B. pre-Chalcedonian views later regarded as heterodox: problem complicated by conviction of many that to be anything more than a mental abstraction a φ. must be realized in a concrete, independent entity, a hypostasis; hence (1) two φύσεις meant two hypostases, but there are two φύσεις in Christ, therefore union cannot be φυσική or καθ' ὑπόστασιν and must be explained in some other way: thus Antiochenes, esp.
