Subject: SI and H Experimentation, 21 July 1953.

On 21 July 1953, Tuesday, SI and H Experimentation and research was carried on in Room 20, Building 13, by Doctors [redacted] and [redacted] and [redacted] using [redacted] and [redacted] as subjects.

A

To start the evening's work, [redacted] took both subjects and using fatigue of both the eyes and arms in the induction process obtained quick results. Arm levitation was tried on each subject successfully. A PH act was suggested of turning on the lights one minute after awakening. Each subject turned on the lights with a slight delay in time, although there was noticeable tension about a minute after awakening.

[redacted] then took both subjects and after inducing a trance had them open their eyes, talk and laugh in normal conversation. He then put them back to sleep and turned them over to [redacted]

[redacted] taking both subjects, tried sensory tests successfully. He then suggested a PH act of a chain variety in which [redacted] raised her arms upward and [redacted] raised her arms forward. When [redacted] moved her arms forward, [redacted] went to sleep. [redacted] then put both subjects back to sleep and turned over to [redacted]

[redacted] had [redacted] open her eyes, talk, walk into another room and read from a magazine. He then regressed her to the day she entered the Agency and talked in easy conversation with her. [redacted] was then put back to sleep, reassured and awakened.

[redacted] led further sensory tests on [redacted] reassured her and then awakened her.

A interesting note is that both [redacted] and [redacted] mentioned that they have in recent weeks talked in their sleep. Privately, [redacted] also indicated on one occasion she walked in her sleep. She was somewhat concerned about this but was reassured.

Both of these subjects are progressing and now it is possible to produce a rather deep trance in a short period of time so that more and more action can be done in later sessions.
