiss. At a later date Felix would turn over the developed or undeveloped film which had been exposed and Chambers would deliver it to Colonel Bykov. He said that Alger Hiss was aware of the fact that the documents were being photographed for delivery to Colonel Bykov. Another photographer who was occasionally utilized in this manner was a man named David Carpenter, also of Baltimore.

As for Colonel Bykov, Chambers said that General Walter Krivitsky had said that he was with the 4thSection of the Red Army Intelligence. Chambers stated that J. Peters (Alexander Stevens) who had introduced him to Colonel Bykov at the end of 1936 or the first part of 1937 had appeared to be considerably disturbed because Bykov wanted to work his way into the American Communist Party's underground apparatus in Washington, D. C., as it would mean apparently, that Peters would ultimately lose control of this apparatus. However, he said that Peters was not able to do anything about it and Bykov began pressing for information about the personnel of the apparatus and requested that he meet some of them.

The first person that Bykov met in the apparatus was Alger Hiss. In the spring of 1937, Chambers said he arranged a meeting between Hiss and Colonel Bykov on the mezzanine floor of a theater in Brooklyn, New York. Chambers said similar meetings were arranged in Brooklyn between Bykov and other members of the apparatus such as Henry Collins, George Silverman, and Harry Dexter White. Bykov, according to Chambers, wanted to observe individuals he met in this manner to discuss present and future work for him with them and possibly also to check up on Chambers.

When Hiss met Bykov the latter raised the question of procuring documents from the State Department and Alger Hiss agreed to do so. Following this meeting Alger Hiss began to supply a constant flow of material from the State Department such as the documents presented by Chambers at his pretrial deposition on November 17, 1948. Chambers said that he had never described the existence of the documents he presented at the pretrial deposition with anyone else nor had he told any other Government agency at the time about their existence.

Chambers on this occasion declared that in testifying to various Government agencies over the past ten years he had been influenced by two principles. The first was to stop "the Communist conspiracy", the second was to try to preserve the human elements involved and for this reason he had not previously mentioned the procuring and passing of any documents. (report of SA Frank G. Johnston, 12-4-48, Baltimore)

(Nathan I. Levine of 960 Sterling Place, Brooklyn, New York, with law offices at 152 West 42nd Street, New York, N. Y., acknowledged on December 15, 1948, to Special Agents of the FBI that he is the nephew of Ester Shemetz Chambers, the wife of Whittaker Chambers. At that time he subsequently collaborated the earlier explanation of Chambers of the manner in which Chambers had turned over a sealed envelope to him in 1938 or 1939, hidden by Levine and eventually reclaimed by Chambers. Levine insisted, however, that the envelope had always remained sealed while in his charge and that his only knowledge of the contents thereof came from watching Chambers opening the envelope immediately after he had given it back to Chambers.)
(report of SA Joseph M. Kelly, 12-23-48, N. Y.)

Chambers furnished another signed statement to the Special Agents of the FBI inNew York City on December 8, 1948. On this occasion Chambers said that in connection with providing money or gifts to the various people who turned over information to him he wished to state that no one as far as he knows has been given any money for the services they rendered. However, he did recall that probably at the end of 1936, Colonel Bykov in one of his conversations with Chambers suggested that it might be a good idea to give Alger Hiss, Harry Dexter White and A. George Silverman a gift of some kind. After some discussion, Bykov thought it might be advisable to present each of them with an expensive rug. Chambers said that he did not favor the idea but Bykov became somewhat insistent and as a result Chambers arranged for the purchase of three oriental rugs following inquiry made of an Armenian rug dealer in New York City. He said that Bykov furnished him with the money to buy these rugs which cost approximately $200. each and that as he recalled it the three rugs were sent by the Armenian rug dealer via American Railway Express to the home of A. George Silverman in Washington, D. C.

Prior to the delivery of the rugs to Washington, Chambers said that he had informed Hiss, White, and Silverman that they were going to be presented with gifts as a token of gratitude for their activities for the American Communists. He said that White and Silverman appeared pleased with the fact that they were going to receive such a gift. Hiss, however, was more polite than pleased when he received his. It was Chambers' recollection that the rugs were delivered to Silverman's home because of the latter's close association with White and that Silverman delivered White's rug. The rug intended for Alger Hiss, as Chambers remembers, was brought by Silverman in his car one evening to a predesignated point, a restaurant on Route 1 about three or four miles east of College Park, Maryland. Chambers said he accompanied Hiss in the latter's car to that point and upon arriving there he got out of Hiss' car, took the rug from Silverman's automobile and carried it to Hiss' car. (Report of SA Joseph M. Kelly dated 12-23-48 at New York)

(It may be noted that Henry Julian Wadleigh has also admitted receiving an oriental rug from David Carpenter for similar reasons in this connection.)

On December 15, 1948, Chambers was reinterviewed at the request of the Special Assistant to the Attorney General Thomas J. Donegan for the purpose of ascertaining his specific knowledge, if any, of the typewriter in the Hiss household together with the related facts concerning the transmission of documents by Hiss to Chambers. Chambers declared that he had never seen Priscilla Hiss operate a typewriter, that his "understanding" that she was making typewritten copies of State Department documents for transmission to Chambers came from Hiss and his wife and that he recalls no direct statement by either concerning such copying. Chambers said he is "quite sure" that he never had occasion to borrow a typewriter from either Alger or Priscilla Hiss and it is his present recollection that he himself did not own a typewriter during the period he was associated with Hiss and his wife. He did point out, however, that there was in his possession for part of that time a typewriter which had been given to him probably by J. Peters for use in connection with his work in the apparatus. Chambers said that he is positive that this machine was a portable typewriter and that it may have been a Remington. He mentioned that it may have been Colonel Bykov who furnished him with this machine but believed it came from J. Peters and that he ultimately disposed of it by abandoning it in a public elevator or public conveyance at a time and place he did not remember. Chambers believed that he got rid of the machine after leaving the Communist Party in April, 1938 but said that this is only a conclusion and not a definite recollection.

Chambers declared that he could best approximate the dates of various meetings with Alger Hiss by recalling that his last conversation with Hiss prior to the HCUA hearings in 1948 occurred in December, 1938, at which time he saw Hiss at the latter's residence on Volta Place in Washington and pleaded with Hiss to break with the Party as he himself had done eight months before. Chambers said that he fixed the date of this final meeting by remembering that Hiss asked him what kind of a Christmas his family was going to have and that Hiss gave him a small wooden rolling pin as a Christmas gift for Chambers' daughter. It is Chambers' best recollection that Hiss moved into his Volta Place residence early in the spring of 1938 and although he has no definite recollection of having met Hiss there prior to the final meeting he feels he must have gone to see Hiss at the Volta Place address, basing this on his wife's recollection. He said meetings with Hiss in 1937 were frequent, and usually took place at the 30th Street house which Hiss occupied at that time. In explaining the exact method employed by Hiss and himself with respect to the documentary material being handled, Chambers stated that he would see Hiss usually at the end of the week and receive from him whatever material Hiss had obtained during the week. He said it was the practice of Hiss to extract each day certain material from the State Department, take it to his home where it would be copied on the typewriter, and return the original document to the Department the next day. Chambers would then take the typewritten copies of such material to Carpenter who would photograph this material. Chambers would turn over the microfilm thus produced to Colonel Bykov and would destroy the typewritten material.

With respect to the four small sheets containing the handwriting of Alger Hiss which are referred to above, Chambers explained that at the time he would make his weekly visit to Hiss' home some material might be in the form of handwritten notes which had not yet been copied on the typewriter. Rather than wait for this material to be typed, Chambers would take these penciled notes along with the typewritten material. However, Chambers stated that to the best of his present recollection all of the written information he gave to Colonel Bykov was on film and never was it the original documents or typed copies.

With respect to his reason for having in his possession in November, 1948, 65 typewritten sheets furnished him by Alger Hiss, Chambers explained that they were the last documents given him by Hiss and that shortly prior to the time he began receiving this particular group of documents he had already made up his mind to break away from the Communist Party and had decided to retain them for further use in the event it became necessary to have documentary proof that, in fact, not only Alger Hiss but the Communist Party was involved in espionage against the United States. Chambers made the observation that in all probability the 65 sheets of typewritten material referred to had been photographed in the usual manner and that the film developed had been delivered by him to Bykov.

With respect to the rolls of microfilm that were seized by the HCUA on December 2, 1948, at the Chambers' farm, (where they had been hidden in a pumpkin), Chambers explained that in all probability this was photographed material, the microfilm for which he had received at about the time he had definitely decided to leave the Communist Party and for that reason had not turned it over to Bykov. (New York report of SA Joseph M. Kelly of December 23, 1948)

Chambers was interviewed on December 31, 1948, by Mr. Ray Whearty of the Department of Justice and a Special Agent of the FBI in Mr. Whearty's Office. On this occasion Chambers furnished additional details concerning his espionage operations and again referred to Boris Bykov to whom he said he had been introduced by J. Peters. He repeated his statement that Bykov had met on a single occasion with Alger Hiss as well as with other individuals. Chambers again mentioned the underground group organized by Harold Ware among Government employees in Washington, D.C.

in the early 1930's mentioning that the primary objective at first was to place Communists in important positions where they had opportunity for advancement in order to formulate or influence policies along lines favoring Communist interests. He again mentioned that this group included among others, Alger and Donald Hiss, Henry Collins, John Abt, Charles Kramer, Victor Perlo, Nathan Witt, and Lee Pressman.

Concerning early operations, Chambers recalled that in about 1935 Alger Hiss had furnished him with a set of State Department documents which Hiss had secured through his employment with the Nye (Munitions Investigation) Committee. Chambers said that he photographed these documents himself with a Leica camera supplied by J. Peters. He mentioned that Hiss had been instrumental in taking documents from the State Department furnished to the Committee in the usual course of business and observed that a man named Greene, a former professor of History at Princeton University who was then in the State Department, had unwittingly supplied these documents but subsequently became somewhat suspicious and as a result, the practice was discontinued.

Concerning Harry Dexter White, Chambers recalled that J. Peters had introduced him to George Silverman at an early date and that Silverman in turn had introduced him to White in about 1936. He recalled vividly he said that Harry White was a financial expert who had evolved a fiscal plan for Soviet Russia in which he was greatly interested. Chambers advised that in the summer of 1937 as he recalls, Alger and Priscilla Hiss took Chambers to White's summer home in New Hampshire to discuss this monetary plan with him. He remembered that they stopped the first night in Thomaston, Connecticut, drove to White's home the following day and returned by way of Peterborough, New Hampshire, where they attended the performance of a summer stock company. Chambers also remembered that White's brother from Boston, Massachusetts, was at White's summer place at the time.

Chambers again mentioned that Alger Hiss had conceived the idea that Noel Field would be a good source of information and had made a serious effort to recruit Field only to return to Chambers with the report that Field indicated he was already in a "parallel". Chambers also said he had a vague recollection that Hiss had related having made an effort to recruit Laurence Duggan also and had returned giving the impression that Duggan was already operating. Chambers said he recalls that Noel Field was the best friend of Laurence Duggan and he cannot but believe that Duggan was aware of the activity around him.

Chambers was questioned briefly about Harold Glasser, mentioned above in the allegations of Elizabeth Terrill Bentley. Chambers said that he was not aware that Glasser also furnished Alger Hiss with any information but understood that Glasser was a member of an underground cell. Against this statement is that of Miss Bentley to the effect that Charles Kramer once informed her that Glasser had been stolen from the Perlo Group by Hiss.

As a side light on Hiss, Chambers recalled that Priscilla Hiss had been a very close friend of Marian Bachrach and had continued to see her frequently after being forbidden to do so by the apparatus.

Following the above interview Chambers on his way out of the Justice Building advised Special Agent Maurice A. Taylor that he was suspicious of William P. Marbury, the Baltimore Attorney who is representing Alger Hiss. Chambers stated that he thought Marbury may have ideological interest in the defense of Hiss which goes further than his ordinary interest as Hiss' counsel. He stated that Marbury had plenty of opportunity to withdraw from the case since the documents were produced but had appeared more interested than ever. He recalled that Marbury had questioned him at great length regarding Helen Ware and the meetings of the underground group in her violin studio at Washington, D. C. Chambers said he concluded that in view of the complete knowledge of Helen Ware evidenced by Marbury he must have been aware of the fact that she was the daughter of Ella Reeve Bloor. (Washington report of SA Maurice A. Taylor, January 4, 1949)

ALGER HISS INTERVIEWED DECEMBER 4, 1948

Alger Hiss furnished a signed statement to Special Agents of the FBI at Baltimore, Maryland on December 4, 1948. In this statement he referred to the 65 pages of typewritten material and four small sheets of paper bearing handwritten material which Chambers had introduced at a pretrial examination on November 17, 1948 in the office of Hiss' attorney, William L. Marbury in Baltimore in connection with the Hiss libel suit against Chambers. Hiss stated that there had been exhibited to him by the interviewing Agents photostatic copies of the documents referred to and that he was satisfied that they were copies of the documents actually produced by Chambers.

Hiss said he had read portions of the court reporter's transcription of the deposition of Chambers and said that according to a part of it, Chambers on November 5, 1948, had been asked whether he had ever obtained any documents from Hiss for transmittal to the Communist Party and Chambers had replied that he had not.

Hiss said that from a cursory examination of the typewritten material mentioned above he would say that they appeared to be authentic copies of U. S. State Department documents, or summaries of such documents, dated approximately from January to March, 1938. He admitted that documents similar to those in question normally passed over his desk during his employment as Assistant to the Assistant Secretary of State, the Honorable Francis B. Sayre. He said he had no independent recollection of having seen any of the questioned documents or document summaries while he was employed by the State Department. He said that by and large the documents do not appear to be documents of a very highly confidential nature and would not have been treated in the State Department with any special precautions at that time according to the security regulations then in effect. Hiss said that three of the four handwritten pages appeared to be in his own handwriting. The fourth page, consisting of five handwritten lines, Hiss said may or may not be in his handwriting, but does not look to him as if it were.

Hiss stated he learned from his attorney and from reading the above-mentioned deposition that Chambers claimed the questioned documents and others like them had been obtained by Hiss from the State Department and that typewritten copies of the larger documents had been made on a typewriter in Hiss' home either by Hiss or his wife, Priscilla. He said he was also aware of Chambers' claim that Hiss would subsequently return such documents to the files of the State Department. He said he was also aware that Chambers alleged that on some occasions Hiss had turned over the actual State Department documents to him, that photographic copies would be made in a manner unknown to Hiss and that these documents would then be returned to Hiss for return to the State Department files.

Hiss denied that any of the above claims of Chambers are true. He also denied that he ever gave the originals of the handwritten documents to Chambers at any time for any purpose whatsoever. Hiss further denied that any of the claims of Chambers concerning a meeting between Colonel Bykov and Hiss are true. He said he had never met, and had never heard of any Russian named Peter or Colonel Bykov until he was told of the testimony given by Chambers.

Hiss did admit that he had a typewriter in his home in Washington during the period from 1936 to some time after 1938, which was an old-fashioned machine and was possibly an Underwood. He said that Mrs. Hiss, although not a typist, had used this machine somewhat as an amateur typist, but that he never recalled having used it. He claimed that Mrs. Hiss disposed of this typewriter to either a secondhand typewriter concern or a secondhand dealer in Washington, D. C. some time subsequent to 1938, the exact date and place being unknown to him. He denied having any knowledge of the present whereabouts of the typewriter, but explained that before it had come into the possession of his immediate family, it had been the property of Thomas Fansler, the father of Mrs. Hiss, who was an insurance agent in Philadelphia until his death in the early 1940's.

On this occasion, Hiss declared that until he met Chambers face to face at a sub-committee hearing of the House Committee on Un-American Activities on August 17, 1948, in the Hotel Commodore in New York City, he did not know whether he had ever previously met Chambers although he thought that newspaper pictures of him looked somewhat familiar. He acknowledged that when he first appeared before the HCUA on August 5, 1948, he had stated that to the best of his knowledge he had never met Chambers, explaining that at that time it had not occurred to him that Chambers might be "George Crosley." On August 16, 1948, he told a Sub-Committee of the HCUA in Washington that Chambers might be a person previously known to him as "George Crosley." Upon confrontation on August 17, he realized that Chambers and "George Crosley" were one and the same person. He related that he first met Chambers when he, Hiss, was employed as Legal Assistant to the Senate Munitions Investigation Committee about December, 1934 or January, 1935. At that time he said Chambers came to his office in the Senate Office building in Washington and stated that he was a free lance magazine writer who desired information for a series of articles on the munitions investigation. Chambers gave him the impression that he was making periodic trips to Washington from New York City where Hiss assumed he lived.

Between the turn of the year 1934-35 and the Spring or Summer of 1936 Chambers contacted him perhaps six or eight times, always for the purpose of obtaining information for his magazine articles or of discussing the problems of munitions investigation. Hiss denied that he ever saw or heard from "Crosley" after the Spring or Summer of 1936 until he was confronted with him at the Sub-Committee hearing mentioned above.

Hiss said that during the period when Chambers periodically got in touch with him, he occasionally borrowed small sums of money from Hiss, totaling $20 to $30, obtained $4 or $5 at a time. Chambers appeared to be hard-pressed financially and furthermore, during this period sublet Hiss' apartment at 2831 - 28th Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. for himself, his wife and child, at $60 a month. Hiss acknowledged that Chambers and his family spent two or three days on the third floor of his home at 2905 P Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. prior to taking over the apartment which he had just sublet and from which Hiss had just moved. It was Hiss' recollection that Chambers at the time explained that some of his furniture or other possessions had not arrived on time and that he and his family could not, therefore, move into the 28th Street apartment immediately. He said that as far as he knew, Chambers and his family lived in the apartment on 28th Street until the expiration of their lease on July 1, 1935. During the sub-tenancy of the apartment by Chambers, Hiss continued to pay the rent, he said, and Chambers has never reimbursed him for it nor has he repaid the small loans mentioned above. He declared that on one occasion Chambers did give him a rug which Chambers said he had received from a patron of his. Furthermore, while the Chambers family stayed at his house on P Street, Mrs. Chambers painted a portrait of Timothy Hobson, the son of Mrs. Hiss by a former marriage, who was then eight years old.

Hiss claimed to have no clear recollection of the date of his last contact with Chambers but said it probably occured in the Spring or Summer of 1936 while Hiss was employed as an attorney by the Department of Justice in Washington, D. C. However, he said that he does recall the meeting quite well and that on this occasion he told Chambers that he did not think the latter would ever repay the loans he had made to him and that he, Hiss, thought any further contacts should be discontinued. Hiss said he wished to state that Chambers never paid him any funds for any purpose. He said that during the period mentioned above, most of the contacts were made by Chambers either at Hiss' office or for lunch, with the possible exceptions that Chambers may have contacted him on several occasions at Hiss' residences.

In connection with the sublease of the apartment, Hiss said he occasionally lent Chambers his 1929 Ford roadster. Some time after the summer of 1935, when he acquired a 1935 Plymouth Sedan, Hiss said he told Chambers that he could have the Ford Roadster, a car which he understood had a trade-in value of $25. If Chambers used the Ford in the Fall of 1935 or the winter of 1935-36, it must have been only occasionally because, continued Hiss, he recalled it sitting on the streets of Georgetown during a number of months of that winter. He claimed that Chambers took permanent possession of the car under such circumstances some time before May or June, 1936. At that time or before he had turned over the Certificate of Title, he said, to Chambers but has no recollection of the occasion. The Certificate of Title for the Ford, he admitted, bears what appears to be his signature, witnessed under date of July 23, 1936 by Marvin Smith, a notary public, who was also employed in the same office as he was in the Department of Justice. Hiss said he could only assume that the Certificate was brought to him in his office in the Department of Justice by some one who said that he had disposed of the car without completing the legal technicalities required and that he signed it under those circumstances, asking Smith to witness his signature.

Hiss said he had endeavored personally and through counsel and private investigators to locate other persons who knew Chambers as "George Crosley" during the period from the turn of the year 1934 -35 to the Spring or Summer of 1936 but without success. He said he had discovered one person who claimed to know that Chambers at one time had submitted a manuscript to him for publication under the name of "George Crosley" but that that was during a much earlier period, approximately in 1926.

Hiss denied that he is or has ever been a member of the Communist Party or that he has ever attended any Communist Party meetings. Likewise, he denied that he has ever been a member of a Communist Party, espionage apparatus or underground group in Washington or any where else at any time. He said he never saw Chambers at any time in the State Department and knows of no opportunity which Chambers may have had, either in Hiss' State Department office or residence or any other place, to obtain any documents pertaining to State Department business during the period 1937-38 or at any other time.

He said he does not know whether Chambers personally obtained these documents from the State Department or whether he had some confederate who cooperated with him in obtaining these documents. He asserted that Chambers' entire story with respect to the matters outlined above which relate to Hiss is a complete fabrication, except as he had otherwise indicated. He said he does not know what motive Chambers could have for making such accusations against him but thinks that a thorough examination of Chambers' life and personal background might throw some light on the problem. (Source: Baltimore report of SA Frank G. Johnstone of 12/4/48)

In addition to the above remarks which were contained in his signed statement, Hiss further stated that he believes that Chambers is a psychopathic personality and that all of his allegations relating to Hiss are fabrications. Both Hiss and his attorney, William L. Marbury, based their joint belief in this respect on the fact that in 1929 Chambers translated from the German a novel by Franz Werfel entitled "Class Reunion." The story recounted in "Class Reunion" has a striking counterpart in the present Hiss-Chambers controversy and it is evident that Chambers has used some of the exact phraseology in this novel in his testimony before the HCUA, as well as in his pretrial deposition at Baltimore, according to them.

Hiss and Marbury also advanced as a possible reason for Chambers' alleged fabrications involving Hiss that the story was of assistance to Chambers in obtaining his first position with Time Magazine. Hiss stated that Chambers first told the story involving him in about 1939 to Isaac Don Levine, Editor of "Plain Talk," an anti-Communist publication of New York City, but that Levine refused to publish it. Even at that time he pointed out most of the individuals named by Chambers were no longer in the employ of the Government, except Hiss who was advancing as a rather prominent official. Without the name of Hiss in the "expose" such a story would not be sufficiently sensational to attract the attention of Time Magazine, a prospective employer of Chambers at the time.

Hiss' story suggested the possibility that Chambers could have stolen the State Department documents in question himself, instead of having obtained them from Hiss. In support of this theory, Hiss said that his private investigation of Chambers' background had revealed that Chambers was possibly employed in Washington, D. C. in 1938 on a Railroad Retirement Project sponsored by the WPA and that this project had offices in an old theater building maintained as a storehouse for old Government records, located in the vicinity of the main State Department building. It was the thought of Hiss and Marbury that Chambers may have gained access to the State Department through familiarity with other buildings in the general locality where he was employed.

Hiss and Marbury both stated that they were particularly impressed by the fact that Chambers did not produce the documents involved in this case for patriotic reasons, but only "to save his neck in a libel suit." Hiss and Marbury assured the interviewing Agents of their desire to cooperate with the Government in every way in an effort to ascertain the true facts of this case. PRISCILLA HISS INTERVIEWED DECEMBER 6 and 7, 1948

Alger Hiss' wife, Priscilla, was interviewed in the presence of her attorney, Edward C. McLean, by Special Agents of the FBI at New York City on December 6, 1948 and furnished a signed statement dated December 7, 1948, covering the substance of her remarks on the previous day. In this statement Mrs. Hiss said that some time in 1935 she met a man named "George Crosley" whom she now believes to have been Whittaker Chambers. She also mentioned that Chambers and his wife lived in a spare room in the Hiss residence at 2905 P Street, N.W. in Washington, D. C. while the Chambers family was waiting to move into the premises at 2831 - 28th Street, N.W. which had been sublet to Chambers by her husband. She said that as far as she knows, no lease was drawn for the subletting of these premises. She also admitted meeting Chambers on several occasions when he called at the Hiss home to visit her husband. She also recalled that Hiss gave a 1929 Ford automobile which he had owned to Chambers. She said that as far as she can remember, she has not seen Chambers since some time in 1936.

Mrs. Hiss denied that her husband ever turned over any Government documents to Chambers in her presence or so far as she knows, at any other time, for the purpose of having them photographed. She said that her husband while employed by the Government occasionally brought work home from his office but that she never personally examined any of this material and has no knowledge of its contents.

Concerning a typewriter which she possessed at one time, Mrs. Hiss said that some time in 1932 or 1933, as far as she can recall, her father, Thomas L. Fansler, who was in the insurance business in Philadelphia, had given her a typewriter which had belonged to him. She said she does not recall whether she had this typewriter while residing in New York City, nor does she recall the make of this machine or how she disposed of it. She said she was not a proficient typist, but did type several things on it, including part of a manuscript for a book which was later published by the Carnegie Corporation. She said she is of the belief that she prepared the rest of this manuscript in long hand. (Extensive investigation has failed to locate this manuscript.)

Mrs. Hiss stated that she has never heard her husband, Alger Hiss, or Chambers discuss any material which had been obtained from the Government or documents which Mr. Hiss may have had in his possession in his official capacity. She said that she has never been acquainted with an individual known as Colonel Bykov whom she understands Chambers claims to have introduced to her husband. She denied that she has ever copied or typed any U. S. Government documents for the purpose of giving them to Chambers. (Source: New York report of SA Joseph M. Kelly, dated 12/23/48)

INTERVIEWS WITH OTHER INDIVIDUALS

When Henry Julian Wadleigh was interviewed by Special Agents of the FBI on December 6, 1948 at Washington, D. C., he furnished a signed statement in which he gave the details of his activities as a member of the Communist espionage underground in Washington, D. C. in the 1930's while employed in the State Department.

Wadleigh said that during his employment in the Trade Agreement Division of the State Department, one of his colleagues was Alger Hiss who was then Assistant to Francis B. Sayre, Assistant to the Secretary of State, and was sufficiently acquainted with Hiss to know him by his first name. His duties brought him into fairly frequent contact with Hiss and he had occasion to discuss matters of official business with him. His personal contacts outside the office, he said, were confined to one luncheon date.

Wadleigh said that he never went to Hiss' home, nor did Hiss ever come to his. Wadleigh furnished no information which indicated that Hiss had been involved in Communist espionage. (Source: Washington report of SA Lambert G. Zander dated 12/7/48)

Wadleigh was again interviewed by Special Agents of the FBI at New York City on December 14, 1948, at which time he furnished another signed statement. In this statement he declared that when the Federal Grand Jury at New York had questioned him on December 11, 1948, one of the jurors asked him if he possessed a typewriter and if he had ever loaned it to Mrs. Hiss. Wadleigh said that he also affirmed the statement made on that occasion that he had never loaned a typewriter to Mrs. Hiss and added that he never lent one to Mr. Hiss. (Source: New York report of SA Joseph M. Kelly dated 12/23/48)

Mrs. Hede Massing, also known as Hede Gumpertz, was interviewed by Special Agents of the FBI on December 7, 1948. At that time Mrs. Massing stated that for approximately one year, or at least for a period of time which included a winter and a summer, she had been endeavoring to persuade Noel Field, a State Department employee, to enter into the intelligence work she was performing on behalf of the Soviets or the Comintern. She stated that she was not certain that she was working for the Soviets nor did she know whether or not Noel Field understood that he was being recruited for the Soviets. However, she said, she is certain that he knew that he was to work in behalf of the Communist International cause. Mrs. Massing stated that she had proposed to Noel Field that he obtain information from the State Department and turn it over to her; she would then see to it that it was turned over to her superior, "Boris," who would send it either to Russia or to a representative of the Comintern. Mrs. Massing explained that she frequently went to Washington and stayed with Field and his wife at their apartment while she was "developing" him.

After about a year, and possibly in the winter of 1935-36, Noel Field told Mrs. Massing that someone else was also attempting to recruit him to do the same work and he did not know just what to do. Mrs. Massing told Field that she would like to meet this individual so that they could come to an understanding, whereupon Field said he would arrange a meeting.

About a week later, according to Mrs. Massing, Field gave a dinner party at his apartment in Washington. She said that Herta Field, Noel's wife, was present, together with Noel, herself and Alger Hiss. She cannot recall whether or not anyone else was present, indicating that there may have been a few others there. However, Mrs. Alger Hiss was not present. Noel Field then told Mrs. Massing that Alger Hiss was the person who was trying to recruit him. He told her this either before, or on the night of the dinner party. Mrs. Massing said that she was impressed by Hiss' good looks, charm, and intelligence, and that they got along very well. Immediately after the dinner and at the first moment when Mrs. Massing and Hiss could get together they had a conversation, which, to the best of Mrs. Massing's recollection, ran as follows:

"Alger Hiss: Well, you are the famous girl who is meddling in my affairs.

Hede Massing: And you are the man who is meddling in my affairs.

Alger Hiss: What is your apparatus?

Hede Massing: I wouldn't ask that question of you. You shouldn't ask it of me!

(They both laughed at this)

Alger Hiss: Well, we'll fight it out to see who gets Noel.

Hede Massing: I'll beat you in this game because I'm a woman.

After this either Hede or Alger said, "What difference does it make who gets Noel, we're both working for the same boss."

Mrs. Massing can not recall whether she made this latter statement or whether Alger Hiss made it. She said that to her the statement meant that they were both working for the same cause, namely the Communist International Movement. Mrs. Massing stated that there was no question in her mind that Hiss was working for some branch of Soviet intelligence or for the Comintern, and was trying to recruit Field to work for him and for a branch which was in competition with her group headed by "Boris."

Mrs. Massing stated that she got along very well with Alger Hiss throughout the evening and that they seemed to agree on everything. After the meeting Mrs. Massing returned to New York where she reported the results of her meeting with Hiss to her superior "Boris." "Boris" was delighted and slapped Mrs. Massing on the back, exclaiming, "Good girl!" He instructed her not to see Hiss in the future. Mrs. Massing stated that she never saw Alger Hiss either before or after this one dinner party at Noel Field's apartment. She stated that she has seen many photographs of Alger Hiss in the newspapers in recent months and that she is certain that it was Alger Hiss she met in Field's apartment, adding that she was probably staying at the Field apartment the night she met him. Mrs. Massing said that she eventually won Field and he "operated" for her group.

Arrangements were made to confront Alger Hiss with Mrs. Massing at the New York Office of the FBI on December 9, 1948. Neither Hiss nor Massing said anything on this occasion. Hiss was requested immediately prior to the confrontation to view Mrs. Massing long enough to satisfy himself with certainty as to whether or not he had ever seen her before. After he observed her for approximately two minutes, he indicated that he had satisfied himself and was, accordingly, escorted from the room. He then declared that he was positive he had never talked with the woman he had just seen at any time or place, that he had no recollection whatsoever of ever having met her and that the only qualification he would make in his denial of acquaintanceship or introduction to her was that it was barely possible that he might have been casually introduced to her at a large affair where hundreds of people might have been present and he might have been introduced briefly to a great number of persons. He declared that this contingency was an exceedingly remote possibility.

On the following day a second confrontation of Hiss with Mrs. Massing was arranged and on this occasion he was accompanied by his attorney, Edward C. McLean. This meeting lasted approximately 15 minutes, during which time Mrs. Massing attempted, by giving her recollection of the conversation reported above between herself and Hiss, to refresh his recollection. She stated, for instance, that she recalled definitely that this conversation took place at the home of Noel Field in Washington, that Field and his wife were present, that Alger Hiss was not accompanied by his wife, and that there may have been a few other persons present. She pointed out to Hiss that she remembered their private conversation apart from the others immediately after dinner.

Hiss, however, insisted that Mrs. Massing was surely mistaken in her identification of him as the man with whom she conversed on that occasion and very pleasantly thanked Mrs. Massing for attempting to "help."

After leaving the room where the above-described confrontation took place, Hiss expressed complete amazement that this woman would be so positive of her recollection of an event which he was equally positive never took place.

(Source: New York report of Special Agent Joseph M. Kelly dated 12/23/48.)

When the late Laurence H. Duggan was interviewed by Special Agents of the FBI at New York City, on December 10, 1948, he declared that he was unable to recall clearly any one named Hede Gumpertz, but acknowledged that he had possibly met her through Noel Field or Rodney Dutch, a newspaper man who had worked in Washington but who has since died. Duggan stated that if he had ever been recruited by Hede Gumpertz then he never recognized it and denied that he had ever gone to see her superior, stating that he never went to see anyone at her request.

Concerning Alger Hiss, Duggan stated that he first met him in Washington, D. C. probably around 1934 at which time Hiss was employed by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. He mentioned that later, probably around 1936, Hiss came to the State Department where he worked in the Trade Agreements Section and later in the Far Eastern Section. Duggan said that he and Hiss never worked in the same section of the State Department. He added that his friendship with Hiss was very casual and that they saw each other but once or twice a year, usually at social functions. He added that he did not know Hiss' political philosophy but was of the opinion that Hiss was a thoroughly loyal American. He added that he was surprised to hear of the charges made by Chambers against Alger Hiss as nothing had ever come to his attention which would indicate that Hiss was a Communist or was engaged in espionage while employed in the State Department. He declared that Alger Hiss had never approached him at any time to do anything in behalf of the Soviets or of the Communist International.

Duggan also said that he knew Alger Hiss' brother, Donald Hiss, and felt the same about Donald as he did about Alger, stating that nothing had ever come to his attention concerning Donald which would indicate that he was a Communist or had been engaged in espionage. He further stated that Donald Hiss likewise had never approached him to work in the interests of the Soviet Union or the Communist International.

Duggan related that he believed Alger Hiss and Noel Field were acquainted and that it was his impression that they had known each other prior to 1936 and had become more friendly thereafter. Duggan said that so far as he could recall he had never attended a dinner party at which Alger Hiss and Noel Field were present and could not remember ever having seen them together.

Alexander Gregory-Graff Barmine is a former Russian diplomatic officer who defected from the Russians in 1937 in Athens, Greece and subsequently came to the United States where he became a citizen and is presently employed by the Russian Section of the Voice of America Division of the State Department.

On October 22, 1946 Fred B. Lyon, of the State Department, called the FBI and advised that he understood that Barmine reportedly had told some one that he, Barmine, had seen a list of foreign agents of the Soviets and that Alger Hiss' name was on this list.

As a result, Barmine was immediately interviewed by Special Agents of the FBI at New York City. He, however, claimed to be unaware of the identity of any actual Soviet agents in the United States and furnished no information concerning Hiss. He was given ample opportunity to mention having seen such a list as was reported, tho he was not directly questioned on the matter. (100-176949-12,13,14)

On December 14, 1948 Barmine was again interviewed and specifically questioned concerning the possibility of his ever having seen the list referred to and in regard to his knowledge of Alger Hiss. Barmine denied that he had ever seen such a list or that he had ever seen the name of Alger Hiss on such a list. He did say that he had heard Alger Hiss referred to as being an agent of the Soviet Military Intelligence. In explanation of this, he said that in the early part of 1938 after his own defection from the Soviet Diplomatic Service he had visited Walter Krivitsky at the latter's hotel in Paris, France. Krivitsky had recently defected from the Soviet Intelligence Service and Barmine claimed that his visit to him was at the instigation of some mutual friends in the Socialist Party of France. Barmine said he was very suspicious of Krivitsky's defection and thought that he might, in fact, be a GPU Agent who was searching for Barmine in an attempt to kill him or return him to Russia. In an attempt to establish the reliability of the man, Barmine said he asked Krivitsky to supply him with the names of certain people in Moscow who should be known to him if he had been in the military intelligence Krivitsky complied by naming a number of individuals, none of whom Barmine is able to recall at the present time.

Barmine, still uncertain, then asked Krivitsky to name some of the individuals who were working for the Soviet Military Intelligence in America. According to Barmine, Krivitsky then named about ten persons, including Alger Hiss, George Mink and Harry Dexter White. Barmine said he could not remember the names of the others mentioned by Krivitsky. He claimed that Krivitsky gave no further explanation of this allegation and said that he had no further discussion along these lines with Krivitsky, either in France or the United States.

Barmine also recalled one other incident involving the name of Alger Hiss. He placed this as being some time in 1945 or 1946 and said that on this occasion he dined in the home of a couple, whose names he could not remember but who lived in Westchester County, New York. After dinner a discussion developed concerning the number of Communists working in the U. S. Government. Barmine said that the names of several people were mentioned but that the only one he specifically recalled was that of Alger Hiss. The latter, according to Barmine, was referred to by his acquaintances as being a Communist, and it was his recollection that they had described him as being Chief Counsel in the State Department. (New York report of Special Agent Joseph M. Kelly, dated 12/23/48, pages 88 and 89)

Louis F. Budenz, Assistant Professor at Fordham University and formerly Managing Editor of the Daily Worker, was interviewed in December, 1948 concerning Alger Hiss. He advised that he had never met Alger Hiss, but understood that he was a member of the Communist Party connected with the Washington group. Budenz stated that he could not place the date when he first heard of Hiss as a Party member. He added that he can recall two instances when Hiss was mentioned in a discussion by Party members. The first discussion took place during the Hitler-Stalin Pact at the National Headquarters of the Communist Party. Budenz, Roy Hudson and Robert Minor were present and possibly others. They were discussing an attack on the Daily Worker and someone mentioned that Nathan Witt and Lee Pressman could not be too helpful because they were under attack at the time. Alger Hiss was then mentioned as someone who would be helpful and who was a good Comrade.

The second discussion recalled by Budenz took place in Jack Stachel's office some time in 1945, on which occasion there were present: Stachel, Budenz, Eugene Dennis and possibly Charles Krumbein. The subject of discussion on this occasion was the Amerasia Case. Dennis stated that Lieutenant Andrew Roth had suggested that Alger Hiss should be used to quash the case.

Budenz stated that he had furnished the above information to the HCUA in Executive Session. He said he did not know whether or not Priscilla Hiss or Donald Hiss were members of the Communist Party.

In addition to the above information, Budenz had mentioned in a previous interview on August 26, 1948 that during the Hitler-Stalin Pact Eugene Dennis had contacted him at the Daily Worker office and stated that he had a technical difficulty and wanted to know if Budenz felt that Howard Hunter in Washington would help him. Dennis continued that he did not wish to contact Alger Hiss since Hiss was under a cloud at the time. Budenz said it was his understanding that the technical difficulty mentioned by Dennis referred to Dennis' use of a fraudulent passport in the past. (Source: N.Y. report of SA Joseph M. Kelly, dated 12/23/48, page 91)

Max Yergen, a former leader in Negro Communist circles in New York who recently left the Communist Party and has become openly hostile to it, was interviewed at New York City on December 20, 1948. Yergen advised that he first saw Alger Hiss in April, 1945 at the San Francisco Conference of the United Nations at which time he believed Hiss was acting as Secretary to Edward R. Stettinius. He advised that he did not know whether or not Hiss is connected with the Communist Party, nor does he know the background of Alger Hiss. (It should be noted that according to George Hewitt, mentioned below, Yergen had information concerning Hiss.)

Yergen did advise that in the Fall of 1946, Paul Robeson brought into his office at the Council of African Affairs a woman named Kleiner (phonetic) who said at the time that she was the sister-in-law of Alger Hiss. Robeson recommended her for employment and she was employed from September, 1946 to early 1947 as a representative of the Council of African Affairs, reporting on the daily activities of the United Nations at the United Nations Meetings. Yergen, however, said he had no information which would indicate that she was a Communist.

George Hewitt was interviewed on December 20, 1948 at New York City. He advised that he met Alger Hiss in 1937 or 1938 at a Party meeting, the purpose of which was to discuss the Negro question and the Communist Party infiltration of the West Indies. According to Hewitt, this meeting took place in an apartment house near West 21st Street in New York City and was attended by J. Peters, Rose Wortis, Jack Stachel, Ted Bassett, Max Steinberg, Bill Lawrence and the two Hiss brothers, Alger and Donald.

Hewitt further said that he met both Alger and Donald Hiss on one occasion in Washington about 1940, on the occasion of an organizational meeting of the National Negro Congress held in the rear of one of the Congress Halls on Pennsylvania Avenue. He said 35 or 40 others were present, including Max Yergen, James W. Ford, Rose Wortis, Max Steinberg and Bob Campbell. (In this connection, Yergen advised that he does not recall being at this meeting.) Hewitt stated that Alger Hiss left the meeting after a very short time. He said he did not know either Alger or Donald and has never spoken to them. He indicated that he thought they were "CI Agents;" that is, International Agents of the Communist Party whose duty it is to observe at such meetings and to report back to Moscow.

Following the interview Hewitt was taken to the vicinity of West 21st Street in an attempt to locate the apartment house mentioned by him. He advised that the apartment house at 8 West 16th Street is the building which he believes was the one where the meeting he described had been held and pointed out Apartment F-35 as the one in which the meeting took place. (Further inquiry is being made concerning this development.)

Marc Catudal, Advisor, Division of Commercial Policy, Department of State, was interviewed in December, 1948 at Washington, D. C. with respect to Henry Julian Wadleigh. Catudal said that he was acquainted with Alger Hiss during the period 1936 and that Wadleigh also knew Hiss but stated that the nature of the official business in the Division of Trade Agreements made it necessary for all three of them, Hiss as a superior, and Wadleigh and Catudal, to have some professional relations with each other. However, Catudal added that he never knew of Hiss' association with Wadleigh to be anything more than an office relationship and that it was his impression that Hiss and Wadleigh were not social acquaintances. Catudal advised that there had never been anything of a personal nature or in connection with official matters that ever led him to consider either Wadleigh or Hiss anything but loyal Americans.

Woodbury Willoughby, Chief of the Commercial Policy Division of the Department of State, upon being interviewed at Washington, D. C. in December, 1948, regarding Wadleigh declared that he could think of nothing on the part of Wadleigh or Hiss which might indicate any inclination toward a sympathy with a foreign country.

Willoughby, who explained that he had worked with Wadleigh in the State Department in 1936 and again from August, 1937 to August, 1939, in the Division of Trade Agreements, said that he was certain that there may have been some official contacts between Hiss and Wadleigh, as Wadleigh had helped draft speeches for Lynn R. Edminster and for Francis Sayre. However, according to Willoughby, he was never aware that Wadleigh and Hiss were friendly or that they were social acquaintances. (Source: Report of SA Alexander W. Neale, dated 12-27-48, pages 5, 6 and 7)

In the signed statement furnished by Chambers on December 3, 1948, to Special Agents of the FBI at Baltimore, he claimed that one of the photographers who photographed the documents which Alger Hiss and others employed by the United States Government had furnished to him was an individual whom he knew only as, "Felix."

On December 19, 1948, FBI Agents together with Chambers toured about in a section of Baltimore, Maryland, in an effort to locate a house where the latter believed "Felix" had once lived. The search was narrowed to the 2100 block of three streets and by a check of various directories for the pertinent period of 1937-38, it was determined that Felix August Inslerman had lived at that time at 2113 Callow Avenue. (Through further investigation a photograph of Inslerman was obtained and identified by Chambers as that of "Felix"). It was also determined that Inslerman has more recently been employed by the General Electric Company at Schenectady, New York. (Baltimore Report of Frank G. Johnstone 12-23-48)

When interviewed on December 23, 1948, by Special Agents of the FBI, Inslerman denied in a signed statement knowing Chambers or that he had ever taken any photographs or microfilm for Chambers. Inslerman also declared upon being shown photographs of Alger Hiss, Franklin Victor Reno, Patrick Whelen, Bernard Weinkrantz and Henry J. Wadleigh, that as far as he can recall, he has never met any of them.

Inslerman's statement in general expressed a denial that he had ever engaged in any type of espionage work or had ever been a member of the Communist Party. (Report of SA Francis D. O'Bryan, 12-30-48, of New York.)

Numerous other individuals both in and out of the Department of State have been interviewed in an effort to throw additional light on the reported espionage activities of Alger Hiss without result.

ALGER HISS INDICTED BY FEDERAL GRAND JURY, DECEMBER 15, 1948

On December 15, 1948, the Federal Grand Jury at New York City returned a two count indictment against Alger Hiss charging him with violations of Title 18, Section 1621 of United States Code (Perjury Statute).

The first count of the indictment charged that Alger Hiss had testified before the Grand Jury to the effect that neither he nor his wife had ever turned over any documents of the State Department or of any other Government organization or any copies thereof to Whittaker Chambers or to any other unauthorized persons. This testimony, according to the indictment, was untrue in that Hiss in or about the months of February and March, 1938, had furnished to Jay David Whittaker Chambers, who was not then and there a person authorized to receive the same, copies of numerous secret confidential and restricted documents, writings and other papers, the originals of which had been removed and extracted from the possession and custody of the State Department in violation of the United States Code.

The second count charged that although Hiss testified that he had not seen Whittaker Chambers after January 1, 1937, Hiss in fact had seen and conversed with Chambers in or about the months of February and March, 1938, in violation of United States Code. (Report of SA Joseph M. Kelly, 12-23-48, New York, page 93)

CHAMBERS' MICROFILM IDENTIFIED AS MANUFACTURED IN 1937-38.

On December 20, 1948, a Special Agent of the FBI accompanied an investigator of the HCUA to the Eastman Kodak Company at Rochester, New York, and to the Dupont Company's Photo Products Department at Parlin, New Jersey, where the five rolls of film obtained by the HCUA from Chambers on December 2, 1948, were exhibited to company officials in an attempt to determine the date of the film's manufacture.

The following information was ascertained through the Eastman Kodak Company at Rochester, New York:

1. A roll identified as Grand Jury exhibit #48 (Completely filled with messages) was slit from a large roll at the plant during the period from July 1, 1937, to January 1, 1938. This film was described as positive Eastman safety film of 35 mm. size.

2. Another roll of film (Grand Jury exhibit #49) was slit from a large roll during the period from January 1, 1937, to July 1, 1937, at the same plant. This roll is also completely filled with messages.

3. Grand Jury exhibit #50 is a roll of film which has been light struck and contains no messages. It could not be identified as an Eastman product.

4. A fourth roll of film known as Grand Jury exhibit #51 contains some messages. It was identified as 35mm. positive Eastman safety film, but its date of manufacture could not be determined as the film is too fogged in the area where the manufacturer's code symbols are located. Officials of the Eastman Company advised that by chemical analysis it could very probably be determined whether this roll was used in March, 1939, or thereafter.

The fifth roll of film (Grand Jury exhibit #47) was exhibited to officials of the Photo Products Department of the Dupont Company at Parlin, New Jersey. They advised that the film is 35mm. positive Dupont nitrate film which was manufactured in that plant in December, 1936, or in June, 1944. They advised that they do not know which of these two is the actual date since the identifying code appearing on this roll of film was used in both December, 1936, and in June, 1944. It was indicated, however, that because of the grain of the film, it was believed to have been manufactured more probably in December, 1936. (Report of SA Robert K. McQueen dated 12-23-48, Washington Field.)

FBI LABORATORY IDENTIFICATION OF CHAMBERS' DOCUMENTS

As a result of examinations conducted by the FBI Laboratory, the following documents have been identified by it as having been typed on the same machine which was used to type 64 of the documents which Chambers alleges were given to him by Alger Hiss and which were submitted by Chambers at the time of his pre-trial deposition at Baltimore, Maryland, on November 17, 1948: (Memo to D.M.Ladd from H.B. Fletcher 12-18-48) (The machine is believed to be a Woodstock typewriter.)

1. A letter addressed to Miss Emma Hillings, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, postmarked December 6, 1931, beginning "Dr. Peltz, my physician ..." This letter was signed "Daisy Fansler" (sister of Mrs. Alger Hiss). It was obtained from the Free Library of Philadelphia. This letter contains an explanation of an absence of Miss Fansler from her employment which was necessitated by her illness. (Report of SA James L. Kirkland, Philadelphia, dated 12-17-48, page 7)

2. A two page letter addressed to Walter L. Tibbetts, Boston, Massachusetts, dated January 30, 1933, which begins, "On reading over my policy last week..." This letter, which is unsigned and was never mailed, relates to an insurance policy allegedly issued to Alger Hiss. The original of this letter was furnished to the FBI at New York by Edward C. McLean, attorney for Alger Hiss, on December 10, 1948. Mr. McLean had previously furnished the FBI with a carbon copy of this letter, advising that he had obtained it from the papers of Mr. Hiss but was unable to state whether Hiss or his wife had typed the letter. (New York report of SA Joseph M. Kelly, 12-23-48, page 80.)

3. A one page letter addressed to Walter G. Schelter, Assistant Secretary of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York, New York, dated February 17, 1933, signed "Alger Hiss." The carbon copy of this letter was furnished to the FBI by Mr. McLean. The original was obtained from the Equitable Life Assurance Society by subpoena. (New York report of SA Joseph M. Kelly, 12-23-48 page 81.)

4. Three pages of typewritten material entitled "Description of Personal Characteristics of Timothy Hobson," bearing the date September 9, 1936. This was apparently an enclosure to a handwritten letter bearing the date September 9, 1936, signed by Alger Hiss. This material was obtained from the Landon School at Bethesda, Maryland, on December 12, 1948. (Memorandum from H.B. Fletcher to D. M. Ladd, 12-28-48.)

5. A letter addressed to W. M. Hillegeist, Director of Admissions, University of Maryland, Baltimore, Maryland, dated May 25, 1937. This letter begins "I am sending to your office today..." and is signed by "Priscilla Fansler Hiss. This letter was obtained from the Assistant Registrar's Office of the University of Maryland on December 14, 1948, and deals with an application of Mrs. Hiss for admission to a summer school session at that University. (Baltimore report of SA Frank G. Johnstone, 12-23-48.)

6. Three pages of typewritten material entitled "President's Report for the year 1936-37," which was obtained from the Bryn Mawr Alumni Association at Washington, D. C., on January 7, 1949. This material is believed by Mrs. Abbott of the Association to have been typed by Priscilla Hiss sometime in 1937, when the latter's term as President of the Association expired. (FBI Laboratory report 1-10-49.)

Over 400 typewriting specimens from various sources have been examined by the FBI Laboratory in connection with efforts to locate and identify the typewriter used to type the documents submitted by Chambers. Extensive efforts to establish the present whereabouts of this machine which the FBI Laboratory has reported to be most probably a Woodstock, have to date been unavailing.

ATTORNEY GENERAL ADVISED DECEMBER 13, 1948, RE ALLEGED CLEARANCE OF ALGER HISS BY FBI

A personal and confidential memorandum was furnished to the Attorney General under date of December 13, 1948, in which attention was called to newspaper reports to the effect that the FBI had cleared Alger Hiss while he was employed by the State Department. This memorandum made clear the fact that the FBI never clears or charges anyone, and furthermore that a review of the files of the FBI reflects that the FBI could not have cleared Hiss. It was pointed out that Adolf A. Berle, Jr., then Assistant Secretary of State, had been advised by Chambers in September, 1939, of Alger Hiss' reported activities in the Communist underground in Washington. This memorandum referred to letters and memoranda furnished to the Department of State and which are elsewhere described in this brief. Reference was also made to various occasions upon which the Director of the FBI had personally discussed the Alger Hiss case with officials of the Department of State.

CONFERENCES OF FBI DIRECTOR WITH STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS RE ALGER HISS

On October 11, 1945, the Director of the FBI had a conference with the then Under-Secretary of State, Dean Acheson, in the course of which Mr. Acheson inquired as to whether the Director had any information concerning the identity of the alleged Soviet agent who had been described by Igor Gouzenko as an assistant to Secretary of State Stettinius, but without further details. (This information from Gouzenko, a Russian code clerk who disclosed a Soviet spy ring in Canada, was first made available to the FBI on September 10, 1945. It was in turn furnished to Mr. Fred B. Lyon of the State Department by memorandum dated September 24, 1945). The Director advised Mr. Acheson that at that time it had not been possible to establish definitely the identity of this man. In answer to the question as to whether or not the FBI suspected anyone, Mr. Acheson was told that one individual was being considered as a possible suspect, although there was no direct evidence to sustain the suspicion. The Director told Mr. Acheson that this suspect was Alger Hiss, but he did not feel that any accusation could be made since there was no supporting proof for such a charge. Mr. Acheson stated that he would not mention Hiss' name to the Secretary of State since he assumed that the Director might do so in the latter's talk with the Secretary. The Director advised Mr. Acheson that he would not mention Hiss' name to the Secretary of State because of the vagueness of the allegation. (61-3499-181, 172)

On 11-15-45, the Director of the FBI conferred with the Secretary of State Byrnes at the request of the President in order to discuss the Gregory case which arose out of the allegations of Elizabeth Terrill Bentley, and the Canadian Espionage case. During this conference the Director mentioned the names of a number of individuals who were named by Miss Bentley as being engaged in Soviet espionage. The Director did not mention the name of Alger Hiss to the Secretary on this occasion because he had not been definitely identified. (61-3499-192)

(On March 14, 1946, Mr. Reams, Special Assistant to the Secretary of State Byrnes, advised a Special Agent of the FBI that Alger Hiss was on the Secretary of State's "pending" list and that Hiss was to be given no further consideration for promotion or assignment to responsible duties in the State Department, and that a study should be made of his case to determine if he could be dismissed similarly under Civil Service regulations. Mr. Reams stated that Secretary Byrnes was of the definite opinion that Hiss should be disposed of, but was concerned over the best manner in which this could be accomplished. (101-268-17)

While the Director was discussing other matters with the Attorney General on March 19, 1946, he was advised by the Attorney General that the Secretary of State Byrnes wanted to dismiss Alger Hiss, but had been told that he could not do so without giving him a hearing as a Civil Service employee. At that time the Director declared that he did not think a hearing would be wise since the material available against Hiss was confidential and if not used would leave insufficient evidence against him. The Director expressed the thought that the best thing the Secretary could do, would be to move Hiss to an innocuous position where he would "understand the situation" and resign. The Director also suggested that the Secretary of State might desire to take Senators Connally and Vandenburg into his confidence since they were friends of Hiss and would appreciate the circumstances. The Attorney General indicated that he would call the Secretary of State and mention the above to him. (Memorandum from Director to Messrs. Ladd, Tamm, Tolson and Clegg 3-19-46)

During a conversation the Director had with the Attorney General on March 20, 1946, the case of Alger Hiss again came up. On this occasion the Attorney General advised the Director that Secretary Byrnes had proposed if the Justice Department agreed, to call Alger Hiss in and inform him that there had been complaints received against him, without disclosing the source to him. The Director suggested to the Attorney General that it seemed to be apparent that when Hiss was questioned, the questions asked would give him some indication as to the nature of the information possessed by the FBI concerning him. The Director pointed out to the Attorney General the possibility that Secretary Byrnes might use the Department of Justice as an alibi, saying that he had called upon the Department of Justice to investigate Hiss, and that following such investigations the Department of Justice had found nothing to warrant the dismissal of Hiss. The Director called attention to the fact that this would put the Justice Department in an awkward position and would be subjected to possible future criticism.)

On the same day, March 20, 1946, the Director returned a call of Secretary of State Byrnes and told him that he, the Director, understood the position Secretary Byrnes was in with respect to the Hiss case, but suggested in view of the fact that any interview with Hiss at that time would alert him and ruin any important espionage investigation, he contact several key men in the House and Senate and explain his predicament to them, pointing out that he, the Secretary, wanted their help in avoiding any criticism from "the Hill." Secretary Byrnes stated he thought this might be a solution to the problem and said he would call some of these men. The Director subsequently advised the Attorney General of this conversation with Secretary Byrnes. The Attorney General thereupon expressed his agreement with the proposal made by the Director. (Memorandum from Director to Tolson, Tamm and Ladd 3-20-46)

On March 21, 1946, Secretary Byrnes again contacted the Director concerning the Hiss case. The Secretary stated that he had called Hiss in and asked him if he was ever a member of any organization which had subversive tendencies. Hiss swore that he had never been a member of any such organization and it was decided that he be referred to the FBI for interview by an FBI official. The Director told Secretary Byrnes that instructions had been left with Assistant Director D. M. Ladd, to the effect that if Hiss wanted to come over and talk to the FBI, it would be perfectly agreeable, but that there were some questions which would not be asked because they might disclose information on current cases. The Director then told the Secretary that if Hiss wanted to make any statement or relate anything about his associations that he might surmise ... would place him under suspicion, the FBI would be very glad to listen to him. The Secretary stated that he wished the FBI would do so. The above conversation was outlined by the Director to the Attorney General on the same day and it was pointed out that when Hiss came to the FBI, he would do the talking and the FBI would do the listening. (Memorandum of Director to Tolson, Tamm and Ladd 3-21-46)

The interview with Alger Hiss which resulted from the above arrangement is mentioned in further detail on pages 5 and 6 of this brief.

This brief covers developments in this case in so far as it concerns Alger Hiss, up to January 24, 1949. Any additional information that may be developed will be included together with the above in a brief currently being prepared on the Whittaker Chambers case as a whole.

You will recall that Felix August Inslerman has been identified as "Felix" who was one of the photographers for Chambers' underground apparatus. You may further recall that Inslerman has been uncooperative when interviewed and at various times when he has appeared before the Grand Jury in New York City.

A 35 mm Leica camera was found in Inslerman's possession which was forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for examination. The FBI Laboratory has recently had access to the pumpkin microfilm from the House Un-American Activities Committee for comparison with Inslerman's Leica camera.

The FBI Laboratory has concluded that two rolls of the pumpkin microfilm were exposed with Inslerman's Leica camera. These rolls have been described in previous Laboratory reports as Grand Jury exhibits 47 and 48.

The FBI Laboratory report concerning the above will be made available by our New York Office to Mr. T. J. Donegan in New York City.

JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, WAS. ETAL, PERJURY, ESP. R. DURING RECENT INTERVIEW WITH CHAMBERS HE WAS ASKED IF HE HAD EVER RECEIVED TREATMENT OR HAD BEEN IN A MENTAL INSTITUTION. HE ANSWERED, "EMPHATICALLY NO". HE EXPLAINED THAT POSSIBLY THROUGH HIS USE OF NAME LLOYD CANTWELL, HE WAS BEING CONFUSED WITH ANOTHER FORMER TIME MAGAZINE EMPLOYEE BY NAME OF ROBERT CANTWELL. LATTER DESCRIBED BY CHAMBERS AS FRIEND AND "FELLOW TRAVELER". BELIEVES HE MET CANTWELL THROUGH FRANKLIN SPIER AND HAS KNOWN CANTWELL SINCE NINETEEN THIRTYTWO. CANTWELL EMPLOYED BY TIME MAGAZINE BEGINNING NINETEEN THIRTYTHREE OR NINETEEN THIRTYFOUR AS BOOK REVIEWER AND HELD THIS POSITION UNTIL APPROXIMATELY NINETEEN THIRTYNINE WHEN POSITION TAKEN OVER BY CHAMBERS. STATES ROBERT CANTWELL HELPED HIM AT TIME OF HIS BREAK FROM COMMUNIST PARTY AND STATES LATTER RETAINED COMMUNIST PARTY AFFILIATIONS UNTIL TIME OF RUSSIAN GERMAN PACT. AT THAT TIME WROTE SOMEWHAT ANTI-MARXIST ARTICLE. SHORTLY THEREAFTER ROBERT CANTWELL HAD NERVOUS BREAKDOWN RESULTING IN CONFINEMENT BLOOMINGDALE-S SANATORIUM, CHAMBERS AGREED TO DO THIS IF ADVISED OF FURTHER DETAILS. HAS NOT HEARD FROM CANTWELL SINCE. BELIEVES CONFUSION IN IDENTITY ORIGINATED IN INDIVIDUAL WILLIAM WALTON. DURING WAR CABLED ARTICLE CONCERNING CZECHOSLOVAKIA TO TIME WHICH CHAMBERS AS FOREIGN NEWS EDITOR REFUSED TO USE. ON RETURN TO UNITED STATES WALTON BECAME ASSOCIATED WITH MAGAZINE THE NEW REPUBLIC. NY AGENTS. CHAMBERS STATES HE HAS NO OBJECTIONS FOR BUREAU AGENTS TO CONTACT NAMED PHYSICIANS TO OBTAIN FULL INFORMATION RE HIS PHYSICAL CONDITION. CHAMBERS HAS INDICATED THAT IT IS POSSIBLE THAT THE HISS FORCES WILL ATTEMPT IN SOME WAY TO SHOW THAT HIS CONFINEMENT TO HIS FARM IN MD. FOR A PERIOD OF NINE MONTHS WAS ACTUALLY THE RESULT OF A NERVOUS COLLAPSE RATHER THAN ANGINA PECTORIS AS DIAGNOSIS BY THE EXAMINING PHYSICIAN. IT IS THEREFORE, REQUESTED THAT IN INQUIRIES MADE OF THESE DOCTORS IT BE SPECIFICALLY DETERMINED WHETHER OR NOT THEIR EXAMINATIONS REFLECTED ANY CONDITION OTHER THAN SOME CARDIAC FAILURE. (UNLESS THE BUREAU DIRECTS TO THE CONTRARY, THE BALTIMORE OFFICE SHOULD APPROPRIATELY INTERVIEW DR. WILKINS IN WESTMINSTER, MD. AND DR. BRIDGEMAN IN BALTIMORE, MD. THE NY OFFICE WILL MAKE SIMILAR INQUIRIES OF DR. MC DERMOTT, AND WILL MAKE INQUIRIES RE CANTWELL AT SANATORIUM IN WHITE PLAINS.) THE NEW HAVEN OFFICE IS REQUESTED TO MAKE DISCREET INQUIRY IN SHERMAN, CONN. TO DETERMINE THE SPECIFIC ADDRESS OF ROBERT CANTWELL. In connection this case, there is a voluminous amount of correspondence between the Bureau and the Field Offices, requiring, in addition to letters and reports, a large number of teletypes. In order to facilitate communications in connection with the above case, and because of the economy it will effect, it is believed that a code word should be established and generally used in connection with the above case since the title is rather long.

ACTION:

It is recommended that the formal use of the word "JAHAM" as a code word in the above case be approved. Attached for approval is an appropriate SAC letter in this case.

By teletype dated February 14, 1949, the New York Office requested the Washington Field Office to forward immediately to New York a summary of the personal history and background or all pertinent serials reflecting the same on ELEANOR NELSON SOYRING. The Baltimore Office was requested to furnish information concerning the current activity and residence of the same individual.

A review of the Baltimore file of ELEANOR NELSON SOYRING discloses that the Washington Field Office has copies of all reports written concerning her with the exception of the report of SA DAVID A. FISH, Boston, dated September 7, 1943, entitled "ELEANOR NELSON SOYRING, was; SECURITY MATTER-C" and the report of SA JESSE F. FARR, Baltimore, dated July 23, 1946, entitled "ELEANOR NELSON SOYRING, was; INTERNAL SECURITY-C." Copies of the two reports referred to above are being forwarded herewith to the New York Office.

Since it is anticipated that the Washington Field Office will furnish the New York Office with copies of all reports maintained by Washington concerning ELEANOR NELSON SOYRING, no reports other than the above are being submitted by this office.

DEFERRED PROSECUTION

Confidential Informants of the Baltimore Office have advised that ELEANOR NELSON SOYRING does not openly engage in Communist Party activities locally. She has, however, through these informants evidenced an interest in and has done some work for the Progressive Party of Maryland. It is likewise known that several local leaders of the Communist Party, including PHILIP FRANKFELD, MAURICE BRAVERMAN, HAROLD BUCHMAN and SAMUEL SCHMERLER, have been in contact with SOYRING during the past several months. Since ELEANOR NELSON SOYRING appeared before the Federal Grand Jury in New York City in December, 1948 she has almost continuously been in a drunken and hysterical condition, as a result of which several efforts have been made by local leaders of the Communist Party to have SOYRING leave Baltimore or enter a sanitarium for psychiatric treatment. She is at the present time temporarily residing at the home of SAMUEL and HELEN SCHMERLER, local Communists, 5603 Jonquil Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland. However, SOYRING still maintains her apartment at 2115 St. Paul Street, Baltimore, Maryland.

Reference is made to Los Angeles teletype to the Bureau, New York, Washington Field, and San Francisco, dated February 9, 1949.

WILLIAM EDWARD CRANE, when interviewed by agents of the Los Angeles office on February 8, 1949, stated that in about 1932, he, CRANE, met MARGARET FRANCES GUTELIUS, who was attending the University of California, at a CP meeting at Mill Valley, California.

In September 1934 when GUTELIUS enrolled in Medical School at Berkeley, California, she and CRANE began living together in an apartment in Berkeley as man and wife.

When CRANE returned to New York to work for CHAMBERS, and until leaving the work, he stated, he lived with GUTELIUS who was then attending Columbia University Medical School. They lived first in Staten Island, then moved to 2228 Amsterdam Avenue, and then for nearly two years prior to the end of 1931 they lived in Apartment 45, at 112 Haven Avenue, New York City, which CRANE rented under the name W. EDWARD CRANE.

CRANE advised GUTELIUS knew he was in some underground work and on one occasion she and CRANE went to a night club in New York with Col. BYKOV and his wife.

CRANE also recalled that he was ordered by CHAMBERS to give photography lessons to the wife of an Italian, neither of whom he is further able to identify, except that the Italian was known to him as "PETE." CRANE stated the Italian had fought in the Spanish Revolution, and he described him as being 42 to 45 years of age now, six feet tall, 190 pounds, well built, brown eyes, brown wavy hair, good looking, mechanic or "ham" radio operator. The Italian was supposed to have been an Italian Navy officer in World War I. The Italian's wife was of Spanish or Mexican descent. DEFERRED RECORDING Present residents at 112 Haven Avenue, New York City, advise that Mr. and Mrs. M. SWANKE, 92 Rutgers Place, Riveredge, New Jersey, were residents of the Haven Avenue address at the time CRANE states he lived there.

Re Washington Field Office teletype, February 10, 1949 at 6:49 p.m.

Enclosed herewith is the original letter signed "ALGER HISS," dated September 9, 1936, that was secured by the Washington Field Office from the Landon School. It is desired that the handwriting and the signature appearing on this letter be compared with the known handwriting and signature of ALGER HISS on file at the Bureau since with this letter was enclosed a typewritten document that has previously been identified as having been typed on the same typewriter that typed Q6 through Q69. It will be necessary to establish that this letter was in fact written by ALGER HISS.

This letter has already been introduced as a Grand Jury exhibit and it was secured from Assistant to the Attorney General THOMAS DONEGAN and it will be necessary to return this document to him as soon as possible.

At the conclusion of the above examination it is desired that this letter be returned to this office.

Q161 One black leather-bound Guest Registration book of the Knight Homestead, Peterborough, New Hampshire, containing entries beginning January 4, 1937, last entry dated August 31, 1938.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

The handwritings of ALGER, PRISCILLA HISS and CHAMBERS were compared with all the entries appearing in the Knight Homestead register, Q161, but nothing of significance was noted except the entries of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. FAST, ROBERT FAST and BETTY ANN FAST, under date of August 29, 1937, which bear certain style characteristics to those of ALGER HISS' writing.

The book, Q161, is being retained in the files of the Laboratory pending CHAMBERS' visit to New England.

There is being forwarded herewith one black leather-bound guest registration book, 6½ by 8½ inches, which was obtained from Mrs. ETHEL MacDUFF and Miss CLARA A. SPRATT, present owners of the Knight Homestead, Peterboro, New Hampshire, on February 16, 1949.

It is requested that handwriting in this guest registration book be compared with the known handwriting of PRISCILLA and ALGER HISS and JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in an effort to ascertain whether or not any of these individuals made registration in this book. DEFERRED RECORDING

For the Laboratory's further information it is being stated that from information supplied by CHAMBERS and from investigation of ALGER HISS there is reason to believe that all three of these individuals were registered under names other than their own for one night during the interim August 10 to 15, 1937 at the Knight Homestead, which is located at Peterboro, New Hampshire.

It is being requested that the results of examination be forwarded to the New York Division and this office and that the guest registration book be returned to this office.

At the request of Supervisor Jones, Espionage Section, Agent DeLoach contacted Mr. Wilson, ONI, on January 19, 1949 relative to a statement made by ONI in a recent document forwarded this Bureau captioned, "Navy Department Documents - Possible Compromise Of" which appeared on Page 2 of the said document. The statement in question related to an ONI contention that a leakage of information in the captioned matter was definitely from the Bureau of Standards and not the Department of the Navy. This statement was attributed to a highly reliable source.

Mr. Wilson has confidentially advised Agent DeLoach that ONI's source in this matter was one Bill Wheeler, an Investigator for the House Un-American Activities Committee. Mr. Wheeler reportedly recently advised ONI Investigators that he knew positively that the questionable leakage of information occurred at the Bureau of Standards and not at the Navy Department. Wilson also pointed out that the Bureau of Standards was included on the distribution list for the documents in question, and that, therefore, Wheeler's statement was a distinct possibility.

Supervisor Jones was advised of the above information.

Inasmuch as this information was given in confidence by Mr. Wilson to Agent DeLoach, any future interview of William Wheeler should not reflect this information was obtained at the ONI.

ACTION:

It is suggested this memorandum be forwarded to the Espionage Section for the attention of Supervisor Jones.

During the course of another call with reference to titled matter, I advised ASAC Belmont, New York, that the Navy Department had stated that they had received information that the documents which are on the film in the possession of the HUAC were not actually obtained from the State Department but were obtained through the Bureau of Standards. I asked Mr. Belmont in talking to Chambers to find out whether this could be true.

Mr. Belmont has advised that they questioned Chambers concerning this. He stated he had no contact at any time in the Navy Department who furnished him any documents, and he was confident that the documents of the Navy Department were secured by him through his contact at the Bureau of Standards.

Reference is made to New York teletype to the Bureau dated February 9, 1949, requesting that the FBI Laboratory advise the names of the Agents who are competent to testify as to the handling of the original Chamber documents subsequent to November 29, 1948, when Special Employee George C. Bright of the Baltimore Office delivered these documents to the Bureau. The chronology of the handling of these documents from that date forward is as follows:

November 29, 1948:

At 3:40 pm the documents were received from Special Employee George C. Bright of the Baltimore Office by Inspector Howard B. Fletcher in the latter's office at the Bureau. Inspector Fletcher turned these documents over to Supervisor Floyd L. Jones in Room 1647, Department of Justice Building at 3:45 pm. The documents remained in his custody in a locked file cabinet until November 30, 1948.

(74-1333-319)

G. I. R. -4

November 30, 1948:

At 1:20 pm the documents were delivered by Floyd L. Jones to Inspector Howard B. Fletcher, who personally delivered them to Mr. Vincent P. Russo of the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice.

December 10, 1948:

At 6:34 pm Mr. Vincent P. Russo of the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice delivered the documents to Assistant Director D. M. Ladd of the Bureau, who delivered the documents to Bureau Supervisor Floyd L. Jones at 6:55 pm. The documents were immediately turned over to Special Agent R. J. Berte, who was on duty in the FBI Laboratory. The documents were turned over by him to R. C. Feehan, Document Examiner, in the FBI Laboratory.

December 15, 1948:

Document Examiner R. C. Feehan returned the documents to Bureau Supervisor Floyd L. Jones on the morning of this date and these have been in the latter's custody in a locked file cabinet in Room 1647 of the Department of Justice Building constantly with the exception of a few occasions when they were borrowed for a short period by Document Examiner R. C. Feehan for Laboratory comparison purposes.

It is suggested that the New York Office contact Mr. T. J. Donegan, Special Assistant to the Attorney General, in order to determine the chronology of the handling of the documents while they were in the custody of the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice between 1:20 pm, November 30, 1948, and 6:34 pm on December 10, 1948.

Special Agent JOSEPH E. SPIVEY, of this office, and his wife spent the weekend of February 19 and 20, 1949 with a Mrs. FAYE THOMASON, 2755 Macomb Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., who is employed as a receptionist with the law firm of Covington, Burling, Rublee, Acheson & Short, 701 Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C.

During the course of this visit Mrs. THOMASON mentioned the "Hiss spy trial" on two occasions, indicating the curiosity of the public in the trial and also indicating that it is something that is discussed very cautiously in Washington. She also mentioned that DONALD HISS is a member of the law firm of Covington, Burling, Rublee, Acheson & Short.

~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

Agent SPIVEY has been well acquainted with Mrs. THOMASON for a number of years, but due to the fact that she is an employee of Secretary of State DEAN ACHESON, as well as DONALD HISS, he did not question her as to her knowledge of the case or to the degree of her acquaintance with DONALD HISS. Mrs. THOMASON is expected to visit in the SPIVEY home within the next three weeks but she will not be questioned regarding DONALD HISS unless the Bureau desires that this be done.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

RAYMOND D. JAMESON and wife, DOROTHY JAMESON, now reside Route 4, Box 104, Corvallis, Oregon. RAYMOND JAMESON denies ever having known ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS, but toward end of interview admitted recognizing photograph of ALGER HISS as person he has seen and feels he should know but cannot recall circumstances of meetings. Denies having known WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or his wife and did not recognize photographs these people. DOROTHY JAMESON admits knowing PRISCILLA HISS when both resided same neighborhood 1942 and part of 1943, when jointly engaged in civilian defense work, but states never was in HISS home and had no social contacts with them. Circumstances of the JAMESONs associations in Washington D. C. set forth from Fall of 1938 to date, including RAYMOND JAMESON's assertion that he mingled for a brief time with some groups he now believes were Communist front groups. He claims that he has always been and still is very much anti-Communist. Both RAYMOND and DOROTHY JAMESON. initially during interview stated they believed ALGER HISS not guilty of charges brought against him, claiming basis for this belief their utmost confidence in the integrity and ability of men connected with Carnegie Foundation to pick men of integrity and absolute reliability.

DETAILS: AT CORVALLIS, OREGON

RAYMOND D. JAMESON, Route 4, Box 104, advised that he resides here with his mother, Mrs. KATE JAMESON. Mr. JAMESON stated that he came to his home in Corvallis, Oregon in June, 1948, after severing his employment with the American Red Cross in Washington, D. C. during that period. He said he had decided to take a year off and reside in Corvallis, Oregon to do research and writing on Japanese folklore, which is the specialized field in which he has been trained. Mr. JAMESON appeared at all times to be extremely friendly, and when the subject of ALGER HISS was presented to him in the early part of the interview stated immediately that he had never been personally acquainted with ALGER HISS, but seemed somewhat indignant concerning the bad publicity directed against HISS in recent months, stating further that he personally did not believe any of these charges, and had so stated infrequently to some of his friends in recent weeks. He explained that he based his belief in this matter purely on the fact that he was well acquainted with some of the men in the Carnegie Foundation and its affiliated groups, and had utmost confidence and faith in their integrity and ability to select a man such as ALGER HISS for the high position he had been awarded by that foundation. He said he had based his complete trust in these men, on such matters, to the extent that he was convinced that the Carnegie Foundation and its officials could not be guilty of such an outstanding mistake as would be indicated in the charges publicized in various news releases against ALGER HISS.

Repeatedly during the interview, Mr. JAMESON was presented with the proposition as to whether he could possibly have known ALGER HISS under any other name or names, or could have known him in some capacity, or whether there were any other circumstances causing him to believe in the innocence of HISS, beyond his trust in the officials of the Carnegie Foundation. At all times Mr. JAMESON maintained he had not known ALGER HISS, but would base his belief as aforementioned. When asked as to the identity of the individuals in the Carnegie Foundation that he had in mind, and in whom he had placed such confidence as to their integrity and ability, he named only one person. He said that WALDO LELAND, head of the American Council of Learned Societies, Washington, D. C., which is an affiliate of the Carnegie Foundation, is the person who selects and passes on the qualifications and abilities of all the learned scholars, in or out of the United States, who are placed in responsible positions either with the Carnegie Foundation or in other positions. Mr. JAMESON indicated, although he was not specific in this regard, that WALDO LELAND was quite influential and highly regarded as to his ability to pick the proper caliber men for high positions, some of which, he indicated, were government positions. He did state that WALDO LELAND was a close personal friend, and held in high esteem by Justice FELIX FRANKFURTER, United States Supreme Court. He stated that WALDO LELAND is now retired but is believed to be a consultant with the National Parks Commission.

RAYMOND JAMESON, in the early part of the interview, when questioned as to his acquaintanceship with ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS, as noted, denied such acquaintanceship, and stated that, since the publicity regarding ALGER HISS had arisen, he and his wife, DOROTHY JAMESON, discussed this matter and she had recalled that she was acquainted with PRISCILLA HISS.

Mrs. DOROTHY JAMESON, wife of RAYMOND D. JAMESON, at this point was called into the room by her husband. Mrs. DOROTHY JAMESON stated that she and her husband purchased their home at 3334 Volta Place, N. W., Washington, D. C., which is in the Georgetown section, in about January, 1941, having previously lived in other sections of Washington, D. C. since late in 1938. She recalled that sometime, possibly in 1942 or somewhat earlier, PRISCILLA HISS and her husband moved into this neighborhood, approximately at the address of 3415 Volta Place, N. W., which would be across the street and one block from their home. She said she cannot ever recall having seen ALGER HISS, but became acquainted with PRISCILLA HISS in about January, 1942, or thereabout, when the Civilian Defense groups were organized, at which time PRISCILLA HISS became chairman of housing for their section of Civilian Defense, and Mrs. JAMESON became chairman of the food committee. In this capacity they met with other women on a few occasions in a church where all their meetings were conducted. She said that she had never been in the ALGER HISS home, and could not recall ever having been invited to that home, nor had she ever visited socially in the crowd with PRISCILLA HISS and her husband. She believes that the only meetings she attended of the Civilian Defense group where PRISCILLA HISS was present would have been the meetings preceding practice blackouts, which, she estimated, would be five or six in number. She also stated that she had, after initially meeting PRISCILLA HISS, seen her on the streets of Washington, D. C. several times, and chatted briefly with her. It was Mrs. JAMESON's belief that the Civilian Defense activities largely ceased sometime about May, 1943 when she left Washington, D. C. briefly for a visit on the West Coast, and she cannot recall having seen PRISCILLA HISS since that time.

RAYMOND D. JAMESON and his wife, DOROTHY JAMESON, jointly stated that they returned from a considerable stay in the Orient, and especially China, during the early summer of 1938, and during that summer RAYMOND JAMESON taught at the University of Wisconsin as a visiting professor. In the Autumn of 1938 both came to Washington, D. C. On this occasion Mr. JAMESON visited Dr.

HERBERT PUTNAM, Librarian, Library of Congress, at which time Dr. PUTNAM offered JAMESON a position as a consultant, which JAMESON readily accepted, feeling that this was a great opportunity for a writer. Mr. JAMESON said that he was in his position with the library of Congress from that time until 1939, when ARCHIBALD MacLIESH was appointed as Librarian, and Dr. PUTNAM retired. JAMESON said that until that time he had never met MacLIESH. He stated that he became closely acquainted with MacLIESH and saw a great deal of him until 1942 when MacLIESH spent a great deal of his time with the Office of War Information. In November, 1942, JAMESON said, he left the Library of Congress and joined the American Red Cross. He continued employment with the American Red Cross, and, in May, 1943, was sent on an overseas assignment to Australia where he remained, including other places in the Orient, until February, 1946, when he returned to Washington, D. C. with the American Red Cross and continued in their employment until June, 1948, when he resigned and came to Corvallis, Oregon. At this point, Mrs. JAMESON stated that, on the departure of her husband on the overseas assignment, in May, 1943, she left their home at 3334 Volta Place, N. W. and came to the West Coast, returning to Washington, D. C. in the Fall of 1943, at which time she sold their home and lived at the residence of a friend by the name of MINA GILL, whose home was near their former residence, residing there from November, 1943 until February, 1944, at which time she obtained an apartment at 2500 Q Street, N. W., Washington, D. C. She lived there until December, 1944, during which time she was working for UNRRA. In December, 1944 she received an assignment with UNRRA and went to Australia where she joined her husband, and eventually returned to the United States with him in February, 1946.

Mrs. JAMESON stated that the only persons in the neighborhood, that she could recall, who might have also been acquainted with PRISCILLA HISS during this period were possibly:

Mrs. MORTIMER GRAVES,
3331 or 3333 Dent Place, N. W.,
whose husband was Executive Secretary, American Council of Learned Societies;

Mrs. JOHN FAIRBANKS,
34th Street, N. W.,
whose husband was then with the Office of War Information and is now said to be a professor of Oriental history, Harvard University, Boston, Massachusetts;

Mrs. MEYER or MEYERS,
whose husband was affiliated with the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Mrs. JAMESON said that she believed that PRISCILLA HISS and her husband moved away from their residence in the Georgetown section, possibly in the Fall of 1942. She states that this is somewhat guess work on her part. She further stated that she has never received a letter or communication of any type from PRISCILLA HISS, either directly or indirectly, and has none of the Civilian Defense data which PRISCILLA HISS may have given her during their association. Both Mr. and Mrs. JAMESON said they had never been in correspondence with either Mr. or Mrs. ALGER HISS during any period.

RAYMOND D. JAMESON recalled that he and his wife attended a few social functions, beginning 1939 through May, 1943, at the home of ARCHIBALD MacLIESH, some of which were in the form of cocktail parties attended by very large groups of people. He stated that ARCHIBALD MacLIESH, during that period, resided at 1520 - 33 Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., which was only a short block from the JAMESON home at 3334 Volta Place, N. W. Mr. JAMESON, who was again interviewed singly, without the presence of Mrs. JAMESON, from this point on in the interview, said that it would be possible for him to have met, without recalling them, some individuals such as ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS at the MacLIESH home on one of these occasions. He further stated that he thought it was quite probable that MacLIESH would have been quite well acquainted with ALGER HISS, basing this belief on the fact that MacLIESH was also a high official in the United States State Department subsequent to 1942, and would no doubt have had considerable contact with ALGER HISS.

Mr. RAYMOND JAMESON, alone, was interviewed and asked if he had ever known any member or members of the Communist Party, at which time he stated frankly he had known one Jewish individual, who was a former schoolmate acquaintance, who admitted to him at one time that he was a member of the Communist Party, and highly recommended such membership in somewhat fanatical language to Mr. JAMESON. JAMESON stated that he never had been affiliated with the Communist Party in any way, and did not believe in Communism, and, in fact, was anti-Communist. He stated that this Jewish individual whom he had mentioned was not now, and has never been employed by the United States government, to his knowledge, and he did not mention his name. Mr. JAMESON said that he has, as a writer, studied Marxian philosophy, and had, as a student of Political Science, read considerable Communist literature. He stated that he had read the book entitled "Das Kapital", written by ENGELS and KARL MARX, and believed that he had a fairly good understanding of Communist dialectics. He said that he has known no specific instance of anyone whom he believed to be a Communist Party member also being an employee of the United States government, at any time, to his knowledge. He said that he had heard one or two employees discuss Communistic philosophy when he was similarly employed with the Library of Congress, but thought their discussion was purely from an academic standpoint. He said none of these government employees were in any policy making positions, and he had never known or suspected anyone in a policy making position with the United States Government to have Communistic affiliations. He stated that someone may have mistakenly gained the impression that he was Communistically inclined inasmuch as when he returned from the Orient in the Fall of 1938, after some period of absence from the United States, he and his wife sought to become acquainted with a large number of persons in various organizations in Washington, D. C., and sought out such gatherings. During this period of 1938 and 1939, he recalls that he was invited to speak, and did speak on matters concerning the Orient, especially in the field of folklore, before at least the following three groups:

Washington Book Shop;

American League for Peace and Democracy; and Friends of New China.

JAMESON said that he met many Chinese Communists when he was in China and knew something about Communists, he thought, and when speaking before the aforementioned three groups he heard various persons make speeches which were definitely of the Communist Party-line type, which he immediately recognized. JAMESON said that neither he nor his wife ever affiliated with any of these organizations as they immediately recognized them as Communist fronts, but said he thought there was nothing particularly wrong in appearing before them and speaking on a subject non-Communistic in nature, as it seemed to be somewhat popular during that period to enjoy seeking friendship with all Liberals, including Communists.

At this point in the interview photographs of Mr. and Mrs. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS were exhibited to RAYMOND D. JAMESON, who, without hesitation, stated that he did not recognize the photographs as anyone he had ever known, nor had he ever met these people.

He was then shown a full length photograph as well as the head and shoulders photograph, fron and side views, of ALGER HISS, which were taken December 16, 1948. Mr. JAMESON studied the photographs of ALGER HISS carefully and said that he recognized HISS as someone whom he must surely know and had met in Washington, D. C. at sometime. He repeated, however, that he could not recall where he met ALGER HISS, but was certain that he had, in his own mind, but had never connected the name ALGER HISS with this particular individual. He said it must have been some meeting of a large group or a casual meeting, otherwise he would recall the event. He said that he felt that he knew the person identified in the photograph as ALGER HISS well enough to feel obligated to speak to this person should he meet him on the street. Mr. JAMESON, for a considerable period of time, continued in his attempt to recall where he possibly may have met ALGER HISS, and ultimately stated that he may have met him through WALDO LELAND, head of the American Council of Learned Societies. He said that from 1939 until November, 1942 he, JAMESON, served during part of that period as Administrator of the Consultant Service, Library of Congress, and as such was deputized by ARCHIBALD MacLEISH to attend some meetings of the American Council of Learned Societies, held at the Cosmos Club, generally in the form of luncheons or dinners. He believes he may have met ALGER HISS, who was possibly also representing some agency, at such meetings. He remarked at this point that ARCHIBALD MacLEISH had stated, jokingly, on one occasion, that nothing really important ever happened in Washington, D. C. without having first been conceived in some meeting at the Cosmos Club or elsewhere by the American Council of Learned Societies. JAMESON stated further that these particular meetings would concern high policy matters in the making, and generally were not attended by a large group, but would be a closely knit group of scholars, as he deemed it. He said this group discussed matters such as the Donovan Committee preparatory to its becoming the Office of Strategic Service.

JAMESON also said that he may have met ALGER HISS at another similar type of meetings that he attended as a representative of the Library of Congress, which is known as the Committee for Displaced Persons. JAMESON explained that he was not a member of the committe but merely attended as a liaison representative of the Library of Congress at the personal direction of ARCHIBALD MacLEISH. He said the principal duty of this committee was to sift the expert scholars among the displaced persons so that they could be placed in a position where their knowledge could be best utilized in the war effort. He said the Library of Congress secured several of these scholars through information gained from the committee, and placed them in the Library of Congress to evaluate foreign books and correspondence. JAMESON said that the Committee for Displaced Persons was headed by a man whose name he is unable to recall, but who is the father of the young man who committed suicide in New York City, in the past several months, by leaping from the office window to the street below, prior to being questioned by the House Unamerican Activities Committee. (This possibly refers to LAURANCE DUGGAN, ex State Department employee, who died in a suicide fall in New York City sometime during December, 1948, and who was under questioning by the House Unamerican Activities Committee.) JAMESON states it is possible that he met ALGER HISS through the father of this young man.

ADMINISTRATIVE PAGE

Throughout the entire interview of RAYMOND D. JAMESON, which was attended for a brief period by his wife, Mrs. DOROTHY JAMESON, and which was somewhat lengthy, RAYMOND JAMESON expressed great admiration for the FBI, stating that he felt that the United States Government's investigation of Communists and Communist activities would be in safe hands if left in the hands of the FBI. He expressed strong animosity toward the House Unamerican Activities Committee. JAMESON was very affable and pleasant during the interview, and answered most questions readily and without apparent mental reservations. Mr. JAMESON expressed suprise, which may have been genuine, that the FBI should seek him out in Corvallis, Oregon for this interview, and merely remarked that it was difficult to understand why anyone would consider him an associate of ALGER HISS. He was advised that it was possible that some representative of the Bureau might again call upon him in the future concerning this matter, and he stated he would be glad to cooperate with the United States Government in any way possible to obtain the facts in this, or any other similar case. Mr. JAMESON remarked that he thought it would be unjust if ALGER HISS was cleared of the pending charges against him by the United States Government, and afterwards would not be able to occupy a position of trust in the United States Government.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

RAYMOND D. JAMESON and wife, DOROTHY JAMESON, now reside Route 4, Box 104, Corvallis, Oregon. RAYMOND JAMESON denies ever having known ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS, but toward end of interview admitted recognizing photograph of ALGER HISS as person he has seen and feels he should know but cannot recall circumstances of meetings. Denies having known WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or his wife and did not recognize photographs these people. DOROTHY JAMESON admits knowing PRISCILLA HISS when both resided same neighborhood 1942 and part of 1943, when jointly engaged in civilian defense work, but states never was in HISS home and had no social contacts with them. Circumstances of the JAMESONs associations in Washington D. C. set forth from Fall of 1938 to date, including RAYMOND JAMESON's assertion that he mingled for a brief time with some groups he now believes were Communist front groups. He claims that he has always been and still is very much anti-Communist. Both RAYMOND and DOROTHY JAMESON initially during interview stated they believed ALGER HISS not guilty of charges brought against him, claiming basis for this belief their utmost confidence in the integrity and ability of men connected with Carnegie Foundation to pick men of integrity and absolute reliability.

Dear Sir:

Re Washington Field teletype February 17, 1949, requesting photostatic copies of all material in personnel file of ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN, formerly employed at Railroad Retirement Board, and information regarding appointment, employment, references, addresses, identity of fellow employees and identity of supervisors.

On February 21, 1949, EUGENE MARTIN, assistant Personnel Officer, Railroad Retirement Board, Chicago, made available photostatic copies of all documents in the personnel file of ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN, who was employed by the Board as Chief Economist from March 16, 1936 to August 16, 1939, and as Director of Research from the latter date until March 26, 1942, when he was transferred to the Army Air Forces, War Department. Approval for the release of these photostats was obtained by Special Agent WESLEY A. ANDERSON from HARRY SASSAMAN, Acting Secretary to the Railroad Retirement Board, who cleared the matter with two of the three members of the Board. Photostats of SILVERMAN's entire file, consisting of eighty-one pages, are enclosed herewith, with a copy of this letter for Washington Field. It should be noted that pages fifty-seven and fifty-eight appear on the same photostat as do pages seventy-four and seventy-five and that two copies of each of these are enclosed inasmuch as some information appeared under a flap on the original page which was turned back to prepare the second photostat.

In addition Mr. MARTIN advised that it appeared that SILVERMAN worked directly under the supervision of the three members of the RRB who at the time of his employment were MURRAY W. LATIMER, Chairman, L. M. EDDY and MERLE R. REED.

MERLE R. REED, Assistant Chief of Motive Power, Pennsylvania Railroad, Room 1607, Broad Street Station Building, 1617 Pennsylvania Boulevard, Philadelphia 4, Pennsylvania.

Mr. SASSAMAN checked the files in the Executive Office of the Board Members of the RRB and was unable to locate any information concerning how Mr. SILVERMAN originally made his application with the Board or whether his employment was promoted by any particular person. He was able to locate the Minutes of the Board Meeting of February 4, 1936 at which SILVERMAN's appointment was approved.

Mr. MARTIN advised that the following persons were employed with SILVERMAN at the RRB.

HERMAN H. BARTIMER, Actuary, 1465 Gerard Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., appointed April 4, 1936, transferred to War Department May 3, 1942.

MAX A. BERSHAD, Actuary, 933 Randolph Street, N. W., Washington, D.C., appointed September 25, 1937, transferred to War Production Board, June 7, 1942.

JOSEPH MUSHER, Belmont Plaza Hotel, Chicago, Illinois. MUSHER was appointed in classification CAF-4 March 23, 1936 and presently is employed by the RRB with a rating of P-7.

MARGARET GREENFIELD, Chief of Reports and Information Service, 1010 25th Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., appointed April 11, 1936, transferred to OPA May 24, 1942.

It should be noted that information concerning JOSEPH M. GILLMAN and MARGARET GREENFIELD was previously reported in this case in connection with the employment of CHAMBERS by the WPA at which time he was assigned to the RRB; GILLMAN and GREENFIELD functioned in supervisory capacities as RRB employees assigned to the WPA project.

With respect to other persons listed above, who have left the RRB, it is believed that most of them transferred to other departments at the time the RRB moved its headquarters to Chicago.

V. PAUL CARNEY, Chief Personnel Officer, RRB, from 1937 until 1948, and an employee in the Legal Department of the RRB since the latter year, advised that although SILVERMAN became an employee of the Board in 1936 he believed that SILVERMAN was hired at the instigation of MURRAY W. LATIMER, Chairman. Mr. CARNEY stated this was an opinion and not based on any facts. CARNEY also stated that he believed SILVERMAN, to the best of his recollection, was particularly anxious to obtain the services of CLEMENT WINSTON as an employee of the Board at the time the latter was hired but CARNEY could not recall the exact circumstances. He could not recall which other persons were brought into the RRB at the instigation of SILVERMAN. However, he suggested the following persons as being most likely to be able to furnish pertinent information concerning SILVERMAN:

ESTHER F. SNYDER
CLEMENT WINSTON
EDWIN M. FITCH
JOSEPH M. GILLMAN

2119

JOSEPH B. GLENN.

Mr. CARNEY also suggested that ALDO RAFFA, who was Assistant to the Board Chairman, until about 1942, might be able to furnish pertinent information. RAFFA's personnel file reflected he resided 802 Garfield, Bethesda, Maryland and was employed by the RRB from August 15, 1938, until February 15, 1942, at which time he transferred to the Office for Emergency Management.

It should be noted that GLENN was discharged with prejudice. On February 18, 1948 he addressed a letter to the RRB requesting that his case be reconsidered to the extent that the record be changed concerning the reason for his discharge because he believed additional facts were now available to the Board. The Board, in a letter to him, declined to reconsider his case.

Mr. CARNEY commented that GLENN was discharged by SILVERMAN.

Mr. CARNEY requested that any information furnished by him be retained in extreme confidence and that his identity not be disclosed to any one outside the Bureau.

With respect to EDWIN M. FITCH, HARRY SASSAMAN, Acting Secretary, RRB, advised that during 1937 or 1938, while he was in Washington and an employee of the Board, he was invited by FITCH, who worked in a different department, to the latter's home for the purpose of listening to short wave radio broadcasts from foreign countries. SASSAMAN along with a group of persons went to FITCH's home one evening at which time FITCH unsuccessfully attempted to tune in a broadcast from Spain. SASSAMAN pointed out that this was during the period of the Spanish Civil War. During the evening FITCH brought up this war and attempted to have persons present organize parties and other events for the purpose of raising funds for the Loyalists. SASSAMAN felt that FITCH had tricked him and other persons present and informed FITCH that he was not interested.

Copies of this letter are being furnished to Miami and Philadelphia for their use in the event that interviews with MERLE R. REED and L. M. EDDY are desired.

Unless advised to the contrary the Chicago Office contemplates no further interviews with persons listed in this letter.

STATE DEPARTMENT DOCUMENT

Memorandum of the Division of Far Eastern Affairs dated February 7, 1938 beginning "FE suggests that Consul BOYCE'S report.... is exceedingly timely" and initialed MMH.

Mr. DONALD L. NICHOLSON, Chief, Division of Security, State Department, advised that the State Department documents from which the copies, paraphrasings and summaries furnished by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS to the Baltimore Office were authentic State Department documents. These original State Department documents are presently in the possession of the State Department.

He further advised that there was no specific classification for these documents at the time they were received other than the nature of the material which would classify them as strictly confidential. Mr. NICHOLSON further indicated that JOHN E. PEURIFOY, Assistant Secretary of State for Administration or WALTER K. SCOTT are in charge of the originals of these documents and are in a position to testify as to their authenticity. In addition to the specific documents routed to the chief of the department in which ALGER HISS was employed during the pertinent period, it was Mr. NICHOLSON'S opinion that in his capacity as an Assistant to the Assistant Secretary of State, Mr. HISS would have had access to all or any of the aforementioned documents upon his specific request.

What is present place?

Mr. NICHOLSON caused a search to be made of State Department files in order to determine the inter-departmental distribution or routing of these documents and furnished the information as to such distribution and routing as hereinafter set out. He further advised that routings were made on incoming material only and inasmuch as some of the information appearing in the documents furnished by the Baltimore Office was from outgoing communications, no routings or distributions on the latter were available. He further explained that on each incoming document an action copy or copies of such document were prepared and that these copies were routed to the designated individual who would comply with the action requested. Upon the completion of the designated action to be taken in these matters, the action copies were returned to the Document Section. In addition to the action copies, information copies were prepared in numerous instances for the information of various divisional and departmental chiefs. These information copies were not returned to the Document Section but were filed by the division or department to which they were forwarded or destroyed.

g. 121

From the present State Department records maintained at this time for distributions of documents made during the pertinent period, it is impossible to determine if information copies of the documents in question were prepared.

Mr. NICHOLSON further explained that within a specified department or division, the department head or division chief could route a specific document within the division or department and no records of this routing or distribution would be presently available.

SUBJECT: JOHN MARTIN KELLY, JR.
POSSIBLE DEPARTMENT ATTORNEY FOR ALGER HISS TRIAL

Reference is made to the attached memorandum from Mr. Fletcher which stated that information has been received from Mr. Donagan that the Department Attorney (Kelly) who is handling the Axis Sally trial would probably handle the Alger Hiss trial. You noted "What do we know about Kelly?"

Attached hereto is a memorandum prepared on April 20, 1949 summarizing the available information concerning John Martin Kelley, Jr. the Attorney handling the Axis Sally case, which was prepared when it was indicated that Kelley would look over the Communist Party brief. In view of the fact that his memorandum reflected that Kelley's father had been convicted of federal tax evasion in 1938 and Kelley, Jr. was regarded by Judge Evan A. Evans, Circuit Court of Appeals, as unstable you noted "I think Ladd should orally let Quinn know Kelly's Background." I did this on May 1, 1948.

A review of our files has failed to reveal any information concerning Kelley additional to that set forth in the attached memorandum other than that he has handled the prosecution of the Axis Sally case.

COMMUNIST PARTY BRIEF

Comp # 225,723

On April 16, 1948, Assistant Attorney General T. Vincent Quinn, of the Department, Advised me that Mr. Tom Donegan was of the opinion that John Kelley, of the Department, who tried the Marzani case, should look over the Communist Party rief. In view of this information, there is being set forth a summary concerning Mr. Kelley.

The Bureau conducted a Departmental Applicant Investigation on John Martin Kelley, Jr. in January, 1943, at which time he was being considered for a position with the Department as Special Assistant to the Attorney General, Anti-Trust Division. The investigation was substantially favorable with the exception of one reference, Federal Judge Evan A. Evans, who believed Kelley was unstable. The investigation did not reveal and Communist connections or activities. His father was found quilty of Federal tax evasion in New York in 1938.

Through a technical surveillance on Samuel Klaus, of the State Departmnet, in February, 1947, it appeared that Kelley and Klaus were on very friendly terms and at this time publicity in the Marzani case was discussed. At one point in the conversation it appeared ath Mr. Kelley war critical of Publicity received by the Bureau.

BACKGROUND

John Martin Kelley, Jr. was born at Baraboo, Wisconsin on Feb. 12, 1905. He Attended high shhool in Baraboo 1920; Mt. St. Joseph's College in Baltimore in 1921; and the Clason Military Academy, New York City, from 1922 until 1924. He thereafter attended Colunbia University, New York City from Sept. 1924, until 1926, in which year he entered the University of Wisconsin. In 1927 he entered the law school at Stetson University, Deland, Florida, graduating ther efrom with an Ll.B. Degree in May, 1930, which gave him automatic membership in the Florida bar. He was admitted to practice before the Wisconsin bar in May, 1931, and thereafter entered the private practice of law at Ft. Atkinson, Wisconsin. 1934 he entered into a partnership with Mr. Harold Smith, local attorney Atkinson, w ich partnership was continuing at the time of the ental Applicant Investigation.

Mr. Kelley was appointed Special District Attorney at Jefferson consin in November, 1936, for the purpose of handling cases for the county. This Appointment expired in May, of 1938. Judge L. L. Darling, Jefferson County, Wisconsin, commended Mr. Kelley very vavorable, stating he handled this appointment well, displaying unusual ability as a trial lawyer and a legal research man. He also served as Special District Attorney for Jefferson County from April, 1940 to April, 1941, and was recommended favorable for his ability as a lawyer by Judge Jesse Earle of Circuit Court.

References and other sources contacted during the investigation reconnemded the applicant favorable relative to loyalty and no information was developed showing any Communistic connections or activites. However, Judge Evan A. Evans, of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, Chicago, advised he had been acquainted with Mr. Kelley during most of his life. Judge Evans stated that Mr. Kelley's parents weree emotional and unstable and it was his opinion that Mr. Kelley had the same we akness of character and also an inability to refuse requests or offers which made to him.

During the interview, Judge Evans further stated that about 1941 he attended the Northwestern-Wisconsin Football game, where he met Mr. Kelley in a very intoxicated condition. At that time it was Judge Evan's opinion that Mr. Kelley was not sufficiently developed legally and did not have the nedessary character to hold the position of Special Assistant to the Attorney General.

MISCELLANEOUS

On July 14, 1936, John M. Kelley, Senior, and others were indicated by a Federal Grand Jury in New York City, charged with unlawfully preparing and presenting a false and fraudulent Federal income tax return for John Ringling in the years 1927 through 1932. On April 26, 1938, Mr. Kelley, Sr., was found guilty by a jury and he was thereafter sentenced to serve two years and pay a fine.

On April 3, 1946, Mr. Tom Clark, Attorney Geraral, publicly announced that Kelley, who was formerly head of the Trial Unit, Criminal Division, would aid in the Grand Jury investigation of the Civil Rights ciolations in Columbia, Tennessee, which took place in February of 1946.

On January 18, 1947, Mr. Samuel Klaus of the State Departmant, endeavored to telephonically contact Mr. Kelley, of the Department, without sucess. On January 19, 1947, and unidentified individual telephonically contacted Mr. Samuel Klaus of the State Department and at the time held a futher lengthy telephone. conversation. It subsequently appeared from information developed during the conversation that this individual was apparently John M. Kelley, Jr. of the Department.

During this conversation Mr. Klaus and Mr. Kelley discussed recent news release made in the Marzani case. Mr. Kelley was displeased that the release had been made. During this discussion the individual believed to be Mr. Kelley remarked that he had read a release in one paper which must have been an interview with "J. Edgar" and stated "they took a beautiful papagraph of credit there."

Continuing, this individual believed to be Mr. Kelley stated,

The Bureau has been advised by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue that the income tax returns for the years 1936 and 1937 for Felix August Inslerman and his wife, Elizabeth A. Inslerman, are not available since tax returns and related documents for those years have been destroyed under authority conferred by an Act of Congress. The records of the Bureau of Internal Revenue for the District of Maryland do not disclose returns for Inslerman and his wife for the year 1938. It was pointed out that possibly they may have filed the returns in another internal revenue district and if such information is available, a further effort will be made to obtain copies of such returns.

Reference is made to Bureau letter dated January 19, 1949, which enclosed for the Washington Field Office and the New York Office a copy of an investigative report of ONI, entitled, "Navy Department Documents - Possible Compromise Of," dated December 17, 1948. It is noted that on page two of this report, paragraph five, the statement was made "a confidential informant, of unquestionable reliability, informed investigating agents that the leakage of this technical data was from the Bureau of Standards and not the Navy Department. Attention is called to the fact that the Bureau of Standards was on the distribution list for Du Aer documents (Enclosure 'I')."

The Office of Naval Intelligence has subsequently been contacted with respect to this statement and has advised that their source of this statement was William Wheeler, an investigator for the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Wheeler advised the ONI investigator that he knew positively that the questionable leakage of information occurred at the Bureau of Standards and not at the Navy Department. ONI has pointed out that the Bureau of Standards was included on the distribution list for the documents in question and, therefore, Wheeler's statement was a distinct possibility. ONI has furnished the above information to the Bureau in confidence.

No contact should be made by your office with Mr. Wheeler or any other representative of the House Un-American Activities Committee regarding this case.

You will recall that Felix August Inslerman has been identified as "Felix" who was one of the photographers for Chambers' underground apparatus. You may further recall that Inslerman has been uncooperative when interviewed and at various times when he has appeared before the Grand Jury in New York City.

A 35 mm Leica camera was found in Inslerman's possession which was forwarded to the FBI Laboratory for examination. The FBI Laboratory has recently had access to the pumpkin microfilm from the House Un-American Activities Committee for comparison with Inslerman's Leica camera.

The FBI Laboratory has concluded that two rolls of the pumpkin microfilm were exposed with Inslerman's Leica camera. These rolls have been described in previous Laboratory reports as Grand Jury exhibits 47 and 48.

These findings by the Laboratory are of paramount importance to this case inasmuch as this information may be used as a basis of making Inslerman talk.

ACTION:

There is attached hereto for your approval a memorandum to the Attorney General with copies to Mr. Alexander M. Campbell, Assistant Attorney General, Criminal Division, concerning the above identification.

You may recall that Whittaker Chambers on February 15, 1949, left a statement with Agents of the New York Office which briefly told of his homosexual life and that Chambers was to be interviewed in detail concerning this matter.

This was brought to your attention in a memorandum from Mr. Fletcher to me dated February 18, 1949. It was suggested and you approved that Chambers' disclosure concerning his homosexuality be made available to Mr. Donegan in New York on an informal basis.

Chambers has been interviewed in detail concerning this phase of his life which was reported by the New York Office by letter dated February 18, 1949, the original of which is attached hereto.

There is attached hereto for your approval a memorandum to the Attorney General with carbon copies to Alexander M. Campbell, Assistant Attorney General, concerning Chambers' statement regarding his homosexual life.

You will recall that the following documents have been identified as having been typed by the same typewriter used to prepare Q-6 through Q-69. There is set forth below a resume of these documents reflecting the known location of the originals at the present time:

1. K-17

A two page letter addressed to Walter L. Tibbetts, Boston, Massachusetts, dated January 30, 1933, beginning "On reading over my policy last week..." This letter is unsigned and was never mailed but relates to an insurance policy allegedly issued to Alger Hiss.

A carbon copy of K-17 was submitted on December 7, 1948, to the New York Office by Mr. Edward C. McLean, attorney for Alger Hiss. On December 10, 1948, Mr. McLean furnished the original of K-17 to the New York Office. On December 14, 1948, the Laboratory advised that K-17 was typed by the machine which typed specimens Q-6 through Q-69. K-17 was returned to the New York Office where it was retained until December 28, 1948, when it was returned to Mr. McLean pursuant to the instructions of Mr. T. J. Donegan who had advised that Mr. McLean desired that K-17 be returned to him.

2. K-32

Three pages of typewritten material entitled "Description of Personal Characteristics of Timothy Hobson," bearing the date September 9, 1936. This was an apparent enclosure to a handwritten letter bearing the date September 9, 1936, signed by Alger Hiss.

K-32 was obtained by the Washington Field Office on December 12, 1948, from Mr. Paul L. Banfield, Headmaster, Landon School, Bethesda Post Office, Washington, D. C. FBI Laboratory report dated December 13, 1948, identified K-32 and returned it to WFO. K-32 was taken to New York by SA Courtland J. Jones, WFO, and given by him to Mr. T. J. Donegan on December 14, 1948. Mr. Donegan still retains K-32.

It may be noted that Agent Jones turned over the following documents to Mr. Donegan in addition to K-32. These documents were also obtained from Mr. Banfield:

1. A handwritten letter dated September 1, 1936, bearing the signature of Priscilla Hiss referring to an application of Timothy Hobson for admission to the Landon School.

2. A carbon copy of a letter dated September 3, 1936, from Paul L. Banfield directed to Alger Hiss.

3. A handwritten letter dated September 9, 1936, to Mr. Banfield bearing the signature of Alger Hiss.

When these three documents and K-32 were obtained from Mr. Banfield on December 12, 1948, the Agents of WFO were required to sign a receipt indicating that this material would be used only in investigations concerning the national security of this country. Further, Mr. Banfield expressed a desire that a subpoena be served upon him in the event it is necessary for him to testify in open court regarding this matter and he informed the Agents that both the attorneys for Alger Hiss and Whittaker Chambers have been to see him, asked to see the file of Timothy Hobson and specifically inquired if there were any typed material that could have emanated from the Hiss home. Mr. Banfield refused to allow these men to see the file. Mr. Banfield stated that he was particularly desirous of not having any of the information furnished by him made available to the House Committee on Un-American Activities in any form.

3. K-35

A letter addressed to Miss Emma Hellings, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, postmarked December 6, 1931, beginning "Dr. Peltz, my physician..." This letter was signed "Daisy Fansler" (a sister of Mrs. Hiss.)

K-35 was obtained by the Philadelphia Office on December 13, 1948, from Franklin H. Price, Librarian for the Free Library of Philadelphia. It was identified by the Laboratory report of December 15, 1948, and returned to the Philadelphia Office where it remains.

4. K-40

A one page letter addressed to Walter G. Schelker, New York, dated February 17, 1933, signed "Alger Hiss." Kisseloff-331

On December 10, 1948, Mr. McLean furnished the New York Office with a carbon copy of K-40. The Laboratory advised on December 14,

1948, that the typing on this copy was not clear enough for a definite conclusion to be made in comparison with the evidence previously submitted.

In response to a subpoena served by a Special Agent of the New York Office on December 13, 1948, Mr. Leo D. Fitzgerald, Associate Counsel, Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, produced the original of K-40. On December 15, 1948, the Laboratory reported that K-40 had been identified. The original and carbon copy of K-40 were retained by the New York Office until December 28, 1948, when the copy was returned to Mr. McLean upon his request as mentioned above.

5. K-41

A letter addressed to Mr. W. M. Hillegeist, Director of Admissions, University of Maryland, Baltimore, Maryland, dated May 25, 1937, beginning "I am sending to your office today...," signed Priscilla Hansler Hiss."

K-41 was obtained by the Baltimore Office on December 14, 1948, from Mrs. Florence T. Stafford, Assistant Registrar's Office, University of Maryland, Baltimore, Maryland. It was forwarded to the Laboratory on December 14, and reported as being identified in Laboratory report of December 15, 1948. K-41 was returned to the Baltimore Office which returned K-41 to Mrs. Stafford.

6. K-249

Three pages of typewritten material headed "President's Report for the Year 1936-37."

K-249 was obtained by WFO from Mrs. Henry L. Abbott, 2205 California Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. Mrs. Abbott succeeded Priscilla Hiss in May, 1937, as President of the Bryn Mawr Alumni Association in Washington, D. C. She has advised that this report would have been submitted by Mrs. Hiss in May, 1937, at the expiration of her Presidency.

K-249 was forwarded to the Laboratory on January 7, 1949, and by its report of January 10, 1949, K-249 was identified as having been typed by the machine which typed Q-6 through Q-69. K-249 was returned to the WFO which subsequently returned it to Mrs. Abbott.

The above information will be furnished the Criminal Division of the Department in connection with its request for the originals of these documents and others in this case.

March 3, 1949

Attention: Mr. Ray Whearty

JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was., et al
PERJURY; ESPIONAGE - R

Reference is made to my memorandum to you dated March 2, 1949, directed to the attention of Mr. Ray Whearty. The following documents have been identified by the FBI Laboratory as having been typed by the same typewriter used to prepare Q6 through Q69. There is set forth below a resume of these documents reflecting the known location of these originals at the present time.

1. K-17

A two page letter addressed to Walter L. Tibbetts, Boston, Massachusetts, dated January 30, 1933, beginning "On reading over my policy last week..." This letter is unsigned and was never mailed but relates to an insurance policy allegedly issued to Alger Hiss.

A carbon copy of K-17 was submitted on December 7, 1948, to the New York Office by Mr. Edward C. McLean, attorney for Alger Hiss. On December 10, 1948, Mr. McLean furnished the original of K-17 to the New York Office. On December 14, 1948, the FBI Laboratory advised that K-17 was typed by the machine which typed specimens Q-6 through Q-69. K-17 was returned to the New York Office where it was retained until December 28, 1948, when it was returned to Mr. McLean pursuant to the instructions of Mr. T. J. Donegan who had advised that Mr. McLean desired that K-17 be returned to him.

2. K-32

Three pages of typewritten material entitled "Description of Personal Characteristics of Timothy Hobson," bearing the date September 9, 1936. This was an apparent enclosure to a handwritten letter bearing the date September 9, 1936, signed by Alger Hiss.

K-32 was obtained by the Washington Field Office on December 12, 1948, from Mr. Paul L. Banfield, Headmaster, Landon School, Bethesda Post Office, Washington, D. C. An FBI Laboratory report dated December 13, 1948, identified K-32 and returned it to Washington Field Office. K-32 was taken to New York by Special Agent Courtland J. Jones, Washington Field Office, and was given by him to Mr. T. J. Donegan on December 14, 1949. Mr. Donegan still retains K-32.

1. A handwritten letter dated September 1, 1936, bearing the signature of Priscilla Hiss referring to an application of Timothy Hobson for admission to the Landon School.

2. A carbon copy of a letter dated September 3, 1936, from Paul L. Banfield directed to Alger Hiss.

3. A handwritten letter dated September 9, 1936, to Mr. Banfield bearing the signature of Alger Hiss.

When these three documents and K-32 were obtained from Mr. Banfield on December 12, 1948, the Agents of Washington Field Office were required to sign a receipt indicating that this material would be used only in investigations concerning the national security of this country. Further, Mr. Banfield expressed a desire that a subpoena be served upon him in the event it is necessary for him to testify in open court regarding this matter and he informed the Agents that both the attorneys for Alger Hiss and Whittaker Chambers have been to see him, asked to see the file of Timothy Hobson and specifically inquired if there were any typed material that could have emanated from the Hiss home. Mr. Banfield refused to allow these men to see the file. Mr. Banfield stated that he was particularly desirous of not having any of the information furnished by him made available to the House Committee on Un-American Activities in any form.

3. K-35

A letter addressed to Miss Emma Hellings, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, postmarked December 6, 1931, beginning "Dr. Feltz, my physician..." This letter was signed "Daisy Fansler" (a sister of Mrs. Hiss.)

K-35 was obtained by the Philadelphia Office on December 13, 1948, from Franklin H. Price, Librarian for the Free Library of Philadelphia. It was identified by the FBI Laboratory report of December 15, 1948, and returned to the Philadelphia Office. K-35 is being transmitted herewith to you as an enclosure to this memorandum.

4. K-40

On December 10, 1948, Mr. McLean furnished the New York Office with a carbon copy of K-40. The FBI Laboratory advised on December 14, 1948, that the typing on this copy was not clear enough for a definite conclusion to be made in comparison with the evidence previously submitted.

In response to a subpoena served by a Special Agent of the New York Office on December 13, 1948, Mr. Leo D. Fitzgerald, Associate Counsel, Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, produced the original of K-40. On December 15, 1948, the FBI Laboratory reported that K-40 had been identified. The original and carbon copy of K-40 were retained by the New York Office until December 28, 1948, when the copy was returned to Mr. McLean upon his request as mentioned above. K-40 is being transmitted herewith to you as an enclosure to this memorandum.

5. K-41

A letter addressed to Mr. W. H. Hillegeist, Director of Admissions, University of Maryland, Baltimore, Maryland, dated May 25, 1937, beginning "I am sending to your office today....," signed Priscilla Fansler Hiss."

K-41 was obtained by the Baltimore Office on December 14, 1948, from Mrs. Florence T. Stafford, Assistant Registrar's Office, University of Maryland, Baltimore, Maryland. It was forwarded to the FBI Laboratory on December 14, and reported as being identified in an FBI Laboratory report of December 15, 1948. K-41 was returned to the Baltimore Office which returned K-41 to Mrs. Stafford.

6. K-249

Three pages of typewritten material headed "President's Report for the Year 1936-37".

K-249 was obtained by Washington Field Office from Mrs. Henry L. Abbott, 2203 California Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C. Mrs. Abbott succeeded Priscilla Hiss in May, 1937, as President of the Bryn Mawr Alumni Association in Washington, D. C. She has advised that this report would have been submitted by Mrs. Hiss in May, 1937, at K-249 was forwarded to the FBI Laboratory on January 7, 1949, and by its report of January 10, 1949, K-249 was identified as having been typed by the machine which typed Q-6 through Q-69. K-249 was returned to the Washington Field Office which subsequently returned it to Mrs. Abbott.

I thought you would be interested to know that on February 15, 1949, Whittaker Chambers left an envelope with Agents of the New York Office of this Bureau with the request that the contents therein be read by them after his departure. The contents of the envelope contained a statement by Chambers in which he admitted that he had been a homosexual.

Whittaker Chambers was interviewed on February 17, 1949, in detail with regard to his homosexual life and furnished the information which is contained in the attachment to this memorandum. You will note that Chambers has advised that this is the first time that he has divulged this part of his life to anyone. In making his disclosure he thought that it was necessary since it will undoubtedly be brought up by the defense during the course of the coming trial.

My father JAY CHAMBERS, had homosexual relationships with one CLIFFORD COOK at least from the year 1910 probably through World War I. I never knew the degree of this intimacy, but I heard of its existence from the time that I was quite young. This situation was known to my mother and it agitated her greatly. I recall that she talked to me of it, but at the time I was not capable of understanding what she meant.

CLIFFORD COOK was a friend of my family for about twenty or thirty years. He lived in Lynbrook, L.I. He is married and is now residing on a chicken farm located in either Putnam or Dutchess counties, New York. Clifford Cook was younger than my father. There may have been other men with whom my father had homosexual relations and there probably were, but I know of no other names.

My father and mother separated in about the year 1908 and he went to live in New York City. He stayed away for approximately three years during which time we, my mother, brother and I, lived in Lynbrook, L.I. During those years my father provided us with about $8.00 a week for our support. I later discovered that the primary issue at the time my father left home was a woman named EMILY THAYER. She was a novelist and a mystery story writer and at the time was co-head of a firm known as DECORATIVE DESIGNERS. She was likewise married, and her husband associated with the STANFORD WHITE crowd and I believe that he was possibly a witness in the HARRY THAW case. There were no lawsuits or publicity relative to this incident involving my father and EMILY THAYER. I might state that it was my opinion that my father's homosexual relationship with CLIFFORD COOK continued during the time he was in New York City and after his return to our home in Lynbrook. I suspect that there had been considerable gossip in Lynbrook concerning my father, but no such gossip ever reached me. I gathered this impression from my mother and from the fact that my father had absolutely no friends at all in Lynbrook. This condition of my father's was never brought to my attention by any of my playmates or school associates.

There was no indication of any homosexual interests or activities in my brother RICHARD GODFREY CHAMBERS to my knowledge. As a matter of fact I don't recall my brother and I ever engaging in any conversations concerning my father's homosexual behavior. I never heard any allegations in this vein made at the time of my brother's suicide in 1925. The only thing along these lines that I can recall is that I had heard his wife complain that his, my brother's sexual relations with her were quite exaggerated, and I can definitely state that my brother and I never together participated in any homosexual relationships.

My brother was married to a girl named DOROTHY MILLER who lived in Lynbrook, and this marriage was much against the wishes of my parents as well as hers. DOROTHY'S parents are undoubtedly hostile to me and my family and the basis of this is, first, the fact that she married my brother against her family's wishes, and then, during the course of that marriage they both drank very heavily, and lastly the manner in which the marriage terminated.

I never had any homosexual relationships during the time that I was in grammar school, high school or during my college days. In fact, there was none at all until approximately the year 1932. I might suggest that the defense may try to read such homosexual relationships into some of my associations during this period. For example, I might mention my trip to New Orleans with TONY MUELLER. I do not know if the defense is aware of TONY MUELLER'S identity and the fact that he accompanied me to New Orleans. During the pre-trial depositions in Baltimore, Maryland, I mentioned that I took this trip to New Orleans, but made no reference to TONY MUELLER. However, I consider it possible that if the defense does learn of Mueller that they might try to read into this association a homosexual relationship. This is absolutely untrue.

During the time that I was a student at Columbia University I was friendly with one HENRY BANG whose home was approximately one-half mile away from mine in Lynbrook, Long Island. Henry and I commuted together and spent most of our free time together. He is now, or was when I last knew, working for the Bell Telephone Company in New York City as an installer of automatic dialing systems. I have not seen him in the last fifteen years. HENRY BANG left college in about 1922 and during the following year our friendship began to taper off as he became more and more absorbed in his work at the Telephone Co.

HENRY BANG had a younger brother FRANK, who was also known as BUB. Frank was about six years younger than I and frequently accompanied HENRY and I on canoe and camping trips. As my associations with HENRY began to decrease Frank and I became closer. He was a very sensitive, lonely type, and he did not get along very well with his family although he was devoted to his mother. There were two things that really helped cement the friendship between FRANK BANG and I. One was his mother's death, of natural causes, sometime in 1924, and the other my own brother's suicide shortly thereafter, in 1925.

The BANG family also included two sisters besides HENRY AND FRANK. The older sister is now MRS. VAN ZANT who lives, I believe, in Malvern, Long Island. The other sister was VIOLET BANG who is now married to JOE HEIN, and they are possibly living now in Baldwin, Long Island. I recall that JOE HEIN and HENRY BANG, after World War I, belonged to the same regiment here in New York City - the 69th I believe. FRANK BANG is now married; has two children, and is living in Queens, Long Island. I do not know the exact whereabouts of HENRY BANG other than that I believe he is still residing in New York City.

During the period of my association with FRANK BANG we used to canoe, fish and swim together. At first we used to frequent a spot which is now known as Atlantic Beach, and upon the development of that place we crossed Broad Channel opposite Atlantic Beach and began to camp there.

I might state that the relationship between FRANK BANG and myself during this period can best be described as a father and son relationship. The secret, or homosexual aspect of this relationship, was secret to both of us for years, but apparently was not a secret to others. It was first brought to my attention during the course of a drunken party which took place probably in 1927 at the apartment of JOSEPH FREEMAN on Henry Street, Brooklyn, N.Y. At that time I overheard JOSEPH FREEMAN remark to another person that there was a homosexual relationship between FRANK BANG and myself. This statement horrified me.

I might state here that I understand that JOSEPH FREEMAN has been in contact with investigators representing ALGER HISS. We, Joseph Freeman and I, do not like each other, and there is no doubt in my mind that he will probably talk to them of my relationships with FRANK BANG. So far as I know, JOSEPH FREEMAN was not acquainted with FRANK BANG. However, he probably knew of him from his brother, HARRY FREEMAN and SENDER GARLIN who knew both HENRY and FRANK BANG and myself. I might state that JOSEPH FREEMAN and his associates were great Freudians at this time and they "bubbled over" with this type of talk. I might point out also, that SENDER GARLIN was the most mischievous and malicious of this group and at one time spread some stories to the effect that MICHAEL INTRATOR and myself were engaging in homosexual relations.

I want to definitely state that there never was any physical relationship between FRANK BANG and myself. This was a psychological homosexual relationship, and at this time I recognized it as such.

MICHAEL INTRATOR was a cartoonist on the Daily Worker at the time I was associated with that paper. I resided with him throughout the years. The relationship between MICHAEL INTRATOR and myself was never physical nor psychologically homosexual. It was purely a friendship between two men who were working in the same field.

Approximately one month ago MICHAEL INTRATOR, who is now residing in New York City, telephonically advised me that he had been contacted by representatives of ALGER HISS. The callers advised INTRATOR that they would like to question him concerning the homosexual tendencies of myself. Michael Intrator stated that he declined to answer any questions whatsoever.

MICHAEL INTRATOR was what I would term a terrific ladies' man. I recall that one girl with whom he lived was one SOPHIE. They resided together on East 17th Street in New York City. When she and Intrator broke up I had been told that she also spread a story alleging homosexual relationships between MICHAEL INTRATOR and myself. As I have stated heretofore, this statement is absolutely untrue. As a matter of fact I might state that I have never heard of Michael Intrator ever having homosexual relations with anyone, or even that he had such inclinations.

At another time while I was at the Daily Worker, I resided in an apartment located at 14th Street and Avenue C, with JACOB BURCKE, Burcke's wife ESTHER KRIEGER and MICHAEL INTRATOR. JACOB BURCKE was a cartoonist on the Daily Worker and is now, I believe, a cartoonist for a Chicago newspaper. During a recent conversation with MICHAEL INTRATOR he reminded me that he and Burcke originally rented this apartment and I was not in on the original arrangements. However, at that time both of these individuals, Intrator and Burcke, were practically penniless and I contributed to the rent and upkeep of the apartment from funds I received from my translations. BURCKE, tho' married, was unable to maintain his own household. Consequently his wife and he lived separately and on occasions she visited and stayed at this apartment. As there was only one bed available on those occasions all four of us would sleep in it together, fully clothed. I believe that JACOB BURCKE and ESTHER KRIEGER are still married and have one child. BURCKE, I believe, has stayed in or near the Communist Party. However, he is a good friend of MICHAEL INTRATOR. I have not seen JACOB BURCKE or his wife for a number of years.

Around this time GRACE LUMPKIN who later married MICHAEL INTRATOR, and ESTHER SHEMITZ who later became my wife, were living on East 11th Street. GRACE HUTCHINS and ANNA ROCHESTER with whom I became acquainted later on, were residing in a house in Greenwich Village. Grace Hutchins and Anna Rochester had been friendly with Grace Lumpkin and Esther Shemitz and had made plans for all four of these women to live in one household. Around this time ESTHER SHEMITZ hitch-hiked to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and throughout some of the southern states for the purpose of securing appropriate subjects to paint. While she was away MICHAEL INTRATOR began visiting GRACE LUMPKIN at the East 11th St., apartment, and eventually began to sleep with her. INTRATOR and GRACE LUMPKIN were legally married at a later date. When ESTHER SHEMITZ returned to this apartment MICHAEL INTRATOR introduced me to her and then she and I began living together with Intrator and Grace Lumpkin in that apartment. Esther Shemitz and I lived there for approximately one year prior to our actual marriage.

I might note here that Grace Hutchins stronuously objected to this situation on political grounds. In fact on one occasion she actually forbade Esther Shemitz to continue living with me. This was in 1930 when I was in disfavor with the Communist Party.

I have been advised by my attorneys that they have received some indication that ALGER HISS' investigators are attempting to prove that there was illicit relationship between my wife and Grace Lumpkin. This statement is absolutely false. I think that the basis for this allegation is probably Grace Hutchins. I believe that this partially stems from the fact that my marriage to Esther Shemitz and the marriage of Michael Intrator to Grace Lumpkin destroyed the plans of herself and ANNA ROCHESTER for these four women to occupy a joint residence together.

In connection with my friendship with FRANK BANG I recall that at one time, probably around 1926 or 1927, I began to associate with a girl named GERTRUDE HUTCHINSON who was the wife of KENNETH HUTCHINSON who was, the last time I heard, editor of the magazine "The Nation". GERTRUDE HUTCHINSON'S maiden name was ZIMMERMAN. When Kenneth Hutchinson became aware of my affair with his wife he became desperate. He subsequently asked me to break off this relationship, which I did. However, Gertrude Hutchinson persisted in her attentions and would come to the Public Library where I was then employed. I finally told her that our relationship must cease. However, she continued to persist and finally after having become separated from her husband she rented a very small house at Far Rockaway, Long Island. She suggested that I come to live with her, which I did. I told her of my association with FRANK BANG and likewise told him of the fact that I was now living with Gertrude Hutchinson. She suggested that I bring FRANK BANG to live at the house and when I suggested this to him he agreed, and subsequently he did come to live with us. I had not been living with Gertrude Hutchinson for any length of time when I discovered she was a nymphomaniac. In fact I might state that when I first brought Frank Bang there she immediately suggested that she and Frank Bang sleep together. This unusual triangle existed for some period of time, after which I complained to Gertrude about FRANK BANG'S presence. After this latter conversation Gertrude handed me a large bottle of sleeping tablets.

I left this house in about 1929 at which time FRANK BANG and GERTRUDE continued to live together. I do not know when, or under what circumstances their relationship terminated. I recall that after leaving this place Gertrude once came to me at the Daily Worker and requested that I resume my residence. On this occasion JACK PERILLO who was also employed at the Daily Worker and who was believed to be a Soviet agent, saw her and questioned me later concerning her. I believe that I probably told him who she was, but did not give him any of the details.

I believe that during the course of my association with Gertrude Hutchinson I wrote her a number of letters - probably about ten in number. Of course I cannot say definitely, but I consider it probable that she may still have these letters in her possession. In my opinion they would be very damaging to me in that they contained references to the association between FRANK BANG, GERTRUDE and myself.

I last heard from GERTRUDE HUTCHINSON in 1946, at which time she wrote me from Bogota, Colombia. In her letter she suggested that our former association be resumed at some later date. I did not even answer this letter. I recall that some time after she separated from Frank Bang she lived with a negro Communist by the name of NEWTON. I never sent this woman any money although I have given her money occasionally in person. I have had nothing whatsoever to do with her since 1929, at the least.

About the same time, approximately 1929, some friends of mine, DR. IZ GERBER and his wife ELIZABETH LERNER, invited me to their summer place which they had near New Brunswick, New Jersey. On this occasion there was also present an old friend of Gerber's, namely IDA DALES. I slept with Ida Dales that night. Ida Dales was young in age, but was, at that time, an old and trusted Communist and probably still is today. She and I then agreed to live together and we took an apartment on either East 11th or 12th Street, just east of Second Avenue. We lived here for some months under my true name, CHAMBERS. We then moved for the summer to a cottage at East Rockaway, which was located on the old Socony Canal. I do not believe we stayed here longer than a month because at that time my father died and my mother asked that IDA DALES and I come to live with her.

With reference to my father's death, I recall that he died of a heart attack and my mother came all the way from Lynbrook, Long Island to East Rockaway to get me to return to her house and move my father's body from the bathroom where he died, onto his bed. At this time I was working on the Daily Worker.

IDA DALES and I lived with my mother for approximately three or four months. At this point I might state that MICHAEL INTRATOR had also once lived with IDA DALES some years previously. In fact, IDA DALES had lived with any number of Communists. One of these I recall as being PAUL SHERER, a brother of MARCEL SHERER, who was the former head of the Union of Technical Men. I believe that this is now the Federation of Architects, Engineers, Chemists and Technicians.

Just about this time I broke with the Communist Party and went to visit my friend MICHAEL INTRATOR in Chicago. While I was there I received word from IDA DALES that she was pregnant. I immediately returned to New York City. When my mother heard this information she put us out. We decided to abort the baby. Then IDA and I rented an apartment on 24th Street west of Broadway. She made all the arrangements necessary for the abortion. We only lived in this apartment for about one week and I do not recall the name that we used. After this we rented an apartment which was located over a store in East Rockaway just opposite the railroad station. I believe we remained here a matter of months during the summer. Then IDA DALES insisted upon moving back to New York City and we went to an apartment on 125th Street just off Riverside Drive. Around this time my relations with IDA DALES were going from bad to worse. Also at this time I had met ESTHER SHEMITZ. I told IDA DALES about her, and Ida and I then broke up and I began to live with Esther Shemitz. I might state that FRANK BANG had absolutely nothing to do with IDA DALES. He did not like her and, as a matter of fact, was extremely rude to her on the few occasions that they met.

The house on East 11th Street where I went to live with ESTHER SHEMITZ, and where MICHAEL INTRATOR and GRACE LUMPKIN were also living, was composed of only a living room, a bedroom, a kitchen, a bath and a small room which Grace used for writing. It was very crowded and very uncomfortable here. Consequently, I rented for the summer a cottage at Oceanside, Long Island, which was also located on the Socony Canal. At this time Esther Shemitz was working at the AMTORG TRADING COMPANY. I was still out of the Communist Party but had written some stories and was beginning to creep back in.

While residing in this summer cottage, ESTHER SHEMITZ and I used to canoe down to the spot where FRANK BANG and I had formerly camped. MICHAEL INTRATOR and GRACE LUMPKIN also used to come here, as did FRANK BANG. While Esther and I were residing at the cottage in Oceanside FRANK BANG occasionally visited us. He was pleasant to Esther, but rather formal. He liked her better than IDA DALES. Esther did not like Frank Bang.

We lived at Oceanside for about four months at the most. We then moved, in the fall, to a house which adjoined that occupied by MICHAEL INTRATOR and GRACE LUMPKIN on East 11th Street. Our apartment had no bathroom so it was agreed between MICHAEL and I that we would break down the wall between the two places and use a common bathroom. At this time I became rather lonesome for the country and bought a male rabbit. Some time thereafter I bought a female rabbit and it was not long until both our apartment and that of Michael Intrator's was filled with rabbits. This was a period of reconciliation for me with the Communist Party, and at the same time I had negotiations in progress for my employment on THE NEW MASSES. When I actually began this employment I met Franklin Spier. He then proposed that ESTHER SHEMITZ and I move to his farm, which was located at Glen Gardner, New Jersey, SPIER actually moved our belongings including several crates of rabbits, in his car, to the farm. To the best of my knowledge this was in the early Spring. We stayed first in the farmhouse itself, as the Spiers were only there on the weekends. ESTHER SHEMITZ and I began to remodel a barn located on Spier's property and when he and his wife came to the farm for the summer Esther and I moved into this barn.

During this period I had quite consciously tapered off my friendship with Frank Bang. Frank, after leaving Gertrude Hutchinson had met a girl by the name of AUGUSTA who was also called GUCK. This woman later ran a yarn and knitting shop located in midtown Manhattan, in either the fifties or sixties. She was a Communist. On one occasion she and Frank Bang visited Esther and I at the Spier farm. She told Esther that her sexual relations with Frank Bang were very unhappy because Frank Bang "was actually in love with Whittaker, whether he knew it or not." After AUGUSTA, Frank Bang married another Communist Party girl. This was a legal marriage and they are still married and have two boys.

Although I have seen Frank Bang occasionally, I was never close to him again. I recall that once while I was at Time Magazine, I received a letter from Frank in which he stated that he would like to resume our friendship. I told him to come to the Little Hotel, 33 W. 51st St., where I occasionally stopped during the time I was employed by Time Magazine. I had supper that night with HAMILTON BASSO who was formerly on Time Magazine and is now one of the editors of the New Yorker. After supper BASSO and I returned to my hotel where he remained until FRANK BANG arrived. Frank then went into a long complaint about the lack of friendship between us. At that time I frankly told him, for the first time, that our previous friendship had actually been a psychological homosexual one. I told him further that we could not resume this relationship unless we would make it a real homosexual relation, otherwise it would be false. He reacted as I expected. He went away. My purpose in making this proposition to FRANK BANG was that I fully expected that he would be shocked and this would thus end our relationship once and for all.

Later, in either 1947 or 1948, FRANK BANG came to my office at Time Magazine to see if I could get him a job. Previously Frank Bang had drifted toward Communism and had actually become a member of the Party. However, this was not at my instigation and was much against my advice to him. At the time of this visit in 1947 or 1948, he told me that he was no longer a member of the Communist Party. We had lunch at the Stockholm Restaurant after which I took him to the personnel head at Time Magazine. I had previously spoken to the Personnel Manager and advised him of the fact that I was going to bring Frank Bang to him, but that I did not personally feel that there was any job for which he would be suitable. Later the Personnel Manager advised me that he had talked to FRANK BANG but that he was not able to give him a position.

The following day FRANK BANG telephoned me and told me that he had actually come to see me because he was in need of money. I might point out that he and I had always, in the old days, shared what money we had. As a matter of fact I once paid his tuition for one semester at New York University. When he called, Frank also indicated to me that he would like to resume our friendship. I, however, told him no, and I could not give him any money as I had a family to support. This was the last time I ever heard from FRANK BANG.

I might point out here that FRANK BANG'S family were always opposed to my association with him. The age difference between us was approximately six or seven years. I presume that his family read into our relationship the homosexual aspect, which was visible to others but not known to either of us. However, their disapproval only took the form of unpleasantness and unfriendliness.

I recall one other situation regarding FRANK BANG. There was a Jewish family by the name of CHESTER that owned a farm at Woodburne, New York, in Sullivan County. FRANK and I used to visit there for weekends. JACK RUSH, Clifton Fadiman's brother-in-law, originally took Frank Bang and I there. CORA ALBERTIERI, who later married JACK RUSH, also used to go there. She and JACK RUSH lived together some time prior to their marriage. She was not then a Communist, but she later became one and also later made a trip to Russia.

One week after ESTHER SHEMITZ and I were married in 1931, we, together with FRANK BANG, went to the farm for a stay of about one week. MICHAEL INTRATOR also visited with us there. I might state here that FRANK BANG did not like MICHAEL INTRATOR, nor did the latter like Frank. I was told by a friend of mine MEYER SCHAPIRO, that during this time CORA ALBERTIERI had a number of boys courting her. One of them was CHARLES KRAVITSKY (KRAMER). I did not know him at the time.

With reference to my brother, I recall one incident which might be noted here. Prior to his suicide he and I did considerable drinking in a speakeasy in East Rockaway with a group of fellows. My brother made some derogatory remarks concerning my mother and this occasioned a fight between us and I threw a glass of whiskey in his face. We later left this place in a car with the other fellows. We stopped at a filling station and while there my brother and I resumed our fight. He then insisted that we go to the front of the house where his girl, DOROTHY MILLER, was then residing. There he proceeded to create quite a disturbance with the result that we were picked up by the Lynbrook Police. However, we were not arrested nor was any record made. We were merely cautioned by the police and instructed to go home.

Some time in either 1933 or 1934 I met a young fellow on the street in New York City. He asked me for money to purchase a meal. I took him to dinner during which he told me concerning himself. He stated he was a miner's son and told a very interesting story of his life. After dinner this young fellow told me he had no place to sleep and since I was more or less "footloose and fancy free" I took him to a hotel, the name of which I cannot now recall. During the course of our stay at the hotel that night I had my first homosexual experience. It was a revelation to me. As a matter of fact it set off a chain reaction in me which was almost impossible to control. I do not know the identity, of the young man I spoke of, nor does he know my true identity. I have never seen him since the first night I met him. Since that time, and continuing up to the year 1938, I engaged in numerous homosexual activities both in New York and Washington, D. C. At first I would engage in these activities whenever by accident the opportunity presented itself. However, after a while the desire became greater and I actively sought out the opportunities for homosexual relationships. I recall that incidents of this nature took place in the Hotel Annapolis and the Hotel Pennsylvania in Washington, D. C. I registered in these hotels under assumed names which I cannot now recall. I know that other incidents took place in hotels in New York City which I cannot now remember, but concerning which I might state that they were the typical "flea bag" type of hotel one finds in certain parts of Manhattan. I never had any prolonged affair with any one man and never visited any known places where these type of people were known to congregate. I generally went to parks or other parts of town where these people were likely to be found.

I am positive that no man with whom I had these relations during this period ever knew my true identity, nor do I at this time recall the names of any of them. The possibility exists, however, that since my photograph has appeared in the public press, magazines and other perodicals, someone with whom I have previously had homosexual relations might remember me. It is doubtful, but remotely possible that if I saw one of these persons, or a photograph of them, I too might remember them.

I would describe my homosexual activity as being in the most "elementary" form. I have never received any psychiatric treatment in an effort to cure me of this affliction, and I wish to state that during this period of my homosexual activity I never contracted any diseases that required hospitalization or treatment.

In 1938 I managed to break myself of my homosexual tendencies and since that time I have been a model husband and father. I kept this part of my life as my darkest personal secret and have never divulged these tendencies or experiences to any of my associates or friends, and particularly those in the Communist Party. I emphatically state that at no time did I even so much as hint about this to ALGER HISS or any of the people who I have been associated with either in the Communist Party, the Communist Party underground or the Communist Party espionage apparatus from which I broke in April of 1938. I have never spoken of this to my wife or to my attorneys. As a matter of fact, my revelation of this activity has been told for the first time to anyone today.

In view of my appearance before the pre-trial deposition examination in Baltimore and my appearance as a probable witness in the Hiss perjury trial, in all probability this subject matter will be brought to light. I contemplate therefore, telling my attorneys of this situation and although it will be an unpleasant task, it will be necessary to inform my wife of this.

It will be noted that three things of some great importance happened during the year 1938. First, my cessation of my homosexual activities; my final break with the Communist Party, and my embracing for the first time, religion.

I do not believe that the cessation of my homosexual activities and my break with the Communist Party were in any way connected with each other. However, both of these activities on my part were more or less simultaneous with the advent of religion and God into my life.

With reference to my homosexual activities and my other immoral relations with women, mentioned heretofore, I might point out that up to the year 1938 I had absolutely no religious training, nor had there ever been any in my family. Further, immorality as such insofar as women were concerned, was openly accepted and engaged in by almost all members of the Communist Party at that time.

Dear Sir:

Reference is made to New York letter of February 16, 1949, wherein you were provided with a photostatic copy of a statement which had been left by Mr. JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS with special agents of this office upon the conclusion of his interview on February 15, 1949.

On the basis of the information set forth in that statement, Mr. Chambers was interviewed in detail on February 17, 1949, at which time he stated to the following effect:

My father JAY CHAMBERS, had homosexual relationships with one CLIFFORD COOK at least from the year 1910 probably through World War I. I never knew the degree of this intimacy, but I heard of its existence from the time that I was quite young. This situation was known to my mother and it agitated her greatly. I recall that she talked to me of it, but at the time I was not capable of understanding what she meant. ~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

CLIFFORD COOK was a friend of my family for about twenty or thirty years. He lived in Lynbrook, L.I. He is married and is now residing on a chicken farm located in either Putnam or Dutchess counties, New York. Clifford Cook was younger than my father. There may have been other men with whom my father had homosexual relations and there probably were, but I know of no other names.

My father and mother separated in about the year 1908 and he went to live in New York City. He stayed away for approximately three years during which time we, my mother, brother and I, lived in Lynbrook, L.I. During those years my father provided us with about $8.00 a week for our support. I later discovered that the primary issue at the time my father left home was a woman named EMILY THAYER. She was a novelist and a mystery story writer and at the time was co-head of a firm known as DECORATIVE DESIGNERS. She was likewise married, and her husband associated with the STANFORD WHITE crowd and I believe that he was possibly a witness in the HARRY THAW case. There were no lawsuits or publicity relative to this incident involving my father and EMILY THAYER. I might state that it was my opinion that my father's homosexual relationship with CLIFFORD COOK continued during the time he was in New York City and after his return to our home in Lynbrook. I suspect that there had been considerable gossip in Lynbrook concerning my father, but no such gossip ever reached me. I gathered this impression from my mother and from the fact that my father had absolutely no friends at all in Lynbrook. This condition of my father's was never brought to my attention by any of my playmates or school associates.

There was no indication of any homosexual interests or activities in my brother RICHARD GODFREY CHAMBERS to my knowledge. As a matter of fact I don't recall my brother and I ever engaging in any conversations concerning my father's homosexual behavior. I never heard any allegations in this vein made at the time of my brother's suicide in 1925. The only thing along these lines that I can recall is that I had heard his wife complain that his, my brother's, sexual relations with her were quite exaggerated, and I can definitely state that my brother and I never together participated in any homosexual relationships.

I never had any homosexual relationships during the time that I was in grammar school, high school or during my college days. In fact, there was none at all until approximately the year 1932. I might suggest that the defense may try to read such homosexual relationships into some of my associations during this period. For example, I might mention my trip to New Orleans with TONY MUELLER. I do not know if the defense is aware of TONY MUELLER'S identity and the fact that he accompanied me to New Orleans. During the pre-trial depositions in Baltimore, Maryland, I mentioned that I took this trip to New Orleans, but made no reference to TONY MUELLER. However, I consider it possible that if the defense does learn of Mueller that they might try to read into this association a homosexual relationship. This is absolutely untrue.

During the time that I was a student at Columbia University I was friendly with one HENRY BANG whose home was approximately one-half mile away from mine in Lynbrook, Long Island. HENRY and I commuted together and spent most of our free time together. He is now, or was when I last knew, working for the Bell Telephone Company in New York City as an installer of automatic dialing systems. I have not seen him in the last fifteen years. HENRY BANG left college in about 1922 and during the following year our friendship began to taper off as he became more and more absorbed in his work at the Telephone Co.

HENRY BANG had a younger brother FRANK Bang, who was also known as BUB. Frank was about six years younger than I and frequently accompanied HENRY and I on canoe and camping trips. As my associations with HENRY began to decrease Frank and I became closer. He was a very sensitive, lonely type, and he did not get along very well with his family although he was devoted to his mother. There were two things that really helped cement the friendship between FRANK BANG and I. One was his mother's death, of natural causes, sometime in 1924, and the other my own brother's suicide shortly thereafter, in 1925.

The BANG family also included two sisters besides HENRY and FRANK. The elder sister is now MRS. VANVANT who lives, I believe, in Malvern, Long Island. The other sister was VIOLET BANG who is now married to JOE HEIN, and they are possibly living now in

Baldwin, Long Island. I recall that JOE HEIN and HENRY BANG, after World War I, belonged to the same regiment here in New York City - the 69th I believe. FRANK BANG is now married; has two children, and is living in Queens, Long Island. I do not know the exact whereabouts of HENRY BANG other than that I believe he is still residing in New York City.

During the period of my association with FRANK BANG we used to canoe, fish and swim together. At first we used to frequent a spot which is now known as Atlantic Beach, and upon the development of that place we crossed Broad Channel opposite Atlantic Beach and began to camp there.

I might state that the relationship between FRANK BANG and myself during this period can best be described as a father and son relationship. The secret, or homosexual aspect of this relationship, was secret to both of us for years, but apparently was not a secret to others. It was first brought to my attention during the course of a drunken party which took place probably in 1927 at the apartment of JOSEPH FREEMAN on Henry Street, Brooklyn, N.Y. At that time I overheard JOSEPH FREEMAN remark to another person that there was a homosexual relationship between FRANK BANG and myself. This statement horrified me.

I might state here that I understand that JOSEPH FREEMAN has been in contact with investigators representing ALGER HISS. We, Joseph Freeman and I, do not like each other, and there is no doubt in my mind that he will probably talk to them of my relationships with FRANK BANG. So far as I know, JOSEPH FREEMAN was not acquainted with FRANK BANG. However, he probably knew of him from his brother, HARRY FREEMAN and SENDER GARLIN who knew both HENRY and FRANK BANG and myself. I might state that JOSEPH FREEMAN and his associates were great Freudians at this time and they "bubbled over" with this type of talk. I might point out also, that SENDER GARLIN was the most mischeivous and malicious of this group and at one time spread some stories to the effect that MICHAEL INTRATOR and myself were engaging in homosexual relations.

Let. to Dir.

I want to definitely state that there never was any physical relationship between FRANK BANG and myself. This was a psychological homosexual relationship, and at this time I recognized it as such.

MICHAEL INTRATOR was a cartoonist on the Daily Worker at the time I was associated with that paper. I resided with him throughout the years. The relationship between MICHAEL INTRATOR and myself was never physical nor psychologically homosexual. It was purely a friendship between two men who were working in the same field.

Approximately one month ago MICHAEL INTRATOR, who is now residing in New York City, telephonically advised me that he had been contacted by representatives of ALGER HISS. The callers advised INTRATOR that they would like to question him concerning the homosexual tendencies of myself. Michael Intrator stated that he declined to answer any questions whatsoever.

MICHAEL INTRATOR was what I would term a terrific ladies' man. I recall that one girl with whom he lived was one SOPHIE. They resided together on East 17th Street in New YorkCity. When she and Intrator broke up I had been told that she also spread a story alleging homosexual relationships between MICHAEL INTRATOR and myself. As I have stated heretofore, this statement is absolutely untrue. As a matter of fact I might state that I have never heard of Michael Intrator ever having homosexual relations with anyone, or even that he had such inclinations.

Esther Burcke

At another time while I was at the Daily Worker, I resided in an apartment located at 14th Street and Avenue C, with JACOB BURCKE, Burcke's wife ESTHER KRIEGER and MICHAEL INTRATOR. JACOB BURCKE was a cartoonist on the Daily Worker and is now, I believe, a cartoonist for a Chicago newspaper. During a recent conversation with MICHAEL INTRATOR he reminded me that he and BURCKE originally rented this apartment and I was not in on the original arrangements. However, at that time both of these individuals, Intrator and Burcke, were practically penniless and I contributed to the rent and upkeep of the apartment from funds I received from my translations. BURCKE, tho' married, was unable to maintain his own household. Consequently his wife and he lived separately and on occasions she visited and stayed at this apartment. As there was only one bed available on these occasions all four of us would sleep in it together, fully clothed. I believe that JACOB BURCKE and ESTHER KRIEGER are still married and have one child. BURCKE, I believe, has stayed in or near the Communist Party. However, he is a good friend of MICHAEL INTRATOR. I have not seen JACOB BURCKE or his wife for a number of years.

Around this time GRACE LUMPKIN who later married MICHAEL INTRATOR, and ESTHER SHEMITZ who later became my wife, were living on East 11th Street. GRACE HUTCHINS and ANNA ROCHESTER with whom I became acquainted later on, were residing in a house in Greenwich Village. Grace Hutchins and Anna Rochester had been friendly with Grace Lumpkin and Esther Shemitz and had made plans for all four of these women to live in one household. Around this time ESTHER SHEMITZ hitch-hiked to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and throughout some of the southern states for the purpose of securing appropriate subjects to paint. While she was away MICHAEL INTRATOR began visiting GRACE ~~HUTCHINS~~ Lumpkin at the East 11th St., apartment, and eventually began to sleep with her. INTRATOR and GRACE LUMPKIN were legally married at a later date. When ESTHER SHEMITZ returned to this apartment MICHAEL INTRATOR introduced me to her and then she and I began living together with Intrator and Grace Lumpkin in that apartment. Esther Shemitz and I lived there for approximately one year prior to our actual marriage.

I might note here that Grace Hutchins strenuously objected to this situation on political grounds. In fact on one occasion she actually forbade Esther Shemitz to continue living with me. This was in 1930 when I was in disfavor with the Communist Party.

I have been advised by my attorneys that they have received some indication that ALGER HISS' investigators are attempting to prove that there was illicit relationship between my wife and Grace Lumpkin. This statement is absolutely false. I think that the basis for this allegation is probably Grace Hutchins. I believe that this partially stems from the fact that my marriage to Esther Shemitz and the marriage of Michael Intrator to Grace Lumpkin destroyed the plans of herself and ANNA ROCHESTER for these four women to occupy a joint residence together.

Let. to Dir.

In connection with my friendship with FRANK BANG I recall that at one time, probably around 1926 or 1927, I began to associate with a girl named GERTRUDE HUTCHINSON who was the wife of KENNETH HUTCHINSON who was, the last time I heard, editor of the magazine "The Nation". GERTRUDE HUTCHINSON'S maiden name was ZIMMERMAN. When Kenneth Hutchinson became aware of my affair with his wife he became desperate. He subsequently asked me to break off this relationship, which I did. However, Gertrude Hutchinson persisted in her attentions and would come to the Public Library where I was then employed. I finally told her that our relationship must cease. However, she continued to persist and finally after having become separated from her husband she rented a very small house at Far Rockaway, Long Island. She suggested that I come to live with her, which I did. I told her of my association with FRANK BANG and likewise told him of the fact that I was now living with Gertrude Hutchinson. She suggested that I bring FRANK BANG to live at the house and when I suggested this to him he agreed, and subsequently he did come to live with us. I had not been living with Gertrude Hutchinson for any length of time when I discovered she was a nymphomaniac. In fact I might state that when I first brought Frank Bang there she immediately suggested that she and Frank Bang sleep together. This unusual triangle existed for some period of time, after which I complained to Gertrude about FRANK BANG'S presence. After this latter conversation Gertrude handed me a large bottle of sleeping tablets.

I left this house in about 1929 at which time FRANK BANG and GERTRUDE continued to live together. I do not know when, or under what circumstances their relationship terminated. I recall that after leaving this place Gertrude once came to me at the Daily Worker and requested that I resume my residence. On this occasion JACK PERILLO who was also employed at the Daily Worker and who was believed to be a Soviet agent, saw her and questioned me later concerning her. I believe that I probably told him who she was, but did not give him any of the details.

I believe that during the course of my association with Gertrude Hutchinson I wrote her a number of letters - probably about ten in number. Of course I cannot say definitely, but I consider it probable that she may still have these letters in her possession. In my opinion they would be very damaging to me in that they contained references to the association between FRANK BANG, GERTRUDE and myself.

I last heard from GERTRUDE HUTCHINSON in 1946, at which time she wrote me from Bogota, Colombia. In her letter she suggested that our former association be resumed at some later date. I did not even answer this letter. I recall that some time after she separated from Frank Bang she lived with a negro Communist by the name of NEWTON. I never sent this woman any money although I have given her money occasionally in person. I have had nothing whatsoever to do with her since 1929, at the least.

About the same time, approximately 1929, some friends of mine, DR. IZ GERBER and his wife ELIZABETH LERNER, invited me to their summer place which they had near New Brunswick, New Jersey. On this occasion there was also present an old friend of Gerber's, namely IDA DALES. I slept with Ida Dales that night. Ida Dales was young in age, but was, at that time, an old and trusted Communist and probably still is today. She and I then agreed to live together and we took an apartment on either East 11th or 12th street, just east of Second Avenue. We lived here for some months under my true name, CHAMBERS. We then moved for the summer to a cottage at East Rockaway, which was located on the old Socony Canal. I do not believe we stayed here longer than a month because at that time my father died and my mother asked that IDA DALES and I come to live with her.

Elizabeth Lerner Gerber

With reference to my father's death, I recall that he died of a heart attack and my mother came all the way from Lynbrook, Long Island to East Rockaway to get me to return to her house and move my father's body from the bathroom where he died, onto his bed. At this time I was working on the Daily Worker.

IDA DALES and I lived with my mother for approximately three or four months. At this point I might state that MICHAEL INTRATOR had also once lived with IDA DALES some years previously. In fact, IDA DALES had lived with any number of Communists. One of these I recall as being PAUL SHERER, a brother of MARCEL SHERER, who was the former head of the Union of Technical Men. I believe that this is now the Federation of Architects, Engineers, Chemists and Technicians.

Just about this time I broke with the Communist Party and went to visit my friend MICHAEL INTRATOR in Chicago. While I was there I received word from IDA DALES that she was pregnant. I immediately returned to New York City. When my mother heard this information she put us out. We decided to abort the baby. Then IDA and I rented an apartment on 24th Street west of Broadway. She made all the arrangements necessary for the abortion. We only lived in this apartment for about one week and I do not recall the name that we used. After this we rented an apartment which was located over a store in East Rockaway just opposite the railroad station. I believe we remained here a matter of months during the summer. Then IDA DALES insisted upon moving back to New York City and we went to an apartment on 125th Street just off Riverside Drive. Around this time my relations with IDA DALES were going from bad to worse. Also at this time I had met ESTHER SHEMITZ. I told IDA DALES about her, and Ida and I then broke up and I began to live with Esther Shemitz. I might state that FRANK BANG had absolutely nothing to do with IDA DALES. He did not like her and, as a matter of fact, was extremely rude to her on the few occasions that they met.

The house on East 11th Street where I went to live with ESTHER SHEMITZ, and where MICHAEL INTRATOR and GRACE LUMPKIN were also living, was composed of only a living room, a bedroom, a kitchen, a bath and a small room which Grace used for writing. It was very crowded and very uncomfortable here. Consequently I rented for the summer a cottage at Oceanside, Long Island, which was also located on the Socony Canal. At this time Esther Shemitz was working at the AMTORG TRADING COMPANY. I was still out of the Communist Party but had written some stories and was beginning to creep back in.

While residing in this summer cottage, ESTHER SHEMITZ and I used to canoe down to the spot where FRANK BANG and I had formerly camped. MICHAEL INTRATOR and GRACE LUMPKIN also used to come here, as did FRANK BANG. While Esther and I were residing at the cottage in Oceanside FRANK BANG occasionally visited us. He was pleasant to Esther, but rather formal. He liked her better than IDA DALES. Esther did not like Frank Bang.

We lived at Oceanside for about four months at the most. We then moved, in the fall, to a house which adjoined that occupied by MICHAEL INTRATOR and GRACE LUMPKIN on East 11th Street. Our apartment had no bathroom so it was agreed between MICHAEL and I that we would break down the wall between the two places and use a common bathroom. At this time I became rather lonesome for the country and bought a male rabbit. Some time thereafter I bought a female rabbit and it was not long until both our apartment and that of Michael Intrator's was filled with rabbits. This was a period of reconciliation for me with the Communist Party, and at the same time I had negotiations in progress for my employment on THE NEW MASSES. When I actually began this employment I met FRANKLIN SPIER. He then proposed that ESTHER SHEMITZ and I move to his farm, which was located at Glen Gardner, New Jersey. SPIER actually moved our belongings including several crates of rabbits, in his car, to the farm. To the best of my knowledge this was in the early Spring. We stayed first in the farmhouse itself, as the Spiers were only there on the weekends. ESTHER SHEMITZ and I began to remodel a barn located on Spier's property and when he and his wife came to the farm for the summer Esther and I moved into this barn.

During this period I had quite consciously tapered off my friendship with Frank Bang. Frank, after leaving Gertrude Hutchinson had met a girl by the name of AUGUSTA who was also called GUCK. This woman later ran a yarn and knitting shop located in midtown Manhattan, in either the fifties or sixties. She was a Communist. On one occasion she and Frank Bang visited Esther and I at the Spier farm. She told Esther that her sexual relations with Frank Bang were very unhappy because Frank Bang "was actually in love with Whittaker, whether he knew it or not." After AUGUSTA, Frank Bang married another Communist Party girl. This was a legal marriage and they are still married and have two boys.

Although I have seen Frank Bang occasionally, I was never close to him again. I recall that once while I was at Time Magazine, I received a letter from Frank in which he stated that he would like to resume our friendship. I told him come to the Little Hotel, 33 W. 51st St., where I occasionally stopped during the time I was employed by Time Magazine. I had supper that night with HAMILTON BASSO who was formerly on Time Magazine and is now one of the editors of the New Yorker. After supper BASSO and I returned to my hotel where he remained until FRANK BANG arrived. Frank then went into a long complaint about the lack of friendship between us. At that time I frankly told him, for the first time, that our previous friendship had actually been a psychological homosexual one. I told him further that we could not resume this relationship unless we would make it a real homosexual relation, otherwise it would be false. He reacted as I expected. He went away. My purpose in making this proposition to FRANK BANG was that I fully expected that he would be shocked and this would thus end our relationship once and for all.

Later, in either 1947 or 1948, FRANK BANG came to my office at Time Magazine to see if I could get him a job. Previously Frank Bang had drifted toward Communism and had actually become a member of the Party. However, this was not at my instigation and was much against my advice to him. At the time of this visit in 1947 or 1948, he told me that he was no longer a member of the Communist Party. We had lunch at the Stockholm Restaurant after which I took him to the personnel head at Time Magazine. I had previously spoken to the Personnel Manager and advised him of the fact that I was going to bring Frank Bang to him, but that I did not personally feel that there was any job for which he would be suitable. Later the Personnel Manager advised me that he had talked to FRANK BANG but that he was not able to give him a position.

The following day FRANK BANG telephoned me and told me that he had actually come to see me because he was in need of money. I might point out that he and I had always, in the old days, shared what money we had. As a matter of fact I once paid his tuition for one semester at New York University. When he called, Frank also indicated to me that he would like to resume our friendship. I, however, told him no, and I could not give him any money as I had a family to support. This was the last time I ever heard from FRANK BANG.

I might point out here that FRANK BANG'S family were always opposed to my association with him. The age difference between us was approximately six or seven years. I presume that his family read into our relationship the homosexual aspect, which was visible to others but not known to either of us. However, their disapproval only took the form of unpleasantness and unfriendliness.

I recall one other situation regarding FRANK BANG. There was a Jewish family by the name of CHESTER that owned a farm at Woodburne, New York, in Sullivan County. FRANK and I used to visit there for weekends. JACK RUSH, Clifton Fadiman's brother-in-law, originally took Frank Bang and I there. CORA ALBERTIERI, who later married JACK RUSH, also used to go there. She and JACK RUSH lived together some time prior to their marriage. She was not then a Communist, but she later became one and also later made a trip to Russia.

Cora Albertieri Rush

One week after ESTHER SHEMITZ and I were married in 1931, we, together with FRANK BANG, went to the farm for a stay of about one week. MICHAEL INTRATOR also visited with us there. I might state here that FRANK BANG did not like MICHAEL INTRATOR, nor did the latter like Frank. I was told by a friend of mine MEYER SCHAPIRO, that during this time CORA ALBERTIERI had a number of boys courting her. One of them was CHARLES KRAVITSKY (KRAMER). I did not know him at the time.

With reference to my brother, I recall one incident which might be noted here. Prior to his suicide he and I did considerable drinking in a speakeasy in East Rockaway with a group of fellows. My brother made some derogatory remarks concerning my mother and this occasioned a fight between us and I threw a glass of whiskey in his face. We later left this place in a car with the other fellows. We stopped at a filling station and while there my brother and I resumed our fight. He then insisted that we go to the front of the house where his girl, DOROTHY MILLER, was then residing. There he proceeded to create quite a disturbance with the result that we were picked up by the Lynbrook Police. However, we were not arrested nor was any record made. We were merely cautioned by the police and instructed to go home.

Some time in either 1933 or 1934 I met a young fellow on the street in New York City. He asked me for money to purchase a meal. I took him to dinner during which he told me concerning himself. He stated he was a miner's son and told a very interesting story of his life. After dinner this young fellow told me he had no place to sleep and since I was more or less "footloose and fancy free" I took him to a hotel, the name of which I cannot now recall. During the course of our stay at the hotel that night I had my first homosexual experience. It was a revelation to me. As a matter of fact it set off a chain reaction in me which was almost impossible to control. I do not know the identity of the young man I spoke of, nor does he know my true identity. I have never seen him since the first night I met him. Since that time, and continuing up to the year 1938, I engaged in numerous homosexual activities both in New York and Washington, D. C. At first I would engage in these activities whenever by accident the opportunity presented itself. However, after a while the desire became greater and I actively sought out the opportunities for homosexual relationships. I recall that incidents of this nature took place in the Hotel Annapolis and the Hotel Pennsylvania in Washington, D. C. I registered in these hotels under assumed names which I cannot now recall. I know that other incidents took place in hotels in New York City which I cannot now remember, but concerning which I might state that they were the typical "flea bag" type of hotel one finds in certain parts of Manhattan. I never had any prolonged affair with any one man and never visited any known places where these type of people were known to congregate. I generally went to parks or other parts of town where these people were likely to be found.

I am positive that no man with whom I had these relations during this period ever knew my true identity, nor do I at this time recall the names of any of them. The possibility exists, however, that since my photograph has appeared in the public press, magazines and other periodicals, someone with whom I have previously had homosexual relations might remember me. It is doubtful, but remotely possible that if I saw one of these persons, or a photograph of them, I too might remember them.

I would describe my homosexual activity as being in the most "elementary" form. I have never received any psychiatric treatment in an effort to cure me of this affliction, and I wish to state that during this period of my homosexual activity I never contracted any diseases that required hospitalization or treatment.

Let. to Dir.

In 1938 I managed to break myself of my homosexual tendencies and since that time I have been a model husband and father. I kept this part of my life as my darkest personal secret and have never divulged these tendencies or experiences to any of my associates or friends, and particularly those in the Communist Party. I emphatically state that at no time did I even so much as hint about this to ALGER HISS or any of the people who I have been associated with either in the Communist Party, the Communist Party underground or the Communist Party espionage apparatus from which I broke in April of 1938. I have never spoken of this to my wife or to my attorneys. As a matter of fact, my revelation of this activity has been told for the first time to anyone today.

In view of my appearance before the pre-trial deposition examination in Baltimore and my appearance as a probable witness in the Hiss perjury trial, in all probability this subject matter will be brought to light. I contemplate therefore, telling my attorneys of this situation and although it will be an unpleasant task, it will be necessary to inform my wife of this.

It will be noted that three things of some great importance happened during the year 1938. First, my cessation of my homosexual activities; my final break with the Communist Party, and my embracing for the first time, religion.

I do not believe that the cessation of my homosexual activities and my break with the Communist Party were in any way connected with each other. However, both of these activities on my part were more or less simultaneous with the advent of religion and God into my life.

With reference to my homosexual activities and my other immoral relations with women, mentioned heretofore, I might point out that up to the year 1938 I had absolutely no religious training, nor had there ever been any in my family. Further, immorality as such insofar as women were concerned, was openly accepted and engaged in by almost all members of the Communist Party at that time.

For the information of the Bureau, CHAMBERS will be in Baltimore, Maryland, on February 17th and 18th, in connection with the pre-trial deposition hearings. Arrangements have been effected whereby Chambers will telephonically communicate with agents of this office who have been interrogating him, at the end of each day's examination, for the purpose of obtaining a summation of the questions asked by the inquiring attorney.

It is pointed out to the Bureau that CHAMBERS has never heretofore made this part of his life known, and it was first told to agents of the Bureau on February 16, 1949. In view of this it is suggested that insofar as any dissemination of this information outside the Bureau is concerned, that it be treated in a strictly confidential manner.

DEFERRED RECORDING

Reference is made to FBI Laboratory Report dated February 4, 1949, and to Washington Field letter, attention FBI Laboratory, dated February 1, 1949. The Laboratory report in reference states that the Laboratory examination of Specimens K-407 through K-425 is being deferred pending additional investigation to determine whether this material was typed by Mrs. PRISCILLA HISS in her own home on her own machine. As previously indicated, this material was received from an individual who succeeded Mrs. HISS as Zone Billeting Officer and the material was turned over to this individual by Mrs. HISS. This individual has stated that Mrs. HISS was known to be doing typing work in connection with the Civilian Defense Program.

Some of the material received from Mrs. HISS is written in the first person and refers to events occurring in the HISS home; in addition, the hand printed initials of PRISCILLA HISS appear on some of the documents. Others of the documents give lists of names and other information in reply to correspondence which was directed personally to PRISCILLA HISS. However, the investigation to date has not developed any individuals who can testify that they personally saw Mrs. PRISCILLA HISS personally type these particular documents on her own typewriter in her own home.

As stated in the reference letter from the Washington Field Office, the purpose for this request is to determine if this material can be identified with other material coming from the HISS household.

It is again requested that the examination requested in the Washington Field Office letter of reference be conducted.

Rebulet 2-23-49, inquiring whether WHITTAKER CHAMBERS did or did not know ZACHARY BARANOFF, DUDLEY CHAPMAN, and FRANK DRAMINSKI.

CHAMBERS has stated that he does not know these men. He failed to recognize photographs of them and stated that he never heard of them in connection with the work of his apparatus at the Electric Boat Company, New London, Connecticut. The statement that they were known to him which appeared in New York tel of January 26, 1949, was due to a typographical error.

The Bureau will note that the individuals involved in the Electric Boat Company case are being handled under a separate caption, JOSEPH JIULETTI, with aliases, et al; ESPIONAGE - R. New Haven is origin in that investigation.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent John C. Welch Little Rock, Arkansas, dated February 18, 1949, in the above-captioned matter. Particular reference is made to paragraph one, page two, wherein it is stated that the name Breen is an alias of Alger Hiss. Inasmuch as this is a misstatement and Breen is an alias of Whittaker Chambers, the offices receiving copies of this letter should substitute the name Whittaker Chambers for Alger Hiss in this paragraph. The Bureau's copies of the report are being corrected at the Seat of Government.

TO EACH OF THESE QUESTIONS, PERLO ANSWERED "NO COMMENT". DURING INTERVIEWS, BAKER SHOULD NOT BE DISCLOSED AS SOURCE OF ABOVE INFORMATION BUT QUESTIONS MAY BE ASKED CONCERNING BAKER-S CONNECTION WITH ANY OF ABOVE INDIVIDUALS. JAHAM - SUMMARY

The following information has been received which is believed pertinent to instant case and may prove to substantiate the allegation that Alger Hiss was a member of the Communist Party Underground Movement.

On January 27, 1949, the Washington Field Office advised that Ben Mandel, H.C.U.A., advised that Ralph de Sola of Brooklyn, New York, a former member of the Communist Party, recalled meeting Alger Hiss at either a Communist Party meeting or social gathering of Communist Party members in Baltimore, Maryland, during the early 1930's. (Teletype from WFO to NY dated 1-27-49; 74-1333)

Ralph de Sola when interviewed advised that over the July 4, 1937 holidays, he and his ex-wife, Helen Winner, stayed at a large house rented by Lenore Thomas and a girl named Sally Ringe at Accokeek, Maryland overlooking the Potomac River. He said that Lenore Thomas was instructed by the New York Headquarters of the Communist Party to go to Washington, D. C. and "remain quiet." It was his impression that she was a member of the Underground Movement of the Party in Washington.

At this party on July 4, 1937, de Sola said that either Lenore Thomas or Sally Ringe told him that a man was coming down from Washington who was an amateur ornithologist. De Sola was also told by one of these girls that this man had the same political beliefs as did de Sola at that time, meaning, Communist beliefs, but that this man went about things in a smoother and more effective way for the Communist Party. He said that shortly thereafter Alger and Priscilla Hiss arrived at Accokeek and de Sola was told that Alger Hiss was the Ornithologist who had been mentioned previously. De Sola said he discussed ornithology with Alger Hiss but did not discuss any political matters. He said he never saw Alger Hiss on any other occasions, however, he identified a photograph of Alger Hiss as the ornithologist.

De Sola said that the following persons were present at this party: Jacob Baker; a couple named Witt from the NLRB or Labor Department; a man who had invented a multi-lens aerial camera who wrote an article in "Life" magazine concerning this camera about that time. This person has been tentatively identified as Lieutenant O. S. Reading of the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

De Sola said that Sally Ringe was at least a Communist Party sympathizer and that Lenore Thomas was a member of the Party and was possibly a member of the Party Underground in Washington. (Teletype from NY to Bureau dated 2-5-49; 74-1333)

Helen Winner when interviewed advised that she sponsored the applications of Sally Ringe and Lenore Thomas to join the Communist Party in about 1934. She said she recalls attending the party at Accokeek on July 4, 1937 but only recalled as being present Ralph de Sola, Lenore Thomas and Sally Ringe. She said she cannot remember meeting Alger or Priscilla Hiss there. She stated that Sally Ringe is now married to Jonathan Goldmark, (now residing at White Salmon, Washington).

Leads are outstanding to interview Lieutenant O. S. Reading, Sally Ringe Goldmark and Lenore Straus in connection with the above allegations. (Ibid.)

Ralph de Sola was shown photographs of Nathan Witt but he could not identify him as the person who he claims was present at the Accokeek party. (Teletype from NY to Bureau dated 2-14-49; 74-1333)

Jacob Baker, former Deputy Administrator to Harry Hopkins, advised that he was acquainted with Sally Ringe and Lenore Thomas and visited at their place at Accokeek on several occasions. He stated that Sally Ringe's real name was Irma Ringe and verified the fact that she is now Mrs. Jonathan Goldmark. He stated that Lenore Thomas is married to Robert Straus, the brother of Michael Straus, Director of Reclamation of the United States Government. It is believed that this individual is Robert Ware Straus. The Washington Field Office is endeavoring to locate Lenore Thomas Straus for interview.

Baker advised that Sally Ringe and Lenore Thomas rented their place at Accokeek, Maryland from a Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson who lived in a separate house on the same grounds at Accokeek. He advised that the Fergusons were radicals and that Mrs. Ferguson was an Ornithologist as allegedly was Alger Hiss.

The New York Office has requested Bureau authority for the Baltimore Office to interview the Fergusons at Accokeek, Maryland. (See suggestions below).

Baker advised that Sally Ringe was also acquainted with Harold and Katherine Kellock and that Harold Kellock had arranged with the Fergusons for the rental of the place at Accokeek to Sally Ringe and Lenore Thomas. Harold Kellock was described as Press Relations Man for the Soviet Government in 1920 and held the same position for the Russian Embassy for a while after the Embassy opened in Washington, D. C. in 1933. Harold Kellock seemed very bitter because the Russian Embassy had dropped him. Baker stated that Kellock was not a Communist Party member. He said that Katherine Kellock was a close friend of Jessica Smith, wife of John Abt.

The New York Office has requested Bureau authority to interview Harold and Katherine Kellock. (See suggestions below).

Baker stated that he cannot recall having been at Accokeek over July 4, 1937, or at any time when Ralph de Sola and Helen Winner were both there. He said he cannot recall having met Alger Hiss at Accokeek or anywhere else.

Baker advised that he did not know any one described by de Sola as an inventor of a multi-lens aerial camera but he said he does know that Charles Collier and his wife, Nina, were well acquainted with Sally Ringe and Lenore Thomas, and had visited them at Accokeek. He said that Charles Collier had invented some sort of an aerial camera but it was never written up in "Life" magazine or any other magazine. He advised that Nina Collier had a parallel job to Sally Ringe in the WPA. The New York Office has requested authority for the Washington Field Office to interview Charles and Nina Collier. (See suggestions below).

Baker stated that Margaret Valiant, who resides in the Hotel Chelsea, New York City, lived at Accokeek for about a year with Sally Ringe and Lenore Thomas. Baker said the believed that Valiant was a Communist Party member and may still be a member.

The New York Office has requested Bureau authority to interview Margaret Valiant concerning the activities at Accokeek, Maryland. (See suggestions below).

SUGGESTIONS

It is suggested that the authority for interviews with Robert Ware Straus, Harold and Katherine Kellock, Charles and Nina Collier, Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson, and Margaret Valiant be granted in order to possibly verify the presence of Alger Hiss at the July 4, 1937 party at Accokeek, Maryland where known Communist Party members were allegedly present. There is attached hereto a teletype to the New York, Washington Field Office and Baltimore Office granting authority for these interviews.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent Maurice A. Taylor, Washington, D. C., dated January 4, 1949, in the Chambers case, page two. Chambers advised that in 1932, shortly after he entered the underground, he was introduced to an espionage apparatus headed by one Ulrich, alias Walter; that this apparatus was operating within the German Hamburg American Steamship Line. Among the group who operated in this apparatus was one Charlie, a Russian Jew, who was formerly a taxi driver and who was supposed to be related to a high Russian official, probably Molotov.

Further reference is made to a letter from the Miami Office to the New York Office dated February 20, 1949, in the case entitled "George Martin Mink, was., Internal Security - R." According to Paul Crouch, a former prominent member of the Communist Party, Mink had been a Philadelphia taxi driver and claimed to be a relative of Solomon Lozovsky then the head of the Profintern.

If the New York Office has not already done so, a photograph of George Mink should be exhibited to Whittaker Chambers for possible identification. The results of this investigation should be reported under both of the captions as set out above.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent ROBERT F. X. O'KEEFE, New York, February 21, 1949, in which a lead is set out for the Charlotte Office to secure a photograph of JOHN J. MATWIN, 122 Rhett Street, Greenville, South Carolina. Considerable investigation has been conducted in this case and in the case entitled "UNKNOWN SUBJECTS; 'Operator 318' and Wife; ESPIONAGE - R," Bureau file 65-57889, in an effort to obtain this photograph. This investigation has included contact with such public sources as newspaper morgues and all civic clubs in Greenville, but no photograph has been located. MATWIN is Vice-President of the Belrug Mills, Inc., of Greenville and does not appear to be active at all socially.

~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

Mr. WILLIAM B. COXE, a commercial photographer, Greenville, South Carolina, who is believed to be entirely reliable, has advised that the Belrug Company plans to put on a local exhibit within the next thirty days under the sponsorship of the Greenville Kiwanis Club. He stated that he has already contacted the President of the Belrug Company with regard to taking photographs of the physical equipment of the plant to be displayed at this exhibit. He stated that he believed he could easily take photographs of the officials of the plant including that of MATWIN without arousing any suspicion whatsoever. He plans to take photographs at the Belrug Company at the first opportunity, and it is anticipated that a photograph of MATWIN will therefore be available in the near future.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent John J. O'Toole, Jr. dated January 12, 1949 at Albany, New York in the above-captioned matter, a copy of which was furnished you as an enclosure to my memorandum dated January 31, 1949.

Your particular attention is invited to the information contained on pages 20 through 22 of this report with reference to the circumstances surrounding the execution of a search warrant at the residence of Felix August Inslerman at Cambridge, New York on January 8, 1949. You will note that Mr. and Mrs. Felix Inslerman and their Attorney, Louis Bender of New York City, were extremely uncooperative with the agents who were attempting to execute the search warrant on that date.

Your further attention is invited to Title 18, U. S. Code, Section 2231, (formerly Sections 121, 253, 254 and 628, Title 18, U. S. Code), which provides as follows:

> "(a) Whoever forcibly assaults, resists, opposes, prevents, impedes, intimidates, or interferes with any person authorized to serve or execute search warrants or to make searches and seizures while engaged in the performance of his duties with regard thereto or on account of the performance of such duties, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than three years, or both; and > (b) Whoever, in committing any act in violation of this section, uses any deadly or dangerous weapon, shall be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than ten years, or both."

The Department's opinion is solicited as to whether or not the resistance displayed by the Inslermans and their Attorney constitutes a violation of the above statute.

Letter from the Director to the SAC, Washington Field Office dated December 13, 1948.

DETAILS: AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

RE: ALGER HISS

Referenced letter instructed that a check be made to determine the personnel and names of persons departmentalwise who were associated with ALGER HISS and that these persons be interviewed along the line heretofore followed in this investigation.

The personnel files of the Department of Agriculture, the Department of Justice and the Department of State were reviewed to verify the tenure of ALGER HISS' employment with the United States Government and for such other information pertinent to this investigation.

BACKGROUND

ALGER HISS was born in Baltimore, Maryland on November 11, 1904. His mother's name is Mrs. CHARLES A. HISS who in 1947 was residing at 5304 Spring Lakeway, Baltimore, Maryland. His brother, DONALD HISS, and his wife, CATHERINE, live at 3030 Que Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

ALGER HISS received his preparatory education in the Baltimore public schools and the Powder Plant Academy, Duxbury, Massachusetts. He attended Baltimore City College and from 1922 through 1926 he was at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland, where he received a B. A. Degree and was a Phi Beta Kappa. He attended Harvard University Law School from 1926 through 1929, receiving an Ll. B. Degree. HISS is a member of both the Massachusetts and New York Bar and admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court.

On December 11, 1929, ALGER HISS was married to PRISCILLA HOBSON in Washington, D. C. Her former husband was FRANCIS THAYER HOBSON of New York City. PRISCILLA was formerly employed by the Library of Congress. ALGER HISS has a stepson, TIMOTHY HOBSON, and a son, ANTHONY, born August 5, 1941.

From 1929 through 1930, ALGER HISS was secretary and law clerk to United States Supreme Court Justice HOLMES. Previous employment of ALGER HISS was also listed as being with Choate, Hall and Stewart, attorneys, 30 State Street, Boston, Massachusetts, from 1930 to 1932. He was also employed by Cotton, Franklin, Wright and Gordon, attorneys, 63 Wall Street, New York City from April 1932 until May 1933.

ALGER HISS' employment with the Federal Government began on May 12, 1933, when he was appointed Principal Attorney in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. On March 22, 1934, this assignment was terminated and on that date HISS was appointed Special Attorney for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, which assignment terminated on June 21, 1934. On June 22, 1934, this appointment was extended to July 21, 1934. From August 1934 through August 1935, he was designated as Legal Assistant to the Special Senate Committee Investigating the Munitions Industry. During this period, he was on assignment to the committee from the Department of Agriculture.

In a letter of resignation dated March 2, 1935, ALGER HISS resigned from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to be effective April 4, 1935. The resignation was accepted on April 13, 1935. ALGER HISS' residence address at that time was given as 2831 28th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

SETH THOMAS, Solicitor, transmitted ALGER HISS' letter of resignation to the Secretary of Agriculture with approval. The resignation bore the notation - "O. K.", followed by the initials - "H.A.W.". These initials were identified to be those of HENRY A. WALLACE by Mrs. MARIE ELLIS, secretary in the Investigations Office of the Department of Agriculture. The personnel file listed JEROME FRANK as ALGER HISS' immediate superior.

ALGER HISS was appointed Special Attorney in the Solicitor General's Office of the Department of Justice, where he served from August 15, 1935, to August 31, 1936. While employed in the Solicitor General's Office of the Department of Justice, STANLEY REED was Solicitor General.

On September 1, 1936, ALGER HISS was appointed Assistant to FRANCIS B. SAYRE, Assistant Secretary of State, charged with economic, financial, tariff, and general trade questions.

WFO - 74-94

The State Department Register for 1937 lists ALGER HISS as Assistant to FRANCIS B. SAYRE. The State Department Register for the years 1939 and 1940, lists ALGER HISS as Assistant to STANLEY K. HORNBECK, Advisor on Political Relations at the State Department. In the 1942 Register of the State Department, ALGER HISS continues as Assistant to STANLEY K. HORNBECK, Advisor on Political Relations. The August 1, 1944, Directory of Organizations, Department of State, shows ALGER HISS as Assistant to EDWIN C. WILSON, Director of the Office of Special Political Affairs.

The biographical section of the State Department Register dated January 15, 1944, furnished the additional assignments of ALGER HISS:

> On November 1, 1944, he was appointed Executive Secretary of the Dumbarton Oaks Conversations on International Organizations.
> On September 16, 1944, ALGER HISS is shown as Deputy Director of the Office of Special Political Affairs.
> On March 19, 1945, he is listed as Director of the Office of Special Political Affairs.
> On July 1, 1945, he was appointed Secretary General of the United Nations Conference on International Organization.
> Thereafter he served the Department of State on United Nations matters.
> He resigned from the Department of State in January 1947 and became affiliated with Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

The records of Selective Service Board No. 1, Washington, D. C., show that ALGER HISS was assigned Order 11, Serial No. 3048, and classified as 4-A. The Selective Service records also contain the following information:

For four years prior to September 1939, ALGER HISS served as Assistant to the Assistant Secretary of State, then as Assistant to Dr.

STANLEY K. HORNBECK, Advisor on Political Relations, State Department. Dr. HORNBECK is charged with the relations with foreign countries, particularly Japan and China, and that ALGER HISS reads all important papers which come into STANLEY HORNBECK's office and participates in conferences with other agencies, particularly regarding trade.

The records of the Selective Service Board also contain a request for deferment for ALGER HISS dated November 15, 1940, which stated that HISS had been designated by the Secretary of State as the Legal Advisor to the Department to consider legal questions which arose in connection with the trade agreements program of the United States Government. In this connection, his duties included consultations with officers of the Department's Division of Commercial Treaties and Agreements on legal questions and liaison with the Department of Justice in regard to current litigation regarding trade agreements; also at the request of the Secretary of State, ALGER HISS from time to time attended meetings of the Executive Committee on commercial policy.

There is an additional communication in the records of the Board dated May 16, 1941, signed by EDWARD YARDLEY, Director of Personnel at the State Department, asking for ALGER HISS' continued deferment for the reason that ALGER HISS was still employed as Assistant to Dr. STANLEY K. HORNBECK, Advisor on Political Relations.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

On January 24, 1949, Dr. CHARLES F. SARLE, Room 3028, South Building, Department of Agriculture, advised Special Agent THOMAS C. RAINE that he was acquainted with ALGER HISS when he was with the Department of Agriculture, but knew him only in relation to official matters. He had been in personal contact with ALGER HISS on several occasions. He had never visited with HISS socially and had never received any communications from Mr. HISS and could furnish no information regarding ALGER HISS' associations, philosophies or beliefs. He particularly knew of no associates of ALGER HISS other than those in the immediate department.

On January 14, 1949, MELVILLE F. MILBY, Room 1332, South Building, Department of Agriculture, advised Special Agent THOMAS C. RAINE that he was employed in the Department of Agriculture during the same period that Mr. HISS was there and that for a period of at least a year, he shared an office with ALGER HISS and they worked from each other's desks continuously.

MILBY considered HISS to be one of the finest and most loyal employees of the government he had ever known and he recalls no act or any statement whatsoever which would substantiate the allegations which had been made from time to time concerning ALGER HISS. He related that he visited ALGER HISS' home in Georgetown on occasions briefly to deliver papers there for him in connection with their work. He never met anybody at the ALGER HISS residence on these occasions.

He could furnish no information regarding ALGER HISS' alleged relations with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or other individuals mentioned by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and does not recall ever meeting any of ALGER HISS' friends outside of their mutual co-employees at the Department of Agriculture.

MILBY could furnish no pertinent information, but stated he still believes ALGER HISS to be a high-minded and loyal citizen, that any allegations as to ALGER HISS's Communist Party affiliations and associations are unrealistic to him and difficult to understand. During the period of his close association with ALGER HISS at the Department of Agriculture, he never noted any indication that ALGER HISS was anything but a loyal American and that ALGER HISS should have been a member of a Communist group was fantastic.

On January 26, 1949, ALVA G. NYE, Room 5422, Interstate Commerce Commission, advised Special Agent THOMAS C. RAINE that he was employed at the Department of Agriculture during the same period that ALGER HISS was likewise employed by that department, but that he had no personal contact with ALGER HISS during that period, that he has never been in communication with ALGER HISS. He was not acquainted with any of ALGER HISS' associates other then those at the department. While he worked on the same general subject matter, NYE advised he was a Hearing Officer and traveled frequently in this connection.

He advised that ALGER HISS while at the department was closely associated with JOHN ABT, NATHAN WITT and LEE PRESSMAN, but was unable to advise the extent of this association other then that these persons were all engaged in working on the same subject matter. NYE could furnish no further pertinent information.

On January 13, 1939, W. CARROLL HUNTER in the Solicitor's Office of the Department of Interior, advised Special Agent THOMAS C. RAINE, that he was with the Department of Agriculture during the same period ALGER HISS was employed there, but that he had never associated with him or communicated with him and that their positions in the department did not place them in contact with one other.

He was unable to furnish any information regarding ALGER HISS' associations and could furnish no other information pertinent to this investigation.

FRANCIS M. SHEA, attorney, Room 501 Hibbs Building, 723 15th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., was interviewed by Special Agent JAMES J. CANAVAN on January 24, 1949.

Mr. SHEA advised that he had formerly been employed by the Agriculture Department with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as an attorney during the period when ALGER HISS was also employed there. Mr. SHEA appeared to be quite reticent in discussing this matter, and stated that he never knew of any association between ALGER HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS by that or any other name.

He also could supply no information which would indicate that HISS or his wife, PRISCILLA, had on any occasion furnished official material to CHAMBERS or any other unauthorized person. Mr. SHEA claimed that he had never visited HISS at his home and knew nothing of his possessing a typewriter. He also stated that he had never received any correspondence or other material from HISS which could possibly have been typed on this machine.

ROBERT K. McCONNAUGHEY, Commissioner, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., was interviewed by Special Agent JAMES J. CANAVAN on January 24, 1949.

Mr. McCONNAUGHEY advised that he had formerly been employed at the Department of Agriculture in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration during the period when ALGER HISS was also employed there. He went on to state that he had known HISS while a fellow student at Harvard Law School and that during the first year of his attendance at that institution, he had been a member of the same eating club as HISS and in view of that, had numerous contacts with him.

He went on to state that he did not see or hear from ALGER HISS again after leaving Law School until the fall of 1933. He stated that at the time he was on a vacation in Canada and upon returning to the place where he was staying, he received a message that ALGER HISS had called him, and upon subsequent contact, learned that HISS desired him to come to Washington to accept employment with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

Mr. McCONNAUGHEY went on to state that at the time he was engaged in the practice of law and therefore, at Mr. HISS' request, wound up his affairs and in January 1934 entered on duty as Assistant Chief in the section of which ALGER HISS was then chief. At this point, Mr. McCONNAUGHEY volunteered the information to the effect that contrary to allegations which have been made that HISS attempted to fill positions in his section with individuals who possessed Communist tendencies, he believed that Mr. HISS was attempting to fill these positions with people whom he knew as fellow students in Law School and whom he believed to be competent and fitted for the work in view of their good records at school.

Mr. McCONNAUGHEY also stated that shortly after he entered on duty, HISS went up on the Hill on loan to some committee and that he took over the duties of Chief of the section. He further stated that actually HISS never came back to work with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and eventually arranged it so that he, McCONNAUGHEY, would take over as Chief of the section and as a result, he did not have many contacts with HISS outside the office. To the best of his recollection, he had visited the HISS home on two occasions in 1937 or 1938. Mr. McCONNAUGHEY could not recall ever having heard HISS mention the name of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS by that or any of his aliases and he knew of no incidents which would indicate that HISS had associated with CHAMBERS. Mr. McCONNAUGHEY also advised that he has not seen HISS recently, but up until 1942, saw him occasionally, possibly once or twice a year for lunch, but has no correspondence from HISS.

Mr. McCONNAUGHEY concluded by stating that so far as he knew, HISS had never given any indication of Communist tendencies during the period of his association with him.

PREW SAVOY, attorney, 1200 18th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., advised Special Agent THOMAS C. RAINE on January 14, 1949, that early in 1933 he applied for a position with the Department of Agriculture through JEROME FRANK and was advised by FRANK that if ALGER HISS and LEE PRESSMAN approved, he could have the job. In July 1933, they approved such appointment. From August 15, 1933 until January 1, 1937, he, SAVOY, was in close contact with ALGER HISS socially and otherwise.

He related that the work at the Agriculture Department was divded into three main classifications; that each of the aforementioned three was in charge of one particular phase of the work. He related that he worked with HISS and PRESSMAN every day from 8:00 A. M. until Midnight for the years 1933-34 and 1935, practically speaking. On January 6, 1936, the Agricultural Act was declared unconstitutional and this close relationship ceased.

SAVOY, when working on his particular phase when policy was involved, had ALGER HISS review his work. He related that he became very fond of ALGER HISS and no doubt visited him at his home or at the home of others on thirty or forty occasions. It wasn't until 1945 that he again saw HISS to speak to him for any length of time and this was on an occasion when HISS was going to New York for the United Nations on a special train.

He stated that when the House Committee on Un-American Activities first began their inquiry and ALGER HISS' name appeared in the newspapers, he wrote HISS a letter offering to aid him in any way possible. He produced for the writer a reply from HISS dated August 31, 1948, which merely thanked Mr. SAVOY for his offer of assistance written on August 17, 1948. This communication by HISS was dated August 31, 1948, and was written on stationery of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Mr. SAVOY also produced for the writer a communication of August 21, 1948, addressed to him on the stationery of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace signed by Mr. E. B. SAYRE, in which SAYRE acknowledged for Mr. HISS Mr. SAVOY's offer of August 17, 1948. Mr. SAVOY furnished the above two mentioned communications to the writer and they were submitted to the Federal Bureau of Investigation Laboratory by letter of January 17, 1949 for appropriate examination. These two communications were returned to Mr. SAVOY on January 17, 1949.

Mr. SAVOY further related that his father-in-law, the former Senator and former Governor of Delaware, TOWNSEND, was scheduled to make some speeches in 1945, and that he, SAVOY, and Mr. HISS worked on these speeches together. Subsequently, the speeches were not used and Mr. SAVOY offered to ascertain if this speech material was still available. He stated that if he could locate this material, he would advise of its availability.

SAVOY emphasized that HISS worked extremely long hours in 1933 and 1934 especially and that after HISS went over to the Justice Department, they saw each other infrequently. Mr. SAVOY recalled meeting LARRY DUGGAN. To the best of his recollection, he stated that he met DUGGAN through GARDNER JACKSON while with ALGER HISS, or met him through ALGER HISS in connection with a visit to the residence of GARDNER JACKSON. He believed that the meeting was in connection with an Industrial School of some type in the South.

Mr. SAVOY recalled ALGER HISS' car which has received considerable publicity but doesn't recall ever seeing a typewriter in ALGER HISS' home, although he had been in his home thirty or forty times. SAVOY pointed out that during this period, LEE PRESSMAN, ALGER HISS and himself in a professional way and for professional reasons, met at JEROME FRANKS' home once a week to discuss policy in connection with the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. SAVOY pointed out that he was shocked when he read of the charges made against ALGER HISS and stated that if Mr. HISS is guilty of the charges that he, SAVOY, will lose completely his ability to judge an individual. He stated that he recalled nothing whatsoever during the time he knew Mr. HISS so intimately which would indicate a philosophy of Communism and stated that it was generally true in those days that if an individual wanted to get anywhere in the Government, it was customary to be slightly pro-Soviet and this can be stated about every one who held a fairly good position in the Government. It was the popular thing to do, Mr. SAVOY stated. He himself was considered to be a conservative.

Mr. SAVOY stated that he had never met WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or any individuals mentioned by CHAMBERS as active in Communist work.

In conclusion, Mr. SAVOY pointed out that since the charges have been made against Mr. HISS he has thought of the matter a great deal in an attempt to recall anything which would substantiate such charges but he has been unable to recall a single incident which would reflect adversely upon the loyalty of ALGER HISS to this country.

EUGENE F. BOGAN, Principal Attorney, Chief Consultant's Office, Internal Revenue Department, Room 5237, Washington, D. C., advised Special Agent JOSEPH E. KELLER that he was formerly employed by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration from August 1933 until June 1935. BOGAN was an attorney assigned to the Tax Section of Agricultural Adjustment Administration. He stated that he first became acquainted with ALGER HISS in August 1933, advising that for a short period, HISS supervised the Tax Section of Agricultural Adjustment Administration and that BOGAN did report to HISS. He stated that his memory was not too clear as to HISS' employment capacity at Agricultural Adjustment Administration but that he felt HISS was assigned to the General Counsel's Office and that he had acted in the capacity of an Assistant General Counsel.

BOGAN stated that all of his contacts with HISS were of an employment nature advising that he never had been acquainted with him socially or had any contact away from the office with HISS. BOGAN related that he left Agricultural Adjustment Administration to work with the Department of Internal Revenue in June 1935, and that he believed he last saw HISS in approximately March 1935 at which time he attended a farewell banquet for JEROME FRANK, General Counsel of Agricultural Adjustment Administration which was held at the Kennedy-Warren.

BOGAN advised that he served as Naval Officer in the Pacific during World War II and that his Naval assignment had to do with the administration of the islands which the United States had captured from the Japanese and that on returning to Washington, D. C., during the latter part of 1945 or early 1946, he learned that HISS was at the State Department and that Mr. HISS' job was concerned with post-war future of these Pacific Islands which the United States had captured.

BOGAN stated that he telephoned Mr. HISS and advised him of his knowledge concerning the islands and that he would cooperate in any way with Mr. HISS on whatever aspect which HISS was handling relative to the islands. BOGAN advised that HISS did not visit him personally, but sent an assistant over to see him whose name he believed to be GREEN, first name unknown. BOGAN has had no contact with HISS at all since he left Agricultural Adjustment Administration with the exception of the above-mentioned telephone call. BOGAN stated that while employed at Agricultural Adjustment Administration with ALGER HISS, he was impressed by HISS, advising that he considered HISS to be a man of extraordinary capabilities. In addition, HISS had a very likeable disposition and was well regarded by BOGAN as well as all other employees.

BOGAN advised he had never had occasion to observe HISS pass on to any unauthorized individual any restricted or confidential data. He advised emphatically that he felt that HISS would not under any circumstances do such a thing.

BOGAN advised that he himself had never suspected ALGER HISS of participating in any un-American or disloyal activities. He stated that he has not corresponded with ALGER HISS or was he aware of any associations of ALGER HISS with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or individuals mentioned by CHAMBERS as active in Communist Party work.

ALFRED J. S. WEAVER, Economic Advisor, Chief Counsel's Office, Department of Internal Revenue, advised Special Agent JOSEPH E. KELLER on January 26, 1949, that from March 1933, he commenced working in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and that he first met ALGER HISS in about May, 1933, when HISS started to work for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

WEAVER advised that at first HISS was an attorney for Agricultural Adjustment Administration and that he, WEAVER, as an economist, worked on the wheat program which as he explained, involved itself with the developing of this program by Agricultural Adjustment Administration and that such program was then scrutinized by the legal staff of which Mr. HISS was a member. WEAVER advised that his contacts with HISS existed from early 1933 until early 1934 and that from that time on, he had practically no contact at all with HISS. WEAVER stated that all of his contacts with HISS were limited to office routine and that he had never visited with him socially.

Mr. WEAVER stayed on with Agricultural Adjustment Adjustment Administration until approximately 1936 and in early 1934, he was made chief of the Suger and Rice Section. When this occurred, his contacts with HISS were not direct. WEAVER stated he has not corresponded with HISS and he never had any occasion to notice that HISS made available any classified or restricted information to any unauthorized person.

In conclusion, WEAVER advised that although HISS at Agricultural Adjustment Administration was a "New Dealer" and while still interested in bringing forth the various liberalistic programs as advanced by the late President FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, HISS always took into consideration the effect that such anticipated programs might have on other industries. WEAVER, in other words, advised that HISS "had his feet on the ground".

Mr. WEAVER advised that from what little contact he had with ALGER HISS, he had never suspected HISS of engaging in any activity contrary to the best interests of the government.

RALPH A. GILCHRIST, attorney, Alvord and Alvord, Ring Building, Washington, D. C., advised Special Agent JOSEPH E. KELLER on January 26, 1949, that from September 1933 until November 1934 he was employed by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, assigned to the Processing Tax Division of the General Counsel's Office. GILCHRIST advised that he first met ALGER HISS in September 1933 and that for a time, HISS was handling marketing agreements at Agricultural Adjustment Administration, but that he had also been assigned to the Processing Tax Division of Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

GILCHRIST stated that up until November 1934 when he left Agricultural Adjustment Administration, he had infrequent contact with HISS but that he did, during this period, converse with HISS and that he had become fairly well acquainted with Mr. HISS. GILCHRIST advised that he always had the highest regard for HISS both from the standpoint of patriotism and mental capacity. He advised that HISS was a very likeable type of individual.

He advised further that from November 1934, he had no contact or association with HISS until during 1941 when he, GILCHRIST received a little note of inquiry concerning GILCHRIST's health. GILCHRIST at the time was confined to a sanitarium in North Carolina suffering from tuberculosis.

Mr. GILCHRIST advised that although he had no contact with HISS from 1934 until 1941, HISS had apparently learned from some one about GILCHRIST's ill health and this prompted HISS to write GILCHRIST.

Mr. GILCHRIST advised that the above referred to communication which he received from HISS was not typewritten and was in HISS' own handwriting. Mr. GILCHRIST advised that he had no social contact whatsoever with HISS and that to this day, he cannot believe that HISS made available restricted or classified data to any unauthorized person, as has been alleged and he knew of nothing of the alleged associations of HISS.

WILLIAM V. CROSSWHITE, Room 3738, Justice Department, advised Special Agent THOMAS C. RAINE that he first knew Mr. HISS when he, CROSSWHITE, was employed as an attorney under Mr. HISS in the Department of Agriculture. He related that he, CROSSWHITE, stayed with the Department of Agriculture through 1934 and then went to the Philippine Islands. He knew Mr. HISS only officially and had no social contact whatsoever with him. He hasn't seen Mr. HISS since 1934 and has received no correspondence that he can recall from Mr. HISS.

He stated that when he came to the Justice Department in 1944, he put Mr. HISS' name on his application as a reference and because of this, contacted Mr. HISS to advise him of same. He could not recall ever having met any of Mr. HISS' friends.

He stated that Mr. HISS impressed him at that time as a clean-cut loyal American. He stated that he was shocked to read of the allegations made against HISS in the newspapers and could furnish no further information pertinent to this inquiry.

JOHN PHILIP WENCHEL, attorney, 1625 K Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., was interviewed by Special Agent THOMAS C. RAINE on January 20, 1949.

Mr. WENCHEL related that the Agricultural Adjustment Act was passed in 1933 when he, WENCHEL, was Assistant Solicitor. He related that JEROME FRANK was the General Counsel of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and that SETH THOMAS, now a Circuit Judge, was Solicitor.

JEROME FRANK had hired ALGER HISS, also LEE PRESSMAN and some others. Their titles were Assistant to the General Counsel, so therefore they were directly under JEROME FRANK. Since he, WENCHEL, was the Assistant Solicitor, FRANK reported to him when necessary and he had to pass on various matters.

Mr. WENCHEL related that he knew ALGER HISS pretty well and knew him a lot better than he knew LEE PRESSMAN for instance. He stated further that he was never friendly enough with Mr. HISS to visit him at his home except he recalls going there one night and believed that the reason for this was that he probably rode HISS home and was invited in for a drink. He recalled meeting Mrs. HISS at the time and further recalled that there was no discussion and no comments except the usual greetings on such an occasion. He further related that he recalled on another occasion where he mixed socially with HISS.

He stated that a MARY CONNER MYERS, who presently resides at 1731 Que Street, was an attorney in the Department of Agriculture during that time and that she had a place at Winchester, Virginia. She once held a cocktail party and most of the people in the Department of Agriculture were present including ALGER HISS. He recalled that JOHN ABT's sister, a Mrs. BACHRACH, was also present, and he met her. Her husband was an attorney in the General Counsel's Office at the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. WENCHEL then related that he had been Legal Advisor to Mr. HENRY WALLACE's father and he had also been Legal Advisor to HENRY WALLACE. He recalled that he had been with the Department of Agriculture since 1914 and during the period of time that ALGER HISS and others referred to were active in the Department of Agriculture, he, WENCHEL, was a conservative. He believed that maybe HENRY WALLACE wanted him in the position he was in there because this sort of counteracted the liberal ideas of the aforementioned individuals such as ALGER HISS, LEE PRESSMAN and others.

He then related that he still considers himself to be a conservative but that during the particular years 1933-34 etc. he was more concerned with Socialism than he was with Communism because at that time most people were laughing at JOE STALIN and worrying about ADOLPH HITLER. He stated that he recalled no statements made by Mr. HISS which would indicate in any way that he, HISS, was inclined toward Communism or Fascism for that matter. He related that he had no discussions with Mr. HISS relating to ideological matters, but that he does know that Mr. HISS and some of the others were "liberal". He stated that as a matter of fact, Mr. HISS was very liberal in his views. He explained the term "liberal" as follows:

The Congress had passed the Agricultural Adjustment Act and certain regulations were drawn up by the Department of Agriculture in order to carry out the directives of this act.

He recalled that one particular part of the regulations related to Farm Parity Payments. The general idea was that a farmer with 150 acres after signing certain papers which in substance was an agreement to be cut down to 100 acres and this was a program, the whole idea being to withhold from production a certain percentage of goods so that the price the farmer would get for his produce would be more than if the market was fluttered. An opinion on this Farm Parity Payment was written in the Opinion Section of the Department of Agriculture and passed through the hands of Mr. HISS. He okayed it. The opinion was a little "left" of the regulations, that is, it did not follow the regulation, but tended to circumvent for the benefit of the tenant farmers.

Mr. WENCHEL stated that Mr. HISS was liberal in his views relating to tenant farmers and believed that they should get more for their work on the farm.

Mr. WENCHEL stated that he was shocked and surprised at Mr. HISS' position in the matter and pointed out to Mr. HISS that it was not the law and that he could not approve it. He related that Mr. HISS and the other individuals there were "New Dealers" and spoke a language which he, Mr. WENCHEL, "didn't understand", but as a result of this opinion, it was Mr. WENCHEL's recollection that CHESTER DAVIS called in JEROME FRANK, who had approved the opinion, and accused him of being morally dishonest.

As a direct result, DAVIS fired LEE PRESSMAN and ALGER HISS offered to resign and DAVIS wanted him and so he continued for maybe a few months after that; however, as a result of this opinion, generally the Department was reorganized and a lot of individuals brought in by JEROME FRANK left.

He stated that it has been called to his attention by the attorney and Mr. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS (who has recently called upon Mr. WENCHEL) that the Atlantic Monthly for August 1948 contains an article by GARDNER JACKSON in which GARDNER JACKSON pointed out that he, JACKSON, and ALGER HISS were called before CHESTER DAVIS because of this opinion, but he stated that GARDNER JACKSON was wrong, that actually as he, WENCHEL, related above, DAVIS called in JEROME FRANK.

Mr. WENCHEL emphasized that by his referring to ALGER HISS as a liberal he did not mean to denote that he was liberal at all in a Communist sense or that he was liberal as it is sometimes understood today when people are referred to as liberals. He stated that what it amounted to was that HISS was more on the side of the little man, the tenant farmer, and felt that he was not getting a just share of the reward for his labor.

In conclusion, Mr. WENCHEL stated that he had never received any communications from Mr. HISS, that he did not know whether Mr. HISS had a typewriter and that he has been very much surprised at the allegations which have been made against Mr. HISS. He also stated that he was unaware of HISS' associations with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or any of the individuals mentioned by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as being involved in a Communist Party underground movement operating in Washington, D. C.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

CHARLES A. HORSKY, attorney, Union Trust Building, Washington, D. C., was interviewed by Special Agent THOMAS E. RAINE on January 11, 1949.

He advised that he came to Washington, D. C. on August 1, 1935 and was then employed as an attorney in the Department of Justice. His office in the Department Building was next door to the one occupied by ALGER HISS. He related that he was very closely associated in a business way with ALGER HISS while in the Department, and that this relationship continued until ALGER HISS left the Department of Justice.

On October 2, 1936, HORSKY advised that he was married and immediately thereafter occupied a residence at 1239 30th Street, N. W. The HISSES lived nearby on the same street and as a result thereof, there was frequent social contact existent, particularly between Mrs. HORSKY and Mrs. HISS.

Mr. HORSKY stated he was fully aware of the charges against ALGER HISS and that if true, these charges certainly bordered on treason, but that during his entire association with HISS which was more or less intimate from August 1935 until the end of 1937, he had never noted anything which would indicate or substantiate the disloyalty charges to the slightest degree. He frankly stated that he was supporting ALGER HISS in the matter and might consider actively supporting his defense in the present litigation because he felt from his knowledge of ALGER HISS that the charges against HISS must be erroneous.

He further stated that since 1937 he has more or less kept in touch with ALGER HISS, sometimes directly and sometimes indirectly, through DONALD HISS, his brother, who is associated with HORSKY in the same law firm in Washington, D. C.

He further stated that undoubtedly he had met individuals through HISS and upon his visits at the HISS residence but he does not recall the names of these people. He does not specifically recall ever meeting WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or any individual resembling him. He does not recall meeting any of the individuals mentioned by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as being involved in Communist Party underground activity and further, that he does not know of ALGER HISS' associations with any of these individuals. HORSKY stated he does not recall whether ALGER HISS owned a typewriter, although he frequently visted the HISS home.

Mr. HORSKY made available to the interviewing agent files of his personal correspondence during the pertinent period. These files were thoroughly reviewed with the assistance of Mr. HORSKY. No typewritten communications from ALGER HISS appeared in these files. Mr. HORSKY stated he did not believe he had ever received any typewritten communication from ALGER HISS but tendered his files in order that they might be reviewed.

CHARLES HORSKY was unable to furnish any other information pertinent to this investigation but related in conclusion that he was always curious as to why ALGER HISS left the practice of law for the State Department because he had always considered ALGER HISS to be an excellent and outstanding attorney. He further indicated that his direct contact with ALGER HISS since 1937 has been infrequent.

THOMAS CROWTHER, 1918 18th Street, N. W., advised Special Agent THOMAS C. RAINE, on January 19, 1949, that he had been employed at the Department of Justice as a Messenger during the period that ALGER HISS was an attorney for the Solicitor General's Office, that he knew ALGER HISS while there employed and had occasion to serve him in his capacity as Messenger, but was unacquainted with any of ALGER HISS' associates outside of the Solicitor General's Office and had never contacted anybody or made any deliveries for ALGER HISS outside of the departmental offices. He could furnish no information pertinent to this investigation.

The following interviews were conducted by Special Agent THOMAS C. RAINE:

Miss VIOLA BARTZ, a secretary in the Office of the Solicitor General of the Department of Justice, on January 12, 1949, advised she was with the Justice Department during the time Mr. HISS was employed there, but stated she knew him just during the course of business. She stated she has tried for months to think of anything which would help one way or the other in this case, but has been unable to do so. She stated she was a secretary to Mr. JUSTICE REED at the time; that she has never met any of HISS' friends and all of her contacts with Mr. HISS occurred during the course of ordinary business.

Mrs. KATHLEEN CLEMENTS on January 12, 1949, related she was with the Justice Department at the same time Mr. HISS was there; that she worked in the office next to his but was not assigned to him. She stated that her contacts with him occurred during the course of usual business and that the recent newspaper publicity afforded Mr. HISS has been a complete surprise and shock to her. She related that Mrs. ROSE ROGOW, presently with the Department of Justice, worked for Mr. HISS and has made some comment concerning Mr. HISS to her which she would rather not relate because it would be just hearsay. Mrs. CLEMENTS stated during that time she was a Miss CONNORS.

Mr. LEE A. JACKSON, presently an attorney in the Justice Department, Room 4137, on January 12, 1949, stated he knew Mr. HISS during the usual course of business during the period Mr. HISS was at the Department, and may have attended a party or other gathering but does not recall having done so. He related that Mr. HISS and his clique were working extremely long hours on Agricultural Adjustment Administration litigation, and that he, Mr. JACKSON, worked on other matters not related to those cases. He stated that the whole affair has been a complete surprise and shock to him and he cannot recall anything which would in any way reflect adversely upon the loyalty of Mr. HISS.

He stated he did not recall ever meeting any of Mr. HISS' friends; that Mr. HISS was a Harvard graduate and there was sort of a "Harvard Clique" in the Department which stuck together.

Miss MARY AGNES QUINN, 4707 Connecticut Avenue, N. W. stated she had charge of the Supreme Docket while ALGER HISS was with the Justice Department, but that she just knew him as one of the attorneys and could furnish no information pertaining to this inquiry.

Mr. WARNER W. GARDNER, attorney, Hibbs Building, 15th and H Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., advised that he was an attorney in the Justice Department while Mr. HISS was there and that he got to know Mr. HISS well, both from business association and from social contact on several occasions. He stated that he definitely recalled going to the HISS home on three occasions, but was unable to recall meeting any one or hearing of any individuals present other than Mr. and Mrs. HISS. One occasion was an alumni of the Bryn Mawr Alumni, a college in Pennsylvania which Mr. GARDNER understood PRISCILLA HISS attended.

GARDNER stated that he felt that he knew Mr. HISS as well as you could know a man and he thought very definitely at that time he was not a Communist or anything approaching a Communist. It was stated that he has more or less kept abreast of Mr. HISS' career and occasionally has talked to him.

He recalled that in August 1948, when the House Committee on Un-American Activities began its inquiry which involved Mr. HISS, he wrote a letter to Mr. HISS offering to help him in any way possible, particularly offering to obtain affidavits from his former associates which could be used before the Committee. He stated that he never heard from Mr. HISS, but that as the House Committee proceeding developed he, GARDNER, felt it best to drop the matter.

He stated he had never met Mr. CHAMBERS and does not recall whether or not Mr. HISS had a typewriter. He stated that he had never received any letter or communication from Mr. HISS.

In connection, he related that while at Justice, Mr. HISS worked extremely long hours, and is at the present time being subjected to the greatest frame-up in the history of the world or Mr. HISS, himself, is one of the best actors in the world in concealing his activities if he is guilty of same.

Mrs. ROSE ROGOW, Room 5623, Justice Department, was interviewed on January 25, 1949. She related that she knew Mr. HISS during the time he was employed in the Justice Department and that she was assigned to him as a stenographer. She also had two other individuals from whom she took dictation. She related that she did not know him socially at all and really knew him in an official capacity. She stated that it is hard to believe that Mr. HISS is involved in anything involving Communism. She was unable to furnish any information pertinent to this inquiry.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

The following interviews were conducted by Special Agent PAUL J. TIERNEY:

On January 24, 1949, Mrs. ZOLITA M. KENT, Administrative Assistant and Reviewer, Coordination and Review, Staff of the Secretariat, U. S. State Department, furnished the following information:

Mrs. KENT advised that she first became acquainted with ALGER HISS through her employment in the State Department in the middle of 1939. She further advised that she worked day to day with HISS from 1939 to 1944, at which time HISS was employed as Special Assistant to Mr. STANLEY K. HORNBECK, Advisor on Political Relations. Mrs. KENT advised that during her contacts with HISS, she found him to be an unusually competent, thorough and considerate worker, and one whom she thought was loyal to the United States.

Mrs. KENT added that since allegations have been made against HISS concerning his loyalty to this county, she has given a great deal of thought to the time that she was employed with HISS. Despite this fact, she has been unable to recall any detail or incident which might tend to corroborate the allegations which have been made against him. Mrs. KENT further advised that her contacts with HISS had been confined to their work in the State Department, and added that she had never been in the HISS home.

She further advised that she was unacquainted with any of ALGER HISS' associates outside of the State Department and was unable to furnish any information pertinent to this investigation.

On January 24, 1949, Mr. HARLEY A. NOTTER, Special Assistant to the Director, Office of United Nations Affairs, U. S. State Department, advised that he first had frequent contact with ALGER HISS in approximately May of 1944, when HISS was employed as a Special Assistant by his office (which was then the Office of Special Political Affairs).

According to Mr. NOTTER, HISS later became Deputy Director, and then Director, of that office. He added that he was in contact with HISS from that time until the latter part of 1946, when HISS resigned from the State Department.

Mr. NOTTER stated that during his association with ALGER HISS, which was one solely of a business nature, he had never noticed anything in his attitude or conduct which would tend to corroborate the allegations which have been made against HISS, nor to his knowledge had HISS reflected himself to be sympathetic toward Communism or Russia.

Mr. NOTTER stated that he would like to add in confidence that he never did like HISS personally, having considered him to be too ambitious and always willing to use others to advance himself. Mr. NOTTER advised that he had never been acquainted with ALGER HISS socially and had not known him prior to January of 1942, when HISS was named Special Assistant to Mr. STANLEY K. HORNBECK. He added that his contacts with HISS between 1942 and May of 1944 were most casual. Mr. NOTTER stated he had no information in his possession concerning HISS' activities before that date. He added that he had never been in HISS' home.

On January 24, 1949, Mr. DONALD C. BLAISDELL, Special Assistant, Office of United Nations Affairs, advised that he first knew ALGER HISS at the State Department in 1941, but saw him infrequently until 1944. From that time until HISS' resignation from the State Department, Mr. BLAISDELL was in frequent contact with HISS, especially before the Dumbarton Oaks Conversations and the San Francisco Conference. During this period, Mr. BLAISDELL worked under HISS in the Office of Special Political Affairs (now the Office of United Nations Affairs) on matters pertaining to international security.

Mr. BLAISDELL advised that he had many conversations and discussions with Mr. HISS, both of a personal nature and those affecting State Department policy.

He further advised that there was nothing through these contacts with HISS or through contacts with a third person which would make him believe that HISS was Communistically inclined. He added that there was nothing from his association with HISS which would lead him to believe that HISS was responsible for stealing secrets.

Mr. BLAISDELL advised that he has been in the home of ALGER HISS and that he is acquainted with Mrs. HISS, but that this acquaintanceship was not of a close nature. He advised that he had never seen a typewriter in the HISS home nor had he received any personal typewritten letters from HISS. He added that he had no reason to question the allegiance to the United States of Mrs. HISS from contacts and discussions he had had with her.

On January 24, 1949, Mr. LLEWELLYN E. THOMPSON, Deputy Director, Office of European Affairs, U. S. Department of State, advised that he had never been employed in the same division or department with ALGER HISS, and that although he has had contacts with him since 1939, those contacts were very limited, especially until 1944 and 1945, when he (THOMPSON) was designated as temporary head of the Far Eastern Division of the Department, pertaining to Russia.

Mr. THOMPSON advised that from his association with HISS, he personally found him to be a "high type fellow" and not that kind of individual with whom one might associate disloyalty. He further advised that in any dealings he had with HISS, the latter had never indicated himself to be biased or prejudiced as far as Russia or Communism was concerned. On the contrary, Mr. THOMPSON considered HISS' attitude toward Russia to be "very objective".

He described HISS as a very "lawyer-like" individual. Mr. THOMPSON further advised that his association with HISS was limited to State Department matters, and that he was not acquainted with HISS socially. For this reason, he had never been in the HISS home.

On January 24, 1949, the following information was furnished by Mr. LINCOLN BLOOMFIELD, Assistant Executive Officer, Office of United Nations Affairs, U. S. State Department.

Mr. BLOOMFIELD advised that he first knew ALGER HISS when he (BLOOMFIELD) was named Executive Officer of the Office of Special Political Affairs (now the Office of United Nations Affairs) in May of 1946.

He further advised that his relationship with Mr. HISS from that time until the latter resigned from the State Department was almost entirely that of subordinate and superior, since HISS was Director of that office. Mr. BLOOMFIELD stated that he had absolutely no reason to question ALGER HISS' loyalty to the United States. He explained that since allegations have been made against HISS, he has searched his mind many times "for an answer" but has been unable to arrive at any conclusion. As a superior, he considered HISS to be "tops", very capable, and the type of supervisor who instilled a lot of confidence in his subordinates.

Mr. BLOOMFIELD added that he would be "surprised and disillusioned" if HISS were found guilty of the charges presently against him.

Mr. BLOOMFIELD advised that he was only casually acquainted with Mrs. HISS and knew of nothing which would reflect against her loyalty. Mr. BLOOMFIELD further advised that he has never been in the home of the HISS family, nor had he been acquainted with ALGER HISS prior to May of 1946.

On January 24, 1949, Miss FRANCES H. RAWLINGS, Secretary to Mr. DEAN RUSK, Office of United Nations Affairs, U. S. State Department, advised that she first became acquainted with ALGER HISS in the spring of 1944, when she became his secretary.

According to Miss RAWLINGS, HISS at that time was Special Assistant to the Director of the Office of Special Political Affairs. She remained as his secretary until he resigned from the State Department in approximately January of 1947.

Miss RAWLINGS advised that although during that time her contacts with HISS were practically daily, he had never through his conduct or conversations given her any reason to question his allegiance to the United States. Miss RAWLINGS did not consider herself to be acquainted socially with ALGER HISS, adding that she had been in his home on only one occasion just prior to the Dumbarton Oaks Conference. She added that the purpose of her visit to the HISS home was merely to deliver papers to HISS, who at that time was ill. She added that she was only in a small living room of the HISS home and did not recall noticing any typewriter.

Miss RAWLINGS advised that she had not been acquainted with HISS prior to the spring of 1944. She added that she was only casually acquainted with Mrs. HISS, having spoken to her on numerous occasions over the telephone. She stated that she had no reason to question the loyalty of Mrs. HISS.

RAYMOND E. MURPHY, Assistant in the Office of European Affairs, State Department, Room 2045A, Temporary G Building, advised Special Agent JAMES J. CANAVAN on January 26, 1949, that he recalled being interviewed in 1934 with regard to ALGER HISS, at which time he advised he was not well acquainted with ALGER HISS, but that from hearsay and otherwise he was inclined to classify ALGER HISS as a "Laski Socialist".

He advised that he at this time could furnish no further information concerning ALGER HISS. He was unaware of any of ALGER HISS' associates and could furnish no information pertinent to this investigation.

It is to be noted that RAYMOND E. MURPHY was interviewed by Special Agent M. C. CLEMENTS in February 1942 in connection with a Hatch Act investigation being conducted at that time on ALGER HISS.

DURWARD V. SANDIFER, Room 2213, New State Department Building, Washington, D. C., advised Special Agent JAMES J. CANAVAN on January 25, 1949, that he is presently Deputy Director, United Nations Affairs, Department of State.

He advised that he was acquainted with ALGER HISS due to his association with him during the period when Mr. HISS was assigned to the office of the United Nations Affairs at the State Department. He advised that prior to the Dumbarton Oaks Conference in 1944, he knew of Mr. HISS but had never had any personal or official contact with him.

He advised that during the period of their association, he got to know Mr. HISS quite well, inasmuch as HISS was Director General of the whole international United Nations Conference, while he, SANDIFER, was Director General of the U. S. Delegation. He stated that they worked very closely together and believed that they were in complete understanding. He stated that he always considered HISS as being straightforward and honest and that the allegations made by Mr. CHAMBERS came as a complete shock to him when he read an account of them in the newspapers. He further said that he knew of no association between HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and, as a matter of fact, had never heard of the name of CHAMBERS under that or any of his aliases.

As far as he knew, Mr. SANDIFER could recall no incident which would indicate that either HISS or his wife, PRISCILLA, had turned over to CHAMBERS or any unauthorized person material from State Department files.

He further advised that he could furnish no information concerning the typewriter which Mr. HISS is alleged to have possessed, nor did he recall ever having received any correspondence or other material which could possibly have been typed on this typewriter.

Miss DOROTHY FOSDICK was interviewed by Special Agent JAMES J. CANAVAN on January 25, 1949, at her office, Room 5155, New State Department Building, Washington, D. C.

Miss FOSDICK advised that she had formerly worked with ALGER HISS during the period when he was employed by the State Department and assigned to the office of United Nations Affairs. She stated that she knew him personally only during this period, although she knew of his name as being an employee of the State Department previously.

Miss FOSDICK claimed to be quite surprised at the allegations which have been made against Mr. HISS, and stated that to her he had appeared very conservative in his views, and she considered him a loyal public servant. Miss FOSDICK also maintained that HISS had never given any indication of any Communist tendencies while she was associated with him. However, she recalled that on occasions rumors would circulate through the office to the effect that there was something in HISS' record which would crop up occasionally but that Mr. DEAN ACHESON, who was then Acting Secretary of State, would "go to bat" for him. Miss FOSDICK could not elaborate any further with regard to these alleged rumors, nor could she furnish the source. However, she stated that it was believed by the other employees at the State Department that the questions as to HISS' background would be raised occasionally by some one on the Hill.

Miss FOSDICK claimed that she had no knowledge concerning any association between ALGER HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, nor was she aware that either HISS or his wife, PRISCILLA, had at any time furnished information to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or any unauthorized person. She also advised that she had no information concerning the typewriter which HISS is alleged to have possessed, nor did she recall ever having received from him any correspondence or other material which could have possibly been typed on this typewriter.

JOSEPH C. GREEN, Board of Examiners, Foreign Service, Department of State, Room 1341, Temporary G Building, Washington, D. C., was interviewed by Special Agent JAMES J. CANAVAN on January 26, 1949.

Mr. GREEN advised he has known ALGER HISS since the latter served on the NYE Committee. CORDELL HULL who was then Secretary of State, appointed him as Liaison Representative between the Department of State and the NYE Committee. This was the first association with ALGER HISS and when HISS subsequently became an employee of the State Department, an intimate friendship developed between them.

He recalled ALGER HISS and his wife visiting his home on occasions, but could not recall of any specific visit that he had made at the HISS residence. He related that outside of contacts of a business nature, his relationship with ALGER HISS was limited to occasional luncheons.

Mr. GREEN could not recall ever having heard of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS by that name or any other name prior to the time that the accusations made by him against HISS were made public. He stated he had no knowledge of any association between CHAMBERS and HISS and knew of no association between HISS and the individuals alleged by Chambers to have been involved in a Communist Party underground movement in Washington, D. C. He stated he has studied the pictures of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS which have recently appeared in the press and has tried to recall if he had ever seen this individual before.

Mr. GREEN stated he could remember nothing in his long association with ALGER HISS that would indicate that he was anything but loyal and truthful. He stated that he was aware that HISS was considered by some people to be somewhat "leftist" but stated to him it was not an indication that HISS possessed Communist tendencies since the term "leftist" was loosely applied to many persons.

GREEN recalled having conversation with ALGER HISS on one occasion in late 1946 while he was lunching with HISS at the Metropolitan Club. At that time GREEN had mentioned to HISS that allegations had been made that HISS was a Communist. Whereupon HISS stated he was glad to know what the charges against him were. HISS advised that he had gone to Secretary of State JAMES BYRNES and offered to resign from the State Department, but that Mr. BYRNES told him that he did not want him to resign under fire.

At that time GREEN recalls that HISS indicated that he had planned to resign in any event but did not advise him what his future plans were.

Mr. GREEN also stated he could not recall ever having received correspondence from HISS other than some correspondence from him while in San Francisco, California on United Nations matters. He does not presently have any correspondence of ALGER HISS in his possession.

In conclusion, Mr. GREEN advised that he had never observed anything that would indicate that ALGER HISS or his wife were involved or associated with Communists or was there ever any indication that ALGER HISS did or was capable of turning over confidential government information to any unauthorized individuals.

JOHN D. HICKERSON, Director, Office of European Affairs, Department of State, Washington, D. C., was interviewed by Special Agent JAMES J. CANAVAN on January 26, 1949.

He advised that he knew ALGER HISS for most of the period that he had been employed in the State Department and had a good deal of contact with him during his work with the United Nations Conference. He stated that he had never observed anything with regard to HISS' activities or conversations which aroused his suspicions but that he did hear office gossip indicating that HISS was accused of being a Communist.

Mr. HICKERSON could furnish no information regarding any association between ALGER HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. He knew of no associates of ALGER HISS outside of his immediate State Department contacts and could furnish no information regarding ALGER HISS' tendering of State Department documents to individuals unauthorized to receive them. He further related that in view of the gossip that had come to his attention, there was one situation that had always concerned him about ALGER HISS.

He stated that ALGER HISS was selected to accompany the then Secretary of State EDWARD R. STETTINIUS to the Yalta Conference in view of the fact that some United Nations matters were to be considered. He stated that he could not understand why Byelo-Russia and the Ukraine were admitted to membership in the United Nations. He wondered if ALGER HISS had anything to do with it. He felt that HISS, being an advisor there may have actually tried to influence Presidence ROOSEVELT in that regard, but had no information that he had actually done so. In fairness to ALGER HISS, he stated it must be said that Prime Minister CHURCHILL had also favored admission of those countries to the United Nations and had no reason to believe that ALGER HISS had had any contact with Prime Minister CHURCHILL.

Mr. HICKERSON stated that he never saw ALGER HISS or his wife socially and had never received any personal correspondence from them. He could not recall ever having met Mrs. HISS.

For the information of the New York Office, the Indianapolis Office advised by letter dated January 24, 1949, in the case entitled William Ward Pigman, Security Matter - C, that Mrs. A. L. H. Darragh, 1210 Bergen Street, South Bend, Indiana, advised that she and Pigman's wife, Alice, had attended high school together in Chicago, Illinois, and that both had taken an active part in the Campfire Girls organization and since have kept in contact with each other. She advised that in April, 1939, she was delegated to attend a conference in Washington, D.C., and on April 10, 1939, she was taken to a dinner at the YWCA by William Ward Pigman and his wife. According to her diary, which she has kept for a number of years, a notation was made therein for that date concerning William Ward Pigman, "My - he must be a Communist." She cannot recall specifically the reasons for such a notation, but generally recalled that he had made numerous disparaging remarks about the D.A.R., which at that time was holding its Continental Congress in Washington, D. C. She recalled that he ridiculed anything that had to do with the American democratic form of government.

Mrs. Darragh stated that a guardian of the Campfire Girls group, Ralph E. Moore, 222 North Humphrey Avenue, Oak Park, Illinois, had come to Washington, D. C., the fall of the year and had close contact with Pigman and his wife. She said that Moore had also concluded Pigman was a Communist.

By letter dated January 27, 1949, the Chicago Office advised that Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Moore were travelling throughout the western states and would not return to Oak Park, Illinois, until approximately March 20, 1949.

The Chicago Office should arrange to interview Mr. Ralph E. Moore upon his return to Oak Park, Illinois, for any information he may have concerning William Ward Pigman.

stated she was employed at Social Security until 1945. Miss HARRINGTON stated she had had only an official relationship with RENO and then only indirectly. She stated her only recollection of RENO is that he has a keen mind and is a good worker. She stated she had no knowledge that he had ever associated with any member of the Communist Party. She stated she had seen nothing which would indicate he was acquainted with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or that he would deliver confidential material to an unauthorized person. She stated she did not know he had a brother named FRANKLIN RENO.

Miss HARRINGTON stated RENO had worked with one HIRAM S. PHILIPS at both the Farm Credit Administration and Social Security. She stated it is her impression that Mr. PHILIPS is presently an employee of the Social Security Board.

ROBERT E. REYNOLDS, Civil Service Commission, Temporary Building E, stated he recalled working with PHILIP RENO in 1935 - 1936 at the Farm Credit Administration. He stated he did not become very well acquainted with RENO at that time. He stated he knew RENO had transferred to the Social Security Board in 1936 and had been in Washington until about 1941. REYNOLDS stated he himself did not become active in the United Federal Workers of America union until 1944, but he had heard of RENO's being very active in the Social Security Local, just before RENO left Washington. Mr. REYNOLDS stated he heard RENO was active in the Left Wing group of the United Federal Workers of America and that he had associated with ELEANOR NELSON and MORTON FRIEDMAN. Mr. REYNOLDS stated while he had no specific knowledge that PHILIP RENO was a member of the Communist Party, he would not be surprised to hear that PHILIP was actually a member of the Communist Party. He qualified this by stating his opinion was based particularly on his knowledge of RENO and what he had heard regarding RENO'S union activities. Mr. REYNOLDS stated he had never known PHILIP RENO had a brother named FRANKLIN RENO.

It is to be noted that MORTON FRIEDMAN is the brother of GLADYS FRIEDMAN WEBBINK. It is to be noted further that MORTON FRIEDMAN was dismissed by the War Manpower Commission in about 1945 for alleged Communist Party activities and appealed his case to the Supreme Court where the dismissal was upheld.

JOHN J. CORSON was interviewed by Special Agent F. R. McGINTY and the reporting agent and he advised he is presently Circulation Director for the Washington Post newspaper. He stated he recalled PHILIP RENO as a former fellow employee at the Social Security Board from about 1936 until about 1941. Mr. CORSON advised he also knew PHILIP RENO for several years after he left Washington, D. C. to go to Denver, Colorado. He said he does not recall having seen PHILIP RENO since 1945. Mr. CORSON stated in his opinion PHILIP RENO is a man of absolute loyalty to the United States and he has never seen any activities or heard any comment on the part of PHILIP RENO which would indicate he was a member of the Communist Party. Mr. CORSON stated that many people during the late 1930's were considered liberal and Left of Center but it was not considered unusual. CORSON further mentioned that PHILIP RENO was an active union member of the United Federal Workers of America and it was his recollection that PHILIP had served as President of the Social Security Local. CORSON stated that in his (CORSON'S) position, he had supervision over several employees and therefore it was necessary for him to negotiate with the union regarding various complaints made by the employees. CORSON stated that during the above union negotiations he had always found PHILIP RENO to be a man of above average intelligence, who was a genuine unionist, and a man with whom it was easy to reason. PHILIP RENO, according to Mr. CORSON, could not be classed as radical in any sense of the word. Mr. CORSON stated that should the opportunity arise he would be very pleased to employ PHILIP RENO. He stated he would certainly be surprised to learn that PHILIP RENO had ever been a member of the Communist Party or that RENO had ever given any confidential information to any unauthorized person.

Mr. CORSON stated he had never heard of FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO. Mr. CORSON stated he recalled PHILIP RENO had been a victim of poor health and this situation had depressed him somewhat. Mr. CORSON stated that if PHILIP RENO were ever charged with being a member of the Communist Party or violated any trust, it could, in his opinion, be attributed to his poor physical condition. Mr. CORSON stated he had never heard of PHILIP RENO's ever associating with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

The files of the Washington Field Office reflect that JOHN J. CORSON has been in contact with CHARLES KRAMER, DAVID WAHL, and MAX LOEWENTHAL.

Regarding DAVID WAHL, Confidential Informant [redacted] advised that DAVID WAHL was a member of a Communist Party underground movement operating in Washington, D. C., and that WAHL had admitted to the informant he had been sent from New York to Washington to direct the activities of this group. b2 b7D

Regarding MAX LOEWENTHAL, the files of the Washington Field Office reflect he is a close associate of DAVID WAHL.

Regarding CHARLES KRAMER, Washington T-1 advised KRAMER was involved in a Soviet espionage conspiracy in Washington, D. C. and New York in the early 1940's; that he was a close associate of Communists and pro-Soviet sympathizers, and for a period was a dues paying member of the Communist Party. Further, that KRAMER was a contact of an admitted Soviet Espionage Agent.

By letter dated December 20, 1948 the Denver Office requested the Washington Field Office to locate and interview MARTIN KURASCH who was stated to have been a former fellow employee of PHILIP RENO at the War Labor Board in Denver, Colorado, and later contract administrator with the National Housing Authority, Washington, D. C.

Investigation by the Washington Field Office disclosed that the above person is actually MARTIN KURASCH. The files of the Washington Field Office reflect that KURASCH was investigated in 1942 for being a member of the Washington Committee for Democratic Action. The files further reflect that on August 31, 1942, MID had advised the Bureau it had received information to the effect that KURASCH was an alleged Communist.

The records of the Office of Housing Expediter reflect that KURASCH was furloughed on March 31, 1948.

Re: PHILIP RENO

HELEN F. HARRINGTON, Chief of Policy and Regulations Division of Civilian Air Plants, Civilian Personnel Branch, U. S. Air Force, Pentagon Building, stated she was employed with the Classification Section of the Farm Credit Administration in 1935 and 1936. She stated she was employed under Mr. A. H. ARONSON and when he transferred to the Social Security Board in 1936 she followed in a few weeks. She stated she was employed at Social Security until 1945. Miss HARRINGTON stated she had had only an official relationship with RENO and then only indirectly. She stated her only recollection of RENO is that he has a keen mind and is a good worker. She stated she had no knowledge that he had ever associated with any member of the Communist Party. She stated she had seen nothing which would indicate he was acquainted with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or that he would deliver confidential material to an unauthorized person. She stated she did not know he had a brother named FRANKLIN RENO.

Miss HARRINGTON stated RENO had worked with one HIRAM S. PHILIPS at both the Farm Credit Administration and Social Security. She stated it is her impression that Mr. PHILIPS is presently an employee of the Social Security Board.

ROBERT E. REYNOLDS, Civil Service Commission, Temporary Building E, stated he recalled working with PHILIP RENO in 1935 - 1936 at the Farm Credit Administration. He stated he did not become very well acquainted with RENO at that time. He stated he knew RENO had transferred to the Social Security Board in 1936 and had been in Washington until about 1941. REYNOLDS stated he himself did not become active in the United Federal Workers of America union until 1944, but he had heard of RENO's being very active in the Social Security Local, just before RENO left Washington. Mr. REYNOLDS stated he heard RENO was active in the Left Wing group of the United Federal Workers of America and that he had associated with ELEANOR NELSON and MORTON FRIEDMAN. Mr. REYNOLDS stated while he had no specific knowledge that PHILIP RENO was a member of the Communist Party, he would not be surprised to hear that PHILIP was actually a member of the Communist Party. He qualified this by stating his opinion was based particularly on his knowledge of RENO and what he had heard regarding RENO'S union activities. Mr. REYNOLDS stated he had never known PHILIP RENO had a brother named FRANKLIN RENO.

It is to be noted that MORTON FRIEDMAN is the brother of GLADYS FRIEDMAN WEBBINK. It is to be noted further that MORTON FRIEDMAN was dismissed by the War Manpower Commission in about 1945 for alleged Communist Party activities and appealed his case to the Supreme Court where the dismissal was upheld.

JOHN J. CORSON was interviewed by Special Agent F. R. McGINTY and the reporting agent and he advised he is presently Circulation Director for the Washington Post newspaper. He stated he recalled PHILIP RENO as a former fellow employee at the Social Security Board from about 1936 until about 1941. Mr. CORSON advised he also knew PHILIP RENO for several years after he left Washington, D. C. to go to Denver, Colorado. He said he does not recall having seen PHILIP RENO since 1945. Mr. CORSON stated in his opinion PHILIP RENO is a man of absolute loyalty to the United States and he has never seen any activities or heard any comment on the part of PHILIP RENO which would indicate he was a member of the Communist Party. Mr. CORSON stated that many people during the late 1930's were considered liberal and Left of Center but it was not considered unusual. CORSON further mentioned that PHILIP RENO was an active union member of the United Federal Workers of America and it was his recollection that PHILIP had served as President of the Social Security Local. CORSON stated that in his (CORSON'S) position, he had supervision over several employees and therefore it was necessary for him to negotiate with the union regarding various complaints made by the employees. CORSON stated that during the above union negotiations he had always found PHILIP RENO to be a man of above average intelligence, who was a genuine unionist, and a man with whom it was easy to reason. PHILIP RENO, according to Mr. CORSON, could not be classed as radical in any sense of the word. Mr. CORSON stated that should the opportunity arise he would be very pleased to employ PHILIP RENO. He stated he would certainly be surprised to learn that PHILIP RENO had ever been a member of the Communist Party or that RENO had ever given any confidential information to any unauthorized person.

Mr. CORSON stated he had never heard of FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO. Mr. CORSON stated he recalled PHILIP RENO had been a victim of poor health and this situation had depressed him somewhat. Mr. CORSON stated that if PHILIP RENO were ever charged with being a member of the Communist Party or violated any trust, it could, in his opinion, be attributed to his poor physical condition. Mr. CORSON stated he had never heard of PHILIP RENO's ever associating with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

The files of the Washington Field Office reflect that JOHN J. CORSON has been in contact with CHARLES KRAMER, DAVID WAHL, and MAX LOEWENTHAL.

Regarding DAVID WAHL, Confidential Informant [redacted] advised that DAVID WAHL was a member of a Communist Party underground movement operating in Washington, D. C., and that WAHL had admitted to the informant he had been sent from New York to Washington to direct the activities of this group. b2 b7D

Regarding MAX LOEWENTHAL, the files of the Washington Field Office reflect he is a close associate of DAVID WAHL.

Regarding CHARLES KRAMER, Washington T-1 advised KRAMER was involved in a Soviet espionage conspiracy in Washington, D. C. and New York in the early 1940's; that he was a close associate of Communists and pro-Soviet sympathizers, and for a period was a dues paying member of the Communist Party. Further, that KRAMER was a contact of an admitted Soviet Espionage Agent.

It is to be noted further that the Post Office at Washington, D. C. had been advised on February 1, 1949 that mail for MARTIN KURASCH should be forwarded to 1546 Trinity Street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED DATE 7-14-87 BY SP7 MAC/TAB

On March 2, 1949, BERNARD JAFFE, the attorney who is representing Mrs. HARRY DEXTER WHITE, advised this office that his client's memory has been refreshed and that, to the best of her recollection, the WHITE family spent the summer of 1937 in a rented cottage that was called "Marginal Acres" at Hancock, New Hampshire. This cottage was rented by the WHITES from LOUGHLIN CURRIE, who was the owner at that time.

It will be recalled that LOUGHLIN CURRIE was prominently mentioned in the Gregory Investigation.

It is also to be noted that at the time CHAMBERS originally related the circumstances surrounding his trip with ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS from Washington, D. C. to HARRY WHITE'S summer home in 1937, CHAMBERS recalled that this farm was located north of Peterboro, Connecticut. The city of Hancock, it is noted, is located directly north of Peterboro on Route 202, which is the route CHAMBERS stated he and the HISSES followed on the trip in 1937.

CHAMBERS was informed of the above and he stated that the name Hancock seemed somewhat familiar to him. He related that the WHITE farm at that time was located to the best of his recollection on a secondary road, leading off the main road (202) that went through Hancock, New Hampshire, and probably about four or five miles from the junction of Route 202 and this secondary road. The farm was located on the left-hand side of this secondary road and the property was approached by entering a dirt lane which left the secondary road to the left at an acute angle. At the junction of this lane and the secondary road were second growth woods. The WHITE place could not be seen from this secondary road. CHAMBERS recalled that it was a good size colonial style home and recently built (in 1937). He can recall that it had one large living room that occupied most of the ground floor on the left-hand side of the house as one faced it. He has somewhat of a recollection of the porch in the front which may have had a concrete floor. The living room, which is the only one in which he was in, had a door in front and a door in the rear. He recalled that for some reason, he went into this living room through the rear door.

At 2:30 p.m. today, at the request of Mr. Ray Whearty of the Department, Supervisor F. L. Jones and I conferred with Mr. Whearty and Mr. Fred Strine of the Department. Mr. Whearty explained that McLean, attorney for Hiss, had brought a motion before the Court to secure certain documents in possession of the Government. Included in this motion first was a request for the Baltimore papers, which are those typewritten documents and handwritten items furnished by Chambers. These are in the possession of the Bureau, and Mr. Whearty was advised that they would be furnished to him, since Mr. Whearty had stated that he had agreed to make them available to Mr. McLean for examination. Mr. Whearty stated that the motion of Mr. McLean also called for the production of copies of the pumpkin film. They plan, however, to give him copies only of the material emanating from the State Department as is reflected in the pumpkin film. I advised Mr. Whearty that we would furnish him a complete set of the copies of the pumpkin film.

The question of the classification of the various State Department documents involved in this matter came up, and I advised Mr. Whearty that so far as I knew, the State Department has not furnished us the current classification of these documents. I told him that a report had been received identifying the documents as furnished by Chambers with the original State Department documents. I advised him that this report was being processed in the Bureau, but that he would be immediately furnished a copy thereof. Mr. Whearty indicated that he was going to take up with the State Department the question of the classification now applicable to each of the documents involved in this case. This is information which we have sought since December, 1948, without success.

Mr. Whearty stated that it had also been agreed that there would be made available to Mr. McLean various typewriting specimens which have been identified by the Bureau with the typewritten documents. I advised him that we would turn over to him the various specimens.

I pointed out to Mr. Whearty that there was still pending the question of the development of the latent fingerprints of the typewritten documents as furnished by Chambers. I told him we had taken this up with Mr. Alexander Campbell, but that no final decision had been reached. I further informed him that if the documents were to be processed for latent fingerprints, it should be done before they are given to Mr. McLean. I pointed out to him that it was the opinion of the Technical Laboratory that the development of latent fingerprints was very remote, because so far as it could be ascertained the documents have not been handled by either Hiss or Mrs. Hiss since at least 1938. I told him confidentially that the Bureau has never developed latent fingerprints which had been placed on paper more than 2½ years previously. I also pointed out to him that one process for the development of latent fingerprints on paper would change its texture and would make it impossible to conduct certain document examination. I told him that another process would cause a discoloration of the paper. It was also pointed out that numerous individuals had handled the papers since they were produced by Chambers on November 19, 1948.

No decision as to latent fingerprint examination was made, but in the event Mr. Whearty now turns the documents over to Mr. McLean as attorney for Hiss, it will mean, of course, that they have decided against the latent fingerprint examination. As indicated, both Mr. Campbell and Mr. Whearty have been alerted to the fact that these papers have not been processed for latent fingerprints.

I further advised Mr. Whearty that we desired to know what handling had been given to the documents by the Department from the time they were turned over to the Department on November 29, 1948, until they were returned to the Bureau on December 10, 1948; that we wished to make as a matter of record the custody of the documents. I advised him that we had already worked out the custody so far as it related to the Bureau. Mr. Whearty indicated that Mr. Vincent Russo would prepare this information.

ACTION:

A memorandum is being prepared for the purpose of transmitting the various documents requested by Mr. Whearty. This is being handled by memorandum so as to maintain a written record of what is furnished to the Department and the date thereof.

SUBJECT: JAHAM

Re: ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN

Rebulet February 3, 1949 and Chicago letter to Director, February 23, 1949, copies to Miami, Philadelphia, New York and Washington Field Offices.

ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN, formerly employed by the Railroad Retirement Board, Washington, D. C., from March 16, 1936 to March 26, 1942, at which time he transferred to the Army Air Forces, War Department, as a civilian employee. Information developed by this office reveals that from approximately July, 1941 to March, 1942, SILVERMAN was on non-reimbursable loan to the Division of Monetary Research, U. S. Treasury Department. The Railroad Retirement Board Personnel File of SILVERMAN failed to substantiate this information.

For the information of the Chicago and Miami Offices, it has been requested that a departmentalwise investigation be conducted with regard to ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN and individuals associated with SILVERMAN, during his government employment, be interviewed along lines heretofore following in this investigation.

It has also been brought to the attention of this office that, according to CHAMBERS, during the latter part of December, 1936, or the first part of January, 1937, three Persian rugs were shipped to SILVERMAN in Washington, D. C. from New York City. Thereafter, SILVERMAN delivered one rug to the late HARRY DEXTER WHITE, and subsequently delivered a second rug to ALGER HISS at a prearranged meeting on the outskirts of Washington, D. C. in the vicinity of Maryland University. CHAMBERS advised that SILVERMAN put the rug in his car and drove to the prearranged meeting place, and that he, CHAMBERS, accompanied by ALGER HISS in the latter's automobile, met SILVERMAN where the transfer of the rug from SILVERMAN's car to HISS' car was made.

SILVERMAN has been interviewed on various occasions, and has declined to furnish any information in connection with this case, on advice of counsel.

In the conduct of the following requested interviews, it is suggested that effort should also be made to substantiate the fact that SILVERMAN received three rugs during the first part of January, 1937, and subsequently, transported two of them in his automobile, as alleged by CHAMBERS.

Re report Special Agent DAVID E. TODD dated February 10, 1945, at San Francisco, a copy of which is enclosed for the Charlotte Office.

Page eight of this report and the following pages indicate the results of an interview by agents of the San Francisco Office with C. EASTON ROTHWELL. It is noted that ROTHWELL recalls a meeting held in the Department of State where ROTHWELL was employed in about September 1946, at which meeting ROTHWELL recalls that some unidentified individual told him that ALGER HISS "could be a Communist or even be Communistically inclined".

ROTHWELL recalls few details in connection with this meeting but does recall that one DON RUSSELL was the Assistant Secretary of State in charge of the Office of Special Political Affairs, now known as the Office of United Nations Affairs, and that this meeting was held for the purpose of reorganizing the Office of Special Political Affairs.

Reference report sets out a lead to interview DON RUSSELL and one JOSEPH PENNOCK, both formerly officials of the State Department, Washington, D. C., who were associated with ALGER HISS at the State Department, and who may have further knowledge of this meeting or other information of value to this investigation.

DONALD H. RUSSELL is an attorney who maintains offices in the Colorado Building of Washington, D. C., but who resides at 716 Otis Boulevard, Spartanburg, South Carolina. According to his office, he visits Washington only two or three times a month as the demands of his business require. The Charlotte Office is requested to interview RUSSELL at his home. For the information of the Charlotte Office, RUSSELL's law office has stated that he travels about South Carolina a good deal. A special effort should be made to determine the identity of JOSEPH PENNOCK, mentioned above, and an effort should be made to ascertain whether or not that individual is JOSEPH PANUCH, and the Washington Field Office should be advised of the outcome of the interview. New York origin.

Rebulet February 3, 1949 requesting investigation of ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN.

Investigation of SILVERMAN's employment at the Army Air Forces, Pentagon Building, during the years, 1942 to 1945, denotes that he was a supervisor of the Analysis and Reports Branch, which was directly under the Deputy Chief of Staff Materiel. SILVERMAN's position was such that he was responsible for all statistics and analysis regarding airplane production, modification, deployment and personnel. The Deputy Chief of Staff Materiel at that time was Major General OLIVER ECHOLS and his Executive Officer was General BENNY MEYERS. Interviews of personnel associated with SILVERMAN in this section reflect that General MEYERS may have appointed SILVERMAN to this position.

General ECHOLS, now retired, is presently associated with the Northrop Aviation Company, Hawthorne, California. ~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

The Los Angeles Office is requested to interview General ECHOLS regarding SILVERMAN's employment and associates.

Reference is made to the Baltimore Teletype of 2/2 and Bureau Teletypes of 2/4 & 21/49 relative to the typewriters and cameras which WHITTAKER CHAMBERS has possessed or of which he has knowledge.

With reference to Leica cameras, CHAMBERS on interview has stated that he has knowledge of the following cameras which were used in the places or the incidents mentioned below:

1) 9 Gay Street

It was CHAMBERS' recollection that this was a German Leica. It was also his recollection that the calibration tables on the camera were in German. The other equipment which was maintained at this address, such as the enlarger and the developing tanks, CHAMBERS did not know whether it was of a foreign or domestic make. He stated that he did not know where this equipment came from or what happened to it when the apartment at this address was abandoned.

2) Leica used in connection with the operation at the Electric Boat Company, New London, Connecticut

CHAMBERS thought that this, too, was a German-made Leica. He states that it could have been the same camera used at the Gay Street address, but he does not know definitely. It was his recollection that he received this camera from ULRICH; that it was packed in a suitcase, and included a stand for photographing documents. To the best of his recollection, he returned it to ULRICH.

3) Leica used to photograph documents received from ALGER HISS while latter employed on Nye Committee

CHAMBERS states that he believes this camera was given to him by J. PETERS and "I returned it to him eventually". He thinks that he kept this camera for a period of probably some months. It was, he continued, an American-made Leica, had a stand for photographing documents, and was packed in a small suitcase.

4) Leica used to photograph material received from JULIAN WADLEIGH and WARD PIGMAN

CHAMBERS believes that it is possible that in this instance he used the same camera mentioned above as having been received from J. PETERS. In this connection he has stated, "I either still had this camera or J. Peters gave it back to me". It is his recollection that he returned this camera to PETERS and never saw it again.

5) Leica used in the SPIEGEL apartment, Baltimore, Maryland

CHAMBERS states that Colonel BYKOV supplied him with this camera and, to the best of his recollection, it was American-made. As he has stated previously he gave this camera to DAVID CARPENTER. He states, "I either gave it to him (CARPENTER) or perhaps he got it himself (from the apartment)". CHAMBERS claims that he does not know what happened to this camera after he gave it to CARPENTER. He recalled that there was a stand for photographing documents, developing tanks, and a reel included with this camera and all were packed in a suitcase.

6) Camera used by the unknown subject FELIX

CHAMBERS stated that he does not believe he ever saw the camera used by FELIX for photographing documents. However, he thinks that it was a Leica and he bases this on "Conversation, I suppose". CHAMBERS assumes that FELIX secured his camera from BYKOV inasmuch as it was through the latter that CHAMBERS first met FELIX.

7) Camera used by WILLIAM EDWARD CRANE, wa. KEITH

CHAMBERS stated that this, too, was a Leica and it was his definite impression that it was CRANE'S personal property. CHAMBERS has denied that he ever gave a camera to CRANE or provided him with the necessary funds to purchase one. He states that CRANE had dreams of being a news photographer and used to carry his camera with him almost continuously. It was also CHAMBERS recollection that CRANE had a stand, flash equipment, and a telescopic lens.

The above, CHAMBERS states, represents his entire recollection of the receipt, the use and disposition of all the cameras which he possessed or of which he had knowledge. He adds that he never knew at any time the numbers of any of these cameras and as to their type he could state no more other than that they were Leicas.

Referenced Bureau Teletype of 2/4/49 requests that CHAMBERS be asked to turn over any "35 mm camera" that he has or formerly had for comparison with the "pumpkin" microfilm. In this connection CHAMBERS states that he has never at any time had a "35 mm camera".

With reference to typewriters, Mr. CHAMBERS stated that he possessed or had knowledge of the following:

1) Standard typewriter, make unknown

CHAMBERS stated that this was the first typewriter he ever had and it was given to him by his father. He is unable to recall the make of typewriter, but believes that his father brought it to him from someplace where he worked. He stated that the only thing he could remember concerning this machine was that it was very old and never worked too well.

2) A Remington Portable

CHAMBERS stated that he bought this machine in 1925 and used it for a number of years. It is his recollection that he bought the machine at Macy's in New York City, but he claims that he does not know when or how he disposed of it. He says that his recollection that the machine was purchased in 1925 was based on the fact that he recalls buying it out of the proceeds from the translation of "Bambi", which he did in that year. He states that this, of course, was a new machine.

3) An Apparatus Typewriter

This, too, CHAMBERS believes was a Remington portable. However, he believes that it was an old machine and was not new at the time he first saw it. CHAMBERS states that he got this machine from ULRICH at the time that apparatus disbanded in about 1934. Sometime after his own break from the Communist Party CHAMBERS stated he deliberately left this typewriter on a train or streetcar in order to get rid of it. It was his recollection that he had done this in 1939 or 1940. CHAMBERS said that he usually moved this typewriter around with him during his work.

4) Personal Typewriter

CHAMBERS stated that during the last war his wife bought an old typewriter, make unknown, at Coffman's in Westminister, Maryland. He advised that this machine was still in their possession.

5) Daughter's Typewriter

CHAMBERS stated that he purchased a portable typewriter of a Swiss make for his daughter. He thought that he purchased this at Macy's in New York City at Christmas time of the last year of the war or the subsequent year. This typewriter is still in the possession of his daughter.

Mr. CHAMBERS has made available the following typewritten specimens:

1) A 14 line poem beginning with the words "The Harbor" and ending with the words "less appalling". Mr. CHAMBERS states that he does not know which typewriter was used to type this specimen.

2) A 16 line poem beginning with the words "These barren nights" and ending with the words "prepare the days". CHAMBERS believes that this specimen was typed on his own Remington portable, which was purchased in 1925.

3) A 20 line poem beginning with the words "Come, come away" and ending with the words "you once trespassed". CHAMBERS believes that this specimen was likewise typed on his own Remington portable.

The above three specimens were received from WHITTAKER CHAMBERS on 2/9/49 and have been appropriately identified by him.

4) A carbon copy of a letter dated 2/10/42, addressed "Dear Dr. Sperry;" and concluding with "Sincerely yours, Whittaker Chambers: Associate Editor". CHAMBERS states that this letter was probably typed on some typewriter at "Time" magazine.

5) A typewritten office memorandum of "Time Incorporated" dated 3/20. This begins with the words "Thanks for", continues for four lines, and ends with the words "plagiarized Stalin". As indicated, CHAMBERS believes that this, too, was typed on a machine in the office of "Time Incorporated".

6) A carbon copy of a memorandum dated 2/3 and directed to "Mr. H.H. Luce". It is entitled "For Christianity and Crisis", consists of six lines beginning with the words "Americans have" and ends with the words "the human crisis".

The last three items mentioned above were made available by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS on 2/16/49 and they have been appropriately identified by him. As indicated above, these latter three items were typed on machines available to CHAMBERS at "Time" magazine. They would have been typed, of course, at a date which was subsequent to CHAMBERS break from the Communist Party in 4/38. However, he has submitted them as samples of his typing. Mr. CHAMBERS has stated that he is continuing to search his effects and in the event he is able to provide any additional specimens he will do so.

It is suggested that the Baltimore Office make appropriate arrangements with Mr. CHAMBERS to obtain necessary specimens of the typewriters which he or any member of his family presently have in their possession. The matter of obtaining these specimens was taken up with CHAMBERS at the time he submitted the information previously set forth in this letter, and he stated that he had no objection to the obtaining of specimens from these other typewriters.

A review of Baltimore file #100-95 indicates that Dr. BLUMBERG taught Philosophy at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore from 1930 to 1937. Mrs. CATHERINE GARLAND, formerly secretary to A. MANUEL FOX, Tariff Commission, was interviewed relative to the ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN aspect of instant case. She furnished the following information.

While employed at the Tariff Commission as an economist, SILVERMAN's superior was A. MANUEL FOX who at that time was head of the Economics Division. In 1936 when SILVERMAN left the Tariff Commission to go to the Railroad Retirement Board, he did so on the invitation of a MURRAY LATIMER. SILVERMAN was well regarded at the Tariff Commission and was on excellent terms with FOX.

In 1941 or 1942 A. M. FOX, who then had become a commissioner with the Tariff Commission, was selected by the Treasury Department to represent the United States as a member of the Chinese Stabilization Fund Board. Mrs. GARLAND recalled that the board was made up of representatives from England and China, as well as the United States.

During the time that FOX was in China some sort of disagreement arose between HARRY DEXTER WHITE, who at that time was with the Treasury Department, and FOX. HARRY DEXTER WHITE, it should be noted, at one time served under FOX as an economist with the Tariff Commission and Mrs. GARLAND advised that they had been on excellent terms. In regard to this misunderstanding between WHITE and FOX, GEORGE SILVERMAN made a number of calls on Mrs. FOX, the purpose being to have her transmit certain information to her husband in China. Mrs. FOX did not wish to send this information and shortly thereafter FOX advised that he was returning from China. SILVERMAN invited Mrs. GARLAND to lunch at this time and advised her that he had been to see Mrs. FOX in an effort to have Mrs. FOX transmit certain information to her husband. The reason this information was not to be sent to Mr. FOX through official channels, SILVERMAN had advised, was because it might prove embarrassing to FOX. Mrs. GARLAND stated she had the feeling that SILVERMAN's invitation to lunch was merely for the purpose of advising her of the reason why the information was not submitted through official channels. Mrs. GARLAND stated she had no knowledge of the specific information which SILVERMAN desired Mrs. FOX to transmit to her husband.

Upon FOX's return from China, Mrs. GARLAND mentioned SILVERMAN to Mr. FOX at which time FOX became very upset and indicated he did not wish to discuss SILVERMAN. Sometime later FOX returned to China, still as a representative of the Stabilization Fund Boardand after some three weeks in China, FOX was found dead in bed one morning. The time of FOX's death was fixed by Mrs. GARLAND as in June 1942. Mrs. GARLAND stated she had no reason to believe that FOX's death was by unnatural causes but she had always had a feeling that something was wrong. The cause of the death was supposedly heart failure but Mrs. GARLAND stated that FOX had never had any heart trouble to her knowledge and that a year prior to Mrs. FOX's trip to China his physician had pronounced his heart as sound.

Mrs. GARLAND stated that she had no knowledge of what the specific misunderstanding was between WHITE and SILVERMAN on the one hand and Mr. FOX on the other and she could never quite understand why SILVERMAN had had any particular interest in the subject since it was her belief that he was employed at the Railroad Retirement Board at the time. According to Mrs. GARLAND, both Mrs. FOX and Mr. FOX's son, MELVIN JAMES FOX, were very much put out with SILVERMAN and could possibly furnish more details concerning the incident.

Mrs. GARLAND stated that she had been FOX's secretary for some 18 years prior to the time of his death but that his work in connection with the Stabilization Fund Board was taken care of at the Treasury Department where he had been assigned several secretaries to handle his affairs.

The New York Office is requested to interview MELVIN JAMES FOX in regard to the incident related above and also obtain from him all the background information he may have concerning the activities of SILVERMAN and his associates and any other information he may have in regard to subject case.

Mrs. JOSEPH J. COHEN, formerly Mrs. A. MANUEL FOX, should also be interviewed in this matter and the New York Office is requested to arrange for this interview upon her return from Europe.

Reference is made to the report of SA JOSEPH M. KELLY at New York, dated February 8, 1949, which reflects that Mrs. JOSEPH J. COHEN and her husband are touring Europe and are not expected to return to the United States until spring. This report also reflects that MELVIN J. FOX was interviewed in New York at which time he was an associate of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and was questioned concerning the ALGER HISS aspect of instant case.

It was pointed out in referenced teletype that Mr. Ray Theurty of the Criminal Division of the Department of Justice was present at the pre-trial examination and probably had requested a transcript of the proceedings. DURING THE PERIOD OF THESE DISCUSSIONS, IT IS SOLOW-S RECOLLECTION THAT CHAMBERS OBTAINED THE POSITION WITH TIME MAGAZINE. SHORTLY AFTER CHAMBERS WENT WITH TIME, HE RECEIVED A PHONE CALL AT TIME, AND A PARTY ASKED FOR CHAMBERS AND IDENTIFIED HIMSELF AS ISAAC DON LEVINE. SOLOW STATED THIS WAS THE FIRST TIME THAT CHAMBERS KNEW LEVINE WAS AWARE OF HIS IDENTITY, AND SOLOW EXPRESSED THE OPINION THAT IT WAS THE RESULT OF PRIVATE INQUIRY ON LEVINE-S PART OF EX-COMMUNISTS IN NYC. SOLOW SAID THAT AT THIS TIME, HE WAS ABRUPTLY DROPPED FROM THE INTERVIEWS AND HE HAD NO FURTHER DISCUSSIONS WITH CHAMBERS ALTHOUGH HE SAW HIM ON FREQUENT OCCASIONS AT TIME MAGAZINE WHEN SOLOW WAS CONTACTING OTHER PERSONS AT THE MAGAZINE. FROM THIS POINT, SOLOW SAID HE HAD NO IDEA OF WHAT TRANSPIRED INCLUDING LEVINE-S ULTIMATE INTERVIEW WITH A.A. BERLE IN THE STATE DEPT. SOLOW SAID HE WAS ADVISED OF THE FACTS SURROUNDING THE DISCUSSIONS AFTER HE WENT TO WORK FOR TIME MAGAZINE ABOUT FORTY TWO, AT WHICH TIME HE HAD A DISCUSSION WITH CHAMBERS RE THE SUDDEN DISCONTINANCE OF CONFERENCES BETWEEN LEVINE, CHAMBERS AND SOLOW. SOLOW SAID THAT IT WAS HIS HONEST OPINION THE REASON HE WAS DROPPED FROM THE DISCUSSIONS WAS THE FACT THAT HE AND LEVINE WERE BOTH NEWSPAPERMEN AND LEVINE WANTED EXCLUSIVE INFO REGARDING THE FINAL DISPOSITION OF CHAMBERS- STORY TO THE GOV-T. SOLOW SAID THAT IN HIS

END PAGE FOUR

EARLY DISCUSSIONS WITH CHAMBERS FOLLOWING HIS BREAK WITH THE CP, HE RECALLS CHAMBERS MENTIONING TWO NAMES INVOLVED IN THE PRESENT INVESTIGATION THESE WERE JOHN ABT AND LAURENCE DUGGAN. SOLOW STATED CHAMBERS MAY HAVE MENTIONED OTHER NAMES, BUT SOLOW WAS UNABLE TO RECALL THEM EVEN IN VIEW OF HIS ADMISSION THAT HE WAS FOLLOWED THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE INSTANT INVESTIGATION VERY CLOSELY. HE STATED HE REMEMBERS ABT-S NAME BECAUSE SOLOW WAS APPOINTED TO BE AN INVESTIGATOR FOR THE LA FOLLETTE SUBCOMMITTEE ON CIVIL RIGHTS IN THIRTY SIX AND THAT ABT WAS GENERAL COUNSEL FOR THIS COMMITTEE. SOLOW SAID HE SUBSEQUENTLY FOUND OUT THAT IT WAS THRU ABT-S INTERCESSION THAT HE WAS RELEASED FROM THE COMMITTEE AFTER SEVERAL MONTHS BECAUSE OF HIS KNOWN ANTI-COMMUNIST ARTICLES WHICH HE HAD WRITTEN FOR VARIOUS NEWSPAPERS IN NYC. SOLOW SAID THE REASON HE REMEMBERED THE NAME OF DUGGAN WAS BECAUSE DUGGAN, SR. WAS AN INSTRUCTOR AT COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY DURING SOLOW-S ATTENDANCE IN THE EARLY TWENTIES. SOLOW SAID WHEN HE SAW CHAMBERS ORIGINALLY IN THIRTY EIGHT, HE ASKED CHAMBERS ABOUT ABT, AND CHAMBERS TOLD HIM HE WAS ONE OF THE LEADERS OF THE CP UNDERGROUND. SOLOW THEN MADE THE OBSERVATION THAT AT THE TIME LAURENCE DUGGAN COMMITTED SUICIDE IN NYC IN DEC. FORTY EIGHT, THAT HE TELEPHONICALLY ADVISED TIME MAGAZINE THAT THEY MIGHT GET SOME INTERESTING INFO RE DUGGAN FROM HEDDA GUMPERTZ. SOLOW CLAIMS THAT HE CANNOT SPECIFICALLY RECALL WHERE HE HEARD INFO RE GUMPERTZ AND WHO WOULD LINK HER TO THE DEATH OF DUGGAN. IT WAS SOLOW-S RECOLLECTION HE HAD HEARD SOMEPLACE THAT GUMPERTZ OPERATED "A SPY SOCIAL CENTY" SOME PLACE IN PENNSYLVANIA AND THAT DUGGAN HAD EITHER VISITED OR WAS ATTACHED TO THIS "SPY SOCIAL CENTER." SOLOW SAID THAT HE LEARNED WHEN THE

WA AND WFO 7 AND BA 1 PAGE SIX

CORRESPONDENTS CONTACTED HEDDA GUMPERTZ SHE TOLD THEM THAT SHE HAD A SUBPOENA TO APPEAR BEFORE THE FGJ, AND WOULD MAKE NO COMMENT TO NEWSMEN. SOLOW STATED HE ALSO TOLD TIME THAT ANOTHER INDIVIDUAL WHO MAY KNOW SOMETHING OF DUGGAN-S ACTIVITIES WAS GUSTAVO DURAN. DURAN WAS DESCRIBED BY SOLOW AS BEING OF SPANISH ORIGIN AND WAS EMPLOYED BY THE STATE DEPT. OR DIRECTLY BY AMBASSADOR SPRUILLE BRADEN AS CONFIDENTIAL SECRETARY. SOLOW SAID HE HAD HEARD STORIES INDICATING DURAN WAS A COMMUNIST. IT MAY BE NOTED THAT DURAN IS SUBJECT OF A PENDING NY INVESTIGATION ENTITLED GUSTAVO DURAN, ISR. ONLY REASON SOLOW SUGGESTED DURAN-S NAME TO TIME WAS BECAUSE DURAN WORKED FOR STATE DEPT- OR FOR BRADEN - AND WAS BELIEVED TO BE A COMMUNIST. SOLOW WAS QUESTIONED RE HIS TRIP TO WASH, DC IN THIRTY EIGHT WITH LISTON OAK, FORMER COMMUNIST, AND A WOMAN BELIEVED BY SOLOW TO BE A MRS. BLACKWELL. THE PURPOSE OF THIS TRIP SOLOW SAID WAS TO OBTAIN STATE DEPT. INTERCESSION FOR MRS. BLACKWELL-S HUSBAND WHO WAS BEING DETAINED IN SPAIN WHERE HE WAS FIGHTING FOR THE LOYALISTS. SOLOW SAID THAT HE CONTACTED CHAMBERS ON THIS TRIP, BUT COULD NOT RECALL THE CIRCUMSTANCES UNDER WHICH THE CONTACT WAS MADE. SOLOW STATED HE CALLED CHAMBERS HIMSELF AT A NUMBER GIVEN TO HIM BY CHAMBERS TO BE USED FOR ANY EVENTUALITY AND ALSO SOLOW ARRANGED THE MEETING PLACE AT A RESTAURANT HE BELIEVES TO BE HASLINGERS RESTAURANT. THIS RESTAURANT, SOLOW SAID, WAS LOCATED ON THE NEW YORK ROAD TO WASHINGTON

END PAGE SIX

AND IS NOT TO BE CONFUSED WITH THE WASLINGER RESTAURANT NEAR THE PENNSYLVANIA DEPOT IN BALTIMORE. HE STATED THAT THEY DROVE TO BALTIMORE FROM WASHINGTON AND CONTACTED CHAMBERS WITH OAK, BECAUSE IT WAS SOLOW-S DESIRE TO HAVE CHAMBERS MEET SOMEBODY IN A SIMILAR POSITION INSOFAR AS OAK HAD ALSO RECENTLY BROKE WITH THE CP. SOLOW DOES NOT BELIEVE THAT MRS. BLACKWELL WAS PRESENT DURING THE CONVERSATION. IT WAS SOLOW-S RECOLLECTION THAT THE REMARKS MADE DURING THIS CONVERSATION WERE CAREFULLY COUNCHED. HE RECALLS THAT CHAMBERS SAID HE WAS HIGHLY NERVOUS BECAUSE HE HAD BROKEN WITH THE CP AND WAS VERY CAUTIOUS WITH PEOPLE HE CONVERSED WITH. SOLOW EMPHASIZED CHAMBERS GAVE HIM THE IMPRESSION THAT HE WAS DESIROUS OF MEETING PEOPLE FREQUENTLY IF NOTHING ELSE THAN TO SHOW THAT HE WAS ALIVE. IT WAS ALSO STATED BY SOLOW THAT NOTHING OF SIGNIFICANCE THAT HE CAN RECALL TRANSPIRED AT THIS MEETING IN BALTIMORE BETWEEN OAK, CHAMBERS AND HIMSELF. RE ALGER HISS, SOLOW STATED THAT HE COULD NOT RECALL CHAMBERS EVER MAKING ANY REMARKS ABOUT HIM, BUT INDICATED THAT HE HAD HEARD FROM INDEPENDENT SOURCES THAT HISS WAS QUOTE QUEER POLITICALLY UNQUOTE, AND IN VIEW OF THIS, WAS NOT GREATLY SURPRISED WHEN THE PRESENT PROCEEDINGS ORIGINATED INVOLVING HISS AND CHAMBERS. SOLOW COULD OFFER NO INFO OR BACKGROUND RE ACTIVITY OF AGER HISS. RE DURAN. AS BUREAU IS AWARE, DURAN IS AT UNITED NATIONS, NYC . BUREAU AUTHORITY REQUESTED TO INTERVIEW RE KNOWLEDGE INSTANT MATTER.

JAHAM. UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPTS HAVE BEEN MADE TO OBTAIN AUTHENTIC SPECIMENS OF ALGER HISS SIGNATURE AND HANDWRITING IN ORDER TO SHOW CONCLUSIVELY THAT ALGER HISS WROTE Q ONE THROUGH Q FOUR AND SIGNED K FORTY AND K THREE FOUR NAUGHT THROUGH K THREE FOUR TWO. IT WILL BE NECESSARY TO HAVE SOMEONE TESTIFY THAT THEY ACTUALLY OBSERVED HISS WRITE HIS SIGNATURE AND THEN HAVE AN FBI HANDWRITING EXPERT TESTIFY THAT THIS SIGNATURE WAS WRITTEN BY THE SAME INDIVIDUAL WHO WROTE Q ONE THROUGH Q FOUR AND WHO SIGNED K FORTY AND K THREE FOUR NAUGHT THROUGH K THREE FOUR TWO. THE SIGNED STATEMENT OF ALGER HISS DATED DEC FOUR, FORTYEIGHT, AND THE SIGNED FINGERPRINT CARD OF ALGER HISS DATED DEC SIXTEENTH, FORTYEIGHT, WERE EXAMINED BY FBI HANDWRITING EXPERTS. BECAUSE OF THE PERIOD OF TIME THAT HAD ELAPSED BETWEEN THE WRITING OF THESE SIGNATURES AND THE SIGNATURE APPEARING ON K THREE FOUR NAUGHT THROUGH K THREE FOUR TWO, AS WELL AS K FORTY, NO IDENTIFICATION WAS POSSIBLE. THE WFO SHOULD AGAIN REVIEW THE SELECTIVE SERVICE FILE OF ALGER HISS FOR HIS KNOWN SIGNATURE AND HANDWRITING WHICH CAN BE AUTHENTICATED. IF ANY SWORN STATEMENTS ARE CONTAINED IN THIS FILE

Reference is made to Bureau letter to New York dated February 25, 1949 in the captioned matter enclosing a brown envelope addressed to AUGUST J. INSLERMAN, 337 East 34th Street, Apartment 15, New York, New York, bearing the return address of the National City Bank of New York, 55 Wall Street, New York, New York, and its contents, consisting of a passport and various notes written in the Estonian Language.

The Bureau advised that it has been determined that these notes have no bearing on the instant investigation and instructed the New York Office to return this envelope and contents to Mr. FELIX INSLERMAN from whom they were obtained during the course of a search on December 23, 1948.

Since FELIX INSLERMAN resides at Cambridge, New York, which is located within the territory covered by the Albany Office and since the envelope and its contents were seized in the course of a search of the INSLERMAN residence at Cambridge by agents of the Albany Office, it is believed appropriate for agents of the Albany Office to return these articles to INSLERMAN.

Accordingly, the envelope and its contents are being forwarded to the Albany Office by registered mail for return to FELIX INSLERMAN.

K651 A ten-page signed statement dated December 4, 1948 at Baltimore, Maryland, bearing the known signature of ALGER HISS.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

From a study of the ALGER HISS signature appearing on specimen K651, a definite conclusion could not be reached as to whether the person writing that signature wrote the HISS signature on K40 or the HISS signatures appearing on specimens K340 through K342 due to the fact there are variations in the signature K651 from other signatures of HISS which are possibly due to the elapsed time between the writing of K40, K340 through K342 and the signature of HISS appearing on specimen K651. K40 was written in 1933 and K340 through K342 were written in 1936. K651 was written in the latter part of 1948.

Specimen K651 will be returned to the New York Office as soon as arrangements have been made for the completion of the Laboratory's files.

At 2:30 p.m. today, ASAC Belmont, New York, called in and stated that Mr. Donegan had confidentially advised that Adolf Berle, formerly of the State Department, would appear again before the Grand Jury. The Grand Jury were not satisfied with the statements made by Berle, and it will be recalled that Berle's information as received from Chambers was not actually obtained from him until June, 1943, when it was secured from him by a Liaison Agent. Berle, when previously before the Grand Jury, stated he had turned over the information he had received to the Bureau, and when asked on what date, he said sometime after his interview with Chambers. He was not definite. It will be further recalled that he had claimed that he thought he had advised Mr. Tamm of the information furnished by Chambers. Bureau files reflect that Berle's information was actually secured by liaison in June, 1943, the date not being certain. There was no memorandum in the file reflecting that Mr. Tamm received information from Berle. Mr. Tamm was recently asked specifically whether or not he ever received information from Berle which had come from Chambers previously. Mr. Tamm stated no, he could not recall that he had ever received the results of Chambers' consultation from Berle.

Mr. Belmont stated that Mr. Donegan wished to be advised as to the actual facts with reference to the statement relating to Mr. Tamm and the actual receipt of Berle's notes by the Bureau so that he will be aware of the facts when Mr. Berle appears before the Grand Jury.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that the New York Office be authorized to inform Mr. Donegan of the facts as stated above.

Reference is made to memorandum dated February 9, 1949, relating to the fact that the Grand Jury is recalling before it Adolf Berle, formerly of the State Department.

At 2:50 p.m., February 10, 1949, I advised ASAC Belmont, New York, that the facts were that Berle's notes of his conference with Chambers were actually obtained by the Bureau on a date not certain in June, 1943; that there was no memorandum in the file reflecting that Mr. Tamm had ever been furnished any information concerning this matter by Berle. Having in mind the statement of Berle that he thought he had advised Mr. Tamm of the conference, Mr. Tamm was recently asked specifically whether or not Berle had furnished this information related to him by Chambers, and Mr. Tamm stated no, he could not recall any such matter. I also advised Mr. Belmont that we wanted to be certain that Berle did not "pass the buck" to us at this time.

Mr. Belmont stated he would advise Mr. Donegan of this information.

Dear Mr. Nichols: Whittaker Chambers

Do I take it that the material I requested isn't coming?

By the way I understand a guy named Jerry Reilly used to room with Henry Hill Collins in his apartment which Chambers said was used by the spy ring for a time. He may well be Gerald Reilly, who was or is with NLRB and is now-- at any rate -- an ex-Commie. If so, he may know something re Alger.

Cordially,

Victor Lasky

In your absence, ASAC Belmont, New York, called at 12:05 P.M. and advised that the Baltimore Office has located and presently has under surveillance William Rosen who was wanted by the Special Assistant handling this case to appear before the Grand Jury in SDNY. Mr. Belmont stated that the New York Office has discussed the matter of serving a subpoena on Rosen with Special Assistant T. J. Donegan and Mr. Donegan recommended that the Baltimore Field Office get in touch with the United States Attorney in Baltimore and request him to issue a subpoena calling for Rosen's appearance before the Grand Jury in SDNY tomorrow morning. Mr. Donegan further suggested that if the United States Attorney in Baltimore has any questions it should be suggested that he get in touch with Mr. Raymond P. Whearty of the Department.

Mr. Belmont indicated that Mr. Donegan's recommendation in this regard would be followed and that the Baltimore agents would serve the subpoena as soon as it is issued.

PERJURY; ESPIONAGE - R

Reference is made to a conversation between Mr. Ray Thearty and Inspector Howard B. Fletcher of this Bureau on the afternoon of February 28, 1949. Pursuant to a request made by Mr. Thearty, the following material is being delivered on this date to Mr. Thearty by Inspector Fletcher which, it is understood, will be made available to Mr. McLean, attorney for Alger Hiss, for examination:

The original set of the Chambers' documents, previously referred to as Q-1 through Q-69, which Chambers made available at a pre-trial deposition in Baltimore, Maryland, on November 17, 1948.

One photographic set of the "Pumpkin" prints which were developed from the negatives obtained from the House Un-American Activities Committee. These prints have previously been referred to as Grand Jury Exhibits Nos. 47, 48, 49 and 51. Each exhibit pertains to a separate roll of film. You will recall that five rolls of film were recovered by the House Un-American Activities Committee from Chambers and that one roll, when developed, was found to be a complete blank. This roll has been referred to as Grand Jury Exhibit No. 50.

One copy of the report of Special Agent Lambert G. Zander dated February 4, 1949, at Washington, D. C., which pertains to the identification of the Chambers' documents (Q-1 through Q-69) with the State Department documents. With reference to the present classification of these documents at the State Department, your attention is invited to page thirteen of the above report, which states that there was no specific classification for these documents at the time they were received other than the nature of the material, which would classify them as "Strictly Confidential." There is no information available as to the present classification of the State Department documents.

For your information, the documents described as Q-1 through Q-69 refer to sixty-nine separate pages of documents and not sixty-nine documents. The FBI Laboratory has assigned a different "Q" number to each page of each document.

The available originals of the typewriting specimens which have been identified with the typewriting in the Chambers' documents (Q-6 through Q-69) will be made available to you within the very near future. In this connection, some of the typewriting specimens have been returned to those persons from whom they were received and you will be advised as to their current custody.

You will recall that according to Chambers, he, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Alger Hiss, made a trip to the vicinity of Peterborough, New Hampshire, during August, 1937; that enroute they stopped at Thomaston, Connecticut, and at Peterborough, New Hampshire.

In order to assist in the establishment of Hiss' presence in Connecticut and New Hampshire during this period, the Washington Field Office should immediately contact the offices of the larger gasoline companies in order to determine if Alger Hiss or his wife, Priscilla, had a gasoline charge account in 1937 or at any time thereafter. If so, the records may reflect that Hiss purchased gasoline in or near one of the above mentioned towns in Connecticut or New Hampshire during the period of his alleged trip.

This matter should be afforded your immediate attention.

Reference is made to the report of Special Agent John J. Walsh dated February 24, 1949, at Washington, D. C., which reflects information concerning the investigation conducted in the neighborhoods where Alger Hiss formerly resided in Washington, D. C. Inasmuch as no undeveloped leads were set out in this report, it appears necessary that certain leads suggested in the details should be covered if they have not already been covered by your office. These leads are as follows:

On page 9 it is reported that Mr. and Mrs. Hillarth S. Lewis formerly resided at 3201 P Street, N. W.

On Page 10 Mrs. Jack E. Tate advised that Mary Catherine Woodward, presently teaching at Bryn Mawr, is a classmate of Priscilla Hiss and would know her well.

On page 14 it is reported that Mrs. James S. Crowley advised that Priscilla Hiss was a "great friend of Mrs. Ernest I. Lewis."

On page 26 Mrs. Howard Burling, Jr. advised that Priscilla Hiss had been associated with a Mrs. Thomas Gamack, now Mrs. Douglas Durden, and that Mrs. Durden had visited in Priscilla Hiss' home in the spring of 1936.

On page 42 Mrs. T. T. Gillispie B. Smith advised that Mr. Eliot O'Hara, a nationally known painter, was a good friend of Priscilla and Alger Hiss and might be able to furnish information.

As stated above, it is believed that these individuals aforementioned in the report of Agent Walsh should be contacted for any pertinent information they may have concerning Priscilla and Alger Hiss, the Woodstock Typewriter and typewritten specimens, if your office has not already made such investigation.

ALLEGATIONS OF CHAMBERS REGARDING WILLIAM EDWARD CRANE, was., FORMERLY KNOWN AS UNKNOWN SUBJECT KEITH

Whittaker Chambers has advised that one of the photographers in his underground apparatus was known to him as "Keith" which name was a party pseudonym. He stated that "Keith" was connected with Colonel Bykov in New York City and came to Washington in 1937 for a short time to do some photographic work for Chambers in an apartment located in the Northwest Section of the city. He recalled that "Keith" came East from California. Chambers stated that he was introduced to "Keith" by Colonel Bykov. Chambers also advised that in 1935 his then superior "Bill" sent him to San Francisco with a money belt for the use of unknown individuals on the West Coast. He said he registered at the Golden Gate YMCA under the name Lloyd Cantwell and by pre-arrangement was contacted by "Keith" whom he then met under the name "Pete." Subsequently "Keith" introduced him to an elderly man named Volkoff who has since been identified as Isaac Folkoff well known Communist on the West Coast. He stated that Volkoff was connected with the Pan-Pacific Trade Union Secretariat. Chambers said he was not certain whether he delivered the money belt to "Keith" or Volkoff. He said it was his understanding that the Pan-Pacific Trade Union Secretariat was then operating a courier system to Japan and he assumed that the money was for underground purposes. Chambers was not certain as to how much money he carried to the West Coast.

Chambers subsequently advised that he had a vague recollection that "Keith's" real name may have been Crane; that "Keith" was connected with John Loomis Sherman and that Sherman may have brought "Keith" into the apparatus when Sherman was on the West Coast. The San Francisco Office advised that in May, 1945, it was learned through a technical surveillance on the residence of Isaac Folkoff that an inquiry was made of Folkoff as to "whether he knew this fellow Ed Crane or Bill Morgan." Folkoff stated that he had not seen him for two years but that he was "okay." It was further determined that the Ed Crane mentioned by Folkoff was identical with William Edward Crane, a Communist on the West Coast. A photograph of this individual was displayed to Whittaker Chambers on February 1, 1949 and he identified Crane as the individual known to him as "Keith."39

INTERVIEWS WITH WILLIAM EDWARD CRANE

William Edward Crane has been interviewed by the Los Angeles Office intermittantly since February 7, 1949. He has furnished the following information in substaniation of Chambers' allegations.

Crane stated he joined the Communist Party in San Francisco about 1932 and shortly thereafter he was singled out by "Pop" Folkoff (Isaac Folkoff), who took an interest in him and then arranged for him to meet John Loomis Sherman. Upon meeting Sherman, he wanted Crane to drop out of the Party and to do special work for an organization called International Press Correspondence. Crane and Sherman went to Los Angeles where Sherman introduced Crane to an Italian couple who were later connected with Crane and Chambers in New York City. After publishing a newspaper in Los Angeles for three or four months, Sherman said that someone was after him and that he would have to leave. Sherman and Crane went to New York where Sherman introduced Crane to one "Bob," whom Crane has identified from a photograph as Whittaker Chambers. Crane remained in New York a month or so and then returned to San Francisco alone. Sherman followed him a few months later and sailed for the Orient.

FLJ:ofm

After Sherman sailed for the Orient, Crane returned to New York City where he worked for Chambers doing photographic work. Crane recalled making several trips back and forth across the country, but could not recall the dates or reasons for this travel. He recalled meeting Chambers in San Francisco at the YMCA by pre-arrangement at which time Chambers was registered under the name of Cantwell. Crane said that Chambers delivered to him a rubber money belt for safe-keeping, and Crane kept it at home and later delivered it to Chambers in New York City. He recalled that Folkoff was with him and Chambers on one occasion while Chambers was in San Francisco at the time he delivered the money belt, but he was not certain that Folkoff was present when the money belt changed hands. He recalled the amount of money in the belt was at least two thousand dollars.

Crane stated that while in New York City after Sherman had left for the Orient he again met the Italian couple whom he had met in Los Angeles. The Italians had no work to do and to keep them occupied Chambers instructed Crane to teach the Italian's wife photography, which he did. The Italian man was known as "Pete," and had fought in the Spanish Revolution. Crane said that the Italian was not working for the apparatus although he and Chambers had a fixed meeting with the Italian once a month. Crane recalled that he worked with Chambers in New York, Washington, and Baltimore but only recalls doing photographic work in New York and Baltimore. He recalled on one occasion in Baltimore that he photographed Treasury Department and State Department documents every night for a week straight. He did not know the original source of these documents, and stated he has no recollection of ever having met Alger Hiss.

Crane recalled having met a red-haired Russian man named "Pete" (Colonel Bykov) and has recently read that Chambers has identified this Russian as a colonel. He said that Chambers introduced him to this man at a pre-arranged meeting in New York City.

Crane advised that in the Fall of 1937 Chambers told him that their work had fallen into the hands of the Nazis and that everyone seemed to be traitors. It was decided that Crane should return to the West Coast and get out of the work. Chambers told Crane that Sherman was living in southern California and warned him to stay away from Sherman and that everything would be all right. Crane advised that since his return to the West Coast he has had no connection whatever with Soviet espionage.

Crane advised that in about 1932 he met one Margaret Gutelius at a Communist Party meeting in California. In September, 1934, he and this woman lived together in Berkeley, California, as man and wife and they continued living in this manner during 1934 and 1935. He said that he could have had the money belt in his possession while residing with this woman in Berkeley. When Crane returned to New York to work for Chambers and up to the time that he left the work, he lived with Margaret Gutelius, who was then attending Columbia University Medical School. He stated that Gutelius knew that he was connected with some underground work and added that on one occasion she and Crane went with Colonel Bykov and Bykov's wife to a night club. (The Gutelius woman is presently residing in New Orleans, Louisiana, and her married name is Mrs. James Watt.)

Crane advised he received a leica camera from John Loomis Sherman in San Francisco and later gave it to Chambers in New York City. He believes that Chambers later gave the camera to the wife of the Italian to whom Crane gave lessons in photography. He believes this woman may still have this camera. (The identity of this Italian woman has not been established to date.)

Crane stated that Chambers furnished him with money with which to purchase another leica camera in New York City. Crane had this camera until recently when it was obtained from him for examination by the FBI Laboratory. Crane recalls that he did some photographing of documents during one week in the summer of 1937 in an apartment in Washington, D. C. occupied by a girl known to Chambers; and that this girl would be away from the apartment while the photographing was being done.

Crane recalled that Chambers had mentioned some persons in the younger set at the State Department including the names of Alger Hiss, Laurence Duggan, Dean Acheson, Adolph Berle, and also the late Harry Dexter White. He stated that these conversations may have been with Colonel Bykov, and it was his impression that material was to be expected from some of these people or that some of them were considered as possible sources of material. Crane said that he was subsequently suprised to read some of the anti-Soviet statements made by Adolph Berle.

With further reference to Colonel Bykov, Crane advised that he was probably introduced to Colonel Bykov by Chambers and that he, Crane, kept prearranged meetings with Colonel Bykov on the average of once or twice a month. Crane said he never really knew the reason for his contacts with Bykov but on occasions he delivered money from Bykov to Chambers and sometimes when Chambers could not keep meetings with Bykov, Chambers would send Crane.

During the course of the interviews with Crane, a search of his home was made with his consent. However, this search revealed no film or documents pertinent to this case.

ACTION:

The above is being brought to your attention at this time inasmuch as Crane has substantiated to a large extent Chamber's allegations concerning his involvement in Soviet espionage. The interviews with him are continuing and he will undoubtedly be a valuable witness in the case against Alger Hiss because of his knowledge of the apparatus which was handled by Colonel Bykov, of which Alger Hiss allegedly was a part thereof. You will be kept informed of any further pertinent developments as a result of the interviewswith Crane. All leads growing out of the above information furnished by Crane are being given expeditious attention as are all other leads in this case.

We have now reached a point in my testimony where I must testify to certain facts which should be told only to a priest. Therefore, to save embarrassment to myself, and possibly to others, I have attached a general statement of these facts which may be used as a basis for specific questions.

As a special courtesy, I should like to have only one agent present during this interview. For some reason the presence of a second agent makes the ordeal more difficult.

ENCLOSURE

Kisseloff-2935

Alger Hiss's defense obviously intends to press the charge that I have had homosexual relations with certain individuals. With the resumption of pre-trial deposition, it is necessary to face this issue since my answer or refusal to answer certain questions must have a direct bearing on the case. I am for stating the facts. They are as follows:

The cause of separation between my father and my mother, which I have described in my statement, was chiefly due to my father's active homosexualism.

As a boy, I was aware that something peculiar was involved, and I even knew the name of the other participant. But the nature of homosexualism remained secret to me. Nevertheless, I undoubtedly inherited this tendency from my father. It was no doubt further intensified by the domination of our home by my mother, who taught us that sex is an evil.

Yet I did not know what homosexualism meant until I was more thirty years old. Until then, some of my friendships with men were too intense but they were completely innocent. My relations with women were slow to develop, but were normal.

The defense will probably bear down on my relationships with Michael Intrator and Frank Bang.

I. Relations with Intrator. Nothing in this relationship at any time exceeded the strong friendship natural between two men deeply interested in the same political and journalistic experiences.

II. Relations with Frank Bang. No physical relations occured during this friendship. Nevertheless, it was a homosexual relationship. For the first three or four years, this friendship was perfectly innocent, based on common interests in camping, canoeing and outdoor living. But when both of us became involved with the same girl (I shall describe the relationship in the course of my general statement), I became concious that my friendship with Frank Bang was excessive. I am not sure how much he realized. Both of us individually continued to live with various women. One of these subsequently told my wife that "the trouble with Frank is that he is in love with Whittaker". At the time this remark was made, I was seeing Frank Bang very seldom. I presently ceased seeing him altogether. By that time both of us were married and the fathers of children.

When I say this relationship was homosexual, I mean that Frank Bang and I were attracted to each to the exclusion of most of other relationships. It was the kind of exclusive comradeship that often develops in war between soldiers. The manifestations of this relationship are quite obvious to other people - much more so than to the persons involved. Hence the defense may have many people who would charge a much greater degree of relationship than actually existed.

III. Relations with others. In 1933 or 4, a young fellow stopped me on the street in N.Y. and asked me if I could give him a meal and lodgings for the night. I fed him and he told me about his life as a miner's son. I was footloose, so I took him to a hotel to spend the night. There he presently taught me an experience I did not know existed. At the same time, he revealed to me, and unleashed, the hereditary tendency of which I was still unaware. Because it had been repressed so long, it was all the more violent when once set free. For three or four years, I fought a wavering battle against this affliction. Ten years or more ago, with God's help, I absolutely conquered it. This does not mean that I am completely immune to such stimuli. It does mean that my self-control is complete and that for years I have lived a blameless and devoted life as husband and father.

The Hiss forces, of course, will seek to prove that my weakness entered into my relations with Alger Hiss and possibly others. This is completely untrue. At no time, did I have such relations, or ever the thought of such relations with Hiss or with anybody else in the Communist Party or connected with Communist work of any kind. I kept my secret as jealously from my associates in the C. P. as I did from everyone else. I tell it now only because, in this case, I stand for truth. Having testified mercilessly against others, it has become my function to testify mercilessly against myself. I have said before that I am consciously destroying myself. This is not from love of self destruction but because only if we are consciously prepared to destroy ourselves in the struggle can the thing we are fighting be destroyed.

At the Executive Conference on February 28, 1949, attended by Messrs. Tolson, Ladd, Glavin, Tracy, Harbo, Mohr, Carlson, Nichols, N. H. McCabe, Rosen and Fletcher, the Hiss-Chambers case was discussed with reference to a suggestion of Mr. Tom Donegan relating to the testimony to be made concerning the document identification. Mr. Donegan advised that as far as he can determine, there will be at least two and may be three document experts who will testify in this case in behalf of the defense, and if, in fact, such experts do testify in behalf of Hiss, it will mean that their testimony will be in contradiction to the findings which will be made by the Bureau document examiner. Mr. Donegan suggested that perhaps it might be desirable to have more than one Bureau document examiner testify to the findings in this case. The policy in the past has been to have but one Bureau document examiner testify in any given document identification matter.

The Conference was of the unanimous opinion that Mr. Donegan should be informed that it appeared to be undesirable to have more than one Bureau document examiner testify. The defense could assert that there must be some particular reason for such action, that the Bureau was attempting to bolster its own experts, and also cross examination would reveal that it was not until the last minute that the second Bureau document examiner went over the material to reach his findings.

If you agree, the New York Office will be advised in accord with the recommendation of the Conference.

Respectfully,
For the Conference

Reference is made to the attached teletype from the New York Office dated February 21, 1949, which relates to activities on the part of Hiss' attorney to secure the various pertinent documents in this matter for examination by defense experts. It is noted that Hiss' attorney stressed the fact that their efforts to locate the typewriter of Hiss was unsuccessful and that the FBI was searching for it.

At 9:45 a.m. today, Mr. Ray Whearty of the Department called me and stated that last Friday Mr. McLean had indicated that he had a good lead on the typewriter. He also remarked that everywhere that he has gone Bureau Agents had been ahead of him. Mr. Whearty stated his purpose in calling was to find out whether it was a fact that the typewriter had not yet been located. I told him it had not been located.

ACTION: None. For information.

It is requested that the Baltimore Office make inquiry at the Mineral Pigments Company located at Muirik, Maryland, which has been determined to be the only color company located between Washington and Baltimore. This is believed to be a logical lead in view of the fact that ZIMMERMAN'S background reveals that he was employed as a chemist by a color company located between Washington and Baltimore.

It will be recalled that as set out in New York teletype to Washington Field Office dated February 1, 1949, WHITTAKER CHAMBERS has advised that in the latter part of 1934 he began to act as a courier between JAY PETERS in New York and the underground Communist group organized by HAROLD WARE in Washington, D. C., called "Apparatus A". CHAMBERS stated that his duties as a courier were taken over by an unknown subject described only as being a small dark Jewess. CHAMBERS has stated that this Jewess was the secretary of one ANDREE EMEREY who was known to him as a member of the Communist Party and the daughter of a former police official in Hungary. CHAMBERS stated that EMEREY was acquainted with JOHN COLLIER who was then head of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior and that through COLLIER she was able to secure a position in the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Washington. CHAMBERS stated that at about this time, that is, 1934 or 1935, he drove JAY PETERS, ANDREE EMEREY and the unknown subject Jewess from New York City to Washington and that from the conversation on this trip and from JAY PETERS, he learned that the unknown subject Jewess was to operate as a courier as set out above. CHAMBERS stated that he never saw the unknown subject Jewess again but that on one occasion he did visit ANDREE EMEREY in Washington. He recalled that EMEREY at this time was living in an apartment house on Florida Avenue near the intersection of Florida and Connecticut Avenues, Northwest.

ANDREE EMEREY is known to the Bureau, New York and San Francisco Offices as the present Mrs. ROY HUDSON. Both she and her husband are long-time party members and have resided in New York City and Pittsburgh.

Investigation at Washington has reflected that EMEREY was employed as Chief of the Planning Division, Indian Rehabilitation, Office of Indian Affairs, United States Department of Interior from May, 1935 until the latter part of July or the early part of August, 1935. In connection with this employment, EMEREY supervised some fifteen technical employees and thirteen file, clerical, stenographic and drafting employees. As Head of this Planning Division, EMEREY was a P-4 earning $4,600 per annum.

This office has interviewed numerous individuals at the Office of Indian Affairs, United States Department of Interior without effecting an identification in connection with EMEREY's secretary. Investigation conducted by the Washington Field Office has also indicated that EMEREY lived for a short time in 1935 at 2129 Florida Avenue, Northwest, which is a short block from the intersection of Florida and Connecticut Avenues. Present and past residents of this apartment house, as well as the 1935 manager, do not recall EMEREY.

The San Francisco Office, at the request of this office, has interviewed one WALTER WOEHLKE, now Director of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, United States Department of Interior, Sacramento, California. WOEHLKE was named by several individuals as one who would probably recall EMEREY and it is noted that WOEHLKE wrote the plan sheet in which details of EMEREY's position were set out.

WOEHLKE said he recalled EMEREY and that she, one WARD SHEPARD and an unknown woman with the initials "KKK" became embroiled in a love triangle with the result that SHEPARD suffered a nervous breakdown and his wife was admitted to the St. Elizabeth's Hospital. WOEHLKE stated that as far as he could recall, "KKK" was a secretary to SHEPARD. WOEHLKE could not identify the unknown Jewess nor could he give further information.

SHEPARD was interviewed on February 18, 1949. He has stated that he first met ANDREE EMEREY on a ship on which both were returning from Europe in the summer of 1933 or 1934, probably the latter date. He said that he continued his acquaintance with EMEREY and was able to secure for her a position with the Indian Rehabilitation Unit of the Office of Indian Affairs and that this position was made available to her through JOHN COLLIER. According to SHEPARD, COLLIER interviewed her for this position. SHEPARD specifically denied that he had any untoward relations with EMEREY and further advised that he had never employed a secretary whose initials were "KKK". He did recall a girl named KATHRYN KENNEDY EVERETT, a divorcee who was employed in his office for a short time somewhere between 1933 and 1935 and may have been employed throughout those years. SHEPARD also said that he had been told by WOEHLKE sometime around 1940 that KATHRYN KENNEDY EVERETT and a blind dictaphone operator in SHEPARD's office had been vying for his attention. SHEPARD stated that WOEHLKE told him this jocosely and that the matter had escaped his attention until he was told of it by WOEHLKE. SHEPARD advised that he had attached no importance to it and that in his opinion WOEHLKE had regarded the matter lightly. SHEPARD was not advised, of course, that this Bureau had learned of this matter through WOEHLKE.

The Indian Rehabilitation Unit of the United States Department of Interior was first created, according to numerous employees of USDI, by a grant of money and personnel from the United States Department of Agriculture in about 1935. At any rate, very early in the early part of 1935. This organization was discontinued in the Spring of 1936 and reinstituted shortly thereafter with funds made available by the Emergency Relief Program; consequently, there are two sets of personnel and two sets of records involved in the Indian Rehabilitation organization. It is thought that the records reflecting EMEREY's organizational setup are probably with the United States Department of Agriculture but efforts to locate these records at the USDA have thus far met with negative results. Payrolls at the USDI for the pertinent period have been searched but EMEREY's name does not appear thereon. The Fiscal Division of the United States Department of Agriculture has advised that the only copy of Rural Resettlement Administration payrolls are in the General Accounting Office and the USDA is unable to furnish information necessary to locate these records at GAO.

The New York Office has advised by teletype dated February 14, 1949 that JOHN COLLIER, now a New York resident, has been interviewed and does not recall any one named ANDREE EMEREY. COLLIER did recall a woman of "foreign extraction" but recalled no details about her. The New York Office should reinterview JOHN COLLIER in view of the fact that Mr. WARD SHEPARD has stated that he made a recommendation directly to COLLIER that he, COLLIER, hire EMEREY and that SHEPARD also recalled COLLIER interviewed EMEREY. It is suggested that CHAMBERS himself be reinterviewed in connection with information set out in New York teletype dated February 1, 1949 to the effect that "It is possible that there was or had been some personal relationship between him, COLLIER, and Miss EMEREY.

SHEPARD has stated that one DANIEL MURPHY, currently believed to be in Minneapolis, was probably EMEREY's immediate supervisor. Inquiry at the USDI reflects that DANIEL MURPHY is in the Office of the Regional Director, Office of Indian Affairs, USDI, 214 Federal Building, Minneapolis, Minnesota. Mr. C. E. LANSON, Personnel Officer, Office of Indian Affairs, advised that according to his records MURPHY is presently in Sacramento due to the illness of WALTER WOEHLKE.

The St. Paul and the San Francisco Office should immediately check to determine whether MURPHY is in fact now present in Minneapolis or San Francisco and he should be immediately interviewed by either office.

The Washington Field Office will continue to try to establish the identity of the unsub secretary to EMEREY. It is noted that the office which interviews MURPHY should make every effort to identify this unsub secretary and should question MURPHY closely in connection with the disposition of any personnel plans or organizational charts which existed at the time he was connected with Indian Rehabilitation.

Rerep SA CLARK L. LOVRIEN, dated February 8, 1949 at Milwaukee.

On page five of reference report, PIGMAN relates an incident wherein he forwarded to a woman in Moscow, Russia a shipment of household goods and other items at the request of the woman's husband who is a professor acquaintance of PIGMAN's at Leipzig University, Germany. It will be noted that at the time of interview, PIGMAN was anxious that this information be furnished to the FBI, yet he would not let the letter and the license forms out of his possession for the purpose of photostating. By letter dated February 16, 1949, PIGMAN advised this office that he had been unable to make satisfactory arrangements to have these items photostated in Appleton, Wisconsin and offered to come to Milwaukee where this could be done in his presence.

~~DETACHED INCOMING~~

PIGMAN appeared at the Milwaukee Office the morning of February 23, 1949 and in his presence photostatic copies of these documents were made. Upon his own suggestion, PIGMAN wrote his name, date, and a number on the face of each original before it was photostated. He then initialed and dated the negatives of each photostat on the back thereof.

There are being enclosed with the copy of this letter to New York Office the negative photostats and one positive copy from the negative of each of the following documents in the order as numbered by PIGMAN:

1. A letter from Sears Roebuck and Company, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, dated December 7, year not given, and addressed to Dr. WARD PIGMAN, 2006 North Stratford Street, Arlington, Virginia.

2. The reverse side of letter #1.

Investigation by this office reflected that one JOHN R. CARROLL also known as JOHNNY CARROLL, during approximately 1937 and for a few years thereafter, was employed as a clerk and later business manager of the publication "Work" of the Workers Alliance of America with headquarters in Washington, D.C. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS has advised that DAVID VERNON ZIMMERMAN utilized the apartment of a friend in either North East or South East Washington in order to photograph documents which CHAMBERS turned over to ZIMMERMAN. To date, efforts to locate that apartment have been negative. Investigation of CARROLL has reflected that he was an ardent camera enthusiast while employed by the Workers Alliance and it is believed that he actually did photographic work for that organization. It is believed advisable to interview CARROLL and he is believed to reside at 69 Mason Drive, Brookline, Massachusetts. CARROLL while in this area, resided at 4116 Wells Ave., Brentwood, Maryland and 1116 Owens Pl., N.E. He was formerly employed by the L. P. Steuart Oil Burner Distributors at 138 12th St., N.E. He lived for a time at 2109 Cedar St., Mt. Rainier, Maryland. The Boston Office is requested to interrogate CARROLL as to his knowledge of DAVID VERNON ZIMMERMAN, was, and if he has any knowledge of ZIMMERMAN'S photographic activities as alleged by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. Will determine from CARROLL, if not involved in this case, whether or not he has any knowledge of any close associates or friends of ZIMMERMAN who live in the vicinity of Lincoln Park, 11th and East Capitol Sts., Washington, D.C.

A photograph of DAVID VERNON ZIMMERMAN, was, is enclosed for the assistance of the Boston Office in interviewing CARROLL.

Rebulet dated February 3, 1949 requesting investigation of ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN.

Dr. GUSTAVE PECK, formerly employed as special assistant, Labor Advisory Board, N.R.A., advised that SILVERMAN was employed by the Board as a statistician from October, 1933 to June, 1934 at which time, he was dismissed for inefficiency and unsatisfactory services. It is PECK's belief that SILVERMAN may have been recommended for this position by Dr. LEO WOLMAN, former chairman of the Board who is presently located at the National Bureau for Economic Research, Columbus Circle, New York City; further, that SILVERMAN's immediate supervisor was Mr. HOWARD A. MEYERS, now believed to be a practicing attorney in the Boston area and an instructor at Boston University.

The New York and Boston Offices are requested to interview Dr. WOLMAN and Mr. MEYERS in attempts to establish reasons for SILVERMAN's dismissal and any association with individuals as set out in Bureau letter dated December 13, 1948.

At 6:40 p.m., ASAC Belmont called and said they had definitely determined that Mr. Tom Murphy, Chief of the Criminal Division in the U. S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York, together with Mr. Donegan, was going to try the Hiss perjury case. It appears that we were previously advised that there had been some discussion about Mr. Kelley of the Department handling this matter. You will recall that I advised you of the above.

IT WILL ALSO BE RECALLED THAT CHAMBERS HAS A FAIR RECOLLECTION THAT ALGER HISS SIGNED A GUEST REGISTER IN THOMASTON, CONN, ON THIS OCCASION. "SHE STOOPS TO CONQUER" AND THAT INVESTIGATION AT PETERBOROUGH REFLECTED THAT THIS PLAY ACTUALLY WAS PORTRAYED BY THE PETERBOROUGH PLAYERS AT STERN-S FARM DURING THE PERIOD FROM AUGUST TENTH TO AUGUST FIFTEENTH, NINETEEN THIRTY SEVEN. WHILE IN PETERBOROUGH WITH AGENTS OF THIS OFFICE ON FEB TWENTY SECOND, CHAMBERS ALSO RATHER DEFINITELY IDENTIFIED THE BLEAK HOUSE ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF THAT CITY AS BEING THE TOURIST HOME AT WHICH THE HISSES AND HIMSELF RESIDED FOR ONE NIGHT WHILE ON THIS TRIP. IT IS OF COURSE APPRECIATED THAT CHAMBERS WAS UNABLE TO DEFINITELY IDENTIFY THE PARTICULAR HOUSE IN THAMASTON IN WHICH THE HISSES STAYED. HOWEVER, IF THIS TOURIST HOME IN THOMASTON IS LOCATED AND A REGISTER SHOWING THAT ALGER HISS SIGNED SUCH REGISTER USING THE TRUE NAMES OF THE PARTY OR FICTITIOUS ONES, IT WILL DEFINITELY PROVE THAT ALGER HISS SAW WHITTAKER CHAMBERS SUBSEQUENT TO DEC NINETEEN THIRTY SIX, UPON WHICH THE SECOND COUNT IN THE PERJURY INDICTMENT AGAINST HISS IS BASED. IN VIEW OF THE FACT THAT INVESTIGATION TO DATE HAS NOT DEFINITELY PROVED THIS ASSOCIATION IT IS BELIEVED THAT ADDITIONAL INVESTIGATION SHOULD BE CONDUCTED BY THE NEW HAVEN OFFICE. CHAMBERS HAS DESCRIBED THE AREA IN WHICH THIS HOUSE WAS PROBABLY LOCATED AS BEING IN A TRIANGLE BOUNDED BY THE TOWN MAIN STREET /ROUTE TWO NAUGHT TWO/ ON THE WEST., ELM STREET ON THE EAST, AND UNION STREET. IN THIS REGARD CHAMBERS DID NOT RULE OUT THE POSSIBILITY THAT THE HOUSE MAY BE ON THE WEST SIDE OF MAIN STREET. IT WAS ALSO OBSERVED THAT THERE IS A PARKING LOT OPPOSITE THE THOMASTON HOTEL WHICH IS EMBRACED IN THIS TRIANGLE AND THE POSSIBILITY EXISTS THAT DURING THE PERTINENT PERIOD A TOURIST HOME MAY HAVE BEEN LOCATED ON THIS GROUND. THE POSSIBILITY ALSO EXISTS THAT ONE OF THE HOUSES IN THIS AREA MIGHT HAVE BEEN DESTROYED BY FIRE. OR ALTERED SO THAT CHAMBERS COULD NOT RECOGNIZE IT. IT IS, THERFORE, SUGGESTED THAT THE HISTORY OF EVERY HOUSE IN THIS DESCRIBED TRIANGLE DURING THE PERINEENT PERIOD BE ASCERTAINED. IT IS APPRECIATED THAT THIS MAY ENTAIL THE INVESTIGATION OF PROBABLY ONE HUNDRED FIFTY TO TWO HUNDRED HOUSES, HOWEVER, IT IS FELT THAT EVERY ATTEMPT SHOULD BE MADE TO DETERMINE THE LOCATION OF THIS TOURIST HOME.

At 9:30 a.m. today, I talked with ASAC Belmont, New York, with reference to the typewriting specimens in this case. I pointed out to him that the Bureau files reflected that the Landon School letter was in the possession of Mr. Donegan, and that there had been returned to the New York Office another typewriting specimen which had been obtained from an insurance company by subpoena. I asked Mr. Belmont to determine the present whereabouts of these two different specimens.

Mr. Belmont called back at 10:20 a.m. and stated that Mr. Donegan still has the Landon School material, and the New York Office still has in its possession the typewriting specimen secured from the insurance company under subpoena. I told Mr. Belmont we would advise Mr. Whearty of the location of these two specimens.

The Washington Field Division has been instructed to determine the personnel who were associated, departmentalwise, with ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN and to interview each person along the lines suggested in this letter.

~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

The Chicago Office by letter dated February 23, 1949, furnished the names of persons who were employed with ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN at the Railroad Retirement Board, Washington, D. C. Among those listed was RUTH WARNKE, an Economist who was employed by the Railroad Retirement Board on August 22, 1938. She served in the Research and Information Service which was headed by SILVERMAN. WARNKE transferred from the Railroad Retirement Board to the Office of Price Administration on May 6, 1942.

In July of 1942, RUTH WARNKE married JULES YANOVER, w.a.s. JULIUS YANOFF and JULIUS HANOVER, who was active from March 1941, to February 1943 in Washington, D. C., as proprietor of the Washington Bookshop. Mr. and Mrs. YANOVER were last known to reside at 1302 North Linwood Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland.

In early 1942 this office conducted a Hatch Act Investigation concerning RUTH ELIZABETH WARNKE. For your information this investigation reflected that WARNKE was then employed as an Economist in the Research and Information Service, Railroad Retirement Board; that the Special Committee on Un-American Activities, House of Representatives listed RUTH E. WARNKE as a member of the Washington Committee for Democratic Action; that a highly confidential source of information revealed that WARNKE's name appeared in the active indices of the Washington Committee for Democratic Action and an informant advised that for a short while WARNKE did publicity work for this organization; that she attended a convention of the American Peace Mobilization in New York City, registering at the Hotel Lincoln as a delegate to the convention; that she was reported to have been a delegate to the American Youth Congress held in Washington, D. C., on November 1 through 3, 1940, and also a delegate attending the Town Meeting of Youth held in Washington, D. C., on February 7 through 9, 1941, under the sponsorship of the Washington Youth Council of the American Youth Congress; that she attended a Russian film at the Washington Bookshop on November 1, 1941.

The Baltimore Office should locate and interview Mrs. RUTH YANOVER nee WARNKE regarding the activities of SILVERMAN during the time she was employed at the Railroad Retirement Board. Determine the names of associates of SILVERMAN

For the information of the Houston Division, New York City on March 3, 1949, teletyped the Washington Field Office to prepare a chronology of the microfilm given to the House Committee on Un-American Activities investigators by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS on December 2, 1948. This is the microfilm that was secreted by CHAMBERS in the pumpkin on his farm and consisted of three rolls of undeveloped film in aluminum containers and two rolls of developed film wrapped in wax paper.

~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

The Washington Field Office is currently attempting to account for the location of these films at all times since December 2, 1948, and to set out in some detail who had possession of these films and the action taken by these persons with relation to the films while in their possession.

In this connection, the following is quoted from the referenced teletype:

"Third re all so called pumpkin microfilm designated GJ exhibits fortyseven thru fiftyone, WFO is requested to determine identity of all individuals having possession of same from time of delivery of same by CHAMBERS to HCUA investigators on December second last to date and action taken by these persons with relation to film while in their possession. Assistant Director E. J. CONNELLY requests expeditious investigation and report for necessary assistance in proper preparation of summary report."

The House Committee on Un-American Activities has advised that ROBERT STRIPLING, former Chief Investigator, is now residing in San Augustine, Texas. They were unable to furnish a street address for STRIPLING but advised that his father was a local druggist and that the family was prominent in San Augustine and ventured the opinion that STRIPLING could be found with little difficulty.

The Houston Division is requested to ascertain from STRIPLING exactly what action he took with reference to the pumpkin film and on what dates he took this action. In this connection, HCUA investigators have advised that it is their recollection that STRIPLING was pictured with this film on one or two occasions, probably in late January or early February, 1949. It is noted that a picture was taken of the film and STRIPLING shortly after it was located. This picture has already been viewed and it is unnecessary to question STRIPLING in this regard except to determine from him that this film did not leave the HCUA office. Particular emphasis should be placed on any occasions on which the film left the HCUA office.

ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN

Reference is made to Bureau letter to the Washington Field Office dated February 3, 1949, instructing the Washington Field Office to conduct an investigation with reference to ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN who has been prominently mentioned by CHAMBERS in connection with the above captioned matter. The Washington Field Office was requested to determine the personnel and names of all persons who were associated with SILVERMAN and also in addition, to conduct neighborhood investigations in Washington, D. C. at various residences where SILVERMAN resided.

DEFERRED STATEMENTS

Investigation conducted in Washington, D. C. reflects SILVERMAN resided at 2138 California Street, N. W., Apartment #409 during 1936 and 1937. Further, that during this same period, ELIZABETH HARRIS resided in Apartment #406; BENJAMIN FOX resided in Apartment #412; and VIRGINIA FOX resided in Apartment #410.

ELIZABETH HARRIS now resides at 81 W. Home Street, Long Beach, California (June 26, 1948); BENJAMIN FOX is employed at the Signal Corps, Radar Laboratory, Camp Evans, Belmar, New Jersey and resides at 320 14th Avenue, Belmar, New Jersey (July 23, 1948); and VIRGINIA FOX teaches and resides at the Kent Place School, Summit, New Jersey.

Your particular attention is called to the fact that according to CHAMBERS, during the latter part of December of 1936 or the first part of January 1937, three Persian rugs were shipped to SILVERMAN in Washington, D. C. from New York City. Thereafter, SILVERMAN delivered one rug to the late HARRY DEXTER WHITE and subsequently delivered a second rug to ALGER HISS at a pre-arranged meeting on the outskirts of Washington and in the vicinity of Maryland University. CHAMBERS advised that SILVERMAN put the rug in his car and drove to the pre-arranged meeting place and that he, CHAMBERS, accompanied by ALGER HISS in the latter's automobile, met SILVERMAN where the transfer of the rug from SILVERMAN's car to HISS's car was made.

The Washington Field Office has been instructed to determine the personnel who were associated, departmentalwise, with ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN and to interview each person along the lines suggested in this letter.

For your information ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN was employed from October 1, 1933 to July 12, 1934 as a Special Assistant to the Labor Advisory Board on Codes, National Recovery Administration, Washington, D. C.

DEFERRED RECORDING

Investigation conducted by this office reflects that SILVERMAN was very friendly with HENRY COLLINS who was employed by NRA during SILVERMAN'S employment at NRA. Persons contacted suggested that RUTH RETICKER, a former NRA employee who is believed was employed on the Labor Advisory Board, be interviewed concerning SILVERMAN. She likewise should know of the close friendship existing between HENRY COLLINS and SILVERMAN.

Report of Special Agent JAMES FREW, dated February 1, 1949 at New York, title as set forth in this memo, reflects that Miss RUTH RETICKER, Chief of the Legislative Reference Unit, Bureau of Employment Security, Social Security Administration, New York City was interviewed concerning PHILIP RENO.

The New York Office is requested to re-interview Miss RUTH RETICKER regarding the activities of SILVERMAN during the time he was employed at NRA. Determine the names of all associates of SILVERMAN, especially social and luncheon companions. Ascertain the relationship between HENRY COLLINS and SILVERMAN. Question Miss RETICKER relative to the circumstances surrounding SILVERMAN'S leaving NRA. It has been alleged that SILVERMAN engaged in arguments with GUSTAV PECK and SIDNEY HILLMAN his superiors at NRA. Ascertain any information that would indicate SILVERMAN knew ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS or that he was engaged in subversive activities.

Photograph of SILVERMAN was forwarded to the New York Office as an enclosure in a letter from the Chicago Office to the Director, captioned as above and dated January 25, 1949.

This office has been requested to determine the personnel who were associated, departmentalwise, with ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN and to interview each person along the lines suggested in this letter.

The Chicago Office, by letter dated February 23, 1949, furnished the names of persons who were employed with ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN at the Railroad Retirement Board, Washington, D. C. Among those listed was HELEN F. ROBISON, nee Feinsod, an Economic Statistician who was employed by the Railroad Retirement Board on April 13, 1936. She served in the Research and Information Service, which was headed by SILVERMAN. ROBISON transferred from the Railroad Retirement Board to the Office of Emergency Management on March 18, 1942.

For your information, a highly confidential source of information reported in 1941 that the names of HELEN FEINSOD, which was Mrs. ROBISON's maiden name prior to her marriage, and JOSEPH ROBISON, husband of HELEN ROBISON, nee Feinsod, were listed in the active indices of the Washington Committee for Democratic Action. Mrs. ROBISON was interviewed in connection with a Hatch Act investigation on February 20, 1942, and in a signed statement denied that she was a member of the Washington Committee for Democratic Action.

The records of the Silver Spring, Maryland, Post Office, reflect that on February 10, 1947, Mrs. JOSEPH B. ROBISON changed her address from 9702 Lawson Place, Silver Spring, Maryland, to 142 Rocklyn Avenue, Lynbrook, Long Island, New York.

The New York Office should interview Mrs. HELEN F. ROBISON regarding the activities of SILVERMAN during the time she was employed at the Railroad Retirement Board. Determine the names of associates of SILVERMAN, especially social and luncheon companions. Ascertain any information that would indicate SILVERMAN knew ALGER HISS or HITTAKER CHAMBERS, or that he was engaged in subversive activities.

Re: JAHAM

Dear Sir:

Reference Washington Field letter to Director dated March 1, 1949.

The above referenced letter requests that MELVIN JAMES FOX and his mother, Mrs. JOSEPH J. COHEN be interviewed concerning a GEORGE SILVERMAN.

It has been ascertained that MELVIN J. FOX is no longer in New York City, and has left a forwarding address in care of the Office of National Planning Association, Washington, D. C. This was the only address available at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, former employer of FOX.

For the information of the Washington Field Office in conducting an interview with FOX, your attention is directed to the report of SA Lamont L. Thompson, Washington Field Office, dated April 27, 1942, entitled "Special Inquiry, Office for Emergency Management", which is an investigation concerning FOX, in which FOX gave as references V. FRANK COE and HARRY DEXTER WHITE, whom he became acquainted with during his employment in the Treasury Department.

It should be ascertained from Mr. FOX if he has any knowledge as to when his mother Mrs. JOSEPH J. COHEN will return from Europe, and as to her address where she may be located at that time in order that she may be interviewed.

Very truly yours,

Reference New York teletype dated February 24, 1949 requesting WFO to check the records of the Department of Agriculture in order to ascertain the whereabouts of JACK I. LEVY.

Records at the Department of Agriculture reflect JACK I. LEVY was born August 22, 1910 at Brownsville, Pennsylvania. He was employed as Assistant Attorney, Office of General Council, Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Department of Agriculture, from September 1934 until May 1935. ALGER HISS was employed in the same office during this period. LEVY's last known employment was the law firm of Sonnenscheim, Berkson, Lautman, Levinson and Morse, 77 West Washington Street, Chicago, as of May 1935.

Reference is made to Bureau letter dated February 3, 1949 requesting investigation of ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN.

SILVERMAN was employed by the Army Air Forces from 1942 to 1945 as Head of the Analysis and Plans Secion which was under the Deputy Chief of Staff, Materiel, who was then General ECHOLS. General BENNETT MEYERS was then Executive to General ECHOLS and interviews of SILVERMAN's fellow employees denote General MEYERS may have recommended SILVERMAN for this position. As head of this section it was SILVERMAN's responsibility to analyze and tabulate all production figures regarding the B-29; also the recording, modifications, aircraft dispersion, market, strikes and various supply problems relative to these aircraft. Consequently most work performed by this section was of a highly classified nature and was graded from restricted to top secret.

According to Miss BENTLEY's allegations before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, SILVERMAN did furnish to her indirectly technical information which in turn was given to couriers of the Soviet Republic.

Previous to SILVERMAN's employment in this section, this work had formerly been performed by Statistical Control which was headed by Colonel CHARLES THORTON, now associated with Used Aircraft, Culver City, California. According to fellow employees, when SILVERMAN was appointed to this position it was through the recommendation of General BENNETT MEYERS. SILVERMAN immediately decided that all B-29 production figures and modifications should be handled by his section and consequently this brought about a minor disagreement with Statistical Control.

The Los Angeles Office is requested to interview Colonel THORTON relative to SILVERMAN's associations and duties while in this position; also THORTON should be questioned regarding this disagreement which existed between his section and SILVERMAN's.

Rebulet to Washington Field dated February 3, 1949.

STEPHEN M. WALTER, who from late 1937 to late 1938, resided on the third floor of the Garden Tower Apartments, 2325 15th Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., and next door to Apartment 311 which was occupied by ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN, advised that his maid for this period was BLANCHE LEE, who at present is living at 610 Royal Plaza, Fort Lauderdale, Florida. WALTER advised that BLANCHE LEE was friendly with SILVERMAN'S maid and would be in a position to observe many of their guests at that time. WALTER in a signed statement advised that he had a nodding acquaintance with ALGER HISS and remembered taking HISS up on the manually operated elevator and letting him out on the third floor, but he did not know which apartment HISS entered.

WALTER also said that BLANCHE LEE was playing the numbers at this time of service with WALTER and had won a large sum of money playing the apartment number, which WALTER believed to be 312. This, according to WALTER, should help her remember the pertinent time. WALTER further related that BLANCHE LEE'S brother, whose first name she did not recall, was presently serving a life sentence in the Virginia State Prison for murder.

Miami will locate BLANCHE LEE and interview her in regard to the SILVERMANS, their activities and any guests they had during this period, keeping in mind the fact that HISS has been placed on the same floor the SILVERMANS resided. Further, according to CHAMBERS, during the later part of December 1936 or January 1937, three Persian Rugs were shipped to SILVERMAN in Washington, D. C. from New York City. Thereafter SILVERMAN delivered one rug to the late HARRY DEXTER WHITE and one to ALGER HISS, and kept one for himself. FLORENCE TOMPKINS aka, Mrs. FLORENCE BANKS, SILVERMAN'S maid, has verified the giving of a rug to WHITE and keeping one in the SILVERMAN home. This rug, as FLORENCE TOMPKINS described it, was about nine feet by twelve feet, had a lot of red in it, and had a four inch fringe around its borders, which was lighter than the rest of the rug. Miami will interview BLANCHE LEE regarding her knowledge of such a rug.

Reference is made to Bureau letter dated February 3, 1949 requesting investigation of ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN.

SILVERMAN was employed by the Army Air Forces from 1942 to 1945 as Chief of the Analysis and Plans Branch, which was under the Deputy Chief of Staff, Materiel, who was then a General ECHOLS. In this capacity it was SILVERMAN's responsibility to have this section analyzed, systematize and tabulate all information relative to B-29 production, modification, theater dispersion and supply. Consequently these reports were of a highly classified and secret nature.

According to Miss BENTLEY's allegations before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, SILVERMAN did indirectly furnish to her classified information which in turn was transmitted to couriers of the Soviet Government.

Interview of SILVERMAN's associates at the Army Air Forces denotes he did have access to all such classified material which originated in his section. Further, that the Security Officer for this section was Captain ALBERT E. RUTAN, who is now discharged from the armed forces and was last known to reside at 511 Cornell Avenue, Albany 6, California.

The San Francisco Office is requested to interview Mr. RUTAN in attempts to establish the method of handling classified and secret information in this section. RECORDS OF POST INTELLIGENCE OFFICE, APG REFLECT JAFFE CLEARED TO HANDLE RESTRICTED DATA AFTER COMPLETE LOYALTY INVESTIGATION BY SECOND ARMY INTELLIGENCE DURING AUGUST NINETEEN FORTYFOUR. WITH REFERENCE TO JAFFE- S CLAIM OF HAVING SERVED AS INFORMANT FOR POST INTELLIGENCE OFFICER, PRESENT CIVILIAN INVESTIGATOR CONFIDENTIALLY ADVISED THAT INTELLIGENCE SYSTEM DESCRIBED BY JAFFE WAS IN EFFECT DURING NINETEEN FORTYTHREE BUT THAT WHEN SYSTEM WAS DISCONTINUED ALL RECORDS WERE DESTROYED. IO EXPRESSED DOUBT THAT JAFFE HAD SERVED AS INFORMANT SINCE HE WAS CONSIDERED TO BE A POOR SECURITY RISK DURING TIME OF EMPLOYMENT. INTELLIGENCE OFFICER DESCRIBED BY JAFFE WAS IDENTIFIED BY PRESENT IO AND WAS CONTACTED BUT HE DID NOT RECALL NOR DID HE BELIEVE JAFFE- S SERVICES HAD BEEN USED AS JAFFE CLAIMED IN RETEL. INASMUCH AS HE TOO WAS SUSPICIOUS OF JAFFE- S LOYALTY, IO ADDED THE ARMY HAD RECEIVED UNFAVORABLE NEWSPAPER PUBLICITY WHICH REVEALED THE METHOD USED AS DESCRIBED BY JAFFE IN RETEL. THE ARMY, AT THE TIME OF THE UNFAVORABLE PUBLICITY, DESTROYED ALL OF THEIR FILES REGARDING THIS SYSTEM OF INVESTIGATION AND THEREFORE IS UNABLE TO POSITIVELY VERIFY OR DISCREDIT JAFFE- S STATEMENT. CRANE WAS A PHOTOGRAPHER ALLEGEDLY EMPLOYED AS SUCH BY A BALTO NEWSPAPER BUT SUCH EMPLOYMENT COULD NOT BE CONFIRMED AT BALTO SUNPAPERS OR BALTO NEWS POST. CRANE WOULD HARDLY SPEAK OF HIS OWN APARTMENT AS SOMEONES APARTMENT. SPIEGEL APARTMENT AT ONE TWELVE E. MADISON ST, BALTIMORE WAS IN THREE STORY BUILDING WITH BURCH COMPANY OFFICE ON FIRST FLOOR. BREWERY LOCATED NOT TOO FAR DISTANT AND OTHER BUILDING NEARBY MIGHT BE MISTAKEN FOR BREWERY. PREVIOUS INVESTIGATION INDICATES THAT POSSIBLY CHAMBERS HAD DIS-CONTINUED USING SPIEGEL APARTMENT BEFORE CRANE TOOK APARTMENT AT FOUR-TEEN W. TO : Director, FBI

DATE: February 8, 1949

FROM : SAC, Miami

SUBJECT: JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was, et al
PERJURY; ESPIONAGE - R; INTERNAL SECURITY - R.

Reference is made to the Bureau letter to Washington Field dated January 17, 1949, which sets forth information furnished the Bureau by ED NELLOR of the Washington Times Herald. NELLOR had received information from an individual known as ROBERT RADOVAN concerning an address book which RADOVAN had secured from a Russian by the name of KARZOV.

Reference is also made to Washington Field letter to the Bureau dated January 28, 1949, which sets forth the results of an interview with ROBERT RADOVAN on January 27, 1949, wherein RADOVAN indicates that the address book is believed to be in the possession of one GEORGE SENFT of Miami Beach, Florida.

The files of the Miami Office show that on October 18, 1948, Detective PETER STEWART of the Miami Beach Police Department informed the Miami Office that he had arrested one HOWARD CARL RADOVAN for vagrancy on October 17, 1948, Miami Beach PD No. 13919. Detective STEWART said that upon searching RADOVAN he was found to be in possession of a small black notebook believed to be the property of one PAUL T. KALV of Washington, D. C.

Paul T. Kalv 65-5600

Detective STEWART turned this small notebook over to Special Agent GUY R. BAILEY of the Miami Office for examination and it was noted by Special Agent BAILEY that this book contained the names of various persons and various employment and personnel agencies in Washington, D. C., Chicago, Michigan and Ohio. The notebook indicated that the owner of it was PAUL D. KALV who had served in the Russian Army during the first World War from 1915 to 1920, being discharged as a lieutenant colonel. It also indicated that KALV was naturalized at Ann Arbor, Michigan, August 5, 1931, and that he had served with the U. S. Army in World War II in the Air Corps, Military Government Overseas, and also as an Electrical Engineer officer, being discharged as a Captain on January 12, 1945, Army Serial No. 0-922740. There was also an indication that KALV had worked for the War Department in 1946 and 1947, the Office of War Information of the War and Navy Department in 1945 and 1946, the War Production Board in 1942 and 1943, the Civil Aeronautics Administration 1937 to 1939, the U. S. Naval Academy 1936 to 1937, U. S. Military Academy in 1936, all employment being in the capacity of an electrical engineer.

Inasmuch as the names and addresses and the information in this notebook did not appear to be of a questionable nature, Special Agent GUY R. BAILEY returned same to Detective PETER STEWART.

In connection with PAUL D. KALV, the Miami files show that a Loyalty investigation was conducted of this individual by the Bureau in November, 1948, under the caption "PAUL DIMITRY KALV, aka Paul Dimitry Kalachov, Communications Engineer, Civilian Personnel Branch, HQ SQ MATS, Washington, D. C., Department of the Army, LOYALTY OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES."

It would appear that the individual referred to by RADOVAN in the referenced Bureau letter as KARZOV is identical with the subject of the Bureau loyalty investigation, PAUL DIMITRY KALV.

Detective ARTHUR LEONARD of the Miami Beach Police Department, upon checking the files and records of the Miami Beach Police Department, advised that KALV's notebook was mailed back to him at 1400 New Hampshire Avenue, Washington, D. C. in November, 1948, and the Miami Beach Police Department received a letter of thanks from KALV for returning his property.

Special Agent BAILEY and Special Agent J. RICHARD BUTTS both examined the book and all names except those of employment agencies were checked against the indices of the Miami Office with negative results. Agents BAILEY and BUTTS both emphatically state that the name of ALGER HISS was not in the black book.

ALGER HISS, ET AL
PERJURY; ESPIONAGE - R;
INTERNAL SECURITY - R

In the matter of the trial of ALGER HISS, Perjury, set for February 24, 1949, the possibilities as to what the Government will be able to show to prove the allegations as to Perjury upon the part of HISS as to the statement that he did not receive from CHAMBERS the documents as alleged by CHAMBERS on the first count, and that he did not see CHAMBERS personally after December 1, 1936, and, more definitely, he had not seen him after January 1, 1937, in the second count as opposed to the element of time appearing in the dates of the documents produced by CHAMBERS, which are dated January to March, 1938, and which would have been in the possession of CHAMBERS through HISS sometime subsequent to the respective dates of the documents, there will be produced proof involving the various elementary situations as follows:

(1) JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS will be expected to testify as to all facts as to his relation as a Soviet underground agent with HISS, who was familiar with his identity and purpose. Secondly, he will be expected to introduce the documents from the State Department which he obtained from HISS.

This will involve immediate effort to attack the credibility of CHAMBERS. Due to the handling of the documents themselves through the attorneys for CHAMBERS and HISS after being made available at Baltimore in a libel action and the handling of these by the representatives of the House Un-American Activities Committee, there will be a rather involved chain of proof which is being worked out.

(2) As would be desirable and, if no objections are sustained, we will have such witnesses as HENRY JULIAN WADLEIGH and FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO to prove that they, as agents, furnished material to CHAMBERS as a Soviet Agent from their respective places of employment with the United States Government. RENO has recently indicated some possibilities of becoming mentally unstable due to worry and probably fear. As to this same situation there will be other possible witnesses depending upon the extent to which we can follow this line of proof.

(3) In connection with the proof of the writing of the paraphrases of these documents on the typewriter belonging to HISS, we have a number of specimens, communications signed by ALGER HISS or his wife prepared on this typewriter, the latest being dated May 25, 1937. As to this it would be desirable to show the typewriter in the possession of HISS and his wife, particularly during the period of the dates of the documents, namely early 1938. Regarding this there is a statement of HISS that his wife disposed of this typewriter in Washington subsequent to 1938. The efforts as to this are being continued in order to show later dates of such specimens or to locate the typewriter and to determine to whom it was disposed of to.

(4) As to the statement of CHAMBERS that he was associated with HISS and his wife late into 1938 after he, CHAMBERS, had broken with the Communist Party apparatus, he stated he was in Peterborough, New Hampshire, with Mr. and Mrs. HISS in August, 1937, where CHAMBERS called on HARRY DEXTER WHITE, who may or may not have seen HISS and his wife. We have been unable to identify the place where they stopped in Peterborough, New Hampshire, or en route at Thomaston, Connecticut, and it may be necessary to take CHAMBERS to these two areas to identify the place and thereafter locate persons who can identify them.

As to the rugs which CHAMBERS said BORIS BYKOV, Russian Agent, instructed that he give to ALGER HISS, HARRY DEXTER WHITE, and ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN in the latter part of 1936, the sale of these rugs has been shown to be about December 29, 1936, and when worked out will show later contacts with HISS by CHAMBERS than is now claimed by HISS.

Not withstanding the many contacts of CHAMBERS with HISS and the fact that he resided with HISS at his residence and also sublet an apartment from him at another address, we have little to show the association and intimacy of HISS and CHAMBERS and this is being worked out in great detail by the Washington Field Office in order that we may have, if possible, several witnesses to show this independent of the testimony of CHAMBERS. Mrs. CHAMBERS may be able to supply some detail as to this which will assist.

CHAMBERS is to proceed to Washington, D.C., today to assist the Washington Field Office in identifying places and persons, if necessary.

Various other persons such as DAVID ZIMMERMAN, alias Carpenter, and FELIX A. INSLERMAN, the photographers who did work for CHAMBERS, are being closely checked for additional possibilities as to whether they can be used, if possible, although both are reluctant to admit anything which would actually involve them as espionage agents.

I will try to emphasize particularly that part of the investigation which can be used in the Perjury trial with suitable attention to the other details necessary as to any evidence concerning espionage violations by other persons who have been named. This latter will require considerable additional work with regard to each particular group which has been, at least, identified in part to us by CHAMBERS in order to determine their activities and the date when they ceased to be active or when their activities may have been assimilated by others who are now active. With regard to most of those named, the statute of limitations will probably frustrate their prosecution, based upon the information now available.

During the present week after the Washington Field Office report, which is now en route, is received, we will endeavor to prepare a summary report as to all possible witnesses who can be used in the trial of HISS in order that this will be available to whomever is trying the case in order to afford ample time for full consideration.

While many and sundry matters and other detail necessary generally as to both phases of the inquiry have been covered, which is not mentioned above, there still remains some inquiry regarding both phases, particularly the latter, concerning the various espionage agents. The principal objective at the moment is to assemble or obtain everything which will be necessary for the trial set for February 24, 1949.

Respectfully,

E. J. CONNELLEY, Assistant Director.

Regarding WEBSTER CLAY POWELL, Informant [redacted] could not recall the name of POWELL but stated that she had attended a social function on one occasion at the Green Acres Progressive School. Among other persons present at this function were BEN ALLEN, JESSICA BUCK RHINE, HENRY RHINE and HORACE WARNER TRUESDELL. The informant recalled that TRUESDELL had been active in the American League Against War and Fascism, that he "talked the general Communist Party line" and that he was an associate of many persons suspected by or known to the informant to be members of the CP. One particular associate recalled by the informant was CHARLES T. GIFT (GIFT has been reported by Confidential Informants [redacted] and [redacted] to be a member of the CP). He was until recently an employee of the Washington Naval Gun Factory. (S)

Regarding SIDNEY SCHOSTECK, whose name has come up in connection with this case, the informant recalled only that SCHOSTECK had been killed while fighting for Spain. (S)

Regarding SOPHIE WONNEN, the informant recalled WONNEN as having been active in union affairs and as having appeared to be on the "inside of things." She stated that WONNEN was a close friend of SYLVIA SCHLOFF. (S)

Confidential Informant [redacted] stated that PHIL REED was one of the original members of the staff of the FWA and apparently belonged to an "inner group" which appeared to be Communist dominated and which included ELEANOR NELSON, HENRY WHITE, JESSICA REED WHITE, JANET GAINES and ELIZABETH C. HALE. He recalled that ARTHUR STEIN was one of the "policy-making boys" in this "inner group." The informant stated that ELEANOR NELSON and one MIKE VAIGES also exerted considerable influence among this group. Another person recalled by the informant as being around this group was CHARLES KLATO, described by the informant as being a little hunchback. The informant stated that IRVING RICHTER also spent considerable time with this group and appeared to exert considerable influence in the Communist domination of union affairs.

Regarding WEBSTER CLAY POWELL, the informant recalled that the POWELLs had operated a progressive school in their home known as Green Acres. He recalled attending a party at the POWELL home which he believed to be a benefit party for the school. The informant recalled that among the persons present at this party were CHARLES KLATO, FRED HALE and DONALD HENDERSON. The informant stated that he had no proof of membership in the Communist Party regarding any of these people but stated that they were all generally considered as being Communists. He recalled that GARDNER JACKSON frequently played around with this group but has now definitely broken away from it and might be an excellent source of information.

[redacted] who was particularly associated with a group of persons suspected by him of being Communists in the Central Labor Union in the middle 1930's furnished the following information:

ELEANOR NELSON came to Washington during the early to middle 1930's from New York, and seemed from the beginning to be a leader of another group of persons who had also begun working for the Government and were from New York. He stated that NELSON became active in the American Federation of Government Employees, an A. F. of L. Government Employees Union, and with others attempted to gain control of the Central Labor Union. He recalled that these people frequently packed meetings and before Central Labor Union meetings, would meet as a separate group to plan their strategy for the ensuing CLU meeting. Among the persons more prominently active in this group was JOE RINIS, presently associated in the contracting business in the firm, RINIS and TUCKMAN. The informant stated that RINIS had at one time attended some school on Communism in Russia. Other persons active in this group were HENRY WHITE and his wife, JESSICA REED WHITE, JANET GAINES, DOROTHY BAILEY and ELIZABETH C. HALE. According to the informant, JOE RINIS seemed to be the leading figure of this group along with ELEANOR NELSON and from his observation, RINIS appeared to give the orders to all of them including SENATOR WILSON. The informant stated that this group had subsequently broken away and formed the nucleus for the United Federal Workers of America.

NAT WITT

Informant did not recall when she first met WITT but knew him prior to her entry into the Communist Party about 1936. She was associated with him in varying degrees until about 1943. Her outstanding recollection regarding NAT WITT's definite association with high Communist Party functionaries resulted from a conference in the home of MARION and ARTHUR BACHRACH on Hintwood Place, Northwest, about September, 1940. This conference was held to discuss ways and means of raising money through the Communist Party and among Communist Party followers for the support of the campaign of JOHN T. BERNARD (Minnesota) for Congress. BERNARD had received the Farmer-Labor nomination for the House of Representatives, according to the informant, and had previously been a member of Congress in the middle 1930's, at which time he was the only Communist to be a member of Congress.

The conference referred to above was attended by MARION and ARTHUR BACHRACH, Mr. and Mrs. LEE PRESSMAN, ALICE ADAMS, and an unidentified man who was a member of the CP from Minnesota and who had driven BERNARD from Minnesota to Washington for this conference, JOHN T. BERNARD and NATHAN WITT, and Confidential Informant [redacted] b2 b7D

According to the informant, BERNARD previously was acquainted intimately with other persons present at this conference and obviously had known them for a considerable period of time. NAT WITT was the domineering figure during the conference. The informant pointed out that this conference was during the period of the HITLER-STALIN Pact and all persons present were avowed Communists. During the conference, NAT WITT jokingly remarked that things were not as easy as they had been due to the HITLER-STALIN Pact.

The informant stated that she was never in WITT's house and did not recall that WITT was ever in her home. The occasion of the above conference was the only conference of high CP functionaries the informant ever attended with WITT and was the closest contact she ever had with him in connection with CP activity. The informant stated that all persons present at this conference were absolutely CP members and stated that she had discussed with them at various times the CP role in world events.

JOHN ABT

Informant stated that she did not know ABT well but knew he was the brother of MARION BACHRACH and the husband of JESSICA SMITH. She stated that she had met him on a couple of occasions and knew that he was a member of the CP from conversations she had with MARION BACHRACH and also from conversations with JOHN T. BERNARD and with ETTA SHAW HIRSCHFIELD. The informant advised that HIRSCHFIELD had told her that CLAYTON HATHAWAY (former "Daily Worker" editor) told her that MARION BACHRACH and JOHN ART were both very domineering and that he (HATHAWAY) and ART had had a "run-in" in New York regarding CP matters. The informant originally contacted ART about 1938 while working with ART's sister, MARION BACHRACH in CP activities at the Capitol. The informant's last knowledge of ART was in New York about a year ago when the informant was visiting ALFRED K. and MATILA DODGE STERN. During a conversation, the STERNs referred to the coming role of the WALLACE Party during the campaign and election. ALFRED STERN quoted JOHN ART as having said it would be possible for the CP to elect ten Congressmen in the coming campaign.

MARION BACHRACH

MARION BACHRACH was a close CP associate of Confidential Informant [redacted] during the late 1930's and possibly early 1940's. About 1937, MARION BACHRACH was employed in the inner office of Representative JOHN T. BERNARD, who has been referred to previously in this memo, and used to sit in on all of his conferences. BACHRACH often jokingly told [redacted] about JOHN T. BERNARD's Secretary, ANTHONY_____(last name unknown) who was a Catholic and strongly anti-Communist. BACHRACH referred to how mad ANTHONY or TONY would get over being shut out of these conferences while BACHRACH attended them. [redacted] stated that BACHRACH actually worked and had a desk in the same room as BERNARD, acting so on orders from BERNARD and instructions from the CP. She stated that she and BACHRACH had reached the conclusion that TONY took the job as Secretary to BERNARD in order to mitigate CP influence on BERNARD's actions. She stated that BACHRACH had been successful in blocking these efforts.

It should be noted that the informant has previously furnished information that JOHN T. BERNARD was influential along with the informant in persuading former Representative ROBERT RAMSAY of Pennsylvania to attend a Spanish Loyalist dinner or party about 1937 at the home of WEBSTER GRAY POWELL. POWELL has been identified as being a member of the same underground group of the CP in Washington as ALGER HISS, LEE PRESSMAN, HAROLD WARD, NATHAN WITT and others.

JESSICA SMITH

Informant first met JESSICA SMITH in 1925 and was told by SMITH at that time that she was a CP member. SMITH had just returned from Russia and was very fanatically pro-Russian. She had made this trip to Russia along with INGY BRANNON (Phonetic). They had gone to Russia in 1923, as part of a Labor Union delegation. The trip was financed by one A. A. HELLER, prominent New York Communist. Informant stated that INGY BRANNON was not a member of the CP to the best of her knowledge. JESSICA SMITH had remained in Russia for about one year after the remainder of the Labor Union delegation had returned to the United States. JESSICA SMITH, at the time informant met her, was a CP fanatic and, according to the informant, was the second person informant had ever met who was known to her to be a member of the CP. [redacted] was introduced to SMITH by IRGY BRANNON in JESSICA SMITH's bedroom in a house on the site of the present U.S. Supreme Court Building. Informant said that at the time she, herself, was very enthusiastic and thrilled over meeting a real Communist and hearing her talk about how wonderful everything was in Russia. Informant stated that she had no other contact with JESSICA SMITH until 1937, 1938 and 1939, when she was on close friendly terms with MARION BACHRACH, sister-in-law of JESSICA SMITH.

LAWRENCE DUGGAN

Informant stated that she had never met DUGGAN personally and has no knowledge of CP membership or activity on his part. Her only knowledge of him was that during the spring of 1940, while informant was working on the United American-Spanish Aid Committee in Washington, HELEN BRYAN (more recently connected with Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee in New York) told her that DUGGAN would most likely be the person in the State Department who had been cooperative with the United American-Spanish Aid Committee or whatever name that organization was known by at that particular time. It was informant's belief that DUGGAN was merely anti-Fascist and anti-FRANCO and probably not a CP member. Informant recalled DUGGAN having been spoken of by other CP members as being anti-Fascist. She did not recall the names of others but recalled that THERESA LISS may have been one of the persons so referring to DUGGAN.

LAUCHLIN CURRIE

[redacted] was not personally acquainted with CURRIE but recalled that EMILE DESPRES had accompanied CURRIE on a trip to China for the State Department. She stated that she knew DESPRES to be a member of the CP and recalled having discussed with HENRY HILL COLLINS how important this trip by DESPRES with CURRIE was to the CP movement.

BOB GOE

Informant was acquainted with BOB GOE particularly during 1940 and 1941 during a time when GOE was employed as Director of FARM Research, Incorporated, which, according to the informant, was a "straight party outfit." Informant knew GOE to be a member of the CP, having discussed this with MARIE GOLDMAN, aka Mrs. BUG MOODLAMAN. MARIE GOLDMAN at times acted as a cartoonist for the Farm Research, Incorporated magazine. Informant stated that she was very close to these people at the time because she was doing propaganda work for the CP, the idea being to have Congressmen make speeches containing CP propaganda. Informant's work in this connection dealt primarily with the agricultural situation. The informant recalled having attended some CP meetings in the office of BOB GOE during this period and states that she and BOB GOE had to know and trust each other as they were doing important CP work, the purposes of which frequently overlapped.

It should be noted that Farm Research, Incorporated, of which BOB GOE was Director, also employed during the middle 1930's for a considerable time WEBSTER GLAY POWELL, who has been referred to before. It is believed that HARRY AHL, who has also been mentioned prominently by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS in connection with the CP underground group, was associated at one time with Farm Research, Inc.

ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS

Informant stated that she has met both ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS but has never been closely associated with either of them. Informant knew nothing of any CP affiliation on the part of either one of the HISSes. Informant knew ALGER and PRISCILLA to be Liberals but stated that she had no idea of any CP membership or activity on the part of either of them at any time. Informant recalled particularly one occasion several years ago when she met PRISCILLA HISS and at which time, she was coldly avoided by PRISCILLA. The informant at the time did not attach any particular significance to this act on PRISCILLA's part but did consider it unusual.

SIDNEY SCHOSTECK
SOPHIE MENKEN

Informant stated that SCHOSTECK was a boyfriend of SOPHIE MENKEN. SCHOSTECK was active in organizing the Friends of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade. He is a son or a grandson of a member of Unit #1 of the CP which was organized in 1905 - one of the original CP revolutionaries in the United States. While in Washington, SID SCHOSTECK and SOPHIE MENKEN were very important in the activities of the Young Communist League and also in the Central Labor Union. During this period, SCHOSTECK also roomed with one WILLIE ARNOLD (CP name) with aliases, WILLIE ARNSTEIN and WILLIE ARNHEIM, who was a CP organizer in the District of Columbia in 1936. The informant stated that SCHOSTECK had subsequently gone to Spain and had been killed fighting for the Spanish Loyalist forces.

According to the informant, SOPHIE MENKEN was a close social acquaintance of EDITH AHL, wife of DAVID AHL. EDITH often referred to SOPHIE as "my friend SOPHIE." SOPHIE MENKEN, according to the informant, was also on close friendly terms with MIKE and MIRIAM NAIGLES.

WFO LETTER TO DIRECTOR
RE: J. DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS

CONFIDENTIAL Feb. 2, 1949

In regard to the above WILLIE ARNOLD, reference is made to a previous lead in this case to identify and interview one ROY WARNER, who was reportedly a CP organizer in the District of Columbia about 1935. It is believed that WILLIE ARNOLD might be a very logical suspect for being identical with ROY WARNER.

The informant was not acquainted with VINCENT RENO, LANGE CLARK, PHIL RENO, BENJAMIN FRIEDMAN, BENJAMIN FIELDS.

Regarding GARDNER JACKSON, whom the Bureau has instructed interviewing, informant stated that she has been acquainted with GARDNER and PAT JACKSON for a long time and states that JACKSON is not a member of the CP to her knowledge and as a matter of fact hates the CP. She stated, however, that JACKSON should be an excellent source of information regarding numerous CP personalities. b2 b7D

Regarding HORACE WARNER TRUESDELL, who has been referred to by several informants as having been an associate of various persons in this case, [redacted] advised that he had occasion to observe CP records and noted that HORACE TRUESDELL and his wife, ADELAIDE, were listed as having paid CP dues for several months in 1936 or 1937. The informant stated that in 1940, ANN GOODMAN, who was on the Executive Committee of the Washington Committee for Aid to China, and MURIEL KOENIGSBERGER, who was Executive Secretary of the Committee, told the informant that TRUESDELL could always be depended on to "plug the Party line." The informant recalled that TRUESDELL was also active in the Descendants of the American Revolution, which according to the informant was organized by instructions from the CP in order to compete with the Daughters of the American Revolution. The informant was of the opinion that TRUESDELL had left the CP about 1937 and did not know whether or not TRUESDELL had ever actually rejoined the Party. The informant had been told by JANE FOSTER that it was not considered worth while attempting to re-recruit TRUESDELL since for all practical purposes he was "as much one of us as ever."

On 2-2-49 Kansas City Confidential Informant T-1 was interviewed by SA C. LAWRENCE RICE and the writer at which time she produced the letter to which she had referred when she directed a letter to this office on January 9, 1949. The letter which she received "from LAWRENCE DUGGAN's group October 7" was found to be a letter signed by BILL MAULDIN on stationery of the American Civil Liberties Union, 170 Fifth Avenue, New York City. The letter signed by MAULDIN, dated October 7, was a form letter urging membership in the American Civil Liberties Union because it was one group he had found that defended all groups. MAULDIN in the letter noted that within the same week the A.C.L.U. had defended the right of the Communist Party to exist on a Midwestern State ballot, and also had defended the right of GERALD L. K. SMITH to speak. The stationery of the American Civil Liberties Union, on which MAULDIN's letter was written, contained the names of the national officers of the A.C.L.U. as well as the names of sixty five members of the National Committee and thirty one members of the Board of Directors. LAWRENCE DUGGAN's name was listed among the Board of Directors. The Informant said she had no personal knowledge whatsoever of LAWRENCE DUGGAN, and had no knowledge of any groups of which he was a member. In referring to "LAWRENCE DUGGAN's group" she had meant the American Civil Liberties Union. She has no information regarding the other subjects in this case. The letter received by the Informant is being forwarded to New York for their information.

This Informant is considered to be unstable, and the information furnished by her has not always been accurate. She is encouraged to continue to send in material, however, as she often furnishes information of value.

Professor TRACY F. TYLER, Assistant to the President, University of Minnesota, was interviewed at his office, Room 111 Northrup Hall, and he advised that he and his first wife and family resided in Apartment 40, 2831 28th Street Northwest, Washington, D. C. from June of 1931 to September of 1935. Photographs of ALGER HISS, Mrs. CHAMBERS with a small child and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and a small child were exhibited to him and he advised that he did not recall seeing any of these individuals in the apartment building in which he lived. He stated that he was unable to identify the photographs which were exhibited to him, but stated that possibly his first wife, Mrs. RUTH S. TYLER, who now resides at 835 West 9th Street, San Pedro, California, might possibly be of assistance in this matter. Professor TYLER stated that when he lived at the above address he travelled a great deal of the time and that as he recalls during May and June of 1935 he was on the West Coast doing some work.

Mr. TYLER advised that last Summer he received a long distance telephone call from some individual whose name he does not recall and advised that this individual stated that he was ALGER HISS' attorney and that he was questioned as to whether or not he recalled ALGER HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS residing in that apartment building. He advised that he told this unknown person that he did not recall either person.

Mrs. VIRGINIA TYLER, second wife of Professor TYLER, was interviewed at her home at 1564 Fulham, St. Paul, Minnesota. She advised that she was married to Mr. TYLER in New York City in 1936 and stated that she called at Mr. TYLER's apartment a few times when he lived in Apartment 40, 2831 28th Street Northwest, Washington, D. Mr. PAUL CROUCH, 10421 N.W. 33rd Avenue, former Communist Party organizer for many years in various sections of the United States, was unable to furnish any information of value concerning any of the subjects of this investigation.

Laboratory report dated January 14, 1949, advised that it was concluded from an examination of typewritten specimens K293, secured from Woodstock typewriter #149477, that this typewriter was not used to type the questioned documents in this case.

The following investigation was performed by Special Agent MARTIN A. MANLEY:

Mr. GRAY FOSTER, 1459 N. Ocean Boulevard, advised that he has resided in Florida for the past seven years and prior to that time resided in Washington, D. C. During 1933 and 1934, Mr. FOSTER lived in the 3200 block of S. Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C. However, he was not aware of the fact that ALGER HISS resided in this same neighborhood. Mr. FOSTER recalled that he has met ALGER HISS on one or two occasions through ALGER's brother, DONALD HISS, but Mr. FOSTER could not remember the circumstances surrounding these meetings and was unable to furnish any information of value concerning HISS' relationship with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

AT LAKE WALES, FLORIDA

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent RUSSELL A FRYE:

Mr. DWAYNE G. BROWNELL, 846 Carlton Avenue, advised that until recently he had owned a farm at Cambridge, New York, which was located near the farm owned by FELIX INSLERMAN. Mr. BROWNELL said that INSLERMAN and his wife were the BROWNELL's immediate neighbors from the summer of 1941 until 1946, at which time BROWNELL moved to another farm about a mile away from this same locality. BROWNELL recalled that INSLERMAN and his wife originally came to Cambridge from Argyle, New York, and purchased this farm from its former owner, Mr. HARRY HARRINGTON of Cambridge, New York.

Mr. BROWNELL said that despite the fact that the INSLERMANs were close neighbors of his, he had never closely associated with them due to the fact that the INSLERMANs were regarded in the community as being very strongly pro-German during World War II. According to Mr. BROWNELL, INSLERMAN, during this period, was employed as a draftsman at an aircraft factory located on Long Island, New York, and, as a result of this employment, INSLERMAN never actually worked the farm which he owned. About one year ago, according to Mr. BROWNELL, INSLERMAN secured employment with the General Electric Company in Schenectady, New York, and during this period he commuted to his farm in Cambridge. Mr. BROWNELL said that he had very little contact with INSLERMAN and in these few contacts never discussed politics or never observed anything that would cause him to be suspicious of INSLERMAN's activity.

Mr. BROWNELL suggested that the following individuals, all living at Cambridge, New York, would possibly know something concerning INSLERMAN:

HARRY HARRINGTON, former owner of INSLERMAN's farm;
EVERETT KENYON, neighbor and close friend of INSLERMAN;
EDWARD C. HORTON, who purchased Mr. BROWNELL's farm ajoining the INSLERMAN property;
Mrs. HILEY KEYS, former housekeeper for Mr. BROWNELL and an acquaintance of Mrs. INSLERMAN.

AT WEST PALM BEACH, FLORIDA

The following investigation was performed by Special Agent MARTIN A. MANLEY:

Mr. ELIOT O'HARA, 315½ Mango Promenade, advised that his permanent residence address is 2025 O Street, Northwest, in Washington, D. C. Mr. O'HARA stated that he has known Mr. and Mrs. ALGER HISS socially since 1943. However, he has not seen either of them during the past two years. Mr. O'HARA recalled that all of his contacts with Mr. and Mrs. HISS have been of a social nature and on one or two occasions he has had dinner in the HISS home and likewise has entertained the HISSes for dinner in his own residence. Mr. O'HARA said that he did not know WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and has never seen CHAMBERS in HISS' residence, nor could furnish any information of value concerning HISS' activities.

AT SARASOTA, FLORIDA

The following investigation was performed by Special Agent ORVILLE F. McVAY:

Mr. PHILIP HANSON HISS JR. III, Route 4, Box 106, Siesta Key, advised that he is a second or third cousin of ALGER HISS. PHILIP HISS first met ALGER HISS in Washington, D. C. about 1941 or 1942, and thereafter had an occasional luncheon or dinner contact of a social nature with ALGER HISS when they were both together in Washington, D. C. PHILIP HISS said that he was Director of Holland Operations for the Office of War Information from the middle of 1945 to the middle of 1946; that he was also associated with the Office of Strategic Services during World War II, but that although both the OWI and the OSS were subsequently absorbed into the State Department, he had no official contact whatsoever with ALGER HISS while connected with these two Government agencies.

PHILIP HISS said that he has no direct or indirect knowledge of any disloyal actions on the part of ALGER HISS and has always regarded ALGER HISS as a loyal and patriotic citizen. PHILIP HISS furnished two typewritten letters from ALGER HISS, the one dated November 17, 1948, on the letterhead of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and the other dated December 23, 1948, at New York City. Both of these letters are signed by ALGER HISS and were transmitted to the Laboratory for examination by the Miami Office on January 27, 1949.

PHILIP HISS said that these two aforementioned letters are the only pieces of correspondence in his possession which he has received from ALGER HISS, with the exception of possibly a typewritten letter received from ALGER HISS in 1942 or 1943, which may be in a locked file cabinet containing personal papers of PHILIP HISS in his mother's residence at New Canaan, Connecticut. There is no one residing in this New Canaan residence at this time except the house maid, and PHILIP HISS' mother will not return there for two months, However, PHILIP HISS is arranging, by correspondence and contact through his mother, to have his cousins LAWRENCE S. GREENE or CHARLES BANCROFT of New Canaan, Connecticut, search through his personal papers in this file cabinet in an effort to locate this letter from ALGER HISS. This information has been furnished the New Haven Office so that appropriate contact can be had with GREENE or BANCROFT to secure this letter and forward same to the Laboratory for examination.

DETAILS: WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN

At Appleton, Wisconsin:

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent ALEXANDER P. LE GRAND and the writer:

WILLIAM WARD PIGMAN was interviewed on February 7, 1949 at his home, 702 East North Street, Appleton, Wisconsin. A photograph of DAVID ZIMMERMAN, furnished Milwaukee by New York, was exhibited to PIGMAN and he identified it as a picture of a man he knew in Washington, D. C. as DAVID ZIMMERMAN. He stated that he had previously identified this photograph before the federal grand jury in New York City as that of DAVID ZIMMERMAN. The photograph shown him there, however, contained three individuals including ZIMMERMAN.

PIGMAN stated that he became acquainted with DAVID ZIMMERMAN, whom he knew under no other name, when PIGMAN belonged to the Federation of Architects, Engineers, Chemists and Technicians in Washington, D. C. He stated that he was active in the Washington local of this union from about 1933 to 1936 and he believes that it was from 1934 to 1936 that he knew ZIMMERMAN. He could not recall whether ZIMMERMAN held any office in this union, was an organizer for the union, or just what his connection with the union was. ZIMMERMAN did not work for the Bureau of Standards and PIGMAN does not recall whether he had a job with the government or not. PIGMAN himself lost interest in the union about 1936. He may have seen ZIMMERMAN on one or two occasions from 1936 until PIGMAN went to Europe in the summer of 1938, but he recalls no instance.

PIGMAN was vague as to the details of his contacts with ZIMMERMAN but stated that he met him at several business meetings of the union and may have seen him at the homes of mutual friends. In connection with this latter statement, PIGMAN explained that when he was first in the Bureau of Standards prior to his marriage he was assigned to the "cement section" where he made a number of friends whom he continued to associate with from time to time through the union and in what he described as "informal gatherings" at the homes of various of these people. He believes ZIMMERMAN was present at some of these "informal gatherings." The nature of the gatherings were social for the most part but they entered into discussions of "many things" probably including politics. PIGMAN could be no more specific on this point. He stated that he could name several individuals who were probably at these gatherings, but the only two he would name because he was sure were HERBERT INSLEY, who to the best of his knowledge is still employed in the Bureau of Standards, and EINAR HELINT, presently employed by Armour Research Foundation in Chicago, Illinois.

PIGMAN was questioned as to whether or not he knew of any women with whom ZIMMERMAN associated and in particular if he knew a woman by the name of ELEANOR NELSON, ELEANOR NELSON PORTER or ELEANOR

SOYRING. He stated that he knew no women with whom ZIMMERMAN associated. He pointed out, however, that he had previously advised agents he knew a woman named ELEANOR NELSON in connection with union activities in Washington, D. C. during the same period of time but that he did not connect her in his memory in any way with the man he knew as DAVID ZIMMERMAN. He stated that while he was in attendance at the federal grand jury in New York recently he understood that a woman named ELEANOR NELSON was subpoenaed as a witness also and a woman was pointed out to him as ELEANOR NELSON. He did not recognize her as anyone he had ever known, although he stated several years had passed and the woman he knew could have aged to the extent that he did not recognize her.

PIGMAN was questioned for further details concerning the nature of the discussions held by the previously described "informal gatherings." In explanation of this he stated that in his younger days, particularly at the period of time from 1933 to 1936, he himself held several "leftish" views on social and political matters. He was asked to explain what he meant by the word "leftish." He stated that at this period of time he recalls having attended several Soviet moving pictures and lectures, usually at some union hall in Washington, D. C. He was unable to recall under whose auspices any of these lectures and movies were presented, nor who invited or urged him to attend them, if anyone did. In further explanation of his beliefs and activities at this time, PIGMAN volunteered that there was considerable feeling among government workers, particularly among those he knew at the Bureau of Standards concerning the low wages they received at that time. He attributes this condition to the fact that he and his friends became interested in F.A.E.C.T. and took an active part in not only union activities but in political and economic discussions.

In summation of his descriptions of the "informal gatherings" he stated that they were more or less continuations of discussions held during their lunch hours at work and that no doubt they had met on occasions in his home as well as in the homes of the other individuals in this group.

PIGMAN volunteered that it seemed to him the attorneys before the grand jury were interested in his activities in Europe other than his research work and for that reason he wanted to relate them to the agents. He stated that he went to the University of Leipzig on a fellowship from the Lalor Foundation at Wilmington, Delaware. The head of this organization is Doctor LALOR BURDICK. This foundation as well as other similar ones advertises in various technical publications that it has fellowships available for deserving students. He believes that he saw the ad of the Lalor Foundation in what was then known as "Industrial and Engineering Chemistry News Edition" which is now known as "Chemical and Engineering News." He merely made an application stating his qualifications and was accepted.

While at the University of Leipzig in 1938 and 1939 he did research work on enzymes and glycosides and based upon this research wrote eight published papers, seven of which were published in German journals and one in an American journal. These articles appeared in the following publications in the volume, page and year shown:

"Berichte Der Dutschen Chemischen Gesellschaft"
Volume 72, Page 212, 1939.
Volume 72, Page 1953, 1939.
"Zeilschrift fur Physiologische Chemie"

Volume 62, Page 1371, 1940.

He stated that he sailed for Europe on the Vulcania of the Italian lines from New York City the latter part of July, 1938. The boat made one or two stops prior to stopping at Venice, Italy where PIGMAN, his wife and one child disembarked. From Venice they traveled by train to Budapest, Vienna, Prag and Leipzig, arriving at Leipzig about the first of September, 1938. From then until July 1, 1939 he studied at Leipzig but made various short trips to other cities in Germany. Prior to leaving America he had arranged with his brother, GEORGE LE ROY PIGMAN, that GEORGE and his wife would meet PIGMAN in Paris in the summer of 1939 and they would take a trip together. In the summer of 1939 about July 1, PIGMAN rented a small automobile. He left his child in Leipzig and he and his wife drove to Paris where they met his brother GEORGE and his wife. The four then toured Switzerland, including Geneva, Rhone Valley, Luzern, Zurich, then over into the Austrian Tyrol Valley, then to Innsbruck, Munich, Nuremberg and back to Leipzig, arriving there about August 15, 1939. At this point PIGMAN's wife picked up their child and traveled alone to Stockholm, Sweden. He, his brother, GEORGE, and GEORGE's wife continued from Leipzig by train to Warsaw, Poland where they spent several days, thence to Moscow, Russia where they spent three days, thence to Leningrad, Russia where they spent three days. From Leningrad they went to Helsingfors and then to Stockholm where PIGMAN met his wife and child. The whole party then traveled to Copenhagen where they spent approximately a week and proceeded to Gottesberg, Sweden where they all embarked on the S.S. Kungsholm and arrived in New York about October 1, 1939. He had resigned his position with the Bureau of Standards with the understanding that he could return. Within a short time after his return he again took up employment with that organization.

PIGMAN stated that he had been asked before the grand jury if he had met any individuals while he was in Russia and he had told the grand jury that he looked up a woman in Moscow who was the Russian wife of a professor friend of his at Leipzig by the name of Doctor JOSEPH STETTER. STETTER had given PIGMAN 300 marks to purchase goods in America for his wife in Moscow. Upon his return to the United States, PIGMAN placed an order with Sears Roebuck Company, Export Department, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. PIGMAN produced a letter from that organization which enclosed three documents described in the cover letter as "license forms" bearing serial numbers as follows: 91777, 91778 and 91779. These forms were in the nature of invoices and each listed several items in the Russian language which PIGMAN stated referred to household goods and clothing which he had ordered at this woman's request. The license forms indicated the goods were shipped through Intourist, Inc., 545 Fifth Avenue, New York City. The addressee on the forms was written in the Russian language and appeared as follows:

СТЕТТЕР, ЗОФИЯ АНАТОЛЬЕВНА
УЛ МАРКСА ЭНГЕЛЬСА 19, КВ 1
МОСКВА, СССР

PIGMAN would not let this letter and forms leave his possession but agreed to have photostatic copies made of them and to forward the copies to the Milwaukee Office providing he could make convenient arrangements.

PIGMAN stated that he was married to ALICE WOLFE of Chicago, Illinois on June 10, 1933 at Alexandria, Virginia. He gave the names and places and dates of birth of his children as follows:

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS:

WILLIAM WARD FICHAN identified photograph of DAVID CHAMBERS as man he knew as DAVID ZIMMERMAN from about 1923 or 1924 to 1933 in Washington, D. C. Acquaintance arose in connection with union activity of both in F.A.E.C.W. ZIMMERMAN occasionally joined informal discussion group where FICHAN present, made up mostly of fellow employees of FICHAN from Bureau of Standards about 1924. FICHAN has no knowledge of CP membership on part of any member of this group but would judge ZIMMERMAN most likely to have been member. Activities while in Europe, 1933-1935, set forth. Spent three days in Moscow where he met Russian wife of German professor at Leipzig and arranged to send American commodities to her with money furnished by her husband. Married Alexandria, Va. 8/10/25 to ALICE WOLFE of Chicago, Ill. Date and place of birth of children and past residence addresses set forth.

DETAILS: WILLIAM WARD PICMAN

At Appleton, Wisconsin:

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent ALEXANDER P. LE GRAND and the writer:

WILLIAM WARD PICMAN was interviewed on February 7, 1943 at his home, 702 East North Street, Appleton, Wisconsin. A photograph of DAVID ZIMMERMAN, furnished Milwaukee by New York, was exhibited to PICMAN and he identified it as a picture of a man he knew in Washington, D. C. as DAVID ZIMMERMAN. He stated that he had previously identified this photograph before the federal grand jury in New York City as that of DAVID ZIMMERMAN. The photograph shown him there, however, contained three individuals including ZIMMERMAN.

PICMAN stated that he became acquainted with DAVID ZIMMERMAN, whom he knew under no other name, when PICMAN belonged to the Federation of Architects, Engineers, Chemists and Technicians in Washington, D. C. He stated that he was active in the Washington local of this union from about 1933 to 1936 and he believes that it was from 1934 to 1936 that he knew ZIMMERMAN. He could not recall whether ZIMMERMAN held any office in this union, was an organizer for the union, or just what his connection with the union was. ZIMMERMAN did not work for the Bureau of Standards and PICMAN does not recall whether he had a job with the government or not. PICMAN himself lost interest in the union about 1936. He may have seen ZIMMERMAN on one or two occasions from 1936 until PICMAN went to Europe in the summer of 1923, but he recalls no instance.

PICMAN was vague as to the details of his contacts with ZIMMERMAN but stated that he met him at several business meetings of the union and may have seen him at the homes of mutual friends. In connection with this latter statement, PICMAN explained that when he was first in the Bureau of Standards prior to his marriage he was assigned to the "cement section" where he made a number of friends whom he continued to associate with from time to time through the union and in what he described as "informal gatherings" at the homes of various of these people. He believes ZIMMERMAN was present at some of these "informal gatherings." The nature of the gatherings were social for the most part but they entered into discussions of "many things" probably including politics. PICMAN could be no more specific on this point. He stated that he could name several individuals who were probably at these gatherings, but the only two he would name because he was sure were HERBERT INSLEY, who to the best of his knowledge is still employed in the Bureau of Standards, and EINAR FLINT, presently employed by Armour Research Foundation in Chicago, Illinois.

PICMAN was questioned as to whether or not he knew of any women with whom ZIMMERMAN associated and in particular if he knew a woman by the name of ELEANOR NELSON, ELEANOR NELSON PORTER or ELEANOR

SOVIENO. He stated that he knew no woman with whom ZIMMERMAN associated. He pointed out, however, that he had previously advised agents he knew a woman named ELEANOR NELSON in connection with union activities in Washington, D. C. during the same period of time but that he did not connect her in his memory in any way with the man he knew as DAVID ZIMMERMAN. He stated that while he was in attendance at the federal grand jury in New York recently he understood that a woman named ELEANOR NELSON was subpoenaed as a witness also and a woman was pointed out to him as ELEANOR NELSON. He did not recognize her as anyone he had ever known, although he stated several years had passed and the woman he knew could have aged to the extent that he did not recognize her.

PICMAN was questioned for further details concerning the nature of the discussions held by the previously described "informal gatherings." In explanation of this he stated that in his younger days, particularly at the period of time from 1933 to 1936, he himself held several "leftish" views on social and political matters. He was asked to explain what he meant by the word "leftish." He stated that at this period of time he recalls having attended several Soviet moving pictures and lectures, usually at some union hall in Washington, D. C. He was unable to recall under whose auspices any of these lectures and movies were presented, nor who invited or urged him to attend them, if anyone did. In further explanation of his beliefs and activities at this time, PICMAN volunteered that there was considerable feeling among government workers, particularly among those he knew at the Bureau of Standards concerning the low wages they received at that time. He attributes this condition to the fact that he and his friends became interested in F.A.E.C.T. and took an active part in not only union activities but in political and economic discussions.

In summation of his descriptions of the "informal gatherings" he stated that they were more or less continuations of discussions held during their lunch hours at work and that no doubt they had met on occasions in his home as well as in the homes of the other individuals in this group.

PICMAN volunteered that it seemed to him the attorneys before the grand jury were interested in his activities in Europe other than his research work and for that reason he wanted to relate them to the agents. He stated that he went to the University of Leipzig on a fellowship from the Lalor Foundation at Wilmington, Delaware. The head of this organization is Doctor LALOR BURDICK. This foundation as well as other similar ones advertises in various technical publications that it has fellowships available for deserving students. He believes that he saw the ad of the Lalor Foundation in what was then known as "Industrial and Engineering Chemistry News Edition" which is now known as "Chemical and Engineering News." He merely made an application stating his qualifications and was accepted.

While at the University of Leipzig in 1938 and 1939 he did research work on enzymes and glycosides and based upon this research wrote eight published papers, seven of which were published in German Journals and one in an American Journal. These articles appeared in the following publications in the volume, page and year shown:

"Berichte Der Dutschen Chemischen Gesellschaft"
Volume 72, Page 212, 1939.
Volume 72, Page 1953, 1939.
"Zeitschrift fur Physiologische Chemie"
Volume 259, Page 150, 1939.

Volume 261, Page 109, 1939.
"Journal of American Chemical Society"
Volume 62, Page 1371, 1940.

He stated that he sailed for Europe on the Vulcania of the Italian lines from New York City the latter part of July, 1938. The boat made one or two stops prior to stopping at Venice, Italy where FIGMAN, his wife and one child disembarked. From Venice they traveled by train to Budapest, Vienna, Prag and Leipzig, arriving at Leipzig about the first of September, 1938. From then until July 1, 1939 he studied at Leipzig but made various short trips to other cities in Germany. Prior to leaving America he had arranged with his brother, GEORGE LE ROY FIGMAN, that GEORGE and his wife would meet FIGMAN in Paris in the summer of 1939 and they would take a trip together. In the summer of 1939 about July 1, FIGMAN rented a small automobile. He left his child in Leipzig and he and his wife drove to Paris where they met his brother GEORGE and his wife. The four then toured Switzerland, including Geneva, Rhone Valley, Luzern, Zurich, then over into the Austrian Tyrol Valley, then to Innsbruck, Munich, Nuremberg and back to Leipzig, arriving there about August 15, 1939. At this point FIGMAN's wife picked up their child and traveled alone to Stockholm, Sweden. He, his brother, GEORGE, and GEORGE's wife continued from Leipzig by train to Warsaw, Poland where they spent several days, thence to Moscow, Russia where they spent three days, thence to Leningrad, Russia where they spent three days. From Leningrad they went to Helsingfors and then to Stockholm where FIGMAN met his wife and child. The whole party then traveled to Copenhagen where they spent approximately a week and proceeded to Gottesberg, Sweden where they all embarked on the S.S. Kungsholm and arrived in New York about October 1, 1939. He had resigned his position with the Bureau of Standards with the understanding that he could return. Within a short time after his return he again took up employment with that organization.

FIGMAN stated that he had been asked before the grand jury if he had met any individuals while he was in Russia and he had told the grand jury that he looked up a woman in Moscow who was the Russian wife of a professor friend of his at Leipzig by the name of Doctor JOSEPH STETTER. STETTER had given PICMAN 500 marks to purchase goods in America for his wife in Moscow. Upon his return to the United States, PICMAN placed an order with Sears Roebuck Company, Export Department, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. PICMAN produced a letter from that organization which enclosed three documents described in the cover letter as "license forms" bearing serial numbers as follows: 91777, 91778 and 91779. These forms were in the nature of invoices and each listed several items in the Russian language which PICMAN stated referred to household goods and clothing which he had ordered at this woman's request. The license forms indicated the goods were shipped through Intourist, Inc., 545 Fifth Avenue, New York City. The addressee on the forms was written in the Russian language and appeared as follows:

СТЕТТЕР, ЗОФИЯ АНАТОЛЕВНА
УЛ МАРКСА ЭНГЕЛЬСА 19, КВ 1
МОСКВА,СССР

PICMAN would not let this letter and forms leave his possession but agreed to have photostatic copies made of them and to forward the copies to the Milwaukee Office providing he could make convenient arrangements.

PICMAN stated that he was married to ALICE WOLFE of Chicago, Illinois on June 10, 1933 at Alexandria, Virginia. He gave the names and places and dates of birth of his children as follows:

JAMES WARD PICMAN, born September 17, 1936 at Columbia Hospital, Washington, D. C., while parents resided at 3001 Porter Street NW, Washington, D. C.

JOHN CHARLES PICMAN, born April 26, 1946, while parents resided at 532 South Kenilworth, Oak Park, Illinois

PICMAN stated that his parents were living but separated. His father is JAMES W. PICMAN, retired, who resides at 821 North Ridgeland Avenue, Oak Park, Illinois. His mother, CLOA PICMAN, nee CHAPPLE, resides at 1017 South Lombard, Oak Park, Illinois. PICMAN has one brother, GLOHOK LE ROY PICMAN, previously identified in this case, and a divorced sister who goes by her maiden name, DORIS PICMAN, and resides with her mother. Her married name was DORIS JOHNSON.

U. S. GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE 7—2034

FRANK BUCHANAN of Hardin, Missouri said he was the brother of Mrs. ARTHUR TURNER and Mrs. LEON W. WHITE of El Paso, Texas, and that he had received a letter from Mrs. TURNER regarding the records stored at her house.

Mr. BUCHANAN accompanied the writer to Richmond, Missouri, where HARRY KULL, Manager of the Missouri Gas Company, was interviewed. He said he no longer had the key to Mrs. TURNER's house and made numerous telephone calls in an attempt to locate a key. Being unable to locate a key, Mr. KULL assigned one of his men at the request of Mr. BUCHANAN to gain entrance to the house, inasmuch as they had occasion to do so in the past in connection with gas business. The house was entered by FRANK BUCHANAN and the writer and records of LEON W. WHITE were located, which indicated that, according to sales slip dated 1-6-41, Woodstock typewriter 5N #198743 was sold on 1-6-41 to the Royal Printing Company, 2408 West 32nd Avenue for $24.99. The sales slip was numbered 37. No city was mentioned on the sales slip, but it was noted that WHITE's typewriter shop in 1941 was in Englewood, Colorado, a suburb of Denver, and further, that, according to the El Paso teletype, WHITE has stated that he sold the machine in Denver.

This information was forwarded to the Denver Office by teletype dated 2-8-49.

At Youngstown, Ohio:

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent HARVEY E. WILKINSON:

Mr. KARL MILLER, Manager of the Woodstock Typewriter Exchange, 12 Vindicator Square, advised that this typewriter was sold on August 1, 1940 to Mr. JESSE BORTON, 417 East Liberty Street, Hubbard, Ohio.

Mr. JESSE BORTNER was contacted and advised that he had purchased this typewriter from the Woodstock Typewriter Exchange of Youngstown sometime in 1940 and had given it to his daughter as an aid to her in her school work.

Mrs. MAJORIE HARRY, Mr. BORTNER's daughter, 417 East Liberty Street, Hubbard, Ohio, advised that she has been in possession of instant typewriter since her father had purchased it and given it to her and readily made it available in order to secure the sample text.

By personal observation of Agent WILKINSON it was ascertained that the typewriter in question is a Woodstock, Model 5N, Serial No. 156037.

An original and carbon copy of the typed characteristics of the above-mentioned typewriter were forwarded to the FBI Laboratory under date of January 26, 1949. On January 28, 1949 the FBI Laboratory advised that from an examination of these specimens it was concluded that this typewriter was not identical with the machine used to type questioned Specimens Nos. 5 through 69 of this case.

His application reflected that his mother was born in Minnesota but that he did not know his father's birthplace.

On February 2, 1949, JEAN CLARK FIELD LIEBERMAN was interviewed by Special Agents CHARLES F. BRUSCH and the writer at her home, Route 1, P.O. Box 172, Lone Tree Ave., Mill Valley, Calif. She stated that she was formerly the wife of HERMAN HAVELIND FIELD; that she first met him in high school in Cambridge, Mass. about 1926 and that they were married at Weston, Mass. June 14, 1932. She stated that she attended Vassar University from 1930 to 1934, receiving an A.B. Degree, and that HERMAN HAVELIND FIELD had attended Harvard University and Harvard Architectural School during the same period of time and that he graduated from Harvard University in 1932. She stated that the family of HERMAN HAVELIND FIELD is as follows:

His father is deceased. His mother's name was NINA. He had a brother NOEL and two sisters, ELSIE, who is now married to a man named DOOB, and another sister LETISHA died in 1931. With regard to her own family, JEAN LIEBERMAN stated that her father was ALFRED CLARK, who died in 1933; that her mother is SUE CLARK, presently residing at 205 Mount Auburn St., Cambridge, Mass.; that she has one brother, ALAN, residing at Cambridge, Mass. and a sister MARGOT CLARK, who resides in Los Angeles, and a sister JOY, who resides at New Bedford, Mass.

JEAN LIEBERMAN stated she was born in Boston, Mass. Upon graduation from Vassar, JEAN LIEBERMAN obtained a fellowship to study in Zurich at the University of Zurich and with her husband HERMAN FIELD went to Switzerland in 1934. At the same time he continued his study of architecture at Zurich, Switzerland, receiving his degree in 1936. She stated that neither of them were employed at this time and devoted their full time to their studies. In 1936 HERMAN FIELD moved to England where he was employed by a Swiss chemical company, the Hoffman - Laruche Company at Wilenym Gardens, England, but that she remained in Zurich studying. She stated she visited him in England several times in 1936, 1937 and 1938. She stated they were officially separated in 1938 and that they were divorced in January of 1940 and that in June of 1940 HERMAN FIELD remarried an English girl whose name was KATE. She said that HERMAN FIELD remained in England until the beginning of the war in 1939 and then returned to the United States. JEAN LIEBERMAN continued to reside in Zurich, Switzerland and received a Ph.D. Degree in 1939 in German Literature from the University of Zurich. In March of 1940 she remarried, her present husband being SOLAOMON LIEBERMAN, a native of Switzerland, who served in the Anti Aircraft Forces of Switzerland (Army) and who was employed as a set designer in the Swiss film industry with various firms such as the Praesens Corporation and other film companies. SOLAOMON LIEBERMAN was born February 19, 1912 at Zurich. LIEBERMAN

JEAN LIEBERMAN and her husband and two children returned to the United States aboard the SS GRIPSHOLM in December of 1945, SOLAOMON LIEBERMAN traveling on a permanent resident immigration visa. She said he has not yet filed an application for citizenship but is eligible to do so now. She resided at Cambridge, Mass. until June of 1946 and then moved to New York City, where JEAN LIEBERMAN obtained a job August 1 at the International Social Service, New York City, and was employed there until August of 1946. SOLAOMON LIEBERMAN was employed during this time as a paper hanger. In late 1946 they moved to Los Angeles, Calif., where SOLAOMON LIEBERMAN attempted to get a job in the film industry but the 13 months strike in the film industry prevented this, and during this time JEAN LIEBERMAN was employed beginning in February of 1947 as a secretary and reader for the San Jaffe Agency. She was discharged in January 1948 from this position due to a reduction in staff. They remained in Los Angeles until September of 1948, when they moved to Mill Valley, Calif., first residing in a cabin at Stinson Beach, and moving to their present residence on November 6, 1948. She said that he is now working in an architectural office at Cleveland, Ohio and since 1945 he has written her about once a year.

With regard to the activities of HERMAN FIELD while she was married to him and living with him in Switzerland from 1934 to 1938, she stated that he devoted his full time to his studies and that their recreation consisted of skiing and that they had a few friends who were Swiss who were attending the University at the time but she denied vigorously that either HERMAN FIELD or herself had had any connection with the Communist Party, any individuals whom she would identify as Communists or that she had any knowledge of Soviet espionage activities during this period of time.

JEAN LIEBERMAN was questioned regarding her knowledge of NOEL FIELD, the brother of HERMAN FIELD. She stated that NOEL FIELD arrived in Switzerland some time in 1936 as an observer to the League of Nations and that he was a Specialist in Disarmament. She said he resided at Geneva, Switzerland and it was her understanding that he was acting in the capacity as an employee of the U.S. Government, although she did not know with what department he was connected. She stated he stayed in Switzerland at Geneva until the dissolution of the League of Nations. She did not recall the date that this occurred, but following this, NOEL FIELD then obtained a job as assistant to the European Director of the Unitarian Service Committee; residing for a short while at Geneva, Switzerland, and then moving to Marseilles, France. At the time the Germans occupied southern France during the war, NOEL FIELD returned to Geneva and lived there. During NOEL FIELD's residence in Switzerland, JEAN LIEBERMAN stated she saw him occasionally; that occasionally he visited her in Zurich or she saw him in Geneva and they went skiing together. However, she denied any knowledge of NOEL FIELD having had any connection with the Communist Party, with the Soviet Government, with any underground intelligence or espionage network, or with any anti-nazi underground.

JEAN LIEBERMAN stated that she did not know ALGER HISS prior to the recent newspaper publicity nor had she heard of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS prior to this. When questioned specifically as to the extent of her association with NOEL FIELD, she stated that after HERMAN FIELD had gone to England in 1936, she visited NOEL FIELD several times at Geneva and on one occasion recalled going skiing with him at the town of Chargnacy across the French border and she recalled that this had occurred prior to the beginning of the war and fixed the date as approximately 1938. She stated that she had corresponded with him occasionally. She denied that she had ever received letters addressed to him which she had forwarded to him. She stated she had received no letters for him from anyone and that his mailing address had been Marseilles or Geneva and so far as she knew, he had received all his mail direct. When questioned about the possibility of any Communist or espionage activities on the part of NOEL FIELD, she vigorously denied that she had any knowledge of such activities.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

JEAN LIEBERMAN was questioned concerning any trips which she herself had made out of Switzerland during her residence there. She stated that she and her husband HERMAN FIELD had made a trip to Italy in the spring of 1935 for about a month and had toured all of Italy as far south as Sicily. In the summer of 1935 she stated she had visited Stuttgart, Germany for about two months during the summer vacation from the university; that once she and her husband HERMAN FIELD had traveled to Frankfurt am Main and Nurnberg for the purpose of HERMAN FIELD's studying the cathedrals there. In 1936 during the summer vacation she traveled to England and lived in London, returning to Zurich by way of Paris and crossing the English Channel. She stated she made this trip several times during 1936 and 1937 and 1938, and she recalls crossing the English Channel at several places, each time traveling through Paris. She said that the last time she made this trip was in the spring of 1938. She believed in the spring of 1937 she spent a week in Paris and that in the winter of 1937 she spent two weeks in Poland visiting some friends there who were students at the university. She could not recall their names.

She said once some time in 1936 she spent a week in Berlin, Germany where she visited a girlfriend that she had known in Zurich. This girlfriend's name was SAURE. She could not recall her first name. She stated that while in Berlin she stayed with a woman who was a friend of this girl, having first registered, she believed, at a hotel which was the same type as the YWCA hotels. When questioned more closely as to the location of this particular hotel or whether it had been recommended to her for some reason, she stated that the reason she had chosen it was that she recollected it had been cheap and was the sort of place that a respectable young girl would take. After giving the matter further thought, she said she was not sure that it was in Berlin that she had stayed at this particular YWCA type hotel and that it may have been in Freiburg. She said she recalled that she did not stay with her girlfriend SAURE who is a dancer in Berlin because of the crowded conditions in Berlin at the time and the fact that SAURE herself was living with friends and there was no additional room for her. She was asked whether she had carried any messages from any friends in Switzerland to anyone in Berlin on this particular trip and she denied that she had. She was specifically asked whether this trip had not centered around a message concealed in a tube of toothpaste. It was apparent to interviewing agents that she was startled by this question as she did not answer it for some moments and then stated that it had not. She again denied that she had ever carried any messages across the Swiss-German border on behalf of anyone during the time that she resided in Zurich.

She was asked whether she had telephoned MARTIN DOERING while in Berlin on this particular trip and she denied that she had. She further denied that she was acquainted with or knew who MARTIN DOERING was and she denied in answer to the specific question that she had brought any messages from anyone in Switzerland to deliver to MARTIN DOERING.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

JEAN LIEBERMAN was questioned as to the identity of friends and associates of herself and her husband while in Switzerland and she stated they were acquainted with LUDWIG KERLER, a professor at the University of Zurich, and a Dr. WILLI VON MURATH, a practicing physician in Zurich. She also stated that she was acquainted with PAUL MASSING and his wife, HEDE MASSING, and that she had first met PAUL MASSING through HERMAN FIELD's mother, who had visited in Zurich, Switzerland for approximately two months during the winter of 1936 and 1937. At that time HERMAN FIELD was in England and NINA FIELD had resided with JEAN LIEBERMAN that winter. She said that HERMAN FIELD had also met Dr. MASSING. She did not know Dr. MASSING's employment but stated he had once told her that he traveled a great deal and she recalled that Dr. MASSING had left for America at the end of 1936 and that she believed he was presently in New York City. She was asked why she thought he was in New York City and she stated she had seen his name in the telephone book; that she had looked it up in 1945 when she returned to the United States, but she denied that she had contacted Dr. MASSING at that time.

She believed that HERMAN FIELD's mother may have become acquainted with Dr. MASSING in the United States. She said that Dr. MASSING was a German but that he was strongly anti-Nazi and that he was engaged in some kind of business which required his traveling between the United States and Europe. JEAN LIEBERMAN said that she recalled having met HEDE MASSING only once and that it was her recollection that Dr. MASSING's wife came to Switzerland about a year before Dr. MASSING returned to the United States. It was her recollection that PAUL MASSING had been residing in Switzerland for some time prior to her introduction to him. She denied that she had ever received any mail on behalf of PAUL MASSING or had ever forwarded any mail to him and denied that she had ever carried any messages for him or for any of her associates or her husband's associates at any time while she was residing in Switzerland.

She was told that the allegation had been made that HERMAN FIELD was rabidly pro-Russian and pro-Communist and she stated that this was definitely an exaggeration. When asked to define to what extent she believed HERMAN FIELD was pro-Russian, she could not answer this question, stating that she knew that he was a liberal and was anti-Nazi but that she did not feel that he had been outspokenly pro-Russian. She said he was always anxious to prevent war and was fundamentally a pacifist and he believed fully in the cooperation of all nations against Hitler.

She stated that during her residence in Switzerland she had known no Communists, had attended no Communist meetings, had known no Soviet agents, no members of any Communist underground, no members of any anti-Nazi or anti-German underground. She vigorously denied that she had carried any messages to MARTIN DOERING or that she knew MARTIN DOERING or that she had carried messages on behalf of anyone. At the conclusion of the interview she questioned agents as to the present whereabouts of MARTIN DOERING and whether the Bureau had him in custody and whether he had made the allegations against her. She was told that the agents were not in a position to answer these questions.

It is to be pointed out that Dr. PAUL MASSING had previously furnished information to Bureau Agents in New York City that on one occasion he had concealed a message in a tube of toothpaste and that JEAN LIEBERMAN had carried this message to Berlin where she had registered at a hotel exclusively for women and that she had phoned MARTIN DOERING from this hotel and arranged an appointment with him and had delivered this message to him, and that she had returned to Switzerland and notified Dr. MASSING that the message had been delivered. Dr. MASSING has recently been reinterviewed and stated he has no additional information concerning the activities of JEAN LIEBERMAN in Switzerland.

By letter dated January 25, 1949 the Laboratory advised that the letter obtained from Dr. CARL SPAETH written to him by ALGER HISS and which was identified by the Laboratory as Specimen K-330 was not written on the machine which was used to type Specimens Q6 through Q69 nor on the machine which was used to type Specimen Q5. This letter has been returned to CARL SPAETH.

It was determined from inquiry at Sacramento, Calif. made by Special Agents PAUL C. FULLER and RICHARD H. NELSON that CRAWFORD F. BRUBAKER is presently connected with the State Department of Education, Room 308, Stevenson Bldg., 30 North Raymond Ave., Pasadena, Calif. CRAWFORD F. BRUBAKER was the executive officer of the U.S. Navy who handled the discharge from the Navy of TIMOTHY HOBSON, the stepson of ALGER HISS.

GALE SHERIDAN, employed by the Federal Union, Phelan Bldg., residing at 2257 Vallejo St., San Francisco, was interviewed on February 1, 1949 by SA PAUL C. FULLER and the writer. She advised that her acquaintanceship with ALGER HISS had been very slight; that she had first met him while she was working as a stenographer for the Nye Committee in Washington, D. C. She said she had never corresponded with ALGER HISS and that she knew of no Communist activities on the part of ALGER HISS while he was associated with the Nye Committee. She stated that the person most likely to know ALGER HISS was the principal stenographer who did all of ALGER HISS's work and that her name was LILLIAN STONE, who is now Mrs. HAROLD WEISBERG, and that she is still employed by the Federal Government at Washington, D. C. and she believes she resided at Hyattstown. It is believed that this may refer to Hyattsville, Md. She said that also associated with ALGER HISS to some extent were ELSIE GULLANDER, a Miss LEE who is now Mrs. WILLIAM HEFLIN, and RUTH PENN, who were all formerly stenographers with the Nye Committee, and also one SHERMAN, a former investigator for the Nye Committee. She could furnish no addresses for these individuals except to state that they were still employed by the Government and were residing at or near Washington, D. C.

C. EASTON ROTHWELL, Associate Director of the Hoover Institute, Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif., who resides at Portola Ave., Palo Alto, was interviewed February 3, 1949 by Special Agents CHARLES F. BRUSCH and the writer. Mr. ROTHWELL said he first met ALGER HISS in 1942 at a committee meeting at the State Department in Washington, D. C. and that subsequent to that time he became very well acquainted with him and at the present time considers him a close personal friend. He said that in 1944 ALGER HISS served as Special Assistant to the Director of Special Political Affairs of the Department of State, who at that time was EDMUND WILSON, presently Ambassador to Turkey. At the same time ROTHWELL was serving as an official in the same division of the State Department. In addition, HISS served as Executive Secretary to the Dumbarton Oaks meeting and EASTON ROTHWELL worked closely with him at that meeting. In 1945 EASTON ROTHWELL served as Executive Secretary to the United Nations Conference on International Organization and ALGER HISS served as Secretary General of this same meeting and ROTHWELL and HISS were closely associated at this time. In 1946 Mr. ROTHWELL served as Secretary General to the General Assembly of the United Nations at London and ALGER HISS served as a Special Advisor and they roomed together in London from January 1946 to the end of February 1946, at which time HISS returned to the United States and Mr. ROTHWELL remained in London until the first part of March. On his return to Washington ROTHWELL was again closely associated with ALGER HISS up until the time that ROTHWELL resigned from the State Department in the fall of 1946.

Subsequent to HISS's resignation from the Department of State and his association with the Carnegie Endowment For International Peace, ROTHWELL and HISS have exchanged considerable correspondence to work out a project between the Hoover Library and the Carnegie Endowment. Mr. ROTHWELL stated he had considerable typewritten letters on the letterheads of the Carnegie Endowment which had come to him from ALGER HISS in connection with this work.

Mr. ROTHWELL stated he had met PRISCILLA HISS only two or three times at receptions and cocktail parties and did not recall ever having visited the HISS residence. He stated that during his association with ALGER HISS he had never received any indication of a connection between ALGER HISS and the Communist Party. He stated he thought he would have found this out if there had been one, due to his close association with ALGER HISS. He said he thought he would particularly have found this out while he was living in London with ALGER HISS inasmuch as HISS had been seriously ill at the time and ROTHWELL had nursed him through this illness. He said he has had long conversations and discussions with ALGER HISS and never has there been any indication of any inclination on the part of ALGER HISS toward Communism or Russian espionage activities. Mr. ROTHWELL stated that when he first read in the newspaper of the charges made by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS against ALGER HISS, it came as a great shock to him, and it is impossible for him to believe that they are true. He did say, however, that he had heard a rumor some time in 1946 to the effect that ALGER HISS was a Communist. He stated that this occurred he thought in September of 1946 about 1 1/2 months prior to ROTHWELL's resignation from the State Department which occurred in October of 1946. He said that this occurred at a meeting of the State Department which was being held for the purpose of reorganizing the Office of Special Political Affairs, and the meeting was held either in DON RUSSELL or JOSEPH PENNOCK's Office. Mr. ROTHWELL said that at the conclusion of the meeting that some individual objected to the promotion of ALGER HISS on the grounds that HISS was a Communist. ROTHWELL stated that he has endeavored to recollect the identity of the individual who made this statement but that he cannot recall who it was, and that it is his impression that this individual made the statement to him as they were walking out of the room following the meeting. ROTHWELL stated that at the time he laughed this statement off as it was absolutely inconceivable to him that HISS could be a Communist or even be communistically inclined and he felt that it was coming from someone who wanted to undermine ALGER HISS's eligibility for the job. ROTHWELL described ALGER HISS as being generally more cautious and more conservative than ROTHWELL himself. Mr. ROTHWELL stated that the reorganization which was under discussion at the meeting has not taken place and that the Office of Special Political Affairs is now known as the Office of United Nations Affairs and has been known as that since about January of 1948. He said that DON RUSSELL was the Assistant Secretary of State in charge of that office.

Mr. ROTHWELL described HISS as being a person who is transparently honest, the kind of person who ROTHWELL found it extremely difficult to believe would engage in any lies or other activities that were not strictly open and aboveboard. Mr. ROTHWELL stated that he disagreed with HISS at times and that they fought out opposite sides of questions violently but that even in these arguments he had never found HISS to be dishonest and HISS had made no attempt to cover or conceal facts and had always dealt fairly and openly.

Mr. ROTHWELL stated that he feels that ALGER HISS has handled his defense of the allegations against him badly but that he does not feel this is very significant as there is a certain impetuousness about ALGER HISS which would lead him to deny the charges immediately. Mr. ROTHWELL said he has attempted to reconcile this defense with his knowledge of ALGER HISS's character and he stated that the one thing that seems incongruous in the matter is the fact that the documents which were published in the New York City Times and which ROTHWELL has read carefully, these being documents which WHITTAKER CHAMBERS claims ALGER HISS gave him, appear to be an indiscriminate selection of papers which form no particular pattern. Mr. ROTHWELL said he could not conceive how a person of ALGER HISS's intelligence would select and pass out such an indiscriminate selection of papers and especially papers which actually bear ALGER HISS's initials. Mr. ROTHWELL said he did not know the security regulations as they existed in 1938 but that he felt it would be possible for any number of people employed in the State Department to obtain such documents and that he felt they could have been obtained without any great difficulty. He said he did not know whether the documents were maintained in a safe or filing cabinet but thinks probably they were maintained in a filing cabinet which would be quite easy to open.

He further stated that in 1941 when he was first employed in the State Department that no passes were required to enter the offices of the State Department and that the keys were left with the guards on duty and he probably thought that such a situation existed in 1938.

It is to be pointed out that in the teletype from Washington Field to San Francisco dated January 31, 1949, information is set out reflecting that in an interview with EDWARD STETTINIUS, he said that ROTHWELL told him in a recent discussion of the HISS case, that ALGER HISS had a lifelong habit of digesting files and documents and putting them in a safe and that someone had taken these documents.

In an effort to develop this information from Mr. ROTHWELL, he was questioned closely concerning this statement, care being used not to mention Mr. STETTINIUS's name. Mr. ROTHWELL stated that he had not made any statement to anyone to the effect that ALGER HISS had had a lifelong habit of briefing State Department reports. He did state that ALGER HISS was a methodical individual and that during the course of his official duties it would not have been unusual for him to brief reports and present them in a condensed form to Dr. SAYRE, his immediate superior. He said he did not know whether ALGER HISS took material home for briefing but did not think it would have been uncommon if he had done so inasmuch as many of the employees of the State Department took material home to work on. Mr. ROTHWELL stated that during the period that he knew ALGER HISS, HISS's files were maintained at the State Department and he presumed that whatever briefed reports were made were filed at the State Department along with the original report and that he knew of no separate file of briefed reports. He further stated he did not know whether such reports would be filed in a safe or in a filing cabinet but presumed they would have been filed in the filing cabinet. He stated that he had seen ALGER HISS' briefing reports and he recalled that he ordinarily made notes in longhand and on occasion would dictate from these notes to a stenographer. He said that considerable of the work in briefing reports would normally be done by the stenographer. He said that ALGER HISS had never mentioned to him that he had such a file of briefed reports or any group of briefed documents nor had ALGER HISS ever mentioned to him that such a group of documents had been stolen, and Mr. ROTHWELL stated he had no knowledge of such a group of documents having been stolen or no knowledge of any documents that had been stolen from the State Department. Mr. ROTHWELL also said that he did not recall discussing with anyone such a group of documents or having heard from anyone that such a group of briefed documents had been taken or stolen from ALGER HISS or that he even had knowledge of such a group of briefed documents.

Mr. ROTHWELL was requested to furnish the Bureau with his correspondence from ALGER HISS for comparison with the questioned documents furnished by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS at the time of the original interview and Mr. ROTHWELL declined to furnish these letters to agents on the basis that he did not know whether it was the ethical thing to do. He said he needed time to think it over and resolve the ethical aspects one way or another. He said he would telephone agents if he changed his mind and decided to make the letters available. On February 5, 1949, Mr. ROTHWELL telephonically contacted the writer and advised that he had decided to make whatever documents were in his possession available to the Bureau. On the same day he furnished 23 letters received by him from ALGER HISS all typewritten on the letterheads of the Carnegie Endowment For International Peace and all dated 1947 and 1948. These letters have been forwarded to the Laboratory for examination. Mr. ROTHWELL specifically requested that in the event no identification was effected, that the contents of these documents be held strictly confidential within the Bureau inasmuch as they dealt with business between the Carnegie Endowment and the Hoover Institute and were in no way pertinent to the investigation of the charges alleged by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

EDWARD G. CHANDLER, an attorney, was interviewed at his office in the Balboa Building, San Francisco, on February 7, 1949 by Special Agents PAUL C. FULLER and the writer. Mr. CHANDLER stated that he entered Harvard University in 1926, receiving his law degree in 1929 and that he knew ALGER HISS at the time. He said he was not in ALGER HISS's section at law school but that he belonged to the same eating club which was the Lincoln's Inn Eating Club. He said he attended one seminar in "Trusts" at law class with HISS and that it was immediately evident that ALGER HISS knew much more about the subject than the other members of the seminar. He said that ALGER HISS was a member of the Law Review and that he, CHANDLER, was not. He said that they had no social interests and that his acquaintance with him other than outlined above was slight. He said he heard from ALGER HISS again in 1943 at Washington, D. C., at which time Mr. CHANDLER was serving with the Procurement Legal Division of the Department of the Navy. He said he telephoned ALGER HISS in Washington, D. C. and they had lunch together five or six times. He said he has had no correspondence with ALGER HISS and that during his association with him he had no knowledge of any Communist activities or inclinations on the part of ALGER HISS and that the recent newspaper publicity came as an absolute suprise to him. He said that ALGER HISS's roommate at Harvard was one JESSE SLINGLUFF, presently an attorney with Marbury, Miller and Evans at Baltimore, Md., and he suggested that he be interviewed as he might have additional information. He also stated that another of ALGER HISS's associates at Harvard was one WILLIAM B. CARMEN, an attorney with OMELNENY and MYERS at Los Angeles, Calif., who was on the Law Review with ALGER HISS at Harvard. Mr. CHANDLER said that he had no prior knowledge of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and knew only of him through the newspapers.

CHARLES E. DORR, an attorney, was interviewed February 7, 1949, at the office in the Kohl Bldg., San Francisco, Calif. by Special Agents PAUL C. FULLER and the writer. Mr. DORR stated that he was employed by the Department of Agriculture from October of 1930 to April of 1934 and that in October of 1933 he transferred to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. He stated at this time ALGER HISS had been brought in along with 146 other attorneys for the purpose of setting up marketing orders in the A.A.A. Mr. DORR stated that he had been well acquainted with the top policy makers of the A.A.A. but only slightly acquainted with ALGER HISS and he did not recall ALGER HISS specifically with regard to any work he had done with HISS or any conversations he had had with him, and stated he had no knowledge of any Communist activities on the part of HISS. He did state, however, that it was his impression that all of the 146 attorneys who had been brought in to the A.A.A. were what he would characterize as starry-eyed dreamers, sincere beyond all imagination and extremely liberal in that they believed that all industry must be under a tight, government control and that this must be done by licensing all manufacturers and businessmen throughout the country. He stated that this policy was absolutely in opposition to his own theories on government control of industry and that he remained with the A.A.A. until March or April of 1934, when he decided he had had enough of the liberal policies and he resigned to enter the private practice of law. He stated that those individuals who were probably closely associated with ALGER HISS at this time were the following:

JEROME FRANK, Judge, U.S. Court of Appeals, New York City
NATHAN WITT, 9 E. 40th St., New York City
JOHN ABT, New York City
LEE PRESSMAN, CIO Attorney, 718 Jackson Place, Washington D.C.
ABE FORTAS, Attorney, 1200 18th St., NW, Washington, D.C.
JOHN HENRY LEWIN, Attorney, Mercantile Trust Bldg., Baltimore, Md.
JOHN D. L. YOST, address unknown

Mr. DORR stated he was not well acquainted with these individuals other than association with them for a short period of time when he was employed by the A.A.A. Their current addresses were obtained from recent editions of Who's Who in America and the Martindale - Hubbell Law Directory.

DETAILS: RE: ALGER HISS

First mentioned reference teletype from the Boston Office set forth several former school mates of subject HISS, one of whom was JOSEPH F. JOHNSTON, First National Bank Building, Birmingham. This teletype requested that it be determined whether any correspondence or informat.ca might be in possession of the individuals mentioned pertaining to subject HISS, especially typewritten correspondence which might have been prepared on the personally owned typewriter of ALGER HISS.

Mr. JOSEPH F. JOHNSTON, Attorney, member of possibly the leading legal firm in Birmingham, that of Cabaniss & Johnston, 9th Floor, First National Bank Building, 1st Avenue and 20th Street North, stated that he graduated from the Harvard Law School at Cambridge, Mass. in 1929 and that ALGER HISS graduated therefrom one year later in 1930. He stated that while at Harvard Law School he became well acquainted with HISS and was a great admirer of the ability of that individual. Mr. JOHNSTON stated that he came to Birmingham after graduation and during the middle 1930's was engaging in considerable litigation on behalf of his clients attacking the validity of "new deal" legislation passed in Washington. This required him to be in Washington on rather frequent intervals of approximately three or four months separation and on his visits to Washington he more frequently than not, called by to see HISS and would usually have lunch with him.

For the period 1937 to 1938 Mr. JOHNSTON advised he was General Counsel of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad stationed at Norfolk, Virginia while the railroad was in the hands of a receiver. During that period also he saw HISS on the occasions of his visits to Washington and on a few occasions visited HISS at his home in the evening. He stated he, therefore, is acquainted with PRISCILLA HISS but "did not know much about her." Mr. JOHNSTON returned to Birmingham and has engaged in the practice of law since the Seaboard Air Line Railroad was reorganized. He spent several hours going over past correspondence and files both at his office and at his residence, with negative results as to locating any typewritten correspondence from ALGER HISS. He recalled during the past years having received several hand scribbled notes from HISS which he stated were merely invitations to call him on the occasion of his next visit to Washington and presumed that such notes have been destroyed. Mr. JOHNSTON advised that during the period beginning with his first acquaintance with HISS in the Harvard Law School, until newspaper publicity reflected the difficulties in which HISS is involved, that he had never had the slightest suspicion of the activities of that individual and was greatly shocked upon reading news releases.

With reference to the identities of individuals who may possibly have in their possession correspondence either typewritten or otherwise from subject HISS, Mr. JOHNSTON suggested the following persons:

Federal Judge CHARLES WYZANSKI;
Boston, Mass.
This individual was formerly a close acquaintance of subject HISS.

Mr. MAYNARD J. TOLL, Attorney
c/o O'MELVENY & MYERS
433 South Spring St.,
Los Angeles, Calif.
Attorney TOLL was also a good friend and personal acquaintance of subject HISS.

Mr. JOHNSTON also suggested as possible sources of the information desired that all members of the Board of the Harvard Law Review for the years 1929-30 might be contacted inasmuch as those members would have been closely associated with HISS as HISS was also a Board member of the Law Review for that period.

Mr. JOHNSTON suggested also as a possible source of typewriter specimens: The files of the Solicitor General's Office, Department of Justice might reflect memoranda prepared by HISS during the evening hours at home during the period he was connected with that office.

Second reference teletype from the Washington Field Office to the Bureau and Birmingham under date of February 2, 1949 requested an interview with M. CAMPER O'NEAL, indicated as having been a co-employee of ALGER HISS at the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. MONCURE CAMPER O'NEAL, Attorney, residing at 3140 Guilford Road, Mountain Brook, Birmingham, associated with the firm R. DuPont Thompson & Associates, Frank Nelson Building, Birmingham, who is considered reliable, was interviewed at his office. Mr. O'NEAL advised that he first became acquainted with ALGER HISS in January, 1934 while he, O'NEAL, was an inexperienced attorney, having only graduated from Columbia Law School in June, 1933. At the time he EOD with the Department of Agriculture Litigation Section as an attorney in January, 1934, ALGER HISS was an attorney with that Department and Mr. O'NEAL recalled that HISS had only recently completed the setting up of legislation for the cotton pool. It was the recollection of Mr. O'NEAL that HISS was for a while under the supervision of JEROME FRANK, General Counsel for the AAA of the Department of Agriculture and was also engaged in other duties for the Department of Agriculture.

O'NEAL advised that he was impressed with the ability of ALGER HISS and frequently conferred with him on order to gain knowledge of the duties expected of him by the Department of Agriculture. He stated that this acquaintanceship amounted to no more than that and that he was not sufficiently friendly with HISS to even offer congratulatory messages to him on occasions of his subsequent promotions and honors received after leaving the Department of Agriculture. O'NEAL stated that he himself resigned from the Department of Agriculture in August, 1935 and to his recollection which was verified by a diligent search of his papers never received any correspondence from ALGER HISS.

From copies of memoranda pertaining to his duties while engaged as an attorney in the Department of Agriculture for the period January, 1934 to August, 1935 Mr. O'NEAL suggested the following individuals as possible sources of information pertaining to HISS inasmuch as they were all co-employees at that time:

LEE PRESSMAN
JEROME FRANK
J. P. WENCHEL
CHESTER DAVIS, now member of Federal Reserve Board, St. Louis
STEWART McDONALD
FORREST R. BLACK
JACK I. LEVY
LAWRENCE KEITT, later with National Dairies, Park Avenue, New York
MISS L. RELLA RESNICK
PREW SAVOY
TOM FLAVIN
ARTHUR C. BACHRACH
WILLIAM E. BYRD, now with large Department Store, Atlanta, Ga.
WALTER SCHAEFER, now Professor of Law, Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.
DON MacGUINESS
and one Mr. TOLL.

2352

Mr. O'NEAL stated that all of the above named individuals were either officials of the Department of Agriculture or attorneys in the Litigation Section during the above mentioned period.

No additional information was in the possession of Attorney O'NEAL and he stated that as far as he observed ALGER HISS during the approximately 18 months he was a co-employee in the Department of Agriculture and nothing came to his attention which caused him to doubt the patriotism or loyalty of HISS.

No leads are being set forth at this time to contact the individuals mentioned herein above inasmuch as the office of origin or the Washington Field Office may have previously contacted the individuals mentioned.

The above information was forwarded by teletype summary to the Bureau and the New York Office under date of February 7, 1949 and air mail copies thereof were furnished the Boston, Baltimore and Washington Field Offices for the information of those offices.

AT CULPEPER, VIRGINIA

Pursuant to the instructions outlined in the Washington Field Office teletype of January 29, 1949, the following investigation was conducted by SA JESSE C. HALL, JR., on February 1 and 2, 1949. This was in connection with the fact that Mr. THOMAS TEMPLE HILL was indicated in the Washington Field Office teletype as being a former Washington, D. C. neighbor of ALGER HISS:

Mr. THOMAS TEMPLE HILL, 302 East Spencer Street, Culpeper, Virginia, advised that he resided at 2904 P Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., from the Fall of 1918 to the Spring of 1942, during most of which time he was employed by the Federal Government in the Navy Department. He stated that in the Fall of 1936 he suffered a nervous breakdown and did not recover until the middle of 1938 and as a result of this illness combined with his age, he was unable to recall details of the past residents of the community. Concerning the HISS family, Mr. HILL advised that he had followed the CHAMBERS story in the papers but that he did not recall either HISS or CHAMBERS having been his neighbors. He stated that upon first seeing pictures of HISS and CHAMBERS in the newspapers, it never occurred to him that he had ever seen them before and that if they had been his neighbors, he had either not known them or did not remember them.

Mr. HILL appeared to be very cooperative and in an endeavor to recall subjects, he advised that the only occupants of 2905 P Street, N. W., which he could remember was an Army Officer and his family, whose names he had never known, and that he was of the opinion this family had lived there in approximately 1936. He advised that before and after this the property was rented by various couples, with whom he had had no association and did not know.

He related that he believed the property at 2905 P Street, had been owned and was possibly still owned by a Miss BROWN who resided at 2901 P Street, N. W., and that possibly she would have knowledge of CHAMBERS having visited there.

Concerning other residents of the neighborhood, he advised that Mr. MAURICE HUFFMAN resided at 2902 P Street; Mrs. JOHN BRADEY resided at 2900 P Street; and that a Miss CECIL JONES had moved to 2906 P Street at approximately the time under consideration. He stated that Mr. E. HILTON JACKSON, Attorney, address unknown, Washington, D. C., could probably advise who the occupants of 2906 were prior to Miss JONES having lived there as he had handled the sale of some property to

Miss JONES at the time she had moved into that neighborhood. He advised that the only other resident of the neighborhood which he could remember was a man who had roomed at 2907 P Street, an employee of the Naval Observatory, who had roomed with an unknown deceased widow, there, and that possibly Mr. HUFFMAN or Miss BROWN would know his identity.

Mr. HILL advised that the name GEORGE CROSLEY and "CARL" had no significance to him in connection with persons who had lived in his neighborhood in Washington.

AT RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

Pursuant to the New York Office teletype of January 26, 1949, the reporting agent on January 27, 1949, contacted Mr. J. D. REYNOLDS, Personnel Director of Reynolds Metals Company, Third and Grace Streets, who made available the following applications and letters of recommendation contained in the personnel file pertaining to TIMOTHY HOBSON, stepson of ALGER HISS, which documents contain typewriting specimens:

1. An application dated April 22, 1946. It was Mr. REYNOLDS' opinion that perhaps the typewriter used in filling in this application was in the office of the Reynolds Metals Company in New York City as the application is dated on April 22, 1946, and was received in the Personnel Department in Richmond, Virginia, on April 24, 1946, and Mr. HOBSON was employed immediately upon receipt of his application.

2. An application dated April 22, 1946, to the United States Guarantee Company, which application, according to Mr. REYNOLDS, was filled out by Mr. HOBSON, himself.

3. A letter dated April 25, 1946, from Mr. HERBERT JACOBY.

4. A letter dated April 23, 1946, from Mr. ALFRED HOWARTH.

5. A letter dated April 25, 1946, from Mr. ROBERT B. PEARSALL.

The above material was forwarded to the Laboratory on January 27, 1949, and on February 1, 1949, a Laboratory report reflected that the typewriting specimens listed above were not identical with the questioned specimens in instant case.

Mr. JOSEPH PENNINGTON, JR., 808 East 45th Street, Personnel Supervisor, Reynolds Metals Company, pursuant to the Washington Field teletype of February 2, 1949, was interviewed by the reporting agent at his place of employment on February 11, 1949. Mr. PENNINGTON had been described in the Washington Field teletype as being employed in the Department of Agriculture during the period HISS was likewise employed there. Mr. PENNINGTON confirmed that he was employed by the Agriculture Department in Washington, D. C., from 1934 to 1942, that during this employment he never became personally, officially, or otherwise acquainted with Mr. ALGER HISS. Mr. PENNINGTON explained that he was a Clerk in the Production Control Division of the Tobacco Section of the Agriculture Department on the first floor of the South Building, of the Agriculture Building and that Mr. HISS was employed in the General Counsel's Office on the Fourth or Fifth Floor. Mr. PENNINGTON continued that other than knowing the location of Mr. HISS'S office, he knew no additional information concerning the activities of this individual during his, Mr. PENNINGTON'S, employment with the Agriculture Department.

BLOSSOM, who lives at 125 - 5th Street, N. E., Washington, D. C., was interviewed February 14, 1949, by Special Agents J. J. WALSH and E. F. HUMMER. BLOSSOM stated that the name of HAROLD WARE was familiar to him but that he had never met WARE under any circumstances, that WARE had never been in his home, that WARE was dead before he, BLOSSOM, came to Washington, and further that there had never been any meetings of any kind held at his home either in New York or Washington, D. C. He was asked if he were acquainted with ALGER HISS, WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, VICTOR PERLO, NATHANIEL WITT, HENRY H. COLLINS, Jr., CHARLES KRAMER, HELEN FULLER, GEORGE SILVERMAN, and LEN DeCAUX. He said he believed he had met CHARLES KRAMER on one occasion but he was not acquainted with the other individuals except that he recognized their names from newspaper publicity in this case.

BLOSSOM volunteered information that he was greatly heartened by the courageous stand taken by DEAN ACHESON who affirmed his friendship for ALGER HISS when questioned by the Senate in connection with his appointment as Secretary of State.

~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

The loyalty case recently conducted by the Washington Field Office concerning BLOSSOM reflects that BLOSSOM was appointed to the Library of Congress in Washington, D. C. on May 3, 1937, and that he was previously employed by the Huntington Free Library, New York City.

Mr. ISZARD was familiar with the background of HANNAH PICKERING to some extent, and recalled that she went to Russia with the Quaker Relief Agency in 1922 and after serving an unknown amount of time with that agency, she was employed by the Federal Government for a number of years leaving this employment in approximately 1936 to work for a Russian agency in New York City. Mr. ISZARD could not identify this Russian agency.

While having no definite information regarding the possible Russian sympathies of HANNAH PICKERING during the above period, Mr. ISZARD and his wife both stated that since obtaining her present employment with the New York State Employment agency, and particularly since the start of World War II, HANNAH PICKERING'S attitude toward Russia has apparently changed, and to the best of his knowledge, she no longer has any pro-Russian sympathies.

AT ROCHESTER, NEW YORK

The following investigation was conducted by the writer.

Mrs. STANLEY F. GUTELIUS, 388 Magee Avenue, stated that she has a daughter MARGARET, who in about 1935 was living in California and while there attended the Medical School of the University of California at Berkeley, California for approximately one year, and during the course of another year taught school at an institution known to Mrs. STANLEY GUTELIUS as the Branson School, which she advised is located in the immediate vicinity of San Francisco, California.

Mrs. GUTELIUS advised that the present name of her daughter MARGARET is Mrs. JAMES WATT, and is presently residing at the home of an unknown friend at 1311 Valmont Street, New Orleans, Louisiana. Mrs. GUTELIUS further stated that her daughter MARGARET intends to move from 1311 Valmont Street in the immediate future to an unknown address in New Orleans, however, she advised that the future address of her daughter MARGARET could be obtained by making inquiries at 1311 Valmont Street, New Orleans, in view of the fact that the owners of that residence are very friendly with her daughter APGARET and will have MARGARET'S forwarding address.

In accordance with the Los Angeles request, the purpose of obtaining the present whereabouts of her daughter MARGARET was not revealed to Mrs. STANLEY GUTELIUS.

There is no record in the Buffalo Office of MARGARET GUTELIUS.

DETAILS: AT CHICAGO, ILLINOIS:

Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM F. EARLS, Monterey Hotel, 808 Junior Terrace, advised that they lived at 3212 P Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., from about June 15, 1942, until December, 1943. They recalled that Mr. and Mrs. ALGER HISS moved into 3210 P Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., about the middle of 1943, to the best of their recollection. Mr. EARLS stated that he never saw ALGER HISS and, although he saw Mrs. HISS occasionally, he did not meet her. Mrs. EARLS never conversed with ALGER HISS and only engaged in casual conversation with Mrs. HISS on several occasions.

Neither Mr. nor Mrs. EARLS had any information come to their attention indicating that either Mr. or Mrs. HISS was a member of or in any way sympathetic to or affiliated with the Communist Party. They did not know any of the friends or associates of Mr. and Mrs. HISS, and never heard of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS prior to recent

CHARLES T. CASTELL, who is also an Attorney in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Atlanta, recalled that ALGER HISS was his direct supervisor in charge of the legal work of the Benefit Contract Section in the Old South Agricultural Building in Washington from 1933 to 1935. Mr. CASTELL said that as he recalled HISS came to work in the Agricultural Department with the following persons, all supposedly from either Harvard or Yale University: JOHN ABT, LEE PRESSMAN, FRANCIS M. SHEA, ROBERT T. McCONNAUGHEY, and JEROME FRANK.

Mr. CASTELL did not know CHAMBERS nor his relationship to HISS, and had never corresponded with HISS, nor had he seen him since about 1935. He said that some of the ideas and proposals of HISS, as well as some of the other persons who came into the department mentioned above were controversial to say the least, and that HISS was probably the most brilliant of the group. He said that during this time, approximately 1933 to 1935, when there was so much controversy concerning the policies of HISS and others in the Department, Mrs. LENONA B. FULLER, sister of former Secretary of State JIMMY BURNS, was in the Personnel Department with the Department of Agriculture, and reportedly kept a thick notebook concerning many of the comings and goings, conferences, and contacts of ALGER HISS. She reportedly intended to write a book with some of his activities as the main theme, but died before completing it. He said that the two best friends of Mrs. FULLER were two elderly U. S. Department of Agriculture employees, Miss FRANCES FAULCONER, and Miss LAVANTIA SAMPSON, and that they would have considerable information concerning the contents of this notebook and perhaps other information concerning activities of ALGER HISS.

with BEATRICE HEIMANN and it was obvious from the questions and answers that the HORTONS did not wish to show any connection between BEATRICE HEIMANN and the HISSES.

LOLA HORTON stated she believes she first met BEATRICE HEIMANN through the League for Women Shoppers. HORTON stated she, (LOLA) was instrumental in organizing the League for Women Shoppers and had been the President of that organization in Washington, D.C. in the middle or early 1930's. She related the purpose and activities of the organization, and they are not set out here inasmuch as the Washington Field office is in complete possession of these facts. LOLA HORTON stated that the League eventually served its purpose and disbanded because of Communist infiltration and control.

The HORTONS again insisted, as they had on their previous interview, that neither of them had ever been members of the Communist Party or affiliated with the Communist Party in any fashion whatsoever while they resided in Washington, D.C.

LOLA HORTON also denied that she had ever known that BEATRICE HEIMANN was a member of the Communist Party in Washington. LOLA likewise stated that she, LOLA, was active in the Womens League for International Peace and Freedom in Washington, D.C. at that time. She stated that she believed that BEATRICE HEIMAN was a member of that organization or had at least attended several meetings of the organization.

The HORTONS insisted that BEATRICE HEIMANN'S sister and brother-in-law, MARTIN and JULIA HEFLIN, were their very close friends and the HEFLINS who are residents of Washington, had been more or less the tie which enabled them to continue associations with BEATRICE HEIMANN.

As previously stated, they insisted that BEATRICE HEIMANN and the HISSES were never in their home on the same occasion, and they could not recall the evening in question when the WILLIAM L. WHITES were present together with HEIMANN and the HISSES.

Mrs. HORTON, during the time she resided in Washington, kept a list of guests they had entertained at their home for dinner. No dates appeared in this book, merely the guests names and the menu served them. Mrs. HORTON stated that as a Washington hostess, she wished to see that the same guests were never served the same menu at their home.

An examination of this book made by the writer did not show that HEIMANN and the HISSES were dinner guests on the same date. It was noted that BEATRICE HEIMANN had been a dinner guest at their home quite frequently and the HISSES were only at their home on two occasions.

The HORTONS likewise related that they last saw BEATRICE HEIMANN in the summer of 1948 when she accompanied her sister and brother-in-law, and spent some time at their Inn at Sudbury, Vermont. The HORTONS stated that if BEATRICE HEIMANN is a Communist Party member, it is not known to her sister and brother-in-law, who are not Communist inclined.

Mrs. HORTON explained that she became a tutor for Attaches to the Russian Embassy quite by coincidence. She related that one evening while out at some Washington dinner party, her dinner partner was a Russian whose name is not remembered by her. In discussing many things, the Russian suggested to her that, inasmuch as she had previously been an English teacher, she might be qualified to phonetically teach Attaches of the Embassy the English language.

As an outgrowth of this conversation, she stated she secured a position teaching, several evenings a week, phonetic English to the young Russian Attaches. She stated that the instructions all took place in one of the buildings occupied by the Russian Government in Washington, not the Embassy office, and not in her home.

She said that at no time had any of the Russians with which she had contact, discussed political matters with her or tried to indoctrinate in her the Marxist-Leninist-Stalin teachings. She termed it a pure business proposition. When pressed for more specific details as to dates, places, names, extent of service, etc., she claimed she could not recall after all these years.

She stated that she and her husband then fell in disfavor with the Russian Staff after TRINOFFSKY (phonetic), whom she termed Ambassador from Russia, had been recalled, together with the entire staff, in the early thirtys. She stated that all of the staff of the first Ambassador had been subsequently tried when they returned and apparently had been purged or sent to exile because the new Ambassador and his staff had absolutely no contact with them.

She related that after the recall of the students, etc., whom she was teaching, BEATRICE HEILMANN, who was employed as a Receptionist in the Embassy, no longer had anything to do with them, and as a matter of fact, when they did meet at various social affairs, HEILMANN would make a point of turning her back towards them and not speaking and generally ignoring them. She stated that last summer, when HEILMANN came to their Inn with her sister and brother-in-law, she was, however, quite cordial, although politics were not discussed.

In connection with additional names of friends of theirs who had been likewise friends of the HISSES, she made available the following names:

STEPHEN and JOAN RAUSHENBUSH, 3505 Lowell Street, Washington, DC
(It is known that the RAUSHENBUSHES were previously interviewed)

ABE X FORTAS
CAROL X FORTIS

ABE & CAROL FORTIS, 3025 N Street, Washington, D.C.
(both of these persons are attorneys)

Mr. ERNEST GRUENING
(at that time lived nextdoor to the HORTONS and at the present time is the Governor of Alaska)

2362

During the examination of their book of dinner guests, it was noted that JOHN ABT had been entertained alone. When questioned as to whether ABT was a friend of the HISSES, they stated they did not know, but they did not believe so.

It should be noted that from the previous interview, as well as this interview, they are of the opinion that HISS is quite innocently involved in the CHAMBERS case, and although the HORTONS state they have cooperated to the full extent of their ability, the impression of the Agents was that they would do nothing to disclose any association between the HISSES and BEATRICE HEILMANN and JOHN ABT.

If the Washington Field Office is to interview BEATRICE HEILMANN, it is suggested they first interview her sister and brother-in-law, MARTIN and JULIA HEFLIN, if they have not already done so.

According to the HORTONS, MARTIN HEFLIN is far from being a Communist or sympathetic to Communism, and he possibly could offer information of value pertaining to BEATRICE HEILMANN.

AT CHARLOTTE, VERMONT:

Teletype from Washington Field dated 1/26/49, requested interview of Mrs. DOUGLAS BURDEN, who, as Mrs. DOUGLAS GALLACK, had, with ELLA COTTON, visited the HISSES in 1935 at their P Street address in Georgetown.

Mrs. DOUGLAS BURDEN - Mrs. BURDEN was interviewed by Special Agent PAUL R. BIBLER and the writer, and stated that ELLA COTTON, who is now Mrs. EDWARD BURLING, had corresponded with her relative to her being interviewed in connection with the visit to the HISSES. Mrs. BURDEN stated that she, herself, couldn't even remember going to the HISSES' home. She stated that at that time she accompanied Mrs. COTTON on a good deal of Washington social visits where they made calls in the afternoon. She stated that ELLA'S husband, JOSEPH COTTON, JR., had been a friend of the HISS brothers and was connected in some way with DONALD HISS'S law firm.

She stated she had searched her memory many times since Mrs. COTTON wrote her but frankly could not even remember the time that they visited the HISSES' home, and could not remember if they actually saw the HISSES or if they met any other guests there at that time. She was exhibited photographs of CHAMBERS and his wife, etc., but was unable to identify any of them.

AT ALBANY, NEW YORK:

Teletype dated 2/3/49, from Buffalo requested an interview of former Lt. Comdr. FRANCIS B. McGUIRE, who had been stationed at the Scotia Navy Depot, Scotia, New York at the time TIMOTHY HOBSON had attended Union College in the V-12 Program. McGUIRE'S name had been suggested by Dr. O. J. CASE, who had been a Commander in the Navy, and who had handled HOBSON, in connection with his discharge from the Navy while at Union College, due to HOBSON'S being a Homosexual.

LT. COMDR. FRANCIS B. McGUIRE - Comdr. McGUIRE was interviewed at his residence, 586 Western Avenue, Albany, New York. He stated he could not recall the HOBSON case or any details surrounding it.

Teletype from New York dated 1/3/49 requested an interview of Professor JOHN RUSSELL of the Maxwell School of Citizenship, in Public Affairs, Syracuse, New York. RUSSELL worked with HISS in the preparation of the pamphlet by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

JOHN RUSSELL - RUSSELL was interviewed at the State Education Building, Albany, New York. He stated that he first met ALGER HISS in 1945 at the San Francisco Conference. RUSSELL stated he was an employee of the Budget Bureau for the Government at that time, and several of the men from the Budget Bureau were detached and sent to San Francisco to assist on the details of the San Francisco Conference. He stated he worked only on the administrative details and only had slight occasion to see HISS from time to time, and that he never knew him personally or traveled in the same social or business field with him.

RUSSELL stated in 1946 he accepted a job with the Maxwell School of Citizenship. In the spring of 1947, when PAUL APPLEBY was installed as Director of the Maxwell School of Citizenship, ALGER HISS came to Syracuse to attend the installation ceremony. APPLEBY previously had been acting director of the Bureau of the Budget in Washington, and had been RUSSELL'S superior in Washington.

RUSSELL advised that at this time he, APPLEBY, and HISS discussed the possibility of doing a budget study on the United Nations. As an outgrowth of this conversation, he, RUSSELL, then worked on preparing a pamphlet by the Carnegie Foundation. He stated that the study was to have been completed prior to this, but due to the instant case the work had been postponed.

He stated the last time he saw HISS was on the day before he, HISS, first testified before the House Un-American Committee. At that time HISS told him because of this other matter, they would have to suspend the Budget Study of the United Nations until all of the affairs of HISSES were straightened out.

RUSSELL stated, to the best of his knowledge, he is quite certain that the only typewritten correspondence he has ever received from HISS has been on the stationery of the Carnegie Foundation. He is positive that he has no correspondence from HISS dating back to the San Francisco conference, and he believes there are only three or four letters from the Carnegie Foundation which had been sent by HISS.

RUSSELL maintains his office in Room 103 of the Maxwell School of Citizenship at Syracuse University, Syracuse, New York. On his return to Syracuse, he will diligently search his files and will make available any material from HISS.

AT ITHACA, NEW YORK:

Letter from Washington Field Office dated 1/25/49, requesting interview of NORMAN A. TOLLES.

Professor NORMAN A. TOLLES - TOLLES was interviewed by Special Agent RONALD PHILLIPS, at Cornell University, where he is Professor of Industrial and Labor Relations, and informed that he worked in the State Department, Washington, D.C., during the summer of 1934. He stated his duties were those of an Investigator for a Munitions Inquiry. He said his immediate supervisor was STEPHEN RAUSHENBUSH. TOLLES declared that during the first six weeks of his employment under RAUSHENBUSH, he did not know ALGER HISS. He further stated that reports which he would write were submitted to ALGER HISS who was the Chief Counsel of this Special Committee of the Senate.

Professor TOLLES informed that he has no typewritten material in his possession which originated with ALGER HISS. He stated that HISS received all of his typewritten investigative reports and would edit them.

Professor TOLLES stated that he has no knowledge of HISS'S personal affairs. He informed that socially he and his wife traveled in different circles of activity and that the only social connection he had with ALGER HISS was a "cordial hello".

Professor TOLLES advised he had never heard of the name WHITTAKER CHAMBERS connected with HISS, and further that he never knew of a GEORGE CROSLEY ever having any connection with ALGER HISS.

On February 15, 1948 EUNICE A. LINCOLN, Room 5261, New State Department Building, who resides at 1028 Connecticut Avenue, Northwest, advised that she was formerly secretary to ALGER HISS. She said that as far as she could remember, when she first came to the State Department in 1927 there were two Underwood typewriters in the office she occupied and that these typewriters stayed with her during the time she worked for HISS. She stated that one of these Underwoods had been replaced by another similar Underwood. She could not recall the date of this replacement except it was sometime after 1927. It might have been about 1935. She stated that 1935 was the year in which she believed this replacement was made but said that she might easily be wrong by five years one way or another. She advised that she still has this Underwood typewriter which was examined and found to carry serial No. 1989027-5 and to mount Pica type, measuring ten letters to the inch. It is also noted that this typewriter has keys bearing grave, acute, c-cedilla and other accent marks.

With regard to the other original Underwood typewriter which Miss LINCOLN had in 1927 and which she kept with her during her employment by the State Department, she advised that this typewriter was replaced by an L. C. Smith typewriter and that this replacement occurred sometime during ANNA BELLE NEWCOMB's employment as secretary and stenographer to ALGER HISS and FRANCIS B. SAYRE. She stated that she thought this replacement occurred about 1935 but said that ANNA BELLE NEWCOMB would probably be able to recall it much more exactly. Miss LINCOLN advised that at no time were there more than two typewriters in the office of ALGER HISS except perhaps during the periods of replacement as noted above when there may have been some overlapping. Miss LINCOLN stated that she, herself, had never taken dictation from ALGER HISS and that his dictation had been given to ANNA BELLE NEWCOMB without exception save only when Miss NEWCOMB was on annual or sick leave. She stated on these occasions Miss NEWCOMB would be replaced by a stenographer from the stenographic pool. Miss LINCOLN advised these occasions were extremely rare. She stated further that ANNA BELLE NEWCOMB took Mr. SAYRE's dictation as well.

Miss Lincoln pointed out that ALGER HISS and Mr. SAYRE both did little dictating in that they were concerned with making policy and that generally they dealt with finished plans or projects, which plans or projects required their approval or disapproval in the state in which they were given to ALGER HISS and Mr. SAYRE. Miss LINCOLN advised that in general such dictating as was done by ALGER HISS concerned trade agreements with various countries and expressed the opinion that a good deal of this dictation could be found in State Department files.

It will be recalled that laboratory report dated January 13, 1949 reflected that the type used on the typewriter which made Q-5 resembles more closely the laboratory standards for Royal enlarged elite type, spaced twelve letters to the inch.

Bureau teletype dated January 15, 1949 reflects that the style of type used to type Q-5 could have been placed on either a portable or standard Royal and that the category of the machine used could not be determined from Q-5. Laboratory standards reflected that the enlarged elite type was first used on Royal typewriter on or about February 20, 1936, bearing serial No. 81847319. Laboratory report dated February 5, 1949 reflected that the differences between Royal enlarged elite type and Underwood elite rested in the numeral seven, the lower case "t" and in several other letters, these latter differences being microscopic. It is noted that Miss LINCOLN advised that to the best of her recollection, the three Underwoods and the L. C. Smith mentioned above all mounted pica type. She stated that she could by no means be sure of this fact, however.

On February 15, 1949, CHARLES A. PATTERSON, Assistant Chief, Research Section, Division of Communications and Records, Room 116, New State Department Building, who resides at 165 36th Street, Northeast, displayed a number of memoranda from the State Department files which had presumably been dictated by ALGER HISS or FRANCIS B. SAYRE. PATTERSON advised that the presumption that they were so dictated and so typed was taken from the dictator's and stenographer's initials thereon. It should be noted that each memorandum was typed with a typewriter mounting pica type, measuring ten letters to the inch. A list of these memoranda by dates and indication of the stenographic initials are as follows:

The initials AH refer to ALGER HISS, the initials ABN refer to ANNA BELLE NEWCOMB and the initials FBS refer to FRANCIS B. SAYRE. It should be noted that Mr. WALTER H. ANDERSON, Chief of the Records Branch, Division of Communications and Records, State Department, Room 1166, made available Mr. PATTERSON and advised that he had requested Mr. PATTERSON to check State Department records for copies of memoranda written by HISS a month or so ago.

On February 1, 1949, an investigation was conducted by Special Agent JOHN J. WALSH which reflected that the State Department did not have a record of the acquisition, disposition or location of State Department typewriters prior to 1947. Special Agent WALSH was advised that there was no record of the typewriters maintained in the office of ALGER HISS.

By letter to the Director, Attention FBI Laboratory, dated 2/25/49, the New York Office suggested, in a copy of this letter designated for the Baltimore Office, that Baltimore obtain specimens from all typewriters presently in the possession of the CHAMBERS family. New York advised that CHAMBERS had previously stated upon interview that his family has two typewriters in their possession and that he had no objection to the obtaining of specimens from them.

On 3/1/49 Mrs. J. D. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, R. D. 2, Westminster, Md., made available to SA WILLIAM C. PFEIFFER Hermes portable typewriter #349260 SUISSE, and Agent PFEIFFER typed two sheets of typewritten specimens from this machine, one sheet consisting of 43 lines of typewritten material made on bond paper, and the other being a 43 line carbon specimen made by removing the ribbon from the machine and typing directly on a piece of carbon paper placed over two sheets of bond paper.

Both specimens referred to above were initialed on the reverse side of each by Mrs. JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, using her initials E. C. (ESTHER CHAMBERS), together with the date March 1, 1949, in order to facilitate their future identification.

Mrs. CHAMBERS advised that this typewriter was purchased by her husband, JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, at R. H. Macy and Company, Inc., New York City, at Christmas time in either 1945 or 1946, for their daughter, ELLEN. The typewriter has been maintained continuously in the possession of the CHAMBERS family since that time, according to Mrs. CHAMBERS.

On 3/1/49 Mrs. CHAMBERS also made available to SA PFEIFFER Underwood Standard typewriter #92695, and SA PFEIFFER typed two sheets of typewritten specimens from this machine, one sheet consisting of 39 lines of typewritten material made on bond paper, and the other being a 39 line carbon specimen made by removing the ribbon from the machine and typing directly on a piece of carbon paper placed over two sheets of bond paper. These specimens were also initialed on the reverse side of each by Mrs. CHAMBERS, using the initials E. C., and Agent PFEIFFER, together with the date, March 1, 1949, in order to facilitate their future identification.

RESULTS OF EXAMINATION:

The signatures for the year 1937 appearing on the photographs printed from the film pack submitted have been compared with the known writing specimens of ALGER HISS, PRISCILLA HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. The questioned signatures are not sufficiently comparable with the known handwriting of the above-mentioned three individuals for any definite conclusion to be reached. The entry "Capt. and Mrs. H. T. Smith Washington, D. C." dated "7-16-37" is in the same general style of writing as that used by PRISCILLA HISS. The entry after the date "Sept. 15" which is practically illegible but possibly in the signatures "Mr. and Mrs. GRAHAM NYC" and "Mr. Jas. DOOMS NYC" is in the same general style of writing as that employed by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. Other than general styles of writing nothing of particular significance was found.

The submitted film pack is retained in the files of the Laboratory.

Reference is made to the numerous communications between this field division, the Bureau and the New York City Division concerning attempts to locate the tourist home at Thomaston, Connecticut at which CHAMBERS stayed and likewise efforts to locate the register of such establishment.

In the New York City teletype to New Haven of January 6, 1949 CHAMBERS describes the tourist home at Thomaston, Conn. as having been located on a forked road which leads out in a northerly or easterly direction from the square or green in the center of Thomaston and that such tourist home is close to the center of Thomaston. CHAMBERS stated that at this time ALGER HISS signed the tourist home register for the party, although they do not know what names HISS signed.

According to the New York teletype of January 13, 1949, CHAMBERS stated that the party left New York City and followed Route #202 into Thomaston; that they entered the town from the south. They went to the center of the town where there is a square or green with a road leading off the green at an angle from near the place where Route #202 meets the green. The tourist home was located on this road leading off the green about a block or two from the center of the town. CHAMBERS described the tourist home as a white frame building probably fifty years old situated on the left-hand side of the road going away from the green; that it was a private home consisting of probably six or seven rooms and operated by an American woman and he vaguely recalls that the area near the tourist home had numerous shade trees.

From investigation subsequently conducted by the Boston Division, it would appear that the pertinent dates of this trip as established from other evidence would be probably from August 10 to fifteenth, 1937.

On January 28, 1949 at Thomaston, Conn., the Thomaston House, the Hotel Thomaston, formerly the Park Hotel, the Rabbit Tourist Home, the Goodall Tourist Home and the Ives Tourist Home were photographed and the same supplied the New York Division.

CHAMBERS subsequently identified the Rabbit Tourist Home as most closely resembling the place where he stayed and stating his second choice would be the Goodall Tourist Home and that he eliminated all other photographs.

On February 21, 1949 CHAMBERS came to Thomaston, Connecticut. He was unable to identify the establishment in Thomaston, Conn. at which he believed he had stayed in 1937.

By teletype of February 25, 1949 to this division, New York stated that CHAMBERS believed the tourist house in question was probably located as being in a triangle bounded by the town main street, Route #202 on the west, Elm Street on the east and Union Street. New York at this time also requested that it be ascertained if a building was in existence in 1937 on the parking lot next to the theater in Thomaston and that it also be ascertained if any houses in the named area were destroyed by fire since 1937. New York City also requested that the history of every house in the described area during the pertinent period be ascertained.

On February 28, 1948 Chief of Police JAMES P. RYAN and First Selectman EUGENE TORRANCE of Thomaston were interviewed. Both of these men are thoroughly familiar with the section of Thomaston in question. They stated that there had been no major fire in Thomaston during the pertinent years and that no tourist house had operated in the described area during such years. Chief Ryan was informed as to the tourist houses already contacted and he advised that there were not others in Thomaston and that the complete roster of them in Thomaston had been checked.

It was ascertained that in 1937 on the present theater parking lot, the Knights of Columbus had a clubroom in a private home. The housekeeper was Mrs. MAMIE GLENNON. Mrs. Glennon states that the Knights of Columbus had no facilities for overnight guests; they never accommodated same and that the same could be said of her home which was in the rear of the K. of C. establishment.

On March 2, 1949 the following investigation was conducted at Plymouth, Connecticut and it appears strongly possible that the tourist house in question may now have been located. The following points are to be considered in such respect:

1. Thomaston and Plymouth, Connecticut are immediately adjacent towns on Routes 6 and 202 and it is quite unlikely that a stranger in them would differentiate between them.

2. There is a green in the full sense of such word in the center of Plymouth. The green at Thomaston, Conn. is much more in the nature of the normal traffic division. Due to the close proximity of the towns, it is entirely possible that Mr. Chambers' reference to a green may refer to the green in Plymouth, Conn.

3. Mr. Chambers states that they went to the center of the town which has a square or green with a road leading off the green at an angle from near the place where Route 202 meets the green. This description will fit the Plymouth green and likewise, South Street in Plymouth breaks off Route 202 at a sharp angle at the green.

4. Mr. Chambers states that the tourist home was located on this road leading off the green a block or two from the center of town. In 1937 Mr. and Mrs. FREDERICK HOSFORD operated in Plymouth, Connecticut on South Street a very short distance from the green in the center of the town, a tourist home.

5. Mr. Chambers describes the tourist home as a white frame building which is a correct description of the HOSFORD home.

6. Mr. Chambers describes the tourist home at which he stayed as having six or seven rooms and being operated by an American woman. This likewise fits the description of the establishment operated by the HOSFORDS, although Mrs. Hosford is now deceased.

7. Mr. Chambers states that the area near the tourist home had numerous shade trees. This is true of the HOSFORD home in far greater respect than any of the other establishments in the Thomaston-Plymouth area.

8. At the time he was in Thomaston, Mr. Chambers stated, to the best of his recollection, he had slept in a ground floor bedroom. Inquiry in Thomaston indicated the only tourist home having a ground floor bedroom was that operated by Mrs. J. H. HARPER which Mr. Chambers definitely eliminated, and he also met Mrs. Harper. The HOSFORD house in Plymouth did have a downstairs bedroom available to tourists and occasional tourists also slept on the front porch. Mr. Hosford on interview states that the downstairs bedroom was normally used when there was a full complement of guests. The register for August 14, 1937 indicates that there was indeed such full complement of guests, according to Mr. Hosford, and that some of them would have had to sleep downstairs.

9. When Chambers was in Thomaston he was driven to Plymouth on the possibility that he might recognize Plymouth. Upon arriving at the Plymouth green, he suggested of his own volition that a right-hand turn be made onto what is South Street and on which street is located the HOSFORD tourist home. Since there is now no tourist sign at the intersection of these streets, it would appear that something must have jogged Mr. Chambers' memory at such time. He was driven up such street a short distance, but not as far as the HOSFORD home. His recollection of this street appeared more certain and more independent than his recollection of anything in Thomaston.

Mr. FREDERICK HOSFORD furnished to Special Agent John C. Carr of the New Haven Division the register which had been maintained in the Hosford Tourist Home and which covers the pertinent period in this particular investigation. At the present time it is being maintained in the safe of the New Haven Field Division.

There is now being supplied to the Mechanical Section of the Bureau and to the New York Field Division a package of exposed Super-XX firm for each, which photographs are of the register in question, covering the year 1937. The Mechanical Section upon development of such film, will immediately furnish the same to the FBI Laboratory. While August of 1937 would appear to be the pertinent period, it is respectfully requested that handwriting comparison be made of all signatures appearing in such register for the year 1937 with the known handwriting specimens of ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS and Mr. CHAMBERS, although CHAMBERS has indicated that HISS signed the register at such time. The comparison should first be limited to the month of August 1937. Examination of the register indicates that in August there were registrants from Chevy Chase, Maryland, Bethesda, Maryland, and 1800 K Street, Washington, D.C.

Mr. Hosford has stated that the register for August 14, 1937 indicates that his home would have been filled at such time and that it is extremely probable that some of the guests would have slept downstairs.

Assistant Special Agent in Charge Joseph F. Santoiana of the New Haven office has already discussed this matter with Assistant SAC A. H. Belmont of New York City and the matter of CHAMBERS' viewing the actual register will be decided at a later date.

Re FELIX AUGUST INSLERMAN (Bureau file 74-1333).

The Bureau's advice as to the status of subject INSLERMAN is being sought.

For convenience a brief resume of facts as known this office are:

INSLERMAN was originally located and interviewed December 23, 1948. Prior investigation to identify him had been conducted by New York and Baltimore. An exhaustive investigation has been conducted of him and his associates, fellow employees, employment, financial status, mail, phone toll calls, etc. in this district where he has resided since September 1946. The New York and Baltimore offices have likewise conducted exhaustive investigations and are continuing to verify facts of his earlier life when he resided in their territories.

INSLERMAN has not worked at General Electric (where he worked on a confidential Army project dealing with guided missiles) since December 23, 1948. Beginning January 3, 1948 he and his wife have appeared numerous times before the Federal Grand Jury, New York City, and it now appears that they have returned to their farm at Cambridge, New York. Since their return to their home, INSLERMAN has endeavored to gain employment with General Electric. The General Electric Company has informed him his clearance to work on the Army project has been cancelled and if they have need for his abilities elsewhere in their plant he will be advised. Officially his three month leave of absence expires February 7, 1949. Company officials have advised he will not now or ever work for them.

According to our files investigation has not shown him to have engaged in espionage work other than that claimed by CHAMBERS. The Laboratory report dated February 23, 1949 shows INSLERMAN camera to have taken a number of the "Pumpkin" films. However, a strong possibility exists INSLERMAN has been so engaged for years and quite possibly up to the present date. If this be the case it would in part explain his failure to cooperate with Agents or the Grand Jury.

Although New York is Office of Origin, INSLERMAN resides in Cambridge, New York and these facts should be borne in mind.

Cambridge, New York is approximately 50-60 miles from the field office, and there are no resident agencies in its vicinity. Approximately 8 miles from Cambridge, New York is Cambridge Center (just a crossroads). The farm house the INSLERMANS occupy is approximately 3 miles from Cambridge Center. There are no houses in the immediate vicinity of the INSLERMAN residence, the closest house being approximately three-fourths miles away. The mail cover which remains on INSLERMAN produces only a few covers per week and to date has been of no value. Thus, at the present time, no plan is in operation to disclose INSLERMAN's activities, travels, or actual presence in this field division.

Also, in view of his loss of income and additional expenses, it would appear he must seek employment. Because of INSLERMAN's failure to cooperate it seems only a physical and/or technical surveillance could be utilized to keep abreast of his activities. However, a physical survellance is impracticable due to the isolated backwoods type of country. The phone is a party line, having approximately twelve subscribers.

This office does not know if INSLERMAN is still under subpoena to the Grand Jury or if an indictment is or will be returned. There is no additional investigation to be instigated by this office on INSLERMAN at the present time. As mentioned above, only the mail cover is maintained. From the facts in our possession, there is nothing to prevent INSLERMAN and/or his family from leaving this area and concealing his whereabouts should he so desire.

No recommendation can be made by this office as to possible coverage to afford INSLERMAN since there is an absence of facts concerning his status with the grand jury and/or indictments returned or to be returned. It is requested this office be advised as to INSLERMAN's status with the grand jury.

It is desired the Bureau suggest what action is deemed advisable in view of the full facts and overall aspect of the case.

SA Ramos Feehan of the Document Section of the Laboratory telephoned from New York at 12:30 today and advised that he had made an examination of the application for admission to the bar executed by Alger Hiss at New York several years ago. He observed similarities which strongly indicate that he will be able to identify Hiss's known writing on the application with the questioned writing on specimens Q1 - Q4 in this case if arrangements can be made to forward the original application or a photograph thereof for full document examination in the Laboratory here. Feehan has furnished this information to Supervisor Touhy of New York who was acting in Mr. Belmont's absence. Touhy will advise Mr. Donegan who, it is expected, will file the necessary papers requesting the State Court to authorize either the release of the original document or the making of a photograph for transmittal to the Laboratory.

Since there is no further action which Feehan could take at this time, he is returning to Washington on the first available plane.

passport in 1934 he described himself as single and gave his address as Apartment 2, 91 Woodruff Avenue, Brooklyn, New York City. Sherman was described as follows:

Name	Nicholas Sherman
Age	40 (born November 22, 1392)

Investigation disclosed that the address 96 Woodruff Avenue was non-existent. Hugo Sollner, superintendent of the apartment houses located from 70 to 91 Woodruff Avenue, was shown a picture of Sherman and said that he did not recognize this photograph. He said that he believed that some person by the name of Sherman received mail at 91 Woodruff Avenue but further investigation at the apartment house disclosed that Sherman was unknown there. The superintendent of the Flatbush Post Office checked his records and advised that no mail was delivered to any person by the name of Sherman at the 91 Woodruff Avenue address. (Report of SA J. J. Keating, dated 5-9-35 at New York City; 61-8648-11)

The State Department by letter dated August 14, 1936, which was addressed to the Attorney General's Office requested that the State Department be furnished with copies of the photograph and fingerprints of Nicholas Sherman. The request was transmitted to the Bureau by memorandum from Brien McMahon, Assistant Attorney General, dated August 19, 1936. The Bureau furnished the desired information to the Attorney General's Office by memorandum dated September 3, 1936. The FBI number of Nicholas Sherman was listed in this communication as 911032. (61-8648-18)

The afore-mentioned letter from the Department of State to the Attorney General dated August 14, 1936, pointed out that Nicholas Sherman was convicted in Denmark and was sentenced to 18 months in prison. He was pardoned during the latter part of June, 1936 and went to the Soviet Union in the early part of July, 1936, using a travel document supplied by the Soviet authorities. The letter stated that the American passport referred to previously was obtained fraudulently and that Sherman was recently indicted in the U. S. District Court, Southern District of New York, for violating the passport laws. This letter advised that the Department was contemplating issuance of a circular to all American Consular Offices concerning Sherman inasmuch as Sherman informed an American Consular Officer that he could return to this country and obtain a passport whenever he desired. (61-3643-1)

On March 31, 1939, Brien McMahon, Assistant Attorney General, addressed a memorandum to the Bureau which advised that the U. S. Attorney, Southern District of New York, was requesting authority to enter an order of nolle prosequi to Indictment C 99-26 in the case involving Nicholas Sherman and Joshua Lamer. The memorandum requested the Bureau to furnish any information which might indicate the whereabouts of Sherman. The Bureau replied by memorandum dated April 10, 1939, that the files of the Bureau failed to reflect the information desired but that a wanted notice was being maintained in the files of the Identification Division of the Bureau indicating that Nicholas Sherman was wanted by the Department of State for violation of the passport laws. According to this memorandum, no reference to Joshua Lamer was contained in the Bureau files. (61-3643-19)

When the U. S. Attorney, Southern District of New York, requested authority to enter the nolle prosequi, he advised that Nicholas Sherman and Joshua Lamer were both fugitives from justice and that available information indicated that they had fled to Russia some years ago and had not been heard from since. (61-3643-19) (Letter dated 3-24-39)

A circular was issued by the U. S. Department of State, Passport Division, dated October 10, 1936, which circular warned American Consular officials concerning Nicholas Sherman. This circular contained pictures of Sherman in three different poses and also finger impressions. On this circular appeared the names and aliases of Sherman as follows: Nicholas Sherman, alias Abraham Goldmann, Abraham Goldman, Willy Karl Herman Krottschneider, and Wilhelm Karl Herman Krottschneider. The circular advised that Sherman had made the statement that it was easy to procure an American passport and that he would be able to obtain one at any time. (61-6670-10)

The New York Office of the Department of State was again contacted on August 19, 1943, for information concerning Leon Josephson. During this inquiry an examination was made of the passport file pertaining to Nicholas

Sherman, #15398. This file contained an undated memorandum which stated among other things that Mink, Josephson and Nicholas Sherman were "notorious Communists, active in the Marine Workers Union, and, as you know, have been active in fomenting strikes. It is strongly suspected that their mission abroad has for its object participation with notorious foreign agitators in crimes of a far more serious nature than any heretofore known to have been attempted, - that is, damage or destruction of ships on the high seas." The file also contained a letter from the State Department to its New York Office dated April 11, 1935, setting out information recently received from Copenhagen, relative to the arrest of Leon Josephson, George Mink and Nicholas Sherman. This information reflected that George Mink maintained a courier service between New York and Copenhagen and between Antwerp and Copenhagen. Ships were being used as the medium in each instance. One of the couriers, according to the letter, was a seaman on the SS Frederick VIII of the Scandinavian-American Line, and he had been captured. According to the letter, this courier carried coded letters. The modus operandi was described as follows:

The courier would be photographed in Denmark and a copy of the same would be forwarded to New York before the courier embarked for this country. The courier was a crew member who was given two badges. One badge was a nickel figure of a man which could be attached to the button-hole of his coat. The second badge was in the nature of a paper clip which contained a diamond-shaped enamel-faced plaque, half in blue and half in black. This latter badge could be clipped to the breast-pocket of the courier's coat. According to the letter, the courier received instructions to go to a certain Hoboken, New Jersey, ice cream parlor on a certain day at a definite hour. He was instructed that someone would come to the ice cream parlor and take the letter from him without saying a word. The letter went on to state that in Copenhagen four wives of seamen were addressees for letters delivered by couriers from this country and various parts of Europe. These women were wives of sailors on the SS Frederick VIII.

According to the letter, a returning seaman would contact George Mink at a well-known restaurant known as "Brasilke" and he would inform Mink as to which woman would have the letter. The letter advised that George Mink would go to the house of the designated woman and obtain the letter. It stated that these women received ten crowns for every letter delivered, and that four women were selected in order to arouse less suspicion. It related that all letters meant for George Mink had the name Bill Moe on the inside of the envelope. The letter stated that other letters received by the women had similar fictitious names and that the women received letters from Russia, England, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Italy, and probably France.

According to the communication, the courier received one hundred and twenty crowns a month for this work. The communication also stated that there was a brisk courier business from Copenhagen to Antwerp and that seamen on ships carried letters which were encoded.

The information received from Copenhagen reflected that Nicholas Sherman had drawings for a complete wireless receiving and transmitting set with explanations in English for its erection, using either American or German parts to operate the set.

Nicholas Sherman's file at the New York Office of the State Department also contained information to the effect that one Jacob Jones Harvey, Manager of the Inter-Continental Oil Company, 88 Franklin Street, New York City, wrote to Leon Josephson, on December 20, 1934, a formal letter concerning certain oil specifications, the inference being that Josephson was travelling abroad in the interests of the oil company.

Harvey also addressed letters to Nicholas Sherman, indicating that Leon Josephson would call on Sherman to explain the merits of the various oils. On February 16, 1934, Harvey wrote a letter to Nicholas Sherman, who was at Copenhagen, regretting that Sherman had not received the samples and specifications.

According to information in the possession of the State Department, Harvey also appeared to be manager of the Deep Rock Eastern Oil Corporation, 111 Broadway, New York City, and in his capacity as manager on November 7, 1934, wrote similar letters to the United States Oil Company. The file was not clear as to the precise contents of the letters addressed to the United States Oil Company. The information indicates that Harvey was born in Richmond, Virginia, on April 29, 1888, and that his address in 1933 was 169 North Arlington Avenue, East Orange, New Jersey.

Agents of the State Department subsequently made inquiries to determine how Jacob Jones Harvey knew Leon Josephson and Nicholas Sherman. It was ascertained that there was a definite connection between Jacob Jones Harvey and one Philip Levy.

In February, 1936, Mr. Philip Levy was interviewed by State Department Agents at 19 Rector Street, New York City, New York. It was ascertained by the agents that Jacob Harvey and Philip Levy formerly occupied a small room at 111 Broadway, New York City, in which they operated the Deep Rock Eastern Oil Corporation and later the Inter-Continental Oil Company. Mr. Levy advised that Harvey left for Italy in September of 1935, deserting his wife who lived in East Orange.

Mr. Levy advised that he, himself, was born in Latvia (Russia) on March 15, 1893; that he entered the United States during that year; and that he eventually received an A. A. Degree at Harvard University. He stated that, after leaving college, he entered the textile business and gradually formed a partnership with his brother, Jacob Levy, who was born in Boston in 1897. This brother was stationed in Manila and the business was largely devoted to Far Eastern trade.

Mr. Levy stated that, after the depression, he himself turned to the oil business and his brother, Jacob, devoted his efforts to the sale of stocks and bonds. Mr. Levy advised that, when he decided to go into the oil business, he teamed up with Jacob Jones Harvey, "an old-time oil promoter."

Mr. Levy related that he made a world survey of the oil situation in October of 1934 and left Jacob Harvey in charge of the New York office. Mr. Levy commented that, when he returned to this country in April, 1935, he discovered that business was very poor and that Harvey had accumulated financial obligations. He stated that they argued over the reasons for the poor business and Harvey resigned in September of that year. He stated that, when Harvey went to Italy, he explained that he was going on a mission of some sort. Mr. Levy asserted that he did not know the exact nature of this mission.

Concerning Leon Josephson, Mr. Levy remarked that he met him about six or seven years before the interview, through a business acquaintance in New York City. Mr. Levy advised that he understood that during his trip around the world, Leon Josephson had called at the office and requested Jacob Harvey to provide him with oil samples to take along on a proposed trip to Europe. He stated that Harvey recognized Josephson as a friend of Levy's and, therefore, acceded to the request. Mr. Levy remarked that it was also his understanding that Jacob Harvey made similar arrangements with a friend of Leon Josephson's. The State Department r[illegible] reflects that this friend was probably Sherman, although Levy denied knowing Sherman. Mr. Levy advised that he approved the whole transaction as a proper procedure for sales promotion.

He stated that Leon Josephson called upon him when he returned from Denmark, stating that he had been in trouble with the Danish Government over some plan to smuggle Jews from Germany. According to Mr. Levy, Leon Josephson remarked that he had readily disposed of the charges against him and that he was actually entertained by the American Minister to Denmark. (Report of SA Arthur E. Dooley dated 9-25-43 at New York, entitled Leon Josephson; Barney Josephson; Security Matter - C; Espionage - R; 100-48754-3)

Philip Levy resides at 257 Kingsland Terrace, South Orange, New Jersey. He was Secretary at the Technological Laboratories, Inc., which Arthur Adams used as a "cover" to enter the United States for Soviet espionage. He was also a contact of Victoria Stone and an intimate associate of Julius Heinman, Maurice Blumkin and William Manealoff, espionage suspects all of whom had loaned Levy large sums of money. (100-35075-235; Letter from Newark to the Director, dated October 12, 1948, entitled Philip Levy, Internal Security - R. Recommended technical surveillance).

The files of the Department of State, Passport Division, Washington, D. C., contain considerable information concerning Leon Josephson. There is a statement therein that according to the records of World Tourist, Inc., the transportation of Leon Josephson from New York to Copenhagen, Denmark, and Southampton, England, who sailed January 2, 1935, on the SS Aquitania was charged to the Communist Party. The files of the State Department contain a statement made by Leon Josephson dated April 30, 1943, concerning Philip Levy, Federated Trading Corporation, who was denied passport facilities to Mexico, which statement reads as follows:

"I'm an attorney-at-law admitted to practice in the courts of New Jersey. I have known Mr. Philip Levy for about ten years and since about the time that he was married to his wife, Hannah J. Levy, whom I have known for many years before that under her maiden name of Hannah J. Smith. On several occasions I had acted as attorney for Mr. Levy.

"In 1934 I was asked to file Articles of Incorporation in New Jersey for Mr. Philip Levy and Mr. J. J. Harvey, whose purpose was to engage in the business of exporting petroleum products under the name of Inter-Continent Oil Company, Ltd. When at the end of 1934 I planned a trip to Europe on various business matters, I thought it a good opportunity for me to introduce this line of business to several people whom I knew. Mr. Philip Levy was away from this country at that time and I called to see Mr. J. J. Harvey and explained to him that I had some business connections in Europe and that I thought that I could sell some of their products to them. I requested Mr. Harvey to make up samples, prepare complete information with reference thereto, and send the same to Mr. Nicholas Sherman in Copenhagen, Denmark, and to state that it was sent at my request, and that I would see Mr. Sherman as soon as I arrived in Denmark, and would try to make some sales. Mr. Harvey agreed to comply with my request and gave me the name of the J. S. Oil Company in Rotterdam, Holland, as a prospective purchaser to interview. I left for Europe on January 3, 1935.

"The above constitutes all that Mr. Harvey or the Inter-Continent Oil Company, Ltd. knew of anything pertaining to my desire to sell petroleum products in Europe or of any other activities that I may have been engaged in. Mr. Philip Levy did not even know that much as he was out of the country at that time. As a matter of fact, however, and entirely unknown to Mr. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Levy or anyone connected with Inter-Continent Oil Company, Ltd., I was engaged in working with the underground anti-Nazi movement in Germany. In connection with such anti-Nazi work I met Mr. Nicholas Sherman in Denmark, as well as many others, and I actually tried to sell the petroleum product and the products of other firms from whom I secured agencies. This I did so that I, together with others, would be able to show a valid reason for being in the various countries and not to disclose our other activities to the Gestapo. As a result of my efforts many anti-Hitler leaders in the underground movement were able to work against and/or escape out of Germany. Neither Mr. Philip Levy nor his wife, nor J. J. Harvey, nor anyone else connected with Inter-Continent Oil Company, Ltd., in any way was connected with this movement or had any knowledge whatsoever of any of the work carried on by me. I considered it important for the success of my venture that no one connected with any legitimate business interests should know of any of the other activities.

"Mr. Levy asked me to explain my knowledge as to why Mrs. Levy once used the name 'Hannah Josephson Levy' in signing a letter to me. All I can say is that I had known Mrs. Levy and her family for many years before she was married. I once telephoned Mrs. Levy and while looking for the telephone number in the directory, noticed the listing of one 'Hannah Josephson Levy.' This was the name of another person whom I did not know. When, after I dialed Mrs. Levy, she answered the phone, I called Her 'Hannah Josephson Levy' and told her of the telephone listing. Thereafter, in a spirit of fun, I always referred to her as 'Hannah Josephson Levy.' None of us knew this Hannah Josephson Levy. She was not related to any of my family in any way whatsoever or to anyone in the Philip Levy family.

"Mr. Levy asked me about the whereabouts of Messrs. Sherman and Mink. About five years ago I received letters from them from Moscow and that was the last I heard from either of them, directly or indirectly."

"During the same month in 1924, a report was received [redacted] that Sorokin was employed with the Trade Delegation in Hamburg and had been there since the end of 1922. He was also reported to speak German, English and French fairly well, and had been a Communist since 1917. b7D

"In 1926 he left Hamburg and signed on the Russian s.s. 'Proletariar' in 1927. He went to Buenos Aires and Monte Video on a propaganda tour returning to Russia at the end of the year. In 1928 he was in China with Borodin and returned in 1929. He was again in China in 1930 and is reported to have been in India as well. He was attached to the Soviet General Staff as an agent in the Foreign Espionage Section in 1931. It was known that he occasionally adopted the disguise of a fireman on a Russian ship visiting foreign ports and in this way got into touch with naval ratings and seamen.

"In October 1932 [redacted] reported that Ulanovski's wife always accompanied her husband on his trips abroad except when he went to South America. Her name is Madamebda also known as Madja. She is a Jewess, aged at that date 33 years, born in Odessa, having a son aged 9 years. At that time she had black hair, dark complexion, and 1.68 metres in height.

"In October 1934 we received a reliable report [redacted] giving the following description of Ulanovski:-

> "His real name is unknown but is called Alex Ulanovski when in Russia. He is generally referred to as 'Alex.' One of his aliases is Sorokin. He speaks fluent Russian, German, English and French. Height about 1.68m., black hair going grey at the sides, clean shaven. Is a Jew but not of typical Jewish appearance as his nose is small and straight. He had a slim figure.

"This report also states that at the beginning of 1932 Ulanovski went to the U.S.A. where his headquarters were in New York. He visited most of the important towns in the U.S.A. and is believed to have returned to Russia in the summer. (There is some doubt as to the exact date of his departure as it is stated that he became an American citizen. There is a possibility that he left the US. in 1934).

"In October 1934 he recruited a member of the I.S.H. in Rotterdam, (International Seamen and Harbour Workers) with a view to "penetrating Germany and England. It was also decided to establish connexions with Dansig. After making arrangements to collect intelligence material from these places, he left Rotterdam in the same month for Paris. He returned to Rotterdam on the 11th November in the same year and organised couriers to connect up with the contacts provided by his agent in I.S.K. At this stage arrangements were made for couriers to ply between Rotterdam and Copenhagen and other places in Denmark, and also to endeavor to find couriers on ships plying between Holland, Denmark and Belgium. The question of reliable couriers between Holland and England was to be relegated to a later period when the other connexions were working well.

"Ulanovski then decided to visit Denmark and gave his head agent in Rotterdam the following address which could be made use of in case of urgency:-

"Fru Ingeborn Rasmussen,
Kopenhagen (O.S.)
Pilestroede 80 (4th).

"It was understood that Ulanovski required military information from England but there was some doubt as to how he could obtain this.

"In January 1935, Ulanovski became anxious to enlist the services of ships' wireless operators of various nationalities who sailed regularly on the longer European trips. Ulanovski's head agent in Rotterdam was told that the Russians required a Danish wireless operator who would be recruited and employed in Denmark solely by the Communist Party. The impression was given that the Soviets had a secret wireless station in Denmark.

"On the 21st February 1935 reports were received from Copenhagen of the arrest of George Mink together with 4 English-speaking accomplices who had American passports, one of whom was Nicholas Sherman. A further report was received stating that the Danish authorities believed that the accused were members of a foreign Intelligence Organisation. Sherman's birth place was given as Yugoslavia and the date 22.11.98. On his identification papers it appeared that he had changed his name which was formerly Nicholas Juratowic. It was reliably reported that he was identical with Abraham Goldman born 16.7.98 in Poland.

"After the arrests, the Danish police discovered documents which pointed to the existence of a Communist Information Service in Denmark and it was at this time that communication between the head agent in Rotterdam and Ulanovski ceased.

"'Alex' had an American passport, and coupled with the fact that he was accustomed to write every fourteen days to his head agent in Rotterdam indicated that he might have been one of the 'Americans' arrested.

"'Alex' and Sherman were identified as being one and the same person, by photographic comparisons made in Rotterdam by the head agent.

"We would state at this point that an officer who had dealt with the Ulanovski case in Germany did not identify the photograph of Sherman as identical with 'Alex' alias Ulanovski. However we should mention that the head agent employed by Ulanovski in Rotterdam, who had many personal dealings with him would not have failed to notice any difference between the photograph of Sherman and 'Alex.'

"We attach a photograph of Sherman which presumably was the same one that was shown to Ulanovski's head agent in Rotterdam.

"When arrested Sherman was in possession of U.S. passport No. 55972 issued 14.8.33. We unfortunately have no more details of this passport.

"We believe that Sherman only served a very short sentence in Denmark and was released sometime in July 1936.

"It is understood that the Soviet Legation in Copenhagen had a close interest in this case, and when Sherman was released he was given a permit for entry into Russia and left by steamer for Leningrad on the same day. Sherman, of course, was closely connected with George Mink who will be well known to you, and who we understand, was later shot during the civil war in Spain.

"We consider that the evidence produced is conflicting and to say the least of it rather shaky, but in view of the fact that all communications between Ulanovski and his head agent ceased after the arrests in Denmark, one of these individuals must surely have been Ulanovski." Pictures of Nicholas Sherman have been shown to Whittaker Chambers, Robert Gordon Switz and a Dr. Isadore Miller, and all three individuals have identified Nicholas Sherman as identical with "Walter," alias Ulrich. (NY teletype [illegible]; [illegible])

Nicholas Sherman was on an ONI suspect list dated September 20, 1940. His aliases were listed as Abraham Goldman and Carl Herman Bretschneider. According to this list Sherman was reported to be the #1 OGPU agent in the United States and to have 300 men working under him in New York. He was wanted for a passport violation as of July 12, 1939. (61-7559-10420

Through arrangements with Mr. William Jones of the U. S. Customs Service, San Francisco, California, it was possible for Bureau Agents to ascertain the addresses of propaganda material arriving at the port of San Francisco in 1940. An examination of one such list disclosed that one Nick Sherman, c/o Mary's Help Hospital, San Francisco, received a copy of "Soviet-land," a picture magazine in English. The date of this communication is not known nor was it possible from information available to determine if he is identical with the Nicholas Sherman who is subject of this memorandum. (61-7559-10755; Report of SA E. F. McCabby dated 10-24-40 at San Francisco entitled "Russian Literature and Propaganda; Internal Security")

Richard Krebs, better known as Jan Valtin, was interviewed by Special Agent K. R. McIntire and Special Agent George J. Starr on June 4, 1941, concerning George Mink. During this interview Krebs mentioned the arrest of George Mink in Copenhagen which took place in 1935 along with "Nicholas Sherman, a Lett..." (65-827-73)

The same aliases appear as previously set forth in this memorandum with the following notations:

Alias Nicholas Sherman (11-22-92, Jeratow, Yugoslavia)
Alias Abraham Goldman (7-16-98, Keilce, Poland)
Alias Willy Karl Herman Bretschneider (4-13-98, Altona, Germany)
(61-7756-58)

The Bureau possesses an Intelligence Album containing pictures and descriptive data of various individuals including Alexander Petrovich Ulanovski. This is repetitious of previous descriptive data mentioned in this memorandum with the exception that there is an alias listed as Alexander Schurmann without identifying data. (100-34424-69X)

[redacted] was asked concerning Nicholas Sherman when he testified before the Federal Grand Jury in Washington, D. C., on March 18, 1947, in the case entitled "Matter of the United States vs. Gerhart Eisler." He said that he did not know Nicholas Sherman. There is no indication in this material that he was asked concerning any of the other known aliases. (65-39940-69) b3

Nicholas Dosenberg, former agent of the Soviet Military Intelligence Service, was interviewed by Special Agent George E. Allen and Special Agent Jack Borden on October 25, 26 and 27, 1944. He did not know Nicholas Sherman. It is not known whether he was interrogated concerning other known aliases. (61-6670-[illegible])

The Bureau possesses a 1940 Photographic Index of various individuals compiled by the State Department, FBI, ONI and MID. This list includes persons either known to be members of the Communist Party or suspects. The following identifying data is listed concerning Nicholas Sherman:

Aliases Nikola Juratovich, Abraham Goldmann, Abraham Goldman, Willy Karl Herman Bretschneider, Wilhelm Karl Herman Brettschneider. True name not known.

This compilation listed his birth place as Yugoslavia, on November 22, 1892; his height as 5' 7"; hair as brown; eyes as brown and his occupation as mechanical engineer. (100-3-1838X-A pg 11)

The "New York Times" dated July 31, 1935, contained an article under the date line Copenhagen, July 30, 1935. This article stated that two Americans, George Mink and Nicholas Sherman, were arrested two months ago and were sentenced to eighteen months in prison on charges of espionage on July 30th. According to the news item, they were to be released from prison at the end of their sentence and then be deported. The item stated that both had been remanded by a law court for petty offenses against public decency and using forged passports, but that the counsel for the Crown appealed and that as a result of this appeal the high court established a charge of espionage, of which charge the two defendants had been acquitted in the lower court. (61-8648-119)

On March 4, 1947, [redacted] appeared before the Federal Grand Jury at Washington, D. C., in the investigation entitled "In the Matter of the United States Against Gerhart Eisler." During this testimony he stated that he first met Nicholas Sherman in Copenhagen. (100-48754-95; Report of Special Agent Thomas M. An examination of the above criminal record disclosed that Nicolas Sherman was sentenced on July 30, 1935, at Copenhagen, Denmark, for falsification of a passport and for espionage. He received a sentence of 18 months less 2 months in prison plus deportation. [redacted] b7D

REMARKS

On page 3 and 4 of this memorandum two addresses are listed for the subject: 96 Woodruff Avenue, Brooklyn, New York City, and 91 Woodruff Avenue, Brooklyn, New York City. Both addresses were checked in 1935 with negative results.

While examining an Intelligence Album, (100-342242-7) the writer noted a description of one Moishe Stern, was, who was last seen reportedly in January, 1934. Included in this data was a listing of relatives. The name Jacob Schaff, 89 Woodruff Avenue, Brooklyn, New York City, appears therein with the notation that he was probably a cousin of Moishe Stern. This address was probably true around the time of Sherman's activity in this country.

According to the information received from [redacted] b7D Sherman's passport was issued on August 14, 1933. According to the State Department records mentioned herein, Sherman filed an application for a passport in 1934. There is no information available in the Bureau files to correct this apparent discrepancy.

[redacted] is set out in the last b7D paragraph. This report said that Sherman's birthplace was given as Yugoslavia and that on his identification papers it appeared that he had changed his name which was formerly Nicholas Juratowic. [redacted] Sherman was identical with Abraham Goldman who was born on July 16, 1898, in Poland. [redacted] Goldman was just another alias of Sherman and not his true name.

It is recommended that a copy of this memorandum be placed in 100-354455 which appears to be the case file relating to the subject.

JAHAM. THE FOLLOWING INTERVIEWS WERE CONDUCTED CONCERNING ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN..JOSEPH JEMING, NY PORT AUTHORITY, ADVISED THAT HE WAS CHIEF OF THE STATISTICS SECTION UNDER SILVERMAN WHEN THE LATTER WAS IN CHARGE OF THE ANALYSIS BRANCH, ARMY AIR FORCE. HE STATED THAT THIS WAS HIS FIRST MEETING WITH SILVERMAN. JEMING HAD NO KNOWLEDGE OF SILVERMAN-S COMMUNIST OR ESPIONAGE ACTIVITIES. HE STATED THAT SILVERMAN HAD CONTACTED HIM ON JAN. TWENTY, FORTYNINE, AT WHICH TIME THEY LUNCHED AND DISCUSSED THE POSSIBILITIES OF SILVERMAN AND JEMING OBTAINING WORK IN THE FIELD OF CONSULTING CONCERNING ECONOMIC AND MANAGEMENT PROBLEMS. SILVERMAN BELIEVED THAT HE COULD LINE UP THIS TYPE OF WORK AND IF HE COULD NOT GET IT FOR HIMSELF, HE DESIRED TO MAKE IT AVAILABLE TO JEMING, WHO WAS ALSO INTERESTED IN THIS TYPE OF WORK. AT THIS LUNCHEON, JEMING SPOKE TO SILVERMAN ABOUT HIS FAILURE TO ANSWER QUESTIONS BEFORE THE HUAC IN HISS AND CHAMBERS. HE TOLD SILVERMAN THAT HE COULD FORM BUT ONE OPINION FROM HIS REFUSAL TO ANSWER AND THAT WAS THAT SILVERMAN WAS A COMMUNIST. SILVERMAN STATED HE WAS TOLD BY HIS COUNSEL NOT TO ANSWER ANY QUESTIONS BEFORE

THE HUAC, BUT THAT HE HAD FULLY ANSWERED ALL QUESTIONS DURING HIS APPEARANCE BEFORE THE FEDERAL GRAND JURY, SDNY. JEMING WAS VERY COOPERATIVE AND VOLUNTEERED TO CONTACT SILVERMAN AND ATTEMPT TO HAVE SILVERMAN TELL HIS COMPLETE STORY TO THE FBI. JEMING STATED THAT SILVERMAN IS HARD PRESSED FINANCIALLY, IN ADDITION TO BEING UNEMPLOYED. IT IS JEMING-S IMPRESSION THAT SILVERMAN HAS NO INTENTION OF OBTAINING EMPLOYMENT UNTIL THE HISS TRIAL IS COMPLETED. JEMING HAS SINCE ADVISED THAT HE HAD LUNCHED WITH SILVERMAN AND A FRIEND, KNOWN AS JACK FIELD, WHERE THEY DISCUSSED SILVERMAN-S POSITION CONCERNING THE ALLEGATIONS MADE AGAINST HIM, AND SILVERMAN AGAIN STATED THAT HE HAD TOLD HIS STORY TO THE GRAND JURY. HE WAS VERY NONCOMMITAL WHEN ASKED BY JEMING WHETHER HE WAS A COMMUNIST, AND HAD ENGAGED IN ANY COMMUNIST ACTIVITY. JOSEPH SENTURIA, DIRECTOR OF MARKET CONTROLS, TEXTRON CORPORATION, NYC, WAS INTERVIEWED AND STATED HE FIRST BECAME ACQUAINTED WITH SILVERMAN WHEN HE WAS RECOMMENDED BY A MUTUAL FRIEND TO FILL A POSITION OF ECONOMIST AT THE RAILROAD RETIREMENT BOARD. THIS WAS ABOUT NOVEMBER, NINETEEN THIRTYSEVEN. SENTURIA, WAS DIRECTLY UNDER SILVERMAN UNTIL NINETEEN FORTYTWO, WHEN SILVERMAN TRANSFERRED TO THE ARMY AIR FORCE, AND AFTER SEVERAL MONTHS SENTURIA JOINED HIM AT THE ARMY AIR FORCE AT SILVERMAN-S REQUEST, AND HELD THE POSITION OF ASSISTANT CHIEF UNDER SILVER-

MAN. WHEN QUESTIONED CONCERNING THE ALLEGATIONS AGAINST SILVERMAN, SENTURIA STATED THAT HE WAS "SHOCKED". HE STATED THAT FROM HIS OBSERVATIONS, AND ASSOCIATION HE COULD NOT PICTURE SILVERMAN AS BEING IN ANY UNDERGROUND APPARATUS. SENTURIA ALSO STATED THAT HE WAS ACQUAINTED WITH IRVING KAPLAN WHEN THE LATTER WAS WITH THE OWNR. HOWEVER, HE DID NOT HAVE A GREAT DEAL OF CONTACT WITH KAPLAN AND WAS SURPRISED TO HEAR HIS NAME MENTIONED BY MISS BENTLEY. SENTURIA WAS ALSO ACQUAINTED WITH GREGORY SILVERMASTER AND HAD OCCASION TO DEAL WITH HIM CONCERNING A STUDY SILVERMASTER MADE OF MIGRATORY LABOR IN THE FARM CREDIT BUREAU, AND BOTH HAD A COMMON INTEREST IN MIGRATORY LABOR OF RAILROAD WORKERS. HE ALSO ADVISED THAT HE WAS ACQUAINTED WITH SYLVIA MILLER, SECRETARY TO SILVERMASTER, AND KNEW HER QUITE WELL SOCIALLY. SENTURIA ADVISED THAT HE HAD LUNCH WITH SILVERMAN ON MARCH TENTH, WHICH WAS THE DATE OF THIS INTERVIEW, AND ADVISED HIM THAT HE WAS GOING TO BE INTERVIEWED BY THE FBI AND SILVERMAN COMMENTED THAT IT WOULD UNDOUBTEDLY BE REGARDING HIMSELF. SENTURIA ADVISED THAT HE HAS SEEN SILVERMAN ON SEVERAL OCCASIONS, AND HAS FOUND HIM TO BE A STIMULATING MAN. BECAUSE OF THIS ASSOCIATION, HE IS MORE THAN CONVINCED THAT SILVERMAN IS INNOCENT OF ALLEGATIONS MADE AGAINST HIM. MAC KENZIE W. ACQUAINTED WITH SILVERMAN WHEN HE WAS AN ARMY OFFICER IN THE STATISTICAL DIVISION WHERE SILVERMAN WAS IN CHARGE IN THE ARMY AIR FORCE. MR. WITTEN STATED THAT HE WAS SHOCKED CONCERNING THE ALLEGATIONS MADE AGAINST SILVERMAN, HE HAD FREQUENT CONTACT WITH HIM, ALTHOUGH THEIR OFFICES WERE ON DIFFERENT FLOORS, HE NEVER OBSERVED ANY CONDUCT ON THE PART OF SILVERMAN WHICH WOULD GIVE RISE TO SUSPICIONS. WITTEN HAD A GREAT DEAL OF RESPECT FOR SILVERMAN-S ABILITY AND RECALLED THAT SILVERMAN HAD DONE A FINE JOB IN HIS WORK IN THE AIR FORCE. HE STATED THAT SILVERMAN HAD ACCESS TO SECRET DATA, AND PROBABLY HAD INFORMATION OF A TOP SECRET NATURE CONCERNING STATISTICS, PRODUCTION AND OTHER INFORMATION CONNECTED WITH THE MANUFACTURE, AVAILABILITY OF PLANES AND THEIR DISPOSITIONS TO THE VARIOUS WAR THEATERS. HE ALSO ADVISED ABOUT A MONTH AGO, HE HAD LUNCHED WITH SILVERMAN AND ONE JACK FIELD AND LESTER KLEPPER, AT WHICH TIME THEY DISCUSSED A MEANS FOR SILVERMAN TO MAKE A LIVING. IN VIEW OF THE FACT THAT SILVERMAN HAD BEEN UNABLE TO OBTAIN WORK AND HIS SAVINGS WERE ALMOST GONE, HE WAS VERY MUCH IN NEED OF A JOB. HE STATED THAT HE AND KLEPPER AND FIELD, AND ESPECIALLY FIELD, WERE INTERESTED IN SEEING WHAT THEY COULD DO TO ASSIST SILVERMAN IN OBTAINING SOME KIND OF EMPLOYMENT OR OPENING UP SOME SMALL BUSINESS, FROM WHICH HE COULD OBTAIN AN INCOME. WITTEN HAD NO INFORMATION WHICH WOULD INDICATE

SILVERMAN WAS A COMMUNIST OR INTERESTED IN COMMUNISM. JEROME OHRBACH, EXECUTIVE OF THE OHRBACH DEPARTMENT STORE, NYC, WAS INTERVIEWED AND STATED THAT HE FIRST BECAME ACQUAINTED WITH SILVERMAN IN HIS WORK UNDER GENERAL MEYERS IN THE ARMY AIR FORCE. HE WAS QUITE SHOCKED TO HEAR THE ALLEGATIONS MADE AGAINST SILVERMAN. HE STATED THAT SILVERMAN HELD A POSITION WITH THE OHRBACH STORE, OF VICE PRESIDENT, AND WAS MAKING A SALARY OF OVER TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS A YEAR, AND WHEN THE PUBLIC ALLEGATIONS WERE MADE AGAINST SILVERMAN, IT WAS NECESSARY FOR SILVERMAN TO BE RELEASED FROM HIS POSITION. OHRBACH HAD A GREAT REGARD FOR SILVERMAN-S ABILITY AND IT WAS BECAUSE OF THIS AND COUPLED WITH THE HIGH REGARD SILVERMAN WAS HELD BY OTHER INDIVIDUALS, SUCH AS LAUCHLIN CURRY AND GENERAL BENNY MEYERS, THAT THIS WAS THE BIG FACTOR IN SILVERMAN BEING GIVEN A POSITION WITH THE OHRBACH DEPARTMENT STORE. OHRBACH STATED THAT HE DID NOT KNOW SILVERMAN WELL SOCIALLY BUT CONFINED HIS CONTACTS TO BUSINESS AND AN OCCASIONAL CARD GAME. WHEN THE ALLEGATIONS WERE MADE AGAINST SILVERMAN, HE CAME TO OHRBACH AND OHRBACH ASKED HIM IF HE WAS A COMMUNIST. SILVERMAN SAID, "HOW CAN YOU THINK SUCH A THING", AND SILVERMAN PROCEEDED IN UNEQUIVOCAL TERMS, TO STATE THAT HE WAS NOT A COMMUNIST, AND HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH COMMUNIST UNDERGROUND ACTIVITIES. Please be advised that in the course of the investigation conducted in an Atomic Energy case entitled BERNARD BRODIE aka Bernard Brody, Miscellaneous, Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, the review of the Navy officer records indicated that in a letter dated March 24, 1945 from the Chief of Naval Operations to the Chief of Naval Personnel, it was requested that Lt. BERNARD BRODIE and one Lt. DANIEL S. CHEEVER, both USNR, be ordered to report to ALGER HISS, Office of Special Political Affairs, Department of State. A review of BRODIE'S file at the Department of State, which file is located in the Walker Johnson Building, indicated that BRODIE reported to HISS for temporary duty in connection with the preparation for the San Francisco Conference on March 28, 1945 and remained on duty until June 7, 1945. BRODIE is presently believed to be a professor in the Department of International Relations at Yale University. He was born May 20, 1907 or 1910 at Chicago.

Professor BRODIE'S father, MAX BRODY, was born in Russia and naturalized in Chicago. BRODIE'S mother was also born in Russia.

The Washington Field Office indices do not reflect that BRODIE has been interviewed in connection with the captioned case and it is consequently requested that he be interviewed by the New Haven Office in connection with his dealings with HISS.

BRODIE should be asked whether or not he has received any typewritten correspondence from HISS and pictures of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS should be displayed to him. It is also suggested that BRODIE be questioned in regard to Lt. DANIEL S. CHEEVER and that efforts be made to find what connection if any CHEEVER had with HISS. If it is found that CHEEVER also worked for HISS, his location should be ascertained and a lead directed to the appropriate office in order that he may be interviewed.

Reference is made to Baltimore letter to the Bureau dated February 15, 1949, in the above-captioned matter with reference to Eleanor Nelson Soyring, who has long been active in Communist circles in Baltimore and Washington, D. C. The Baltimore Office advised that since Soyring had appeared before the Federal Grand Jury in New York City in December, 1948, she has been almost continuously in a drunken and hysterical condition, and as a result, efforts have been made by local leaders of the Communist Party in Baltimore to have her leave town or enter a sanitarium for psychopathic treatment.

Further reference is made to a telephone conversation between Inspector H. B. Fletcher of the Bureau and SAC M. W. McFarlin of the Baltimore Office on January 6, 1949. At that time the mental condition of Eleanor Nelson Soyring was discussed and the Baltimore Office was authorized to reinterview Mrs. Soyring and was instructed to furnish the results of the interview to the Bureau promptly.

Bureau files do not reflect that this interview has been conducted by the Baltimore Office. If this interview has been conducted, the Bureau should be advised concerning the results. If the interview has not been conducted, you should advise as to whether Mrs. Soyring's condition has deteriorated to the point that an interview with her is not advisable.

Reference is made to the attached teletype of the Washington Field Office dated February 18, 1949, which stated that the Bureau might wish to consider having General Bennett E. Myers interviewed concerning Abraham George Silverman, it being pointed out that Silverman was brought into the Air Corps by General Myers and served as an Assistant to Myers during the time Silverman was employed there.

Supervisor Floyd Jones has been advised by Supervisor K. E. Commons of the Investigative Division, who is familiar with the recent War Frauds Investigation of which General Myers was the subject, that Myers is presently in the District of Columbia jail. Commons advised that Myers has never been interviewed in connection with the War Frauds case since Myers' attorneys have insisted upon being furnished with a copy of the results of the interview. It appears, therefore, that in order to interview Myers, it will be necessary to contact his attorneys who will probably insist upon the same qualifications.

In view of this situation and the belief that Myers will not furnish anything derogatory concerning Silverman, it is recommended that no efforts be made to contact him.

ASAC Belmont, New York, called in at 9:45 a.m. today. He stated that this week they will only be able to interview Chambers at the most three days because of his other activities and the fact that he is required to appear in Baltimore with reference to the pre-trial deposition in the civil case brought against him by Alger Hiss. Mr. Belmont stated they wished to take this opportunity to interview Mrs. Chambers. This interview should be conducted at the earliest possible time, and it should be handled by the same Agents who are handling the interview of Chambers. It was recommended that Special Agents Thomas Spencer and Frank Plant of the New York Office be authorized to proceed to Baltimore tomorrow to interview Mrs. Chambers, and that they be authorized to remain there over the week-end if necessary to complete this interview so far as possible. Chambers will be at his home tomorrow and his presence will give Mrs. Chambers the necessary confidence to detail her knowledge of this matter.

Mr. Belmont stated that the New York Office is going to interview Timothy Hobson, who is the stepson of Alger Hiss. Mr. Donegan had cleared the interview and authorized it. There has been some indication in the investigation that Timothy Hobson and Alger Hiss are at odds and have been for a period of years. It is possible that Hobson will furnish a statement, and the interview of him will be conducted even though he requires that it be handled in the presence of his attorney.

It is recommended that this interview be handled as it has definite possibilities.

It is noted that the trial of this case has been postponed now to March 21, 1949. The New York Office previously has been instructed to prepare the prosecutive summary as of February 15, 1949. Since the investigation is still progressing and there is now additional time, it is recommended that the prosecutive summary deadline date be advanced to March 7, 1949.

If you are in accord with the foregoing recommendations, I will immediately call Mr. Belmont so that the indicated action can be handled immediately.

You will recall that William Edward Crane, who is the unknown subject "Keith" in this case, has recently advised that in 1937 Morris Asimow put Crane in touch with one Heuttig, a German employed at a large arms factory in Connecticut. Crane turned Heuttig over to Colonel Bykov and subsequently Heuttig began furnishing batches of prints, charts, etc. to Crane, who turned the material over to Chambers for Colonel Bykov.

Investigation has disclosed that Heuttig is, in fact, Lester Heuttig, who was employed by the Remington Arms Factory in Connecticut; also that his wife, Mae, in 1936 was working for Leo Cherne, who has been described as a Russian, anti-Communist writer and lecturer. The Bureau files reflect that Cherne is presently editor of the Research Institute of America, New York City, which is a service which interprets Government regulations for businessmen and others.

The New York Office has requested authority to interview Cherne regarding Mae Heuttig.

ACTION:

There is attached hereto a letter to the New York Office authorizing this interview.

THEUER further stated that he recalled after the first interview with the writer that a LOUIS SHUMAN, who in 1934 was connected with the Cement Division of the Bureau of Standards, Washington, D.C., and who he believes is still employed by the Bureau of Standards, was very friendly with the PIGMAN brothers. He recalled the conversations he had with SHUMAN wherein SHUMAN indicated that he was very familiar with the activities of the PIGMAN brothers and he gave THEUER the impression he was quite intimate with the PIGMANs. He described SHUMAN as being stocky and of Russian descent.

The name of ELEANOR NELSON set forth in referenced letter, was totally foreign to THEUER. The photograph furnished this office by the New York Office of DAVID ZIMMERMAN is being sent as an enclosure to the New York Office in this report.

Re: ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN

ReBulet to Washington Field dated February 3, 1949, in which WFO is instructed to exhaust all efforts in the conduct of a neighborhood investigation where ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN resided on or about January 1, 1937.

Particular attention was called to the fact that, according to WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, during the latter part of December 1936 or the first part of January 1937, three Persian rugs were shipped to SILVERMAN at Washington, D. C. from New York City. Thereafter SILVERMAN delivered one of the rugs to the late HARRY DEXTER WHITE and subsequently delivered a second rug to ALGER HISS at a prearranged meeting place, and that he, CHAMBERS, accompanied by ALGER HISS in the latter's automobile, met SILVERMAN where the transfer of the rugs from SILVERMAN's car to HISS' car was made.

~~DEFERRED RECORDING~~

FLORENCE TOMPKINS, a maid of the SILVERMAN's from 1935 to 1945, had stated that the SILVERMANS received three rugs late in 1936 or early in 1937; that she assisted the SILVERMANS in the selection of one of the rugs; and that the remaining two were to go to HARRY D. WHITE and ALGER HISS.

According to FLORENCE TOMPKINS, the rugs were delivered to the SILVERMANS at an apartment at 2138 California Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., and the SILVERMANS moved from that address to apartment 311 at 2325 15th Street, N.W., Washington, D. C. during the Spring of 1937.

The records maintained by the management at 2325 15th Street, N.W. reflect that one BENJAMIN THIBODEAUX was a former neighbor of the SILVERMAN's, residing in apartment 312 at the 15th Street address. He reportedly moved to No. 10 Dana Street, Apartment 211, Cambridge, Massachusetts during September 1940.

It is requested that the Boston Office make an effort to locate THIBODEAUX and that he be interviewed for any information concerning the above mentioned rugs and, as well, the activities and associates of the SILVERMANS.

At 12:55 p.m., SAC Kimball, San Francisco, called in my absence and talked to Mr. Baumgardner. He stated that Helen Ringe, who is attending the YWCA Convention in San Francisco, was becoming increasingly important both in the Chambers Case and the Bentley Case. He stated that previous efforts to interview her were partially successful, but she has been avoiding a prolonged interview by stating she has to go off to some meeting of the Convention.

On March 13, 1949, the San Francisco Office was authorized to attempt to reinterview her, but she was avoiding such an interview by claiming she had to attend a certain meeting of the convention. Mr. Kimball suggested that a contact be had with Mrs. Arthur Anderson, President of the YWCA, so that she could instruct Helen Ringe to miss the meetings for a couple of hours so that she could be interviewed.

I called Mr. Kimball back at 1:20 p.m. and told him that no contact should be had with the office of the YWCA; that it was obvious that Helen Ringe wanted to avoid interview at this time. She indicated a previous desire to talk to her sister, Sally, in the State of Washington about the matter, and it would be more desirable that the San Francisco Office contact the Seattle Office and see if the cooperation of Sally could not be secured to bring about a cooperative attitude with Helen Ringe. Mr. Kimball advised that he will get in touch with the Seattle Office.

Re: ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN

Reference is made to Bureau letter of February 3, 1949, to the Washington Field Office, in which WFO is instructed to exhaust all efforts in the conduct of a neighborhood investigation where ABRAHAM GEORGE SILVERMAN resided on or about January 1, 1937.

In an effort to substantiate the fact that he received three rugs during the first part of January 1937 and subsequently transported two of them in his automobile, as alleged by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, SILVERMAN has been interviewed on various occasions and has declined to furnish any information in connection with this case, on advise of counsel.

Particular attention was called to the fact that, according to CHAMBERS, during the latter part of December 1936 or the first part of January 1937, three Persian rugs were shipped to SILVERMAN in Washington, D. C. from New York City.

Thereafter SILVERMAN delivered one of the rugs to the late HARRY DEXTER WHITE and subsequently delivered a second rug to ALGER HISS at a prearranged meeting on the outskirts of Washington in the vicinity of the University of Maryland. in the selection of one of the rugs and that one of the remaining rugs was sent to HARRY D. WHITE. She thought that ALGER HISS was to receive the third rug. She did not know how or by whom the rugs were originally delivered to the SILVERMAN apartment, and she was not present when the two rugs, to be given to WHITE and HISS, were removed.

She stated that she believed that THOMAS SMITH, aka "Big Tom", now residing at Trappe, Talbot County, Maryland, was janitor of the building at 2138 California Street, N.W., Washington, D. C., during the pertinent period and she believes that he may have assisted in the delivery or removal of the rugs.

It is requested that the Baltimore Office interview THOMAS SMITH for any information substantiating FLORENCE TOMPKIN's statements or for any additional information that may be pertinent to this case.

At 5:20 p.m., March 14, 1949, ASAC Belmont, New York, called in and stated that Franklin Spire had been interviewed. Spire was the owner of the farm near Woodglen, New Jersey, where Chambers resided in the summer and fall of 1932. Spire stated that Chambers was still up to his old habit of burying things, and explained that Chambers' wife had told Spire's wife that Chambers, while on the farm, had buried something in the ground, believed to be documents.

Mr. Belmont stated that Chambers, when interviewed, had explained that he had resided at this particular farm but he mentioned nothing about burying anything. He will be interviewed by the New York Office today concerning this matter, and, if necessary, the New York Agents will take him over to the farm to recover anything that he might have buried there 17 years ago.

In your absence ASAC Belmont of New York called at 11:00 A.M. today and advised that Chambers was interviewed this morning regarding the burying of certain documents in New Jersey in 1932, an allegation, you will recall, made by Mr. Spier. Chambers very specifically denied such activity.

Mr. Belmont stated that details of the interview were being furnished by teletype to the Bureau and the Baltimore Office this morning with the request that Baltimore interview Mrs. Chambers today since she reportedly gave this information to Mrs. Spier.

DETAILS: AT WASHINGTON, D. C.

Re: PHILIP RENO

Farm Credit Administration

The files of the Farm Credit Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, reflect that PHILIP RENO entered on duty on January 7, 1935 as a Junior Classification Assistant and signed his oath of office form on the same date. His Washington address was given as 1213 O Street, Northwest, Washington, D. C. On an application made out by RENO and dated January 7, 1935 he gave his date of birth as June 22, 1911, at Idaho Falls, Idaho. His supervisors at the Farm Credit Administration were listed as A. H. ARONSON and T. F. WILSON. The file further reflected that he was transferred to the Social Security Administration on April 27, 1936.

Mr. ALBERT H. ARONSON, Director, Division of State Merit Systems Services, Social Security Administration, Washington, D.C., stated that in 1935 he was the Assistant Personnel Director of the Farm Credit Administration. He stated that at that time the Farm Credit Administration was not a part of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. He stated that in 1935 it was decided to employ some new personnel for the purpose of doing some classification work and ten persons were chosen from the Civil Service eligibility list. Mr. ARONSON stated that PHILIP RENO was one of the above ten persons. He stated that RENO proved to be a capable worker and worked with Farm Credit during 1935 and 1936.

Mr. ARONSON stated that he, Mr. ARONSON, became Personnel Director of the Social Security Administration in 1936. He stated that RENO transferred from Farm Credit to Social Security in 1936. He recalled that RENO worked in the Classification Unit of the Personnel Division for a short time and later was in the Reference Unit of the Bureau of Employment Security of the Social Security Administration. He stated that he had had only an official relationship with RENO from 1935 until 1941 when RENO went to Denver. He stated that he may have seen RENO in Denver on occasion until 1942, but has not seen him since that time.

Mr. ARONSON stated that he has catalogued RENO in his own mind as being to the left and a Radical, but he is not able to explain his reason for doing this. He stated that he can recall no specific incidents or statements by RENO which caused him to form the above opinion. He stated that RENO was active in the Social Security Local of the Union at that time. Mr. ARONSON stated he would be very much surprised to hear that RENO was or ever had been a member of the Communist Party. He stated that RENO in his opinion was not the type of person who would turn over any confidential documents to any unauthorized person.

Kisseloff-527

He stated that Mr. T. F. WILSON had been in the Personnel Office of the Farm Credit Administration from 1935 and at that time had been a supervisor of RENO. Mr. ARONSON stated that Mr. WILSON subsequently was employed by the Treasury Department and in December 1948 Mr. WILSON died. Mr. ARONSON named the following persons as possibly having been former fellow employees of PHILIP RENO at the Farm Credit Administration: ROBERT REYNOLDS, now with Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., HELEN HARRINGTON, in the Personnel Office of the U. S. Air Force, Pentagon Building, Washington, D. C.

Social Security Administration

The personnel records of the Social Security Administration reflect that PHILIP RENO entered on duty on April 27, 1936 as a Junior Classifier and he signed his oath of office form on the same date. He was assigned first to the Bureau of Business Management and later to the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation. The file reflected that he was employed in Washington, D.C. until May 24, 1941 when he transferred to Denver, Colorado. In Denver he was employed as an Assistant Employment Security Analyst in the Bureau of Employment Security, and on November 30, 1942 he transferred to the War Labor Board in Denver, Colorado. The file reflects that on July 1, 1941 he signed form 47, which is the usual personnel affidavit form. The file reflects that on April 4, 1936 and on February 6, 1945 he stated that his date of birth was June 22, 1913, but the file also reflects that on a personnel information sheet dated February 1, 1940 and on a personnel questionnaire stamped for file on March 5, 1938 he gave his date of birth as June 22, 1911. On an application form dated February 6, 1945 he listed the following references and employment:

CHARLES A. GRAHAM of the Symes Building, Denver, Colorado
JAMES PATTON, President, National Farmers Union, Denver, Colorado
REID ROBINSON, President of the Mine, Mill, and Smelter Workers Union, Chicago, Illinois

It is to be noted that the Denver Office has interviewed CHARLES A. GRAHAM and JAMES PATTON.

Jan. 1944 to Nov. 1944	-	Director in Denver, Colorado of the PAC-CIO (ILWU), 604 Montgomery Street, San Francisco, California, under LOUIS GOLDBLATT, PAC Director, ILWU
April 1943 to Oct. 1943	-	Educational Director of the IUMMSWA #43, 506 Franklin Street, Baltimore, Maryland, under WALTER MacMANAMON, Business Agent

His supervisors while at Social Security were listed as follows: MAX FREYD; W. C. BOWEN; E. M. AUERBACH; GLADYS R. FRIEDMAN; JOHN J. CORSON.

The following information is set out concerning the above persons:

Max Freyd

Extensive investigation has been conducted by the Washington Field Office in an effort to locate Mr. FREYD with negative results. All persons interviewed at Social Security were questioned regarding Mr. FREYD, but none were able to state his present whereabouts. In view of the above information no further investigation is contemplated regarding Mr. FREYD at this time.

W. C. Bowen

By teletype dated January 24, 1949 the New York Office was advised that W. C. BOWEN is presently a Regional Director with the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, with Headquarters in New York City.

E. M. Auerbach

Investigation revealed that the above person is ESTHER M. AUERBACH STAVIS, wife of MORTON STAVIS. The files of the Washington Field Office reflect that the STAVISES now reside in Newark, New Jersey, and that MORTON STAVIS is the subject of Newark file #100-30578. The files further reflect that the STAVISES were both former employees of the Social Security Administration and were members of the Social Security Union Local of which PHILIP RENO was the President in 1940, at the time the Local was split over international issues. RENO and the STAVISES were members of the Leftist Group of the Union at that time. Newark Office was requested to interview the STAVISES regarding PHILIP RENO in teletype from WFO dated January 26, 1949.

Gladys R. Friedman

John J. Corson

JOHN J. CORSON is presently Circulation Director of the Washington Post Newspaper and will be interviewed by the Washington Field Office.

By teletype dated January 17, 1949 the New York Office was advised of the discrepancy in the dates of birth of PHILIP RENO.

Mr. WILBUR J. COHEN, Technical Adviser to the Commissioner for the Social Security Administration, stated that he recalls PHILIP RENO having worked for the Social Security Board in Washington, D. C. from about 1937 until about 1941. He stated that it is his recollection that PHILIP RENO was a leader in the Union Local of the Social Security Administration. He stated that it is his recollection that the Union at first was the American Federation of Government Employees and that later there was a split in the Union and an independent union was formed and subsequently this independent union joined the United Federal Workers of America, now known as the United Public Workers of America. Mr. COHEN stated that he had never taken an active interest in the Union activities, however, it is his recollection that the Union was frequently split by discussions over international issues and policies. He stated that his association with PHILIP RENO had been only on an official basis, but that while he believed RENO to be a Liberal, he did not consider him disloyal to the U. S. Government. Mr. COHEN stated that in his opinion the Liberalism of RENO consisted of believing in the expansion of Social Security and the furtherance of the Labor Movement. He stated that he recalls RENO as being an Idealist and for this reason would not be completely surprised if he were to learn that PHILIP RENO had become a member of the Communist Party. He stated that he said this because he believed that if RENO felt the Communist Party would further his Idealism, he might readily join the organization. Mr. COHEN stated that he had never heard any comment or actually seen any activity on the part of Mr. RENO that would cause him to believe RENO was a member of the Communist Party. He stated that nothing had come to his attention which would indicate that RENO had conveyed confidential information to an unauthorized person. Mr. COHEN stated he had never heard anything which would indicate that PHILIP RENO was an associate of ALGER HISS or was in any way connected with WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. Mr. COHEN stated that WALTER J. COUPER had formerly been a supervisor of RENO and that Mr. COUPER is presently an Assistant Director of the Industrial Relations Counselors, located in Rockerfeller Center, New York City.

The above information regarding Mr. COUPER was furnished to the New York Office by teletype dated January 24, 1949.

PHILIP BOOTH, Assistant Chief of the Planning Branch of the Program Division, Social Security Administration, stated that he had been acquainted with PHILIP RENO during RENO'S employment with the Social Security Administration in Washington, D. C., from 1937 to 1941. Mr. BOOTH stated that he himself had been active in the Union and that at that time PHILIP RENO was the President of the Local. Mr. BOOTH stated that ELEANOR

NELSON and RENO were the leaders of what he considered the Left Side of the Local and that he, BOOTH, was a member of the Right Side. He stated that he and about 60 other Union members of the Local had separated themselves from the Local because of a difference of opinion regarding the Union's policy regarding the preparedness for war program of the United States at that time in early 1940. BOOTH stated that he had always considered RENO to have very Liberal ideas and he explained these Liberal ideas as being for the furtherance of social measures to assist the common man. He stated that in his opinion these Liberal ideas of RENOS did not extend to the point where he would become a member of the Communist Party. He stated that he had actually heard no comments and had seen no activities on the part of RENO which would cause him to believe that RENO was a member of the Communist Party. Mr. BOOTH stated that he had no knowledge of RENO ever having been associated with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and nothing had ever come to his attention which would indicate that RENO had conveyed restricted material to an unauthorized person. Mr. BOOTH stated that MARIE POTE had formerly been a supervisor of PHILIP RENO at the Social Security Administration and that Miss POTE is presently in New York City. He stated that her present address is 11 East 10th Street, Brooklyn, New York.

By teletype dated January 24, 1949 the above information was furnished to the New York Office with the request that Miss POTE be interviewed.

Miss OLGA HALSEY, Research Analyst, Bureau of Employment Security, Social Security Administration, stated that she recalls PHILIP RENO as a former employee in the Reference Unit and a former leader in the Union. She stated that she personally had had very little contact with RENO and feels that she is in no position to comment on RENO or his activities. She stated that she had heard some gossip years ago to the effect that when there was a split in the Union in the late 1930's because of the alleged Leftist leanings of some of the leaders of the Local. RENO was named as one of the persons leaning to the Left. Miss HALSEY stated that she had never heard of PHILIP RENO being associated in any way with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and she had never heard anything which would indicate that he had conveyed confidential information to an unauthorized person.

Miss RUTH RETICKER, Chief of the Legislative Reference Unit, Bureau of Employment Security, Social Security Administration, stated that she knew PHILIP RENO only because of the fact that he had formerly worked in the Reference Unit under MARIE POTE and the fact that he had been active in the Union Local at one time. She stated that she had very little first hand knowledge of him but would be very much surprised to hear that he had ever been associated with the Communist Party. She stated that she had no indication that RENO had ever conveyed confidential material to an unauthorized person and had never heard of him being associated with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

ERNEST R. BURTON, member of the Appeals Council of the Social Security Board, stated that RENO had worked under him in the Classification Section of the Social Security Administration for a few months in early 1937. Mr. BURTON stated that he recalls RENO as being a very capable employee and he has no knowledge of RENO ever having engaged in Communist Party activities. He stated that he would be surprised to learn that PHILIP RENO had ever been a member of the Communist Party and nothing had ever come to his attention which would indicate that RENO had conveyed restricted information to an unauthorized person. Mr. BURTON stated that he had never heard anything which would indicate that PHILIP RENO was connected in any way with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

O. KENNETH BAKER, Employee Counselor Specialist, Social Security Board, stated that he had formerly worked with PHILIP RENO in Denver for a few months in 1941. He stated that he had always had a good opinion of RENO and had seen nothing which would indicate to him that RENO was associated in any way with the Communist Party. Mr. BAKER stated that he would be surprised to learn that RENO was a member of the Communist Party and nothing had come to his attention which would indicate that RENO had conveyed restricted material to an unauthorized person. Mr. BAKER said that he had never heard anything which would indicate that RENO was associated with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

BURNIE MERSON, Economist, Bureau of Employment Security, Social Security Administration, stated that he had worked with PHILIP RENO from February 1941 until August 1941 in Denver, Colorado. Mr. MERSON stated that while in Denver he was traveling a good deal of the time and had actually seen very little of RENO. Mr. MERSON stated that he recalls RENO as being a person with Liberal ideas in that he was a New Dealer and an Idealist who wanted the Utopian situation in this country. Mr. MERSON stated that he had never seen anything which would indicate to him that RENO was a member of the Communist Party and he had seen nothing which would indicate that RENO had ever turned any confidential information over to an unauthorized person. Mr. MERSON stated that nothing had come to his attention which would indicate that RENO had in any way been associated with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

WILLIAM H. DILLINGHAM, Chief of the Fiscal Standards Division, Social Security Administration, stated that in 1940 to 1941 he was assigned to the Denver, Colorado Office of the Social Security Board. He stated that at that time RENO was employed as his assistant and served in that capacity for about one year. DILLINGHAM stated that he recalls RENO as a very Liberal thinker along the Socialistic line in that he believed in production for use rather than for profit. Mr. DILLINGHAM stated that he recalls there was a lot of talk around the Denver Office that RENO was quite far to the Left, however, he had heard nothing to actually indicate that RENO was associated in any manner with the Communist Party. He stated that he is aware of no occasion when RENO may have turned confidential information over to an unauthorized person and he had never heard RENO associated in any manner with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. Mr. DILLINGHAM stated that he had always classified RENO as a young Radical and a wild eyed young man who would be "damn" fool enough to turn any confidential papers over to an unauthorized person or to the Communist Party if he was requested to do so. Mr. DILLINGHAM stated, however, that he believed this would be to further the Communist Party doctrine rather than to hurt the United States. Mr. DILLINGHAM stated that Mr. JOHN GROSS had formerly been in charge of the Denver Office, however, it was his understanding that Mr. GROSS is presently in Europe as a representative of the Economic Cooperation Administration.

IVAN P. ASAY, Assistant Executive Director of the Social Security Administration, stated that he was assigned to the Denver Office in 1941 and 1942. He stated that he recalls PHILIP RENO being employed in the office during that period. He stated that he was not aware of any Communist Party activities or sympathy on the part of PHILIP RENO, although he regarded PHILIP RENO as a Liberal. Mr. ASAY defined a Liberal as one who believed that the ordinary man deserved a break and that the ordinary man should achieve his goal through membership in unions, expansion of social security, participation in cooperatives, and by participating as an individual in all functions of the Government. Mr. ASAY stated that he also is a believer in the above theory. Mr. ASAY stated, however, that he would be very much surprised to hear that PHILIP RENO had ever joined the Communist Party and he had the definite impression that RENO was opposed to Communism, although he could recall no definite statement which he made to this effect. ASAY did state that he had the definite impression that PHILIP RENO was opposed to any system of totalitarian government. Mr. ASAY stated that he also was acquainted with PHILIP RENO in Washington, D.C. in 1936 and 1937 when RENO was an employee of the Social Security Administration. Mr. ASAY stated he knew at that time that RENO was active in the United Federal Workers of America, CIO, but he is unaware of RENO having been a member of any other organization. Mr. ASAY stated that he knows of no activity on the part of PHILIP RENO which would lead him to believe that RENO obtained information in the course of his Government employment and furnished this information to any unauthorized person. Mr. ASAY stated that he had heard nothing which would indicate that RENO was in any way associated with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

MERRILL G. MURRAY, Social Insurance Research Analyst, Program Division, Social Security Administration, stated that in 1938 he was the Chief of the Legislative Division, Legislative Reference Unit, and that RENO worked under his supervision for approximately one year. He stated that he had had only an official relationship with PHILIP RENO during the above period and had known very little of RENO when he was not directly under his supervision. He stated, however, that nothing had ever come to his attention which would indicate that RENO was in any way associated with the Communist Party. Mr. MURRAY stated he did not believe RENO was the type who would turn restricted material over to an unauthorized person. Mr. MURRAY stated he had seen nothing which would indicate that RENO was in any way associated with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

War Labor Board

The records of the War Labor Board at the Department of Labor reflect that PHILIP RENO, born on June 22, 1911 at Idaho Fall, Idaho, entered on duty on December 1, 1942 as a Labor Economist with the National War Labor Board in Denver, Colorado. The record reflected that he executed the form #57 on November 5, 1942, at which time he answered no to question number 17. He named as references: Lieutenant Colonel ALBERT H. ARONSON, U. S. Army; IVAN ASAY, Social Security Board; Dr. HEBER HARPER, Social Security Board; and JOHN E. GROSS, War Manpower Commission, Denver, Colorado. His supervisors at Social Security were listed as Dr. MAX FREYD and W. E. CHALMERS. The file reflected that he resigned on May 21, 1943 in order to enter Military Service. Information regarding MAX FREYD has been previously set out under Social Security.

Investigation disclosed that W. E. CHALMERS is identical with W. ELLISON CHALMERS, who is presently an instructor with the Institute of Labor and Industrial Relations at the University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois.

By teletype dated January 24, 1949 the Springfield Office was furnished the above information and requested to interview Mr. CHALMERS regarding PHILIP RENO.

HERBERT OSCAR FUCHS, Research Worker with the Public Affairs Institute, Washington, D.C., stated that he had formerly been an employee of the War Labor Board and had worked with PHILIP RENO in Denver, Colorado. Mr. FUCHS stated that he had always considered RENO to be a person with Liberal ideas, but he had never seen anything which would indicate that RENO was a member of the Communist Party. FUCHS stated that he did recall that after leaving the War Labor Board RENO had supported CHARLES GRAHAM in an election in 1944 in Denver, Colorado and that GRAHAM had had the reputation of being associated with the Communist Party. Mr. FUCHS stated that he knew of no occasion when PHILIP RENO had conveyed confidential information to an unauthorized person and he does not believe that RENO would commit such an act. Mr. FUCHS stated that he had never heard anything which would indicate that RENO had ever been in contact with ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. Mr. FUCHS stated that he himself was the subject of a loyalty investigation as a result of his association with DWIGHT SPENCER, ROBERT C. WILLIAMS, and

CHARLES GRAHAM, who were reported to be connected with the Communist Party in Denver, Colorado. Mr. FUCHS stated that the above investigation had caused him considerable embarrassment and he had separated himself from Federal employment.

The files of the Washington Field Office reflect that a loyalty investigation was conducted on HERBERT FUCHS, Solicitor to the Board, National Labor Relations Board, Washington, D. C., in early 1948 because of information which had been developed by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in connection with another investigation, which reflected that HERBERT FUCHS and his wife, FRANCES RICE FUCHS, were known associates of IRVING KAPLAN, HARRY S. MAGDOFF, ALLEN R. ROSENBERG, and EDWARD JOSEPH FITZGERALD.

Washington T-1, a former member of the Communist Party and an individual of established reliability who has furnished considerable accurate information over a period of several years, identified IRVING KAPLAN, HARRY S. MAGDOFF, ALLEN R. ROSENBERG, and EDWARD JOSEPH FITZGERALD as having been involved in a Soviet Espionage Conspiracy in Washington, D. C. and New York City during the early 1940's; that the above-named individuals were associates of known Communists and pro-Soviet sympathizers; and that all of them were for a period of time known to T-1 members of the Communist Party.

By letter dated January 3, 1949 the Bureau requested that the Washington Field Office check all telephone calls which may have been made by PHILIP RENO between 1935 and 1940 while he was a resident of Washington, D.C. [redacted] advised supervisor R. E. NEWBY that in accordance with instructions issued by the Federal Communications Commission the records of all telephone calls over one year old are destroyed.

It is to be noted that all persons interviewed during the conduct of this investigation stated that they were unaware that PHILIP RENO had a brother named FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO.

[redacted] former member of the Communist Party who has furnished reliable information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and who assisted in forming numerous front organizations for the Communist Party, and who is acquainted with national and local Communist Party figures, was contacted and stated that PHILIP RENO is unknown to him.

The files of the Intelligence Division of the Army were checked and failed to reflect any information pertinent to this investigation regarding PHILIP RENO.

Through a highly reliable and confidential source, Agents of the Baltimore Office on Dec. 10, 1948, were given access to the personal effects of FRANKLIN VICTOR RENO, aka Vincent Reno. These effects, which had been left by RENO in the custody of MRS. DOROTHY J. EATON, Housing Manager of the Baldwin Manor Apartments at Aberdeen, comprised ten cardboard boxes, three trunks and one small black suitcase. Among the effects of RENO were numerous letters, mathematical formulas, photographs of individuals and miscellaneous names and addresses on scraps of paper. These items were photographed by Agents of this office and are being forwarded herewith to the Bureau for developing. The photographs are contained on one roll of Photorecord film and five rolls of Kodak FX135 film.

Under the circumstances which these photographs were obtained, it was not possible to be selective of the documents. It is therefore suggested that the film be developed negatively only and not enlarged at this time. After the film has been developed it should be returned to the Baltimore Office for review, after which time the pertinent photographs will be returned to the Bureau for enlargement.

In his book "In Stalin's Secret Service," GENERAL WALTER KRIVITSKY, stated that BORIS BYKOV was the head of the Soviet Military Intelligence from 1936 on. He did not further identify BYKOV in the book but in 1939 GENERAL KRIVITSKY was interviewed by RUTH SHIPLEY of the Passport Division of the State Department. MISS SHIPLEY prepared a memo relating to the interview with KRIVITSKY which set forth the following information concerning BYKOV:

"Another person very active in the Soviet Intelligence work in this country who is now here is a man said to be COLONEL BORIS BYKOV, BYKOFF, BUKOV or BUKOFF. He is probably in charge of the extermination of KRIVITSKY. He is said to be a small person with very odd red-brown eyes, red hair and red eyebrows. However, BYKOV learned that he was being tailed by the [redacted] and although several attempts were made on the part of BYKOV to contact KRIVITSKY, no meetings were ever consummated because of BYKOV'S fear of uncovering KRIVITSKY. During the course of the interview with JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS on March 8, 1949, he submitted certain information concerning a proposed courier service which is being provided herewith for the Bureau's information.

CHAMBERS related that sometime in about 1935 he received instructions from the unknown subject BILL to set up a courier service, utilizing sailors on vessels going to England, especially the "Port of London." According to CHAMBERS, J. PETERS made an effort to find likely individuals on such ships but was rather unsuccessful. However, one proposed courier was found. CHAMBERS states that he has forgotten the last name of this individual but believes that his first name was "GERRY." He further identified this individual by stating that he was the brother of a girl by the name of "Charlotte," who was then MAXIM LIEBER'S secretary, and with whom LIEBER at that time was having an affair. CHAMBERS stated that both this girl and her brother were Communist Party members. It was his further recollection that this brother had been an engineering student at the City College of New York and even prior to LIEBER introducing him to CHAMBERS, he, the brother, had planned to give up his studies and become a seaman in order to organize Communist and union groups among sailors. He readily agreed to act as a courier and even went so far as to get maps of London and, with CHAMBERS, plot out future meeting places there and the conveyances to be used in going to and coming from such meetings. CHAMBERS stated that it was his further recollection that this individual actually did secure a job on a vessel traveling between New York City and either Southampton or London. He was actually employed on this vessel and was making trips when CHAMBERS ceased to see him. CHAMBERS stated that the individual never actually worked as a courier nor did he know the exact nature of his proposed function beyond the fact that it was connected with the Communist Party and strict secrecy was involved. The sister "Charlotte," according to CHAMBERS, was aware of the plan, as well as MAXIM LIEBER.

The Albany Office is requested to check appropriate State records in an attempt to identify, if possible, the full name of the girl "Charlotte," who was employed by MAXIM LIEBER, 545 Fifth Avenue, New York City, in approximately 1935 as his secretary. If obtained, this information should be reported to the Bureau and the New York Office by teletype.

Reference is made to teletype from New York dated February 14, 1949 in which this office was requested to forward to New York a summary of the personal history or background on all pertinent serials reflecting the same regarding ELEANOR NELSON SOYRING. Further reference is made to the teletype from Baltimore dated February 15, 1949 which requested this office to furnish New York copies of all reports regarding ELEANOR NELSON SOYRING except those listed as being furnished by Baltimore.

Since the files in the Washington Field Office are rather voluminous, it is therefore deemed expedient to transmit herewith copies of reports rather than try to summarize the information. Accordingly, there is transmitted herewith:

1. Report of Special Agent T. W. DAWSEY dated at Washington January 4, 1941 entitled "ELEANOR NELSON; INTERNAL SECURITY-C".

8. Report of Special Agent HARRIS H. HUSTON dated December 6, 1946 at Washington entitled "ELEANOR NELSON SOYRING, was, INTERNAL SECURITY-C".

On January 3, 1949, Confidential Informant [redacted] advised an Agent of this office that the informant was closely associated with ELEANOR NELSON from 1936 to the early 1940's. This informant remarked that ELEANOR NELSON had been a highly placed official in the United Federal Workers in Washington and that ELEANOR NELSON had been placed in this position through the efforts of Communist Party members. The informant had never attended any unit meetings of the Communist Party in NELSON's presence or company and the informant had never seen NELSON's Communist Party membership card. However, the informant considered ELEANOR NELSON to be a member of the Communist Party, and it was the informant's opinion that NELSON was so highly placed in the Party that she was above the card carrying category of Party membership. The informant remarked that in numerous discussions between NELSON and the informant, each accepted the other as being a member of the Party. In addition, the informant has had many conversations with GERTRUDE EVANS and SARAH V. MONTGOMERY, both of whom considered ELEANOR NELSON to be a member of the Communist Party. EVANS and MONTGOMERY are both members of the Party according to [redacted]

JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS, was, et al
PERJURY; ESPIONAGE - R; INTERNAL SECURITY - R

You will recall that Whittaker Chambers produced sixty-five pages of typewritten material at the pre-trial deposition at Baltimore, Maryland, on November 17, 1948, and that these documents had been retained in a brown manila envelope at the home of one of Chambers' relatives in Brooklyn, New York. Chambers has recently advised that there was included in this brown envelope with the typewritten material a small slip of typewritten paper addressed to "Karl" and signed "H." You may recall that "Karl" was one of the aliases used by Chambers. This slip of paper read in effect: "If you have stopped playing around with my girl friend, will you please take your things out of her closet as she wants to use it." Chambers considered the word "things" as referring to some of his photographic equipment. He stated he does not know if "H" referred to Henry Hill Collins, Jr., or John Hermann, both members of Chambers' apparatus. He does not think, however, that "H" referred to Alger Hiss.

Chambers stated he possibly had some photographic equipment in Collins' apartment but does not recall having left any there. He stated that it is possible he could have had some equipment in Hermann's apartment as he believes he did some photographic work there. In either case he does not recall having taken any equipment from these apartments.

Chambers does not recall any details concerning his original receipt of this slip of paper. He believes that he gave this paper to his attorney, Richard F. Cleveland, in Baltimore, Maryland. Mr. Cleveland, however, when contacted in this regard, stated that he does not have this slip of paper and believes that Chambers never turned it over to him. He stated he recalls Chambers having showed it to him and reading the contents of it to him. Chambers has subsequently advised that the only other possibility as to the whereabouts of this slip of paper was that he may have turned it over to Mr. Robert Stripling, former Chief Investigator of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

It is suggested that the Department endeavor to determine if this slip of paper is presently in the possession of the House Committee on Un-American Activities and, if so, it is requested that arrangements be made to obtain it from the Committee for appropriate examination by the FBI Laboratory along the same lines as were followed with respect to the "Pumpkin" film.

SYNOPSIS OF FACTS: Additional typewritten specimens submitted non-idented by Laboratory after comparison with Q5 through Q69. Attempts to secure further specimens unsuccessful. Interviews with associates of HISS set out. EUGENE ROSEN denies that his father was acquainted with CHAMBERS or HISS. Investigation shows CHAMBERS resided near New Hope, Pennsylvania under name of BREEN during parts of 1936 and 1937 and near Frenchtown, New Jersey at about same time, year not established. Mrs. FRANCES FUSSELL, who worked in State Department under ALGER HISS, states his policies tended to favor Russia rather than United States. W. GIBBS MC KENNY, Baltimore attorney, advised HARRY MARTIN that he had five acquaintances in Baltimore who considered ALGER HISS to have a "red tinge."

ATTEMPTS TO LOCATE WOODSTOCK TYPEWRITER

There have been submitted to the Laboratory typewritten specimens obtained from Woodstock typewriters bearing the following serial numbers:-

N 172905

By reports dated January 10, January 14 and January 25, 1949, the Laboratory has advised that the specimens submitted for the above enumerated typewriters, which specimens had been designated as K248, K294 and K337, were not typed on the same typewriters as had been used to type Specimens Q5 and Q6 through Q69.

Typewriter 172905 is in the possession of RAYMOND & MC NUTT, 9th and Sansom Streets, Philadelphia; Typewriter 174426 is in the possession of Mrs. DOROTHY DUNSON, 1906 Carpenter Street, Philadelphia, and Typewriter 183374 is in the possession of Mrs. EDITH VANDER LEEUW, 5949 Colgate Street, Philadelphia.

By teletype dated January 18, 1949, the Bureau instructed that a review be made of the will of THOMAS FANSLER for leads as to any additional typewriting specimens.

A photostatic copy of the original of this will contained in Will Book 189, Page 262, which will is dated January 26, 1935, was forwarded to the Laboratory, and under report dated January 25, 1949, the Laboratory advised that this will was not typed on any machine used to type Specimens Q5 through Q69.

A review of this will reflected that a personal property tax form probably had been filed.

Mr. WILLIAM F. MEADE, Chairman, Board of Revision of Taxes, City Hall Annex, made available the personal property tax return of THOMAS FANSLER for the year 1940. All information in this form was handwritten and the signature of the maker indicates the form was made by DAISY CLARA FANSLER. Miss FANSLER is the daughter of THOMAS FANSLER. Mr. MEADE advised that personal property tax forms for the year 1939 and all prior years had been destroyed by court order.

Through the cooperation of JOHN T. BOLAND, Register of Wills, City Hall, Philadelphia, a review was made of P.S. 54, Page 11, of the inventory book in connection with the will of THOMAS L. FANSLER. The inventory book showed the list of personal effects of FANSLER, which were as follows:- 1) a note dated July 2, 1932 of RALPH L. and ADA S. FANSLER, $1,400; 2) a note dated April 6, 1936 of HENRY FANSLER, $300; 3) household furniture and furnishings, 3450 Chestnut Street (these furnishing were not described in detail);

No leads are being set out for investigation concerning the above described notes.

Also listed were the following shares of stock:- 1) 20 shares of Pennsylvania Railroad Company, @ 23½; 2) 20 shares of Great Valley Mills, preferred; 3) 20 shares of Great Valley Mills; 4) 10 shares of 1510 Walnut Street Corporation, capital stock; 5) 10 shares of Chicago and Tennessee Coal and Coke Company; 6) 40 shares of Mitten Bank Securities Corporation, cumulative preferred.

No other information of value was noted in the files.

Records of the Great Valley Mills and the Chicago and Tennessee Coal and Coke Company could not be located at the reference room of the Free Library of Philadelphia by means of a search through Poor's Register of Directors and Executives from 1933 to date. Prior to 1933, Poor's Register of Directors lists only directors and not corporations. Also checked at the Library were Moody's Industrials from 1915 to 1948 and the Standard Advertising Register from 1929 to 1940.

Philadelphia Confidential Informant T-1 advised that the records of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company indicated that THOMAS L. FANSLER had possessed twenty shares of Pennsylvania Railroad common stock and that he disposed of them on January 4, 1937, selling them through the brokerage house of DeHaven and Townsend and that the records searched by him revealed no further stock owned by FANSLER. The records also indicated that at the time of acquisition by FANSLER, his signature was identified by the brokerage firm of A. C. WOOD, JR. & Company.

This informant advised that the information conveyed by him was "off the record."

RICHARD W. WELLS, partner in the brokerage house of DeHaven and Townsend, Crouter and Bodine, Packard Building, Philadelphia, conducted a search of all records of the firm and stated that he failed to locate any record of the name THOMAS L. FANSLER and that despite his contact with the firm for twenty-seven years he failed to recall the name.

Mr. ALEXANDER C. WOOD, JR., senior partner in the firm A. C. WOOD, JR. and Company, recalled the name of FANSLER and commented that THOMAS L. FANSLER had conducted a limited business with his firm from 1928 until the liquidation of his estate in 1941. Mr. WOOD advised that his files failed to reveal any correspondence or other material from FANSLER, adding that in 1945 the filing system of his company had been completely overhauled and large quantities of material destroyed.

Inquiry was made of Mr. WOOD concerning the Great Valley Mills Corporation and the Chicago and Tennessee Coal and Coke Company. He searched these names through the 1948 Financial Stock Guide and through the Marvyn Scudder Manual on Extinct and Obsolete Companies and failed to reveal any record of the identity or location of these companies. He personally could not recall ever having heard the names previously.

R. A. WOLCOTT, Transfer Department, Philadelphia National Bank, 421 Chestnut Street, advised that his company had in February of 1948 taken over the liquidation of the Mitten Bank Securities Corporation which had gone out of existence a number of years previously. He conducted a thorough search of all records and failed to locate anything concerning FANSLER other than that he had been a stock holder in that corporation.

W. JAMES MC INTOSH, former Treasurer of the 1510 Walnut Street Corporation, advised that he had been in charge of liquidation proceedings of that company which had been handled by the Fidelity Philadelphia Trust Company. He made a search of all available records in his possession and in the possession of the Fidelity Philadelphia Trust Company and failed to locate any correspondence from FANSLER and made the statement that he was quite sure that none could exist inasmuch as it has been his practice to destroy all extraneous material involved in the liquidation.

Mr. HARRY L. MARTIN, former partner of THOMAS FANSLER, was contacted concerning his knowledge of any brokerage concerns with whom FANSLER may have had dealings. MARTIN furnished the name A. C. WOOD, JR. and Company as the only brokerage concern that he could recall in this respect. The investigation at A. C. WOOD, Jr. and Company is set forth above.

Referenced report sets forth that typewritten specimens obtained from Mr. ANTHONY WHITAKER, attorney for DAISY FANSLER, and from Mr. BURTON WRIGHT, nephew of LOUIS HOFFMAN, former partner of THOMAS L. FANSLER, had been submitted to the Laboratory for comparison purposes.

By Laboratory report dated January 10, 1949, it was advised that these specimens, designated as K216, K217 and K218, had been examined and that it was concluded that they had not been typed on any machine which had typed specimens Q6 through Q69.

Referenced report further sets out that HARRY L. MARTIN, former partner of THOMAS FANSLER, had been recontacted for any knowledge he might have of former insurance customers of FANSLER. MARTIN had recalled four individuals to whom FANSLER had sold insurance and these individuals were contacted to determine if specimens were obtainable. As a result of these contacts, additional typing specimens were obtained from STEWART SMYTHE and WAYNE C. MESCHTER. Further, HARRY MARTIN located one additional carbon copy of a letter in his own possession dated April 15, 1930.

The specimens thus obtained were submitted to the Bureau Laboratory and by report dated January 14, 1949, the Laboratory advised that these specimens were designated as K295, K296 and K297. The Laboratory advised that Specimens 295 and 297 had not been prepared by any typewriter used to type Q5 or Q6 through Q69. The same report indicated that Specimen K296 (the carbon obtained from HARRY MARTIN) was not sufficiently clear for a conclusion to be reached.

AT ARDMORE, PENNSYLVANIA

By teletype dated January 18, 1949, the Washington Field Office advised that the Reverend J. GILLESPIE ARMSTRONG, of St. Mary's Church, Ardmore, was formerly the pastor of Christ Episcopal Church, Washington, D.C., between 1935 and 1942, at which church ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS were members and TIMOTHY HOBSON, son of PRISCILLA HISS by a former marriage, sang in the choir. It was requested that Reverend ARMSTRONG be contacted for any typed correspondence he might have in his possession received from HISS.

Reverend ARMSTRONG was contacted and there was obtained from him a letter dated October 20, 1948 on the stationery of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, which letter was signed by ALGER HISS. This letter was furnished to the Laboratory, and under report dated January 25, 1949, the Laboratory advised that the specimen, which had been designated as K339, had not been prepared on a machine used to type Specimens Q5 or Q6 through Q69.

Further information obtained from Reverend ARMSTRONG is set forth in a subsequent section in this report.

AT BRYN MAWR, PENNSYLVANIA

By teletype dated January 5, 1949, the Boston Office advised that CATHERINE DRINKER BOWEN, author of "Yankee from Olympus," was residing at 921 Mt. Pleasant Road, Bryn Mawr. It was requested that Mrs. BOWEN be interviewed in order to obtain any typewritten material she might have received from ALGER HISS.

Mrs. CATHERINE DRINKER BOWEN advised that this is her pen name and that her actual name is Mrs. THOMAS MC KEAN DOWNS. She stated that she had actually started the preparation of her book, "Yankee from Olympus," which deals with the life of former Justice OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, in about 1940 and that the book itself had been published in 1944. She advised that in connection with the preparation of this book, she had contacted ALGER HISS for information regarding HOLMES' background and that she had actually had dinner with HISS at the Lafayette Hotel, Washington, D.C., on May 28, 1942, at which time she had engaged in a two-hour conversation relative to Justice HOLMES. Mrs. BOWEN made an examination of all papers in her possession and was able to locate two letters which she had received from ALGER HISS relative to the making of the above mentioned appointment.

These letters were forwarded to the Laboratory for comparison purposes and by report dated January 10, 1949 the Laboratory advised that the letters, which were designated as K246 and K247, and both of which were dated in May of 1942, had not been typed on the machine used to type Q6 through Q69. These letters have been returned to Mrs. BOWEN.

AT HAVERFORD, PENNSYLVANIA

By letter dated January 12, 1949, the Bureau indicated that a review of the income tax return of ALGER HISS for 1947 indicated revenue for "honoria for addresses at Haverford College and West Point Academy."

Mrs. ALICE BERRY, Secretary to the President, Haverford College, advised that ALGER HISS gave a commencement ceremony speech in June 1947. After inquiry, she advised that there was no record of any correspondence at the college, that all such correspondence is destroyed after a period of one year unless the correspondence indicates a specific reason for retention. Mrs. BERRY advised that she recalled that HISS had received an oral invitation for this appearance and that his acceptance had likewise been oral.

She said that most speakers at the college sent in copies of their addresses for publication but that she specifically recalls that ALGER HISS did not and that at this commencement he spoke entirely from memory.

AT PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA

Information was received at the Philadelphia Office from Mr. C. K. KNIGHT, a professor of insurance at the University of Pennsylvania, that he had recently noticed a bill from Mr. M. J. FAHEY concerning the repair of one of the University's typewriters. Mr. KNIGHT said that he was impressed by this bill since it seemed to be a very exact record and therefore it might be possible that Mr. FAHEY, who was located at 1228 N. 59th Street, might have sufficiently accurate records to reflect the repair of any Woodstock typewriters.

Accordingly, Mr. MICHAEL J. FAHEY was interviewed and he advised that he had been a salesman for the L.C. Smith Typewriter Company until 1942, that he had never repaired any Woodstock typewriter having a serial number below N 500000.

The report of the writer dated December 23, 1948 at Philadelphia indicated a Woodstock typewriter, N 151727, in the possession of Mr. LOUIS KAYE, President of Ryders, Inc., 4862 N. Broad Street. This report indicated that inasmuch as the serial number indicated manufacture prior to 1927, no specimens had been taken from the machine.

Since Bureau teletype dated January 14, 1949 has indicated that the serial number limitations in which investigation should be conducted concerning Woodstock typewriters were between 145,000 and 204,500, Mr. KAYE was recontacted. At this time, however, he advised that the machine had been purchased new and had never been out of the possession of Ryders, Inc. In view of this fact, it was not deemed necessary to obtain specimens from this particular machine.

Philadelphia teletype dated January 10, 1949 indicated that JOHN CAROW, former manager of the Philadelphia agency of the Woodstock Typewriter Company, had located additional personal records concerning the operation of the Philadelphia agency and that he also recalled that it was his experience that typewriter salesmen, as a class, were extremely prone to retain their "commission vouchers."

As a result of his comment to this effect, the Milwaukee Office was requested to recontact THOMAS GRADY in order to ascertain definitely whether or not

GRADY might have retained such commission vouchers. By teletype dated January 11th, the Milwaukee Office advised that GRADY had claimed on re-interview that he had no commission vouchers or any other records relating to the period when he was a salesman for the Woodstock Typewriter Company in Philadelphia.

A review of the additional personal records furnished by CAROW reflected a number of sales of Woodstock typewriters to Catholic schools throughout the city of Philadelphia. Mr. CAROW, upon further questioning, was able to furnish the name of Mr. GEORGE MITCHELL, of the Catholic Diocese, 1712 Summer Street, as the man who controlled all purchases for Catholic schools in the area.

Mr. GEORGE MITCHELL, Secretary and Treasurer, Office of the Archbishop, Philadelphia, at the above address, was contacted in an attempt to determine the dates on which Woodstock typewriters had been purchased for Catholic schools in the area and the serial numbers of these machines. This inquiry was made in an attempt to indicate the approximate number of machines being sold at the time the Woodstock typewriter which is the object of the current investigation was sold to the firm of FANSLER-MARTIN.

Mr. MITCHELL said that purchases for the Catholic schools had consisted only of new typewriters with the possible exception of the World War II years, when some reconditioned typewriters had been purchased. Mr. MITCHELL caused an examination to be made of the records of the Office of the Archbishop, which examination reflected no invoices concerning the purchase of new typewriters. He advised that, therefore, no serial numbers of typewriters purchased would be available. His records did show payment of $250 for five typewriters on October 20, 1927 for the Hallahan High School, wherein the salesman was one CAROW. Another payment of $900 was made to the Woodstock Company on October 21, 1927 for the purchase of Woodstock typewriters made available to the Northeast Catholic Boys' High School.

A complete search of all other records available by Mr. MITCHELL failed to develop any information concerning serial numbers of typewriters sold to Catholic high schools.

By teletype dated January 6, 1949, the Bureau instructed that contact should be made with the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company relative to an application for insurance on the part of DONALD HISS.

Kisseloff-11775

Inquiry at the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company reflected three policies for DONALD HISS totaling $50,000. However, there was no typewritten correspondence available from HISS.

Mr. EDWIN E. WELLER, Assistant Counsel for the company, advised that if any correspondence were available, it would be in the Washington Office of the company or in the personal files of the former Washington Office Supervisor, J. WISTAR HUEY, JR., who is presently director of the home office agency in Baltimore. The policy applications for DONALD HISS reflected that HUEY had known DONALD HISS for twenty-two years.

The above policies of DONALD HISS consist of a $25,000 ordinary life policy, #1036773, issued June 15, 1946; a $10,000 ordinary life policy, #1039705, issued March 28, 1947, and a $15,000 ordinary life policy, #10566163, issued June 14, 1947.

Applications for insurance executed by DONALD HISS on July 24, 1946 and July 22, 1947 reflect that he resided at 3030 Q Street, Washington, D.C., and as of July 1946 was employed as an attorney by the Washington firm of Covington, Burling, Rublee, Acheson and Shorb in the Union Trust Building. DONALD HISS was born at Baltimore, Maryland on December 15, 1906; his wife, CATHERINE G. HISS, was born October 9, 1911, and his children are listed as BOSLEY HISS, born November 29, 1941; CYNTHIA A. HISS, born August 17, 1943, and JOANNA C. HISS, born October 10, 1946.

ASSOCIATES OF ALGER HISS

By teletype dated January 4, 1949, the Washington Field Office advised that L. M. C. SMITH, a Philadelphia attorney and former head of the Special War Policies Unit, Department of Justice, had been said by BEN T. MOORE to be a good friend of ALGER HISS. It was suggested by the Washington Field Office that SMITH be interviewed concerning typewriter specimens, typewriters in HISS' possession or other associates of HISS.

LAWRENCE M. C. SMITH, 512 Real Estate Trust Building, Philadelphia, advised that he has known ALGER HISS since approximately 1934 through social connections and that he has met ALGER HISS on occasions since that time. However, SMITH stated that he has been much friendlier with DONALD HISS, the brother of ALGER HISS. Both Mr. and Mrs. SMITH have visited the HISS home in Georgetown, Washington, D.C., on several occasions. Mr. SMITH states that he has never seen any typewriter in the HISS home and has no knowledge of any typewriter owned by HISS, nor does he have any typewritten specimens of any correspondence from HISS.

Inquiry was made of Mr. SMITH regarding business associates of HISS. He indicated that the only close associates of HISS known to him were Mr. and Mrs. RUDOLPH STANLEY-BROWN, Mr. BROWN being an architect in New York City; Mr. and Mrs. HERBERT FEIS, Mr. FEIS being the former Economic Adviser at the State Department and presently at Princeton University; EDWARD BURLING, an attorney in Washington, D.C., who is the son of one of the BURLINGS in the law firm of Covington, Burling, Rublee and Shorb, this firm being associated with the present Secretary of State, DEAN ACHESON; and THEODORE DOMINIC, an architect from the Georgetown area of Washington who is related to the prominent DOMINIC family of New York. Mr. SMITH was unable to furnish any other information of value regarding the HISSES.

Mr. SMITH described himself as being a "left of center New Dealer" as compared with the conservative elements. He indicated that he had been called a Communist in the past but denied such beliefs. SMITH is a member of the Americans for Democratic Action organization. He desires to go on record as having voluntarily contributed funds for the defense of ALGER HISS inasmuch as he does not feel that HISS is guilty as charged nor a Communist and will be greatly shaken if he is found guilty. In this regard, SMITH made a statement to the effect that should HISS be found guilty, he feels that HISS should be severely punished.

AT TRENTON, NEW JERSEY

By teletype dated January 6, 1949, the Washington Field Office suggested that interview be conducted with JEOFFREY and ELIZABETH MAY, who had been nextdoor neighbors of ALGER HISS at 1245 30th Street, NW, Washington, D.C., between 1936 and 1938.

As a result of authority granted by the Bureau on January 12, 1949, JEOFFREY MAY was interviewed at the New Jersey State Office Building, Trenton, New Jersey, where he is conducting a survey of relief agencies for Governor DRISCOLL.

MAY advised that his wife, ELIZABETH, was currently living at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C. and working for the Committee on Economic Development, Stonleigh Court, Connecticut Avenue, Washington.

MAY stated that he and his wife had resided nextdoor to the HISS family from July 1936 until about August 1937, at which time HISS moved. He stated that the two families exchanged visits and that they have visited occasionally since that time but that they were not necessarily the closest of friends. He stated that he does not recall ever having seen a typewriter of any make in the HISS residence and that he never heard one being operated through the party wall while he was a neighbor. He added that he has never received any typewritten material from HISS.

He commented that ALGER HISS employed Negro female servants during the period but that he could not recall the names of any of these servants. It was his opinion that these servants were hired through the United States Employment Service in Washington and he recalled that his wife had become acquainted with one particular light complected female Negro servant at that agency and which servant Mrs. HISS may also have employed. MAY stated that he can not recall the name of this servant but that his wife probably can.

MAY further advised that he and his wife have met friends of the HISS family in their home but that he could recall the names of none of these persons other than DONALD HISS and his wife. He said that he did recall that during 1944, when visiting the HISS residence at that time, meeting the Director of Information of the United States Maritime Service but that he could not recall his name.

MAY claimed that he had never come in contact with or met WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and that he knows none of HISS' associates. Photographs of CHAMBERS taken during the 1930's were exhibited to MAY, who stated that he did not recognize them. He advised that HISS had never made any inquiry of him concerning the various confidential jobs which he, MAY, had held. He also recalled that he had met ALGER HISS shortly after HISS had returned from the Yalta Conference but that the only discussion concerned such things as scenic beauty, hours of work and similar topics, and that the substance of the conference was not discussed in any manner.

MAY continued that ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS had visited him at Erwinna, Pennsylvania in November 1948 and that this was the first time he had seen the HISSES in several years. He said that the reason for the visit was to refresh ALGER HISS' memory concerning minute details of the neighborhood in which HISS and MAY had resided during 1936 and 1937. He stated that he wanted his remarks in this regard to be considered "privileged" since it would affect the civil libel suit brought by HISS against CHAMBERS. He added that the only subject of conversation on this latter occasion concerned such things as how the houses were painted, what method was used in parking the automobiles and similar items which would tend to prove that CHAMBERS had never been in that neighborhood during the pertinent period.

AT ARDMORE, PENNSYLVANIA

Information has been previously set forth in this report concerning a typewritten specimen obtained from the Reverend J. GILLESPIE ARMSTRONG.

At the same time that Reverend ARMSTRONG furnished this letter, he advised that he attended John Hopkins University between 1924 and 1928, at which time HISS was also a student at the university. Reverend ARMSTRONG only knew HISS by reputation while they attended college and did not again meet HISS until they became acquainted in Georgetown, Washington, D.C. The Reverend ARMSTRONG was pastor of the Christ Episcopal Church in Washington, D.C. between the years 1935 and 1942. He does not recall ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS being regular attendants at his church, although he believes they may have attended the church on occasions. He stated that he visited the HISS residence once or twice as a parson.

The Reverend ARMSTRONG advised he had received a letter from ALGER HISS in October 1948, which letter requested the Reverend ARMSTRONG to assist the HISSES in establishing the details of their recollection as far as events were concerned during the years 1935 to 1938. The Reverend ARMSTRONG advised that he was annoyed at the receipt of this letter from HISS because it appeared that HISS was trying to make ARMSTRONG say that HISS had regularly attended church services. ARMSTRONG advised that he had written to HISS in reply to the above letter, stating he was very sorry but he could not recall HISS' regular attendance at the services. Reverend ARMSTRONG further advised that HISS acknowledged his letter, although he was unable to actually locate that letter.

At the time the letter furnished by Reverend ARMSTRONG was forwarded to the Bureau Laboratory for comparison purposes, it was requested that after examination the letter be furnished to the Investigative Division of the Bureau for its information.

The letter which was obtained from Reverend ARMSTRONG indicated that TIMOTHY HOBSON had been a member of the choir of the Christ Church in Washington, D.C. for a period prior to February 19, 1937, when he had been injured in an automobile accident. The Reverend ARMSTRONG could not other than vaguely recall TIMOTHY's having been a member of the choir. He did advise, however, that the choirmaster at the Christ Church is RICHARD BELL, who has held that position for many years, including the period that TIMOTHY HOBSON would have been a member of the choir.

The letter further indicates that HISS had the intention of writing to GEORGE and ETHEL BLACKWELL, whom he said were in Chicago in October 1948. The Reverend ARMSTRONG recalls the BLACKWELLS as being very regular church attendants and suggested that their address be obtained through the Landon School in Bethesda, Maryland, where BLACKWELL had formerly been a master. He also advised that ETHEL BLACKWELL, his wife, was a music teacher available to the students of the Landon School, although he does not believe she was actually a member of the staff.

The Reverend ARMSTRONG could not recall ever having seen a typewriter at the HISS home on the occasions of his one or two visits.

MISCELLANEOUS

AT NEW HOPE, PENNSYLVANIA

By teletype dated January 18, 1949, the New York Office advised that in the pre-trial deposition of CHAMBERS, it was stated that in August 1935 he had moved to a cottage on the Delaware River on the Pennsylvania side near Frenchtown, New Jersey, which cottage had been rented by one MAXIM LIEBER, a literary agent of New York. This teletype indicated that CHAMBERS spent about two months at the cottage and that PRISCILLA HISS spent about ten days there, and that ALGER HISS made at least one visit during the two month period. It was indicated that LIEBER had rented the cottage from a Mr. BOUCOT, of Frenchtown, New Jersey, who had also had a cottage next to the one rented by LIEBER.

The pre-trial deposition further indicated that CHAMBERS believed that BOUCOT had a sister, a Mrs. BROWN, who had visited CHAMBERS and had met Mrs. HISS.

It further indicated that in the fall of 1936, CHAMBERS had moved to New Hope, Pennsylvania on the Delaware River and that ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS had been looking for a summer home and had found a small stone house at New Hope; that they went to a real estate dealer at New Hope, a Mr. WOOD, and inquired of him concerning the house. In the deposition, CHAMBERS recalled that he went to look at the house with either WOOD or HISS or both and that he, CHAMBERS, had rented the house under the name of DAVID BREEN. CHAMBERS indicated that one TOM MARSHALL, an apple grower who had a farm one and one-half miles south of New Hope, was the landlord. According to the deposition, CHAMBERS lived in this stone house until early 1937 and he was visited there by LIEBER.

THOMAS MARSHALL, who owns and operates a large apple farm approximately three and one-half miles south of New Hope, Pennsylvania, furnished the following information:

On the MARSHALL farm, approximately one hundred yards from the main house, there is situated a stone tenant house which MARSHALL rented up until approximately three years ago. An examination of MARSHALL's checkbooks, in which he makes detailed entries regarding incoming monies for tax purposes, there appeared a notation on June 15, 1936 that the tenant house was rented to one DAVID BREEN through a New Hope real estate agent, WATSON ROBERTS. Monthly entries followed this June entry indicating payment of rent, some months showing the name BREEN and others just showing the rental payment. An entry in May of 1937 reflects that the same tenant house was rented to one H. W. YERKES. Mr. MARSHALL recalled that the tenant house was idle for approximately a month and believes that BREEN left that vicinity in approximately April of 1937.

With respect to the data concerning the rental of the tenant house, Mr. MARSHALL stated that he had never heard of a real estate agent in the vicinity of New Hope by the name of WOOD and that his tenant house was definitely rented to BREEN through WATSON ROBERTS, who is presently residing in the upper part of Lambertville, New Jersey, with a married daughter whose name is EVERETT. According to MARSHALL, it is possible that ROBERTS may have had a person working with him by the name of WOOD but inasmuch as ROBERTS was a very small operator, he believes that ROBERTS probably handled all of the details leading up to the rental personally.

Neither Mr. MARSHALL nor his wife knew of any information whatever concerning any of BREEN's visitors but stated that he occasionally had company while living at the stone tenant house. The BREENS had a small daughter by the name of URSULA, approximately twelve to eighteen months old, when they first moved in and during the fall of 1936 Mrs. BREEN gave birth to another baby at the Doylestown Hospital, Doylestown, Pennsylvania. The BREENS were described as quiet, the type of people who attended to their own business and they did not associate with anyone in the area.

Mr. MARSHALL identified the 1934 photograph of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as being identical with DAVID BREEN. He advised further that during November and December of 1948, he was visited by a person of Jewish extraction and small stature who said he was a New York lawyer representing WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. He was also interrogated by two other individuals who represented themselves as detectives from Nassau County, New York. However, he did not furnish any of these three individuals with any exact data such as rental dates concerning the tenant house, which evidence is available should same be desired.

Mrs. MARY MARSHALL, wife of THOMAS MARSHALL, advised that the only source of information known to her regarding the activities at the BREEN home during the period from June 1936 to April 1937 was a local girl by the name of MAUDE COLTON who was employed by the BREENS as a housekeeper.

MAUDE SAMSEL, New Hope, Pennsylvania, advised that she was the aunt of MAUDE COLTON, and that MAUDE COLTON was now Mrs. MAUDE SWANSON, 6225 Norwood Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. She also advised that another aunt of MAUDE COLTON, one LYDIA JONES, was now Mrs. GEORGE CRESSLER, and that she resided in a small town named Pruitt near Harrison, Arkansas.

Mrs. MAUDE SWANSON, 6225 Norwood Street, Philadelphia, advised that her aunt, LYDIA JONES, had worked for the BREENS as a housekeeper and that when she left, she was instrumental in obtaining a job for her at the BREENS. Mrs. SWANSON was approximately eighteen years of age at the time she was employed by the BREENS and she worked as a housekeeper from the fall of 1936, when the BREENS' second baby was approximately two months old, until they left in the spring of 1937. She stated that DAVID BREEN was away most of the time and that he came home only weekends and on an occasional trip. She recalled that he travelled in a car but could not furnish any information regarding the identity of the car. To the best of her recollection, BREEN worked in New York or some large city. She could not furnish any other information of value concerning the BREENS or any visitors or company that they had.

It was observed at the time of interview that Mrs. SWANSON possesses a rather low mentality.

Investigation in the vicinity across the Delaware River from Frenchtown, New Jersey disclosed that JOSEPH R. BOUCOT has not resided in that area for a number of years and that he could probably be located at 143 W. Coulter Street, Philadelphia, at which place he presently lives.

Mr. BOUCOT advised that he recalled renting a cottage in a little settlement known as Smithtown, Pennsylvania to MAXIM LIEBER and DAVID BREEN, who were supposed to be literary agents from New York City. He was unable to establish a definite date that the cottage was rented to LIEBER and BREEN inasmuch as all of the records had been destroyed and the property at that time was owned by an uncle. The only thing that he could recall was that the rental covered a period of about two months during July and August. He could furnish no information whatever regarding activities which might have taken place at the cottage inasmuch as he himself resided at a hotel in Frenchtown, New Jersey. In this connection, he pointed out that his uncle's estate also included a cottage next to that rented to LIEBER and BREEN, which cottage at the time was occupied by his sister, Mrs. NORMA B. BROWN, and her son, PAUL, who was approximately thirteen or fourteen years of age at the time. It was his opinion that his sister and nephew would probably know something of the occupants of the other cottage.

Mrs. NORMA B. BROWN presently resides at 619 Orange Street, Hot Springs, Arkansas, and her son, PAUL BROWN, resides at 734 Park Avenue, Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he is currently singing with the MEYER DAVIS Orchestra at the Arlington Hotel.

Mr. BOUCOT was unable to identify any pictures of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS but stated that the pictures resembled BREEN. Mr. BOUCOT was visited by a small Jewish lawyer from New York City who was supposed to be representing CHAMBERS and whose name as near as he could recall was BONDY (ph). BOUCOT was also contacted on December 3, 1948 by HORACE W. SCHMAHL, who was representing ALGER HISS.

AT SWARTHMORE, PENNSYLVANIA

Bureau letter dated January 6, 1949 reflected that information had been received from D. VINCENT HURLEY, who in turn had received information from Mrs. FRANCES FUSSELL, to the effect that early in the week of December 12, 1948, she had had a conversation with a man presently employed in the CE Unit in the State Department and with whom she had formerly worked; that in 1947 she and this man, together with several others, were working on the problem of the Yugoslav ships which had been seized by the United States at the end of the war in the Danube River and which were being withheld from Yugoslavia; that the State Department had adopted the position that the ships should not be returned until Russia and her satellites had agreed to the opening of the Danube to international commercial shipping, and that she and the others working on the problem were dumbfounded when in October or November of 1947 an order was issued by President TRUMAN that the ships be returned to Yugoslavia forthwith. The Philadelphia Office was instructed to promptly interview Mrs. FUSSELL for any additional data she may have had concerning this incident and for any relative data pertinent to the instant case.

Mrs. FRANCES FUSSELL, 451 Riverview Road, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, stated that she was employed by the State Department in 1945 and that she continues as a part-time consultant at the present time. Mrs. FUSSELL said that while working as a subordinate under ALGER HISS, she had never come in personal contact with HISS, but that she felt the policies adopted by HISS during her employment tended to favor Russia rather than the United States, and that this was a prevalent feeling among all employees under HISS' direction. Mrs. FUSSELLS stated, however, that she could give no specific points, but that she felt that a review of the correspondence handled by HISS would definitely show this trend.

Specific inquiry was made of Mrs. FUSSELLS concerning the return of Yugoslavian vessels as outlined in the referenced letter and she revealed that she had obtained the information set forth in this letter from one MAXWELL HARWAY in the presence of JACK TUTHILL, both of whom are still in the employ of the State Department in the Inland Transportation Division. She stated that this conversation occurred approximately six weeks before the date of the interview set forth herein, which was January 11, 1949. She also added that she was of the opinion that MAXWELL HARWAY is aware of the location of correspondence containing a notation by HISS that he was unalterably opposed to the State Department position relative to the retention of Yugoslav ships and would do all in his power to see that it was changed.

AT EASTON, PENNSYLVANIA

By teletype dated December 30, 1948, the Washington Field Office indicated that WILLIAM ROSEN should be interviewed at Easton, Pennsylvania relative to any association he may have had with either CHAMBERS or HISS. It was further indicated that ROSEN had refused to answer questions before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Investigation at Easton, Pennsylvania reflected that WILLIAM ROSEN was presently in California visiting another son. This information was furnished to the Los Angeles Office in order that the appropriate interview might be conducted.

By teletype dated January 4, 1949, the Bureau instructed that EUGENE ROSEN, son of WILLIAM ROSEN, be interviewed at Easton, Pennsylvania regarding any knowledge he may have of the activities or association of his father with HISS.

ROSEN answered all questions readily and did not exhibit an antagonistic attitude at any time. He claimed that he personally does not know either ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS other than from reports appearing in the public press.

ROSEN stated that he knew nothing of any Woodstock typewriter having been in his father's home at any time. He said he was aware his father did have a typewriter at one time but he knew it was not a Woodstock. He said he could not recall, however, what type it was. He further stated that he knew nothing of his father's business contacts with either ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. ROSEN added that his father had never had in his possession, to his knowledge, a Ford automobile.

ROSEN continued that after newspaper publicity concerning his father's refusal to testify before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, he had asked his father what it was all about and that at that time both his father and mother had denied knowing what it was about. He said that his parents had told him directly that they knew nothing whatsoever about the matter and that his father swore to him that he knew nothing about the people involved. He further stated that his father had told him pointblank that he was not a member of the Communist Party. EUGENE ROSEN likewise stated that neither he nor his wife are members of the Communist Party.

He continued that he had been in Washington at his father's residence after the publicity had appeared in the press concerning testimony before the HCUA and that people had come into his father's store and had threatened to break windows, and that his business fell off to the extent that he was forced to sell the business.

ROSEN stated that his mother and father came to Easton, Pennsylvania from Washington on October 23, 1948 and had remained there in his home until November 3, 1948, when he drove his parents to the home of another brother, CYRIL ROSEN, 460 Grand Boulevard, Long Beach, Long Island. On November 10th, he had driven his parents back to Easton from Long Beach, and on November 11th, his parents had left Easton for California to visit a third brother, MILTON, at 2120C 17th Street, Santa Monica, California. He said that his father was hoping to buy a small business in California or to get employment there, and failing to do this, expects to return to Washington, D.C. in February 1949.

EUGENE ROSEN had in his possession at his residence in Easton a typewriter which was determined to be a standard model Underwood, Serial 1962416-5, which he claims had been purchased by one of his brothers as a used typewriter.

He stated that he had never owned or had in his possession a Woodstock typewriter and that he had never owned or had in his possession a Ford automobile.

ROSEN was questioned as to why his father had refused to testify before the HCUA and stated that he could give absolutely no reason for his father's declination in this respect.

ROSEN further added that he still receives mail at his residence in Easton for his father and that he forwards this mail to the above mentioned address of his brother in Santa Monica, California.

Philadelphia Confidential Informant T-2 was contacted for any information he might have in his possession concerning EUGENE ROSEN. He stated that he does not know of any Communist Party member in the Lehigh Valley area by that name.

AT PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA

Contact with HARRY MARTIN, former partner of THOMAS L. FANSLER, on January 11, 1949, revealed that MARTIN had contacted telephonically over the previous weekend one W. GIBBS MC KENNY, an attorney in the Munsey Building in Baltimore, Maryland, Telephone Lexington 2595; that the nature of this contact was one of personal business, but that during the conversation with MC KENNY, the latter had stated that he had five acquaintances in Baltimore, all of whom were former classmates of ALGER HISS at Johns Hopkins University and all of whom had indicated to him recently that they were of the opinion that HISS had a "red tinge" even while he was at Johns Hopkins. MARTIN advised that there was a point in the conversation which he did not clearly understand, but which indicated that there was material to support this contention in the yearbook at Johns Hopkins University.

In an attempt to determine whether or not any records were still in existence concerning the Bullitt Building, in which the FANSLER-MARTIN partnership had space before the building was destroyed, the following investigation was conducted.

Mr. JAMES MC MULLAN, 117 S. 17th Street, advised that he and his brother, WILLIAM, were joint superintendents of the Bullitt Building until it was torn down and that when the building was so destroyed, he personally had destroyed all the records of the management with the exception of cash books and that there would, therefore, be no typewritten material in existence from any of the former tenants of the Bullitt Building.

ADMINISTRATIVE DETAILS

By teletype dated January 14, 1949, the Bureau instructed that the limitation of serial numbers to be considered for the obtaining of specimens from Woodstock typewriters should lie between 145,000 and 204,500. As a result of these instructions, a review was made of the Philadelphia file in this case to determine if any information was available concerning typewriters from which specimens should have been obtained previously. Information concerning one such typewriter was located and specimens were obtained and submitted to the Laboratory, as set forth in this report (N 183374).

One copy of this report has been designated for the Chicago Office since that office will probably receive instructions to interview GEORGE and ETHEL BLACKWELL.

No leads are being set out for the New York, Newark and Washington Field Offices to interview the associates of ALGER HISS mentioned by L. M. C. SMITH as set forth in Philadelphia teletype of January 17, 1949. The advisability of interviewing these associates of HISS is being left to the discretion of the office of origin.

ATTEMPTS TO LOCATE WOODSTOCK TYPEWRITER

There have been submitted to the Laboratory typewritten specimens obtained from Woodstock typewriters bearing the following serial numbers:-

N 172905

By reports dated January 10, January 14 and January 25, 1949, the Laboratory has advised that the specimens submitted for the above enumerated typewriters, which specimens had been designated as K248, K294 and K337, were not typed on the same typewriters as had been used to type Specimens Q5 and Q6 through Q69.

Typewriter 172905 is in the possession of RAYMOND & MC NUTT, 9th and Sansom Streets, Philadelphia; Typewriter 174426 is in the possession of Mrs. DOROTHY DUNSON, 1906 Carpenter Street, Philadelphia, and Typewriter 183374 is in the possession of Mrs. EDITH VANDER LEEUW, 5949 Colgate Street, Philadelphia.

By teletype dated January 18, 1949, the Bureau instructed that a review be made of the will of THOMAS FANSLER for leads as to any additional typewriting specimens.

A photostatic copy of the original of this will contained in Will Book 189, Page 262, which will is dated January 26, 1935, was forwarded to the Laboratory, and under report dated January 25, 1949, the Laboratory advised that this will was not typed on any machine used to type Specimens Q5 through Q69.

A review of this will reflected that a personal property tax form probably had been filed.

Mr. WILLIAM F. MEADE, Chairman, Board of Revision of Taxes, City Hall Annex, made available the personal property tax return of THOMAS FANSLER for the year 1940. All information in this form was handwritten and the signature of the maker indicates the form was made by DAISY CLARA FANSLER. Miss FANSLER is the daughter of THOMAS FANSLER. Mr. MEADE advised that personal property tax forms for the year 1939 and all prior years had been destroyed by court order.

Through the cooperation of JOHN T. BOLAND, Register of Wills, City Hall, Philadelphia, a review was made of P.S. 54, Page 11, of the inventory book in connection with the will of THOMAS L. FANSLER. The inventory book showed the list of personal effects of FANSLER, which were as follows:- 1) a note dated July 2, 1932 of RALPH L. and ADA S. FANSLER, $1,400; 2) a note dated April 6, 1936 of HENRY FANSLER, $300; 3) household furniture and furnishings, 3450 Chestnut Street (these furnishing were not described in detail).

No leads are being set out for investigation concerning the above described notes.

Also listed were the following shares of stock:- 1) 20 shares of Pennsylvania Railroad Company, @ 23½; 2) 20 shares of Great Valley Mills, preferred; 3) 20 shares of Great Valley Mills; 4) 10 shares of 1510 Walnut Street Corporation, capital stock; 5) 10 shares of Chicago and Tennessee Coal and Coke Company; 6) 40 shares of Mitten Bank Securities Corporation, cumulative preferred.

No other information of value was noted in the files.

Records of the Great Valley Mills and the Chicago and Tennessee Coal and Coke Company could not be located at the reference room of the Free Library of Philadelphia by means of a search through Poor's Register of Directors and Executives from 1933 to date. Prior to 1933, Poor's Register of Directors lists only directors and not corporations. Also checked at the Library were Moody's Industrials from 1915 to 1948 and the Standard Advertising Register from 1929 to 1940.

Philadelphia Confidential Informant T-1 advised that the records of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company indicated that THOMAS L. FANSLER had possessed twenty shares of Pennsylvania Railroad common stock and that he disposed of them on January 4, 1937, selling them through the brokerage house of DeHaven and Townsend and that the records searched by him revealed no further stock owned by FANSLER. The records also indicated that at the time of acquisition by FANSLER, his signature was identified by the brokerage firm of A. C. WOOD, JR. & Company.

This informant advised that the information conveyed by him was "off the record."

RICHARD W. WELLS, partner in the brokerage house of DeHaven and Townsend, Crouter and Bodine, Packard Building, Philadelphia, conducted a search of all records of the firm and stated that he failed to locate any record of the name THOMAS L. FANSLER and that despite his contact with the firm for twenty-seven years he failed to recall the name.

Mr. ALEXANDER C. WOOD, JR., senior partner in the firm A. C. WOOD, JR. and Company, recalled the name of FANSLER and commented that THOMAS L. FANSLER had conducted a limited business with his firm from 1928 until the liquidation of his estate in 1941. Mr. WOOD advised that his files failed to reveal any correspondence or other material from FANSLER, adding that in 1945 the filing system of his company had been completely overhauled and large quantities of material destroyed.

Inquiry was made of Mr. WOOD concerning the Great Valley Mills Corporation and the Chicago and Tennessee Coal and Coke Company. He searched these names through the 1948 Financial Stock Guide and through the Marvyn Scudder Manual on Extinct and Obsolete Companies and failed to reveal any record of the identity or location of these companies. He personally could not recall ever having heard the names previously.

R. A. WOLCOTT, Transfer Department, Philadelphia National Bank, 421 Chestnut Street, advised that his company had in February of 1948 taken over the liquidation of the Mitten Bank Securities Corporation which had gone out of existence a number of years previously. He conducted a thorough search of all records and failed to locate anything concerning FANSLER other than that he had been a stock holder in that corporation.

W. JAMES MC INTOSH, former Treasurer of the 1510 Walnut Street Corporation, advised that he had been in charge of liquidation proceedings of that company which had been handled by the Fidelity Philadelphia Trust Company. He made a search of all available records in his possession and in the possession of the Fidelity Philadelphia Trust Company and failed to locate any correspondence from FANSLER and made the statement that he was quite sure that none could exist inasmuch as it has been his practice to destroy all extraneous material involved in the liquidation.

Mr. HARRY L. MARTIN, former partner of THOMAS FANSLER, was contacted concerning his knowledge of any brokerage concerns with whom FANSLER may have had dealings. MARTIN furnished the name A. C. WOOD, JR. and Company as the only brokerage concern that he could recall in this respect. The investigation at A. C. WOOD, Jr. and Company is set forth above.

Referenced report sets forth that typewritten specimens obtained from Mr. ANTHONY WHITAKER, attorney for DAISY FANSLER, and from Mr. BURTON WRIGHT, nephew of LOUIS HOFFMAN, former partner of THOMAS L. FANSLER, had been submitted to the Laboratory for comparison purposes.

By Laboratory report dated January 10, 1949, it was advised that these specimens, designated as K216, K217 and K218, had been examined and that it was concluded that they had not been typed on any machine which had typed specimens Q6 through Q69.

Referenced report further sets out that HARRY L. MARTIN, former partner of THOMAS FANSLER, had been recontacted for any knowledge he might have of former insurance customers of FANSLER. MARTIN had recalled four individuals to whom FANSLER had sold insurance and these individuals were contacted to determine if specimens were obtainable. As a result of these contacts, additional typing specimens were obtained from STEWART SMYTHE and WAYNE C. MESCHTER. Further, HARRY MARTIN located one additional carbon copy of a letter in his own possession dated April 15, 1930.

The specimens thus obtained were submitted to the Bureau Laboratory and by report dated January 14, 1949, the Laboratory advised that these specimens were designated as K295, K296 and K297. The Laboratory advised that Specimens 295 and 297 had not been prepared by any typewriter used to type Q5 or Q6 through Q69. The same report indicated that Specimen K296 (the carbon obtained from HARRY MARTIN) was not sufficiently clear for a conclusion to be reached.

AT ARDMORE, PENNSYLVANIA

By teletype dated January 18, 1949, the Washington Field Office advised that the Reverend J. GILLESPIE ARMSTRONG, of St. Mary's Church, Ardmore, was formerly the pastor of Christ Episcopal Church, Washington, D.C., between 1935 and 1942, at which church ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS were members and TIMOTHY HOBSON, son of PRISCILLA HISS by a former marriage, sang in the choir. It was requested that Reverend ARMSTRONG be contacted for any typed correspondence he might have in his possession received from HISS.

Reverend ARMSTRONG was contacted and there was obtained from him a letter dated October 20, 1948 on the stationery of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, which letter was signed by ALGER HISS. This letter was furnished to the Laboratory, and under report dated January 25, 1949, the Laboratory advised that the specimen, which had been designated as K339, had not been prepared on a machine used to type Specimens Q5 or Q6 through Q69.

Further information obtained from Reverend ARMSTRONG is set forth in a subsequent section in this report.

AT BRYN MAWR, PENNSYLVANIA

By teletype dated January 5, 1949, the Boston Office advised that CATHERINE DRINKER BOWEN, author of "Yankee from Olympus," was residing at 921 Mt. Pleasant Road, Bryn Mawr. It was requested that Mrs. BOWEN be interviewed in order to obtain any typewritten material she might have received from ALGER HISS.

Mrs. CATHERINE DRINKER BOWEN advised that this is her pen name and that her actual name is Mrs. THOMAS MC KEAN DOWNS. She stated that she had actually started the preparation of her book, "Yankee from Olympus," which deals with the life of former Justice OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, in about 1940 and that the book itself had been published in 1944. She advised that in connection with the preparation of this book, she had contacted ALGER HISS for information regarding HOLMES' background and that she had actually had dinner with HISS at the Lafayette Hotel, Washington, D.C., on May 28, 1942, at which time she had engaged in a two-hour conversation relative to Justice HOLMES. Mrs. BOWEN made an examination of all papers in her possession and was able to locate two letters which she had received from ALGER HISS relative to the making of the above mentioned appointment.

These letters were forwarded to the Laboratory for comparison purposes and by report dated January 10, 1949 the Laboratory advised that the letters, which were designated as K246 and K247, and both of which were dated in May of 1942, had not been typed on the machine used to type Q6 through Q69. These letters have been returned to Mrs. BOWEN.

AT HAVERFORD, PENNSYLVANIA

By letter dated January 12, 1949, the Bureau indicated that a review of the income tax return of ALGER HISS for 1947 indicated revenue for "honoria for addresses at Haverford College and West Point Academy."

Mrs. ALICE BERRY, Secretary to the President, Haverford College, advised that ALGER HISS gave a commencement ceremony speech in June 1947. After inquiry, she advised that there was no record of any correspondence at the college, that all such correspondence is destroyed after a period of one year unless the correspondence indicates a specific reason for retention. Mrs. BERRY advised that she recalled that HISS had received an oral invitation for this appearance and that his acceptance had likewise been oral.

She said that most speakers at the college sent in copies of their addresses for publication but that she specifically recalls that ALGER HISS did not and that at this commencement he spoke entirely from memory.

AT PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA

Information was received at the Philadelphia Office from Mr. C. K. KNIGHT, a professor of insurance at the University of Pennsylvania, that he had recently noticed a bill from Mr. M. J. FAHEY concerning the repair of one of the University's typewriters. Mr. KNIGHT said that he was impressed by this bill since it seemed to be a very exact record and therefore it might be possible that Mr. FAHEY, who was located at 1228 N. 59th Street, might have sufficiently accurate records to reflect the repair of any Woodstock typewriters.

Accordingly, Mr. MICHAEL J. FAHEY was interviewed and he advised that he had been a salesman for the L.C. Smith Typewriter Company until 1942, that he had never repaired any Woodstock typewriter having a serial number below N 500000.

The report of the writer dated December 23, 1948 at Philadelphia indicated a Woodstock typewriter, N 151727, in the possession of Mr. LOUIS KAYE, President of Ryders, Inc., 4862 N. Broad Street. This report indicated that inasmuch as the serial number indicated manufacture prior to 1927, no specimens had been taken from the machine.

Since Bureau teletype dated January 14, 1949 has indicated that the serial number limitations in which investigation should be conducted concerning Woodstock typewriters were between 145,000 and 204,500, Mr. KAYE was recontacted. At this time, however, he advised that the machine had been purchased new and had never been out of the possession of Ryders, Inc. In view of this fact, it was not deemed necessary to obtain specimens from this particular machine.

Philadelphia teletype dated January 10, 1949 indicated that JOHN CAROW, former manager of the Philadelphia agency of the Woodstock Typewriter Company, had located additional personal records concerning the operation of the Philadelphia agency and that he also recalled that it was his experience that typewriter salesmen, as a class, were extremely prone to retain their "commission vouchers."

As a result of his comment to this effect, the Milwaukee Office was requested to recontact THOMAS GRADY in order to ascertain definitely whether or not

GRADY might have retained such commission vouchers. By teletype dated January 11th, the Milwaukee Office advised that GRADY had claimed on re-interview that he had no commission vouchers or any other records relating to the period when he was a salesman for the Woodstock Typewriter Company in Philadelphia.

A review of the additional personal records furnished by CAROW reflected a number of sales of Woodstock typewriters to Catholic schools throughout the city of Philadelphia. Mr. CAROW, upon further questioning, was able to furnish the name of Mr. GEORGE MITCHELL, of the Catholic Diocese, 1712 Summer Street, as the man who controlled all purchases for Catholic schools in the area.

Mr. GEORGE MITCHELL, Secretary and Treasurer, Office of the Archbishop, Philadelphia, at the above address, was contacted in an attempt to determine the dates on which Woodstock typewriters had been purchased for Catholic schools in the area and the serial numbers of these machines. This inquiry was made in an attempt to indicate the approximate number of machines being sold at the time the Woodstock typewriter which is the object of the current investigation was sold to the firm of FANSLER-MARTIN.

Mr. MITCHELL said that purchases for the Catholic schools had consisted only of new typewriters with the possible exception of the World War II years, when some reconditioned typewriters had been purchased. Mr. MITCHELL caused an examination to be made of the records of the Office of the Archbishop, which examination reflected no invoices concerning the purchase of new typewriters. He advised that, therefore, no serial numbers of typewriters purchased would be available. His records did show payment of $250 for five typewriters on October 20, 1927 for the Hallahan High School, wherein the salesman was one CAROW. Another payment of $900 was made to the Woodstock Company on October 21, 1927 for the purchase of Woodstock typewriters made available to the Northeast Catholic Boys' High School.

A complete search of all other records available by Mr. MITCHELL failed to develop any information concerning serial numbers of typewriters sold to Catholic high schools.

By teletype dated January 6, 1949, the Bureau instructed that contact should be made with the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company relative to an application for insurance on the part of DONALD HISS.

Inquiry at the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company reflected three policies for DONALD HISS totaling $50,000. However, there was no typewritten correspondence available from HISS.

Mr. EDWIN E. WELLER, Assistant Counsel for the company, advised that if any correspondence were available, it would be in the Washington Office of the company or in the personal files of the former Washington Office Supervisor, J. WISTAR HUEY, JR., who is presently director of the home office agency in Baltimore. The policy applications for DONALD HISS reflected that HUEY had known DONALD HISS for twenty-two years.

The above policies of DONALD HISS consist of a $25,000 ordinary life policy, #1036773, issued June 15, 1946; a $10,000 ordinary life policy, #1039705, issued March 28, 1947, and a $15,000 ordinary life policy; #10566163, issued June 14, 1947.

Applications for insurance executed by DONALD HISS on July 24, 1946 and July 22, 1947 reflect that he resided at 3030 Q Street, Washington, D.C., and as of July 1946 was employed as an attorney by the Washington firm of Covington, Burling, Rublee, Acheson and Shorb in the Union Trust Building. DONALD HISS was born at Baltimore, Maryland on December 15, 1906; his wife, CATHERINE G. HISS, was born October 9, 1911, and his children are listed as BOSLEY HISS, born November 29, 1941; CYNTHIA A. HISS, born August 17, 1943; and JOANNA C. HISS, born October 10, 1946.

ASSOCIATES OF ALGER HISS

By teletype dated January 4, 1949, the Washington Field Office advised that L. M. C. SMITH, a Philadelphia attorney and former head of the Special War Policies Unit, Department of Justice, had been said by BEN T. MOORE to be a good friend of ALGER HISS. It was suggested by the Washington Field Office that SMITH be interviewed concerning typewriter specimens, typewriters in HISS' possession or other associates of HISS.

LAWRENCE M. C. SMITH, 512 Real Estate Trust Building, Philadelphia, advised that he has known ALGER HISS since approximately 1934 through social connections and that he has met ALGER HISS on occasions since that time. However, SMITH stated that he has been much friendlier with DONALD HISS, the brother of ALGER HISS. Both Mr. and Mrs. SMITH have visited the HISS home in Georgetown, Washington, D.C., on several occasions. Mr. SMITH states that he has never seen any typewriter in the HISS home and has no knowledge of any typewriter owned by HISS, nor does he have any typewritten specimens of any correspondence from HISS.

Inquiry was made of Mr. SMITH regarding business associates of HISS. He indicated that the only close associates of HISS known to him were Mr. and Mrs. RUDOLPH STANLEY-BROWN, Mr. BROWN being an architect in New York City; Mr. and Mrs. HERBERT FEIS, Mr. FEIS being the former Economic Adviser at the State Department and presently at Princeton University; EDWARD BURLING, an attorney in Washington, D.C., who is the son of one of the BURLINGS in the law firm of Covington, Burling, Rublee and Shorb, this firm being associated with the present Secretary of State, DEAN ACHESON; and THEODORE DOMINIC, an architect from the Georgetown area of Washington who is related to the prominent DOMINIC family of New York. Mr. SMITH was unable to furnish any other information of value regarding the HISSES.

Mr. SMITH described himself as being a "left of center New Dealer" as compared with the conservative elements. He indicated that he had been called a Communist in the past but denied such beliefs. SMITH is a member of the Americans for Democratic Action organization. He desires to go on record as having voluntarily contributed funds for the defense of ALGER HISS inasmuch as he does not feel that HISS is guilty as charged nor a Communist and will be greatly shaken if he is found guilty. In this regard, SMITH made a statement to the effect that should HISS be found guilty, he feels that HISS should be severely punished.

AT TRENTON, NEW JERSEY

By teletype dated January 6, 1949, the Washington Field Office suggested that interview be conducted with JEOFFREY and ELIZABETH MAY, who had been nextdoor neighbors of ALGER HISS at 1245 30th Street, NW, Washington, D.C., between 1936 and 1938.

As a result of authority granted by the Bureau on January 12, 1949, JEOFFREY MAY was interviewed at the New Jersey State Office Building, Trenton, New Jersey, where he is conducting a survey of relief agencies for Governor DRISCOLL.

MAY advised that his wife, ELIZABETH, was currently living at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C. and working for the Committee on Economic Development, Stonleigh Court, Connecticut Avenue, Washington.

MAY stated that he and his wife had resided nextdoor to the HISS family from July 1936 until about August 1937, at which time HISS moved. He stated that the two families exchanged visits and that they have visited occasionally since that time but that they were not necessarily the closest of friends. He stated that he does not recall ever having seen a typewriter of any make in the HISS residence and that he never heard one being operated through the party wall while he was a neighbor. He added that he has never received any typewritten material from HISS.

He commented that ALGER HISS employed Negro female servants during the period but that he could not recall the names of any of these servants. It was his opinion that these servants were hired through the United States Employment Service in Washington and he recalled that his wife had become acquainted with one particular light complected female Negro servant at that agency and which servant Mrs. HISS may also have employed. MAY stated that he can not recall the name of this servant but that his wife probably can.

MAY further advised that he and his wife have met friends of the HISS family in their home but that he could recall the names of none of these persons other than DONALD HISS and his wife. He said that he did recall that during 1944, when visiting the HISS residence at that time, meeting the Director of Information of the United States Maritime Service but that he could not recall his name.

MAY claimed that he had never come in contact with or met WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and that he knows none of HISS' associates. Photographs of CHAMBERS taken during the 1930's were exhibited to MAY, who stated that he did not recognize them. He advised that HISS had never made any inquiry of him concerning the various confidential jobs which he, MAY, had held. He also recalled that he had met ALGER HISS shortly after HISS had returned from the Yalta Conference but that the only discussion concerned such things as scenic beauty, hours of work and similar topics, and that the substance of the conference was not discussed in any manner.

MAY continued that ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS had visited him at Erwinna, Pennsylvania in November 1948 and that this was the first time he had seen the HISSES in several years. He said that the reason for the visit was to refresh ALGER HISS' memory concerning minute details of the neighborhood in which HISS and MAY had resided during 1936 and 1937. He stated that he wanted his remarks in this regard to be considered "privileged" since it would affect the civil libel suit brought by HISS against CHAMBERS. He added that the only subject of conversation on this latter occasion concerned such things as how the houses were painted, what method was used in parking the automobiles and similar items which would tend to prove that CHAMBERS had never been in that neighborhood during the pertinent period.

AT ARDMORE, PENNSYLVANIA

Information has been previously set forth in this report concerning a typewritten specimen obtained from the Reverend J. GILLESPIE ARMSTRONG.

At the same time that Reverend ARMSTRONG furnished this letter, he advised that he attended John Hopkins University between 1924 and 1928, at which time HISS was also a student at the university. Reverend ARMSTRONG only knew HISS by reputation while they attended college and did not again meet HISS until they became acquainted in Georgetown, Washington, D.C. The Reverend ARMSTRONG was pastor of the Christ Episcopal Church in Washington, D.C. between the years 1935 and 1942. He does not recall ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS being regular attendants at his church, although he believes they may have attended the church on occasions. He stated that he visited the HISS residence once or twice as a parson.

The Reverend ARMSTRONG advised he had received a letter from ALGER HISS in October 1948, which letter requested the Reverend ARMSTRONG to assist the HISSES in establishing the details of their recollection as far as events were concerned during the years 1935 to 1938. The Reverend ARMSTRONG advised that he was annoyed at the receipt of this letter from HISS because it appeared that HISS was trying to make ARMSTRONG say that HISS had regularly attended church services. ARMSTRONG advised that he had written to HISS in reply to the above letter, stating he was very sorry but he could not recall HISS' regular attendance at the services. Reverend ARMSTRONG further advised that HISS acknowledged his letter, although he was unable to actually locate that letter.

At the time the letter furnished by Reverend ARMSTRONG was forwarded to the Bureau Laboratory for comparison purposes, it was requested that after examination the letter be furnished to the Investigative Division of the Bureau for its information.

The letter which was obtained from Reverend ARMSTRONG indicated that TIMOTHY HOBSON had been a member of the choir of the Christ Church in Washington, D.C. for a period prior to February 19, 1937, when he had been injured in an automobile accident. The Reverend ARMSTRONG could not other than vaguely recall TIMOTHY's having been a member of the choir. He did advise, however, that the choirmaster at the Christ Church is RICHARD BELL, who has held that position for many years, including the period that TIMOTHY HOBSON would have been a member of the choir.

The letter further indicates that HISS had the intention of writing to GEORGE and ETHEL BLACKWELL, whom he said were in Chicago in October 1948. The Reverend ARMSTRONG recalls the BLACKWELLS as being very regular church attendants and suggested that their address be obtained through the Landon School in Bethesda, Maryland, where BLACKWELL had formerly been a master. He also advised that ETHEL BLACKWELL, his wife, was a music teacher available to the students of the Landon School, although he does not believe she was actually a member of the staff.

The Reverend ARMSTRONG could not recall ever having seen a typewriter at the HISS home on the occasions of his one or two visits.

MISCELLANEOUS

AT NEW HOPE, PENNSYLVANIA

By teletype dated January 18, 1949, the New York Office advised that in the pre-trial deposition of CHAMBERS, it was stated that in August 1935 he had moved to a cottage on the Delaware River on the Pennsylvania side near Frenchtown, New Jersey, which cottage had been rented by one MAXIM LIEBER, a literary agent of New York. This teletype indicated that CHAMBERS spent about two months at the cottage and that PRISCILLA HISS spent about ten days there, and that ALGER HISS made at least one visit during the two month period. It was indicated that LIEBER had rented the cottage from a Mr. BOUCOT, of Frenchtown, New Jersey, who had also had a cottage next to the one rented by LIEBER.

The pre-trial deposition further indicated that CHAMBERS believed that BOUCOT had a sister, a Mrs. BROWN, who had visited CHAMBERS and had met Mrs. HISS.

It further indicated that in the fall of 1936, CHAMBERS had moved to New Hope, Pennsylvania on the Delaware River and that ALGER and PRISCILLA HISS had been looking for a summer home and had found a small stone house at New Hope; that they went to a real estate dealer at New Hope, a Mr. WOOD, and inquired of him concerning the house. In the deposition, CHAMBERS recalled that he went to look at the house with either WOOD or HISS or both and that he, CHAMBERS, had rented the house under the name of DAVID BREEN. CHAMBERS indicated that one TOM MARSHALL, an apple grower who had a farm one and one-half miles south of New Hope, was the landlord. According to the deposition,

CHAMBERS lived in this stone house until early 1937 and he was visited there by LIEBER.

THOMAS MARSHALL, who owns and operates a large apple farm approximately three and one-half miles south of New Hope, Pennsylvania, furnished the following information.

On the MARSHALL farm, approximately one hundred yards from the main house, there is situated a stone tenant house which MARSHALL rented up until approximately three years ago. An examination of MARSHALL's checkbooks, in which he makes detailed entries regarding incoming monies for tax purposes, there appeared a notation on June 15, 1936 that the tenant house was rented to one DAVID BREEN through a New Hope real estate agent, WATSON ROBERTS. Monthly entries followed this June entry indicating payment of rent, some months showing the name BREEN and others just showing the rental payment. An entry in May of 1937 reflects that the same tenant house was rented to one H. W. YERKES. Mr. MARSHALL recalled that the tenant house was idle for approximately a month and believes that BREEN left that vicinity in approximately April of 1937.

With respect to the data concerning the rental of the tenant house, Mr. MARSHALL stated that he had never heard of a real estate agent in the vicinity of New Hope by the name of WOOD and that his tenant house was definitely rented to BREEN through WATSON ROBERTS, who is presently residing in the upper part of Lambertville, New Jersey, with a married daughter whose name is EVERETT. According to MARSHALL, it is possible that ROBERTS may have had a person working with him by the name of WOOD but inasmuch as ROBERTS was a very small operator, he believes that ROBERTS probably handled all of the details leading up to the rental personally.

Neither Mr. MARSHALL nor his wife knew of any information whatever concerning any of BREEN's visitors but stated that he occasionally had company while living at the stone tenant house. The BREENS had a small daughter by the name of URSULA, approximately twelve to eighteen months old, when they first moved in and during the fall of 1936 Mrs. BREEN gave birth to another baby at the Doylestown Hospital, Doylestown, Pennsylvania. The BREENS were described as quiet, the type of people who attended to their own business and they did not associate with anyone in the area.

Mr. MARSHALL identified the 1934 photograph of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as being identical with DAVID BREEN. He advised further that during November and December of 1948, he was visited by a person of Jewish extraction and small stature who said he was a New York lawyer representing WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. He was also interrogated by two other individuals who represented themselves as detectives from Nassau County, New York. However, he did not furnish any of these three individuals with any exact data such as rental dates concerning the tenant house, which evidence is available should same be desired.

Mrs. MARY MARSHALL, wife of THOMAS MARSHALL, advised that the only source of information known to her regarding the activities at the BREEN home during the period from June 1936 to April 1937 was a local girl by the name of MAUDE COLTON who was employed by the BREENS as a housekeeper.

MAUDE SAMSEL, New Hope, Pennsylvania, advised that she was the aunt of MAUDE COLTON, and that MAUDE COLTON was now Mrs. MAUDE SWANSON, 6225 Norwood Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. She also advised that another aunt of MAUDE COLTON, one LYDIA JONES, was now Mrs. GEORGE CRESSLER, and that she resided in a small town named Pruitt near Harrison, Arkansas.

Mrs. MAUDE SWANSON, 6225 Norwood Street, Philadelphia, advised that her aunt, LYDIA JONES, had worked for the BREENS as a housekeeper and that when she left, she was instrumental in obtaining a job for her at the BREENS. Mrs. SWANSON was approximately eighteen years of age at the time she was employed by the BREENS and she worked as a housekeeper from the fall of 1936, when the BREENS' second baby was approximately two months old, until they left in the spring of 1937. She stated that DAVID BREEN was away most of the time and that he came home only weekends and on an occasional trip. She recalled that he travelled in a car but could not furnish any information regarding the identity of the car. To the best of her recollection, BREEN worked in New York or some large city. She could not furnish any other information of value concerning the BREENS or any visitors or company that they had.

It was observed at the time of interview that Mrs. SWANSON possesses a rather low mentality.

Investigation in the vicinity across the Delaware River from Frenchtown, New Jersey disclosed that JOSEPH R. BOUCOT has not resided in that area for a number of years and that he could probably be located at 143 W. Coulter Street, Philadelphia, at which place he presently lives.

Mr. BOUCOT advised that he recalled renting a cottage in a little settlement known as Smithtown, Pennsylvania to MAXIM LIEBER and DAVID BREEN, who were supposed to be literary agents from New York City. He was unable to establish a definite date that the cottage was rented to LIEBER and BREEN inasmuch as all of the records had been destroyed and the property at that time was owned by an uncle. The only thing that he could recall was that the rental covered a period of about two months during July and August. He could furnish no information whatever regarding activities which might have taken place at the cottage inasmuch as he himself resided at a hotel in Frenchtown, New Jersey. In this connection, he pointed out that his uncle's estate also included a cottage next to that rented to LIEBER and BREEN, which cottage at the time was occupied by his sister, Mrs. NORMA B. BROWN, and her son, PAUL, who was approximately thirteen or fourteen years of age at the time. It was his opinion that his sister and nephew would probably know something of the occupants of the other cottage.

Mrs. NORMA B. BROWN presently resides at 619 Orange Street, Hot Springs, Arkansas, and her son, PAUL BROWN, resides at 734 Park Avenue, Hot Springs, Arkansas, where he is currently singing with the MEYER DAVIS Orchestra at the Arlington Hotel.

Mr. BOUCOT was unable to identify any pictures of WHITTAKER CHAMBERS but stated that the pictures resembled BREEN. Mr. BOUCOT was visited by a small Jewish lawyer from New York City who was supposed to be representing CHAMBERS and whose name as near as he could recall was BONDY (ph). BOUCOT was also contacted on December 3, 1948 by HORACE W. SCHMAHL, who was representing ALGER HISS.

AT SWARTHMORE, PENNSYLVANIA

Bureau letter dated January 6, 1949 reflected that information had been received from D. VINCENT HURLEY, who in turn had received information from Mrs. FRANCES FUSSELL, to the effect that early in the week of December 12, 1948, she had had a conversation with a man presently employed in the CE Unit in the State Department and with whom she had formerly worked; that in 1947 she and this man, together with several others, were working on the problem of the Yugoslav ships which had been seized by the United States at the end of the war in the Danube River and which were being withheld from Yugoslavia; that the State Department had adopted the position that the ships should not be returned until Russia and her satellites had agreed to the opening of the Danube to international commercial shipping, and that she and the others working on the problem were dumbfounded when in October or November of 1947 an order was issued by President TRUMAN that the ships be returned to Yugoslavia forthwith. The Philadelphia Office was instructed to promptly interview Mrs. FUSSELL for any additional data she may have had concerning this incident and for any relative data pertinent to the instant case.

Mrs. FRANCES FUSSELL, 451 Riverview Road, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania, stated that she was employed by the State Department in 1945 and that she continues as a part-time consultant at the present time. Mrs. FUSSELL said that while working as a subordinate under ALGER HISS, she had never come in personal contact with HISS, but that she felt the policies adopted by HISS during her employment tended to favor Russia rather than the United States, and that this was a prevalent feeling among all employees under HISS' direction. Mrs. FUSSELLS stated, however, that she could give no specific points, but that she felt that a review of the correspondence handled by HISS would definitely show this trend.

Specific inquiry was made of Mrs. FUSSELLS concerning the return of Yugoslavian vessels as outlined in the referenced letter and she revealed that she had obtained the information set forth in this letter from one MAXWELL HARWAY in the presence of JACK TUTHILL, both of whom are still in the employ of the State Department in the Inland Transportation Division. She stated that this conversation occurred approximately six weeks before the date of the interview set forth herein, which was January 11, 1949. She also added that she was of the opinion that MAXWELL HARWAY is aware of the location of correspondence containing a notation by HISS that he was unalterably opposed to the State Department position relative to the retention of Yugoslav ships and would do all in his power to see that it was changed.

AT EASTON, PENNSYLVANIA

By teletype dated December 30, 1948, the Washington Field Office indicated that WILLIAM ROSEN should be interviewed at Easton, Pennsylvania relative to any association he may have had with either CHAMBERS or HISS. It was further indicated that ROSEN had refused to answer questions before the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Investigation at Easton, Pennsylvania reflected that WILLIAM ROSEN was presently in California visiting another son. This information was furnished to the Los Angeles Office in order that the appropriate interview might be conducted.

By teletype dated January 4, 1949, the Bureau instructed that EUGENE ROSEN, son of WILLIAM ROSEN, be interviewed at Easton, Pennsylvania regarding any knowledge he may have of the activities or association of his father with HISS.

On January 7, 1949, EUGENE ROSEN was interviewed at his home, 138 S. 10th Street, Easton, Pennsylvania by Special Agent JAMES R. MORRISON and the writer.

ROSEN answered all questions readily and did not exhibit an antagonistic attitude at any time. He claimed that he personally does not know either ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS other than from reports appearing in the public press.

ROSEN stated that he knew nothing of any Woodstock typewriter having been in his father's home at any time. He said he was aware his father did have a typewriter at one time but he knew it was not a Woodstock. He said he could not recall, however, what type it was. He further stated that he knew nothing of his father's business contacts with either ALGER HISS or WHITTAKER CHAMBERS. ROSEN added that his father had never had in his possession, to his knowledge, a Ford automobile.

ROSEN continued that after newspaper publicity concerning his father's refusal to testify before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, he had asked his father what it was all about and that at that time both his father and mother had denied knowing what it was about. He said that his parents had told him directly that they knew nothing whatsoever about the matter and that his father swore to him that he knew nothing about the people involved. He further stated that his father had told him pointblank that he was not a member of the Communist Party. EUGENE ROSEN likewise stated that neither he nor his wife are members of the Communist Party.

He continued that he had been in Washington at his father's residence after the publicity had appeared in the press concerning testimony before the HCUA and that people had come into his father's store and had threatened to break windows, and that his business fell off to the extent that he was forced to sell the business.

ROSEN stated that his mother and father came to Easton, Pennsylvania from Washington on October 23, 1948 and had remained there in his home until November 3, 1948, when he drove his parents to the home of another brother, CYRIL ROSEN, 460 Grand Boulevard, Long Beach, Long Island. On November 10th, he had driven his parents back to Easton from Long Beach, and on November 11th, his parents had left Easton for California to visit a third brother, MILTON, at 2120C 17th Street, Santa Monica, California. He said that his father was hoping to buy a small business in California or to get employment there, and failing to do this, expects to return to Washington, D.C. in February 1949.

EUGENE ROSEN had in his possession at his residence in Easton a typewriter which was determined to be a standard model Underwood, Serial 1962416-5, which he claims had been purchased by one of his brothers as a used typewriter.

He stated that he had never owned or had in his possession a Woodstock typewriter and that he had never owned or had in his possession a Ford automobile.

ROSEN was questioned as to why his father had refused to testify before the HCUA and stated that he could give absolutely no reason for his father's declination in this respect.

ROSEN further added that he still receives mail at his residence in Easton for his father and that he forwards this mail to the above mentioned address of his brother in Santa Monica, California.

Philadelphia Confidential Informant T-2 was contacted for any information he might have in his possession concerning EUGENE ROSEN. He stated that he does not know of any Communist Party member in the Lehigh Valley area by that name.

AT PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA

Contact with HARRY MARTIN, former partner of THOMAS L. FANSLER, on January 11, 1949, revealed that MARTIN had contacted telephonically over the previous weekend one W. GIBBS MC KENNY, an attorney in the Munsey Building in Baltimore, Maryland, Telephone Lexington 2595; that the nature of this contact was one of personal business, but that during the conversation with MC KENNY, the latter had stated that he had five acquaintances in Baltimore, all of whom were former classmates of ALGER HISS at Johns Hopkins University and all of whom had indicated to him recently that they were of the opinion that HISS had a "red tinge" even while he was at Johns Hopkins. MARTIN advised that there was a point in the conversation which he did not clearly understand, but which indicated that there was material to support this contention in the yearbook at Johns Hopkins University.

In an attempt to determine whether or not any records were still in existence concerning the Bullitt Building, in which the FANSLER-MARTIN partnership had space before the building was destroyed, the following investigation was conducted.

Mr. JAMES MC MULLAN, 117 S. 17th Street, advised that he and his brother, WILLIAM, were joint superintendents of the Bullitt Building until it was torn down and that when the building was so destroyed, he personally had destroyed all the records of the management with the exception of cash books and that there would, therefore, be no typewritten material in existence from any of the former tenants of the Bullitt Building.

ADMINISTRATIVE DETAILS

By teletype dated January 14, 1949, the Bureau instructed that the limitation of serial numbers to be considered for the obtaining of specimens from Woodstock typewriters should lie between 145,000 and 204,500. As a result of these instructions, a review was made of the Philadelphia file in this case to determine if any information was available concerning typewriters from which specimens should have been obtained previously. Information concerning one such typewriter was located and specimens were obtained and submitted to the Laboratory, as set forth in this report (N 183374).

One copy of this report has been designated for the Chicago Office since that office will probably receive instructions to interview GEORGE and ETHEL BLACKWELL.

No leads are being set out for the New York, Newark and Washington Field Offices to interview the associates of ALGER HISS mentioned by L. M. C. SMITH as set forth in Philadelphia teletype of January 17, 1949. The advisability of interviewing these associates of HISS is being left to the discretion of the office of origin.

DETAILS: AT WASHINGTON, D.C.

JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS was interviewed at the Washington Field Office on February 1 and 2, 1949, and the following information was furnished by him to Special Agent JOHN J. WALSH.

CHAMBERS was questioned concerning musical instruments in the HISS home as information has been received that PRISCILLA played the piano and ALGER the flute. He recalled a piano and stated that he recalled it in the house on 30th Street, that they may have possessed it previously, but that he did not definitely recall it. He stated that it may have been in storage. He recalled that PRISCILLA HISS was interested in music, particularly the music of Mozart, but he did not definitely recall her playing this piano. He did not recall ALGER HISS' playing any musical instrument or TIMOTHY HOBSON's playing any instrument or taking music lessons.

He was questioned concerning the social activities of the HISSES, particularly concerning whether they attended dances, as information exists in the files that the HISSES belonged to a square-dancing group. CHAMBERS said that prior to the time ALGER HISS was employed by the State Department the HISS family had very limited social activity but that on his employment by State they began to widen their social activities, bring in more friends and attend more social functions. He recalled a conversation with PRISCILLA in which she discussed the difficulty she was having in learning the proper etiquette of dropping calling cards. He recalled nothing concerning any dancing groups they might have belonged to. He did recall that when he was living in Baltimore on St. Paul Street, ALGER HISS visited him there one evening and told him at the time that he was going to the Preakness Ball. He recalled that he asked HISS why he did not have on his pink riding habit for this occasion in a joking manner.

CHAMBERS was asked concerning his knowledge of ROBERTA FANSLER, the sister-in-law of PRISCILLA HISS, who was married to THOMAS FANSLER. He recalled that PRISCILLA HISS spoke of ROBERTA frequently and that they seemed to be very close friends. His recollection was that ROBERTA worked for a museum in New York and that she was writing a book. He knew nothing concerning her husband or concerning any differences that might have led to the divorce between them. As far as he knew, they never lived in Washington and he did not recall ever meeting ROBERTA FANSLER. He was questioned concerning the book which PRISCILLA and ROBERTA wrote in collaboration and stated that he recalled PRISCILLA had been engaged in writing a thesis of some kind but that he did not recall whether ROBERTA and she worked together on this.

At this time CHAMBERS mentioned the fact that it had just come to his recollection that ALGER & PRISCILLA met while attending the Rand School, a Socialist school in New York City. A teletype was sent to New York reflecting this information on February 3, 1949.

CHAMBERS was asked concerning the places where PRISCILLA had been employed. He recalled only that she had worked for Time Magazine. He knew nothing concerning any teaching which she might have done, any connection with Howard University in Washington, D.C., or anything concerning proof-reading or editing work for publishing companies except to say that this might have been in connection with her sister-in-law.

During the questioning concerning PRISCILLA's employment, CHAMBERS recalled on February 1, 1949, that PRISCILLA HISS was a very restless person and wanted an outlet for her activities, particularly for the Party after they had gone underground and she was not to take part in any Party activities openly. He recalled that she went to a hospital on Calvert Street in Baltimore to volunteer her services as a nurse. He said that he learned this in a discussion with the HISSES held at their home in Washington, D.C., which at that time was on 30th Street, as he recalled. He recalled that PRISCILLA did work for a short time but lost interest in it and ceased her activities. On February 2, CHAMBERS advised that he had discussed this matter with Mrs. CHAMBERS on the night of February 1 and that it was her recollection that PRISCILLA HISS came over to Baltimore and had lunch with Mrs. CHAMBERS in the dining room of the Hutzlers Department Store in Baltimore on the day that she first went to the above-mentioned hospital. Mrs. CHAMBERS recalled that she went to the hospital three or four times and then did not return. CHAMBERS was also asked concerning schools which PRISCILLA might have attended, in particular reference to the fact that she was taking a chemistry course at the University of Maryland. He had no independent recollection concerning this matter, but stated that Mrs. CHAMBERS recalled that PRISCILLA HISS was taking a chemistry course at about the time she had the contact with the hospital mentioned above. CHAMBERS could furnish no information as to the reason why PRISCILLA HISS, who was living in Washington, would come over to Baltimore to volunteer her services to a hospital there.

CHAMBERS was asked if he recalled any organizations or clubs which PRISCILLA HISS might have belonged to and he did not. He recalled nothing concerning the Bryn Mawr Club, PRISCILLA being president of this club, or a benefit performance starring KATHERINE HEPBURN sponsored in Washington by the Bryn Mawr Club while PRISCILLA was president.

CHAMBERS was questioned concerning his meeting PLUM FOUNTAIN, which information has been previously set out in a letter from the New York Office. CHAMBERS recalled that the incident occurred at a restaurant in Georgetown not far from the HISS home on P Street; that he was dining with the HISSES and that PLUM FOUNTAIN approached their table and was introduced to him. He recalls that she was alone, recalls no information as to whether or not she was married, and is not certain whether or not any name for him was given to her. He recalls that they engaged in conversation for a few minutes, that he gained the impression that she was in the real estate business. CHAMBERS is uncertain as to whether he could identify this woman if he was confronted with her.

CHAMBERS was questioned concerning the typing of the documents by PRISCILLA HISS. He stated that concerning the typewriter itself, he was unable to recall ever seeing a typewriter in the HISS home nor could he recall ever actually seeing PRISCILLA type the documents herself. Concerning the typing he stated the following:

The typing of the documents was done at the suggestion of BORIS BYKOV, his superior in the Soviet intelligence apparatus. It had previously been their arrangement that ALGER HISS would, on what he termed a "transmission" date, which occurred every week or ten days, bring home documents which were available to him that day in his office and these documents would be photographed. BYKOV's suggestion was that information which would afford more complete coverage could be obtained by typing and summarizing, where possible, documents which passed through HISS' office on the other days between the transmission dates, and that this information plus the documents which were available in his office on the transmission date be furnished to CHAMBERS to be photographed. After the documents were photographed, the original documents taken by HISS from his office were then returned and the typed summaries were destroyed personally by CHAMBERS by burning. He recalls concerning the typing that shortly after the incident where PRISCILLA HISS volunteered her services to the hospital in Baltimore, it was decided in a conversation between the HISSES and himself that PRISCILLA would do the typing of the documents taken by HISS from his office between the transmission dates to give her something to do.

CHAMBERS was questioned concerning TIMOTHY HOBSON, the stepson of ALGER HISS. He stated that HOBSON was the one person who could definitely and positively identify him as being a regular visitor to the HISS home after January 1, 1937. CHAMBERS stated further that he has felt that if properly approached or under the proper circumstances, HOBSON might so identify him. He stated that HOBSON, who was a child at the time of his visits to this home, was a rather pathetic little boy. He and his mother were quite devoted but she was greatly worried about him because of his lack of masculinity. He recalled that the relationship between HOBSON and ALGER HISS, although correct, was very cold. CHAMBERS recalled an incident which he believed happened in the winter of 1937 to the effect that TIMOTHY HOBSON had developed an acquaintanceship with an artist or a writer who lived on Wisconsin Avenue and had a studio there and began the practice of dropping in and visiting him there. ALGER HISS became concerned about this relationship between this older man and TIMOTHY and made a trip to the person involved and had these visits by HOBSON stopped. As far as CHAMBERS recalled, nothing actually had happened but ALGER felt the situation was one that should be discontinued. He had no recollection of the name of the individual involved.

CHAMBERS recalled that HOBSON was around the house on almost all of his visits and that he was always very friendly towards CHAMBERS. CHAMBERS also recalled that he testified before the HCUA concerning a conversation held between him and the HISSES in which the HISSES told him they were going to take HOBSON out of the school where he was attending and send him to a cheaper school so that part of the money which was being sent to the HISSES by FRANCIS HOBSON, his father, could be devoted to Party work. CHAMBERS said that the investigation which he caused to be made in the summer of 1948 in connection with the suit by HISS did not bear out this testimony and that apparently the HISSES had taken the child out of one school and sent him to one more expensive. CHAMBERS recalls nothing else concerning the schools that HOBSON attended except that he believes in 1937 HOBSON went out for the wrestling squad at the school he was then attending and that this was the first indication of any interest in athletics on his part.

He was questioned concerning the accident in which TIMOTHY HOBSON was involved and stated that he had no recollection of this until he was specifically asked concerning it and that his recollection being thus refreshed, he remembers TIMOTHY's riding on a bicycle at the time of the accident and that he had to use crutches for some time thereafter. Further details he can not recall. He was also asked concerning TIMOTHY HOBSON's singing in the church choir and said he can recall nothing concerning this.

CHAMBERS was asked concerning his testimony before the HCUA to the effect that ALGER HISS was forbidden to go to church. CHAMBERS stated concerning this incident that there was a very strict rule for all Communist Party members against attending any churches and that this rule applied particularly to those who were in the higher levels of the Party. It called for a very special dispensation for a Party member to be allowed to attend church services. Concerning conversation had with the HISSES in regard to this particular matter, CHAMBERS stated that he did not recall any specific incident along this line except that on one occasion ALGER HISS mentioned to him the possibility of his attending a church as a front. CHAMBERS related the policy of the Party as outlined above and he recalled no further conversation concerning the matter and does not recall whether ALGER HISS ever did attend church. He recalls further that on one occasion PRISCILLA HISS mentioned meetings of the Friends Church which she had attended in her youth and she seemed to recall these meetings with some nostalgia, but he can recall no further conversation concerning this incident.

Mrs. SILVER TESONE, nee PLUM FOUNTAIN

Mrs. SILVER TESONE, 2829 O Street, NW, formerly Miss PLUM FOUNTAIN, was interviewed on February 7, 1949, by Special Agents THOMAS J. BARRY and JOHN J. WALSH concerning the statement made by CHAMBERS that sometime during the period he was associated with ALGER HISS he met PLUM FOUNTAIN in a restaurant with the HISSES. Mrs. TESONE stated that she attended Bryn Mawr College with PRISCILLA HISS and sat next to her in classes there. Mrs. TESONE came to Washington, D.C., at the end of 1934 or beginning of 1935. She recalls that her first recollection of ALGER & PRISCILLA HISS in Washington, D.C., was that they were living in a house on P Street near her present residence. (This apparently refers to the address 2905 P Street.) Mrs. TESONE said that on her arrival in Washington, D.C., she first lived with Mr. and Mrs. MICHAEL STRAUS in their home on Roland Place and then she lived with a Miss COTTON and later obtained an apartment by herself. Miss TESONE stated that she is an architect, that she came to Washington to work for the government, and that she has worked for the Public Housing Administration, the Federal Works Agency under CLARK FOREMAN, and the Federal Housing Agency.

Mrs. TESONE said that she did not recall the HISSES' residing at the address 2831 28th Street, NW, and that she was surprised to learn that they had lived at this address. She stated that she has been in all the other houses in which the HISSES have lived in Washington, D.C. The only maid she recalled who worked for the HISSES was CLAUDIA CATLETT. Mrs. TESONE recalled CLAUDIA CATLETT because she later employed CATLETT herself. Mrs. TESONE had never heard of DRUSCILLE EPPS or JULIA RANKIN. She was likewise unfamiliar with the name of Lt. Commander BAXTER BRUCE and was unable to advise whether or not he had ever been a friend of the HISS family.

Mrs. TESONE was asked concerning musical instruments played by the HISS family and stated she could not recall whether or not PRISCILLA played the piano but she did recall that either ALGER or PRISCILLA played the recorder, which is an antique type of flute which enjoyed a vogue in the middle 1930's.

Mrs. TESONE was also asked whether PRISCILLA HISS had indicated any interest in chemistry and she said she had a recollection that back in the middle 1930's PRISCILLA HISS had developed a desire to study medicine. Although she had a Master's Degree from Columbia University, she did not have sufficient premedical work and it is Mrs. TESONE's recollection that PRISCILLA HISS went to Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore to take classes possibly in chemistry as a foundation for medical studies. PRISCILLA HISS lost interest in this and ceased these studies.

Mrs. TESONE was shown the pictures of Mr. and Mrs. WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and asked if she had ever seen these individuals. She was familiar with the photograph of Mr. CHAMBERS, having seen it in the newspapers, and stated definitely and positively that she had never seen either of them previously. She was then advised that information had been received from CHAMBERS that he had met an individual named PLUM FOUNTAIN during the 1930's. She stated this was untrue and that she was positive she never had met him.

It was explained to Mrs. TESONE that no accusation was being made against her and that the purpose of the inquiry was merely to ascertain if it could be established that the story related by CHAMBERS concerning their meeting was correct. Mrs. TESONE demanded to know what name CHAMBERS had used and what his real name is, stating that he had used so many names it might have been possible that she met him casually some place under another name without realizing it. She was advised that his true name was CHAMBERS, that according to his statement he had used the name of CARL and that according to Mr. HISS he had used the name GEORGE CROSLEY. Mrs. TESONE's recollection, however, was not refreshed by these names. She went on to express her opinion that nothing CHAMBERS said could be believed in any event, that she had observed nothing in the newspapers to indicate that he was not presently a member of the Communist Party, that he could well be acting under the instructions of the Communist Party at the present time, that he had probably spent a number of years in obtaining information to build up this case and had undoubtedly obtained her name from some source to use it for his own purpose.

It might be noted that Mrs. TESONE is and has been for a number of years an intimate friend of PRISCILLA HISS and expressed her utter conviction that the charges against ALGER HISS are complete fabrications. She was asked if she had any objections to meeting CHAMBERS in person inasmuch as it was not always possible to effect an identification from photographs alone and in addition it would allow CHAMBERS to relate fully the circumstances he recalled of their alleged meeting. She stated that she had no desire to meet CHAMBERS, that she would certainly not discuss the matter with him unless her attorney was present, and unless she was furnished a transcript of the conversation.

She was asked if she had discussed the case with the HISSES since the matter was made public and she indicated that she had been in the company of the HISSES very recently, that she had formed the opinion that CHAMBERS was a liar from the newspaper accounts of the case, but she evaded a direct answer to the question as to whether or not she had discussed the case with the HISSES.

It is known that in the fall of 1948 the HISSES stayed at the home of Mrs. WALTER LOCHHEIM, 2828 O Street, NW, and Mrs. LOCHHEIM advised that the HISSES had visited the TESONES while in Washington at this time in connection with Mr. HISS' suit against WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

Mrs. TESONE later contacted the Washington Field Office and advised she had no objection to meeting CHAMBERS provided she could have an attorney present at the meeting.

LANDON SCHOOL

The file of TIMOTHY HOBSON at the Landon School, Bethesda, Md., was made available by Mr. PAUL L. BANFIELD, headmaster.

The record showed that TIMOTHY HOBSON, stepson of ALGER HISS, entered the school in September 1936 in the 7th grade and attended through June 1940, completing the 8th grade. The file contains a letter, dated March 21, 1940, from the George School, Philadelphia, Pa., indicating that ALGER HISS had made application for HOBSON's entry in that school.

The application at the Landon School shows HOBSON attended Friends School, Washington, D.C., 1935-36. Mr. BANFIELD has a recollection of HOBSON's previously attending the Cobb School but no record of this is found in the file. The references given by HISS were STANLEY REED, at that time Solicitor General, and the Riggs National Bank. The file contains a report in 1939 which refers to Timothy Hobson's desire to wear a Boy Scout uniform in class.

Reference is made to the information received from CHALBERS that TIMOTHY HOBSON had gone out for wrestling while he was associated with the HISS family. The file contains a report, dated February 1939, made by DICK MAPHEWER, at that time in charge of physical education at the Landon School and presently assistant superintendent of public schools in Montgomery County, Md., which is quoted in part as follows: "Some might criticize his active conduct in class but I attribute it to his fine physical condition and his desire to be on the go all the time and I get a real kick out of having TIM in my wrestling class in the afternoon."

Nothing was contained in the file concerning the church affiliations, membership in a church choir or the accident of TIMOTHY HOBSON.

BANFIELD stated in reply to a question directed concerning the relative cost of the Cobb School, the Friends School, and the Landon School that the Landon School is the most expensive and the Friends School is more expensive than the Cobb School.

BANFIELD also said he had a vague recollection that PRISCILLA HISS had taught at one time at the Little Red School House in New York City. He also recalled that she taught at the Potomac School in Washington, D.C.

CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE
700 Jackson Place, NW
Washington, D. C.

The records of this organization were searched by Special Agents CARL N. DE TEMPLE and JOHN J. WALSH.

The filing system includes an abstract file which furnishes the names mentioned in correspondence. All correspondence had between ALGER HISS and the Carnegie Endowment prior to the time he became associated with it was checked. In addition a file drawer which contained copies of correspondence dictated by HISS and original letters received by him during the time he was located at the Washington office of the Carnegie Endowment were checked by these agents. Nothing pertinent to this investigation was found therein.

It will be noted that HISS used office space in Washington, D.C., from approximately February through July 1947, following which time he moved to New York City.

The above files were made available by Mr. GEORGE FINCH, secretary of the Carnegie Endowment. Mr. FINCH is also the secretary of the American Society for International Law. His records showed that ALGER HISS has been a member of this society from December 1, 1939, and DONALD HISS has been a member since November 27, 1939. They were proposed by Mr. WILLIAM A. VALLANCE. Mr. FINCH checked his files and was unable to find any correspondence from the HISSES except a handwritten note of acknowledgment of his election to membership by ALGER HISS.

Miss ALLA ROGERS, secretary, Carnegie Endowment, who acted as secretary for ALGER HISS during the time he was in Washington, D.C., recalled that Mr. HISS brought over personal papers from the State Department at the time he entered the employ of the Carnegie Endowment. The papers amounted to less than what it would take to fill one file cabinet. He also brought over a number of books. She recalled that in the fall of 1947 when he moved to New York City the papers remained in Washington, D.C. In the fall of 1948 after the publicity due to charges made against him Mr. HISS came down from New York City and reviewed the material in her presence, informing her that it was in connection with attempting to establish dates. She had occasion to observe a limited part of the material and saw that it contained documents of Mr. HISS going back to the time when he was employed by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. The majority of the material she did not see. She stated that the material she did see all appeared to be personal letters of Mr. HISS and that she observed no documents of a confidential nature which should not have been retained by him. She recalled that after Mr. HISS' return to New York a communication was received from the New York office of the Carnegie Endowment directing that the material be shipped to New York, which was done.

Miss ROGERS was unable to furnish any information concerning any documents which might have been typed in the HISS home itself.

Mr. WILLIAM ROY VALLANCE, an assistant to the legal advisor in the Department of State, advised Special Agents JOHN H. KENOYER and EDWARD E. LINEHAN that his only association with ALGER HISS had been at social functions and that he has never worked directly with him. He stated that he first met Mr. HISS at a fraternal function, probably in 1941, and has known him casually since that time.

Mr. VALLANCE advised that he had recommended Mr. HISS on several occasions believing him to be an honest, sincere, and loyal American who showed signs of a good future as a lawyer.

He further stated that he was not acquainted with the associates of ALGER HISS and not having visited him at his home, has never met Mrs. HISS.

Upon being shown two pictures of Mr. CHAMBERS taken in 1931 and 1936, Mr. VALLANCE advised he had never met WHITTAKER CHAMBERS under that name or any other name.

Mr. VALLANCE made available three typewritten letters dated January 10, 1949, May 21, 1948 and May 16, 1947, which were received from ALGER HISS. These letters were submitted to the FBI Laboratory and on January 27, 1949, the Laboratory reported that the typing on these letters was not identical with that on the questioned documents.

MISCELLANEOUS INVESTIGATION TO LOCATE SPECIMENS OF CORRESPONDENCE

A. Contributions listed in income tax returns:

The Bureau has advised that a review of the income tax returns made by ALGER HISS and PRISCILLA HISS indicated that they had contributed to certain charitable organizations.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent JOHN H. KENOYER.

Mrs. FREDERICK BROOKE, 3021 N Street, NW, advised that she was formerly associated with the organization known as United China Relief and that in 1946 this organization moved to 1790 Broadway, New York City, under the name of United Service to China.

Miss STELLA PLANTS, supervisor of the Department for the Blind, which is a department of the Family Service Association, 1022 11th Street, NW, advised that the office of the American Foundation for Overseas Blind, Inc., is at 598 Madison Avenue, New York City. She advised that this organization has conducted drives in Washington, D.C., for the purpose of obtaining funds.

Mrs. RUTH E. WILLIS, secretary, Council of Social Agencies, 1101 M Street, NW, advised that this organization has also conducted drives in Washington, D.C., for the purpose of obtaining contributions but that their office is at #1 Madison Avenue, New York City. Mrs. WILLIS stated there is no office maintained in Washington, D.C., by this organization.

The Bureau advised that ALGER HISS has made contributions to the above named organizations as follows: 1942, $5 to the Save the Children Federation; 1946 and 1947, $5 to the American Foundation for Overseas Blind; and 1942, $5 to United China Relief.

A teletype was sent to New York on January 11, 1949, requesting that office to contact these organizations regarding typewritten specimens.

Miss KATHERINE GARLAND, who is presently employed as a secretary by the U.S. Tariff Commission, 7th & E Streets, NW, advised that she was formerly secretary to Mr. A. M. FOX of the A.M. Fox Scholarship Fund. She stated that Mr. FOX is now deceased but that the fund's records and correspondence are presently in her own custody. Miss GARLAND conducted a search of all correspondence which pertained to the A.M. Fox Scholarship Fund but advised that there was no correspondence of any type received from ALGER HISS. She did verify from an index card that ALGER HISS had contributed $20 to the fund on April 26, 1943.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent DONALD D. CONNORS.

In connection with the lead to check the D.C. Society for Crippled Children to which ALGER HISS is alleged to have contributed between 1938 and 1945, it is noted that the records of this organization, which is located at 1767 Massachusetts Avenue, NW, reflect that ALGER HISS in 1942 did contribute $2 to this fund. HISS' address at that time was 3210 P Street, NW.

It is noted that DONALD HISS made the following contributions: 1943, $1; 1944, $1; 1946, $2.

The chairman of this organization, Miss JEWELL C. GAFFNEY, stated that these contributions came as a result of the HISSES selling seals for the crippled children's fund. These seals resembled the conventional anti-tuberculosis Christmas seals. Miss GAFFNEY advised that seal sellers are picked at random from the telephone book and that they are mailed a dollar's worth or two or three of seals and asked to sell them. Mailed with the seals is a self-addressed envelope for the return of the money or the seals. Consequently, there is no correspondence in connection with the seal sales.

A search of the general correspondence file and the correspondence surrounding the seal sales of all years from 1941 to 1947 reflected no communications from either ALGER or DONALD HISS or their respective wives.

In connection with the United Negro College Fund, the records of which are maintained at Howard University, Mr. WILLIAM W. BLOCKER, custodian of the fund, advised that this fund was started in 1940 and that until the preceding year the chairman of the fund varied from year to year and the chairman maintained office space wherever it was most convenient for him. For example, BLOCKER advised that a prominent Negro banker had been chairman and the fund offices had been at the banker's place of business. The records have been transmitted from chairman to chairman in a somewhat disorderly fashion. Consequently, those records which BLOCKER now has are incomplete and in a state of disarray. BLOCKER does not have correspondence files except for 1948. The master sheet of contributors, however, indicates that ALGER HISS in 1946 contributed $5 to this fund and DONALD HISS in 1948 contributed $10 to the fund. There is no correspondence in connection with either of these donations.

BLOCKER advised that the national business headquarters for this fund are maintained at 38 East 57th Street, New York City, and W. J. TRENT, JR., is the executive director and PAUL FRANKLIN is the director of the 1948 campaign.

BLOCKER, who was extremely cooperative, advised that he is virtually certain that the New York headquarters contain no records in connection with Washington contributors.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent WILLIAM J. TRACY.

Mrs. MARGARET LEWIS, American Red Cross, 17th & D Streets, NW, advised that a search of her records regarding donations failed to reflect the name of either ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS. No correspondence was received by the Red Cross from HISS.

B. Boy Scouts:

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent CARL N. DE TEMPLE.

GEORGE W. REYNOLDS, age 22, who resides in a rooming house at 1719 19th Street, NW, and is a student at George Washington University, appeared in the Washington Field Office on January 31, 1949, at which time he advised that he is the son of EUSTACE & ELIZABETH W. REYNOLDS. He explained that his father is now deceased and that his mother is teaching school in England. REYNOLDS remarked that until recently his mother had been teaching school at the Potomac School on California Street, NW, where PRISCILLA HISS recently taught. He added that his parents were on very friendly terms with the HISS family.

REYNOLDS stated that to the best of his knowledge he first became acquainted with TIMOTHY HOBSON, stepson of ALGER HISS in approximately 1939 when they were both attending the Rigs O'Marlow School in Chestertown, Maryland, under the directorship of J. KELLOGSMITH.

REYNOLDS said that he and his family formerly resided at 3020 Q Street, NW, and that the address of his mother when in this country is 2230 California Street, NW. He said that he has been in the former residences of ALGER HISS at 3415 Volta Place, NW, and 3210 P Street, NW. He cannot recall, however, the furnishings or the physical layout of either home with any degree of accuracy. REYNOLDS did definitely state that he has no recollection of ever observing a typewriter in either of these residences.

REYNOLDS declared that he has never corresponded with HOBSON nor has he ever received correspondence, typewritten or otherwise, from either HOBSON or Mr. and Mrs. HISS. He also said that he cannot recall HOBSON or his parents' ever making use of a typewriter. REYNOLDS remarked that he and HOBSON were not close friends and also that he cannot recall any individual being closely associated with HOBSON. REYNOLDS added that he does not recall TIMOTHY HOBSON's ever being involved in an accident during their period of association.

REYNOLDS could furnish nothing further pertinent to this investigation.

Mr. ARTIS WATERS, JR., 3653 Minnesota Avenue, SE, Apartment 202, an employee of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, advised that from approximately 1936 to 1939 he was a member of the Boy Scout Troup No. 56 and that during the period of approximately 1938 and 1939 TIMOTHY HOBSON, stepson of ALGER HISS, was a member of that same troop. He explained that he was not a close friend of HOBSON and that he knew of no one with whom TIMOTHY associated intimately. In this connection WATERS remarked that one JOHN ROBB, who was also a member of that same Scout troup, had more in common with TIMOTHY than any other individual in that troup and would be more likely to have more complete information relative to the HISS family. He explained that ROBB's parents and TIMOTHY's parents were apparently on the same social level and that both ROBB and TIMOTHY appeared to be "typical spoiled rich kids." WATERS stated that ROBB formerly resided in the 3000 block on Dent Place, NW, and his present address is unknown to WATERS.

According to HERBERT C. TUCKER, Scout Master, ROBB's present address is 833 Flowers Avenue, Los Angeles, California. A teletype was directed to the Los Angeles Office on January 27, 1949, requesting the interview of JOHN ROBB.

WATERS said that patrol meetings of the Scout troop were occasionally held at TIMOTHY's home on Volta Place, explaining that these meetings were never attended by more than six or seven members. At the timesof these meetings WATERS added they were directed immediately to TIMOTHY's room where the meetings were conducted. WATERS recalled that TIMOTHY's room was located on the second floor and probably in the rear of the house. To the best of WATERS' knowledge TIMOTHY's room was average size, furnished in a manner typical of a boy of 13 or 14 years. WATERS could not recall any of the specific furnishings of the room nor could he recall observing a typewriter as part of these furnishings. He concluded that he had no knowledge of other portions of the HISS home inasmuch as TIMOTHY's room was the only one in which he had ever been.

WATERS added that the only people he had observed at the HISS residence were TIMOTHY's parents and a colored uniformed maid.

Two photographs of JAY DAVID WHITTAKER CHAMBERS taken in 1931 and 1936 were exhibited to WATERS and WATERS stated the individual in the photographs was not familiar to him and that the names associated with CHAMBERS were also unfamiliar to him.

WATERS stated he has never received any correspondence, typewritten or otherwise, from HOBSON and he never knew HOBSON to use a typewriter in connection with the Boy Scout program. WATERS also added that he has no knowledge of HOBSON's specific interests or hobbies.

Mrs. ARTIS WATERS, SR., 3259 O Street, NW, housewife, recalled the name of TIMOTHY HOBSON as a boy who at one time attended Boy Scout patrol meetings which occasionally convened at her residence; however, this was the extent of Mrs. WATERS' knowledge concerning TIMOTHY.

As a matter of interest, Mrs. WATERS remarked that DONALD HISS and his wife resided next door at 3257 O Street, NW, from September 1934 until April 1935. She described the family as excellent neighbors whose conduct was never such as to arouse her suspicions. Mrs. WATERS advised that the name of ALGER HISS was unfamiliar to her prior to the recent publicity received by HISS.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agents STANTON F. ENSE and CARL N. DE TEMPLE on January 27, 1949.

Mr. AUSTIN KNIGHT, 2303 26th Street South, Arlington, Virginia, dental technician, Rothstein Dental Laboratories, Inc., 1722 I Street, NW, age 23, advised that he was a Boy Scout in Troop 56 during the period of membership of TIMOTHY HOBSON in that troop. He explained that he was in the patrol of which TIMOTHY was also a member. KNIGHT also stated that he and TIMOTHY were members of the choir at the Christ Episcopal Church, 31st and O Streets, NW, for a period of approximately two or three years. For these reasons KNIGHT felt that he had more association with HOBSON than any other boy in that community.

KNIGHT remarked that he was in the choir from the time he was six years of age until approximately 1943. He stated to the best of his recollection he knew HOBSON about one year prior to their membership in the Boy Scout troop and this first association took place during the period they were both members of the choir. In this connection it is to be noted that a boy must be 12 years of age to be eligible for membership in the Boy Scouts of America. KNIGHT could not recall where HOBSON was living during this period but he did recall his attending a private school which he believed to be either Landons or St. Albans. KNIGHT added that his memory is very hazy regarding this period of his life and that it was possible that HOBSON and he were in the same Sunday school class. KNIGHT could not recall the name of the Sunday school teacher but felt this information could be obtained through the church. KNIGHT said he could not specifically recall HOBSON's being involved in an accident during their period of association; however, according to KNIGHT, RICHARD BELL, choirmaster at the church, after being interviewed by the FBI, inquired of KNIGHT if he recalled such an incident and possibly due to this suggestion KNIGHT faintly remembers the incident. KNIGHT concluded that he could not specifically recall HOBSON's tenure with the choir being interrupted by such an accident.

KNIGHT said that during the time he was a member of the choir photographs of the group were taken periodically, possibly every one or two weeks. He said that he does not have copies of these photographs but believes that such documents could be located through the church.

KNIGHT could not place this relationship with HOBSON as covering certain years; however, to the best of his recollection it was probably eight to ten years ago.

KNIGHT commented that he had probably been in the home of TIMOTHY on occasions but that he could not specifically recall these visits. He explained that patrol meetings were usually held in the homes of various members of the patrol and that it was probably in this connection that he visited HOBSON's home. KNIGHT could not recall anything concerning this residence or its inhabitants.

KNIGHT declared that he had no knowledge of any typewriter in HOBSON's home nor has he any recollection of TIMOTHY's making use of a typewriter. He explained that TIMOTHY has never corresponded with him and that he knows of no one to whom he would have written.

Two photographs of CHAMBERS taken in 1931 and 1936 were exhibited to KNIGHT. KNIGHT had no recollection of ever seeing CHAMBERS nor were any of the names associated with CHAMBERS familiar to him.

Mr. KNIGHT pointed out that up until the time of this interview he did not know that ALGER HISS was the stepfather of TIMOTHY HOBSON.

C. Harvard Club:

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agents CARL N. DE TEMPLE and WILLIAM J. STATEN.

Mr. HOWARD S. LEROY, partner in the law firm of Leroy & Denslow, Room 530, Washington Building, who is also chairman of the board of the American Society of International Law and the treasurer of the Washington Harvard Club, stated that ALGER HISS was a member of the latter organization prior to moving to New York City. According to LEROY, the files of the Harvard Club relating to financial and miscellaneous matters contained no correspondence originating from HISS, either of an official nature or otherwise. He also stated that HISS and he are faternity brothers since they are both members of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity although they were affiliated with different chapters. He explained that he attended college in Rochester and HISS attended Johns Hopkins. It was Mr. LEROY's opinion that DONALD HISS is also a member of that same fraternity.

Mr. LEROY contended that he is only a casual acquaintance of HISS and has never had occasion to enter the HISS residence and for that reason had no information concerning HISS' associates or any information relating to a typewriter that might be in ALGER HISS' possession.

As a matter of interest, Mr. LEROY related a conversation that occurred recently between himself and JOHN STRONG, the son of a close friend, who is a member of the Foreign Service of the Department of State. This friend is named THOMAS STUART STRONG. In this connection it is noted that the city and telephone directories of Washington show the address of these individuals as 3435 R Street, NW. According to LEROY, JOHN STRONG was a Boy Scout in the same troop as TIMOTHY HOBSON. JOHN STRONG related to LEROY that in approximately 1938 or 1939 it was brought to the attention of the scoutmaster that TIMOTHY HOBSON refused to repeat certain parts of the Scout oath during its recitation at troop meetings. It was not known by LEROY if TIMOTHY was a close associate of JOHN STRONG or who it was that brought this to the attention of the scoutmaster. As a result, however, the scoutmaster talked with TIMOTHY and later tried unsuccessfully to arrange an appointment with Mrs. HISS in order to discuss the matter with her. LEROY explained that JOHN STRONG is now a member of the United States Army and is presently assigned to duty in Europe.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agents HAROLD A. BERGER and CARL N. DE TEMPLE on January 12, 1949.

Mr. BERNARD BARTON, economist, U.S. Tariff Commission, advised that according to his records ALGER HISS is a member of the Washington Harvard Club as of September 1947 and that HISS was appointed a member of the placement committee of the club in June 1947, a committee of which BARTON is chairman.

BARTON explained that JOHN DREIER, WILLIAM A. VALLANCE and HISS represented the State Department in an advisory capacity to Harvard graduates contemplating State Department employment.

BARTON searched the correspondence file of his committee in an effort to locate correspondence emanating from the HISS household but this search proved frutiless. He also explained that he has never met HISS nor has he been in the HISS household and that all communication between HISS and himself has taken place telephonically.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agents JOHN J. WALSH and CARL N. DE TEMPLE.

Mr. WILLIAM TAFT LESH, special counsel, Securities Exchange Commission, who is also the present assistant secretary of the Washington Harvard Club and who has custody of the existing membership records of that club, made available records that reflected the inactive membership of ALGER HISS in that organization. This record consisted of a 3 X 5 card indicating the name of ALGER HISS and his address. There was no record relating to the dates of active membership of ALGER HISS nor the date which he severed relations with this organization.

Mr. LESH made a search of the current correspondence file of the Washington Harvard Club but this search failed to disclose any correspondence originating from HISS. LESH declared that he knows ALGER HISS only by sight and he has never associated with him outside of a casual relationship at the Harvard Club luncheons. LESH recommended the interview of Captain WILLIAM EATON, the present secretary of the Harvard Club.

Captain WILLIAM EATON, (USN) secretary of the Harvard Club, who is a patient at the Bethesda Naval Hospital, was telephonically contacted by Agent DE TEMPLE. EATON assured Agent DE TEMPLE that he has no information in his possession that would be pertinent to this inquiry. He explained that all the existing records relative to his position in the Harvard Club have been referred to WILLIAM TAFT LESH. Inasmuch as EATON is presently a hospital patient it was not deemed advisable to interview him further relative to this matter. His home address is 1627 33rd Street, NW, telephone MIchigan 1059.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agents THOMAS J. BARRY and DONALD D. CONNORS.

The following persons, all former officers of the Harvard Club in Washington, D.C., were interviewed on January 24,1949:

BERNARD H. CONN was interviewed at his office at 839 17th Street, NW, and advised he was the secretary of the Harvard Club from 1943 to 1946. CONN said the club does not have any club rooms in Washington and is mainly a group of former Harvard people who occasionally meet for lunch and meetings. He stated he has some records of the Harvard Club but is sure he has no correspondence from ALGER HISS although he was sure HISS had been a member of the club. CONN informed that former officers of the club were Captain W. EATON of the Naval medical department in Washington, WILLIAM TAFT LESH and Colonel RALPH HALLET of the Maritime Commission in Washington.

ROBERT LINCOLN O'BRIEN, former president of the Harvard Club from 1937 to 1943, was telephonically contacted at the Metropolitan Club. He said he was not personally acquainted with HISS and had no records whatsoever of the club. O'BRIEN recommended that the person most likely to have any records of the club at the present time was JOHN H. PRATT.

JOHN H. PRATT, attorney, American Security Trust Company Building, advised that he was the secretary of the Harvard Club from 1937 to 1943 and at the present time is vice president of the Middle Atlantic Section of the Associated Harvard Clubs. PRATT said he was acquainted with HISS and produced the membership record of the club which showed ALGER HISS as being a member at the present time but PRATT did not believe HISS had paid any dues since he left Washington. PRATT added that he did not consider himself to be a personal friend of HISS as he never visited with him socially. In fact, he said his wife had on a few occasions attempted to have the HISSES over to their home but the HISSES never came. PRATT said that one of the persons he thought would know HISS very well is a man by the name of EUGENE O'DUNNE, a lawyer in the Southern Building, who had attended law school with HISS and it was PRATT's opinion that HISS had been CORDELL HULL's "leg man" and he thought it was very possible that HULL might have in his records some correspondence from HISS. As far as his own records were concerned PRATT said he had very few records of the Harvard Club and nothing at all from ALGER HISS. He mentioned that the treasurer of the club at the present time is HOWARD LEROY and he might have some records.

In May 1948 PRATT said ALGER HISS gave a talk before a meeting of the Associated Harvard Clubs in Philadelphia and the arrangements for this speech had been made with HISS by ARTHER O'REILLY, JR., 724 Pierce Building, St. Louis 2, Missouri, who is the present secretary of the Associated Harvard Clubs. It is to be noted that a teletype has been sent to the St. Louis Office to contact O'REILLY. PRATT offered the comment that he believed HISS to be innocent.

D. Bryn Mawr Club:

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent JARL N. DE TEMPLE.

Mrs. JOHN L. VANDEGRIFT, 3241 38th Street, NW, advised that she became casually acquainted with PRISCILLA HISS through their mutual membership in the Bryn Mawr Alumnae Club of Washington. She explained that she knows PRISCILLA HISS only as a speaking acquaintance and that she can recall only one time that she was ever in the HISS home. Mrs. VANDEGRIFT explained that this case arose when Mrs. HISS was president of the club in approximately 1937 at which time a meeting was held at the HISS residence. Mrs. VANDEGRIFT stated she could not recall the address of the HISS residence nor could she remember any of the details concerning their household furnishings. Mrs. VANDEGRIFT stated that she has never received any correspondence, either typewritten or otherwise, from Mrs. HISS.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent EDWARD E. LINEHAN.

Mr. ALVIN BARBER, 3504 Macomb Street, NW, Dr. ETHEL DUNHAM, 1815 45th Place, NW, and HILDA SMITH, 1508 19th Street, NW, were indicated as having received letters of solicitation from PRISCILLA HISS during the campaign of the Bryn Mawr Club to raise funds for an endowment. These individuals were interviewed by Special Agent LINEHAN but they could locate no correspondence emanating from PRISCILLA HISS or furnish any information pertinent to the instant investigation.

E. Ornithology:

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent GILBERT G. BENJAMIN.

Mr. ROGER TORY PETERSON, 221 Wellesley Avenue, Glen Echo, Maryland, author of many books on birds and bird study and described by members of the Washington, D.C. Audubon Society as the foremost ornithologist in the Washington area, advised that he could not recall having ever met ALGER HISS. However, he stated that he did recall seeing a young man walking along the Chesapeake and Ohio towpath about four years ago and this man told him he was with the State Department and was interested in birds. In retrospect Mr. PETERSON added that he believes that the man resembled pictures he has since seen of ALGER HISS.

Mr. PETERSON stated that he had read in Time Magazine that HISS was allegedly an amateur ornithologist and had been reported as seeing a prothonotary warbler in the vicinity of the C. & O Canal. Mr. PETERSON says that the only prothonotary warbler known to nest in that vicinity is within a five-minute walk of his house on Wellesley Avenue and so it is quite probable that the man he saw on the towpath could have been ALGER HISS. He stated, however, that he never saw this man again and he could offer no further information concerning him.

Mr. PETERSON said, however, that when he had been advised of the nature of this inquiry he had called friends of his at the State Department who were also bird enthusiasts in an attempt to be able to furnish further information. He said that among those friends the only one who knew HISS was LOUIS HALLE, the author of two popular books on nature study, "Birds Against Men" and "Spring in Washington." HALLE told him that he knew ALGER HISS quite well and had had several contacts with him at the State Department but did not realize that HISS was also interested in ornithology.

F. Insurance:

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent DONALD D. CONNORS.

In connection with the lead to contact the Home Life Insurance Company in regard to the possibility of a policy issued by that company to DONALD HISS, it is noted that HARVEY E. WOOD, office manager for the Home Life Insurance Company, which is located in the Shoreham Building, 15th & H Streets, NW, searched the records of the organization with negative results.

WOOD explained that the Washington office of the Home Life Insurance Company maintains records for approximately six years and at the end of this period ships these records to New York City if they are continuing policies and destroys the records if they are not continuing policies. In addition an alphabetical card file is maintained for approximately six years. This file is, of course, destroyed when the records to which it pertains are disposed of. WOOD advised that perhaps PAUL F. GROVE, JR., agent for Home Life Insurance, might have additional information in connection with DONALD HISS.

GROVE stated that DONALD HISS did apply to him for insurance in about February 1947 and that GROVE had one interview with HISS at the latter's office. GROVE advised that at that time he, GROVE, filled out a preliminary form and sent this form to the New York Office in conformity with the established practice. GROVE explained that it is the policy of this company to forward this preliminary interview sheet to New York so that the home office may decide whether or not the individual applying for insurance is a good risk. GROVE stated that the Washington office never denies or grants an applicant insurance but this is the prerogative of the New York office.

GROVE stated that while he was waiting for an answer from the New York Office, HISS advised him that he, HISS, had already secured an insurance policy and would not be interested in another policy from the Home Life Insurance Company. GROVE recalls that the preliminary interview sheet which he had sent to New York returned with a notation that HISS was not an insurable risk on standard insurance due to a heart condition. GROVE stated that DONALD HISS would in all probability be carrying sub-standard insurance. GROVE stated that he could not recall the name of the company which now insured HISS but the name which occurred to him was the Connecticut Mutual Company whose Washington offices are in the Woodward Building. GROVE could furnish no further pertinent information.

At the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company JOHN L. MC ELFRESH, general agent, advised after a search of his records that his company did not carry insurance for DONALD or ALGER HISS or for PRISCILLA HISS under any of her names. MC ELFRESH advised that very often his company was confused with the Connecticut General Insurance Company which is located in the Washington Building.

On January 11, 1949, records at the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company, 318 Southern Building, reflected that DONALD HISS has the following insurance policies with this company. The dates below indicate the date on which HISS purchased these policies.

3-28-47, Policy 1039705, amount $10,000, yearly premium $321.80, type of policy, life.
6-14-47, Policy 1056163, amount $15,000, yearly premium $482.70, type of policy, life.

Miss MARY CRAWFORD, office manager, produced the case file on DONALD HISS which contained only a few communications between J. WISTAR HUEY, the agent from whom HISS obtained these policies, and the home office. These communications were technical in nature dealing with premium payments, rights and like matters.

This file also contained a letter from FREDERICK D. CHAPMAN, M.D., 1834 I Street, NW, indicating that DONALD HISS in 1926 suffered from a duodenal ulcer which appeared to have been satisfactorily capped by 1944. In November 1944 DONALD HISS, according to this letter, suffered a spontaneous partial pneumothorax for which he was hospitalized and made a speedy recovery. This file contained no letters from HISS. MARY CRAWFORD advised that it was entirely possible that J. WISTAR HUEY had taken his personal files with him when he left the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company for the Baltimore Life Insurance Company. She pointed out, however, that HISS' office was directly across the street and that most of HUEY's communications with HISS, and vice versa, were made telephonically.

On the same date FREDERICK D. CHAPMAN, M.D., 1834 I Street, NW, advised that he was not actually DONALD HISS' physician but that he had treated HISS in the absence of Dr. WALTER KENDALL MYERS who occupies office space in the same building.

Dr. MYERS was extremely cooperative and advised that he was indeed DONALD HISS' personal physician as well as the physician of DONALD HISS' wife. Dr. MYERS produced his files on both DONALD HISS and Mrs. DONALD HISS. It is noted that these files contain one handwritten letter from DONALD HISS and three handwritten letters from HISS' wife but no typewritten communications.

Neither Dr. MYERS nor Dr. CHAPMAN could state who was the physician of ALGER HISS or PRISCILLA HISS.

On the same date LUKE B. HARRISON, general agent of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company, 1001 Washington Building, advised that his company had no policy for ALGER, DONALD or PRISCILLA HISS. It will be recalled that PAUL GROVE of the Home Life Insurance Company, who once negotiated with DONALD HISS in connection with a policy, had stated that he believed HISS to be insured with the Connecticut Mutual or the Connecticut General.

H. Passport Division:

The records of the Passport Division were previously checked and information concerning the diplomatic passport for ALGER HISS has been previously set forth. The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent KENNETH F. CARROLL concerning prior passports of ALGER HISS.

Passport #26080 was issued to ALGER HISS on April 27, 1929. The passport application, dated April 24, 1929, was subscribed to on April 24, 1929, at Suffolk County, Massachusetts, and reflected that HISS was born on November 11, 1904, at Baltimore, Maryland. This application also revealed that ALGER HISS' father, CHARLES ALGER HISS, was born in Baltimore, Maryland, and died in April 1907. ALGER HISS listed his permanent address as 1427 Linden Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland. The reason given by HISS for requesting the passport was that he desired to travel to France, Belgium, Holland, Germany and Austria. According to the application, HISS intended to leave the United States from the port of New York on the SS De Grasse on July 4, 1929, and he requested that the passport be mailed to himself at 52 Walter Hastings Hall, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Passport #440203 was issued on June 12, 1924, to ALGER HISS for travel to Belgium, British Isles, France, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Germany and Holland. This passport listed HISS' occupation as a student and his birthdate and place as November 11, 1904 at Baltimore, Maryland. This passport reflects that HISS intended to leave the United States from the port of New York on the SS New Amsterdam on June 28, 1924. This passport also contained an identification form, a form of affidavit for a relative, and a personal letter to the chief of the Division of Passport Control, which correspondence was signed by MARY L. HISS, ALGER's mother, whose residence was listed as 1427 Linden Avenue, Baltimore, Maryland.

I. Miscellaneous

In an attempt to determine if ALGER HISS had declared a typewriter as a taxable item during the period of his residence in the District of Columbia Special Agent PAUL H. HOGE contacted EDWARD A. DENT, an official of the Tax Division of the District of Columbia Government. Mr. DENT advised that under existing laws of the District of Columbia he was unable to make the tax return form of ALGER HISS available but in a highly confidential manner assured Agent HOGE that ALGER HISS had not declared a typewriter as a taxable item unless it was included on the tax form under the heading "miscellaneous."

On February 1, 1949, Special Agent KENNETH F. CARROLL contacted WILLIAM PETRI, general manager of Rochdale Cooperative, Inc., 2513 14th Street, NW, and WAYNE BUCKLE, office manager of the same concern, who advised they were both former managers of the Cooperative Food Stores located at 1517 Wisconsin Avenue, NW, during the period 1943 to 1947. They stated that the HISSES were customers of theirs and that they always paid their bills by check. PETRI and BUCKLE advised that no deliveries were ever made to the HISS house but that Mrs. HISS always did the shopping herself, sometimes being accompanied by her son, who was about eight years old, and she would carry her own bundles. PETRI and BUCKLE could supply no further pertinent information.

The recored of the American Security and Savings Bank, Washington, D.C., were checked by Special Agent J. BERNARD COOK. Correspondence prior to 1939 has been destroyed and no records of any correspondence from the HISS family or any typed material at all emanating from the HISSES could be located.

DETAILS: This is a joint report of SA FRANK G. JOHNSTONE and the writer.

RE: INVESTIGATION REGARDING ALGER HISS, INCLUDING INVESTIGATION REGARDING HIS ALLEGED COMMUNIST ACTIVITIES.

ALURAL GERHISS

By teletype dated January 20, 1949, the New York Office furnished information as a result of an interview with GUENTHER RUMRICH, former subject of the case entitled "GUNTHER GUSTAV RUMRICH, WAS., ET AL; ESPIONAGE - G; INTERNAL SECURITY - G," Bureau file 65-748. The information furnished by RUMRICH pertained to an alleged temporary working agreement in late 1937 between German and Russian espionage organizations in the United States. In connection with this information, RUMRICH stated that certain letters he was to receive he should forward to one ALURAL GERHISS, Cold Spring Lane, Baltimore, Maryland, evidently a mail drop. The Baltimore Office was requested to check its indices under the names mentioned in referenced teletype from the New York Office.

By teletype dated January 21, 1949, the Bureau and New York Office were advised that the Baltimore Office indices were negative on any record under the names AMUR, LENA GERHISS and ALURAL GERHISS.

GERHISS

By teletype dated January 28, 1949, the Bureau requested the Baltimore Office to ascertain if ALURAL GERHISS resided on Cold Spring Lane in Baltimore, Maryland, in late 1937 or early 1938.

The following investigation was conducted by SA JOSEPH F. COLDON:

Baltimore City Directories and Baltimore Telephone Directories were reviewed at the Enoch Pratt Free Library in Baltimore. Specifically, Baltimore City Directories for the years 1937 to 1940 were reviewed and failed to disclose any individual by the name of ALURAL GERHISS or ALGER HISS residing on either East or West Cold Spring Lane. There were approximately 40 residence addresses on West Cold Spring Lane and approximately 800 residence addresses on East Cold Spring Lane. The review of these directories included a search under the alphabetical listings as well as under the street listings. A search of the Baltimore Telephone Address

Directories for April and October, 1937, and April and October, 1938, was also made with negative results. It should be noted that in the report of SA FRANK G. JOHNSTONE dated December 14, 1948, at Baltimore, Maryland, it is reflected that ALGER HISS during the years 1936 to 1943 resided at 1245 30th Street, N.W., and 3415 Volta Place, N.W., Washington, D. C.

A summary of the above information was furnished to the Bureau and New York Office by teletype on February 1, 1949.

(Alleged Employment at Baltimore Hospital)

By teletype dated February 2, 1949, the Washington Field Office advised that in an interview with CHAMBERS, CHAMBERS stated that sometime in 1937 PRISCILLA HISS went to a hospital on Calvert Street below Monument Street in Baltimore and offered her services as a volunteer worker. CHAMBERS stated that PRISCILLA HISS did work for some time in this hospital but finally lost interest and ceased such employment. CHAMBERS recalled the name of the hospital involved as possibly the Calvert Hospital. The Baltimore Office was requested to check appropriate hospital on Calvert Street in Baltimore for records of any such employment for PRISCILLA HISS.

The following investigation was conducted on February 2, 1949, by SA WILLIAM C. PFEIFFER:

Agent PFEIFFER contacted JAMES A. REYNOLDS, JR., Personnel Director, Mercy Hospital, 300 North Calvert Street, Baltimore, Maryland, who made a check of the hospital's personnel records but could find no record of PRISCILLA HISS's ever having been employed by the hospital.

REYNOLDS thereupon ascertained from Sister MARY VERONICA, Superintendent of Mercy Hospital, that PRISCILLA HISS applied for entrance into the School of Medical Technology at Mercy Hospital, at an unknown date about 1937, but was not admitted due to insufficient credits and never actually worked at the Mercy Hospital in any capacity. Sister MARY VERONICA further advised REYNOLDS that there is no actual record on file at Mercy Hospital of Mrs. HISS's application for entrance into the hospital's school of Medical Technology. However, a copy of a letter from Mercy Hospital to PRISCILLA HISS advising her that she did not have sufficient credits for entrance was recently exhibited to Sister MARY VERONICA by an attorney who represented the Marbury Firm of Baltimore, attorneys for ALGER HISS. There is no correspondence of any nature emanating from any member of the HISS family on file at Mercy Hospital, according to Sister MARY VERONICA.

FBI AUTOMATIC DECLASSIFICATION GUIDE
DATE 06-25-2010

Agent PFEIFFER contacted CARROLL D. HILL, Director, Union Memorial Hospital, Calvert and 33rd Streets, Baltimore, Maryland, who checked the hospital's personnel records and could find no record of PRISCILLA HISS's ever having been employed at Union Memorial Hospital. All places in the hospital where a volunteer worker could have been employed were also checked by Mr. HILL with negative results.

It is noted that there is no Calvert Hospital in Baltimore, Maryland, and that the Mercy Hospital and the Union Memorial Hospital are the only hospitals located on Calvert Street in Baltimore.

The foregoing information was brought to the attention of the Washington Field Office by telephone on February 2, 1949, and by teletype dated February 2, 1949.

JULIA RANKIN (A HISS MAID)

By teletype on February 3, 1949, the Washington Field Office advised that the New York Office had determined from reading various testimony that subsequent to the employment of MARTHA POPE as a maid in the HISS household, a JULIA RANKIN had been so employed. RANKIN at that time was believed to have resided at Florida Avenue on a curve of this avenue across from a church she regularly attended. MARTHA POPE, according to referenced teletype, was employed by HISS until sometime in 1935. On February 2, 1949, CHAMBERS advised Agents of the Washington Field Office that he had no personal recollection of RANKIN and that the above information was based on a very vague recollection of Mrs. CHAMBERS.

Intensive investigation by the Washington Field Office developed the information that V. N. S. HUGHES was minister of the Simpson Memorial Methodist Church at 2253 Sherman Avenue, N.W., Washington, D. C., for several years prior to 1937. This church, although facing on Sherman Avenue, is located at the junction of Florida and Sherman Avenues at a point where Florida Avenue curves. It was pointed out in referenced teletype that HUGHES presently resided at an unknown address in Gaithersburg, Maryland. The

FBI AUTOMATIC DECLASSIFICATION GUIDE
DATE 06-25-2010

Baltimore Office was requested to interview HUGHES immediately for information concerning the present location of JULIA RANKIN.

On February 4, 1949, SA JESSE C. PARKER, JR., telephonically communicated with Reverend V. N. S. HUGHES at his present residence which is located in Darnestown, Maryland, telephone Gaithersburg 669-J. Reverend HUGHES advised that he had been pastor of the Simpson Memorial Methodist Church in Washington, D. C., during an unknown period but had left such pastorate 11 or 12 years ago. Reverend HUGHES could not recall JULIA RANKIN but expressed a willingness to meet a Bureau Agent at the parsonage of the Simpson Memorial Church in Washington, D. C., on that date to help in any way possible in the location of JULIA RANKIN. This information was telephonically communicated to SA ROBERT W. McCASLIN of the Washington Field Office on February 4, 1949, at which time Agent McCASLIN was advised that the Baltimore Office would conduct no further investigation to locate JULIA RANKIN unless specifically requested to do so.

MR. AND MRS. TEMPLE JOYCE

By letter dated December 23, 1948, the Washington Field Office furnished information obtained from Confidential Informant T-1 regarding alleged Communist activities on the part of ALGER HISS as follows:

On December 6, 1948, Confidential Informant T-1 advised Mr. and Mrs. TEMPLE JOYCE are personally acquainted with ALGER HISS. Mrs. JOYCE has stated to T-1 that she has been present at social gatherings and has heard HISS eulogize the cause of Communism. Mrs. JOYCE was reported to reside approximately three miles from Annapolis, Maryland, on Joyce Lane, Mr. JOYCE being reported as President of the Wing Engineering Company, Baltimore, Maryland.

By teletype dated December 28, 1948, the Baltimore Office was authorized to interview Mr. and Mrs. TEMPLE JOYCE, said teletype from the Bureau.

On December 29, 1948, Special Agents THEODORE M. MALINOWSKI and JOSEPH E. CONDON interviewed Mr. TEMPLE JOYCE, President of the Wing Engineering Company, at his office located in Room 1502 Court Square Building, Baltimore, Md. Mr. JOYCE advised that he did not know ALGER HISS, and he was quite certain that he had never been present at any social gathering attended by HISS. Therefore, he stated, he could furnish no information whatsoever concerning the activities of ALGER HISS.

CONFIDENTIAL

On the same date, Mrs. TEMPLE JOYCE was interviewed by the same Agents at her residence located on Joyce Lane, Arnold, Maryland, and she also stated that she has never met ALGER HISS and can furnish no information concerning him.

MRS. POLLY McGILL

By letter dated December 23, 1948, the Washington Field Office advised that information had also been received from Confidential Informant T-1 as follows:

One Mrs. POLLY McGILL, formerly Mrs. POLLY ENGLEMAN, is the former wife of SLIM ENGLEMAN and is presently located at the Blue Tavern Cafe, Annapolis, Maryland. SLIM ENGLEMAN is reported to have deserted his wife to associate with a girl believed to be the head of a local chapter of the Communist Party, the name of this girl being unknown. SLIM ENGLEMAN and ALGER HISS are reported to have been close personal friends in the nineteen thirties, and it was indicated that Mrs. POLLY ENGLEMAN McGILL has considerable knowledge of the alleged Communist activities of HISS through his association with her former husband. By teletype dated December 28, 1948, the Bureau authorized interview with Mrs. POLLY McGILL.

MRS. POLLY ENGLEMAN
MRS. GEORGE ENGLEMAN

On December 29, 1948, Special Agents THEODORE M. MALINOWSKI and JOSEPH E. CONDON interviewed Mrs. POLLY McGILL at her mother's residence, which is located in the Hopkins Apartment Hotel, North Charles and 31st Street, Baltimore, Maryland. Mrs. McGILL stated that she married GEORGE H. ENGEMAN (not ENGLEMAN) at Baltimore, Maryland, in 1928 and divorced him in 1939, inasmuch as he had been keeping company with one IDA SLEDGE whom she identified as a Communist and Ladies Garment Workers Union employee. At the time of this divorce, she and ENGEMAN resided at 617 Lenox Street, Baltimore, Maryland. With regard to the alleged associations between her ex-husband and ALGER HISS, Mrs. McGILL stated that she personally did not know HISS and she did not have any knowledge of the fact that her ex-husband was an associate of HISS. With regard to her ex-husband, however, she did state that several years after they were married, he became interested in Marxism, and she was of the opinion that he was a member of the Communist Party in Baltimore, although he never admitted this to Mrs. McGILL. Mrs. McGILL recollects that he had held meetings at their home on Lenox Street on many occasions, and there were present at those meetings Negroes as well as White people, all of whom she considered Communists. In conclusion, Mrs. McGILL advised that her ex-husband, GEORGE H. ENGEMAN, and his present wife presently operate a newspaper known as the "North Virginia Free Press" located at 2867 South Arlington Street, Arlington, Virginia.

A summary of the information concerning the interviews conducted with Mr. and Mrs. TEMPLE JOYCE and Mrs. POLLY McGILL was furnished by teletype to the Bureau and the New York and Washington Field Office on December 29, 1948.

The indices of the Baltimore Office reflect both a main one hundred file and a Loyalty case file on GEORGE H. ENGEMAN. In the Loyalty case file, there is a letter dated February 13, 1948, from the Bureau to the Washington Field Office which sets out considerable information concerning the activities of ENGEMAN as obtained from a review of the Bureau files. Briefly, this letter indicates that ENGEMAN, who was formerly a reporter for the "Sun" papers at Baltimore, was President and Treasurer of the Baltimore Newspaper Guild. In 1942, he was also Vice-President of the Baltimore Industrial Union Council and Chairman of their Organizing Committee. In 1944, his name appeared on a membership list of "The Bookshop Association of Baltimore, Inc." It is noted also that in 1946 ENGEMAN was employed as Publicity Director of the National Committee of Atomic Energy and at that time was reported to be active as a Communist. In 1947, ENGEMAN was a member of the National Committee on Atomic Information, together with others who are alleged to have pro-Russian and pro-Communist sympathies. It was also indicated that ENGEMAN's wife, IDA, in 1947 had been in contact with BEATTIE MAGDOFF, wife of HARRY MAGDOFF, a subject in the GREGORY case.

The above information concerning interviews with both Mr. and Mrs. TEMPLE JOYCE and with Mrs. POLLY McGILL was also transmitted to the Bureau by letter dated January 4, 1949, with copies for the New York and Richmond Offices, in which letter it was left to the discretion of the Bureau as to whether or not the Richmond Office should interview GEORGE H. ENGEMAN concerning his alleged association with ALGER HISS and any knowledge ENGEMAN might have of Communist sympathies or activities on the part of ALGER HISS.

DON TILGHMAN

By teletype dated January 12, 1949, the New York Office advised that a DON TILGHMAN visited ALGER HISS at his New York apartment sometime before Christmas, 1948. It was further indicated in this teletype that DON

TILGHMAN is also a friend of CYNTHIA JONES, sister-in-law of DONALD HISS, and probably a former State Department employee attached to the Documentary Film Section. It was indicated that TILGHMAN was related to Mrs. RIDGEWAY TRIMBLE, Baltimore, Maryland, who also raised CNYTHIA JONES after her parents died. The Baltimore Office was requested to locate and interview TILGHMAN regarding his associations with ALGER HISS, his knowledge of the Woodstock typewriter formerly owned by HISS, for any typewritten specimens from ALGER HISS in his possession, and for information regarding the activities of CYNTHIA JONES.

Mrs. I. RIDGEWAY TRIMBLE, whose husband is a surgeon, 6006 Charlesmeade Road, Baltimore, mentioned as a relative of DON TILGHMAN in referenced teletype, advised on January 17, 1949, that she does not know the present address of DON TILGHMAN but believes he may be living around Easton, Maryland. She suggested contacting TILGHMAN's brother, WILLIAM H. DE COURCY TILGHMAN, 6300 Boxwood Road, Baltimore, Maryland.

Mrs. WILLIAM H. DE COURCY TILGHMAN advised on January 17, 1949, that DON TILGHMAN is presently residing in an apartment, apparently under temporary sub-lease, at 144 East 45th Street, New York City, telephone VAnderbilt 6-4147. Mrs. TILGHMAN advised that she does not know the present employment of DON TILGHMAN and preferred that the Bureau ask TILGHMAN if he had ever been employed by the State Department.

The above information regarding the present location of DON TILGHMAN was transmitted by teletype on January 17, 1949, to the Bureau, New York, and Washington Field Office.

ROBERT CRUISE McMANUS

By teletype dated January 21, 1949, the New York Office advised that CHAMBERS had related that sometime, probably in November or December, 1948, he had received a letter from an individual whose name he did not recall, but who probably was a contributing editor to the "Farm Journal" published in Philadelphia, Pa. CHAMBERS stated that the letter contained this individual's knowledge of ALGER HISS. CHAMBERS further related that after the filing of the libel suit by HISS, he had turned this letter over to his lawyer, Mr. CLEVELAND, in Baltimore, and that one of Mr. CLEVELAND's investigators had interviewed this unknown individual. CHAMBERS related that Mr. CLEVELAND had a full report on this matter and CHAMBERS was of the impression that HISS corresponded with this unknown individual who had deducted from the correspondence with HISS that HISS was probably a Communist. The Baltimore Office was requested to interview Mr. CLEVELAND to learn the identity of the unknown contributing editor of the "Farm Journal" mentioned above and to obtain from Mr. CLEVELAND any typewritten letters written by HISS to this unknown individual.

On January 25, 1949, in the absence of Mr. RICHARD F. CLEVELAND who was out of the city, reporting Agents interviewed Mr. WILLIAM D. Macmillan, an associate of Mr. CLEVELAND in representing Mr. CHAMBERS, at 2500 O'Sullivan Building, Baltimore, Md. After reviewing their file, Mr. Macmillan advised that the unknown individual connected with the "Farm Journal" to whom Mr. CHAMBERS had referred was undoubtedly Mr. ROBERT CRUISE McMANUS, addresses shown as Hopewell, New Jersey, and 169 West State Street, Trenton, New Jersey. Mr. Macmillan stated that their files did not contain any of the original letters written by ALGER HISS to McMANUS, pointing out that Mr. McMANUS was the only known source for the originals of such correspondence.

The results of this interview were furnished by letter dated January 26, 1949, to the Bureau, New York, Newark, and Philadelphia offices with the suggestion that McMANUS be interviewed for further information by Bureau Agents.

By teletype dated January 28, 1949, the Newark Office advised that McMANUS was not being interviewed regarding HISS because of previous unfavorable experience with McMANUS, the details of which are known to the Bureau.

SENATOR GEORGE L. RADCLIFFE

Reference is made to the teletype from the Washington Field Office dated January 11, 1949, in which the Baltimore Office was requested to interview GEORGE L. RADCLIFFE, former Senator from Maryland, now practicing law in Baltimore.

Theteletype pointed out that on August 1, 1935, Senator RADCLIFFE wrote a letter of recommendation for ALGER HISS to Mr. STANLEY REED, Solicitor General of the United States, in which letter Senator RADCLIFFE indicated considerable knowledge of and close association with ALGER HISS.

On January 13, 1949, Special Agents DANIEL F. X. CALLAHAN and FRANK G. JOHNSTONE interviewed Senator RADCLIFFE in his office, 611 Fidelity Building, Baltimore, Maryland. Senator RADCLIFFE presently resides at 12 Edgevale Road, Baltimore, Maryland. Senator RADCLIFFE stated that he knows ALGER HISS by reputation only. He stated that the possibility exists that he met ALGER HISS at some large gathering during the period he served in Washington as U. S. Senator from Maryland, but advised that he does not recall ever having conversed with ALGER HISS in person. Senator RADCLIFFE stated that he knows some of the relatives of ALGER HISS in Maryland and believes that HISS has an excellent background. The Senator was also familiar with the fact that ALGER HISS was a brilliant student at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore and was given an Honorary Degree by Johns Hopkins University several years ago. The Senator was also familiar with the fact that ALGER HISS was considered a brilliant young man in the service of the State Department, but pointed out that because he, Senator RADCLIFFE, was never on the Foreign Relations Committee of the U. S. Senate, he never had any dealings or associations with ALGER HISS officially.

Senator RADCLIFFE stated that it was absolutely amazing to him that a man with the background and reputation of ALGER HISS could actually be guilty of the activities alleged to him by WHITTAKER CHAMBERS as recounted over the past several months in the newspapers. Senator RADCLIFFE stated that WHITTAKER CHAMBERS and the name WHITTAKER CHAMBERS are totally unknown to him. The Senator advised that not only does he not know of any interest or activity in the Communist Party or any of its front organizations on the part of ALGER HISS, but he has never known of any association whatsoever between ALGER HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

Because of the fact that ALGER HISS was theoretically one of Senator RADCLIFFE'S constituents while Senator RADCLIFFE served in the U. S. Senate from 1935 to 1947, Senator RADCLIFFE was questioned as to whether he might have any typewritten specimens in his files originating with ALGER HISS. The Senator made a search for such specimens with negative results and advised that if a further, more thorough search developed any typewritten material originating with ALGER or PRISCILLA HISS, he would immediately communicate with the Baltimore Office. Further, Senator RADCLIFFE stated that he would make inquiry among his acquaintances and associates and would advise the Baltimore Office if he located anyone who had any suspicions regarding the loyalty and activities of ALGER HISS prior to the appearance of publicity regarding this case in the public press.

W. GIBBS McKENNY

Reference is made to the teletype directed to the Bureau, Baltimore, and Washington Field Offices on January 11, 1949, by the Philadelphia Office. This teletype stated that Mr. HARRY MARTIN had advised on that date that he had recently telephonically contacted Mr. W. GIBBS McKENNY, attorney in the Munsey Building in Baltimore, Maryland, and that during their conversation, McKENNY had advised Mr. MARTIN that McKENNY had five acquaintances in Baltimore, all of whom were formerly the classmates of ALGER HISS at Johns Hopkins University, and that these men had recently told McKENNY that HISS had a "Red tinge" even while HISS was still in college. The teletype further pointed out that these statements regarding ALGER HISS having a "Red tinge" even while he was in college were believed to be supported in a Johns Hopkins University yearbook. The teletype suggested that Baltimore interview Mr. McKENNY, obtain the identity of the five acquaintances and interview each concerning the alleged HISS "Red tinge" at Johns Hopkins University.

On January 13, 1949, the reporting Agents interviewed Mr. W. GIBBS McKENNY, attorney, in his office at 1423 Munsey Building, Baltimore, Md.. Mr. McKENNY presently resides at Box 110, Riderwood, Maryland, telephone Towson 655-W. Mr. McKENNY stated that the following are the five acquaintances mentioned above that he had in mind when talking with Mr. HARRY MARTIN by telephone:

1. Mr. W. CARPILLE GARDNER, Riderwood, Maryland, who is a statistician for the New Amsterdam Casualty Company in Baltimore.

2. JOHN EAGER HOWARD, Riderwood, Maryland, employment unknown.

3. Doctor WILLIAM H. MOORE, III, 107 Midhearst Road, Baltimore, Maryland, President of the Maryland College for Women at Lutherville, Maryland.

4. BAYARD P. FONDA, Riderwood, Maryland, possibly employed by Baltimore County.

5. A man named PARSONS, first name unknown, who formerly resided at Riderwood, Maryland, but moved away several months ago, employment unknown.

Mr. McKENNY stated that all of the above persons are graduates of Johns Hopkins University. They are believed to have attended Johns Hopkins University about the same time as ALGER HISS, but are not known by Mr. McKENNY to have been actual classmates of ALGER HISS. Some of them may have belonged to the same social fraternity as ALGER HISS. Mr. McKENNY stated that he knows practically nothing about instant case and has not even followed it closely in the newspapers because the case did not interest him greatly. Further, Mr. McKENNY stated that he had never discussed ALGER HISS or the activities of HISS in instant case with any of the five individuals listed above. Some of the above listed persons Mr. McKENNY knows quite well, but he stated that he is not even personally acquainted with Mr. PARSONS. Mr. McKENNY stated definitely that none of the five individuals listed above had ever told him that ALGER HISS had a "Red tinge" even while he was attending Johns Hopkins. Mr. McKENNY advised that he had heard from some source which he cannot now recall, but possibly from reading "Time" magazine, that ALGER HISS had a "Red tinge" even while attending college. It was Mr. McKENNY's opinion that interviews with the five individuals listed above would only elicit background information regarding ALGER HISS and no information whatsoever regarding the alleged activities of ALGER HISS in this case or any information connecting ALGER HISS in any way with the Communist Party. Mr. McKENNY stated that he is not personally acquainted with ALGER HISS and personally knows nothing regarding HISS.

Mr. McKENNY only guessed that the information which occasioned Agents' interview with him had originated through Mr. McKENNY's telephone conversation with Mr. HARRY MARTIN of Philadelphia, but requested that if Agents interviewed the five individuals listed above, that his name not be given to these persons as the source of their names and identities. Mr. McKENNY stated that the information he had given Mr. HARRY MARTIN on the telephone had only been supplied to Mr. MARTIN in casual conversation and had been solicited from him by Mr. MARTIN. Mr. McKENNY pointed out that he and Mr. HARRY MARTIN are business acquaintances and that when Mr. MARTIN asked Mr. McKENNY if he knew anything about ALGER HISS, the only information of possible value which occurred to Mr. McKENNY was the fact that he had some neighbors at Riderwood, Maryland, who had probably attended Johns Hopkins University at the same time as ALGER HISS. Under the circumstances, and especially in view of the fact that Mr. McKENNY stated that none of the five individuals listed above had advised McKENNY that ALGER HISS had a "Red tinge" even while attending Johns Hopkins University, no effort will be made to interview the five acquaintances of McKENNY's listed above, as it would not appear that any of them will have any information pertinent to instant case.

From a review of Johns Hopkins University yearbook "Ye Hullabaloo" for years during the late 1920's, it was ascertained that ALGER HISS graduated from Johns Hopkins University in 1926 and was a member of the National Social Fraternity Alpha Delta Phi. It was also learned from a review of these yearbooks that GARDNER and JOHN W. PARSONS were in the class of 1925 at Johns Hopkins University, the year prior to the graduation of ALGER HISS, and that HOWARD and FONDA were both in ALGER HISS's graduating class. No record was found in these yearbooks of Doctor WILLIAM H. MOORE, III.

With reference to the allegation in referenced teletype from the Philadelphia Office to the effect that the fact that HISS had a "Red tinge" even while attending Johns Hopkins University was believed to be supported in a Johns Hopkins yearbook, it should be noted that the yearbook for 1926, the year ALGER HISS graduated from Hopkins, carried the photograph of HISS as a graduate and the following is a portion of a write-up on HISS appearing under the photograph, on page 116 of the 1926 yearbook. . . . . ."Many are the discussions that we have had with Alger, many and various. The topics ranged from Soviet's to styles, from liberty to liquor, from Guelphs to Goodnow, and, like Socrates, we admit our ignorance in the face of his irresistible logic and rhetoric...."

CHARLES B. DUFF

Reference is made to Bureau letter dated January 3, 1949, requesting the Baltimore Office to interview Mr. CHARLES B. DUFF, 5504 Wexford Road, Baltimore, Maryland, for any information in his possession concerning the activities of ALGER HISS in this case or any knowledge of association between ALGER HISS and WHITTAKER CHAMBERS.

On September 13, 1948, Baltimore Confidential Informant T-2 advised the Baltimore Office that probably Mr. and Mrs. CHARLES B. DUFF, 5504 Wexford Road, Baltimore, are probably acquainted with ALGER HISS. It should be noted that the indices of the Baltimore Office are negative as to CHARLES B. DUFF.

On January 7, 1949, Mr. DUFF was interviewed by SAS VERNON J. GOERTZ and FRANK G. JOHNSTONE at the offices of the J. Ramsay Barry Company, real estate and insurance, 11 East Lexington Street, Baltimore, where Mr. DUFF has been vice-president since January 1, 1949. Mr. DUFF for twelve years, prior to assuming his present position, was manager of the Brokerage Department, Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company, 17 Light Street, Baltimore. Mr. DUFF supplied the following information:

Mrs. DUFF is the former ELIZABETH WRIGHTSON, and the WRIGHTSON family has resided both on the Eastern Shore of Maryland and in Baltimore. Mrs. DUFF's mother, REBECCA WRIGHTSON, who presently resides with the DUFFS in Baltimore, is a cousin of Mrs. MINNIE HISS, mother of ALGER HISS. The HISS and WRIGHTSON families have been very close for many years, the HISS and WRIGHTSON children having been practically raised together. Mr. DUFF himself has known ALGER and DONALD HISS, as well as other members of the HISS family, for about twenty years, but has never personally known members of the HISS family as intimately as have members of the WRIGHTSON family. Naturally, Mr. DUFF stated, he and his wife and mother-in-law have been very much disturbed and are deeply interested in the HISS-CHAMBERS case. He stated that they have followed the case closely and have kept in touch with ALGER HISS periodically by telephone and in person to give him moral, friendly support during his present difficulties.
