The Real Antonio Luper of Interpals Exposed – by Bo Chen a long time former Interpals member and moderator

Often in life reality isn't what it seems. The truth is that many times upon second (or third or fourth, etc) glance we realize we just don't really know anything at all. Appearances, perceptions, and our own ideals of how things should be or how people ought to act can often lead us astray.

My name is Bo, and this is my story and encounter with the Interpals online pen paling experience. And it is also my own revelation that – ironically – I've come to find that on the Internet, appearances are illusive and an online buddy or friend who you thought you knew so well can someday turn out to be not who or what you had once imagined or expected.

I've always like penpal-ing and over the years I've been on and off the Interpals.net website since approximately 1999. Personally I've witnessed the metamorphosis, changes and growth of the Interpals and its transformation from strictly "newspapers-like" online classifieds to a full-fledged social networking service armed with myspace/facebook/twitter copycat innovations such as "walls", instant messaging, forums, group chat, "friends" list, bookmarking, and etc.

A while ago I was even a volunteer profile moderator on Interpals working with two other volunteer mods by the then InterPals usernames of "Gotterkind" (Brad aka HazMat) and "Whitewolf" (Jeremy)... We had fun exterminating Nigerian scammers and Russian sex scams and annoying stuff that deteriorated the site experience. And there was also this 30 year old computer hacker named Spy_Phoenix (Matt from down south Australia) who liked to come on to cause troubles and stir up controversy on the forums, we had a love-hate relationship with him, but overall it was fun! We were all three of us working under the Interpals sole (only) site owner, developer, and creator Mr. Antonio Luper. At the time I didn't know much about Antonio, other than the fact that he was close to my age (we were both born in 1985) and that he started the Interpals.net site when he was just barely 13 years ago living in Tacoma Washington area.. and that somehow he later moved and relocated to live in Moscow, Russia.. but was still running the site online and actively developing new and improved features with the help of 'Whitewolf' (Jeremy) So when he saw that I was active on the site and asked me if I wanted to volunteer to help, I of course agreed and said yes. Little did I know that would be one of the worst decisions of my life.

Now let me start from the end and work back towards the middle and beginning again. Interpals.net (InterPals, LLC) the online penpaling website is owned by one person only : Mr. Antonio R Luper (born in 1985) of Tacoma, WA. He grew up with his parents Norma D Ramirez and David A Luper living at 819 N Washington St, Tacoma, WA 98406.. Even though

I've known Antonio for many years, he is a very private and secretive guy (his own InterPals profile was blank and not even filled out until just this later half of the year!) and it took a lot of digging through public records and freely available sources to find all this information. It appears he is also the owner of a now defunct "Webqual" Web Design company of which he is the sole owner and employee. During the beginning InterPals was designed using "Webqual" and later it became so popular that Antonio decided to work full time on the project and devoted much of his attention to improve the service and harvesting as many users as possible. He has a personal website located at <http://www.lupher.com/> and it appears he created many other much lesser well known sites in the past such as his Civil War Music site <http://www.civilwarmusic.net/>

Antonio went to Harvard University and received a world class education. He interned at Intern (Systems) at D.E. Shaw & Co., L.P and also he interned and free-lanced at The Moscow Times helping to write articles. Later he immigrated and relocated to Russia (the former USSR) and re-educated himself at Moskovskij Gosudarstvennyj Institut Meždunarodnyh Otnošenij (Universitet) and Sankt-Peterburgskij Gosudarstvennyj Universitet. The last time I communicated with him on good terms he told me he was still going to school and had a busy semester. So I suppose these days he's still residing/hiding somewhere in Moscow.

Antonio (he calls himself "A") speaks and writes fluent English, he's pretty good at Spanish too, and I suppose he has an excellent grasp of the Russian language.

But for now let me just tell you this: Antonio Lupher also goes by the username of "Mefistofele" and "Mefistofele85".. One of his many IP addresses (not my fault he publicly revealed it on Wikipedia) is 195.98.183.132 and he usually likes browsing the web on his Safari web browser on that iMac of his from Moscow Russia. To the best of my knowledge his parents still live in Tacoma, Washington and he claims to run Interpals from "the United States".. He can be contacted at support@interpals.net, and also alupher@gmail.com, interpals@gmail.com, among many other personal and professional email addresses.

This guy is quite a sly and cunning and devious underhanded backstabbing hypocritical fellow I must tell and warn you. If I could have sent this letter back in time to myself a couple of years ago I would have saved myself a lot of headache and betray and undue emotional distress. But anyways, I digress.. The world sure ain't what it seems now is it?

Antonio would have made a great actor.. because I say this because of all the things I know about him, what has been revealed to me is his defining characteristic is his unsettling ability to "act", to misinform, to spread disinformation, to propagandize, and I believe the ultimate "inside job" – which is to fool and deceive even he himself! Maybe he would make a great politician too!

For example, back in Nov of 2008 he bashed the WorldFriends website on StartupMeme tech blog saying :

"You're absolutely right — I just don't think the $25/mo. business model is going to work. I much prefer InterPals (<http://www.interpals.net>) — same language exchange, penpal, dating, etc. features, but for free."

[\[Reply\]](#)

So the dude pretends to be this innocent little unbiased “mefistofele85” with no vested interest of affiliation to InterPals? Who is he kidding? He says he “much prefer[s] InterPals”? You don't say! If I was the owner of a site heck I'd much prefer my own site too!

Then if that wasn't enough he continues to bash WorldFriends again, but this time on TechCrunch:

"Wow, I've got to agree with you guys on that one -- $25 is an utterly ludicrous amount to pay for the features they offer you.

I'm a regular on InterPals (<http://www.interpals.net>) which is basically the same -- language exchange, penpals, cultural exchange, etc., but completely free (and I've got to say the design is a lot better).

As Ross points out, TC kind of misrepresented WF (it's more of a dating site than a social network) -- but this isn't immediately clear even when you go to the site (they try to rope you in with the "sign up for free" bs). Still, I would definitely recommend checking out the legitimate free competitors out there (but hey, this is more controversial, which is always good!). Sites abound: interpals, italki, mailfriends, xlingo, etc.

Anyway, just my 2¢ "

This is going to permanently make me look at things a whole new way (ie be more suspicious and cautious) everytime I hear the words “just my 2 cents” uttered out of anyone’s mouth ever again. Thanks a lot Antonio.

So he’s “a regular on InterPals” huh? Technically that isn’t a lie. But damn I just am speechless..... And to troll that TC kind of Misrepresented? Geez.. He’s one to talk about misrepresentations!

A little whiles laterz he has this to say for himself:

“mefistofele85 说:,

Try InterPals instead! <http://www.interpals.net> “

Well I’ll say one thing, the guy does know how to self promote! (while keeping a plausible “unbiased” cover) And this brings us to some recent transgressions of unethical behavior... It is like those commercials.. Try my XYZ whitelabel product instead! Try this! Here try it please?! Pretty plz....

Antonio created (three unsuccessful attempts) Interpals page at Wikipedia.org but all three times it was promptly deleted by admins..

So he was accused by Wikipedia admins of “blatant copyright infringement” and “blatant advertising, used only to promote someone or something”.. Having your own wiki entry removed three times may have discouraged most people, but obviously it didn’t stop Antonio. You see, Wikipedia entries are case-sensitive, which means an article for “Interpals” is not the same as an article for “InterPals”.. So lets see:

Not covered by reliable sources, therefore fails both the notability and the verification (beyond that it exists) tests. Oh and if you search for this make sure you don't confuse it with InterPal an entirely separate organisation or Interpal (the international pallet association) or any of the other organisations that uses Interpals as a name in some way.
Cameron Scott (talk) 11:26, 28 May 2010 (UTC)

I agree that there may be some notability issues here, but it does have an Alexa ranking of around 11,000 which pretty high (relative to many other sites in the social networking category). Not sure if that makes a difference, though. Mefistofele (talk) 11:30, 28 May 2010 (UTC)

I thought about that but the problem is still, it's not what you are, it's what people (reliable sources) write about you and reliable sources simply aren't writing about this company. If someone could find some decent sources, I'd be happy. --Cameron Scott (talk) 12:13, 28 May 2010 (UTC)

I've added a few more sources, but am not sure that this they're reliable enough. Any advice? Thanks! Mefistofele (talk) 12:41, 28 May 2010 (UTC)

I swear, if I hear the dude use the word "Thanks!" one more God Damn time I'm going to fucking throw up! Thanks! But seriously, look at how desperately this Antonio aka Mefistofele is trying to convince the Wiki admins to not delete his un-sourced entry of blatant self promotion! Thanks!

What makes this all the more supremely ironic is the fact that a few hours prior to this incident Antonio under the guise of Mefistofele and "195.98.183.132" had pretended not to be affiliated with Interpals! Thanks!

You see, a while ago I added a "Criticism" section to InterPals Wikipedia entry.. (I'll explain what I was criticizing later..) But suffice it to say, Antonio got on under Wikipedia accounts of Mefistofele and 195.98.183.132 and removed my criticism section stating:

"Removed criticism section, as it seems to be an instance of a single disgruntled user + personal blog instead of widespread debate/controversy;also couldn't verify sources-where was "owner" name from?"

Now unless he was the site owner of Interpals himself how the heck could he have known this was a "single disgruntled user"? But it gets funnier still.. He goes on to say that "also couldn't verify sources-where was "owner" name from?" So this faggot Antonio Luper expects us to believe he fucking did a Bourne Identity on us all and forget his own fucking name? Are you k-i-d-d-i-n-g- me? -T-H-A-N-K-S-!-

From his own personal "talk" page on Wikipedia for Mefistofele he proceeds to "undo" my exposure of him and erases what I wrote back in reply by commenting and stating the following:

"removed some crazy allegations (what was that?)"

Really know, What indeed was that? What was DAT? WAAAAAA WUUUZ DAAAAAAA?

Am I beginning to sound crazy now?

On Wikipedia he furthermore denies that the owner of the site is Antonio Luper, stating that I don't have any "proof" or source to document this as a fact.. Hmmm.. let me guess.. any of the dozens of long time Interpals members can back me up on this one. I was a moderator on the site for Christ sakes! He states that the owner is not in Russia and that this is because the web records show that Interpals is registered in the United States.. Hmmm... let me guess.. Another nice one. I guess he should know better than anyone else why exactly he fled to Russia.. In addition to forgetting his own name, now he forgets that he is the owner of Interpals and has to 'lookup' the public whois web records to determine where it was registered to in order to extrapolate the geographical location of the Interpals, LLC? Give me a fucking break! But hey if it was all to put on an elaborate show for the Wiki admins so they don't erase his promotional Wiki entry of his own website then why not right? Right? So Mefistofele pretends he is not 195.98.183.132 and ‘both’ of them pretend not to know who “Antonio” is.. and all three of “them” are denying any associating with Interpals? Damn and I thought the CIA/NSA was good, how many identities can this guy keep up in this mind?! Maybe all that Harvard education is finally put into good use now! The right hand pretends not to know the left hand. Oh the games we play.

But that’s not the half of it. After I linked to lupher.com which basically implicates him as the owner of Interpals (and implicates him as biased editor with a vested interest in portraying Interpals in the best possible light on Wikipedia) he almost immediately erases the reference/link to Interpals.net from his personal lupher.com page. The lupher.com page hadn’t changed in many years (as recorded by http://web.archive.org/web/*/http://www.lupher.com) It has always displayed his full name and linked to both his Interpals and Civil War Music site. Yet hours after my damning exposure of his lies on Wikipedia by linking to external link lupher.com he edits the page to remove any references to Interpals. Luckily he didn’t anticipate that I had used a third-party web archiving service called backupurl to “backup” his lupher.com just in case he would do such a thing!

So I backed up a version here: www.backupurl.com/6bmtii And guess what? As typically can be expected from a sly ass bastard such as himself, Antonio removes the link to Interpals on his lupher website.. And yet I was wrong when I said he didn’t anticipate that I had used a third-party web archiving tool to take a snapshot of his website, because a couple of hours after that, I find that he undid the change and re-uploaded the Interpals link to his lupher.com website (but somehow mysteriously removed any references to Moscow Times – did he forget about the Google cache? That doesn’t make (ad)sense for a guy that runs an online pen pal site sponsored by that OTHER Google CASH!) so now it appears he didn’t change anything at all.. And since I had already reported him for his earlier underhanded tactic, it would turn around and make me look like quite the lunatic for anyone who investigated this AFTER he had made the second change of putting everything back! But alas I was one step ahead of him again. Looky look at this:

<http://www.backupurl.com/negwi3>

Yeah that’s right. Eat your heart out Antonio! Man this dude is sly isn’t he? Or maybe he can’t make up his mind? Too many voices in your head A?

In addition to all of this, Antonio promoted himself and his site on sites such as aboutus.org and many others.

I was not at all surprised to find that the earliest “contributions” (wikitext) of the Interpals.net page came from “mefistofele”.. What kind of faggot ass sounding username is that? Maybe he as a secret fetish of wanting to be anal fisted?

If you ever want to tell him to fist himself on Interpals here is your chance!: www.interpals.net/Mefistofele

His other (currently known) profiles are: www.interpals.net/adsense and www.interpals.net/antonio and www.interpals.net/interpals

By now you must be wondering what exactly I criticized of him and his InterPals on the Wikipedia page? Well before he deleted my criticism section I had already archived it and it (I myself) said this:

“InterPals site admin and owner Antonio Lupher [1] [2] has been accused of allegedly hacking into private user accounts using a built-in backdoor system to monitor and masquerade as any InterPals user. [3] He has furthermore admitted via chat transcripts made available through InterPals support correspondence of hijacking multiple user accounts and perpetrating and masquerading as those users without said user's knowledge nor permission. This may potentially have led to serious breaches of trust and direct violations of InterPals own Terms of Service [4] and Privacy Policy. [5]”

So what was the matter? In a nutshell, everything can be explained at this link:

http://docs.google.com/View?id=ddkxgdtN_0hc85sxc6 and in case Antonio reads this and get Google to delete it I've already backed it up here: <http://www.backupurl.com/kraci7>

I personally, empirically, unequivocally caught Antonio spying on my private InterPals account (whilst I hadn't even violated any Terms of Service, mind you!) using a built-in “backdoor interface system” that allows super-moderators/super-admin (aka only Antonio himself) to “log in” to any user account just as if he was that user himself/herself.. without the need to reset any passwords, and he can be concurrently logged in while the user is still logged in and thus giving no indications of any breach of privacy going on. He claimed in the past that his backend tool was only used to investigate users that had broken the Terms of Service or had otherwise been an elaborate fake on the site.

But spying is one thing. Antonio went over the line. He crossed it by a thousand miles all the way to Russia and infinity and beyond! He used Google to search for all references of my name and hunted on the internet and many other penpal sites to find any and all profiles, photos, personal information, profile self-descriptions, websites, etc that he could find and then he helped himself to his not only spy on my Interpals account, and not only masquerade as me, but perpetrate my identity to the ultimate level by adding and injecting private (and previously undisclosed) information of me on my InterPals profile (including a high resolution photo/portrait, my actual date of birth, my self descriptions from other social networking sites, etc..) and if that wasn't even enough he continued to BROWSE underage girls using MY interpals profile (and back then everyone could see who viewed everyone else!), and when still logged in to my profile he changed my live feed status, and “befriended” many people that I would never befriend on the site. He did this all while I was sound asleep, and the really ironic thing about all of this is while he was doing all of this, concurrently and simultaneously he was already writing me a “condolence” message/letter from his real Interpals Antonio account www.interpals.net/antonio

Subject: Hey there =)

Hey Bo,

Glad to see you're back. Sad to see you're so unhappy with us. What did we "incompetent and tyrannical admins" do exactly to drive you away? And why did you never mention this until now? You were full of excellent and constructive ideas when you were here, and I wish I had the time to implement more of them. Many are still in the works, though. And they were certainly appreciated.

What is this about not wanting your old profile deleted? We just received reports on it today -- from the German proxy you often use -- asking us to delete it. I assumed that was you -- guess it must have been Spy (I doubt it was Brad). If you want it reinstated, that's not a problem, just let me know. But why keep it if you're locked out of it and don't use it? Just FYI, we're thinking of implementing a 6-month suspension policy, where old accounts get deactivated (after an email warning) to keep things current and up to date.

Oh, and what's with the "InterPals Guide to Law Enforcements"? Decided to see whether InterPals can draw the same sort of scrutiny as Yahoo? =)) I wish... unfortunatelâ€y, we're hardly big enough for the media to make a scandal out of us. Especially when the document itself is forged! Geez, if you have that much time on your hands, why not come back and help blast the Nigerian scammers? And Spy's a lot more fun when he's not on your side -- trust me =)) It's actually kind of fun tracking him down, and unfortunatelâ€y, when he's on your side, he's boring.

Antonio

So obvious I was pissed and confronted him with this. Initially I had remarked on the Interpals forum (www.interpals.net/phpBB/) that my account had been "hacked into" by one of the only two remaining profile moderators on the site (Antonio and Jeremy aka Whitewolf www.interpals.net/whitewolf) Whitewolf immediately told me if I continue my "games" and don't stop my false accusations that I'd be banned from the site. I reply kindly that as profile moderator (which privileges to see ip address of logon of all the members) that perhaps he should check into the matter and look into the truth before judging the situation so quickly..

But as it turned out neither he nor Antonio ever had any intentions of doing the right thing or following their own rules or finding out the "truth".. I contacted Antonio about this once again, and both of them promptly and permanently banned me from the site, even though at that point I still had not violated any Terms of Service!

Obviously irate, I contacted Antonio at his support@Interpals.net address to message him the following:

"My account (bochen1080) was deleted by your fucking two man admin team 24 hours ago!! (even though that account did not violate TOS) Profiles deleted can be undeleted within 30 days you fucking lying ass faggot. Motherfuckers you take me to be a fool?!?!?!"

You fuck around in my profile and when I point that out WHITEWHORE calls me a liar publicly on the forums and then promptly you two faggot asses have to cover up the "inside-job" and then delete me to hush me up?!?!?!?!?! What the fuck? Who made you the KGB?

What gives you the right to masquerade as me, to view other profiles and mess around in my profile pretending to be me! You viewed other accounts, and messed around with other people within my profile acting as "me".. This WENT OVER THE LINE and has nothing to do with "investigation".. If my profile violated TOS you should have just deleted it, not fuck around in my shit under my name!

And you slick ass bastard, you thought just because you got a blocker I couldn't track back to your IP address.. Fuck you bitch.

How the fuck do you "REVERT" my profile by using information from OTHER websites! So you leech content from other penpal sites to make yours more popular? Why the fuck are you hiding in Russia you fucking coward!

You are just trying to coverup for your bullshit tactics and making excuses for yourself.. So you and fucking whitewhare are fucking owner you can play around and its all okay, but when others do it they get their profiles deleted for "TOS"

You can T. O. motherfucking S. my COCK BITCH

You are lucky I'm not reporting your ass to the internet police."

He later replies with this weak pathetic excuse of an explanation:

"> The content on the JohnMKane profile, as it was, violated the > InterPals TOS. Given the complaint about your old Bochen1080 profile > being deleted -- and considering that we completely removed this > account information from our servers -- your profile "about me"

And again I reply saying:

"You even told me in the letter this morning that if I wanted too you could easily reactive and reinstate my profile (which I declined) So I just caught you in another white lie you scumbag dipshit! I would sooner eat shit before I ever go to your malware invested popup site again!"

And so there you have it. The story of my life (sarcasm!) Antonio knows better than anyone else that I have previously caught dozens of VERY elaborate fakers (fake pen pal profiles) of ugly girls trying to pass as pretty ones, guys trying to write to other guys as women, and I've seen it all.. Or so I thought. What I've finally come to realize over the years is the truism that sometimes the greatest illusions in life can be right under your nose all that time and you've never really realized it. Everyday people like Antonio Lupher can put even the most devious of fictional characters to shame. And that is because truth is often times stranger than reality, and sometimes that reality hurts.

Now let's continue... Let's play a little detective shall we?

After my initial investigation and publications Antonio started shitting in his pants when he googled for his own misdeeds and found someone started talking about them.. this is his pathetic attempt to cover-up the cover-up..

Note the Ip address from 195.98.183.132, its located in Moscow, Russia and it definitely belongs to him. Look at the logs and see how many hours he frantically searched and tried to remove and get rid of the information that I exposed about him!

"/Users/antonio/Documents/Downloaded_sites/blah_yada_ada! From IP address 195.98.183.132 in Moscow

Do I need to still S-P-E-L-L IT OUT for you?

Not surprisingly he got rid of his www.interpals.net/mefistofele account just hours after I made mention of it here : www.scribd.com/doc/32191879/Antonio-Lupher-the-Dark-Side-of-InterPals But not to worry, I saved a screenshot of it below.. The darn profile lying there dormant and untouched for years and then recently in the few days he removed it? Sounds suspicious enough for me!

The screenshot shows the InterPals website interface. At the top is the 'interpals penpals' logo. Below it is a navigation bar with links for 'home', 'search', 'forums', and 'online (3180)'. The main content area displays the profile of 'mefistofele'. The profile header includes 'Mefistofele's profile' and 'Wall (0)'. The user's name is 'mefistofele' (mefi) 25 y.o., Male, with a location of 'Barnaul, Russia' and a '[Map]' link. The 'Looking for' section lists 'Email Pen Pals, Friendship'. The 'Speaks' section shows 'Russian'. The 'Messaging' section shows a user ID 'dkfla' and a number '348552'. Below this, it says 'Last logged in 1 year ago' and 'Joined April 7, 2006 (updated May 3, 2006)'. A message box states: 'Please Sign In or Join for Free to view this profile.' At the bottom of the profile section, it says 'mefistofele's profile has been viewed by 0 members this month.' and 'Profile address: <http://www.interpals.net/mefistofele>'. The footer contains links for 'About', 'Advertise', 'Donate', 'Privacy Policy', and 'Terms of Service', followed by the copyright notice '© 2010 InterPals.'

Now note the IP address again.. it's the same 195.98.183.132 .. A few days ago he remarked my allegations where "unsubstantiated".. I guess if that was the case, then the meaning of "unsubstantiated" would be rendered totally useless..

Is that a Facebook linky I see on the right side of that Google profile page I see there? Hmmm...

Now even a five year old can connect the dots and put the pieces together!

Next time they should hire me to do the Official 9/11 report.

And finally, what started this all in the very beginning...

~ January 16th 2010 ~

Interpals Site owner 'Antonio' hacks and breaks into user accounts

My account (bochen1080) was deleted by your fucking two man admin team 24 hours ago!! (even though that account did not violate TOS) Profiles deleted can be undeleted within 30 days you fucking lying ass faggot. Motherfuckers you take me to be a fool?!?!?!?

You fuck around in my profile and when I point that out WHITEWHORE calls me a liar publicly on the forums and then promptly you two faggot asses have to cover up the "inside-job" and then delete me to hush me up?!?!?!?!?! What the fuck? Who made you the KGB?

What gives you the right to masquerade as me, to view other profiles and mess around in my profile pretending to be me! You viewed other accounts, and messed around with other people within my profile acting as "me".. This WENT OVER THE LINE and has nothing to do with "investigation".. If my profile violated TOS you should have just deleted it, not fuck around in my shit under my name!

And you slick ass bastard, you thought just because you got a blocker I couldn't track back to your IP address.. Fuck you bitch.

How the fuck do you "REVERT" my profile by using information from OTHER websites! So you leech content from other penpal sites to make yours more popular? Why the fuck are you hiding in Russia you fucking coward!

You are just trying to coverup for your bullshit tacits and making excuses for yourself.. So you and fucking whitewhore are fucking owner you can play around and its all okay, but when others do it they get their profiles deleted for "TOS"

You can T. O. motherfucking S. my COCK BITCH

You are lucky I'm not reporting your ass to the internet police.

You never heard of Google Cache Bitch?

You never asked for my permission to copy and paste..

how about I copy and paste this fucking message and post it on your fucking site!?!?!?

You are ignorant, hypocritical and diabolical..

In any criminal indictment there is always means, motive and opportunity.. Below I will demonstrate that beyond a responsible doubt and with fair certainty that the InterPals pen-pal site owner Mr. Antonio Lupher (lupher.com) did in fact hack into my account ("johnmkane") approximately around 4:30am (central time zone) in the early morning of January 16th 2010. Not only did Mr. Antonio Lupher (interpals.net/antonio) break into my account without reason and without notice or approval, while I was sound asleep he also edited my profile, viewed other members while masquerading as me, and in other words he impersonated me and broke-in and used my account in unethical and illegal ways..

Being that he is the site founder and owner and super-moderator Antonio has the MEANS to accomplish such a break-in.. Other than Antonio the only other moderator/admin that has full powers on this site would perhaps be Whitewolf. Although Whitewolf may have the ability to break-in to my account or get in through the back-end it is my belief that he does not have the motive to do so.

I use strong passwords on all of my accounts. I never share a password with anyone. Through all my years of pen-paling on Interpals (and my weeks as a profile moderator on this site) I have never known of any incident where someone brute-force cracked the password or hacked into another user's account. The password I use on the email address used to register for "johnmkane" is a 25 digit strong password, there is simply no feasible way for anyone to gain access to my mailbox in order to reset my Interpals password.. Therefore I can safely conclude the only reasonable and plausible explanation for the break-in is someone with access (means) and motive and opportunity..

This narrows it down to Antonio and Whitewolf.. The only other long-time profile moderator on the site (Gotterkind) quit and left days ago. While the thought had crossed my mind whether or not Gotterkind reactivated his profile to hack into my account, a quick browse at interpals.net/gotterkind put that thought to rest. Accounts re-activated on Interpals are treated as brand new accounts and like all new accounts they cannot be deleted in the first seven days. Even moderators do not have the ability to "re-delete" their account so promptly..

This is how it went.. Antonio is located in Moscow, Russia and he logs on to his MacOS computer from Russia approximately every night when I go to sleep (because of the time zone difference).. On this particular day while he was still asleep (my 10pm at night) I had posted several rantings about how Gotterkind got feed up with the current Administrators and up-and-left.. Whitewolf logged in while I was still on the forums, he did not delete my account nor my posts.. But no doubtedly someone informed Antonio of the posts, and of my return to Interpals..

After I went to sleep Antonio woke up and logged into his site.. He probably saw the messages from Whitewolf or any of the other forum mods who informed him of my presence on Interpals.. This gives him a MOTIVE for checking up on my profile and my actions.

At around 4:25am (CST) Antonio logs into my johnmkane account (I have personally witnessed him logging in to another account to do in-depth profile/user investigations, and no the password of the user is NOT needed..) and

- 1) uploads a high resolution photo of me. I no longer have any of my photos on Interpals, so he must have archived it or snatched it from someplace else on the Internet
- 2) fills in my personal information, including first name, exact and accurate real date of birth, my city, town, state, and country..
- 3) writes on my live feed status "I ♥♥♥ Interpals"
- 4) continues to fill in an accurate self-profile description of ME. This is one of the descriptions I used about two years ago on his site.. That profile has long since been deleted by me.. Therefore it shocks and disturbs me greatly that he would have archived all this information..

At around 4:31am while still using my profile he views several members on the interpals and tries to befriend a few of them.. I have a confirmed friend request sent from 'johnmkane' to one of my friend's accounts timestamped at 10:31:31 GMT (4:31:31 am)

Several minutes later (approx. 3 minutes later) at 4:34:16am from his Interpals.net/Antonio account he sends me the following private message to my "johnmkane" account from his "antonio" account:

Subject: Hey there =)

Hey Bo,

Glad to see you're back. Sad to see you're so unhappy with us. What did we "incompetent and tyrannical admins" do exactly to drive you away? And why did you never mention this until now? You were full of excellent and constructive ideas when you were here, and I wish I had the time to implement more of them. Many are still in the works, though. And they were certainly appreciated.

What is this about not wanting your old profile deleted? We just received reports on it today -- from the German proxy you often use -- asking us to delete it. I assumed that was you -- guess it must have been Spy (I doubt it was Brad). If you want it reinstated, that's not a problem, just let me know. But why keep it if you're locked out of it and don't use it? Just FYI, we're thinking of implementing a 6-month suspension policy, where old accounts get deactivated (after an email warning) to keep things current and up to date.

Oh, and what's with the "InterPals Guide to Law Enforcement"? Decided to see whether InterPals can draw the same sort of scrutiny as Yahoo? =)) I wish... unfortunatel&y, we're hardly big enough for the media to make a scandal out of us. Especially when the document itself is forged! Geez, if you have that much time on your hands, why not come back and help blast the Nigerian scammers? And Spy's a lot more fun when he's not on your side -- trust me =)) It's actually kind of fun tracking him down, and unfortunatel&y, when he's on your side, he's boring.

Then a few minutes after that, he continues to view more profiles from using my 'johnmkane' account.. In particular I recovered a Google cache evidence of him viewing "reginaicecream"'s account at 10:36am GMT, which is about two minutes after he sends me ('johnmkane') the message from his 'antonio' account.. This gives him the Opportunity for committing this crime.

From there he logs off and quits for the rest of the day..

It is not until late morning around 11:30am (CST) that I wake up and log in to my 'johnmkane' account on interpals. I read my messages (including the one from Antonio) and then promptly notice something is amiss.. When I check my own profile I am shocked to see my own photo, all my correct information filled out, and even my accurate self-description. This is particularly disturbing because the night before I had absolutely no information on my profile whatsoever.. I have never told anyone on the Internet my exact date of birth. Therefore the ONLY way anyone who hacked into my account would have known my date of birth is if he had backdoor access to the system that my account resides on..

I recall that all the messages were shaded 'pink', including the one from Antonio. This means that whoever broke into my account didn't click on any of the messages.. Remember from the timestamp of events whoever broke into my account was notified (by the real-time red '+1' private message notification) of a private message from "antonio" because this hacker/attacker was logged in at least three minutes into/after 'antonio' sent the message. The attacker never changed my email address on file, therefore he never got access to that message from Antonio.. This would further collaborate the facts that Antonio was indeed the person who broke into my account, only he would not be curious enough to read the message, simply because he was the only one writing the message!

When I brought this up in the forums the moderator Whitewolf immediately accused me of being a liar and warned that any further mention of this will result in my posts being deleted.. I replied to him stating that as a moderator perhaps he should check on the ip addresses used to login to that account, maybe then he would see some strange activity going on.. However soon after that the admins (Antonio and Whitewolf) promptly and without question deleted my account (even though they themselves admit I had not violated the Terms of Service)

My repeated requests to the admins continue to go ignored.. I want this matter investigated fully. I want to know WHO broke into my account and WHY. If this is the site admin himself I deserve a fully public apology and reinstatement of my "johnmkane" account and an explanation of what made him think he had the right to break into my account and what other private information has he collected on me and other users of interpals and also I need him to promise he will not do this kind of illegal spying, tapping and impersonating in the future ever again.

Sincerely,

Bo
