Dear Dr.

I am enclosing additional information developed during the initial screening of compounds that your company submitted to the Agency in accordance with our present agreement.

You will note also that there is included a resubmission of data on mouse toxicity screening (intravenous toxicity of compound).

Following receipt of your letter and your observation that the doses required to produce observable effects were high, I requested the laboratory to re-check these results. Apparently arithmetic errors had been committed by the technicians.

Information of a similar nature is also included on data on this compound was inadvertently omitted from the previous data sent to you.

Any additional data on these compounds will, of course, be sent to you. Meanwhile, I would be happy to receive any other comments that you have on the work thus far.

Sincerely yours,
