FBI FOIPA Addendum

As referenced in our letter responding to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request, the FBI FOIPA Addendum includes information applicable to your request. Part 1 of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. Part 2 includes additional standard responses that apply to all requests for records on individuals. Part 3 includes general information about FBI records. For questions regarding Parts 1, 2, or 3, visit the www.fbi.gov/foia website under "Contact Us." Previously mentioned appeal and dispute resolution services are also available at the web address.

Part 1: The standard responses below apply to all requests:

- (i) 5 U.S.C. § 552(c). Congress excluded three categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIA [5 U.S.C. § 552(c) (2006 & Supp. IV (2010))]. FBI responses are limited to those records subject to the requirements of the FOIA. Additional information about the FBI and the FOIPA can be found on the www.fbi.gov/foia website.
- (ii) National Security/Intelligence Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of national security and foreign intelligence records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and PA exemption (j)(2) as applicable to requests for records about individuals [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(1), (b)(3), and (j)(2); 50 U.S.C § 3024(i)(1)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself a classified fact protected by FOIA exemption (b)(1) and/or would reveal intelligence sources, methods, or activities protected by exemption (b)(3) [50 USC § 3024(i)(1)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that national security or foreign intelligence records do or do not exist.

Part 2: The standard responses below apply to all requests for records on individuals:

- (i) Requests for Records about any Individual—Watch Lists. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any individual's name on a watch list pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(7)(E) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that watch list records do or do not exist.
- (ii) Requests for Records for Incarcerated Individuals. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of any incarcerated individual pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

Part 3: General Information:

- (i) Record Searches. The Record/Information Dissemination Section (RIDS) searches for reasonably described records by searching those systems or locations where responsive records would reasonably be found. Most requests are satisfied by searching the Central Records System (CRS), an extensive system of records consisting of applicant, investigative, intelligence, personnel, administrative, and general files compiled and maintained by the FBI in the course of fulfilling its dual law enforcement and intelligence mission as well as the performance of agency administrative and personnel functions. The CRS spans the entire FBI organization and encompasses the records of FBI Headquarters (FBIHQ), FBI Field Offices, and FBI Legal Attaché Offices (Legats) worldwide. A CRS search includes Electronic Surveillance (ELSUR) records.
- (ii) FBI Records. Founded in 1908, the FBI carries out a dual law enforcement and national security mission. As part of this dual mission, the FBI creates and maintains records on various subjects; however, the FBI does not maintain records on every person, subject, or entity.
- (iii) Requests for Criminal History Records or Rap Sheets. The Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) Division provides Identity History Summary Checks – often referred to as a criminal history record or rap sheets. These criminal history records are not the same as material in an investigative "FBI file." An Identity History Summary Check is a listing of information taken from fingerprint cards and documents submitted to the FBI in connection with arrests, federal employment, naturalization, or military service. For a fee, individuals can request a copy of their Identity History Summary Check. Forms and directions can be accessed at www.fbi.gov/about-us/cjis/identity-history-summary-checks. Additionally, requests can be submitted electronically at www.edo.cjis.gov. For additional information, please contact CJIS directly at (304) 625-5590.
- (iv) The National Name Check Program (NNCP). The mission of NNCP is to analyze and report information in response to name check requests received from federal agencies, for the purpose of protecting the United States from foreign and domestic threats to national security. Please be advised that this is a service provided to other federal agencies. Private citizens cannot request a name check.

Sassy Newcomer

The latest phenomenon in U.S. magazine publishing is Playboy, an oversexed young version of the 23-year-old Esquire. Last week, not yet three years old but selling 688,000 copies, the slick and sassy 50¢ monthly threatened to outstrip Esquire (circ. 778,000) in a circulation fight. Playboy has also spawned a litter of its own imitators, e.g., Playgirl (which it is suing for too close an imitation), Nugget, Rogue, U.S. Male.

Even Esquire has paid the ultimate compliment by shedding some of its latter-day respectability. But Esquire still cannot keep abreast. In its August number Playboy printed four pictures of Cinebabe Anita Ekberg in the nude, taking the edge off Esquire's September portfolio of Ekberg with a few clothes on.

PLAYMATE PILGRIM & EDITOR HEFNER
"Esquire" cannot keep abreast.

Postal Troubles. Playboy has a professional sheen and a formula pitched at male adolescents of all ages, notably those on college campuses, where 25% of its copies are sold. There are breezy short stories, ribald classics, e.g., by Boccaccio, De Maupassant, articles on men's styles, bawdy cartoons, club-car jokes and limericks and a heaping helping of cheese-cake, such as a full-color view of a "Playmate of the Month" (see MILESTONES), sometimes posed by its own staffers, e.g., Subscription Manager Janet Pilgrim, 21. The magazine whets readers' interest by first letting them see what each month's playmate looks like with her clothes on.

The U.S. Post Office also took an interest, denied the magazine second-class mail privileges, charging obscenity. But a federal district court overruled the Post Office last November. Said Playboy's editor-owner, 30-year-old Hugh H. Hefner, incredulously: "Some people think nudity is pornographic."

New Project. Esquire could have spared itself its new competition for only $5. From the age of 15, Chicagoan Hefner longed to work for the men's magazine, made the grade in its promotion department after he got out of the University of Illinois. But he quit when Esquire would not lift its $80-a-week offer for a Manhattan assignment to $85. From his own Near North Side apartment, on less than $11,000, almost all of it borrowed, he launched Playboy.

Though he recently hired Author A. C. (The Exurbanites) Spectorisky as his assistant, Hefner still works seven days a week. He is a nonsmoker, non-coffee-drinker whose major diversion is two dozen bottles of Pepsi-Cola a day. Hefner's office is still the living room of his apartment, across the street from Chicago's Holy Name Cathedral. But at the end of the month Playboy will begin moving from four different Chicago offices to a refurbished (for $500,000), five-story Playboy Building. That will give Hefner room for a new project. He has hired the whole staff of Mad, a short-lived satirical pulp, and out of Playboy's $750,000 profit (before taxes) in 1956, will launch a still unnamed new magazine this winter.

Magazine Ban Barred By Court

Injunction Issued In Port Huron Case

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard Tuesday ordered St. Clair County Prosecutor Wilbur V. Hamm to refrain from interfering with the sale and distribution of Playboy magazine.

At the same time, a spokesman for the Detroit unit of the National Organization for Decent Literature denied that his organization had any part in the prosecutor's action at Port Huron.

The Rev. Paul J. Hickey, moderator of NODL, signed the statement in which he said the ban was imposed by the prosecutor at the request of the distributors of the magazines.

Provisions of the injunction freeing the magazine's sale had been given prior approval by attorneys for the magazine and by Hamm.

The publishing firm charged that Hamm ordered the magazine banned after it appeared on a list compiled by the NODL.

HAMM, THE complaint stated, ordered the Kramer News Co. of Port Huron to discontinue distribution of Playboy.

A similar suit against Hamm, brought by five New York publishers of pocket edition books, will be heard Monday by Federal Judge Thomas P. Thornton.

The publishers seek an injunction and $10,000 damages. They accuse the prosecutor of banning 245 books on the NODL list.

The organization is a private Catholic group, established to screen books and other publications for their morality.

THE NODL statement said Playboy's distributor maintained he needed the ban as a defense against the publisher.

"... The NODL denies that it persuaded or in any way directly or indirectly exercised pressure on the prosecutor to adopt the NODL list," the statement said.

"The indecent magazines were not moving in Port Huron and the request for the prosecutor's letter appears to be strictly a mouse-trap maneuver on the part of the peddlers, producers and printers" of the magazine, Father Hickey's statement said.

"The confusion resulting from the unfair charges of illegal and coercive use of the NODL list prompts us to announce that in the future, the Detroit unit of NODL will not make its list available for the use of any civic or religious groups."

It concluded: "The fight to protect our young people will continue. The American sense of decency of all groups will continue to be offended by the condition of newsstands.

"There never has been and there never will be threats of illegal pressure or of boycott. We do, however, intend to exercise to the fullest the privileges of our citizenship to protest until this city is rid of indecent and lascivious publications.

P. O. BAN ON 'PLAYBOY' OVERRULED

Thru the Mails to the Males

Government lawyers planned to confer today to decide what, if anything, can be done to keep Brigitte Bardot from spinning out of a towel into the homes of subscribers to Playboy Magazine.

They had to decide first whether to appeal to the Supreme Court from a ruling that the Post Office Department must lift for at least five days its ban against sending the November issue thru the mail. The ban was applied by the department after a complaint that the magazine was obscene.

The ruling was handed down here yesterday by Federal District Court Judge David A. Pine. When the Government appealed, Judge Pine was promptly upheld by the U. S. Court of Appeals.

Donald B. MacGuineas, Government attorney who handled the case, said that by now the question of the November issue was "pretty academic," since all copies not already in the mail now probably will be sent off shortly.

NO EFFECT

Herbert B. Warburton, general counsel for the Post Office Department agreed that any Supreme Court action would have little or no effect on the November issue. But he said before his conference with Mr. MacGuineas that he wanted a determination by the High Court for use in future cases.

He said the basic issue was whether the Post Office can stop mailing first and then hold a hearing on whether a publication is obscene—or must hold a hearing before they can halt the mailing.

Copies of the November Playboy, billed as "entertainment for men," contained an article on Miss Bardot showing a male actor in a film sequence playfully stripping a large towel away from the curvaceous French movie star.

MODEL AND ARM

The issue also carried a three-page center color photo of a shapely blond model shielding her modesty only with an arm and a loose-leaf notebook. In addition there were a number of racy cartoons and stories.

All this moved the Post Office on Wednesday to order copies of Playboy withheld from the mails. It said its counsel Warburton, "is of the opinion that the November issue . . . is non-mailable and has instructed the postmaster at Chicago to withhold any additional copies offered for mailing."

a right to impose the ban until it decided whether the magazine was obscene.

Attorneys for Playboy asked for a temporary injunction on the ground that the Government had to hold a hearing before it could ban a magazine for obscenity. The Government contended it had Judge Pine issued a temporary restraining order barring enforcement of Mr. Warburton's instructions for five days. At the end of that time the Government could ask to have the restraint lifted. (UPI)

Magazine Beats Postal Ban in Race for Mails

Playboy Magazine lost its fight yesterday to have District Court tell the Post Office Department never again to hold up mailing issues of the magazine.

But Playboy had already won the controversy over the November issue. The Post Office Department banned the November issues from the mails last Thursday. But on Friday, District Court gave Playboy a five day suspension of the ban.

Yesterday Judge Edward A. Tamm Declined to give Playboy the permanent injunction. He said there was no longer any dispute because all the November issues were mailed within the past five days.

Judge Stays Postal Ban On 'Playboy'

By the Associated Press Alb

Subscribers to Playboy magazine apparently will get their November issue by mail after all.

The Post Office Department announced Wednesday it had halted mailing privileges for the magazine pending a legal check of its contents.

But the magazine's publishers obtained a temporary injunction against the postal ban yesterday, and the United States Court of Appeals refused to set aside the District Court order.

The injunction issued by District Judge David A. Pine was only for five days. But Leo Knoll, assistant general counsel for the Post Office, noted that "in that time circulation will have been completed" on the November issue.

Mr. Knoll said contents of the magazine "do not seem bad enough" to justify criminal action under a law banning obscene matter from the mails.

The court order did not deal with contents of the magazine, but only with the legal right of the department to stop mailings in advance of a formal hearing.

Mr. Knoll said Post Office and Justice Department attorneys would study today whether the matter should be taken before the Supreme Court.

The Post Office Department acted against the magazine after getting a complaint from the Churchmen's Commission for Decent Publications, an interdenominational Protestant group.

The publishers said the magazine has not changed since it was granted a permanent second-class mailing permit last June.

Mabley's Report:

Hugh Defends Blue Hue in His Magazine

BY JACK MABLEY

IF THE JUNE ISSUE of Playboy magazine is to be judged obscene, the city of Chicago must prove the entire issue was "predominantly appealing to prurient interest and utterly without redeeming social importance."

This is the contention of the publisher, Hugh Hefner, who has begun his legal defense out of court. The defense is in the latest issue of the Chicago-published magazine. The trial is scheduled for Oct. 7 in Municipal court.

Hefner obviously feels it cannot be demonstrated that the whole magazine is without redeeming social importance.

Hefner was arrested in his lavish State street home last June and charged with publishing obscenity because of a series of pictures of Jayne Mansfield, an actress.

The pictures, of Miss Mansfield naked with a man, were coarse, cheap, vulgar, utterly without taste. The court will decide whether they were legally obscene.

JACK MABLEY
... when is obscenity clothed in legality?

This is a rather awkward act of a defendant trying his own case in his own magazine. Hefner's main point is that even if the Mansfield pictures were obscene — and he says they weren't — he could not be held guilty of publishing obscenity because the rest of the magazine has some degree of redeeming social importance.

PLAYBOY NOW IS SELLING some 2 million copies a month. Each issue contains two color sections of nude females, almost unvaryingly coarse, cheap, vulgar, and utterly without taste.

My guess is that Playboy might sell 160,000 or so copies without the nudes. The food and sports car pictures are attractive.

Hefner writes in his defense:

"In order to be considered obscene, the June issue must also, in the words of Justice Harlan, 'be deemed so offensive on its face as to affront community standards of decency' and be an 'obnoxiously debasing portrayal of sex . . . that is portrayed in a manner so offensive as to make it unacceptable under current community mores.'"

And this must fit the entire issue, says Hefner. He even includes 103 ads in the issue.

IF THIS VIEW PREVAILS in Municipal court, and thru the appeals courts, and finally in the United States Supreme court, the way will be opened for unrestrained pornography in Playboy and other publications.

If an attempt were made to prosecute them for printing obscenity, their defense could prevail if the magazine included an article on preparing artichokes, or how to hang a squirrel tail on a car aerial.

Two matters dominate the Playboy case. First is whether the Mansfield pictures are obscene. If they are, the second question is whether the publisher is guilty of publishing obscenity.

I didn't have access to Hefner's full defense, and don't know whether he included the key point in the Supreme court decision on which he will lean.

It is that the test of obscenity should be whether the dominant theme, when taken as a whole, to the average person, applying contemporary community standards, "appeals to prurient interest."

THE COURTS have given publishers of vulgarity great leeway. Hefner started out publishing pictures of nudes alone. The next step came with the Mansfield pictures, of a nude female with a fully clothed man.

If the courts continue to grant this license, the next step can be imagined.

The court has given this community the right to define its contemporary standards, and it is time we do. Because if this one gets by, Hefner and his cheap imitators will be in court the next time with the next logical sequence in their version of the glories of commercial sex.

(BRIGITTE)

GOVERNMENT LAWYERS PLANNED TO CONFER TODAY TO DECIDE WHAT, IF ANYTHING, CAN BE DONE TO KEEP BRIGITTE BARDOT FROM SPINNING OUT OF A TOWEL INTO THE HOMES OF SUBSCRIBERS TO PLAYBOY MAGAZINE.

THEY HAD TO DECIDE FIRST WHETHER TO APPEAL TO THE SUPREME COURT FROM A RULING THAT THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT MUST LIFT FOR AT LEAST FIVE DAYS ITS BAN AGAINST SENDING THE NOVEMBER ISSUE THROUGH THE MAIL. THE BAN WAS APPLIED BY THE DEPARTMENT AFTER A COMPLAINT THAT THE MAGAZINE WAS OBSCENE.

THE RULING WAS HANDED DOWN HERE YESTERDAY BY FEDERAL DISTRICT COURT JUDGE DAVID A. PINE. WHEN THE GOVERNMENT APPEALED, PINE WAS PROMPTLY UPHeld BY THE U.S. COURT OF APPEALS. ✓

DONALD B. MACGUINEAS, THE GOVERNMENT ATTORNEY WHO HANDLED THE CASE, SAID THAT BY NOW THE QUESTION OF THE NOVEMBER ISSUE WAS "PRETTY ACADEMIC," SINCE ALL COPIES NOT ALREADY IN THE MAIL NOW PROBABLY WILL BE SENT OFF SHORTLY.

HERBERT B. WARBURTON, GENERAL COUNSEL FOR THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT, AGREED THAT ANY SUPREME COURT ACTION WOULD HAVE LITTLE OR NO EFFECT ON THE NOVEMBER ISSUE. BUT HE SAID BEFORE HIS CONFERENCE WITH MACGUINEAS THAT HE WANTED A DETERMINATION BY THE HIGH COURT FOR USE IN FUTURE CASES.

(PLAYBOY)

FEDERAL DISTRICT JUDGE DAVID A. PINE ORDERED THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT TODAY TO LIFT TEMPORARILY ITS BAN AGAINST SENDING THE NOVEMBER ISSUE OF PLAYBOY MAGAZINE THROUGH THE MAILS.

THE U.S. COURT OF APPEALS IMMEDIATELY UPHELD THE RULING AFTER THE GOVERNMENT APPEALED.

THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT ORDERED COPIES OF PLAYBOY, WHICH IS ADVERTISED AS "ENTERTAINMENT FOR MEN," WITHHELD FROM THE MAILS YESTERDAY FOLLOWING A COMPLAINT THAT IT WAS OBSCENE.

THE DEPARTMENT SAID ITS GENERAL COUNSEL, HERBERT B. WARBURTON, "IS OF THE OPINION THAT THE NOVEMBER ISSUE... IS NON-MAILABLE AND HAS INSTRUCTED THE POSTMASTER AT CHICAGO TO WITHHOLD ANY ADDITIONAL COPIES OFFERED FOR MAILING."

PINE ISSUED A TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER BARRING THE ENFORCEMENT OF WARBURTON'S INSTRUCTIONS FOR FIVE DAYS. AT THE END OF THAT TIME THE GOVERNMENT COULD ASK TO HAVE THE RESTRAINT LIFTED.

BUT DONALD B. MACGUIENEAS, THE GOVERNMENT ATTORNEY WHO HANDLED THE CASE, SAID: "BY THAT TIME THE QUESTION WILL BE ACADEMIC. THE MAGAZINE WILL HAVE BEEN DELIVERED."

WARBURTON WAS NOT AVAILABLE IMMEDIATELY TO SPELL OUT WHAT STEPS, IF ANY, THE DEPARTMENT WILL NOW TAKE.

[redacted] advised SA STEELE on May 22, 1958, that he met EDWARD OPPMAN in [redacted] at Nashville, Tennessee when the photographic firm, Photography, Incorporated, which was operated by OPPMAN, [redacted]

Afterwards, OPPMAN made a photographic portrait of [redacted] Criminal Court Judge CHARLES GILBERT, Nashville, Tennessee. This portrait was [redacted]

The latter said that after meeting OPPMAN in this manner he [redacted]

[redacted] in OPPMAN's business, Photography, Incorporated. Thereafter, the enterprise failed and [redacted]

[redacted] said that OPPMAN apparently was an excellent photographer and never observed anything to indicate that he was engaged in the making of photographs of nude females. [redacted] said, however, that he learned later that the Davidson County Sheriff's Office had investigated OPPMAN following complaints that he was contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He advised that he did not know the details of these alleged complaints but understood that OPPMAN left Nashville before charges could be brought against him. [redacted] said that he understood that OPPMAN had [redacted] who posed for him from time to time as a professional model and that [redacted] who also posed for OPPMAN from time to time.

On May 22, 1958, [redacted]

[redacted] advised SA STEELE that he was acquainted with EDWARD OPPMAN only because OPPMAN operated Photography, Incorporated [redacted]

[redacted] said that OPPMAN left Nashville owing him a bill of $17.00 which he was then trying to collect.

He advised that so far as he knew OPPMAN did not make any nude photographs of women while he operated Photography, Incorporated; however, he had observed a letter received by OPPMAN from Playboy Magazine relative to a photograph made by OPPMAN of [redacted] which photograph [redacted] had observed. The latter said that this photograph was not taken of the subject in the nude but rather it would be classed as the "art type" photograph which are seen frequently in such magazines as Playboy Magazine.

b6
b7D

[redacted] advised SA STEELE on May 22, 1958 that he became acquainted with EDWARD OPPMAN in 1955 when the latter [redacted] at 801 Hillview Heights, Nashville, Tennessee. [redacted] said that so far as he knew OPPMAN was legitimately in the photographic business and knew of his own knowledge that OPPMAN made photographic portraits of several prominent persons at Nashville.

b6
b7D

[redacted] said that at one time he loaned OPPMAN five hundred dollars when OPPMAN became hard pressed for money to operate his business and that OPPMAN left Nashville without repaying this amount of money. He advised that he became thoroughly convinced that OPPMAN was "no good" and had "absolutely no moral scruples" and should be "put in the penitentiary", but said that he had no information to indicate that OPPMAN was in the business of making photographs of nude women. [redacted] said that OPPMAN did [redacted] (LNU), who apparently was [redacted] and said that he understood that [redacted] posed for OPPMAN as a model, but had no information to indicate that the poses were indecent or obscene.

b7D

MYRON L. KING, proprietor, Lyzon Pictures and Frames, 411 Thompson Lane, advised SA STEELE on May 22, 1958 that he became acquainted with EDWARD OPPMAN in 1957 when OPPMAN brought several photographic portraits to [redacted] for framing. KING said that OPPMAN was obviously a very fine photographer and knew that he made portraits of several very prominent persons in the Nashville area whose reputations are above reproach. KING said that he never observed any nude photographs in the possession of OPPMAN and had no information to indicate that he was engaged in taking photographs of nude women. He advised that he felt that OPPMAN was thoroughly dishonest in that he left Nashville owing him about four hundred dollars for picture frames and framing and has heard unconfirmed rumors that OPPMAN left owing others considerable sums of money.

LESLIE SMITH, Investigator, Davidson County Sheriff's Office, advised SA STEELE on May 22, 1958, that he had made an investigation as to the activities of EDWARD OPPMAN, proprietor of Photography, Incorporated during September, 1957 following a complaint that OPPMAN was living with [redacted] and was not believed to [redacted] SMITH indicated that his investigation indicated that OPPMAN had [redacted] and that [redacted] also lived with OPPMAN or hung around [redacted] and OPPMAN's apartment.

b7c

SMITH said that he ascertained that OPPMAN used his [redacted] and the [redacted] as photographic models and that some of the poses were made in various stages of undress; however, SMITH indicated that he received no information to indicate that the photographs of [redacted] were made while they were entirely in the nude. SMITH also indicated that he uncovered no information to indicate OPPMAN was selling obscene photographs or causing them to be transported in interstate commerce. He advised that when OPPMAN learned that he was being investigated that he left Nashville suddenly and has not returned. SMITH said that no charges were filed against OPPMAN during his residency at Nashville.

On May 23, 1958, JOHN MC ALISTER, Finance Department, Third National Bank, advised SA STEELE that he had received a letter from OPPMAN on that date indicating that he was then residing at 1933 Beechwood Drive, Hollywood, California. OPPMAN wrote requesting a reduction in the amount of the monthly payments on his car which request was not granted by the bank.

On May 24, 1958, DON CRAVENS, Sharondale Drive, Life Magazine photographer, advised SA STEELE that he was acquainted with EDWARD OPPMAN, having met him during World War II when OPPMAN was assigned as a photographer in a branch of the Armed Forces. CRAVENS advised that in 1955 OPPMAN came to Nashville and formed Photography, Incorporated and he, CRAVENS, joined OPPMAN in this venture. He advised that the venture was not successful and the business finally collapsed.

CRAVENS advised that to his personal knowledge OPPMAN did not engage in taking photographs of nude women while in business in Nashville, but rather he was legitimately engaged in portrait photography and did some work for local department stores in advertising work. In this connection he said that he performed some photography depicting women wearing lingerie which was used in advertising matter by Harvey's Department Store. He advised that this may have given some the impression that he was engaged in the making of obscene photographs.

CRAVENS said that he felt that OPPMAN was thoroughly dishonest and did not care for him personally but was certain that OPPMAN was not in the business of making photographs of nude women while in Nashville.

On April 9, 1958 DAYTON POTTS, Circuit Clerk, Corinth, Mississippi, produced marriage record book number 126. which on Page 375, reflects EDWARD Z. OPPMAN and [redacted] were married [redacted] at Corinth, Mississippi. They were married by HOMER RICHARDSON, Justice of the Peace, Corinth, Mississippi. The only witness was a [redacted] Nashville, Tennessee, who stated she was the [redacted] and [redacted] to marry OPPMAN. [redacted] listed her age as [redacted] and OPPMAN gave his age as thirty. The only address for OPPMAN was listed as Nashville, Tennessee.

It is to be noted the marriage records in the Circuit Clerk's Office, Corinth, Mississippi, do not reflect a marriage between EDWARD ZUKOR OPPMAN and [redacted] HEFNER believes that is the reason why the FBI received a complaint concerning activities by him in obscene matters. HEFNER stated he has no knowledge of obscene matter activities by EDWARD OPPMAN. On May 15, 1958, JAMES WARFIELD BURKE, 8668 Lonrdale Circle, Dallas, Texas, was interviewed by SA MILTON L. NEWSOM. Mr. BURKE stated he has known EDWARD OPPMAN since around 1945, when he met OPPMAN in Berlin, Germany. Mr. BURKE advised that he was a war correspondent at the time and OPPMAN was operating the PX Photo Shop connected with the 8th Airborne Division of the Army. He stated that since he has known OPPMAN, OPPMAN has continued to work in the photography field. He said OPPMAN left Berlin in 1948 or 1949, and returned to Chicago, Illinois, where he was in the photography business. He said OPPMAN then went to Nashville, Tennessee, and opened a photography studio. BURKE advised that OPPMAN wanted him to invest some money in the studio at Nashville, but BURKE declined to do so. BURKE explained that OPPMAN always appeared to be a good, likeable person, but he was not a good businessman and had not made any money in the photography business.

BURKE advised that he has never known OPPMAN to deal in obscene photographs or other material of that nature. He said OPPMAN has always taken nude pictures of models and at times has shown him various pictures of this type. He stated he has never known OPPMAN to try to sell these pictures and does not believe OPPMAN took them for any illegal use. He advised that OPPMAN had one model named [redacted] when he was in business in Chicago of whom he made several nude photographs. He said this model is [redacted]. He advised that OPPMAN turned the nude pictures of [redacted] over to local authorities in Chicago when [redacted] became popular. He said he understood this was voluntary on OPPMAN's part.

He said OPPMAN was in Dallas around July 4, 1957, with [redacted]. He stated OPPMAN and the [redacted] stayed at his home for two or three days. He advised that OPPMAN told him he was working for Playboy Magazine at the time. BURKE stated there was no immoral activity whatever connected with OPPMAN's visit. He recalled [redacted]. He said he has not seen or heard from OPPMAN since that time.

b7C

On June 2, 1958, HUGH HEENER, telephonically contacted SA BROWN and stated that [redacted] had indicated to him that the FBI had been making inquiries about his activities and requested an interview with Bureau Agents.

b7C

On June 3, 1958, HUGH MARSTON HEFNER was interviewed at his office, 232 East Ohio Street, by Special Agents HAROLD M. BROWN and RUSSELL R. DEGRUE. HEFNER advised that he began the publication of "Playboy" Magazine about two years. He moved to the present address of "Playboy" Magazine, 232 East Ohio Street, and signed a long term lease for a period of ten years, and by oral agreement with [redacted] he was to have an option to buy this property. HEFNER stated that he immediately completed the remodeling of the building at a cost in excess of $300,000, which was borne by the stockholders of "Playboy" Magazine. HEFNER said that when he started negotiations with [redacted] for purchase of the building, [redacted] refused to sell him the building and for a period of several months he had numerous arguments with [redacted] and was harrassed by [redacted]. He said that [redacted] disconnected his lights and entered numerous complaints with the Chicago Police Department concerning his activities at "Playboy" and employed private detective agencies to check his activities, all of which were [redacted] way to build up to eviction proceedings against "Playboy."

b7c

HEFNER stated that he received the eviction notice from [redacted] in January, 1958, and through his attorney he filed a suit against [redacted] $150,000 which is presently pending in local courts.

b7c

HEFNER advised that he has never shot any movie or any other type of film which would not pass Eastman censorship and as a matter of fact all of his photographs are processed through Eastman Kodak. He said that to his knowledge no one at "Playboy" has at any time taken obscene photographs on the premises of "Playboy". HEFNER stated that he has been accused of having wild parties in the offices of "Playboy" but, he emphatically denied any party activities at this address and stated that he occupies sleeping quarters at the rear of his office on the 4th floor of the building in which "Playboy" is quartered. HEFNER stated that he employs a number of young girls, but if he were to become intimate with any one of these girls, it would cast a bad reflection on his magazine and he is responsible to too many people to even think of dating his employees.

HEFNER stated that he is separated from his wife, but that is a personal matter and has nothing whatever to do with "Playboy" magazine or it's employees.

CG 145-190

HEFNER stated that it is seldom that he leaves Chicago, and if he does it is a business trip for "Playboy" Magazine. HEFNER stated that he feels that magazine is comparable with "Esquire" Magazine, that he has numerous reputable national advertisers in "Playboy" Magazine and it has taken him quite sometime to develop this advertising medium. HEFNER said that his magazine has a wider circulation than "Esquire."

HEFNER stated that he was first acquainted with EDWARD OPPMAN by telephone after OPPMAN sent prints of OPPMAN's, [redacted] to be carried in "Playboy" as the Playgirl of [redacted] issue of "Playboy" Magazine. HEFNER stated that the prints appeared to be the type of photography which are used by "Playboy", so he informed OPPMAN that this girl would be considered for the Playgirl of the Month, but he needed additional prints before an agreement could be reached.

b7c

HEFNER said that his next contact with OPPMAN was in his office in January, [redacted] HEFNER stated that after a couple of interviews with OPPMAN and conferences with his staff, it was agreed that [redacted] would be the Playgirl for the [redacted] issue of "Playboy."

b7c

HEFNER said that OPPMAN was around "Playboy" almost consistently while the [redacted] issue of "Playboy" was being compiled during late February and early March, [redacted] HEFNER stated that the January issue of "Playboy" carried a teenage girl and action was brought against him and the mother of the girl in local court, but the case was dismissed and charges dropped against him. He said that as a result of this court action, he obtained all available information on all girls desiring their photograph to appear as Playgirl as well as the photographer who represents the girl.

b7c

HEFNER stated that he checked OPPMAN's background and determined that he had a police record so he therefore severed all relations with OPPMAN and has since heard that OPPMAN is now some place in California. HEFNER stated that he never discussed obscene matters with OPPMAN, that he never saw OPPMAN with obscene photographs or other obscene matters. HEFNER stated that in his opinion OPPMAN would be the type individual who might become involved in obscene matters.

Hefner Arrested on Obscenity Charge

Photos of Jayne Are Cited

Hugh Hefner, 37, editor and publisher of Playboy magazine and entrepreneur of the Playboy clubs, was arrested yesterday on a charge of publishing and circulating an obscene magazine.

Hefner

The charge is based on the June 6 issue of the magazine, which contains full color photographs of Jayne Mansfield, screen celebrity. She is pictured naked and nearly naked.

Arrested in Home

Hefner was arrested in his home at 1340 N. State pkwy., and was accompanied to the central police building at 1121 S. State st. by two lawyers, George N. Leighton and Maurice Rosenfield.

He was taken to the 13th floor where he was fingerprinted and photographed, and then to the First district police station on the first floor, where he posted $400 cash bond. Hearing was set for June 25 in South State Street court.

Neither Hefner nor his lawyers would comment on his arrest.

Judge Examines Magazine

The arrest was made on a warrant issued by Judge Norman N. Eiger in Municipal court on complaint of the corporation counsel's office. The complaint and warrant were presented to the judge by Brian Kilgallon and Emanuel Port, assistants corporation counsel, together with a copy of the magazine.

After examining the magazine, Judge Eiger said he was satisfied that probable cause existed for the issuance of the warrant. He made it plain that that is the only issue he ruled on. The matter of whether Miss Mansfield's pictures are art or obscenity must await judicial determination.

The warrant was taken to Hefner's home by Sgt. Joseph Mildice and Detectives Robert DeVogelear, John Kane, and Warren Mason of the prostitution and obscenity unit of the police vice control division.

Blonde Gives Him Away

They were admitted by Hefner's house boy, Ralph Brown, who, after disappearing into the interior of the house, reported that Hefner was not home. Just then, however, Mildice said, a blonde came tripping down the stairs, and apparently not recognizing them as policemen, asked, "Are you looking for Hugh?"

When they said they were, she told them, "He's upstairs."

The policemen then went upstairs, but were unable to open the door of Hefner's private office. After nearly an hour, the attorneys appeared, went inside, and then surrendered Hefner.

Wears Pink Cardigan

He was wearing a pink cardigan sweater, white sports shirt and dark colored slacks. He asked permission to change into a business suit.

The warrant charges violation of a city ordinance prohibiting obscenity.

The complaint contains two counts, one that Hefner published and circulated an obscene magazine, the other specifying pages of the magazine containing the photographs of Miss Mansfield.

Hugh Hefner's Arrest

HUGH HEFNER, PUBLISHER of Playboy magazine, has been arrested and faces trial June 25 on two counts of violating the city's obscenity laws. The material that led to his arrest is an 8-page section of photos in the magazine, showing a well-endowed movie female sprawling about in various stages of nudity.

The actual issue here is how far a magazine can go in presenting this kind of display. Hefner's philosophy appears to be that the "modern urban male" likes and even needs to look at pictures of naked, suggestively posed women; that this is a very healthy and virile way to be, and that it's practically a duty to encourage the habit—the law should have no right to interfere.

Our view is that mass-produced lewdness can have a weakening, damaging effect on the moral framework of a community, and that the community should have—and use—means of restraining it.

Incidentally, we're glad to see that Postmaster Harry Semrow has notified Washington of the legal steps against Hefner and his magazine. We hope some other cities—including those with purer reputations than Chicago's—follow the example being set here.

Jayne's Pictures Called 'Obscene'

BY TOM LEACH

The June issue of Playboy magazine has been denounced as "obscene and suggestive" by the assistant corporation counsel in charge of enforcing the city's obscenity laws.

Brian M. Kilgallon, head of the ordinance enforcement division, said he is confident of obtaining a conviction against Hugh M. Hefner, publisher of the magazine, who is charged with two counts of publishing and selling an obscene magazine.

Hefner said he was confident that he will be acquitted.

The June issue of the magazine features eight pages of color and black and white pictures of Jayne Mansfield, shapely movie star, in various naked and semi-naked poses.

Confident of Acquittal

Hefner was arrested last night at his swank residence at 140 N. State pkwy. by Sgt. Joseph Mildice and three other policemen of the prostitution and obscene matter unit of the vice control division. The policemen were kept waiting by the Playboy publisher for more than an hour.

Released on Bond

Hefner was taken to the police headquarters at 1121 S. State st., where he was photographed, finger printed, and released on $400 bond, for appearance June 25 in South State Street court.

One complaint charges the magazine is obscene, the other specifies the Mansfield photos.

Kilgallon warned that distributors of the June issue are putting themselves in danger of being arrested for selling obscene matter.

He added, however, that he has no immediate plans to ask for such arrests.

Waiting a Few Days

"We're going to wait a few days to see if the distributors continue to sell this issue," he said. "The best way to combat this sort of thing is for people not to buy the magazine."

Kilgallon said his office has been watching Playboy for several months, but "this is the first time that we have had enough to proceed against them."

In 1959, the Chicago Transit authority banned sales of Playboy and similar magazines in "L" and subway stations.

What puts the magazine in the area of obscenity, rather than art, is a male model and the suggestive captions used in the pictures of Miss Mansfield, Kilgallon said.

Manuel L. Port, assistant corporation counsel who will prosecute the case, cited two pictures and captions which he said are particularly obscene.

Sold to Juveniles

In the pictures, Miss Mansfield is lying naked on a bed, while a man sits on the edge.

Port said the magazine, sold widely thruout the country, is often purchased by juveniles.

Hefner estimates sales of the June issue will exceed 2 million copies. This will be a record for the magazine launched by Hefner late in 1953, he said.

The arrest was made on a warrant issued by Judge Norman N. Eiger in Municipal court on a complaint by the corporation counsel's office.

Eiger said there was probable cause for the issuance of the warrant, but he added that the issue of obscenity will have to await judicial determination.

Complaints Received

Mildice said he turned over several issues of Playboy to the corporation counsel's office for an obscenity opinion after he received complaints about the.

Hefner, after his arrest, said he saw nothing obscene in the Miss Mansfield pictures.

"Someone is not in touch with the sentiments of the 20th century," said the 37-year-old publisher. "Their reasoning is inconsistent. This issue is not obscene, but is tailored to the tastes of the modern, urban male."

He said pictures of other nude stars and starlets will be featured in later issues.

Fine Is Maximum Penalty

Maximum penalty on the two city charges is a fine of $200 each.

The photographs were shot for Playboy on the set of a Hollywood movie production, "Promises, Promises!"

Miss Mansfield's press agent, Jet Fore, said in a phone interview from Beverly Hills that the star did not consider the Playboy pictures obscene.

The press agent said Miss Mansfield saw and approved the pictures before they were published. The buxom starlet is in Europe making a foreign picture, he said.

NOTE:

Chicago previously advised the Bureau of the complaint being filed against Hefner concerning the June, 1963, issue of Playboy magazine and particularly the photographs of Jayne Mansfield. Chicago airtel 6-5-63 suggested Bureau may want to consider presenting this magazine to the Department re possible prosecution for ITOM violation because of Playboy's nationwide circulation. Mr. Carl W. Belcher of the Criminal Division advised while discussing another matter that he is aware of the local charge against Hefner and thinks it is ridiculous. Accordingly, it would not appear warranted to present this matter to the Department.

New Judge Granted in Hefner Case

Hugh Hefner, 37, publisher of Playboy magazine, Tuesday was granted a change of venue from a spinster judge for his trial on charges of circulating obscene literature.

He asked for the change on the grounds that Municipal Judge Helen McGillicuddy was prejudiced, but did not elaborate on his prejudice charge.

Hefner, who appeared in court, also asked that the case not be assigned to Judge Charles P. Horan, who teams with Judge McGillicuddy to hear most of Municipal Court's obscenity cases.

The case was finally assigned to Judge Nicholas J. Matkovic, who will rule July 25 on motions to dismiss the charges.

The publisher has asked for a jury trial on charges that nude photographs of Jayne Mansfield, a movie actress, in the magazine's June issue were obscene.

Playboy's Nude Pix of Jayne, 'Obscene'

CHICAGO, June 5 (UPI) — Hugh Hefner, publisher of Playboy magazine and boss of a string of Playboy "key clubs," faced obscenity charges today for publishing photographs of bosomy actress Jayne Mansfield.

Police got a warrant for Mr. Hefner yesterday after taking a look at the current issue of "Playboy," which features a series of pictures of Miss Mansfield in the nude and semi-nude.

Assistant Corporation Counsels Brian Kilgallon and Emanuel Port took a copy of the magazine to Municipal Judge Norman N. Eiger yesterday and he issued a warrant charging Mr. Hefner with publishing and circulating an obscene magazine.

Judge Eiger said the issue of whether the pictures of Miss Mansfield are art or something else could wait on a later judicial ruling.
